Thieves Apprehended After Two Thefts From Coin Machines Here

Thefts Occur at Ours Laundry Only Two Nights Apart

FOUR MACHINES BROKEN INTO AND MONEY STOLEN AT THREE VILLAGE PLACES

Thefts of money from soft drink coin machines were committed on two nights in the village over the Labor Day weekend. All of the thieves, five in number in two separate groups, were arrested through good police work shortly after the thefts at three business places.

Sometime between the hours of 10:30 p. m. Saturday and 7 a. m. Sunday thieves broke into the soft drink machines in Ours Coin Laundry and outside of the Herges Shell station and Kewaskum Liquor Mart. The three machines contained about $2.00 to $3.00 in dimes and nickels. The thieves later confessed that the larcenies were committed about 5 a. m. Sunday. Bob Ours was first to report the theft to Chief of Police Roland Pledl. No burglary or robbery were committed in the thefts.

Chief Pledl immediately began a check of the area and sent out a police radio broadcast. Three suspects were picked up by Menomonee Falls police, who had been alerted, and they notified the Washington county sheriff's office. The trio was picked up in Menomonee Falls and brought to the sheriff's office, where they were questioned and admitted the local break-ins and thefts.

The thieves identified themselves as Fred L. Frohn, 23, of Menomonee Falls, a 16-year-old youth from Sussex and a 15-year-old youth from Lannon (names of juvenile crime offenders cannot be published). The trio admitted that they had spent the night drinking with Frohn purchasing the liquor and giving it and some of the money taken to the two youths. They also confessed an earlier theft at a Slinger coin laundry. They admitted the forced entry and thefts at the Ours laundry and Herges station here but said they did not recall the one at the liquor mart.

They said they returned to Menomonee Falls where the 16-year-old youth was later taken to a hospital with self-inflicted wounds from a broken car window. There attendants discovered all of the small change on his person, became suspicious and notified police.

The trio was detained at the county jail until Tuesday, at which time the district attorney was asked to issue a state warrant charging them with theft and destruction of property. On Tuesday afternoon County Judge Robert Stoltz sentenced Frohn under the Huber Act to six months in the county jail for contributing to the delinquency of minors and violation of parole. The two youths were referred to juvenile court.

Through a coincidence the next night, Labor Day, around midnight or shortly after, another theft was committed at the Ours laundry and $3.70 obtained from

Forest Lake Group Marks Mrs. Kuert's 50th Year at Lake

The Forest Lake Improvement association held its fall meeting at Mrs. Louisa B. Kuert's home on the east shore of the lake on Sunday, Sept. 6, starting at 11 a. m. The association is one of the state's pioneer improvement groups.

Since Mrs. Kuert completed her 50th summer at Forest lake on Labor Day, she invited all members of the association on Sunday for the meeting, followed by a noon buffet lunch, to help her commemorate this event.

Mrs. Kuert and her late husband William A. rented their first private cottage on Forest lake in late June of 1915 and repeated this for six summers. In the fall of 1920 they purchased the resort from J. W. Wilhelmson and owned and operated it until 1944, when Mr. Kuert passed away in November. Mrs. Kuert continued to operate the business until late June of 1949 when she sold the resort and moved to the Krug lodge.

In 1946 she purchased the summer homes of the Krug and Borden families of Chicago. She converted them into housekeeping cottages for families with growing children. It was a successful investment and brought joy to her.

Despite the changeable weather conditions and low water level caused by the dredging of last fall, Mrs. Kuert reports 100% occupancies for the entire 1964 season. She needed no dredging as her property has a natural sandbar running from shore to almost the middle of the lake, making the beach safe and sandy, despite the low water level. Fishing was better than it has been for several years.

Mrs. Kuert is nearing her 77th birthday but she still enjoys resort life, meeting wonderful families and their nice children. This strengthens her belief in the soundness of our young generation and that our America will never be lost.

Forest lake, spring fed and surrounded by natural and virgin woods in the heart of the Kettle Moraine forest, so close to the big cities, displays the beauty of God's creation—a blessing many do not see nor appreciate. It always will be dear to Mrs. Kuert as long as she lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Reynolds, 1182 Riverview dr., announce the marriage of their daughter, Sandra Naomi, to Ronald Lee Bergin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bergin, Jr. of Kewaskum.

The wedding took place at St. John's Lutheran church at Plymouth on Saturday, Sept. 5. The bride wore a beige suit with brown accessories. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bergin. The newlyweds will be at home at R. 2, Plymouth.

Some books have happy endings. Others are loaned.

Thirty-four children started school in the first grade, a decrease of two from last year's 36. Four of last year's pupils transferred to other schools and one new pupil has transferred to Holy Trinity.

The enrollment by grades, the first three of which oddly all have 34 pupils, is as follows:

Grade 1	34
Grade 2	34
Grade 3	34
Grade 4	26
Grade 5	30
Grade 6	28
Grade 7	36
Grade 8	32
Total	254

The 34 first graders who started school are as follows:

Steven Bath, Gary Bauer, Carol Beisbier, Christine Brown, Constance Brugman, Michael Dreher, Patricia Dreher, Marx Enright, Richard Gremminger, Kaye Gruber, Debra Heisdorf, Mary Herges, Jeffrey Jaeger, Sandra Justman, Kenneth Kaehne, Ronald Koepsell, Michelle Koth, Carol Manthei, Janet Miller, James Mlodzik, Michael Nigh, Cynthia Oelhafen, Edward Renner, Thomas Rohlinger, Pamela Scannell, James Schaeffer, Thomas Schickert, Lisa Schlamer, Amy Schmidt, James Schoofs, Marjorie Schoofs, Connie Slegler, Amy Stoffel, John Westerman.

Jeanne LaMarche has transferred to Holy Trinity school from the Kewaskum Elementary school. The four pupils who transferred to other schools are Frank and Luan Werhanowicz to the Kewaskum Elementary school and Steven and Katherine Treutel to Holy Angels, West Bend.

52 From Here at Reynolds Luncheon

Governor John W. Reynolds was the honored guest at an election day luncheon which began at 12:30 p. m. at the Moraine Supper club south of West Bend Tuesday.

Following the luncheon Reynolds spoke before an audience of 160 persons. The Washington county Democratic candidates were introduced by Mrs. Helen Kocher, county campaign manager for Governor Reynolds. Mary Lou Burg was master of ceremonies and Larry Hart, chairman of the county Democratic organization, introduced Gov. Reynolds. The audience was four times the size of a similar gathering for Reynolds two years ago, according to Hart. More than one-third of those in attendance, 52 to be exact, if the writer's count was accurate, were from Kewaskum.

In his informative talk which held the attention of the audience, Gov. Reynolds included the presidential race and praised President Johnson as being very ably equipped for the office.

Open House at New Elementary School Sept. 13

The new Kewaskum Elementary school will hold an open house on Sunday, Sept. 13, from 1 - 5 p. m. so that parents and interested persons may view the new addition as well as the remainder of the physical plant.

Former pupils are certain to be surprised with some of the changes which have occurred since they attended either as elementary or secondary students.

It is the hope of the board of education that as many as possible will take this opportunity to visit the school.

Electors of the school district approved the issuance of $250,000 in general obligation bonds for construction of the new addition to the former school building at a special referendum election held on Sept. 24 of last year. Construction was begun in November and the building was completed in time for the opening of school this week.

The new building addition connects the primary building, which contains the kindergarten and grades one and two, and the former old high school building which houses the upper elementary grades and special education facilities.

The new addition, which contains an estimated 16,000 or more square feet of floor space, contains eight classrooms, a music room, office, teachers' room and lavatory facilities. Richard Zarling, principal, said the building program was undertaken because of the increase in enrollment and increasing demand for additional classrooms. The enrollment this year has neared the 500 mark, compared with an enrollment of 450 last school term.

PLAN COUNTY TEA FOR MRS. REYNOLDS, MRS. PROXMIRE

The wives of Gov. John W. Reynolds and Sen. William Proxmire will attend a tea at 7 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 1, at the Moraine Supper club, on Hwy. 45 south of West Bend. The wives will be on a tour of the state on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of that week. The reception at West Bend will be free and coffee and dessert will be served.

Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Proxmire would like to meet the women of Washington county and hope that many will be present. Wives of the county Democratic candidates will attend. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to contact Mrs. Minerva Martin or Mrs. Marie Dei and they will receive a personal invitation.

NOTICE REGARDING HIGH SCHOOL ANNUALS

Any persons who purchased the Chieftain on or before Aug. 24 are to bring them back to Kewaskum Community High school for an additional page which had been omitted from the original printing. Immediate attention to the above will be greatly appreciated.

HARTY LOSES TO JOHNSON, VAN PELT, RACE CONGRESS WINNERS IN CLOSE RACES

Not even close to half of the eligible village voters went to the polls to cast their ballots in Tuesday's primary election. A total of only 312 votes were recorded, 196 of them Republican and 116 Democrat.

Frederick C. Schroeder, West Bend, received the Republican nomination for assemblyman of Washington county when he polled 2,628 votes, a comfortable margin over his nearest competitor. Schroeder was top vote getter of the nine candidates seeking the nomination for the Nov. 3 election.

Ray Bast finished second with 1,301 votes while Sheriff William Johnson tallied 1,118, Roland P. Jaeger, 688, Herman H. Laabs 522, William H. Dieterich 501, Robert E. Keller 256 and Chester R. Rumsey and Oscar J. Schindelholz tied with 201 each.

On the Democratic ticket Charles A. Johnson polled 1,323 votes to defeat Larry E. Hart, who had 1,215, in a close race that resulted in a surprise. Schroeder and Johnson will face each other in November for the state assembly seat.

Robert H. Boltz won over Richard A. Burg for coroner on the votes cast for him in the final precinct to report, West Bend's third ward. The vote was Boltz 3,501 and Burg 3,289. Robert T. Kauth, Democratic candidate for coroner, who was unopposed, received 2,321 votes.

All other county candidates were unopposed and the results were as follows:

County clerk—James B. Feiten (D) 2341, Anton P. Staral (R) 6562. Treasurer—Norman R. Ott (D) 2282, Robert J. Klein (R) 6311. Sheriff—James A. Helfner (D) 2262, Raymond W. Jeffords (R) 6528. Clerk of circuit court—John N. Giudice (D) 2215, Lawrence P. Berend (R) 6269. District attorney—Roger W. McKenna (D) 2268, Richard T. Becker (R) 6359. Register of deeds—Helen M. Kocher (D) 2251, Olga Perrin (R) 6376. Surveyor—No Democratic candidate, Ethan Maxon (R) 6146.

Close races marked the voting in the sixth congressional district with Republican incumbent William K. Van Pelt waging a tight battle with Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber, and John A. Race going down to the wire with Edward K. Weber on the Democratic ticket. The tally with less than five precincts uncounted, gave Van Pelt 24,549 votes to Steinhilber's 20,595. The Democratic race was also very close as Race passed Weber as late results were tallied. Race nosed out Weber 12,916 votes to 12,182.

Washington county voters gave Weber 1,435 votes to Race's 1,120 in the only case where voters failed to reflect the general trend. Weber carried 20 of the county's 29 precincts. Van Pelt carried all 28 of the county's precincts, having his narrowest margin in the town of Wayne, where he edged Steinhilber 49 to 48. The vote in the county was Van Pelt 4,276 and Steinhilber 2,708.

Returns gave incumbent Gov. John W. Reynolds, Democrat, and former Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles insurmountable leads in the state for their nominations for governor. Reynolds emerged the victor over Dominic Frinzi by a better than two-to-one margin and Knowles beat Milo G. Knutson by a similar count. With nearly all of the precincts in, the results were: Reynolds 240,154, Frinzi 102,256; Knowles 245,539, Knutson 96,546.

In other opposition on the state ticket incumbent Republican Lt. Gov. Jack Olson easily beat Willis Capps. Bronson La Follette ran away from William S. Evans for the Democratic nomination for attorney general. Sen. William Proxmire easily defeated two Democratic opponents, Kenneth F. Klinkert and Arlyn F. Wollenburg. Proxmire will be opposed by Wilbur N. Renk, who won the GOP nomination without opposition. Eugene Lamb easily beat Floyd Lucia for the Democratic nomination for state treasurer.

the same soft drink coin machine by two West Bend thieves. Evidently they did not know that the place had just been "hit" early the morning before.

The thieves were observed by an alert neighbor of the laundry. He saw the car stop and watched one man enter the laundry while the other remained behind the wheel. Soon the man came back out with a coin box in his hand and the two drove east on Hwy. 28.

The neighbor notified local police and gave them a description of the men and car. The descriptions were broadcast over police radio and West Bend police spotted a car answering the description in a driveway in that city. Chief Pledl took the witness to West Bend and he identified the car as being the one at the laundry. The owner was arrested and later West Bend police picked up his partner at his home at another address. He admitted being involved in the theft with the other man and used a key he had to open the machine. The key and money were confiscated.

Both men had police records for various previous offenses. The man who committed the theft was fined $100 and costs Tuesday in county court by Judge Stoltz. His partner requested continuance of his case until Oct. 6.

TAKE MULCH OFF PERENNIALS

If you have any of your perennials mulched, we suggest you pull that mulch off right now. The basic reason for mulch is to hold water in and weeds out. Weeds will not germinate now, and the fall rains should take care of the water.

If you leave the mulch on, it may cause the roots to remain quite warm. As your plant hardens off, the roots will harden more slowly than the parts above-ground, and you might have some problems with winter injury.

A visitor to a large factory told the manager he could pick out all the married men among the employees. He stationed himself at the door, and as the men came from dinner he pointed to those he thought were married. In almost every case he was right.

"How do you do it?" asked the amazed manager.

"Oh, it's quite simple," replied the traveler. "The married men all wipe their feet on the mat. The single men don't."

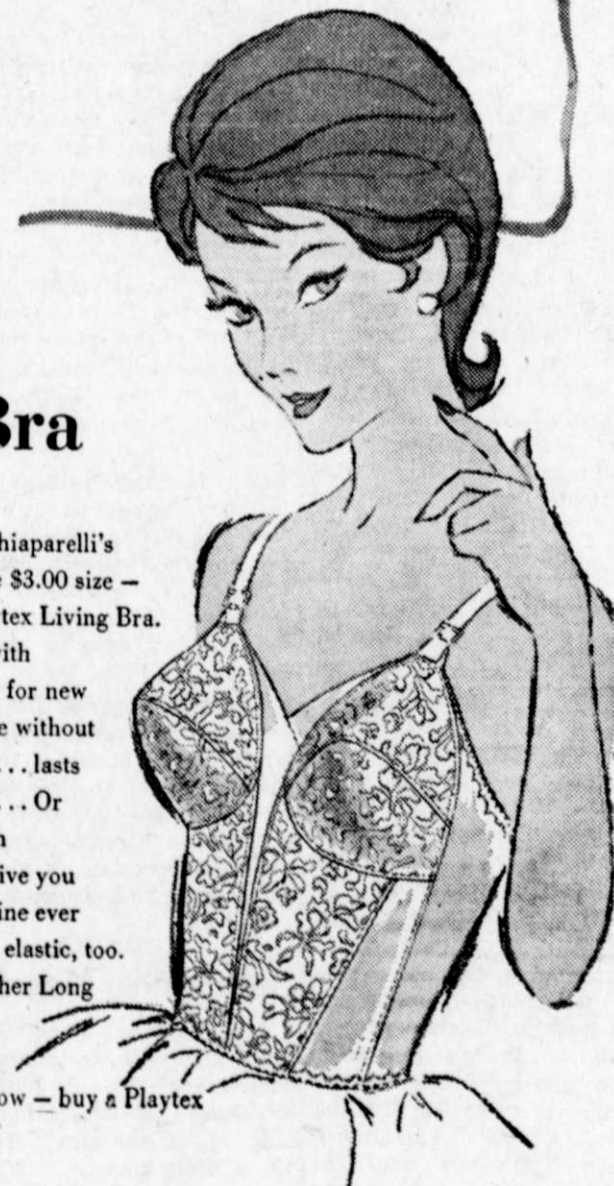

Tomatoes develop their best flavor if they are left on the vine until fully ripe. Sugar content is highest when the tomatoes are deep red in color, according to John Schoenemann, University of Wisconsin vegetable production specialist.

Questions & Answers on University Center Under Study for West Bend

KEWASKUM HIGH SCHOOL GRADS WOULD BE AMONG NEAREST SERVED BY CENTER

Another step in the fact-finding phase of possibly establishing a two-year University Center in West Bend was taken on Aug. 27, when the first meeting of the newly organized County University Center committee, joining 21 new members with the previously appointed committee was held at the courthouse. James R. Brown, chairman of the West Bend city committee, was elected chairman of the larger county committee while Harry Sheski, county superintendent of schools, was elected vice-chairman. County Board Chairman E. M. Romaine of Kewaskum was among those present. A suggestion to invite Ozaukee county membership was favored. The next committee meeting was tentatively set for Tuesday evening, Sept. 29.

The committee wants an informed public to express themselves on the Center, both negative as well as positive. Perhaps the best method of informing the public on the proposed Center through news columns is to present the questions and answers that have thus far been prepared by the committee. Because of their length, they will be presented in this newspaper in a series, starting with those listed below (which can be clipped for future reference). The public is invited to express their opinion in letters to the Statesman.

1. What is the Wisconsin plan for two year colleges?

According to plans described by the Co-ordinating Committee for Higher Education, Wisconsin expects to have within the next ten years a publicly supported two-year (or more) college within commuting distance of 95% of the high school graduates in the state. At the present time Wisconsin has four-year universities in Madison and Milwaukee plus nine state colleges. It now has eight university centers at which 3,000 students enrolled in the fall of 1963. These centers are in Racine, Kenosha, Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Menasha, Green Bay, Wausau and Marinette. A ninth is now being provided in Marshfield. The state is planning about three new university centers or state college branches per biennium for the next ten years; 13 sites have been selected and two more are under study. In the 1965 biennium, the state expects to set up university centers in Waukesha and Beloit-Janesville and a state college branch in Rice Lake; in the 1967 biennium, university centers in West Bend and Baraboo and a state college branch to serve Waupaca-Shawano counties. Later locations would be Beaver Dam, Rhinelander, Fond du Lac, Tomah, Wisconsin Rapids, Lake Geneva and Richland Center. Medford and Monroe are under study.

West Bend is now in the 1967 priority list. If our local communities do not wish a center or would delay, other communities may be moved up on the priority list.

2. What is the Co-ordinating Committee for Higher Education?

A committee created by Chapter 39.024 of the Wisconsin Statutes. It includes 17 members: 5 University of Wisconsin regents; 5 state college regents; 2 members of the county teachers college board; 4 from the public generally; and the state superintendent of public instruction.

3. What are the plans for a University Center in West Bend?

It is in the plans of the University of Wisconsin to establish a two-year branch in West Bend during the 1967-68 biennium if the local governments will provide 40 acres of land, pay for the buildings, and pay for the annual maintenance and utility costs along with half of the custodial costs. The university would equip the buildings, provide and pay for the instructional costs.

4. How big an area would it serve?

It is contemplated that it would serve an area about 25 to 30 miles wide bounded generally by Port Washington, Grafton, Germantown, Hartford, Mayville and Campbellsport. The area would cover generally most of Washington and Ozaukee counties.

5. Would the West Bend Center be a part of the University of Wisconsin?

Yes. The faculty would be furnished by the university and the courses would be the same as those in liberal arts at Madison. Credits would be as transferable as those earned at the university; applications for admission would be mailed to Madison, and transcripts of grades would come from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. West Bend would not be a separate school but a branch of the university although it would work closely with local schools (including schools of adult and vocational education); it would not be locally controlled but would be headed by a senior faculty member furnished by Madison and he would report to a dean in Madison.

6. What would be the quality of instruction?

The offerings would not be as broad as the university but in courses normally given in the first two years of college they would be as deep. There would be a full resident faculty in such subjects as English, social studies, history, and one language. The physics instructor, for example, would not have a full load so would be a circuit rider teaching in several centers.

In the centers now in operation, the experience has been that there have been more "drop-outs," probably because more students will "give college a try" because of the lower expense. However, the record shows that the students who have transferred from the centers for later work at the university have done averagely equal or better academic work than those who started at the university.

7. What do the local communities furnish?

In addition to 40 acres of land, the local communities must furnish such buildings as classrooms, laboratories (not equipment), a library to house 4,000 to 6,000 volumes, faculty offices, auditorium or assembly hall (seating about 250) with stage, and a modest student union.

8. What about extracurricular activities?

Athletics are limited to intramural activities. In existing centers there has been considerable extracurricular activity revolving around such things as forensics and drama and there have been other social activities, publications, and clubs under faculty supervision. The centers have also served as citizen-education facilities of the university for the areas in which they are located. As such, they provide a great variety of evening classes, short courses, institutes, conferences, lectures, and concerts.

(To be continued next week)

SCHOOL ADVICE

With school about to start, we would like to give a special word of advice to farm boys, as well as girls, as they begin this new semester. This advice is prompted by an article I read in a national farm publication, entitled "Why Too Many Farm Boys Get Poor Jobs."

Actually, this is probably due to several things. For one, this farm boy was probably up at five in the morning to do chores before going to school, and he knew he had more hours of chores before he went to bed. If these were the things he liked to do, he was probably not particularly interested in having to read and study and think, unless it pertained to those things in which he was already interested.

Many farm boys have been in this same situation, but the day has come when we have to make some changes. When you read that the number of farms and the number of people in farming are declining, you realize that this boy is going to have to look elsewhere for his livelihood when he is through with high school.

The situation is becoming more critical each year, and I would ask every farm boy in Washington county to give this matter serious consideration. Where do you want to be when you reach the age of 25? And what do you want to be doing? What are the requirements for being able to do it? The next step is to get busy and fulfill those requirements.

We think no boy should ever be in the position, when he reaches the age of 25, that he needs to apologize to anyone, least of all to himself, for his particular position in life at that time. With so many training facilities available today, what possible excuse does any boy have for not being able to get and hold a good job? His high school is ready and willing to help him. It has mathematics which are so necessary in today's world; it has vocational agriculture if this is his interest; and it has many other methods of training in addition to vocational schools. After high school he can go to a trade school if further training is necessary. If he is interested in college, and we hope he is, he should take every college preparatory course he can get in high school.

With today's available training facilities, let no boy ever say, when he reaches the age of 25, that he can do nothing except ordinary hard work, because he has no training. If he does he is apologizing for not having taken advantage of the training available, and he is untruthful to himself and to the public. Boys, think about this and make a firm decision to absorb all the training you possibly can.

CRAB GRASS ON LAWN

If your lawn is like mine, it is full of crab grass. Mine is a new lawn and is badly infested with crab grass. I hope by next year I can overcome it. However, this year I will have to do as many of you will do—simply learn to love the stuff. Crab grass is an annual. It reproduces from seed each year. On a lawn that is not growing properly, the crab grass will germinate in the early spring. Once it has a start, it can crowd out the blue grass quite easily, especially this time of year. We think the best way to control crab grass is to fertilize the lawn with a high-nitrogen fertilizer in the spring and raise the lawnmower up at least two inches in height. Do anything you can to get the blue grass into a real tough sod. By so doing, you will go a long way toward eliminating the problem of crab grass from your lawn.

MORE DUTCH ELM REPORTS

We reported to you off and on this summer about a great deal of Dutch Elm disease affecting elm trees in the county. We are getting more and more reports every day about infected trees.

It is a foregone conclusion that there is not much we can do about it at the present time. The University of Wisconsin and many other institutions are running crash programs to find a way to prevent losing these elms. We are certain they will find a cure some day. They have already made progress; however, the treatment they have discovered is not yet practical and must be done under very controlled conditions. Let's just hope our scientists are able to find the answer before we lose many more elms around our countryside.

Now that the fall season approaches, there won't be too much more spreading of Dutch Elm disease around the area. But we do suggest that farmers and home owners use this time to clean up the dead elms in their area so that there will be a less desirable situation for the spreading of this disease in the coming year.

Looking Thru the Field Glasses...

EARLY BOW, ARROW SEASON ON DEER OPENS SEPT. 26

Jumbo perch and a few small walleyes biting at Pike lake, perch also hitting at Big Cedar.

Goose blind applications have been available at all license depots in the county and were to be in the mail postmarked on or before Sept. 10.

The special season for bear in the seven management units in northern Wisconsin, Sept. 5 to 20 inclusive, prohibits the use of a bow and arrow. Firearms only may be used during that period.

Sept. 26 marks the opening of the hunt in northern Wisconsin for many species of game. Hunting license and the big and small game hunting regulations are available now.

The early season for hunting deer with bow and arrow only this fall is Sept. 26 through Nov. 17.

The late season is Dec. 5-31.

Both seasons are state-wide.

Bear also may be hunted with bow and arrow on the same dates. Hunting hours for both deer and bear are from ½ hour before sunrise to sunset.

Again this year, it is unlawful to transport any deer in or on any vehicle from the time it is killed to the time it is registered unless the deer is carried openly exposed and in such a manner so that the deer tag attached to the deer can not be handled or manipulated by any occupant of the vehicle. This regulation affects both gun and bow and arrow hunting.

The regulation prohibiting the possession of a firearm while hunting during the bow and arrow season has been repealed. However, the regulation on possession of a deer showing evidence that it was shot with a firearm is still in effect and has been clarified. Any deer showing any evidence of having been shot with a firearm is an illegal deer and it is illegal to possess it.

It is quite easy to determine if a deer has been killed or wounded by a firearm. Wardens have now had many years experience with this, and have developed many techniques to aid in making this determination. With the use of a mine detector even small fragments of lead can be found.

Over the years, most arrests concerning bow and arrow hunters have been for:

1. Carrying a bow and arrow in or on a vehicle not unstrung or enclosed within a carrying case.
2. Having in possession or under control, a bow and arrow in a vehicle while shining wild animals.
3. Hunting after hours.

Don't allow riders on tractor, drawbar, or towed equipment unless a seat is provided for them.

safety charlie says...

Look before backing. Many drivers run over children or objects in their own driveways because they don't look carefully before backing the car. Always check carefully around the car—whether in your own driveway or on the streets—before moving backward. It saves lives and avoids property damage.
