Begin Construction Work Friday On New $250,000 Addition to Kewaskum Elementary School

General Contract For Building Is Awarded to Frey

Construction work on the new $250,000 addition to the Kewaskum elementary school was begun last Friday. Contracts were signed on Friday and construction began on the same day.

The general contract for the addition to the grade school was awarded to D. M. and C. M. Frey of Hartford. Electric Wiring Service of Oconomowoc was awarded the electrical contract and that for plumbing and heating went to Ruesink Plumbing & Heating of Cedar Grove.

The $250,000 bond issue was awarded to Marine National Exchange Bank of Milwaukee and the Bank of Kewaskum. Electors of the Kewaskum Elementary School Joint District No. 1 approved the issuance of $250,000 in general obligation bonds for construction of the addition in a special referendum election held Tuesday, Sept. 24.

The new addition will be built north of the present elementary school building, between it and the new primary building. Plans call for it to connect the present primary building which contains the kindergarten and grades one and two, and the former old high school building which now houses the upper elementary grades and special education facilities. Lawrence E. Bray, Inc. of Sheboygan is the architect.

The new addition, which will contain an estimated 16,000 or more square feet of floor space, will contain eight classrooms, a music room, office, teachers' room and lavatory facilities.

According to Richard Zarling, principal of the elementary school, the building program was undertaken because of the anticipated increase in enrollment next year and the steadily increasing demand for additional classrooms. The present elementary enrollment is 450 and it is estimated that the number of pupils will increase to 480 by next year.

The elementary school district serves the village of Kewaskum and the towns of Kewaskum and Barton in Washington county, and the towns of Ashford and Auburn in Fond du Lac county.

Warning to Parents

A check of the ice on the Milwaukee river here Thursday showed very many small footprints in the light snow covering the ice where children had crossed the river or wandered out on the ice. Local police report that the ice is only about one inch thick and unsafe. There is near open water on spots. Parents are urged to warn their youngsters to keep off the ice as a precaution to prevent some from breaking through and drowning. Residents of the river area especially should make sure their children do not play on the ice or cross it going to or coming from school. The white lights will be burning at the municipal garage when the ice is safe. Stay off while the red lights are on.

Fr. Budde Speaks At John Kennedy Memorial Service

The Robert G. Romaine Post 384 of The American Legion, Kewaskum, held a public memorial service at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 1, at the clubhouse grounds in memory of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Attendance at the service was very disappointing.

The impressive service opened with a 21-gun presidential salute fired by the color guard. This was followed by an eulogy given by the Rev. John T. Budde, pastor of Holy Trinity parish, a three volley firing squad salute to the dead, and taps.

Father Budde delivered the following very fitting and inspiring eulogy:

"We gather to pay prayerful respect to the memory of our late President John F. Kennedy. You who sacrificed of yourselves to serve your country can understand the spirit of one who lost a brother and was himself physically handicapped in the last war. He did not sit by with self pity or bitterness, but with courage faced physical therapy, surgery, long hospitalization, wheel chair, crutches and fitted himself physically and morally for the highest office in the land. And as President of the United States he carried on with that same courage and firmness as the leader of the free world. With moderation and firmness he dealt with all to promote the cause of peace and justice.

"At this hour of national sorrow we pray to Thee, the God of might, wisdom and justice, through Whom authority is rightly administered and laws enacted, assist with the Holy Spirit of council and fortitude the President of the United States. Let the light of Thy Divine Wisdom direct the deliberations of Congress, so that their work may tend to the preservation of peace and perpetuate to us the blessings of equal liberty. We likewise recommend to Thy unbounded mercy all of our brethren and fellow citizens throughout these United States. May they honor the memory of John F. Kennedy by putting into practice the ideals for which he stood. May they be inspired to greater patriotism, not asking 'what can my country do for me, but what can I do for my country.' May we all come to understand that the work of world peace is not the task of the President alone, but every one of us. May we realize that the promotion of justice is not the task of elected officials only, but the duty of every citizen. May we understand Thy Divine precept, 'love thy neighbor as thyself' is the true expression of the brotherhood of man, and rests on the recognition of the Fatherhood of God. May we also have that courage and firmness to work for peace by promoting justice toward all men. May we realize that justice comes only by keeping Thy Divine laws.

"As we cast our thoughts across the Potomac to the grave of John F. Kennedy, we ask that perpetual light shine upon this

Woman's Club Cookie Sale and 'Parade of Homes' Dec. 21

The Kewaskum Woman's club announces its annual cookie sale will take place at one o'clock at the public library on Saturday, Dec. 21. Beautiful Christmas cookies, fresh from the ovens of club members, will again be available in attractive one and two pound containers at $1.25 a pound. The popularity of the cookie sale is growing from year to year because of the attractiveness, quality and wide variety offered. Advance orders may be placed with Mrs. Charles Ogi at 626-2380.

Plans have also been completed for a "Christmas Parade of Homes" on the same day, Dec. 21. Beginning at the public library at 2 o'clock, the tour will include the Robert Kroncke, L. N. Peterson, Ned Sengpiel, J. J. Tessar and Robert Zarling homes. All will feature Christmas decorations. Tickets are available at $1.00 at the Bank of Kewaskum or from Mrs. Robert Schmidt, 1213 Roseland Drive, phone 626-2359. The price of the ticket includes refreshments served at the library following the tour. Mmes. Marvin Martin, R. L. Edwards, H. L. Rumsey, Richard Zarling and H. B. Rosenheimer will serve as hostesses there.

Proceeds earned from these events provide the Kewaskum Woman's club with the means to carry on its many civic and club projects, a notable one being the annual scholarship grant to a Kewaskum High school graduate aspiring toward a degree in education. Both events are the product of planning by the ways and means committee headed by Mrs. J. R. Tessar, assisted by Mmes. Edith Landmann, Charles Ogi, Robert Schmidt and Robert Zarling.

The Pesch car went into the left ditch following the mishap and swung completely around. Pesch suffered a bump on the left side of his head in the crash.

407 Deer Killed In County, Area At Mauthe Lake

RECORD KILL RECORDED AS HUNTERS MET WITH EXCELLENT RESULTS

They said there were deer by the thousands in the surrounding area and the nine-day shotgun hunting season which closed Saturday proved this to be true.

A record deer kill was recorded in Washington county and the surrounding areas this year as hunters met with excellent success. A total of 220 deer were registered at county registration points to say nothing of the illegal kill. About 80% of the animals were shot on the first two days of the season when either sex could be taken.

Most of the animals were shot in the county and it was anticipated that deer shot here and registered outside the county would just about level off that number. Deer registered in the county were: sheriff's department, 138; Hartford, 47; Tally Ho, 23; Germantown, 8; Richfield, 4. Checkers at the various points indicated that late registrations brought in before the 5 p. m. deadline Monday may raise the total slightly.

At the ranger station at Mauthe lake in the town of Auburn northeast of Kewaskum, Clyde Smith, forest manager of the northern unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest, reported a total registration of 187 deer Monday morning. The registration there showed 53 fork horn bucks, 8 spike bucks, 72 adult does, 37 buck fawns and 17 doe fawns. Smith said most of the deer registered at the station were shot in the Mauthe lake area in Fond du Lac and Sheboygan counties but some killed in Washington county were also registered there.

The heaviest registration at the ranger station, as at most checking points, was on opening day when 102 deer were brought in. On the next day, Sunday, 63 were tallied. Registrations thereafter were light.

Very many local hunters also chose to hunt in the north woods and a large number of them were successful in killing a buck. Among the many successful hunters were the following few reported to this newspaper:

Dave Backhaus shot a 10 point buck and his brother Richie from West Bend an 8 pointer in the Dundee area. Jim Korth bagged a buck while Dad Bud Korth was unsuccessful hunting with a party in the north woods. Don Below and Don Ritger of here, hunting in a group of 16 members of the Allenton Sportsmen's club up north, returned home with a total of 14 deer for a record kill. Wan. Heberer of Kewaskum got a doe. Reuben Martin, Kewaskum, shot a doe. Floyd Dreher, West Bend, bagged a 4-point buck. Joseph Harter, R. 2, Kewaskum, shot an 8-point buck.

Figuring according to the percentage of hunters, those who hunted in the surrounding areas were much more successful than others who hunted in the northern part of the state.

The Beechwood fire truck was called out Monday morning when a milk truck owned by Walter Linder caught fire and burned up.

Some unknown practical joker carried his work a bit too far early Saturday morning by turning in a fire alarm at 2 a. m. and arousing the firemen and entire village from a sound sleep only to answer a false alarm. The alarm was turned in at the emergency fire box in front of the fire station. The person had disappeared when firemen arrived. The siren sounded for several minutes and townspeople got up and flocked to the station, expecting a serious blaze. Punishment will be forthcoming if the guilty party is proven.

John H. Martin, rural mail carrier out of Kewaskum, retired after 33 years and two months of service. Arnold Bier is serving as temporary carrier until a permanent one is appointed. Mr. Martin went into service as a rural carrier on R. 5 in 1905. After a few years his route was increased to cover 28 miles. Later he became carrier on R. 4 and his mileage increased to 32 miles, then to 37 miles and in 1935, through consolidation of the routes to the present R. 1 he covered 47.15 miles daily. The mail boxes on R. 1 number 232 and carried him through New Fane, Beechwood, Boltonville and part of St. Michaels. Members of the Washington County Rural Letter Carriers' association, Postmaster Frank Heppe, local carriers and substitutes tendered Mr. Martin a surprise farewell celebration at his home, which was very largely attended. He was presented with a beautiful traveling bag.

E. M. Romaine, who until recently was connected with the Kewaskum Creamery Co., is now devoting his entire time to his insurance business.

The Statesman has received a card and best regards from Rudy Kolafa of New Fane, who is spending some time in his native country of Czechoslovakia. The card arrived in less than 2 1/2 weeks from Prague.

Kewaskum is a greatly improved little city at night since Monday when the new ornamental street lighting system brightened up the streets for the first time. Main st. and Fond du Lac ave. are dark no more but as light as day under the new standards. That is until midnight when half the lights are switched off. Plans are to hold a big street carnival and celebration in honor of this major improvement. The event may not be held until spring because the weather might be too cold. The old poles holding the former lights are to be cut down. Twenty-six standards were erected with an additional six on the Main st. bridge.

Manager Here

Almost 350 volunteer managers again are conducting Christmas Seal campaigns throughout Wisconsin for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. Proceeds of this year's campaign, which began Nov. 15, will be used to continue the association's new program, aimed at the eradication of tuberculosis.

The program includes tuberculin skin testing and chest x-raying, a continuing program of professional and public education, rehabilitation of TB patients and research. The association points out that support from contributors to the traditional seal campaign bears a direct relationship to the success of the eradication-slanted program.

Although incidence of TB has fallen off since 1953, the U. S. Public Health Service has warned that the downward trend is lessening. The service also warns that unless the rate of decline increases, TB will continue as a costly problem.

Figures released by the Wisconsin state board of health show Wisconsin had 987 new cases of TB last year, an increase of 34 over 1961. There were 94 TB deaths in Wisconsin.

Christmas Seal manager in the Kewaskum area is Mrs. Harry Koch.

County Agent News Notes

By MAURICE J. HOVLAND
Washington County Agent

KEWASKUM FARMER MAKING NAME IN SWINE BUSINESS

Another Washington county farmer who is making a name for himself in the swine business is Lee Becker of Kewaskum. Lee has a herd of real fine Yorkshires, 15 sows and 15 gilts all registered.

Lee started in pigs when he began to farm in 1956. His original breeding stock came from a farm in Greenleaf. We asked Lee why he became interested in the Yorkshire. He indicated that he had planned to raise a different breed but thought there were getting to be too many in Washington county, so he began with the Yorkshire.

There were several other reasons too. First, he knew that Yorkshire sows were good mothers; he also knew they had good litter size. It certainly worked on his farm because in 1962 Lee averaged 11.3 pigs per litter born and he averaged 9.5 pigs raised. This is very good. There was another reason. Lee has always been a member of the Feeder Pig Cooperative since they have been working in Washington county. He had been told by these people that one of the pigs most in demand in the corn belt is the Yorkshire or Hampshire or a cross between the two. Consequently he started with his Yorkshire business and has done quite well. He has been farrowing 50 to 60 litters yearly.

The important thing about Lee's hog enterprise is that he has no fantastic buildings or other facilities. He has used what was available and by being careful with these available facilities, has done very well. Lee sells a breeding stock to those who want it and all of the feeder pigs he raises are sold to the Feeder Pig Cooperative. He likes this way of doing business because he gets paid for the pigs he raises and each pig is weighed before it is purchased as a feeder pig. He has been selling breeding stock to those who want it. Recently the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Cooperative bought 7 gilts from Lee for selling to other farmers for breeding purposes. Lee knows that he can't raise pigs on his farm like one might have done years ago. This is no different than raising cattle. He must use new ideas or be out out of business.

As Lee said about the improved pig business today, "you shape up or ship out." He is now on a brucellosis free program in his swine and has been vaccinating for Erysipelas. He is now under way to controlling Rhinitis in his pigs through the assistance of the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Cooperative.

We talked further with Lee about the success he is having in the pig business and it is good success. Lee says that he thinks one who likes pigs should stay in it and those who do not like it should stay out. He knows that this is true because usually a man sells out when the pigs are cheap. He sells out because he is disgusted with the business and this is really the time he should be buying. On the other hand he chooses to buy in because he sees the pig price going up. By the time he is established again the high prices have broken.

We asked Lee why did he market his pigs through the Feeder Pig Cooperative and this is what he said: "I can send a card and they come and get the pigs. There is no haggling with buyers over price and they take all pigs all the time. I also like the service; it's dependable, most important it's honorable. If I have trouble with a pig program I can always call upon them for help and furthermore, I always have the feeling that the management is interested in me as a swine breeder. Of course, we know they like quality and have a program of know how to get the quality they desire. I have real faith in the pig business."

CHRISTMAS TREE CARE

Some of our readers are going to be buying their Christmas trees in the very near future. We recommend that you buy it when you feel in the mood to do so.

Let me recommend that you take the tree home and leave it outside in a shady place until you are ready to put it up in your house. There is a reason for this. Some of these trees were cut very early. If you set them in a warm place now they are going to start losing their needles almost immediately. Since you don't have any way of knowing when these trees were cut, we suggest that from the time you buy your tree until you discard it, you take all the precautions possible to protect it. This will mean keeping it where it is cold, as long as possible, giving it water once it is set up in the house. Doing these things can help you beautify your tree throughout the entire season.

Those loafing today will someday wish they had worked today.

MORE THAN 200 DEER REGISTERED IN COUNTY

In excess of two hundred deer were registered in Washington county during the past season; better than 80% were killed the first two days when the hunter could shoot either sex. About 96% of the animals were killed by residents of the county; of the 96% about 65% were killed by persons having a rural address.

Three bucks and three doe were killed on the highways in this county during the season. The usual number of illegal kills were found in the woods and marshes after the season.

The late bow and arrow season for deer will open Dec. 7 and close Dec. 31, 1963.

Major Hunting Seasons Over
With the end of the deer season last week end, the major hunting seasons are over. There are, however, hunting opportunities still available for those of you who have not had your fill.

The ruffed grouse season is open through Dec. 15 south of Highway 64.

The squirrel season is open in the entire state through Jan. 31, 1964.

The rabbit season is open in the entire state through Jan. 31, 1964.

The raccoon season in the state is open through Dec. 31, 1963.

arrow deer hunting from Dec. 7 through 31.

The hunting of deer with bow and arrow will be allowed on Horicon Marsh during the December bow and arrow season in those areas designated by posted notices of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. No special permits will be required, but hunting licenses and deer tag as required by the statutes are necessary.

There will be no gun deer hunt or pheasant hunt on the Horicon National Wildlife Refuge this year.

One word of caution, if you participate in the late hunting—each year a considerable number of hunters find themselves in difficulty because of shooting illegal game. Pheasants, especially, seem to be a great temptation. When these birds have been smart enough or lucky enough to have made it through the season, they should be saved for the very important breeding season in the spring. The public and the courts frown on the illegal hunting and fines in most instances run very high.

Miss Mary Lou Foerster Bride

Miss Mary Lou Foerster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Foerster, R. 2, Kewaskum, became the bride of William Dombrock, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dombrock, 513 Spring st., Chilton, on Saturday, Nov. 23. The Rev. Clarence Hammen performed the 3 p. m. ceremony in Peace United Church of Christ, Kewaskum. A reception at the Hon-E-Kor Country club followed the service.

Chantilly lace and peau de soie were combined to fashion the bride's full skirted floor length gown. A set in midriff accented the fitted long sleeved bodice of sequin trimmed lace, and pleats detailed the skirt. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion cascaded from a seed pearl and crystal crown and her flowers were white and blue carnations with white miniature roses.

Honor attendant for her sister was Joyce Foerster, while a friend, Darlene Prost, served as bridesmaid. They were identically attired in royal blue peau de soie dresses with an apron effect ballerina skirt accented with a large, diagonal back bow. The fitted bodices had scoop necklines and short sleeves. Their hats were fashioned of feathered mums and velvet petals and held tiny tiered pouf veils. Blue mums and white carnations were fastened to the white muffs they carried. Little Miss Laurie Kopp, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore a miniature copy of the bridal gown and carried blue mums and white carnations.

Richard Hackbarth, a friend of the bridegroom, was best man, while a brother, David Dombrock, attended as groomsman. Another brother, Steven Dombrock, and James Foerster, brother of the bride, were ushers. Master Richard Dombrock, also a brother, carried the wedding rings on a cross shaped pillow.

The couple will be at home in Milwaukee where the bridegroom, a graduate of Chilton High school, is employed as a projectionist at the Juneau theatre. The bride graduated from Kewaskum High school and prior to her marriage had been employed by the General Telephone Co. at Chilton.

Homemaker Notes

KEWASKUM MODERN MRS.

On Oct. 21 our Modern Mrs. Homemakers' club met at the home of Mr. Ralph Rimmel.

Mrs. Arvin Merwin was welcomed as a new member.

Our health officer told us of the dangers of tetanus and how easily we can prevent it by immunization.

Our project, "Make the Most of Your Appearance," was very interesting as presented by Mrs. Clyde Brehm and Mrs. Don Koerble. As one's appearance begins with good health, a good diet, cleanliness, rest and exercise are fundamental. We were reminded that good grooming habits improve our state of mind and build self respect.

Mrs. Paul Albrecht donned her auctioneer's hat and put the "white elephants" on the block. We are now a solvent club.

Torte and coffee were served.

On Nov. 18 we met at the home of Mrs. Paul Albrecht.

We were happy to have our county president, Mrs. Charles P. Gehrke, as our guest.

Mrs. George Eggert, our president; Mrs. Norman Held, our center chairman, and Mrs. Gehrke commented on the delightful time they had at the president's tea held at the Fireside on Nov. 13.

We voted to subscribe to Consumer's Guide which is to be placed in the Kewaskum Public Library.

The vision screening program at the Kewaskum High school was conducted by Mrs. George Eggert, assisted by Mrs. Joe Miller, Mrs. Paul Blumer and Mrs. Ralph Rimmel.

We are looking forward to our Christmas party to be held at Hon-E-Kor on Dec. 16. Our husbands will be our guests.

It was with regret that we accepted the resignation of Mrs. Clyde Brehm.

Mrs. Paul Blumer and Mrs. Arvin Merwin were our project leaders. They gave us pointers on selecting styles and colors. The understanding of optical illusion can help us to attain the "line" we desire. It was fun and enlightening trying different colors for different complexions and hair colors.

Our hostess treated us to pumpkin pie and coffee.

Any woman interested in joining a homemakers' club is invited to contact any of our members.

Mrs. Ralph Rimmel, Reporter
