Regal Purchases Major Direct Sales Marketing Co.

Regal Ware, Inc., the Kewaskum based cookware and small appliance manufacturer, has purchased the assets of Saladmaster, Colony House and Nationwide Acceptance Finance, Inc. of Dallas, Texas, from Dimark, Inc. according to James D. Reigle, President of Regal Ware, Inc. These companies are leaders in the cookware direct sales marketplace and will form two new wholly owned subsidiaries of Regal Ware, Inc.: Saladmaster, Inc. and Nationwide Acceptance, Inc. No other changes in operation are contemplated in the immediate future. These subsidiaries will remain headquartered in Dallas.

Founded in 1947, Saladmaster has grown to become one of the largest cookware direct sales organizations in the world. Through an extensive dealer network in all 50 states, Canada and some 12 foreign countries, Saladmaster markets low moisture, heavy stainless steel cookware and accessories directly to consumers through in-home demonstrations. Nationwide Acceptance, Inc. specializes in providing financing to consumers purchasing Saladmaster and Colony House products.

This acquisition will strengthen Regal's position in the Direct Sales marketplace, and for the first time, provide the productive Saladmaster organization with a direct manufacturing tie-in. Strictly a marketing and finance organization, prior to this announcement, Saladmaster bought their products from a variety of sources.

At the time of sale these new Regal subsidiaries were privately held, and the terms of purchase were not disclosed.

Kewaskum Hosting 4 Foreign Students

This year Kewaskum High School is hosting four foreign students. Two of the students are sponsored by the A.F.S.

Bassma Marji is 16 years old and a senior in high school. She originally comes from Amman, the capital of Jordan. She speaks Arabic, her native language, as well as French and English. Back home, Bassma goes to an all girls school of 2,500. She comments, "It is very different in my school. The kids don't go to the different classrooms, the teacher come to us."

In Jordan, Bassma lives with her four brothers and parents. Her host family is the Marvin Kleinkes. Her A.F.S. sisters are Susi and Claudie.

The other A.F.S. student, Mirjam Sibbel, comes to Kewaskum from Zamdam, The Netherlands. It is a town of about 125,000, five miles north of Amsterdam. Mirjam is the fourth of five children and while staying in Kewaskum she feels right at home with the five Dieringer children and Mr. and Mrs. James Dieringer, her host family.

Upon arriving in New York, August 7, Mirjam had an opportunity to spend some time looking over the countryside. After several biking excursions in Wisconsin, she says one big difference between Holland and Wisconsin is the hills!

Two other foreign students have come to spend the year in Kewaskum and are also a welcome addition to the student body. Marcela Espinosa Barrios and Adriana (Dini) Martinez both come from Bogota, the capital of Colombia, in northwestern South America.

Marcela, who is staying with the Eugene Laatsch family and Dini whose host family is the Ervin Grandins, knew each other in Colombia, and went to the same school. Dini's and Marcela's school in Colombia was smaller than Kewaskum, and it was an all girls' school. Their feelings on co-ed? Great!

Both girls were invited to spend a year in Kewaskum and gladly took the opportunity to improve their English and learn about our country. After they return to Colombia, both girls plan on attending college. Marcela will study medicine, while Dini plans to study tourism.

All four girls are a welcome addition to the Kewaskum school system.

Kewaskum Receives Second Brewer Attendance Award

The Milwaukee Brewers honored their 1979 Community Night Attendance Winners on Fan Appreciation Night at County Stadium Saturday.

Kewaskum was honored for the second year in a row for having the largest Wisconsin state attendance at a Brewers game for a city under 5,000 population on Kewaskum Night, May 31, when they drew 21% of the population. A record 540 Kewaskum area baseball fans were in attendance on that night. The fans witnessed an exciting game as the Brewers came from behind to defeat the world champion New York Yankees, 5-4.

For the sixth consecutive season, Fond du Lac and Burlington earned the first place trophy for their respective categories. Each community has the distinction of being the only communities to win their respective categories since the awards were originated by Dick Hackett, Brewer Vice President-Marketing. The Brewers added the new category — the largest percentage of population for a community under 5,000 last year, giving smaller communities a chance to win an award.

The Kewaskum trophy was presented to Bob Danielsen, village president, in pre-game ceremonies. Danielsen and his wife Donna, Paul Behring, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and his wife Mary, and Dan Filzen, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and his wife Gail, were on hand for the festivities.

Kewaskum Night was promoted by the Chamber of Commerce.

United Way Volunteers Meet

Kewaskum Area United Way met Tuesday evening, September 18, to orientate community volunteers to the 1979 United Way Program. Bob Zarling emphasized the service aspects of the volunteer's job — service both to the agencies benefiting and to the contributor who is being given the opportunity to support community needs.

Ed Christie, assisting Zarling, showed volunteers the United Way Campaign film, "People Are Waiting," starring John Forsythe. This moving film demonstrated to volunteers how United Way works to solve community problems all across the country as well as how agencies budget and allocate their money. Christie also explained the function of several local organizations that are a part of United Way.

Servicing charities and assisting agencies is why United Way's success is so important. Co-chairman Ron Johann pointed out that agencies such as the American Red Cross, Association for Retarded Citizens, Big Brothers of Washington County and Big Sisters of Washington County and many more, can only benefit if the $15,550 goal is met. Kick-off date for this year's drive is September 24.

520 Birds Taken at Turkey Shoot

The 27th Annual Turkey Shoot sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum at the Bar-N Dude Ranch Sunday was another fine success. The weather was beautiful and the crowd was about the same as last year with thousands of people joining the fun.

A total of 520 turkeys were taken on the line, pistol, bow and arrow and trap shoots.

Also caught were 250 trout (and one sucker, right Gumby?) in the trout pond. The largest trout, measuring 14½ inches, was caught by 6-year-old Eric Harrison of Sheboygan Falls. For his effort, he won a prize of a set of Regal Ware cookware.

Approximately 3,550 sandwiches were served which included hamburgers, brats and hot dogs. Refreshments were also served.

High School Plans Annual Musical, 'Fiddler on the Roof'

The cast has been selected and practice is in progress for this year's Kewaskum High School musical, "Fiddler on the Roof." The musical will be presented in the high school auditorium November 2 and 3 and stars Tom Rosenberger and Darcie Schmidt.

"Fiddler on the Roof" is a tale of Tevye, an old dairyman and his neighbors in the village of Anatevka, Russia. As a Jew living in Russia during the early years of this century, Tevye must face political arrest, government oppression, and his sharp-tongued wife, Golde. His five strong-willed daughters insist on breaking tradition and marrying the men of their choice, rather than whom the town matchmaker, Yente, chooses for them. However, through it all, Tevye remains his humorous, humble self.

Cast members in this year's production include: Tevye played by Tom Rosenberger. Golde is portrayed by Darcie Schmidt. The daughters include Tzeitel, played by Sherry Foerster, Laura Asch as Hodel, Patti Sleger portrays Chava, and Shrintze is portrayed by Carol Lehmann.

Belke is portrayed by Julie Larson. Donna Ehnert plays Yente, the matchmaker, Jeff Kreuser is Motel, the tailor. A student, Perchick, is played by Rick Stefanovic. FyedKa is portrayed by Richard Rauch. Mike Paul plays Lazar Wolf, Ken Fellenz is Mordcha, the Innkeeper. Craig Rosenthal is Mendel. Scott Buchel is the Rabbi. Aurahm is portrayed by Craig Jacak. Nachum, the beggar, is played by Dan Butzke. Grandma Tzeitel is played by Shelly Hamernik. Kelley Coulter is Fruma-Sarah. Constable is played by Tim Kougal. Julie Dettmann is Shaindel. Don Goedden is the Fiddler.

The villagers include: Mary Straub, Jackie Loof, Colleen Shaw, Darla Prost, Laurie Kougl, Renee Janz, Kathy Rochon, Vernon Jung, Patty Seefeldt, Lori Lloyd, Debbie Gavin, Vicki Reif, Jane Russell, Laurie Lemke, Lisa Taylor, Dave Goeden, Jackie Kirmse, Debbie

Tickets for "Fiddler on the Roof" will soon be available from cast members at $2.50 for adults and $1.75 for students. The public is cordially invited. The entire production is under the direction of Robert Getter. Assisting him are Mr. Bertelsen, musical choreographer, and Mrs. Bertelsen as dance choreographer.

Discuss Sludge Conditioner, Town Kewaskum Fire Contract

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board met on Monday, September 17, to discuss one particular proposal for dewatering equipment at the sewage treatment plant and to discuss the fire contract with the Town of Kewaskum. Decisions on both items will be at a later date. September 30, 1979 was officially proclaimed "Charlie Miller Day" by the board.

The situation concerning the purchase of a sewage sludge conditioner gets thicker and thicker. The original bids ranged from $20,089.00 to $89,450.00 for the equipment. Permutit Co. of Morton Grove, Illinois was the lowest bidder and had an alternate bid of $25,089.00 for a larger version of its device. The other company considered is Smith and Loveless of Milwaukee whose bid was $37,552.00, and several board members were impressed with its machine which is in operation at Ripon. The engineering firm of Foth and Van Dyke had recommended the Permutit bid.

Tom Lawn, a sales representative of Permutit was in attendance to clarify his company's proposal. He stated that their machine was intended for municipal use by small communities as Kewaskum. He mentioned that he did a feasibility study for the village last spring and found their equipment appropriate for the village's type of sludge. Sewage sludge varies from community to community. For example, the old coil filter which was sold to another community operates well there but did not function with Kewaskum's type of waste. The village originally rejected a pilot project by Permutit due to the cost and the possibility of giving one company a distinct advantage.

Lawn claimed that the equipment was designed for simple operation and intended to specifically reduce the volume of the sludge. Supt. of Wastewater Treatment Pete Albers had contacted several other communities where Permutit equipment was in operation. Most of them mentioned some maintenance problems and the difficulty in getting parts, whereas those communities with Smith and Loveless equipment seemed to have few maintenance problems. Lawn responded that the breakdowns were due to a chain and sprocket mechanism on dewatering machines of several years ago. The situation is now supposedly corrected by an acid and alkali-resistant poly-vinyl drive wheel, and there have supposedly been no breakdowns since.

At present, Permutit has no installations in Wisconsin. President Danielsen was curious as to why. Lawn responded that he felt the equipment was not as efficient as he would have liked until now. The company is very interested in providing a showcase piece within the state to establish a new market. For this reason, Permutit actually priced the equipment especially for the village at $5,000 to $10,000 below the usual price.

There was some discussion as to the percentage of solids in the dewatered sludge. The village would like to get 10% in order to haul it in open trucks with tailgate gaskets and deposit it on farmers' manure piles. Lawn felt the device could get 9-10% and probably higher. He also warned that percentage figures were relative depending on the community's sludge type. He felt an additional press costing $25,000 more would not be necessary with the model 200. The model 100 would have to be operating longer and at almost peak capacity to do the job.

The board wanted more time to consider the matter, and some village personnel would like to see the company's equipment in operation. The closest installation is at the Armour-Dial Co. in Montgomery, Illinois. The board has 60 days to act on the bids. When a bid is accepted, the equipment must operate satisfactorily for a specified period after installation before any payment is made.

The fire contract for the Town of Kewaskum was discussed with Dan Stoffel, a town supervisor. He wanted to know exactly how the monetary amount was determined and exactly how the town's money was being spent for fire protection. The town is also interested in negotiating a fire contract on an hourly basis. The present contract calls for $28,000 in return for up to 19 fire calls. Beyond that, an hourly rate of $4.00 will be paid to the firemen.

The town's portion of the cost of fire protection is based on equalized valuation. It presently is at 1 mill. Stoffel questioned the sacred nature of this traditional method of assessment. He claimed it may be cheaper to have fire calls charged to the town based on operating costs and man-hours, since the number of fires is apparently declining. The Village Board and Superintendent of Public Works, Augie Bilgo, responded that it would be nearly impossible to place a dollars and cents figure on the costs of operating the volunteer fire department. Although it is a part of the village, the fire department's equipment is to an extent paid for by the firemen and funds raised at the annual picnic. Volunteers often leave their jobs for fires or for additional training, etc. Also, when considering insurance, compensation for an individual fire would be hard to determine.

Bilgo provided an ironic anecdote that when the latest aerial fire truck was delivered, he was told how the village had a fine and expensive piece of equipment and that it was hoped they never had to use it. Bilgo commented that available fire protection and the possibility of having no fires are worth a high price.

The village will send out the contract and give the town time to consider it before the next meeting.

An official proclamation has been signed by the board and the village president proclaiming September 30, 1979 as "Charlie Miller Day," whereas he has "completed 22 years and 3 months of service as a community leader of the Village of Kewaskum" and served with "pride and dedication." Festivities with speakers and refreshments will be held at the high school gym for the famous photographer, electrician, politician, "mayor," county board supervisor, and unique personality. In conjunction with this, there was a testimonial resolution to Mary M. Miller for her "30 years of faithful service" to the Kewaskum Public Library.

Paul Behring was again present to present the Village of Kewaskum with a trophy for being the community with the largest representation per capita at a Brewers game. Annually, there is a "Kewaskum Night," and the village has taken the attendance award for the second year in a row. (Kewaskum is "cool" because it has so many fans).

The board granted three bartenders' licenses to Jerome Ackerman, 25, Leslie Pennington, 19, and Carol Wesenberg, 23, who will be tending bar at Apollo's Lyre. Neither physicians nor the police chief had objections. However, not everything is "on the house." One license was denied as the individual had numerous traffic violations and the police chief recommended denial. Another license was tabled until Chief Hlavaty could be present, as he had recommended denial because of the individual's lack of maturity. Some board members felt this was not an adequate objection in itself and the specific situation should be clarified.

The board authorized the hiring of Harry Heider on a part-time basis to help with some necessary park maintenance over the fall and winter. The board made a one-time exception to the rule of advertising.

The board also approved the purchase of a used lever drag for the park diamonds and beach from August Bilgo for $75.

A building permit will not be granted to Regal Ware for erection of a storage shed until a zoning variance is approved. A permit was granted to Jerry Buchel who is building a detached garage.

The village will be closing its dump during winter months and thereby saving $200 to $300 since a caretaker will not be necessary. Often the site is plowed out and not visited by "dumpers" on Saturdays. If there is a dire need to deposit some debris, the dump can always be opened specially.

Permission was given for Bill Martin to attend the League of Wisconsin Municipalities Conference at Madison on October 17, 18 and 19. Administrator Dan Schmidt will be the alternate.

Martin noted in his customary report to the board that auditors from Watson, Rice and Company checked some records in regard to federal funds used for some construction at the sewage plant in 1970-71. They found there may have been a $21,000 overpayment, not in actual dollars but in estimated building cost. Because of the length of time involved, the federal government may decide not to pursue the matter. If they do, Martin vowed that he would contest it, as he believes the village was not provided enough funds in the first place. He advocated the assistance of Congressman Sensenbrenner if necessary.

As usual, Ray Hergges moved to adjourn.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

At times silently, awfully listening, then breaking into enthusiastic applause or singing along, the audience witnessed a stirring program last Thursday night. Leslie Lemke, blind, spastic, mentally retarded, held them in his spell for over an hour as he played the piano and sang, and it had to be impossible.

The Junior Woman's Club and the Woman's Club sponsored the program for the public to attend at the high school auditorium, and not a few of them smiled wonderingly through their tears at what they were hearing.

Attended by his foster parents, the Lemkes, Leslie played from his memory, classical selections, popular numbers, and many requests from the listeners. From Chopin to disco, Leslie amazed all from age three to eighty.

It was a truly rewarding evening, and I hope I speak for all who were there in saying I'm glad I didn't miss it. Thank you, ladies, for the opportunity!

Mrs. Orv (Ruth) Behnke

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

Just a few lines from some former residents: Jerry and Audrey Gaugh, and children, Joan, Gerald, Ronald and Cheryl Bruessel.

First of all, we got through hurricane "David" with no trouble at all. Being in central Florida, the most we had was some gusting winds and the rain for 1 1/2 days. In no time we had our beautiful, sunny skies back.

Joan is about to start her third year of college. She'll be going to the University of Central Florida (formerly FTU) studying medical lab technology. Gerald is in his second year at Valencia Community College studying communications. Ron is also at Valencia in his first year. Cheryl has just started the 8th grade at Meadowbrook Junior High School. She had been promoted to the advanced band there this year in which she plays the clarinet.

Audrey has just completed her third year as the organist for the Orlando Twins Class AA baseball team which is a minor league affiliate of the Minnesota Twins.

We all would like to say "hello" to all our friends and relatives in the Kewaskum area.

Junior Jargon

The piano playing and vocal renditions by Leslie Lemke was an inspiration at the joint meeting of the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club and Kewaskum Woman's Club on September 13 at the Kewaskum High School.

The inspirational program started the active 1979-80 year for the Kewaskum Juniors. September is an active month for Juniors. An appreciation lunch was held for village employees on September 19. Story hour starts in September as well as monthly visits to Beechwood Rest Home. A $50 donation will be given to the CARE Hondouous School Project. Club members will be helping with the United Fund.

New members are always welcome to Kewaskum Juniors. Any gal between the ages of 18 and 40 who desires to "get a little more out of life," please call membership chairman Phyllis Schmidt at 626-4656 for more information. Juniors work hard for Kewaskum and have fun in the process.

Quilting Group to Sponsor Workshop

With all the talk of energy saving, the Cedar Creek Quilters have decided to do their part. Recently formed to share ideas and encourage the newly rediscovered art of quilting, the fifteen club members think there is no better way to fight Wisconsin winters than making your own quilt. On Wednesday, October 3, they will sponsor a one day workshop at Cedarburg's Community Methodist Church to share their enthusiasm and knowledge.

Morning workshops, from 9:30 to noon, will offer participants classes ranging from all they need to know to make their first quilt, to how to complete one in just eight hours. Other morning sessions include learning the folding techniques to make the beautiful radiant star pattern, rediscovery of the traditional art of hand applique and the exciting new technique called stained glass quilting.

Afternoon sessions will run from 1:00 to 3:30. Members will demonstrate how to put a tote bag together in one session, how to make designs come alive with trapunte and white on white quilting, short-cut methods of cutting squares and triangles and variations of the old favorite log cabin pattern. Repeated will be the workshop on the basics necessary to make a first quilt.

Participants are asked to choose one session from the morning workshops and one from the afternoon. Orientation begins at 9:00 with lunch from noon to 1:00. Participants are asked to bring a bag lunch. Dessert and beverage will be included and a show and tell period will be part of the lunch time activities.

The Cedar Creek Quilters are eager to help new quilting groups form and will have helpful information available to interested persons. The fee for the entire day is $10.00. For information or to register, call 377-8265 in Cedarburg, 3347350 or 338-6964 in West Bend or 626-2550 in Kewaskum.

Take Extra Care When In School Zones

Governor Dreyfus has proclaimed September as Pedestrian Safety Month in Wisconsin.

A five-sided sign shaped like an old school house, with a boy and girl carrying books, is a warning to drivers that they are entering a school zone.

In Wisconsin it is required that a driver reduce speed to 15 miles per hour in a school zone when any children are present.

Kewaskum High School's Indians won their opening football game, a non-conference contest at Fox Lake Friday, September 17, by a one-sided 38-19 score.

During the height of the severe electrical storm early Saturday, September 18, two adjoining residences on the corner of Third and West Water Streets were struck by the same bolt of lightning. They were the Mrs. Lorinda Schaefer and George Eggert, Jr. homes. The bolt apparently struck the television antennas on both homes and ran down the wires leading into the houses. Although the damage was slight at the Eggert residence, the antenna and roof were slightly damaged, a window screen was knocked off and a window broken at the Schaefer house.

Miss Marlene Mary Backhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Backhaus, Route 2, Kewaskum, and Charles Andrew Schaefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schaefer, South Byron, were married September 11, at St. Michaels.

Announcement was made the past week of the appointment of Eugene M. Gnacinski, Kewaskum, as a district agent for Modern Woodmen of America for Ozaukee and Washington Counties.

Hephner Criticizes Hanaway for Voting To Increase Salary

(MADISON) — State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) sharply criticized Republican State Senator Donald Hanaway for "lining his own pockets in his first day in office."

Hephner, a longtime opponent of salary increases for state legislators, was reacting to Hanaway's vote to increase legislative salaries by 14.5% over the next two years. The action will raise legislative pay to $22,532 for what is legally defined as a part-time job.

"How can he look his constituents in the eye. Hanaway comes down here on his first day in session and votes himself a 14.5% pay hike. I just cannot accept that," said Hephner.

"There's simply no justification for Hanaway's action," continued Hephner. "Even without the raise a state senator is well off."

Wisconsin senators have large well paid staffs that are getting larger all the time. Senators got a liberal office allowance and $30 per day tax free to live on.

"My God, what more does he need," Hephner said.

"This bill could not have passed without greedy Republicans joining greedy Democrats," said Hephner.

"I'm going to start calling him 'Giveaway Hanaway'."

"Hanaway knew what the salary was when he was elected," said Hephner. "I don't recall Hanaway telling people that his first official day in session he would vote himself a 14.5% pay hike."

Wisconsin legislators will now be the fifth highest paid group in the country. Only such states as California and New York will be higher paid.

"That's quite a sad state of affairs for a part-time body," Hephner said.

Less than two months ago Hanaway was campaigning on cutting government spending and fooled the people into believing that he was for that. The people now should understand who is the conservative and who is the big spender, Hephner added.

Teach Children Safe Walking Rules

Governor Dreyfus has proclaimed September as Pedestrian Safety Month in Wisconsin.

Teach your children safe walking rules early in life, and they'll have a better chance to live longer, says the Wisconsin Office of Highway Safety.

Take them by the hand when they are very young, instructing them to cross at intersections rather than in the middle of the block. Where WALK and DON'T WALK signals are in operation, advise them to wait until the WALK message shows.

Remind them to yield to automobiles. Waiting a few seconds is a lot safer than trying to outrun a car. Advise them to walk, not run, across roadways.

AMPI District 7-D To Meet at Amerahn

In addition to hearing reports on the business of the co-op, members will elect five delegates and a region director. Delegates represent the membership at the co-op's annual meeting in March in San Antonio, Texas.

This is one of 62 district meetings for 18,000 AMPI members in Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

District 7-D includes dairy farmers in Washington and Ozaukee counties and one township each in Sheboygan and Fond du Lac counties.

Homeowners, Businesses That Improve Septic Systems Eligible for Fund Grants

Wisconsin homeowners and businesses that replace or rehabilitate their septic systems this year may qualify for a 1980 Wisconsin Fund grant if applications are in to the Department of Natural Resources by January 1, 1980.

The 1980-82 budget signed by Governor Lee Dreyfus continued and revised the year-old Wisconsin Fund Septic Tank Replacement and Rehabilitation Program.

One of the major changes in the funding program will allow eligible homeowners and businesses to begin work on their septic system before the DNR makes a Wisconsin Fund grant award. Previously, the grant award had to precede any construction.

In addition, those who begin work after the July 29, 1979, effective date of the budget and before the end of the year may qualify for a 1980 grant if they have an enforcement order and their county is participating in the program by January 1, 1980.

"We have a few months of work ahead of us before the administrative details are ironed out," said Paul Guthrie, director of the DNR Office of Intergovernmental Programs. "We just want people to know they don't have to go through the winter with a failing system and no hope of receiving a grant."

Realizing the need for financial incentives to improve the quality of the state's waters, the Wisconsin Legislature in 1978 authorized the Wisconsin Fund to assist private septic system owners. Over a decade, about $20 million will be available to provide 60% grants ($3,000 maximum) to cover the cost of improving septic systems.

Wisconsin Fund grant applications are usually filed by the county sanitation or zoning administrator on behalf of the property owner. Under the revised legislation, municipalities and townships no longer may file these applications.

Before a county can participate in the revised Wisconsin Fund septic system program, the county board must pass an ordinance concerning a septic system inspection and maintenance program and the certifications used in the application process.

Another significant legislative change in the grant program was the requirement that the DNR establish a priority list upon which to base distribution of the funds. The system will generally rank projects on the basis of potential or actual harm to public health and water quality.

People who receive a county or state enforcement order to replace or improve their septic systems will be eligible to seek grant funds for three years after the order is issued if a completed Wisconsin Fund application is submitted and work is done within 12 months after the order is issued.

Even if work is completed before a grant is awarded, the application will remain on a priority list for three years. Grant eligibility will not be restricted to the fiscal year of the application.

More Budget Shell Games

In the next few days Congress must finalize its Federal Budget spending and tax targets for the fiscal year beginning October 1st. The preliminary fiscal goal it set in May must now be revised to reflect the uncertainty of the economy and Congress' free-spending habits, but a tough and bitter fight awaits the final Budget resolution in the House, and the outcome is uncertain.

First of all, the proposed Budget would further increase 1980 federal spending to $549.8 billion, up $17.8 billion just since May! Part of that rise is due to economic conditions and new energy programs, but much of it reflects the fact that Congress has already overspent its earlier targets by $4.3 billion. Many House Members, including myself, will be fighting to reduce rather than increase those spending levels. Our goal: to balance the Budget.

The House Budget Committee's recommendations call for an increase in the 1980 Budget deficit to $33.8 billion, $10.8 billion more in red ink than earlier estimates. In my opinion that is going in the wrong direction. Budget deficits are a major contributor to inflation and a weakened dollar. If we further undermine the dollar with such deficits, we will further weaken our already shaky economy.

It is important to note the cyclical nature of inflation — example: the $7.3 billion increase in next year's Budget because of inflation, which widens the current deficit and further fuels inflation!

So the deficit question will generate a tough fight between those in favor of a balanced budget, who nearly won earlier this year, and those against it. Involved in this, too, will be the related question of the national debt, which will probably be increased again. That is another move I will resist.

Part of the Budget debate will also focus on tax measures intended to boost the economy and new defense spending. Already the House Budget panel has rejected GOP moves for tax cuts to fight recession and bipartisan efforts to boost defense spending to gather support for the troubled arms limitation pact with the Soviet Union now in the Senate.

So, the final action on the Budget will begin with many lines drawn and many different side issues present. What will certainly result will be a thorough discussion on national economic policies. What is less likely, unfortunately, will be a shift toward fiscal sanity by the Congress. Pre-election politics will probably prevail.

Taxpayers Can Receive Help From IRS Problem Resolution Office

Often it seems as though modern life is full of problems. We have problems getting the car repaired; problems getting service in a restaurant. One of the biggest problems seems to be cutting through the red tape to find someone to handle your problem.

But there's at least one bright spot. If you have a persistent problem with the Internal Revenue Service and can't get satisfaction through normal channels, there is someone who can handle your difficulty in the IRS Problem Resolution Office, or PRP for short.

PRP is designed to handle the difficulties that a taxpayer has not been able to get resolved through normal channels. These can run the gamut from problems with late or lost refunds and incorrect billings, to questions on the status of an audit or a collection action.

Last year, over 55,000 taxpayers nationwide received help from PRP. One type of case involved taxpayers who were repeatedly billed for taxes owed, even after they had presented proof of payment. They turned to PRP after being unable to resolve the difficulty through regular IRS procedures.

In another type of case, a taxpayer filed a return expecting a refund but received a bill instead. The taxpayer checked with the IRS, and, as instructed filed an amended return. Months later — still no refund. PRP provided assistance.

PRP gives personalized attention to each problem in the sense that a taxpayer usually will deal with one person and also may find the problem resolved within five days. If not, PRP will give the taxpayer a status report and a projected completion date.

Of course, there are limits on the types of problems PRP can handle. For instance, it is not a substitute for normal taxpayer assistance, and the IRS stresses that no one should call PRP unless normal channels prove futile. Obviously, if every type of problem were first directed to the PRP office, that system would quickly bog down and become useless. Do not go through PRP on such matters as decisions made during an audit, Freedom of Information requests, Privacy Act inquiries, and complaints about IRS hiring practices. These are handled by other offices. A call to the IRS toll-free number will be referred to the right place.

From the IRS point of view, there's an important added dimension to PRP. By keeping track of recurring difficulties reaching the Problem Resolution Office, IRS managers can often identify and remedy quirks in the system. In essence, then, PRP benefits not only the taxpayer but the IRS as well.

Now how do you reach PRP? Simple enough. Just call IRS Taxpayer Assistance and ask for PRP.

Opitz Urges Hearing in Sheboygan County On Proposed Nuclear Power Plant at Haven

State Senator David W. Opitz (R-Port Washington) recently urged Public Service Commission Chairman Stanley York to hold one, if not several, hearings in Sheboygan County on who should absorb the expenses of planning for the proposed nuclear power plant at Haven located in Sheboygan County. The Public Service Commission will hold a hearing on this issue tentatively scheduled for October 27 in Madison. The hearing begins at 9:00 a.m. in Room 426 of the Hill farms State Office Building.

Opitz said, "This is a clear-cut issue which will have a major impact on the utility rates of the people in the 20th Senate District."

An estimated $37 million has already been spent on planning for this site even though it has not received any State or Federal construction permits. A major part of the delay is because of the policy of the Federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission which has decided to postpone any decisions on permits for nuclear power plants pending the results of the Three-Mile Island investigation.

The utility companies proposing the Haven plant are: The Wisconsin Electric Power Company of Milwaukee, the Wisconsin Power and Light Company of Madison, and the Wisconsin Public Service Corporation of Green Bay.

Opitz said, "I realize that there must be a crucial energy decision made in the State as to whether or not we will allow the utilities of Wisconsin to make a major commitment towards nuclear power. I am asking Stanley York for a complete and thorough investigation as to the impact of the construction of the Haven plant upon the Sheboygan County area."

"It is my hope," Opitz continued, "that a positive decision will be made on the construction of the Haven plant so that the electrical energy needs of the 20th Senate District and the entire State of Wisconsin will be guaranteed for our generation and for future generations."

Opitz urges all interested citizens of the 20th Senate District to write to Stanley York at the Public Service Commission, 4802 Sheboygan Avenue, Madison, Wisconsin 53705, indicating their desire to have hearings held in Sheboygan County on this critical issue.

Rated Grafton Edges Indians With Last Quarter Score, 7-3

The surprising Kewaskum Indians almost pulled off the first big upset of the season in the Scenic Moraine at Grafton Saturday afternoon when they shut out and led the Blackhawks for three quarters, 3-0, before Grafton finally scored a touchdown in the final period to win by a slim 7-3 margin.

Grafton had been milwaukeed last week in a poll of Milwaukee area schools by the Milwaukee Sentinel. They also are Scenic escape co-champions. The escape over the Indians gives them a perfect 3-0 record after previous one-sided victories over West Bend East and Oak Creek.

The always tough Blackhawks are again favorites in the Scenic race, together with Germantown and possibly Hartland. A squad of 51 players reported for the varsity and with their large squad in the late going they have the ability to wear down small squads like Kewaskum, which has many players going both ways.

This is the second year in a row that the Indians have been a thorn in the Blackhawks' side. They also led last year before succumbing in the last quarter. This year's fine performance was in front of a large Grafton Parents' Day crowd.

With a strong game by the defense, Kewaskum hung onto its 3-0 lead until there was 9:47 left in the final quarter. But then a 3-yard touchdown run by big 205 lb. John Brewster allowed Grafton to escape with a 7-3 win. However, the Blackhawks were way ahead on offensive statistics during the first half.

Kewaskum's field goal came in the first quarter after Bruce Keller recovered a Grafton fumble on their 33. A penalty gave them one first down and a few rushes by Mike Pettit gave them another. When the Hawk defense stiffened, Pettit successfully kicked a field goal.

Grafton put on a drive of its own which carried to the Kewaskum 4 but Brewster was racked up on fourth down at the line of scrimmage and the Indians took over. They couldn't move the ball and Pettit boomed out a 63 yard punt with the aid of some roll. A penalty backed up Grafton to their own 11.

Here is where the defense provided another golden scoring opportunity for the Indians. Safety Perry Kempf intercepted a Blackhawk pass and took it to the 9. A dead ball gave KHS the ball on the 4 but 3 plays later Bruce Keller picked off a pass to end the threat. A touchdown at this point would have won the game for Kewaskum.

Kewaskum was unable to move the ball in the second half with a total of 40 yards on offense. But Grafton had to struggle for its only score. Starting on their own 45 in the last quarter they marched down for their only TD. A key play was their only pass reception of the day to Brewster for 18 yards. On his 7 yard scoring run Brewster was hit by Scott Brendemuhl at the two but carried him into the end zone.

Coach Mike Fizriff led that not capitalizing on the Indians' second break before halftime from the 4 was very costly.

This Friday night Kewaskum hosts another strong opponent in Kettle Moraine at 7:30. Kettle has 15 returning lettermen, including 10 starters and two big backs in Joe Wirth (6-0, 205) and Pete Browning (6-1, 190). The Lasers' outcome with Mayville last week was not reported. In other Scenic contests, Pewaukee blanked Slinger, 14-0, and Germantown whipped Hartland, 16-0.

Indian JV Team Beats Grafton, 21-8

The Kewaskum Indian JV football team defeated Grafton, 21-8, in their opening game last week, which speaks well for the future.

Dave Donath and Randy Westerman led the Indians to victory with their hard running. Donath also intercepted a Grafton pass to set up the first touchdown. A few plays later Grafton ran it in from the 20.

Grafton then scored after a long drive to go ahead 8-6. But shortly before halftime Donath broke loose for a 49-yard run to put KHS ahead again. The last score came in the final quarter when Westerman ran 52 yards for a TD. Brian Larsen kicked the extra point.

Tackle Scott Nigh played well on defense.

Area Racing News

By Ken Knoll

Willie Goeden of St. Michaels and Tony Strupp of West Bend were at Wisconsin International Raceway in Kaukauna Sunday afternoon to take part in the Blue Race which had been rained out in August. Goeden had by far his best showing in a late model since he switched to asphalt.

Out of 69 cars timing he was 11th. After being boxed in by slower cars for several laps, he placed second in his heat. In the feature he led laps 9-14. He then ran no poorer than fifth the rest of the race. He caught the third place car at the start-finish line in a very close finish to place third in the 60 lap feature.

Strupp was not nearly as successful. He placed eighth in time and was fourth in the fast dash as he hit the fourth turn wall hard coming out of the turn and did extensive damage to the rear end of the car. He did manage to start the feature, but dropped out on lap 38 placing 17th.

Next week the final standings in the Red, White and Blue Series will be reported as they become available.

The Black Mountain Golf Club in North Carolina has the longest 17th hole in the world: 745 yards with a par of six.
