KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER, 8, 1967

NUMBER 45

Main Street - 60 Years Ago in 1907

Younger you're not getting if you can recall scenes on Kewaskum's Main street like the one in the above picture. Only our older readers will remember that far back. The picture, submitted by a local resident, was taken on fair day 60 years ago—in 1907.

Note the vacant lots between what at that time was the American House (now the Corner Drug Store) and H. J. Lay Lumber Co. (which building has since been torn down to make room for the Sentry Foods store). The Bank of Kewaskum and Regal Ware, Inc. office buildings now occupy the then empty lots. Main st. was busy on fair days in those times when farmers came to the village with their livestock, poultry and produce to barter and do their shopping. Notice all the horses and rigs—but no cars. The first automobiles were just being manufactured in those days and there were very few if any in this area yet. When the first cars began chugging down the streets here, about in 1910, people would yell, "Get a horse."

Among other things to note in the picture are the dirt streets, mud, board sidewalks, hitching rails, the present drug store as a saloon, fire bell atop the old village hall, Catholic church steeple, Schultz & Schaefer Republican House (now Glacier Inn) McLaughlin meat market, (now Kewaskum Floral Shop), Mrs. Jacobitz' boarding house (now Stachia's Apparel), Endlich's Jewelry store (now Bier's Jewelry store), Marx's store (now Heisler's tavern) and Casper's saloon across the railroad tracks (now Flynn's Bar). Also note the old sheep robe on the seat of the center buggy foreground.

If any of our information is wrong, please forgive us, as we weren't around then either and all our information came from heresay and talk with senior citizens.

Mrs. Tessar Receives National Appointment at New Orleans

ATTENDS NATIONAL CONVENTION OF VFW

Mrs. Jack Tessar of Kewaskum, past state president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a member of the Fred A. Schaefer Auxiliary of West Bend, attended the national VFW convention held at New Orleans, La. from Aug. 19 to 26.

Mrs. Tessar and Mrs. Arnold Korth, state junior vice-president, of West Bend and a member of the Campbellsport auxiliary accompanied members throughout the state to the convention by chartered bus. The national champion ladies' drill team of Milwaukee, sponsors of the trip, won their 14th national championship at New Orleans and has won the state title 26 times.

Mrs. Tessar, who was a delegate from her own auxiliary, received a national appointment from Mrs. Ruth Bogacz, national president of Meridan, Conn. She will be membership chairman of Area 7, which is comprised of the states of Texas, Kansas, New Jersey, Indiana, New York and Wisconsin.

Mrs. Gertrude Meyer, state president, of Waukesha and Ray Ortman, state commander, of Milwaukee headed the delegation attending the convention.

BIRTH

COLLINS—A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Collins, Campbellsport, Tuesday, Sept. 5.

Heart Fund Gifts in Rosenheimer Name

Heart Fund Memorials in the name of the late Maurice W. Rosenheimer of Kewaskum were recently received by the Wisconsin Heart association, according to Joyce Albrecht, Washington county memorial chairman.

Miss Albrecht said that because these gifts will be used to foster heart research, they are living memorials, likely to lead to further advances in the conquest of heart disease.

The great need for heart research funds, Miss Albrecht points out, is indicated by the fact that during the past year, more Americans died from heart disease (approximately 1,000,000) than the total number killed in all the wars in our country's history (602,339).

1st Christmas Card

Local television viewers watching the weather news at 10 p. m. last Thursday, Aug. 31, on Channel 6, Milwaukee, were surprised to hear announcer Ward Allen and his sidekick, Albert, the alley cat, announce that they had received their first Christmas card from Gail Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Krueger of Kewaskum. A Christmas card in August?

Square meals make round people.

Class of 1947 Holds Reunion

The Kewaskum High school graduating class of 1947 held a 20-year reunion at the Wigwam Supper club on Saturday night, Aug. 26. Fifteen of the 21 graduates came. With husbands and wives, the total attendance was 28. One of the class members, Donald Wierman, is deceased.

After the family style dinner, the program was held. August Bilgo, Jr., the senior class president, acted as master of ceremonies. The old will and diary of a senior of '47 was read. Pictures were projected on a screen of the members' children and each member told something about his job and family. A new class picture was taken. The old class song was sung.

The door prize was won by Mercedes (Lehner) Hetebrueg of West Bend. Hattie (Kougl) Cushionery of Milwaukee won the prize for being the first of the class to marry (20 years this fall). Harold Reindl of Milwaukee won a prize for being the most recently wed' three years.

The committee for this first reunion of the class was August Bilgo Jr., Mrs. Roger (Joyce) Schleif, Mrs. Robert (Bunny) Scannell, Ray Keller, Lester Schaub and Mrs. Alan (Peggy) Stoffel.

Roger Bley, Local Attorney, Dies in Arizona Mishap

VICTIM OF SWIMMING POOL ACCIDENT MONDAY

Roger N. Bley, 26, of Port Washington, an attorney who was practicing law in Kewaskum, where he was associated with the McKenna Law Office, and who was on active duty in the army reserves, was found dead in a Nogales, Ariz. motel swimming pool early Monday, Sept. 4.

Bley, a graduate of Port Washington High school and Marquette University Law school, had been associated with the McKenna office here for approximately a year, since June of 1966, before being called for active duty in the reserves in May of 1967. He served at Ft. Bliss, Tex. prior to being transferred to Fort Huachuca Military Reservation about 45 miles from Nogales.

Army Pvt. Bley was due to be discharged today (Friday) from the reserves and intended to return to Kewaskum to continue his association with Roger McKenna, who told the writer that he had already made plans to expand his office and possibly open a branch office.

Nogales Police Capt. Luis Rosas said Bley died either of a broken neck or drowning. An autopsy was scheduled to be held. It was believed Bley may have struck the bottom or side of the pool in diving. His body was found by a janitor at 2:45 a. m. at the bottom of the El Dorado motel pool. Bley had been in Nogales for the Labor Day weekend. Nogales is on the Arizona-Mexico border, about 45 miles from the army base, and 65 miles south of Tucson.

Rosas said there was not evidence of foul play. He said Bley apparently either dove or fell against the side of the pool or hit the bottom.

Bley was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Bley of Port Washington. Bley's mother said he also had a real estate dealer's license and was a notary public. He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and St. Mary's Catholic church at Port Washington.

Surviving in addition to his parents is a brother, Elmer R., a senior at Port Washington High

Children's Service Society Appeal On

DR. EDWARDS, MRS. MILLER COMMITTEE MEMBERS HERE

The Children's Service Society of Wisconsin is making its annual appeal for support of the agency's local program here this week.

Children's Service has been helping Wisconsin's children and families since 1889. It is the only statewide, voluntarily supported organization not under sectarian auspices which finds homes for children with adopting parents, provides foster family care and helps unmarried parents make sound plans for themselves and their babies.

The appeal letter includes the annual service report showing 229 adoptive placements, which is 64 more than in 1965. There was a monthly average of 628 children under care and 663 unmarried mothers were helped to return to their communities with an awareness of their mistake that will prevent repetition. A total of 568 children were in foster home care while the agency worked out permanent plans for them.

Dr. Richard G. Edwards and Mrs. Charles Miller are the society's Kewaskum sponsoring committee members. Others on the Washington county committee are Ray R. Umbs Allenton; Mrs. Alpha Lentzner Germantown; J. J. Shinnors and Arthur Snyder of Hartford; Mrs. James Albrecht, Jackson; Mrs. William P. Kratz, Slinger; and The Honorable Milton L. Meister and Bernard C. Ziegler of West Bend.

Contributions should be sent to Ray R. Umbs, treasurer, Allenton State Bank, Allenton.

GOP Brat Fry Draws Crowd

The Saturday, Aug. 26, Republican brat fry held at the American Legion clubhouse in Germantown attracted a crowd estimated at close to 300 in spite of inclement weather. Members and guests of the GOP group arrived with excellent appetites and consumed vast quantities of bratwurst, baked beans, sauerkraut and roasted corn. The goodies were prepared by an efficient team headed by co-chairmen LeRoy (Butch) Walterlin, village president of Germantown, and Robert Klein, Washington county treasurer, aided by Helmuth Prahl of Germantown, member of the GOP executive committee. A corps of attractive ladies, the Republicans' wives, assisted in serving the record crowd.

Distinguished guest speaker, Louis Ceci, well-known GOP candidate and former Milwaukee assemblyman, (now a resident of Washington county) received much applause from the group. He pointed with alarm at the defeat of Governor Warren Knowles' Highway safety recommendations. Noting that public safety ought to be a non-partisan issue Ceci deplored the action of "so-called responsible Democratic leaders" who allowed a unanimous vote against highway safety in the legislature. He urged that members of the opposition party include the citizens of Wisconsin in their supposed concern for the "down-trodden." GOP chairman, Attorney Dick Becker of Hartford thanked Ceci for his remarks and praised him for his support of Republican ideals.

Atty. McKenna to Attend Workshop

Attorney Roger W. McKenna, 230 Main st., will be among the Wisconsin lawyers attending the 1967 Tax Workshop sponsored by the Institute of Continuing Legal Education for Wisconsin (CLEW) this Friday and Saturday, Sept. 8-9, at The Alpine, Egg Harbor.

The two-day workshop program will include discussions of fiduciary income taxes, Wisconsin gift tax, Wisconsin inheritance tax, and selected problem areas of individual Wisconsin income tax.

Wisconsin Department of Revenue administrative officials who will be the instructors are: Donald E. Kunde, supervisor, Fiduciary and Gift Tax Section; Howard T. Lynch, director of Central Audit; and Richard E. Williams, Inheritance Tax Counsel.

CLEW is a joint activity of the State Bar of Wisconsin, Marquette University and the University of Wisconsin.

Honor Otto Schultz At Birthday Party

On Sunday, Aug. 27, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schultz, R. 1, Cascade entertained relatives in honor of Otto Schultz of 1263 Roseland dr., Kewaskum, whose birthday was on Aug. 26. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schultz

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schultz, Debra and David of Kewaskum; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jandre, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jandre, Tommy, Barbara and Bonnie of Campbellsport; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barrett, Ricky, Vicky and Sheri, Merlin Schultz, Joey Pat and Mike of West Bend; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Koepsell of Hartford.

The afternoon was spent in playing cards. A delicious buffet supper was served. The centerpiece was a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

The New Dean At Washington County Center

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of three articles providing background information on the UW Center System and the new Washington County Center to be built near West Bend. The new dean of the University Center began work in West Bend Sept. 1, setting up offices and directing staff recruitment for the center scheduled to open in 1968).

Like anyone who's moved a home Dr. Harry Maxwell won't be able to transfer family and belongings without problems.

But complicating the job for the new dean of the University of Wisconsin Washington County Center are souvenirs of three years of missionary work in Brazil, a pipe organ (to be dismantled and reconstructed), materials accumulated during 12 years of teaching grade school through college, construction plans for a home yet to be built in West Bend and a family of four vibrant children.

Despite these obstacles to an easy move, one can't meet the University Center's calm new director without feeling the transition to West Bend will be accomplished with minimum stress.

Moving with their father's teaching career through California and to the midwest, Dean Maxwell's four children have been well disciplined in the life of a college professor. So, too, are they skilled in the interests of their professor-father, language and music.

Within the tight fabric of a professor's life the new dean

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks are expressed to all our relatives and friends for their kindness shown us during the time of illness and after the death of our dear husband and father, Fred C. Stern. Special thanks to Rev. Schowalter, organist, soloist, pallbearers, drivers, members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, donors of floral and memorial tributes, ladies who served, Miller's, traffic officer, sexton, custodian, and all who showed respect.

Mrs. Fred Stern and Family has succeeded in weaving a personal love of music into a family love. During family evenings together, Dean Maxwell, who received a B. A. in music and German, directs his children in three-part singing while Mrs. Maxwell plays the piano.

At Dr. Maxwell's teaching post for the past year — Adrian College in Adrian, Michigan—the family took advantage of the school's music facilities in a family regime from 5:30 to 8:00 every morning. While the three older children practiced on music department pianos and Mrs. Maxwell played the organ, Dr. Maxwell did research and served as baby sitter.

Dr. Maxwell has also instructed his children in his primary academic interest, the German language. This summer he used college teaching methods to discover if younger children could learn from an unaltered college course.

The language professor concludes that his 9, 11 and 14 year-old children all "do equally well and like it very much." Their pronunciation is better than many a college student's," he adds.

Maxwell, 41, speaks German and Portuguese and admits to a "smattering of other languages." His M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from Stanford University where he held a Woodrow Wilson Dissertation Fellowship are in German. From 1951 to 1953 Dr. Maxwell served in the U. S. Army as a Portuguese interpreter in Germany and France.

The new dean's special research interest is Germanic philology, the study of the historical development of the language. He has also done research on the improvement of conversation courses in German at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Currently, he is completing research on the syntax and semantics of the German modal system on a grant from the Graduate School of the University of Wisconsin.

Although administrative duties will occupy his time for the beginning years of the Washington County Center, Dr. Maxwell hopes to continue German teaching when possible at the center.

Dr. Maxwell's self-taught hobby of pipe organ construction began as a novelty when he bought an old church organ and dismantled the 300-piece instrument to "learn its parts."

Higher education for Dr. Maxwell did not follow the pattern of the usual college student of today. His university education was delayed after high school graduation. The new dean worked as a laborer for five years before leaving for three years in Brazil as a Mormon missionary. Returning home, Professor Maxwell began his college education at the University of California at Riverside, receiving his B.A. in 1957.

Before earning his Master's Degree in 1963 and Ph. D. in 1964, Dr. Maxwell taught in the California public schools for five years, including two years as the vice-principal and curriculum coordinator for an elementary school. In 1960 Professor Maxwell taught at Stanford University as a demonstration teacher.

He first taught on the college level at Menlo College, Menlo Park, California where he was an instructor in German during the 1962-63 academic year.

The new University Center dean, who has taught fifth graders to college graduate students, believes that "teaching at all levels is rewarding, all in different ways."

"In the elementary school, the major challenge is the association with young people, seeing them grow. In graduate school the association with people remains, but the emphasis is on scholarship rather than that personal association."

Why did the new dean decide upon the college level for career teaching?

"I could combine scholarship and teaching more adequately on the college level than junior high or elementary," he explains. "I wanted to know more about specific topics. College teaching offers the opportunity to continue a personal education. That was the direction I was most interested in." Dr. Maxwell brought his family to the midwest from California in 1964 as an assistant professor of German at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

"I've lived in the west all my life and was tired of the influx of people and the traffic conditions. We wanted a change of scenery."

Maxwell moved his family to Adrian, Michigan in 1966 where he joined the Adrian College faculty as associate professor of German and chairman of the Modern Language Department. He was also director of summer sessions.

Dr. Maxwell declares the family "likes the midwest very much" notwithstanding the cold weather.

"Compensations for the cold are many" states the California native, "among them the autumn colors and the green summers."

One can't help but think part of the midwest's very compensations are attracting people like Dr. Harry Maxwell.

(The third and last article of the Washington County Center series will describe the advantages of the new two-year branch campus for the area student).

Len Carroll Men's Club Champion at Hon-E-Kor; Dethrones Bill Fabian

HETZEL, MARX, WEINAND & DAY OTHER FLIGHT CHAMPS

Hon-E-Kor Country club hails new champions in all of the club championship flights this year as the result of the tournament finals completed over the Labor Day weekend.

Len Carroll of West Bend is the new club champion, succeeding Bill Fabian of Milwaukee, who dethroned Carl Wertz, four-time champion, last year. Carroll finally snared the title after being in the championship finals three years in succession. Wertz no longer is a member of the club, having moved to Florida.

Carroll defeated newcomer Bill Jensen, a teacher and coach in the West Bend public schools, in the championship finals Sunday, 3-1. Jensen had eliminated defending champion Fabian in the semifinals the week before, while Carroll was beating Roger Morgan of Campbellsport to gain the finals.

In the 36-hole championship match, Carroll was two up over Jensen after the first 18 holes in the morning. In the afternoon Carroll increased his lead to four up after 23 holes but Jensen then won three straight holes, the 24th, 25th and 26th, and was only one down. The two battled it out until the 35th hole, when Carroll emerged the winner, 3-1.

In the senior flight John Hetzel of West Bend defeated Jerry Yoho of Batavia in the finals for the championship.

In the president's flight Harold Marx of Kewaskum won over Paul Matenaer of West Bend in the championship finals, 4-3.

In the director's flight Bud Weinand of Kewaskum won the championship, defeating Augie Zell of West Bend in the finals, 5-4.

Junior flight champion is Jeff Day of West Bend, who defeated Dick Smith, also of West Bend, in the finals, 2-1. In the junior consolation flight Billy Fabian of Milwaukee won over Ricki Rusart of West Bend, 2-1.

The men's and ladies' September Ace tournament is now on the bulletin board in the pro shop. This is the final Ace event of the season.

Indians to Host Horicon Friday In Grid Opener

OPEN EIGHT-GAME SCHEDULE WITH NON-CONFERENCE TILT AGAINST LITTLE TEN TEAM

Coach Joe Harlow's Kewaskum High school Indians will open the 1967 football season at 8 p. m. tonight (Friday) when they entertain Horicon of the Little Ten conference in a non-conference game.

The Indians will play an eight-game schedule with all but the opening tilt being Scenic Moraine conference contests. They will face each of the seven other schools in the loop, opening conference action at Slinger next Friday, Sept. 15. The remainder of the schedule follows: Sept. 22—Random Lake there; Sept. 29—Pewaukee home; Oct. 6—North Fondy home (homecoming); Oct. 14—Germantown there; Oct. 20—Grafton there; Oct. 27—Campbellsport home.

The Indians began practice on Aug. 14 with a large squad of 77 candidates reporting to Coach Harlow and are anxious to get into game action with opponents and bump heads with someone besides their schoolmates.

The Indians will be out to improve on last year's fourth place finish in the conference. Gone from last year's team are all-conference center Mark Schaefer, all-conference end Mark Heise and all-conference defensive back Jerry Marx, along with veteran Quarterback Bill Backhaus, Guards Karl Brath and Niles Erickson, Tackles Dick Schmidt and Pat McCarty, Running Backs Jim Korth and Marv Ebert and End Mike Miller.

The biggest rebuilding job is on offense where the entire starting 11 graduated. The bright spot is on defense where seven starters are returning from last year. This year Coach Harlow is being assisted by Bill Wuebben, backfield coach, Lindley DeNamur, JV coach, and Tom Larsen, freshmen coach.

Eliminate "Spearing," Authorities Caution

CHICAGO—Football "spearing" should be eliminated, warn sports and medical authorities.

Spearing is the tactic in which a blocker or tackler uses his head as a battering ram. It's dangerous, both for himself and for the person he hits.

A group of coaches, physicians, and sports officials have joined the American Medical Association in calling for coaches to emphasize correct, head-up blocking and tackling, and for strict enforcement by officials of the rules against spearing.

Said Notre Dame football coach Ara Parseghian: "I can't begin to tell of the number of clinics where I have lectured on the (spearing) problem. We don't teach this at Notre Dame; and over the years, I have done everything within my power to influence others to coach against it."

The AMA's Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports asked for sports authorities' comments when recent studies showed that head and neck injuries continue to constitute a very high percentage of serious injuries in football.

In the correct, head-up tackle, the player uses his shoulders, arms, and chest to stop the ball carrier. In a "spear" or "butt" tackle, he drives into his opponent with his head. By spearing, the tackler may prevent the ball carrier from advancing a few extra inches—if he tackles him. With his head down, however, he risks serious injury to his head and spinal cord, and he is more likely to miss the tackle because he has a harder time seeing where he's going.

Studies of fatalities indicate that football has a good safety record, considering that virtually a million players are involved each fall. It could be even better, however, if head and neck injuries could be reduced. In 1966, head and neck injuries were responsible for 23 of the 24 fatalities directly attributed to injuries in college and high school football.

Said Murray Warmath, football coach at the University of Minnesota: "Spearing will never disappear from the game until we quit coaching it and until we absolutely disallow its use on the part of our players."

"It isn't the first man who makes the tackle," Warmath said. "It's that second tackler. He puts his head down, closes his eyes, and piles into the man who's down with one intent, and that's to maim and cripple."

Joining the coaches in condemning spearing and in calling for correct, head-up blocking and tackling were Richard C. Schneider, M.D., an Ann Arbor, Mich., neurosurgeon and member of the AMA Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports; Donald B. Slocum, M.D., chairman of the AMA committee and orthopedic consultant to the University of Oregon football team; William E. Newell, executive secretary of the National Athletic Trainers Association and head athletic trainer at Purdue University; O. B. Murphy, M.D., University of Kentucky team physician and AMA representative to the NCAA Rules Committee; Carl Blythe, Ph.D., Chapel Hill, N.C., chairman of the NCAA committee on football safety and president of the American College of Sports Medicine; L. W. Combs, M.D., director of the Purdue University student health center and a leader in the Athletic Medicine Section of the American College Health Association, and Clifford B. Fagan, executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations.
