Review of School District Busing Raises More Questions

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds Committee found, during its meeting Monday night, that the more it delved into the item of school district busing, the more questions and concerns arose.

Prior to the meeting, the committee members were furnished with copies of maps and routes. "It's hard to make an assessment with information that's seven or eight years old," said committee member Kim Peterson. Mrs. Janet Martinson, who has been working with the administration and committee in gathering information agreed. Martinson's feeling was, the only way to get an accurate picture of the busing situation was to ride the routes.

District Administrator Penny Kleinhans also addressed the problem noting that the bus contract comes up for renewal in spring. "One of the questions I have is, we have 300 less kids, yet we're still running the same number of buses. She thought the routes should be reviewed for possible revisions or consolidation.

In studying the present contract, Kleinhans noted, there were other items that should be reviewed. "Rather than look at just the hazardous areas aspect, we are going to ask for a complete review. If that means someone riding the routes and keeping a record, then that's what will be done."

The committee also discussed the purchase of a vehicle to replace the nine-passenger van presently being used by the district. At the last School Board meeting, the administration had asked for approval to purchase another nine-passenger vehicle. However, several individuals, including School Board member Jean Goeden, felt the district should look into a vehicle with a larger passenger capacity, up to around fourteen.

During Monday's committee meeting, the question again rose as to the need for drivers to then have an additional chauffeur or bus driver license for the larger capacity van. Committee Chairman Perry Ankersen directed the administration to look into just what the license requirements are before any recommendations on the purchase of a vehicle are passed on to the board.

The committee is concerned with purchasing a vehicle which will not adequately meet the district's needs versus the problem of drivers who are not complying with license requirements.

The question of strobe lights for the school buses was again discussed. In a letter from Johnson School Bus Company, the committee was informed that there are approximately 7,000 buses in operation in the state with only 10%, or 700 vehicles using the lights. The company noted that there has been no substantiated study to prove the lights make the bus safer. The effectiveness is greatly reduced when placed on

Kindergarten Registration

This year's annual "round-up" for the parents of all prospective kindergarten pupils in the Kewaskum School District will be held during the day on Monday, February 3 and Tuesday, February 4, 1986 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, and 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. in the Beechwood, Farmington, Kewaskum and Wayne School offices. Please register your child at the school in your area on one of the above days. It is not necessary to bring the child while registering.

To be eligible for enrollment in kindergarten, children must have attained their fifth birthday on or before September 1, 1986. Evidence of date of birth, either a birth certificate or a baptismal certificate, must be brought to the office at the time of enrolling.

Parents of bus pupils will need their section number and fire number as well and also fill out bussing forms.

Parents will register their children for next year's term and get the necessary health forms. If you know of any new families in the district, please pass this information on to them.

Richard E. Zarling, Director of Elementary Education would like to impress upon you the importance of registering your child on either of these two days so that they may plan for them and know staff requirements for next year.

Town of Kewaskum Nixes Incinerator Plan

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Town of Kewaskum Board has again said "no" to Washington County's proposed incineration program.

In reply to the County Solid Waste Management Board's second poll, in an effort to gather the necessary minimum 60% commitment, the Town of Kewaskum re-affirmed its earlier rejection of the plan.

Two major factors affecting the board's vote were the cost involved and the fact that the township has a 20-acre landfill site which adequately meets its needs for refuse disposal. While the board was not opposed to the plan itself, participation would double the township's tax levy.

Kewaskum Town Chairman George Allmann, who is also a member of the Solid Waste Management Board, is confused by the county's desire to get into the waste disposal business. He feels the issue is the local municipality's responsibility and private enterprise could provide disposal services at a lower cost.

At a recent county board meeting, Renewed Resources of West Bend presented a plan that could turn refuse into compost and paper pellets which could be used as fuel by both residential and industrial consumers. The firm estimates that, for every five tons of garbage processed, 3 1/2 tons could be converted to useful purposes. Running 100 tons of refuse a day through the company's machine would cost approximately $6.95 a cubic yard.

The Kewaskum Town Board members also expressed concerns about the toxic fumes and ash which would be released into the air by refuse incineration.

Kewaskum's Crime Rate Drops Slightly

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

According to Kewaskum Police Chief Donald Hlavaty's annual department report, criminal activity for the village decreased somewhat in 1985.

The drops came in the areas of stolen property, traffic citations and speeding tickets. Out of every six motorists stopped for speeding, one received a citation, the balance were given warnings.

There were 60 Type I offenses which include burglary, assault and battery, auto theft, theft and sexual assault in 1985, compared to 67 in 1984.

In 1985, the value of property stolen was $10,696, with $7,336 or 69% of it recovered. For the past two years, the village has seen a marked decrease in this area.

The department made 179 arrests; 113 of those were individuals under the age of 18, and 66 over the age of 18. Of the juvenile arrests, 22 were for theft, 18 curfew and loitering, 17 disorderly conduct, 16 runaways, 10 vandalism, 9 liquor violations, and 7 possession of marijuana.

The majority of adult arrests included 13 disorderly conduct, 10 liquor violations, 10 thefts, and 9 forgeries.

Traffic citations dropped by 116, from 484 in 1984, to 368 in 1985. Of the 368, 231 tickets were for speeding. While the number of speeding tickets issued dropped 46% in 1985, the number of warnings increased.

There were 64 traffic accidents within the village. Of those, 38 were non-reportable property damage-only, 18 damage-only reportable, and 8 resulting in personal injury.

The department answered 1,274 complaints including 69 lock-outs, 59 vandalism, 43 family trouble, 41 thefts, and 39 juvenile problems, with the balance concerning calls ranging from child abuse to noise problems.

The department patrolled 82,701 miles, conducted 108 criminal investigations, made 193 assists to other agencies, made 70 window/door open calls, 51 escorts and served 12 warrants.

A cooperative Neighborhood Watch program was begun which currently consists of 10 watch areas.

Students From Several Countries to Visit

AFS Weekend Here

Students from several counties of the world will visit Kewaskum this weekend during an AFS authorized weekend here.

Each AFS exchange student in Wisconsin is invited to participate in two AFS weekends during the winter, in addition to a week in Milwaukee in March. Families in Kewaskum have volunteered to host these students from other Wisconsin towns for the weekend, which will be filled with outdoor activities, rollerskating, the basketball game on Friday, and free time with the families.

Our guests will be from Ghana, Australia, Costa Rica, Peru and Venezuela. Their official hosts will be Samuel Ortiz, Colombia, and Cynthia Barra, Brazil, who are living with Kewaskum host families for the year, and the AFS chapter and student club.

The students will depart on Sunday after a family potluck dinner at 12:30 p.m. at the high school. All Kewaskum residents, adult chapter members and their families are invited to the potluck to share in the spirit of AFS.

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale is going on right now in our community. This American tradition offers everyone the opportunity to support a good cause and get a great box of cookies.

Cookies are the financial mainstay of the local Girl Scout Council which offers a wide range of specialized programs and workshops for young women in this area. Today, Girl Scouts can learn everything from computers and aerospace, to traditional crafts and cooking.

Cookie selling is also a very valuable learning experience for Girl Scouts. It teaches young girls about the benefits of setting goals, individual initiative and the value of purposeful team effort. So, when a scout knocks on your door and asks that all-time favorite question, "Would you like to buy Girl Scout Cookies?" Remember: giving never tasted better.

Your support will always be remembered. Thank you!

Middle School Guest Speaker Tells Of Black History and the King Era

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

"I was a radical activist, involved in the Civil Rights Movement, Black Power and the Vietnam protests. While I was going to college, I wore my African robes and had an 'Afro haircut' that stood out to here," demonstrated Dr. EMichael Smith, as he held out his arms almost full length. "But I am an example that activists grow up to wear shirts and a tie, and learn to speak the 'King's English'."

Those were just a few of the statements eighth grade students of the Kewaskum Middle School heard as Smith spoke to them about the history and lives of black people in America. Smith, who is Human Relations Coordinator for the Milwaukee Public School System and a lecturer at Marquette University and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, was invited to address the students of Dale Squier's Social Studies class in conjunction with their recent studies of the era of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

"I'm impressed with what you are doing here," said Smith, "city kids probably hear more about this." Smith told the students they should be interested in the history of the black people because while they may not have much contact with them now, that will change as they go on to school and out to work in an integrated system. "I want you to understand some of the 'whys' in the events that have led us to where we are today."

Smith presented a review of black history in America. It began with the importation of blacks from Africa, said Smith. Slavery was just a search for labor for the southern plantations, where, after trying Japanese, Chinese and Indians, plantation owners found blacks worked best under these climates and conditions.

The Civil War was a result of the North and South having a conflict in the need for labor. While the Quakers and other groups felt slavery was wrong, most northern interests merely wanted the slaves freed to work in the factories, noted Smith.

After the Civil War, there came a period known as "Reconstruction," when the "Jim Crow Laws" were created. Prior to these laws the blacks and poor whites had a great deal in common including no rights to schooling, because the only whites who were allowed to attend school were those who owned land. The Jim Crow Laws resulted in the first step in segregation, giving poor whites rights still denied the black people.

Whites and blacks had separate restrooms, places to eat, buses and theaters were segregated. If a white person wanted a seat, the black had to give it up. "This is not about 'bad' and 'good' people," stated Smith, "but of vested interests."

From the Reconstruction period, black history moved into the era of Civil Rights. "The blacks were happy to have a job, but unhappy about not having any opportunities," said Smith. The turning point came in the early 1960's when a black cleaning woman named Rosa Parks, riding on a bus down south, refused to give up her seat to a white person. The police were brought in to enforce the law. It was that incident which brought blacks together in a unified effort to find some way to stop segregation. A meeting was held in the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, whose minister at that time was a man by the name of Martin Luther King, Jr. That meeting led to a fifteen-month boycott with 50,000 blacks refusing to ride the buses.

Slowly, legal sanctions, through the courts, began to bring changes, noted Smith. King became the leader of the Civil Rights movement, and under his "non-violent" guidance in 1963, 250,000 people marched on Washington, D.C.

In 1965, the Civil Rights Act was passed bringing social change affecting things like buses, restaurants, motels, etc. Also in 1965, the Voting Rights Act came into being. The nationally televised march in Selma, Alabama, had the biggest impact, noted Smith, as people watched their TV sets and saw police turn water hoses on the marchers which included old women and children.

After 1965, the Black Power Movement began as young blacks like myself became frustrated with King's position of non-violence. "We were going to turn things around with violence, but Rev. King had much better answers, he offered alternatives," said Smith.

Smith, who is responsible for the operations of two Milwaukee high schools, Pulaski, and the School of The Arts (old West), was asked how he felt about the Milwaukee Public School System's integration lawsuit and present negotiations. He felt that the City of Milwaukee "putting its tentacles out into the suburbs" was not going to solve its problems. The city must work within itself to correct its problems and, to me, breaking the city down into its own districts is the way to begin, noted Smith. He also felt that classes should be run by individuals who are familiar with the backgrounds of blacks and know and understand the kind of home and community environment from which these children are coming.

While the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) feels Milwaukee would have no problem winning if the issue went to court, I still do not think that would solve the problem in the Milwaukee schools.

This photo of the original Gutter Dusters bowling team of Kewaskum was taken at the 1952 ABC National Bowling Tournament held in Milwaukee that year. It was the largest tournament in history at the time. The team had no sponsor, they just sponsored themselves. With a team name like Gutter Dusters we'll let you guess how they

Busing

the roof of a forty-foot bus noted the letter.

If the district wanted the lights, Johnson would use them at a cost of $90.00 per year, for 21 buses. Initial cost and installation of the lights would run around $230 to $270 per bus. "We're talking approximately $5,500 to do the buses," stated Peterson. "I don't think the use of our buses warrants it really."

Ankerson directed the administration to look into just how many districts are using the lights and what their feelings are regarding increased safety.

The committee listened to concerns from Kleinhans regarding the Wayne Elementary gym roof. An inspection was made in 1982 regarding beam deflection or sagging. Kleinhans said, reviews of two separate and somewhat conflicting reports leads her to ask for another inspection. According to one report the beams could sag another two inches without any problems. "A review of the situation just made us uncomfortable enough that we felt it should be inspected again," said Kleinhans. The committee will pass her recommendation on to the board.

The committee will also recommend that the School Board approve Building Superintendent Fred Boehlke's request to get bids on engineering work for the replacement of the one-story roof section at Kewaskum Elementary School. The roof has approximately four bad areas causing standing water in some areas.

Boehlke was directed to present the bids at the February 10th School Board meeting.

Boehlke also said that encapsulation of the Wayne School ceiling had been completed. Kleinhans told the committee that the teachers had been upset by the mess left behind. There was some dirt, dust and disturbance of items in their class rooms and they were asking for added pay for some cleanup time. Kleinhans said she had denied the request and the teachers had turned the item over to the Kewaskum Education Association.

Kleinhans felt the situation was a little "nit-picky," noting the staff should understand the district was trying to provide safer working conditions and a slight mess was a result of the work. Wayne Principal Tom Larsen said he did not, himself, feel the situation was that bad. Some decorations and of place, some decorations and student projects were taken down, but nothing major.

The committee then scheduled its next meeting for February 24th, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Library.

"Forget injuries, never forget kindness."

How to Handle An Accident

High snowbanks have reduced visibility in many intersections and large accumulations of snow have made roads narrower, increasing the chances of auto accidents.

People can become frazzled after an accident, but if you remember a few guidelines, it will make everything easier later.

According to John Patton, Casualty Claims Director of the American Family Insurance, "First seek help for the injured and phone the police or state patrol, then write down everything that happened. That way you can keep it fresh in your mind."

If the following list is too long to remember, American Family has put together a pocket-sized Automobile Accident Checklist you can carry in your car. For a free copy write: Public Relations Department, American Family Insurance, Box 7430, Madison, WI 53783.

WHAT TO DO

AFTER AN ACCIDENT:

- Stop immediately and keep calm.
- Warn oncoming traffic.
- Help the injured, but don't move them unless absolutely necessary.
- Call the police or state patrol.
- Don't stand in the roadway or between the vehicles, they may be struck again.

WRITE DOWN

THIS INFORMATION:

- Date, time and place of the accident.
- Names, addresses and telephone numbers of all drivers in the accident; their insurance agents and companies; all passengers and where they were seated.
- The names, phone numbers and addresses of anyone who may be a witness.
- Make, model, year and license numbers of all cars involved in the accident.
- Your speed and the approximate speed of the other car when the accident occurred.
- Prevailing weather conditions (clear, foggy...).
- Road conditions (dry, wet, icy...).
- Brief account of the accident.
- Evidence, if any, that the other driver might have been drinking.
- Whether the other driver's license lists any restrictions that would be relevant (Was he/she wearing glasses as required?).
- Evidence of injury to anyone involved in the accident.
- Location of the cars on the road (on the berm, across the lane, on the divider).
- Name, badge number and station number of the police officer who arrives on the scene.
- Any comments by others involved, which you overhear.

REMEMBER:

- Don't indicate how much insurance coverage you have.
- Don't admit negligence even if you feel you were at fault.
- Don't sign anything which might indicate that you are not physically injured. Some injuries are not apparent immediately.
- Call your insurance agent and report the accident, even if the damages are minor and you intend to pay for repairs yourself. Your insurance company may require that you report any accident within a certain period of time. If you don't report it, and the accident turns out to be more serious than you originally thought (if the other driver develops a whiplash injury) your insurance company may be able to disclaim coverage.
- After leaving the scene of the accident, refer any inquiries from others involved in the accident to your insurance agent. Don't try to answer them yourself. Give a statement to your insurance representative only.

For winter storage, wipe apples dry and pack in dry sand or sawdust. Keep in cool, dry place.

Beware of Credit Card Scam

A Town of Trenton woman was almost the victim of a credit card scam this month but because she knew what was going on, she avoided losing quite a bit of money to a con artist.

The woman received a phone call from a stranger. She was told that she had won a free trip, and was read a list of all the places she could visit. But then the stranger asked for her credit card number. When the woman told the caller that she would not give this information, the caller immediately hung up. There is no doubt, with that response, that the call was an attempt to learn the woman's credit card number so the number could be used to charge unwanted items to her account.

Sheriff Clarence Schwartz again reminds county residents that they must guard their credit card numbers carefully. If there is ever a suspicion that the number has been acquired by a dishonest person, they should contact their credit card company immediately.

Friends for Battered Women of Washington County announced it has hired a new executive director - Sara Lee Johann of Cedarburg. Friends is a non-profit organization providing a 24 hour crisis line, counseling, legal advocacy, and safe homes for victims of domestic abuse. It also gives educational presentations on stopping abuse to school classes and civic organizations.

Johann, an attorney, has worked in private practice of law and drafted legislation as a research clerk to the Wisconsin State Assembly Judiciary Committee. During law school she wrote appellate briefs and legal memos as a law clerk for the Wisconsin Department of Justice Criminal Appeals Unit.

The new executive director also brings to the position varied experience in writing and public relations. She is a former newspaper reporter and has done public relations writing and speaking for numerous civic and political organizations.

Johann is a commissioner on the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning commission and a member of the Ozaukee County Jail Study Advisory Committee. ### State Offers Home Loans to Families With Low Income

By Senator Donald K. Stitt

Beginning in January of 1986, the Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority (WHEDA) will have $18.1 million to lend to families with low and moderate income levels so they may buy a home. The Authority will make approximately 500 loans at a fixed interest rate of 9.75% through the HOME program.

If you live in a non-targeted area, are buying your first home, and have an annual household income of $23,600 or less, you may qualify for a loan. If you live in a targeted area, your income may not exceed 110% of your county's median income to qualify.

Purchase prices for homes purchased through the HOME program are limited - these limits vary by structure and location. In a targeted area, purchase price limits are higher than those in a non-targeted area.

All HOME loans will have fixed rates and terms up to 30 years. A minimum down payment of 5% of the loan is required and there is no prepayment penalty. Origination fees will be 2.25% of the loan for non-targeted areas and only one percent in targeted areas.

Applications will be taken by participating lenders throughout the state and will be processed on a first come, first serve basis.

Additional information is available through participating lenders. Potential borrowers should contact a lender in their area or call WHEDA toll free at 1-800-362-2767. If you need further information or help, please feel free to contact me, Senator Don Stitt, P.O. Box 7882, Madison, Wisconsin 53707 or call my office at 608-266-7513 or leave a message with the Legislative Hotline at 1-800-362-9696.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

To the Editor:

While Volumes I and II of Far From Great Decisions as made by the Kewaskum School Board have been concerned with specific ACTIONS taken by the board, this volume is concerned with the board's INACTION.

A synopsis would indicate that the board has made an apparent decision not to make certain decisions and thus abdicate their responsibility. While being quick to act to raise taxes and hire administrative personnel, they have been slower than the proverbial person who takes 1 1/2 hours to watch Sixty Minutes when it comes to taking action on the instructional program.

It is this instructional program that touches every student, parent, teacher, and taxpayer in this district. It is this instructional program that is - or should be - second to no other. It is the first and most important reason for having schools. It is the school's primary contribution to a well educated citizenry - people capable of contributing to all aspects of society - locally, nationally, and globally.

Yet, it is this instructional program that the board has chosen to ignore. Why didn't the board take any action on the curriculum changes proposed by the Director of Instruction at the January 13th meeting (even though it would have been only "rubber stamping" what in effect had already been done as our students were given course selection guides incorporating these changes long before this meeting)? Why would this be done without prior board approval? Why wouldn't the board abide by its own policy #6140, that states that proposed and revised curriculum guides must be approved by the board? Why hasn't the board taken action on the recommendations made to it by its own Evaluation Policy Committee (EPC) regarding the social studies program? The report was given in June with a promise by the board to act on it in August. Why hasn't the board acted on the EPC recommendations on Health? Why is the board going back to square one with regards to the Secondary Education Consortium? Why must the wheel be reinvented? Why not act on what has been done? Why have they dropped the ball in regards to competency based testing? Why the ACTION on items with dollar amounts and the INACTION on these important board responsibilities?

This is the last volume of Far From Great Decisions, but it is not the last of my questions concerning certain decisions of the Kewaskum School Board.

Ralph Horner

The annual kick-off, "Sturgeons for Tomorrow," dinner was again held at the Holiday Inn in Fond du Lac on Jan. 11. On that date many cars headed north from Kewaskum and surrounding areas, sending twenty-one delegates to join the rest of the seven hundred and fifty members. A delicious meal of pepper steak and chicken with all the trimmings was enjoyed by all. Dan Folz, of the Wisconsin D.N.R., was the guest speaker, reporting on the progress of the sturgeon program and how the donated money was and is being spent. Many fine prizes were again awarded with ten Kewaskum delegates winning. One prize that had many wives ohhing and ahing was a beautiful pair of diamond earrings and necklace. Alas, no one from Kewaskum was that lucky winner. Another unique prize won by a very lucky Kewaskum delegate, was the newly made sturgeon decanters. Only 600 1st editions were made with 550 perfect ones to sell. The decanters were made and sold to help raise money for Sturgeons for Tomorrow. The mold was broken by a big hammer on the podium making the decanters more than double in price.

A dance followed after which the hearty bunch returned home.

The spearing season begins Feb. 8th thru March 1st. There is a special 2 day season on Lake Butte des Morts, Poygan and connecting waters on Feb. 15th & 16th only. The Sturgeon Spearers of America are ready to swing into action. Remember, Feb. 7th will be the next gathering of the group.

The Kewaskum Chapter has designated 1986 as the year of the fish.

Go get 'um, Spearers.

Featured speaker for the School will be Frank Hirsch, Hirsch Fruit Farms, Chillicothe, Ohio. Hirsch will discuss the art of growing and direct marketing apples. Also present will be Robert Heuser, Vice President, Horticulturist, and Grower Advisor, Hilltop Orchards and Nurseries, Hartford, Michigan. corners.

The Eastern Wisconsin Fruit School is directed toward both the established tree fruit grower and those people considering production and marketing of apples as a business.

The registration fee for the one-day conference including one lunch and registration materials is $25 per orchard or business. The fee for additional persons from the same orchard or business is $10 each. Pre-registration deadline is February 7, 1986, and a $10 late fee will be charged for registrations received after that date.

Special services of dedication and thanksgiving are planned for Peace United Church of Christ, Kewaskum, on Sunday, January 29. The service will be followed with an "open house" and refreshments and fellowship in the church parlors. The new addition is a two story 46 by 68 foot structure above ground level and attached to form an L with the church proper. The first floor is planned for the nursery, kindergarten, primary and lower junior children. The upper floor includes facilities for the upper juniors, youth and adults for education, fellowship, and visual education. The upper floor also includes the choir room, church office and pastor's study. A new hot water heating system was installed for the entire building and the church parlors have been redecorated. The purchase of land, building and furnishings, heating system and redecorating involves an investment of over $107,000.00. The membership of the congregation is 440 communicant members and 150 children.

George J. Backhaus, 61, farm resident of St. Michaels, in the Town of Farmington, passed away on January 20 at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend.

The first annual Beautena Royal Show and Sale was held January 21, at Rosenheimer's implement shop in Kewaskum. About 400 buyers and interested persons from four counties, including Sheboygan, Ozaukee, Fond du Lac, and Washington, attended. Purebred Holstein heifers, raised by breeders in the four counties, financed by Purina dealers, and sponsored mainly by 4-H clubs and FFA chapters, were shown and sold at auction. The sale of 18 heifers brought in a total of $3,600, an average of $200 per animal. The highest price paid was $300 and the lowest $110.

SP/4 Michael J. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schmidt, Kewaskum, arrived home January 14, from Fort Richardson, Alaska, where he was stationed two years with the army. He has received his discharge.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Prost, Route 2, Kewaskum, on January 23. A son was born to Atty. and Mrs. Roger McKenna, Kewaskum, on January 27. A son was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger LeRoy, Kewaskum, on January 20.

50 Years Ago

January 31, 1936

A deal involving several local persons was closed in this village during the week which found John F. Schaefer purchasing the filling station and garage on the corner of East Water and Main Streets from John Honeck, the owner. Mr. Schaefer will continue to operate the place as a filling station and the garage portion will be turned over to his son, William, who operates a trucking business, and who will use the space as a storeroom and repair room for his trucks. Mr. Schaefer will also continue to conduct his present garage and milk transportation business. Up to the present time the station was operated by Clarence Kudeck, who, as a result of the Schaefer-Honeck transaction, has leased the K.A. Honeck garage on South Fond du Lac Avenue and will conduct his business there in the future. By that time, it is expected that K.A. Honeck, who recently purchased the former Schaub garage on Fond du Lac Avenue, and who will conduct his garage there in the future, will be ready for his opening in that place and as soon as he vacates his old place, Mr. Kudeck will take over the reins.

The following people were the leaders in good conduct in the primary room of the Kewaskum School: Eileen Backus, Glenway Backus, Lois Klukas, Doris Mae Stahl, Betty Krueger, Junior Kaniess, August Bilgo Jr., and Jean Rosenheimer. These pupils were winners in the good conduct contest in the intermediate room: Beatrice Hafeman, Lois Koch, Marian Ramthun, Lorena Vorpahl, Lavern Ramthun, Lillian Werner and Wilmer Bunkelmann. The honor roll consists of: Erhardt Schultz, Rachel Brauchle, Lois Koch, Marian Ramthun and Erna Lubitz.

Again it becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of another pioneer resident of the Town of Wayne, namely: Jacob Meinhardt Sr., who passed away at his home 1/2 miles south of Kohlsville on January 23.

The extreme cold wave of last week, when the mercury dropped close to 30 degrees below zero, finally disappeared from this vicinity on Tuesday of this week, but only temporarily, for on Thursday another less severe one arrived, but this one is due to end Saturday. According to weather reports the seige was the worst since 1912, having lasted for about one week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Schulz of the Town of Kewaskum, a 9-pound baby girl last Sunday evening. An 8-pound baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Herriges of St. Kilian on January 24. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. A. Staehler of this village on the birth of an 8-pound baby girl January 25. On January 26, the big bird stopped off at St. Kilian again, this time leaving a 7 1/2-pound baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Batzler. January 30, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kumrow of near Beechwood were blessed with an 8-pound baby girl. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Liermann of Beechwood are the proud parents of a baby boy born to them on Sunday.

THEY MAY LOOK THE SAME ON THE OUTSIDE,

BUT INSIDE IT'S A DIFFERENT STORY!

The one on the left is our standard Whirlpool 50,000 BTUH upflow pilot gas furnace. Its efficiency rating is 65.9%. That means that 34.1% of the energy it takes to run the furnace is wasted. Totally wasted!

The 50,000 BTUH furnace on the right is the new Whirlpool Tightfist® II high efficiency furnace. Its efficiency rating is 96%! That means only 4% of the energy is wasted.

The difference is obvious. And remember, you're going to be charged for all the energy you use, whether it's wasted or not. To really get what you're paying for, why not install a high efficiency Whirlpool Tightfist II furnace in your home today. That way you're sure to get your money's worth.

Local, County Members Attend Annual Meeting of Wisconsin Farm Bureau

With membership now over 40,000, the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation held its 66th annual meeting December 7-10, in Appleton. The state's largest general farm organization drew over 1,000 farmers from 60 counties to the event. Several Farm Bureau members from Washington County were in attendance.

The first day of the meeting focused on the Young Farmer activities and contests. George and Kathy Muth, West Bend, represent the county in the Young Farmer and Rancher Award contest. George and Kathy were voted one of the top ten in the state and will be awarded a trip to Washington, D.C. Christine Neuburg, Richfield, competed in the Miss Farm Bureau contest.

On Monday, the business sessions and conferences got underway. Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation President Donald Haldeman discussed the current agricultural situation and the role that the organization has played in surfacing and resolving farm problems in the past year. He emphasized that Farm Bureau will continue with its STOP (School Taxes Off Property) campaign over the next year.

During the Monday evening program, County Farm Bureaus were given awards in recognition of their achievements. Washington County Farm Bureau received a five-star award for its outstanding programs in Membership, Women, Dairy, Service to Members, and Ag in the Classroom programs.

Producers Club members were honored at a special luncheon on Tuesday. Attending from Washington County was Carlton Martin, Germantown.

Policy that will guide Farm Bureau in the coming year was debated and approved at Tuesday's resolution session. Delegates representing Washington County were: Mike Lettow, Kewaskum; Vice-president Donald Schulz, Kewaskum; Frank Falter, West Bend; President Elaine Linstedt, Colgate, and Marge Nueburg, Richfield.

New ASCS Programs Coming Announced By County Office

Information on the new programs is just starting to trickle down to the county office according to Donald E. Sampson, Director of the Washington County ASCS Office. Farmers should be patient until the real provisions are announced by ASCS.

The new Farm Bill, the Food Security Act of 1985 contains many issues subject to the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture. Consequently many stories written are not all that accurate according to Sampson.

As of this writing, counties have been instructed to establish bases and yields on program crops. Notices will be mailed to producers and the signup is anticipated to start in early March. Target prices will remain the same in 1986 as 1985, however, commodity loan rates will be reduced.

Interest appears high with the Dairy Herd Buy-out Program. This program is to be implemented by April 1st. Interested persons will submit a bid to participate. Accepted producers will be required to stay out of dairying for 5 years.

Another program with considerable interest is the 10 year Conservation Reserve. This too will be offered on a bid basis to farmers who intend to retire highly erodible soils.

Details of each program will be described fully as information becomes available.

SOS Program Helps Farm Families Manage Stress

By Joyce Albrecht
Washington County
Extension Home Economist

Farm families can do a lot to help themselves through periods of financial crisis. The key is for families to recognize when they have a financial problem and take steps to deal with the resulting tensions.

People talk of stress related to farms going under. That's not stress, but rather, a stressor. Stress is just tension. Some families deal with stressors better than others. But things such as a death in the family or losing a business are sure to result in stress.

Most families experience stress at varying levels throughout life. Recent research found that though the typical American family is a valued and contributing member of its community, it experiences heavy but fluctuating demands throughout its life cycle. But most families are resilient and able to ride the roller coaster of high and low points.

To help families through these low points, "hurdle-help" programs are being advocated in the areas of stress and financial management.

How do you know when you need stress management help? You worry about tomorrow, you're not able to sleep, you anger easily and you're quick to enter into arguments with family members and others. If you experience three out of four of these symptoms, you're stressed.

Farm families must also contend with the financial problem. The typical view is simply to solve the immediate financial crisis. Farm families must find immediate practical solutions so they can avoid going under, but they need more than just a quick fix.

They also have to work together to change circumstances. Some families will isolate themselves, but in crises, teamwork is needed. The farm is a family business, so everyone is affected.

Family members need to spend time attending to each other's needs. They also need to focus on managing tensions within themselves — the guilt, anger and frustration.

Farm families can find some guidance in these efforts from the University of Wisconsin Cooperative Extension Service, which initiated a "Strategies on Survival" program last spring. SOS teams consisting of extension agents, specialists and farm management analysts are available in all Wisconsin counties to provide information and short-term counseling.

The program is giving families information on their financial situation and the options open to them. This is the most important feature of the helping families through a financial crisis. Information gives them a chance to exercise control over what is happening.

The SOS program tries to help farmers realize they are not alone and can work together. It is also providing information for families. They want to know if what they feel is normal and how to handle tension, improve communication between spouses and maintain parent-child relations. That's where counseling comes in.

SOS tries to help farmers understand themselves and what they're going through. This is separate from the family; it's how to cope with the conflicts within themselves.

SOS also tries to help families in other ways. It helps empower families to make choices when they are very few. It can instill a sense of predictability in the midst of chaos. That's what counseling does. If you talk it out, there is a sense of order and predictability, at least for some parts of the problems. And it can create a sense of manageability with limited resources. It helps families build on existing strengths, tells them what their strengths are and gives them confidence.

The major technique in counseling is to help people look at the small picture, the day-to-day things they can control, and to buy time to handle the big problems.

SOS can help all families, not just those in financial trouble. It can help them prepare for potential problems. It is a prevention program and would advise families not to wait until they're in trouble, when it may be too late.

Time Is Right to Save Soil

Citizens and private organizations have never before had a better opportunity to affect government policy on agriculture and conservation issues. Douglas Wheeler, Executive Director of the Sierra Club and founder of the American Farmland Trust, issued this challenge to the Wisconsin Land Conservation Association at their state meeting in Stevens Point, recently.

Members of the County Boards Land Conservation Committee represented Washington county at the WLCA meeting.

Wheeler said the soil conservation provisions in the pending farm bill are a prime example of the impact of private organizations and individuals.

"New ideas, new analyses of old data and a coalition of groups outside the government are responsible for the conservation in the Farm Bill," said Wheeler.

A coalition consisting of the American Farmland Trust, Sierra Club, the Grange, National Association of Conservation Districts, Farmers Union, and the American Farm Bureau Federation provided a broad base of early support for cross-compliance and the conservation reserve.

The coalition succeeded, says Wheeler. "Conservation is the only part of the farm bill on which everyone agrees. It is not a stumbling block," he added.

Wheeler founded the American Farmland Trust five years ago to promote soil conservation and farmland preservation in federal policy. It also serves as a clearinghouse for information on state programs.

The Wisconsin Land Conservation Association represents county land conservation committees on policy issues and promotes conservation through education and a recognition program.

Dr. Peter Nowak of the University of Wisconsin Environmental Resources Center also talked to county representatives about the opportunities in soil conservation today.

"The challenge facing soil and water conservation today is greater than at any time in history," said Nowak. "Greater even than in the Dust Bowl of the 30s."

County officials must be able to adjust to changes in state and federal policy and be prepared to do more with less, Nowak added.

Laverne Ausman, Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection, told county officials that cross-compliance is an idea whose time has come. Ausman was referring to the new soil conservation requirement for farmland preservation tax credits.

"By 1988 more than 25,000 farmers will be in Farmland Preservation and meeting conservation standards," says Ausman.

are available from the Washington County Cooperative Extension Service free of charge if you stop by to pick them up. Individuals that would like to have the publication sent to them through the mail should send 90c for postage along with their name and address to Washington County Cooperative Extension Service, P. O. Box 1986, West Bend, Wis. 53095 and a copy will be mailed.

The Extension office also has copies of farm record books and other information to help do a better job of farm management and income tax management.

Soil Surveys Can Help You

Whether you are planning a home, building a road or farming the land, soil survey reports can help you do it well. The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) of the US Department of Agriculture is conducting a detailed inventory and analysis of Wisconsin's soils. The result is the soil survey report, an informative aid for all kinds of land uses.

Homes and roads can't be built just anywhere. Depth to water tables and structural support strength must be considered to avoid costly mistakes. Ustable soils can crack a house or heave a road like a fragile toy. The plagues that ravaged early Chicago festered and thrived in soils that were too wet to handle lethal overdoses of sewage that seeped into water supplies.

Look Before You Leap

In suburban Maryland, 15 new homes failed to gain approval by city building inspectors because the soils were unsafe for septic systems. Soils prone to shrinking and swelling can cause expensive cracking in walls and foundations. One school built at a cost of $1.2 million in 1963 was condemned in 1970. Soil reports can be used to avoid wet, shifting or slippage-prone soils that cause buildings to crack.

Understanding the land's capabilities can prevent costly errors and disasters. The town of Soldiers Grove in southwest Wisconsin has moved its buildings to higher ground at great expense after tiring of flood damage. Some floods are as infrequent as 50 or 100 years. But even a small stream can become a raging torrent in a torrential downpour.

Find the Best Use for the Land

Planning and zoning administrators consult soil surveys to preserve prime agricultural land, find suitable sites for homes, waste disposal, commercial developments and "natural corridors." Natural corridors are areas set aside for waste conservation and wildlife habitat. Such areas, unsuitable for development, are often ideal for recreation use.

Farmers and other agronomists can refer to the detailed soil descriptions for information on soil properties. Depth of soil, depth to bedrock and water tables, percent of organic matter and warnings of limitations from wetness or erosion potential are included in the reports. Boundaries of soil types are outlined on aerial-photos showing all the land in the county.

Some soil survey reports contains tables for specific land uses. Among these are estimated crop and pasture yields, and recommended plantings for woodland management, wildlife, and windbreaks. Suitability of soils for sanitary facilities, building development, construction materials, recreation and engineering properties may also be included.

Soil survey reports are rich with information for a variety of people with diverse backgrounds. To obtain a report for Washington County, contact Don Kurer, District Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, 2361 W. Washington Street, West Bend or call 334-3706.

Popcorn is an American Indian invention.

Britt Appointed Area Chairman of Savings Bond Drive

MILWAUKEE — Russell W. Britt, president of Wisconsin Electric Power Co., has been appointed chairman of the 1986 U. S. Savings Bonds payroll savings campaign for southeast Wisconsin.

The area includes Milwaukee, Waukesha, Dodge, Washington, Ozaukee, Racine and Kenosha counties.

Britt's appointment was announced in Washington, D.C., by U. S. Treasury Secretary James A. Baker. The announcement was followed by a White House reception with President Reagan.

In his role, Britt becomes a member of the U.S. Savings Bonds Volunteer Committee, which consists of business, government and educational leaders representing 32 industries and 23 geographic areas.

The national chairman is Robert E. Mercer, chairman and chief executive officer of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio.

Series EE Savings Bonds have been on a market-based interest system since November 1982. New issues held five years or longer receive 85 percent of the average return on five-year Treasury marketable securities during the holding period, or a minimum guaranteed yield of 7.5 percent, whichever is higher.

The semiannual rate in effect through April 30, 1986, is 8.36 percent.

"Savings bonds are an easy way to invest in our country and get a good return on your investment," Britt said. "I'm delighted with the opportunity to help support the Savings Bond program."

"The real great man is the man who makes every man feel great."

Income Tax Management Important Part of Farm Management

Income tax management is an important part of farm management. Farmers are concerned about taxes during years in which they may have incurred a larger than normal taxable income. Income tax management needs to be taken into consideration every year when making farm management decisions.

Income tax management is not tax avoidance. It's understanding and using the tax laws to meet the objective of paying the minimum amount of taxes as required by law.

The 1985 year may be a year of reduced income for most farm families. With dollars being short to meet cash flow requirements and family living, tax management may be more critical than in years of high income.

Income tax management strategies are possible when the farm business has a good set of records and can do some tax management before the end of the calendar year. Understanding tax laws will help individuals understand which management practices may be used.

The Internal Revenue Service publishes the "Farmer's Tax Guide," publication 225, to help understand the income tax laws. Copies of the publication

RESOLUTION NO. 86-2 OPPOSING WISCONSIN ASSEMBLY BILL AB 506

WHEREAS, under the current Wisconsin Statute (Sec. 66.082) municipalities are permitted to establish franchise fees based on gross revenues generated by contracting cable TV companies;

WHEREAS, the majority of existing contracts between municipalities and the operating cable companies include franchise fees allowed by Federal law;

WHEREAS, these mutual contracts were initiated in good faith justifying a franchise fee and allowing a cooperative effort in the operation and regulation of the cable television system;

WHEREAS, there has been no apparent abuse of franchise fees collected by the municipalities from the cable operators;

WHEREAS, Wisconsin Assembly Bill AB 506 has been recommended for passage by the "Committee of State Affairs," with an amendment that would repeal the specific authority of municipalities requiring cable operators to pay a franchise fee for general revenue purposes;

WHEREAS, AB 506 also violates the majority of franchise contracts which would encourage lengthy, costly legal conflicts between the municipalities and the cable companies;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum goes on record to oppose adoption of AB 506;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum forward this resolution to its state Representatives and the "Committee of State Affairs."

PASSED, ADOPTED AND APPROVED this 20th day of January, 1986, by the Kewaskum Village Board.

RESOLUTION NO. 86-3

A RESOLUTION IN SUPPORT OF THE DEROUIN PLAN FOR CHANGES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES.

WHEREAS, the Secretary of the Department of Natural Resources is not now a member of the Governor's cabinet; and WHEREAS, the Department of Natural Resources involves itself in litigation with the public and private sector; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Natural Resources does not quickly and expeditiously deny or approve permits that pass before it and does not abide by any deadlines or time limits; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Natural Resources is not a part of the State Economic Development Program; and

WHEREAS, the Office of the Public Intervenor is an autonomous agency which is unnecessary,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum that the following recommendations be made to the Wisconsin Assembly and Senate:

1. The Department of Natural Resources' Secretary should be a member of the Governor's cabinet.

2. Permit approvals or denials should be decided by a legislative hearing as is done in other states, rather than be contested case hearings.

3. The Department of Natural Resources should be required to issue necessary permits on a timely basis recognizing the costs that delay causes the public and private businesses.

4. The Department of Natural Resources should have to give back applicants their fees if deadlines or time limits are passed or the agency should lose a portion of its budget.

5. The Secretary of the Department of Natural Resources should be a part of the Governor's team for business development. This team approach would make Wisconsin competitive with other states in which Governors can use the whole cabinet to get permits approved ex-pediently.

6. The Office of Public Intervenor should be eliminated because it is unnecessary. The Attorney General's Office is capable of being the watchdog for Department of Natural Resources' enforcement actions.

PASSED AND APPROVED this 20th day of January, 1986, by the Kewaskum Village Board.

VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified voter, unable to get to the polling place on election day, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified voter is one who is a U. S. citizen, will be 18 years of age or older on election day, and who has resided in the ward or municipality where voting is desired to be accomplished for at least 14 days prior to the election. If the voter resides in a municipality which requires voter registration, then registration is also a requisite for the voter who is qualified in other respects.

To obtain an absentee ballot, you must request it in writing. Contact the clerk in the city, village or town in which you reside by mail or telephone, or in person, and request an application form. After properly completing and returning the application to the municipal clerk, an absentee ballot will be sent to you along with a postage pre-paid return envelope, or given to you if the application is submitted to the clerk in person. An application mailed to the clerk's office must be received by the clerk no later than 5:00 p.m. on the Friday before election day. An application made in person in the clerk's office may be done up to 5:00 p.m. on the day before the election.

With one exception, the voter who wants to cast an absentee ballot must make a separate application before each election. Voters indefinitely confined to their home or care facility because of illness, age or disability need not file an application before each election; a special statement on the application form can be completed asking that an absentee ballot be automatically mailed to them before each election. However, if the elector fails to mark and return the ballots sent to them for an election, it will be necessary to complete an application form before receiving absentee ballots for a subsequent election.

Absentee ballots can be voted at home anytime after they arrive in the mail. They can also be voted in the clerk's office if the application is made in person. If an elector requires assistance in casting his or her vote, the assistance must be rendered by someone authorized to administer oaths, such as a clerk or notary public. If the ballots are returned by mail, the affidavit-certificate must be properly completed and signed by two persons. If returning the ballots in person, the affidavit-certificate must be properly completed and subscribed and sworn to before the clerk or the deputy clerk who are authorized to administer oaths. In either case, the marked, sealed ballot must be in the hands of the issuing municipal clerk on or before election day. Any absentee ballot received in incomplete or improper form, or received after the polls close on election day cannot be counted.

Indians Close at 2nd Place Plymouth — But!

By Chuck Voge

All three Kewaskum boys basketball teams lost their games to the Plymouth Panthers there Friday night, Jan. 24.

The freshmen lost by a 55-45 margin and the junior varsity dropped their contest, 64-46. In the varsity matchup Kewaskum outscored Plymouth 30-24, in the first half and it looked like they were going to upset the second place Panthers but in spite of their outstanding first half effort the victory just wasn't meant to be.

The Indians who have been playing good basketball lately, failed to cash in on three straight bonus opportunities in in the third period.

Although Rohlinger only scored six points in the first three periods it was his directing the Indian offensive game plan that kept Plymouth in check for most of the game. Each time that Rohlinger brought the ball down court for the Indians he directed the offensive attack with precision and finesse. Late in the third period, however, the Panthers were able to speed up the tempo of the game and force enough turnovers to take a 39-38 lead.

Once the tempo picked up the Indians had trouble getting their shots to drop and that, put together with the missed free throws, added up to a 55-48 Plymouth victory.

The Indians next home game is against Kiel on Friday, Jan. 31, with a Tuesday, Jan. 28, road game played against Two Rivers in between.

Ailing Girls Lose to Ozaukee, Beat Chilton

By Chuck Voge

The Kewaskum varsity girls basketball team roster continues to look more and more like the impatient list at Saint Joseph's Community Hospital as the season progresses.

Three of the Indians' front line players were out for the past two games with Ozaukee and Chilton. Out with ankle injuries were Lisa Schneider and Jenny Hintz. Also out due to illness was Lisa Fusek, one of Kewaskum's top rebounders. The girls' team has been plagued by injuries most of the season.

To help fill the gaps, coach Milt Dickenson brought up sophomore Debbie Felix from the junior varsity squad. In the 50-33 loss to Ozaukee, the 5'9" sophomore got off to a slow but respectable start with two steals, two rebounds and also scored two points. Against Chilton Felix improved on her performance, scoring two field goals and one free throw for a total of five points. More important than her statistics is the way that Felix handles herself on the floor. She is definitely not a fish out of water playing on the varsity squad. Felix belongs.

High scorers in the Jan. 21 game with Ozaukee were Terri Schmidt with 11 points and Brenda Theusch with 10. For Ozaukee Gruell had 16 and Plier 10.

The junior varsity also lost to Ozaukee by a score of 38-24. High scorer for Kewaskum was Jenny Schuster with 12 points. The freshmen were idle for the evening.

Kewaskum — Kober 0-0-0, Yearling 2-3-7, Beck 0-0-0, Schmidt 5-1-11, T. Theusch 0-0-0, Vetter 1-1-3, B. Theusch 5-0-10, Felix 1-0-2.

Ozaukee — Lubner 3-0-6, Wickland 3-0-6, Large 3-0-6, Grull 8-0-16, Plier 5-0-10, Wolff 1-0-2, Dalton 2-0-4.

Starters in the Jan. 23 home contest against Chilton were Vetter and Theusch at guard, Kober and Felix at forward and Terri Schmidt at center. Starter Jodi Yearling wasn't feeling good but came off the bench to score a season high 24 points and Brenda Theusch had 8. For the Tigers Van Grinsven had 21 points and Rieder and Woelfel 5 each.

A high point in the 49-36 victory came when early in the first period, Kewaskum's Terri Schmidt was whistled on a foul. The usually calm and quiet coach Dickenson took issue with the official on the call and came as close to getting a technical called on him as he has in the entire season. On the exchange Milt roared back and put his whistle up to the ready position. Milt turned red and that's as far as the exchange went, but the crowd ate it up. It added a little spice to the game.

In the first period the Indians got off to a very slow start. Sloppy ball handling put together with not putting the ball up helped the Indians to go scoreless for the first five minutes of play. Then some hot shooting by Yearling, Vetter and Theusch helped Kewaskum to a 11-9 first period lead.

In the second period Kewaskum really outscored the Tigers by a 19-9 margin and stretched their lead to 30-18 at the half. Yearling was the Indians' big scorer in the period, picking up 8.
