Crash Injures Campbellsport Man

Allen Ernst, 19, of 329 Forest Street, Campbellsport, was seriously injured in a two-car crash late Tuesday afternoon in the town of Farmington.

A preliminary Washington County Sheriff's Department report said the accident occurred at 4:30 p.m., at the intersection of East Moraine Drive and Forest View Road, approximately one mile north of St. Michaels.

According to the available information, Ernst was northbound on Forest View when he collided at the intersection with a General Telephone Company van driven by Russell Ryan of 98½ Arndt Street, Fond du Lac.

Ryan, who was traveling east on Moraine, stated he was unable to see the Ernst vehicle because its headlights were unlit. Todd Kirst of 2473 E. Moraine Drive, who arrived on the scene moments after hearing the crash, also stated to authorities that the lights on the Ernst vehicle were not lit and should have been considering the visibility.

The Kewaskum Fire Department and Rescue Squad responded to the call. It took the firefighters approximately a half hour to free Ernst who was pinned in his car. The roof and door of Ernst's 1980 Chevette had to be cut away with the Jaws of Life.

Ernst was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital West Bend. He was transferred to the Milwaukee County Medical Complex at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday evening. A medical complex spokesperson said Ernst was in critical, but stable condition, having sustained a broken pelvis, broken left leg, contusions and abrasions.

A Washington County Sheriff's Department spokesperson stated the accident was still under investigation and no citations had been issued. The report indicated no safety belt was used in Ernst vehicle. The telephone company van was equipped with a shoulder harness.

In another county records, a fire caused $1,000 damage to the Steven Strachota residence at 4043 Hi Mount, Town of Kewaskum. A short circuit in an oven switch was blamed for the fire which occurred about 9:45 a.m., last Wednesday.

The churchmen, the men's choir at Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum, took part in the annual Christmas concert at 9:30 a.m., Sunday, Dec. 13, and for the first time their new red jackets, black cummerbunds, and bow ties were worn. Led by Larry Ammel they presented three Christmas anthems to a capacity crowd.

"Joy" was the theme for the service, which also featured six anthems by the chancel choir, directed by Larry Ammel. The young choir, God's Singing Children, presented two anthems, directed by Shannon McFadden and Jennifer Stelter. Accompanists were organist Sherry McElhatton, pianist Margaret McFadden, and flutist Shannon McFadden. The congregation joined in the music with traditional Christmas carols to begin and end the service. Rev. James Bettin preached on the theme, "Christmas Pointers." Immediately following the services, the choirs hosted an all-church potluck dinner in Peace Church Fellowship Hall.

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTYGOERS WARNED OF NEW DRUNK DRIVING LAW

Immediate License Suspension

New Year's Eve revelers who expect to drive home from parties may want to quit drinking earlier than usual.

The reason is that the state's new administrative suspension law goes into effect at 12:01 a.m., Jan. 1, with an almost immediate license suspension for anyone who blows .10% or more on the Intoxilizer.

Jerry Hancock, assistant legal counsel for the state Department of Transportation, said the administrative suspension law is based on research that found people more afraid of losing their driver's license than they were of high fines or jail terms. "Research also found that penalties are more effective when they're fast and certain," he explained.

"Administrative suspensions are fast, they're sure and they're fair," Hancock said.

Under the new law, the arresting officer will confiscate the driver's license when an Intoxilizer test shows a blood/alcohol concentration (BAC) of .10% or more, which is evidence by itself of intoxicated driving, Hancock said.

The driver is issued a receipt which serves as a driving license for 30 days, then it expires. At that point, the driver's license is suspended automatically for 6 months. "Drivers may request a hearing, but the hearing examiner may consider only limited issues such as if the person is the one arrested, and if the Intoxilizer reading was .10% or more." When the driver goes to court later on the operating while intoxicated charge, the judge will credit the time served under the administrative suspension against the mandatory driver license suspension or revocation. "There is no additional penalty imposed through the administrative suspension process. It will only happen faster than if the person went through the drunk driving trial first," Hancock explained.

"The administrative suspension law is expected to reduce the backlog of court cases, because it eliminates the incentive to delay the judicial process," Hancock explained. "One reason some people delayed their trials is that under the old law, they could keep on driving until the judge found them guilty. It's now in the driver's best interest to go to court as soon as possible," he added.

Drivers who have lost their licenses administratively may petition the circuit or municipal court in their home county for an occupational license. "However, they are required to pay a $40 fee and prove financial responsibility," Hancock said. "This usually means that they have to ask their insurance agent to file the safety responsibility form, which frequently puts them in the high-risk insurance category with substantially higher premiums," he added.

The state DOT each year revokes or suspends about 37,000 drivers who have been convicted of operating while intoxicated. About 95 percent of them were operating with a BAC of .10% or more and would be affected by the administrative suspension law.

Administrative Suspensions - Questions and Answers

Q: How does the administrative suspension process work?

A: An administrative suspension occurs when a driver has been arrested for operating while intoxicated (OWI) and taken for a chemical test for intoxication. If the chemical test reading shows a blood/alcohol concentration (BAC) of .10% or more, the arresting officer confiscates the driver's license and issues a receipt which serves as a license for 30 days. At the end of the 30 days, the receipt

Scholarships Available for Students Who Attend UW-Stevens Point

High School seniors are eligible to compete this winter for about $115,000 in scholarships for use next fall in attending the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

The awards will include $500 to be given automatically to every person who begins classes next summer or fall who will be designated as valedictorians of their high school graduating classes next spring. The recognition of valedictorians has been made by UW-SP for the past two years with $100 grants. There were 10 winners in 1987.

Karen Engelhard said the university faculty is especially interested in attracting the state's finest students and will make efforts to continue increasing this automatic scholarship for valedictorians in the years to come.

Part of the proceeds from the UW-SP annual fund drive will be used to recognize the class leaders.

Most of the other scholarships given to UW-SP students are supported by endowments that have been established as memorials to former faculty, alumni and friends of the university or by businesses and organizations.

Engelhard said that to be considered for the awards, students must rank in the top 10 percent of their high school classes and have been active in organizations in their communities and schools. Those students who apply for admission to the university before Dec. 31 will be invited to compete for a variety of scholarships ranging from $100 to $1,000. Some of the scholarships are eligible for renewal each year a student is on campus.

All told, the UW-SP Foundation administers more than $200,000 in scholarships to new and continuing students. And, in some cases, its staff provides assistance in the distribution of other awards from private sources outside the university.

Home Fitness Hints

Some of you may have received exercise equipment as a gift for Christmas. Here are a few hints on how to have a safe exercise program at home.

If you have received a piece of equipment that can be used aerobically, keep this information in mind. Equipment that can be used aerobically are bicycles, rowing machines, treadmills and climbing machines. Aerobic means with air or oxygen. To have an aerobic workout you should be in your target range for 20 minutes and you should exercise at least three times a week. When you do this your cardiovascular system will become stronger, not to mention other benefits as well. If feeling better, having more energy, releasing stress and tension sound good, keep up your program, do not stop.

There are three major segments in any aerobic workout: aerobic warm-up, aerobic work and warm-down. The aerobic warm-up should gradually increase the pace and warm-up the muscles and heart. In the warm-up your heart rate should reach the lower part of your target heart range. This is your minimal heart rate or 60% of your maximal heart rate.

Now that your body is warm and ready to go to work we will hit the aerobic work. This is the second segment of the workout and it should last for at least 20 minutes. Remember to keep moving and never stop completely or the blood will pool to your legs. Try to keep your heart rate in the target range, anywhere between 60% and 75% of maximal heart rate. Take your heart rate at least two times during the vigorous portion and always listen to your body; if you feel you are working too hard you probably are. If you have any discomfort in the workout see your doctor, especially if you have pains in the chest or numbness in the arms. It is a good idea to consult your doctor before starting any program.

The last part is the warm-down. Here the pace should slow down but never stop. Slow movements such as walking, kneebends, arm-circles will get the heart rate back to normal. Do not forget to add slow stretches at the end. Stretch all the muscles that your have worked and never bounce a stretch. Relax and breath into a stretch, holding it for ten seconds or longer.

Consider the Risks of Drinking and Driving

The holiday season traditionally means parties and celebrations. Unfortunately, it also means that more alcohol and drug-impaired drivers will be on the road, says the Wisconsin Council of Safety.

The risks involved in driving while impaired are substantial. Besides increasing the dangerous possibility of an accident, drinking and driving may lead to arrest and conviction, family and financial problems, loss of job, increased insurance rates, and social stigma.

In recognition of National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week, December 13-19, the Wisconsin Council of Safety offered these tips for safe driving:

* If you plan on driving, limit yourself to one drink or less an hour so your body can eliminate the alcohol. An average drink equals 12 ounces of beer, five ounces of table wine, or 1½ ounces of liquor.

* Finish your last drink at least an hour before you plan to drive.

* Pass up rounds or switch to non-alcoholic drinks.

* Don't drink on an empty stomach. Certain foods, such as cheese, milk, and high protein snacks, can slow the time it takes alcohol to enter your bloodstream.

* Use the "Designated Driver" approach in which the person responsible for driving others home refrains from drinking alcohol. At the next gathering, the responsibility rotates.

* Be honest with yourself. If you don't follow through with your plan to abstain from drinking, don't drive.

The consequences of driving under the influence of alcohol are overwhelming. Next time you are in a social situation, the Wisconsin Council of Safety urges you to make the only safe decision — DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE.

Mrs. Rose is a member of the American Association of University Women and the Leader of a study group of Great Books Foundation for a number of years. She also is a member of a Retired Teachers Group of Washington County.

At the conclusion of this program, 25 and 50 year pins were given to members who achieved this goal.

Of those killed in motor-vehicle accidents, 58 percent are drivers, 24 percent are passengers and 18 percent are non-occupants. NHTSA, 1987

A HOLIDAY MESSAGE FROM THE FIRST LADY

At this time of year when the nation's capital is aglow with holiday lights and the season's spirit of love, peace and goodwill, I'm always reminded of another special kind of love. And that is the way in which Foster Grandparents give so generously to children with special needs. These children include those youngsters who are at risk of losing their lives to drugs and alcohol.

For decades, I have supported the Foster Grandparent Program. I have seen hundreds of "grandparents" working with youngsters in schools, hospitals, juvenile detention centers, shelters for neglected children and homes for the mentally retarded. If there is one place where the holiday spirit truly shines all year, it's in the hearts of these senior volunteers and the relationships with their "grandchildren."

Foster Grandparents often reach children who may seem unreachable. They bring hope and light to youngsters who have known only confusion and loneliness. Yet the volunteers will tell you that they benefit as much as the children. Their service brings them the chance to give and learn and grow as well as a wonderful sense of satisfaction. I have never seen another program where the old and the young benefit so much from one another.

During this holiday season, as we pray for peace and thank God for the gift of love and our precious freedom, let us also open our hearts to children who are threatened by the horrors of substance abuse. At this most appropriate time, I ask every citizen to join in helping our Foster Grandparents touch more young lives at risk. You can help fulfill our dreams that in holiday seasons to come, the faces of all America's children will shine with love and laughter, and their lives will be drug and alcohol free.

Sincerely,
Nancy Reagan

St. Agnes Hospital Acquires Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MPI) Scanner

St. Agnes Hospital officials have announced the acquisition of a Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) scanner, which will begin providing service at the facility January 18, 1988.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging is sophisticated medical technology that produces computerized pictures of the inside of the body which are used to diagnose disease and other medical disorders. It's considered to be one of the most important advances in medical diagnostic technology since the development of the x-ray.

St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac and Mercy Medical Center in Oshkosh have collaborated on the acquisition by sharing the same scanner which will travel between the two hospitals in a mobile van.

Hospital president James J. Sexton said the agreement to share the mobile MRI equipment between St. Agnes and Mercy will make their facilities the first to offer the diagnostic service in the Fox River Valley.

"MRI technology is relatively new, which makes the equipment expensive and subject to change," explained Sexton. "By leasing the mobile unit with Mercy, both hospitals can provide the diagnostic service to their patients without the expense of each facility purchasing their own MRI equipment."

The MRI procedure is unlike x-ray procedures because there is no radiation used during the diagnostic test. Magnetic Resonance Imaging is based on the principle that hydrogen atoms in the body will align themselves in a fixed pattern when subjected to a strong magnetic field.

Scientists picked hydrogen for MRI scanning because of its abundance in the human body and because hydrogen reacts well to the magnetic field created by the scanning equipment. When a radio frequency is aimed at hydrogen atoms, it changes the alignment of their nuclei. When the radio waves are turned off, the hydrogen nuclei realign themselves and send back a small electrical signal to a computer. The computer then translates the signal into an image that can be studied by a radiologist.

Tissues with high water density show up very clearly in MRI scans while some bones which have relatively low water content do not appear. This allows the physician to get a very clear picture of tissues which are surrounded by bone such as the brain and spinal cord. In addition, MRI has been found useful in following the progress of chemotherapy and radiation therapy treatment on cancerous tumors.

Dr. Thomas Antlfinger, radiologist at St. Agnes Hospital, described the medical benefits and safety features of the new MRI scans. "With MRI we will be able to do exams without radiation," Dr. Antlfinger emphasized. "This is very important for all patients of reproductive age. The clarity of the image from the MRI scan will help us confirm disorders of the spinal column, such as a herniated disc. In addition, it will assist us in detecting diseases of the nervous system, such as multiple sclerosis, brain tumors and strokes.

MRI examinations will not replace CAT scans, according to Dr. Antlfinger. Each of the technologies has its own special diagnostic applications. The MRI scanner is very similar in appearance to CAT scanning equipment and so is the procedure that patients go through during the exam. While lying down, the patient is placed into a five foot tunnel, where the magnetic field is generated around the body. The exam is painless and the only sensation the patient may feel is some tightening of the skin and some warming of the teeth. Depending on the procedure, the scan will last about an hour. Cost of the exam varies from $750 to $1,000. Medicare and insurance companies have approved the MRI test as an accepted medical procedure.

The mobile MRI service will be provided by Medic Mobile Service Inc. of New Jersey. The customized, shielded van that will be shared by St. Agnes and Mercy will contain a super inductive magnetic resonance imaging system. The mobile equipment will be located near Division Street on the north side of the hospital.

Construction of a special driveway to locate the mobile technology has been completed, at a cost of approximately $50,000. The driveway is reinforced with fiberglass instead of metal rods because of the magnetic properties of the scanning equipment. The parking area for the MRI van also has to be perfectly level to accommodate the mobile technology.

GTE MTO Inc. to Change Name Jan. 1

GTE MTO Inc. will ring in the new year by changing its name to GTE North, the Company has announced. The change will become effective January 1, 1988.

GTE Corporation's six other domestic telephone companies (most bearing the designation "General Telephone") on the same date will make similar changes in their names. Wisconsin Telephone Company of Wisconsin officially passed from existence in January, 1987, when it merged with six other GTE midwestern and eastern firms to create GTE MTO Inc.

The decision to drop the "General Telephone Company of..." title from each company came after extensive market testing, which found that "GTE" is one of the most recognized corporate names in the country. Transition from GTE MTO Inc. to GTE North results from a desire to more accurately identify the firm with the geographic area in which it has become a major products/services supplier.

"The study showed that the old name was inadequate to describe our business. We are, after all, more than your local telephone company and more than a string of initials," said James D. Blanchard, GTE North, Wisconsin Operations state vice president-general manager, Sun Prairie.

Some 20,000 GTE North personnel, supported by state-of-the-art technology and trained to do most effectively utilize it, currently are in place from Pennsylvania to Nebraska to meet the full range of customers' telecommunications needs, he noted.

Locally, approximately 1800 personnel will serve under the GTE North, Wisconsin Operations designation. The Company now serves almost 350,000 customer lines in 192 Wisconsin exchanges.

DRUNK DRIVING LAW

expires and the six-month suspension begins automatically. The driver has 10 days after the arrest in which to request a review, but the hearing examiner may consider only limited issues. The administrative suspension process is separate from the judicial process. The driver is required to appear in court on the OWI charge, at which time other penalties are imposed upon conviction. The judge will credit the time the driver has served under administrative suspension against the mandatory suspension or revocation of the OWI.

Q: What does the hearing accomplish? Who holds the hearing?

A: The administrative suspension hearings are held by employees of the Division of Motor Vehicles and the Office of the Commissioner of Transportation. The hearings offer an opportunity to correct any procedural errors. The hearing examiners are limited, however, to considering only a few key issues. It is not a trial to determine the guilt or innocence of the person charged. The issues that the hearing examiner will consider are whether the person suspended is the person who was arrested for operating while intoxicated; whether the Intoxillizer reading or blood/urine test results showed a blood/alcohol concentration of .10% or more, whether the person was adequately informed of his/her rights, and whether the officer had probable cause for the arrest.

Q: Is it legal for the Department of Transportation to take away a person's license before they have been convicted of committing an offense?

A: Certainly, it's legal. There are numerous ways in which you can lose your driver's license without going to court. For example, people who refuse the chemical test for who intoxicate lose their licenses for a year under an administrative process without a court conviction. People tend to confuse the administrative suspension process by assuming that it follows the criminal justice model. Instead, it should be compared to the public health model. When a restaurant is found to be serving tainted food, the license is lifted immediately because it poses a threat to public health. When a blood, breath or urine test shows a driver has been operating with a BAC of .10% or more, he or she has proven to be a threat to the safety of others. At that time, the DOT withdraws the license administratively to protect the public safety.

Q: What is the administrative suspension process expected to accomplish?

A: The state Legislature determined that administrative suspensions would make highways safer by deterring drunken driving offenses, and by getting drunk drivers off the road faster. Studies have found that of all the punishments (fines, jail, loss of license), the loss of a driver's license is the one feared most, and that there is a correlation between swiftness of justice and the effectiveness of the penalties. Administrative suspensions are swift, sure and fair because they are applied uniformly to all drivers arrested with a blood/alcohol concentration of .10% or more.

Q: How many drivers does the DOT expect to suspend administratively?

A: Of the approximately 37,000 drivers convicted of operating while intoxicated last year, about 95 percent had a blood/alcohol concentration of .10% or greater. In fact, the average BAC was .17%. Unless drivers take the new law seriously and drink responsibly before driving, the DOT projects it will take action administratively against some 35,000 drivers in 1988.

Q: If a driver is suspended by the DOT for operating with an illegal BAC, what will happen when they go to court?

A: The judicial process for operating while intoxicated charges remains the same as at present, with all applicable penalties. A driver convicted of a first offense of OWI will pay a standard forfeiture of $250, plus the $200 surcharge, $47.50 law enforcement training surcharge, $10 court costs, $25 jail assessment and $1 for court automation, totaling $533.50. In addition, drivers must pay for an alcohol/drug assessment and other fees such as for traffic safety school. There is also a mandatory six-to-nine month license suspension, but the time a driver has served under administrative suspension will be credited against the mandatory suspension.

Q: Will points be assessed when a license is suspended administratively?

A: There will not be demerit points assessed at the time of administrative license suspension, but when the driver goes through court and if he or she is convicted of operating while intoxicated, all penalties are assessed including six demerit points.

Q: What's the difference between an administrative suspension and a suspension ordered by a judge?

A: In the past, drivers did not lose their license until they had appeared in court and the judge had pronounced sentence. Under the administrative suspension process, the suspension occurs automatically, following a test result of .10% or higher blood/alcohol concentration. The 6-month suspension begins 30 days from the date of arrest.

Q: Why does the process wait for 30 days? Why doesn't the suspension begin immediately?

A: The Supreme Court has ruled that administrative suspension are constitutional as long as "due process" is observed. The 30-day wait gives time for the driver to request a review hearing, if he or she desires. The 30-day wait also provides time for the driver to make arrangements for an occupational license, or alternative transportation arrangements.

Q: Can drivers who are under administrative suspension get an occupational license?

A: An occupational license will be available, unless the driver has previous convictions on the record which would preclude it. The driver should petition the circuit or municipal court in the county of residence. If the court approves issuance of an occupational license, the driver will be required to pay a $40 fee and post proof of financial responsibility, which is usually in the form of insurance. Since this requires notification of the driver's insurance company, the driver frequently is placed in the high-risk category with a hefty increase in insurance premiums.

Q: How will administrative suspensions speed up the court process?

A: Since the administrative suspension process is separate from the court action, it is no longer possible for a driver to hang onto his or her license by delaying the court appearance. Now it is in the driver's best interest to get the court appearance over as soon as possible. Without the incentive for delays, there will be fewer such postponements filed, and quicker justice in drunk driving cases.

Q: How will administrative suspensions affect teenagers? Will they lose their licenses for six months if they're caught driving after drinking one or two beers?

A: The administrative suspension law affects only those drivers whose chemical test for intoxication shows a blood/alcohol concentration (BAC) of .10% or more. The "not a drop" law applies to drivers under the age of 19. The penalty is a three-month suspension if an underage driver is apprehended operating with any measurable amount of alcohol in his or her system. If the underage driver is operating with a BAC of .10% or more, the administrative suspension provision applies, as do all other laws pertaining to operating while intoxicated.

Q: Isn't the administrative suspension law pretty tough? Will law enforcement officers be willing to make arrests?

A: The six-month administrative suspension is the same length of suspension that a judge would order for a driver convicted of a first offense of operating while intoxicated. Under administrative suspension, the penalty is merely imposed sooner than the judge could do it. In other words, the punishment is not greater, only faster. Law enforcement officers work hard to enforce laws that will make highway travel safer. That's why they want to get dangerous drunks off the road. The administrative suspension law accomplishes this goal.

There is no proof that eating too much sugar in itself causes diabetes. Overweight seems the largest factor in developing diabetes. It is estimated that your chance of developing diabetes more than doubles for every 20% your body weight is above the recommended level.

This Santa Carries A Calculator and Flies a Balloon

One West Bend Santa Claus carries a calculator and flies a balloon.

Gary Britton, associate professor of mathematics at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County, appeared in civilian dress recently at McLane School, unidentifiable except for his calculator and number of Christmas math problems.

Britton was at the school for the last of three sessions designed to help fourth and fifth graders use calculators more efficiently. For starters, he gave them the ingredients for a mammoth Christmas celebration: 825 dozen cookies, 540 boxes with 48 pieces of candy in each box and 718 bags - each with 31 pieces of candy.

"If you mashed them all together," he asked, "how many pieces would you have, and what would they look like?" "A lot," one boy said before he and the others went to work multiplying and then adding each result into their calculators' memories.

When they finished, they read the mathematical answer; then, turned their calculators upside down to read the word formed by the reversed numbers. The mashing together, they learned, would produce "globs" of Christmas treats.

One boy had worked out his own problem at home, involving combining the weights of two glaciers. "If a man weighed this much, what would he have?" he asked.

Everyone concentrated intensely while calculating the answer: "Big sides."

Turning numbers into words is one of the devices used by Britton to keep his course on calculators interesting. College students and adults have been equally fascinated by the course, which will be offered again this spring as part of the continuing education program at UWWC.

A basic goal of the course is finding answers to problems with the fewest number of key strokes possible.

At McLane's final session, Britton introduced the percent key. He kept the exercise practical by explaining how it could be used to figure a 15 percent tip "when you go out to dinner with your parents."

One calculating student punched a wrong key and lowered the tip for the waitress. He realized the implication of the error. "You could rip her off," he said.

A girl asked why she got an "E" on her calculator instead of a number. The "E," Britton replied, stood for "Error." He watched her repeat her operation and concluded, "You were trying to divide number by zero. The 'E' means: 'Look, don't you know you can't divide a number by zero?'"

"Machines are smarter than we are," a student said. "They're not smarter than you," Britton said, "just faster. You have to tell it what to do."

Britton is among the mathematicians who believe that calculators have a place in the classroom. "It lets students explore ideas without the drudgery of hand calculations," he said.

When concentration flagged, he had another calculator exercise chore his or her own number, went through a series of operations and ended up with the starting number. "Oh, boy, this thing's weird," a boy said, asking Britton how he comes up with his problems.

"Some I just fool around with while eating breakfast," Britton said.

Another student asked what would happen if the starting number was very small. "Try it," Britton said. "That's how new ideas and inventions get started - wondering about things."

After the students left, he talked about how "inquisitive" he found them. "If we can just keep the inquisitiveness there," he added, expressing a hope that calculators' quickness can help.

Britton's parting problem at McLane was about a load of 50,000 toys. Part of the problem involved figuring out the percentage of the load taken up by sleds, train sets and games. The other part meant flipping the calculator over to find out who was in charge of the load.

"Ho, ho, ho," the upside-down number read. A girl read the answer aloud and told Britton, "You forgot something: Merry Christmas."

But Britton hadn't forgotten. A few days later, he was back near McLane, high overhead in a balloon, wearing a red-and-white suit and white whiskers, mixing "globs" of Christmas fun with a few "ho-ho-ho's."

Piloting the "Union Jack" was its owner John Cook, who a year earlier had played Santa while Britton was at the controls. Backing the team up during their landing at Silverbrook School were Britton's wife Jean, Cook's daughter Allison and Don Benvenuto.

WITH THE NEW WHIRLPOOL TIGHTFIST® II GAS FURNACE,

YOU GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR!

With all gas furnaces, part of the energy you pay for goes to heat your house, naturally. But part of it is also wasted out the vent pipe in your roof. In many cases, up to one-third of your energy dollars are wasted in this way. But with the new Whirlpool Tightfist® II gas furnace*, up to 96% of the energy you pay for is actually used to heat your home! Only 4% is wasted. That's real efficiency. And it can make a substantial difference in your fuel bill, too. So why pay for energy you're not getting the use of? Call today and let us help you lower your fuel bill!

Kewaskum Lakes Team Lose Close Game Here

The Thiensville-Mequon Twins eked out a 117-114 win over the Kewaskum Lakes team here Sunday to remain tied with Menomonee Falls in second place with a 3-1 record. It was Kewaskum's third straight close loss and keeps them tied with Oconomowoc in fourth place at 1-3.

The Twins jumped out to a 39-28 first quarter lead, but Kewaskum narrowed it to 62-59 at the half and led 91-88 after three quarters.

The lead seasawed in the fourth quarter as this one went down to the wire. Bill Backhaus' basket with 30 seconds left put Kewaskum ahead 114-113. However Brian Rindfleisch sank two free throws with seven seconds left to put the Twins back in the lead, 115-114. Steve Kreklow slipped and had the ball stolen on Kewaskum's last attempt and Dan Hucke sank two more free throws with one second left to make the final score 117-114.

Hucke hammered in 38 points to lead the Twins in scoring, followed by Dan Doedens with 25 and Rindfleisch with 21. Steve Albinger led Kewaskum with 36 points, while Tim Wagner had 27 and Kreklow 19.

Fishing Licenses, Regulations for '88 Season Available

Fishing licenses and regulations for the 1988 season are now available at Department of Natural Resources offices and the offices of County Clerks throughout the state.

Among the new regulations for next year is one which sets minimum size limits and daily bag limits on walleyes and northern caught in Dane County's Lake Mendota. Walleyes taken from that lake must be at least 15 inches in length and the daily bag limit is three. Northern taken from Mendota have a minimum size limit of 32 inches and a daily bag limit of one fish.

Consult the 1988 Guide to Wisconsin Hook and Line Fishing Regulations for other changes in the regulations for next season.

The cost of an annual resident fishing license next year is $9.10 with a husband and wife resident license available for $15.60. The nonresident annual fishing license sells for $24.10, and there is a 15-day nonresident license available for $15.10, and a four-day nonresident license at $12.10. Two nonresident family licenses sell for $41.60 for an annual license and $25.60 for a 15-day family license. The nonresident family fishing license covers a husband, wife and children 16 and 17 years of age. A daily sport fishing license for residents and nonresidents is available at a cost of $6.10. The Trout Stamp and Great Lakes Salmon and Trout Stamp each cost $3.25.

Resident and nonresident individuals under the age 16-years do not need a license to fish in Wisconsin. Residents, 65-years of age and older, are not required to purchase a fishing license.

Fishing is also included along with small game and gun deer hunting in the Sports License available to residents for $32.60. And, the resident Conservation Patron license costs $100 and includes all hunting and fishing licenses and stamps, except the wild turkey stamp, and grants the holder free vehicle admission to state parks and forests and a one-year subscription to the Wisconsin Natural Resources Magazine.

Anglers are reminded that it is necessary to present their driver's license when purchasing a Wisconsin resident fishing license. For persons who do not drive, a Wisconsin Department of Transportation identification card is available as proof of residency. Or, you can sign a Declaration of Residency form when purchasing a resident license. That declaration will be checked out and if found to be valid, the individual will be issued a DNR identification card good for two years as proof of residency.

If you've weatherized the old castle against the winter winds, you'll want to make certain that the air inside stays as clean and pollutant free as possible. In today's more tightly sealed homes, indoor air pollution can be a serious problem during the winter. Some things you can do to keep indoor air clean and fresh are:

- Make sure appliances, fireplaces, furnaces and wood or coal stoves always get enough air to operate properly.
- Equipment must be correctly vented to the outside to prevent combustion products like smoke, nitrogen dioxide or carbon monoxide from getting into the air you breathe.
- Never try to heat a room with a range.
- Make sure all appliances are clean and properly adjusted.
- Clean the filters of your media or electronic air cleaner so air can circulate and pollution particles can be properly removed.
- Never use unvented kerosene or natural gas space heaters.
- Never use a charcoal or wood grill indoors.
- Keep paints, oven cleaners, bleaches, and solvents tightly closed to prevent harmful vapors from getting into the air.
- Use bathroom and kitchen vent fans to avoid excessive moisture and smoke and grease buildup inside the home.

Sheriffs of five counties in this vicinity are cooperating in an effort to stamp out a modern version of "cattle rustling" which has sprung up during the past week, evidently with the approach of the holidays. Most of the stealing was done in Fond du Lac County, the latest loss being reported by Art. Buss, Town of Auburn, who had a calf stolen out of his barn, located only 200 feet north of the Washington County line, about two miles north of Kewaskum. Louis Tonn, a neighbor, had an entire flock of ducks taken and Frank Grossman, Township of Calumet near the Winnebago County line, had two heifers taken. While trying to load two hogs on the Cy. Buerger farm, also in the Town of Auburn, the thieves were scared away when a neighbor appeared. Similar thefts have been committed in neighboring counties.

A group of carpenters from Milwaukee were at work the past week making repairs at the Chicago & Northwestern depot here. The old platform on the west side of the depot was torn down and a new one was built out of solid, three-inch planks.

A. P. Schaeffer, local station agent for the Chicago & Northwestern railway, last week was awarded a gold medal for continuous membership in the order of railroad telegraphers for 25 years of service.

IRS HELP

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 made sweeping changes to our tax system. It reduced most tax rates and simplified the tax rate structure. The new law affects both individuals and businesses. Publication 920, Explanation of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 for Individuals, explains those changes that apply to individuals. It is available free from Internal Revenue Service offices. Although most of the changes that apply to individuals are explained in detail, the publication does not cover every situation and is not intended as a substitute for the law itself.

To help taxpayers understand and comply with the new laws, The Internal Revenue Service provides over 100 publications on various topics without cost to taxpayers, and offers many taxpayers assistance programs. Most taxpayers should be able to meet the requirements of the tax laws by using information such as tax package instructions, publications, taxpayer education programs, films, and library programs.

Toll-free telephone and walk-in assistance is available to answer questions on taxpayer accounts, IRS procedures, or technical inquiries on tax-related matters. During periods of peak demand for telephone assistance it may be difficult to get through. Generally, early in the morning and later in the week are the best times to call.

Toll-free telephone assistance for deaf taxpayers is available for those who have access to TV/Telephone TTY equipment. Braille materials are available at Regional Libraries for the Blind and Physically Handicapped in conjunction with the Library of Congress.

While the Internal Revenue Service will not prepare tax returns, assistants are available in most IRS offices to help individuals prepare their own returns. Taxpayers will be expected to help themselves to the maximum extent possible. However, they will be provided assistance and, at the same time, provided the opportunity of learning how to research and prepare their own returns.

In many IRS offices a walk-in counter is available to help with inquiries that do not involve preparation of a return, such as receipt of an IRS notice or bill. Taxpayers who wish assistance with their tax returns should bring in their tax packages, Forms W-2 and 1099, and any other information, such as a copy of last year's return, which will enable the IRS to help.

The IRS also has a number of programs designed to educate the public about our nation's voluntary compliance tax system and each citizen's share in it so that the system works as smoothly as possible.

The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program (VITA) provides free tax assistance to elderly, non-English speaking, and handicapped people, and to members of the military. Generally, those who receive these services cannot afford professional tax assistance. After completing IRS training, volunteers provide free help at special locations.

The IRS also provides community outreach tax assistance seminars to groups who need help understanding the tax laws as they apply to members of their profession or group.

Minutes of School Board Meeting

November 9, 1987

President Horner called the meeting to order at 7:06 p.m.

Members present: Perry Ankerson, Clara Trapp, Ruth Schmitt, Ralph Horner, Ron Beimborn, Don Nowak, Ron Theusch.

Members absent: none

President Horner asked if the meeting had been properly called, if all the requirements of the open meeting law had been met and if meeting notices had been properly posted. Superintendent Kleinhans replied, "At some point I think it is going to have to be an appropriate subject for us to discuss about whether or not I can guarantee that all of the requirements of the open meeting law have been met. I can only guarantee that the proper notifications have been done through the newspaper. There are other issues that may be involved that I cannot speak to, but proper notification has been given."

President Horner announced that the meeting would be taped by West Bend Cable TV for broadcast at a later date. The public can call 338-5157 for information on broadcast dates and times. When questioned by Perry Ankerson as to why some meetings are videotaped and some are not, President Horner said that West Bend Cable TV asked him to be allowed to tape the meetings when volunteers are available to do so.

Theusch/Schmitt motion to approve the agenda. Motion passed 7-0.

Student government representation; reports or questions, etc.: none
Audience to visitors; receiving of delegations: none

Schmitt/Ankerson motion to accept the minutes of October 26, 1987 with the following change: Page 4 paragraph 4 to read: President Horner, as representative of the Board, was asked to sign a challenge pledge, (presented by social worker Jackie Schoening), to work toward achieving a drug-free school district. This is part of a U.S. Department of Education program. Motion passed 7-0.

Mrs. Schmitt read a letter submitted to the Policy-Legislation-ByLaw Committee by Jim Kleinhans.

Mrs. Schmitt read policy #2222.2 - Superintendent's Job Description.

Ms. Kleinhans read policy #2200 - Code of Ethics for Administrators.

Mrs. Schmitt announced that the next meeting of the Policy - Legislation - ByLaw Committee will be on Monday, November 30th at the Administration Office. At that meeting discussion will take place regarding alternate Board members at committee meetings as related to policy #8140.1 and policy #8120.

Schmitt/Theusch motion to hire a half-time Gifted and Talented coordinator for the entire school district. Motion passed 7-0.

Perry Ankerson moved that the Board recognize that Mrs. Clara Trapp currently has a conflict of interest in certain matters that have come before the Board and may come before the Board. Motion died due to lack of a second.

Ankerson/Theusch motion that Mrs. Trapp's conflict of interest is in violation of Board policy #8111, the current code of ethics. A considerable amount of discussion followed. Motion failed 1-6 with Mrs. Trapp, Mrs. Schmitt, Mr. Beimborn, Mr. Nowak, Mr. Theusch and Mr. Horner voting no.

Mr. Ankerson informed the Board that Attorney Mike Spector called him at work the afternoon of November 9th. Attorney Spector told Mr. Ankerson that he had permission to be speaking with him. It was Mr. Ankerson's opinion that the removal of an item from the agenda is a violation of Board policy, a violation of the law, and a violation of the First Amendment - the right of free speech.

Mr. Ankerson asked President Horner to publicly state that he had permission to be speaking with Attorney Spector. President Horner replied "certainly." Discussion followed between Mr. Ankerson and Mrs. Schmitt. Mrs. Schmitt stated that her intention in deleting the item in question from the agenda was not to take anyone's rights away, but rather to be able to act on an item when she had the proper amount of information. Mr. Ankerson felt her intention to delete the item from the agenda was so she wouldn't have to address it and that she overstepped her legal bounds. Administrator Kleinhans stated that Robert's Rules of Order says a member may ask to have an agenda item deleted if he himself put that item on the agenda, but that he could not ask to have someone else's item deleted. Mr. Ankerson concluded the discussion by saying he hoped it never happens again and that the only way for the Board to work together is to discuss things.

Schmitt/Trapp motion to approve the payroll and accounts payable in the amount of $379,807.23. Motion passed 7-0.

Mr. Ankerson left the meeting.

Mr. Joe Harlow presented an overview of two proposed new math courses at KHS. Schmitt/Trap motion to approve the course Applications of Mathematics. The motion was then amended to approve both courses: Applications of Mathematics and Simulations in Math. Motion passed 6-0.

Mr. Boehlke presented quotes for snowplowing for the 1987-88 school year. Nowak/Schmitt motion to stay with the four present snowplowers we now have. Motion passed 5-1 with Mr. Horner voting no.

Work will begin Thursday on the hoist in the industrial arts area. Therefore, Mr. Boehlke had nothing to report at this time as to whether the hoist can be repaired or will have to be replaced.

Theusch/Nowak motion to accept the resignation of Mr. Lickel as KMS basketball coach. Motion passed 6-0.

Schmitt/Trapp motion to approve Mr. Paul Winters as 8th grade wrestling coach and Mr. Len Solter as 7th grade wrestling coach. Motion passed 6-0.

Theusch/Schmitt motion to approve Chris Kirchner as assistant high school gymnastics coach. Motion passed 6-0.

District Administrator Kleinhans said there was no recommendation at this time for a freshman boys' basketball coach.

Ms. Kleinhans announced Dave Wietor's resignation as high school guidance counselor.

District Administrator Kleinhans informed the Board about an upcoming WASB employment seminar which will be offered in Green Bay on December 9 and in Madison on December 10, and asked the Board members to contact Jeanne Jacak if they are interested in participating.

Ms. Kleinhans reported that she had contacted Larry Tainter at WBKV to inquire whether the radio station was experiencing difficulty in receiving information from the administration office as was mentioned by Mr. Beimborn at a previous Board meeting. Mr. Tainter stated that he was not aware of any communication problems, however has directed his staff to deal directly with Ms. Kleinhans if a problem arises.

Mrs. Trapp left the meeting.

Schmitt/Beimborn motion to approve the request of Ms. Kleinhans to attend the WASDA Winter Seminar on December 10 and 11. Motion passed 5-0.

Superintendent Kleinhans asked for a volunteer to accompany her to the land transfer hearing scheduled to be held Thursday, December 10 in Madison.

Theusch/Nowak motion that the Board follows the advice of the attorney which is to tender Ms. Kleinhans' request for payment of legal fees regarding the Charles Trapp lawsuit to the District's insurance carrier to obtain the carrier's prompt determination on insurance coverage. Motion passed 5-0.

Nowak/Schmitt motion to adjourn. Motion carried.

Indians Keep Struggling; Lose to New Holstein

The Indian Boy's Basketball team continued to struggle in their attempt to get back on the winning track last Friday, losing to New Holstein 75-60. It was the Indians' fifth straight loss after winning the first two games of the year. They are winless in four conference games.

The Huskies came ready to play as they jumped out to a 10-2 lead right off the start. They made their first five shots and set the tone for the game early. The Huskies continued to roll on their way to a 17-8 first quarter lead. Eric Wenzel provided most of the scoring punch, scoring at will in the middle, at the post position. He came away with 21 points in the first half alone.

The Indians began chipping away at the deficit in the second period. Kewaskum closed to within five at 30-25 with seconds remaining in the half, but the Huskies scored 2 quick buckets before the buzzer to open up a nine point lead at halftime, and switch the momentum of the game back to the New Holstein side.

"That really hurt," Coach Dale Schatz pointed out after the game. "Those two buckets at the end of the half just changed the momentum."

The Huskies stretched their lead to fifteen, at 54-39 at the end of three quarters and used their aggressive full-court pressure defense to coast to the victory in the final period.

"We shot better tonight," Schatz commented. "We were just too timid dribbling the ball up the court against their pressure defense. They caused a lot of turnovers." Kewaskum, in fact, had 19 turnovers to New Holstein's 12.

Wenzel ended up with 35 points, including an incredible 16 of 19 shooting performance from the field. Jim Lautenschlaeger also added 14 points, including 2-three pointers, to pace the Huskies. For the Indians, Ted Anderson led the team with 15 points and 11 rebounds while Joel Fleury added 13 points and Rob Baitinger chipped in 12.

The Indians must now regroup over the Holidays as they take part in a Christmas tournament in Waupun, Dec. 28-29. The tournament includes Campbellsport, which beat the Indians earlier in the year 56-54. Sheboygan Falls, a member with the Indians, in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, Waupun, a member of the Little Ten Conference, and the Indians. Opening night, Monday, Dec. 28th sees the Indians taking on Campbellsport starting at 6:30 p.m.

Indian Girls Lose to New Holstein

By Michele Wiedmeyer

Despite an impressive performance by the Kewaskum girl's basketball team, the Huskies edged out the Indians in the final minutes of a close match. New Holstein, who was selected to win the conference, was challenged by the Indians basket for basket, escaping with a narrow 44-41 victory.

The Indians jumped to an early 10-4 lead in the opening quarter of the game. But tough defense at both ends of the court kept the scoring down, with the Huskies on top at half, 16-15.

With each team scoring 10 points in the third quarter, the game came down to the final eight minutes. New Holstein, led by soph Sherry McNamara, who had 8 of her 20 points in this quarter, gained momentum to widen the gap. Brenda Theusch's three-point effort brought the Indians within range, but the Huskies converted on free throws when the Indians were forced to foul.

Indian Gymnasts Downed By Germantown In Opener

The Kewaskum High School Girl's Gymnastic team opened their season last week with a meet at Germantown. After losing numerous lettermen from last year's team, due to graduation, the younger, inexperienced Indians were over-whelmed by the Warhawks by a score of 89.25 - 75.25.

The Germantown girls more or less dominated the meet, capturing the top places in all events with the exception of one, the balance beam competition, in which Indian freshman Ingrid Ankerson, placed second. Ankerson was a pleasant surprise for Kewaskum as she led her team in every event and ended up with an all-around score of 5.9, also best for Kewaskum.

Leading the Germantown gymnasts was Becky Cusma, who took 1st place in every event and finished with an all-around score of 7.3.

The Germantown J.V. team also dominated the Indian J.V.'s, beating them 91.5 to 61.8. The Warhawk girls captured the top three places in
