$29,000 Approved for Social Worker And Drug and Alcohol Abuse Program

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On a six to zero vote, the Kewaskum School Board unanimously approved funding up to $29,000, for the 1985-86 school year to cover the cost of hiring a social worker and instituting an ongoing drug and alcohol abuse program which would be coordinated by that individual.

High School Counselor David Wietor told the board he and his committee had gone as far as they could go, and done as much as they could do as far as developing a program and formulating a policy. Now it was up to the board to provide the money needed to put the program into operation.

In a report presented at an earlier meeting, Wietor stated the committee had worked hard to keep the cost of the program as low as possible without jeopardizing its success or effectiveness. Approximately $3,000 to $5,000 would be needed to cover the cost of training teachers unless they are able to secure the services of an individual from the Fond du Lac area. Then there's a chance we could reduce that cost to about $1,000, said Wietor. The cost of training would be a "one-shot" deal he said. "Seventy teachers have already volunteered to go into training," stated Wietor.

"Even without the chemical assistance program I think we need a social worker," stated Wietor. "This year 150 to 160 kids in our district could have used the help of a social worker, many of them for problems other than drugs and alcohol abuse."

Wietor said, "as much as he would like to continue coordinating and working with the program, he just did not have enough time, indicating the program alone could turn out to be a full time job for some individual. There were things I wasn't getting done because of the time spent with the program and writing grant applications in an effort to get funding for the project."

While the district would have to budget the entire cost of a social worker, approximately $24,000 the first year, Wietor

Local Day Care Raises Over $1,000 for MDA

Chris Bukowski from M.D.A. and children with the many awards they received.

My Little Friends Day Care held a hop-a-thon where children could help raise money for Muscular Dystrophy. Parents and friends pledged money towards each time a child could hop within a two minute period.

Chris Bukowski from M.D.A. visited the day care prior to the hop-a-thon. She explained to the children the difference between healthy children and those that aren't as lucky. The children were able to experience sitting in a wheelchair that she brought along with her. This helped them to understand what they were actually raising the money for.

This was a rewarding experience for them because this time the children could really get involved.

They also received many other awards and we will be able to present a check to M.D.A. on the TV 6 Jerry Lewis Telethon, Labor Day weekend.

We'd like to thank the parents, families and friends, whose time and support helped the day care to accomplish this goal. But the biggest thank you goes to our little hoppers as follows:

KHS Indian Rescues Mrs. Wisconsin, Guest Speaker at Activities Banquet

Somehow beauty pageants and bathing suits seem out of place in the feminine role model of wife-mother-homemaker-career person. Not so, says West Bend resident Cherie Lejeune, who should know. She is the reigning Mrs. Wisconsin.

The beauty queen firmly believes that as wife of an engineer, mother of a toddler and a former social services worker, she was fully prepared to wear the crown. It also helps to throw in beauty and poise, plus a background in modeling and stage performance.

Chosen the 1985 Mrs. Wisconsin at the pageant held in March at the Marc Plaza in Milwaukee, she vividly recalls a slight case of nerves mixed with high excitement. Having modeled professionally since teenage years, Mrs. Lejeune breezed through the swimsuit competition. The next level of the contest was that all-important interview session for which all the contestants had earlier prepared answers to the two questions: "Why do you want to become Mrs. Wisconsin?" and "What does it mean to be a contemporary married woman?"

"Spontaneous answers are my choice," she explained, "and I felt a bit anxious trying to concentrate on my prepared reply, while not pausing with 'ah' and 'uh.' So I just zeroed in on a few people in the audience and told them that the leadership role of Mrs. Wisconsin provided an invaluable opportunity to reach out to all married women in the state and that my own experiences as a contemporary woman qualified me to handle the job of ambassador of goodwill in the community," she stated.

"Is a woman's place in the kitchen?" was the surprise question asked of each of the five finalists in the pageant. Mrs. Lejeune readily responded that both the man and the woman belong in the kitchen because they make a better

To Begin Interviewing Administrator Candidates

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Kewaskum School Board President Tom Brigham has announced that the board had met last week to set up an interview schedule for the finalists applying for the position of District Administrator to replace John Long, who will be leaving at the end of June.

The field of forty candidates had been narrowed to sixteen by the District's consultant, Dr. Gray from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. The board, after reviewing Dr. Gray's list of candidates, reduced the field to seven finalists.

Four applicants were to be interviewed Thursday, May 16th, and three on Friday, May 17th. The board will also continue its evaluations and community checks on the candidates.

During the week of May 26th, the board will hold a second interview, inviting three or possibly four of the applicants. "If the board can come to an agreement on an applicant," stated Brigham, "we hope to make an announcement of our selection the first week in June. We would like the new administrator to start on July 1st."

"If we can't agree on a said after that the district would be reimbursed for 51% of the individual's salary. This would reduce the district's annual cost to about $12,000.

Wietor said he had applied for funding grants but was less than optimistic about getting one. There are a lot of districts out there competing for that money and many of them staff professionals just to write up grant applications, he noted.

In other action, the Board approved the request of the Scholarship Committee to disassociate itself from the School Board. Diane Buchel, Chairman, said the group felt it should become a private foundation such as the West Bend School District's "Columns."

Our purpose will be to help students through scholarships over, and above, the present scholarships, she said. "We will be a private, non-profit organization. We are attempting to provide a place for memorial type gifts, tax deductible gifts, alumni gifts to the school, to be lumped together into a scholarship fund which can be used for additional scholarships in our area to provide educational opportunities for the children," Buchel stated.

"Our committee has voted to disband, and in the meantime, we have organized as an area-wide committee and chosen the name KEYS, Incorporated. KE for Kewaskum, Y for youth, S for scholarships. It will be open to the public and any donation will be welcome, $1.00 or $10,000."

We are in the process of submitting our bylaws to the state and getting a tax deductible status and as soon as we have this information, we will be able to begin accepting donations.

In other business, District Administrator John Long gave a report on the status of the competency based testing program which will begin in the 1985-86 school year with grades 3, 7, and 10.

Buildings Superintendent Fred Boehlke reported an engineering report on the Farmington roof would be in by Wednesday and bids for the repair work would then be let.

Board President Tom Brigham appointed board members Lynn Dieringer and Kim Peterson to distribute diplomas at this year's graduation ceremonies.

The district hosted a retirement recognition reception for four retiring teachers, Mrs. Iona Schmidt, Mrs. Jean Moe, Mr. Earl Buswell, and Mr. Harold Doss, on May 15th, at the high school library.

Business Manager Cherna Gorder advised the board that, as of the end of April, the district had a cash flow balance of minus $20,528. To date, 89% of the district's revenues have been received but Gorder felt it would be necessary to take out a short term loan until the balance of its tax money was received. She indicated there was a possibility the district's finances may balance out by the end of the school year.

Brigham was to have presented Wisconsin Association of School Board recognition plaques to ex-board members Ralph Horner and John Spoerl, however, neither of the men was present to accept the award.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

candidate, we're going to start the process over again, going over the forty applicants or, if necessary, re-applying for the position," said Brigham.

Brigham said the board felt it (the district) had gotten so many responses because of Dr. Gray's reputation as a consultant. He was able to reduce the number of candidates because of the guidelines he had set for the position as far as qualification and strong points which would be needed to successfully fill the post. Some applicants were eliminated because they were not certified, some not qualified, while others, Dr. Gray felt, did not fit the criteria set for the position.

"Common sense is the shortest line between two points."

Fire Chief Arrested for Arson? Mercy Sakes No!

This police officer seemed quite willing to remove Bilgo's handcuffs so he could dial a phone and hopefully "make bail" for the American Cancer Society's Jail and Bail Week.

The arresting officer seeming happy about nabbing Fire Chief Augie Bilgo, as he seemed to wonder how he got in such a predicament.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Fire Chief Augie Bilgo was "nabbed" at the Kewaskum Municipal Building Tuesday morning, the charge was arson, but the arrest and charges were all made for a good cause as part of Washington County's American Cancer Society "Jail and Bail Week."

After his "arrest" by a real (off duty) police volunteer, Bilgo was hauled off to the Pokey located in the West Bend Westfair Mall where he appeared before the judge and was sentenced to a $200.00 fine with one hour to raise the bail through donations to the society.

Rumors are the tall, dark desperado was apparently successful in making bail since he was reportedly seen stalking the streets of Kewaskum later in the day.

For three days, citizens of West Bend and Washington County had an opportunity to jail their boss, husband, wife, mayor, fire chief, politicians or anybody they like or dislike, for an "arrest fee" of $25.

The arrests took place May 14 to 16, from 8-11 a.m. and 1-5 p.m., and all proceeds from the fundraiser will go to the American Cancer Society.

"I had intended to say more, but laughs from the audience were my cue to stop there," she explained. In performing, listening to yourself while staying in tune with your audience is so important, she stressed.

Stage performance and beauty contests have not always been a major career for Cherie Lejeune. Growing up in Des Plaines, Ill., she later graduated from Colorado Women's College in Denver with a degree in psychology and sociology. Then marriage to husband Gene, who currently works for W. H. Brady in Glendale and relocation to West Bend. A job with the newly organized CETA (Comprehensive Education Training Act) gave her true insight and empathy for women at all socio-economic levels.

But after seven years in the job placement service, Mrs. Lejeune decided to return to modeling and acting fulltime. It was a big jump from helping the disadvantaged to the entertainment business, she recalls. "I do most of my work in the Chicago area," she explained, "and was fortunate to land a small part in the movie "Code of Silence," recently seen in West Bend.

Modeling maternity clothes, she took time out for the arrival of daughter Christie Marie, now 2½ yrs.

A while back, Mrs. Lejeune's talent agency suggested that she investigate beauty pageants that reflect her lifestyle as an avenue for more publicity. "I discovered that the Mrs. Wisconsin pageant provided multifaceted opportunities for my experiences and interests, plus a chance to meet many different people," she said. She expressed her appreciation to the many businesses and individuals who backed her in the state competition.

On To Mrs. America

Only a few months after winning the Mrs. Wisconsin title, Cherie Lejeune is preparing for the Mrs. America competition. She will again need sponsors. A state costume and an evening gown must be designed and made. Each contestant will be provided a swimsuit by the pageant. Neither the state nor the national beauty pageant holds a talent competition, but just in case, Mrs. Lejeune is a dancer, plus she plays the piano.

Mrs. Lejeune has yet to feel jittery about the upcoming competition. "I think in any situation, it's so important to be yourself and do your best, but to remember that there are other contestants with good chances of winning also," she explained. She plans to work closely with state pageant director Pat Evans to prepare for the Mrs. America contest, which is scheduled for live TV coverage.

Indian Bails Out Beauty

Meanwhile as Mrs. Wisconsin, she found herself in a somewhat unusual situation Tuesday morning...she was officially escorted to jail, sort of. In the American Cancer Society's fundraiser "Jail and Bail," she was charged with trying to change her status to "Miss," fined $200 and given an hour to telephone friends and relatives to contribute to her bail.

Since Mrs. Wisconsin is the guest speaker for the KHS Indian Activities Banquet next week, the Booster Club, which hosts the event, felt it most worthwhile to help bail her out. Dressed in full gear, the Indian mascot appeared at the temporary jail at West Fair Mall in West Bend and presented $25 to rescue Mrs. Wisconsin. The Indian was actually sophomore Jacki Vogt in disguise.

Booster Club is confident that Mrs. Wisconsin was able to raise her full bail and that she will be present at the May 22 banquet. Tickets for the event are on sale at KHS office and will not be sold the night of the banquet.

Kewaskum Indians Mascot Jackie Vogt handed Cherie LeJeune, Mrs. Wisconsin, a check toward her bail money. LeJeune was "arrested" on charges of trying to divorce her husband so she could participate in the "Miss" Wisconsin pageant.

Kewaskum Booster Mascot Jackie Vogt went to West Fair Mall, West Bend, to help bail out Mrs. Wisconsin, Cherie LeJeune, as she was arrested for Washington County's American Cancer Society "Jail and Bail Week." The annual event is held to help raise funds for cancer research.

Minnesota Boy Choir to Perform at High School

On Thursday, June 6, the St. Croix Valley Boy Choir of the Stillwater, Minnesota area, will be performing at Kewaskum High School at 7:30 p.m., as part of their summer tour. They are being sponsored by Salem United Church of Christ, Wayne. Tickets, $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for students and senior citizens, will be available from church members or at the door.

Tim Coulter, a former area native who attended school here, is vice president of the choir's board of directors, and father of one of the singers. Coulter became interested in the choir when his son, Mark, age 9, expressed an interest in auditioning and was accepted into the choir.

"I agreed to act as chaperone at their summer retreat," Coulter explained. "We (my son and I) went up there. A lot of the boys didn't even know each other, and hadn't sung together before. But the next day, the first time I heard them sing, I thought, 'That's really pretty. That's really neat.'"

The 32 members of the St. Croix Valley Boy Choir, ages 8 through 13, meet weekly during the school year for rehearsal at either the high school or the Phipps Center in Hudson, Minnesota.

They gather together to harmonize their voices and sing the compositions of the great masters in the European tradition of boy choirs.

Boys are selected for the choir by an audition process and are usually recommended by elementary teachers. They are eligible to audition at about age 8, and are graduated from the choir when their voices change.

Coulter has begun an effort to promote the choir and hopes to find one or more foundations or corporations to become ongoing sponsors for the choir's annual budget of $10,000 to $15,000. As part of this effort, he has prepared a portfolio on the group, contacted corporations who donate regularly to the arts, and takes off work early to tack up posters advertising the group's upcoming singing engagements.

Coulter's interest in finding an ongoing sponsor for the choir began last fall, when, because of lack of funds, the group had to turn down an invitation to sing at an international meet in Mexico.

"A lot of parents donate their time to sports. I've chosen this," Coulter said. "An I'll do whatever I can to keep the choir going. I want to see it around in 10, 15 years." He added, "We're looking for more boy singers. And we're looking for an ongoing sponsor. The boys could do an excellent job of representing some foundation, as well as the foundation supporting them."

The choir is a non-profit, non-denominational organization founded in 1980 by past choral director Delmar Lohr. Its purpose is to offer the boys, and the community a cultural opportunity often missing in rural settings.

Boy choirs are a European tradition which originated in the early Catholic church. Because choirs were a lesser order of the priesthood, and females weren't allowed into the priesthood, choir members couldn't be females. Because composers wanted to write four-part music, the soprano and alto parts had to be sung by boys whose voices had not yet changed.

Tim Coulter, a graduate of Kewaskum High School, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Coulter of the Town of Wayne.

Balloons Sent on Their Mysterious Way

Friday, May 17, 1985, Kewaskum Statesman, Page 6

Friends and workers handed out helium filled balloons which were released by Beechwood Rest Home residents in observance of National Nursing Home Week. At 3:00 p.m. the balloons were released carrying cards with their names on them. It is hoped finders will contact the home and tell them where the balloons landed.

It was up, up, and away, for over 100 helium-filled balloons released by 25 residents of the Beechwood Rest Home last Friday, in observance of National Nursing Home Week, May 12 through May 19.

Soon after the balloons were released, they quickly rose high into the sky and, within a matter of minutes, they disappeared northeastward on their way to unknown destinations. Each balloon carried a laminated card bearing the name of one of the Home's residents. Instructions on the card ask the finder to write that person telling them when and where the balloon was found.

Mrs. Lester Benzschawel, who operates the rest home, said they had gotten the idea from a newspaper article about a group of school children who had released balloons. We bought heavy latex balloons so they would last as long as possible said Mrs. Benzschawel, and it took two tanks of helium to get them all filled. We're hoping that quite a few of them are found and the residents get a response to the cards.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

David Rizzardi, Kewaskum High School Ag Instructor and Future Farmers of America Advisor, told parents and friends that 1984-85 had been a very productive and successful year for the chapter, as he addressed its 34th annual banquet May 8th.

"Fund raising projects such as the Rabies Clinic and Cheese and Fruit sales broke records, but the students' efforts and participation in the various projects was something for everyone to be proud of," noted Rizzardi. In several proficiency categories, runner-up certificates were also awarded because of the number of participants involved.

Rizzardi credited much of this year's success to the leadership of the chapter's officers. Gary Butzlaff, President, was named both Purina Outstanding Senior and FFA Member of The Year. Vice President Jon Etta was named DeKalb Outstanding Senior and will also go on to represent Kewaskum in national competitions this summer. Secretary Patsy Panzer was named Star Chapter Farmer, and Treasurer Jim Herriges received the Midwest Livestock Producers Award. Sentinel Brian Ruplinger received the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs Scholarship.

Rizzardi noted that the quality of this year's members could be attested to by the fact that both Butzlaff and Etta have been awarded scholarships to the University of Wisconsin at Madison. Butzlaff will be attending four years and Etta will be enrolled in the Agriculture Short Course. "At times there has been some internal friction," said Rizzardi, "but that was good since it served to spark the desire to achieve and accomplish even more."

Not all the laurels went to the young people. In recognition of his many years of support and service, Roy Esser, Assistant High School Principal and former Ag Instructor, was presented with lifetime membership in the FFA Alumni Association. This year Honorary Chapter Member plaques went to Mrs. Barbara York, High School English Teacher, for her continuous service and help in preparing members for the various speaking contests, and to Marie and Earl Kleinke, owners of the Amerahn, who have provided their hall and facilities for the annual banquets.

This year's speaker was June Schwendimann, Section 10 State Officer from Slinger.

Social Psychology Class Cleans Litter from Alley

Kewaskum Statesman, Page 8

Missing from picture - Monty Shaw and Rich Lloyd.

Ever since Kewaskum High School has been in existence, students have trespassed and littered on property near the school and in the alley running behind St. Lucas Church, causing grievances between the property owners in the area and the school.

Recently, Dave Rhode, a social studies teacher at KHS, has spearheaded an effort to bridge the tensions between these two conflicting parties. Rhode and students from his second hour social psychology class used a few class periods to pick up litter and rake lawns leading to the "alley" as well as cleaning the alley itself.

Rhode hoped to "create a sensitivity for private property and to generally foster a 'service above self' attitude. The students and I feel that these attitudes of the students and property owners can be bridged," Rhode stated. He added that he felt that the class felt sorry for the property owners (some of whom are elderly) having to put up with the abuse of trespassing and "a cigarette butt for every inch of ground."

Rhode reports that he has received two phone calls, already, thanking him and his class for their community service.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Lethal carbon monoxide is produced during the incomplete burning of fuels like wood, gasoline, oil, natural gas, coal or charcoal when they are burned in air that lacks enough oxygen for complete combustion. When no flame is produced, as with charcoal, large amounts of carbon monoxide are produced. Never burn charcoal in an enclosed trailer, tent or room. All fires should be thoroughly vented to provide ample oxygen and to carry off lethal fumes.

Jane Reigle Elected to Citizen Advocacy Board at Annual Dinner

It was a night of reminiscing-sharing stories about friendships, meeting old friends and making new ones. It was a time to laugh and maybe shed a few tears of joy, to honor hard-working volunteers and give out thank-yous with handshakes and hugs.

It was the seventh annual Citizen Advocacy dinner, held at the Stoneridge Inn, West Bend, on March 25. Attended by almost 90 people, volunteer advocates and their matched "friend," board members, staff, self advocates, and guests, the dinner is celebrated as a night to look back over the accomplishments of the past year and also look ahead to fulfilling the organization's goals for the future.

Started in 1978 by the Association for Retarded Citizens of Washington County, the Citizen Advocacy (CA) program works to develop one-to-one relationships or matches between volunteer advocates and individuals with a disability. Through the support of a trained staff and administered through a board of directors, CA "matches" work to provide support, friendship and guidance for disabled citizens, as well as insuring rights and responsibilities that are due them.

Everyone attending the CA dinner was recognized in some manner this year, introduced either individually or in a group according to the role they play in the organization. The mainstay of the group, its core of volunteer advocates was recognized first as a group. According to CA director Sue Moser, the "advocates make it possible for everyone to be a part of the community in which they live."

Moser gave a report at the dinner on the past accomplishments of the board and its ability to raise much needed funds. Part of the funding for CA comes from the United Way, corporate donations and private gifts. Contributions have increased this year, she said, with non-United Way funds making up over 60% of the budget. Another of the goals which the organization has met in 1984 is to bring the board to a full compliment of 16 members and expand the staff from one to two full-time positions (Moser and Goebel).

Two new programs undertaken this past year for CA were the Educational Advocacy and the legal guardian recruitment programs. The Educational Advocacy program trains parents of children with special education needs in the laws and rights of these children and what the local school district's responsibilities are for them. The trained advocates are then available to parents who are having problems or concerns with the schools.

Being able to appoint legal guardians for county residents who reside in state institutions was another important goal for CA this year. Finding guardians to watch out for these people, who in some cases, never had a legal guardian, was an important job, said Moser.

During the annual meeting portion of the CA dinner, the annual election of the board took place. This election is unique to CA as all self-advocates, volunteers and their matches vote the voting. The following board members were elected to two-year terms: Margaret Schloemer, Con Hall, John Nighbor, Jane Reigle, Lynn Camin, Jeanne Guenther, Dale Tietz, Waring Fincke, and Dave Neu. Continuing board members are: Gretchen Fincke, Gordon Mineau, Florence Mineau, Debbie Niehoff, Joan Pick, Kathy Ramsthal, Luella Marquardt, and Frank DeRaimo.

Citizen Advocacy offices are located at St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend and the Executive Square Building in Germantown. For more information on the organization on how to become a volunteer call 334-3384 or 255-6702.

Local Graduate On Tour of Europe With College Band

WAVERLY (IOWA) — Forty-eight members of the Wartburg College Concert Band left Chicago last week to begin its fourth quadrennial tour of Europe.

The band, under the direction of Dr. Robert E. Lee, will be performing 13 concerts during its month-long tour through the Netherlands, France, Switzerland, East and West Germany, Denmark and Norway.

The band has put together a program entitled "Hands Across the Sea," based on the opening number of John Philip Sousa, featuring American composers.

In addition to performing 13 concerts, the band members will be earning credit in a course entitled "Tour With The Arts," which will be taught by Walter Temme of the Wartburg faculty.

The students visit museums, attend musical and dramatic performances, visit architectural sites of note, visit with writers, composers and other artists and do assorted readings to earn the credit.

The band will be returning to the U.S. in late May and will present a Homecoming Concert Saturday, May 25, on the Fountain Plaza near the Whitehouse Business Center, weather permitting. In case of bad weather, it will be in Knights Gymnasium. The concert is to begin at 7 p.m. The program will be the same one that was taken on tour.

Members of the band include Jandelyn Hazlewood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hazlewood, Sr., 1093 Fairfield Ct., West Bend. She is a graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Parents of Infants Cautioned About Drinking Water

Nitrates in drinking water can pose a risk to the health of infants. Health officials have known this since 1945 according to a press release from the Washington County Land Use and Park Department, a local agency charged with certain environmental health and sanitation responsibilities.

The problem for infants exposed to higher concentrations of nitrates in drinking water is a dismurtion of some body processes resulting in methemoglobinemia or "blue baby." Nitrate can be converted to nitrite by the body. Nitrite affects the hemoglobin in the blood, reducing its ability to carry oxygen. This can result in the blue appearance of the body.

Very small infants, under 6 months of age, are most susceptible to this serious medical condition. Their stomachs produce less acid resulting in the possible growth of more of the bacteria which reduces nitrate to nitrite.

It is suggested that residents of Washington County, who have or expect very small infants, to have their well water tested by the State Laboratory of Hygiene. A sample bottle and exact sample procedures can be obtained directly from the State Lab in Madison at [608] 262-1293, or the test sample kit may be purchased at cost by visiting the Land Use and Park Department office, Courthouse Room 150, West Bend.

Nitrates have been observed in the drinking water in areas throughout Washington County and the State. Several natural and man made conditions are involved in the occurrence of nitrate in well water. Federal law requires the periodic testing of public water utilities, however concentrations can occur in well water without detection by the homeowner.

Wayne Kempf, Adell, chairperson of Students Making Activities Count (SMAC), located on the Fond du Lac Campus, also received a special plaque. In turn, Kempf, closed the evening by presenting three special awards on behalf of the students. To the school, the SMAC Board presented a new sound system; to Glenn Sanville, student activities manager at Fond du Lac, they presented a letter of thanks; and to Carl Smedberg, administrator of student services at MPTI for the past 18 years who is retiring in June, Kempf presented a special plaque thanking him for his years of stewardship.

The Gateway Transportation Company, Northern Division, formerly the Northern Transportation Company, with home offices in LaCrosse, has opened a terminal at 450 Main Street in Kewaskum. They leased from William F. Schaefer several doors in his garage building on River View Drive. The Gateway management feels that in this way they can better serve Barton, Kewaskum and West Bend by giving earlier deliveries and faster pickups on interstate shipments coming out and of and into this area. Morning deliveries and afternoon pickups will be made in these communities. During the night the long run semi-trailers of the company will make pickups and deliveries at the terminal. The company plans on hiring local help.

The fire department answered a call last Friday at Holy Trinity School. Apparently the igniter on the furnace did not function properly and failed to throw an arc, causing the firepot to be filled with oil. Then the oil ignited and flared up. The burning oil caused the building to be filled with smoke but there was no fire damage. The school children filed out of the building.

The Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation of Wisconsin, Inc. with headquarters in Milwaukee, will hold another hike north of Kewaskum on May 15, similar to one held last year when 65 automobiles congregated in the center of Kewaskum. The cars will meet on Kewaskum's Main Street at 10:30 a.m. From here they will proceed eastward out of town. Many political figures are expected to accompany the group, which will be larger than last year.

Richard Wesenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wesenberg, 1538 Riverview Drive, was presented the Mosby Scholarship Book Award at the University of Wisconsin Medical School's annual field day April 29. Special invitations have been extended to those congregations served by the various pastors of St. John's at one time or another during these years. They are Immanuel, Town of Scott; St. Lucas, Kewaskum; Trinity, Dundee; Friedens, Waucousta; and Immanuel, Campbellsport.

M. T. Buckley, County Superintendent, wishes to inform the pupils that the annual diploma examinations will be given on May 18 at Kewaskum High School for the Town of Farmington, Barton, Kewaskum and Wayne.

1,975 pheasant eggs were shipped out to various parts of Wisconsin and Michigan on Wednesday by Frank Hopkins, caretaker of the Moon Lake

Wild Life Refuge (now Mauthe Lake), located east of Kewaskum on the Forest Lake road. The shipping of these eggs brings the total up to 5,000 pheasant eggs or over that have been shipped out from the refuge within the past week. These eggs will be hatched out at their various destinations and after the pheasants are matured, they will be released in the hope of making Wisconsin an ideal haven for pheasants.

The Kewaskum Aluminum Company has a crew of men at work clearing and beautifying their property at the factory site. The former Jung residence which stood on the corner of their property has been razed, and the premises are being converted into a driveway which will be a continuance of the present driveway, and which will eliminate the necessity of turning around and coming out of the same driveway. Grading is being done, shrubbery is being planted and a cement driveway is being put in.

The local firemen tested out their newly purchased waterproof coats and hats on Tuesday evening on the high school campus when they went through several drills in an effort to gain in speed and accuracy in connecting up their apparatus for the occasion of a fire.

Among those who received honorable mention in the picture coloring contest conducted by the Catholic Herald in last week's issue were mentioned: Marjorie Schmidt and John

Quite a bit of excitement was created in Campbellsport last Sunday forenoon when Al Jewson's team ran away from a hitching post at William Murray's place and ran to the corner of Fond du Lac Ave., then turning south and came near going into the Knickel & Straub store front. The team was caught a little ways south on Fond du Lac Avenue, with slight damage to the rig.

Free Open House at State Parks, Campgrounds May 19

Forget about the yard work and household chores on Sunday, May 19, and enjoy a free spring outing in Wisconsin's state parks and forests.

Recognize these spring fever symptoms? Restlessness; procrastination; inability to perform simple tasks; an irresistible urge to get outside and gaze at rivers, lakes, trees and flowers; a compulsion to get in the car and drive somewhere; an overwhelming urge to have a picnic; a craving for sunshine; and general malaise.

The cure for these symptoms may lie in a refreshing and free reacquaintance with Wisconsin outdoor recreation areas. State parks and the Wisconsin Association of Campground Owners will join forces in an open house on Sunday, May 19th.

"Fees are waived in the state parks on open house day to encourage people who live near the parks to come out and enjoy the beauty of spring in Wisconsin, to bask in the sunshine, hear the birds, and feel the warm breezes clear the winter clutter from the soul," says Dave Weizenicker, Director of the Bureau of Parks. He said there is a state park within an hour's drive of any location in the state.

"It's also a good chance to meet the staffs and explore the facilities at state parks and private campgrounds," he said. Many community groups use the picnic and meeting facilities at state parks, according to Weizenicker.

Paul Brewer, a spokesman for WACO, adds, that for the first time, private campgrounds are joining in the open house celebration. He said many campgrounds throughout the state will offer fee discounts and waivers for the evening of May 18 as well as the day of the open house. To find which private campgrounds are participating, he said, phone WACO, collect, at 608-362-4945.

Many state and private campgrounds are offering special events for open house visitors, such as guided hikes, wildflower walks, and refreshment, said Weizenicker. Park staff will be answering questions about facilities and special event opportunities, he concluded.

Seven recreation facilities in southeastern Wisconsin are participating in the state event. Overnight camping won't be included on the free list, but picnicking, swimming, hiking, bird- and flower-watching will. Add slide shows and coffee and cookies in some parks.

The Northern Unit Kettle Moraine State Forest at Campbellsport will offer a showing of a new slide program, "The Kettle Moraine—Four Seasons." It will be shown by the forest naturalist several times that afternoon in the Ice Age Center.

Walter J. Adams, forest superintendent, said visitors may also want to hike one or more of four loop trails through the N.U. state forest. The trails range from about three miles to 12 miles in length.

"It's a nice time to hike the trails because of no insects," he said. Those who prefer to drive can take the 31-mile Kettle Moraine scenic drive, he said.

At the Southern Unit Kettle Moraine State Forest at Eagle, a slide show on that portion of the Kettle Moraine is planned at half-hour intervals all day in the auditorium of the office building, off Highway 59. The public can also visit the museum in the same building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The nature center at Kohler Andrae State Park at Sheboygan will be open from noon to 4 p.m., and coffee and cookies will be served, according to John G. Young, park superintendent. Hikers will have a chance to try out the "Indian Pipe" self-guided nature trail, which consists of a figure-eight shaped hiking trail of about a mile and a .65-mile nature trail. A carry-along tree guide has recently been developed for hikers.

Visitors returning to Bong Recreation Center near Kenosha will find about 900 new trees planted there since last year. They're green ash, honey locust, and maple. They were brought in to provide shade for the abundant picnic areas, according to Superintendent Bruce A. Chevis. The trees will be giving plenty of shade this summer because they're already 15 to 20 feet high. Besides swimming, hiking, fishing, boating, and many other activities, the multi-purpose recreation area will offer a morning nature hike on May 19. The area also has two self-guiding nature trails.

A Pike Lake State Park near Slinger, displays on wildlife, forest and park themes can be viewed by visitors at the park office all day. Hiking trails and lakefront activities will be open, but no lifeguard will be on duty.

Harrington Beach State Park, south of Sheboygan along Lake Michigan, opened May 1. Staff will be on duty for open-house day. Visitors will be able to drive down to the lakefront park, but no shuttle service is anticipated because open house crowds usually are modest. As at other parks, spring flowers are expected to be delightful.

Havenwoods, Forest Preserve on Milwaukee's northwest side will have completed four days of tree-planting just before open house. Visitors can look at these, can stroll along three miles of hiking trails, and inspect a four-acre pond often sprinkled with waterfowl. Spring attractions also include wildflowers that staff and volunteers rescued from Milwaukee sites, scheduled for development and transplanted to Havenwoods the last two springs.

Strawberry Field Day Is Scheduled At Fechter Farm

The 1985 Wisconsin Field Day will be held on Monday, May 20, 1985 at Fechter's Highway 60 U-Pick-Em west of Grafton. Sponsored by the Wisconsin Berry Growers Association and Cooperative Extension Service, the Field Day is directed to commercial strawberry and raspberry growers.

The Field Day will feature a tour of Fechter's complex operations. Demonstrations will be offered on mulching systems and air blast sprayers. University of Wisconsin specialists will be on hand to discuss recent research, cultural management concerns, and pest control recommendations.

Jerome and Pat Fechter (and family) raise thirty acres of raised bed, narrow matted row strawberries. Approximately one-third of the strawberries are winter mulched with plastic, bringing them into production in very early June. They grow seven acres of red and purple raspberries, too.

The Fecthers also produce sixty acres of sweet corn, tomatoes, broccoli, peas, beans, onions, and peppers for pick-your-own and wholesale markets. Registration for the Strawberry Field Day is from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. at the door. The program runs from 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. A pig roast lunch will be available at $5.00 for adults and $3.00 for children under twelve.

Fechter's farm is located about mid-way between Jackson and Grafton on State Highway 60. Contact Washington County Cooperative Extension Service Office at 414-338-4480 for more information.

KHS Boys Place 5th In EWC Relays Meet

All high school sports
by John Harju

It's been obvious this year that the KHS boys track team is rich on individual talent and week in team depth. This was proven once again at Friday's EWC Relays meet in Plymouth as the Indians placed fifth.

New Holstein ran away with the meet, winning with 104 points followed by Sheboygan Falls with 66, Two Rivers 60, Kiel 58, Kewaskum 56, Chilton 47, and Plymouth at 39. Despite their obvious lack of depth, KHS coach Dave Drexler was happy with his team, as he expected them to place lower.

Highlighting for Kewaskum were the first place efforts in the 6400 meter relay, long jump, and triple jump.

• KHS 6400 meter relay team of Monty Shaw, Gunner Schlieter, Bill Gruss, and Miles Shaw won with a fast time of 19:54.0.

• The long jump trio of Mike Steinhardt, John Harju, and Chris Dieringer totaled 54'-2 3/4", over two feet better than second place Sheboygan Falls.

• Steinhardt, Harju, and John Mertzig won the triple jump with a combined distance of 107'5 1/4" with Steinhardt going the farthest at 38'4".

Taking third for KHS was the 1600 meter sprint medley team of Steinhardt (400), Dieringer (200), Rick Dreher (200), and Monty Shaw (800) in 3:49.8.

Also noted by Drexler were the efforts of two of his discus throwers, Tim Geidel and Rick Miller, who along with Jeff Newhauser took fourth place at 379'11". Miller's throw of 134' was a personal best and Geidel's, which stretched to 141'9", was only 7 3/4" off the KHS mark set by Gary Marx in 1973.

Friday both the boys and girls will be challenging for the conference title at the EWC meet hosted by New Holstein. Field events are scheduled to begin at 3:20 p.m.

Girls Second at EWC Relays Meet Held Here

By winning five events and taking second in two more, the KHS girls rolled to a second place finish in last Thursday's Eastern Wisconsin Relays track meet held in Kewaskum.

New Holstein only won two events, but picked up most of their points on seven seconds and four thirds to narrowly beat Kewaskum, 102-91.

None the less, KHS coach Denise Leong was pleased with her team's efforts, especially those of the hurdlers, high jumpers, and the 400 meter relay team, all of whom took firsts.

The 300 meter shuttle team of Sandy Secor, Dawn Dieringer and Renee Kapp took the first blue ribbon for Kewaskum Thursday when the final New Holstein girl stumbled and fell, coming off the last hurdle, thus allowing Kapp to pass her and win.

The 900 meter hurdle team of Secor, Dieringer, and Lisa Steiner ran to a 2:42.3 clocking, beating New Holstein's composite by .6 of a second.

The Indian high jumpers, Lisa Fusek, Amy Kougl, and Lori Batzler won with a combined effort of 14'2" while the 400 meter relay team of Kougl, Fusek, Kapp, and Debbie Felix narrowly beat Kiel with a clocking of 53.3, only .2 off the KHS record.

Also taking first for Kewaskum was the shot put team of Jenny Hintz, Patti Padden and Jodi Yearling with a combined total of 92'1 1/2", with Hintz's being the best effort at 32'3", and the latter two throwing respective tosses of 30'3" and 29'7 1/2".

Taking seconds were the distance medley of Brenda Vetter (400 meters) Felix (200), Kougl (200), and Sandy Klein (800) in 4:35.6, and the 3200 meter relay of Klein, L. Batzler, Bridget McKenna and Vetter in 10:29.9, only four seconds off first place Sheboygan Falls.

KHS' lone third place came in the long jump where Felix, Secor, and Jill Rimmel combined for a 42'3/4" effort.

Tennis Team Last in EWC

The KHS boys' tennis team placed fourth out of five at Saturday's EWC tennis meet held in Two Rivers, but totaled with the points they scored in the dual meet season, the first-year Indians ended up in last place in the conference.

Sheboygan Falls won the meet with 21 points followed by Two Rivers (the 1984 winner) with 19. Plymouth was third with 8 points, Kewaskum fourth with one point, and Chilton being shut out for last place.

By adding these points to the ones scored by each team during the dual meets, Falls narrowly won the EWC crown with 44 points. Two Rivers was second with 41 1/2 points, Plymouth third with 23 1/2, Chilton fourth with six points, and Kewaskum last with four.

KHS freshman No. 1 singles player Craig Hubbell scored Kewaskum's lone point at the meet by first losing to eventual runner-up Terry Larson of Two Rivers (5-7, 3-6) but then bounced back to win the consolation match, 6-2, 6-2, over Dan Heinemann of Plymouth.

No. 2 singles player Mark

Brodzeller won KHS' only other match over Chilton's Chris Mullenbach, 6-1, 6-0, in a preliminary match but could get no further as he lost his following round one match and consolation.

Coach Rob Anglim's KHS boys' tennis team dropped their last two dual meets of the season to Chilton, by identical scores of 5-2, last Wednesday in Chilton.

Craig Hubbell at No. 1 singles and the team of Wade Jepsen and Mitch Gebheim at No. 2 doubles each won both of their matches to account for Kewaskum's four wins.

Hubbell defeated Craig Carton twice by scores of 6-3, 6-4 and 6-2, 6-3. Jepsen and Gebheim narrowly beat Paul Hertel and Dan Broecker 4-6, 7-5, 7-5 and then came back and won a second match over Brian Engler and Dan Stradtmueller, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4. The Indians finish the dual meet season at 0-6 in the EWC and 0-8 overall.

Fine Entries In First Big Fish Contest

With beautiful weather and high hopes area fishermen took to the lakes and rivers to try their luck. Again this year Village Sport Shop is running its Big Fish Contest. The contest is run on a weekly basis with prizes awarded in the categories namely Northern, Walleye, Crappie, Bluegill and Bass, and a grand prize at the end of the contest.

We had some very fine entries in the Northern category. Sue Fierke, Kewaskum, and Byron Bunkelman, Kewaskum, had a 4 1/2 and a 4 pounder respectively, both taken out of the Milwaukee River. Kevin Roesel of Adell, however, took the honors with his 7.9 lb., 31 1/2 in. fish caught on Beechwood Lake, using a bucktail.

The Bass seemed to be active also. Two nice largemouths were caught on Auburn Lake. Bret Rauch, Kewaskum, had a 3.1 lb., 19 in. fish and Andrew Breit took one at 3.3 lbs., 19 1/2 in. Steve Bath, Kewaskum, had the largest Bass for the week. His 4 lb., 21 in. fish came from Lucas Lake.

Benji Edwards, Kewaskum, won the Bluegill category. It was 7 oz., 8 1/2 in. He used a worm to catch the fish on Haack's Lake.

Mike Yahr, Kewaskum, brought in the largest crappie of the week. He caught his 14 oz., 12 in. fish on Lake Vieux Desert in Vilas County, using a minnow.

Congratulations to all the winners. We hope to see more fish in the future.
