Mary Kroncke Writes on Her Trip to Spain

FIRST KEWASKUM STUDENT IN AMERICANS ABROAD PROGRAM SENDS INTERESTING LETTER

Mary Kroncke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kroncke, Kewaskum, the first local student accepted to participate in the Americans Abroad Summer program, wrote a very interesting letter home telling of her trip to Spain. Miss Kroncke flew to New York on June 26 and boarded the USS. Seven Seas to sail for Rotterdam on the 27th. From there she went to Barcelona, Spain, where she is living with the Juan Pros Peris family. Barcelona, a thriving center of two million people, is located on the northeastern coast of Spain on the Mediterranean Sea. Mary, who will be a senior at Kewaskum Community High school this fall, will return home soon.

Miss Kroncke's letter follows:
JUNE 27

The trip on the boat was a lot of fun but I was somewhat disappointed with the cabin. Ours was 10 ft. by 10 ft. and there were four of us in it but the girls in the cabin were very nice and we got along very well. The food was good sometimes and sometimes not so good. The thing that I missed most was milk. We had all water with the meals and I am used to milk. The boat was very old. They said there was a swimming pool on the boat and we all thought WOW that must be really some boat. But when we saw the swimming pool, it wasn't quite what we expected. They could only fill it to a depth of about 4 ft. because the boat always rocks. The sides of the pool are about 12 ft. high so it looks very funny with only 4 ft. of water in it. The day that we left N. Y. it was very hot, but all the rest of the time at sea it was quite cold.

The cabins were arranged pretty much according to what country you were going to. All four of us in my cabin were going to Spain. This is really a nice way of doing it because then you have more in common and you learn something about the country and the language and they learn something from you.

For classes we were divided according to countries. There were 21 of us going to Spain, so we could be all together when we had classes. To some countries there were more than 90, so they had to be divided up for their classes. Each person went to two classes a day. One orientation class where we learned about the country and its customs and language class. We divided our language class for Spain because you learn more with fewer in the class and you get more individual practice. There was one person who was the chaperon for each country group and that person was the one who taught the classes. It was always a person from that particular country. All the chaperones were young because they all had been AFS students to the United States themselves. So had all the other AFS staff members. Our chaperon was particularly nice. His name was Juan and he didn't believe in

Comments Given By Local Boys on Scout Jamboree

FINAL NOTES ON NATIONAL JAMBOREE TRIP TO VALLEY FORGE, PA. MADE BY BOYS

Two weeks have passed since 11 Boy Scouts and 2 leaders have returned from the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. Mother has the laundry all washed, the missing socks are accounted for and so are the newly acquired bath towels. The slides and pictures are back and now each boy has had time to think about his trip. Here are a few comments:

JAMES BUTZ—"I was most impressed by the friendliness shown at the Jamboree. I became good friends with 2 boys from Massachusetts. The Jamboree brought boys from coast to coast together. I believe many friendships were made and old ones strengthened."

GARY WOOLMAN—"On the Jamboree trip which included many wonderful things, it was hard to pick just the one thing you liked best. But two of the most impressive things were the fireworks at the opening and the closing show when all the Scouts lit their own candles. All in all it was a very memorable experience."

JEFF REIGLE—"I enjoyed all the sights, Chicago, the steel mills at night in Pittsburgh, New York, and of course Washington, D. C. was best of all."

CARL FREEHAUF—"When we arrived at New York and saw all the skyscrapers, that's what impressed me. And at the Jamboree on Thursday night when President Johnson spoke."

KEN OGI—"What I liked the most about my trip was visiting Washington, D. C. I was impressed by the Smithsonian Institution and the Statue of Liberty."

JAMES MANTHEI—"What I enjoyed the most about the 6th Jamboree was the World's Fair. I went with my new friends, Jim Chamberlin, our patrol leader, John O'Brien and Mick Meir and Tom Helford, two junior leaders. The first exhibit was the Ford, then I.B.M. We met at the Unisphere at 12:00. We ate at the Wisconsin pavilion and then visited the New York and Illinois pavilions. We met again at 8:30 and left for our hotel."

DAVE TEESELINK—"Swapping patches. This is a real thrill because you meet guys from different states and countries through trading patches and other tokens. At the Jamboree I traded with Scouts from England, Panama, Alaska, and many other places. I traded not only in the tents designed for this purpose but also in buses traveling around the Jamboree. I also swapped many patches by just sitting on the roadside. Every trade I made ended in the universal Boy Scout handshake."

SCOTT WARANIUS—"The things that were most impressive to me on my National Jamboree tour were the Statue of Liberty and the Empire State building. These two sights fascinated me quite a bit. In New York the Statue of Liberty stands as a sight to be awed by all. Climbing the steps inside the 'Statue' is a laborious being very strict. He was always joking around and was very much fun.

I felt fine most of the trip. For about three days the water was very rough because we went through a storm. During that time I felt rather miserable but I never got sick.

Every evening we had dancing in the fore and aft lounges. There were about 800 AFS students so it was a bit crowded but a lot of fun.

Curfew was at 11 o'clock at night and everyone always went to their cabins when they were supposed to. Then about the 8th day on the boat Juan, our chaperon, told us that he couldn't stand us because we always did what we were told like a bunch of sheep. He said that all of the staff members were getting bored because they weren't allowed to have any fun themselves and we never did anything wrong. So that night we planned to sneak out on the deck after curfew and cause a lot of trouble for them, but too many people were involved and the chaperons heard about it beforehand. Instead of three chaperons being on guard duty that night the whole staff walked the halls until four o'clock. Those of us in my cabin were planning to sneak out so we left our clothes on and played cards after lights out. We heard something in the hall so we quickly got in bed with our clothes on and a man chaperon just came walking into our cabin. It was funny, because we couldn't let him see that we still had our clothes on.

JULY 7

We arrived in Rotterdam at 6 in the morning. There was a lot of red tape to go through and Spain was supposed to be the last group to get off the boat and the last to go through customs. However, Juan told us he was instructing us in the fine art of cheating and we got away from the dock first. Then we took the bus that belonged to some other group and went to our hotel. We had the whole day to ourselves and we could go anywhere we wanted. It was very picturesque. We saw a woman selling fish, which she cleaned, and sold them.

The shopping area was very beautiful. There were flowers all over and it was very neat looking. The stores in that area were very modern. The only thing that we had trouble with was money. We had to be very careful not to get cheated. Dutch food is wonderful especially the baked foods. The first thing I bought there was two glasses of milk. We ate outdoors at a sidewalk cafe. Dinner was at the hotel, which was small and old fashioned and, I thought, very beautiful.

JULY 8

The next morning we left by train for Paris. The train only stopped in the station for three minutes and we had to load all our baggage in that time. It was very much fun. The girls carried the small things and the boys pushed the large things through the windows. We got everything on in 75 seconds. When we were on the train we saw several windmills along the Dutch countryside. It was all very pretty. When we got to France it was not so pretty. The cities especially were rather dirty. We arrived in Paris shortly before six. We were supposed to get five hours there and all of us were excited, but it took so long to get out of the train station and eat that we didn't have much time to do anything. We had to be back to the station an hour early. So all we got to see was the outside of Notre Dame. We walked from the station (six of us) and by the time we got there it was closed. It was very hard to believe that we were in Paris. It seemed like something that could never really happen to us.

That night we slept on the train and the next morning we reached the Spanish border. There we split up and five of us going to Barcelona met our new chaperons. We had breakfast there (in Iruene on the border). There we got on the train for Barcelona. It was a 12 hour ride—10 a. m. to 10 p. m. By the time we got to Barcelona we were all completely exhausted and completely a mess.

My family took me right home and we had dinner (Thursday, July 9th). It was very good and much bigger than any meals we have in the states. If I don't watch out I'll gain at least 20 pounds. After dinner we took a short walk (Lali, Juan my new brother and sister) and got some coffee at a sidewalk bar. Then we went home. They live in a very nice apartment in the city. It isn't terribly big, but very comfortable. In the city everyone lives in an apartment.

JULY 10

Friday we slept until noon and then had breakfast. We went to the bank before lunch. Afterward Lali, Juan, and their father took us to see some of the city. We drove up the mountain to a church and little amusement park. You should see the way people drive up the little mountain roads and narrow streets. They only stop for stop lights if there is a policeman there.

JULY 11

The next day Juan and Lali took me to see the old cathedral and the one that is still being built. I forgot to tell you the night before we went to an AFS party with all the AFS students in Barcelona. It was lots of fun.

JULY 12

Saturday night at 10 o'clock we left by boat for Mallorca. We went to church (Mass) outside at 10 in Mallorca on Sunday. Everyone here is very tan and I got a bad sunburn trying to get tan. It doesn't hurt any more, but my skin is peeling.

JULY 13

Juan left by boat Tuesday night and it's not the same when he is gone. He is a lot of fun. When he is around we are always laughing. Maybe he will be able to see you when he is in the States, but I don't know. If you meet him you are sure to like him.

JULY 18

Last Saturday night we went to "Tito's." It is the best night club in Spain and one of the best in Europe. It was very expensive. There were two shows. Milva, supposed to be the best Italian singer, appeared there that night. It was all very beautiful and just like a dream. I still can't really believe I am in Spain.

Love,
Mary

Scout Jamboree

chore. You seem to climb stairs that have no end. They keep going and going up. Finally there's an opening like windows where it is possible to look out and see the skyline of New York City, plus some of the harbor. There are ferries that take people out to the island. Another sight to be awed is the Empire State building. As you stand at the bottom and look up the building seems like a giant stand among the other buildings. After the speedy elevator ride to the 82nd floor observation tower, here you see a breath-taking view of New York City and surrounding areas. While we were in New York City we had a most exciting time."

JOE FEHLHABER—"What I enjoyed most on our trip was New York City. The various things we saw which interested me were the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State building (in which we went up to the 86th floor and had a bird's eye view of New York), the World's Fair, the tour of the United Nations, Radio City, Music Hall, where we saw the Rockettes, which was very interesting, and Skid Row, which was educational in itself. The highlight of the whole trip was upon our arrival at Valley Forge. Among the important things that took place was when we were visited by President Johnson and a number of other celebrities. The ceremony of lighting the 50,000 candles was very inspiring. After we spent a week at the Jamboree we went to Washington, D. C. The sights which I enjoyed most there were Lincoln Memorial, the changing of the guard at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Marines Memorial, and Arlington cemetery where we saw the final resting place of the late President Kennedy. I'm sure we all enjoyed this wonderful trip and we all owe thanks to the people who made it possible."

SCOUTMASTER MIKE GNACIN-SKI—"Due to the generosity of Mr. J. O. Reigle and Regal Ware these boys and leaders were able to partake in an experience in scouting that will never be forgotten. In my 18 years of scouting I have met and known many scouters, some of whom I renewed our friendships. All of us came back inspired by new scouting ideals and after seeing the historical east our ideals in democracy are stronger than ever. My thanks also to Al Brandenburg of Slinger and to Gerhard Kelm of Pipe, and to all the boys who performed as excellent Scouts and made my trip so pleasant."

BOB MILLER, JUNIOR ASSISTANT SCOUTMASTER—"The entire Jamboree was an experience I'll never forget. It was very impressive to see 53,000 Scouts file into the arena for evening programs and to trade with Scouts all over the nation and other part of the world. I am particularly grateful to have received a second opportunity to get to the Jamboree and thanks to the generosity and kindness of Mr. J. O. Reigle. The trip through Washington, D. C. and Arlington National cemetery is something I will cherish in my memory forever. I'd like to thank 'Mr. Mike' who kept us in line."

Joel Peterson was not reached as to his thoughts or comments. Willard Manthei was the other Scout leader who attended the Jamboree.

"Abie" formerly led the Badger State league in batting.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Lay returned from an extended trip to the west coast and reported a splendid vacation marred only by a train accident in which they were involved. Their train was wrecked near Truckee, Calif. and some of the cars plunged down a deep canyon. At the accident scene the railroad tracks run along the side of a mountain and above a canyon. The wreck was possibly caused by a boulder striking the rear of the locomotive as the result of a slide. The Lays escaped injury and no passengers were killed.

A public hearing was held at the state capitol before the judiciary committee on a bill to enable counties to license slot and pinball machines. If the bill passes a fee of not less than $100 per machine would have to be charged by the county. About a dozen Washington county tavernkeepers appeared at the hearing.

Mrs. Anna Dengel of Campbellsport, mother of Mrs. Ed. F.

Campbell of the town of Kewaskum, observed her 100th birthday recently.

Paul Kral, high school athlete, son of the John Krals, underwent an appendectomy at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac. Vernetta, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Backhaus, R. 2, underwent an operation at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend.

50 YEARS AGO

Aug. 8, 1914

Bob Jansen and Adolph Meinecke were to Milwaukee where they took the examination for the U. S. Navy. They were accepted and left the same day for Chicago. Their term of enlistment is seven years.

Having been subpoenaed as a witness in a court case at West Bend, John Bastian of that city did not appear when his name was called and as a result is now serving a 5-day jail sentence for contempt of court. Bastian claimed that his absence was due to the fact that he had accidentally thrown his underwear out of a window of a hotel and said that he could not appear in court without it.

Mrs. Jacob Van Vechten, 65, who resided in this township from 1846 to 1890, died at Wauwatosa.

August Petermann, residing 2 1/2 miles north of here, was aroused by an unusual noise among his dogs Saturday morning. As he reached the yard he saw a queer looking animal, upon closer examination, proved to be a deer. The animal bounded off across a field and into the woods. Petermann took up the trail with a gun but to no avail. The only way we can account for the appearance of such exceptional game hereabout is that Barney Demarest and John Kaas, who went up north the week previous, were armed to the teeth and are making it mighty uncomfortable for deer up that way. We wish the boys success but hope they refrain from driving deer down upon us in droves.

Some laid away for the income tax and others just laid awake.

Looking Thru the Field Glasses...

By Bob Lake, Conservation Warden, Washington County

LARGEST STURGEON EVER TAKEN NOW ON DISPLAY

Due to weather conditions, first very warm, then extremely cold, fishing pressure has been light. Good fishermen continue to catch bass, walleye and bluegills at Big and Little Cedar and Pike lake.

Outdoor recreation facilities in the Northern Highland State Forest, just north of Woodruff, are described in a revised leaflet issued by the conservation department.

Choice lakes, well water, garbage disposal and toilet facilities are provided for campers in the area. A number of canoe trails include campsites, and individual primitive units have been established on five lakes.

There are 15 campgrounds and 138 canoe campsites, 50 boat landings and 12 beach and picnic areas.

A large foldout map marks every lake, boat landing, picnic ground, campsite and wayside in the forest.

The folder is available at all conservation department vacation and travel service offices.

The largest sturgeon ever taken in Wisconsin is now on display at the conservation department area headquarters at Spooner.

Speared in Big McKenzie creek, near Ferron Park, by Glenn Marsh 54 years ago, the fish weighed in at 211 pounds and measured 7 feet 4 1/2 inches.

The fish was kept alive for a week before it was mounted by a Chicago taxidermist in the spring of 1910. Marsh's employer kept the trophy in a glass wall case until his death, when it was returned.

Marsh left the trophy to his daughter, Mrs. Marion Koel, Spooner, who has agreed to give it to the conservation department.

County Agent News Notes

By MAURICE J. HOVLAND
Washington County Agent

BUTZLAFF PIG COUNTY FAIR GRAND CHAMPION

It is always interesting to see high quality livestock in Washington county. At the county fair we were interested in seeing some of the swine breeders who were exhibiting their prize animals. The county has never been famous for its swine herds, yet today we have herds in Washington county that are doing very well.

It was interesting to watch the Butzlaff family at the fair as they showed the grand champion Poland China. Having been on their farm in the past, we were interested in the results of a concentrated effort to produce good, high quality pigs. The success of any enterprise, especially livestock, is directly dependent upon the ability of the owner to select good breeding stock.

A few weeks ago we reported in this column about the swine herds and the grand champions at the Washington County Fair but we gave some wrong information. The grand champion Poland China at the Washington County Fair was shown by the Butzlaff family of Kewaskum. We are happy to make the correction in this news column and give credit to the Butzlaff family for making fine selections in their swine breeding herd.

Not many years ago there were very few purebred Poland China in this county. Now the Butzlaff family is well underway to establishing themselves as outstanding breeders of purebred Poland Chinas. They know this won't happen overnight, but give this family, some of whom are quite young, 10 to 20 years of careful selection on their part, and they will have an outstanding swine herd.

We would like to think of more people getting started in the purebred livestock business. Which breed is not important; it is important, however, that we get high quality breeding stock and use it to build up our herds.

EIGHT BARNES HAVE HOT HAY

There have been eight barns in the county with a problem of hot hay during the summer of 1964. These eight barns have all had chopped hay in them which became hot. I wrote to Randall Swanson, farm safety engineer, about the problem and this is the information he gave us. He says that we have more trouble with chopped hay because it packs tightly. Also we run into the problem of separation. By this is meant that when chopped hay is blown into the mow, there is a tendency for a certain amount of separation of leaves and stems. We would expect this, when we think about it, because of the difference in weight. The stems would be carrying more moisture, therefore cause pockets of high moisture in the mow.

The stems are quite moist and the leaves are quite dry. If they did not separate, then we would have a normal moisture pattern in our mow. If, on the other hand, the stems and leaves separate, the leaves being very dry would be in good condition. However, the stems may contain excessive moisture and they could begin to heat. Hot spots would develop and eventually spontaneous combustion might occur, if the moisture pattern is just right.

Mr. Swanson says that if you are suspicious of heating hay, keep a very careful watch on your mow. If the temperature should approach 170 or 180, watch carefully. If it gets to the 190 or 200 range, have the fire department stand by while you remove the hay. While 200 degrees is below the ignition point, the temperature will rise very rapidly when the mow is opened and oxygen gets in.

Carbon dioxide gas has been recommended in some cases, although it has not been effective in handling this kind of situation.

MOSQUITO, FLY PROBLEM

Have you noticed a lot of mosquitos lately? It seems the first part of the year we had very few mosquitos or flies. We noticed at the county fair that even around the barns there were very few flies. This was in part due to the fact that they were sprayed very effectively by one of the spraying units in Slinger.

This may be due in part to the dry weather we had previous to the rain, but any time now they will emerge in tremendous numbers. Mosquitos have already come forth, as you'll note if you sit on your lawn at night when the wind is not blowing.

What should we do about them? There isn't very much you can do. Oh, you could spray your lawn with malathion or DDT, but it won't be too effective. The best thing to do is realize that this is nature's way of feeding birds and fish the world over. And remember, next winter when it is 20 below zero, there won't be any insects around.

FREEZING SWEET CORN

Sweet corn has come on the market. We have been waiting since last sweet corn season to be able to buy it. I have had some locally grown and it was certainly good. Why don't you buy some and put some in your freezer? There is no better source of vitamins than frozen sweet corn next winter. Don't freeze the cob, fix it as you do for eating corn on the cob, then cut the corn off the cob and freeze it in this way. You will like it and it's good for you—has lots of vitamins, tastes good, and is one of the real healthy seasonal foods. Also it is quite economical.

Children have more need of models than of critics.

JAMES HELMER ATTENDS CLINIC FOR CANDIDATES

James A. Helmer, 1505 Walnut st., West Bend, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, attended a 6th District Candidates' Clinic in Appleton last Saturday.

Helmer attended the clinic, a series of informal discussions, at the invitation of state Democratic headquarters.

Discussion leaders at the clinic included State Senator Richard Zaborski of Milwaukee, Assemblyman Kenneth Kunde of Sheboygan, Field Director John Durand, and Stan Zuckerman, executive secretary to Governor Reynolds.

According to Helmer, topics discussed included campaign issues, campaign organization and techniques.

Democratic candidates from throughout the 6th and 8th Congressional districts took part in the discussions.

"We exchanged a lot of good ideas regarding campaign techniques," Helmer said.

None ever saved enough at the drug store on toothpaste to pay for a set of store teeth.

RINZEL HONOR STUDENT AT PLATTEVILLE UNIVERSITY

Eleven per cent of the 2,450 students attending Wisconsin State University-Platteville during the second semester earned grades giving them slightly better than a B average. Twenty-three of these students earned all A's.

Included in this list of honor students is Allan Rinzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Rinzel, R. 1, Kewaskum.

Allan is enrolled in the school of engineering.

Because of the rapid increase in the number of students in these fields, a department of political science and a department of business education and economics have been formed for next fall.

Lakes Team in Another Upset Over Grafton

END SEASON AT BARTON ON SUNDAY; PLAN OLD TIMERS GAME ON SUNDAY, AUG. 30

Although in sixth place in the Land o' Lakes league with a 4-9 record, the Kewaskum team has proven to be "giant killers" this season. After upsetting league leading West Bend recently and dropping them into a tie for the lead with Grafton, Kewaskum upset Grafton there last Sunday and gave back first place to West Bend. The score was 5 to 4.

Bob Hansen and Al Koepke combined their talents on the mound in surprising Grafton. Hansen was the starter and was relieved in the fifth inning after giving up five hits, walking three and striking out three. After Hansen gave up a double, walk and single to the first three batters in the fifth, Koepke came in and put out the fire although two runs scored in the inning. Koepke checked Grafton on three hits in the final four and two-thirds frames and allowed no more runs. He fanned three and passed four. Zahn hurled for the losers and was nicked for eight hits, walked four and struck out seven.

Kewaskum scored two runs in the opening inning on hits by Don Theusch and Jack Theusch. They added another in the fourth without a hit on two walks and a fielder's choice. The final two, which clinched the game, came in the seventh on a walk to Coulter, Heise's triple and singles by Don Theusch and Al Koepke. Grafton scored a run in the third, the fourth and two in the fifth.

Don Theusch paced Kewaskum's hitters with three for five, all singles. Al Koepke collected two singles and Heise's timely triple was the big blow of the contest. Meunier and Riebe each had two safeties for the losers.

Kewaskum will bring the Lakes season to a close this Sunday, playing at Barton, the last place team with a 2-11 record.

The game with the old timers originally scheduled for Sept. 13 has been moved up to Sunday afternoon, Aug. 30, at 2 p. m. All former Kewaskum players are invited to participate against the Lakes nine in this attraction.

BUY NEW BLEACHERS FOR LOMIRA RODEO SEPT. 12-13

Cal Voight, general chairman of the Rodeo Cowboys Association Championship Rodeo which will be held Sept. 12 and 13 at the rodeo arena grounds, corner of Highways 41 and 49 at the Nolan Auction Market, announced that new bleachers to accommodate 4,000 persons have been purchased by the sponsoring organizations.

"We felt that after the wonderful support the rodeo received last year, we owe it to the public to provide adequate seating for this year's rodeo," Voight said. He also stated that with the installation of the new bleachers, spectators can be assured of their seats purchased with an advance reserve ticket.
