contract in 1966 after competitive bidding. Production began last August and the contract continues until December of this year.

The kit itself is much the same as those used by our fighting men during World War II and the Korean conflict according to company officials. Many of the present kits are now being used in Vietnam.

Complete $21,000 Renovation Work At Peace Church

DEDICATION SERVICE WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

The renovation and redecorating of the facilities of Peace United Church of Christ, 343 First st., Kewaskum, have been completed. A service of dedication for the improvements and additions will be held on Sunday, Mar. 5, at 2 p. m.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Mr. Roy Albersworth, Brookfield, Southeast Wisconsin Association minister of the United Church of Christ. Contributing to the special music of the service will be the senior choir, which will for the first time make use of their new choir gowns acquired through the efforts of the local church's Choir Mothers organization.

The improved facilities of the church consist of a new vestibule of 22 ft. by 32 ft. The spacious area carpeted in red nylon provides ample cloak room facilities, a lounge area, guest register and a planter facility. The sanctuary was completely redecorated in pearl grey with fine gold leaf line trim accenting the windows. New red wool carpeting adds much to the warm receptive atmosphere of the building.

The entire program cost $21,000 and was made possible by the volunteer contributions of the members as well as gifts and memorials.

Recognition is given as follows for these improvements: the new vestibule facility—Arthur and Charles Schultz; redecorated sanctuary—Paul Schanbacher Associates; carpeting—Miller's Furniture; heating—Frank Krueger Heating; electrical—Orville Petermann.

Open House at New Farmington School Sunday

An open house will be held at the new Farmington school of the Kewaskum Public Schools on Sunday, March 5, between the hours of 1:30 and 4:30 p. m. The open house is sponsored by the Board of Education and the Parent-Teachers organization of the school.

The new building is located between Fillmore and Boltonville on Boltonville Road in the Town of Farmington. To reach the school travel one mile east of the southern junction of Highways 144 and 28 and one-half mile south; or travel County Trunk Highway "H" one and one-half miles east of 144 and one-half mile north on Boltonville Road.

The new nine-room school features an interesting exterior, angled classrooms to provide a two wall instructional area, a hexagonal kindergarten area, a gym cafeteria, a kitchen, a teacher work room and a library-music room.

The building was designed by Lawrence Bray Architects and the general contractor is Joseph Lorenz of Hartford.

The building was contracted for by the Farmington Board of Education. Construction began in April 1966, and the building was put into use in January, 1967.

All are welcome to attend.

A grouch is a man who has sized himself up and got sore about it.

Numerous memorials and gifts will also be dedicated at this service. Friends of the community and area are sincerely welcome to share in this service of dedication.

Alice in Dairyland District Contest in Kewaskum Confirmed

Light Vote Seen In Primary Here

A very light turnout is anticipated in Kewaskum and the county next Tuesday, Mar. 7, for the Judicial Primary Election for a justice of the state supreme court. The polls at the municipal building in the village will be open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Lack of interest in the election is attributed to the fact that no local races will be voted on. Local electors will be joining with voters throughout the state in balloting for the three candidates who are making the race for the high court. Little interest outside the legal circles has been indicated in the election.

Candidates for the office include Chief Justice George R. Currie, whose first full term on the supreme court will expire in January of 1968; Circuit Judge Robert W. Hansen of Milwaukee and Atty. Harry Halloway of Milwaukee. The term of office on the high court is for 10 years.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

R. R. 2
Kewaskum, Wis. 53040
Feb. 18, 1967

Kewaskum Statesman,
Kewaskum, Wis.
Dear Bill:

If you wish to do so, I would like for you to publish the following message in your paper. Through your paper I would like to bring to the attention of the public a situation in our system of high school education that I consider terribly wasteful. This month many of us are paying our property tax and school tax, so this may be the best time to write about it.

Every property owner must be aware that approximately 2/3 of our property tax is a school tax, but I don't think that many taxpayers realize how much of this school tax is wasted. We not only continue to build our high schools too elaborately expensive, but we waste even more money by teaching our high school students an awful lot of things that they cannot use after they graduate. Let me illustrate: We teach them such subjects as algebra, physics, geometry, chemistry etc. Why do we teach them these things? Frankly, I don't know, but my guess is that our State Board of Education still thinks that every child should go to college or university. Well, if this is the only reason, then I think it is about high time, after all these years of waste, that we, the taxpayers, should change the thinking of the State Board of Education. And if we can't change their thinking perhaps we should change the Board of Education.

I don't want to give anyone the impression that I am opposed to education. I am 100% in favor of good education. What I am opposed to is "Wasted Education." I am not even hopeful of reducing the high cost, but I think that our children should get far greater benefits from the high cost of the 4 years they spend in high school.

Through your newspaper I am hopeful that you can bring my message to the attention of many property owners, and I would like to ask each property owner to reflect for a minute on the following situation in his own local high school. Suppose that he would go to his local high school and make a list of all the students who graduated in the last 10 years. It would be quite a list, wouldn't it? Then he would make a list of all the subjects that those students were taught, and he would find that most of them were more or less compelled to study algebra, physics, geometry, chemistry etc. Now suppose further that he would contact every one of those graduates, no matter where they are today, and he would ask each graduate what he is doing today. He would find that much less than half of them went to college, (for which every one of them was prepared in high school), and some of those who did go to college soon dropped out. He would find that most of the boys are working in factories, or in a trade, or a garage, etc. Most of the girls are married, or they are perhaps working in an office, in a factory, or a restaurant, etc. So what has happened to all the algebra, physics, geometry, chemistry, etc. that we have taught to these thousands of students all over Wisconsin? I ask the taxpayers, do we meekly continue to nod our approval to this wasteful system of high school education, and of pouring our tax money down the drain?

None of these high school graduates have been trained for any particular type of work, so they often take the first job that is available to them, and it probably is not the type of work they are best suited for. Before long they are married and have a family, and then it is too late to go to school once more to learn the work that they should have learned in high school. In this area of education I honestly feel that we may be doing our children an injustice, and this may be one reason we have troubles with some of the younger set. While they go to High School, and even college, they know they are wasting their time on the wrong track, and they become discontented and troublesome.

Instead of building more and more 4 year high schools I think we should spend some of the money for more trade and vocational schools. In Canada, the child gets one year of general education in high school, and the teachers and parents determine what the child is suited for; then the student is permitted to learn a trade, and he is not compelled to study subjects that are not necessary.

Throughout our nation it seems to me there are millions of people who are not doing the kind of work that they are best suited for. Why? Because they did not have the opportunity in high school to learn a trade or profession that they would have been interested in. Think of the tremendous benefits that could be gained if everyone in our country were doing the kind of work he is best suited for.

It is my understanding that a good aptitude test is being used in high schools, but regardless what the aptitude test discloses the student still is compelled to take certain required subjects that are irrelevant to his talent. This I feel is wrong. If a boy's best talent is in doing things with his hands he still is compelled to study algebra, physics, geometry, chemistry, etc. If a girl's best talent is in music, or art, or dressmaking, she still is compelled to study algebra, geometry, etc. Does it make sense? I contend we should give them "the works" where their talents are, and quit wasting our money trying to teach them things that are difficult for them. We know very well that thousands of employers are dissatisfied with the young people they hire fresh out of high school or college because the students didn't get any practical experience in school, and the employer still has to show them how to do things that the student supposedly learned in school.

It seems to me there should be several more very large trade schools and vocational schools in different parts of the state, where the student could go after one or two years of high school, and where he could get a thorough education and actual training in the type of work that he hopes to do, but in these trade schools the students should "learn by doing," otherwise the trade schools won't be worth much more than the high schools. If we would follow this pattern of education, in my opinion we would have fewer drop-outs; most of the students would achieve a better scholastic record; and they would be more useful after they graduate. Also, if the student could do some actual work, he would be earning some wages, and these wages could be paid to the school to help pay for the education, instead of being paid to the student. Another area of better economy would be to operate the schools 11 or 12 months a year instead of 9. There is no economy in letting those expensive buildings stand idle for 3 months every year, and in paying the teachers for 3 months of vacation.

I know there would be many problems and obstacles in changing our system of high school education, the biggest of which probably would be our State Board of Education. I'm sure I don't know all the answers, but I feel sure there could be a better way than our present wasteful system.

Sincerely,
R. Charles Weier

Attend National Dealer Meeting

Myron Perschbacher and Ed Frohmann of Kewaskum personnel recently attended a Gehl Bros. Manufacturing Company national dealer open house at West Bend. The local firm represents the Gehl line of forage harvesting, handling and feedmaking equipment in this area. Purpose of the meeting, according to Gehl officials and those attending from here, was dealer development through effective product sales and service training and to witness the introduction of several new Gehl farm machines applicable to this farming area, as well as a complete color identification program for the Gehl line, designed to make the machines more recognizable on area farms.

Gehl officials indicated that in 1967 they expect to achieve their highest sales volume in history. Highlight of the open house was introduction of new color identification for Gehl machinery. The design firm responsible for the change reported that the new colors and identification "will make Gehl machinery more recognizable in a farmer's field."

Also introduced was a narrow-row, three-row cornhead to fit Gehl self-propelled and pull-type forage harvesters. The unit is designed to meet the need for higher capacity performance in a narrow-row high-population corn. Gehl is the only manufacturer to offer such a unit. The firm announced that a companion product to the three-row head, a high capacity 55-inch forage blower, is now being produced for national distribution. Also shown for the first time was a big capacity (115 bushel) on-the-farm feedmaker. The unit is a bigger model of the Mix-All with new features.

Local Chapter Honors FFA Week

Future Farmers choose the week of George Washington's birthday each year for the observance of National FFA Week. Although he is usually recognized as a Revolutionary War general and our first president, Washington's first love was the farm. He was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planning, crop rotations, fertilization, and other soil conservation and improvement methods.

"Agriculture . . . Strength of America" is this year's FFA Week theme. We have had such an abundance of food in America that people are taking agriculture for granted. Actually, farming is now and always has been our largest and most vital industry, and it is becoming more important with our expanding population. In our area most of the businesses and most of the jobs are dependent on the surrounding farms for their existence. Take away the farms and for all practical purposes you would destroy the entire community.

Membership in the FFA is made up of students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship and to stimulate the students to better achievement in their study and work toward

Niles Erickson Loses First Match In State Wrestling Tournament

DROPS CLOSE DECISION TO JIM GEBHARD OF BOSCOBEL

Senior Niles Erickson of Kewaskum High school, who won the 165-pound sectional tournament crown at Port Washington, advancing him to the state finals, lost his first match to Jim Gebhard of Boscobel on a close decision Friday in the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association wrestling tournament at the University of Wisconsin field house in Madison.

The defeat eliminated Erickson from the meet but Gebhard went on to also win his second match from Schuebel of Racine Park before being eliminated. The final champion in the 165-pound weight class was Dennis Alf of Berlin.

A combined record afternoon and night crowd of 7,545 persons saw Friday's first round and quarter-final matches. The huge crowd must have been quite a thrill for Erickson, the first wrestler of the Scenic Moraine conference who has ever qualified for the state tourney. Kewaskum is only in its second year of wrestling as a sport and it is quite an honor for Erickson and his coach, Joe Harlow, to reach the state meet, especially this soon. The Indian team has established an excellent record in its first two years against strong competition.

Close to 200 wrestlers from high schools all over the state competed in the state meet in 12 weight classes on Friday and Saturday. Erickson was in the 165-pound class and first round results in this class were as follows:

Heinz, Lake Mills, beat Coey, Rice Lake, 11-6; Alf, Berlin, pinned Johnson, Coleman, 4:33; Gebhard, Boscobel, beat Erickson, Kewaskum, 4-0; Schuebel, Racine Park, beat Linzmier, Wisconsin Rapids, 4-3; Hinebaugh, Monroe, beat Peterson, Cumberland, 5-4; Grey, Wisconsin Dells, beat Groshek, Wittenberg, 5-0; Dobbs, Richland Center, beat Voss, Fond du Lac, 7-0; Bertling, Oak Creek, beat Zuolena, Loyal, 3-1.

Erickson compiled an outstanding 25-1 record this season for the Kewaskum Indians. Niles has a glossy overall record in his two years of competition in 38 bouts won and only 3 lost. His only defeat this year was to Jerry Schultz of Watertown before entering the state tourney.

Indians Defeat Bells in Final Game, Place 5th

The Kewaskum Indians brought the season to a close in the Scenic Moraine conference by beating Campbellsport on the Bells' own floor Friday night, 85-80. The Indians wound up in fifth place in the standings.

Campbellsport received a 35-point performance from junior forward John Johnson but the Bells were unable to hold off surging Kewaskum. The Indians rallied in the fourth quarter to assure the victory. Twenty of Johnson's points came in the first half, when the Bells trailed, 50-41. A 24-14 edge in the third period gave Campbellsport the lead by one point. But the Bells won in the final period as Kewaskum outscored them, 21-15, to clinch the win.

Senior Bill Backhaus and junior Jim Schuster scored over half of Kewaskum's points between them. Backhaus swished in 25 points and Schuster 21. Bill Guell hit 17 for the Bells. Backhaus' 25 points gave him third place in the Scenic individual scoring race with 290.

The Indians had 30 personals called against them compared to only 18 on the Bells. They lost two players on fouls and four others had four apiece. Thus Campbellsport outpointed them from the free throw line, 26-19.

In other games Friday Grafton again clinched the undisputed championship by whipping Pewaukee, 93-66, North Fondy shaded rugged Slinger, 78-74, for second place, and Germantown surprised Random Lake, 61-55.

Lakes Team Routs Slinger, 102 to 82

Kewaskum won an easy victory in the Land o' Lakes league Sunday night when they trounced last place Slinger here, 102-82.

The game was called with several minutes still to play in the last quarter by mutual consent. Slinger had only six players to begin with and when two of them fouled out they had but four left. Hopelessly behind, they decided to call it quits right there.

Kewaskum's Don Meisenheimer and Slinger ace Doug Potter battled toe to toe for scoring honors and ended up in a tie, each scoring 33 points for game honors. Potter is a former university star, hailing from West Bend and now coaching at Slinger High school. Al Tenneships chipped in 22 points and Mike Coulter and Gary Gerhartz 17 apiece for the winners. Geldnich scored 19 points for Slinger and Schmidt 15.

Kewaskum led 30-20 at the quarter but fell at halftime, 52-49. The winners regained the lead in the third period, 78-71, and then turned the contest into a rout in the final quarter.

This Saturday night Kewaskum will play at Hartford and will face real tough opposition against that city's team, which is now tied for first place as a result of beating Menomonee Falls.

Indians Crush Bells in Slinger Sub-Regional Tournament, 84-57

TACKLE GRAFTON'S SCENIC CHAMPS IN FINALS FRIDAY

It will be Kewaskum and Grafton in the championship game at Slinger at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the finals of the WIAA Sub-Regional tournament.

The Indians put forth one of their best efforts of the season Tuesday night in crushing arch-rival Campbellsport 84-57, while Scenic Moraine champion Grafton received unexpectedly strong resistance before turning back stubborn Slinger, 75-73.

Campbellsport went six minutes at one stretch in the game without scoring and the Bells clicked on only 21 of 83 shots taken in the rout. John Johnson, who scored 35 points against Kewaskum last Friday in the regular season finale was checked with just five points this time out. Geiger and Emmer were the Bells' top scorers with 17 points each.

Bill Backhaus—the Indians' scoring leader all season long—pumped in 25 points to top all scorers. He received plenty of scoring help from center Mike Miller, who broke into the scoring column with 19 points.

The Bells were outclassed and never had a chance as they trailed at the quarter, 20-9, and at the intermission, 39-21. With his Indians having an easy time and going way ahead, 67-38, at the end of the third period, Coach DeNamur used second stringers in the final quarter.

The champion of the Slinger sub-regional finals Friday will face the winner of the Cedar Grove sub-regional in the regional finals at Grafton the next night, Saturday, Mar. 4. In the Cedar Grove sub-regional Tuesday Random Lake edged Oostburg and Cedar Grove trimmed Ozaukee. The regional final winner at Grafton Saturday will advance to the Homestead sub-sectional meet.

A win in the sub-regional finals at Slinger tonight for Kewaskum over Grafton would be the major upset of the year. Grafton won the conference title with a 13-1 record and defeated the Indians twice this season. The Blackhawks also won the championship last year and went all the way to the state tournament at Madison, nearly winning it.
