$1.3 Million School Budget Proposal Approved by Board

Would Increase Tax Rate About .89 Per $1,000

TO DISCUSS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BUILDING SITE

Meeting on Monday evening, members of the board of education of Kewaskum Community schools approved an approximate budget of $1,316,036.50, which figure is subject to final audit, according to Supt. of Schools Marshall Boyd. The budget will be presented for approval of district electors at the annual meeting July 22.

It is expected the budget will call for an increase in the tax rate of approximately 89 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation. Boyd said about 60 per cent of the increased budget is due to added personnel and salary increases.

A site for a future school building will also be discussed at the annual meeting. It was reported that the student capacity has been reached at the Kewaskum Elementary school and the situation will become worse in the fall when some 60 seventh and eighth graders from private schools in the district will enroll here. Besides the overcrowded situation, there is the need for electrical, plumbing, heating and ventilating improvements in the original portion of the present building now used as the junior high section.

Looking ahead to a long-range comprehensive solution to the problem, the board of education asked the State Department of Public Instruction to make a survey. They recommended that the board find another site.

The annual school census just completed shows a gain in the district over last year of 93 families and 116 children, Boyd said. The increase was projected at 3 per cent, but the actual percentage of increase is 3.6 per cent. The census covers persons up to 19 years of age he said.

Also to be discussed at the annual meeting will be whether or not plans for a swimming pool should proceed. The Kewaskum Kiwanis club last fall offered to build the pool if the school district would provide the site and assume associated costs.

The board approved contracts for Miss Beth Anderson to teach high school English and James Borusky to teach elementary special education. Boyd said all teaching positions have now been filled.

Accepted by the board was the low bid of $2,775 from Frank Krueger & Son Plumbing & Heating of Kewaskum including labor, fittings and piping to a demonstration table in an elementary school science room which formerly was used for kindergarten classes. Replacement of plumbing fixtures in the elementary school are also included in the bid.

The board agreed to offer a contract for bussing students to the Beechwood school to Baumann Bus Service, Campbellsport.

Group Considers Forming of Ladies GOP Organization

Women throughout the county were invited last week to attend a meeting held at the Linden Inn with the purpose of testing sentiment in regard to the formation of a Republican ladies group. While predominately Republican in background the group included many women who usually list themselves as independent voters. Mrs. Tom Weidemann, vice-chairman of the Washington County Republican Organization, called the meeting as part of a program to interest women voters in the issues of the coming elections.

Included in Mrs. Weidemann's welcoming speech was a message from Richard Becker of Hartford, GOP chairman, who was unable to be present, adding his encouragement to the formation of an active women's organization. Guest speaker was the dynamic and personable State Senator Robert Warren of Green Bay, endorsed Republican candidate for attorney general. His wife, who accompanied him, was warmly received by the women and spoke briefly to the group.

A distinguished member of the state senate, serving on many crucial committees, a graduate of Wisconsin's Law school and former district attorney of Brown county, Warren impressed his listeners with his objective analysis of what the legislature had accomplished in the last session. He pointed out that the legislature had managed to work out a budget which, for the first time in state history, had not included a tax increase. He praised Republican efforts to reorganize state agencies in order to make them more efficient. Warren deplored the failure of the highway safety bill to pass and urged that it had been unanimously voted down by Democratic legislators.

Mrs. Beverly Hames, Women's Republican Federation president of Ozaukee county also spoke to the meeting and urged formation of a GOP Women's Federation in Washington county. She added that the Republican Party had a "Good product to sell" and needed the help of alert, informed and intelligent women voters.

Elect Local Girl At Badger State

Kathryn Hansen, R. 2, Kewaskum, was elected surveyor of Hoard County at the 25th session of Badger Girls State on the University of Wisconsin campus at Madison June 17-20.

The week-long conference, June 15-22, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and University Extension Institute of Governmental Affairs is designed to give the 500 high school girls attending it from communities in all parts of the state practical experience in good government.

More than 350 officials were elected in the state government elections, for the five mythical counties and 10 cities set up. The Badger Girls State is one of the many short courses and conferences conducted annually at the university as educational public services for all Wisconsin citizens.

The girls spend the week learning about government on city, county and state levels in a program designed to prepare them for their future responsibilities as citizens. The girls, all seniors-to-be in Wisconsin high schools, have been selected by school officials on the basis of leadership, scholarship and character. Each is sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary or a civic group in her home town.

During the week the girls hold mock elections, organize city, county and state governments, conduct campaigns and attend lectures on various phases of government. A high point of the week is the legislative session at the State Capitol where the girls who are elected senators and assemblymen enact laws and send them to their governor and other executive officials.

NEW STATE MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION PROGRAM EFFECTIVE MONDAY, JULY 1

"Effective Monday, July 1, the new state motor vehicle inspection program will begin," announced James L. Karns, administrator, State Motor Vehicle Division. "Every driver in the state stands a good chance of being stopped for inspection of his car. Eighteen official teams, each composed of a trooper and two inspectors, will range the state setting up at unannounced locations along state highways and flagging down cars at random for inspection," Karns continued.

Items scheduled for inspection include: tires, brakes, steering, all lights — driving and signals, glass, washers and wipers, and safety belt mooring and use. Working together, the team members will check a car in about six minutes, and if it passes, affix the distinctive orange and black sticker to the windshield at the driver's left. This will exempt the vehicle from inspection for a year from the month it is given.

If the car doesn't pass muster, the driver will be directed to have the deficiencies made good, and to return at a definite time and place for re-examination. He can then clear his record and receive the sticker. Until he does so, he will be carried on the records as driving a car which does not meet inspection minimum requirements.

Locations for re-examination and for regular voluntary inspection will be publicized in local news media, and will be in operation each Wednesday. Drivers wishing to get their stickers in advance of the random inspection are invited and urged to make use of this facility at their early convenience.

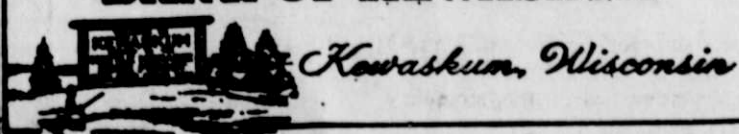

In conclusion, Karn urged all drivers to cooperate in all phases of the program. "Your car's safety is your business, and important business too. Our goal is to show you the deficiencies which may make your car dangerous to yourselves and to everyone else on the highways. The 'inspected' sticker will be your assurance that at this time you are driving a safe car. Of course, you the driver are the most important factor in drivings safety."

"America's future will be determined by the home and the school."

Guidance Center Hires Help for Special Project

FEDERAL GRANT PROVIDES FUNDS FOR 1-YEAR PROJECT

In a recent issue of the Kewaskum Statesman, you were informed of the federal grant that the Washington County Guidance Center has received to undertake a one year project to provide mental health education sessions to individuals and families on the center's waiting list.

Since then the center has hired the project associate who will conduct these groups, and a special assistant who will work over the summer in helping the associate and staff set up the project. Miss JoAnn Miller, a graduate of Wisconsin State University at LaCrosse, assumed the project associate position effective June 17. She is originally from Lodi, Wis. and has just received her bachelor of science degree in sociology.

Her assistant will be Miss Joanne Moussette, also a graduate of Wisconsin State University at LaCrosse, who is from Cornell, Wis. She has a bachelor of science degree in psychology, and plans to return to school for graduate studies in the fall.

After careful consideration and discussion, the staff decided to have the primary project position filled by someone with a degree in sociology, as opposed to the other behavioral sciences. This is based on the belief that this training is most pertinent and appropriate to the task at hand. In sociology there is, of course, the study of individual behavior as in psychology, but the emphasis in this science is on the individual's relationship to other individuals in various groupings. These groups, which are many, include such things as one's school-mates, one's circle of friends, one's community, and of course one's family. Community mental health clinics have become more and more aware of these sociological aspects of mental health and illness, and the center's education project will have this focus.

It is anticipated that the groups will not be fully underway until about the middle of August. Much preliminary work still needs to be done, such as gathering pertinent materials, devising the best teaching methods, and deciding on the most effective measurement techniques to evaluate the program. Most likely there will be "trial runs" in the next two months to test out the approaches to the project.

Miss Barbara Radtke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Radtke, R. 1, Slinger, and Merle Laatsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Laatsch, R. 1, Kewaskum, chose the 57th anniversary of the bride's grandparents as their wedding day. They were married on Saturday, June 8, in St. John of God church, near Boltonville, with Rev. Clifford Olsen of Peace United Church of Christ, Jackson, and Rev. Ignatius Staskunas of St. John of God church officiating at the 2 p. m. ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Schmidt of Jackson are the bride's grandparents.

White silk organza over bridal peau fashioned the bride's gown. The empire bodice, elbow length sleeves, portrait neckline and A-line skirt were lavishly trimmed in re-embroidered alencon lace. A detachable train was trimmed with the same lace. Her bouffant silk illusion veil was held by a headpiece of hand rolled organza roses with pearl tips, lace and aurora borealis. She carried a cascade arrangement of red roses, white carnations and ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Laatsch, and bridesmaids, Karen Laatsch, Carolyn Laatsch, sisters of the bridegroom, Charlotte Schmidt and Lucinda Hoelz, cousins of the bride, were identically gowned in ice-cherry linen full length dresses which featured an A-line skirt, empire bodice, accented with two self-bows, a round neckline and elbow length sleeves edged with lace. The back waist was styled with a large bow and a shirred back panel. Their headpieces of tulle petals and loops of organza accented with pearls and aurora borealis tips held their tiered veils and they carried a cascade arrangement of white and pink carnations and red roses with ivy.

"I can't help it, Reverend. I still think it was a damned good sermon. So good that I was so impressed that I put a hundred dollar bill in the collection box."

WASHINGTON AND Small Business
BY C. WILSON HARDER
Rubbing Salt in the Wound

The Federal fiscal '69 budget includes almost 3 billion dollars for foreign aid, which breaks down to $14.50 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Two dollars of this person spending is earmarked for military assistance and the rest is for a hodge-podge of activities loosely lumped under "economic aid," which allegedly will make friends and influence people.

Last year, 1900 shares of this money went to buy a chemical solution from an Italian who claimed it would cure skin eruptions and nausea among South Vietnamese civilians.

He labelled the vials "physiological sodium chloride 10 per cent" and the bureaucrats at the agency for International Development thought it good enough to shell out $24,000 for the stuff before finding that it was nothing more than sea water! Sodium chloride, as any high school chemistry student knows, is common salt.

Congressman H. R. Gross of Iowa, who is constantly jabbing holes in the paper mache world of foreign aid, told his constituents that the Italian "must have laughed all the way to the bank with your money."

"He certainly knew a sucker outfit when he saw one," he observed.

Protecting the American public from quacks and con-men is a major government effort, and even the most reputable of drug manufacturers must submit every new product to the Food and Drug Administration for analysis and study before it can be marketed. Apparently, no such precautions are taken to protect the American taxpayer from shyster operators all over the globe.

During debate on a much bigger foreign aid expenditure, Congressman Gross put his finger on one cause of the taxpayers' burden when he said: "I hope that someday we can bring an end to this business of a bunch of Americans going over to New Delhi, or to Buenos Aires, or to some other cockeyed place around the world—Timbuctu or Ouagadougou—and there sitting down with a group of foreigners and agreeing that the U. S. share of this fund or that fund, for the purpose of our participation, is going to be 41% or 70%."

Too often, he said, Congress is told "we have been down there and a commitment was made, and now you have to pick up the check."

The debate ended with Congress voting to pay 41 per cent of one billion dollars of new capitalization for the Inter-American Development Bank, costing U. S. taxpayers 411 million dollars. This came at a time when the nation's debt is over $350 billion and American private investors are being told to cut down their investments abroad because of the balance of payments problem.

Who can say — everything considered — that this bit of "high finance" will be a better deal than buying Mediterranean water from an Italian?

Indians Win, Lose During Past Week

BEATEN AT GERMANTOWN, DOWN GRAFTON IN RAIN

The Kewaskum Indians split two Scenic Moraine conference games during the past week, losing at Germantown Thursday, 6-3, and defeating Grafton in the rain here Monday night, 6-2. The Indians now possess a 3-2 record, good for third place in the standings.

Germantown scored six times in the first two innings and made it stand up for a 6-3 win over the Indians. Kewaskum scored two runs in the fourth and one in the fifth to narrow the margin. The Indians missed on a good chance in the fifth inning when they left runners on second and third with only one out.

Bob Fellenz pitched all the way for the Indians, striking out four, giving up one walk and nine hits.

Playing in a steady drizzle and rain here Monday night, Kewaskum beat Grafton, 6-2, in a game that was finally called in the last half of the fifth inning because of the rain, but not until enough innings were played to make it an official contest. The game was called with Kewaskum at bat in the fifth with runners on second and third base and nobody out.

Grafton scored two runs in the first inning and that was it. The Indians tallied two runs in their half of the first to tie it up and then added one in the third, two in the fourth and one in the fifth before the contest was called with two men on base.

Jim Schuster went the route for the Indians. Hitting highlight in the tilt was a booming triple by George Martin over the center fielder's head which drove in the third run to put Kewaskum ahead, 3-2.

No other scheduled conference games were played Monday.

On Thursday, June 27, the Indians were scheduled to play at North Fondy and Monday, July 1, they travel to Campbellsport to take on the undefeated conference leaders and their ace pitcher, Stoffel.

Lakes Team Loses To Lowly Port, 5-3

Kewaskum was embarrassed at Port Washington last Wednesday night when the tail-end Port team upset them by a 5-3 score. It was Port's first victory of the season in the Lakes circuit.

Port took a 5-0 lead in the first four innings, which completed their scoring but was enough to ice the win. Kewaskum got one back in the 6th on M. Schaefer's single and J. Klahn's triple and added their final two in the 8th on a walk, two errors and K. Theusch's double. Klahn has been powdering the ball at a terrific pace lately.

Young Jerry Marx once more went the distance for the losers and was touched for 8 hits, struck out 7 and walked 4. His mound opponent, Kirsch, who usually is a soft touch for Kewaskum, checked them with 6 hits, while whiffing 6 and passing 3.

Kewaskum's 6 hits were divided among as many batters. Sackert and Barber each got 2 hits for Port.

This Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock Kewaskum will play its first home game of the season, entertaining Cedarburg. The team played its first five games on the road because of re-seeding of the outfield this spring. One other away field was postponed. Kewaskum will now play seven games in a row at home.

ALWAYS USE SEAT BELTS

BUCKLE UP OVER THE FOURTH

The multi-billion dollar life insurance business is a cogent example of the American desire to protect his own family.

There is another kind of living insurance that is just as important, just as vital to the American family—the automobile seat belt.

The gruesome monotony of our fatality records each Holiday weekend may be averted over July 4, if more drivers and riders will use seat belts. The Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory says, "Your chances of suffering serious injury or death in injury-producing auto accidents are nearly 50 percent greater if you refuse to use a seat belt."

In 1963 while only 9 percent of the cars were equipped, three-quarters of the drivers used them on long trips and most used them locally as well.

Four years later, in 1967, 65 percent of the cars had seat belts, but barely half of the drivers used them on long trips and only 38 percent used them locally.

And the percentage who testified that they never wore belts climbed from 10 to 17 percent between 1966 and 1967, because "there are no laws requiring seat belts to be worn." Why bother?

The record Memorial Day toll of 628 traffic deaths is why?

Take a second to buckle up—it may save a lifetime!

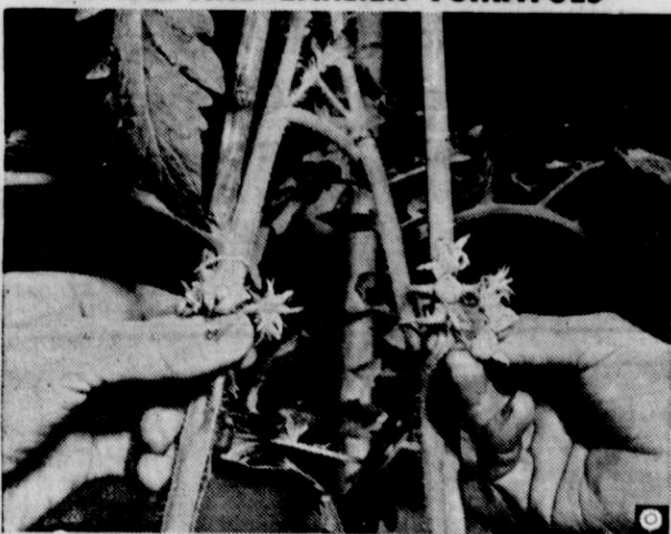

were also given to Marcella Homuth, Joyce Gruber and Laura Mathews for sinking their approach shots.

Card winners were LaVern Hetzel, Frances Rohlinger, Audrey Bartelt and Joyce Ogie and Alice Kowalski of Fond du Lac at sheepshhead.

At 3 p. m. on June 26, the Hon-E-Kor ladies were scheduled to be guests of the Crystal Lake ladies. More on this next week.

MORE AND EARLIER TOMATOES

By spraying the faces of tomato flowers with a fruit-setting hormone, tomatoes are produced even on the first bloom cluster of the season. Flowers at right were sprayed and have set fruits; those at left were not so treated.

Experienced gardeners know well that the first truss of blooms on a tomato plant rarely results in tomatoes. Instead, the flowers usually drop. This can happen when the temperature falls below 50 degrees, apparently the temperature required for fruit set.

But there's a way to keep blooms on the plant and make them set fruits even during cold or inclement weather when bees do not fly.

This is by spraying the faces of the flowers (not the backs) with a fruit-setting hormone which may be bought in liquid form, to be diluted with water, or as an aerosol.

Look carefully at the illustration above. The cluster of flowers at the left has not been sprayed with the hormone and there are no signs of fruit. The blooms on the right, sprayed a few days before the picture was taken, already have formed tiny tomatoes.

Producing fruits by this method, since they are formed from the very first flowers, results in a harvest sometimes as much as 3 weeks earlier than normal.

The hormone spray works as well on later flower clusters as it does on the first ones and on any variety of tomato you may be growing.
