7th Local AFS Student Speaks To Woman's Club

Miss Johanna "Han" Doorenbosch, Kewaskum's 7th American Field Service student, was the guest speaker Saturday, Jan. 13 at the Kewaskum Woman's club meeting.

Han's home is Tilburg, Netherlands, a city of 150,000 population located in the south of Holland. The climate is more moderate than Wisconsin, has four seasonal changes and a temperature range from about 32 degrees in the winter to 80 degrees in the summer. Her father is a factory manager for a diet meat company and she has a 19-year-old sister studying to be a nurse and a 21-year-old brother.

The Holland school system is different than ours in various ways. Children may attend nursery school at age four and continue in the primary schools through age 12. After age 12 thorough psychological tests are given to determine the type of education best suited for the student. One area is vocational training to learn a skill, as woodworking for boys or homemaking for girls. Further technical training in the secondary school is available for those showing greater ability. Many foreign languages are offered with a more specialized curriculum. Han is planning to enroll in physical education upon returning home. This is a four year course.

Holland is a country of vast shipping importance, 75% of all diamonds cut in Europe are cut

KHS to Host AFS Students of Area for Weekend

The AFS chapter in Kewaskum has been selected to sponsor an AFS weekend from Feb. 2-4. Students from surrounding cities, arriving Friday afternoon, will spend the weekend in homes of Kewaskum High school students.

On Friday evening the guests and their hosts will attend a basketball game at the high school, and on Saturday morning they will be guests of Regal Ware, Inc., Fairmont Foods and Badger Packaging Corp. on tours to see the operations of these industries.

After lunch on Saturday a bowling outing is planned, to be followed by a "pot luck" supper for host families, guests, chapter and club members.

On Saturday evening the AFS students will present a program at the high school, which the public is invited to attend. Kewaskum's AFS student, "Han" Doorenbosch, will act as mistress of ceremonies for the program. Students will wear native dress and perform or talk about their homes or customs.

On Sunday the students will have free time to spend with their host families until they return to their homes in the afternoon. It is hoped that ten students will be here for the weekend in order that many and varied interests will be compared.

Farewell... Adios to Kewaskum

It is very difficult for me to say "good-by" to the many friends I've made in my six weeks stay in Kewaskum. I attend a private Catholic high school. We have two vacation periods in a year. This year they are beginning to unify them. This means that my school term begins earlier—Jan. 15. This is why I must return so soon.

I enjoyed attending a co-educational school system very much for I've gone only to an all-boys school. The teachers and student body were very helpful, considerate, and understanding. I appreciated their interest and helpfulness, and wish to thank them for it.

The people of the community were also very friendly. It made my short stay a very pleasant and happy one. My city, Bogota, is large in size but the generosity and hearts of the people here in this community are immeasurable. I'm proud to say I was a part of it even if only for six weeks.

Driver Who Hit Local Girl Has Case Continued

The driver of a car which struck a 14-year-old Kewaskum girl who was walking across Fond du Lac ave. at the intersection with Main st. at 3:20 p. m. last Wednesday was ordered to appear before Washington County Dist. Atty. Robert Kauffman at West Bend Thursday morning. After a hearing his case was continued to Tuesday, Feb. 6.

After striking the girl, Lucille Schickert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Schickert of 1176 Western ave., the motorist stopped his car at the scene, picked up her school books, then drove off without identifying himself. He told the girl he was in a hurry and didn't have time to stay.

A short time later the car was located in a parking lot at St. Joseph's Community hospital in West Bend. A witness at the scene of the mishap had heard the driver say he was on the way to the hospital there. The man was found at the hospital.

Miss Schickert was walking west on the crosswalk at the intersection when knocked down by the right front of a southbound car driven by Earl K. Moritz, 45, of R. 3, West Bend. The crossing guards do not patrol this crossing.

An unidentified person driving north at the time stopped to assist the girl and was able to give police a description of the car. West Bend police located the auto in the hospital lot after being alerted by Kewaskum police. Miss Schickert, who complained of severe pains in her chest and arms, was taken to St. Joseph's Community hospital in the local firemen's ambulance.

Miss Schickert was released in the care of her family doctor Wednesday evening, and was reported in good condition Thursday. The girl was on her way home from school when struck.

Moritz, who is employed in Kewaskum, was on his way home from work. His reason for going to the hospital was not revealed.

Mrs. Geier Dies

Mrs. Theresa Geier, 83, formerly of R. 2, Kewaskum, passed away at the Washington County hospital, West Bend, Wednesday, Jan. 17.

here and the aulip bulbs raised are shipped all over the world. Festivals are very important in Holland. Christmas is celebrated differently than ours because St. Nicholas brings the children gifts on Dec. 6 and on Dec. 25 the gift exchange is not repeated, thus a more spiritual atmosphere prevails. Also interesting was the New Year's Eve celebration. Everyone stays in their homes until midnight and at this time come out to greet their neighbors and friends and visit together, perhaps until dawn.

Slides were used to illustrate the beauty of the country, the old castles and windmills, the acres of tulips in bloom, the large cities and lush countryside.

Mrs. Marvin Martin "pinch hit" for Hector Vargas, the Bogota, Colombia, exchange student who stayed in the Martin home for six weeks. His early return home made it impossible for him to speak at the club meeting, thus Mrs. Martin related information concerning his country and family life.

At the business meeting Mrs. Herman Panzer, Jr. and Mrs. Allen Tessar were welcomed into membership. Hostesses were Mrs. R. G. Edwards, Mrs. H. E. Koch and Mrs. Wilmer Falk. Table collection was designated for the March of Dimes.

Heil Will Head County GOP Fund Raising Dinner

Atty. Richard Becker of Hartford, chairman of the Washington County Republican organization, recently appointed Todd Heil of West Bend to head the committee which will sponsor the largest fund raising event of the year. The bi-annual dinner is expected to be even larger than usual because of the presidential elections this fall.

Heil, at a committee meeting this past week set the date for Apr. 16 and chose two prominent Republicans as his ticket sales chairmen, Allan Kieckhafer and Robert Barber.

The two co-chairmen for the banquet have served in this capacity in the past and both are predicting a record turnout with many of the general public, who are cordially invited, expected to attend. Art Lobotzke was appointed public relations and publicity chairman of the event.

The Walnut Room and gymnasium of Holy Angels Catholic church has been selected for the event with Mrs. Milton Schaefer and the Christian Mothers to prepare a swiss steak dinner for the occasion.

Numerous dignitaries from throughout the state are expected with the main speaker to be announced later.

Heil, a lifetime resident of West Bend and Washington county, operates Todd's Interiors in West Bend. He is active in numerous civic, business and service organizations in West Bend.

Homemaker Notes

KEWASKUM MODERN MRS.

On Dec. 16 we enjoyed a Christmas dinner party at the Wigwam with our husbands as guests. As gifts were exchanged our secret pals were revealed. Names were drawn for new pals.

Mrs. Joseph Miller was hostess for our Jan. 15 meeting.

Our president told us that a gift certificate for food had been presented to a deserving family at Christmas time.

We have again donated Consumers Digest to our Kewaskum library.

Our health project leader, Mrs. H. Schaub, talked to us about diabetes. A diabetes blood test is to be included in the health mobile unit along with chest x-ray and blood pressure reading when it comes to our community this summer.

Mrs. Gnacinski and Mrs. Blumer gave us a quiz on Hawaii. Then they gave us a description of each island with the use of maps and travel folders.

A history of the islands proved fascinating. The wide variations of climatic conditions make growing of a variety of plants possible. The ideal climate and the beauty of the islands bring an ever increasing number of tourists. Tourists bring money but also create a problem of how to build hotels without obstructing the view of Diamond Head or spoiling Waikiki Beach.

After lunch our hostess gave us an informative tour of her museum of antiques, souvenirs and her "artistry of discards." We all enjoyed her most fascinating hobby.

County Holstein Breeders to Hold Meeting, Banquet

Cyril Rohde, chairman of the Washington County Holstein Breeders association, has announced that their annual meeting and banquet will be held at St. Kilian's Catholic church, Hartford, on Thursday, Jan. 25, at 7:30 p. m. As in the past, the association extends an invitation to all Holstein breeders to attend.

Rohde indicated that the board of directors feels they have arranged an outstanding program. Following the banquet the annual meeting will be held, with election of directors. Young men and women who have been in the Holstein association during the past year will be honored. Speakers will be Zane Akins, fieldman of the National Holstein association, and Merle Howard, formerly of Mooseheart Farms and now a member of the Pieper Bros. sales organization of Watertown.

According to Rohde, the association's board of directors was interested in information on sales of cattle to out-of-state areas. Consequently they surveyed sales agencies that feature Holstein cattle. Howard has had considerable contact with selling to faraway markets. It is interesting to note that Howard judged the Washington County Fair dairy show several years ago.

Tickets for the banquet are available from the board of directors, who are: John Horlamus, Christ Mayer, Howard Proeber, Phillip Frey, Dick Mayer, Edward Melius, Robert Held, Thomas Wiedmeyer, and Cyril Rohde. They may also be purchased at the university extension office in West Bend. Price of the tickets is $2.50 per person. Reservations must be made not later than Monday, Jan. 22.

New Color Line of Cookware Added by Regal

The color and gayety of New Orleans at its most festive time lends the name "Mardi Gras" to the new line of ceramic-clad aluminum super-hard Teflon cookware from Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum.

Ronald O. Reigle, vice-president in charge of sales, said that the Flame and Avocado colors, along with the new line's classic styling, readily suggests new kitchen beauty. Regal's super-hard Teflon interior is black, to accent the ceramic colors. It is dishwasher safe—resists chipping, scratching, staining and scorching. Metal kitchen tools may be safely used since they glide over the harder-than-steel Teflon surface. Even the new "Mardi Gras" covers are lined with Teflon for easy cleaning. Initially, the new cookware will be available in both Flame and Avocado, in seven and nine piece sets, as well as coordinated open stock.

Since Regal Ware's founding by James O. Reigle twenty-two years ago, the company has become one of the largest manufacturers of cookware and small appliances in America today.

North Fondy Rolls Over Indians, 82-48

The Kewaskum Indians traveled to North Fondy Friday and were outclassed by the Orioles, who are tied for first place in the Scenic Moraine conference with Slinger, by a score of 82-48.

After the Orioles built up a 26-11 lead in the first quarter, Coach Virgil Noordyk started substituting in the second period. Nine players broke into the scoring column for North Fondy. The halftime score was 50-25 in the winners' favor, and the third quarter ended 69-32 in the run-away.

Kurt Urban and Dennis Yakaites camped under the boards and gave North Fondy a commanding 61-26 rebounding edge. They also combined for 37 points, with Urban getting 24. Jeff Semenas, the conference's top scorer, increased his total points to 172 for seven games. He hit 12 of 20 shots from the field for 24 points. George Martin paced the Indians with 11 points, while Perry Koth chipped in 9.

The Orioles outgunned Kewaskum from the field, 34 baskets to only 14, but the Indians sank 20 free throws compared to 14 for the winners as North Fondy was guilty of 25 personals.

It was definitely not a night for the underdog teams Friday as all four of the first division teams won, three of them by one-sided scores. Slinger got surprisingly strong resistance from Germantown but downed the Warhawks, 78-73. Grafton blasted Campbellsport, 88-56, and Pewaukee also clobbered Random Lake, 75-37.

Tonight (Friday) the Indians host Germantown, which is tied for the cellar with Campbellsport, both with 1-6 records. Other contests are Pewaukee at Slinger, North Fondy at Campbellsport and Grafton at Random Lake.
