Two Area Young Men Killed in Collision

Two area young men were killed in a two-vehicle head-on collision Friday night on County Trunk Z near German Village Road near Little Cedar Lake in the Town of West Bend.

Dale E. Butts, 19, of 1307 Lakeview Road, West Bend, a 1978 graduate of Kewaskum High School, and Dennis M. Wille, 21, of rural Campbellsport died of head and internal injuries in the crash, which occurred about 10:40 p.m.

According to the Washington County Sheriff's report, Wille drove his four-wheel drive 1979 Ford Bronco across the center line and struck the 1966 Ford driven by Butts. The collision occurred in the northbound lane, according to authorities.

There were no passengers in the vehicles. The accident was still under investigation earlier this week.

Both the Schmidt ambulance and a West Bend Rescue Squad vehicle were dispatched to the scene. The two men were pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend.

The deaths were the eighth and ninth traffic fatalities in Washington County this year, according to Coroner Robert Boltz. The two deaths brought Wisconsin's 1979 traffic toll to 95 Saturday, compared with 105 on the same date a year ago.

Lunch With the Easter Bunny

The Easter Bunny will be coming to Kewaskum on Saturday, April 7. Join him and Mrs. Bunny, along with their friends Bert, Ernie, Woodsy Owl and Victor the dog for lunch. Tickets are $1.50 and are available by calling 626-4732 or 626-4161, or at Miller's Furniture Store in Kewaskum. Advance tickets only — no tickets sold at the door.

All youngsters are invited to come to the Kewaskum High School cafeteria to have lunch with the Easter Bunny. There will be two settings: one at 11:00 a.m. and one at 12:30 p.m. The $1.50 per person includes lunch. This event is proudly sponsored by the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club.

Proceeds from the Easter Bunny Lunch and Fall Style Show provide $500 worth of scholarships to area students, books to the public library, telephone calls home for AFS students, support a child in Oklahoma and support many other needs of Kewaskum.

Signs of Spring...

A large portion of the mountains of snow have melted but there are still plenty of snowdrifts around and piles on roadsides.

We can look out of our windows again and see the neighbors' houses.

We can see strange substances again. They are called sidewalks and lawns, which we haven't seen since last fall. Those sidewalks we've been shoveling all winter and never got to the bottom of.

We can survey the damage to our young fruit trees and shrubs four and five feet above the ground done by hungry rabbits during the long winter and deep snow.

We can back out of our driveway and again see if anything is coming down the street, without stopping.

We also found the bird feeder, lawn ornaments and planter. Now if we could only find the cat.

Our front porch steps are also still there and our patio again reveals the picnic table and benches.

Creeks are running over their banks, lowlands are under water and some roads and streets are covered with water.

The puddles in rooms in some homes from the snow on the roof are getting smaller as the ice-clogged gutters open up. And the trickling in the basement is lessening.

Lawns show where the dogs, cats, rabbits and other animals have been and what they left behind.

There are empty beer and soda cans, old newspapers and other debris that was buried beneath the snow.

We have turned our car's heater and defroster off again.

Some of the geese arrived with a strong south wind but turned around and went the other way again.

Oh yes, Mrs. Clifford Stautz and Mrs. Frank Kutz called again on Monday and Tuesday respectively to report spotting the first robins. But we beat them this year, having seen two robins in our neighborhood already Sunday afternoon. We saw two more bobbing between the snowbanks on the Holy Trinity church grounds Monday morning. Many of the other "dumb" songbirds have also returned.

But the ice hasn't gone off the river yet at this writing, so hang on!

TOOLS, TOOL BOXES TAKEN IN BREAK-IN

Tools and two tool boxes with a reported value of about $2,000 were taken in a break-in Friday night at Mill Tool and Manufacturing Company, 7731 U.S. 45, Kewaskum, according to the Washington County Sheriff's Department.

Fog Blamed for 3 Accidents Involving 15 Vehicles Monday

Dense fog and low visibility were blamed for three separate accidents in the area Monday morning involving about 15 vehicles which piled up.

The first mishap occurred on County Trunk S, two miles east of G (near New Fane). Kewaskum school bus driver Judy Schuette was on her morning route at about 8:15 a.m. heading west when she stopped at 656 Hwy. S to pick up Becky Hammes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hammes.

An auto driven by Calvin Ebersold, Route 1, Random Lake, stopped behind the bus to wait for the pickup. The bus driver had just closed the door when a car driven by Terry Krahn, Route 1, Adell, ran into the Ebersold car.

Due to the intense fog a chain reaction took place and three more cars were involved in the accident.

After the collision of the first two cars, the bus driver, with quick-thinking for the safety of the 19 elementary school children aboard, immediately took her passengers out of the bus, with the assistance of Mrs. Hammes, and led them into the Hammes garage, fearing their might be more cars involved.

Mrs. Schuette kept on the bus' flashing red lights and set up emergency triangles but despite her precautions three other cars became involved in accidents after the first one.

A West Bend Elevator truck, traveling east wound up in the ditch on the south side of the road. A Kewaskum special education teacher, Lori Freriks, got involved when her car was struck by another one driven by Mark Weber, a junior at Kewaskum High School. Weber's car glanced off Freriks' vehicle, turned over and skidded on its top down the road.

There was much gasoline spilled on the highway and luckily nobody got killed or more seriously injured. Mrs. Schuette said Jim Haack of rural Kewaskum also stopped to help her and put on his warning lights.

The Kewaskum Rescue Squad and Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department were summoned to the scene. Ebersold, Krahn, Freriks and Weber were all transported to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend.

In another fog related mishap, three persons were taken to St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, by Campbellsport ambulance at 9 a.m. Monday for treatment of injuries they received in an accident involving three vehicles on County Trunk V, about five miles north of Kewaskum.

Ann M. Reilly, 30, of Campbellsport, one of the drivers, sustained a broken finger and a leg injury. Raymond J. Zimmer, 35, of Campbellsport, operator of a van, had back injuries, while a passenger, Jack Schickert, 20, of Campbellsport received nose and lip cuts. The third vehicle was driven by Susan A. Rettler of Kewaskum.

Four persons were also injured in a chain reaction crash at 10:30 a.m. Monday on Highway 41 and Highway 28 (Skyline Drive) west of Kewaskum in Washington County. Involved were seven vehicles, three of them semi-trailer trucks, three autos and one pickup truck which left the scene.

The accident blocked off the northbound lane of Hwy. 41 for 1½ hours and traffic had to be rerouted. Injured were Floyd R. Harbold of Brookfield with a lacerated chin and bruises; his passenger, his wife Doreen, who suffered a fractured ankle, hip and jaw; Michael D. Coyne of Erlanger, Kentucky, a fractured nose, and Ralph R. Hall of Hillsboro, Ohio, bruises to the head, leg and chest. Coyne and Hall were taken to St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, by the Kewaskum Rescue Squad.

Washington County authorities said the chain reaction mishap was caused by the fog when a semi-trailer unit was crossing Hwy. 41 to go south.

To The Editor:

This letter is in reference to the letter from "Several Sports Fans" in the last issue. I was concerned that it was not understood that the alignment suggested by Mr. Pearson and myself was never voted on by the School Board. This alignment was suggested by us to the Scenic Moraine Conference for presentation to the Task Force. It did not receive support from our conference and, as a result, was never something on which the Board had to decide. The Board vote was on a totally different proposal, as outlined in the issue of February 16.

Dear Wisconsin Media:

May I direct your attention to a real concern of mine? Since 1975, over 25,000 children suffered needlessly from childhood diseases. Children who are victims of vaccine-preventable diseases, such as measles, mumps, rubella, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis (whooping cough), often run the risk of suffering from severe complications associated with these diseases. The most common complications that may occur from childhood diseases are: deafness, blindness, encephalitis (brain damage), mental retardation, and sometimes, even death.

Currently there is a statewide campaign to eliminate the most common vaccine-preventable childhood diseases. In an attempt to promote the importance of this objective and to provide a greater awareness and understanding of the Wisconsin Immunization Initiative campaign, Monday, March 26, 1979 will be Media Access Day at the Executive Residence. This day has been set up for me to respond to you by telephone to inquiries by television, radio and newspapers. The purpose will be to acquaint you with the problems involving immunizations and an explanation of the approaches that are being taken to eliminate vaccine-preventable diseases.

If you share my concern, call me between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday, March 26, 1979 at (608) 266-3554. Our children depend on all of us. Immunize...for our children's sake.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Lee Sherman Dreyfus

Health and Safety Tip

Flu Shots Protect Against Infection

Annual influenza vaccination generally is advised for anyone with chronic heart, lung, or kidney disease and diabetes, other chronic illness and for people over 65.

Flu shots generally are not recommended for healthy children or adults under 65 and most definitely should not be given to anyone allergic to eggs. The vaccine is grown in eggs.

Recommendations for dosage and booster doses may vary from year to year, the American Medical Association points out. The time to start flu immunization is well in advance of the winter season of cold weather.

Routine smallpox vaccination no longer is recommended in the United States, and the World Health Organization has reported recently that smallpox has now been eliminated from the entire world. Vaccination is no longer required for travelers entering the U.S. from foreign nations.

In a well organized community with water purification, pasteurization of milk and safeguarding of food, vaccination against typhoid fever is unnecessary. Rarely, it might be advisable for foreign travel into areas where typhoid is common.

Other vaccinations may be recommended or required for travelers entering areas where specific diseases such as yellow fever, plague, cholera and typhus are prevalent. Your local health department will have current information.

Although vaccine is given infrequently for tuberculosis, many physicians test for it around 12 months of age. The "TB" test is a skin test in which the site of the test is observed at 24 to 72 hours to determine if a reaction has occurred. Appropriate medical attention for the disease can be given when it is detected by skin test or x-ray film in early childhood.

As the warm weather last Monday and Tuesday thawed away the large banks of snow and ice, portions of the village were badly flooded where the gutters had not yet been opened. Many basements were also filled with water. The river began to rise rapidly on Monday and by Tuesday evening it reached the highest mark for many years. On Thursday evening after the heavy rain it rose still higher and by 2:00 p.m. yesterday morning the water was so high that Philip Meinhardt's blacksmith shop was surrounded by water.

Child Care Tax Credit Break for Working Families

As the make-up of American society has changed over the past several years to include more and more working mothers and single-parent families, the amount of money spent on professional child care has increased to a significant portion of many a family budget.

What was once the domain of the grandmotherly babysitter has evolved into a new growth industry in which scores of franchised day-care centers are springing up overnight.

One reflection of this phenomenon is the income tax credit available on federal tax returns for parents who pay someone to watch their children so the parents can work. The credit allows working parents to reduce their income taxes by as much as $400 if they have one child and up to $800 when there are two or more youngsters.

Figuring the child care credit is relatively simple: it's 20 percent of the first $2,000 spent during the year for having one child cared for, or 20 percent of the first $4,000 for two or more. Since this is a credit rather than a deduction, the amounts remain fixed regardless of the parents' tax bracket. Also, it is not necessary to itemize deductions to qualify.

The credit is ordinarily called the child care credit and the average claimant is the parent of a small child. However, the full name is the Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses, and as the name implies, the credit also is available for amounts paid toward the care of a disabled spouse or other dependent while the taxpayer works.

Qualifying for the child care credit is not a complicated process. Generally you must:

- have maintained a household that included at least one child under 15 or a disabled dependent of any age;

- have paid the expenses to enable you to be gainfully employed or actively seeking employment during the period in which the expenses were incurred;

- file a joint return, if married; and
- have made the payments to persons other than your dependent relatives.

You may also qualify for the credit if you paid someone to care for your child or disabled dependent so you could work part-time or go to school full-time. The only condition placed on this rule is that you must have a spouse who was gainfully employed during this time.

Even payments made to relatives for child care can qualify if the relative is not your dependent and the services qualify as employment subject to Social Security tax.

The child care credit is claimed on Form 2441, "Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses," and filed with Form 1040. You cannot receive the credit by filing Form 1040A, but remember, you do not have to itemize to qualify.

For an example of how the credit is figured, let's take a working husband and wife who spent $3,000 in 1978 to keep their two children in a commercial day-care center. Their credit—20 percent of $3,000—works out to $600. This computation is done on the Form 2441 and the result—$600—is then transferred to the proper line on Form 1040.

Assuming the couple's income tax liability would otherwise be at least $600, they subtract that amount directly from taxes they owe. Bear in mind, however, that the credit is not refundable, which means that it cannot be more than your tax liability.

Figuring the credit for disabled dependent care is done in the same way. If, while you work, a neighbor cares for your disabled mother at a rate of $100 a week, your tab for the year would be $5,200. At 20 percent of the first $2,000, the credit in this case would be the maximum of $400.

Most conceivable types of child care expenses will qualify for the credit, but not all. One example not allowed is the cost of transportation of your child between your home and the place where care is provided.

Some parents pay a nursery school or other child care facility a flat fee which includes the cost of transporting the child to and from school. In cases like this, the portion of the charge covering transportation will have to be computed and subtracted from their expenses before figuring the credit.

School tuition beyond the kindergarten level also is not considered a child care expense for the purposes of the credit.

This does not mean that post-kindergarten child care cannot qualify—just that a division must be made between tuition for regular schooling and actual child care expenses. A second-grader, for example, might attend a private elementary school which offers academic instruction between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. If the school also provides care for the child before or after the regular school hours, the portion of your expenses related to the extended care will still qualify for the credit, assuming the other conditions are met.

Detailed information on the child care credit can be obtained by writing or visiting Internal Revenue Service offices. Ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 503, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care," or use the handy order blank in your tax package. If you're a working parent it will probably be well worth your time.

from Tom Leitzke, R.P.H.

In America today, there are more than 4,000,000 home accidents each year—30,000 are fatal; 225,000 accidents involve washing machines, stoves, power mowers and heating devices; 30,000 accidents involve extension cords. The message is plain—great caution must be used in using heating and electrical equipment and machinery with moving parts. Parents should stop and analyze the dangers involved in each household appliance and then carefully explain the risks to children, and instruct them in safe operation.

Recycling Industries Announce Contest for School-Aged Children

Recycling is becoming a popular word lately. Recycling saves natural resources, conserves energy, reduces foreign imports, cuts down on landfill space, and can even save money. To help promote recycling and an understanding of recycling, a recycling contest is being co-sponsored by Wisconsin recycling companies that are members of the National Association of Recycling Industries (NARI) or are members of the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel (ISIS). The contest is also co-sponsored by UW Extension and supported by the Wisconsin Solid Waste Recycling Authority, the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources and the Wisconsin Association for Environmental Education.

NARI (National Association of Recycling Industries) includes recyclers of non-ferrous metals, such as aluminum, copper, lead and zinc, along with recyclers processing paper, textiles and rubber. There are about 800 member firms nationally.

ISIS (Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel) is a trade association predominantly of processors and brokers of iron, steel and non-ferrous metal scrap. Nationally, ISIS has 1,300 member firms.

The contest is open to children in grades seven to twelve; but entries can be through 4-H Clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, or other youth organizations as well as through schools.

Contest entries are in four categories. Category one is an essay on recycling and is open for children grades seven through nine. The second category is for posters from children in grades seven through nine. Categories three and four are for essays and posters respectively from children in grades ten through twelve. Prizes will include a plaque presented to the winner in his or her hometown.

The deadline for application is April 20; for more information and an application form, contact your County Extension Agent, Bob Stodola, at 334-3491, 644-5204 or 342-2929, your junior or senior high school science teacher, a local recycling firm, or your district office of the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Kratzes Return From Goodwill Tour

A 16-member delegation of Wisconsin agricultural and community leaders — including Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kratz of West Bend — has just returned from a three-week People-to-People goodwill tour to Ecuador, Peru, Argentina and Brazil.

Kratz is the former President and now Chairman of the Board of the West Bend Malt and Grain Company. He also is the owner and operator of a hog feeding company.

During the diplomatic travel program, delegation members met with American Embassy officials and local agricultural representatives in Quito, Lima and Porto Alegre. Counterpart meetings also were held in Venado Tuerto.

The purpose of the tour was to give delegation members an opportunity to carry messages of friendship to their counterparts in South America. It also allowed them to visit various agricultural operations to compare methods and procedures. The mission was an official program of People-to-People International, a non-profit, private sector organization founded in 1956 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower to promote world peace through international understanding.

Realty Co. Granted Broker's License For North Carolina

Judi and Glenn Mittelstadt of Area Moraine Realty Company, Campbellsport, have been granted real estate broker's licenses for the State of North Carolina. This was the result of an extensive examination given to out-of-state licensees.

According to Judi Mittelstadt this expansion movement is intended to broaden their scope of operations and offer relocation marketing services. The area they will concentrate in is in the western mountain region of North Carolina. This is the famous Thermal Belt of the Blue Ridge Mountain area which lies on the southern border of the hills and enjoys a mild climate the year around. It is known as one of the fastest growing vacation and retirement centers in the continental United States.

Area Moraine will be interviewing brokers in the Tryon and Columbus region of Polk County to manage an office under the name of Caro-Moraine. Its goal will be to help people relocate into this rural yet cosmopolitan center. Over one half the population of Polk County has migrated from other parts of the country to escape the extremes of climate. The Tryon area enjoys a February mean temperature of 45.8 degrees and a July mean of 77.2 degrees. The freeze-free growing season is 200 days with a relative humidity of 70%. This eliminates the need of costly heating and cooling bills.

For more information on this fascinating area feel free to contact Area Moraine Realty or call them at 533-4389.

Open Door of County Seeking Volunteer Hotline Operators

The Open Door of Washington County, Inc. is now accepting applications for volunteer Hotline operators. The Hotline is a twenty-four phone service that serves Washington and Ozaukee Counties. The training program will begin on March 26 at 7:00 p.m. at the Open Door in West Bend. Volunteers make a four month commitment and work only eight hours per month on two shifts of their choosing. Most often, the shifts run from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. In addition, a monthly in-service meeting is required.

Specifically, the program offers drug education, personal growth workshops, crisis intervention training and suicide prevention techniques. Volunteers will also have an opportunity to learn more about community services and to exchange thoughts and ideas with other individuals who are likely to have common concerns about current social issues.

The Open Door has found that some persons volunteer in order to gain worthwhile experience that can enhance a personal resume or aid college studies. Others volunteer because they have heard that the experience is both unique and challenging. And still others volunteer because they simply want to help people.

Whatever the reason, the Open Door needs volunteers who can do the job, so if you have the ability to listen and a sincere desire to help people, contact Ann Stoffel by calling 334-4635, 644-6016, 933-7300 or 675-2354.

DNR Asked to Prepare in Event Of State Flooding

Department of Natural Resources' supervisory personnel have been asked to make preparations to aid local communities and citizens in the event of state flooding.

Andrew Damon, DNR Deputy Secretary, said department boats and other rescue equipment is being readied to assist in evacuation and rescue operations if requested.

"In the past," Damon said, "we have been asked by the Executive Office during periods of flooding to assist in the evacuation and rescue of persons in flooded areas." He noted that department personnel who would respond to such a request are being notified and that other steps being taken by the Department include: making an inventory of emergency electric generating and communications equipment; identifying and determining transportation needs for the moving of personnel and equipment; and providing services for testing public and private drinking water supplies in flooded areas.

"We certainly hope that we won't have any flooding which requires an emergency response in Wisconsin this spring," Damon continued, "but with the weather conditions, we want to be prepared to provide whatever emergency help we can if there is severe flooding."

Hephner Appointed to Serve on Council On Rural Area and Community Development

State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) announced that he has been appointed to serve on the Council on Rural Area and Community Development by Assembly Speaker Ed Jackamonis.

Created by executive order in 1976, the council is charged with coordinating, planning and programming among agencies and organizations which contribute to the development of rural areas and small communities.

"For example," Hephner explained, "the council has worked with the federal Farmers Home Administration on federal funding decisions relating to public water and sewers, community facilities, industrial development, business and industry, and multi-family housing loans and grants."

Through its subcommittees the council has begun to identify and discuss detailed issues facing rural areas and has made recommendations concerning disaster assistance, preserving small farms, land use, housing, health care, transportation and jobs, Hephner said.

"Most importantly, through its composition, the council allows for a unified federal, state and local approach to rural development problems and issues," Hephner said.

In addition to four state legislators, the council is comprised of five state agency heads, five citizen members, the Chancellor of the University of Wisconsin-Extension, and a representative of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Petri Encourages Bicycle Safety

"If you hear someone say 'How's your Gitane' or 'Where's your Peugeot', there's no cause for alarm," said State Senator Thomas E. Petri (R-2nd District). "It's not an invasion of the French Foreign Legion, it's one of the first signs of spring."

"Eager bicyclists are joining the robin as harbingers of warm weather," Petri quipped.

Petri's comments came as Wisconsin's bicycling enthusiasts prepare for what promises to be an exciting and enjoyable season on the many trails and bikeways across the state.

"Of the bicycling routes available, the Wisconsin Bikeway may provide you with the most interesting and exhilarating biking experience. The Bikeway consists of some 300 miles of well-paved secondary roads from La Crosse all the way to Kenosha," explained Petri.

The Wisconsin Bikeway follows a scenic route with varying degrees of difficulty across the entire state of Wisconsin. The trip can be broken up into convenient 30-mile segments as suggested by the Wisconsin Division of Tourism.

"It's amazing how bicycling has grown in the past few years," stated Petri. "A Schwinn Hornet with side baskets was in vogue when I was a kid. Now it's magnesium alloy sprockets and light-weight carbon frames," he added.

"I hope Wisconsin bikers will help make this a happy and safe year on Wisconsin's bike trails, by familiarizing themselves with safety regulations, and state facilities along the route," Petri concluded. "Both the bikers and the bike require a little TLC to ensure a healthy, happy summer."

Steve: I made a hundred in school today, Mom.

Mom: Good! What did you make it in?

Steve: Well, I made a forty in reading, thirty in spelling and thirty in arithmetic.

Not Too Early to Make Group Campground Reservations for Wisconsin State Parks

It's not too early to make group campground reservations for this summer in Wisconsin state parks, according to Loren Thorson, chief of recreation programs in the DNR's Bureau of Parks.

A group campground is intended for the larger groups of either young people, adults or families who wish to share a common camping experience. Group campgrounds, by design, provide the opportunity for common group activities.

Group campgrounds can accommodate various size groups ranging from 25 persons at Copper Falls State Park to over 1,000 persons at the Southern Kettle Moraine State Forest.

"Since many group outings require extensive planning, reservations early in the season are highly recommended," Thorson said. Reservation requests should be made using group campground reservation application forms.

It is strongly recommended that groups wishing to reserve a group campground contact the park superintendent by telephone first. "This advance discussion with the park superintendent is important in that it provides both the group leaders and the park officials the opportunity to determine the compatibility of the campground to the experience or planned program of the group," according to Thorson. "Some group campgrounds can accommodate tents only," Thorson noted, "and it's important that prospective campers know this in advance."

A total of 23 state parks and forests provide group campgrounds. Fees for adult groups are $.45 per adult per night or a minimum of $9.00 per group per night. Juvenile fees are $.20 per person per night or a $2.00 per group per night minimum.

Prepared by the University of Wisconsin-Extension in association with the State Election Board, these half-hour programs describe exact procedures for the voter and election worker to follow on election day. They give information on using voting machines and paper ballots, the roles of election officials, registration at the polls, challenging of voters, observers at the polls, and canvassing the vote.

For more information, video tapes or 16 mm films of the programs contact Pat Curtis, Elections Training Coordinator, University of Wisconsin-Extension, State Elections Board, 1734 Falls Road, Grafton, WI 53024; phone 414-375-0292.

Winter Snow and Cold Puts Damper on Home Construction

By Dan S. Wilson
Resource Agent, UW-Extension
West Bend, WI

Winter snow and cold put quite a damper on home construction in Wisconsin.

But it's a good time to plan for new home construction since present and future home builders need to be aware of the important energy-related building regulations that went into effect December 1, 1978.

All one and two-family homes constructed in Wisconsin after that date must meet the energy conservation standards spelled out in the state's new Uniform Dwelling Code.

The energy standards are based on performance, not on specific construction materials or techniques. The house as a whole must lose no more than a specified amount of heat per hour.

The architect and builder then have flexibility in deciding just how to meet that heat-loss limit, using things like caulking, weatherstripping, storm doors and windows, and insulation.

The energy standards apply not only to conventional homes, but also to manufactured or pre-fabricated homes. They also apply to vacation or recreational homes with permanent heating systems that use a non-renewable energy source.

The new standards do not apply to:

- 2) Extra rooms added to an existing building; or

- 3) Accessory buildings like garages or tool sheds.

All local building codes must be amended if necessary to match the Uniform Dwelling Code, which was drawn up under the direction of the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations (DILHR). Inspections under the new code must be performed by state-certified building inspectors.

DILHR is encouraging local governments to adopt and administer the code, and the agency will present regular training and certification workshops throughout the state. Some delay, however, in full implementation will be unavoidable. In spite of such delay, builders still must show they are complying with the new energy standards.

In areas where a local government has not had time to set up official inspection procedures, builders can get energy worksheets from local building inspectors, city clerks, lumber yards or from DILHR.

For more information about the new home energy conservation standards, or about other provisions of the Uniform Dwelling Code, contact the Safety and Buildings Division, Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations, P.O. Box 7269, Madison, WI 53707; or Washington County Land Use and Park Department, at 334-3491.

MPTI Course in Microwave Cooking

Many of today's busy cooks have enthusiastically adopted microwave cooking. For those who have a basic knowledge but would like to learn more advanced microwave techniques, Moraine Park Technical Institute will offer two sections of Microwave Cooking II.

The morning class begins March 28 and meets for six Wednesday mornings from 9-11:40 a.m. The evening section begins April 10 and meets for six Tuesday evenings from 7-9:40 p.m. All classes are at the Decorah Annex in the Decorah Shopping Center. Tuition for the course is $6.05, payable in advance at MPTI.

Students will learn, through demonstration and participation in preparation, techniques used in preparation of appetizers, meats, fish and poultry, desserts and food preservation. Attendance at Microwave II should stimulate enthusiasm for even greater use of the oven at home. Recipes and meal planning are included.

Class size is limited to fifteen, so register early to avoid disappointment. All registrations are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Schedule Informational Meeting On Areawide Clean Water Plan

The Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (SEWRPC) announced the scheduling of a series of public informational meetings, a regional planning conference, and a formal public hearing on a preliminary areawide water quality management plan which it has prepared for the seven-county Southeastern Wisconsin Region.

The Regional Planning Conference and the Public Hearing will be held at the Red Carpet Inn, New Orleans Room (across from General Mitchell Field) in Milwaukee, on Thursday, April 19. The Regional Planning Conference will run from 8:15 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., with the Public Hearing beginning at 7:00 p.m.

A total of five public informational meetings will be held throughout the Region beginning on March 27 and extending through April 10.

The Informational Meeting for Ozaukee and Washington counties will be held on Tuesday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m., at the Washington County Courthouse Auditorium in West Bend.

The purpose of the informational meetings is to present the findings and recommendations of the preliminary water quality plan, a plan prepared in response to a U.S. Congressional requirement set forth in Section 208 of Public Law 92-500. The goal of this law is to make the lakes and streams of the United States fishable and swimmable by 1983. Commission staff members will be present at the informational meetings to discuss the plan and to answer any questions concerning it. Interested public officials and citizens are invited to attend these meetings to learn about the plan and to offer any opinions thereon.

Water Quality Improvement For Washington County

Within Washington County, water quality would improve through programs recommended in the preliminary plan. Investigations by the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission indicate that portions of the Bark River, Cedar Creek, East Branch of the Milwaukee River, East Branch of the Rock River, Little Cedar Creek, Kewaskum Creek, Kohlsville River, North Branch of the Milwaukee River, Oconomoc River, Stony Creek, and Wallace Creek, plus Cedar, Five, and Little Cedar Lakes in Washington County currently meet recommended water quality standards. However, portions of the Ashippun River, Cedar Creek, Coney River, East Branch of the Rock River, Menomonee River, Milwaukee River, Rubicon River and Silver Creek, plus 12 of the 15 major lakes in the County, do not presently meet recommended water quality standards.

The plan recommends that the sewage treatment plant at Germantown be abandoned. The seven recommended sewage treatment plants must provide advanced wastewater treatment if water use objectives for Washington County are to be achieved. The Allenton, Kewaskum, and Newburg sewage treatment plants should rely on land application of effluent to achieve advanced treatment. In addition, the plan recommends that industrial wastewater discharges to a stream should be similar in quality to sewage treatment plant discharges to the same stream, and should be regulated through the state's discharge permit system.

Sewage sludge, a by-product of sewage treatment, is a soil-building resource when properly applied to the land. Proper management of this resource is recommended through the land spreading of sludge produced at the seven sewage treatment plants recommended for Washington County — Allenton, Hartford, Jackson, Kewaskum, Newburg, Slinger, and West Bend.

All land in Washington County should be managed to reduce nonpoint source water pollution through the use of low-cost or minimum land management practices. These land management practices would achieve up to a 25 percent reduction in the pollutants carried by storm water runoff to lakes and streams. Additional land management practices to reduce pollutants in runoff by 50 to 75 percent are needed in the watersheds of Lakes Bark and Twelve.

As many as 34 local management agencies need to take action to control water pollution in the County. Twenty-seven of these agencies presently exist, and seven new agencies would be created under the plan.

There's no sense in advertising your troubles. There's no market for them.

Since serious spring flooding appears to be a real threat in many parts of the Ninth District, I have checked with various federal agencies to see what kinds of assistance are available to flood victims. I was pleasantly surprised to learn that there are several programs covering the gamut of natural disaster-caused problems. The following are some you might consider should you unfortunately become a flood victim this spring:

- temporary provision of food and water;
- temporary housing, mortgage or rent subsidy, or grants for minimum essential repairs to allow early return to damaged homes;
- low-interest loans to repair flood damage to homes, farms, and businesses)
- grants of up to $5,000 for low-income families having no other resources;
- cash subsidies for crop loss or reduction due to floods;
- subsidized livestock feed to replace lost stocks;
- loans to businesses to offset income lost because of flood conditions;
- Unemployment Compensation for persons temporarily out of work because of flood damages to businesses; and
- adjustments to outstanding VA and HUD housing loans to allow for repair of flood damage to homes so mortgaged.

Various federal and state agencies also provide valuable services during the actual flooding — emergency medical care, search and rescue of victims, debris removal, emergency communications and transportation, sandbags and equipment to control floodwaters, and so forth. There are also a variety of programs to prepare communities and individuals for future floods, such as emergency food stocks and expert help on flood-water control and preventative home construction.

Should serious flooding occur in our area, the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration will set up temporary help centers in key locations, in cooperation with state and local officials. These centers will provide all kinds of help, from dispensing of food stamps to emergency loan forms. Local radio stations and newspapers will be kept informed about such centers so they can inform you as quickly as possible.

While we all hope that such help will not be necessary, it is reassuring and helpful to know that it is there if needed.

Telephone Lines Swamped by Questions On New Personalized License Plates

The state department of transportation's division of motor vehicles said today that telephone lines all over the state have been overloaded by questions generated about issuance of new "base" and personalized license plates.

Norbert K. Anderson, administrator of motor vehicles, said "the result is a lot of frustrated callers who continually receive busy signals," and the necessity to divert staff from other duties to handle the incoming calls.

Anderson said the most frequently-asked questions are: "How much do license plates cost?" — $18 for autos and stationwagons, $30 for trucks with a gross weight of 4,500 pounds or less, $42 for 6,000 pounds and less and $57 for 8,000 pounds and less.

"I sent my renewal application in several weeks ago but haven't received my plates yet" — There is a backlog of applications that may extend until mid-March. Law enforcement agencies have been notified and asked to honor recently-expired plates. "Keep your cancelled check or check stub entry to show that application was made in the proper time period," Anderson suggests.

"I got my new plates, but there are no year stickers" — The new base plates have 1980 embossed on them. Annual decals will not be issued until 1981.

"A personalized license plate has been approved, but I haven't got it yet" — The backlog of applications is slowing issuance of personalized plates as well. Law enforcement agencies have been asked to honor recently-expired plates for a few weeks. Those personalized plates with alphabetical combinations that are the same as plates issued in the normal sequence will not be issued until the month that combination would be issued.

"Why has my pickup license fee changed?" — Recent legislation established truck weight categories and fees as follows: $30 for 4,500 pounds or less; $42 for not more than 6,000 pounds; and $57 for not more than 8,000 pounds. Previous weight categories of 3,000 and 10,000 pounds have been eliminated.

"What hours are registration counters open?" — The Madison registration counter is open from 7:15 a.m. to 5:45 p.m. Milwaukee registration counter hours are from 7:15 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Both are open during the noon hour.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Hilbert Mueller, who passed away one year ago, March 24, 1978:

He bid no one a last farewell, or even said good-bye. He was gone before we knew it, but God only knows why. They say time heals all sorrow, and helps us to forget. But so far time has only proved how much we miss him yet.

God gave us strength to face it, courage to bear the blow. But what it meant to lose him, no one will ever know. Our hearts ache with sorrows, our eyes shed many tears. God knows how much we miss him every day in the year.

Sadly missed by his wife, Francis, and son, Glenn and family.

Defending Champions

Girls' Track Team Loaded Again; 14 Letter Winners

The Kewaskum girls' track team, defending Scenic Moraine champions, again have loads of experience and talent, and hope to win their second straight title, with visions of a Class B State Track championship.

They also have a new coach in Mary Lawson, who succeeds Connie Kreuser, now head coach at Hartford.

There are 14 letter winners on the large squad of 54 track candidates, including all four girls who won the Class B mile relay at the state meet last year. This foursome includes sophomore Barb Wilson and Julann Zemlicka, Diane Bremser and Laurie Wilson.

Barb also placed in the 880 and the mile and should be a big point-getter for the Indians. Laurie was a state qualifier in the hurdles. The big problem at present though is that Laurie injured a knee last week while practicing on the long jump and tore ligaments. It appears she might be out for eight weeks and this is a big blow to the team.

Senior Pam Kempf is also back. She is a star performer and has gone to state in the past three years. Pam is in hurdles, relays and some long jumping. Soph Katie Lightner also went to state in the 100 and she will be back for more sprint work.

Other letter winners returning are: seniors Geri Buss, high jump and hurdles; Chelli Dre-

Boys' Track Team Has 12 Lettermen

The Kewaskum boys' track team, with 12 lettermen returning and a better turnout for the squad, hopes to improve on last year's poor record.

Coach Neil Denniston has six senior veterans among his 40 candidates, namely Dick Kleinmann, distances; Mike Schaub, hurdles and sprints; Robin Neitzel, distances; Todd Rodenkirch, middle distance; Kelly Scannell, pole vault, and Paul Bremser, distances and high jump.

The promising junior trackmen are headed by Mike Pettit, dashes, relays and long jumps; Tom Kern, hurdles; Dave Subat, hurdles, 440 and relays; Henry Schilter, long jump and sprints; Joel Herriges, long jump and sprints, and Steve Beck, 880.

Denniston is also impressed with John Czoschke in the hurdles and distances; Rod Schultz, sprints and long jump; Rick Waldkirch, weights, and soph Jim Geldreich, high jump.

Denniston will be assisted again by Dave Drexler and newcomers Keith Amundson and Fred Lautz, replacing Ed Slegger and Fran Charland.

The Indians opened their indoor campaign Tuesday in a co-ed dual meet with Plymouth.

her, sprints; juniors Gayle Staehler, sprints and long jump; Tracy Schleif, high jump and hurdles, and Laura Asch, distances; sophomore Carrie Dreher, middle distances; Mary Brenholt, hurdles and relays, and Lisa Kemp, sprints and relays.

Kewaskum may also have a strong freshmen group on the varsity. Sue Bade will be a tough competitor in the 220, 440 and high jump. There is also Jill Yearling, good high jumper; Michelle Rodenkirch, 440 and Kara Weinreich, hurdles.

The girls will participate in 16 meets in the regular season, four more than the boys.

The girls opened the season in an indoor meet against Plymouth Tuesday.

Bastian Named MVP Wrestler

The Kewaskum High School wrestling team voted Jeff Bastian as most valuable performer and Scott Klein and Steve Beck co-captains.

Klein heads the list of 12 letterwinners. All but three are underclassmen.

Soph Klein, at 98 lbs., ended up with a 17-4-1 record, took second in the Scenic Moraine meet, first in the Horicon Invitational, and third in the Fond du Lac Invitational.

Bastian, at 145, had a 12-7-2 record, while Beck finished with 14-8.

MADISON, WI—At midweek conditions for snowmobiling and cross-country skiing were good to excellent in northern areas of the state and fishing in general is improving throughout Wisconsin.

Southeast District

Trout fishing is good in the Port Washington harbor. Both rainbow and brown trout are being taken. Most of the fish are in the 3 to 8 pound class. Some trout are also being taken at the Lakeside power plant in St. Francis in Milwaukee County.

Ice fishing for panfish is generally good throughout the District. Bluegill fishing has been good on Lake Geneva and the Lauderdale Lakes in Walworth County, Crooked Lake in Sheboygan County, Elizabeth and Hooker Lakes in Kenosha County, Eagle and Wind Lakes in Racine County and Little Cedar Lake in Washington County. Crappies are biting on Marie and Elizabeth Lakes in Kenosha County, Big Cedar Lake in Washington County and Okauchee and Pewaukee Lakes in Waukesha County. The perch are biting on Wind Lake in Racine County.

Horicon Area

Fond du Lac County — Panfish activity is picking up in area lakes. Panfish action is good on Kettle Moraine Lakes and Crooked Lake. Perch are biting on Long Lake. The snowmobile trails are still open, but are in poor condition. Cross-country ski trails are ice packed and very fast.

Dodge County — Canada geese began arriving March 13. There is excellent northern fishing on Lake Emily. Lake ice is beginning to deteriorate.

Aeration is credited with helping provide sufficient oxygen in Beaver Dam Lake to prevent a severe winterkill which would probably have occurred otherwise.

Roethke Wins 2nd State Judo Title

The West Bend Judo Club participated in the 1979 Wisconsin AAU state judo championships at the Central YMCA, Milwaukee.

Winning her second consecutive women's grand championship was Lynn Roethke. To participate in the grand championship she had to win first place in the 145 pound woman's class. Roethke was undefeated in all her competition of the day.

Her coach Jon Sanfilippo said, "Lynn is no longer the young underdog but has now established herself as the benchmark for women's judo state-wide and nationally. She may even add national international awards."
