The 115-year old Backhaus homestead, two miles east of Kewaskum, was sold some time ago to the Wisconsin Conservation Department. Louis Backhaus Jr., grandson of Carl Backhaus, who immigrated from Germany and settled on the farm in 1850, announced the sale of the farm.

Carl's brother, Henry, operated the first Kewaskum store, also known by that name. Gottlieb, August and Henry Backhaus, brothers immigrated to this country from Germany in 1845 and the fourth brother, Carl Backhaus, came five years later, in 1850.

Louis and his wife will continue to live on the homestead for the time being. An auction will be held Nov. 15 at the farm, which is noted for its beautiful scenery, now part of the Kettle Moraine Forest.

EASTER LILY BLOOMS IN NOVEMBER AT LOCAL HOME

Mrs. Milton Maedke of 1339 Midland ave. called this office on Wednesday to report an Easter lily in bloom at her home. It is a rare occasion to have an Easter lily in bloom on Veterans Day, Nov. 11. The lily was planted on the north side of the Maedke house in late spring.

This plant in bloom this late in the year is a result of the unseasonably warm weather we have been enjoying all this fall. The temperature on Wednesday was 70 degrees and it is very unusual to see butterflies, bees, bugs, flies and mosquitos flying about at this time of the year.

But it is wonderful, with Thanksgiving only a week from next Thursday. We'd gladly take four more months of this weather.

BAKE SALE AT WAYNE

A bake sale will be held at Salem Church of Christ, Wayne, on Nov. 21 at 3:00 p. m. The public is invited.

Youth, 13, Killed, Brother Hurt in Dynamite Blast

A rural Campbellsport youth was killed last Friday and his brother was quite seriously injured when dynamite exploded in a tree stump at their farm home on County Trunk W two miles south of Eden.

Killed in the blast was Allen Waldschmidt, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Waldschmidt. Taken to St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, with severe facial injuries was his brother, Paul, 15. The mishap occurred about 3:45 p. m.

Fond du Lac county Coroner Frank Decker related that a charge had been set under a stump but did not look as though it would explode. He said Allen apparently moved closed to investigate and just as Paul moved up to warn his brother to get away because he heard something "sizzling" the charge went off.

The younger boy, standing almost on top of the blast, was killed instantly by the explosion as it hurled his body 100 feet through the air. Paul, standing further away, received a blast of dirt in the face, apparently his only injuries. He had heavy swelling about his face due to the bits of dirt and wood chips which struck him.

The boys' father, positioned on the other side of the stump, was not injured. Both he and Paul were standing about 20 feet away from the charge but the force of the blast exploded toward the boys and away from the father.

Allen's body was found about 100 feet away from the scene of the explosion where all that remained was a huge hole in the ground. The stump was blown out and apparently over the top of Paul as it was found a short distance from where the youth was knocked down.

Funeral services for Allen, an eighth grader at Campbellsport grade school, were held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at St. Matthew's church, the Rev. Warren Schmidt officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery. Surviving are his parents, two brothers, Eugene and Paul; a sister, Joan, and two of his grandparents.

Newly Elected Congressman, Race Talks Here

ADDRESSES COUNTY LABOR COUNCIL, PROMISES AID IN GETTING WORK CONTRACTS

John A. Race

John Race, Democrat, representative-elect from the 6th congressional district, on Monday night spoke to members of the Washington County Labor Council at a meeting held at the Labor Center in Kewaskum. Charging that the 6th district has been "short changed" on government contracts in the past, Race said he plans to change this situation.

"I campaigned on the pledge to help bring new business and industry to this district," he stated, "and I plan to keep that pledge. We have many fine businessmen who could add additional men to their payrolls if they received some of these contracts."

Race said that he intends to make his office a clearing house for businesses seeking government contracts in Wisconsin. He added that he had already talked to some district manufacturers who have asked his help in doing business with the government.

"The district needs no handouts or subsidies, but with a fair break in getting government business we will be able to substantially boost our work force," said Race.

50 YEARS AGO

Nov. 14, 1914

The annual ball given by the Kewaskum High school alumni in Groeschel's South Side park hall was a financial success and pretty social affair. The beautiful gowns of the ladies, the inspiring music of the Kewaskum Quintette, and the joyful countenance of the merry-makers all tended to make a picture longe to be remembered.

The reconstruction of Main st. west of the railroad tracks to Fond du Lac ave. has been finished. We will venture to say this new street should last a lifetime.

KEWASKUM KITCHENETTES

Our meeting for the month of October was held at Mrs. Adeline Schoofs' on Oct. 20. The roll call was what we have done to winterize our garden. Most of our members have not done anything yet, in spite of the nice weather we had. Some have thought about it. There were a few who had it winterized.

The project for this month was "The Family in a Changing World." The project leaders were Mrs. Dorothy Volm and Mrs. Kathy Wilke. They discussed about the teenage of 1900 and of today. It was very interesting to find out what they got along with in 1900 and what they all have today.

We are planning on having a White Elephant exchange at our next meeting. We have it as an annual event.

Our health reporter read and explained to us about the mobile unit that is going to be in the near future.

The meeting for the month of November will be at Mrs. Peggy Stoffel's. It will be Nov. 17. The project leaders for that month will be Mrs. Carmen Backhaus and Mrs. Ruth Krueger.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Mae Hanrahan. Our hostess served delicious hot beef and barbecue sandwiches with a variety of relishes and coffee.

Teacher Is Killed At Campbellsport

David Marofski, 23, vocal teacher at the Campbellsport public schools, and a native of Oshkosh, was fatally injured in an auto crash on County Trunk Hwy. V about two miles south of Eden last Wednesday morning.

An autopsy was ordered when it was believed Marofski may have died before the fatal crash as his car traveled approximately 200 feet in a straight line after leaving the road before it crashed into a culvert. After hitting the culvert, the car bounced over a driveway at the Clarence Smith home, R. 1, Eden, and landed on its wheels on the other side. The autopsy indicated that the teacher died of head injuries.

Marofski also taught vocal music at the Eden school. This was his first teaching assignment. Funeral services were held at Oshkosh.

Specific emphasis is placed on the practical application of ASW tactics at the individual ship level. It also trains prospective anti-submarine air controllers.

The school serves to train navy men in the tactical aspects of ASW; in the operational and tactical use of sonar, ASW weapons and their allied equipments; and in the operational, preventative and technical maintenance and manipulation of these equipments and weapons.

A graduate of Kewaskum High school, Chief Kougl entered the service in December 1950.

Landowners who desire to plant trees in 1965 may get their tree order blanks now. They are available from the county agent's office, 2nd floor, court house annex, West Bend; or from the conservation offices on the 3rd floor of the court house annex. These include the forester's office, the soil conservation service, and the ASCS office.

These blanks are used to indicate how many trees the planter wants of the several species. The species available are: black walnut, hard maple, white ash, jack pine, Norway pine, white pine, Norway spruce, white spruce, and white cedar.

By ordering now, one gets the trees he wants. Waiting sometimes means that you get what is left. The agents working with the program suggest that those who wish to order trees do so immediately.

Editors' Conference

Six students and teachers from Kewaskum Community High school were among the 800 student editors and teacher advisers from 90 high schools throughout Wisconsin who attended the 37th annual Wisconsin High School Editors' conference held Saturday, Oct. 24, at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

Round-table discussion groups for the student editors and managers of high school newspapers and yearbooks made up the program for the conference which is annually sponsored by the UW School of Journalism and the Wisconsin Journalism Teachers-Advisers Council. The high school student editors and publication managers received many journalism pointers in a concentrated one-day program of instruction by Wisconsin journalism experts, and also heard of the many favorable job prospects for young people who choose journalism as a career.

Taking part in the conference from Kewaskum Community High were Jan F. Rosenthal, Earl A. Buswell, advisers; and Dorothy Buzcek Janet Breit, Peggy Buswell, Mary Zehren.

County Agent News Notes

By MAURICE J. HOVLAND
Washington County Agent

KETTLE MORAINI TOURS

We have now completed the very interesting series of tours and classroom meetings which were held to study the Kettle Moraine area of Washington county. Attendance was very good, averaging about 65 for each meeting. We studied the geological history of the Kettle Moraine; the land forms that resulted from glacial action, and the plant growth of the area. The West Bend school system has indicated that they will give credit for 10 to 12 hours of study to their teachers who attended. With the kind of teaching we had, certainly everyone who attended learned many things about the geological background of this area.

We would be glad to develop another study group on this subject later, if we have sufficient people interested. We still have the very capable personnel to conduct another series of meetings. If you would be interested in participating in a program such as this, please send a card to the extension office, call or stop in and let us know.

ELECTION BEHIND US

Finally we have the election behind us. This might be a good time to wish each successful candidate good luck, and pledge to him our complete support. In a free society which we enjoy this sort of thing is possible.

Take a moment and reflect to yourself that many countries cannot do this. People there have no choice. We do have a choice, and 65 million people helped decide it. Thanksgiving is a time to be grateful for these freedoms, and let us hope it may be ever so.

CLEAN EAVES, DOWNSPOUTS

One of these days the weather will change and we suggest that before it does you get the eaves and downspouts cleaned. It's a good idea to get as many of the leaves out as possible, so that any moisture that accumulates can have free movement into the downspouts.

BEWARE OF SILO GAS

A word of caution: keep an eye

SOTHEY'S

HE PULLED THE WOOL OVER HER EYES

but she couldn't be fooled. Other people had assured her that JANZ TV have wonderful values in TV, Radio, Hi-Fi and Stereo, and "They Service What They Sell".

out for silo gas. Be on the alert for yellow staining in the silage or bleach-like odors near the silo. A farmer called last Thursday to say that when he opened the silo room door that morning he found 6 dead mice.

Suppose this had been a valuable calf, a dog, or even the farmer himself.

Be sure to keep good air movement in your silo room and silo.

FALL INSECTS

Home owners, especially those who live near a wooded area, will very likely be plagued with some insects in this fall season. These insects are beginning to move about now, looking for a warm place to spend the winter. Naturally when they get into the house, they cause the housewife great anxiety. While this won't help the embarrassment if a worm crawls up the wall when you are having a bridge party, try to understand that it is just nature at work.

About the best thing we can suggest is that you keep an open area of short grass ten feet around your home. Closely clipped grass, or areas of stone or concrete can help because these insects don't like to leave cover. If you find large populations of insects, be generous with a DDT powder. They will eat this as they move about.

You might also remember that there will be a period of a week when spring comes again that we'll have no insects at all!

BULLETIN ON ROSES

Many of our readers like to grow roses. We would like to tell you that we have an excellent USDA publication available in the office describing care and management of roses, including spray programs, insects and diseases, and other problems. It also tells what to do with them during the winter. If you would like to have a copy of this bulletin, let us know; we will be glad to send it to you.

ONE-SIDED APPLE TREES

Some of our home orchardists

are wondering why certain of their trees have apples on only one side this year. This is probably due to the extremely hard winds we had for a few days last spring. Branches were whipped to the point that the blossoms on the wind side of the tree were injured. The tree limbs protected those on the other side of the tree, so that they came through all right.

It is possible to determine the age of ducks and geese in autumn by examining their tail feathers. If the tip of a feather is pointed or rounded, the bird is an adult; if the tail feather is V-notched or square-ended, the bird is juvenile.

Are your farm buildings wired adequately? Rural use of electricity has doubled in the last 10 years — but in that same length of time — few farmers have updated their electrical wiring systems.

Looking Thru the Field Glasses...

By Bob Lake, Conservation Warden, Washington County

Four deer were killed on Washington county highways this past week. Bow and arrow hunters also shot two on Sunday south of the Theresa public hunting grounds. One deer was killed by shiners late at night in the Holy Hill area.

Individuals living in the towns of Richfield or Erin, who own ponies or young cattle the color of deer should keep them in the vicinity of the buildings after dark at this time of year. Within the past three weeks a prize animal was killed by shiners in eastern Dodge county. The following morning the farmer found the head and chest cavity lying in the field, the hind quarters were missing.

Parents who have young sons who are beginning to hunt and wish to hunt migratory waterfowl, should obtain the practical publication, a color pamphlet, "DUCKS AT A DISTANCE" issued by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The booklet illustrates fall plumage in color identification points and characteristics of common species.

Free distribution to individuals will be made from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service office, Box 3066, Madison, 53706. This booklet will make an ideal Christmas present.

More than 7,000 variable quota deer party permits for northwestern Wisconsin will be distributed by the conservation department on a first-come, first-served basis between now and Nov. 16.

Permits are available for five areas in Ashland, Bayfield, Burnett, Douglas, Price, Rusk, Sawyer and Washburn counties. Applications may be obtained from offices of county clerks or department field stations. The $5.00 fee should be sent to the license section in Madison along with the application.

The opening of the small game hunting season Saturday, Oct. 17, found the largest army of hunters in history in Washington county. Wherever one might look, men and boys were marching thru woods, fields and marshes. A big percent of the hunters were found at the Colgate, Jackson, Hartford, Allenton and Theresa public hunting grounds. Due to hot weather, as well as dry and dusty ground, hunting was fair to poor for an opening. Dogs were unable to track birds except in swamy areas.

Eight deer were killed on Washington county highways over the Oct. 17-18 weekend. Two were shot and left in the woods by hunters, and a Milwaukee man killed a nice fat buck with a bow and arrow on the north end of the Theresa Public Hunting Grounds.

Far too many boys and young men have been wounded by gun fire in Washington county this fall. Fortunately no one was killed. Boys must have a hunting license, between the ages of 12 and 16 they may not hunt alone. The parents must accompany them or designate someone over 21 years of age to do so.

Three more deer were killed on Washington county highways over the Oct. 24-25 weekend, two on Hwy. 41 and one on 45 in the Kewaskum swamp. This adds up to 62 car kills in 1964 compared with 45 at this time last year.

The trapping season for mink and muskrat opened north of Highway 60 in Washington county on Oct. 31. Trapping hours are one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset. It is illegal to trap mink or muskrat on agricultural lands occupied by the owner or renter without written permission from said occupant.

Robert W. Groth, R. 4, West Bend, killed a large doe deer with bow and arrow near his home.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to Parents Of Young Drivers:

In reading last night's paper I came to realize more and more accidents on our highways are involving our young drivers and about one-third of all the deaths in Wisconsin are young drivers and passengers under the age of 20.

I believe the school driving program in Kewaskum is very good and written and driving tests given are also the best, but still accidents do occur.

Do you parents know that school buses are available for school football and basketball games and for church activities also? But many times not enough sign up and then the bus might have to be cancelled. And why don't they sign up? It's because you parents give the family car.

A group of young people in a car with the radio going and an excess of conversation, a laugh or squeal or joke from the back seat can cause the driver (no matter how good he or she is) to take their eyes off the road, giving cause for an accident.

Also there is the temptation not to go straight home after the activity is over. And if it's a night when there is no school the next day, there is always a dance somewhere.

Then there is the other driver, the careless man or woman hurrying home or one who is drunk.

Parents, why not help the law enforcement agencies in preventing accidents and deaths? When a bus is available insist your child use it. Check with your school and church when it is necessary, save your children, family car and prevent worry and ulcers for yourself.

Dear Editor:

As county agent of Washington county it is always my privilege to present certificates and pins to county 4-H club leaders who have long service records. All the leaders who received this recognition at the annual leaders banquet last week deserve a great deal of credit.

I believe special credit should be given to two men who have each given 30 years of dedicated service to Washington county boys and girls. These men are John Kopp, of the Kohlsville Pioneers 4-H club, and Paul Cypher, of the Good Luck 4-H club.

I wonder how many hours they have given individually to do things with and for these boys and girls; how many gallons of gas they have used; how much of their own money has been spent for these many accomplishments. There aren't many of us who are as dedicated as these men. What they have gained from this long service is the satisfaction of knowing they have had a hand in helping many boys and girls grow up to become good citizens.

May we take this opportunity to express our gratitude, and the gratitude of all 4-H'ers in Washington county, to John Kopp and Paul Cypher.

Sincerely,

Maurice J. Hovland

Census Enumerators Calling on Farmers

MARIE DEI ENUMERATOR FOR T. KEWASKUM, WAYNE

Enumerators for the 1964 Census of Agriculture began calling on farmers of Washington county Monday, Nov. 9, according to County Agent Maurice Hovland.

Enumerators are local men and women hired temporarily by the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, to locate and count the commercial farms in the communities where the enumerators live. Enumerators in Washington county belong to a force of 23,000 throughout the nation.

The following persons have been appointed as enumerators in Washington county, crew leader Gladys L. Peterson said this week: Marie Dei, Wayne and Kewaskum; Annabell Sauer, Farmington; Joy Presley, Trenton; Viola Gerhardt, Barton and West Bend; Loraine Klink, Addison; Betty Schlough, Hartford; Mary L. Stauss, Polk; Edward Herman, Jackson and Germantown; Ed. Ritterbush, Richfield; Agnes W. Whelan, Erin.

The purpose of the visits is to collect census questionnaires that farmers in the county have been filling out since the forms were mailed to all rural boxholders several days ago. Farmers were thus allowed a period of time to consult their 1964 business records and to fill out the forms before the enumerators came calling. The purpose of the questionnaire is to furnish needed, up-to-date information on United States agricultural production and resources.

During the visits, enumerators will also review forms and assist farmers in completing the answers to any questions that the farmers were unable to answer. Filling out the form is required by the Census Act.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9". The information on the nation's agricultural resources and production is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered includes the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventory, information on farm equipment and improvements, farm products sold, and on some production expenditures. Information also will be collected on use of fertilizers, insecticides and herbicides.

The enumerators will be trained in a special 4-day home study course designed to prepare them for the farm census, their crew leader said.
