Week's Wit

How come they can develop a soda can, when discarded, that lasts forever and a $7000 car, when properly cared for, rusts out in two years?

Offer Free Prizes, Candy, Ballons at Sale

Rosenheimer's Completely Remodeled

The insert of today's Statesman announces the complete remodeling of the L. Rosenheimer Department Store in Kewaskum. Now a fully one-stop shopping center, the completely new food department has doubled in size and added a self-service fresh meat department.

Dick Schaefer of Kewaskum, with the help of Terry Krueger, operates the most modern and complete meat preparation room in the area - located on the second floor of the two-story building. Dick's 26 years of meat-cutting experience assure the finest USDA Choice meat cuts available.

Doubling the size of the food department enables them to carry a much larger variety of the foods wanted in this area. All refrigeration and freezer cases are new, as is the shelving and related equipment. Rich Bechler, their food manager, promises top service and quality food at very competitive prices.

The soft and hard-goods departments of the general store are complete with only the absence of shoes and fashion fabrics. By condensing and rearranging space, the same fine merchandise is available, and a number of special sale items are listed during this Remodeling Sale.

There'll be free candy and balloons for the children and hundreds of dollars in free prizes for adults. Bring in your coupon for fine prizes, with no obligation to buy. Rosenheimer's invites the public to visit their beautifully remodeled store.

550 Birds Taken At Turkey Shoot

The 26th annual Turkey Shoot sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum at the Bar-N Ranch Sunday drew large crowds despite 90 degree weather.

A total of 550 birds were taken, slightly less than last year. There were 170 trout caught by anglers in the trout pond. Most of the fish were caught earlier in the day as the afternoon heat definitely had an effect on fish being caught. Twelve-year-old Kelly Dieter of Lake Zurich, Ill., caught the largest trout, a 16-inch whopper.

Food stands again did a brisk business, especially in the morning and through the noon hour. An estimate of 1800 hamburgers, 1500 brats and 200 hot dogs were consumed throughout the day. Elmer Yoost said "We just couldn't get ahead with our grilling in the morning."

A gross of $14,000 plus was expected. Profits from the Turkey Shoot are donated to youth projects in the area.

Two Year Teachers Contract Approved by School Board

By TAMI EDGAR
Statesman Staff Writer

At Monday night's meeting the School Board approved the two year teachers contract. A new long term disability benefit was included in the contract. It will now have to be ratified by the teachers.

George Allmann was present to discuss the Right-To-Read Program. Teachers selected this program and now the question remains how well the system will work. The resolution was then approved for the acceptance of the program.

A request from parents residing in the Whitewood Estates to have their child picked up at a babysitter's house was refused. The house is not on the present route and the policy states that buses shall not deviate from the designated route.

A report was given on the hot water heater at Wayne. The problem was a leak in the seams which was non-repairable. Purchased from Simonson Brothers of Madison was a 51 gallon tank for $360 plus freight and $25 for a relief valve.

Water treating equipment for the Beechwood Elementary School was approved for $1900. Included for an extra $75 will be the chemicals and salts, plus servicing.

The Board approved an added $400 to Mr. Zarling's contract for acting as special education program designer.

John Tessar recognized the good job done on the new library in the high school.

Jean Goeden asked about the decision on cheerleaders participating in sports, due to her absence at a previous meeting. Her question was "why was this issue brought up?" The Board explained that the cheerleaders are to choose between sports and cheerleading during one season.

It was then mentioned that students who are out for the play and sporting events have to forfeit their chance to go on the New York-Washington class trip. The trip is only offered every other year to juniors and seniors.

Use soft water for washing, but use hard water for drinking and cooking. Hard water has a lot of calcium and magnesium in it—bad for washing, but most essential for a healthy heart. A Ph.D. study in Ontario shows a strong correlation between the rate of heart attacks and the degree of calcium, and especially magnesium, in the drinking water. A household water softener should be used only for washing water—not drinking water.

and General Sales Manager; Ronald O. Reigle, Executive Vice President; H. A. Karch; J. D. Reigle; Inder Mehta, Director of Marketing Services; and Stanley Woolman, Director of National Accounts.

Sears, Roebuck and Company, the world's largest retailer, recently gave special recognition to the employees and management of Regal Ware, Inc.

H. Allen Karch, Sears national cookware buyer, presented the Sears Symbol of Excellence plaque during a ceremony at Regal's headquarters in Kewaskum. The plaque was accepted by James D. Reigle on behalf of the entire Regal organization.

"This award is based primarily on the excellence of merchandise produced by Regal for Sears during the past year," Karch said. "It is our salute to those suppliers who have, through their excellence, made

Sears' contributions to Sears' reputation for quality merchandise. It also recognizes each employee for his or her contribution to the superior performance of the plant in such matters as shipping goods on schedule, and initiative in developing new and improved merchandise."

Karch explained Regal was selected for the Sears Symbol of Excellence by a committee representing the company's retail stores, catalog plants, national service department, quality control personnel and Sears laboratories. The committee screened nominations from 50 national buying departments.

Regal plants have been turning out cookware for Sears since 1963 and is Sears' principal source for stainless steel cookware.

This award was one of 619 Sears is presenting this year to suppliers judged most outstanding among its 12,000 merchandise sources. This is the 11th year Regal has received the Symbol of Excellence. Only two other companies in the total housewares field have earned this award more than eleven times.

Two Bids for Improvements in New Park Approved by Board

By TAMI EDGAR
Statesman Staff Writer

Two bids for the new park improvements were approved at a special Village Board meeting on Monday night, while the third was tabled for a future meeting.

Payne and Dolan's bid for surfacing of the parking lot, tennis courts, basketball court and bicycle park was approved for $37,844.

Contract II was approved for a total of $17,183 as submitted by U.S. Steel Supply. This bid is for fencing around the tennis courts, and a 6 ft. fence around the softball diamond's outfield. Also, a 16 ft. gate will be installed to allow maintenance equipment to enter.

Another estimate will be acquired before further action is taken on Contract III which deals with lighting. Village officials at a previous meeting decided to have the poles outside the courts to prevent injuries and to allow for a better surfacing job.

Chairman of the Junior Women's Club, Nancy Malvick, requested to have a natural pathway established in the new park. Rick Glatz, naturalist, showed a slide presentation showing the uniqueness of the area. Both Glatz and Roger Reif will assist in the project on a nonprofessional basis to help the project get set up.

Mrs. Malvick stated that this area is of interest to local residents to enjoy in leisure or field trips for scientific study. The area involved is located behind the tennis courts and is classified as an Oak Savannah terrain. The path would extend approximately 1/4 of a mile and all that is needed is occasional grass cutting maintenance with a possibility of laying wood chips down.

The project would also set up signs for areas of special interest. "The area might be small but it doesn't mean it's not important," Malvick stated.

The board felt this project worthwhile, and voted in favor of it.

Adult Health Screening Clinic

The Adult Health Screening Clinic for area residents, 18 years and over will be held in West Bend, September 20, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, in the lower level auditorium of the Washington County Courthouse.

The clinic is a service offered by the Washington County Community Health Nursing Service to detect early signs of chronic disease. The tests offered are hearing, vision, blood pressure, and glaucoma screening. Community health nurses will be available to interpret the significance of the screening results to clinic participants and provide preventive health counseling to individuals who have concerns about their health needs.

Screening tests are not a substitute for regular medical care by a physician, but are a method of detecting early signs of chronic disease often unrecognized by an apparently healthy adult.

To make an appointment for screening or obtain further information about the clinic, please call the Community Health Nursing Service, 334-3491, Ext. 261, or 644-5204, Ext. 261. Call now!

Wisconsin Folklore

1978 Dr. Waiker D. Wyman
University of Wisconsin - River Falls

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article about "Wisconsin Folklore" is the first in a series of 15 to be presented for the next 15 weeks in the Statesman. The articles are written for the enjoyment of our general readership but also serve as the nucleus of a course which may be taken for undergraduate or graduate credit through University of Wisconsin-Extension.

The author of the series is Dr. Walter Wyman, Centennial Distinguished Professor of History at River Falls, who retired this June after 42 years on the history staff. From 1962-67, he served as president of Wisconsin State University-Whitewater. Dr. Wyman has written 11 books on the subjects of folklore and frontier history. In 1970 he presented his folklore course through the facilities of the Wisconsin Extension Radio Network.

If there is sufficient interest, Dr. Wyman will schedule a visit to this area to meet with students and readers this fall. The date of that visit will be announced later.

For course information, write: Dr. Lorin R. Robinson, director; "Wisconsin Newspaper Classroom;" Department of Journalism; University of Wisconsin-River Falls 54022. Credit participants will receive additional course materials by mail.

NATURE OF FOLKLORE

The term "Folklore" is very loosely used in our culture, lacks precise meaning, and is ordinarily given the meaning of beliefs or superstition among the uneducated which are patently not true. Even Webster's Dictionary fails to throw much light when it defines folklore in this way:

1: traditional customs, beliefs, dances, songs, tales, or sayings preserved orally and unreflectively among a people or group 2: a comparative science that investigates the life and spirit of a people or of peoples as revealed in their traditional customs or tales."

However, upon reflection, most any citizen-educated or uneducated--will find that he is like the boy who came home from school and excitedly said to his mother: "We studied prose today, and I learned that I have been speaking prose all my life." So it is with folk beliefs, sayings, tales, or tall stories; they have been and are still very much a part of life.

In the pioneer days in Wisconsin, there was little science to serve the people, only folk wisdom. When they wanted to dig a well, they called on someone who had the "gift" of locating water with a forked stick. A farmer believed soil that produced maple trees was a sweet soil that would grow crops. A homesteader in the mountain valleys of the West learned that any soil that produced sage was also sweet. Pioneers planted and harvested in accordance with the phases of the moon and had a host of weather signs that told them when storms were on the way. Many of these beliefs were based on long observation and were sound in practice. Many were superstitions that had accumulated over the centuries. Many sayings and jingles were harmless if not accurate.

TYPES OF FOLKLORE

For convenience Folklore might be divided into these aspects: folk beliefs such as the common North Country belief that wolves travel in packs and attack human beings; legends such as that of Hiawatha who grew up on the shores of Gitchee Gumme or Lake Superior; folk heroes such as Paul Bunyan, the mighty lumberjack; tall tales such as the rattlesnake that went through the Civil War as a mascot; sayings such as the one used by the Finnish-Americans that if a sauna and brandy can't help you, death is near; proverbs such as "a stitch in time saves nine" or "an apple a day will keep the doctor away" or "if March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb;" folk arts such as the log cabin that housed pioneer America without benefit of architects or saw-mills; and other aspects ranging from nationality festivals to folk poetry to tombstones. Folklorists are interested in folk life, not only the quaint beliefs of the uneducated.

ROLE OF FOLKLORE

Literature has banked heavily on folklore, using legends and beliefs as the raw material for great fiction and poetry. Longfellow embroidered on Paul Revere's ride, making it a famous piece of national poetry that historians would want to modify in the interest of accuracy. Washington Irving used the legends of the Dutch in New York to create The Legend of Sleepy Hollow; Mark Twain incorporated the legends of the Mississippi River into his books; Vachel Lindsey used the historic Ohio River pioneer, Johnny Appleseed, as the centerpiece in his great poem. Joel Chandler Harris spun the southern colored folk's dialect and animal stories into his tales of Uncle Remus. Robert Frost in a poem gave Paul Bunyan a wife, whittled out of a great pine log. Carl Sandberg, in The Pine Yes, put together a book of free-wheeling poetry based on Midwest folk beliefs and sayings. (Who can ever forget about fog coming in on cat's feet?)

Historians have disregarded folklore over the years when they centered their interests on politics and wars. As they have moved into social history, and more recently into oral history, they have moved closer to the study of the folklife of a nation. One folklorist trained as an historian, Richard Dorson, has spent his career trying to get historians and other scholars to incorporate folk beliefs and folklore into their disciplines. Every occupation, whether it be doctors or lumberjacks, every nationality, group and region has its own folklore. There are many college courses ranging from folk music to Ozark folk stories taught in departments of music, literature, anthropology and at the University of Wisconsin-River Falls--even in history. There are several Ph.D. programs around the nation, all seeking to remove folklore from the category of superstitions among the uneducated to that of a study of folklife.

GROWTH OF FOLKLORE

The first time that the word Folklore appeared in print was in 1846 when an English scholar urged using the term to replace "Popular Antiquities." The foundation for an appreciation of folklore has been made in Germany with the publication of Grimm's Fairy Tales (1812-14). The American Folklore Society was formed in 1888 but has not flourished until recent times. Its journal is the best collection of American folklore available. The pioneer collectors of American folklore have been Henry Schoolcraft, the first Indiana agent among the Chippewa, who married an Indian woman and began to collect Chippewa lore; Joel Chandler and his Uncle Remus materials; John Lomax (cowboy songs); Rickaby (lumberjacks); Vance Randolph (Ozark lore); J. Frank Dobie (Southwest lore); and Richard Dorson, who has contributed to numerous aspects of lore.

The folklore of Wisconsin is generally not yet collected. Robert Gard has published more than any other scholar, having roamed the state and brought together much of the oral tradition. Students in my classes over the years have gathered much material from their home communities, and their papers constitute a sizable collection in the U.W.-River Falls Area Research Center.

FAKELORE VS. FOLKLORE

The varied and imprecise nature of folklore has prevented students of folklore from agreeing on a very tight theory of its nature, its functions, and its bounds. They agree on the methods of collecting and documenting, but on little else. In the center of the argument is the difficulty of sorting the genuine from the manufactured or contrived. Richard Dorson wrote in 1950 that if a writer manufactured an item for the purpose of making money, that was fakelore, not folklore. He believes that Paul Bunyan was manufactured by a lumberman's magazine and hence is fakelore.

The issue is a broad and deep one that cuts through much of the published material. If a song writer who had never seen a water-hole beyond a Fifth Avenue bar in New York City writes a cowboy song about "Old Paint," is that a folksong even if it was never sung in the days of the Open Range but is widely sung by all the folk now?

Is this epitaph on a grave in Tombstone, Arizona fakelore or folklore?

Here lies the body of good old Charlotte
Born a virgin, died a harlot.
For 14 years she kept her virginity
Which was quite unusual in this vicinity.

It would seem to this writer that Dorson's definition of fakelore is difficult to apply except in open cases where a writer deliberately manufactures an item that has no relation to reality and it dies right there. But what about the situation when the manufactured song on "Old Paint" becomes the possession of the folk and is sung by the common people as well as the professionals? Paul Bunyan is surely a national folk hero today even if he may have been manufactured by an ex-lumberjack who conjured up this character for advertising lumber products. Even an original story-teller sitting around a pot-bellied stove created lore out of his far-reaching imagination, so what is wrong with an imaginary mind doing the same if his creation becomes the possession of many people? Whether or not "Old Charlotte" 's tombstone has been there since her death is of no consequence today, since millions of people have seen it or read it or heard about it for decades. "How Rusk County Girls Kiss" remains unknown, though it is a genuine expression of a folk poet.

SUMMARY

Folklore is not a precise field of study, but is best thought of as beliefs, legends, superstitions, sayings, proverbs, and ways of life that have characterized the common people. It is an oral tradition where beliefs have been passed on largely by word of mouth. Much of it is crude, some is vulgar, a lot of it is "earthy." Perhaps most people do not think of their lore as being unusual or unique in any way and hence are not aware that they live in a world of folklore. The writers of our national literature have used folklore in their fiction and poetry, and a growing number of students are collecting the lore of occupations, nationalities, and other aspects of folklife.

It is hoped readers of this newspaper course will be stimulated to collect the folklore of their communities, and thus contribute further to this archival material. After all, you will soon find out that--like the little boy who studies prose you have been involved with folk beliefs, sayings and songs all your life. The field invites students to be collectors and recorders, and to use it in an imaginative way. As Life's Treasury of Folklore said: "Folklore, and especially the folklore of this country, is not only loved, chuckled over or wondered at; it is also studied... (It) provides insight into what the people of the past hoped, and thought, and feared during their lives...."

20% Wheat Set-Aside In '79 States ASCS

The 1979 wheat program contains the same 20 percent set-aside requirement as the 1978 program. Ira A. Oelhafen, Chairperson of the Washington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee, said.

Farmers complying with the program will be eligible for a wheat loan of $2.35 a bushel, and a target price of $3.40 per bushel, both the same as the 1978 program.

Program participants who reduce their 1979 wheat acreage for grain by 15 percent from the 1978 wheat acreage will be eligible for target-price coverage on 100 percent of the 1979 wheat acreage for grain. The 1978 wheat acreage will be the acreage harvested as grain, plus credit on 1978 participating farms for underplanted acreage, set-aside, and wheat grazing and hay acreage for payment.

"Unlike the 1978 program, the 1979 program does not provide payments for grazing out or haying of planted acreage. However, producers may graze their 1979 set-aside acreage for a six-month period."

The wheat reserve commitment will continue in the 1979 program. This includes the farmer-owned reserve and the special emergency reserve for food aid commitments.

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland called the program "a stabilizing measure designed to benefit both producers and consumers." If farmers use the 1979 program as well as they did this year, we believe the farm wheat prices will be maintained. The program is designed to be anti-inflationary. Without the set-aside in 1979, U.S. wheat stocks would be well above needs, farm prices would be considerably lower, government payments would be higher, and wheat export earnings would decrease, Bergland said.

The 20 percent set-aside means that for every 100 acres of wheat planted for harvest as grain, 20 acres must be set aside.

UWWC to Commemorate 10th Anniversary

A wide variety of activities are scheduled to commemorate the tenth anniversary at the University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County the week-end of September 15, 16 and 17. Past students of UWWC and area residents are invited to attend one or all of the events.

Beginning the festivities on Friday afternoon, September 15, at 4:30 p.m. the UWWC soccer team will face the team of UWC-Waukesha in the conference opener. Games are held on the UWWC soccer field adjacent to the main building and are free.

The newly organized Chamber Dance Theatre of Milwaukee will be on the Union stage beginning at 8:15 Friday evening. In May, a Milwaukee critic wrote of their premiere "they had all the whiz bang instant brilliance of an overnight success." Eight top-notch dancers from throughout the country present works by the contemporary dance world's top choreographers. In some selections, music goes from nervous post-Bernstein to jazz rock. Tickets for the Chamber Dance Theatre are on sale in the main office at UWWC and, if available, will be on sale the evening of the performance. Ticket prices are $3 for adults, $1 for students and senior citizens and UWWC students are free.

Approximately twenty returning soccer players will face the 1978-79 Wildcat team on the UWWC soccer field at 1 p.m. on Saturday. Always a successful and spirited game, the alumni will again try to outscore the Wildcats. For the three years since the alumni game has been scheduled, the result has always been a tie score.

An alumni dinner dance is scheduled for 6:30 at the Holiday Inn. Alumni, faculty, staff and current students are invited to this dinner toasting the ten years of UWWC. Music will be provided by former UWWC student Fred Luft and his band. Cost is $6.00 with reservations due by September 14.

Sunday afternoon, university dignitaries, a local member of the original committee to begin UWWC and a former student will share their thoughts about the campus. Edwin Young, President of the University of Wisconsin System will attend the open house ceremony beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the Student Union Theatre. Chancellor Edward Fort, head of the UW Center System will also attend, along with Mrs. Jac Anderson and Dr. Kathy Schleif Roth. Following an informal reception in the Student Union lounge, visitors will be invited to tour the campus and view the displays and exhibitions of the faculty, staff and students.

Highlights of the open house are a 12-minute slide presentation featuring three screens and music telling about the Center System, displays of the research that visitors may use. The library will have video tape machines on display, along with other facets of the university resource center.

Visitors may tour the campus grounds any time from 2 p.m. til 5:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Big Brother/Big Sister Agency Needs Local Volunteers

John remembers very little of what his dad was like. He was only six years old when his father left, and he hasn't seen him since. All he can remember are the good times they used to share together — playing catch, swimming at the park, or going out for ice cream. Now things are different for John. Being the eldest in the family, he must help his mother take care of his younger sisters, babysitting for them while she is away at work. He must assume many responsibilities that other kids his age don't have. As a result, John gets very lonely at times and longs for the 'good old days' when he used to have fun. He is angry at his dad for leaving him like this, and he wishes that he had someone to talk over his problems with, someone to share good times with.

John is like many boys who experience depression or loneliness as a result of death, divorce or desertion of their fathers. They see this as a rejection of themselves by their fathers, and feel that they are being punished in some way for something that they might have done. Consequently, they may face many problems later in life, increasing their risk of becoming delinquent, or needing mental health care.

We could all do something about situations like this through the Big Brother/Big Sister agency. These kids are matched up with mature adult volunteers, who are willing to spend at least two hours a week with them. This helps to build a meaningful relationship between the two, giving the child to grow in his self-confidence while enabling the volunteer to perform a most useful service to his community.

There is still a need for five more adult volunteers in the Village of Kewaskum. Please give these boys a break. Call or write the Big Brother/Big Sister office at 141 North Main Street, P.O. Box 571, West Bend, WI. 53095 or telephone 334-7896.

Several Options Open to Farmers Whose Loans are Maturing

If your corn or grain sorghum loan is about to mature, you have two options besides redeeming it or forfeiting your crop to the Commodity Credit Corporation, according to Donald E. Sampson, County Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

First, you can extend your loan on the same terms for an additional 30 days. Or second, if you choose, you can place your crop directly into the farmer-owned grain reserve.

enter the grain reserve. Farmers signing up for new loans on their 1977 crops must agree to enter the reserve also.

Through the reserve program, farmers shield their commodities from the market to help strengthen prices. They receive payments to store the commodity on their farms or in commercial warehouses. In turn they pay interest charges the first year, but not the two succeeding years, and agree to leave their commodities in the reserve until prices climb substantially or for three years.

For more information on commodity loans and the farmer-owned grain reserve, contact the local ASCS office at 2395 W. Washington Street, West Bend, or phone 334-4765.

The giraffe has a maximum life span of 30 years — approximately the same as the Neanderthal man during the early Stone Age.

In the Service

Marine Sergeant Pat B. Lorrigan of Route 1, Campbellsport, is participating in the major NATO exercises "Bold Guard '78" and Northern Wedding '78" in northern Europe.

He is assigned to Headquarters And Service Battalion, 4th Marine Amphibious Brigade, embarked aboard the amphibious command ship USS Mount Whitney, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

"Bold Guard '78" and "Northern Wedding '78" are designed to refine coordination, command and control capabilities in the external reinforcement of NATO's northern flank and in conducting combined land operations. Taking place over wide areas of the Eastern Atlantic, North Sea and English Channel, maneuvers will include amphibious landings in the Shetland Islands and Southern Norway. A large scale landing in the west coast of Denmark's Jutland Peninsula will be followed by an overland movement of the combined allied forces for large scale maneuvers in Germany.

Participants number approximately 40,000 men, 170 ships and submarines and 800 aircraft from Belgium, Canada, Denmark, the Federal Republic of Germany, the Netherlands, Norway, the United Kingdom and the United States. This represents the largest combined NATO exercises ever held in Northern Europe.

Planners for "Bold Guard" and "Northern Wedding '78" include General Alexander M. Haig, Jr., USA, Supreme Allied Commander, Europe; Admiral Isaac C. Kidd, Jr., USN, Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic; and Royal Navy Admiral Sir Henry Leach, Allied Commander-in-Chief, Channel.

Lorrigan joined the Marine Corps in March 1976.

As I attended the Kewaskum Labor Day Parade with my daddy, someone took my well-loved Snoopy dog from my stroller. He was white with blue and fuzzy white paws, with long black ears. I loved him dearly and took him with me wherever I went. I look for him every morning, but I don't understand why he is gone for I am only 20 months old. I would like to have him back. If you know about this dog, please return him to me.

Indians Play Wide Open Game To Beat North Fondy, 22-14

Playing away from home for the second week in succession, the Kewaskum Indians and North Fond du Lac put up a wide open game Friday night that saw the Orioles suffering a 22-14 defeat.

Kewaskum did all the early scoring before North Fondy rallied for two fourth quarter scores by Robbie Hinn and John Goldapske. Noseguard Steve Schwartz played an exceptional game as he recorded 18 tackles for the Oriole defense.

The Indians, who did not play well on offense in their opener against Campbellsport the week before, opened up their game at North Fondy and moved the football to come home with a victory.

Late in the first quarter the Indians scored their first touchdown of the season on a long 54-yard run by elusive Paul Bremser. He took a pitch from quarterback Joel Herriges, swept around left end with some good moves and raced to the goal line.

Kewaskum had an earlier opportunity to score when the Orioles fumbled the first punt of the game and the Indians recovered on their opponents' 25-yard line. After a first down the Oriole defense tightened and took over on the one-yard line. However, on the first play linebacker Perry Kempf got through and tackled Jay Krum-bine for a safety. The Indians scored one more time in the first half. After two 5-yard penalties and a 10-yard loss it was third down and over 30 to go. Then Herriges hit end Tom Kern on a 15-yard pass and on a "flea-flicker" wingback Rod Schultz hit Scott Brendemuhl open in the end zone for the score.

Not only did the Indian offense do well in the first half, but the defense prevented the Orioles from any kind of a drive and held them to just 13 offensive plays.

About halfway through the third quarter the Indians scored their last TD as fullback Mike Schaub capped a 45-yard drive with a 3-yard run. Herriges converted for the two points.

Trailing 22-0, North Fondy scored twice in the final period and converted after one to make it 22-14.

Coach Fran Charland praised John Bemis and Tim Peterson for their offensive play in the line. The Indians wound up with 165 yards rushing and 63 yards passing for a total of 228, although losing 30 yards on a bad snap from center early in the game.

This Friday night the Indians play their first home game, opening the Scenic Moraine season against a strong Germantown team. It will be Parents' Night.

Girl Golfers Set Record in Beating West Bend, Port

Kewaskum High's girl golfers shot a record-breaking 188 for four players to jolt West Bend East of the Little Ten Conference, with 198. The meet was played at Port.

Denise Dean was low for KHS with a 45 and Bobbi Schmidt was one behind at 46. The Indians' other two counters were Yvonne Schacht with 47 and Sue Harlow 50.

West Bend East's Connie Rudnicki took medalist honors with a 3-over par 39. She had one birdie. Lisa Kartheiser hit 46 and Julie Herbert 45 for Port.

Kewaskum's 188 is a school record. The old mark was well over 200.

Kewaskum Sinks Hartford

The Indian girls ran their streak to four in a row Monday at Hartford Country Club by burying the newly organized Oriole team of the Little Ten, 204 to 282.

Denise Dean was medalist with a 48. Next were Bobbi Schmidt with 50, Yvonne Schacht 51, and Soph Sue Harlow 55.

Leading Hartford was Michelle DeFere with 60, followed by Sally Shabulski with 64, Joan Elder and Erin Emmer 79.

Coach Carol Martin's Kewaskum girls were scheduled to host Brookfield Central's defending state champions at Hon-E-Kor Tuesday.

Volleyball Girls Tip Campbellsport

The Kewaskum High School girls' volleyball varsity, junior varsity and freshmen teams swept to victory over Campbellsport last Tuesday. The varsity won all three games, while the junior varsity and fresh each won two of three.

Mary Lawson, new Kewaskum coach, has inherited a strong team from Connie Kreuser, who left for a position at Hartford. She has letterwinners Pam Kempf, Diane Bremser, Janet Matenaer and Denise Menzel back plus the junior varsity team which ended up high in last year's Scenic Moraine standings.

Good teamwork was the key to the Indians' win. A highlight of the JV match was Sue Kleinke serving 13 consecutive times in the second game which KHS won 15-0.

Luck of the Irish?

3 O'Connors — Dad, Mom and Mike Jr. — Hon-E-Kor Champs

Call it the luck of the Irish if you will but a rare occurrence took place at Hon-E-Kor Country Club this year when three members of one family, Mike and Bev O'Connor and son Mike Jr. of West Bend all won their flights for the club championship. Of course, there must be some golf skill involved, too, right?

In the "year of the O'Connors" Mike Jr. bested Chuck McClain, 3-2, in the finals for the men's championship. Just a week before, Mom Bev defeated young Chris Nigh in a match for the women's championship, and Dad Mike was the second flight winner over Marsh Alf.

Mike Jr. has been playing super golf the past month. In his last three matches against Bill Jensen, Clark Eichstedt and McClain he played one-under par. On the other hand, McClain, a one handicapper, low-est at Hon-E-Kor, has not been playing good golf of late.

Harlan Gruber bested David Wietor in a 20 hole battle for first flight and as mentioned above Mike O'Connor Sr. was the second flight winner, while Jack Dunn won over Joel Fehhaber in 20 holes in third flight and Ed Backhaus took the fourth flight over Frank Schmidt.

While Bev O'Connor took the women's title, Lu Freeze won over Sue Decker in the first flight and Audrey Vranich won over Tudy Korth in second flight.

Hon-E-Korner

Evening golf on August 30 was hosted by Marge Rosenthal and Tudy Warner. Low net of combined scores was the team event for the evening. Victorious was the team of Corey Wuebben, La Verne Hetzel, Judy Harlow and Shirley Lemler. Longest putt on no. 9 was made by Jen Albiero, being the single event winner. Bridge winners for the evening were Corey Wuebben and Marion Mitchell. Sheepshead winners were Sue Westphal, Eileen Perkins and La Verne Hetzel.

Marion Mitchell and Marge Bauer, hostesses for September 6, sent the Hon-E-Bees out to determine the best ball team event. Teammates Mitzie Bartelt and Jen Albiero, Marion Mitchell and Liz Nigh, along with Diane Hoffman and Mary May, were the victors. Ginny Miller won the flag event, which was the closest approach to pin on no. 9. Afternoon card winners were: Bridge, Joyce Gruber and Corliss Fassbinder.

Season end "Ringer Winners" (most improved score per hole) were: Class A, Judy Harlow (84 strokes); Class B, Jay Gruber (85 strokes); Class C, Janis Berndt (96 strokes), and Class D, Diane Hoffman (111).

Girls Win, Boys Lose In Cross Country

In a hot weather meet Thursday at Random Lake, cross country runners from Kewaskum, Campbellsport and Random Lake sweated along their way.

The Kewaskum girls defeated Campbellsport, 20-40, while Random Lake did not field a team. Coach Dave Drexler said the KHS gals put on a strong performance.

The boys couldn't match Campbellsport's balance and Random's Brook White. Results were: Cougars 24, Rams 52, and Indians 59.

White won the three mile race easily, in 16:41. The Indians' top runner was Dick Kleinmann, who came in fourth.

GIRLS — 1. Barb Wilson K 13:31; 2. Julann Zmlicka K 14:37; 3. Sonja Fritsche C 14:48; 4. Laurie Wilson K 14:57; 5. J. Carpenter C 15:00; 6. Sherry Squier K 15:14; 7. Mary Kougl K; 8. Tracy Coulter K.
BOYS — 1. Brock White RL 16:41; 2. Mark Schultz C 17:46; 3. Joe Jaeger C 17:49; 4. Dick Kleinmann K 18:20; 5. Tom Noss C 18:44; 6. Chris Condee C 18:49.

Girls' Tennis Team Defeated by Ripon

The Kewaskum girls' tennis team lost to Ripon last Tuesday here, 5-2.

Sophomores Brenda Manthei and Laurie Strobel won the No. 2 and 4 matches. The teams played pro sets instead of two-of-three because Ripon had only 10 players and Coach Jan Rosen-thal wanted to give all a chance to compete.

Donna Ehnert, No. 3 player, stretched muscles in the knee area and may be lost for the season.

Two Kewaskum doubles teams lost 8-6.

Ripon 5 Kewaskum 2
SINGLES — No. 1 Sue Russell lost to Algar 8-6; No. 2 Brenda Manthei beat McDaniel 8-7; No. 3 Donna Ehnert lost to Holahan 8-0; No. 4 Laurie Strobel beat Hayes 8-5.
DOUBLES — No. 1 Sherry Bilgo and Kris Staehler lost to Algar and Hayes 8-6; No. 2 Debbie Schlica and Jackie Landvatter lost to Holahan and McDaniel 8-6; No. 3 Jackie Herriges and Bonnie Prost lost to Seelivan and Case 8-2.
