5% Wage Increase for Support Staff

New Business Manager for Kewaskum School District

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At its meeting Monday night, the Kewaskum School Board hired a new business manager to replace Robert Borch who resigned June 1st to accept a similar position with the South Milwaukee School District.

Barid Stouffer will assume his duties as of August 1st. The board on a 4 to 3 vote, approved his two-year contract at an annual salary of $27,500.

Stouffer, 32, is presently employed by the Janesville School District as business manager. He will be moving his wife and two children into the district in the near future.

In other action, the board approved a 1983-84 bussing contract with Johnson Bus Company. Board member Charles Ogi, of the Transportation Committee, said the new contract carries a 5% increase which he felt was in line with present rising costs.

Board member Ralph Horner, of the Support Staff Negotiations Committee recommended approval of a 5% salary increase, plus one step up on the scale, for support staff personnel which includes non-union employees such as aides, secretaries, cooks and custodians. Nine-month employees will also receive Christmas and Good Friday off, twelve-month employees will receive an additional five hours off on Good Friday, which results in having the entire day of Good Friday off.

The board also approved District Administrator John Long's request to purchase computer hardware as recommended by the Long Range Planning Committee in its last report. Long said part of the cost, approximately $11,000.00, would be covered by a federal grant. He also stated there was a possibility that three computers could be purchased with EEN (special education) funding, on the condition Special Ed classes would have priority for their use, available to other classes when not in use by that department. This could save approximately $3,000 in district computer costs.

Present plans are to purchase ten Commodore 64 computers with accessories and seventeen Apple IIE computers with some additional accessories.

Board member Neal Weare brought up the question of a Maintenance Manager for the school district. The board was asked to submit their recommendations on qualifications so that a job description could be developed by the Negotiations Committee. Weare said he would like to see someone knowledgeable in all phases of maintenance, such as plumbing, electricity, boiler repair, etc. Weare also noted he would like to see this person do an on-site inspection of each school at least once a month in an effort to keep small maintenance problems from getting out of hand.

The board approved renewal of district insurance with the Kettle Moraine Agency. Gene Bohn, of Kettle Moraine, suggested the board revise their

Youth Charged in Beating Is Waived to Adult Court

A 17-year-old rural Campbellsport youth was waived into adult court last Wednesday in connection with his alleged attack on a game room operator in Kewaskum May 21, according to Assistant District Attorney Carol Peterson.

Charges of aggravated battery and of being a party of the possible crime of attempted strong-arm robbery with a dangerous weapon were filed Wednesday against the youth, the district attorney's office said. The youth allegedly beat

Robert Haney, 43, of Kewaskum, with a pool cue during the incident.

The maximum penalty for the battery charge is a $10,000 fine and 10 years imprisonment. For an attempted robbery charge, the maximum penalty is 10 years imprisonment.

Circuit Judge James B. Schwalbach released the youth on a $5,000 signature bond, co-signed by the boy's mother, and ordered him to appear in court again June 20.

Jon Etta Receives Master Stockman Award at Portage

Each year the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' Association gives out one Swine Master Stockman Award. It is one of the most distinguished awards a Wisconsin youth, interested in livestock, can receive. This year Jon Etta of 5599 Beechnut Drive, West Bend, was given this award at the 1983 Spring Preview Show held at Portage on June 10.

Exhibitors are evaluated during the show on conduct, placing of animals at the show, knowledge of the project, and showmanship ability.

Jon is the son of Ethan and Judy Etta and is a member of the Kewaskum FFA and Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club.

Near Drowning in Town of Farmington

Darrin J. Prill, 18, of Mundelein, Ill. was in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, earlier this week after William G. Boeck, 39, of Racine pulled him from the water at Lazy Days Campground on Green Lake in the Town of Farmington at 10:57 a.m., Saturday, authorities said.

Boeck said he saw Prill in about 2 1/2 to 3 feet of water, saw him go under, and thought he was playing, the Sheriff's Department report said. Then Boeck saw a shaky arm come up, went to the water and dragged Prill out.

Cardiopulmonary resuscitation was started, and then the Newburg Rescue Squad arrived and gave the victim medication before taken him to the hospital.

COMMITTEE MEETING FOR MAINTENANCE MANAGER

There will be a meeting of the Support Staff Negotiations Committee on June 22 at 7 p.m. at the Kewaskum High School. The committee will be working on a job description for a maintenance manager.

Man Charged in Death Of Kewaskum Bicyclist

A Kewaskum man has been charged by the Washington County district attorney's office with two counts of homicide by the intoxicated use of a motor vehicle in connection with an accident that led to a bicyclist's death, court records show.

Charged with causing the death of another by operation of a vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicant and while having a blood alcohol content of .10 percent or greater the legal intoxication level, was Marvin E. Wahnschaffe, 29, of 316 Main St., Kewaskum.

Wahnschaffe allegedly was the driver of a car that struck Jennifer Ramthun, 12, of 9175 N. Mill Road, Town of Kewaskum, on Hwy. 28 a short distance east of Kewaskum May 9. The sixth grader at Holy Trinity Catholic School died May 15 at Froedtert Memorial Hospital in Milwaukee of injuries sustained in the accident.

Wahnschaffe had taken a Breathalyzer test that showed a blood alcohol content of .13 percent, the criminal complaint said. He had been cited by sheriff's deputies for driving a vehicle while intoxicated and for having a blood alcohol level of greater than .10 percent.

County citations carry civil forfeitures only while the maximum penalty for each of the charges by the district attorney's office would be a $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

Wahnschaffe was ordered to appear in court on the charges Monday at 8:30 a.m.

The Kewaskum Schools - Why The Trust Fund Is Needed

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Because many questions and misconceptions have risen over the Kewaskum School District's need to borrow money, the School Board and Administration will try to explain, in a series of short articles, why the $400,000.00 State Trust Fund loan is needed, and how it will be spent. This first article will present a short background and information about the events which have led to the School Board's decision to apply for the loan.

In an interview with School Board President Jean Goeden, she explained a few of the circumstances that have brought up the district's need to borrow money for projects throughout the district.

Goeden noted that, over the past several years, many of the repair projects and equipment purchases being considered as targets for the loan money had been put into past budgets. However, when the board tackled the problem of trying to trim the budget each year, these continuing maintenance projects and equipment purchases were the first to be cut.

This is where one question has come up. There's money in General Maintenance, why isn't it being used for some of this work? In checking with former Business Manager Robert Borch, he explained to Goeden that, "X" number of dollars were left in the budget which just covered the everyday housekeeping type maintenance needs of the schools, such as janitorial supplies, detergents, wash mops, etc. There really was no extra money for doing preventive maintenance, roof repairs, updating and repair of heating systems before a breakdown, heating conservation measures, and major maintenance for the general upkeep of the district's schools.

Over the past two to three years, several repairs, including re-roofing at part of the high school's old gym roof because of severe leaks, repairs to the Beechwood School boiler when it broke down during the winter, a heating valve going out at the high school, a gas burner control going out at Kewaskum Elementary, were all done with emergency funds.

Money has been set aside for a minimum of emergency repairs, but this source has been abused with several expensive repairs over the last few years. There is no money budgeted for continual maintenance in an effort to avoid these problems before they become an actual emergency.

Variou equipment needs from shop classes to science labs have been consistently cut from the budget year after year. In some cases, when equipment wore out or broke down, it was not replaced because it was cut from the budget.

In a 1982-83 study of the 433 school districts in Wisconsin, Kewaskum ranked 350th as far as school funds spent per student. Kewaskum has been continually compared to the West Bend District which ranks 57th. In dollars, this means Kewaskum is spending $2,266 per student, while West Bend is spending $3,118 per student, $852 more per student than Kewaskum.

Kewaskum is $280 per student below the conference schools average of $2,546 in expenditures, and $685 per student below the state average spending level of $2,951 per student.

While Kewaskum may be proud of holding its budget down, the end result may be more costly and larger repairs in the long run and larger equipment replacement costs because of immediate need, rather than a continuing program of planned purchases. With an $18 million investment to preserve and protect on behalf of the district's taxpayers, the administration and school board felt these projects and purchases could not be put off any longer.

In the following weeks this article will look at each school in the district, explaining what items the board hopes to accomplish with the State Trust Fund monies.

School District Libraries Will Be Open Some Evenings

The libraries at Kewaskum Elementary, Beechwood Elementary, Farmington Elementary, and Wayne Elementary will have their first open evening on June 20 from 7 to 9 p.m. Additional volunteers are still needed at Kewaskum and Wayne. Additional volunteers are Mary Degaynor, Ann Thull, Kathy Borch, Jan Uhlman, Trudy Peterson, and Jane Jensen.

The dates for open libraries are on June 20, 27, July 11, 18, 25, August 1 and 8 in the four elementary schools.

The dates for open libraries at the Middle School and High School are June 21, 28, July 12, 19, 26, August 2 and 9.

Enjoy Washington, D.C. Trip

by Cathy Schlice

Forty-three eager people departed from Kewaskum on Monday, June 6, at 7 a.m., bound for Washington, D.C. They traveled by a motorcoach bus from Otte Bus Co. of Cedar Grove. They traveled through Chicago where they saw the Sears tower through the clouds. About mid-day they stopped in Toledo, Ohio (home of Max Klinger of M*A*S*H) for lunch. The first night was spent in Youngstown, Ohio.

Tuesday morning they left for Gettysburg, Penn. On the way there, they saw the Appalachian Mountains and traveled through the Allegheny Mountains tunnel. While in Gettysburg they saw presentations on the history of the Battle Fields, then toured them and saw the place where Lincoln gave his famous Gettysburg Address. A few of the students went to the top of the National Tower from which they could see for miles. They then left for D.C. and arrived at their motel which was just across the Potomac River from D.C. Tuesday evening was spent touring the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials, and they also toured the beautiful lighted city of D.C. The bus also traveled on the bridge where the plane had crashed last year and fallen into the river.

Wednesday morning and early afternoon were open for everyone to tour the city on their own. Some of the buildings they saw included the Smithsonian Buildings, National Air and Space Museum, American and Natural History Museum, Art Gallery and some went up in the Washington Monument. As a group they then toured the Capitol and next went for a 4 p.m. meeting with Senator Proxmire only to find out he was called to a Senate Meeting. The group went back over to the Capitol and listened in on the meeting and found it to be very interesting. They saw Sen. Kasten and Sen. Ted Kennedy, brother of former Pres. John F. Kennedy. They were then given the evening off for a little R and R.

Thursday morning was spent buying souvenirs and then a tour of the White House. They then had a group picture taken in front of the Capital by a local photographer. Next up was a tour of Arlington National Cemetery where they saw the changing of the guards at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Also located there were the gravesites of John and Robert Kennedy. Next up was a visit to Mt. Vernon and George Washington's home. They also saw the U.S. Marine Corps. War Memorial the Iwo Jima statue. A fairly new memorial in D.C. is a wall built into the ground on which are the names of all the POW's MIA's and other soldiers who died in the Vietnam War. There are 3 Kewaskum men among those names: James Manthei, James Fickler and David Baitinger. They then stopped off at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts followed by a bus tour of Georgetown.

Friday morning they left D.C. and stopped at Thomas Jefferson's home in Monticello. They then traveled through the Blue Ridge Parkway and saw many breathtaking sites as they reached altitudes of nearly 3400 ft. They also traveled through many small coal mining town before reaching their motel in Charleston, West Virginia. They were given a great welcome reception there.

At 8 a.m. Saturday morning the bus left for home stopping mid-day in Cincinnati, Ohio, for lunch. They arrived home about 8:30 p.m. to a group of parents and friends. In all the group covered some 2200 miles and crossed 7 states.

On behalf of the entire group I would like to thank Mr. Fran Charland for putting in some long hours to help make this trip possible. I'm sure it will be a happy memory for all of us who went. Thanks again to a great friend and teacher, Mr. Charland.

coverage from $100 deductible, to $500 deductible on damage claims. Bohn told the board, looking over records for the past three years, the district would have been ahead to go with the $500 because of the substantial difference in premium rates approximately $2,600 less annually. Even with a $500 deductible on the 16 claims from the past three years, the district would have had a net saving of $3,260. The board accepted the recommendation and made the change.

The board advised Administrator Long to look further into the need for a half-time teacher to instruct teachers and students in a pilot computer program. Long said instructors Joe Harlow and Mark Roth felt they would rather have another instructor who has more technical knowledge and experience than they presently have, to instruct the other teachers. Long told the board, the district has too much at stake in the future of computers not to hire someone with expertise.

Long told the board he was contacted by a representative of the North Fond du Lac School District in regard to purchasing the portable building which formerly housed the Administration offices. The board decided there was still a need, as far as storage space, for the building and were not interested in selling it at this time.

Town of Scott resident Clara Trapp read letters from the Wisconsin State Election Board and Washington County District Attorney's office regarding the legal process followed in the April School Board election re-count. Board Clerk John Spoerl then read a letter refuting Mrs. Trapp's comments.

The board approved the hiring of Mrs. Georgia Howard as a secondary ED teacher and Misses Marianne Pulda and Mary Bahr as speech and language therapists.

Board President Jean Goeden said she had been contacted about renting the vacant land behind Farmington School. The board decided not to rent the land, but look into the possibility of using it as a school nature and wildlife study area with native plant and tree plantings by students.

State Farm Management Tour to Include Neumann Farm at Kewaskum

Six Wisconsin farms will be featured on the 1983 Wisconsin State Farm Management Tour June 29 and 30.

Among the stops on the tour is a Holstein breeding operation which makes extensive use of embryo transplants. A demonstration of embryo flushing will take place on the farm. Other stops will feature farms with extensive experience in such methods as feeding whey to swine, feeding total mixed dairy rations, wind power electrical generation, and more.

The farms included on the tour are the Allen Sell Farm, Dodge County; Koepke Farms, Waukesha County; Ryan Farm, Fond du Lac County; Grande Cheese, Dodge County; and two Washington County farms.

One of the Washington County farms is the Roger and Ann Neumann Farm near Kewaskum. Besides building up an excellent 60 cow dairy operation on a moderate investment, Roger and Ann Neumann have tried out several innovations. Their new solid manure storage facility not only handles manure from their herd, but also accepts sewage sludge from the nearby Village of Kewaskum. They can also provide some interesting cost return figures on their wind powered electrical generator.

The other Washington County farm is owned by Susan and Leroy Yogerst. They started farming in 1967 on rented land, using Susan's high school agriculture project as foundation stock. They now have a 48 cow Holstein herd, and raise registered Percheron draft horses and Welsh ponies.

Registration for the program is $25.00 per person which includes the complete tour and two meals. Registration materials are available at the Washington County UW-Extension Office. Registration should be made by June 21st to guarantee bus transportation and meals.

The tour headquarters is the Campus Inn at the intersection of Highways 151 and 33 in Beaver Dam. Buses will depart at 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday, June 29, for stops at the Sell, Koepke, and Yogerst farms. Dinner and social hour that evening will be at the Sunset Hills Country Club in Beaver Dam. Following dinner, Robert Cropp of the University of Wisconsin Cooperative Extension Service will speak on the "Dairy Situation, Legislative Proposals, and Management Implications for Dairy Farmers." There will also be a 30 minute film giving a preview of the Grande Cheese tour.

On Thursday, June 30, buses will depart at 7:45 a.m. for tours of Grande Cheese, and the Ryan and Neumann farms. Following the tours there will be a buffet lunch at Sunset Hills, followed by a group discussion on the economics of feeding whey to swine, total mixed dairy rations, embryo transplants, manure storage, and wind powered electrical generators.

Persons interested in more information should contact the Washington County UW-Extension Office.

Blindness in Fawns Studied in This Area of Wisconsin

A higher than expected incidence of blindness in white-tailed deer fawns in east central Wisconsin is the subject of a continuing study this year by Dr. Terry Amundson, DNR wildlife disease specialist.

While infectious disease and environmental toxicants are among possible causes being suggested, Amundson said no definite cause for the blindness was found in the five fawns he examined last year. "While wildlife creatures of many species are sometimes born blind," Amundson said, "this higher than usual rate of blindness in fawns born in the east central Wisconsin counties since the mid 1970s is of concern to us. We would like to identify its cause and then determine why it occurs so frequently in that area.

Amundson, assisted by two veterinary ophthalmologists from the Wisconsin College of Veterinary Medicine, would like to examine fawns born blind in the east central Wisconsin area, roughly the counties which surround Lake Winnebago. "If anyone in that area of the state observes a fawn that is obviously disoriented and appears to be sightless and having difficulty, notify the nearest DNR office of the time and the area where you saw the fawn," Amundson said, "but please don't pick up the fawn or try to catch it yourself. Department personnel will check into the situation and take the proper action."

A word of caution from Amundson. "Most of the young wild creatures you observe at this time of the year are ok, have not been abandoned and should be left alone," he said.

Three KHS Girls Attend Badger Girls State, Elected to Offices

Badger Girls State met last week in Madison for the 40th year. The more than 700 girls were elected state officials as well as county and city officials to govern them during the week of June 5-11th.

Mary Slinger, Sandy Nigh, and Julie Koepke were selected by the staff of Kewaskum High School to attend the week long program and were sponsored by the Wisconsin American Legion Auxiliary of Kewaskum.

Koepke was appointed the Superintendent of Schools in Spruce City. Slinger was elected Alderman of Ward 5 in the city of Sycamore and was also elected to the Nationalist Party Platform Committee, which wrote up the candidates for the Nationalist candidates.

Governor of the State of Badger is Nationalist Susan Zaeske of Sheboygan. Zaeske and another candidate will go on to Girls Nation which is held in July in Arlington, Virginia.

More than 700 high school juniors at Badger Girls State gained practical experience in government as they formed political parties, elected city, county and state officials, held hearings on bills and passed laws. The Wisconsin American Legion Auxiliary and the University of Wisconsin-Extension Department of Governmental Affairs are co-sponsors of this program.

Highlights of the week in Madison included a speech by Gov. Anthony Earl, the impressive Inaugural ceremony during which Wisconsin Girls State officials are sworn in by Supreme Court Justice Shirley Abrahamson, meeting actual city and county officials, and a tour of the Governor's mansion.

The girls formed two parties, held caucus meetings, planned political campaigns, acted as lobbyists on bills, conducted hearings, and met in city, county and state sessions.

date. Should such a requirement take effect, receipt of federal financial aid could be delayed if the student has not, by that time, provided information as to his registration status. For this reason, Chase is encouraging students to provide the information voluntarily now.

Men required to register with Selective Service may do so at any U.S. post office. Late registrations are accepted without penalty.

Sensenbrenner Toll Free Number Open

Ninth District Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner (R-Menomonee Falls) this week announced a toll free telephone number has been placed into service for area residents.

The number 800-242-1119 will connect callers with the Waukesha County congressional office in Brookfield. The office handles constituent problems which involve federal agencies, can answer questions regarding the availability of other governmental services and provide information concerning congressional issues.

Sensenbrenner said the service is being offered to make certain constituents who live outside the local telephone calling area have immediate access to his office. He noted while many people already call or write for assistance, the toll free telephone line would now add a new dimension to this service.

Susan is the daughter of Marvin and Audrey Leider, Route 2, Campbellsport. She also won a merit of color award in the 1982 Kodak International Snapshot Newspaper Contest.

Young Men May Now Register for Selective Service 120 Days Before 18th Birthday

Effective immediately, young men in Wisconsin who are required to register with the Selective Service System may now do so up to 120 days before their 18th birthday.

According to Wisconsin State Director of Selective Service, David D. Chase, the Decision to accept registrations up to four months before their 18th birthday was made for added convenience to registrants and to allow time for young men to receive proof of registration earlier.

The need for proof of registration came to the forefront recently when Congress passed the "Solomon Amendment" which required proof of registration from men required to register with Selective Service to be eligible for Title IV student financial aid.

Due to pending legal action no statement of compliance with the Selective Service registration requirement is required from applicants for federal financial aid until further notice. Depending on the outcome of the court case, however, men may be required to provide information concerning registration status at a later

WINNERS IN WAYNE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL SCIENCE FAIR

Thursday, May 12th, was the Science Fair at Wayne Elementary School. Each student in the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade participated in the fair.

Planning for the fair began in early March when each student, either individually or with one other person, chose a problem to solve. The problem is then stated in question form, and scientific methods are used to investigate the problem through to the final product.

The problem-solving done during this project was all compiled in booklet form and was included as part of the exhibit at the fair. Each exhibit was judged on the following criteria: 1. booklet; 2. how well did you answer your question; 3. display; 4. moveable object; 5. neatness; 6. originality. A panel of six judges, one for each category, combined scores to arrive at the winners for the contest. A perfect point score would have been 60 points.

Campus Notes

Menomonie, Wis. — Shelly Sekas, daughter of Mrs. Warren Sekas, Route 2, Campbellsport, is among more than 200 winners of Stout Foundation scholarships announced by David Williams, executive director of the Foundation.

Ms. Sekas, a freshman majoring in home economics in education at UW-Stout, was awarded the $300 Reinhold Borghild Eng Dahlgren scholarship from the Foundation.

Williams said that winners were selected by a committee, which was composed of faculty and staff members, who reviewed nearly 600 applications submitted earlier this year by Stout students. Payments will be made by the Foundation in August, after winners have enrolled for the fall semester of the 1983-84 year, he said.

The Foundation director said that additional winners may be selected as additional contributions are received by the Foundation during the summer months. He said that funds for the scholarships came from alumni, friends, parents, students, faculty, business firms, memorials and endowment funds established in the Foundation to provide annual scholarships on a perpetual basis.

75% of Local Units in State Must Reassess

If current property tax assessment practices continue, at least 75% of the state's 1,848 cities, villages and towns will need property reassessments in order to meet a state mandate that property assessments be at least 90% of market value beginning in 1986, according to a report by the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance (WTA), Madison.

The WTA, a privately supported government-research and citizen-education organization, said that in 1982, about 66% of the cities, 73% of the villages and 80% of the towns were below the 90% standard. The WTA estimates that it would cost at least $16 million if all these communities were to be reassessed by private appraisers.

According to the WTA, state law specifies that, beginning in 1986, local units not having an overall assessment ratio (percent of assessed to market value) of 90%, as determined by the Wisconsin Department of Revenue, must reassess to that level the following year.

The WTA said that only a small number of local units currently assess at market value. Among the cities are Milwaukee, Madison, Waukesha, Beloit and Hartford, along with the 12 municipalities in Kenosha county, which are under a county assessor system. These units use a computer in keeping assessments at levels near 100%.

The WTA said there were 8 communities above 25,000 population that had an assessment ratio under 50% in 1982. They were Menomonee Falls, 17%; Brookfield, 20%; Oshkosh 21%; Glendale, 24%; New Berlin, 24%; West Allis, 27%; Wauwatosa, 38%; and Racine, 38%.

For a free copy of the report on assessment ratios, write the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, 335 West Wilson Street, Madison 53703.

State ASC Committee Extends June 15 Seeding Deadline

The Wisconsin State ASC Committee extended the June 15 seeding deadline for establishing a cover on conserving use acres to July 1, 1983.

Lyle Fechtelkotter, Chairperson, Poplar, WI, said the committee extended the seeding date due to adverse weather conditions which has hampered the planting of spring crops throughout most of Wisconsin. Fechtelkotter added that nearly 1.5 million acres of Wisconsin cropland will be idled in 1983 due to farmer participation in the Federal Acreage Reduction Program and Payment In Kind (PIK) programs.

A major responsibility facing program participants is that these set-aside acres must be protected from weeds and erosion during 1983. Cropland designated which does not have a protective cover must have a vegetation cover established.

The original deadline of June 15 is not sufficient time to establish the needed cover due to excess moisture conditions at this time. The additional time of this time. The additional time to July 1 should allow Wisconsin program participants sufficient time to establish the needed cover. However, producers should seed these conserving use acres as soon as weather permits.

Delayed planting conditions coupled with record participation by farmers will cause waiting lines for producers to certify as the national certification deadline of July 15 nears. Producers are encouraged to report promptly after planting is completed to avoid rush of the final certification days.

ADVANCES IN DENTISTRY
Dr. Stephen R. Van Ess, DDS

At the turn of the century, dentists spent most of their time filling cavities and making false teeth. Today's dentists still repair and replace teeth, but they also apply fluoride gels, clean off hardened plaque (calculus or tartar), and teach patients how to brush and floss. The emphasis now is on the prevention of disease.

This progress has been possible only because of the scientific advances of the past hundred years. Dental research continues. What will it bring us tomorrow? Here are some of the developments we may expect, according to reports from the American Dental Association's Special Committee to Study the Future of Dentistry.

Dentists will use plastic materials more often in years to come. Plastic sealants are already being used to protect the chewing surfaces of children's back teeth, where decay occurs most often. Soon, better materials should be available for bonding, a technique in which plastic materials are used to reshape the teeth, cover spaces, correct gaps, and repair chipped areas. With more durable bonding materials that could be firmly fastened to dentin (the inside bulk of the tooth) as well as to enamel, some dental researchers think that as much as 80% of all drilling could be avoided.

By using fluoride in a variety of ways, dentists may soon be able to reduce tooth decay by as much as 75%. Being tested now are small devices that can be placed in people's mouths to release small, controlled amounts of fluoride at specific times.

A few years from now, better information should be available on what and how we should eat. The American Dental Association, in cooperation with the food and confection industry, is conducting a three-year study to find out which foods are most likely to cause tooth decay.

Meanwhile, scientists are trying to find ways to directly attack the bacteria that cause dental disease. Preliminary studies of an anti-bacterial mouthwash that could be used to prevent periodontal (gum) disease are under way and the results look promising. Experiments on a vaccine against tooth decay are continuing. The target of this vaccine is Streptococcus mutans, the bacteria that seems to be responsible for most decay.

Until then, you should brush and floss your teeth daily, watch your diet, use fluorides, and see your dentist regularly. And remember, if you take care of your teeth today, you'll have them tomorrow.

Favorite Foods Revue in County

The Washington County Junior Fair Favorite Foods Revue will be held on Thursday, June 23. It will be held at the Westfair Mall in West Bend.

Each 4-H contestant prepares and creatively displays a food from one of the following entry categories: An Outdoor Meal, Creative Cooks, Slumber Party, Children's Birthday Party, Party for Mom, Meal for a Holiday, Nationality Foods, Lunch for Friends, 125th Fair - Anniversary Party, and a Mini Booth Exhibit.

Entries are to be brought to the Mall between 9:00 and 10:00 a.m. Judging will take place from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon with the judges making general comments and placings at noon.

Contest judges will sample the foods and evaluate each entry on the basis of nutritional balance, flavor, texture and overall appearance of the food and table setting.

All 4-H members are encouraged to participate in the revue. Entry forms may be picked up at the County Fair Office in West Bend, or by calling 338-4485. Entry form deadline is June 17, 1983.

Over 15,000 people are employed in the processing of Wisconsin dairy products.

JUNE DAIRY MONTH Include Dairy Foods In Your Meals

It's June Dairy Month. This is a great time to include a variety of dairy products in our meals.

Milk is an excellent source of calcium, a mineral needed daily that helps form bones and teeth and keeps them strong. The protein in milk builds and repairs body tissues, and the body fight infection, and supplies energy. Milk also contains riboflavin, a B-vitamin that helps keep skin healthy and vision clear. Milk also contains many other vitamins, and minerals, sugar and fat.

Milk is available in a variety of forms—fresh, cultured, canned and dried. Milk is available in store today and is usually pasteurized and homogenized. Milk is labeled whole milk, low fat milk, or skim milk. Vitamin D may be added to any of these milks, and the milk is then so labeled. Lowfat and skim milk are fortified with vitamin A. The protein and other vitamins and minerals content of milks with reduced milkfat are equivalent to that of whole milk.

Nonfat dry milk, made by removing all of the fat and water from pasteurized milk, contains about half the calories of whole milk.

Evaporated milk is prepared by heating homogenized whole milk under a vacuum to remove half its water, sealing it in cans, and thermally processing it.

Sweetened condensed milk is prepared by removing about half the water from whole milk. There is at least 40 percent sugar added to help preserve it.

The chief secret of cooking with milk is the same as that for any other protein food: COOK AT LOW TEMPERATURE AS SHORT A TIME as necessary to achieve desired results. Milk should be heated just until it comes to a boil. Milk should never be boiled. At high temperatures, the protein in milk coagulates into a film on top and a coating on the bottom of the pan. Here are a few recipes for milk drinks:

BANANA MILK SHAKE
 2 ripe bananas
 1½ cup milk
 ¾ teaspoon vanilla
 Mash bananas to a pulp. Add milk and vanilla. Beat well. Chill thoroughly. Serve.

STRAWBERRY FLIP
 2 cups strawberries
 ½ cup sugar
 ½ cup milk
 Mash strawberries, add sugar and chill. Add cold milk and serve. A half-pint of strawberry or vanilla ice cream may be added and stirred until it is partially melted. Serve.

MAPLE MILK SHAKE
 2-3 tablespoons maple syrup
 ¼ teaspoon vanilla
 1 cup milk
 1 scoop vanilla ice cream
 Mix all but the ice cream together first, then add ice cream and mix well. Serve.

Marathon, Dane, and Clark are Wisconsin's top three counties in milk production.

Opgenorth and Sents commenced building cement sidewalks for the village yesterday.

Mat. Rodenkirch opened his cigar factory in the Quandt building formerly owned by Joseph Schnaenzer.

Louis H. Sawyer, the well known scientific cheesemaker of St. Kilian, left Monday for Neptune, Wisconsin, where he was married to Miss Marie Schauf of that place. The young couple returned here Thursday evening.

Last Monday warrants were served upon all saloon keepers in the village of Lomira, commanding them to appear in a justice court at Watertown. The complaint was made against the saloon keepers on account of keeping slot machines in their respective places of business. The saloon keepers appeared in court on Monday afternoon and each one pleaded guilty. A fine of $1.00 and costs was imposed on each one and they then returned to their homes.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fritz of St. Kilian on Wednesday.

FRIENDS NOT FORGOTTEN

On the recent Memorial Day weekend I was fortunate enough to participate in events honoring our American war veterans. After taking part in such activities, I am reminded of how fortunate we are to be free in this country. Yet, unless we are members of organized veterans groups, most Americans don't think much about the debt a humane and accountable nation owes "those who have served." The cost of services to veterans is a large portion of our federal budget, $25.5 billion, but it tends to be less of a fiscal battlefield than most other expenditures of comparable dimension. We argue about detail, but not about justification.

There are 29 million veterans in the U.S., 23 million of them war veterans and 11 million from World War 11 alone. By 1990, the number of veterans over age 65 will double to 11 million.

Let's look at some of the components in the veterans program. The most expensive element is the service-connected disability payments at $9.5 billion this year. Education and training costs, mostly the famous GI bill, are $1.6 billion. Medical care costs for 1.4 million veterans hospitalized during the year and 18.4 million treated in outpatient clinics total $7.5 billion.

These costs may give us additional perspective on the cost of defense beyond the military budget for today's preparedness, but they are not the big costs on which we should focus our attentions. In World War 11 405,000 men died, 291,000 in battle. Fifty-four thousand died during the Korean conflict, 58,000 during Viet Nam. We must never forget these proud men that fought and died for the democratic principles we all cherish.

Introduce Legislation to Allow Redemption Of Trading Stamps for Merchandise in State

(Madison)—State Senator Carl Otte (D-Sheboygan) and Representative Mary Panzer (R-West Bend) on June 8 introduced legislation which would allow Wisconsin residents to redeem trading stamps for merchandise in addition to cash.

In a joint release the lawmakers pointed out that Wisconsin is only one of three states which does not now allow merchandise redemption.

"This bill is good for Wisconsin workers; it's good for Wisconsin business; and, it's good for Wisconsin consumers. More than 1000 Wisconsin businesses, employing an estimated 25,000 Wisconsin workers, directly or indirectly produce and distribute goods for the trading stamp and premium industry."

"This bill would also benefit the numerous handicapped workshops throughout the state which subcontract with the industries involved in manufacturing these goods."

"Giving Wisconsinites the merchandise redemption option to which they are entitled, will secure these jobs; encourage competition; and, give merchants a new business promotion vehicle."

"Wisconsin labor and business should be able to compete freely in the market and Wisconsin consumers should have the right of choice. This bill will provide both."

Otte and Panzer added that their bill has strong bi-partisan support and has been co-sponsored by 22 legislators.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Dairy Month Driving Tip

The Washington County Sheriff's Department certainly supports "Wisconsin Dairy Month." "June is Dairy Month" in Wisconsin, and the "Drink Milk" slogan makes a lot of sense from a traffic safety standpoint, according to Clarence Schwartz, Sheriff of Washington County.

Sheriff Deputies have investigated many strange and unusual types of accidents over the years but we have never investigated an accident in Washington County where the driver has gotten tanked up on milk, then swerved across the center line and hit another vehicle head on, the Sheriff stated. On the other hand, nearly half of Wisconsin drivers killed in 1982 traffic crashes tested at (or above) .10% blood alcohol concentration, which means they were legally drunk at the time of the crash.

These high alcohol content statistics certainly played a major roll with the Wisconsin legislature in enacting one of the nation's toughest drunk driving laws, for which a first conviction costs an initial $440, including the forfeiture, court costs, penalty assessment and surcharge. A mandatory three month driver license suspension is the minimum, and all must go to an approved facility for an alcohol assessment. Penalties are substantially higher for second and subsequent convictions, including a mandatory minimum of five days in jail.

"If you don't spend the evening sipping milk, at least space your alcoholic drinks about an hour apart, if you are driving home. Better yet, if you have been drinking, have a sober driver take you home," the Sheriff suggests. "That's one of the best ways to avoid the unpleasant, costly, time-consuming and embarrassing experience of being arrested for drunk driving," he added.

Support Wisconsin's Dairy Month, but support safe driving even more. It is difficult to enjoy the beautiful Wisconsin countryside and summer weather from a hospital bed, following an unfortunate accident.

County 4-H & Youth Agent

COUNTY FAIR IS COMING-ENTRIES ARE DUE JULY 1

The Washington County Fair is coming. It will open at 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, July 27, and run until Sunday evening, July 31.

An important date to remember for those who want to exhibit is July 1, that's the deadline date for entries.

There are two divisions to the county fair. There is the junior division and an open class division. The junior division is open to anyone in youth organizations such as 4-H, FFA, FHA, Scouts or other youth groups approved by the fair committee. The open division may be entered by any Washington county resident regardless of age. Even youth who might participate in the junior show are eligible to enter the open class.

County fair premium books and entry forms have been distributed to all 4-H clubs. Additional books or entry forms may be obtained at the county fair office, 338-4485.

County fair is a lot of fun. It's a place where you meet old friends and get to have a lot of rides and other entertainment. In addition, county fair can be a time of learning. One of the main purposes of county fair is to have exhibits that were made by youth. It's an opportunity for youth to show what they have done. There exhibits can be judged according to certain standards and the members given helpful comments on how to improve in the future.

The fair can be learning for everyone even if you are not exhibiting. You can get ideas by observing what others have done. You can get ideas of things to make or how to do things by looking at the exhibits and listening to the comments of the judges.

So don't forget the entry deadline, July 1, and circle the dates of the county fair July 27-31.

4-H Clothing, Knitting and Crocheting Revue

The 1983 4-H Clothing, Knitting and Crocheting Revue is scheduled for June 30. It will be held at the Washington Mall in West Bend, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The knitted and crocheted garments will be judged at 6:30 p.m., followed by the judging of constructed garments between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m.

At 6:30 and 8:00 p.m., a professional model will present a modeling clinic. She will demonstrate various modeling techniques, as well as make-up and hair-styling tips.

The judge will evaluate each entry on the basis of fit, accessory choice, construction, and general appearance. Contestants will receive ribbons for their participation.

Plan to attend or participate in the Clothing Revue. Entry forms may be picked up at the County Fair Office in West Bend or by calling 338-4485. Entry forms are due June 24, 1983.

A NOTE OF THANKS

I shall always be grateful for these kindnesses.

... about your Social Security

SUMMER JOBS AND SOCIAL SECURITY

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

People who plan to work at summer jobs should be sure to understand how earnings must be reported for Social Security purposes. Otherwise they may lose out on making the most of their earnings in terms of Social Security benefits.

If the job involves wages only, they are generally reported to Social Security by the employer who deducts the tax and pays a matching amount. If the job is a matching self-employment, the earnings must be reported by the worker when he or she files the Federal income tax return.

Many summer jobs may involve special reporting situations, however. For example, special reporting requirements apply for people who do farm-work and household work. And many jobs involve tips which also must be especially reported for Social Security purposes.

RACING NEWS

by Tom Gross

Bill "Big Daddy" Johnson, Slinger, Randy Markwardt, Sheboygan, and Dave Haag, Plymouth all raced to the first feature race wins in their respective modifieds, sportsman and hobby stock divisions at Plymouth, Saturday, in front of a crowd of 2,000 as Eastern Wisconsin Stock Cars, Inc. finally got some help from the weatherman in the waterlogged 1983 season. The feature races were cancelled last week in the season opener at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds.

Johnson led in the modifieds 35 laps finale, while Markwardt took advantage of a spin-out on the 10th lap in the sportsman feature and Haag outlasted the four car field in the hobby stock race.

A red flag peppered modified race never hindered the 59 year old Johnson. "The car felt beautiful. It transferred beautifully. A re-worked No. 44 felt good," according to Johnson. "I could feel it working good. When you feel that, you just keep on going. You can run all night."

On the 15th lap a three car tangle involving Wayne Goetsch, Sheboygan, Dave Waldron, Brillion and Terry Peik, Reedsville, coming out of the first turn after a re-start, halted the race. All three cars were done for the night but Johnson was left untouched. When racing re-started again Johnson maintained his lead.

Markwardt said he was fortunate to always take the inside groove throughout the sportsman feature. On the 10th lap of the race, leader Gary Steinhardt, Plymouth, began to spin-out. Markwardt who was in the third place at that time behind John Born, Cleveland, took the inside when Born took to the outside. "That was the key to the race," Markwardt said. "I took the inside and that was the key." His 74 Camaro was working well that night. Born came in second at the end of the race.

Steve Schad ran into Randy Meyer coming out the first turn in the hobby stock feature as Dave Haag zoomed by unscathed and established a lead he was able to maintain throughout the 8 lap race. There were only four cars in the feature.

Sportsman defending champion, Scott Vollbrecht, Sheboygan Falls, took both the fast time with a :17.12 clocking and the fast heat race. Markwardt's big win in the feature spoiled Vollbrecht's clean sweep for the night.

June 11

PLYMOUTH, WIS — The quarter mile dirt oval at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds was anything but dirt by the time the feature races began Saturday night. Despite the hardened and slick turns and the numerous red flags they caused throughout the evening, Ron "The Farmer" Luedtke, Pat Harshbarger and Steve Schad did some nifty driving to come away with the feature wins in modified, sportsman and hobby stock races before a 2000-plus crowd in Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car racing.

In the 30 lap modified feature, defending champion, Luedtke, kept his No. 1 Maverick clear of a Willie Goeden, Kewaskum, Dave Deicker, Plymouth, mishap coming out of the third corner in the third lap.

After the re-start, Luedtke scooted into the lead. He never was seriously challenged for the remainder of the race. "The main thing was to keep the proper gear ratio so as not to spin my wheels," Luedtke pointed out.

Luedtke said he prefers starting at the rear, but his time trial spin out caused him to start the feature in the number four position. "I don't like starting out up front because you have to set the pace. I'd rather be in the back at the start and move up through the pack."

Luedtke had no problem, however, keeping ahead of the others after the re-start and began lapping cars mid-way through the race. "Bob (Wondra, owner of the car) found a few bugs in the car over the week and worked them out real well."

It was the first feature win for the Lomira defending E.W.S.C. champion. "It was a slippery track and I figured I could get a hold on the outside and keep the lead," Luedtke said.

Pat Harshbarger, Mt. Calvary, agreed with Luedtke about the slickness of the circuit, but used a different strategy as he maintained his sportsman feature lead throughout the race and notched his first '83 season feature victory. "It was slick alright. I figured I had to keep on the inside groove to win."

On the 12th lap, Mark Froh, Elkhardt Lake, spun coming out of the third corner and Jim Pitzen, Plymouth, along with Scott Vollbrecht, Sheboygan Falls, all got tangled up for the red flag.

After the re-start, Harshbarger used the inside groove to maintain his lead. Randy Markwardt, Sheboygan, was the only real challenge to Harshbarger in the final three laps of the 20 lap race, but Harshbarger was able to keep on the inside and ride to his win. "I almost slid out on the third and fourth corners three laps from the end," he said, but he rode to the first place money with ease.

Steve Schad, Kiel, had the easiest time in feature races as he took the lead in the first lap and maintained his edge throughout the hobby stock feature race.

Errors Help Indians Edge Two Rivers in 5-4 Game

Playing at Two Rivers last Monday evening, the Kewaskum Indians took advantage of eight Raider errors to gain their first victory of the season in a close 5-4 game.

The Indians had just one earned run, which came in the fifth inning when Brad Dieringer hit a long triple to left center, scoring Tim Leitheiser, who reached base on a walk and moved to second on a sacrifice.

Kewaskum had already taken a 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning on a single hit and three Two Rivers errors. The hit was a triple by Dave Pesch which scored one run. Pesch later scored when the catcher tried to pick him off at third and threw the ball into left field.

Two Rivers scored with one run in the third inning and tied the score at 4-4 with three more in their half of the fourth.

What turned out to be the winning run for Kewaskum was scored in the top of the seventh. Dieringer, who was continuously getting on base at his leadoff position, reached second on a throwing error by the shortstop to third on a wild pitch and scored on another infield error.

The Raiders came close to tying the score in their half of the ninth. With two outs, Scott Stern was unable to locate a fly ball to center but the right fielder, Leitheiser, retrieved the ball and relayed it to Jim Braun, who threw home to get the runner on a close play.

John Swanson picked up the win, giving up six hits while walking four and striking out four. Loser Scott Yakoubek allowed only three hits.

Rick Peterson had two hits, a single and double and scored one run for the Raiders.
