AFS Student Marion Evans From New Zealand to Leave June 30

Will Tour Eastern States Three Weeks Before Return Home

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION AND THANKS TO PEOPLE FOR YEAR'S STAY IN KEWASKUM

Miss Marion Evans

Miss Marion Evans, AFS student from Gisborne, New Zealand, who spent the past year living with the Marvin Martin family, will leave next Wednesday, June 30, for a three week tour of the eastern states before returning to her home in that country. Miss Evans has submitted the following message of thanks and appreciation to the people of Kewaskum for her year's stay here:

In just a little over a month's time I will be back in New Zealand and greeting my family and friends again. As I come closer to the time of my departure from Kewaskum I'm filled with many mixed feelings. Naturally I am very excited at the prospect of seeing some of your eastern states and getting home again, but on the other hand, it is difficult to say goodbye to my home for this year.

So much has happened during this year; so much in such a short time. Now that my year has finished I wonder where it all went to. I hope that I have made the most of it and I know that if I had the chance I would love to go through it all again.

It's strange to think that this time last year I had never heard of Kewaskum. Now I'll want to shout its name all over New Zealand! I think that if I had my way I'd steer all of our students and tourists Wisconsin way.

I hope that I have given you a favourable impression and understanding of New Zealand. I also hope that you will continue to show interest in her and that perhaps some of you may even visit me in my home some day.

I know that this year has been the most significant in my life. A lot of my experiences have a personal significance and I cannot express what they have done for me but I do believe that they will go into making me a fuller and better person. I have grown to love my small area of America and the people of that area. This will always be "home" to me.

I wish that I could see you all to thank you personally for all you have done for me but that is impossible as I leave Kewaskum Wednesday, June 30th, to begin a three weeks bus trip to the eastern states. On 27th July I will be boarding a jet in San Francisco and will finally arrive in New Zealand on 29th July.

My year does not finish when I leave the states. Its influence will be felt for the rest of my life. When I return home I begin the second part of my year when I have to relay to my people my experiences in America. You can be assured that this is going to be a lot of fun as well as a pleasure. Don't you wish you could hear what I'll say?

I do hope to return some day and I'll do my best to see that this isn't just an idle wish.

I would especially like to thank my wonderful family, the AFS Board and Club and those clubs and business concerns that support this AFS programme in Kewaskum. I certainly appreciate all that you've done and I hope you will continue to feel that this is a worthwhile cause.

The AFS programme turns over again. I know that you will give just as much love and support to your next student as you have given me.

Best wishes to you all for future happiness.

Homemaker Notes

COUNTRY COUSINS

The Country Cousins homemakers had their last club meeting of the year at Doris Prost's home on May 19. After a short business meeting, August Koch showed a movie on the stock market. The movie explained in story form the many problems an investor can have and how to solve them. Mr. Koch answered our questions on stocks and bonds and had a selection of informative pamphlets which were available to all. We wish to thank him for coming to our meeting.

Therese Oelhafen won the door prize which was a bird cage planter filled with artificial flowers.

We had our monthly silent auction, thanks to Gladys Ramel, who is exceptionally handy with plastic bottles. Her original creations were a crayon bag, curler bag and also a dozen gladiolus bulbs.

HANDICAPPED CHILDREN INVITED TO COUNTY FAIR

Something new has been added to the Washington county fair in 1965, according to Maurice Hovland, county agent and fair manager. The fair is extending an invitation to all mentally and physically handicapped children of Washington county to attend the fair on opening day, July 22, as guests of G. F. Gregory, operator of the mid-way.

Gregory has volunteered to send buses to the various communities to bring these boys and girls to the fair. During the morning they will be given free rides on the kiddie rides, free treats, and will be returned by bus to their communities, to arrive about noon.

Hovland also announced that each community will be asked to take charge of their own group, as to having someone in charge of the group, to know exactly who is there, and to supply the chaperones. Organization of this program will be done within the next two weeks.

ANNOUNCEMENT

This year, as we have done in the past, we are closing down our dry cleaning plant only for plant and machinery maintenance for a period from July 4 through July 11. This means our plant will be closed during this time. The coin laundry will remain open.

Please arrange to get special and regular work to us in time to be processed and returned to you before we close down. Many thanks for your consideration.

County Agent News Notes

By MAURICE J. HOVLAND
Washington County Agent

CENTURY FARM DEADLINE

We remind our landowners in Washington county that the deadline for applications for century farm and home certificates is July 1. If you have land or a home that has been in your family continuously for 100 years get the blank from the extension office, fill it out, send it in, and you will then receive further information from the State Fair officials.

CONTRIBUTE TO FAIR

Attention needs to be called again to the fine contribution of two particular people to the Washington county fair. In recognition of this, the 1965 county fair premium book has been dedicated to Mrs. Erwin Habeck and Emil Gauger.

Mrs. Habeck has served as a superintendent in the main exhibit building for many years, and has become a very definite part of this county fair.

Emil Gauger, as chairman of the town of Trenton, thus serving on the county board, has been a member of the county fair committee for many years.

Both these people, who have a very keen interest in the activities of boys and girls, deserve a great deal of credit for all their time and effort that they put into our county fair.

GET HAY MADE

This is the time to get your hay made. In fact, it is now getting to the point of being almost too late. By the time you get through cutting now, the hay will be in the seed pod stage and it will be far too ripe to make good hay. If you had a field that was in pretty bad shape, leave that until last because by that time the roots that were injured will be completely healed and it should make good hay for you.

You may ask about the yellowing on the lower leaves, and I'm not sure I can give you the answer. It might be injury to the root of the alfalfa. It may be that some of the root hairs were torn loose and the plant simply isn't getting enough water. I don't think there are any insects or funguses coming in yet.

OAT PLOT ON LOCAL FARM

Oat variety plots have been established in Washington county this year on the Gerry Stoffel farm located just west of Kewaskum on Hwy. 28. Between Gerry and Roy Esser, vo-ag instructor in Kewaskum, these plots were established. Signs will be in place sometime in June, and the public is invited to stop and look at these plots and see how they are growing.

SHORTAGE OF HAY

Because of the serious winter injury to hay, we're going to have some shortages in the county. We moved a lot of hay from our area to the north, and now it looks like we might be moving some back.

There are some things you can do to help yourself. One of the recent releases that comes to my mind is how to make a good crop of ear corn replace your roughage. We cannot replace roughage completely; this is out of the question in a dairy economy. But we can cut down our roughage quality a great deal and increase our corn intake in these animals, and it will come out about the same. Consider this in your planning program, and if you need more feed than you think you're going to have, you might think in terms of increasing your corn and oat content in your dairy ration, while decreasing your roughage ration in a corresponding amount.

We will have more information on this in the weeks ahead, but you might consider it now, because it takes some preparation. After all, no corn crop will develop in less than 100 days.

RABIES INFORMATION

Rabies is an acute fatal disease affecting the central nervous system of infected animals. It is caused by a virus present in the saliva of infected animals. It is transmitted to man or any warm-blooded animal by bites, or the saliva contacting scraped or broken skin.

The incubation period is relatively short when the wound is located near the central nervous system as on the face or head, or when it is a deep puncture wound where the tissue has a rich supply of nerves. The average incubation period from the time of the bite or exposure until clinical symptoms of rabies develops is generally as follows: man, 3 to 9 weeks; horse and cow, 4 to 8 weeks; sheep and goat, 3 to 4 weeks. After symptoms develop, the animal usually dies in 4 to 14 days.

Clinical symptoms may vary somewhat in affected animals. Basically there are three stages noted—first, a restless, irritable period; second, a period of excitement, vicious or aimless attacks on any moving objects or animals, the animal may wander aimlessly over the country biting other domestic or wild animals that cross his path; third, a paralytic stage. First signs are a drooping open mouth, caused by the paralysis of the lower jaw. Efforts to swallow cause spasms of the throat muscles, a reasonable explanation for the "hydrophobia" name, meaning fear of water. The animal cannot drink because he cannot swallow. After paralysis appears, it develops rapidly involving the entire body, internally and externally. The disease terminates fatally, due to exhaustion of the animal.

Cattle become restless, excitable and aggressive. They develop a characteristic eerie sounding below as the disease progresses.

The horse will rub and itch at the bite location. He shows fear and restlessness and will paw and bite at the manger.

Swine will attack other animals, hide in straw, gnaw at the wound. Paralysis develops rapidly in swine.

Once rabies is established in an animal or when clinical symptoms develop, there is no medication that will cure the disease. It can only end in death.

In 1964 there were 89 cases of rabies reported in Wisconsin in 35 counties, which was about 50% increase over 1963 when 61 cases were reported. Ten species of animals—21 dogs, 11 cats, 22 cows, 2 pigs, 3 horses, 11 skunks, 9 foxes, 3 raccoons, 1 groundhog, and 6 bats had laboratory diagnosed cases in Washington and Ozaukee counties, which was the largest number in many years.

Control

Annual rabies vaccination of pets has been very effective. This gives the vaccinated animal a reasonable amount of immunity against the rabies virus if it is later bitten by a rabid animal. However, this doesn't eliminate the need for a 10 to 14-day quarantine period following bites inflicted on humans to determine whether clinical symptoms of rabies will develop during the 1-14 days period.

Elimination of stray dogs and wildlife such as skunks and foxes which serve as a reservoir for the rabies virus.

The described symptoms are characteristic for dogs, cats, skunks, foxes, or other wildlife.

She has participated very actively in 4-H club projects and activities. She is presently enrolled as a sophomore at Wisconsin State university at Oshkosh.

Pat has had a keen interest in agricultural affairs and products since many of her relatives and close friends are actively engaged in farming. Her many friends in the West Bend area wish her well in this final competition for "Alice in Dairyland."

Should she be fortunate enough to be selected from these 22 contestants, she would have a very busy year traveling all over the country promoting and advertising Wisconsin agricultural products. The county extension office and her many friends congratulate and wish her well as she participates in the finals in Sun Prairie.

Twilight Meeting Of County Holstein Breeders Success

The twilight meeting of the Washington County Holstein Breeders association, held at the Melius Bros. farm on June 10, was a great success, according to John Horlamus, chairman of the association.

The program began with a judging contest. Boys and girls and the adults judged one class of aged cows and one class of heifers. George Werner, University of Wisconsin dairy specialist, made the final decisions on the animals.

The meeting moved into the barn, where John Horlamus welcomed the group. Norm Rasmusen, secretary of the state Holstein association gave a short talk. Christ Mayer, locally famous Holstein breeder, gave a short report on the national convention. County Agent Maurice Hovland had a few announcements, following which George Werner talked briefly about the using of emergency hays and balancing the ration properly.

This was followed by presentation of the awards for the judging contest. In the junior division there were seven winners. Jean Powell won first place and a $5.00 prize. In addition, she won a halter given to the event by Piper Bros. of Watertown. Other winners in this division were David Sterr, Bob Schroeder, Gerald Rogge, Michael Powell, Ernie Kueffner, Jr., and Bill Schellinger. The senior winners were judged a bit differently, and a barn desk contributed by East Central Breeders Association Cooperative was presented to John Wiedmeyer, who came the closest in the judging contest.

A calf was auctioned, which had been donated to the association by Tom Wiedmeyer of West Bend. This calf was from a dam producing over 700 lbs. of butterfat. The proceeds of this sale are to be used by the association in furthering youth work in Holstein activities. The animal was purchased by John Wiedmeyer for $260.00. The program was adjourned, and a dairy lunch served to the membership.

LARGE NORTHERNS BITING; DEER KILLED ON HIGHWAYS

Northerns up to twelve pounds caught at Big Cedar on weekdays. Large chubs best bait. Perch continue to bite at Pike lake. Good crappie fishing at Little Cedar and Friess lakes.

Three deer were killed on Washington county highways over the past weekend. Two doe were killed on US Hwy. 41 near Hwy. 28 and a buck on Hwy. 83 north of Thompson.

The state of Michigan now permits the driver of an automobile which kills a deer to keep the animal if he obtains a permit from a conservation officer. The state of New York started such a program over a year ago. Wisconsin at this time has no intention of doing so.

You Must Report Boat Accidents!

Section 30.67 of the Wisconsin Statutes requires the reporting of boating accidents. This is not a new law. It is part of the Wisconsin Boating Law which went into effect on April 1, 1960.

We have been patient indeed. Each year a great deal of correspondence has been written and numerous telephone calls have been made requesting these reports from individuals involved in boating accidents.

It is now necessary that we take a firm stand on this matter. This law will be enforced and arrests will be made when reports are not made in complete compliance with the law.

This law requiring reports read as follows: "If the boating accident results in death or injury to any person or total property damage in excess of $100, every operator of a boat involved in such accident shall, as soon as possible, give notice of the accident to a conservation warden or local law enforcement officer, and shall within 10 days after the accident file a written report thereof with the commission on the form presented by it."

"Injury" means any injury of a physical nature resulting in the need of first aid or attention by a physician or surgeon, whether or not such aid or attention was received.

"Total property damage" means the sum total cost of putting the property damages in the condition it was in before the accident, if repair thereof is practical, and if not practical, the sum total cost of replacing the property.

In simple terms if you are involved in a boat accident where there is any personal injury at all or total property damages of $100 or more, you must give notice at once and file a report within 10 days.

Forms for filing such reports are available from any conservation warden and most police and sheriff departments.

BASKET OF BLOOMS

Celosias are just as pretty filling a basket like this in winter when the flowers are dried as they are in summer when freshly plucked from the garden. This celosia is called Sunburst.

Not only can you arrange a basket of blooms like this one during the summer months, but you also can adorn your home with a similar basket of blooms for the winter months.

For the flowers in this basket are celosias of a new dwarf type called Sunburst and they are just as attractive dried as they are when freshly plucked from the garden.

The colors of Sunburst are bright red and equally bright gold. Both colors are contained in a single packet of seeds, not mixed but separately packaged so that you can plant part of a row of each color.

When you pick them you can combine them as you please, using more yellow one time, more red another, or just one color by itself. This makes for versatility in arranging.

Sunburst celosia grows only a foot high. Thus it can not only be grown in rows in the cutting garden but also as a border for a path or flower bed. Its colors stay bright to the very end of the gardening season and beyond, if the flowers are dried.

Drying celosias is easy. The blooms are cut after the dew has dried, the leaves are stripped from the stems, a few stems tied together and these small bundles hung upside down for several weeks. A warm but airy place is ideal for the drying operation.

Don't stop with drying celosias. There are other flowers that you can grow in your garden and dry by the same simple method. These include straw flowers, globe aranth, bells of Ireland, statice of various types and blue salvia to add that touch of unusual color.
