Third Generation of Harbeck Family Assumes Ownership

Statesman Changes Hands

Marcie and Bill Harbeck

Dennis and Lana Kuehl

A combined total of almost ninety years in the newspaper business came to an end on Thursday, Dec. 31, when Bill and Marcie Harbeck, owners and publishers of the Kewaskum Statesman, sold the business to their daughter, Lana Kuehl, and her husband, Dennis. The sale became effective January 1, 1988.

Lana is the third generation of the Harbeck family to take over ownership of the Statesman.

Mr. Harbeck, who has been seriously ill the past year is presently assisting with the news writing and some of the other work in his home. Mrs. Harbeck will also continue to take an active part in the business temporarily on a part-time basis.

Bill began his employment in the newspaper business in 1934, and has served as editor since 1951. Three years ago, he celebrated his fiftieth year in the business. Marcie Harbeck joined her husband in the business in 1953. The new owner, Lana Kuehl, grew up in the newspaper business and has actively worked at the office for almost 20 years.

The Kewaskum Statesman was founded by Charles E. Krahn on October 5, 1895 in a small wooden building formerly located on the west side of the Nic. Marx building. In November, 1897 it was moved to a larger building next to Lay Lumber Company, where it remained until it was moved again to the former Schneider building at the intersection of Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue, sometime prior to 1912.

George Schmidt purchased a one-half interest in the paper in April, 1909 and became the sole owner in September, 1910.

In 1917 Don Harbeck, father of Bill, and Art Schaefer purchased the paper. Schaefer died on January 9, 1932 and in May 1933 Don Harbeck became the sole owner.

The office was moved again in 1935 to its present location at 250 Main Street. Upon Don Harbeck's death in 1954 Bill and Marcie purchased the business.

The building was completely remodeled in 1960 and the newspaper was switched from letterpress to offset printing in November 1973. At present the paper's circulation is 2875, over a fourfold increase since the Harbecks took over when the circulation was between 600 and 700 subscribers. Advertising and other business has also grown substantially. Other improvements and additions include the switch from an eight page (with four pages ready-printed outside of the office) full page newspaper to a now average 20-page weekly tabloid in 1959; increasing the Statesman production staff from two to six people; installing two new Compugraphic typesetting machines; adding a number of new features, and changing the paper's nameplate to an appropriate Kettle Moraine

State Forest setting, among others.

Lana and Dennis are the parents of three sons, Andy, 8, Dusty 5 and Ross 11 months. Dennis is employed with Lembezeder Sand & Gravel of Hartland.

The production staff of the Statesman, besides the Harbecks, and the new owner includes Cheryl Kuehl, Gerry Mueller, and Sharon Callaway Roznik, together with several part-time employees.

In the newspaper business, the numbers -30- are used to denote the end of an article. So be it. Where did the time go? We enjoyed it and will greatly miss all our customers and friends who faithfully supported us through the years. May your patronage continue and the best of everything to the new owners.

Races Shape Up For School and Village Boards

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The complexion of the Kewaskum School Board election has changed considerably since last week when it appeared there might be only one declared candidate and two board seats opening.

By Tuesday's 5:00 p.m. deadline, five individuals had taken out papers with four people returning them in time to have their names officially placed on the spring ballot. The four candidates are Perry Ankerson, Neal Weare, Ed Sleger and Derry Amundson.

Ankerson, the incumbent, is seeking his second consecutive term on the board. Weare is a former board member who was defeated in his bid for re-election after serving one term. Sleger, recently retired from a teaching position in the district's high school math department, is one of the two first-time candidates who will be trying to win one of the two posts on the board. Amundson, the fourth candidate, is a newcomer to both the Kewaskum area and school board race. He and his family moved to Kewaskum last April from their home in North Dakota. Amundson is a regional sales representative with a medical supply company.

A fifth person, Mike Korneli, took out papers but failed to return them to the School District Administration Office by the deadline.

Ron Theusch, the second incumbent whose term is expiring, has decided not to seek re-election to the Kewaskum School Board.

In the Kewaskum Village Board race, incumbents Howard Laubenstein, Tom McElhatton and Richard Schmidt have all returned their candidacy papers and will be running for re-election. The three will be challenged by Richard Schlice, a former trustee, who was defeated last year in his bid to retain his post on the village board.

Basic Cable TV Going Up Light Agenda for Village Board

By GERRY MUELLER
 Statesman Staff Writer

As one of the trustees said at the conclusion of Monday night's village board meeting, everything went so fast we could have stayed home and just called in.

The board adjourned after conducting all of its business in approximately fifteen minutes. Items on the agenda included the signing of the 1988 Town of Kewaskum fire contract. Action on the Town of Auburn's contract was tabled since it had not been received by the village.

In other action, bartender licenses for Brian Laubenstein and Donald Ruplinger were approved.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the board that tax collections were down about $50,000 as compared to the same time last year. He noted, however, that percentage-wise, collections were up slightly because the village is required to collect less money this year.

Schmidt also told the board the Public Service Commission's Sanitary Sewer Service Plan for the village is under way. He expects the plan to be ready for review in March. Schmidt said there would be no cost to the village for developing the plan.

Schmidt informed the board that new EPA requirements will make it necessary for the village to test its water quality more frequently, from twice a month to five times a month. That additional testing will add approximately $360 a year to the Water Pollution Control Department's budget.

Schmidt said he had been notified by Star Cablevision that there will be a change in monthly cable TV rates effective February 1st. Basic service will go up from the present $13.95 per month to $16.50. Cinemax will drop from $9.95 to $8.95 per month and the Disney channel will also go down, from $7.95 to $6.95. HBO will remain the same at $9.95.

The board approved the hiring of Mrs. Irene Stradtman to supervise the village's winter recreation program.

Worldwide Teacher/Administration Appreciation Week Jan. 24-30

The 125,000 members of Key Club International have set aside the week of January 24-30, 1988 as Worldwide Teacher/Administration Appreciation Week.

In introducing the program, Douglas I. Madenberg, 17-year-old, Key Club International President from Walt Whitman High School in Huntington Station, New York said, "One of the most valuable experiences in high school today is getting to know the adults with whom we associate daily on a personal level. These people contribute so much to our maturation process that we can't learn in the classroom."

Madenberg also pointed out that the program is unique because it recognizes the educational professionals "worldwide," stating that "The future of the world as we know it rests in the education of today's youth and the values that students learn throughout the world, will play a major role in tomorrow's future."

Throughout the week members of the Key Club of Kewaskum High School will be paying tribute to their teachers and the administrative staff of the school in recognition of the tremendous contributions these adults make toward educating today's high school students - the Leaders of Tomorrow.

Pleads No Contest in Sex Case

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Bonnie L. Zurn, 27, of 802 Memorial Drive, Kewaskum has pleaded no contest to charges of having sexual contact with a minor.

Zurn made the plea to one count of having sexual contact with a fourteen year old boy. The charges stemmed from a closed John Doe hearing in June. The Washington County District Attorney's office originally charged Zurn with two counts of second degree sexual assault.

A criminal complaint said Zurn had sexual contact with the youth at least fifteen times in her home between February and April, 1987.

Zurn, who is free on a $5,000 personal recognizance bond, has been ordered to have no contact with the boy. Sentencing is scheduled for January 25th.

Kewaskum Senior Citizens Attend 4-H Christmas Party

On December 8, the Kewaskum 4-H invited the Senior Citizens to our Christmas party. Each member of the club, brought a can of food and passed it out to the senior citizens. They enjoyed Santa and many games the 4-H played.

On December 20 the Kewaskum 4-H went caroling at the hospital. They went to every floor and sang about 4 - 5 carols on each floor. The patients really enjoyed it. Afterwards the 4-H went out to other family units to hand out the rest of their food items.

Between-Semesters Break Ends Early For Moraine Chorus

The between-semesters break ends Jan. 27 at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County. But the Moraine Chorus has decided it doesn't want to be away from singing that long. As a result, director Peter Ayer found himself with a minor international problem to solve.

The 75 chorus members have agreed to cut their vacation two weeks short and return to regular Monday rehearsals at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Jan. 18.

Semester break for the chorus began following their 19th annual Christmas concert on Dec. 13. The group sang to a standing-room-only crowd. Afterward Ayer said, "I think we just had our best concert in 19 years, and everyone in the chorus did, too."

With the concert over, the seven-week break began. "They didn't want to wait that long," Ayer said, "so we're starting early."

The early start produced a problem: Obtaining music for one number the chorus needs to begin work on for a performance on March 19 at the Donau Schwabenhaus in Milwaukee. That event will bring the chorus together with the Milwaukee Mannerchor, a German men's chorus that Ayer has been directing for three years.

Ayer had run into dead ends looking for the music for "Das Lied der Berge." He asked a member of the Mannerchor to check out music stores during a four-week trip to Europe. In Vienna, Austria, the man found the music and brought back one copy.

One copy wouldn't help. Copyright laws require a chorus to pay for their music rather than duplicating it. So Ayer found the store name on the bottom of the music, got the number from information and placed a phone call to the owner. "He was surprised to hear from me," Ayer said.

The store owner said the music would cost 11 schillings - about $1.30 per copy. The price was high, Ayer said, "but we once paid $1.10 per copy for 'Once in Love with Amy.'"

The deal was struck, and the store owner said he would send off the music by ship. When Ayer asked to have it air mailed, the Austrian balked for a moment. "HE said it was too expensive," Ayer laughed. "But he didn't know how badly I wanted the music."

So the music is on the way; the chorus is coming back early; and, if the bill for "Das Lied der Berge" runs a bit high, Ayer's eager choristers may have an answer for that, too.

The chorus, which never charges admission to its performances, does pay dues to cover its costs. Even before their fall rehearsals ended, the group - over Ayer's protests - had decided it wants to pay more for the privileges of singing. Dues for the entire spring season, if the group prevails, would be $6.

New members are welcome to join the chorus by turning out for the 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. practice on Jan. 18 in the UWWC Union rehearsal room. Members can earn one UW credit for participation in the chorus by enrolling in Music 072. Ayer is an associate professor of music at UWWC.

For more information, contact Ayer at UWWC in West Bend, phone 338-5200.

Realty Company Has New Name

Spectrum Real Estate Inc. of West Bend owned by Bob Coyne, Terri Fredrich and Sandy Evans, recently announced its affiliation with Coldwell Banker Residential Affiliates, Inc. "We will be the same company, only better equipped through the Coldwell Banker national training and marketing programs to give our customers the service they need," according to Sandy Evans.

As part of its affiliation with Coldwell Banker, Spectrum has changed its name to Coldwell Banker/Spectrum Real Estate. New company signs were recently installed.

"The real estate industry has changed significantly in recent years," said Evans. "It's no longer one in which families casually change housing as their needs and income change. We believe it takes a national organization to meet those needs."

More Than 400 Area High School Students Explore Moraine Park

More than 400 students jammed the cafeteria of Moraine Park Technical College's Fond du Lac campus for the seventh annual High School Mini Day on Friday, Dec. 11. More than 50 students participated in the same program at Moraine Park's Beaver Dam and West Bend campuses. The Mini Day was designed to give area high school students the opportunity to explore a typical day's classes and services at Moraine Park.

"We anticipated 300 students," said Bob Knueppel, coordinator of recruitment/placement. "After we ran out of orientation packets, we handed out 100 copies of the morning's class schedule. We still ran out. This was by far the biggest attendance we've ever had."

This year, the Moraine Park Ambassadors, a newly formed group of students selected to represent their area of study, took part in the program. They answered questions and gave tours to the visiting students. Industrial engineering student Mary Mueller, 235 N. Main St., Fond du Lac, talked to students about automated manufacturing. "Many of the students were interested in learning more about the computer integrated manufacturing program," she said. "I was able to answer most of their questions and show them the facilities." Ambassadors Debbie Grider of Fond du Lac and Doris Steffen of St. Cloud, both from the cosmetology program, gave a tour of the cosmetology salon and told the group of more than 40 young women what they could expect from the classes and labs.

There were students at the Mini Day from throughout the Moraine Park VTAE district and they all had different reasons for coming. Tiffany Brackett and Bobbie Worchet, both seniors at Green Lake High School, were there to "check out the careers being offered by Moraine Park." Tiffany was interested in cosmetology and Bobbie wanted to know more about the food science program.

Richard and Becky Schneiter, both seniors, and Tracy and Bobbie Strassburg, a freshman and junior respectively, all from West Bend High School, were there on a class project. Their career instructor had decided that the Mini Day was a good chance to send the students out exploring. "We'll go back to class and report about what we have learned today," said Becky. "We've seen quite a few of the programs already."

Richard plans to attend Moraine Park in the fall of 1988. "I wanted to know more about the restaurant and hotel cookery program," he said. "We've already gone through that area and now we are going on to see the child care center."

Tina Malleh, a senior at Slinger High School, was there to learn more about the administrative assistant-secretarial program. "I've already applied to the program," she said. "I just wanted to take a tour to see what this place was actually like, what a typical day was like." She plans to begin the program in the fall of 1988. "It's been a tradition with my family," she continued. "My aunt attended Moraine Park and she really liked it here. I can also commute back and forth from my home."

Kim Scheel, also a senior at Slinger High School, came to compare Moraine Park's Fond du Lac and West Bend campuses. "I've already been to West Bend," she said, "and I wanted to see what Fond du Lac had to offer."

Classes were not the only thing on these students' minds. A group of five young men from Markesan High School approached Glenn Sanville, manager of student activities, about the football team. "Where's the football team?" they asked. Sanville explained that Moraine Park had a flag football team where the playing was just as spirited as on a tackle football team.

By seeing the classes in action and talking to the people in charge, the students attending the Mini Day were able to find out what Moraine Park was like for themselves. Whether they knew what they were interested in before they came or not, most of them left with a broader understanding of the options available to them.

Dairyland Announces New Alfalfa Release

Dairyland Seed Company recently announced the release of its Magnum III alfalfa variety for 1988. Magnum III is currently at the top of the list of new alfalfa varieties listed in the University of Wisconsin State Summary for 1987. Its yield in University of Wisconsin trials based on the summary is 31 percent higher than Vernal. In addition, Magnum III has also topped the 1985-87 Iowa State Trial at Ames, yielding 21 percent higher than Vernal!

In addition to yield, this variety features resistance to the five major alfalfa diseases. Magnum III features resistance to phytophthora root rot, bacterial wilt, and fusarium wilt as well as moderate resistance to anthracnose and verticillium wilt. In addition, Magnum III features a persistence level similar to Dairyland's Magnum Plus. Magnum Plus has shown exceptional persistence performance in Dairyland's research data over the last five years. Magnum III is the newest release from Dairyland's alfalfa breeding program that generated seven winners in the 16 University of Wisconsin state trials it entered in 1987. Due to exceptional demand, Magnum III has extremely limited availability.

Moraine Park Graduate Placement at Peak Levels

Graduate placement at Moraine Park Technical College is the highest in eight years, according to recently compiled figures for the 1986-87 graduates. Of the graduates responding and available to work, 94.1 percent have found employment within six months of graduation, up a full five percent from last year. Moraine Park's placement figures have not been this high since 1979, when 94.9 percent of the graduates found employment within six months of graduation.

The percentage of graduates finding employment related to their training was also at an eight-year high, amounting to 76 percent of the respondents. This figure is also up a full five percent from last year.

In addition to these high placement rates, Placement Officer Tom Hundertmark points out that many Moraine Park programs had placed their entire graduating class months ago, with the result that a number of current job requests for technically competent employees cannot be filled. "Both the strong labor market and the ability of our graduates to find meaningful jobs quickly suggest the continued importance of technical education in today's highly complex society," said Edward Osborn, Moraine Park's public information manager. "Relevance to local labor market needs is what our school is all about."

Mrs. Rohlinger has worked for Washington County 17 years, serving in a variety of positions providing care and assistance to area residents struggling with mental illness. She was employed as a nurses aide for the former Samaritan Hospital and Home from 1970 through 1974, then transferred to the position of psychiatric aide with the Inpatient Unit of the Washington County Mental Health Center when it opened in 1975. Between 1978 and 1986, she was one of a small number of Mental Health Center staff that pioneered the development of a community support program for chronically mentally ill residents of the county. December 17 meeting, including presentation to her of a plaque and displaying of the agency plaque recording the engraved names of each year's recipient. Speaking on behalf of the CCSA Board, Douglas Johnson, Program Director, thanked Mrs. Rohlinger for her years of loyal service to the county, her concern for others, and her dedication to her work through times of turmoil.

Suicide Prevention

Why? Why is suicide the number two killer of our youth? It affects all cultures, all classes of our society. What can be some leading factors that lead to the discussion to commit suicide? Are there any signs, anything to watch for, that you or I can do to prevent a suicide? These and many more questions can be addressed Monday, Jan. 11th at 7 p.m. in the basement of the Savings & Loan Building, Kewaskum. The Kewaskum JC's will have an open house with speaker Mike Savage from the Washington County Social Services. He has spoken in area schools, churches and community groups. Maybe you or I can help someone before the statistics increase, for suicide is a killer even in this community.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor's Note — The following letter was received from former AFS student Samuel Orlando Ortiz of Bogota, Colombia. It was mailed out Dec. 15 and did not arrive here until this week.

Bogota, Dec. 15/87
Kewaskum Newspaper,
Dear Sir:

Today is a special occasion to write a note in the newspaper of Kewaskum. I can't forget the good times I had there. A few days ago I got a really nice card from a very nice family and I want to send the same thing to all the people in Kewaskum for Christmas day.

Here it is:
"Across the Miles"....
The beauty of autumn is a joy to see, and lovely, too; is the memory of warm times shared in past Novembers...
The mind still sees, the heart remembers.

No need to count the many miles that separate us now because the memories we share will keep us close somehow, and we will be together in a very special way, because our thoughts will keep us close in heart.

I hope that the New Year will be full of good times to everybody in Kewaskum.

Thanks again.

Dear Editor:

In an effort to aid in safe snowmobiling and other winter sports, we would appreciate your printing the following information. The prime target of this letter is snowmobilers. However, anyone who uses snowmobile trails or lakes (fishermen) are secondary for this information.

Due to this year's weather conditions many swamps and lakes remain unsafe. Frost had not hardened the ground and wet areas. Lakes and ponds had not frozen over. The snow cover has acted as an insulator and resulted in delaying the freezing process. Much cold weather is needed to reverse this condition. We suggest you watch the swamps, wet areas and stay off lakes until they are definitely safe. Look for cat tails and high grass with much caution. Proceed only if you know they are frozen.

Snowmobilers may call 334-6061 to check on trails in Washington County. The clubs who mark trails keep up-to-date information on open and closed trails through that number. Trails are closed when temperatures reach above 32 degrees.

We ask that all snowmobilers "stay on marked trails." This is imperative to protecting our landowners who are kind enough to let us cross their land. Please respect their property. There would be no trails without their generosity.

ATV's, both 3 and 4 wheeled vehicles, are not permitted on snowmobile trails. This is a state law. Trespassers will be prosecuted. This entails a fine and possibly court costs. Washington County Association of Snowmobile Clubs will be in constant touch with law enforcement personnel in this regard. Officers will watch troublesome areas and issue tickets.

Safety is of the greatest concern and that means using good common sense. It also means following regulations and the law. Thank you.

Yours truly,
Washington County Association of Snowmobile Clubs
Marlene Dunn,
Secretary-Treasurer

Q. How do I tell when pancakes are ready to turn?

A. The secret is to turn pancakes as soon as they are puffed and just as the bubbles break.

Q. What's the best way to freeze baked pie shells?

A. Freeze them in the pie plate and they will keep for four months. When it's time to thaw them, unwrap and let stand at room temperature or heat in a 350 degree F oven for about six minutes. Unbaked shells can be frozen, too. They keep up to two months; bake immediately after removing from freezer.

Q. Are all desserts high in cholesterol?

A. No. Desserts that have no animal fat nor egg yolks are low in cholesterol. Angel food cake is a good example.

Q. Why do my bar cookies crumble when I cut them?

A. It's best to cool them completely in the pan before cutting. If you still have a problem, the amount of shortening in the recipe may be wrong. With too much shortening, bars are too rich to hold together; with too little, the bars are dry.

Do you have a question? Write Dear Betty Crocker, Box 1113, Dept. Betty, Minneapolis, MN 55440.

Don't Let Winter Driving Emergencies Catch You by Surprise

Winter weather and road conditions can change rapidly for the worse, so drivers need to be especially alert, reminds the Wisconsin Council of Safety. The following tips can help motorists keep out of trouble through the winter months:

* It is a good idea to have an emergency kit in your car at all times. An ideal kit contains a flashlight, blanket, warning flares or reflectors, a scraper with a brush, jumper cables, a bag of sand or kitty litter, a candle and matches.

* A thorough checkup of your car can help you avoid disaster. The brakes, battery, exhaust system, headlights, fluids, tires, wipers and cooling system should be checked by a qualified mechanic.

* Brush all snow off your windshield, windows, mirrors, roof, hood and trunk lid before each trip so your vision will not be blocked. Taillights and headlights should be brushed off so that other motorists can see you.

* Since sunlight creates a dangerous glare off the snow, sunglasses should be worn for daytime driving. A day of exposure to sun and glare without sunglasses can also reduce your ability to see at night.

* If you and your car get stranded, stay with the vehicle; do not wander off and risk frostbite or hypothermia. Run the engine for heat about once every hour (once every half hour in extreme cold). Leave one window cracked open — freezing winds and driving snow can quickly seal a car. Clean an area around the end of the exhaust pipe to prevent carbon monoxide backup. Tie a brightly-colored cloth to your antenna to signal other motorists that you are stranded.

NATIONAL VOLUNTEER BLOOD DONOR MONTH

National Volunteer Blood Donor Month will once again be celebrated in January, 1988. Healthy blood donors are needed more than ever before.

Concern about the safety of blood has affected the voluntary blood donating systems in this country. Our nation's blood supply is in jeopardy because of the fear of contracting AIDS. However, you cannot get AIDS by donating blood. It is safe to give blood and to give it regularly. If we are to meet the urgent medical and surgical requirements of the coming year, an estimated 8 million Americans must donate a total of 14 million units of whole blood and blood components.

Our nation maintains a sophisticated blood storage and distribution system. Every day thousands of Americans undergo surgery, organ transplants, certain cancer treatment and emergency medical care and depend on this system. The success of this system depends on your generosity.

This month honors those who have generously donated their blood. I encourage all who are eligible to contribute to your community's blood supply. Your donation will truly be a gift of life.

ORAL ULCERS

Canker sores of the mouth [aphthous ulcers] are often confused with 'oral herpes', as both are painful and last a week or two. Herpes ulcers are contagious - canker sores are not. Canker sores occur only on 'soft' tissues unsupported by bone, such as the lips, inside cheeks, on the tongue. Herpes ulcers occur on 'hard' tissue, such as the gums and hard palate.

Yarns of Yesteryear Contest Underway for Residents 60 and Over

Wisconsin residents who remember the pleasant pastimes as well as the grim realities and hardships of the "good old days" are invited to enter their reminiscences in the fifteenth annual YARNS OF YESTERYEAR Contest, which began January 1, 1988.

Sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Department of Continuing Education in the Arts, the Wisconsin Regional Writers Association, and NorthWord, Inc., the contest is open to all Wisconsin residents, age 60 and over. Entries may tell of family, friends, or activities of bygone days, or they may be historical stories with a personal slant.

Entries must be postmarked no later than March 1, 1988. Only one manuscript, original and unpublished, may be submitted. It may be typed or neatly handwritten; the word limits are 500 to 1500 words. Since manuscripts will not be returned, contestants are advised to make and keep a personal copy.

Entrants are also asked to prepare a separate cover page listing the title of their manuscript, their name, address (including county), telephone number, age, name and address of their local newspaper, and the number of words in their entry. The contest entry fee is $2.00.

Prizes ranging from $10 to $25 will be awarded the top winners. At the Wisconsin Regional Writers Association Spring Conference in May, memberships in the association and twenty honorable mention certificates will also be awarded. Additional cash awards will be given by NorthWord, Inc. for the best entries in the "Winners' Circle," a special competition for those who have previously won contest prizes. The Maude Becker memorial award of $25 will be given to the oldest contestant submitting an entry.

Judges for the contest will be: Howard Kanetzke, Education Curator, Wisconsin State Historical Society; Elizabeth Durbin, former editor of the Wisconsin Academy Review; Clarice Dunn, free lance writer and first YARNS OF YESTERYEAR Contest Director; Jeri McCormick, co-editor of Heartland journal; and James R. Batt, Wisconsin Educational and Radio Television Networks.

For information on the contest rules and entry procedures, write to Gen Lewis, Director, YARNS Contest, 610 Langon, Room 727, Madison, WI 53703.

For ideas and suggestions as to the types of stories to write, contestants may wish to read selections in WE WERE CHILDREN THEN, the anthologies of previous YARNS OF YESTERYEAR contest entries, available at bookstores and libraries throughout the state.

Sheriff's Dept. 'Send Help' Signs Available

Sheriff Clarence Schwartz reminds residents that the department's popular "Send Help" signs are still available.

These signs have the words "Send Help" printed on a fluorescent orange background. Carried in cars, trucks, and vans, they can be displayed through the windshield if a motorist is stuck or stalled along the highway.

"The signs are particularly useful during snowstorms, as they indicate that a vehicle is occupied, rather than simply abandoned on the side of the road," the Sheriff stated.

The signs are free, and are available at the Sheriff's Department, the Richfield Town Hall, Radio Station WBKV (West Bend) and Radio Station WTKM (Hartford).

"Well," said the boy, "my father has always had the custom of naming his children after the first thing that attracts his attention when he comes out of the teepee after the child is born. I have two brothers named Soaring Eagle and Silver Cloud, and a sister named Running Deer." "That sounds like a good plan," said the Chief, "and what do they call you, my son?" ## Indian Girls Beat Mayville, 44-22, for Consolation Honors in Holiday Tournament

Kewaskum and Mayville lost semifinal games in the Slinger Holiday Tournament on Tuesday, Dec. 29. They faced each other in the consolation game on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. and won by a score of 44-22.

Beaver Dam 43, Kewaskum 40
Kewaskum held 11-5 and 17-12 leads at the end of the first quarter and at halftime, but couldn't hold off Beaver Dam.

"In the first quarter we played as well as we've played all year," commented Kewaskum Coach Milt Dickensen. "The think that turned it around was Beaver Dam's press. That hurt us."

Leading the Indians were Pam Osterbrink and Brenda Theusch, who finished with 13 and eight points, respectively.

Kewaskum 44, Mayville 22
Kewaskum came storming out in the second half to move from a one-point margin at halftime for 44-22 win over Mayville in the consolation game.

Mayville led 6-3 after the first quarter, but Kewaskum outscored the Cardinals 13-9 in the second quarter for 16-15 lead.

"I thought we came out sluggish. It took until the second half and then we got a press to get us going," Kewaskum Coach Milt Dickensen said. "That seemed to help us."

The Indians were led by Pam Osterbrink who scored a game-high 22 points and grabbed 16 rebounds. Mayville was paced by Ann Laufenberg's 10 points and nine rebounds.

Kewaskum, now 5-4, will be at Kiel on Thursday where Dickensen is hoping his girls can start off 1988 with a win. "Kiel's been playing better than in recent years," he said, but the Raiders probably won't have anyone to match up with Osterbrink and Felix.

The Kewaskum JVs finished fourth in the tournament, losing in the opening round to Beaver Dam, 43-24, while dropping a 55-34 decision to the host Owls for consolation honors. Tina Weddig and Sandy Stollenwerk scored eight and six points respectively in the first game while Cindy Donath and Kristi Lubahn scored 10 and eight respectively in the loss to Slinger.

Brigham Offering 'Cross Country Skiing and Orienteering,' Other Phy Ed Courses at UWWC

You've heard of the "hands-on" class? This spring Tom Brigham is offering a "feet-on" physical education course at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County.

The course, entitled "Cross Country Skiing and Orienteering," is scheduled for the first eight weeks of the spring semester. Participants will earn 1 credit in physical education. Classes run from 1 to 3 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Brigham said, "If you can walk, you can cross country ski. That's because the gait corresponds to the gait in walking."

Brigham, associate professor of physical education and athletic director at UWWC, has been teaching skiing at the center since 1970. At first, he taught Alpine or downhill skiing and coached the UWWC ski team, utilizing the campus rope ski tow. In 1976, he added Nordic or cross country skiing.

Ski teams disappeared from campus after the 1978-79 season. Brigham said, "There were so many state safety regulations that the tow is not in use anymore."

During his 12 seasons of cross country, Brigham has learned to cope with the fickle ways of Wisconsin winters. "One of the big variables of the whole course is snow," he said. "I'm at the mercy of Mother Nature."

Too-little-snow is the obvious problem, and twice the course has had to be canceled and fees refunded. But last year's mild winter did not result in a cancellation due to an innovation in the course. "We had to improvise," Brigham said. "What we were able to do was add orienteering - map-and compass-reading. But, primarily, the bulk was still actual skiing."

Too-much-snow can be a problem, too. Brigham said, "One year we had so much snow that when we went out, we had to take extra equipment along in case of any breakage. We were in snow up to our hips to get out of the woods."

Students are expected to provide their own equipment. Nordic skis are longer than Alpine and have freer bindings for foot action, Brigham said.

Class sessions will teach how to maneuver on flat terrain using skating or diagonal strides, move down hill safely while controlling speed and using a variety of turning techniques, ascend hills and select and care for equipment.

A major question in every class is on the relative merits of waxed or waxless skis, Brigham said.

After learning techniques, the class travels to different areas to experience different grades of difficulty, starting with Ridge Run Park, the ski area marked out on UWWC property and to the northern unit of the Kettle Moraine forest.

Classes contain a balance of men and women, and ages range from the teens to sixties. Brigham said, "Students should be in fairly good health. We try to be somewhat careful about gradually building up to a level of intensity."

For those who want conditioning without the snow, Brigham is teaching a second class during the first eight weeks of the semester: weight training, a 1-credit course running from 10 to 11 a.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

For those who want to round out the semester or start classes on April 4 for the last half of the semester, Brigham will be offering two more 1-credit physical education courses: badminton, from 9 to 11 a.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays, and a water safety instructor course, from 3 to 5 p.m., Mondays and Wednesdays.

Rounding out the physical education program for the spring semester is Physical Education 206, personal health, a 3-credit course that meets Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 12 to 12:50 p.m., starting Jan. 27.

For more information on Brigham's courses, or to obtain a free timetable of the 99 spring course offerings, call the UWWC student services office, 338-5201 in West Bend.

Two EW Schools Ranked in AP Poll

The first Associated Press poll of Wisconsin High School basketball teams this season was taken during the holiday recess by sports writers and sports casters.

The strength of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, a conference of mixed Class A and B schools (of which Kewaskum is a member), again became evident when not only one but two members of the conference were choices on the top-rated teams.

In class A Two Rivers (7-0) was ranked seventh and in Class B Chilton (7-1) was rated fourth in the state.

Top ranked teams were: Class A - Madison West (8-0) first, and Green Bay Preble (9-0) second; Class B - Wisconsin Dells, first, and Unity (7-0) second; Class C - Milwaukee Messner (7-1) first, and Williams Bay (7-0), second.

Indian Gymnasts Improve, But Lose to Oshkosh North

The Indian girls gymnastic team showed marked improvement in their meet at Oshkosh North on Tuesday, but they still came upon the short end of a 98.53 - 77.60 score.

Freshman Ingrid Ankeron again had a fine meet, taking a 3rd place ribbon in the all-around competition. The only other Kewaskum gymnast to place in any event was Julie Swenarski who took home fourth place ribbons in both the uneven bars and vault.

Oshkosh North was led by Kari Davis who took 1st place in every event and won the all-around competition with an impressive 8.23 mark.

The Indian JV gymnasts also showed great improvement. Placing for the JV were the following gymnasts: Floor: Lisa Steiner 1st, Angie Schoofs 2nd, Angie Clements 3rd. Beam: Angie Schoofs 1st, Lisa Steiner 2nd, Becky Hammes 3rd. Bar: Wendy Fideler 1st, Paula Wilson 2nd, Nicole Gaffke 3rd.

Indian Boys Fall to Campbellsport, Waupun in Holiday Tournament

The Indian Boys received some harsh holiday greetings from the Campbellsport Cougars in the Waupun holiday basketball tournament held last week. The Cougars destroyed the Indians in the opening game by a score of 77-46.

Kewaskum scored the opening basket of the game to take a 2-0 lead. The Cougars, however, scored the next 21 points in the quarter to jump out to a 21-2 lead at the end of the period. Robbie Walsh led the Cougar attack in the period with nine points.

But the Cougars didn't stop there. They scored the first 10 points of the second period to hold a commanding 31-2 lead midway through the period and coasted to a 42-17 lead at halftime.

Head Coach Dale Schatz became fed up with the lack of intensity and began making wholesale substitutions trying to find players that would work together. At times he even had four juniors and one sophomore on the floor just trying to get some hustle out of his players. "It just got very frustrating," Schatz said later about his team's woes.

Campbellsport just kept pouring it on in the second half, outscoring the Indians in every quarter, to pick up a victory and advance to the finals of the tourney against Sheboygan Falls, which beat Waupun in the other opening round game, 55-48.

Campbellsport was led by Craig Johnson who came on to score 15 points, seven of which came in the fourth quarter. Tom Griesmer and Troy Schill also added 10 points apiece for the Cougars. The Indians were led by Joel Fleury who had 15 points and six rebounds.

Opening round — Campbellsport 77, Kewaskum 46; Sheboygan Falls 55, Waupun 48.

The Indians then faced Waupun, the loser of the other opening round game. Showing much more intensity and hustle, the Indians fared much better, playing a tough game before eventually bowing to the Warriors 70-64.

The two teams slugged it out in the first quarter, trading the lead a few times and basically playing each other even as Waupun led by one, 17-16 after the first period.

They continued to battle it out in the second, both teams scrapping for whatever edge they could get. With the score 29-26, Rob Baitinger picked up his fourth personal foul and received a technical foul when he questioned the referee's eyesight. The Warriors then proceeded to make it a four point play and afterward, added another free throw to hold a 34-26 lead at intermission. Tim Harmsen led the Warriors charge with 12 points in the half while Joel Fleury and Steve Johnson had 10 and 9, respectively, for the Indians.

In the third quarter, the Indians quietly cut the Warrior lead down. Kurt Kapphius single handedly kept his team in the lead scoring eight straight points, allowing the Warriors to hang on to a 47-43 lead after three quarters.

The Indians used their full-court pressure to take the lead in the fourth quarter. Then at crunch time, Waupun started hammering it in to the middle to Joe Ruppert who scored 11 points in the 4th period alone. The Indians just simply ran out of gas, but not without a fight. Noel Stollenwerk and Steve Johnson combined for 15 of their team's 21 points in the final quarter, with Stollenwerk popping in two 3-pointers and Johnson adding another.

Waupun was led by Ruppert and Kapphius who each had 16 points and 6 and 9 rebounds, respectively. The Indians once again were led by Joel Fleury who had 20 points and 9 rebounds, and incidently was named to the all-tourney team, and by Johnson who finished a fine game with 17 points and 7 rebounds. Stollenwerk also added 11, including three pointers.

The Indians will try to start off the new year right, hoping to upend Kiel at Kiel this Friday. Then next week, Jan. 15th the Indians will face Sheboygan Falls at home. The Falcons, by the way, ended up their 1987 with a loss in the championship game at Waupun, falling to Campbellsport in overtime, 61-57.

The Kewaskum JVs ended up fourth, losing to the eventual champion Campbellsport in the first round and dropping a heartbreaker to Waupun for consolation honors after holding a seven point lead in the final quarter.
