Board Members' Pay Raised

$3½ Million Budget Approved at Annual School Board Meeting

By TAMI EDGAR
Statesman Staff Writer

A $3,447,108.00 budget was approved with approximately 35 electors in attendance at the Annual School Board Meeting on Monday, July 24.

Dr. Ogi was elected temporary chairman for the budget hearing. Mr. Brenholt then gave an explanation of the proposed budget covering the changes in the various categories for the 1978-79 school year.

Considerable increases in administration were due to the addition of a reading specialist, business education teacher, an art intern and a kindergarten teacher to the teaching staff. The salaries for these positions were included in this category.

Another large expense change was made in the column of sites. A jump from $8,317.62 to $25,725.00 was made but this expenditure included funds for the resurfacing of the high school track. Recommendations were to get started on the track this fall.

There was a surplus from food services so they saw no need to increase the current ticket prices.

At 8:40 p.m. the budget was presented to the people at the annual meeting. Dr. Ogi, presiding as temporary chairman, read the resolutions. All resolutions were approved with a raise for school board members from $500 to $700.

A question raised from the floor was to publish the tax rate along with the mill rate but at this point the rates haven't been established. It was recommended that when the rates have been set it will be printed in the Newsletter.

An answer to a comment was that all views are presented in the sex education courses taught in the high school without being forced upon the students.

The meeting adjourned at 9:10 p.m.

Regal Launches Biggest Consumer Advertising Campaign in Company History

Regal Ware, Inc. has announced fall advertising plans which are the most ambitious ever for the privately held manufacturer of cookware and small electrics. This powerful national retailer-participation television program is scheduled to reach 34 million American homes in the top markets during selected prime time, day time and fringe time programming.

Called the "Big Event" their expanded television advertising will feature The Griller, an indoor electric grill and the Startler, a portable burglar alarm. Also included will be the Coffee Miser, America's original small drip coffee maker, which was also advertised on national television during the fall of 1977. Regal's "Big Event" program will also allow the individual retailers to participate directly by earning a specific number of six-second tags based on their purchases.

Regal products and the store name will be featured on such top-rated shows as: Dinah, Quincy, Early News, Late News Today Show, Lou Grant, Emergency, Adam 12, Donny and Marie, CBS Late Movie, Merv Griffin, Tonight Show, Mike Douglas, Phil Donahue, Family Feud, Sports, Good Morning America, Eight is Enough, Charlie's Angels, Wide World of Entertainment, Carol Burnett and Friends, Mary Tyler Moore, Rockford Files, Saturday Nite Live, and many more.

In addition, print advertising will back Regal's television program in top consumer publications nationwide. Regal Cast Aluminum cookware with Silverstone will appear in Woman's Day, Ladies Home Journal, McCall's, Family Circle, Better Homes and Gardens, Modern Bride, Good Housekeeping and Reader's Digest — a combined circulation of nearly 70 million homes.

Gary Fickler Dies Of Crash Injuries

Gary Fickler, 22, of 524 Habeck Street, Kewaskum, died Monday evening, July 24, from massive head injuries he received in a one-car accident early Monday morning.

According to the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's office, the accident occurred at 3:20 a.m. Monday as Fickler was northbound on County Trunk V in the Town of Fond du Lac, Fond du Lac county, about a mile south of Reinhardt Road. Fickler's car reportedly went out of control, crossed the road, hit a culvert and slipped on its top.

Fickler was alone in the car. He was taken to St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac and then was transferred to County General Hospital in Milwaukee where he died at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Fond du Lac County Coroner Frank Decker said Fickler died of severe head injuries.

He was Fond du Lac County's fourth traffic fatality of the year, compared with five on this date a year ago.

Gary Lee Fickler was born February 15, 1956, at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, to Edwin and Sylvia Bruesewitz Fickler.

Gary was a graduate of Kewaskum High School, Class of 1974. He was in the air force active reserve for six months. For the past two years he was a student at M.P.T.I. in Fond du Lac and was an employee at the Sports Shop in that city. He was a member of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum and of the Sunburst Ski Patrol.

Survivors include his parents; two sisters, Nancy (Lawrence) Wickert of West Bend and Colleen (Steve) Bradford of Boling Brook, Illinois; other relatives and friends. His brother, Capt. E. James Fickler, preceded him in death while serving in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Visitation at Miller's Funeral Home was Wednesday after 4 p.m. and on Thursday at Peace United Church of Christ from 12 noon to the time of services at 2 p.m. Pastor Darrell Joiner officiated and burial was in the Peace Church Cemetery. Memorials would be appreciated.

Most of us don't drink enough water. Everyone "needs at least two quarts of water a day, more on warmer days, to function normally", says Dr. Chas. Glen King, Associate Director, Columbia University Institute of Nutritional Sciences. "Less water than that may cause dehydration, resulting in fatigue, headaches, sullenness, and in extreme cases, collapse."

Attends National Guard Orientation

Recruits from the Wisconsin Army National Guard met at Camp Williams in Camp Douglas, Wisconsin, over the weekend for a basic training orientation, the only co-educational program of its kind in the state. A Kewaskum resident attending the school was Robin J. Acker, Co. B, 132nd Spt. Bn.

The orientation is designed to prepare recruits to accept their training both physically and mentally. The program of instruction includes demonstrations on military customs and courtesy, correct wearing of the uniform, map reading, familiarization with the M-16 rifle, introduction to a protective mask, marching, bedmaking and boot polishing. Most phases of the orientation were designed for co-educational instruction with only special question and answer sessions held separately.

This, the fourth co-educational basic training orientation weekend, follows on highly successful separately conducted male and female orientation sessions.

Boltonville Couple Celebrates 50th Anniversary

GOLDEN WEDDING — Ewald and Marcella Zettler celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on June 25. They were married on June 25, 1928 at Holy Trinity Catholic Church at Kewaskum. The day began with a Mass at St. Michael's Catholic Church, followed by dinner and an Open House at the Knights of Columbus Hall at West Bend. They are the parents of five children, Kenneth (Alice) Zettler, Roger (Rosemary) Zettler, Ronald (Lucille) Zettler, Arlene (John) Beisbier, and Alvin (Diane) Zettler. They also have 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Service Offered to Help Handicapped

What if a friend told you that they were denied the right to live in an apartment without being told why?

Or that they weren't allowed into a public park because of a broken leg?

Unbelievable? It happens.

And to people who have no way to fight back and let people know what they think and want.

One of these people is Mary W. who lives and works in our community. After a long search, Mary got a small one-bedroom apartment which is lightly furnished. Every month she tries to stretch her pay to cover all her bills. In her free time she thinks a lot.

She thinks about the nicer apartments she almost had when they were denied her with no reason. Or the many times she has had a question about her bills and she couldn't find anyone who would just listen for awhile.

Mary has been denied the right to live like you and I do. She is an equal member of our community but has not been given equal opportunities and rights.

Because Mary happens to be mentally retarded, many things are denied her.

The Citizen Advocacy Program of Washington County hopes to be able to answer to the needs of more than 300 people like Mary in Washington County.

Some of these people happen to be mentally retarded. Some have epilepsy and others have cerebral palsy. They are all termed "developmentally disabled." They are all people with needs like you and I.

What is a Citizen Advocate?

It is a volunteer who shows a desire to help one other person in the community and represent that person's interests as his own.

How does someone become a citizen advocate?

If you wanted to become a citizen advocate, you would get an opportunity to find out more about the program, fill out an application and be interviewed. You would then participate in training sessions for your role as an advocate, after which you would be matched with one other developmentally disabled person who has similar interests and desires as you.

What happens in that relationship?

You and your "protege" get to know each other and develop a friendship. You do things that friends do.

You give each other support and companionship when you need it.

You share different skills and talents and learn from each other while you go to movies, picnics or for walks.

You would be involved in making sure that your protege's rights and interests are being considered in home, work or school situations.

The Citizen Advocacy Office is staffed by a coordinator and a secretary who are there to be a resource for the advocates. They also provide back-up and information for any questions that may come up in the advocacy relationship.

Follow-up is provided to make sure that the advocate-protege relationship is going well. Inservices are held for advocates and proteges to talk about common questions and learn about helpful topics.

The program is now actively looking for both advocates and proteges from throughout

Washington County.

If you are interested in being an advocate for someone who wants an equal chance, know of someone who needs an advocate, or would like more information about the Citizen Advocacy Program, you can contact the Coordinator, Sue Moser, at 334-3384 (call collect outside of West Bend); or write the Citizen Advocacy Program of Washington County, P.O. Box 676, West Bend, WI 53095.

Mary can probably get a better apartment and learn how to budget. She could also have a friend who cares about her as a person. If an advocate was matched with Mary all of these things and more might be possible.

There are many people like Mary in Washington County waiting for an advocate.

It's up to all of us to start making that difference in people's lives.

The call of the South American bullbird sounds like a cow's moo.

Tornado Alert

The fire siren will be sounded on Thursday, Aug. 3 at 10 a.m. to acquaint residents with the tornado or other disaster signal. It will be sounded at a steady pitch for three to five minutes.

In the event of a tornado or other impending disaster, take precautionary measures.

Kewaskum does not sound an all-clear siren. Please listen to your weather radio station for any information.

The alerts will be held on the first Thursday of each month during the tornado season.

To the Editor:

I am writing to express concern over an aspect of government which has received insufficient public attention — the spiraling growth in the number of state employees. Your readers should be aware of the drain that the budget imposes on the state treasury and, in turn, on state taxpayers.

During his first year in office, Acting Governor Schreiber managed to beat the Lucey record for government expansion — no small feat when you consider that under Lucey state employees increased by 20.5%, from 42,661 to 51,425. Schreiber added almost 2,000 workers in his first nine months in office. That is one new worker every 45 minutes.

What does this cost taxpayers? The average state worker earns $6.82 per hour, or $14,562 annually. Add to this fringe benefits of $3,100 per year, and we have an annual state payroll of over $900 million.

If we want to reduce state spending and cut taxes, then we cannot tolerate further additions to an already bloated bureaucracy. Perhaps as the undertones of taxpayer rebellion grow louder, the Schreiber Administration will be forced to start cutting our state payroll of over 53,000. I urge your readers to join me in demanding that elected representatives and the governor put a halt to the growth of state government.

Sincerely,
THOMAS E. PETRI

Public Service Commission Makes Utility Rate Reforms Permanent

MADISON, WI--Additional price reforms for the Wisconsin Electric Power Company were approved Thursday (7-20-78) by a Public Service Commission order that also gave approval to other reforms authorized on an interim basis in January.

The final order, more than two years in the making, reaffirms the commission's commitment to reform utility pricing which minimizes pressures to build power plants or use premium fuels, and to set rates so that customers who cause utility expansion pay the related costs while those who conserve save money.

The final order does not increase or decrease the total revenue set in the January interim order.

Among changes in the final order is the elimination of special rates for residential unlimited water heating and all-electric farms. Customers in the two groups will be transferred to the regular rates of their respective classes.

The changes were made because the two groups of customers have consumption similar to those of the regular residential and farm customer classes. Moreover, the lower prices and volume discounts in the unlimited water heating and all-electric farm rates encouraged consumption.

The effects of transferring the customers to the regular categories will vary depending upon the volume of consumption, according to the PSC order.

Reaffirmed in Thursday's order are seasonal prices for residential customers and time-of-day prices for industrial, commercial, and a portion of the largest residential customers. Seasonal and time-of-day pricing was initially authorized in January's interim order.

Under the seasonal rate, the utility's approximately 650,000 residential customers will continue to pay 2.8 cents per kilowatt hour October through May and 4.2 cents per kilowatt hour June through September. The seasonal rate reflects the difference in the cost of producing power on the two seasons.

Residential customers who consistently use less than 750 kilowatt hours each month should see a decrease in their annual bills while other customers consuming more than 750 kilowatt hours monthly will pay proportionately more.

The final order continues time-of-day prices for large industrial customers and details how time-of-day rates will be applied to commercial and small industrial customers as most of the special meters are installed during the next 18 months.

Under time-of-day prices, a customer pays more for electricity during peak hours and less during off-peak periods. Consequently, some industrial and commercial customers are expected to eliminate or shift portions of their peak consumption to off-peak.

The peak period for the large commercial customers is 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding certain holidays. The peak period for commercial and small industrial customers will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding certain holidays.

The order also said that 154 residential customers with the highest consumption will be placed on time-of-day metering as were 423 such customers on July 1. The commission is contemplating adding additional residential customers to time-of-day metering in the near future.

The PSC order eliminates volume discounts for all-electric large commercial and industrial customers as has been done with many such discounts formerly permitted for Wisconsin Electric and other utilities. The change is expected to increase those customers' bills by an average of 15%. Large all-electric commercial and industrial customers eventually will be placed on time-of-day metering, the PSC order said.

The PSC has been eliminating volume discounts because they encourage consumption of electricity.

The PSC order said the reforms were environmentally sound because they reduce pressure to build power plants and transmission lines. The reforms also should cut down the use of inefficient plants, which usually are the most polluting units used primarily to meet peak demands.

An environmental group's call for broad utility control of customer use of electricity was rejected in the order. "If large numbers of people in Wisconsin prefer to pay very high on-peak penalties, and at the same time pass up very large off-peak discounts, then this commission is prepared to expand the electric system provided that the full costs...are charged to those customers causing growth," the order said.

The order noted that in other Wisconsin Electric proceedings, the PSC is pursuing utility control of 150,000 residential water heaters. In a third proceeding, the commission is investigating the possibility of establishing interruptible rates for large industrial customers who are willing to receive lower reliability service at a lower rate. The use of interruptible rates is expected to delay the need for power plant construction.

Immunizations avoid risks

F.A.C.S., Medical Editor, Wisconsin Medical Journal, State Medical Society of Wisconsin

Successful immunization can effectively and safely prevent diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, polio, mumps, measles and rubella; nevertheless, according to a recent report from the American Medical Association, "more than five million children in the United States are not protected against these diseases." The outbreak of these diseases may occur among those groups of people who have not received immunizations.

In an attempt to counter this important problem, the state has instituted the Wisconsin Immunization Checkpoint Law. The purpose of the law is to identify and immunize those children who have not been immunized and, therefore, are susceptible to the diseases mentioned earlier. The law requires that each child receive all necessary immunizations upon his or her initial entrance into any elementary school or day care center within the State of Wisconsin. Religious and health exemptions are incorporated in the program.

An elementary understanding of the various immunizations is necessary before one is able to establish the life-saving protection of an immunization schedule.

DPT is the name commonly given for the immunization of Diphtheria, Pertussis (whooping cough), and Tetanus (lockjaw). These shots are administered at two or three months of age, and continue to be given until the recommended number of doses is completed. Diphtheria is an infection of the tonsils, throat, voice box and nasal passages. It produces a toxin which can attack the nerves and heart. Tetanus (lockjaw) is not transmitted from one person to the next as are the other diseases, but rather it is caused by a wound infected with tetanus germs. A common example of tetanus is following stepping on a rusty nail. While the disease can be fatal, it causes painful contractions of muscles, including those which are involved in breathing. Pertussis (whooping cough) is a disease which infects the respiratory tract and results in a severe cough. This is an especially dangerous disease because it often is complicated by pneumonia. Because of the high number of cases of pertussis that are reported each year in Wisconsin, it is very important to administer DPT shots to children very early in life.

Polio, the crippling disease that formerly affected a great number of young people each year, also may be prevented if the child receives the proper number of oral polio vaccine doses.

An immunization for Mumps becomes particularly important for persons past the age of puberty; while mumps are not terribly dangerous for younger children, they can cause difficulty to the central nervous system and often result in sterility for males past puberty. For younger children, mumps causes a fever and painful swelling of the glands on one or often both sides of the neck.

It is usually recommended that a child be immunized for measles sometime after his first birthday. The early symptoms of measles seem like those of a common cold; they also are accompanied by sore eyes and a high fever. Next a red rash covers the body and lasts for about a week. Measles can become dangerous when serious complications develop. The result may be as extreme as deafness or mental retardation.

While Rubella (German or three-day measles) is not a serious childhood disease, it is a very real threat to women of childbearing age. Serious birth defects such as deafness, blindness, and mental retardation are common among babies whose mothers have had rubella during their pregnancy. An immunization against rubella is quite clearly important in all such cases, but it can't be given during an early pregnancy.

In this brief discussion of the possible infectious diseases and the appropriate immunization for each, one sees the great importance of a planned immunization schedule.

By following such a program you may help yourself, your children, and those children not yet born.

A bellhop in a hotel was asked why rich men usually gave smaller tips than poor men.

He replied: "The rich man doesn't want anyone to know he's rich; the poor man doesn't want anyone to know he's poor."

Immunization Clinic Tuesday

All recommended immunizations are available to children and adults of Washington County at the immunization clinics offered by Washington County Community Health Service.

On August 1, 1978, an extended clinic will be offered to provide ample time for children to complete their pre-school immunizations. The clinic hours at the August 1 clinic will be 9:00 - 11:30 a.m. and 2:00 - 6:00 p.m.

Clinics are held at Community Health Nursing Service, 515 East Washington Street, West Bend. Immunizations are provided free of charge, but there is a $1.00 charge for the T.B. skin test for those age 16 and over.

For further information call: Community Health Nursing Service, 334-3491, extension 261, Mrs. Delores P. Harder, R.N., Director.

Krazy Daze Enjoyed by All

With ideal weather, Krazy Daze in Kewaskum Tuesday again was attended by large crowds both during the day and again in the evening. Young and old lined the streets to take advantage of the many bargains, enjoy the good food and just have fun.

In the evening, crowds gathered to hear the live music by three bands outside on the parking lot, inside the restaurant and also in the hall at the Wigwam and the band in the large shed in back of Schmitt's Never Inn, which lasted to the wee hours.

Summer is coming on strong.

It happens every summer. The demand for electricity goes up dramatically. As a matter of fact, in a one week period last summer, the all-time record for electricity use by Wisconsin Electric customers was broken three times.

Unfortunately, these new records aren't something to celebrate. The growing demand for electricity is a costly problem for everyone.

During the critical summer peak period Wisconsin Electric's primary power plants are pushed to the limit. And special, back-up power plants have to help out. It all makes the cost of producing electricity more expensive.

One way to help solve the problem is to hold down the demand for electricity.

You can help by conserving your use of electricity even more. Especially the use of your air conditioner. And rescheduling your electricity use to off-peak hours, like evenings and weekends, will help a lot too.

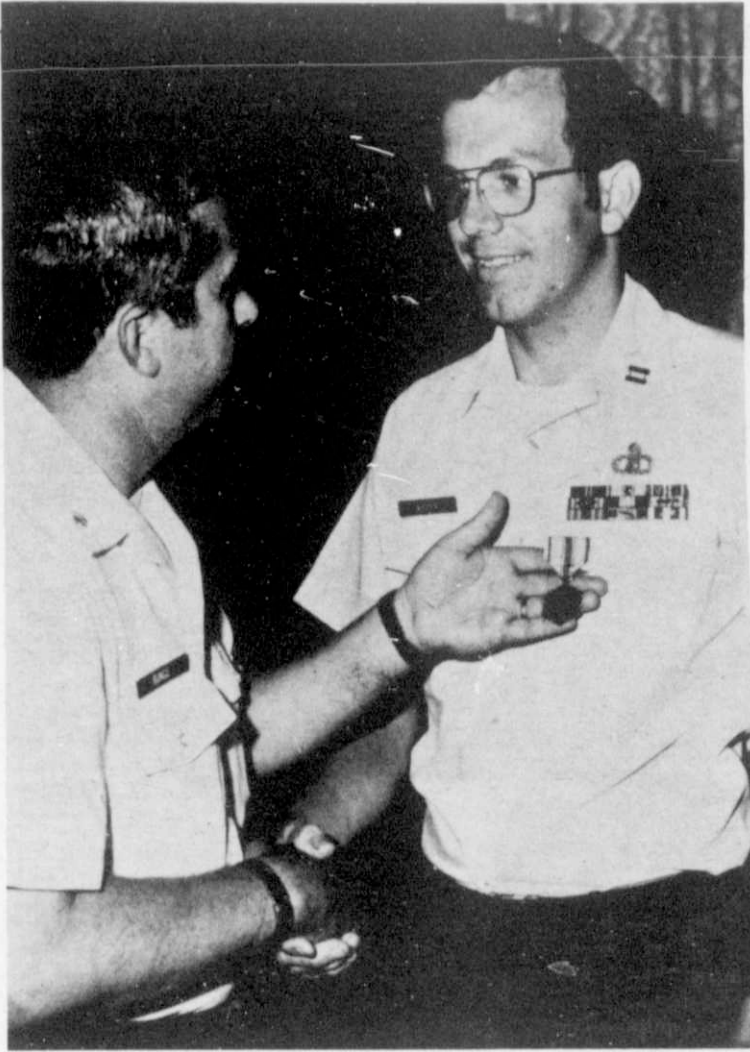

There are a number of other things you can do to hold down your use of electricity and save money at the same time. To help you, we've put together a series of tips.

To get your copies, write: "IDEAS", Wisconsin Electric, Box 606, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53201.

There's never been a more important time to conserve electricity than this summer.

Schools to Continue Child Find Project

"I hope you can help me. I heard on the radio that you help children. My daughter, Cindy, is three years old. She walked late and talked late. Even now there are only a few words she says that have meaning and are understandable. Everyone says she will catch up. I'm worried."

"Thank you for having this type of program in my area. Before we moved, my son was in another school district and was having problems. After Tom was tested here, he was found to have an audio problem. Now that his problem was found, I feel better able to cope and he is less frustrated, too."

"I read the article in the newspaper that said that even if you were out of high school, you can help me. I would like to be able to count money better so that I can get a part-time job in a grocery store. I was in special classes when I was in school, but didn't know what I wanted to do. I'd also like to learn to drive a car."

These are only a few of the responses heard by those who were helped by the Child Find Coordinator in this county.

Although the Child Find Project will be officially ending on July 31, the efforts of this program will be continued by each individual school district.

Any parent or other person knowing of a handicapped child ages birth through 21 years, should contact their local school district for assistance and the schools will take the necessary steps to see that the child's needs are met.

It's the law! All children have the legal right to a free appropriate public education. That includes children with special problems, no matter how serious. Special problems cover a wide range of handicapping conditions such as hearing, vision, or speech impairments, developmental delays, mental retardation, emotional disturbances, learning disabilities, orthopedic problems or other health impairments that might require special services.

The schools have been mandated by recent legislation to individualize educational programs to meet these needs whether in the regular classroom with supportive services or in special classrooms specifically designed to meet a handicapping condition. It should be stressed that the sooner a problem is detected and helped the better chance a child has of overcoming it.

The schools will continue the thrust of the Child Find Project through articles in the local newspaper and local radio announcements in addition to the annual personal visit to each home by a school census taker.

If you have a child or know of a child with a suspected handicapping condition, call your local school district for help. All information will be kept confidential and any services are provided at no cost to the family. Help us find the child—for the child's sake.

July 31 Last Day to Pay Postponed Taxes

Owners of real estate in Washington County — July 31 is the last day to pay postponed taxes without interest. The second installment of real estate taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of August shall be declared delinquent and will be subject to interest at the rate of one per cent per month retroactive to January 1 until paid, or until the property upon which such taxes are levied is sold at the next sale as provided by law. Checks are to be made payable to Leo P. Scholtz, County Treasurer, P. O. Box 519, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095.

Payment by check through mail including description of property or first payment receipt will eliminate waiting at the Treasurer's Office, but same mail must be postmarked no later than July 31, 1978.

Valley Tops Half-Billion Mark

Appleton — Valley Bancorporation recorded total assets as of June 30, 1978, of $509.8 million, marking the first time in the company's history that total assets have surpassed the half-billion mark.

Valley recorded six-month income before securities transactions for the period ended June 30, 1978, of $1,807,614 representing $2.31 per share, a per share increase of 40.9% over the $1.64 per share, or $1,214,078 recorded during the first half of 1977. For the quarter ended June 30, 1978, Valley recorded income before securities transactions of $959,074, or $1.22 per share compared with $665,033, or $.90 per share recorded in 1977.

In both years, the effect of securities transactions was negligible as six-month net income for 1978 totaled $2.30 per share, compared with $1.64 per share for the same period in 1977. During the second quarter, 1978 net income totaled $1.21 compared with $.90 per share for 1977. Per share results for 1977 have been adjusted for the 10% stock dividend distributed by Valley during May, 1978. The results of operations for the first six months of 1978 reflect the results of operations of three banks (Brownsville, Shawano, and North Lake) which were acquired in purchase transactions during the second half of 1977.

Total assets of Valley at June 30, 1978 totaled $509.8 million, an increase of 37.1% from $371.7 million recorded in 1977. At June 30, 1978, loans totaled $319.6 million, compared with $223.3 million at June 30, 1977, an increase of 43.1%. Deposits at June 30, 1978 climbed to $440.3 million, an increase of 37.4% over the $320.4 million recorded a year earlier. Gus A Zuehlke, president, indicated that approximately half of the increases between periods were as a result of external acquisition growth.

Valley Bancorporation, headquartered in Appleton, Wisconsin, consists of 16 affiliated banks with 26 locations (including Kewaskum), a leasing company, a trust service company and a data processing company. Valley Bancorporation is presently in the process of filing an application with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System for approval of affiliation of the $28.6 million-asset Winnebago County Bank with Valley Bancorporation. Winnebago County Bank, located in Omro, Wisconsin, has a branch office located in Winneconne, Wisconsin.

Valley Bancorporation (stock symbol VYBN) is traded on the over-the-counter market. As of June 30, 1978, Valley's book value totaled $31.87.

Stauter to Visit Washington County Junior Fair

Roger Stauter, Madison, the endorsed Republican candidate for State Treasurer, will visit the Washington County Junior Fair in Slinger on Thursday evening, July 27.

Stauter is campaigning for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer in the September 12 primary election.

"I am seeking the office of State Treasurer because I want to serve as a watchdog for the taxpayers of Wisconsin," Stauter said. Stauter supports permanent income tax reduction; property tax relief; indexing the tax system against inflation; and prudent tax limitation.

Stauter, 38, has been a realtor in Madison since 1963. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He and his wife, Gay, have one daughter, Jennifer, age 2.

Stauter is currently a member of the Executive Committee of the Republican Party of Wisconsin. He serves as Vice Chairman of the GOP in the Second Congressional District. This is his first attempt at public office.

Summer Pruning Helps Evergreens

July is the time to make a light, secondary pruning to maintain plant size and dense foliage on junipers, yews, arborvitae and hemlock.

Although major pruning projects are best accomplished in early spring before new growth begins, evergreens such as junipers, yews, arborvitae and hemlocks grow continuously and need occasional pruning to maintain their appearance. This is not the time to prune pine, spruce or fir trees since they produce only one flush of new growth earlier in the year.

Unless you desire a formal appearance, prune selectively. Use a hand shears, cut the most vigorous branches back to a side branch or bud. This way plants will retain their natural, un-sheared appearance, while maintaining an appropriate size. Lateral rather than terminal shoot development will result in denser plants.

Upright junipers, arborvitae and hemlock may need touch-up shearing now. Using a hedge trimmer, lightly shear these evergreens to improve their symmetrical appearance and create a denser foliage.

Summer pruning later than July should be avoided. After this time sufficient new growth hasn't time to develop and plants will have a pruned appearance throughout the dormant season. Late pruning cuts often don't heal properly until the following spring.

In maintaining landscape plantings, regular pruning is far better than major surgery on neglected overgrown plants.

FIREMEN TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Kewaskum Fire Department will be held at the fire station at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, August 3.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dearly beloved husband and father, Harry Ehnert, who passed away one year ago, July 30, 1977:

The blow was great,
The shock severe,
We did not know the end was near;
And only those who lost can tell,
The pain of parting without farewell.
No one knows how much we miss him,
No one knows the bitter pain,
We suffer since we lost him.
Home has never been the same.
We think of him in silence,
No one sees us weep.
But many tears are shed,
When others are asleep.

Sadly missed by his wife,
Lucille, and children.

"The soul of conversation is sympathy." William Hazlitt

Indians Oust Cougars in 10 Innings, Advance to Sectional

In a battle for the Regional baseball championship, hosted by Kewaskum Monday evening, which went three extra innings, Mark Tessar of Kewaskum's Scenic Moraine team and Pat Pelischek of Campbellsport Flyway nine hooked up in a tight pitcher's duel for 10 innings with the Indians finally winning, 2-1.

Kewaskum reached the Regional final by trouncing Ozaukee here last Monday, 11-6. The Indian-Cougar contest was originally scheduled for Thursday but rain and wet grounds postponed it until Monday. The Indians now advance to the Sectional tournament at West Bend Thursday evening, together with West Bend West, Grafton and Random Lake.

In Monday night's game the Indians, who finished in the Scenic Moraine basement this year, scored an unearned run in

SECTIONAL PAIRINGS AT WEST BEND THURSDAY

Game 1 — West Bend West vs. Grafton, 6 p.m.

Game 2 — Kewaskum vs. Random Lake, 8 p.m.

Kewaskum will probably face Random Lake pitching ace, Vayne Rassel, who led the teams to the championship in the Central Lakeshore Conference.

West Bend will also host the VIAA state Baseball Tournament Aug. 1-2.

In the 10th inning to break the 1-1 tie, Tessar held Campbellsport coreless in the last of the 10th or the victory.

Instead of the regular pitcher, Tessar, Jeff Limberg started for the Indians and was tagged for three quick hits. With one run and the bases loaded he was relieved by Tessar, who got the next two batters out and closed the door on the Cougars for the rest of the way.

Bemis, Tessar Receive Mention On Scenic All-Conference Team

Germantown and Hartland, the two top teams in the Scenic Moraine this summer, dominated the all-conference team elected by coaches. Each were represented by three players to make six of the top ten positions.

Kewaskum, which wound up with a 3-9 record, was blanked in first team voting but had two players receiving honorable mention. Junior John Bemis was second in the balloting for catcher behind Germantown's Mike Francolucci, only sophomore on the senior dominated team.

ENRIGHT'S WINS THIEMER'S TOURNEY

Thiemer's '78 tourney was won by Enright's of Boltonville, who had to play in the losers bracket after losing to Bil-Mar Bowl. They played Campbellsport led 1-0 until the 4th when Ross Krautkramer doubled and soph Mike Pettit lashed out a long triple that would have been a home run in a park with a fence around it. The score remained at 1-1 until the 10th although both teams had a number of scoring opportunities along the way.

In the 8th the Cougars were robbed of a hit by Soyk on a great play on a ground ball by shortstop Henry Schilter. Pelischek then singled, stole second and moved to third on a fly ball. The next two batters were intentionally walked to load the bases. Terry Janous then hit a chopper to Tessar who raced home for the force out. A second double by Krautkramer in the 9th for the Indians was also wasted.

In the 10th Tessar doubled with one out. Bemis then grounded to third. After holding the runner the third baseman threw to first for the out but the throw was low and got past the first baseman, allowing Tessar to come home with the winning run.

Kewaskum also edged Campbellsport in an earlier game, 6-5.

Both Tessar and Pelischek did exceptionally well and deserved to win. Tessar walked six (two intentionally) but pitched well when he had to. He struck out eight. Pelischek walked two and fanned 12.

Area Racing News

By Ken Knoll

Rain, rain and more rain. It forced cancellation of the races both Thursday night at Wisconsin International Raceway in Kaukauna and the Capital Super Speedway in Oregon (the one near Madison — not the west coast).

The rain also played the devil with the show at the Dells Motor Speedway in Wisconsin Dells but only to the point where it delayed the show and held the crowd down. It rained all over in the area and drizzled lightly between the heats and the semi but then fortunately let up. Willie Goeden of St. Michael's and Scott Weiss of Kewaskum both made the long tow over there. Goeden again showed his liking for the track by turning in 5th fast time, running 2nd in his heat and then moving up through the pack to finish 3rd in the 30 lap feature. Weiss suffered both clutch and distributor problems in heat laps and was unable to time in. He started in the back of his heat and the semi. In the heat he was forced to spin his car to avoid another car that had spun out and he finished last. In the semi-feature he felt his way through traffic and placed 9th.

Sunday night it was over to Wayne Erickson's Slinger Super Speedway. In the hobby division, Rick Lisko of West Bend had another near perfect night as he was 1st in time, 1st in his heat and then placed 3rd in the feature. Paul Weninger of Slinger won the hobby semi-feature. Tony Strupp of Slinger won the 50 lap midseason championship. He started last in the 18 car feature and took the lead on lap 30. Willie Goeden placed 7th in the feature. Earlier he had posted 2nd quick time, 2nd in the dash and 4th in his heat. Mike Melius of Random Lake was 12th in the feature. Scott Weiss won his heat and then placed 12th in the semi-feature after dropping out on lap 8 with mechanical ills.
