Fire Destroys Area Barn

Statesman Photo

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

A barn on the Fred Meyer farm on Mill Road, west of New Fane, was destroyed by fire early Sunday night.

The fire was discovered by Ronald Felten, nephew of Robert Felten, who rents the dairy barn from Meyer. Mrs. Wilmer Felten said her son Ron had gone next door to help his uncle with the milking. The younger Felten walked outside and saw flames in the upper part of the barn. He told his uncle, who went to the Meyer home and called the Kewaskum Fire Department at approximately 8:00 p.m. The Feltenes were busy milking their second shift of cows when the fire was found. Sixty-five cows and several calves were removed to safety from the burning barn.

Fire companies from Beechwood, Campbellsport and Boltonville came to aid Kewaskum firefighters battle the blaze. Firefighters worked to keep the fire from reaching two other buildings on the west side. East winds blowing flames toward the buildings caused some concern.

A gravity box, elevator and a quantity of hay in the barn belonging to Meyer's son Carl were also destroyed. According to Kewaskum Fire Chief Augie Bilgo, there was also some minor damage to two Kewaskum fire trucks, when the paint became charred from the intense heat.

Mrs. Felten said Kewaskum firefighters were on the scene at 12:30, when Sunday night and Monday's big snowstorm had already started.

The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department is said to be investigating the cause of the fire.

This is the fourth barn to burn in the same immediate area in recent years. Barns on the Wilmer Felten farm directly east of Meyer's, the Albion Lehner farm to the south and the Henry Oppermann farm to the north have all been destroyed by fires. Both the Oppermanns and Felten have since rebuilt their barns.

Primary Election Feb. 16

Five Candidates Vie for Two School Board Positions

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

School Board incumbents Byron Gessner and Gerald Secor will be facing stiff competition in the primary election, for their seats on the Kewaskum School Board next April.

A last minute filing brought the number to five who are seeking seats on the school board. This necessitates a primary election to be held Tuesday, Feb. 16. Besides Gessner and Secor, Ralph Horner Jr., Mrs. Joan Rosenger and John Spoerl will be on the February primary ballot.

Horner, an unsuccessful candidate in last year's election, has filed for a second try in the 1982 election. He is the father of three children, resides in the Town of Farmington and is employed by Gehl Company. Mrs. Joan (Thomas) Rosenberger is making her first try for the school board. Rosenberger, a housewife and mother of four, stated she was running because four of the seven present board members do not have children in school. She feels board members should have children in the Kewaskum school system because this makes them more aware of what is going on in the schools.

The last minute filing was that of John Spoerl. Spoerl, who is single, resides in the Town of Wayne where he is engaged in farming and trucking. Spoerl is a former employee of the school district where he worked as a janitor. This is also Spoerl's first attempt for a seat on the board.

15½ Inches of Snow

Worst Snowstorm in 3 Years Paralyzes Area

Residents of the area were still digging out Wednesday after the worst snowstorm in three years. The snowing and blowing started late Sunday night and continued all day Monday under blizzard conditions.

About 15½ inches of snow fell in this area in the storm, which was accompanied by 20-40 mile an hour winds, gusting up to 50 mph. Snowdrifts 6 to 8 feet deep were reported in Fond du Lac County with 4-6 foot drifts reported in Washington County.

The storm caused the closing of all schools, most business places and functions. At business places that were open Monday morning, proprietors and employees walked to work or came on skis or snowmobiles. Kewaskum schools did not reopen until Wednesday following the holiday vacation because of the storm.

The storm left residents snowbound and stranded because of snowclogged streets. Snowplows couldn't keep up with the drifting conditions. Some snowplow operators couldn't get to work except by snowmobiles and four-wheel-drive pickups. Snow emergencies were issued throughout Washington County.

Hardest hit in Washington County was the Holy Hill area where weather observers reported 16 inches of snow, giving the shrine the distinction of receiving the most snow in the state.

A spokesman for the Kewaskum School District said there would be no make-up days scheduled due to the storm but any further snow days will be made up.

A worker for the County Highway Department reported drifts as high as 10 feet in the Town of Wayne. Many town roads were still snow clogged Tuesday morning.

People were advised to stay home Tuesday except for emergencies and the necessity to travel. Eight weather-related deaths were reported Monday in the state.

Only Two Incumbents File For Three Village Posts

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The 5 o'clock deadline Tuesday found only two candidates filing papers to run for three seats which will be open on Kewaskum's Village Board in April.

Incumbent trustee Paul Blumer is seeking re-election as is incumbent Dick Schmidt will be seeking his first full term as a village trustee.

Incumbent Raynor Herriges has decided not to seek re-election. No reason was given for his decision not to run. Commissioner Bill Martin stated Herriges' vacant seat leaves the village with three options. A write-in candidate may run for the third vacancy, the board may appoint an individual to fill the position or the board may decide to operate with six members until the next election.

Arbitration Hearing for Kewaskum Teachers Contract

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

An arbitration hearing was held Wednesday, December 30, in still another step to reach a contract agreement between the Kewaskum School District and Kewaskum Education Association.

Testimony was heard by appointed arbitrator Michael Rothstein of the Milwaukee law firm of Gavin, Miller and Rothstein. Rothstein stated the hearing was necessary because a voluntary settlement was not reached and a second meeting with Rothstein in attendance had not resulted in any headway.

One of the major points in dispute focuses on when a teacher is no longer considered a substitute, making them eligible for all union benefits such as insurance, sick days, etc. KEA President Robert Getter said the association felt 20 consecutive working days constituted teacher eligibility for all benefits. Getter stated, "as far as he was concerned, after one week, these teachers were fulfilling almost all the necessary requirements of their jobs, but for practicality 20 days was acceptable. The District, on the other hand, is looking for a contract requiring substitute teachers to work 45 consecutive days before receiving benefits."

The second major stumbling block to contract settlement is wages and contract length. The District is proposing a one-year contract with an 11.1 per cent increase in salaries and fringe benefits. The teachers' union is looking for a two-year pact with an 11.65 per cent increase in salaries and fringe benefits the first year, and an 11.6 per cent hike, excluding benefits, the second year.

KEA representative Dennis Eisenberg used Superintendent Floyd Brenholt's report prepared for school board budget meetings to show that the district was working with considerably less personnel, doing a comparable volume of work as districts of approximately the same size. Eisenberg also noted, "teachers in Kewaskum are paid considerably less than comparable schools." He said comparable schools included in a radius from Milwaukee, and in the same CESA district will show contracts in favor of KEA requests.

Eisenberg brought up statistics showing Kewaskum's student/teacher ratio was the highest of comparable districts as stated in Brenholt's report.

In questioning by Eisenberg, Brenholt stated Kewaskum spent considerably less on a per pupil basis than comparable schools in Wisconsin. "People in our district pay considerably less school tax per pupil than many other districts, $2,069 per student in Kewaskum, $2,365 per student in other districts."

The hearing lasted until approximately 4:30, with Rothstein hearing additional evidence which he will use to determine a contract settlement.

The District was represented at the hearing by Ken Cole and Superintendent Brenholt.

Farmington Area Late Bus Service to Be Discontinued

Kewaskum High School and Middle School late bus service to the Farmington area will be discontinued on the 12th or 13th of January. The exact date will be determined by the amount of money collected from $1-a-ride daily passes sold at the high school office. Students will be notified through the schools as to the last day of service.

The late bus has been operated on a Monday through Wednesday schedule since November 9. Parents interested in extending this service for the rest of the second quarter and for the first four weeks of the third quarter, until Feb. 17, should call Joan Rosenberger, 692-2491. The cost per pass for the bus until Feb. 17 would be between $10 and $15.

Linda Borchert, left, receiving a plaque in recognition of her community services as librarian for 30 years, from Jr. Schwind, center, Modern Woodmen Camp 2233 Council, Linda's husband, Milton, is at the right.

On Sunday, December 13, the Modern Woodmen of America, Camp 2233, held their annual Christmas dinner party in conjunction with a Community Service Recognition Program at the Kewaskum Labor Center.

Along with a delicious dinner, gifts were exchanged and a visit from Santa delighted the youngsters with gifts and a bag of goodies.

Mrs. Milton (Linda) Borchert was presented with a plaque in recognition of her community services. She served as librarian for the Kewaskum Library for 30 years and served in that capacity at the time the library was moved to its present location.

Linda and her husband, Milton, have lived in Kewaskum for the past 40 years and are members of Peace United Church of Christ. She was president of the Women's Guild of that church for several years.

Storm

Driving in the village was very hazardous due to narrow, snow-filled streets, slippery conditions and huge piles of snow at intersections.

A snow emergency was issued for Kewaskum at 7:30 Monday morning by Village President Gerald Stollenwerk. Parking was banned on all streets in the village. Garbage collections were canceled indefinitely.

Village plows went out at 7:15 a.m. Monday and by 10:30 at least one lane of traffic was open on the main streets. On Tuesday morning village plowing crews went out at 4 a.m. and on Wednesday they went to work plowing and hauling snow at 1 a.m., worked through the rest of the night and day. By Wednesday afternoon all the snow on the main streets had been hauled away.

Some sidewalks and driveways were still not shoveled or plowed out Wednesday morning. Others had just a path cut through them.

And that little fellow with his head and top part of his body buried in a snowbank and just his bottom and legs sticking up in the air on East Main Street is not for real. A sign in a huge snowbank at the intersection of Main and Fond du Lac read "For Sale, Cheap."

Former Members to Be Honored Guests Of Jr. Woman's Club

It is wise for the head of the family to prepare a list of pertinent information needed at time of death, including: persons to be notified, cemetery lot details, where to locate wills, insurance policies, savings and checking accounts, safe deposit box, investments, documents, and Social Security number.

Grandson of Local Residents, Man Killed in Accidents

A 16-year-old West Bend boy died Friday of injuries sustained in a one-car accident last Tuesday.

Patrick J. Casey of 212 South St., West Bend, was a passenger in a car driven by Timothy J. Kohn, 17, of 2171 E. Decorah Road, West Bend. Kohn's car failed to negotiate a curve on Paradise Drive just east of Maple Road, spun around and hit a tree, sheriff's deputies said.

Casey suffered neck injuries and was taken to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, and later to Froedert Memorial Lutheran Hospital in Wauwatosa, where he died Friday. Kohn was treated and released from St. Joseph's Hospital.

Casey's death brought the number of 1981 Washington County traffic deaths to 28.

Casey was born April 24, 1965 in West Bend, the son of Leo and Velma (Shulka) Casey. He was a junior at West Bend West High School.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Jackie (Herbert) Krebs, West Bend, and Lori, at home; three brothers, Daniel and Edward, both at home, and William (Patricia), Kellin, Texas; his grandparents, Anthony and Eleanora Shulka, Route 2, Kewaskum, and other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were to be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Techman-Myrhum Funeral Home, 1315 W. Washington St., West Bend. Dr. Harold Weaver officiating. Burial was in Weaver Washington County Memorial Park, West Bend. Visitation at the funeral home was Sunday after 4 p.m.

In another accident, a 35-year-old West Bend man became one of the state's first 1982 traffic fatalities early New Year's Day morning when the pickup truck he was driving left the road and struck a tree southeast of Kewaskum.

Ronald P. Harter of 614 Roosevelt Drive, West Bend, died after he failed to negotiate a curve on Forest View Road, 1/2 mile north of Ridge Road, south of Hwy. H in the Town of Farmington about 3:30 a.m. Harter's truck then hit a tree and he was thrown from the vehicle, according to the Washington County Sheriff's Department.

Two Thoughts For Today

There's one sad truth in life,
 I've found
 While journeying east to west,
 The only folks we really wound
 Are those we love the best.
 We flatter those we scarcely know,
 We please the fleeting guest
 And deal full many a thoughtless blow
 To those who love us best.

BAD BACK

For a person with a "bad back," a mattress could very well be the most important article of furniture in the house. Do not presume that the firmer the mattress the better. A bed too hard can interfere with relaxation because it does not allow the body to be cradled. However, the heavier you are, the firmer the mattress should be.

Parent Support Group to Meet

Support in Infant and Child Death, a parent support group, meets on the 2nd Thursday of each month. The next meeting will be on Thursday, January 14, 1982, at 7 p.m. at the Planned Parenthood office on the 2nd floor of the old section of St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend.

This month Michael Nofz, a sociology instructor at the University of Wisconsin, Fond du Lac campus, will discuss interpersonal communication, relating his presentation specifically to the breakdown in communication that often follows the death of a child. Parents are invited to share as much or as little of their experience and feelings as they wish. SIICD meetings simply provide a compassionate atmosphere; parents offer support to others who feel the pain, fear, and sadness that the death of a child brings. It helps to know that others have had the same feelings.

Anyone who has felt the loss of a child at any age, including miscarriage and stillbirth, is cordially invited. For more information, please call 338-1303.

Sensenbrenner Calls At Statesman Office

Ninth District U.S. Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. and his staff assistant, Ted Canavas, called on the Kewaskum Statesman Tuesday morning.

Sensenbrenner was at the Municipal Building from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. to give residents a chance to meet with him and discuss issues of concern or problems they have with federal agencies. He made it to Kewaskum despite treacherous, drifted snow covered and slippery roads.

USDA Conservation Program Out for Public Review

The Secretary of Agriculture announces the opportunity for people to comment on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposed soil and water conservation program. The program features expanded roles for local and state governments and the targeting of USDA dollars and personnel to conserving critical resource problem areas. People who are interested in the proposed program, or potentially affected by it, are invited to comment. Responses will be accepted through January 15, 1982, and can be mailed to State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service (SCS), 4601 Hammersley Road, Madison, Wisconsin 53711.

The proposed program would concentrate more USDA assistance in areas where soil erosion and other problems threaten to reduce agricultural productive capacity and to increase agricultural production costs, according to Clifton A. Maquire, State Conservationist, SCS. Basic USDA technical and financial assistance would continue in all areas.

The program would use local and state conservation coordinating boards to identify critical problem areas, set priorities, and develop programs for local and state action to solve the problems. These boards would be based on existing organizations—conservation district boards, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committees, extension advisory boards, and other groups.

Based on the recommendations from these local and state boards and national priorities, more USDA assistance would be aimed at reducing the most serious soil erosion and related problems.

The program is the Department's proposed response to Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA). It is detailed in an RCA Program report, Maquire says. This report and a summary leaflet with response form are available at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout the state.

The basis for the program is an appraisal of the condition, trends, and natural resources problems of the nation. Published in two reports, the appraisal is also available for public reference in the two USDA offices.

"In 1980 more than 3,100 Wisconsinites responded during the review period for the appraisal. These people will receive a copy of the program summary leaflet through the mail. We hope they and anyone else who are concerned about the management of our soil and water resources will take the time to comment on the Department's preferred program," added Maquire.

For additional information regarding the RCA Preferred Program, summary leaflets and response forms, please contact the SCS at 2395 West Washington Street, West Bend, WI or call 334-3706.

Rabies and Tattoo Clinics Offered At Humane Society

The Washington County Humane Society (WCHS) will offer two clinics for pet owners in January. A rabies clinic will be held on January 10. A tattoo clinic will be held on January 17. Both will be at the shelter, 3650 Hwy. 60 from 2:00-3:30 p.m.

The rabies clinic will offer vaccinations for cats or dogs at a cost of $5.00 per animal. WCHS is offering the shots to help area pet owners comply with State Assembly Bill 751 passed on May 18, 1981. The law requires all Wisconsin dogs four months of age or older to be vaccinated against rabies.

High incidence of rabies cases in Wisconsin has caused many area veterinarians to encourage yearly inoculations for assurance of protection against the fatal disease. The State Law requires one shot every three years.

The tattoo clinic is designed to help prevent lost or stolen dogs. For a cost of $5.00 per dog, the owner's social security number is permanently tattooed on the dog's inner thigh. For an additional $35.00, (a one time charge for the lifetime of the owner regardless of the number of dogs owned during the time) the owner's social security number, address, and phone number are registered with the National Dog Registry.

The National Dog Registry has a 24 hour hotline phone number which can be used to match owner and dog any day of the year. This hotline was established by Dr. David Timrud of New York when his beloved Husky, Bjorn, was lost and despite an intensive search involving hundreds of dollars, the dog was never located. Since that time, hundreds of dogs including a former mascot of the Washington County shelter have been reunited with their owners, sometimes within hours of their disappearance. In addition to helping with lost dogs, the tattoo is said to be an effective deterrent against dog theft.

WCHS is one of many U.S. organizations authorized to register dogs with the National Dog Registry. Once a person's social security number is registered he can have any dog he ever owns tattooed with this number for the tattoo charge (currently $5.00) to receive the service.

For more information about either clinic, call the shelter at 1-677-4388.

Electric Co. Files For Rate Increase

Wisconsin Electric Power Co. on Dec. 30 filed an application for a rate increase for 1983 - one full year in advance of when the company needs the increase to take effect.

"By filing this early, we will give the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin and all interested parties ample time to evaluate and comment on the request," explained Richard Abdo, WE vice president-corporate planning.

"We're now on a once-a-year schedule for rate requests and the full year for review is something we and the PSCW have been working toward for some time," he said.

Abdo explained that the application asks for an increase in annual revenues on Jan. 1, 1983 of about 9 percent over the amount requested for 1982.

Abdo said the increase is necessary to meet anticipated company costs for fuel, materials, equipment, taxes, labor and capital.

Wisconsin Electric has asked to reduce the difference between summer and winter rates from the 10 percent proposed in the 1982 rate case to 5 percent in 1983.

101 WAYS

Just finished reading 'A HUNDRED AND ONE WAYS TO SAVE GASOLINE' and many of those ways were written in these past columns.

Keeping your engine fully tuned, the wheels aligned and lubricated with proper tire pressure and a clean functional cooling system, then add good driving habits, and you not only save gasoline but extend the life of your automobile. And considering the cost of cars today, most of us will have to keep the old family car an extra year or two, or three. So, it's wise to take extra good care of it. And like they do on television, we pause for this important message.

Cut Heating Bills With Small Energy Improvements

By Dan Wilson
Horticulture Resource Agent
UW-Extension West Bend

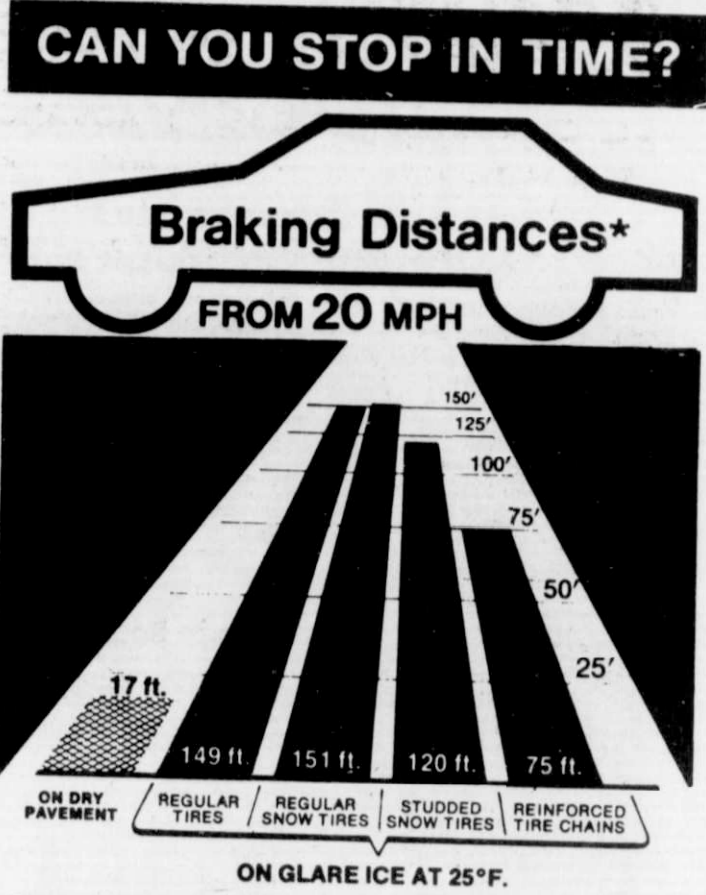

Even if you haven't gotten around to making those major energy saving improvements on your home, such as installing storm windows and insulation, you can still cut your heating bills this winter by making some simple changes inside the house.

These measures cost little or no money, but can add up to increased comfort during the winter months, and can conserve considerable energy.

For example, take advantage of the sun's warmth. Open curtains or drapes on sunny days, and do the same for east windows in the morning and west windows in the afternoon. Then, close the drapes tightly to keep the room heat away from the cold window panes.

Drapes, curtains and insulated window shades can be a big help in preventing heat loss, but only if they are tight at the tops and sides. You might want to make a fabric cap to seal the space between the top of the curtains and the wall or window. Tacking the sides of the drapes to the window frame will also help.

Dirt and dust reduce warm air transfer, so radiators, hot air registers and baseboard panels should be kept clean. Don't let furniture and drapes block the registers either. In fact, you might want to install a simple deflector (available from hardware stores) to keep heated air from flowing behind the curtains and out the window,

*TESTS BASED ON REAR DRIVE VEHICLES.

Pointing up the extreme hazard of driving on glare ice, tests by the National Safety Council at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, show that stopping on glare ice may take as much as nine times the normal, dry pavement distance. The tests also disclose that conventional snow tires are of no help in stopping on ice, while studded tires reduce braking distance by 19%, and reinforced tire chains by 50%.

rather than out into the room.

One of the best ways to save on heating costs is to just turn the thermostat down. For each degree you reduce the indoor temperature, you can save about 3% on heating bills.

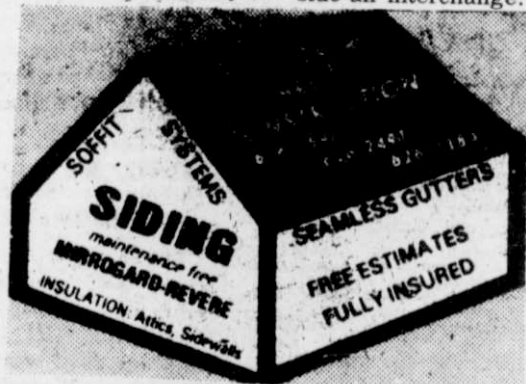

You can save even more if you close off unused rooms, turn the temperature down even more at night and sleep under an electric blanket.

If you have an electric dryer, it can be vented indoors during the winter to conserve and use the heat it provides. If you do this, however, you should install a lint filter over the dryer's vent pipe, and discontinue the indoor venting if you notice a problem with dust or lint in the house, or with condensation on windows. Never vent a gas dryer indoors.

Kitchen and bathroom exhaust fans are useful in removing excess humidity from your home, but they take out heated air so use them sparingly.

Finally, you can cut down on drafts and heat loss by using sheltered doorways or vestibules to enter and leave the house. You might go through a garage, or through a porch on the side or back of the house, since these entries act as an "air lock" to reduce inside/outside air interchange.

Valders Defeats Indian Gymnasts

The Kewaskum gymnastics team lost a 75.75 to 68.1625 meet to Valders here Tuesday night in non-conference action.

It was not a good meet for the Indians as the result of a six-day layoff without practice over the holidays. But it was a successful night for soph Wendy Wilson, who placed first in floor exercise with a 6.95, third in vaulting with a 6.05, and a second in all-around competition with 5.3125.

The Indians swept the floor exercise event. After Wilson's first came Sandy Nigh in second with a 6.9 and Amy Nigh and Annette Jandre tied for third with 6.4s.

Valders took all places in both the balance beam and parallel bars.

Kewaskum goes to Markesan next Tuesday and the Chilton Invitational a week from Saturday.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL GAME POSTPONED

The Kewaskum High School girls' varsity non-conference basketball game scheduled at Campbellsport Tuesday night was postponed as an aftermath of the snowstorm Monday.

The boys' teams will resume action after the holiday at Kiel Friday.

There's a saying that toads around the house mean bad luck, but actually they're very helpful in a garden since they feed on grubs, insects and slugs.

Wisconsin Lake Maps Available To Ice Fishermen

An index of over 2500 Wisconsin Mapped Lakes will help many Ice Fishermen enter the charmed circle of experts.

A mapped lake is actually a hydrographic map. So what's a hydrographic map? "Hydrographic Maps" is simply a high-faluting term for maps showing the various depths of a lake along with other information that is so desirable to have for fishing...such as kind of lake bottom (sand, mud, gravel, etc...)

Suppose you want to fish for perch. You know his feeding habits and at what depths and over what kind of bottom he would be. With a Wisconsin Hydrographic Map you can see at a glance the general contour of the lake bottom and the exact depth of any given place along with the kind and condition of the bottom. No more cutting through a foot of ice to find 6 inches of water underneath.

The index is available at no charge by sending a large, self-addressed, stamped (37c) envelope to: Wisconsin Lake Maps, Box 5096, Madison, WI 53705.

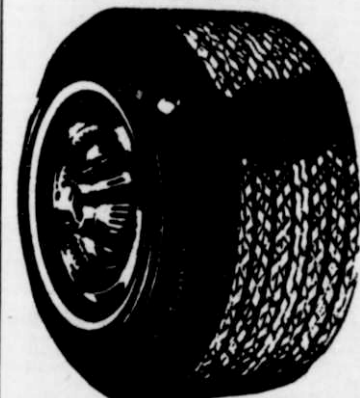

The largest crabs in the world live off the coast of Japan. They stand 3 feet high and often weigh as much as 30 lbs.
