Feasibility Approved by WHFA for Kewaskum Meadow Creek Apartments

MADISON — Feasibility was approved Friday by the Wisconsin Housing Finance Authority (WHFA) for construction of Dartford Bay, Dartford Landing, and Meadow Creek Apartments, a housing development consisting of 50 one bedroom apartments for the elderly and 20 two and three bedroom apartments and townhouses for family occupancy. The development is to be constructed on scattered sites in Green Lake, Green Lake County; and Kewaskum, Washington County. The feasibility approval means the developer, Peter H. Knaup, Knaup Homes, Inc., can proceed with their application for $2,058,980 in mortgage financing from WHFA, a quasi-public corporation which provides low-cost mortgage financing through the sale of tax-exempt revenue bonds. Besides the mortgage financing, WHFA would provide rental subsidy funds received from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). These funds mean eligible tenants will pay no more than 25 percent of their annual income for rent and utilities. The architect for the development is Hackner, Schroeder, and Roslansky, Madison, Wisconsin.

L. Rosenheimer Store Scene of Weekend Break-in

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Rosenheimer's Grocery was the scene of a weekend burglary in which approximately $400-$500.00 worth of cigarettes and candy were stolen. The break-in apparently occurred sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

The theft was discovered by Manager Richard Bechler when he came to work about 7:00 a.m. Sunday.

Forced entry was gained by breaking a window.

Bechler said from the amount of merchandise stolen, it looked like there may have been more than one person involved. This had not been confirmed at this writing.

No store money was taken, however, a complete check of the store was being made to determine if any other merchandise was taken.

There are no suspects at the present, and the police still have the matter under investigation.

Village President and 4 Trustee, 3 School Board Positions to Be Filled

Four of six village trustee positions on the Kewaskum Village Board as well as the office of village president will be on the spring ballot next April.

Gerald Stollenwerk, who has held the top elected position as village president since the resignation last year of Robert Danielsen, has not yet filed papers for the two-year post.

Three trustee positions for two-year terms will be decided in the spring election, with thus far just one incumbent, Paul Blumer, filing papers for another term. Currently holding the other spots are Jeff Rohrer and David Nigh.

A one-year board term also will be on the ballot to fill a vacant position created when Carl Spoeth resigned recently.

Persons wishing to circulate papers for any of the above board positions have until Jan. 6 to file papers with the village clerk.

Three Kewaskum School Board offices will be on the spring ballot, all for three-year terms and all elected on a district-wide at-large basis. Current holders in those positions are Dr. Charles Ogi, James Oelhafen and Jean Goeden.

JODI GENGLER WINNER OF CHRISTMAS STOCKING

Jodi Gengler, 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. "Butch" Gengler, 1451 Brooklane Drive, Kewaskum, was the winner of the 8-foot Christmas stocking at L. Rosenheimer.

SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR HOLIDAYS

Christmas vacation for the pupils of Kewaskum schools began after the school day Tuesday, Dec. 23. Classes will be resumed on Monday, Jan. 5.

KHS Students Score High in PSAT Test

Clark Pearson, principal at Kewaskum High School, is pleased to announce this year's results of the P.S.A.T. scores. The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test is given annually, on a nationwide basis, to primarily junior students who are planning to go on to college. The results of this test are a good indication to the students as to their present verbal and mathematic ability on a national scale. The scores also indicate to the school administration and teachers that success in the classroom is being achieved.

Sixty-nine juniors participated in the P.S.A.T. testing this year. Thirty-eight percent of the juniors who took the test were in the 90-99th percentile in mathematics. Sixteen percent of the students who were tested scored in the 90-99th percentile in verbal skills. Overall, eighty-nine percent scored above the 50th percentile in mathematics and seventy-eight percent were above the 50th percentile in the verbal part of the test. Prospects look good for the college bound class of '82 at Kewaskum High School.

Student Teacher To Join KHS Staff

The Home Economics Department at Kewaskum High School will be getting some additional help for the 3rd quarter of this school year in the form of Ms. Betty Bayuk, a student teacher from the University of Wisconsin - Stout. Ms. Bayuk, will be working under the supervision of Mrs. Carol Martin and principal, Clark Pearson.

Ms. Bayuk, whose home town is Willand, Wisconsin, is the second student teacher from Stout University. She will be graduating from UW-Stout in May of '81 with a degree in Home Economics. She will begin her duties at Kewaskum High School on January 13.

As the New Year begins, join us in a prayer for serenity and hope as the future unfolds. Our gratitude to you for your faithful patronage Memories...

The Statesman welcomes readers to submit photos for the "Memories" feature. Photos should show life in the older days in this area. Deliver or mail to The Statesman, 250 Main St., Kewaskum, WI 53040. Photos can be picked up again after publication.

Today's Memories picture is a repeat of the photo run in our Sept. 5 issue. Taken about 1911, it shows the old Main Street bridge. At that time the driver crossing the bridge with his horse and buggy was not identified. This week one of our subscribers, Anita Lindenstruth of Milwaukee, along with her subscription renewal, identified the driver crossing the Milwaukee River, as her uncle, John Keller, brother of her mother, Elizabeth Lindenstruth. She wrote that her mother received a postcard of the same picture dated 1911 from her sister-in-law, Lydia Keller. She still has that card. John is also an uncle to the Kellers that still live in Kewaskum and West Bend. He is also an uncle to Elizabeth Keno.

Another relative, Leroy Keller, of Kewaskum believed the driver was John Keller's brother, Isadore "Ike" Keller. He remembered "Ike" had a horse like the one in the photo and dressed similarly.

Open Door to Terminate 24 Hour Hotline Service

The Open Door of Washington County, Inc., provider of drug abuse prevention/intervention and out-patient drug counseling services to the residents of Washington County, wishes to inform all residents of the county, that due to the loss of funding for its 24 hour crisis telephone counseling service, it will be terminating its hotline service on December 29.

At that time, the Open Door will be changing telephone service, and will therefore have new telephone numbers. Those individuals wishing to reach the Open Door via telephone, will be able to do so between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the following numbers: West Bend Area: 334-4691; Hartford/Slinger Area: 644-8888; Germantown Area: 933-5300.

Despite the loss of funding for the 24 hour crisis counseling service, the Open Door will continue to provide drug abuse programming, and out-patient drug abuse counseling to the residents of Washington County.

The Open Door apologizes for any inconvenience residents of Washington County may encounter due to this change in telephone service, and wishes to assure the residents of Washington County that they will continue to provide professional services in the area of drug abuse in 1981.

Sensenbrenner Moves Home Office

The home office of Ninth District U. S. Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. moved Friday to new quarters in Brookfield.

In announcing the move to a smaller office, Sensenbrenner said it would save the taxpayers an estimated $3000 over the next two years compared to the cost of the present office site, also in Brookfield.

The new address of the Ninth District home office, which specializes in solving constituent problems with federal agencies, will be 120 Bishops Way, Brookfield, WI 53005.

The phone number for the office will continue to be Area Code 414-784-1111.

Sensenbrenner urged residents seeking help or wishing to contact him to stop in or call the new office.

Vets Asked to Return Income Questionnaire

The Veterans Administration announced that many veterans and dependents receiving pensions have not yet returned their annual income questionnaire. If this income questionnaire, which was mailed to pensioners on November 1, 1980, is not returned to the VA no further pension payments can be made beyond December 31, 1980. Therefore, the January check to be issued on February 1, 1981 would not be received.

Grady Horton, Director of the VA Regional Office in Milwaukee, said that some pensioners did not receive a card and are not required to file annual income reports. However, these persons who did receive a card must return it before January 1, 1981.

VA pensioners needing advice or assistance should contact the VA Regional Office in Milwaukee, their nearest County Veteran Service Officer, or other veterans representative.

Junior Jargon

The Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club was pleased to welcome Gavin Hansen and James Brodzeller from The Country Keg to the December meeting. The men discussed cheeses—how they are made, the aging processes, the different kinds available and how they are formed. Several types of cheese were available for sampling after the discussion.

The Kewaskum Juniors want to "give thanks" at this Blessed Holiday season. Thanks to everyone in the community and surrounding area for supporting various club activities, especially the recent bake and craft sale. Thanks for the help of local business people and especially Regal Ware. Thank you for active club members and understanding families and husbands. Finally, thanks for being able to live, work and bring up work families in an area as wonderful as Kewaskum. We like it here and we are here to stay.

About a month ago one of our citizens wrote a Dear Mom & Dad letter in reference to criticism to volunteer leaders, such as Boy Scouts, where the volunteer resigned and then requested to come back, when no else stepped forward to do the job. I was quite impressed with this little message and apparently many others were, as we received a number of calls from different people volunteering help.

Now we are proud to announce that Karl Fee has accepted the position of Scoutmaster for our local Boy Scout Troop. Karl has a good background in Scouting, his dad having been a Scoutmaster when Karl was a Boy Scout. Ted Miller, after 15 years of loyal dedicated service, is continuing as Assistant Scoutmaster and Chairman of Religious Activities. John Rimmel is continuing as Jr. Assistant Scoutmaster. John has done an excellent job in holding the troop together while the troop was struggling for more adult leadership. Mike Weiss has volunteered as Assistant Scoutmaster and will help with equipment and outdoor activities. All parents of active Boy Scouts will serve on the local committee in some capacity during the year to help support the program and activities. We are now confident that Scouting in Kewaskum will continue to go and grow for benefit of boys interested in this program. Boy Scout meetings are now held at the Legion House in Kewaskum on Monday evenings at 6:30-7:30 p.m. Any boys or parents interested can drop in during a Monday meeting for details.

Petri to Accompany Delegation to Tokyo

WASHINGTON — Congressman Tom Petri will be part of a 24-member delegation of congressmen and senators scheduled to travel to Tokyo next month for talks on trade and security issues with Japanese legislators and officials.

The group will spend five days in Japan, beginning January 12, as participants in the U.S.-Japan Parliamentary Exchange Conference. The trip and the conference will be paid for by private foundation sources.

unique opportunity for members of Congress to meet in an unofficial and informal setting with their Japanese counterparts," Petri said.

The delegation will meet with government leaders and with heads of the ruling Liberal Democratic Party. Conference sessions are also scheduled with lawmakers from the opposition parties, representatives of business and labor, and Japan's leading scholars and journalists.

The American legislators will discuss a variety of issues with the Japanese, Petri said, including agriculture trade relations, U.S.-Japanese security, energy policies and economic relations.

"I plan to emphasize to the Japanese leaders that trade is a two-way street," Petri said. "If they expect to have continued export opportunities in the U.S., they must open the door wider to greater American exports to their country."

The U.S.-Japan Friendship Commission and the Henry Luce Foundation are two of the organizations who have contributed grant money to pay the air fare, hotel, meals and domestic travel for the Americans attending the conference.

In addition to Petri, the group will include 11 congressmen and 12 senators. Petri was invited to participate in the conference by the Japan Society New York, and the Japan Center for International Exchange, Tokyo. He is the most junior member of Congress selected to represent the U.S.

The delegation, to be headed by Senators John Glenn (D-Ohio), William Roth (R-Del.) and Congressman Thomas Foley (D-Wash.) and Bill Frenzel (R-Minn.), will leave Japan on January 16.

A Christmas Message to the Ninth District

As we pause to celebrate Christmas and the holiday season, I would like to share some thoughts with you. My message is simple: there are still many reasons for us to be thankful as a nation and many reasons to be hopeful for the future even though there are some serious problems bothering us here and abroad now.

Sure, there are still Americans held hostage in Iran, our economy is giving us fits, our power and prestige as a nation are less than they once were, the Soviet Union continues to threaten world stability, our energy resources are in a period of flux, and our government seems to be intruding into every aspect of our daily lives.

But, on the other hand, we are at peace, we are still the strongest and best nation on earth by most measures, we have an abundance of human and natural resources surpassed by none, we enjoy more economic prosperity and personal freedom than is found anywhere, and we still have a national will to remain the best.

The point is our problems are not insoluble and they are not necessarily fatal. The tasks ahead are challenging but, considering our national inventory of resources and potential, the only conclusion we can reach is there is good hope for success.

Perhaps what we need more than anything right now is a renewal of our national spirit - our belief in ourselves and our ability to control our own destiny. If we face any real danger now, it is the apathy and acceptance of mediocrity I see too much of these days.

Christmas is a time of renewal of spirit and faith, so let's take the time now to recommit ourselves in pursuing and rewarding excellence, achievement, and innovation wherever we find them - in the home, on the job, in our schools, and in our government.

Let's stop creating incentives for individual and national mediocrity, as we have done in the past - nowhere more than in our government's attitude of "we will do it for you, so don't try."

The seeds of change are about, but they must be nurtured every day and in every way by each one of us expecting, demanding, and rewarding those actions and attitudes that aim for greatness, not mediocrity. That would be the best Christmas present we can give ourselves.

New Nursing Program in West Bend by Nursing Staff

The L.P.N. Progression Program, which will begin in January, 1981, is based at the West Bend Campus of Moraine Park Technical Institute. The program prepares licensed practical nurses to become registered nurses. Graduates will receive an Associate Degree in Nursing. The program, which is one year in length, includes clinical and classroom experience.

Both students and faculty have been involved in preparations for the initiation of the program. Students, who are current L.P.N.'s with one year of recent nursing experience, are presently enrolled in prerequisite courses and are completing nursing and skills challenge exams.

Your faculty members, Carol Hunt, R.N., M.S.N.; Wendy Schnell, R.N., M.S.N.; Mary

Hahn, R.N., M.S.; and Kathy Cross, R.N., M.S.N. have been planning and writing the program curriculum since beginning at M.P.T.I. in July. Program materials were recently submitted to the State Board of Nursing and approved.

The nursing instructors come to M.P.T.I. with varied backgrounds, including teaching experience in technical school, university and college settings, clinical experience in hospitals, nursing homes, community agencies, and in nurse/physician joint practice. Faculty members have functioned in clinical sites in staff nurse, head nurse, and clinical specialist positions.

"Prior to initiating the program, a study was completed which did indicate a need for registered nurses in this area," according to Kathy Cross. Mary Hahn added, "It is anticipated that graduates of this program will seek employment in this area, improving the nursing situation for local health care facilities."

"In the past, L.P.N.'s had limited options if they wished to advance in their nursing career. The use of Progression Programs is an exciting concept, since L.P.N. work experience and educational background is given credit," stated Carol Hunt. "Because we are dealing with adult students," added Wendy Schnell, "Discussion will be a major teaching method in addition to individual clinical experience."

Area facilities have been selected as clinical sites. These include Samaritan Home, Cedar Lake Home, St. Joseph's Community Hospital, Hartford Memorial, Beaver Dam Hospital, and Fond du Lac County Mental Health Center. "Faculty members are presently involved in an orientation to clinical facilities," stated Wendy Schnell, "And we have been very impressed with staff enthusiasm about the program." Mary Hahn added, "The availability of clinical sites and staff cooperation were factors considered in basing the program in West Bend."

In addition to on-site clinical experience, students will also work in the remodeled science and nursing labs at the West Bend Campus. "The room housing the nursing lab resembles a hospital setting," according to Kathy Cross, "And this provides students with the opportunity to practice nursing skills."

To receive information about the Nursing Program, interested people should contact Josephine Roehrborn, Program Supervisor, or Donald Zerfas, Campus Counselor, at (414) 334-3413.

Courses offered during the spring semester are Anatomy and Physiology 2, Microbiology, Communications Skills 2, and Developmental Psychology. Transitional requirements must be completed before students can enter the program.

Programs Help Families of Cedar Lake Home Residents

"People need to make an adjustment to their new environment when moving into a long term care facility," explained Mary Gumm, Coordinator of Resident-Family Services at the Cedar Lake Home Campus, West Bend.

"We believe family members are able to learn how to support their loved one's needs and how they, as family members, can adjust to their new role," Gumm added.

To help family members of the aged from the community, the Cedar Lake Home Campus has inaugurated, with the assistance of a Title III federal grant, a program tailored to help meet direct family needs.

With the help and advice of the Cedar Lake Campus Family Council, a committee comprised of family members who have loved ones at Cedar Lake, this program has been initiated.

"We have an orientation program four times a year for families of residents who have just entered a longterm care facility," says Gumm. "Here the group is given an introduction to Campus life and programs. Staff members give a presentation on how the total team works together for the benefit of residents. An important part of this orientation is a small group discussion where family members have the opportunity to share their situations and experiences with one another. Families find they have in common and are able to offer each other support."

In addition to the Family Orientation program, family members are invited to Family Education programs presented throughout the year. The most recent Seminar for the community was held at the end of November. It was entitled, "Understanding the Aging Process." This program provided practical information for people who know, work with, or are with elderly persons. Sessions helped the participants identify the various stages in the aging process. Participants reviewed the total needs of elderly persons, and, through simulation, experienced sensory losses which may occur in elderly persons. They also learned how to deal constructively with individuals who are forgetful or disorientated. More such programs will be forthcoming.

Petri Named to GOP Committee

Congressman Tom Petri has been named to the National Republican Congressional Committee, a unit responsible for electing GOP members to the House and helping incumbents win re-election.

Petri said the campaign committee provides financial and other assistance to Republican candidates and was heavily involved in the election this year of 52 new GOP House members, including Steve Gunderson from western Wisconsin's Third District.

The four GOP legislators from Wisconsin named Petri to the post, along with Jim Sensenbrenner as delegation chairman, Gunderson as vice-chairman and Toby Roth as their representative on a panel that makes committee assignments.

Petri will be Wisconsin's representative on the 46 member GOP campaign unit.

Sensenbrenner To Lead State GOP Delegation

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Wisconsin's Republican delegation to the U. S. House of Representatives last week elected U. S. Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. (R-Shorewood) as its Chairman for the next two years.

In a special meeting to elect officers and appoint its members to key GOP committees for the 97th Congress convening next month, the group also chose U. S. Rep.-elect Steve Gunderson (R-Osseo) as its Vice-chairman.

In other actions, the state group also appointed U. S. Rep. Thomas E. Petri (R-Fond du Lac) as its representative on the National Republican Congressional Committee, the campaign arm of the House Republicans, and U. S. Rep. Toby Roth (R-Appleton) as its representative on the Republican Committee on Committees, which assigns members to the standing committees of the House.

Rewards for Youth, Parents When 4-H Involves Families

By Robert Stodola
4-H and Youth Agent
P.O. Box 537, West Bend

I'd like to challenge every 4-H club in Wisconsin to try at least one family involvement activity this year.

When parents and children interact with each other, 4-H becomes more than a youth organization. It is at its best when the whole family is involved. If only the children are involved, 4-H can become just another activity that takes time away from the family.

The 4-H club and the family are rewarded when parents and their children work together. The club's resources, participation, commitment level and program impact increase the number of people available to share the responsibilities for the club.

Parents can learn to understand youth as a group through 4-H. They learn how important it is to do things with youth rather than for them.

Clubs can use many strategies to get families involved. Try a family sharing night at a 4-H club meeting. The family can explain the details of such group efforts as learning how to ski together, planning and serving nutritious meals and snacks at home, or planning a family trip.

Try a family exchange program where the children or parents from one family live with another for a short time. That gives children and adults a chance to compare customs and appreciate each other's habits.

Youth fairs offer another good opportunity for family interaction and sharing. Have a family picnic at the fairgrounds instead of buying food there, or putting together a family project exhibit.

There are many opportunities for parents to do things with their children in 4-H. It can be fun for the parents and the children. And it can be a way to show the child that his parents respect and love him.

Resolution Charades Will Liven Party

Among New Year party games finding new favor each holiday, "Resolution Charades" is a variation of an old Chinese custom of telling fortunes with bamboo sticks.

Minor preparations are required. Take a circular box (such as an oatmeal container) paint it bright red and fill with straws which each contain a tightly rolled New Year resolution.

One by one, guests select a straw and act out the resolution. Small prizes such as chopsticks or fans make the contest interesting.

Favorite Foods in the Right Places
Are Perfect Gifts for Winged Wildlife

Cardinals like sunflower seeds

The feathered friends on your holiday gift list would like nothing more than to find their favorite foods in your backyard this winter. The secret of attracting wild birds to your feeding stations is to provide the foods they like best and to put them in the right places, says Ranger Rick's Nature Magazine.

Just as some birds would rather eat suet than nuts, many birds prefer to eat on the ground rather than from hanging feeders.

The National Wildlife Federation's monthly publication for children offers these guidelines for providing a variety of wintering birds with the right foods in the right places:

* Ground Feeders include blue jays, sparrows, juncos, quail, mourning doves, pheasants, chickadees, and house finches.

J & J AUTO TOPICS

HEADLIGHT SAFETY

It's a good idea for cross country motorists to copy the railroads idea of keeping headlights burning during the day. Of course, it goes without saying that lights should always be turned on during cloudy or foggy days, but even having lights on during bright daylight brings more recognition from on-coming drivers. And modern alternators will keep batteries fully charged.

Research tests have shown that color blind people see lights easier during the day, and inebriated persons will notice headlights long before they see an approaching car.

Learning of this research test, at J & J AUTO SERVICE, we're going to keep our lights on in our driveway. You can find the place at 450 E. Main that does excellent auto maintenance services. Look for us.

Their favorite foods are sunflower seeds, cracked corn (inexpensive, but will also attract starlings, grackles, and pigeons), wild bird seed mix, and peanuts.

Feeders can be split fireplace logs (flatside up), hubcaps (for food or water), garbage can lids, trays, shallow pans, or birdbath tops (for water).

* Tabletop or Window Feeders include cardinals, goldfinches, grosbeaks, chickadees, house finches, redpolls, purple finches, mockingbirds, and jays.

Their favorite foods are sunflower seeds, shelled peanuts, wild bird seed mix, raisins, and currants.

Feeders can be trays placed on picnic tables, benches, or stumps, or attached to window-sills.

* Hanging or High Post Feeders include cardinals, chickadees, goldfinches or other finches, pine siskins, redpolls, titmice, and nuthatches.

Their favorite foods are niger or thistle seeds, sunflower seeds, wild bird seed mix, and peanut hearts or other nutmeats.

Feeders can be plastic tube feeders, round or square post feeders (some shaped like little houses), or recycled milk cartons, detergent, or bleach bottles, which have been cut open for easy access.

* Trunk Feeders include chickadees, woodpeckers, nuthatches, and many seed-eating birds.

Their favorite foods are suet or suet cakes, which can be mixed with peanut butter, seeds, and other treats.

Feeders can be wire mesh holders, plastic mesh bags (used for onions, oranges, etc.) or log holders.

"Don't be discouraged if the birds don't come flocking into your yard the first day you put out food," advises Ranger Rick. "Sometimes it takes a while for the birds in your area to discover your feeders. Once they've found them, they'll keep coming back so long as there is food for them."

Feeders should be kept clean and checked every day. Don't put out large amounts of food that could spoil or attract rats or mice. And remember that besides food and water, birds need cover. "Most birds seem to feel more comfortable eating at feeders near trees or bushes where they can perch and hide from hawks or neighborhood cats," says Ranger Rick.

It's always nice to wake up on a frosty winter morning and see a perky chickadee feeding in your backyard. And it's a perfect way to wish wildlife a "Happy Holiday."

Keep New Year
Gathering Simple

If you plan no formal entertaining during the holidays, consider the idea of a New Year Brunch — just a casual get-together to watch parades and bowl games.

Keep the food simple, informally cooked. Set out a fruit and cheese platter for snacking.

Do a favorite casserole in advance and have it ready to heat in the oven. You can also make a salad in advance and have pre-baked rolls to heat.

You can make it a serve-yourself day, all on one plate. You might also have a pot of coffee ready. Sometimes, it's needed.

Parents Pledge to Help Their 4-H Children Succeed

By Robert Stodola
4-H and Youth Agent

Parents of 4-H members are learning a new twist on the traditional 4-H pledge. It's called the 4-H parents' pledge, and it goes like this:

I pledge my head to give my children the information I can, to help them see things clearly and to make wise decisions.

I pledge my heart to encourage and support my children no matter whether they have successes or disappointments.

I pledge my hands to help my children's club; if I cannot be a leader, I can help in many equally important ways.

I pledge my health to keep my children strong and well for a better world through 4-H, for our club, our community, our country and our world.

The pledge is actually only an outward sign of the parents' involvement in 4-H. Parents begin by learning about 4-H — what it stands for, how the clubs operate, what the projects offer. They encourage their children and help them see progress on their projects from the start, not just the end result.

Parents who give praise or recognition to their children when it is needed and earned are key ingredients to the success of any 4-H experience.

Parents need to show a sincere interest in their children's 4-H involvement but stay just out of the way when children are working on projects. Parents need to be close enough to help, yet far enough away to allow their children to discover their own way of accomplishing a task.

Many parents don't have time to be club leaders, but they can help out by providing transportation, refreshments and chaperoning.

The pledge and this family involvement make 4-H a more meaningful experience for both children and parents.

Thunder will travel one mile in five seconds.

Reduced-Price Foods May Not Always Be a Good Buy

By Joyce Albrecht
Extension Home Economist

In the request for lower food bills, many food shoppers are willing to take dented cans, slit packages and products past their expiration dates in return for reduced prices. But supermarket seconds are not always good buys.

Saving money may be one of your top priorities, but think twice before buying dented cans that have been reduced in price. Pressure has been applied to the can, causing the dent. The seams of lightweight aluminum cans are narrow; even if you can't see a leak in the can, air may be getting in. When this happens there is no guarantee of product safety.

Sometimes you will find food cartons that have been slit when an employee opened the shipping container. Their prices may also be reduced, but beware of air leaks here, too.

If you find a slit carton that has a plastic liner within, check it carefully. If it doesn't appear to be broken, buy it and use it right away. Even if you can't see a slit in the liner, there may be a crack in it.

If the liner is slit, definitely do not buy it. Choose another product.

Often you will find products on the grocer's shelves that have expired marketing dates and are reduced for quick sale. There is no regulation that says these products must be removed from the shelves, except in the case of smoked fish.

The temperature at which the product has been stored and the processing will determine if the product can be used after the expiration date.

If you can save money and use the product right away, go ahead and buy it.

Day-old bakery products are a good buy. The store manager is trying to reduce the inventory to make room for the next day's delivery. If you buy in quantity, freeze the baked goods, but only for a month or less. Moisture is lost when you freeze it for a long time.

If both time and money are important to you as a consumer, day-old baked goods can be a very good buy. However, you must be sure you are putting your freezer space to the best use. By storing bread for a month you may be taking space that could be better used for a special meat sale or seasonal vegetables.

Allen Assigned to Soil Conservation District in County

Roscoe Allen, Soil Conservation Technician of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service has been assigned to Washington County November 2, to assist the district with the planning and application of soil conservation practices on farmland and assist townships, cities and villages with erosion and runoff problems.

Allen is a native of Allport, Arkansas, and a graduate of the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, majoring in Agronomy. Roscoe says, "Agronomy practices in Arkansas are a bit different than in Wisconsin. Cotton, rice and soybeans are the main crops there. Cotton growing is on the decline because of low prices but the farmers are looking for a big increase in production because of bad luck the last couple of years."

Roscoe was transferred to West Bend in a training status from Kewaunee, Wisconsin, where he served Kewaunee County for over one year as a soil conservation technician. He, his wife Jacqueline and little son Chris now reside in West Bend.

600 Miles of Snowmobile Trails, 320 Miles
Of Cross Country Ski Trails Ready for Snow

Nearly 600 miles of snowmobile trails and 320 miles of cross country skiing trails are awaiting winter recreational enthusiasts in Wisconsin state parks and forests according to state park officials.

"Trails have been readied and marked and it's now up to Mother Nature to provide adequate snow cover to make these trails usable," Loren Thorson, Chief of Recreation Programs, said.

Thorson recommended that prospective snowmobilers or cross-country skiers contact the state park or forest where they plan their activity in advance to ensure that proper snow conditions exist. "Conditions can change drastically in a 24 hour period and we do not want anyone making a trip to a state or forest only to be disappointed by finding unacceptable snow conditions" he stated.

Northern Highland-American Legion State Forest with 62 miles of snowmobile trails and 30 miles of cross-country ski trails is one of the most popular northern recreational areas. Southern Kettle Moraine State Forest in the southeastern part of the state has 75 miles of cross country skiing trails and 46 miles of snowmobile trails. In all, 36 state parks and forests provide snowmobile trails while 30 parks and forests provide cross-country ski trails.

Cross country skiers of limited ability should check in at the office of the property they plan to use. "Our aim is to get skiers on trails that are compatible with their ability or to advise them where the more difficult areas are so they can avoid them," Thorson recommended. "Most of our mishaps result when a skier over-estimated his or her ability." Contact: Loren Thorson, (608) 266-2158.

Campsite
Reservation
Forms Available

Advance campsite reservation application forms for the 1981 camping season are now available at state parks, forests, district offices and the Madison office of the Department of Natural Resources.

Reservation applications for campsites will be accepted at state parks and forests beginning Friday, January 2. State law requires that mail applications NOT be postmarked earlier than January 2. Applications postmarked prior to that date will be returned to the sender unprocessed.

Campsite reservations may be made for the period commencing May 1, 1981, through September 30, 1981, with the exception of Peninsula State Park where reservations can be made through October 25.

Loren Thorson, Chief of Recreation Programs for the DNR indicated that the popularity and use of campsite reservations has increased each year since the service was first offered in 1974. Over 31,000 reservations were confirmed in 1980, an increase of 7% over 1979. "In an age of high costs for motor fuel, campers find it convenient to know that they can drive directly to their favorite state park or forest and find a campsite waiting for them. Campers who are planning extended vacations are urged to submit their campsite reservation applications early to improve their chances of getting a reserved campsite planned vacation dates," Thorson suggested.

A total of 29 Wisconsin state parks and forests offer the advance campsite reservation service. Contact: Loren Thorson (608) 266-2158.

Almost 139,000
Deer Registered

Almost 139,000 deer were registered during the gun deer season in Wisconsin this year according to statistics compiled so far by the Department of Natural Resources.

Frank Haberland, big game management specialist in the DNR's Bureau of Wildlife Management, said the count, which is almost complete, of 138,924 includes 80,701 bucks and 49,299 antlerless deer taken on Hunter Choice Permits. The remaining balance is antlerless deer taken in management units with an either sex season.

Total accidents for the 1980 season were down significantly from 1979. Forty-three firearm accidents were reported this year including three fatal and 40 nonfatal. That compares with a total of 64 for the 1979 season, with eight fatal and 56 nonfatal accidents reported during the gun deer season.

Indians Hold Own With New Holstein But End Up Short

The Kewaskum Indians played favored New Holstein (3-1), defending champ and probable title contender again, on even terms until the final three minutes here Friday night, only to wind up on the short end of a 49-45 score.

The game was very close all the way and the score was still tied at 40-40 with slightly more than three minutes to go. Then the Huskies' experience and height advantage showed as they sank several key baskets while the ball would not drop through the hoop for the Indians.

New Holstein's K. J. Dickman sank two baskets in the last two minutes to put the Huskies on top by six with one minute to go. That was one of the few times they were ahead in the game but they went ahead when it counted at the end.

Kewaskum had to battle against the superior height of the Huskies, with three players 6-4 or better in their lineup. New Holstein was hurt when Jacobs got into early foul trouble and had to sit out quite a bit of the time.

Although he failed to take scoring honors for the Indians, 6-3 center Dale Wodsedalek played an outstanding game and his teammates followed suit. Top scorer was Jim Rohlinger with 15 points and Brian Larsen and Wodsedalek added 11. Dickman led the Huskies with 19 points and played a fine floor game. John Raether, 6-6 center, added 12 and had 21 rebounds.

Kewaskum made a fine showing against a good New Holstein team but their record in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference dropped to 0-2.

The Indians were out-rebounded by the taller Huskies, 50-31. Kewaskum led at the intermission, 25-22.

Kewaskum will now be idle until after the holidays. Their next game is at Chilton on Jan. 2.

JVs WIN AGAIN, FRESHMEN LOSE

The Kewaskum JVs won another game Friday, shading New Holstein by a close 62-60 margin.

Guard Mike Heisdorf, who played a good floor game, and Rod Donnelly, who had his best game, both scored 19 points. Mark Brenholt played well on defense and the boards.

KHS Chess Team Continues Winning Streak Over West Bend West

The Kewaskum High School Chess team opened its conference season with a 42-7 victory over West Bend West. The win raised the team season mark to 2-0. The Indians have not lost to West Bend since joining the chess league four years ago.

West Bend had an experienced team with its top six boards returning from last year's team. Freshman Romie Holl earned the team's first points as he picked up four points with a win at board 7. Holl was pitted against freshman Ryan Kunnert.

Holl capitalized on the gift of a free queen to pick up his quick win.

Rich Howell also picked up a quick win at board three. It took him nine moves to checkmate his opponent David Bargman. Howell applied the Fried Liver Attack and it worked for the second time in two years against Bargman. Last year Steve Yahr used the same attack to gain a win against him in the All Star Tournament. In two games Howell has used a total of 26 moves to defeat two opponents.

Jim Simon playing at board four suffered the team's only loss making the score 12-7. Simon played a good game but was playing against Mike Thoma who won the plaque at last year's all star match for the best fourth board player.

Rob Sleger picked up nine points with a win at board two. Sleger used the best combination of the season to gain his winning advantage. Sleger started the three move combination with a queen sacrifice followed by a knight fork, picking up two pieces in the process.

Steve Yahr came through with a win at the top board. Yahr, early in the game, won the exchange of queen to rook and pressed this advantage in the middle and end game to ensure his win.

The last two boards playing were the same as in the Indian's first match with juniors Andy Rosenberger and Ken Bauer playing at boards 5 and 6. Rosenberger fell behind by a piece early, regained it with a knight fork and won a close end game. Ken Bauer finished the scoring with 5 points at board 6. Bauer said it was his toughest victory ever as he had a pawn advantage most of the game, then lost the pawn but gained control of the game by placing his rook on the 7th rank and finally promoting a pawn to win the game. The end game was a tough rook and four pawns versus rook and three pawns.

The Indians now take their Christmas break and won't return to action until January 14 when they travel to Kettle Moraine. Kettle Moraine is the pre-season favorite to win the South Central Chess Association this year.

that would have sent the game into overtime made the difference for the freshmen in their close 48-46 loss. Jeff Squier led the Indians with 16 points. Jim Hanrahan and Brian Arndt had 12 and 10 respectively.

Gymnasts Lose 1st Home Meet Ever

In their first ever home gymnastics meet last Thursday evening, the Kewaskum girls showed improvement over their first meet against Waupun but lost to the Tigers, 71.175 to 64.4625.

The KHS girls' total score was five points higher than in their first competition.

After the floor exercise and balance beam events, Kewaskum was ahead by a couple of points. The girls did well in floor bug bogged down on the bars.

Teresa Nigh and Amy Nigh took first and second in the floor exercise with scores of 5.95 and 5.8. Amy also placed second on the balance beam with a 5.1.

Kewaskum did not place in vaulting, where they have good depth, but could not equal Chilton's performances.

Kara Weinreich's 5.0 was good for a third in the uneven bars.

Carrie Dreher took all-around competition with 6.325, topped by her 7.3 in vaulting. Sandy Nigh had a 7.05 in floor and Wendy Wilson 6.05 in uneven bars.

Chilton's Linda Catt was the all-around winner with 5.425 with Teresa Nigh third.

3rd Close Loss For Lakes Team

The Kewaskum Land o' Lakes League team lost another close one at Port Washington Sunday, 108-105. Their three losses have been by 1, 3 and 4 points to go along with one victory.

Don Gruber played his best game of the year in scoring, rebounding and defense.

Leon Laatsch was top scorer with 30 points, all from the floor, followed by Gruber with 26, Tom Edwards with 18 and Clark Eichstedt with 15. Kevin Lemon with 27 and Kartheiser with 21 paced Port.

Kewaskum led at the half, 60-57, but lost the game in the third quarter, in which they were outscored 27-16.
