Questions Remain As to Why, How and Who Killed Guenther, Luebke

No Charges or Arrests in Shooting Deaths

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After a month-long investigation and a two-day coroner's inquest, the circumstances surrounding the shooting deaths of Allen Guenther and Lee Luebke in the Town of Farmington east of Kewaskum are just as clouded and confused as the night of the incident.

Were the deaths the culmination of a series of disputes between residents of the two-family farmhouse over the past few months, or were they the result of a new altercation that night?

The inquest in West Bend Friday concluded with Judge James Schwalbach handing down an advisory opinion that he could not determine if any crime had been committed or whether at least one of the deaths may have been self defense.

Schwalbach told the courtroom filled with the victims' families, friends, witnesses and media that there was evidence presented during the inquest which could conceivably support charges of first degree murder, second degree murder, manslaughter, or reckless use of a weapon.

Schwalbach also felt there was insufficient evidence to indicate that a 32-year-old man who, according to witnesses' testimony shot the men, fired in self defense. A Sheriff's Deputy testified that the night of the shooting, Glenn Zimdars, who lived in the lower apartment with his parents, said he had shot the two men.

Guenther had recently moved in with his brother Andrew, who had been living in the upper apartment. Luebke was said to have been a frequent visitor of the Guenther's.

Testimony of several witnesses Thursday did little to clarify the events of that night. Several witnesses testified they had been drinking before the incident occurred. Janene Fettig, who with her husband, son, and two neighbors of the Zimdars were visiting in the lower apartment, testified they had been helping the elder Zimdars celebrate their anniversary. When District Attorney David Resheske asked her if she was drunk, Fettig said yes, stating she had had about 19 or 20 beers.

Accept Bid on Old Squad

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board unanimously voted to accept the high bid of Beltline Motor Center, Wausau, to purchase the Police Department's 1984 squad for $2,157. Two other bids were received on the vehicle, Mitchell Ogi submitted a bid of $2,100, and Gerald Schneider $2,000.

In other action, the board approved a recommendation from the Public Works Committee to advertise for bids for a new diesel tractor with 60-inch mower. Administrator Dan Schmidt said $6,000 has been budgeted for the purchase.

The trustees also approved the committee's recommendation to purchase the necessary materials needed to install sump pump storm sewer lines in four separate village locations. Schmidt said there is approximately 1,600 feet of line proposed for Braatz Drive, 1,200 feet for Clinton Street, 2,400 feet for Knights Avenue and 1,000 for Hillside.

The work will begin on Braatz, followed by Clinton, Hillside, and Knights, as conditions permit. The board okayed the bid of 43c per foot, from Forest Supply, Mequon, to furnish the materials. The cost, including pipe miscellaneous materials such as T's and caps is expected to run around $3,000.

The board discussed a letter received from Renewed Resources, Inc., announcing its acceptance of municipal and

Jason Petermann Wins Creativity Award

KHS, WES Olympics of the Mind Regional Winners Will Go to State

The kids from the Kewaskum School District displayed their talents at the Olympics of the Mind Regionals in Milwaukee, Saturday, March 15. Six teams from Kewaskum competed.

They came out of the competition with two first place finishes and Jason Petermann won the Ranatra Fusca creativity award. The Ranatra Fusca Creativity Award is presented to teams or individuals who exhibit exceptional creativity. This is generally awarded for some aspect of presentation/behavior at a competition. However, on occasion it is given for outstanding ideas beyond the OM competitions. Those teams and individuals who are given this award at the World Finals have their name engraved on the Ranatra Fusca Trophy. This trophy is on exhibit at the World Finals and on occasion at other areas throughout the membership.

The Ranatra Fusca is the term for a classification of water spiders. Although this may seem like a remote association to creative thinking, this is how it came to be. In trying to solve a flotation device problem, one student at Glassboro State College designed a water-spider-like contraption.

Wayne Elementary School was coached by the famous Ron Theusch, former manager for outstanding first baseman Danny Marx. Their problem was/is "Bridging the Gap."

The problem is to design two structures which are made of 1/8 x 1/8 strips of balsa wood and glue. Balsa wood is typically used to build model airplanes. A beam structure will be placed onto two 2" x 4" blocks and a load-bearing structure will then be placed onto the beam structure. Weights will then be placed onto the load-bearing structure, one weight at a time, until the structure breaks or the eight minute time limit expires. Teams in Division I may use an adult to assist the team in placing weights of 25 pounds or more. At least one team member must be physically involved in the placing of weights and the team must

Some Confusion on Main St. Repaving

Administrator Dan Schmidt told the Village Board Monday night, that he had received several calls regarding the resurfacing work planned for Main Street (Hwy. 28) in the village.

As stated in the papers last week, the work is scheduled for "1987," not 1986, as several people mistakenly thought.

Schmidt also stated that while Main Street would be closed to general traffic, one lane would be kept open for "local traffic" use.

Easter Egg Hunt March 29

The Kewaskum American Legion, Robert G. Romaine Post 384, will hold its annual Easter Egg Hunt in River Hill Park at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 29. All children from the Kewaskum area are invited to participate in the hunt.

Kids in the age group from seven to nine years will hunt eggs in that area of the park located on the east side of the river. The age group six and under will meet in the park on the west side of the river.

In case of inclement weather the Legion Post will be at both sites and pass out eggs and candy in the parking area.

Chapter Two: OM Diary Or, Look Out Hollywood

By now the word has spread that the KHS Olympics of the Mind team freaked 'em out at regional competition in Milwaukee last week, taking a first place with their "Great Art Lives" spectacular. But the behind-the-scenes story has yet to be told, dear diary.

It all began once upon that Saturday morning weary, when the OM coach's radio alarm experienced functional failure and team member Mitch Gebheim gently blasted him out of bed to the team song, "Rock Me, Amadeus." A propitious beginning. Unaccustomed as this age group is to greeting Saturday morning sunrise, everyone appeared positively charged.

The previous night the team had faced the mini-crisis of the Bull's refusal to go in the blue bomb, otherwise known as the school van (couldn't really blame the beast). At that frustrating point, the coach deserted the team and went out for fish fry, assured in the knowledge that creative people can handle this sort of thing. Later it was tacitly understood that any explanation about a six foot cardboard-and-styrofoam bull being hauled in a farm license pick-up would require high level creativity.

Thus followed an uneventful caravan to Morse Middle School. It had taken few decision making skills for the KHS team to opt against joining the other district teams on the school bus.

Get there...unload...check out the situation...repair damaged props...get nervous...and wait for your turn seems to be standard procedure. Keep in mind, dear diary, that KHS was one of 80 teams competing at regionals - excitement runs high and so does the noise level. Our district teams were housed in the same waiting room and the familiar faces were comforting.

By now, dear diary, I am wearing the black-and-white corsage thoughtfully given by team member Lisa Fusek, the color selection a reflection of the team's art, not my age category. This on top of the roses the team had earlier in the week presented to this coach...shortly after that emotional high, I stopped chewing nails because they had not practiced.

First up for KHS was the spontaneous thinking problem at 10 a.m. Each team in a division gets the same spontaneous problem (the three divisions are based on the elementary, the middle and the high school age groups) and must not discuss it with anyone until the entire competition is completed. The five-man team - Ron Theusch, Beth Bartelt, Tara Kleinhans, Leighton Peterson and Lisa - entered the lion's den. Mitch and I sweated it out in the hall.

Ten minutes later they came pouring out of the room gagging and gasping about how awful it was. Later we found out that Leighton had been nominated for the individual creativity award, the Ranatra Fusca Award. Much later I found out what the problem was, as it was described by the team: "In Alaska and other similar regions, there are six months of darkness and six months of light. During these periods strange things happen, like 100 lb. cabbages growing during the light months. Name other things that could happen during the light or the dark months and specify whether light or dark." The individual answers by the team members are graded subjectively as either common or creative and a total score is given. Oh well, on to the long range problem in another hour.

GREAT ART LIVES AT KHS

range problem involved presenting two Picasso art works replicated by the team, plus an original in the master's style... then, "bringing the art to life" in a ten minute presentation. "Guernica" - Picasso's massive political statement on war's devastation to humankind - a powerful 15' x 4' replication by Leighton who added the finishing touches 20 minutes before the competition. Somewhere he also squeezed in time to replicate a lithograph of dancing children by Picasso and a strange looking original piece in the master's style.

The judges say "begin" and things start happening. Up goes the visually startling school sign designed by Beth and representing several of Picasso's styles and symbolisms. Master artist Picasso, vividly portrayed by Ron, describes the artist's wrenching pain over the bombing of the Basque village of Guernica in a moving script written by Tara. Meanwhile the other players are acting out the screen play non-verbally.

Note, dear diary, that "glitches" are written into a script as a standard practice, so that when the crisis occurs on stage, the players will be ready for it, right? A few minutes into the presentation...I'm beginning to breathe easier...a resounding crash somewhat like a bomb exploding, only it happens to be the Guernica art. This development was not in the original screenplay developed by Tara... I slowly sink to the floor at the back of the auditorium and watch between the cracks in the seats. Leighton, who had been videotaping the play, continues to do so without looking through the lens...in a somewhat disbelieving stare.

Despite the fact that most of the props and masks, not to mention Beth, were now underneath the toppled artwork, they handled it...I should have known. Bill the Warhorse, created by Lisa and imprinted with

To Finance Spring Tour

Swing Choir of KHS Holds Light Bulb Sale

Is there a dark room in your house? How about a dark hallway? If so, you're in luck! The Kewaskum High School swing choir is selling light bulbs in order to finance a spring tour to Chicago. They come in packs of five for $3.50 containing two 60-watt, one 75-watt, and two 100-watt bulbs. The packs selling for $2.00 include two 60-watt and one 100-watt bulbs. The three-way bulbs sell for $2.50 each.

The swing choir has been very busy, recently having obtained a starred first rating at the conference solo and ensemble contest. This achievement qualifies them for the state contest at the UW-Madison on Saturday, May 31.

The repertoire of the 1986 swing choir is full of variety ranging from "Ain't She Sweet," a popular 20's style tune, to "Rhythum of the Night," a contemporary song from DeBarge. Solos include "Kansas City," "You Better Shop Around," and others.

The Chicago tour, currently planned for the weekend of May 9-11, includes performances at Grand Avenue Mall in Milwaukee, Six Flags Great America, and a national competition in Chicago. The group of twenty-five enthusiastic entertainers are excited about their plans but need your help. Please show your support of Kewaskum's fine, young musicians; buy a light bulb.

"no-more-war" leaflets, moves center stage. The implacable Bull, a Theusch original, appears. A truly amazing bodiless corpse, with distended arms bearing sword and flower, drags across the battlefield - a Gebheim masterpiece. The buried props and masks will have to wait for the state competition...in the chaos of war the glitches look like strategic planning.

War's wasteland unfolds, the last musical strain dies and it's all over in ten minutes...the audience goes wild. Who was that woman in the back shouting "Bravo"? An instructor from Milwaukee Institute of Art comes to the stage to congratulate the team, to inquire if they had had art, dance or drama instruction, and to commend their creativity...we beam. Later the judges themselves came up to the team in the lunch line to personally congratulate them on a fine performance.

At this point, another glitch. Briefly, the West Bend High School team and coach challenged an on-stage procedure, which had earlier been approved by the judges. After much discussion, the tournament director determined it to be one of those "grey areas" and gave both teams a first-place tie score and a berth at state. Frustrating, disappointing...but they handled it. A plus to the day is that Wayne Elementary team will be going to state with us for their first place in "Bridging the Gap!"

Get here...unload...check out the situation...store the damaged props...get some sleep... just a few more weeks until Stevens Point, dear diary.

Andrew Guenther also said he had been drinking, having gone to a nearby tavern with Luebke where they drank whiskey sours and then began shaking dice for whiskey shots. Guenther said his brother Allen came in later. Andrew said he did not remember how he got back to the farmhouse, apparently in Allen's truck since Luebke's vehicle was not found at the home.

As the witnesses took the stand the details of the shooting became more confused as testimonies conflicted not only with each other but with physical evidence presented.

Several witnesses testified that Guenther fired a shot from the lower area of the outside stairs leading to the upper apartment. Zimdars allegedly rolled out the door of the downstairs apartment and shot Guenther who was aiming at him. Zimdars' first shot allegedly hit Guenther in the hip.

Witnesses say Guenther fell, apparently tried to sit up and again aimed his gun at Zimdars. A second shot fired by Zimdars struck Guenther in the chest. According to testimony, Zimdars then looked up and saw Luebke standing at the top of the outside stairs pointing a shotgun at him. Zimdars allegedly fired striking Luebke. Zimdars refused to answer any questions regarding the shooting on the advice of his attorney.

In the questioning of Janene Fettig, she stated she had left the home to call the police before the two men were shot. Other witnesses testified that Fettig said she had been present during the shooting, and in fact, had held one of the men who had been shot. Fettig had blood on her blouse, but she stated it came from being hit in the face by her husband Daryl during an earlier argument at the Zimdars home.

After Fettig was taken to the Sheriff's Department, she secretly made several telephone calls, which were recorded as a matter of routine. In a call to the home of Carol Peters, a friend of Luebke, she stated Luebke had been shot. When asked during that conversation how she knew, Janene Fettig said because she had been there saying "Andy shot Lee." Fettig later testified she did not remember making that statement.

Andrew Guenther denied shooting Luebke stating he had been in a pickup truck with two men near the chicken barns when the squad car rushed to the farmhouse.

Relating to Glenn Zimdars' account of the shooting, Schwabach said it was "sort of like the shootout at the OK Corral."

Conflicting testimony continued to plague the inquest Friday when two expert witnesses, Dr. Helen Young, the Waukesha County Medical Examiner, who performed the autopsies on the deceased, and firearms expert Reginald Templin of the Wisconsin State Crime Laboratory took the witness stand.

Young testified that, based on her examination of the body, the shot that killed Guenther was fired at "contact" (point blank) range. Guenther was shot in the right upper chest, with the slug traveling left, through a lung, the heart, and lodging in the back. Young stated the blackened appearance of the wound interior plus remnants of clothing and plastic and fiber wadding within the wound led her to conclude it was a contact shot.

Templin, however, testified that his examination of the shotgun slug hole in Guenther's clothing showed no evidence of powder burns or the type of entry made by a contact shot. His conclusion was that the man had been shot from a range of between 5½ and 10 feet. Templin said it was very unusual that a ballistics report did not collaborate an autopsy finding.

The testimony of both Young and Templin contradicted witness testimony given Thursday which indicated Zimdars was at least 30 feet away from the victims.

Young's report also contradicted witness testimony that Guenther had been shot twice, once in the hip and once in the chest. Young stated the only trauma suffered by Guenther was the single chest wound.

Young said the second victim, Lee Luebke, had a shotgun wound in the upper left chest, with the slug passing through a lung, thoracic aorta and destroying his 4th and 5th vertebrae. Had Luebke lived, he would have been paralyzed from the shoulders down, said Young.

Because of the condition of the slugs, Templin said he could not determine if the two men had been shot with the same weapon.

In tests to determine which individuals had fired a gun, the only positive test indicated Guenther had fired a gun. Tests on Zimdars, Andrew Guenther and Daryl Fettig proved inconclusive. The results of blood tests run on the two victims were not admitted as evidence.

Three weapons were found at the scene, Zimdars' shotgun, Guenther's 44 magnum revolver, and an assault-type shotgun with no stock, located next to Luebke's body.

Detective John Theusch, who with two other detectives, tried to reconstruct details of the shooting from testimony and physical evidence testified that, based on the angle of entry of the shotgun slug into Luebke's body, it would have been extremely difficult for an individual to hit anyone from ground level at 30 feet away. Theusch said Luebke would have had to been bending over at an extreme angle. In order to strike Luebke it seemed likely that the slug would have had to travel between the railings on the upper porch.

After the inquest Resheske indicated the case would remain open and the sheriff's department would continue the investigation. He noted some frustration that, instead of making things clearer, the testimony given during the two-day inquest simply brought more confusion and contradictions into the case.

industrial waste for recycling. Schmidt told the board, at the present time, it would be more advantageous for the village to remain with its present waste disposal contractor.

Renewed Resources' fee is $6.90 per cubic yard, 40c per cubic yard more than our present contractor, said Schmidt. The distance to the disposal site is almost double, approximately 14 miles, which would mean increases in both fuel and manhour costs, plus the fact that the village would have to pay to weigh its trucks since the company does not have a scale at the present time.

The Public Works Department would also have to sort the refuse since some materials cannot be accepted as they cannot be recycled. Schmidt suggested that if the village receives an increase in its dumping fees from its present contractor, the village may want to look into Renewed Resources' services then. Board President David Nigh said the village's present disposal program seems the most effective for it now, but indications are that facilities as Renewed Resources will be the way to go in the future.

Schmidt informed the board that recent amendments in legislation were making it difficult and costly for municipalities to refinance loans. He noted, however, that some changes in the past few weeks may benefit the village, allowing it to refinance its TIF loan. Present interest rates have dropped to around 5%, said Schmidt, while our present rate is 8%. The village's legal financial advisors are looking into the possibility of refinancing, noted Schmidt, and if it can be done, the village could reduce its 1986 TIF loan interest payment by approximately $30,000. The village would have to pay them in 1990 anyway, so it would now be a matter of paying them just or later. Schmidt said he would come to the board when he had any specific information.

The board also approved the remodeling permit of Robert Kohn for the property at 516 Main Street. Schmidt noted, however, that because work was begun before the permit had been approved, the applicant would have to pay a double permit fee as a penalty.

The board directed Schmidt to lift the Winter Parking restrictions effective March 17th.

The board then went into closed session.

designate which weight is to be placed. No adult assistance with weights is allowed for teams in Divisions II and III.

The SPIRIT OF THE PROBLEM is for the team to design and to construct a weight unit which will hold weights. As in all OM problems, the team may seek outside assistance to gain general knowledge of techniques that may possibly be used, but it may not obtain a specific design to address this problem nor may it receive any assistance in the execution of its design.

Members of the "Bridging the Gap" team are: Coach Ron Theusch, Josh Manchester, Jeremy Van Assche, Jennifer Van Assche, Heidi Goetsch, Julie Mertz, Jim Butzlaff and Melissa Lloyd.

The KHS team under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Ann Peterson, had an outstanding performance. The coaching and the players were just awesome. The problem was "Classics - Great Art Living."

The problem is to select two works from the following list: 1. Michelangelo Buonarroti, 2. Rembrandt van Ryan, 3. Edgar Degas, 4. Ryan Cassatt, 5. Frederick Remington, 6. Paul Cezanne, 7. Vincent van Gogh, 8. Pablo Picasso.

They then had to paint and/or sculpt replicas of these two works. One work will be used as a prop or in the set as a decoration. The second work will be the subject of the team's performance. The team is to create a scenario in which the actors will begin, or end, their performances in the position of the subject(s) of the work of art chosen as the theme. In addition, the team will prepare a third work of art which will be an original piece in the "style" of the master. The master artist will introduce the presentation.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PROBLEM is to replicate accurately two of the artist's works, to produce an original work, to represent the artist, and to make a work "come alive." In addition, the team will also design and make a playbill.

The KHS team is comprised of the following players: Coach Mrs. Mary Ann Peterson, Lisa Fusek, Ron Theusch, Beth Bartelt, Mitchell Gebheim and Tara Kleinhans.

Beechwood Elementary's problem was "History, the Way It Was" - The First Human on the Moon. The players were: Coach Ralph Horner, Douglas Buechel, Nichole Chmielewski, Dixie Schneider, Melanie Lepp, Chad Muckerheide, Todd Muckerheide and Staci Petushek.

Farmington Elementary's problem was "History...The Way It Was" - Queen Isabella Commissioning Columbus to Discover the New World. The players were: Coach Mrs. Janet Martinson, Mark Steph- an, Michelle Gundrum, Jeff Oneska, Mandy O'Brien, David Horner and Jason Gaffke.

Kewaskum Elementary's problem was "Classic...Great Art Lives" - Vincent Van Gogh. The players were: Coach Mrs. Janet Martinson, Mark Steph- an, Rebeca Kiefer, Evonne Schlice, Jennifer Vande Vrede, April Bruckert, Jason Peter- mann and Krysten Ammel.

Kewaskum Middle School's problem was "History...The Way It Was" - Ben Franklin Discovering Electricity. The players were: Coach Ron Beimb- orn, Mike Koche, Russ Bi- laga, Tina Schwartz, Jenny Beimb- orn, Peter Harju and Krysten Bruckert.

Good sportsmanship and an appreciation of other teams' ideas and efforts are goals which are encouraged. A well coached team is a winner no matter where it places in com- petition.

Guest speaker Marea [center] gets help from sisters Leah, [left], a senior, and Ellen, a sophomore, in displaying souvenirs she acquired on her visit to Africa.

Bringing to life a study of the book "Roots" by Alex Haley, a guest speaker recently talked to Ms. Barb York's advanced sophomore English class at Kewaskum High School. Ms. Marea Kuphal, former KHS grad and currently a junior at UWM-Milwaukee, spoke to the group about the province of Gambia, West Africa. Gambia is where 7th generation author Haley traced his roots. Ms. Kuphal spent five weeks in Gambia last summer and related some of her observations and experiences to the sophomore group on topics relating to geography, food, the economy, crafts, crops and the people of Gambia as well as their Moslem religious rites. Kuphal also displayed many of the souvenirs she acquired on her visit. Marea had visited Juffure, which is the setting of the first thirty-three chapters of Roots, and she said one of the most interesting tourist stops in the area was the slave prison on Goree Island where Haley's now-famous ancestor Kunta Kinte would have been held before his trip to the U.S. Marea's audience had two of her sisters in it. Ellen is presently a member of the sophomore group, and Leah, a KHS senior, read Roots two years ago when she was in Mrs. York's advanced sophomore class. Marea's entire presentation made the African culture of Roots very alive and near rather than 15,000 miles removed.

Ways to Improve Recycling On Town Farmington Agenda

Although it is estimated that about 90% of those using the Town of Farmington landfill do some sort of recycling, ways to improve participation will be on the agenda for the recycling committee's Mar. 24 meeting. The meeting is open to the public and will be held at 8 p.m. at the Town Hall.

According to custodian Cecil Schneider people will often have newspapers in bundles and rather than placing them in the paper van for recycling will throw them in the landfill.

A new method for identifying town residents will also be discussed at the meeting. Flyers for town residents on recycling methods, landfill hours and regulations will also be reviewed.

Farmington's recycling effort began in July 1983. Since the first of this year approximately 96 barrels of glass weighing 200 pounds per barrel, 23 hundred pounds of tin, 25 to 30 pounds of plastic bottles per week and a ton of paper per month have been recycled.

Recycling chairman Joan Rosenberger says that while the town is not making great sums of money on its recycling effort since only the paper and cardboard are sold, it saves money in the cost of covering the landfill while extending the life of the landfill. Finding buyers for batteries and tires is a problem, she continued. There is no market for batteries at present and although tires are being used successfully for fuel in Northern Wisconsin, the cost of transportation and shredding is too high to send tires there.

Farmington residents are urged to recycle bundled newspapers and cardboard which can be brought to the landfill or to Lynn's Waste Paper in West Bend. Bundled magazines and catalogs will be accepted by Lynn's but they have no monetary value. Other items to be recycled are: tin cans, rinsed and flattened; glass, rinsed and sorted by color; plastic milk bottles, rinsed and tied on a string, and aluminum. Other plastic containers should be rinsed and put in a plastic bag.

Non-recyclables should be put in garbage bags. Landfill rules state that "dead animals, automobile bodies, automobiles, trucks and toxic or flammable materials may not be accepted, nor will garbage which did not come from the town."

The landfill located on Paradise Drive, west of Boltonville, is open every Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during daylight saving hours and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. during standard time. In case of inclement weather landfill closing will be announced on WBKV, West Bend. Only residents of the town are permitted to use the landfill.

With spring approaching residents are urged to compost grass clippings and garden waste and if possible dispose of branches and wood clippings at home. By law the town is not allowed to burn at the landfill, but with a permit residents may burn branches at home.

Any usable appliance, piece of furniture, toy, etc. may be donated to either Goodwill or St. Vincent de Paul and are tax deductible.

Any questions concerning the landfill or recycling may be directed to a committee member. They are: Ralph Eisenmann 338-8101; Calvin Steinert, 692-9434; Maurice Hovland, 334-9341; Doug Gutenkunst, 675-2247; Joan Rosenberger, 692-2491; Francis Mayer, 692-9280, and Cecil Schneider 692-9360.

KHS Students Attend Law Career Day

Carroll College's Twelfth Annual Law Career Day was held on March 5. Ms. Sharon Blank, KHS guidance counselor, and six students, Beth Bartelt, Mark Brodzeller, Laurie Cline, Colleen Horner, Ken Ruppert and Scott Schmitt from Kewaskum High School attended.

The day started with a panel discussion on the careers in the law. The panel members who spoke were Ms. Kim Glasheen Wynn, an attorney from the Schneidman, Myers, Dowling, et al law firm; Curtis Cichowski, an attorney who became the director of admissions at Valparaiso University School of Law in Valparaiso, Indiana; Stanley Riffe, an attorney from the Arenz, Molter, Macy, and Riffe Law Firm, and Ness Flores, an attorney who became the chair of the Wisconsin Public Service Department.

Carroll College offered a free luncheon. During the luncheon,

Gary George, a state senator, spoke.

A mock law school class was held after lunch. Dan Blinka, professor of Marquette Law School, and Cichowski ran the class. The class was run as one in law school would be run.

The day concluded with panel discussion on pre-legal education and law school admissions. Speaking at the panel, were Blinka, Ms. Ann Althouse, a professor at the UW-Madison Law School, Thomas Lounson, a law student at the UW-Madison Law School and Ms. Marge Wendt, a law student at Marquette Law School.

Kewaskum CARES

By Joan Rosenberger

A look at the history of the schools in the Kewaskum School system and Farmington in particular illustrates the fact that change is constant. The late Elmer Plaum, Farmington School Clerk for many years beginning in 1931, wrote a brief history of the schools. He pointed out that when 35 ballots were cast in 1847 in incorporate the town, one of the first orders of business was voting $15 for education. A log school was built somewhere in the Orchard Grove area, the intersection of H and HH.

The town's 36 sections were divided into seven school districts. By 1880 when the county superintendent of schools gave his report to the county board these districts had been altered greatly. Some were called joint districts because they had joined with districts in neighboring towns. Farmington was the only area in the county, other than Hartford and West Bend, that had State Graded Schools. These were in Boltonville and Fillmore and were certified to teach children through the tenth grade.

Education Important
Norbert Dettmann, life-long town resident, explains that the reason education was so important in Farmington was the intellectual makeup of the population. The Fillmore area was settled by immigrants from Saxony who placed a high value on education. The Boltonville area was settled by Yankee Easterners who also wanted their children educated. The population of Farmington in 1860 was twice that of the population in 1910. It wasn't until about 1960 that the census showed the population had regained its 1860 size.

Catholic school sisters taught in several of the town schools until the turn of the century when the Bennett School Law went into effect forbidding the employment of teachers from religious orders in public schools. Vocational training is not new in the schools. In 1913 the Boltonville school burned and was rebuilt and about that time the state gave a $300 bonus to schools that offered a hot lunch and taught "domestic science and manual training" to the 7th and 8th grade boys and girls. In 1914 the boys at Boltonville began carpenter work on Friday afternoon and the girls had sewing, mending and cooking. Library tables, lawn swings, hay racks and quilts were produced and were raffled or auctioned off. The proceeds were used to buy school equipment. The hot lunches and vocational training continued into the 1930s when it was discontinued by the county superintendent.

Consolidation Continues
School district consolidations continued into the 1950s. The school near Club 144 joined Orchard Grove. The schools on the southern edge of Farmington joined Newburg and the area on the eastern edge, which had been sending children to Waubeka, joined Fillmore. This was the result of action taken by the county school committee in setting up high school districts. They decreed that the county line was the boundary.

The Farmington District was set up in 1962 and the present building was built in 1966. That same year the vote was taken to become a K-12 district with Kewaskum. According to Dettmann, when the present school was built in 1966 roughly 50% of the grade school children in Farmington attended parochial schools. With the closing of many of the parochial schools and increased population an addition was added to the Farmington school in 1975. This addition was to be divided into 7 learning areas in one big room.

School Notes
As spring approaches the activities in the school continue to increase. All six schools sent teams to compete in the Olymics of the Mind Saturday. The annual spelling bee was held last week. March is Wisconsin Arts in Education Month. The grade and middle school art departments are working to get ready for an April 11 art show. Finishing touches are being put on murals at the elementary schools. Senior art students have a display of self portraits in the high school lobby. The music departments have been working on contest material and the high school bands are preparing for a dinner concert at the high school April 16. A catered dinner will be served and the bands will play for the dinners' enjoyment.

At Wayne School Tim Leader's 5th grade class worked on an innovative project to duplicate the tasks performed by the shuttle astronauts. A tent formed the shuttle cabin. A short wave radio was used for the communications system and technical manuals explained the tasks to be completed on the mission.

Also at Wayne, Mary Diez's third grade class published its first edition of the Third Grade Sentinel. The newspaper was written by students on their Apple computers and included sections on people in the news, letters to the editor, comics and advertising.

Kewaskum FFA to Hold Annual Rabies Clinic

DOUBLE DOSE — Doctor Charles Ogi [Right] administers rabies shots to a pair of anxious patients. Pet owners are encouraged to have their pets immunized at the April 10th clinic, 7-9 p.m. in the high school agriculture shop.

It is the time of the year once again when dog and cat owners should begin to think about having their pets vaccinated against rabies.

Rabies is an acute disease caused by a virus. The most common form of contamination is by means of a bite from animal to animal containing the virus bearing saliva. The virus may be transmitted by contamination of fresh existing wounds.

The incubation period is variable but signs of the disease may become visible within 15 to 20 days. There are three phases the disease divides into. The first sign is general loss of appetite and change in behavior. The second phase is known as the paralytic form - where paralyzation and salivary excretion begin. The third phase is the furious form, when the animal becomes very irrational and viciously aggressive. Dogs rarely live more than ten days after the onset of these signs. Death usually results through progressive paralysis of the central nervous system.

Wisconsin is one of the leading states in rabies and rabies related cases, a statistic the state could do without. The Kewaskum Future Farmers of America is concerned about the problem. The Chapter will conduct a rabies clinic Thursday, April 10th, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Kewaskum High School Agriculture Shop. Doctor Charles Ogi and Doctor Greg Ogi will administer shots at a reduced cost of $5.00 per pet. All proceeds from the clinic go to the Scholarship Fund.

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ELECTION APRIL 1, 1986

STATE OF WISCONSIN WASHINGTON COUNTY

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that an election to be held in all wards, towns, villages and cities election districts of Washington County, Wisconsin, on the first Tuesday of April, 1986, being the First day of the month, in order to obtain an expression of public opinion regarding the issue of county-wide library service...

The referendum question is: "Do you favor creation of a county-wide public library system?"

EFFECT OF A "YES" OR "NO" VOTE: This referendum is advisory in nature. The County Board of Supervisors will consider the results of this referendum to be an expression of public opinion regarding the issue of county-wide library service...

Although the results of this referendum are entirely advisory, a "yes" vote may encourage creation of a county-wide public library system. A "no" vote will be viewed as opposing a county-wide library system.

The effect of creation of a county-wide public library system would vary from elector to elector depending mainly on the elector's residence and property ownership. Property located in a municipality in Washington County which currently provides direct library services will not be subject to the tax levy which would be imposed by the creation of a county-wide public library system.

An elector residing in a municipality which currently provides direct library service would benefit from a probable increase in library services and from the local library's greater eligibility for state and federal grants. Borrowing from within the state system would be permitted. The elector would also benefit from the ability to go to any participating library in the county.

An elector who is a current resident of a municipality not directly providing library services would be affected in a number of ways from the creation of a county-wide public library system. Municipal residents would have access to any library within the system. If the resident owns property in the municipality, the property would be subject to a county tax levy for library services...

I, Arthur G. Degnitz, Washington County Clerk, certify that the county-wide library referendum has been compared by me with the published copy of said referendum and is a true copy of said resolution.

GIVEN under my hand, in the County of Washington this 28th day of February, 1986.

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ELECTION APRIL 1, 1986

STATE OF WISCONSIN WASHINGTON COUNTY

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that an election to be held in all wards, towns, villages and cities election districts of Washington County, on the first Tuesday of April, 1986, being the First day of the month, the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, having been approved by two successive legislatures, will be submitted to a vote of the people pursuant to law.

ENROLLED JOINT RESOLUTION 14 To amend so as in effect to repeal sections 1 to 6 of article III and section 5 of article XIII; to amend section 1, 2 and 3 of article III of the constitution, relating to removing obsolete provisions of the state constitution regarding elections and suffrage so as to revise the article on suffrage without impeding any voting rights granted under the constitution or laws of this state (2nd consideration).

Whereas, the 1983 legislature proposed an amendment to the constitution by 1983 Assembly Joint Resolution 33 (1983 Enrolled Joint Resolution 30) and agreed to it by a majority of the members elected to each of the 2 houses, which amendment read as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 to 6 of article III of the constitution be amended so as in effect to repeal said sections: [Article III] Section 1. Every person, of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, belonging to either of the following classes, who shall have resided in the state for one year next preceding any election, and in the election district where he offers to vote such time as may be prescribed by the legislature, not exceeding thirty days, shall be deemed a qualified elector at such election.

(4) Citizens of the United States. (2) Persons of Indian blood, who have once been declared by law of congress to be citizens of the United States; any subsequent law of congress to the contrary notwithstanding.

(b) The legislature may at any time extend, by law, the right of suffrage to persons not herein enumerated; but no such law shall be in force until the same shall have been submitted to a vote of the people at a general election, and approved by a majority of all the votes cast on that question at such election; and provided further, that the legislature may provide for the registration of electors, and prescribe proper rules and regulations therefor.

Section 2. No person under guardianship, non-compos mentis or insane shall be qualified to vote at any election, nor shall any person convicted of treason or felony be qualified to vote at any election unless restored to civil rights.

Section 3. All votes shall be given by ballot except for such township officers as may by law be directed or allowed to be otherwise chosen.

Section 4. No person shall be deemed to have lost his residence in this state by reason of his absence on business of the United States or of this state.

Section 5. No soldier, seaman or marine in the army or navy of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this state in consequence of being stationed within the same.

Section 6. Laws may be passed excluding from the right of suffrage all persons who have been or may be convicted of bribery or larceny, or of any infamous crime, and depriving every person who shall make or become directly or indirectly interested in any act or contract depending upon the result of any election from the right to vote at such election.

SECTION 2. Section 1, 2 and 3 of article III of the constitution are created to read: [Article III] Section 1. Every United States citizen age 18 or older who is a resident of an election district in this state is a qualified elector of that district.

Section 2. Laws may be enacted: (1) Defining residency. (2) Providing for registration of electors. (3) Providing for absentee voting. (4) Excluding from the right of suffrage persons: (a) Convicted of a felony, unless restored to civil rights. (b) Adjudged by a court to be incompetent or partially incompetent, unless the judgment specifies that the person is capable of understanding the objective of the elective process or the judgment is set aside. (5) Subject to ratification by the people at a general election, extending the right of suffrage to additional classes.

SECTION 3. Section 1 of article XIII of the constitution is amended to read: [Article XIII] Section 1. The political year for the this state of Wisconsin shall commence on the first Monday in January in each year, and the general election shall be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November in even-numbered years. The first general election for all state and county officers, except judicial officers, after the adoption of this amendment shall be held in the year A. D. 1884, and thereafter the general election shall be held biennially. All state, county or other officers elected at the general election in the year 1881, and whose term of office would otherwise expire on the first Monday of January in the year 1884, shall hold and continue in such office respectively until the first Monday in January in the year 1885.

SECTION 4. Section 5 of article XIII of the constitution is amended so as in effect to repeal said section. [Article XIII] Section 5. All persons residing upon Indian lands within any county of the state, and qualified to exercise the right of suffrage under this constitution, shall be entitled to vote at the polls which may be held nearest their residence, for state, United States or county officers. Provided, that no person shall vote for county officers out of the county in which he resides.

Be it further resolved, That this proposed amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election and that it be published for 3 months previous to the time of holding such election.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the foregoing amendment to the constitution is agreed to be the 1985 legislature; and, be it further

Resolved, That the foregoing amendment be submitted to a vote of the people at the election to be held on the first Tuesday of April, 1986; and, be it further

Resolved, That the questions concerning ratification of the foregoing amendment be stated on the ballot as follows: QUESTION 1: "Suffrage defined by general law. Shall article III of the constitution be repealed and recreated so as:

- (1) To remove the existing detailed provisions as to who may or may not vote (many of which are obsolete); and
(2) To substitute, instead, a new article that:
(a) Preserves the right of a secret ballot;
(b) Specifies that every U.S. citizen aged 18 or over who is a resident of an election district in this state is a qualified voter; and
(c) Provides that the legislature may enact laws on 1) residency, 2) voter registration, 3) absentee voting, 4) concerning the exclusion from the right to vote of convicted felons and persons adjudged by a court to be incompetent, and 5) extending, subject to ratification by the people at a general election, the right of suffrage to additional classes?"

EXPLANATION Effect of ratification: A "yes" vote on this amendment would result in the present provisions of article III of the constitution being repealed and replaced by provisions which conform to the twenty-sixth amendment to the United States Constitution, preserve the secret ballot, continue a grant of authority to the Legislature to enact laws on suffrage, registration, the exclusion of the right to vote of convicted felons and persons adjudged to be incompetent and grant the Legislature authority to enact laws on residency. Obsolete provisions also would be removed. A "no" vote would retain the present language of the article.

QUESTION 2: "Modernizing constitution text. Shall section 1 of article XIII of the constitution be amended to remove transitional and obsolete provisions and text, so as to modernize the language of the remaining text. A "no" vote would retain the present language of the section.

EXPLANATION Effect of ratification: A "yes" vote on this amendment would remove transitional language providing for the first general election and other obsolete, transitional provisions. It also would modernize the language of the remaining text. A "no" vote would retain the present language of the section.

QUESTION 3: "Deletion of obsolete provision. Shall section 5 of article XIII of the constitution be repealed so as to remove an obsolete provision regarding where persons may vote if they reside on 'Indian lands'?"

EXPLANATION Effect of ratification: A "yes" vote on this amendment would repeal the obsolete provisions of section 5 of article XIII regarding where persons vote if they reside on "Indian lands." A "no" vote would retain present section 5 of article XIII.

ENROLLED JOINT RESOLUTION 21 To amend section 1 of article I of the constitution, relating to securing the inherent rights of the people (2nd consideration).

Whereas, the 1983 legislature proposed an amendment to the constitution by 1983 Assembly Joint Resolution 9 (1983 Enrolled Joint Resolution 40) and agreed to it by a majority of the members elected to each of the 2 houses, which amendment reads as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of article I of the constitution is amended to read: [Article I] Section 1. All people are born equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; to serve secure these rights, governments are instituted, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the foregoing amendment to the constitution is agreed to by the 1985 legislature; and be it further

Resolved, That the foregoing amendment be submitted to a vote of the people at the election to be held on the first Tuesday of April, 1986; and, be it further

Resolved, That the question concerning ratification of the foregoing amendment be stated on the ballot as follows: QUESTION 4: "To secure these rights. Shall section 1 of article I of the state constitution be amended so as to reinsert into the Wisconsin text the word 'secure' so that the phrase 'to secure these rights' (the word 'serve' was substituted in November 1982) again agrees with the 1776 Declaration of Independence of the United States?"

EXPLANATION Effect of ratification: At the time of the November, 1982, amendment of this section of the Constitution, "serve" mistakenly was inserted for "secure." A "yes" vote on this amendment would restore the original language and make the Wisconsin Constitution again agree with the language of the Declaration of Independence of the United States. A "no" vote would retain the present language of the section.

I, Arthur G. Degnitz, Washington County Clerk, certify that the proposed referendum known as 1985 Assembly Joint Resolution 9, 1985 Enrolled Joint Resolution 14, and 1985 Assembly Joint Resolution 9, 1985 Enrolled Joint Resolution 21, have been compared by me with the published copy of said resolutions and is a true copy of said resolutions.

Farmington Joins the Great Balloon Race

"Countdown to the Great Balloon Race began at 9:30 a.m. March 20, 1986," says Tom Larsen, principal of Farmington Elementary School in the Kewaskum School District. Students at Farmington launched 229 helium-filled balloons as part of the nationwide Writing Pals Balloon Contest sponsored by Weekly Reader, the classroom newspaper.

"A message attached to each balloon explains the project and asks that the finder return it to Farmington," says Principal Larsen. "Weekly Reader will present a $500 prize to the school that gets back the message that has traveled the farthest distance. In addition, 100 runner-up prizes will be awarded," adds Larsen.

Since the annual balloon launch began, Weekly Reader has furnished more than 3 million free balloons to schools participating in the Weekly Reader Writing Pals program, a pen pal program in which Weekly Reader pairs classes across the country. According to Principal Larsen, the balloon launch will be the climax of Farmington's yearlong participation in Weekly Reader Writing Pals. The goal of the program is to motivate children to write to, and to become familiar with students in other parts of the country. This year the program is also celebrating the centennial of the Statue of Liberty and "the right to write" — freedom of expression.

'Dance for Heart' a Success

Volunteers from Kewaskum participated in a Dance for Heart. On Saturday, February 22, a two-hour dance extravaganza was held at St. Michael's Hall, St. Michaels. Funds were raised for the American Heart Association to help in the fight against heart disease and stroke.

Dance for Heart demonstrated aerobic exercise as a benefit to cardiovascular fitness. Dance Slimnastics routines were used for this event. Participants got into the swing of things, finding out that the routines were simple and fun.

Emphasis was on fun and fitness, not perfection. Participation was not limited by age, sex or shape — anyone could try it. Throughout the event the opportunity to help in the fight against heart and blood vessel disease was given as well as showing participants that dance-exercise is fun, easy and heart healthy.

Since 1980 more than 200,000 men, women and children have danced and exercised in Dance for Heart events all over the country. The efforts have raised millions of dollars to help fight against heart disease. Good work and a thank you to all sponsors and a special thanks to all dancers.

The participants were Joanne Herriges, Bonnie Ruplinger, Charlene Herriges, Marianne

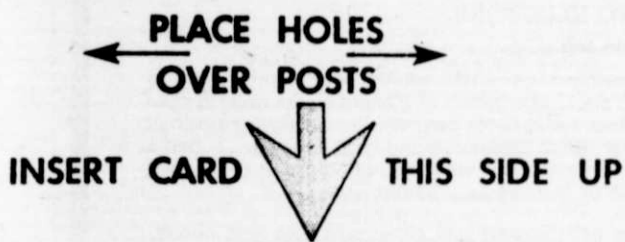

Stahler, Renee Braun, Joanne Lawrenz, Jackie Landvatter, Paul Lehnerz, Larry Rauch, Shawn McElhatton, Lori Lehnerz, Nancy Stoffel, Karen Kletti, Debbie Reindl, Marilyn Darmody, Linda Schneider, Geraldine Marquardt, Debbie Reindl, Jacquie Wiedmeyer and Cindy Poling.

Special awards were given to students for the largest amount of donations and great performance and participation in fitness classes. The award winners were Jackie Landvatter, Bonnie Ruplinger and Joanne Lawrenz. Congratulations to everyone who participated and a big thank you to everyone who donated money to this worthy cause trying to fight heart disease, the number one killer in the nation and Wisconsin.

Economic Workshop for Area Teachers at Lakeland College

Marilyn Edwards [Long Lake] of the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce looks on as Ray Skrentny [Kewaskum] from Lakeland College explains a chart used in an economic workshop that will be co-sponsored by the chamber for area teachers.

Sheboygan, Wis. — Lakeland College will acquaint area teachers, kindergarten through 12th grade, with economic principles at a workshop this summer through the cooperation of the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce's economic education committee.

Three faculty members from the college will lead a two-week workshop, "Teaching Economics in the Classroom," for teachers with little or no academic background in economics. The teachers will earn three graduate credits while learning basic economic concepts and teaching techniques.

"An awareness of economics is important to students because they will all be active as consumers, workers and voters some day," said Ray Skrentny, director of Lakeland's Center for Business and Economic and one of the workshop instructors.

"The workshop will show participating teachers interesting and entertaining methods to use in their classrooms to instruct their students in economics. Unemployment, taxes, the money supply, and the world market place all have an impact on our lives. It is important that we — students of all ages included — understand these concepts so we can make intelligent economic decisions," Skrentny said.

Tuition, and the cost of textbooks, educational materials and meals, are included in the $100 workshop fee, according to Marilyn Edwards, administrative assistant of the West Bend chamber. The cost has been kept low through a scholarship program co-sponsored by the chamber and the college," Edwards said.

The course is open to any public or private school teacher who lives or works in the West Bend, Kewaskum, Jackson, Allenton, Newburg, or Slinger area. Any teacher who would like more information should contact the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce at 338-2666.

Send Help Signs Available Again

The popular "Send Help" signs offered by the Washington County Sheriff's Department are again available. The first 1,000 signs were distributed within two weeks. A new supply has been printed and is now available.

The signs are 8½x11 inches and are fluorescent orange. The words "Send Help" are printed on the front of the signs, and tips on what to do if your vehicle is disabled are on the back. The signs are to be carried in your car, truck, or van. If assistance is needed, the sign is held so it can be seen through the windshield and seen by passerby, who are alerted to notify the nearest law enforcement agency.

"The signs have been very popular," according to Sheriff Clarence Schwartz. "2,000 were distributed last summer at the County Fair, and still the requests for them keep coming in. We exhausted our last 1,000 very quickly."

The signs are available at the Sheriff's Department in West Bend, and at the Richfield Town Hall during normal business hours. The supply is limited.

Facsimile Ballot Notice of Village Election Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin

April 1, 1986

Notice is hereby given of a village election to be held in and for the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, on the 1st day of April, 1986, at which the officers named below shall be chosen.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of electors:

(a) Upon entering the polling place, an elector shall give his or her name and address before receiving the ballot card and ballot card envelope from the ballot clerk. The initials of 2 ballot clerks must appear on the ballot card envelope. Upon receiving the ballot card and ballot card envelope, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth and punch/mark his or her ballot card and ballot card envelope. A ballot clerk may inform the elector of the proper manner for punching/marking a ballot card and ballot card envelope, but he or she shall not in any manner advise or indicate for whom to vote.

(b) To vote for a person whose name is printed on the ballot, insert your ballot card with both hands, be sure the pins are through the two holes, hold the punching device straight up and down, press down firmly opposite the candidate and/or proposition selections of your choice.

(c) Write-in voting. To vote for a candidate whose name does not appear on the printed ballot, use the ballot card envelope to "write-in" the office and candidate's name.

(d) The ballot card and ballot card envelope should not be punched/marked in any other manner. If you incorrectly punch/mark, tear, or deface the ballot card or ballot card envelope, return it to the election judge for another one, but not more than 3 ballot cards or ballot card envelopes shall be issued to any one elector. Not more than 5 minutes' time shall be allowed to punch/mark the ballot card or ballot card envelope. Unofficial ballots or a memorandum to assist the elector in punching or marking his or her ballot card or ballot card envelope may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot card or ballot card envelope is punched/marked.

(e) After the official ballot card or ballot card envelope is punched or marked, remove your ballot card, place it in the ballot card envelope and take it to the inspector at the ballot box, hand him or her the ballot card envelope with the ballot card placed inside, to be placed in the ballot box, and leave the polling place promptly.

(f) An elector may be assisted by 2 election officials of different political parties in punching or marking the ballot if he or she declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read or that due to physical disability he or she is unable to punch or mark his or her ballot. If an elector declares that he or she is visually handicapped, he or she may have anyone assist him or her in punching or marking his or her ballot card or ballot card envelope. The presiding official may administer an oath to a person's disability.

(g) Any qualified elector who is absent, or expects to be absent from the village in which he or she is a qualified elector, or who, because of sickness or physical disability cannot appear at the polling place on election day, may vote at such election by means of an absentee voter's ballot card or ballot card envelope to be secured upon application to the Village Clerk, not more than sixty days and no less than three days, or by personal application, not later than the close of office hours on the day prior to such election.

(h) The following is a sample of the official ballot:

NOTICE TO ELECTORS: This ballot is invalid unless initialed by 2 election officials serving as ballot clerk. If cast as an absentee ballot, the ballot envelope must bear the initials of the municipal clerk.

Kewaskum Chapter Celebrates FFA Week

Teachers enjoy a brunch as they take part in the 8th Annual Teachers Tea. Teachers try some of their knowledge in a seed guess, and also trying to identify baby pictures with this year's officers.

February 15-22 was National FFA Week. Every year FFA members celebrate the week with many activities. Monday, Feb. 15, everyone tried their guess at the seed and coin guess. David Eisentraut won the coin guess. Randy Kreif and Richard Wilkens tied the seed guess. Tuesday was T-shirt and Button Day. Ag 2 won for the class competition. Wednesday each class received one donut and a carton of milk. Thursday was a big day.

All week the officers worked hard to get a meal planned for the Teachers Tea. The teachers had lots of sausage, cheese, crackers, and fruit to choose from. As the teachers entered the room, each one was given in memory of the 8th annual Teachers Tea, a cow cup and a calendar.

To really see how much teachers knew about farming and the chapter officers, we had them guess eight kinds of seeds. Howard Zemlicka (Industrial Arts) and Bill Lickel (Science) were the winners. For an even bigger challenge, the teachers tried to guess the officers from baby pictures. Clark Pearson (Math) and Carol Martin (Home Economics) were the winners, guessing 5 out of 7.

On Friday, three of the officers: Joel Junk (President), Todd Steger (Secretary), and Renee Kapp (Reporter) went to WBKV to talk on the neighbor to neighbor show about FFA.

The most important activity all week takes place on Friday, the Ag Olympics. The events include bale throwing, egg toss, dressing your partner, and pie eating contest.

Bill Volm and Jeff Mueller tied for first in the bale throwing contest, each throwing the bale 14 feet. The Ag 3 team took first overall with a 56 feet team total. For the ag toss both teams from Ag 4 placed first and second. The team was Doug Enright, Bill Volm, Joe Schmitt and Joel Junk. Ag 4 team also won the dress your partner in 59 seconds. Each member was blindfolded and one person had to dress the other one. The last event, Ag 3 team member Jeff Diels inhaled his pie in seconds, taking first place in the pie eating contest. Overall the Ag 4 team was the winner. The team members were: Doug Enright, Joel Junk, Joe Schmitt and Bill Volm. Ag 3 was the second place team consisting of: Jeff Mueller, Steve Redig, Pat Ruplinger and Jeff Diels. Third place team was Ag 1: Dennis

Jeff Diels attempts the bale throw as one of his strong points, but fails to cash in on a first place as he is beaten by Bill Volm and Jeff Mueller.

Aupperle, Brad Enright, Dave Steger, and Dave Schmitt. Ag 2 placed fourth: Ron Panzer, Scott Pesch, Bill Butzlaff and Mike Limberg.

The team of Patsy Panzer, Scott Volm, Mike Fierke and Mike Yahr placed fifth. Lots of ice cream was served after the Olympics were over.

County Farmers Urged To Join Rally for Agriculture Mar. 24

"Providing property tax relief is the best thing the state could do to aid the troubled farm economy," according to Elaine Linstedt, president of the Washington County Farm Bureau. She called on farmers in the county to join the organization at a Farmers' Rally for Agriculture on Monday, March 24, in Madison.

"The STOP campaign isn't over yet. We have to stay on the issue if we're going to accomplish our goal," Linstedt said.

The STOP (School Taxes Off Property) campaign was begun by Farm Bureau in the fall of 1984 and was instrumental in increasing school aids and credits to local districts. The farm organization is seeking to remove funding for education from the property tax saying that property owners are bearing an unfair share of the financial burden for education.

The Washington County farm leaders said that farmers will continue contacting their legislators even though the Legislature is scheduled to wind up its session late this month.

"We can't afford to let them forget the issue," she said.

The March 24 rally will

concentrate on the financial situation in agriculture with much of the program devoted to the property tax issue. A two-tiered debt restructuring plan will also be discussed as an avenue to aid stressed farmers.

The rally begins at 10:30 a.m. at the Heritage House Restaurant on Hwy. 151 on Madison's east side. The Public is invited.

Elaine urged anyone interested in attending to contact the County Farm Bureau at 338-0686 or 342-5945 for information on ridesharing.

Roecker Bowls 725, Tippel Hits 300 Game

Opening with a strike-studded 278 game, Harry Roecker, of Kewaskum, chalked up a high series of 725 in Weiland's All-Stars this past week, tacking on 210 and 237 games.

A perfect 300 game was achieved by Al Tippel, of Auburn Lake, at King Pin Lanes March 6, in the Thursday night Businessmen's League. It was part of a 766 series. The games were 256, 300 and 210.

After his 300 game, Tippel ran the next five balls for strikes. But then he had two splits or he most likely would have had an 800 series. The 300 was the first perfect game of the season at King Pin. Al was averaging 199.

Lakes Team Tips Oconomowoc in Season's Finale

Kewaskum brought the 1985-86 basketball season in the Land o' Lakes League to a close at home Sunday night with a close 129-125 victory over Oconomowoc.

It was a close game all the way, with the teams never being separated by more than 10 points. Kewaskum spurred to a six-point lead with just over a minute to play and then hung on for the win.

Kewaskum thus ends its season with a victory, finishing in sixth place with a 3-9 record. They also denied Oconomowoc of sole possession of third place as the three teams tied for third place all lost.

Clark Eichstedt narrowly beat out Leon Laatsch for scoring honors. He tallied 39 to Laatsch's 38. Jay Koenitzer was tops for the visitors with 33, while Keith Chapman scored 24 and Tom Checkai 23.

St. Lucas Closes 1986 Season

The basketball season for the St. Lucas boys and girls teams came to a close last Friday evening. The season finale was the annual Father-Son/Mother Daughter affair held at the Kewaskum Middle School. After a couple of brutal battles, no one was really a loser after an evening of fun for both parents and children alike.

At halftime and between games, the players and spectators were treated to some very healthy snacks from the American Milk Producers. Thank you very much!

The lady 76'ers had a very successful season experiencing only 5 setbacks all season. One highlight of their super year was capturing the third place trophy at the Kettle Moraine Lutheran Grade School Tournament. With only two of this year's players graduating, Jana Bechler and Jessica Schmidt, the future looks very bright for the 76'ers. Way to go girls!

The boys' squads had an up and down 1985-'86 season. Spurts of excellence combined with those of frustration made for an interesting season. The boys played hard and never gave up! A 20-0 run against Iron Ridge with 2:34 left in the game really showed the 76'ers true colors. The boys went on to win the game 57-51 led by David Garvey's 26 and Doug Stern's 17 respective point productions.

This year the 76'ers say good-bye to a couple of hard-working eighth graders who have really come a long way - David Garvey and Aaron Miller. Thank you for your years of hustle!

The future looms bright for the boys also! With 18 on this year's boys' B-squad it should help the 76'ers in the "win" column in the years to come.

Kewaskum Regains Rank As Class B School

According to a report in the most recent issue of the WIAA (Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Association) newsletter, Kewaskum High School, which has been ranked as a Class A school, has been dropped back down to Class B due to a decrease in enrollment. The change will become effective with the 1986-87 school year.

There are 425 schools that are members of the WIAA. Class A schools consist of the largest 128 schools in Wisconsin. Class B schools take the next 40 percent which is 118 schools. Class C schools include all of the other smaller schools. The enrollment cutoff between A and B is 711 students while the cutoff between B and C is 333.

While this change will make no difference at all so far as conference play is concerned, it will make a substantial difference in the size of the schools that Kewaskum will be competing against in all post-season play such as regional and sectional competition. The move affects tournament play for basketball, track, wrestling, gymnastics, tennis and cross country teams. There is just one class tournament for baseball and golf.

Of the seven schools that make up the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, only Two Rivers and Plymouth are now ranked as Class A Schools. New Holstein also lost enough enrollment to be switched into B. The remaining four, Sheboygan Falls, Chilton, Kiel and Kewaskum, are all in Class B as determined by enrollment.

Two other area schools, Lomira and Ozaukee, will be affected by the annual announcement of class changes. The two are moving down to Class C.

Yearling Picked on All-Conference 2nd Team

Coaches from the Eastern Wisconsin Conference met last week for the balloting on this year's all-conference girls' basketball team.

Kewaskum senior Jodi Yearling was the only member of the Kewaskum squad to be named to either the first or second all-conference teams. Yearling's play during the 1985-86 season earned her a spot on the second team in the balloting.

Yearling was a member of the varsity team for three years. A 5-9 forward, she missed a couple of early conference games with an ankle injury. She was eighth in scoring with 124 points, a 12.4 average, was 15th in rebounding with 56, and the team's best scorer.

The only unanimous pick was co-champion Two Rivers' Jackie Thome, 5-11 senior who led the conference in scoring with 201 points. Other selections were Chilton's Robin Van Grinsven, Two Rivers' Linda Kornely, co-champion Plymouth's Julie Matzdorf and New Holstein's Chris Wordell.

In the balloting a coach may nominate as many players from his team or any other team that he wishes, however, a coach may not vote for any players from his own team.

First Team

Jackie Thome, Two Rivers, Sr., 5-11, C.
Robin VanGrinsven, Chilton, Sr., 5-10, C.
Julie Matzdorf, Plymouth, Jr., 5-5, G.
Linda Kornely, Two Rivers, Jr., 5-6, G.
Chris Wordell, New Holstein, Jr., 5-6, G.

Second Team

Kari Mattek, Sheboygan Falls, So., 5-8, F.
Jenny Patenaude, Plymouth, Sr., 5-11, C.
Josette Hizon, Sheboygan Falls, Jr., 5-5, G.
Jodi Yearling, Kewaskum, Sr., 5-9, F.

3 Receive Honorable Mention

No Indians Named to All-Conference Teams

When coaches met for their all-conference basketball selections, the fifth place Kewaskum Indians had no players selected on the Eastern Wisconsin Conference first or second teams. However, three of them, seniors Todd Steger and Bob Yahr and junior Mike Coulter, did receive honorable mention.

Chilton's Todd Eisner, the conference's top scorer and leader in assists, who was also second in rebounding, was named Player of the Year for the second time. Co-champion Two Rivers' Jeff Hebert and Mark Meneau both were unanimous picks. The other two first all-conference selections were co-champion Plymouth's Chris Delger and New Holstein's John Rulseh.

Four different teams were represented on the second team and Kewaskum may have lost out because opposing coaches split their votes between Steger and Yahr, the Indians' top players. Steger missed a couple games to attend the national FFA convention and also missed the regional final against Waupun with an ankle injury which was a big factor in determining the outcome. Yahr was 15th in scoring with 133 points and eighth in assists with 33. Steger also was ninth in scoring with 153 points and second in steals with 27. Coulter was 14th in scoring with 139 points and sixth in rebounding with 78.

Among other Kewaskum players, Ron Theusch tied for 4th in rebounding with 82 and Tim Rohlinger was 4th in steals with 17.

Todd Eisner, CH 4, 6'6", player of the year; Jeff Hebert, TR, 3, 6'; Mark Meneau, TR, 4, 6'4"; Chris Deliger, PLY, 4, 6'; John Rulseh, NH, 4, 6'3".

Girls Win, Boys Tie in Track Opener With Plymouth

By Chuck Voge

Both Kewaskum High School track teams got off to a good start this Tuesday with the girls winning big over Plymouth by a score of 73-27, and the boys tying the Panthers at 59-59.

The co-ed meet turned out to be an unscheduled season opener for the girls since their March 14th regularly scheduled opener with Hartford was cancelled. On their way to the one-sided win the girls took 8 out of the 12 first places in the contest, and the boys captured a total of 8 first places of the 14 in the event.

Boys head coach Dave Drexler had high praise for two of the freshmen on his squad. Marty Schulties had a long jump of 17 feet, 3/4 inches which Drexler said was very much of a surprise to him, coming from a freshman. Another freshman, Chad Schmidt, turned in a time of 13:07.0 in the 3200 meter run and gave Schmidt a second place in the event.

The Indian boys started this season with five returning letter winners, Jeff Newhauser (senior), shot put and sprints; Rick Dreher (senior), sprints; Cory Garbisch (senior), middle distance; Mark Johnson (senior), hurdles, and Miles Shaw (sophomore), long distance running.

Coach Drexler had the following to say about the boys team in general, "the senior group is going to be a tough group, there are some good leaders and they have been working together for four years. A bright spot with the team is the number of freshmen who are coming out. The last two years have been very low with total numbers, and now with this group I see a lot of talent and potential. The advantage of working together as a team from freshmen through senior year is immeasurable." He went on to say that, "while we are lacking in depth this year I see a promising future with the increase in numbers."

The complete boys track schedule is as follows:

March 21 — Sheboygan Falls at home [co-ed]
March 24 — Slinger [frosh-soph] at home
April 8 — County Indoor at West Bend [co-ed]
April 17 — Chilton & Kiel at home
April 22 — Slinger & Campbellsport at Slinger
April 25 — Van der Pan Inv. at Sheb. Falls [co-ed]
April 30 — County Outdoor at home [co-ed]
May 2 — J.H. Williams Inv. at Plymouth
May 6 — Plymouth & Kewaskum at Two Rivers
May 8 — Sheboygan Falls & Kewaskum at New Holstein
May 16 — Conference relays at Sheboygan Falls
May 19 — Frosh-Soph Conf. meet at Two Rivers

Gymnasts Hold Honors Banquet

By Chuck Voge

Approximately 60 Kewaskum gymnasts, parents and coaches gathered at John's Country Inn in Silver Creek on March 11, for the annual Kewaskum gymnastics awards banquet.

The sit down dinner format was a big change for this year's event. Past banquets were usually held at the home of one of the girls or coaches.

Coaches Paul-Kenfield and Harlow spoke on the individual accomplishments of each girl on their respective team, and major letters were awarded to Darlene Luedtke, Sherri Batzler, Jackie Voge, Renee Kapp, Shelly Pesch, Chris Kirchner and Carrie Batzler.

On a vote of her teammates, Sherri Batzler was voted the team's most valuable player and Darlene Luedtke team capt. Coaches Paul-Kenfield and Harlow named Lisa Steiner most improved gymnast for the year.

The coaches also reported on the following records that fell during the year: Renee Kapp set a new school record in the floor event and Darlene Luedtke is the holder of the new school record on the uneven parallel bars. The team of Jackie Voge, Darlene Luedtke, and Sherri Batzler set a new three girl record on the vault. Voge and Luedtke were members of the team that also set the old school record in the same event.

KEWASKUM POLE VAULTER Miles Shaw vaulted his way to a 10 foot, 6 inch personal best in the Indians' season opener with Plymouth.
