High School Principal Edward Connors Resigns After Student Protest "Sit-In"

Unauthorized School Paper Ridicule Factor in Decision

TWO MALE STUDENTS ARE SUSPENDED, ONE APOLOGIZES

By Ruth Heid
of the Kewaskum Statesman

Edward E. Connors, principal of Kewaskum Community High School, submitted his resignation to the board of education Wednesday morning, effective immediately.

Connors announced his resignation at a conference he called at 9 a. m. and said he would submit his resignation immediately following. During the 1½ hour conference, he poured out problems that exist in the school that led to his decision.

"This is not a spur of the moment thing. It just came sooner than I had expected," he explained. In his letter of resignation he noted that he interviewed for the job in the spring of 1969. "At that time, I was informed of several problems that existed in the high school and was given an opportunity to decide if I was still interested." He said at that time the board probed his philosophy.

The letter went on, "Thus when I accepted the position of high school principal, I knew the path would not be easy. The staff was not accustomed to such routine

OPEN MEETING HELD

An open meeting was scheduled for Thursday evening at the high school multi-purpose room to discuss the resignation of Principal Edward Connors. It was for anyone in the district who wanted to come.

administrative procedures as faculty meetings, classroom supervision, justification of budget requests, to name a few, and they resisted such procedures."

Connors noted that these are standing procedures, the responsibility of every principal but until he came to Kewaskum High, there was just one faculty meeting a year at the beginning of the school year.

The letter continued, "Furthermore, change was often viewed as an indication that I thought Kewaskum High School was inferior to other schools. Any criticism or denial of personal requests by myself was not considered justifiable. One faculty faction insisted on authoritarian interaction with the students and considered student involvement as 'letting the kids run the school.' Another faction felt there were too many rules and not nearly enough student involvement. Certain staff members felt a sort of obligation to let the students know of their own discontent with the principal. During this period the school board expressed confidence in my administrative ability."

Connors described student problems over the past months and his suspension Friday of two male students for printing a school paper in which they ridiculed other students, Connors' family and himself. The unauthorized paper is called "The HEAD Lines."

In addition, the boys had sold 264 "Ed the Head" cards bearing Connors' picture, a number of derogatory crossword puzzles, and had plans to order correlated bumper stickers. He said the "Ed the Head" cards were sold at 25 cents apiece. The boys paid $18.70 to have them printed. He said they were printed by the West Bend News Print Shop which he thought was "poor ethics."

Protesting the boys' suspension, about 150 high school students staged a "sit-in" Monday, during which they refused to go to class and went instead into the gym. On Tuesday, about 95 to 100 students staged another "sit-in."

At Monday's "sit-in," Connors said he read to the students the school policy noting the consequences when a pupil disrupts the educational process or school decorum or attempts to incite others to do so. "I told the students that those who were there for curiosity should leave and some filed out."

He also noted he talked with 3 students, selected by the students themselves, for 2¼ hours. "They chose not to believe the comments I made." During Tuesday's "sit-in" Connors said he went into the gym where a microphone had been set up and said he would answer any questions under the condition that they be asked one at a time and that the students remain quiet.

At this point, Connors took issue with the West Bend News for an article it ran in Tuesday's paper which stated "approximately 175 students sat in" and "today he (Connors) stayed out of the gym, watching from the hall." He said those statements are "totally false," reiterating that only 95 to 100 students were involved and he did go into the gym to talk to them. He said the students asked him why the boys were suspended, "and I gave them four reasons" but Connors said the students felt he hadn't given the answers. At that point the public address system failed and he walked out of the gym.

He said he held a faculty meeting Tuesday after school and attendance was voluntary. It was then that a teacher said, "I think the problem here is you, Mr. Connors," and a second comment of "Either directly or indirectly we as staff members have expressed to the students our dislike for you."

"If they feel the problem is me, then I'll be the whipping post," said Connors, who feels he has not been unjust with faculty or students. "I have always had a feeling of what is correct and what is incorrect — and one can't compromise on one's own feelings."

Connors said he wants to go on record that "we have some excellent teachers, some of the finest I have seen but I think we have some of the others, also." He said on Sept. 25, 1969, less than three months after coming here, it came to his attention that one of the staff had outlined steps for two students for using a "sit-in" to bring about a change. Confronted by Connors about it the next day, the teacher admitted it. Connors said he wishes he could make public from his files some of the activities of some of the teachers.

He said he will "probably be criticized" for making the problem facts public "but I feel the public should know. Why keep on painting the fence?" He said when he came here he found several on the staff who did not have a state license to teach. He noted that his comments about teachers were always written and signed allowing the teachers to see them but the teachers could make unsigned comments about Connors.

He said the first two issues of the unauthorized school paper were done at school "but some consideration is being given to the possibility that a staff member may have participated in some way in the third edition." Connors said, "I have no quarrel with the school board" and he said the amount of discipline with students here in a year's time amounts to what he had in a month in the

Regal Appeals to Assemblyman Schroeder To Support Twin-Trailer Legislation

The traffic manager of Regal Ware, Inc., has appealed to State Assemblyman Frederick C. Schroeder to support twin-trailer legislation now pending in Madison.

In a letter to Schroeder, George E. Koerble pointed out that Wisconsin is one of the few remaining states that do not allow the use of twin trailers.

"The arguments against their use are old-fashioned, outmoded and out of date," he said, "and should not be used in such a progressive state as Wisconsin."

Koerble told the assemblyman that it has been proved that twin trailers "are safer, easier to handle, move more merchandise faster and cheaper, and are more maneuverable in heavy traffic than any other combination."

He discounted arguments used by some critics of the proposal. "The idea that these vehicles will be difficult to pass is preposterous," he said, "as tests have proven. It only takes two-thirds of a second longer at a speed differential of 10 miles an hour" to pass them.

He urged the assemblyman to support Assembly Joint Resolution 80 which directs the Highway Commission to issue permits under existing authority to allow operation of twin-trailer combinations over four-lane, divided highways for a test period of two years.

Koerble told the assemblyman: "Having driven on divided highways and also on 'T' roads many times, I have had no driving problems in states where twin trailers are permitted."

He urged Assemblyman Schroeder to "keep Wisconsin moving forward by voting in favor of twin trailers."

Members of the Board of Education voted unanimously Monday night to adopt split shifting for Grades 7-12, starting with the 1972-73 school year. They also unanimously approved a one-story addition to the high school and the borrowing of $150,000 to finance it.

Split shifting is seen by the board as the only way to go after three defeated attempts to pass a referendum for building expansion. Grades 10-12 will attend from 7:30 a. m. until about 12:30 and Grades 7-9 from about 10:30 a. m. until about 3:45 p. m.

The proposed building, of open concept design, is needed during the overlap period when all students are in attendance.

One of some 20 electors present asked why the board had not chosen to go to a completely separated split shift in which high school would run from 7 a. m. until noon and junior high from noon until 5 p. m.

Brenholt replied that he feels running split shift on an overlap schedule is "definitely superior" to a separated schedule. "I have no statistics to prove it is definitely superior, but we did visit Winneconne where they are running a separated schedule, and they expressed a deep discontent running until 5 p. m.," he said.

The hour from 4 to 5 p. m. is wasted because the student is too tired at that hour, Brenholt noted, and this prompted the recommendation of the overlap schedule. He said he also feels it is less disruptive to family life.

A cost estimate of $154,407 for the proposed addition, without basement was given to the board by architects Jack Fieweger and Ray Juerrison of Schutte-Mochon at the Jan. 3 meeting. At that time, the board raised the question of whether it should have a basement and the architects were instructed to come back with a cost estimate with a basement.

Figures presented Monday night showed an unfinished basement would raise the cost to some $260,000. He noted the basement area, if finished off, would yield space for 10 more classrooms or it could serve as a physical education station now.

But in making a motion for a single story building, board member Gerald Secor said, "While I find the idea of a basement very attractive, I feel we should go for the most economical plan to make split shift work."

Noting that the addition was a part of the original master plan for expansion, Brenholt said, "it won't go to waste." If, in the future split shift is discontinued, it will be converted into shop, home economics or art rooms.

Board member Allen Tessar said he feels the matter of the addition should be brought before the electors in the form of a referendum. "I still think this should be the people's choice rather than board action or they'll think they are being forced into something again."

Asked what are his plans, he said he would like to get back into teaching or maybe an assistant's position. All the problems have not been easy for his family, Connors said. His two sons, one in junior high and one in elementary, have taken harrassment. "I like a challenge but there are times when you feel beat and that's the way I feel now."

ter, without salutation, that reads, "When two people of opposite personalities meet, differences of opinion are likely to arise. This is what happened when I met Mr. Connors. However, just because we have different views does not mean we cannot get along and we probably would have had it not been for me. For while Mr. Connors left me quite alone, I constantly harrassed him. And I sincerely believe that no matter what Mr. Connors might have tried to ease the tension between us, it would have been to no avail. For no matter how far Mr. Connors would have let me go, I'm sure I would have tried to go a step further. For this I can only blame myself."

"I wish to apologize to Mr. Connors, for what I have said and done, to Mr. Williams for missing the game, and to anyone else I have offended in any way. I hope that the publication of the paper stops, and that anyone still having a card will destroy it. I also wish to apologize to anyone who may get in trouble because of what I have done." It was signed "Regretfully" by the student.

out that a petition for a referendum may be submitted by electors within 15 days after publication of the resolution to borrow. A total of 500 signatures or 20 percent of the vote of the last gubernatorial election are needed.

The board approved borrowing $150,000 in the form of 10 promissory notes at 4 1/2 per cent interest from the Bank of Kewaskum. It is possible not all of it will be used. Presently there is $21,000 in a building fund left over from a previous project. Fleweger noted that toilet rooms would be needed in the proposed building because of its proximity to the high school building. That will cut about $6,000 from the estimate. And using the $21,000 would bring the estimate down to about $137,000. It was the consensus that $150,000 should be borrowed in view of the fact that the loan carries with it prepayment privileges, without penalties.

At the request of Timothy Leader, principal of Wayne Elementary School, the board approved the Individually Guided Education plan, known as IGE, for his school. It is geared to each child's rate and style of learning, based on his proficiencies and deficiencies. He noted that in one grade there may be 10 reading levels. "We owe it to our kids to give them this individualized type of learning," said Leader.

A Wayne elector asked, "what will happen at Wayne" in view of overcrowding. The gym has already been converted into two classrooms and it is possible that St. Kilian's Catholic School will close. If it does, Wayne will get about 25 of those pupils.

Leader said he has been giving it some thought and he has come up with an idea that existing space can better utilized if some walls are removed in a simple remodeling project. His ideas will be pursued by the board as they progress with plans for IGE which will begin at the start of the 1972-73 school year.

The school year recently presented by bus drivers of discipline problems that arise when children must wait too long in their buses, loading at the high school, for the bus to return with about 20 pupils from West Bend, was discussed again.

The driver of the West Bend bus said there is no way she can be on time due to her many stops, speed limits, traffic and other problems. She said she calls in when she knows she will be more than 5 or 10 minutes late. It is when students that have discipline problems arise.

Other drivers present said there was no problem when there was teacher supervision. The subject of again providing supervision is to be put on the agenda for the next meeting.

The board voted to allow Brian Ludwig, a senior, to complete his senior year at Kewaskum, even though he has moved to West Bend.

Director of Kiddie Kollege Speaks to Jr. Woman's Club

CLUB PLANS PUPPET SHOW, PROJECT CONCERN BOOTH

Mrs. Hugh Mason, director of Little Laurie's Kiddie Kollege in West Bend, was the guest speaker at the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club's Jan. 13 meeting, held at 8 p. m. in the Kewaskum Public Library.

Stressed were the fundamentals and goals of nursery school; also what to look for in choosing a good and reliable nursery school.

Little Laurie's curriculum is centered around the intellectual, social and physical growth of its children. They meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings from 9 until 11:15 a. m. at Immanuel Church of Christ. It is a state licensed school, inspected yearly and must meet all state requirements, including a trained staff.

Mrs. Mason emphasized the importance of parents and other family members being enthusiastic about the accomplishments of the nursery school child, and sharing their experiences.

Two objections most often raised against nursery schools are: Can't mothers accomplish the same thing at home? and won't the children be bored when they reach kindergarten and elementary school? In answer to the first question, most mothers do not take the time to do all the things learned at a nursery school with their children. Six hours of undivided time per week would be required to teach a child the same thing.

As for the second question, preschoolers are at the "turned-on" age. They want to learn, learn, learn and will not stop learning when they reach school. They will instead broaden their views of what they have already learned and will move forward.

Anyone interested is invited to come and spend a morning at the school and meet with the staff.

Following the program, the business meeting was called to order by Mrs. Marvin Perkins, president.

A thank you was received from Mr. B. C. Ziegler regarding the club's donation to the St. Joseph's Hospital Building Fund. Also the Smokey the Bear Contest winners have been awarded their prizes, and a thank you was received from one of the winners, John Dettmann.

The club will be sponsoring a Puppet Show, featuring a marionette presentation of Hansel & Gretel and the Frog Prince on Saturday, April 8 at the Kewaskum High School gymnasium. An audience of 350 will be the maximum allowed to view the show, as a larger audience would not be able to see the show properly. Tickets will be 75c in advance and $1.00 at the door for children, as well as adults. It will be presented by Peco Puppets of Chicago, and the club believes the whole family will be fascinated by this new experience in the Kewaskum area. A notice will be given when ticket sales begin.

Club members also conducted vision screening at Kewaskum High School on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 17 and 18.

At the Jan. 28 Kewaskum High School basketball game (Kewaskum vs. Mayville) a "Measure Up for Project Concern" booth will be conducted. A large ruler will be on hand to measure those attending the game, and a penny an inch will be donated to Project Concern. Two prizes will be given away in the drawing, and certificates will be given for the tallest and shortest persons measured.

Mrs. Patrick Perkins was the guest for the evening. Hostesses included: Mrs. Charleen Dreher, Mrs. Michael Pfeiffer, Mrs. David Nigh and Mrs. Harvey Ramthun.

Maurice Hovland, Washington County Agent, will be the guest speaker at the Feb. 10 meeting, speaking on the Kettle Moraine.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HOLD FOUNDER'S DAY BANQUET

Arrangements are being completed by the Kewaskum Woman's Club for their annual Founder's Day Banquet. A dinner will be served to the members and their husbands on Jan. 29 at the Wigwam. The dinner will be served at 7:30, with a cocktail hour preceding it. All reservations must be made by Jan. 22, by calling Mrs. Schwind (626-2438) or Mrs. Stoffel (626-2337).

Mr. Kleek, instructor in cultural geography at the University of Wisconsin campus, West Bend, will be the speaker, and his topic will relate to the Woman's Club theme of ecology and environment.

"Tell me—who is the real boss in your home?"

"Well my wife bosses the servants—and the children boss the dog and cat—and—"

"And you?"

"Well, I can say anything I like to the geraniums."

Miss Vogt is a 1970 graduate of Kewaskum High School and is presently employed in the business office at St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend. Mr. Westphal is a 1970 graduate of West Bend High School and a 1971 graduate of the Moraine Park Technical Institute. He has just recently completed military command training at Great Lakes, Ill., and is presently stationed at the U. S. naval base in Norfolk, Virginia.

The couple has no immediate wedding plans.

Proposed Washington County Drug Information Center

Largely because of the concern, interest and efforts of a group of our young citizens, a Drug Information Center in Washington County is stepping closer to reality. After holding an Arts & Crafts show in December to raise some initial expense funds, this group has gone on to secure housing for the center, and have now completed arrangements for a meeting, open to the public, to introduce the center, its aims, its purposes and its functions to the community it expects to serve. They are currently involved in making the arrangements for a course in drug education and counseling to train the people who will be manning the center, and have begun the legal machinery involved in becoming, officially, the Washington County Drug Information Center, Inc.

Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend the open meeting Wednesday, Jan. 26, 7:30 p. m., at Silverbrook School, 120 N. Silverbrook Drive, West Bend, in the Anti Room, Section B.

Kiwanis Turkey Shoot Benefits Hospital Drive

The hundreds of area residents who attend the annual Turkey Shoot sponsored by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club are attracted primarily by the sport. But Kewaskum's Kiwanians have a much more serious purpose for holding the shoot. The money they raise is used to help a variety of community service projects.

As a result of last year's shoot, the St. Joseph's Community Hospital Expansion and Development Campaign is now $2,500 closer to its goal.

"All of us who have been working on the hospital drive deeply appreciate this very generous donation on the part of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club," drive Chairman B. C. Ziegler said. "There are many worthwhile causes that the proceeds of their 1971 shoot could have been used for and that makes us doubly thankful that they looked upon the hospital drive as the most deserving."

Press Group Pays Tribute to Huber

The Wisconsin Press Association, of which the Kewaskum Statesman is a member, will make a donation to its Scholarship Fund in the name of the late Mark Huber, general manager of The West Bend News.

Paul J. Creviere, publisher of the De Pere Journal and President of the Wisconsin Press Association, also announced that Mr. Huber's name will be placed on the Pylon erected some years ago by association members for the express purpose of paying tribute to its honored members. The Pylon is situated in the Wisconsin Press Association Demonstration Forest near Eagle River, Wis.

The Wisconsin Press Association Scholarship Fund is in its 17th year and provides an annual $200 cash award to a student studying community journalism at the University of Wisconsin - Madison.

Mark Huber, 45, died last week Monday at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, after he suffered a cerebral stroke Friday evening.

Appearing in the play with Hilsman are Richard Smith as Walter Hollander, Carolyn Lewis as Marion Hollander, his wife, and Betty Batz as their daughter Susan. Tom Vogelsang portrays Axel Magee, the ambassador's son, whose antics in helping the Hollanders escape are very exciting and entertaining.

NOTICE

A while ago Mr. Arthur B. (Burt) Brainerd visited Puppyland, Inc. He is a director for a 2,000 member organization, also he is from Florida. He said he liked Puppyland very much and how they operate without any taxpayers money. He said, "I wish we had some people like that in Florida, that would take care of animals like Puppyland." We told him we alone couldn't do it either, if it wasn't for the lovely people that donate when they bring their unwanted animals, also from boarding dogs and the sales of animals. After a brief stay he gave a generous amount donation and said, "Keep the good work going at Puppyland."

At our last meeting we made plans and crafts for the annual Folk Fair to be held in February in West Bend. We also made plans for our swimming party held Jan. 16. We will be working on the swimming badges.

In December we donated $30.00 to St. Joseph's Community Hospital Building Fund from money raised at our bake sale. We had a Christmas party with games, songs, food and winners of the cookie decorating contest were announced.

They were all very well done. In December we also went carolling at the Samaritan home in West Bend. They seemed to enjoy our efforts.

We will be accepting new members before Feb. 1 at which time our charter will be renewed. We meet every Thursday at 6:00 to 7:30 p. m. at the Peace Church.

At our next meeting (Jan. 20) we were going ice skating.

Hartland Upsets Indians, 74-72

The Kewaskum Indians hit another low at Hartland Friday night when they were edged by cellar dwelling Arrowhead (1-5) in a close 74-72 upset. The setback didn't change the Indians' third place position but dropped them 2 full games behind the leaders.

The biggest upset though in Friday's action was Grafton handing previously unbeaten Mayville its first defeat of the campaign by a decisive 68-50 margin. The loss dropped the Cardinals into a first place tie with Germantown again. In making comparisons, Kewaskum beat Grafton by 10 points the week before. Then Grafton laced Mayville by 18 points, making Kewaskum 28 points better than Mayville. Still Kewaskum lost badly to Mayville in their first meeting by 27 points, 74-47, making them 27 points worse than Mayville. Figure it out. The teams are pretty evenly matched this year.

The Indians hit Hartland on a hot night for the Warhawks while Kewaskum was more like the sub-zero weather outside. Kewaskum possessed a slim 17-16 lead at the quarter but fell behind, in the second period to trail at halftime, 39-36. The Indians cut the lead to one point, 57-56, in the third stanza and finally went ahead again with 8 minutes left in the game on a shot by Craig Carr.

Kewaskum held onto the lead until the last 70 seconds. They were ahead 71-68 when a technical foul was called on them for protesting a double dribble call. The free throw was made and Audley's bucket then tied the score. Going for the winning basket, Kewaskum had the ball stolen and Gutschentringer sank an easy layup to put the Warhawks ahead, 73-71. A technical foul was called when Hartland players on the bench got over-enthusiastic and stepped onto the floor. Mike Misko sank the free throw to cut the lead to one point. The Indians had the ball with 8 seconds left but a bad pass drew Kewaskum out of bounds. Glen Eichstedt's intentional foul gave the Warhawks a point but the Indians got the ball and a last second pass was intercepted.

Jim Gaffke paced the losers with 17 points, followed by Tom Theusch with 15, Misko and Carr with 13. Hartland's Jorgensen was top scorer with 25.

Kewaskum's JV's were defeated by Hartland, 65-34, but the local freshmen won 52-42, to bring their record to 4-2. Scott Koth scored 14 points and big Mike Koepke 10.

The varsity has two games this weekend on successive nights, playing at Slinger tonight and hosting Kettle Moraine Saturday night.

Kewaskum's representative in the Land o' Lakes League suffered its 5th consecutive bombing here Sunday when Grafton unloaded to the tune of 141-82. The team is still looking for its first win.

In other weekend games co-leader Menomonee Falls thumped West Bend 116-84, Germantown kept pace by winning its 4th straight over Port Washington, 110-80, Slinger (4-1) downed Horicon, 109-97, and Hartford beat Mayville, 102-78.

This Saturday Kewaskum travels to Horicon, where the going should be easier.
