'Mike' Gnacinski Boy Scout Scrapbooks Presented to Historical Society

For years the Kewaskum area has been privileged to have the dedicated services of several interested adults who helped Boy Scouts flourish. One of those unique individuals was the late E. Michael "Mike" Gnacinski.

Today former Scouts and residents of the community can relive the Scouting years of 1947 through 1972 via two photo-filled scrapbooks which were recently presented to the Kewaskum Historical Society. The books include the annual rosters of Troop 44, as well as newspaper clippings, award certificates, letters and photographs which were collected by Mike Gnacinski.

Gnacinski became active in scouting after his decorated service in World War II. He was named Assistant Scoutmaster in 1946 and Scoutmaster in 1947. Through the years, he helped dozens of boys learn to live better lives through Scouting experiences.

Through Gnacinski's hard work and dedication, Kewaskum Boy Scouts were represented at many National Jamborees, including Santa Ana, California; Denver, Colorado; and Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. In 1967 the XII World Jamboree was held in Farragut State Park, Idaho, the first to be held in the United States. Mike Gnacinski attended as Scoutmaster, one of 15 from a 4-state region and with just one Kewaskum boy in his

Water Again Tests Unsafe

DNR Says Abandon Wayne School Well

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Unsafe water has again become a problem at the Wayne Elementary School resulting in the Department of Natural Resources directing the Kewaskum School District to abandon its well and submit plans for the construction of a replacement well.

At a meeting Monday night, Buildings and Grounds Superintendent Fred Boehlke informed the Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds Committee that the last two tests on the well's water came back with results indicating the water was again "unsafe." Chlorination measures during the past few weeks were thought to have solved the problem until the latest reports came back.

In a letter to Boehlke dated December 19th, Chad Czarkowski, Water Supply Specialist with the DNR, indicated his department was seeking "permanent abandonment of the existing well serving this school and the submittal of plans for construction of a replacement well."

Czarkowski's letter also stated, "a review of the DNR's records indicate the well has had intermittently produced bacteriologically unsafe water samples since at least 1978, when the Safe Drinking Water Act testing program began." The letter noted the problem was probably due to the fact that there is very shallow bedrock in the area resulting in insufficient filtration of surface water or effluent from the school's septic system.

Czarkowski recommended construction of a new well with an 8" casing to a minimum depth of 120 feet. The existing well has a 6" casing to 50 feet, (which met DNR specifications at the time of its construction).

The District was told plans for the new well should be submitted within 30 days, and construction commenced within 30 days of plan approval.

At Boehlke's request, Jerry Zielieke of Zielieke Well Drilling was at the meeting to answer some of the committee's questions. His recommendation was to construct a well with 8" casing to at least 125 feet, then if problems still occurred, the well could be drilled deeper, using 6" casing.

While he had some preliminary figures of about $10,000 for a new well, a minimum of $2,000 for a new line, and around $1,000 for pulling the well pump and closing the old well, Zielieke indicated it would be difficult for any driller to be very specific about most of the costs at this time of year because of weather and groundfrost conditions.

The committee asked Zielieke if the school could remain open while the new well was drilled. He indicated if there were no other alternative it probably could be done but it would be very inconvenient. He personally felt the school should not be in use when the work was done. "You're looking at one to two weeks work," said Zielieke. He suggested the district ask the DNR for an extension on the construction until school closed in June.

The committee directed Boehlke to request an extension as well as obtain additional bids in the event the request was not granted.

The district will continue to purchase bottled water for drinking at a cost of $40 per week. The school is continuing to use the well water for toilet facilities.

In other business the board heard a report and recommendation from Business Manager Cherna Gorder on the proposed purchase of a telephone system for the district. Gorder informed the committee she had received four quotations, with the low price of $14,999, coming from General Telephone Company. She recommended the committee pass on that quote for consideration by the school board.

Gorder's report indicated current monthly fixed charges of $891.27, as compared to a charge of $459.07 for the new system would mean a savings of $432 per month, or $5,186 per year. After the payback period of 2.89 years, the annual savings would be $5,186.

Gorder also recommended the leasing of a West Bend line which would provide toll-free access to Allenton, Slinger, Waubesa, Newburg, Jackson and Kewaskum. The cost would be $98 per month as compared to approximately $286 a month to these areas in toll charges.

Regal Executive Victim

Auto Accident Claims Kewaskum Man's Life

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

A one-car accident which occurred about 1½ miles north of Kewaskum in the Town of Auburn early Sunday morning claimed the life of Stanley A. Woolman, 64, of 1185 Hillside Drive, Kewaskum. Woolman was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Heidi K. Tessar, 26, of 948 Highway G, Route 2, Campbellsport.

The incident occurred at 2:00 a.m., approximately 4/10ths of a mile south of the intersection of Highways S and G, on Highway S, just north of the Washington-Fond du Lac County line, near the Paul Action Company property.

According to the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department report, Tessar said she was driving south on Highway S, when she reached over to pet their dog that was sitting on Woolman's lap. The next thing she knew she was off the road and couldn't regain control of the car which began to bounce. Tessar said she did not remember anything after that. The dog was also killed in the accident.

The department's spokesperson said the report noted tracks in the snow indicated the vehicle continued to travel, flipping end over end, landing back on its wheels.

The two victims were transported to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend. Tessar was treated for bruises and a bump on the head. The Flight for Life helicopter was called to transport Woolman to Milwaukee, however, he died shortly after arrival at St. Joseph's from massive head injuries.

Alcohol has been ruled out as a factor, however, charges were pending upon completion of an investigation into the accident.

Woolman was an executive of Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum. He had been employed by the housewares firm since 1960, currently as its director of national accounts and corporate projects.

Woolman's death raised the highway fatality toll in Fond du Lac County to 22, nine more than on the same date last year.

School Bd.

Gorder indicted she did not feel the entire $286 could be saved but that there should be a substantial reduction in monthly costs.

The committee approved a motion to pass on the recommendation to purchase a telephone system from General Telephone and rent a West Bend line for a trial period extending to the end of the school year.

The committee also discussed noise and electrical problem repairs for the high school Home Ec room. It moved to recommend to the school board that it approve the low bid of Kirchner Electric to do the wiring and outlet work at a cost of $585.

After hearing Boehlke's report on the feasibility of going with ceiling tile as compared to carpeting to aid in noise reduction, the committee directed him to procure firm bids for the installation of tiles.

Boehlke also reported on the need to repair rest room floors at the high school due to deterioration and aging. The committee directed him to get additional bids based on doing the repairs a portion at a time or all the areas at once.

Repair of the high school bleachers was again discussed. Boehlke noted that, according to the Trust Fund Loan priorities list, that project was the next item to be done if there were any funds left. Gorder noted there was approximately $26,000 left in the account.

After a lengthy discussion, the committee directed Boehlke to go back and work with Mr. Stradtman and his Building Trades classes to see how much of the work could be done by the district before an outside firm was called in. Boehlke was also asked to obtain prices on new boards and possibly the services of a consultant who would come in and inspect the bleachers to determine what work needed to be done and whether it was feasible to make a large investment in repairs rather than look into future replacement.

The recommendation of purchasing an air filtration system for the Auto and Work Shop areas was discussed. Howard Zemlicka told the committee it was a major concern of both his and Mr. Stradtman as to what is going around in the air.

According to a Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations representative, five filtration units would be needed to clean up the air in the shop areas. Boehlke had two prices of $8,355 and $9,565 for the five units. He told the committee the filtration system was not a budgeted item.

Committee member Kim Peterson asked Zemlicka and Boehlke to look into other companies and alternative recommendations and report back to the committee with their findings.

The committee then scheduled its next meeting for Monday, January 26th.

charge. He was also chosen for the XIII World Jamboree and travelled to Mount Fuji, Japan, with two Kewaskum boys in his group.

Through the years, many area boys received recognition for extraordinary participation in Scouting functions and programs. Gnacinski received many awards for his Scouting contributions, most notably the Silver Beaver Citation in 1962. The Silver Beaver is the highest award in Scouting leadership for local councils.

In the summer of 1972 Gnacinski and his wife, Jeannette, moved to Antigo, Wisconsin. They returned regularly to honor former Scouts and friends. Gnacinski died on October 21, 1984, and was buried at Holy Trinity Cemetery in Kewaskum. His 25 years of Boy Scout leadership will long be remembered.

Residents are encouraged to take time to visit the Historical Society Museum at 1202 Parkview and browse through the Gnacinski scrapbooks. The museum is open every Sunday afternoon during the summer and by appointment other times.

Thanks to the generous support of the Kewaskum Kiwanis and local businesses, plus many, many interested adults who continue to give of their time unselfishly, the community can take pride in its Boy Scout program.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

Snow and Ice Removal

The snow and ice season has arrived bringing along some problems. To alleviate the problem or to clarify a few items let us refer to the Municipal Code, Chapter 8.09, which covers "Snow and Ice Removal."

I. Sidewalks to be kept clear. The owner or occupant of any lot or parcel shall promptly each day remove all snow and ice which may have fallen or accumulated upon the sidewalk in front of each lot or parcel; provided, when ice has so formed that it cannot be removed, the owner or occupant shall keep the same sprinkled with a material which will prevent the sidewalk from being dangerous to pedestrians. If the owner or occupant fails to comply with this subsection, the Superintendent of Public Works shall cause the snow or ice to be removed or sprinkled as required in this section and the cost thereof assessed against the property as a special tax.

II. Snow not to be deposited in the streets. No person shall cause to be deposited snow from his premises or sidewalk abutting thereon onto any street in the Village without a permit from the Superintendent of Public Works who may require to be paid a fee sufficient to reimburse the Village for the cost of removal of such snow.

Friday, Dec. 26, 1986,

III. Other sidewalk hazards. This is the deposit of or washing of gravel from a private driveway onto a sidewalk. We ask that this gravel also be removed promptly. It should be noted that not only does this gravel create a hazard on the sidewalk, but when it ends up in the gutter it blocks water drainage and eventually blocks/plugs storm sewers.

As for this and all ordinances a penalty is also provided for in Chapter 25.04 of this Municipal Code.

Listening Ear Can Help Friend Through Holiday Blues

By Joyce Albrecht
Washington County
Extension Home Economist

Just because the holiday season is here, doesn't mean everyone is feeling cheerful. Many people, during the holidays, trigger depression and feelings of loneliness.

Helping a friend talk through his or her problems can be a real gift to someone dealing with the gloomy feelings that sometimes accompany the holidays. People are very capable of solving their own problems, but may need a good listener to help with the process.

Friends can help by guiding their friend through a "non-directive" conversation.

In nondirective conversation, the listener does a minimum of talking and suggesting. The communication is focused on being a good listener. When he or she does talk, it is to paraphrase, reflect, clarify, or ask for elaboration of what the person said.

Questions should be broad and open-ended, allowing the person under stress to choose the topics and direct the conversation. The listener should be a facilitator, not a problem-solver.

Persons experiencing difficulty are much more motivated to solve their problems if they come up with the solutions themselves than if someone else suggests a strategy.

Try the following suggestions:

- Be accepting and caring. Even if the values of the person you're listening to are different than your own, it is better to accept the behavior and not be judgmental. Objectivity and neutrality are important.

- Try to develop an understanding of the other person's situation. Imagine how you would feel in the same situation.

- Be discreet. For trust to develop, the other person needs to know what whatever is said is confidential.

- Be a good listener. Remember, you can't listen if you're talking. Professional counselors using nondirective techniques try not to talk more than 5% to 10% of the time. Silence is powerful, it gives the person permission to talk more about what he or she needs to talk about.

- Be patient. The person may take a while to get to the core of the problem.

- Talk somewhere that is private, comfortable and free from interruptions.

If the issues are complex and a clear solution seems difficult to arrive at, advise your friend to get professional help. Friendship alone won't curb

Groundbreaking Held for Expanded Washington Mall in West Bend

West Bend — Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new 400,000 square foot enclosed Washington Mall finally took place at 12 p.m., Friday, December 19, on south Main Street.

"In light of our vast expansion and renovation, we've decided to rename the new shopping center," said William Spatz, president of Spatz & Company, developer and manager of the mall. "The new name, Paradise Mall, symbolizes a new beginning to what will be an important commercial enterprise in the West Bend/Washington County area," he said.

Shopko, one of the largest mass merchandising discount retailers in the Midwest, will anchor the south end of the new mall. Currently located across the street from the new mall, their new store in Paradise Mall will be 94,000 square feet, an increase of over 50 percent of selling area.

In addition, the new Shopko will include a pharmacy department and optical center, as well as their full complement of name brands in health and beauty supplies, clothing, housewares, toys and other retail items.

The existing 71,000 square feet Kohl's department store will continue to anchor the north end of the mall. In taking over and improving the old Washington Mall, Spatz plans to add 50 to 60 new specialty shops encompassing 104,000 square feet in addition to a 9,000 square foot food court.

The opening of the new mall in October, 1987, is expected to generate hundreds of new jobs for residents of the West Bend/Washington County community. Shopko alone anticipates adding 100 additional full time and part-time jobs once the new store is completed.

Spatz & Company of Northbrook, Illinois, believes the location of this new mall at the corner of Main Street and Paradise Drive, the primary access road to the off-ramp of the U.S. Highway 45 bypass, "makes this a natural as a sound retailing venture, both for our company and for the economy of West Bend.

New Year customs the world over

"What are you doing for New Year's Eve?" ask friends, co-workers, neighbors and relatives. This is the season of inquiry, to compare and exchange ideas with everyone you know (or wish to get to know) and plan an ideal celebration. Whether you attend an extravagant bash, share a quiet evening with someone you love or get together for the noisy but fun New Year's Eve dinner with friends, celebrating New Year's Eve is an American tradition.

Tradition permeates the celebration of New Year's throughout the world. Special customs linked with the eve and the first day of January have been practiced since pagan times.

The occult world of omens and charms has always been connected with this holiday. One widespread custom still carried out in many countries is "first-footing," the superstitious belief that the character of the first visitor on New Year's Day affects the welfare of the household.

More specifically, it is important that a male enter the house or place of business first in order to bring good luck. To ensure this, households would invite men to pay a visit first thing in the morning.

Young lads hired to sweep the chimney, sweethearts of female servants, and "lucky-birds," bachelors expected to bring a present of coals or food or drink, are strongly encouraged to arrive as early as possible on New Year's morning.

In Scotland, the New Year is a national holiday. Visiting and feasting mark "Daft Days." New Year's Day and its Eve. All kinds of pastries are eaten and, at the stroke of midnight, a kettle of warm, spiced and sweetened ale infused with spirits is passed around to each family member. Everyone wishes each other "a good health and a happy New Year."

The Scottish custom of "burning out the old year" with bonfires or clavies, fires contained in tar-barrels which were carried around the village and the fishing boats is similar to fire customs of Halloween which, perhaps, was once observed as a New Year's Eve. The embers of these fires would be kept by the villagers as a charm against witchcraft.

Poor children march on New Year's eve in a procession called Hogmanay. Wrapped in a great sheet with a big pocket in front, the children would walk along the streets calling "Hogmanay" in hopes that the richer folks would give them some oaten bread. This custom is still practiced in Scotland and similar practices prevail in other countries.

Festive New Year celebrations are held in France and Germany as well. In France, presents are exchanged and the children empty their gift-laden stockings. On January 1, the family gathers for a great dinner.

Sylvesterabend, the Eve of the New Year, brings dances and parties for the Germans. One popular ceremony at German New Year's Eve parties is bleigessen. Spoons with prepared pieces of lead are held over candles; each guest takes his spoonful and quickly tosses it into a basin of water. Easily discerned shapes that form in the water, foretell events for the coming year. For example, hearts indicate a year of love, ships symbolize traveling.

After dark on New Year's Eve, Roumanian boys and men go from house to house ringing bells, cracking whips and greeting everyone warmly. On the following morning, handfuls of corn are thrown from the young to the old or from the poor to the rich; wishes of longevity and prosperity are proffered in hopes that a present will be granted.

St. Basil's Day, commemorating the first century bishop of Caesarea and a leader of the early Christian church, coincides with January 1st in the Eastern Orthodox calendar.

In Macedonia, the future is foretold on St. Basil's Eve. A pair of olive leaves representing a young man and woman are placed on hot cinders. If the leaves crumple up together, the young people will love each other, but if they separate, the reverse will occur. If the leaves are highly combustible, excessive passion is present.

One more surviving custom is carried out in Lithuania. Hidden under nine plates are these symbolic items: baked out of dough—cradle, old man, old woman, death's head, bread, money, ring, key and ladder. Everyone has three chances to pick his lot for the following year from amongst the nine hidden items.

UWVC Student Participation Rises In Phy Ed and Athletic Programs

Student participation continues to rise in physical education courses and intercollegiate athletic programs at the UW Center — Washington County.

Combined figures for the 1985-86 school year in both programs were up about 9% over 1984-85. The single area of decline was intramural athletics, where student involvement dropped for the second-straight year.

No figures were available for informal recreational activities, the fourth campus physical education program.

Participation figures were released this week by Tom Brigham of West Bend, associate professor of physical education and athletic director at UWVC. Figures are based on participation units (PUs), with one PU equal to one hour of physical activity by one student.

According to Brigham, UWVC students logged 21,489 PUs for the year ending last May, an increase of 1,298 PUs (6.4%) over 1984-85.

The sharpest area of increase was in credit course work, where 259 students enrolled in 14 courses. Courses PUs totalled 7,137 up 905 (14.5%) from the prior year.

Physical education courses, with enrollments, were: first aid, 29, cardiopulmonary resuscitation 41, athletic injuries 12, weight training 30, basketball 7, beginning tennis 8, sport officiating 9, personal health 29, weight training 41, cross country skiing 8, water safety instruction 6, introduction to play and recreation 18, beginning golf 11 and beginning badminton 10.

The area of highest participation was in intercollegiate athletics with 12,475 PUs reported, an increase of 743 (6.3%). PUs by varsity team were: soccer 3,320, men's basketball 3,250, women's basketball, 2,850, women's volleyball 1,955, tennis 750 and cross country 350.

Intramural participation was down by 350 PUs (15.7%) to 1,877. Co-ed teams competed in round-robin tournament in three leagues: flag football with 80 students on five teams playing 21 games, volleyball with 60 students on 6 teams playing 24 matches, and softball where 51 students on five teams played 10 games.

A fourth league involved 60 men and six teams in a 32-game schedule.

In discussing the informal recreation program, Brigham said that calculating participation there was "at best impossible." He said, "The gym and weight room are always open and available to students from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., when the facility is not in use for class or sports."

Kewaskum's new "Wunder Berg" ski hill, located one mile south of the village, will officially open this Saturday, December 23, it was announced this week. It will be open daily through the holidays from 9 a.m. There will also be some night skiing later. The transformation of "Becker's Hill" to a fun center of skiing, where hundreds of winter sports enthusiasts will be gliding down one of four trails, has been completed. The hill is situated west of Hwy. 45 and is visible from the highway. The opening of the ski hill greatly enhances and adds more glamour to Kewaskum, gateway to the northern unit of the Kettle Moraine Forest, as a recreation and resort area.

Miss Leona Backhaus had a narrow escape from being crushed under the wheels of a freight engine last Saturday morning when the engine of northbound way freight struck her on the Main Street crossing in this village. The train at the time was going very slow and only presence of mind of the engineer saved her life. Miss Backhaus, who is employed as clerk in the L. Rosenheimer store was sent to the express office to get an express parcel. When she got to the crossing she saw that a train was coming, and thinking that the train was coming up the main track, she stopped on the side track and waited for it. However, the train was coming up the track she was standing on. Not paying any attention to the train she did not get out of the way and the next thing she knew she picked herself up on the other side of the track. The engineer was unable to see Miss Backhaus until after the engine had struck her. He at once stopped the train which saved her life.

NEWS EXTRA

New 'Double Drunk' Law Goes Into Effect at Midnight Dec. 31

New Year's Eve revelers may have their spirits dampened by new drunk driving laws which go into effect at midnight.

The state Department of Transportation said anyone arrested after midnight Dec. 31 will be subject to immediate license revocation if they are over .20 blood/alcohol concentration (BAC) and will pay higher penalties upon conviction.

Even those arrested with lower alcohol levels will face stiffer penalties, said Jerry Hancock, assistant general counsel. After midnight Dec. 31 all operating while intoxicated (OWI) convictions, including the first ones, result in a six-month driver license revocation. Currently, the penalty is a three-to-six month suspension for a first offense.

The major new provisions going into effect are:
(1) A new criminal offense of aggravated drunk driving for drivers with a BAC of .20 percent or above. The penalty for a first offense, with no previous OWI-related conviction in the past five years, is a fine ranging from $300 to $1,000, a 6-12 month driver license revocation, and a 30-day waiting period before an occupational license may be issued. In addition to the fine, there is a $200 surcharge, 15-percent penalty assessment, and court costs.

With any previous conviction, the fine ranges from $600 to $2,000, plus the $200 surcharge, court costs and 15-percent penalty assessment, a mandatory five-day to six-month jail term, and a one-to two-year driver license revocation. There is a 60-day waiting period before an occupational license will be issued.

(2) An immediate six-month revocation for drivers with a high test result of .20 percent BAC or more, separate from the aggravated drunk driving charge.

Drivers will be issued a "notice of intent to revoke" which serves as a valid license for 30 days. The revocation is then automatic unless the driver requests a circuit court hearing within 10 days of receiving the notice.

The Division of Motor Vehicles said more than 35,000 drivers are arrested each year for operating while intoxicated, with approximately 29 percent of the at or above the .20 BAC level.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

21 Drinking Age and Related Legislation

In May, 1986 Governor Anthony S. Earl called the legislature into special session to consider raising the state's drinking age to 21. In addition to the higher drinking age, the special session made several other significant changes in operating while intoxicated laws. Some of the changes were effective on Sept. 1, 1986; the majority of the new legislation is effective Jan. 1, 1987.

The DOT has prepared a 20 page law sheet (HS 130) which is available free of charge from Wisconsin Dept. of Transportation, Document Sales, P.O. Box 7713, Madison, WI 53707-7713. Phone (608) 246-3265.

This is a brief summary of the changes and their effective dates.

SEPTEMBER 1, 1986:

21 drinking age. Grandfather clause permits those who had reached their 19th birthday before Sept. 1, 1986 to continue to drink legally.

Absolute sobriety remains at 19. No person under the age of 19 may operate a motor vehicle with a blood/alcohol concentration of more than 0.0 percent. If BAC is less than .10 percent, penalty is three months driver's license suspension. If BAC is .10 or more, regular drunken driving penalties apply.

Parents, legal guardians and adult spouses may provide beer, wine or intoxicating beverages to minor children/spouses (Absolute sobriety provisions prohibit operation of motor vehicle by person under 19, even though alcohol was obtained legally under this provision).

20 hours of community service is required for persons convicted of a first offense of OWI.

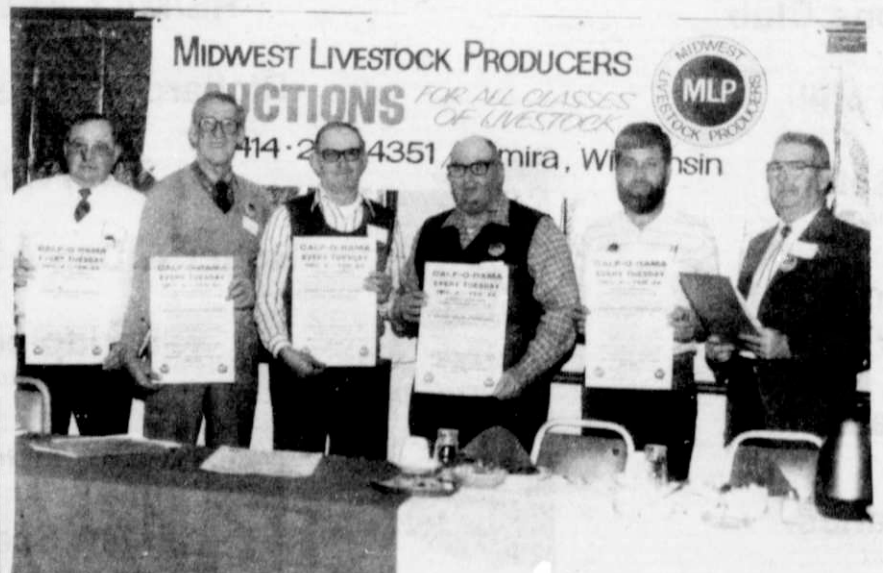

JANUARY 1, 1987:

Test Refusals - 15-day waiting period before Occupational License may be issued.

Operating While Intoxicated - First offense increased from 3 months suspension to 6-months revocation, 15-day waiting period before Occupational; 2nd offense mandatory one-year revocation, 3rd offense mandatory two-year revocation. Waiting periods increased for Occupational License.

Judicial Revocation for High Test result 8 (new provision) - permits judge to order 6 month revocation on the basis of a chemical test of .20% BAC or more. No Occupational for 15 days. Separate from Aggravated Drunk Driving (see below).

Aggravated Operating While Intoxicated - (.20% or more BAC) All offenses prosecuted as crimes. Any OWI, aggravated OWI or refusal counts as prior violation.

SCS Releases List Of Highly Erodible Soils in County

By Don Kurer
District Conservationist

The USDA Soil Conservation Service released a list of the highly erodible and potentially highly erodible soils in Washington County this week. Highly erodible soils are subject to the sodbuster and Conservation Compliance provisions of the 1985 Food Security Act, also called the 1985 farm bill.

The farm bill will have an immediate impact on sodbusters — farmers who plant annual crops on highly erodible land that was not used for annual crops during any of the years 1981-1985. They must have a conservation plan in practice before they plant to remain eligible for USDA farm program benefits.

While Sodbuster is effective immediately, the conservation compliance provision of the farm bill has a grace period until January 1, 1990. Conservation Compliance denies most USDA farm program benefits to farmers cropping highly erodible cropland without using an approved conservation plan. By January 1, 1990, farmers must develop and begin applying a conservation plan for their highly erodible cropland. The plan must be fully in effect by 1995.

SCS and county land conservation committee staff will help farmers develop conservation plans for their highly erodible acres. Plans may include some form of conservation tillage, contouring, crop rotations, terraces or other measures. County land conservation committees must approve all plans.

Farmers with highly erodible land may also want to consider placing it in the Conservation Reserve. Under Conservation Reserve, farmers can retire highly erodible land from production and receive annual rental payments for 10 years.

For more information on the Conservation Reserve, Sodbuster, or conservation compliance, contact me or Don Sampson at ASCS.

Special Interest Rate Set for Farm Emergency Loans

Ron Caldwell, State Director of the Wisconsin Farmers Home Administration (WI FmHA) announced that the USDA has authorized a special interest rate for farmers seeking emergency loans as a result of drought, flooding and other weather-related crop loss during calendar year 1986.

Effective immediately, qualifying farmers who file for such loans will receive an interest rate of 4.5 percent. This replaces the regular two-tiered rate of 5 percent for loan amounts up to $100,000 and 8 percent for the remainder up to the maximum of $500,000, applicable to prior loans.

"This will benefit the farmer in two ways," commented Caldwell. "In addition to reducing the over-all cost of repaying the loan, it will make it easier for the applicant to qualify for the loan in the first place under our cash flow requirements."

The action was taken in response to a provision in the omnibus Continuing (Appropriations) Resolution enacted by Congress just prior to its adjournment in October. The reductions represented by the uniform rate place interest on emergency loans on a par with interest charged on direct farm operating loans made to "limited resource" borrowers.

Caldwell said the emergency loan funds can be used for restoration or replacement of damaged property, payment of production costs for the disaster year or the next year, payment of delinquent debt installments, living expenses, purchase of machinery, equipment and foundation livestock, reorganization of a farming system, and refinancing of short, intermediate or long-term debt.

He added that the applicant must meet regular eligibility requirements: be an established family farm operator, be a citizen or legal resident alien, have ability to repay the loan, be located in a designated county, have suffered a minimum 30 percent crop loss, be unable to obtain suitable credit elsewhere, and be able to provide adequate security.

Applicants may obtain further information and apply for an emergency loan through the FmHA office which services their county.

ORDINANCE NO. 86-10

ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE SEWER SERVICE SECTIONS OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE, VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

The Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin do ordain as follows:

That Miscellaneous Sections 13.41 thru 13.62 of the Municipal Code of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, are hereby repealed and recreated as follows:

13.41 (3)(a) Operation and maintenance costs shall be separated in accordance with their applicability to flow, BOD, TSS and Total Phosphorus. The percentage breakdown shall be reviewed each year by the Village Administrator.

13.41 (3) (b) Operation and maintenance costs for flow, BOD, TSS and Total Phosphorus shall be totalled each year. The unit charges for each shall be obtained by dividing the total costs by the previous year's total billable flow in 1000 gallons, billable pounds of TSS and billable pounds of Total Phosphorus.

13.42 (1) (a) ALL USERS. (a) The basic wastewater treatment bill to be paid by all users shall consist of user charges for operation, maintenance and replacement, using the unit charges from the User Charge Ordinance. The unit charges shall be applied to the user's billable flow, BOD, TSS and Total Phosphorus, respectively.

13.42 (2) (a) INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL USERS. (a) The Village may periodically sample and analyze wastes from selected user classifications to determine the BOD, TSS and Total Phosphorus strengths etc.

13.43 (2) PAYMENT OF BILL. The bill shall be due in full, taking into consideration a grace period of 30 days to cover handling time by the collecting agent.

14.43 (3) DELINQUENT BILLS. (a) Any bill not paid within 30 days after the date of billing shall be declared delinquent.

13.43 (3) (b) Should a bill still be delinquent 30 days after the date of billing, the bill shall be referred to the Village Attorney for collection under the terms and conditions of 13.62(2).

13.46 USER CHARGES. (1) INDUSTRIAL. Unit costs for the sewer service charge, which include operation, maintenance, replacement and debt service, shall be as follows: Volume charge, $1,028 per million gallons; BOD charge, $0.138 per lb. of BOD; Susp. Solids charge, $0.286 per lb. of SS; Total Phosphorus charge, $1.425 per lb. of Total P.

14.46 (2) RESIDENTIAL AND COMMERCIAL. Residential and commercial users of the sanitary sewers who discharge wastewater are assessed a single rate per 1000 gallons determined from the unit costs in (1) above. The BOD, SS and Total Phosphorus concentrations used to calculate the BOD, SS and Total Phosphorus charges are the average concentrations, contributed by this class during the previous year. For current rates, a BOD concentration of 500 mg/liter, a SS concentration of 221 mg/liter and a Total Phosphorus concentration of 4.31 mg/liter were used. The total user-charge rate for this is determined as follows:

Volume of flow, per 1000 gallons	$1.028
BOD = 0.001 x 8.33 x 500 x $0.138	0.573
SS = 0.001 x 8.33 x 221 x $0.286	0.525
Total P = 0.001 x 8.33 x 4.31 x $1.425	0.051
	$2.18 per 1000 gallons

Eliminate the next line that reads: "User charge rate $1 per 1000 gallons of water used as metered by water department." (This has no meaning in this section).

13.46 (3) (b) The BOD, SS and Total Phosphorus concentrations used in calculating the sewer charge are those reported by the laboratory conducting the analyses of a composite sample or samples of the industrial discharge during the quarter.

13.46 (3) (c) The industrial user sewer service charge per quarter shall be computed in accordance with the following formula:

Local Residents May Be Due Tax Refund Checks, IRS Says

The Internal Revenue Service is trying to locate some area residents who are due a tax refund from their 1985 Federal income tax returns.

According to L. M. Phillips, IRS Milwaukee District Director, 867 refund checks worth $415,984 were returned by the Postal Service as undeliverable in Wisconsin. The largest of them is for $110,460 and there are 53 of them over $1,000, according to Phillips.

Phillips says the taxpayers may have moved or changed their last names during the year and failed to notify the IRS, or their handwriting may simply be illegible.

When a refund is returned by the Postal Service, the IRS attempts to find the taxpayer and deliver the checks; but there are always some who cannot be found.

If you think you may be due a refund and have moved or changed your last name during the year, contact the Internal Revenue Service toll-free at 1-800-424-1040 to claim your refund.

DRINKING AND DRIVING

This holiday season as we get together with family and friends let's be mindful of drinking and driving. It is estimated that there is only one arrest for every 500 to 2,000 drunk drivers on the road. Here are more sobering statistics:

-An average drunk driver arrested on the highway has a .20 Blood Alcohol Content (BAC) level; double the level for presumed intoxication standard in most states.

- Between 7 p.m. and 3 a.m. on weekends, 10 percent of all drivers are legally impaired or drunk, in some parts of the country.

- Relatively few problem drinkers, about 7 percent of the driving population, account for over 66 percent of all alcohol related fatal crashes.

- When drinkers are at the presumed level of intoxication, the risk of causing an accident is six times greater than for non-drinking drivers.

- In a study done by Allstate

Insurance Company, drunk drivers are estimated to cost $21-$24 billion dollars a year.

- Although persons between 16 and 24 years old comprise only 20 percent of the total licensed population and 20 percent of the total vehicle miles travelled in this country by licensed drivers of all ages, they cause 42 percent of all alcohol-related crashes.

Increased efforts to keep the drunk driver off the road in recent years have had a degree of success. Many states, including Wisconsin, have raised the drinking age, toughened enforcement, implemented stricter sentencing, and so on.

Let's all be extra careful not to drink too much as we attend our various holiday parties. In addition, remember to drive defensively and wear your seat belt. Don't let a tragedy, which does not have to happen ruin your holidays and maybe your life.

Panzer Advocates Reducing Welfare With Workfare

"Most people realize Wisconsin is one of the highest welfare spending states in the country. This fact alone is a significant contributor to Wisconsin's overall high ranking for state and local spending," Representative Mary Panzer (R - West Bend) said. "For too long we've viewed poverty as the fault of 'society' which therefore had to cure it. It's been that kind of attitude shaping our social service policies and it needs to be reversed. Our welfare programs must be restructured to stress individual responsibility."

Panzer noted that benefits of Wisconsin's Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) are now third highest in the nation and that we rank sixth for welfare spending per $1,000 of personal income. Wisconsin is tops in its benefits among surrounding states. A family that receives $361 per month in Illinois, $381 in Iowa and $412 in Michigan receives $545 per month in Wisconsin. In addition, the family also is eligible for food stamps, medical assistance and other benefits.

"The effect of too generous and readily available welfare aids, distributed with little or no demands upon the recipients is to create an attitude of welfare dependency and contributes to destruction of the work ethic," Panzer said.

The Republican legislator said that while five Wisconsin counties have pilot workfare projects in the planning stages, these testing programs only begin to scratch the surface.

Panzer is calling for a restructuring of the state's current welfare program and for removal of the disincentives that are built into the AFDC program which make it not worthwhile to work. She noted that a Legislative Council committee is currently looking at the issue of employment disincentives among the working poor. Three areas that the committee will study are training and education, child care and health benefits and employment patterns.

According to Panzer, the greatest number of recipients of AFDC are single women with children. These women often have no alternative except to stay at home and collect AFDC because they cannot afford child care. In addition, they may lose the medical assistance they are eligible to receive through the state if the employer does not have a health insurance program.

Panzer said that employment practices such as flex-time, job sharing and part-time hours would help single women with children enter the workforce.

"Clearly, we must rework our current welfare programs and do away with the systems' disincentives, which only trap people into a web of welfare dependency," Panzer said.

town governments in the rural areas would get more shared revenues. Accordingly, other governmental units - the villages and cities - would get less.

"However, it appears that Milwaukee will get the lion's share of the amount lost by other major cities," York pointed out, and Milwaukee has no farmland within its borders."

"At the same time, Milwaukee has been losing population - another factor which normally would result in a reduction of the per capita payment made to each governmental unit under the shared revenue formula," he added.

"People in the rest of the state do not want any more than their fair share of the shared revenue pie," York continued. "However, at the same time they want to make certain they are receiving a fair share."

"Another criticism of the shared revenue formula has been that it is 'skewed' to benefit those communities which consistently spend more and more money - at the expense of those who attempt to operate it on a more efficient and economic basis. This would appear to be what is happening in this case," York noted.

"There has been some talk of discontinuing shared revenues. I don't think that will happen. However, we must take a careful look at the system and the formula for distributing its funds," declared Rep. York.

"We cannot be just if we are not kindhearted."

Need for Review of Shared Revenue Seen, According to York

MADISON...A change in shared revenue distribution by the state, under which Milwaukee will receive more than 85% of the $5.8 million lost by 15 other communities, underscores the need for review and overhaul of Wisconsin tax sharing system, according to State Representative York (R-Lomira).

The shared revenue account is a fixed amount. If some units of town, village or city government get an increase in their share, some other units will have to get less.

As a result of a sharp drop in the valuation of agricultural property this year, it was anticipated that under the formula

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

The Washington County Sheriff's Department is again reminding residents not to telephone the department for road and weather information, particularly during snowstorms. Sheriff Clarence Schwartz advised that the volume of phone calls for routine road information can tie up phone lines, as well as the deputies in the radio room who must answer them. "It gets to the point that they have difficulty handling emergency phone calls and the radio traffic generated by the deputies working in squads," the Sheriff pointed out.

During snowstorms, deputies respond to accidents and traffic tie-ups caused by the bad roads. This results in a tremendous increase in radio use, as they request assistance, coordinate traffic control with other officers, and ask for tow trucks. At the same time, phone calls come in regarding accidents and road obstructions caused by drifts, downed trees, or downed power lines.

"While the radio operators are trying to keep up with all of this, it is unfortunate that many people at home routinely telephone for information on the roads. It is the worst possible time for that type of inquiry," said Schwartz.

The Sheriff suggested that residents listen to local radio stations, and said, "We have a long-standing agreement with the radio stations to provide all the information they need, anytime they need it."

Statewide information is provided 24 hours a day by the Department of Transportation, by calling toll free 1-800-ROAD-WIS (1-800-762-3947).

"We need to impress upon people that their routine call for road information can delay receipt of an emergency phone call," Schwartz concluded.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 17th, the school children of Holy Trinity School presented a Christmas Concert, "A Prayer for Peace."

The children gave a beautiful performance displaying a great deal of talent and effort. There were angels, shepherds, drummer boys and wisemen and even sheep. Of course Joseph, Mary and Jesus starred.

Thank you to Mrs. Ellen Schmid, music education instructor; Sr. Phyllis Wirtz, principal; Fr. Robert Berghammer, pastor, and all of the teachers of Holy Trinity, including Sr. Janet Heder, art teacher. Also thanks to Ann Thill, organist; the parents who assisted, and of course the children, who played to a full house. It really put us in the Christmas Spirit.

A proud parent,
Isabelle Straub

Dear Editor:

Since we're all familiar with monthly bingo games, how about using the format given in "New Creation?" (eighth grade teacher's manual, pg. 29). Along with a called number like "B2" or "G9" goes a question dealing with reproduction. Instead of a chip, you write the answer in the square. You continue until you complete a line just as in regular bingo. Play additional games as desired. Would we the community like to write words like "special mucus," "white milky fluid," "penetration" etc. on our bingo cards? (Student Text pp. 44-47). Of course, some of us say this is okay because they think it's all true, isn't it? But how will our children learn to cherish God's holy gift after it has been reduced to a dirty parlor game? For those in the community who think that this course is the greatest, why don't you play this "New Bingo" over the holidays with all of your parents, grandparents and children together? See what happens to self-worth and respect for others! Happy New Year to all.

Attention Editor:

Knowing the risk in being repetitious, I still find it necessary to state my opposition to the controversial "New Creation" sexuality series being taught at Holy Trinity school here in our village. It is a series that begins in first grade and continues through eighth. There is a student text for each child and the course is so designed as to require the taking home of these books on our school buses. The information introducing the child to the physical aspects of sexual intercourse is given in the third grade.

Children have the capability to absorb this material. They will repeat it in order to deepen understanding. That this can be contained to the classroom, I doubt.

The ability these children have to control the emotional aspects involved in receiving such material when given by teachers not experienced in the field of sexuality teaching can open a great "can of worms." Sexuality training involves all aspects of a person, namely physical, mental, emotional, spiritual and social. The ability to absorb and make use of abstract ideas in the lower grades is also a concern. How all this affects society is still in question. There are studies on giving young children this base material. They show it doesn't work.

Commitment, responsibility, loving union etc. all sound good to us, but how do children of eight relate to those words and ideas? This is for the child's own parents to teach.

Seriously, I fear for our children. Please speak out! If you don't get involved now, you may never have to. Someone else will teach your children for you!

Sincerely concerned,
Geri Murre

Washington County Citizens for Decency through Law are sponsoring the fourth annual contest for high school students writing essays on the "HARMFUL EFFECTS OF PORNOGRAPHY." First prize will be $200 minimum and $340 maximum. Second prize will be $150 minimum and $220 maximum. Third prize will be $100 minimum and $170 maximum.

Students attending the 7 high schools in Washington County are eligible.

Our youth are being bombarded every day with pornographic immoralities, but seldom are they cautioned about the bitter consequences of getting involved with pornography and the philosophy of "free and easy sex" that it promotes and glamorizes.

There is a tremendous need to inform and caution our young people about the harmful effects of obscene material, and that is the purpose of our contest.

Contest rules, application forms and reference material are available in West Bend at the offices in the high schools, Tri-County Office Equipment Co., YMCA and in Kewaskum and Hartford at the public libraries, or by dialing the sponsors at 338-1596.

State Christmas Seal Campaign Is $126,000 Short of Goal

The 1986 Christmas Seal Campaign of the American Lung Association of Wisconsin was 16 percent short of its $795,000 goal on Christmas Eve, the association reported.

Executive Director James E. Pender said that more than $126,000 in post-holiday contributions was still needed to meet rapidly growing demands for Lung Association services.

"At the rate that requests are coming in, this year we'll distribute twice as much literature as we did last year," Pender said.

Last year, the state Lung Association distributed a record 290,000 pieces of literature and provided program services for more than a quarter of a million Wisconsinites.

Pender said that while it's not unusual to reach the campaign goal well after the holidays, he was concerned that some people may think it's too late to include Christmas Seals in their end-of-the-year and early 1987 charitable contributions.

He listed ways that Christmas Seal contributions help state residents:

- $5 teaches a class of 16 kindergartners that clean air and non-smoking are important to their health;

- $10 teaches five expectant mothers that smoking can harm their unborn babies and helps them kick their habit;

- $25 teaches a class of 27 fourth, fifth or sixth graders how to resist marijuana and other drugs;

- $50 helps send a child with asthma to a special summer camp;

- $100 helps a class of 23 fifth or sixth graders say "no" to smoking. Christmas Seal contributions may be mailed to the American Lung Association of Wisconsin at P.O. Box 500, Hudson, WI 54016.

Farmers In Exclusive Agricultural Zoning District Eligible for Farmland Preservation Tax Credits

The recent change of the Town of Kewaskum administration of the town zoning reminds taxpayers that farmers are still eligible for farmland preservation tax credits. Any farm owner in the exclusive Agricultural district is eligible for a credit if the farm is at least 35 acres in size, and produces gross receipts of $6,000.00 or more.

The tax credit, or payment, is claimed against state income tax. To claim the credit, a zoning certificate must be obtained from the Town of Kewaskum Zoning Secretary, Barbara Hinz, 9055 Kettle Moraine Drive, Kewaskum, Wi. The zoning certificate is then attached to the individuals income tax return. If the amount of income taxes owed is less than the credit, a payment is received for the difference.

The amount of tax credit can be calculated in two ways. A formula can be used which compares household income with property taxes, and pays the highest credit when income is low and property tax is high. Or the credit amount can be 10% of the current year's property tax (up to a maximum credit of $600.00 using this method). The method paying the highest credit can be used.

For more information on calculating tax credits and sign-up procedures, contact the zoning secretary at 626-2550.

A beautiful memory of one so dear,
We cherish still with love sincere,
He left us quietly, his thoughts unknown,
But left us with a memory we are proud to own.

Don't Burn Treated Wood

Burning old railroad ties and treated wood products in home or industrial heating furnaces may cause health problems, according to Department of Natural Resources officials.

These materials are normally treated with preservatives such as creosote oils, penta chlorophenol and copper chromium arsenate. When rail ties or treated wood are burned in small heating units, a number of hazardous substances and known carcinogens may be emitted into the air, creating a potential health concern.

"Small industrial and home heating units are not properly designed to burn railroad ties and treated wood products in a safe manner," said Jim Ross, an Air Management Specialist from the Department's Spooner office. "Previous test burns conducted on large industrial boilers have shown that it is possible to burn railroad ties safely under controlled burning conditions," Ross said. Large furnaces that burn under high temperatures under carefully controlled conditions are required to destroy the harmful pollutants.

"We strongly encourage homeowners and small business operators to discontinue burning creosoted ties and treated wood if they are doing so at this time," Ross concluded, "it's simply not worth the risk to human health."

Wisconsin Mapped Lakes Available

MADISON, WI - Ice Fishermen! No more cutting through a foot of ice to find 6 inches of water underneath. An index of over 2500 Wisconsin Mapped Lakes will help many Ice Fishermen enter the charmed circle of experts.

A lake map is actually a hydrographic chart. So what's a hydrographic chart? A hydrographic chart is simply a high-faluting term for a map showing the various depths of a lake along with other information that is so desirable to have for fishing...such as kind of lake bottom (sand, mud, gravel, etc..)

Suppose you want to fish for perch. You know his feeding habits and at what depths and over what kind of bottom he would be. With a Wisconsin Hydrographic Chart you can see at a glance the general contour of the lake bottom and the exact depth of any given place along with the kind and condition of the bottom.

The index is available at no charge by sending a self-addressed, stamped (39c) No. 10 business envelope to: Wisconsin Ice Fishing, Box 5096, Madison, Wisconsin 53705.

Turn your fish into lobster

Tired of fried fish? You can make any soft-finned fish taste like lobster and feed a large group of people in any setting with an old-fashioned fish boil.

The fish boil was brought to Wisconsin by Early American settlers from Scandinavia and has long been popular in the Great Lakes States. It's an easy and very tasty way to prepare a variety of fish.

Fish boils can be held in the home, around a campfire or in the backyard. All that's required to feed six people is an inexpensive Lays Fish Boil Kettle, six medium-sized potatoes (unskinned), six carrots, six onions, one-half cup of salt, drawn butter and, of course, four pounds of fresh fish steaks. Increase proportions accordingly for more people.

Bring five quarts of water to a boil in the pot, then add the salt slowly. Ten minutes after the salt has been added, place the basket containing the potatoes, carrots and onions in the water and boil for 10 minutes. Keep the water at a rolling boil at all times. Now add the fish and boil for 12 to 15 minutes, or until the fish can be flaked easily with a fork. Serve with hot drawn butter ladled over the entire serving. Cole slaw and garlic bread are nice complements.

For more information on fish boils, write Walker Downriggers, 395 S. Pitcher St., Kalamazoo, Mich. 49007.

Indians Drop Another Game at Two Rivers

The Kewaskum Indians traveled to Two Rivers Friday night and came home still seeking their first victory of the season as the Raiders handled them easily, 88-57.

Despite showing some improvement, the Indians were no match for Two Rivers, picked as one of the pre-season favorites, although they have already suffered two defeats. Kewaskum stayed within catching range in the first half but then the Raiders took command outscoring them in the second half, 48-29.

Again it was a case of too many mistakes made by the Indians, who were also guilty of 45 turnovers.

Mike Coulter scored 11 points and had eight rebounds for Kewaskum. He also helped feed the ball to Joel Fleury who had a personal high of 20 points, 11 of them made in the first half.

Four players scored in double figures for the Raiders, with Jeff Herbert taking game honors with 23 points. The others were Doug Szopinski with 14, Jeff Mahan 10 and Preston Amond 10.

The handicapped Indians played without Steve Johnson, who was ill after suffering a sprained ankle earlier in the season, and Bruce Troeller, who has left the team due to a knee problem.

Kewaskum made good on 13 of 27 free throws for 48 percent and hit from the floor on 22 of 56, just under 40 percent.

Kewaskum Girls Downed By Cougars, Two Rivers

The Kewaskum girls lost two fairly close games the past week, being shaded by Campbellsport in a non-conference contest at home Tuesday and then dropping an EW conference affair at Two Rivers Thursday.

Little Sue Welsh, 5-5 junior, sparked Campbellsport in their 59-54 win over the Indians. She scored 20 points, including the first five of the game in the Cougars' first victory of the season. She also had five assists and many rebounds.

Again the Indians had problems getting the ball into the basket. They made good on a mere 22 shots out of 72 attempts for 31 percent. Campbellsport made 19 of 46 shots for 41 percent. Cold shooting has hampered the girls all season.

Behind 30-17 at the intermission, the Indians made a comeback in the second half and narrowed the gap to four points with junior Brenda Theusch, junior Debbie Felix and sophomore Pam Osterbrink leading the way. The Cougars went up again by 10 in the fourth quarter but Kewaskum went to the press, outscored the visitors 13 to 4 and cut the margin to four again. Brenda Vetter soon fouled out and the Cougars iced the victory.

Following Welsh, Kelly O'Brien scored 17 points for the Cougars and had numerous rebounds. Brenda Theusch stood out for the Indians with 17 points, eight assists and seven rebounds while Felix with next with 14.

The JVs eked out a 33-32 win

The loss leaves the Indians with an 0-3 record in conference play and 0-6 overall.

This weekend Kewaskum will participate in the Campbellsport Holiday Tournament, facing Waupun in the opener at 6:30 Friday. The tourney continues through Saturday.

over the Cougars. Debbie Rempel and Debbie Donath had good games for the winners, scoring 12 and 11 points respectively. Jenny Vandergrinten and Jenny Skudiarczyk scored 10 and nine for the Cougars.

It was the other way around in the freshmen game with Campbellsport edging out the Indians, 45-44. Tina Weddig and Sandy Stollenwerk tallied 13 and 12 for Kewaskum.

Kewaskum — J. Schneider 1-0-1; Osterbrink 3-0-1; Vetter 4-4-5; Felix 6-2-4; Hintz 0-0-4; B. Theusch 7-3-4; T. Theusch 0-0-4; L. Schneider 0-1-2; Schmidt 1-0-1. Totals — 22-10-26.

At Two Rivers Thursday, the Raiders kept their domination over the Indians there going but Kewaskum is getting closer, this time coming to within an eight-point margin as they were defeated, 54-46.

Two Rivers won on accurate free-throw shooting, sinking 16 of 24. On the other hand, Kewaskum's shooting from the free throw line was their poorest of the season. They shot a weak 27 percent on only four of 15.

The Indians came within two points at 44-42 in the last quarter but couldn't close the gap, as sophomore Terry Bonino, who was high scorer in the game with 18 points, scored some more and good free throw shooting in the closing minutes iced the win.

The setback drops Kewaskum to 1-2 in conference but the team played well, having only 10 turnovers. Debbie Felix, who has been consistent, led the Indians with 12 points and Jenny Hintz and Brenda Theusch both had 10. Theusch also had seven assists and six rebounds. Lisa Schneider also had a good game.

The JVs lost, 51-34. Cindy and Debbie Donath scored 23 points between them, while Tisha Rohrer had eight rebounds. Down by a bundle in the first half, the freshmen bounced back to lose by just six points, 51-45. Sandy Stollenwerk and Kristi Lubahn scored 12 and eight points.
