Swimming Pool Now OK

The infestation of "mudpuppies" or salamanders in the Kiwanis Park pool is now gone, thanks to the regular use of sufficient chlorine placed in the pool.

Floyd "Butch" Buddenhagen, director in charge of the pool, reported to me that all the unwanted animals are gone, plus all the algae, too. Every water test sent in each week has come back as "EXCELLENT."

Although the "mudpuppies" are not dangerous to health, no one appreciates to come up from a dive with two or three large (5' - 10") slippery, cold-blooded polywogs draped over their head with legs flying before one's eyes.

School Board Resumes Contract Negotiations

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum School Board has begun contract negotiations with administrative personnel for the 1985-86 school year.

District Administrator Penny Kleinhans confirmed, Wednesday morning, that a contract agreement has been reached with Business Manager Cherna Gorder for the coming year. Gorder's present salary of $32,204 will go to $37,000 for 1985-86, an increase of 14.89%. The board also approved the additional benefit of a $300 a year car allowance as provided in other administrative contracts.

Kleinhans said the board has based its decision to approve the raise, to a great extent, on merit. There's no one who can deny Cherna has put in many long days, working nights and weekends to organize the business office and get operations working more smoothly and efficiently, noted Kleinhans. She also took on many of the administrator's duties on Mr. Long's departure.

The board will formally approve the contract at an open meeting, however, Kleinhans was not sure if it would be on the next meeting agenda.

The board is expected to continue contract discussions shortly with other members of the administrative staff.

Dr. Ray Wunderlich of St. Petersburg, Fla. specializes in preventive medicine. When he sees a child with a learning disability, he says, "Let's not just look at the LD that is a learning disorder - let's look at the LD that is a living disorder. Cynthia's American "Dad," James Dieringer, is a sales engineer at Jor Mac Company, and her "Mom," Laneille, is a member of the school board. Cynthia will have a sister and two brothers - Dawn, Tyler and Joshua. Maria, her host niece, also lives with the Dieringer family.

"The Beisbiers and Dieringers and the Kewaskum community are demonstrating their commitment to building bridges of international understanding by welcoming Samuel and Cynthia into their lives and hearts," notes William M. Dyal, Jr., president of AFS International.

The Kewaskum chapter is run by local volunteers who are the foundation of AFS. They are responsible for recruitment, selection and support of participants; and for fundraising which helps to sustain AFS's diverse programs.

The AFS idea originated with the American Field Service volunteer ambulance drivers who served in World Wars I and II and who later established an international exchange program for secondary school students in an effort to promote global peace, understanding, and friendship. Since 1947, over 130,000 students and an equal number of families have formed a global community through the AFS experience.

Town of Scott Purchases 2nd Motor Grader

At a special meeting on Wednesday, July 24th, the Town of Scott Board awarded the purchase of a new Caterpillar Model 120G motor grader to Fabco Equipment Company of Milwaukee. The purchase price will be $74,865.00. Three other equipment companies bid on Galion, Champion, and John Deere graders. The money will be borrowed from the State of Wisconsin Board of Land Use Commissioners and repaid over a ten year period.

The selection was made after two full board meetings, one with representatives present and a second meeting without them. Several board members and the road superintendent made several trips to various parts of the state and also were flown to Decatur, Illinois to operate and evaluate equipment. The final selection was made after a comprehensive evaluation report was presented to the board by the road superintendent. The board followed his recommendation.

At the annual town meeting in April the electors present authorized the town board to spend up to $80,000.00 for the purchase.

This gives the Town two major pieces of snow removal equipment as it now will have two graders each equipped with a front mounted plow and a side wing. A grader was chosen over a truck with a wing because of its better visibility and also that it can be used with one operator. A truck would require a driver and a wing man.

The Town of Scott will be moving into its fourth year of complete road maintenance, including snow removal, at the town level. LeRoy Gnacinski, Road Superintendent is a full time town employee and is in charge of all maintenance operations. At some periods during the summer and during snow emergencies in winter he is authorized to secure part time help. Dennis Janz has been the town's primary part-time equipment operator.

Valley Bancorporation to Merge With United Banks of Wisconsin

It was announced by Valley's Chairman, Gus A. Zuehlke, that approval has been received from the Federal Reserve Board for affiliation of United Banks of Wisconsin, Inc. (Madison) with Valley. Zuehlke stated that United Banks of Wisconsin, Inc. stockholders had voted overwhelmingly to approve the merger with Valley on June 28, 1985. Zuehlke expects the merger to close on August 30, 1985. United Banks of Wisconsin, Inc. headquartered in Madison, Wisconsin, owns four banks located in Madison, Sun Prairie, Sauk City and Menomonie. United delivers financial services through 18 locations.

Upon consummation of the merger, holders of United Banks of Wisconsin, Inc. common stock will receive either $29.25 per share or 1.27 shares of Valley Bancorporation common stock for each share of United Banks of Wisconsin, Inc. common stock.

Zuehlke, who heads Wisconsin's fourth largest bank holding company, stated that, "This represents a significant step in our long-range plan to be represented in all of Wisconsin's major markets. We at Valley are looking forward to the addition of the excellent banking organization and its fine management group to the Valley organization."

Valley Bancorporation had March 31, 1985 assets of $1.35 billion. After completion of the merger, Valley will have assets of approximately $1.8 billion and will deliver financial services through 71 Wisconsin locations.

Esser Returns From China Tour

Roy Esser, former Kewaskum High School agriculture teacher, and now assistant principal, recently returned after participating in a state exchange program in China.

Esser was asked to go on the Wisconsin FFA Agricultural Youth Leaders Goodwill Tour by Arnold Cordes, a retired state FFA advisor who has worked for the Department of Public Instruction. The Wisconsin contingency of 32 included teachers, veterinarians, farmers and one man from Sydney, Australia.

Roy said he was not too pleased with the food served on the trip, which included visits to Peking, the Great Wall, Hangzhou and Shanghai, but he did enjoy meeting the people and witnessing the great contrast of Chinese farms.

State Parks a Place To Rest Close to Home

It's difficult for anyone who has visited state parks in Wisconsin and seen the various activities going on to imagine that the activity cited by park users as most important to them is "resting."

But that is exactly what they said in a recent survey of day users of Wisconsin state parks and forests. After "resting," swimming was listed as almost as popular, followed by picnicking. Other pursuits enjoyed by park visitors included sight-seeing, hiking, boating and playground activities.

When the daytime park users were asked what they liked best in the state parks and forests, they listed water/lakes, natural beauty, and they liked a park that was close to their home. The survey showed that the

A Day of Prayer For Agriculture At Ashford Sunday

Plans for A Day of Prayer for Agriculture are being finalized at Ashford.

The Mass and Ecumenical Service will be held at St. Martin's Parish on Hwy. 67, west of Campbellsport at 11:00 a.m. on August 4. Following the services several speakers will talk on the farm crisis. They include: JoAnn Vogel, Wisconsin President of Wisconsin Women for Agriculture; Matt Flynn, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate in 1986; Stuart Huber, President of Farmers Union Milk Marketing Co-op., and Toby Roth, Republican member of Congress, Wisconsin District 8.

The day is planned by Groundswell, a grass-roots coalition of farmers and other rural residents concerned with the rural situation and the 1985 Farm Bill. This is a temporary organization to allow farmers from different organizations to work toward a farm bill that will restore economic balance and prosperity to family farms and rural communities.

John Stahl, Jr. of Ashford, an organizer of the Fond du Lac County group, said the day of prayer is to "bring together farm organizations, churches and agri business - all those affected by farming - to work together in one direction." The goal is to gain a farm bill to benefit rural communities.

Paul Mezera, a rural Campbellsport, and co-organizer of the local group, said the plan is to raise enough money to send a farmer to Washington. This has been done by other Groundswell groups in an effort to gain attention from legislators. Mezera said this enables a farmer to "explain the farm situation because many politicians don't know what is going on at the farm level."

Lunch and refreshments will be available on the parish grounds. All interested citizens are invited to attend the Day of Prayer at Ashford.

Let's all work together for agriculture and the future of our rural communities.

Allenton Water Rates to Rise

Madison, WI - The state Public Service Commission recently approved a $38,700 annual revenue increase for the Allenton Sanitary District No. 1 water utility.

Residential rates will rise 61%. An average customer using 16,000 gallons of water every three months will pay $12.92 more for that water. A typical consumer's quarterly bill will jump to $34.22 from the previous charge of $21.30.

The rate hike is due to higher operating expenses and an increase in gross plant investment, including the installation of a new well. Allenton's rates were last revised in 1983. The new rates should take effect in early August.

The water utility serves approximately 225 customers in the Village of Allenton.

Salute to Statue of Liberty Is Theme

46th Annual Seefeldt Family Reunion Held in Village Park

A salute to the Statue of Liberty was the theme of the 46th annual Seefeldt Family Reunion held Sunday, July 28, in the Kewaskum Village Park.

The Seefeldt family traces its roots to Christian Friedrich Seefeldt and his wife, Anna Sophia Kobs, Plantikow, Pomerania, Germany. Their children came to America in the period 1850-1868 before the Statue of Liberty was erected.

The family in deciding to make a contribution toward the restoration of the Statute of Liberty pointed out that the desires that brought their forefathers to America were no different than those of the thousands who have sailed past the Statue on their way to a new life in America.

In honor of their forebearers in America, the family is making a $75 contribution to the Statute of Liberty Ellis Island Foundation, Inc. in order that the work might be completed for the 100th anniversary rededication in 1986.

A special photo will be submitted to be included in the "America Family Album" display on Ellis Island being organized by the Kodak company.

Family members were encouraged to add to the patriotic mood of the day by wearing clothing of red, white and blue and working the color scheme into table decorations and menu items.

The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knoeck, Sr., Kewaskum, were presented awards for their efforts in carrying out the theme of the day which included constructing a three foot high replica of the Statue of Liberty.

Centenarian, Ida Fink Weber, Fond du Lac, was honored as the oldest lady in attendance, having celebrated her 102nd birthday in June. Louis Seefeldt, Cedar Lake Home Campus, West Bend, was honored as the oldest gentleman in attendance. He observed his 95th birthday in January.

William H. Young IV, Manitowoc, born January 16, 1985 was recognized as the youngest member in attendance. Pat and Sheri Knoeck, Kewaskum, were honored as the most recently married couple in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Meininger, Tucson, Arizona, were recognized for having come the farthest to attend the reunion. Milton and Margaret Seefeldt, Oshkosh, wed 52 years, were honored as the longest married couple in attendance.

Out of state attendees included families from Illinois and Texas. One hundred eighty-three persons registered in attendance.

A special tribute was presented in memory of Sylvia Klein Schultz, who played a large part for many years in the arranging for and in the perpetuating of the ideals of the family reunion.

The day began with a picnic buffet dinner at 12:30. The invocation was given by the Rev. Maurice Jones, Baraboo.

Officers elected for the coming year are: Phil Majerus, Fond du Lac, President; Alice Crass, West Bend, Vice President; Carole Schultz Keller, Kewaskum, Treasurer; Fred Seefeldt, West Bend, Secretary; Mildred Thornton, Fond du Lac, historian, and Alfred Seefeldt, Kewaskum, genealogist.

Campus Notes

Three students from the Kewaskum area have been given the Chancellor's Award for academic excellence during the second semester at UW-Stout, Menomonie, Wis.

They are John Rimmel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rimmel, 8650 Prospect Drive, who is a junior majoring in hotel and restaurant management; Amy Sekas, daughter of Mrs. Reuben Heidtke, 5846 Schneider Court, West Bend, who is a freshman majoring in art; and Shelly Sekas, daughter of Mrs. Warren Sekas, Route 2, Campbellsport, who is a junior majoring in home economics education.

The award is presented to students who have a semester grade point average of 3.5 or above.

Suzanne Schmitt, daughter of John and Ruth Schmitt, 8065 Kettle Moraine Drive, West Bend, is among 170 students named to the Dean's List at Ripon College for the second semester of the 1984-85 academic year in recognition of their scholastic achievements. Schmitt is a graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Dr. Douglas Northrop, vice president and dean of faculty at Ripon College, said recently that the students named to the Dean's List are to be commended for their efforts. "Maintaining a high grade point at a competitive institution such as Ripon College can only be achieved with hard work. What is especially impressive about most of our Dean's List students this semester is their high level of involvement in campus activities."

To qualify for the Dean's List students must earn a 3.40 grade point average or better (on a 4.0 system) and complete a minimum of 12 hours of regular course work for the semester.

Letters to the Editor

To Anyone Concerned:

Time to wake up on Monday night at the budget hearing. A woman said it takes a Philadelphia lawyer to figure the budget out. It sure does, no one lawyer can, much less we the taxpayers. Where are legal fees listed? Are they listed under Personal Service? Since when are legal fees personal services? The lawyers' fees were somewhere around $21,000.00. Where is the $2,000.00 listed which our administrator will get if she moves here? "Personal Service?" You take these two figures off of the $33,682 leaves $12,000 in round figures. What was that for? and proposed $44,165. We sure spend for Personal Service! Who is playing hide and seek? Where is the $14,100.00 listed for our past administrator? Is the pay-off considered salaries? Maybe because he was retained as a consultant, our past school board president said. Who created the job, when was it brought to the public, and when was it voted for? Then we hire another one for $1,000.00. I do not recall being at any meeting where it was discussed to retain our former administrator as a consultant. Was there a reason to offer him money to leave? Look at that budget and compare figures, actual and proposed.

Borrowing will not solve anything, it will only put a burden on all of us including the next two generations. What will our grandchildren think of there grandparents if they are saddled such such a debt? As long as the rubber stamp is there where it is, who is there to guide it?

You people of Kewaskum school stop and think. You plan on living here, but certain people if they don't like it, they move on. Let us look at foresight not hindsight. To hire a curricular person is hiring an assistant to someone else. To who, guess?

Thank you for the space in your paper, a taxpayer willing to pay taxes, for our children so they can get a quality education, our greatest asset to all generations. I love them. I am willing to pay my share but not for what some people are doing and think they can make me do. Thank You. What we really need is a state investigation!

Kettle Moraine State Forest Has Vacation Planning Deal

Kettle Moraine State Forest, North Unit, has announced a new offering for area park and forest users.

A new "Vacation Planner's Package" enables park and forest users to purchase their annual admission sticker and get the recently-published 100-page guide to Wisconsin's state parks at a discount, as a bonus, all at the forest.

"Up to now, folks could get this discount package only by mail," said Walt Adams, superintendent of the park. "I'm happy to say that now people in our area can stop in at the forest and get the same deal."

Adams said the sticker/-guidebook combination is popular as a gift as well.

The Guidebook is a 100-page description of the 71 parks, forest and trails in the state park system, according to Adams. He said it was produced because many people were unaware of all the parks in the system, where they are located, and what scenery, facilities and activities each offers.

Adams said the annual stickers allows use of state parks and forests. Free reservation forms are also available for those wishing to plan vacations early, he said.

The forest officer is open from 7:45 to 4:30 Monday through Friday, the Ice Age Center is open from 9:30 to 5:00 on weekends.

For more information, phone the forest office at 414-626-2116.

Washington County Junior Fair Livestock Auction Very Successful

Auction workers searched the audience looking for that next high bid during last week's Washington County Fair Livestock Auction.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

While bidding at other area county fairs, followed the depressed trend presently plaguing the livestock sale market, the Washington County Junior Fair livestock auction brought some pretty respectable prices during last Thursday night's sale.

Bob Walters, of Family Farm Meats Allenton, went home with a very thin wallet after the sale was over. By outbidding the competition, Walters ended up purchasing three of the four Grand Champion Market Class animals in the show.

Tammy Michels, of the Myraneers 4-H Club, saw her 1,145 pound Grand Champion steer go to Family Farm for a whopping $3.40 a pound. Steve Janz, from the Hi-Ligh Happy Workers 4-H Club, received $3.10 for his 240 pound Grand Champion hog, and Ellen Roembke, of the Kirchhayn Trotters, sold her homebred 124 pound Grand Champion lamb for $5.00 a pound.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods was the successful bidder on the Grand Champion Market Class Dairy steer. Brenda Oelhafen, of the Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club, sold her 1,330 pound animal for $1.70 a pound.

John Schmitt of the Kewaskum FFA sold his 1,120 pound Reserve Champion steer for $1.60 a pound to West Bend Elevator. Jon Etta, also from the Kewaskum FFA, sold his 233 pound Reserve Champion hog to M & I-First National Bank of West Bend for $3.10 a pound. Kory Dogs of the Good Luck 4-H Club, sold his 114 pound Reserve Champion lamb to Behring Market of Kewaskum for $3.50 a pound.

As in the past, area businesses and individuals have demonstrated their continuing support of the county's youth by actively participating in the auction. Credit must also be given to the auctioneers who have helped to make each sale a success by coaxing and wheedling that extra nickel out of each bidder. The strength of these combined efforts is quite evident when Washington County's sale is compared to a neighboring county's auction held one week earlier. In that auction, the grand champion steer only brought a price of $1.00 per pound.

While the five-day fair started off on a rainy note Wednesday, the sun was out for the remainder of the week and drew good crowds.

York Votes Against the Budget

MADISON...With half a dozen major changes — notably deeper income and property tax reductions along with less spending, I would have voted for the budget, said our State Representative Dwight York.

"I was very disappointed by the partisanship of the budget process. I could not vote for a budget that will increase state spending by 18% when inflation is only about 4%, said York. I strongly believe that the State of Wisconsin must stop spending money beyond the ability of its citizens to pay for this spending. It was also very clear to me in the budget process that we had the chance to make additional cuts in the income tax of Wisconsin, as well as provide additional monies for property tax relief by reducing the spending program.

There were many places that spending could have been reduced dramatically. The increase in AFDC payments is uncalled for, as Wisconsin is already paying much more than our neighbors and, therefore, attracting recipients to move to Wisconsin to get a higher payment. It is time for Wisconsin to stop the spending machine and get in line with what other states are spending so we can be competitive with them as a place to live and do business.

Of course, there are a number of good items in the budget that is approximately 900 pages in length; however, because of the many negative parts of the budget, I was unable to vote for it.

While it is true that we did reduce the income tax rates for some, it is also true that 287,000 of our citizens will actually have their taxes raised. It is also true that instead of providing tax simplification as was promised, what really came out of the budget is a confusing, more involved tax structure. Wisconsin's citizens will find when they go to make out their income tax forms, they will be more confused than ever.

If any of you have any questions or comments, feel free to write to me at P.O. Box 8953, Madison, Wisconsin, 53708, or call the toll-free hotline number at 1-800-362-9696 and leave a message for me.

The homing instinct of the carrier pigeon is so great that these birds can fly more than a thousand miles over unfamiliar territory and still find their way home.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Don't Leave Home Without It

Before leaving for vacation this summer, make sure your home is well guarded, says Washington County Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz and the Wisconsin Sheriff's and Deputy Sheriff's Association.

Burglary makes up 40% of the total crime index. It is prevalent in every area of our society; and its victims are people of all ages, occupations and backgrounds. If you don't take precautions and protect yourself against crime, your chances for becoming a victim will just continue to increase, warns the Sheriff.

Citizens are reminded, you can take simple safeguards to secure your home and decrease the chances of being victimized while you are away on vacation. These include:

- Secure all windows and doors with proper locks.
- If you do not have a timer on your lights, have a friend or neighbor turn them on during the evening hours.
- Arrange for papers and mail to be picked up daily.
- Have your lawn mowed regularly.

- Have a friend or neighbor house sit for you. While you are away, have him periodically visit your house to make sure things are secure and to change positions of the drapes and blinds.

All of these safeguards will eliminate any visible traces that you are away for any period of time.

- Notify your law enforcement agency that you will be away and the length of time you will be gone. Also inform them of the person's name who will be looking after your home in order to avoid any confusion if there is a report of anyone somewhat suspicious in or around your home. If something should happen to your home while you are away, the Sheriff's Department will then have someone to contact until you are located.

Remember, don't leave home without making sure your home is well guarded against crime. Together we can work to reduce our crime problems, concluded Sheriff Schwartz.

findings suggest that they should recognize the fact that Social Security is not designed to provide all of the retirement income, only a part of it. The importance of generating retirement income from other sources to meet one's personal or family lifestyle cannot be over-emphasized.

For current beneficiaries, the findings suggest that they should be aware of the Social Security limit on earnings they can have and still get all benefits. In 1985, the limit is $7,320 for beneficiaries 65 through 69 and $5,400 for beneficiaries under age 65. The annual earnings limit does not apply to people age 70 and over. Earnings over the limit reduce the Social Security benefits $1 for each $2 in excess earnings.

The study was featured in an article in the September issue of the Social Security Bulletin, available at most public libraries. Single copies are available free from the Social Security Administration, Room 1120, 1875 Connecticut Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009.

County 4-H'ers Attend Training Sessions At Nation's Capitol

The nation's capitol becomes the classroom for more than 4,000 4-H members from 44 states in week-long citizenship and leader training sessions at the National 4-H Center this summer.

Four Washington Co. 4-H'ers were part of the southeastern delegation July 13-21, namely Jeanne Awve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Awve; Ann Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Shaw; Ken Falk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Falk; Debi Seideman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Seideman. These four young people were selected on their involvement in club, county and state 4-H activities and leadership skills. While in D.C., the 4-H'ers stay at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Maryland on a beautiful 12-acre campus located on the outskirts of Washington.

Delegates have the opportunity to learn about the election process by conducting their own political campaign and elections. They also visit federal agencies and historical sites. Each 4-H'er has opportunity to meet with their Congressman. But most important, they meet other 4-H'ers throughout the United States to share new ideas, concerns, and build friendships.

The program challenges the delegates to become active involved citizens in their community when they return home.

The Washington Co. 4-H Leaders Association, Washington Co. Farm Bureau, and Washington Co. Farm Bureau Women help sponsor this program for 4-H'ers in Washington Co.

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

RETIREMENT GRADUAL FOR MANY, STUDY SAYS

For many people, retirement is gradual process, not an abrupt departure from work, a Social Security study reveals. About half the persons who apply for Social Security continue to do some work to supplement Social Security benefits and other retirement income.

The study supports the principle of Social Security as a base for retirement income, although for many people it is the primary source. It presents the first comprehensive view of the process of retirement for a given group of people. It shows that, when all sources of income are considered, the drop in income when benefits start is not as great as implied by replacement rates, due mainly to temporary income sources such as earnings.

The study showed that persons with pensions other than Social Security lost ground during the first 4 years on the rolls while those with Social Security only, stayed about even. This was due to the decline—averaging about 20 percent—in the real value of private pensions. Social Security benefits kept pace with inflation, as a result of annual cost-of-living increases.

Twice as many persons, with Social Security benefits only, continue working after retirement than did those with Social Security and other pensions. About three-fourths of all non-Social Security pensions were from private employers or unions. The remainder were mostly Federal, State or local government pensions, plus a small number of railroad and military pensions.

For people not yet retired, the

Ziegler Company Announces Increase in Net Income and Earnings for Shareholders

The Ziegler Company, Inc., a financial services holding company, announced an increase in net income and earnings per share for the second quarter.

In the three months ended June 30, 1985, total revenues were $7,566,000, compared with $5,974,000 in the second quarter of 1984. Net income for the quarter was $1,156,000, an increase of $448,000 from the second quarter of 1984, or 63%. Earnings per share increased from 20 cents to 33 cents or 65%, based on slightly fewer shares outstanding during the second quarter of 1985.

For the six months ended June 30, 1985, total revenues were $13,185,000 compared with $12,148,000 during the same period a year ago. Net income increased from $1,404,000 to $1,473,000 or 4.9%. Earnings per share were 42 cents compared to 40 cents for a 5% increase over 1984's first six months.

The Ziegler Company, Inc.'s principal subsidiary, B.C. Ziegler and Company, returned to profitability during the second quarter and recorded a healthy improvement in net earnings over 1984's second quarter, although six-month net earnings lagged 1984, said R. D. Ziegler, President. "The second quarter profitability improvement was due to a more normal volume of underwritings. A heavier calendar of underwritings should continue into the third and fourth quarters of 1985," Ziegler said.

He said mutual fund sales through B.C. Ziegler and Company accelerated dramatically during the second quarter, paced by Principal Preservation Tax-Exempt Fund, Inc., the subsidiary's proprietary tax-advantaged product. Ziegler added that retail and dealer acceptance of Principal Preservation Fund continues to be gratifying and net assets were approximately $68,000,000 as of July 15.

Reporting on the other subsidiaries, Ziegler said Ziegler Leasing Corporation had a strong quarter, and a higher level of activity provided Ziegler Financing Corporation with a better than expected second quarter.

Ziegler Thrift Trading, a reduced commission brokerage firm, experienced a substantial increase in its second quarter net earnings due to a general increase in individual investors activity. Waste Research and Reclamation Company, Inc. continued its favorable earnings trend during the second quarter.

Severe electrical, wind and rain storms hit surrounding areas late Friday and Monday afternoons causing considerable damage but Kewaskum escaped the brunt of the storms, with little if any damage reported. Hit hardest in the storms were the areas of Theresa, Lomira, Campbellsport, West Bend and Barton. In Friday afternoon's storm the Theresa and Lomira area was hit very hard. Farm crops in the territory suffered heavy loss with many corn fields stripped of their foliage by the battering form torrential rains, 60-mile-an-hour winds and hail. Theresa was literally covered with trees, trunks and branches. Windows were shattered by the force of the wind, electricity was cut off and phone service disrupted. Small fires broke out all over Theresa as the wires came down and more than 100 trees littered the highway between Mayville and Theresa. Monday afternoon's heavy rain and thunderstorm was most severe in the Campbellsport area, where the elements went on a rampage. The electrical storm struck farm and village buildings causing fires and also killing several head of cattle. A bolt of lightning struck a tree on the Robert Schnitzler farm three miles south of Campbellsport then bounced from there to the granary. The blaze leveled the granary building, which included a tool shed and its contents. While the Campbellsport firemen were at the Schnitzler farm, lightning hit the John Meyer home in that village. After the bolt struck, youngsters investigating discovered that a blaze had started in the attic. It was extinguished by Mrs. Meyer and the boys. Thunderstorms again hit the Kewaskum area early Tuesday evening and late Wednesday, which made a total of four storms in six days.

The upper rooms of the hotel annex of the Republican House are being remodeled by landlord Schultz this week. A stairway leading to the rooms has been built on the outside of the building making the rooms accessible from Main Street. The room on the southeast corner of the building is being changed into a kitchen. The bathroom is located just off the bedroom on the southwest corner, while the room on the northeast corner will be transferred into a sitting room. This leaves three rooms for bedrooms. When these changes are completed, the upper part of the building will be transformed into a modern and cozy apartment.

Last Saturday evening another large crowd of people came to Kewaskum to witness the free talking pictures, shown on the vacant property near the Bank of Kewaskum. The crowd last Saturday evening was so large that traffic at the intersection of Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue was nearly at a standstill. The feature picture last week was "Hotel Continental" and was very well received. A "Mickey Mouse" comedy was also shown. Next Saturday evening a thrilling western picture will be shown, namely Harry Carey in "Border Devils," and a two reel comedy, "As You Make It."

The local "Indians" baseball team, composed entirely of young Kewaskum players, defeated the Blue Eagle A. C. team of Milwaukee here Saturday in the second meeting of the two teams, by a score of 11 to 10. Each team has won one game and the third deciding game will be played at Milwaukee tomorrow. The lineup last week included Stenschke, pitcher, Claus, catcher, "Busher" Schaefer, first base, William Schaefer, second base, Joe Uelmen, third base, Joe Miller, shortstop, Marx, left field, Harbeck, center field, Kral, right field, and "Tony" Uelmen, "Puss" Bartelt, Hank Kirchner and H. Children Waiting for Adoption

If the story that follows seems confusing, it tells about a nine-year-old boy who didn't know where to send a letter to his mother telling her he wished she'd be his mom again. After living with both parents, one or the other parent, foster parents, remarried parents, and step-parents who had kids he didn't know, Timmy finally found a new family, a family who adopted him "for keeps."

Children's Service Society of Wisconsin has children like Timmy waiting to be adopted — children age 5 or older and children with special physical or emotional needs. For Timmy, adoption meant a home where he could have a sense of belonging.

When Timmy came into the world, his mother and father already had a little girl almost a year old. Right from the start, their baby boy had to struggle, fighting against lung disease and jaundice apparent at birth. Later, he would face an even tougher fight as he grappled with confusion and feelings of abandonment.

As toddlers, Timmy and his sister didn't understand what happened when their parents got divorced. When their mom remarried, her husband adopted the two children to give them his last name. Things got worse instead of better, because that marriage didn't work out either. The husband received child custody.

Timmy and his sister suffered physical abuse and neglect from their new father until a school social worker reported their case to the county welfare department. Unwilling to accept counseling, the father sent the children back to their mother, who had since moved from Wisconsin to the West Coast. In his new home, Timmy had another new father. By a previous marriage, that father had a son whom he rarely saw. Timmy could see that this new step-father didn't like kids, either.

Sometimes children cry for help in drastic ways. Timmy began setting fires and stealing. An intense sibling rivalry developed with his sister, and they fought constantly. Unable to cope with raising the children, Timmy's mom sent the kids back to their birth father. At age 8, Timmy went to live with a dad he didn't remember, a dad who no longer had legal custody, and who had a wife and three sons of his own. A month later, Timmy and his sister were found abandoned in a park.

Foster care followed. At school, one of Timmy's teachers could see that he needed help. Timmy did poorly in school and didn't want to make friends. Sometimes he cried at school, and he always seemed troubled. His teacher referred Timmy and his sister to Children's Service Society of Wisconsin for counseling.

Timmy still didn't understand why his birth mother couldn't care for him and his sister. He wanted all three of them to be together. He wrote a letter to his mom to tell her. Hazel Harrold, adoption supervisor for Children's Service Society, explained that Timmy brought the letter to his social worker to give to his mom.

Timmy had continued stealing because he felt he had things coming to him. Maybe what he really wanted was to take back a sense of security and acceptance, something which repeated abandonment had stolen from him. Through counseling, Timmy's behavior improved. He even reached a point where he could take the risk of making friends, although friendship might later mean rejection.

At school, Timmy and his sister became friends with a family of four children. They would play together after school; and the more they interacted, the closer the children became.

"In a sense, Timmy and his sister found their own adoptive family," explained Harrold, because the parents of those four children decided to adopt both Timmy and his sister.

On a day in mid-December, finalization of the adoption took place. The parents, their children, and two friends became a family. At last, Timmy and his sister belonged.

On Thursday, July 25, at 7 p.m., Children's Service Society will hold an informational meeting for anyone interested in adopting older children or children with special needs who are waiting for homes. The meeting will take place at the 1212 S. 70th Street office of Children's Service Society. To register, call Hazel Harrold, 453-1400.

average day park user travelled just over 19 miles one-way from home to park. Campers, on the other hand, travelled a median distance of 127 miles to the park where they camped.

The purpose of the survey, conducted by the Recreation Resources Center, University of Wisconsin-Extension, was to gather information on summer day use of Wisconsin parks and forests to assist Department of Natural Resources' planners and policy makers make decisions regarding future facility developments and improvements and park management and operation policies. For purposes of the survey, a day user was defined as anyone who enters the park or forest to use the facilities during a given day and then leave. The survey was conducted by sampling visitors to large, medium and smaller parks based on attendance from Memorial Day to Labor Day in 1983.

The medium age of a state park day user was just under 27 years. Many of them, more than twice the U.S. average, were single and their household size of 3.25 persons was smaller than average. Most of them were in white collar occupations with household incomes about the same as the state average, and 85 percent of them were residents of Wisconsin.

Day users in state parks and forests reported spending an average of $21.34 per party per trip with the largest expenditures for gasoline, food, boats, restaurants and park fees, in that order. The total annual spending of day users was estimated to be about $9.5 million with about $8.3 million of that spent outside the park, though not necessarily in the local area.

About 20 percent felt that park fees should be increased and the majority of the respondents to the poll were not enthusiastic about making shelters, picnic areas and parking places subject to reservation. Most favored requiring pets to be leashed or never left unattended. Almost nine out of ten day users surveyed responded in a favorable manner when asked about cleanliness and the condition of park facilities.

As expected, the most popular time of the year for daytime use of the parks is during the summer months with fall, spring and winter following in that order.

Denizens of the Woodland Pools

By George J. Knudsen
White Pine Nature Center
Hayward, WI

It happens from late March to mid-April, as soon as ice leaves the woodland ponds and pools. Spotted salamanders migrate from their underground hibernation berths to the frigid but inviting ponds, for here they will mate.

They travel at night when temperatures are above freezing and it is raining or very humid. Often arriving from points hundreds of yards away, they are at times so abundant in the ponds that the surface becomes a mass of wriggling, diving, cavorting salamanders. The males squirm over and under their female and male neighbors, rub against each other, dive, surface, wriggle and waggle in one great spring orgy.

During their "mating dance," or better yet, "mating swim," males descend, and on sunken logs or twigs, deposit quarter-inch globs of gelatin which contain sperm. Submerging, females engulf the gelatinous masses within vents between their hind legs. Thus fertilized, perhaps as many as 250 eggs per female are placed on underwater plants and twigs in a kind of transparent jelly.

On hatching from the eggs, the one-half-inch-long gilled larvae feed on tiny aquatic insects and other minuscule animals. They are funny looking little critters you'd swear came from another planet to grow and grow and begin to swallow human swimmers! Not to fear; the larvae will mature to about two and one-half inches in length from August through September. Now without gills they must leave the ponds to forage for food under damp leaves, rotting logs, and underground for they belong to the group known as "mole salamanders." I've seen the exodus from woodland ponds twice, but as a trickle of a few salamanders at a time, not a mass movement. In mid-October, 1984, a little squirt walked right into my nature center by squeezing under the door. He was real proud of his shiny body and vivid yellow spots.

It is probably the second year after leaving their ponds that they will return to breed. I have never seen the two-and-one-half to three inch long salamanders in spring mating activities. No doubt they've gotta grow up a bit before getting involved in those free-for-alls!

Most adults I have caught are 6 to 7 inches long. They have black backs and upper sides, blending to slaty-gray bellies.

An irregular row of yellow spots runs along each side of the spine and orange dots adorn the head. Their skin is smooth and moist since they are amphibians and therefore related to frogs. They aren't lizards which are reptiles with dry, scaly skins.

Found in northern Wisconsin and a few places in central and east central Wisconsin, "spotties" are most abundant in deciduous to mixed deciduous-conifer forests. Since these forest types have thousands of small fishless ponds and pools, they find excellent living conditions there.

If you live within their range and want to see these interesting creatures, early spring's the time to do it. By day you may find them snuggled under wet logs beside woodland pools. To see them swimming with their friends, go to the ponds at night. Wear warm clothes, waterproof footwear, and take a good flashlight. You may even see a few migrators after dark if you are at the ponds early enough in the season.

Late spring and summer are poor times to look for them for they will have left the ponds to search the forest floor for crunchy insects, spicy spiders, slimy slugs and other goodies. They will be underground too, feeding on juicy earthworms.

You just might get a treat some rainy day in September or October when you see a shiny little "sally" crawling over wet leaves after having left its birthplace.

Spotted salamanders were on Wisconsin's threatened species list, but have now been removed from it. Currently, they are in good shape within their main range. Future threats to this species and other forest pond life may be deforestation, filling of woodland pools, and various kinds of soil and water pollution.

I, for one, hope there will always be a healthy population of these snub-nosed, pop eyed "spotties." They are cute little rascals. You can help ensure a place for the spotted salamander in Wisconsin's future by donating to the Endangered Resources Fund on your Wisconsin income tax form.

New Alfalfa Released By Dairyland Seed

Orville Strachota of Dairyland Seed recently announced the release of the new Magnum Plus alfalfa variety. Magnum Plus will be released after years of research conducted on thousands of lines by the Dairyland alfalfa plant breeding staff of Dr. Paul Sun, Dr. Steve Yen, and Mike Velde.

The strength of this new alfalfa variety lies in its additional yield and disease resistance. Strachota stated, "The new Magnum Plus took many years to develop. This is because we already had an excellent product and we had to be sure that when we released Magnum Plus that it would be a superior line!"

According to research director, Dr. Paul Sun, "Magnum Plus has shown a 3 percent yield advantage over Magnum in our Dairyland research trials."

In addition to yield, Magnum Plus has shown superior performance in four other categories. Dr. Sun continued, "The new Magnum Plus is 35 percent more persistent than Vernal alfalfa. This persistence is even better than that exhibited by Magnum. Second, Magnum Plus shows one to three inches more regrowth than Magnum. Third, Magnum Plus shows promise of even better hay quality than Magnum and Vernal. Fourth, Magnum Plus has resistance to phytophthora root rot in addition to the field tolerance that has been exhibited by Magnum."

The Dairyland breeding program is centered in southern Wisconsin near Clinton. It is one of the largest alfalfa breeding programs in the world. In addition to its Clinton, Wisconsin facility, Dairyland also conducts alfalfa research at its California facility near Sacramento.

When asked if there were any problems with the new Magnum Plus alfalfa variety, Strachota replied, "Our only real hitch will be seed availability. Although we have fair production on the new Magnum Plus, we are certain that we will be sold out by spring planting time."

Dairyland Seed is an independently owned and operated business near Kewaskum and headquartered in West Bend. Dairyland serves over 4,000 farmer-dealers in the midwest. For more information write Dairyland Seed Co., Inc., P.O. Box 952, West Bend, WI 53095.

TODAY'S AGRICULTURE

By Jack Trzebiatowski, Washington County Agricultural Agent

HOT WEATHER CAN CAUSE REDUCED BUTTERFAT TEST FOR COUNTY HERDS

Hot summer conditions are very likely to cause reduced butterfat test for many Washington County dairy herds. As the temperature rises and animals start to feel uncomfortable, it affects the amount of butterfat in their milk.

The effects of warm temperatures can be minimized by trying to provide a cool area for livestock during the warm parts of the day. This may include such practices as providing shade, or keeping the animals in well ventilated buildings. Check your ventilation system to see that it is properly adjusted and operating for summer time conditions.

During warm weather, animals will consume more water. An adequate supply of fresh water available at all times will keep animals more comfortable.

Animals have a depressed appetite during warm weather conditions. Many times this will lead to a lower consumption of forage. While still consuming their grain, this will result in a ration with less fiber and lower butterfat test.

This condition can be reduced by encouraging animals to consume adequate amounts of forage. Forage should be fed frequently to keep it from getting hot or going off flavor. Feed bunks and other areas need to be cleaned on a regular basis. Feeding forage before grain will encourage more forage consumption and reduce the acid condition in the rumen when grain is consumed.

Kewaskum Statesman, Page 17

Friday, Aug. 2, 1985

During warm weather conditions, it is more important to formulate rations with an adequate level of fiber. If fiber levels are marginal, fat depression is more likely to occur. Buffers can be used during short periods of time to help reduce the effect of low fiber or forage consumption.

Following good management practices, butterfat test depression can be kept to a minimum.

The warmest sea on earth is the Red Sea in Asia Minor. Its average temperature is 95 degrees F.

CONCERNED ABOUT STRAY VOLTAGE ON YOUR FARM?

Wisconsin Electric Wants To Help.

In recent years, stray voltage has become a growing concern among our livestock farm customers, particularly those with dairy herds.

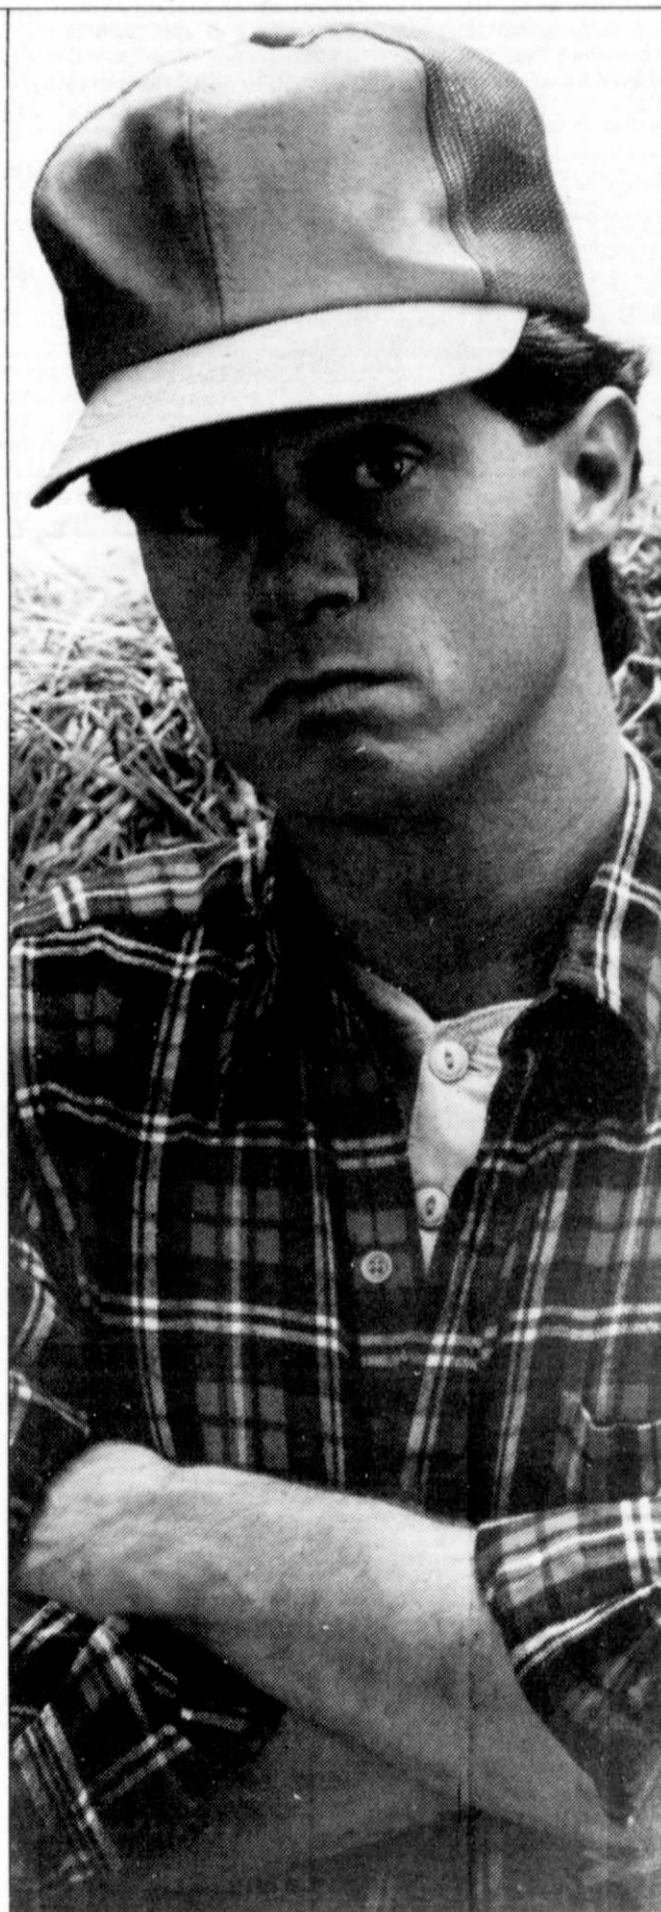

While recent research has shown that typical levels of stray voltage may not directly cause herd problems, it is believed that there are some effects associated with unusually high levels of stray voltage.

For example, livestock may appear nervous or may be reluctant to drink water or eat. Dairy herds may experience mastitis and lowered milk production. In addition, cows may be reluctant to enter the barn, stanchions or milking parlor.

It is known that these symptoms also can be traced to a number of other electrical causes. However, if your livestock are experiencing these symptoms, we suggest you investigate stray voltage as one of the possible causes.

If you are a Wisconsin Electric customer, call your local district office for assistance. Or, call your local county agricultural agent, electrical contractor or milking machine supplier. All can assist you in determining if stray voltage is present, and more importantly, how excessive levels of stray voltage can be minimized.

Wisconsin Electric also offers its customers a self-help guide to stray voltage detection. To receive your copy, call your local Wisconsin Electric district office or call 277-3311. Outside the Milwaukee area, call toll-free 1-800-222-9288.

Thiemerdome Thursday Goodtime League

1st half standings

Crass Salvage 3-1; Kennelly 3-1; BJ & Co. 2-2, Bartelt Ins. 2-2; Thornton & Schaub 0-4.

2nd half standings

BJ & Co. 4-0; Crass Salvage 2-2; Kennelly 2-2; Bartelt Ins. 1-3; Thornton & Schaub 1-3.

HIGHLIGHTS

The 6½ inches of rainfall on Wednesday and Thursday did not stop the action at the dome. The modern tiling system drained the field perfectly and it was non-stop action as usual at the park. The attendance was again lower than normal as many fans assumed the field would not be in playing condition. Just keep this in mind that we play ball at the dome in weather that would even keep the mailmen at home.

The first game saw a major milestone achieved as "Poundin'" Mike Pfeiffer got his first hit of the year. It was a blue darter that almost tore the head off pitcher Dave "Schauby" Schaub. As was promised the cork was pulled off the champagne bottle and the players reveled in Mike's honor. Bartelt Ins. also managed to win another ball game 5-4 over Thornton & Schaub. They were paced by Mark "Hi-Tech" Roth with a home run which fired up the troops. A game saving catch by Dave "Bert" Bertelson with 2 outs in the last of the 7th was the defensive gem of the game.

In the 2nd game BJ & Co. dumped Crass Salvage 6-4. This forced a 1st half playoff between Crass and Kennelly. This game will be played at 6:00 p.m. on 8/1/85. The winner will then play BJ & Co. at 7:00 p.m. for the league championship. BJ & Co. has been the class of the league this year as they ran off their 6th straight win. Because of the anticipated influx of news media for this week's playoffs fans are urged to arrive early to avoid the fork in the road at the Slawson Cutoff. Hwy. 45 will be closed between the Buss farm and Maynard Bartelt farm in order to allow airplanes from the E.A.A. convention in Oshkosh to land and enjoy the action at the Dome. Rain checks will NOT be honored at this game.

SPECIAL! There have been numerous complaints this year because the VIP lounge has not been serving its world famous Vermox Margaritas. The problem is that the main ingredient in Vermox is the rare ginseng root and because of its aphrodisiac qualities it is being used for other purposes other than the manufacture of Vermox. A very reliable source revealed in confidence that most of the midwest supply is being hoarded in a cistern in the basement of Fuzzy Dreher's home.

After this week's playoff game there will be 3 weeks of Round Robin playoff games and then another season is history. Where has the summer gone?

Attendance 99.

Indians Oust Defending State Champions West Bend West But Are Edged by Cedarburg in Sectional Final

By John Harju

Kewaskum missed going to state by one game as they lost a heart breaking 4-3 battle to the Cedarburg Bulldogs in the sectional final game played Saturday in Cedarburg. Kewaskum advanced to the finals a day before as they beat defending state champs West Bend West, 8-4 in their opening round game, while Cedarburg nipped Port Washington 10-9. Thus both of the Bulldogs' sectional victories were by just one run.

A costly error, missed opportunities and the pitching of Bulldog Bill McLaughlin combined to cost the Indians a trip to this week's state tournament held in West Bend.

With the score 3-3 in the top of the fourth, Bulldog leftfielder Mike Uutala singled with one out. Indian starter and loser Tim Rohlinger attempted to pick-off Uutala but his throw sailed past first baseman Tim Geidel and down the right field line. Geidel stumbled over the diving Uutala in an attempt to catch the errant throw and by the time he recovered the ball, Uutala had slid in safe at third. He scored the eventual winning run on the following single by Kent Bury.

Kewaskum, which finishes at 13-15, did get their leadoff man on in the fifth as Rick Staehler walked, but the next batter, Mark Schlosser, popped up a bunt attempt to McLaughlin who spun and fired to first, doubling up Staehler.

The Indians had only three hits (two by Staehler) but two of these led to all KHS runs which all came in the second inning.

Geidel drew a walk to lead off the second. Rohlinger pushed a bunt past the charging infield, putting runners on first and second. Jack Aupperle walked to load the bases. Jeff Newhauser then hit a chopper to first but Geidel beat the throw home. Staehler then singled with one out to drive in two more and KHS led, 3-0.

Cedarburg put it at 3-2 in their half of the second as a walk, a single and a double produced two runs with only one out, but Rohlinger got out of it on a strike out and a ground ball.

Cedarburg, now 20-9, got their third run in the third as McLaughlin led off with a single and came around on a 2-out single by Eric Head.

McLaughlin ended up striking out six and walking five in recording the win. Rohlinger struck out two, walked three and gave up eight hits.

KHS BEATS DEFENDING STATE CHAMPIONS

A big six run fifth inning allowed Kewaskum to erase a 4-0 West Bend West Spartan lead and go on to win, 8-4.

Staehler led off the fifth with a single and stole second. After Schlosser popped out, Bob Yahr walked to put runners on first and second. Tim Dettmann then delivered a shot to right field scoring Staehler.

Geidel walked to load the bases for Rohlinger, who hit a grounder to third but the throw home was low with the sliding Jim Lauer, pinch running for Yahr, flipping catcher Jim Chesak and before the ball could be retrieved, Dettmann also scored putting it at 4-3, West.

After Aupperle grounded out and John Donath walked, right fielder John Mertzig delivered a single, scoring Geidel, making it 4-4. Staehler then singled in two more with a blooper to right.

KHS got two more insurance runs in the sixth on a mishandled 2-out ground ball, scoring Dettmann, and an RBI single by Aupperle, scoring Geidel.

West's runs came as two in the second, one in the third, and one in the fifth with the key blow being a lead off triple to right field from Chip Faehling in the third.

Faehling's triple was really the only well hit ball off of winning pitcher Yahr, who picked up his second complete game win in as many starts. Yahr ended up striking out one and walking five while giving up only six hits.

Geidel on Second Team

Menzel and Dettmann Named All-Conference

Kewaskum Indians' Don Menzel and Tim Dettmann were named to the first team and Tim Geidel to the second team in the All-Eastern Wisconsin Conference balloting.

Tim Rohlinger, Rick Staehler and Bob Yahr were given honorable mention.

Menzel, a junior southpaw, was named to the first team as a pitcher, posting a 5-2 record with a 3.20 ERA while leading the EWC in strikeouts with 67 in 46 2/3 innings. Menzel was also the conference's leading hitter with a .538 average, going 21 x 39 with two home runs and 19 RBI in 13 games.

Dettmann, also a junior, was named to the first team as a catcher, hitting at a .446 clip (25 x 56) with three homers and 16 RBI. Despite committing 10 errors (mostly throwing), Dettmann was a valuable asset behind the plate for coach Tom Bartelt's Indians as he threw out around half the runners attempting to steal, including five in a row near the end of the season.

Geidel, a senior, made the second team as an infielder. He batted .346 (18 x 52) with 20 RBI while playing first base and pitching.

Rohlinger batted .313 (15 x 48) with 8 RBI. On the mound, he was 2-5 with an 2.40 ERA. Staehler, who made the second team as a shortstop a year ago, hit .311 (14 x 45) with 21 walks. Yahr, who received honorable mention for the second year, hit 3.23 (21 x 65) and played almost flawlessly at third base, committing only three errors.
