Long Range Plan for Vocational Education at High School Approved

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR A FUTURE BUILDING PROGRAM IN DISTRICT ARE HEARD

By Ruth Held

A long-range plan for vocational education at the high school was approved and recommendations for a future building program involving the five schools in the district were heard by the Board of Education Monday night during a four-hour meeting.

The vocational plan awaits approval from the State Department of Public Instruction. In presenting the plan to the board, Principal Edward Connors said up until the present school year, most high schools received state funds upon application from the George Bardon program in the vocational agriculture and home economics programs.

On termination of that program, the State Department of Public Instruction asked high schools to present a long-range program that was to be expanded to include industrial arts and business education.

Connors explained that department chairmen in the high school vocational areas had meetings and also attended a number of state conferences and that two local citizens advisory committees were formed to aid the school district in planning future programs and goals in vocational instruction at the school.

The advisory committees met for the first time last month, he said. The personnel of the vocational education committee is a cross-section of local and area industry, Connors pointed out.

"The committee members are asked to state what they would like in a student if he were in their employ and to offer suggestions we could develop in our program. We give the committee an idea of what type of student we are turning out," he explained.

On the vocational committee are Jack Sutton of Gehl Bros., West Bend; Joseph Gruber of the Washington County Labor Council; Mrs. Carol Miller and Ron Hall of the West Bend Vocational School; Gerald Miller of the B. C. Ziegler investment firm of West Bend; and Eugene O'Brien, personnel director of Regal Ware.

The advisory committee on agriculture will be asked to make suggestions as to changes that might be made in that field and in the ever-expanding career that has come to be known as agribusiness.

It was noted that the local high school has a strong vo-ag program and that despite a general trend toward a decrease in the number of students desiring vo-ag instruction, interest here is on the increase. "Many outsiders are coming here to observe our vo-ag program and to see what is going on," Connors said.

The advisory committee has Dr. Charles Ogi, local veterinarian as chairman; Gregor Nigh of Kewaskum Frozen Foods, LeRoy Becker, an area farmer and Bill Meyer, local branch manager of Washington-Waukesha County Farm Supply.

Prost Retires After 43 Years As MWA Officer

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY MODERN WOODMEN CAMP

Wilmer Prost has retired as banker of Camp 2233, Modern Woodmen of America of Kewaskum, after serving in that office for the past 43 years.

New officers elected by the camp are: Joe Schwind, council; Bill Schaub, advisor; Otto Weddig, banker (succeeding Prost); Walter Schmidt, secretary; Ollie Staehler, Jr., sentry; Bob Donath, watchman. Lee Honeck was elected to serve as trustee for three years, along with Ivan Buss and Orville Petermann. Weddig also serves as secretary of the organization.

The next Woodmen meeting will be held at the Labor Center hall on Tuesday, Feb. 3, at 8:30 p. m. Delegates to the district convention will be elected at this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Indians' Star Breaks Wrist

CLARK EICHSTEDT LOST FOR SEASON

Junior Clark Eichstedt, one of the main stars of the Kewaskum Indians basketball team and Scenic Moraine conference, suffered a broken bone in his left wrist in a fall while practicing with the team Wednesday afternoon and will be lost for the rest of the season.

Eichstedt is the team's leading scorer, is fourth high in scoring in the conference with 152 points, and is one of the Indians' top rebounders and ball handlers. He is 6 ft. 2½ in. tall. His loss is a severe blow to the Indians' chances of winning the Scenic championship, finishing the season undefeated, and hopes of getting somewhere in WIAA tournament competition this year.

Presently the unbeaten Indians have a 9-0 record in the conference and have won 12 straight overall. With their big win over Hartland Friday, Kewaskum now has a 3-game lead in the conference, which may still carry them through to the championship, even without Eichstedt. They have five games remaining. Two wins will clinch a tie for the title and three the undisputed title.

It is a lousy shame such a bad break should happen to a fine team having a great year, one of the best on Kewaskum High School's record. Kewaskum has not yet won a championship in basketball since entering the strong Scenic conference.

FIRST ROBIN REPORTED

Dan Tessar, 17, reported to this office on Thursday that he saw a robin at the family's bird feeder. With all the snow on the ground and bitterly cold weather last week, this bird better hightail it right back to the South for a couple more months.

Fred Thomas Is Appointed Sales Manager at Regal

Fred A. Thomas

Fred A. Thomas has been appointed sales manager — department store sales of Regal Ware, Inc. according to R. O. Reigle, vice president, sales and management. Thomas' former title was assistant sales manager (retail and lobbying division) of the Kewaskum based cookware manufacturer. Department store sales remain a part of the retail and lobbying division under the direction of Clarence L. Faircloth.

Thomas brings to his new position extensive experience in the housewares field. Before joining Regal in 1966, he was an associate housewares buyer at Shillito's, the leading department store in Cincinnati, Ohio. Prior to his position there, he had served for 3½ years as a district sales representative of south central United States for Zenith Radio Corporation.

A native of Chicago, Thomas attended the Illinois Institute of Technology and later studied business administration and marketing at Northwestern University. From 1956 to 1958 he served in active duty with the U. S. Marine Corps. Thomas resides in Kewaskum with his wife, Joy, and their three children.

Plan Freshmen Parents Night

Tuesday, Feb. 17, at 8:00 p. m. an open meeting will be held in the high school for all parents of 8th grade students who will be entering Kewaskum High School next fall.

The course offerings and school policy will be explained and discussed. It is important for the parents to know what the school expects of the student. Any questions you may have will be welcomed. Coffee will be served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

All information that your child should have regarding enrollment and choice of subjects will be discussed at the Parents' Night on Feb. 17.

On Feb. 12, high school counselors will be visiting the grades schools from which next year's freshmen will be coming. The counselors will give each student the necessary pre-registration materials at this time. Parents are asked to be sure to sign the pro-

Romaine Will Be Opposed by 2 for Supervisory Seat

SEVEN ENTER RACE FOR THREE TRUSTEE OFFICES

Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 5 p. m. was the deadline for candidates to file nomination papers for the spring election with the county clerk and locally with the village commissioner. The primary will be held on March 3 and regular Spring Election on April 7.

Some hot races for seats on the Washington County Board of Supervisors were lined up by the time the doors of the county clerk's office closed at 5 p. m. Tuesday. A total of 49 candidates had entered the race for the 29 seats on the board, with nine entering the contest on the final filing day.

Fourteen of the 29 board seats will be contested with four three-way races and one four-way contest in prospect. The other 15 board seats are uncontested. Primary elections will be required in the five districts where three or more candidates have filed for election, under state statutes.

One of the board seats being contested and requiring a primary is District 9, Village of Kewaskum. Here Elwyn M. Romaine, veteran supervisor and county board chairman, will be opposed by Marlene Shepherd, a housewife, and Francis Bohn, who owns and operates the Kewaskum Liquor Mart.

In other area districts, Dist. 10, Town of Farmington, Norbert Dettmann, present supervisor, is unopposed and in Dist. 8, Town of Wayne and Kewaskum, John A. Deihafen, present supervisor, is also unopposed.

Only one of the county's four villages, Germantown, was without a contest for trustee posts at the coming election when the filing deadline was reached Tuesday. All of the villages will elect three trustees. Jackson has five candidates, Slinger has four, and Kewaskum has the most with seven.

The three incumbents whose terms expire, Raynor Herriges, Myron Perschbacher and Elmer Yoost, have all filed for re-election. Also filing to enter the April 7 election are Gregor Nigh, Wallace Cudnohoske, Earl Dubois and William A. Edwards.

Joins Students for Semester in Europe

Thirteen students from northeastern Wisconsin left Stevens Point State University Monday to participate in a "Semester Abroad" program in Europe.

They are among 39 Stevens Point State sophomores and juniors who will gear their involvement to travel throughout the continent and experimentation in learning.

Students from the surrounding area include John LaMarche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene LaMarche, 1338 Roseland Dr., Kewaskum.

He had a head like a doorknob—any girl could turn it.

grams and to give them to their child, so that they can be collected at the grade schools on Feb. 19.

Local Girl Named Queen for UWWC Homecoming

CHRISTINE FELLEENZ WILL REIGN WITH PAUL THOMAS

A Kewaskum woman and a West Bend man have been named queen and king for the first annual homecoming at the University of Wisconsin, Washington County Campus, West Bend.

Miss Christine R. Felleenz, 20, R. 1, Kewaskum, and Paul A. Thomas, 19, 1308 W. Decorah, West Bend, will reign at homecoming activities which include a 3 p. m. basketball game and 1 p. m. wrestling match between UWWC and Richland Center in the Silverbrook School and an evening dinner-dance at the Linden Inn.

Miss Felleenz is a sophomore working towards a B.A. degree. She graduated from Kewaskum Community High School in June, 1968.

Thomas is a sophomore majoring in business marketing. He is a forward on the UWWC basketball team and has averaged 10.2 points per game in the first five conference games of the season. He graduated from the West Bend High School in 1968.

Completing the homecoming court are two freshmen members of the basketball team and their dates: Bruce S. Regnitz, 19, 738 Horns Corners rd., Cedarburg, and Robert H. Kaehny, R. 4, Box 336, West Bend.

Regnitz, a 1969 graduate of Cedarburg High School, is averaging 9.5 points per game and plays forward and guard. Kaehny, a guard, graduated from West Bend High School last June and has an 8.8 point conference average.

Heart Fund Drive To Open Sunday in Town of Kewaskum

Wisconsin Heart Association's 1970 Heart Fund campaign will officially open on Sunday, Feb. 1. Kewaskum township will join cities, villages and townships throughout Wisconsin and the nation in the annual drive, according to Arnold Amerling, R. 2, Kewaskum, who heads the campaign here.

Amerling urges Kewaskum township residents to support the Heart Fund drive, which has a goal of $855,000 in the state this year.

On the basis of the latest figures, he stated, adult sufferers from heart disease number about 345,000 in Wisconsin. This estimated total he explained, includes coronary, hypertensive, rheumatic and congenital forms of heart disease.

Advances in combatting the cardiovascular diseases have been remarkable during the past 20 years, he noted. "Nationally there has been a decline of about 20 per cent in the death rate under age 65 from the heart and blood vessel diseases since 1950."

"Your gift to the Heart Fund will help Heart Association researchers in their efforts to find the answers to heart and blood vessel diseases. Your gift will support educational programs and help provide additional community service projects," he noted.

Local Youth Takes Part in Special College Program

Colleen Fickler, 524 Habeck St., Kewaskum, is one of 34 Elmhurst College, Ill. students participating in the college's second annual Interim Field Experience Program, Jan. 5-30.

A junior majoring in psychology, Miss Fickler is combining academic theory with professional experience, spending three weeks working at the York Community High School as a counseling intern. Dr. Schmidt, chairman of the education department at Elmhurst College is serving as the faculty sponsor for the program.

During the one month interim, the students may be working either individually or in groups with different faculty members on research projects, involved in field experience programs, or traveling in one of five foreign countries.

The interim program at Elmhurst College is a part of the institution's 4-1-4 program, and allows the student to participate in two four-month semesters of "typical" classroom study and one month for in-depth research of particular interest. The 1969 curriculum offered more than 70 courses in 24 major areas.

Located west of Chicago in Elmhurst, Ill., the private, liberal arts college has an enrollment of 1,700 day students and 1,200 evening students.

School Meeting

ing needs based on a study of past, present and projected enrollments were given by Richard Zaring, Kewaskum Elementary principal; Kenneth Erickson, junior high principal and Principal Connors.

The 1966 total district enrollment, kindergarten through Grade 12 and including special education students was listed at 1,528. The 1969 total is 1,865. The 1970-71 projected figure is 1,950; in 1980-81, a total of 2,885.

The administrators pointed out, however, that in taking the 10-year look at the district, "what we are saying is that this is what we think will happen." As one board member put it, "all we are doing is accumulating figures. What is to be done will still be up to the electors." Eight electors were present at the meeting.

The study listed immediate needs, needs by 1970 and needs by 1980. Immediate needs at Beechwood are "area for school psychologist, social worker, teacher aide; art, music area; general storage." At Farmington, the needs were identical except for "a health room and library." "Library space and areas for school psychologist and social worker" were shown as needed at the Kewaskum Elementary.

A total of 13 classrooms among the schools as a 1975 need. The conclusions drawn by the three administrators from their study were 1. build additions to existing buildings with construction to begin as soon as possible. 2. Use the open-school concept and employ moveable walls. 3. employ minimal use of windows for an all-around saving.

The board approved purchase of signs that will disallow powered recreational vehicles on all unpaved areas of school properties. Included are snowmobiles, go-carts, scooters and motorbikes.

The action was taken as a measure to absolve the district of liability in the event a powered vehicle would strike a pedestrian who happened to be on school property or in the event of possible injury to operators of such vehicles should they accidentally run into obstructions such as septic system vent pipes, fences and the like.

It was the decision of the board not to align the high school in a new athletic conference that will be formed as a result of the five teams in the present Eastern Wisconsin Conference uniting with some Door county schools. The opinion was expressed that "we may be interested in joining in the future."

Board member Mrs. Edgar Miske reported on her attendance at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards in Milwaukee last week.

SCHOOL BUS COLLIDES WITH AUTO IN MISHAP

A William Baumann Bus Co. school bus, driven by Paul Blumer, 36, 511 Keller St., Kewaskum, and a station wagon operated by Phillip P. Zingsheim, 29, Theresa, were involved in a collision at 6:45 a. m. Tuesday on Fond du Lac Ave. at Second St.

Police Chief Don Hlavaty reported that Zingsheim was prepared to make a left turn onto Second St. by stopping in the center lane. Blumer reported he looked away at a snowplow for a second and did not see Zingsheim apply his brakes. The bus struck the auto in the rear.

Alice Justman, Theresa, one of seven occupants in Zingsheim's wagon, complained of a lump on the head. The front bumper of the school bus and rear of the Zingsheim vehicle were damaged.

FROM OUR FILES

25 YEARS AGO
Friday, Jan. 26, 1945

A new production machine shop under the firm name of Kewaskum Industries has located in the former service station owned by K. A. Horeck on S. Fond du Lac ave. Proprietors of the industry are W. A. Carey of Barton and C. C. Hahn of West Bend.

A Kewaskum area native, Rev. Father Aloysius Fellenz, former curate of St. Aloysius parish, West Allis, recently was named pastor of St. Mary's parish at Pine Bluff. Rev. Richard M. A. Gadow, former pastor of Peace Ev. and Reformed church, Kewaskum, before Rev. R. G. Beck, has been transferred from St. Andrew's church, Chicago, to St. Paul's parish, Wauwatosa.

A collection of tin cans needed in the war was held in Kewaskum Tuesday when the cans were picked up at the curb by the village truck and hauled to the salvage depot in Fond du Lac. The amount of tin cans collected totaled 1,200 pounds, according to John H. Martin, local salvage chairman.

Word was received that Sgt. Carl F. Mayer was slightly wounded in action in Germany recently and Pfc. Edward Hansen was slightly wounded in action in France.

Donald Mertes, 18, Kewaskum, and Donald Gilford, R. 1, Kewaskum, were among 19 county registrants accepted for induction recently. Both were accepted into the navy.

An official telegram from the war department was received by William Kohn, R. 3, Kewaskum, informing him that his son, Pfc. Walter F. Kohn, died Dec. 11 in Belgium of wounds suffered in action in France earlier. An earlier telegram had stated he was seriously wounded. Walter is the third son of Mr. Kohn to lose his life tragically in the past few years. Two brothers, Arnold and Sylvester, were killed in auto accidents. Pfc. Kohn is the 8th young man from Kewaskum to give his life for his country.

Service news: Pvt. Russell M. Heisler has been awarded the good conduct medal for "exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity" at an Eighth Fighter Command station in England. His younger brother, S/Sgt. Frank Heisler, is assistant crew chief on a B-26 Marauder which has completed many missions over western Europe. A third and youngest of the Heisler brothers in service, Pfc. Louis, is training at Keesler Field, Miss.

Wm. Brandstetter is the first overseas soldier from Kewaskum to return from France. Pvt. Carl Westerman and Edwin "Spatz" Miller also arrived in New York from overseas and were discharged at Camp Grant. Pvt. Peter Beisbier of St. Kilian arrived in New York and is recovering from wounds received in France. He was cited for bravery. Harvey Brandt returned from Camp Knox, Ky. where he was discharged.

August C. Bartelt, hustling and wide-awake manager of the East Valley Telephone Co., received over eight miles of telephone wire and has a crew of men building an extra toll line between this village and Forest Lake.

In looking over the school reords of 51 years ago we noticed that hard wood was cut and delivered to the local school at 50 cents a cord, some price compared to what it sells for new.

SECONDARY THOUGHTS

THE CURRENT TV MATH PROGRAM

By Esther Hanseiman

Can "New Mathematics" be taught by the same old teacher? Many ask what the "modern mathematics" involves and how recent programs emphasize the structural aspects of the subject. We must realize that we are seeing a revolution in method and not material.

The new approach is an attempt to lead students to understand principles rather than merely memorize rules of manipulation of symbols. Computational skills are necessary, but not enough.

The upgrading of the mathematics program involves new teaching methods, new ways of looking at the subject, and new understandings of underlying principles as well as some new mathematics. The new way may not be easier to teach. A real understanding of structure involves a study of relationships, inherent in the number system. We are sure that students in our schools today will face problems we cannot predict. The problems will be solved not by knowledge of mathematical facts alone, but by knowledge of mathematical methods of attacking problems. New and as yet unknown questions may evolve, and in fact require, new and as yet unknown mathematics for their solution. Naturally we cannot teach this, but we must teach methods of mathematical thinking as well as the basic content of mathematics if we are to fulfill our responsibility to a student.

Since motivation and inspiration are found in problems of our physical world we must find out how these problems are translated in number relations.

How can we continually explore new ideas? Magazines, newspapers, textbooks, radio, films, and television show that the trend of the "new math" will stay with us—perhaps with some modification.

What kind of courses are teachers taking that keep them exploring and comparing new ideas with the old, so that a better teaching job might be done?

The latest material is now being presented on a television program, Channel 10, Milwaukee, Tuesdays at 6:30 a. m. The program is supported cooperatively by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and the system of Wisconsin State Universities. It is an Inservice Self-Improvement Program that was designed primarily for teachers who wanted to participate and improve their mathematical experiences. This course carries college credit and consists of fifteen early morning half-hour television lessons, nine three hour Saturday seminars, reading and study assignments, and a two hour final examination.

The course shows how number concepts are built from the kindergarten level and developed through each grade until the proper background is achieved for the secondary mathematics courses. Development of different numeration systems, properties of operations, algorithms, set theory, reasoning and proof, and the important role of order in mathematics are studied.

With a firm grasp of these ideas, taught by competent instructors, children will be better prepared both to figure out their own solutions to problems and to expand their knowledge of mathematics in the challenging years ahead.

The Wisconsin State Department of Public Instruction hopes that all the people who helped produce the television series, writers of the new texts, teachers who participated in the seminars, and parents who watched the program are all helping in their own way to improve mathematical experiences for all Wisconsin youth.

Students should be aware of the two-fold role of mathematics; it is a tool for the sciences and a fascinating study in its own right. Blind acceptance to everything modern and updating in mathematics or any other field is perhaps be-

Indians Edge Hartland in Overtime, 68-65

UNBEATEN KEWASKUM UPS LEAD TO 3 GAMES

Just as we had predicted, it was a real barn burner at Hartland Friday night and Kewaskum was forced into overtime to defeat Arrowhead, 68-65. The clutch victory was the ninth straight without a loss for the Indians and gave them a three-game lead over Hartland and Slinger, both now 6-3. This was a very important win for the Indians as an Arrowhead victory would have moved them up to just one game behind Kewaskum.

Fans of both teams, and there was an immense crowd from Kewaskum who made the long trip to Hartland, went wild in this saw-saw battle between the two top teams. The score was tied often and changed hands frequently. The Indians went ahead many times, once by seven points in the third quarter, but Hartland always came back with some hot shooting from the outside. On the other hand Kewaskum was not hitting from outside and had to earn their points on lay-ups.

The Indians stunned the crowd with three quick baskets right at the start but they cooled down and by the quarter Arrowhead had tied them, 14-14. It stayed close all the rest of the way. By half-time Hartland took a 36-34 lead. The Indians gained back the two points in the third period and tied it up again, 50-50. More of the same in the final quarter, each team scoring 9 points, to make it 59-59 at the end of regulation time. In the wild three minute overtime, Dick Bartelt got hot and dropped in 6 of the Indians' 9 points to clinch the win. Arrowhead was held to 6 points. Kewaskum jumped to a quick five-point lead in the overtime and came through like champions.

Bartelt came off the bench to be the hero in overtime. He hit a cool streak before that and Coach Wait Bade rested him. The Indians almost won the game in regulation time as Steve Stern heaved a desperation shot at the buzzer from two-thirds out on the court and the ball rimmed the basket and just popped out. "We almost had a Lamont Weaver on our hands," Bade said.

Junior Clark Eichstedt again was Kewaskum's scoring leader with 19 points. He and Stern, who added 16, were the Indian's top rebounders, too, in the game. Bartelt scored 6 of his 14 points in the overtime. Rod Barbara led Hartland with 18 points and John Dolan hit for 17. Both were dead-ly from outside Kewaskum's airtight zone defense.

Although both teams played hard, it was a clean game between two excellent teams. There were no fights, no incidents like in one or two previous clashes between these two schools which have developed a sudden rivalry in their first year of competition. We are informed that Principal Ed Connors called a special assembly hour Friday afternoon to advise the student body on this possibility and explain the critical situation and importance of the contest. Both student bodies were well-mannered.

Tonight (Friday) the Indians face another real toughie, playing defending champion Slinger on the Owls' floor. Slinger is tied for second with Hartland and lost to Kewaskum by only 4 points here earlier. The Indians are determined to win this one for Ace Clark Eichstedt, who is lost for the season as a result of breaking his wrist in practice Wednesday. The loss of his service is a serious blow to the team. Let's go, Indians!

West Bend Savings And Loan Announces Savings Rate Hike

West Bend Savings and Loan Association announced interest rate increases paid on insured savings accounts of many types. These rate boosts followed the United States Government's authorization for banks and savings and loan associations to increase their savings rates paid to customers.

The government authorized West Bend Savings to offer a 6% Insured Savings Certificate with a required minimum investment of $10,000 for a two year period. Richard Larson, West Bend Savings president indicated that this was the highest rate authorized for insured savings account since the inception of the insurance of accounts. In addition to the new 6% certificates West Bend Savings is offering 5¼% certificates with a minimum balance of $1,000 and 5½% and 5¾% certificates with higher minimum as required by the government. These are all one year certificates.

West Bend Savings also announced that Gold Seal Notice Passbook Accounts were increased from 5% to 5.25%, the highest rate now authorized by the government and the highest rate available on any type of passbook account. This rate increase was made retroactive to January 1, 1970.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board which authorized the higher rates for insured savings and loan associations announced that the rate increase was in accord with the government's fight against inflation and would be an added encouragement to savers. Larson said that the additional savings which West Bend Savings expected to be deposited because of the higher rate certificates would enable the association to increase its mortgage lending volume in 1970 to meet the housing needs of Washington county.

West Bend Savings board of directors announced that the increase in savings rates would not affect home loan interest rates and that no mortgage rate increases would be made because of the savings rate increase. They said that some necessary adjustments had been made in loan rates during 1969 in order to be able to offer the higher savings rates which were foreseen, but the association expected to be able to maintain loan rates well below the prevailing interest rate schedules for home loans in the Milwaukee Metropolitan area.
