Board Votes to Provide Village Employees With Insurance Benefits

APPROVE CONSTRUCTION OF ANOTHER EIGHT-UNIT APARTMENT BUILDING

By Ruth Held
of the Kewaskum Statesman

The village board Monday night voted to provide the employees of the village with group life insurance under the group life insurance plan for employees of Wisconsin Municipalities. The village will assume the premium costs which will amount to a total of $41.18 per month for its ten employees. The present health, accident and sickness coverage remains the same.

The insurance of each employee will equal the gross amount of his total municipal earnings, which if not in even thousands, is increased to the next higher thousand.

The board gave a final review to plans for a municipal garage and authorized Stone and Robinson, consulting engineers of Brookfield to advertise for bids to be opened in the council room at 7:30 p. m., March 16.

William Ruth, local realtor, appeared with Douglas Bloom of West Bend to ask if the board would object to the construction of an eight-unit apartment building at the extreme west end of Braatz Drive.

According to Bloom's plans, the building would be 64 feet long by 48 feet deep and would be built on the north side of the street. Ruth said plans call for a building similar in appearance to one constructed on the east end of Braatz Dr.

Immediate reaction of the board members was that they have no objections to multiple-housing units but that there is a conflict of opinions among townspeople in regard to where that type of building should be erected.

Some feel multiple-housing units should be built in designated areas; others would like them scattered. Ruth said lots on either side of the proposed apartment building are as of now, unsold and those who might consider building a home there, can decide for themselves whether or not they want to live beside such a unit.

The matter was tabled, then brought up again as the final order of business when it touched off another lengthy discussion. A ballot vote revealed a 6 to 1 approval for the proposed building. It was noted the plans will need state approval before a local building permit can be issued.

Numerous complaints that residents are not removing snow from their sidewalks have been received, board members said. They ordered strict enforcement of the ordinance that snow be removed within 24 hours after a snowfall or village employees will do so and the cost will be charged to the property owners.

A proposal for painting the interior and cleaning and priming of pipes in the Tower St. pumping station at a cost of $660 was reviewed. Armin Oppermann, superintendent of public works, said he thought his men could do the painting and the matter was tabled pending discussion with the bidder.

The board authorized purchase of a desk with filing space for use by Peter Albers, sewage plant operator. Estimates will be called for on electrically operated overhead doors used as exits by the fire trucks and ambulance. Present manually operated doors are badly in need of repair, it was noted.

The request of Stanley P. Lehn of West Bend to build a driveway on the southeast side of the apartment building he owns at 222 Braatz Drive was approved.

Funding of proposed expansion of the village sewage treatment plant was discussed and it was agreed to seek guidance from an underwriting firm.

Marvin A. Martin, local civil defense director, was authorized to attend a state CD meeting in Madison on March 3.

Several board members expressed an interest in attending a seminar on "Zoning: Use and Misuse" offered by the University of Wisconsin Extension in Wauwatosa on Feb. 19.

Heart Fund Drive Opens in T. Wayne

Wisconsin Heart Association's 1970 Heart Fund campaign officially opened Sunday, Feb. 1. Wayne township joined cities, villages and townships throughout Wisconsin and the nation in the annual drive according to Jim Oelhafen, who heads the campaign there.

Oelhafen urges Wayne township residents to support the Heart Fund drive again this year. "Your gifts and your neighbor's have already won dramatic victories, but diseases of the heart and blood vessels are still America's biggest killer."

"In the past year more than a million Americans died from heart diseases. Slightly more than 250,000 of those were persons under 65 — fathers in their prime of life, mothers and school children and young adults were among the victims," he said.

"Your gift will help the Heart Association researchers in their efforts to discover the answers to this problem," Oelhafen said. "It will support educational programs and help provide additional community service projects."

The Wisconsin Heart Association has set a tentative goal for the state at $855,000.

Subscription Rate To Increase Feb. 15

Due to another increase in postal rates on Jan. 1, 1970, and new postal regulations requiring extra handling and more stringent mailing requirements, plus ever increasing newsprint prices and production costs, it has become necessary to raise the subscription rate for the Kewaskum Statesman, effective Feb. 15.

Subscriptions will be raised from $3 to $4 per year for all subscribers of Kewaskum and rural routes, Campbellsport and routes, West Bend and routes, Allenton and route, Fond du Lac and routes, Random Lake and route, Plymouth and routes, and Adell and route.

In the rest of Wisconsin the rate will be $4.50 per year.

For subscription outside the state, the rate will be $5 per year. The price for newsstand papers will be increased to 10 cents per copy.

Prepayments will be accepted for a year in advance.

The last increase in subscription prices was six years ago, in 1964.

County Corporation Counsel Aldwin Seefeldt of West Bend topped a long list of award recipients last Thursday night at the West Bend Jaycees Bosses night when he was named the Outstanding Young Man of the Year in the community. Seefeldt is a native of Kewaskum and a son of Alfred H. Seefeldt, who resides just northeast of the village limits.

Seefeldt, 29, was assistant district attorney for Washington county before taking over his new post Jan. 1. He has been active in the Republican Party and on the council at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, West Bend, where he is now secretary.

Seefeldt has also served as a divisional chairman for the United Fund campaign and currently is chairman of the Programming Committee for the West Bend chapter of the Conference of Christians and Jews.

In two other award categories, Kenneth Huddleson, vocational education coordinator for the West Bend School District, was named the first Outstanding Young Educator, and Leroy Peterson, who operates a dairy farm three miles north of West Bend on Hwy. 144, was named Outstanding Young Farmer.

Runner-up for the Young Farmer Award was D. Rodenkirch, 35, who manages 865 acres of land, runs a 70-cow dairy herd and serves on the Town of Farmington Board. Runners-up for the Young Educator Award were: James Cahoon, well known coach and athlete and Sam Claas, a teacher, coach and director of a boy's choir at St. Mary's School. Runners-up for the Outstanding Young Man Award were: Ken Schmidt, funeral director at Schmidt Funeral Home, past president of the Jaycees, a district director of the Cub Scouts and a member of Moose Lodge and Knights of Columbus, and John Rozak, 28, controller of Amity Leather Products Co. who is a Jaycee and served as publicity director for the West Bend United Fund Drive last year.

$10,000 Damage to Truck in Mishap

Only minor injuries were suffered by a Waupun man but the semi-trailer he was driving received estimated $10,000 damages when the vehicle left Hwy. 41, struck a highway sign and guard rail and then went down a steep embankment last Tuesday at 11 p. m. The driver was Raymond Voelker, 38, Waupun.

Washington county officials said the mishap occurred one mile south of the junction of Hwy. 28 and 41, about seven miles west of Kewaskum when Voelker apparently fell asleep. He was taken to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, with a bruised leg and a bump on his head.

The truck, owned by Bird Trucking Co., was carrying a full load and headed north on Hwy. 41, it was reported. Damages to the top, sides and bottom of the trailer were said to be $9,000 and $1,000 to the right side and front of the tractor.

25 YEARS AGO
Friday, Feb. 2, 1945

A war department telegram brought official word to Mrs. Amanda Ruel of R. 1, Kewaskum, that her son, Pfc. Howard F. Ruel, was seriously wounded in action in France.

A U. S. Army guard and three German prisoners at the Rockfield prisoner-of-war camp were killed on Hwy. C at a Rockfield crossing by a fast passenger train. A fourth prisoner was critically injured. The driver of the army truck was Pfc. Benjamin Geier of the Bronx, New York. The prisoners killed were identified as Willy Paap, Rudolph Loehr, and Kurt Meyers and the prisoner hurt was Helmut Juergens. There are about 250 prisoners from the African and European campaigns at the Rockfield camp, including some of Hitler's crack Africa corps.

Frank Hopkins, former manager of the wild life refuge at Moon lake (now Mauthe lake) in the town of Auburn, and for the past nine years employed at the state game farm at Poynette, has accepted a position as manager of the state game farm in Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Eichstedt were advised in a war department telegram that their son, Pfc. Lester A. Eichstedt, was slightly wounded in action in Germany.

Dr. Robert Rosenheimer of the Milwaukee County hospital, accompanied by his wife, left recently for New York enroute to Carlyle, Pa., where the doctor will take his preliminary work as a first lieutenant in the army medical corps. He is the son of the L. P. Rosenheimers of this village.

A war department telegram was received advising that Pfc. Arnold H. Fellenz was slightly wounded recently in action in Germany. He is the 11th casualty from Kewaskum in the past two months.

Louis Bunkelman, an ardent fox hunter, shot two more foxes in this vicinity the past two weeks, making a total of three for the season.

Allen Tassar, 17, and David Bartelt, 18, have enlisted for service in the U. S. Navy and left for Great Lakes, Ill. to begin training. Both graduated from Kewaskum High School last spring where they were standout football and basketball players.

Service news—In a letter to his parents, Pfc. Carl Mayer of the Infantry wrote that he and a few other soldiers picked up a number of German prisoners in France on two occasions. Carl's knowledge of German aided in the capture of the Nazis just like it used to be done in the old "cops and robbers" days back home. "They were in a house and one German which we already had said there were eight more in there. We gave them five minutes to come out with their hands up. We were ready to go in with guns blazing when they came out. One non-com told me there was a machine pistol in the house and I told him it could stay there." Pfc Mayer wrote that he gets to see S/Sgt. Wally Werner quite often and we can just see these two personality "cards" on the beam with the French natives. Carl adds that the French girls are a lot prettier than the English and they placed flowers around he and Wally's necks when they passed through towns and gave them cognac and wine.

CWU Winter Tea Well Attended

REV. DAN SCHOWALTER OF KEWASKUM RENDERS SOLO

Wind, rain, and cold temperatures did not prevent a good turnout for the annual Winter Tea of the Church Women United of Washington County held last week at West Bend's Fifth Ave. United Methodist church. Members and friends of the group made the journey to the event, arriving from all county areas. Mrs. Dan Schowalter of Kewaskum, CWU president, expressed joy that many of the guests represented Christian women's groups which until now had not been affiliated with the organization.

A delightful surprise at the tea was a solo by Rev. Dan Schowalter of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum. Widely known as an eloquent young pastor, and also as the president's husband, he proved to be a singer of great ability. Another unusual event at the tea was a moving choral reading by women from West Bend's Immanuel United Church of Christ directed by Mrs. Harry Baumer. It was a serious projection of the world-wide problems of today entitled "Standing Room Only," or "Sorry the Rice is Gone." Dr. Harry Baumer of the Immanuel church delivered the offering prayer.

CWU members and guests were charmed by the talk given together by Rev. and Mrs. Bernard Kassilke of the host Methodist church. It was the story on words and colored slides of how they had lived in England under a program sponsored by the World Methodist Council. "We Exchanged and Loved It" was the theme, and so they did. They exchanged pulpits, homes and cars with an English pastor. The Kassilke's described the English people as warm and friendly. "They walk a great deal and there are very few candidates for Weight Watchers." The colored slides were glowing images of the things they had seen... English churches and cathedrals and spectacular scenery including the incredibly beautiful gardens. The Kassilke's also visited the ruins of the "bombed out" churches destroyed on World War II. Symbolizing the tragedy of war, one altar survived. Carved upon it was its telling message, "Father, forgive."

The program for the Winter Tea was arranged by Mrs. J. J. Tessar, Mrs. O. H. Gempeler and Mrs. Arthur Otto. Mrs. E. B. Eklo of the host church organized the local plans. Mrs. Charles Chapman served as organist. Ushers were: Mmes. Gordon Covill, George Clements, William Claybaugh and Harry Shabino. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist church.

All who attended the tea were urged to join the group at events scheduled by CWU: The World Day of Prayer, to be observed at various county churches on March 6, and the May 1 May Fellowship Day, both designed to unite all women in concern for problems which beset mankind.

Butch seemed to be a problem in his new school. One day the principal showed his annoyance. "Butch, this is the fifth day this week I've had to punish you. What do you have to say for yourself?" "Well", said Butch, "I'm glad it's Friday."

You may not know it, but you are often wrong.

The panel stressed the importance of planners and the local people reaching a common ground of acceptance. Land use planning must be practical. with a talk entitled "The Sound of Music."

The speeches exposed the shocking fact that at the present rate of air and water pollution, our population will be extinct in fifteen years. When a city of 10,000 people produces enough garbage in one year to cover one acre of land, 7 feet deep and 15 million fish are found dead in streams from detergents and soil sediment, it becomes everyone's responsibility.

Mrs. Ruth Kearns of Walworth county gave a talk entitled "Murderers All," in which she stressed that everyone has the responsibility to be stewards of our natural resources which are given to all of us.

us by God. She also said that pollution is a sin and conservation is a moral act.

A stranger in the West asked a native, "Is this a healthy place?" The Westerner replied, "It sure is. Why, when I came here I was bald, couldn't walk and had to be lifted from my bed."

"Wonderful!" said the visitor. "How long have you been here?" "Oh," was the reply, "I was born here!"

Client: "Has this dog a good pedigree?"

Salesman: "If he could talk he would not speak to either of us."

Minus Eichstedt, Indians Handed 1st Loss by Owls

STAR'S LOSS FELT AS LONG WINNING STREAK IS BROKEN

Kewaskum's bubble bursted at Slinger Friday night and their hopes for an undefeated season were shattered when the second place Owls handed the leading Indians their first loss of the season after nine straight victories in the Scenic Moraine conference and 12 in a row overall. The final score was 64-51.

The main reason for the setback was the fact that Kewaskum played without the services of their leading scorer and rebounder, Clark Eichstedt, who broke his wrist in practice last Wednesday and will probably miss the remainder of the season. The 6-foot 2 1/2 junior was the leading scorer in four of the Indians' last five games with 99 points in those five encounters. Eichstedt is also the sparkplug of the team and his loss was keenly felt and is a great blow to the team. It took the strong second place Slinger team, the defending champions, to turn the trick but all is not lost as the Indians still have a two-game lead in the conference with four left to play. Eichstedt's loss is also a severe jolt to the Indians' tournament hopes.

Kewaskum appeared "down in the mouth" the minute they walked out on the court and it was obvious to the fans, especially the many from Kewaskum at the game, that they would lose. Coach Walt Bade commented, "He's our everything. The kids seemed to be in a state of shock and couldn't adjust to his absence." For those fans who paid to see a cliff-hanger of a game, it was a disappointment to watch Eichstedt walk out onto the floor with the team in street clothes with his arm in a plaster cast. Without him, the team was listless, and did not appear like the same smooth, sharpshooting outfit that had run up a 12-game win string.

The contest was close until late in the third quarter. Some fans believed the turning point was an unfounded charging call near the end of the first quarter by the officials, whose decisions seemed to be favoring the Owls throughout the game, or perhaps Larry Gundrum's long, half-the-court desperation basket to end the half and give Slinger a 3-point lead. But we believe the big turning point came two days before the game when Eichstedt suffered his injury.

Slinger always plays very aggressive and pressing ball and swarms all over you. This press again gave the Indians no end of trouble. For some unaccounted reason Kewaskum doesn't seem to be able to adjust to or solve this type of defense like a team with title aspirations should. As a result the Owls stole the ball quite frequently. The Indians must also make up their minds to win without Eichstedt.

Slinger coach Doug Potter said, "Kewaskum played well for missing its top player. The Indians' aspirations were certainly jolted and the rest of the team seemed shocked by Clark's absence. We handled their zone pretty well, got rebounds and a lot of ball hawking and extra effort." Slinger played man to man in the first three quarters and then switched to a zone. Potter added that the Owls often overplay the ball on defense and that this contributes to a very aggressive and physical team. "This is the most hustling team I ever coached. We shot just 36 per cent to Kewaskum's 46 but got quite a few more shots." Slinger also had the edge from the free throw line, 22 to 13.

Four Slinger players ended up in double scoring figures, Ted Sprinkman, whom the Indians failed to stop, with 20 points, Larry Gundrum 15, Mike Tracy 13 and Roger Schaefer 12. For Kewaskum five players scored between 8 and 10 points, Dick Bartelt, Tony Butschlick and Jim Tassar with 10. Steve Stern 9 and Randy Koth 8. The Indians trailed at the quarter by one point, 11-10, 29-26 at halftime and 47-39 at the third period's end.

Tonight (Friday) Kewaskum hosts Campbellsport, in sixth place with a 3-7 record. The Indians should be favored to win but without Eichstedt anything could happen.

Rifle Team Shoots In International Postal Match

MEMBERS COMPETE IN LEAGUE ONCE A MONTH

The Kewaskum rifle team shot in an international postal match Jan. 27. These scores are sent in and compared with all other teams in the nation and are scored by NRA officials.

The team members are shooting in league and compete once a month with the following teams: Waukesha, Brookfield, Mile Valley, South West Y., Gross Yaksh, South East Y., and Irving Scher.

They are also working on qualification awards in an NRA program. These qualifications awards began with promarksmen, marksman, marksman 1st class, and sharpshooter. The sharpshooter encompasses nine different sets of qualifications, then comes expert and the top is distinguished Rifleman.

At the present time the team members have completed these awards: Tom Dei, Marksman; Pat Perkins, Promarksmen; Art Buss, Sharpshooter; Richard Landoseky, Sharpshooter; John Backhaus, Marksman 1st class; Jim Dei, Promarksmen. Other members who have begun promarksmen are Mark Oppermann, Dave Schacht, and Gordon Darmody.

Help is needed with the program. Any adult interested in this program is urged to contact the coach, Warren Stenberg. Boys and girls wishing to try out may do so by contacting the coach.

AIW to Sponsor Scholarship Dance

LOCAL GRADUATES RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS FROM FUND

Allied Industrial Workers of Washington County are again conducting their Third Annual Scholarship Dance at the West Park Ballroom on Feb. 7, to raise funds for the Francis Jeffords Memorial Scholarship Fund, in memory of the AIW Region No. 9 representative, Francis Jeffords, for his dedication to the working people and the community.

The success of the scholarship drive of 1968 and 1969 prompted Sub-Council No. 3, A.I.W. affiliated with A.F.L. - C.I.O. to continue with this successful program to give financial aide to graduating seniors who are pursuing technical training. The cost of education increases every year. Yet to become educated in the 20th century is still one of life's great treasures. It is hoped you will support the fund again, so we might help provide a portion of the money these deserving young people must have in order to complete their training.

The following graduates were awarded scholarships from this fund for 1969-70 semesters in the colleges of their choice:

Linda Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Krueger, West Bend; Kathy Schwinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwinn, West Bend; Avis Tillou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tillou, West Bend; Dale Kempf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kempf, Kewaskum; Larry Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Schultz, Kewaskum; Dale Marx, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Marx, Neosho; Leonard Genser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Genser, Hartford, and Lucy Ritger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rittger, West Bend.

Officers of Sub-Council No. 3 are: Henry Schacht, president; Jerry Backhaus, vice-president; Charles Griffin, secretary-treasurer; Robert L. Schultz, sergeant-at-arms. A community service project of Sub-Council No. 3.
