Great Lakes Malting Shutting Down Kewaskum Operation

By the end of August or early September, all operations will cease at the Kewaskum plant of Great Lakes Malting Corporation, said Plant Manager Leo Sapala, Jr., during an interview last week.

Malting operations have been stopped and all that remains is loading of the last shipments of malt and a final clean-up of the plant. Only three of the plant's ten employees are still on the job and their work is now to close down the plant.

Low alcohol beer, a general drop in beer consumption and a highly competitive market are some of the factors contributing to the plant's shutdown. "Small companies like ours just can't compete price-wise against the large companies," said Sapala, "we can't match their prices and they're pressuring us to get out of the market."

Sapala said it is not certain what will become of the plant. He said the last he had heard was there were three prospective buyers interested in the plant. "But that was a few weeks ago and I haven't heard anything since," said Sapala. "They're all small local

Not Guilty Plea in Town Wayne Shooting Death

A Sheriff's Deputy removed the handcuffs from Richard Bonenfant just before he entered Judge Merriam's courtroom for his preliminary hearing on August 1st. Leander Herriges, background, was a witness at the hearing.

By GERRY MUELLER

In his arraignment before Judge T. Tom Merriam in Washington County Circuit Court Monday, August 5th, Richard R. Bonenfant, 51, a Town of Wayne resident, entered a plea of not guilty in the July 16th shooting death of Malinda H. Jaeger, owner of Spitz & Lindy's Tavern, 5685 Highway H.

Bonenfant was bound over for trial after Judge Merriam ruled that the testimony of four witnesses, given during last Thursday's preliminary hearing, provided sufficient evidence for Bonenfant to stand trial on First Degree Murder charges. Merriam informed attorneys for both sides that he wished to study the case further before setting a trial date.

Chassis Purchase for 2nd Tank Truck for Fire Dept. Approved

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

During its regular meeting Monday night, the Kewaskum Village Board approved the Fire Department's request to purchase a used 1980 truck chassis to be used for a future second tank truck.

Fire Chief Augie Bilgo told the board, the department had been searching over a year for a good used vehicle which would allow the department to have two tank trucks.

Tank changes on the present truck, to meet insurance requirements, resulted in a reduced water truck capacity, from 2,500 gallons down to 1,600 gallons. Bilgo indicated the ideal water available supply was about 2,500 gallons so, we're cutting it a little close especially for larger fires. We can call for mutual aid, but there's always the chance that department may be gone to another fire.

Enough money has been budgeted over the past two years to cover the $11,500 cost of the chassis. Bilgo said the tank portion would be ordered in 1986 so it would not affect this year's budget.

When the two trucks are in operation, the village will have a tank capacity of 3,200 gallons.

In other action, the board approved the purchase of draperies and blinds for the Municipal Building's con-

Cablevision Seeking Another Rate Hike

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

River Bend Cablevision of West Bend has formally asked the Village of Kewaskum to amend its cablevision ordinance to eliminate municipal regulation of Cable TV rates in Kewaskum.

In a letter dated July 17th, Steve Peterson, Senior Vice President of Cablevision, stated, "If the Board chooses not to amend this ordinance, this letter will serve as a request for a basic rate adjustment." The new hike would see the monthly rate for basic service jump from $9.98 to $11.95 per month, an increase of $1.97 per month.

Peterson's letter asked the village to follow the lead of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) which has set December 31, 1986, as the date for local deregulation. "We don't believe a local government body should be involved with establishing the rates of a private business, that is the function of the marketplace," Peterson stated in his letter.

During the Kewaskum Village Board's discussion of the letter Monday night, Trustee Mary Krueger noted Peterson's statement about municipal regulation was a joke. "It's not like buying a lawnmower or a car, you can go anywhere to buy those things. Cable TV is like the gas and electric companies, you don't have any choice, if you don't buy from them, you don't have anywhere else to go," said

Krueger. She felt it was the Board's obligation to protect residents as long as possible by denying River Bend's request. Trustee Richard Schlice agreed with Krueger, "what's the big hurry to get us to amend our ordinance, in another year the control will be automatically lifted."

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt told the board he had heard, unofficially, that the City of West Bend would receive a recommendation from its committee to amend its ordinance. Krueger said she felt Kewaskum should make its own decision and not be influenced by West Bend.

Trustee Paul Blumer noted CATV had already raised the rates for HBO and Cinemax on its own. Schmidt indicated that was correct noting the Village only had control over the basic service rate.

Schmidt informed the board that River Bend had already received rate increases for basic service. In July, 1984, the Village approved an increase from $7.50 to $9.50 per month. On January 1st, 1985, there was an automatic 5% increase bringing the monthly rate up to the present $9.98. Beside the present increase to $11.95 River Bend is asking for, there will be another automatic 5% increase available to the company on January 1, 1986.

The Board agreed to leave the ordinance stand as it is. Because of that decision, a public hearing on the requested rate adjustment has been scheduled for September 16th.

ference and council room and library. The contract will go to low bidder Minnesota Fabrics/Aero Drapery of Milwaukee, for $2,045.00. The Window Dressers, West Bend, submitted a bid of $2,844.00, and Miller's Furniture of Kewaskum was high bid at $4,152.00.

The board reviewed the balance sheets of the Water Department and Water Pollution Control Department. Schmidt informed the board that a rate increase for the Water Department was not needed at this time.

In discussing the Water Pollution Control Department, Schmidt indicated it may end up with a $10,000 deficit. The closing of Great Lakes Malting will drop quarterly revenues by about $4,000 said Schmidt, and changes at Kemp's Dairy plant have seen its water usage drop reducing our revenues from them by about $7,000 a month.

Pollution Control Superintendent Pete Albers noted that while the dairy is releasing less gallonage, the flow is much stronger so the chemical treatment needs are staying about the same. Therefore, there will not be any noticeable reduction in the plant's operating costs, he noted. Albers suggested the board consider beginning to charge for ammonia and phosphorus removal, something which the village is not doing now.

Schmidt told the board there was a chance the department's revenues and expenditures might balance out by the end of the year.

hearing, John C. Peters, shift commander for the Washington County Sheriff's Department testified he had taken a call at 9:38 p.m. from a man who stated, "This is Dick Bonenfant of Dick and Lindy's Tavern, I just shot Lindy." Peters stated, as a matter of department policy, the call had been recorded.

Darwin Schulz of Allenton, a first responder from the Kohlsville Fire Department, testified he had heard there was a possible shooting and an ambulance was being dispatched. Living a few minutes away from the address he was one of the first persons to arrive at the scene, thinking he might be able to provide some first aid until the ambulance arrived.

Schulz said he went to the home of Jaeger's neighbor Leander Herriges, 5677 Highway H. The two men came upon Bonenfant who was standing between Herriges' property and the tavern. He said he had shot Jaeger. Schulz said he went into Jaeger's bedroom and found the victim lying on her bed. He said from Jaeger's appearance, it looked like she was dead.

"After the EMT's came, we went into the bar and that's when Dick said she (Jaeger) had asked him to shoot her because she was in pain," stated Schulz.

Herriges' testimony basically coincided with Schulz's. "All he told me was she had asked him to shoot her because her legs hurt," said Herriges.

Dr. Roland Brown, a pathologist who performed the Jaeger autopsy, testified that death was a result of bleeding from a single 22-caliber bullet wound entering her neck about one inch behind her chin, passing completely through the neck and left carotid artery. Brown testified such a wound would kill a person "within a matter of minutes."

Jaeger had shared her living quarters with Bonenfant who had worked for her as a bartender for about eight years.

Runners may also purchase tickets for a chicken dinner at a reduced cost of $2.50 if purchased before race time.

More than 90 students participated in the two, three-week sessions held at UW-Oshkosh for highly-motivated and self-disciplined students entering grades 8-12.

Goal of the annual UW-Oshkosh program is to help promising middle and high school students get a head start toward college - with an emphasis on microcomputer-assisted instruction in math, English and computer programming.

The students were taught by university faculty. Most lived in university residence halls while they participated in the program.

The award winner from Kewaskum High School was Gregory Chmielewski in Advanced Computer Programming, son of Mary A. Chmielewski, Forest View Road, Kewaskum. Gregory will be a junior this fall at KHS.

Obituary on another page. Spencer C. Gilbert, 33, of Sheboygan was in good condition at St. Nicholas Hospital, Sheboygan, following an accident at 9:30 p.m. Saturday in the Town of Osceola. Gilbert received a concussion and a broken ankle after being thrown from his motorcycle.

He was traveling eastbound on Highway 67 when he left the highway 60 feet west of the Fond du Lac-Sheboygan County Line. Gilbert's cycle struck a guard post. He was taken to Plymouth Hospital by a private vehicle and was transferred to St. Nicholas.

David H. Bunkelman, 29, of 117 Auburn-Ashford Drive, Campbellsport, was injured in an accident at 5:45 p.m. Sunday in the Town of Ashford.

Great Lakes Malting Shutting Down

companies too," he noted. When asked what would happen if no buyer is found, Sapala said the company will probably just keep the plant closed until a buyer comes along or, the malting industry picture improves enough to where Great Lakes could reopen the plant and again be competitive in the market. Great Lakes has also closed its plants in West Bend and Lomira; three others remain in operation. The original L. ROSENHEIMER MALT AND GRAIN COMPANY had its origin in the grain elevator and feed mill operated in connection with the store run by Moritz and Adolph Rosenheimer, beginning in 1874. In 1891, the L. Rosenheimer Malt and Grain Company was incorporated. Its first president and general manager was Adolph Rosenheimer, Sr., who continued as president until his death in 1942. In 1911, Moritz Rosenheimer and his brother, Adolph, separated their business ventures; with Adolph taking the bank and the malt and grain, and Moritz taking the feed mill and store. For a short time L.P. Rosenheimer was manager, but in 1907 Newton Rosenheimer became general manager and later president after his father's death in 1942. He held the position of general manager until 1957 and continued as president until his death in 1966. In September, 1911 the grain elevator, formerly located just south of the present plant was destroyed by fire, and the plant was also damaged. It was immediately rebuilt on the north side of the plant, and malt production was continued until Prohibition in 1919. During the years 1919-1933, some barley malt was produced and in 1930 and 1931 wheat malt, an experimental process at that time, was produced for General Mills. After the repeal of Prohibition, normal operations were again resumed. Robert G. Kroncke, Newton Rosenheimer's son-in-law, became general manager in 1957 and together with his wife, Linda, obtained controlling interest in the corporation in 1968. The company contracted with the G. Heileman Brewing Company, Inc. in 1966 to produce barley malt. The corporation's offices were located at three different places during its existence. Originally, operations were run out of the offices in the store until 1911, when they moved to the newly erected Bank of Kewaskum building on Main Street. In 1951 they were moved to a location at 1421 Fond du Lac Avenue. The contract with Heileman Breweries was continued until June 2, 1975 when the malt plant was purchased by John Kratz of West Bend. The L. Rosenheimer Malt and Grain Company was then dissolved. Later the business was purchased by Great Lakes Malting Corporation.

Nobody Knows More About Funerals Than Funeral Directors

That's why they make funeral preplanning and prepaying worry-free

When you think of preplanning a funeral, keep in mind that nobody knows more about funerals than funeral directors. So start your planning with the funeral director of your choice. You'll find his knowledge and experience will be most helpful in making your decisions.

A pre-need funeral can take various forms. It can be made legally binding or just to serve as a guideline. In either case, the counsel and advice of a trusted funeral director will enable you to achieve your goals while avoiding pitfalls.

If you decide to prepay the funeral, it is especially important that you contact your funeral director. When you prepay a funeral with him your money is completely safe and secure. In fact, it's returnable to you in full with all accrued interest if for any reason you change your mind.

So if you're thinking of preplanning and prepaying a funeral, contact your funeral director first. He'll make the arrangements worry-free and risk-free. Plus that, satisfying your needs is always his main consideration.

Letters to the Editor

To All Taxpayers:

How could our school board resume contract negotiations on July 15th, when I also read in the West Bend paper, an article where our school board president said, that all negotiations, everything, was on hold till after the annual meeting, which was July 22nd? Was that promise kept? No. I was to the July 15th meeting. I was given one sheet of the agenda, the second sheet contained the information of a closed session after the regular meeting, but it contained no information, that they would resume negotiations. These two sheets were posted on the school house on Monday. Was it posted in time? Even to go into closed session? At that closed session a contract was negotiated with our business manager and she was given a 14.89% raise, plus $300.00 car allowance. That car allowance put frosting on the cake! Why? The Milwaukee police department settled for less than 4%! Why the big give away? Give where it counts for our students' education. And the paper stated that the board will formally approve the contract at an open meeting. That contract was approved at closed session. Jean Goeden made the motion, seconded by? It passed 4 to 2, Mr. Ankerson and Mr. Weare said no. We still have two people, who used the brains "God gave them." We have a budget at 26% unless we borrow to bring it down to 14%. Borrowing will solve none of our problems, we are only putting a burden on the next two generations. Isn't that what our government is doing?

What are we spending for education 10%? Our future generation is worth more than that. Let us cut sports until this district can afford them again.

Farm tax values to be cut 25%. The value of agricultural land in some areas of Wisconsin will be cut 25 to 30 percent in figures on which the next round of state school aids and credits will be based, officials in Madison are telling us. As a result of a provision in the recently passed 1985-87 budget bill, this year will be the first in which the current year's equalized values are used to determine school aids and credits. Where does this leave the home owners? I could live under Doc Ogi's reign. But are we going to survive under what we got now? Three years ago Mr. Borch wanted a raise. Did he get it? No! And he was only getting a salary in the twenties. We lost a good man.

Please come to Aug. 14th and 19th meetings and voice your opinion. It is yours and my tax money they are giving away. People move on when they don't like it here, and you are left holding the bag.

Thank you,
Clara Trapp

Baptist Church To Present Film

The First Baptist Church of Campbellsport has set the date for their summer outreach film. It will be on Sunday, Aug. 18, at 8:00 p.m.

The film selected this year features Dale Evans Rogers and is entitled "God in the Hard Times."

"God in the Hard Times" is an intensely personal glimpse into the life of one of America's most loved Christians. Dale tells how desperation and what then appeared to be sheer luck brought about the beginning of her career. How new happiness with Roy Rogers almost didn't happen—and then almost ended in misery. The tragic but beautiful story behind her most famous book, Angel Unaware.

But most importantly, the film tells the Christian that in the tragi-comedy of life, he too can be triumphant...through a new appreciation for the faithfulness of God in the Hard Times.

As in the past, we look forward to sharing this time of fellowship with you and hope to see you on Aug. 18.

A nursery will be provided and refreshments will be served following the film. A free will offering will be taken.

The church is located on Main Street in Campbellsport.

4-H Youth at State Fair Gain Speaking, Modeling and Leadership Skills

If you still plan to attend the Wisconsin State Fair, August 1-11 at West Allis, check out the Youth Expo Building where 4-H'ers and other youth are presenting exhibits, demonstrations and clothing revues.

As you watch the activity, consider which ones you might like to be involved in — perhaps next year. It's an experience you can't get anywhere else, and one that you sure can't buy.

Four-H'ers and others involved in communication arts give formal speeches and demonstrations, many of which are performed for the public twice daily. Thus, participants are given a chance to try new approaches, and receive constructive criticism from their peers.

Many also attend workshops, where they share experience and learn skills from professional communicators, such as broadcasters, public relations specialists, even "the guys who sell kitchen knives on the fairgrounds."

The professionals often give the amateur speakers advice on how to capture and hold an audience. Many of the participants will be performing in front of their first non-captive audience. Some of the audience is there because they just want to sit down and rest, and it can be quite a challenge to get their interest and keep it.

Holly Prochnow, Diana Buckmann, Rebecca Schwoch and Julie Bohn were selected to present their demonstrations August 5-8. Jane Weix, Washington Co. adult leader is serving as a district chaperone. Other district chaperones include Agnes Weix and Hope Cross.

"Action centers" in the Expo building are the sites of informal demonstrations where youth explain their projects, such as leathercraft or other visual arts activities.

Other youth participate in 4-H clothing revues, which are held four times daily. Revue participants, who plan and coordinate the revues as well as model clothing and accessories they've made as part of a 4-H sewing project, have been judged the best clothing review participants at their county fair.

Ann Shaw, Myraneers 4-H Club and Carla Anderson of the Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club are Washington County's 1985 representatives.

Once they arrive at the state revue, competition ends and cooperative sharing and learning becomes the main thrust of activities. Participants attend three-or five-day clothing workshops where they learn basic skills, such as color, line, makeup, speaking and modeling, as well as self-confidence.

Adult volunteers attend the workshops as facilitators. They just stand back and let (the youth) provide the ideas, props, scripts and the work. They learn to work as a team. The shows are demanding and can be stressful, but they provide opportunities to gain leadership abilities and experience. Participants are encouraged to go home and help with their own county clothing revues.

The entertaining and educational clothing revues have consistently drawn big crowds at the fair.

The dawn Redwoods in California go back at least 100 million years.

COUNTY 4-H'ERS ATTENDS SUPERIOR EXPERIENCE

Paul Braun from Washington County recently had the opportunity to participate in canoeing, Lake Superior Research, and leadership at a four-day workshop held on Wisconsin Point near Superior, Wisconsin. Paul was one of 30-40 4-H'ers throughout the state who were selected.

In addition he also learned about forestry, astronomy, fishing, and natural resources careers. The participants lived in tents on the Point during the four-day program. The tent site was near the University of Wisconsin Field Station, and they had ample time to learn about the history of the three-mile-long sand bar and about the natural resources of Lake Superior. They were also able to learn about the Lake on the University's research vessel that is based on Wisconsin Point.

This is the third time that the program has been held, and seven Wisconsin counties participated. The program was funded through 4-H leaders associations, delegates fees and private donations.

Annual Holy Trinity Church Picnic Held

Although cut short by rain and drizzle which started about 4:00 p.m. and continued throughout the evening, the third annual Holy Trinity Church Picnic held Sunday, Aug. 4, at River Hill Park was a success.

The picnic immediately followed a Polka Mass at 11 a.m. which was very largely attended. Father Robert Berghammer, pastor, was the celebrant, the adult choir of the parish sang, and music was furnished by the Dale Mathis trio.

Following the Mass the Kewaskum High School swing choir and Jazz Band entertained and later in the afternoon sack races and a rope pulling contest (tug-o-war) were held. Music in the beer garden was supplied by the Bob Kuether band in the afternoon and Bill Thull Orchestra in the evening. Bingo and other games a plenty were played and cake, ice cream, brats, hamburgers, hot dogs and refreshments served.

The drawing for the $1,500 in cash prizes will be held at 12 noon this Sunday, Aug. 11, with a first prize of $600.

Winners in the tug-o-war contest were: 1st, Kewaskum Frozen Foods; 2nd, Hammes Trucking; 3rd, Waala's Wheel & Tire; 4th, Barrel Haus; 5th, Trail's End Women; 6th Campbellsport Building & Supply; 7th, Trail's End Men.

Winners in the sack races were: 12-13 - Kevin Ramthun; 10-11 - Chuck Roos; 8-9 - Dave Johann; 6-7 - Becky Heisdorf.

This slightly blurred picture is of the Trail's End women's team, the only women's group in the tug-o-war [rope pulling contest] which surprised by beating the Barrel Haus men in a semi-final contest.

The Kewaskum Frozen Foods team won 2 out of 3 matches and took first in the tug-o-war but due to a change of film in the camera their picture didn't turn out. They received a plaque. Second went to the Hammes Truckers [above] in a close, disputed contest.

Third place in the tug-o-war was won by Waala Wheel & Tire.

Part of the crowd in one corner of the beer garden. Who do you know besides Marlin Dreher, West Bend, the debonaire gentleman in the foreground with the hat and sun glasses? To his right Al "Uncle Ezra" Pfeiffer, of Port Washington.

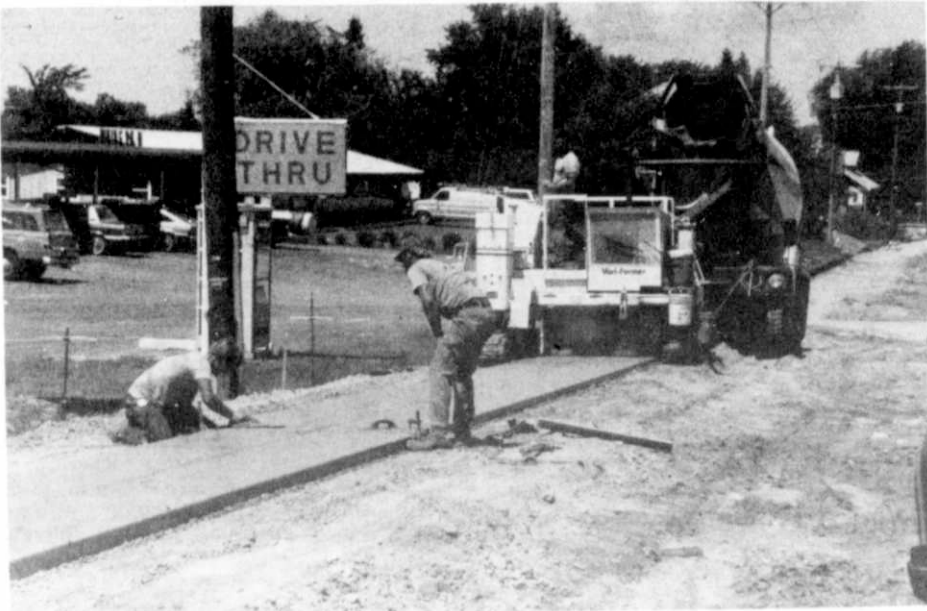

The popular Bob Kuether band of Manitowoc furnished music for entertainment and dancing in the afternoon. The equally popular Bill Thull Orchestra of the Kewaskum area played in the evening.

Sidewalk Work Progressing on Schedule

Friday, Aug. 9, 1985, Kewaskum Statesman, Page 11

A cement truck pours concrete into the hopper of the "Vari-Former" which automatically lays a continuous ribbon of cement creating a sidewalk without the need for any steel forms being laid.

Once the cement is laid, all workers have to do is finish the surface and cut expansion grooves. Sidewalks were being laid along the west side of Highway 45, near the A & W Drive-in.

TODAY'S AGRICULTURE

By Jack Trzebiatowski, Washington County Agricultural Agent

USE DHI RECORDS TO INCREASE YOUR CHANCES OF SURVIVAL

The margin of profit from a dairy herd is decided by the productivity of each cow for every day she is in the herd. Two factors have a major influence...the amount of feed fed in relation to the amount of nutrients the cow needs and the other is the reproductive efficiency of the cow. In basic terms, it comes down to these four questions:

1. Should you keep the cow?

If on DHI test, the report provides an early prediction of lactation yield. This prediction is compared with other cows and each receives a letter grade A, B, C, or D, for both milk and butterfat. If the cow is not good enough to keep, the DHI report indicates the best time to cull.

2. What should you feed her?

Feed requirements are determined by the cow's milk yield and butterfat test.

Guessing only wastes feed and prevents good cows from doing better. Monthly testing also allows evaluation of changes in feed amounts or of feed ingredients in the grain ration. Watching this cause and effect relationship through cow production response teaches how to use feed for maximum profit.

3. What sire service?

The future genetics of your herd are decided by the choice of service sires. Likewise, you can select for sires which raise fat or protein test or evaluate sires or cow families.

4. Should you keep the calf?

The more herd replacements you can raise, the more you can cull the heifer crop or sell for added income. DHI also provides a system for permanent identification which makes the herd more valuable.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

How to Teach Your Children to Protect Themselves

One out of every three (3) crimes happens to someone between the ages of 12 and 24. More than 6.5 million crimes are committed against people between the ages of 12 and 19.

"These facts and figures aren't meant to scare you," according to Sheriff Clarence Schwartz. "They're meant to give you an idea of the crime problem and how it affects you and your children. You can teach your children how to protect themselves with some basic 'play it safe' rules."

The rules suggested by the Sheriff's Department are:

- Never play in deserted areas such as woods, parking lots, deserted buildings, or buildings under construction.

- Always stick to the same safe route in traveling to and from the playground, store or a friend's house.

- Always try to play or walk with friends. It's safer and more fun.

- Never play or loiter in public areas as washrooms and elevators.

- Keep doors and windows locked when home alone.

- Don't display money in public. Carry what you need and keep it in your pocket, purse, or wallet until needed.

- Don't HITCHHIKE..... EVER.

- Don't walk or play alone outside at night.

- Always tell a family member or other adult in charge where you'll be at all times, and what time you'll be home.

"It's normal and natural that children will spend time playing or traveling out of the sight of their parents," the Sheriff stated. "The best way to keep your children out of trouble is to teach them how to protect themselves when you're not around."

HEALTH TIP

Leitzke, R.P.H.

ASPIRIN vs BLOOD CLOT

Many physicians take a small daily dose of aspirin to reduce the chance of stroke or heart attack. Aspirin helps because it slows blood clotting. Clots in coronary arteries cause some heart attacks - clots in brain arteries cause stroke. Researchers find that half an aspirin daily is as effective as bigger doses for slowing blood clotting.

On July 7, David Merkt met and greeted President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, at the Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, Rhode Island. Merkt was one of the three navy men selected to accompany the president on his visit around the base. David is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Merkt of Campbellsport, former residents, and a brother of Mrs. Bob Kougl of this village.

Officers installed recently by Robert G. Romaine Post 384, American Legion, for 1960-61, were announced this week. The new commander is Otto Weddig, who succeeds Bob Staehler. Other officers are: 1st vice commander, Ervin Bonlender, who succeeds Clayton Stautz; 2nd vice commander, Vernon Butz, and historian, Orv Behnke, succeeding Bob Kroncke.

The hot weather record for July for 19 years was broken during the month of July, 1935. Not only the temperature the warmest, but it also was the driest July since 1916, according to the records of E.A. Seeley, government weather observer. Average temperature for the month just ended was 78.45 degrees above zero — or 6.9 degrees above the normal for the month of 71.6 degrees. In July 1916, the average temperature was 78.8 degrees. Only .77 of an inch of rain fell during July, 1935, while only .43 of an inch fell in July 1916. It was the second time in the weather bureau records history that less than one inch of rain had fallen in the month. In 1934, for instance, 2.72 inches fell during the month, while way back in 1902 there was a total of 8.74 inches of precipitation during July. Normal rainfall for the month is 3.18 inches.

Fire of unknown origin Friday destroyed the Ensenbach grocery store and residence apartment in Campbellsport causing a loss estimated at $4,500. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ensenbach, proprietors who resided in a flat over the store, were awakened at 3:30 a.m., when fire flared up before their bedroom window. The fire department responded to the alarm, but before the fire was brought under control the building was badly damaged. The grocery stock valued at $1,200 was destroyed, while the interior of the building was blackened and store fixtures damaged beyond repair.

Henry Moldenhauer, 61, of the Town of Auburn, is confined to the hospital since last Tuesday evening with three broken ribs and his left hip fractured from the kick of a nervous horse. The accident happened at K.A. Honeck's barns east of the village where Mr. Moldenhauer had gone to look at a horse which his brother Paul was about to purchase. The horse in which they were interested was an excellent animal and seemed perfectly satisfactory in every particular, but their attention was drawn to another animal which had become nervous by the noise of a well drilling outfit operated near by. Mr. Moldenhauer stood at the back and to one side of the horse when an attendant prepared to slip a bridle over its head, when the animal kicked Mr. Moldenhauer in the chest, throwing him against a wall. The vicious kick broke Mr. Moldenhauer's ribs and the impact against the wall fractured his hip bone.

A surprise party was given for Alan Stoffel on Wednesday, the occasion being his 7th birthday. Those present were: Forence and Evelyn Kudek, Allen and Merlin Dreher, Bruce Van Blarcom and Jean Rosenheimer.

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

APPLYING FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Anyone who plans to retire before his or her 65th birthday should apply for monthly Social Security benefits no later than the last day of the month the benefits are to begin, Dave Becker Social Security manager in West Bend said recently.

"Benefits payable for months before 65 can begin no earlier than the month the person applies," Becker said.

"In general, a person who applies for benefits after reaching 65 can get back payments for up to 6 months before the month he or she applies for retirement or survivor benefits; however, the person can apply up to 3 months before the month he or she wants benefits to start."

This will help assure that the first payment will be received on time, Becker said.

More information about Social Security benefits can be obtained at any Social Security office, or by calling 1-800-242-9946. Free publications are available which give more information.

Inspection Program Marks One Millionth Initial Vehicle Test

Juanita Dwornik stands beside her 1981 Oldsmobile which received the one millionth initial vehicle test of the Wisconsin Vehicle Inspection Program.

The one millionth initial vehicle inspection occurred on July 18, 1985 when Juanita Dwornik's 1981 Oldsmobile passed its emission inspection.

During the first 68 weeks of the Wisconsin Vehicle Inspection Program, which began April 2, 1984, over 1,163,000 initial tests and retests have been conducted in the six county region of Ozaukee, Washington, Waukesha, Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha.

Ed Hammer, quality control engineer for the state Department of Transportation, Division of Motor Vehicles, said that 17.4 percent of the vehicles initially tested were unable to meet the emission standards.

"The typical vehicle which fails the emission test emits five to six times more pollutants than ones which pass the first test. However, after successfully repaired and retested, these vehicles show a 65 - 75 percent reduction in their tailpipe emissions," said Hammer.

Hammer said that by successfully identifying the relatively few vehicles which are the source of a large portion of vehicle air pollution in southeastern Wisconsin, the program should achieve its goal of reducing auto-related air pollution by 35 percent by 1987.

During the first year of testing, there was a 7.8 percent reduction in volatile organic compounds (VOCs) and a 8.7 percent reduction of carbon monoxide emissions from motor vehicle tailpipes.

Hammer said that he is pleased with the realized benefits of the program after only 1,000,000 initial vehicle inspections and anticipates continued progress in meeting program goals.

"Experience in other states with inspection/maintenance programs have shown us that we can anticipate vehicles will come in cleaner every year as vehicle owners and mechanics learn to tune cars better," said Hammer.

County Needs Elder Peer Counselors

The twenty volunteers accepted into this twelve week program will receive two hours of weekly inservices on all aspects of aging, communications, community resources, depression, dealing with loss, etc.

They will also meet for on-going monthly supervision with an Outpatient therapist. Some expenses are reimbursed. Enrollment is limited to twenty men and women. Volunteers from all areas of Washington County are needed. For further information, contact Bill Driscoll, Volunteer Services Coordinator, Washington County Mental Health Center at 338-4600.

Refund Program Renewed for People Who Install Solar Energy System

State refunds for people who install a solar energy system on their homes and businesses in Wisconsin will not be discontinued in December as previously scheduled, but will be offered at least until mid-1987. Changes incorporated in new legislation will make the program better than before, according to state energy officials, and unique among other states in its solar energy incentives.

Beginning in January 1986, the program will be a "performance-based incentive," meaning that each refund will be based on the performance of the individual system that was installed. Qualifying applicants will receive $100 per million Btu of annual usable energy output of the system, with a maximum refund of $2,000. Typically, a refund will amount to about 25 percent of the system cost, according to Mary Massey, Renewable Energy Refund Program director at the Department of Administration's Division of State Energy and Coastal Management (DSE). This will replace the existing straight 10 percent refund on qualifying system costs with maximum refunds of $750.

"However," Massey noted, "if the federal 40 percent solar tax credit expires at the end of this year, as currently scheduled, then the total incentive for solar system purchasers will drop in 1986 from 50 percent to 25 to 30 percent, depending on the system. So we are encouraging people not to wait until next year to buy a system."

"Even more importantly," Massey noted, "the performance based incentive encourages people to shop carefully for the solar system they eventually install. A really good system might qualify for as much as a 35 percent refund. The overall effect will be to raise the quality of the systems being marketed by rewarding purchasers of such systems."

The new rules make Wisconsin the first state in the nation to implement a true performance based solar incentive, although similar legislation is being considered in several other states.

Two provisions in the new program legislation are aimed at consumer protection: a toll-free solar information line (1-800-222-SUNY), and a consumer brochure which fully explains the standards used to certify systems for a state refund. All renewable energy system dealers will be required to provide each customer with a copy of the brochure before making a final sale.

One additional change in the refund program legislation is an accelerated filing deadline for applicants applying for refunds under the 1985 rules. Under the new plan, anyone installing a renewable energy system during 1985 must apply for their refund by April 15, 1986.

"This does not affect systems bought during 1986 under the new rules," Massey emphasized. "It just means that if you buy a system any time this year, you must apply for your refund by the middle of next April."

Other current program rules will remain in effect through December 1985. For example, all active solar, passive solar, and wind energy systems (except swimming pool heaters) costing at least $500 are eligible for a refund if they show a 4 to 15 year payback. For anyone buying solar after January 1986, dual purpose passive systems will be eliminated, the payback provision will be eliminated, and the filing deadline will be one year from the year of purchase.

INVITATION TO ATTEND SERVICE ACADEMY

I am inviting all young men and women, aged 17 to 21, who live in the Ninth Congressional District and are interested in attending a service academy in 1986 to contact me.

Applications for appointment to the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point are now being accepted. The selection process is exacting, but the financial rewards are great. It has been estimated an academy education is worth over $100,000!

Each member of Congress may nominate a limited number of candidates for an academy education. A group of lay people and educators from the Ninth District assist me in the selection process. After these volunteers interview each applicant, they meet and compare qualifications of candidates before nominations are made.

The whole person is considered when appointments are reviewed; class standings, SAT or ACT scores, leadership roles, physical and medical fitness. Additionally, committee members particularly look for young men and women who are interested in making the military their career, since a commitment to serve in the armed forces is necessary upon graduation from a service academy.

If you would like to learn more about the academies or wish to apply for a nomination, please contact my District Office in Brookfield, 120 Bishops Way, 53005. The office can be reached by phone at (414) 784-1111 or toll free, outside the Milwaukee metro calling area, at 1-800-242-1119.

An academy education is not for everyone, but for those seeking to serve their country through a military commitment, it can provide an outstanding education and a solid base for the future.

Rep. Panzer State Delegate to National Conference of State Legislatures

MADISON. . . State Representative Mary Panzer (R-West Bend) travels west this week to explore the effects of federal budget and tax initiatives on the State of Wisconsin. Representative Panzer is in Seattle, Washington, having been selected as a member of the Wisconsin delegation to the annual meeting of the National Conference of State Legislatures.

The fourth term West Bend Republican listed the impacts of the burgeoning federal deficit on Wisconsin among her major areas of interest. "The continuing deficit," remarked Panzer, "has a significant impact on Wisconsin employment patterns and opportunities. It has a particularly significant impact on manufacturing, which is our state's largest employer. In order for us to respond to continuing federal deficits, it is important for us to know the extent of the problem. This conference should provide me with the appropriate information and perspective."

Representative Panzer will also be exploring other significant issues with her colleagues from across the country. On Breakfast will be served to all in the church hall after the Mass. Wheel chairs will be available to anyone in need.

Golden Fleece of the Month Award

Senator William Proxmire (D-Wis.) Wednesday gave his Golden Fleece of the Month Award for August to the Western Area Power Administration (WAPA) for "wasting $1.8 million to buy an executive jet so that its big shots would not have to wait in line to board commercial flights or pick up their baggage. They bought this flying limousine exactly one week before the end of fiscal year 1983, when the deficit hit a record breaking $208 billion.

"While the deficit and WAPA executives were flying off into the wild blue yonder, the taxpayers were sinking in a sea of red ink. Looking at this comparison, I wonder if WAPA has not had its ticket punched once too often."

Senator Proxmire is the ranking Democrat on the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee and serves on the Appropriations Committee. The Western Area Power Administration - part of the Energy Department - markets federal power in 15 central and western states. Senator Proxmire awards a Fleece monthly to the most wasteful, ridiculous, or ironic use of the taxpayers' money for that period.

"On September 23, 1983, WAPA spent $1.8 million to purchase a 7-passenger executive jet. It justified this purchase on the grounds that the airplane would be used to:

- transport employees to remote locations.
- respond during emergency power outages, and
- improve employee productivity.

"Regarding travel to remote locations, WAPA cited its need to go to 7 smaller western cities, which have limited commercial air service. But over a 13-month period, WAPA employees made only 25 trips to these cities. About 60 percent of travel was to cities such as Phoenix, Las Vegas, or Salt Lake City, which have a number of scheduled commercial flights.

"WAPA was even less successful in using their $1.8 million plaything to respond during emergencies. They had 25 power outages during the first six months of the plane's operation and not once was it used to respond. It was used to cart around executives, not repair crews.

"Finally, WAPA contended that its employees were less productive if they had to suffer through: (1) 30 to 50 minute check-in time before aircraft departure, (2) waiting to pickup baggage, (3) delays in flight departures, and (4) overnight layovers. Oh, pity those poor executives who had to stand for such indignities. WAPA - you laid it on a bit thick this time.

"This Senator suspects that the real reasons WAPA purchased this jet are that the fiscal year was about to end and - shocking thought! - the personal convenience of WAPA executives. For this rip-off, WAPA richly deserves this month's Fleece."

Electric Rates Good for Wisconsin Business

Madison, WI - Wisconsin's electric rates are a good deal for businesses, according to a "Ranking of Electricity Prices" published in the energy trade magazine, Energy User News.

The ranking, from the Department of Energy's survey, "Electric Utility Company Monthly Statement," is based on the prices 129 electric utilities nationwide charged their commercial customers in December 1984. Commercial users include officers, stores, hotels, restaurants and other such businesses that use energy primarily for lighting and heating.

All five Wisconsin utilities named in the survey had below average commercial rates and ranked in the upper half of the list. The utility having the lowest rates ranked 1.

Northern States Power Company (NSP), serving much of western Wisconsin, offered the lowest commercial rates in the state. NSP charged 5.06c per kilowatt hour (kWh) of electricity. The national average price was 7.02c per kWh. Ranked 12th in the country, NSP's 1984 rates were no higher than those it charged in 1983.

Ranking 21st in the nation was Wisconsin Power & Light (WPL), with customers in south central Wisconsin. WPL's rates dropped 16% in 1984 to 5.40c per kWh.

Madison Gas & Electric (MGE) had the third lowest rates in the state at 6.06c per kWh. MGE placed 40th nationwide.

Wisconsin Public Service Corporation, serving north-eastern Wisconsin, ranked 48th in the country, pricing electricity at 6.28c per kWh.

The highest commercial electric rates in the state at the time of the survey were reported by Milwaukee-based Wisconsin Electric Power Company (WEPCO). WEPCO ranked 62nd (out of 129) nationwide and its rates decreased 5% in 1984 to a charge of 6.5c per kWh.

State Public Service Commission Chairman Ness Flores explains Wisconsin's reasonable rates. "Our utilities have most major construction behind them for a period of time. That, plus a reduction in interest costs and inflation as well as sound management and regulation, account for the lower-than-average rates. That is quite an accomplishment when you consider that we import all of our fuel," said Flores.

According to Commissioner Branko Terzic, rates should continue to be reasonable in Wisconsin. "Based on recent construction and cost escalation in neighboring states, I believe Wisconsin utilities will even improve their relative standing over the next few years," he said.

New York's Long Island Lighting Company charged the highest price in the nation for electricity to commercial users at 13.25c per kWh. Montana Power Company's rates, 3.68c per kWh, were the lowest.

KEWASKUM JAYCEE TEEN LEAGUE

It started out to be a wet game with the rain coming down, just to make it a little harder for those to see out of their glasses. Kennelly needed to win this game to stay tied with Shefond for 1st place. Kemps held Kennelly to 1 run till the 4th inning when the rain stopped. Kennelly's Bob Castro hit Noel Stradtman and Joey Miller home. Then Jeff Taylor homered, followed with Tina Weddig hitting a 3 run homer. Bob Castro got to bat again in the 4th to score a 2 run homer. Kennelly played great defensively throughout the game and ended it with a 11 to 2 win.

August 6th at 6:00 p.m. Kennelly Drug vs Shefond Self/Serve for the championship! Come on out and watch the teens play their best!

The recruits include: Kewaskum - David Schlieter, a graduate of Kewaskum High School who was a first team all-conference selection, and all-district performer and a state qualifier in cross-country last season. He was a second team all-conference selection in the 3200 meters, and won the 1600 meters and 3200 meters at the Vanderpan Invitational Track Meet.

Coach Witt said: "Dave is a good distance runner who I feel will be able to help us in the distance area. He comes from a good program and is a very hard worker."
