Village, County Receive State Grant Fund for 'War on Drugs'

On (Friday) January 15, 1988 Governor Tommy Thompson awarded close to $3 million to various local government units to assist in the fight against drugs in Wisconsin. These "War on Drugs" funds were awarded under the provisions of the Federal Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986 for drug enforcement.

Among those attending the ceremony in the Governor's Conference Room were Washington County Board Chairman Reuben Schmahl and Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz, who accepted the grant on behalf of Washington County. The Sheriff's Department is coordinating the anti-drug work in Washington County. Also participating in the program are West Bend, Kewaskum, Germantown and Slinger Police Departments, and the Washington County District Attorney's Office.

The Washington County program consists of a total of $108,783.00. The federal and State share consists of $82,760.00, with the local agencies contributing another 10%.

Sheriff Schwartz stated that the enforcement work in Washington County will concentrate on the detection and apprehension of drug dealers and traffickers. "It is our goal to eliminate the pipeline by which drugs find their ways into the hands of the users, especially in the middle schools and high schools of Washington County. In time, the supplies of cocaine, marijuana, LSD and other drugs will be cut off, or be so expensive that students will not be able to afford them. This, along with education through the schools, hopefully, will bring the students through their school years without the peer pressure or need for experimentation, and entering life beyond school without a need or dependency of drugs."

Property Taxes Would Drop But Sales Tax Would Be Expanded

Governor's Property Tax Relief Proposal Gets Mixed Reviews

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Governor Thompson's long awaited proposal to reduce local property taxes was met with mixed reviews this week. While his proposal seeks to reduce those taxes up to 20% in the next two years and 30% by the year 1990, several of the recommendations being presented to accomplish that goal are already meeting with stiff opposition.

Thompson's plan would see the state's average share of spending for schools increase to about 57%. To make that plan work, however, means adjustment in other taxing areas. The Governor's proposal includes imposing a 5% 'year-round' sales tax on home heating and electric bills (presently that tax is only paid from May through October). That sales tax would also be expanded to include fuel oil, LP gas and coal which are entirely exempt now. Two of Wisconsin's major utility companies have indicated this increase would mean their customers would pay an additional $10 to $32 a year in taxes.

Thompson is also proposing a reduction in the tax credit for married couples where both husband and wife earn a wage. The Governor's proposal would reduce that credit from 2.5% to 1.5%. In dollars that means the credit would be cut in half, from $450 to $225.

Another item would be to impose the sales tax on sewerage services provided by both public sewerage districts as well as private septic services. It is also being proposed that the sales tax be placed on rent paid on commercial properties. It is anticipated the sales tax increases could generate $135 million for 1988-89, and $205 million in 1989-90.

Thompson's plan would freeze local property tax levies next year with future spending tied to the increases in personal income or the Consumer Price Index.

The Governor's plan also includes a new five-tiered school aid formula designed to equalize spending among the rich and poor school districts. Beginning with the 1989-90 budget year, districts would be guaranteed a basic state payment of $250 per pupil. Added aids would be calculated on local property values, resulting in the poorer the district, the more aids it would receive. School districts spending more than 125% of the per pupil state average would forfeit their state aid.

Thompson's school portion of the plan also includes mandatory school attendance until age 18, expansion of the minority college scholarship program to aid students from Milwaukee, provide $100,000 for the Greater Milwaukee tutoring program, provide $100,000 to the Milwaukee Public School System for creation of 13 new computer centers, and provide $350,000 for minority undergraduate grants in the state vocational system.

The Governor is also proposing revision of the retirement plan for public employes. Workers with at least 30 years of service could retire by age 57. Police and firefighters could retire by age 53.

The Mediation - Arbitration law would be tightened up. Arbitration would be permitted only when a public employer's wage offer was lower than the consumer price increase. This provision would go into effect in 1992.

People in the public and private sector throughout the state have expressed reservations with the feasibility and workability of several items in Thompson's tax relief plan. The business community has already voiced opposition to Thompson's proposal to tax commercial rents because it feels such a move would deter individuals especially those seeking to enter the small business area.

While the Governor's office has given figures showing how the tax cuts would affect property owners, there have been little or no percentage or dollar figures showing how residents would be affected by the proposed expansion of the state sales tax.

Publicly and privately, local governments are beginning to wonder how the state's setting spending procedures and limits will affect the operation of their municipalities. Some legislators feel the state may be taking away some of the controls local governments have in operating their communities.

Wisconsin's tax burden is ninth highest in the United States, for every $1,000 of personal income, $45.69 goes for property taxes. In neighboring states, only Michigan exceeds Wisconsin, running sixth with $48.07 out of every $1,000 of income going for property taxes. Iowa is fourteenth at $42.72 per $1,000, Minnesota nineteenth $37.73/- $1,000, and Illinois twenty-first at $32.62/$1,000. The U.S. average is $33.74 in property tax for every $1,000 in personal income.

Kindergarten Registration

This year's annual "round-up" for the parents of all prospective kindergarten pupils in the Kewaskum School District will be held on Monday, February 8th from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and also 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. to accommodate those unable to come during the day. Registration will again be held on Tuesday, February 9th from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. only.

All registrations will take place in the Farmington, Kewaskum, and Wayne school offices. Please register your child at the school in your area on one of the above days. It is not necessary to bring the child while registering.

To be eligible for enrollment in kindergarten, children must have attained their fifth birthday on or before September 1, 1988. Evidence of date of birth, either a birth certificate or a baptismal certificate, must be brought to the office at the time of enrolling.

Parents of bus pupils will need their section number and fire number as well and also fill out bussing forms.

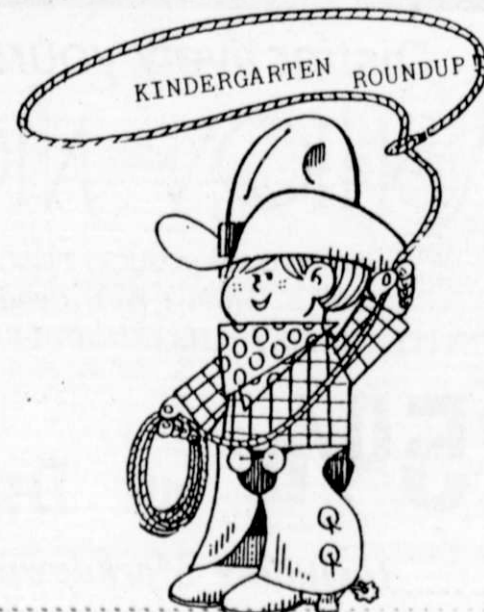

Parents will register their children for next year's term and get the necessary health forms. If you know of any new families in the district, please pass this information on to them.

It is extremely important to register your child on either of these two days so that school may plan for them and know staff requirements for next year.

Calling All Cookie Monsters

This year's Girl Scout Cookie Sale runs from January 28 to February 8. The Girl Scouts will be selling seven different kinds of cookies — some for chocolate lovers, some for peanut butter freaks, even one for people who don't like sweets. So your choice isn't going to be easy.

It might help to know that Thin Mints are our best seller. Scot-Teas, a Girl Scout-style shortbread are another favorite. There's a cookie called Jubilee that's caramel with chocolate stripes. And there's even a cheese cracker named Golden Yangles.

Girl Scout cookies cost $2.00 a box, no matter which kind you choose. You can buy a box of each, and try them all. Or ask your Girl Scout to recommend which kind she likes best.

Girl Scout cookies are made with top-quality ingredients and without preservatives. They're delicious, and they help Girl Scouting in our town.

When you buy a box of Girl Scout Cookies, you're helping a girl spend a week at camp or giving her the chance to feel part of a team. You're helping her learn a new skill, and share the fun! Taking orders and delivering a product helps Girl Scouts develop responsibility. So, when you buy Girl Scout Cookies, you're investing in the future — through a girl, and, you're getting a GREAT box of cookies!

Germantown Receives Loan for Ambulance

State Treasurer Charles P. Smith, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of Public Lands, announced the disbursement of a state trust fund loan of $49,911.00 to the Village of Germantown, Washington County, to purchase an ambulance.

The trust funds were established at statehood and constitute revenues generated from the sale of land grant lands and from penal fines.

The Land Commission consists of the secretary of state, the state treasurer and the attorney general, and invests annually an average of over 24 million in low interest loans to school districts and municipalities for a wide variety of purposes.

state that while only $2.2 million Federal dollars were actually available for law enforcement, a recent survey earlier this year revealed that a minimum of $23 million dollars would be needed to do an adequate job by law enforcement throughout the state. Unfortunately the Office of Justice Assistance only had $2.2 million dollars to divide among the 25 applicants who applied for grants for enforcement, with the priorities being to multi-county jurisdictions forming a drug unit and the second priority being multi-jurisdictions within a county.

According to Schwartz, the Office of Justice Assistance did an excellent job in evaluating the grants and making appropriate cuts in order to fit into the guidelines and parameters of the Federal monies available. It was somewhat like Jesus trying to feed the multitude with five (5) barley loaves and two (2) fishes. Unfortunately the Office of Justice Assistance was not capable of duplicating that miracle. Below is a graph which indicates the distribution by fund categories of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act funds.

Kewaskum School District Receives Staff Development Funds from State

Kewaskum District Administrator Penelope Kleinhans has been notified by the state Department of Public Instruction that the district will receive $1,362.00 to fund a six-hour program of inservice for elementary and middle school level teachers in the conceptual background and techniques needed to develop organized sets of multi-media materials designed to elicit active student involvement in higher level thinking skills and independent learning.

Administered by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, the entitlement is made available under the Education for Economic Security Act (EESA), a federal law designed to provide professional staff development opportunities for mathematics and science teachers. The entitlement will serve approximately 11 public and private school teachers in the Kewaskum School District.

Local district entitlements help teachers update their knowledge and skills in the instruction of mathematics and science by providing opportunities for teachers to attend professional conferences, workshops, and classes; hire science and mathematics educators to come to the district for special projects; and support a variety of other training programs.

Commenting on the program, Julie Backus, project director, said, "The development of these Kids Kits are especially important in providing high motivation and enrichment materials as part of a Gifted and Talented program."

Koth One of 323 UW-Madison Athletes to Record B or Better GPA

Madison, WI — University of Wisconsin Assistant Athletic Director for Student Personnel Services Dr. Diane Johnson reported Jan. 19 that 323 UW-Madison men and women student-athletes recorded a B or Better (3.00) grade point average for their first semester of academic work for the 1987-88 academic year. A total of 1042 men and women student-athletes were registered for their first semester's work.

Dr. Johnson noted that four athletes achieved a straight A (4.00) for the first semester, and 98 student-athletes were named to the Dean's List of their respective colleges.

The straight A's included — James N. Almquist, Fort Atkinson; Jerome C. Ebert, Wauwatosa; and John R. Hill, Grafton, all men's crew, and Robert J. Waite III, Waukesha, men's tennis.

The student athletes making the Dean's List of their respective colleges included one from Kewaskum, Terry L. Koth, in baseball.

Assistant District Attorney Selected

Dennis R. Krueger, 25, who grew up in Kewaskum, has been hired as assistant district attorney, District Attorney David C. Resheske, of Washington County, said.

He started recently at a yearly salary of $26,665, Resheske said. Among Krueger's main duties will be handling juvenile and traffic cases, Resheske said.

Krueger is a December 1987 graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School. He replaces Judith A. Ullrich-Langer, who left Jan. 15 to take a job in a Milwaukee law firm.

Resheske also announced that he promoted J. Dennis Thornton from assistant district attorney to deputy first-assistant, effective Jan. 12, at a yearly salary of $32,760. Thornton is responsible for direct supervision of the two assistant attorneys in addition to his regular work, Resheske said.

UW-Stevens Point Graduates

Students from the Kewaskum area were among nearly 575 undergraduate and 80 master's degree recipients at the recent winter commencement at the University of Wisconsin - Stevens Point.

The graduates were addressed by Daniel Trainer, dean of UW-SP's College of Natural Resources.

Trainer gave graduates his definition of luck, "where preparation meets opportunity," as one that may be especially useful to them as they head, as leaders, into a world of new frontiers with such challenges as a volatile stock market, problems in space exploration, computer utilization and complicated environmental issues ranging from ways of containing nuclear disasters to eliminating acid rain.

Graduates from this area included: Amy L. Beisbier, 529 E. Main, Campbellsport, and William L. Beck, 509 Milwaukee St., Theresa.

The absent-minded professor who had been attending a lecture all the evening, returned home very late and was rather muddled. On entering his bedroom, he thought he heard someone move under the bed. "Who's under there?" he called out.

"No one," replied the burglar. "Funny," replied the professor; "I would have sworn I heard someone there. Good night."

Samaritan Residents Plan Fund-Raiser For American Heart Association

AFTERNOON EXERCISE PROGRAM — Samaritan Home residents Martha Stern, Margaret Schroeder, Evelyn Klein, Eleanor Duenkel, Marcella Gruhle and Olive Guerndt, enjoying group exercise with Jeannette Kreutzer and Dana Borusky, Activity Aides.

Exercise is a well-known element of any healthy heart program. And exercise is not an uncommon thing, even to the residents of the Samaritan Nursing Home of Washington Co.

Each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday residents at the Samaritan gather to do group exercise. The exercise program they are involved in is especially developed for seniors. The exercises are done in a sitting position at a rate fast enough for the residents to gain an aerobic effect, yet slow enough so the residents can follow along. "Any amount of movement is better than not moving at all," states Laura Blanks, one of Samaritan's resident exer-cisers, "...and I feel better since I started."

Mary Thiemer, coordinator of February's Heart Month fund-raiser, said that residents felt learning heart healthy habits and practicing them, should be everyone's concern. That's why residents involved in the weekly news currents group decided helping the American Heart Association raise funds for teaching these healthy habits would be very worthwhile. It would be some way that they could help better the lives of all Americans.

The planned fund-raiser will include a delicious, homemade lunch served in the Samaritan's multi-purpose room on February 11th from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The menu will include a hot turkey sandwich, complete with potato salad, dessert, and a beverage. Donation for the luncheon will be $1.50.

In addition to the luncheon, residents will be on hand to assist with the sale of raffle tickets for the Valentine's Day Give-Away. Prizes for the raffle were donated by Bits 'N' Pieces Floral and the Dairy Queen of West Bend. Cost of raffle tickets will be 50c or 3/$1.00 with the prize drawing to be held in time for the winners to share their prizes with their favorite Valentine on the 14th. All proceeds from the fund-raising lunch and the raffle will be donated to the American Heart Association.

West Bend Savings Reports Good Results

West Bend Savings reported good 1987 results to its annual shareholders meeting held Wednesday afternoon, January 20, at the association's office.

Richard A. Larson, West Bend Savings chairman indicated that the company's reserves were increased by over $440,000 bringing their total to slightly over 5.3% of assets and this reserve total was well above the state and federal requirements. Earnings before taxes for 1987 were $700,254. Larson said this was down slightly but the decreased amount was due entirely to the elimination of the FSLIC secondary reserve by the Federal Home Loan Bank System and some business planning write-downs due to consolidating and eliminating some activities.

West Bend Savings reported record results for its Service Corporation activity and income from its affiliates Citizens Financial, Realty World West Grove Realty, A.C. Larson & Co. Insurance, and Citizens/-Weis.

At the Directors Meeting following the annual shareholders meeting, C.J. Schloemer, Ronald J. Larson, and John E. Kasten were re-elected to the board for three year terms. Pam Gruber, manager of the association's West Washington Street office was appointed to the rank of assistant secretary, and Claire Hochrein, an assistant secretary in the consumer loan department was also named a loan officer.

TOOTH DECAY

Dentist A.I. Ismail and colleagues at U. of Michigan examined how much - and how often - some 3000 people consumed sugar, syrups, sugary desserts and snacks, and sugar-sweetened soft drinks, and found the presence of tooth decay most closely linked to how often sugar-sweetened soft drinks were consumed. The frequency of drinking sugary liquids seemed more damaging to teeth than the total amount consumed. Children should drink more milk - less soda pop.

A two-hour tax clinic will be aired by the Public Broadcasting Service from 2-4 p.m. The show is hosted by retired newsman and best-selling author Edwin Newman.

The tax clinic will be broadcast by WMVS-TV in Milwaukee, WHA-TV in Madison, and on the public broadcasting network in Wisconsin - including WPNE-TV in Green Bay, WHLA-TV in LaCrosse, WHWC-TV in Menomonie/Eau Claire, WLEF-TV in Park Falls, and WHRM-TV in Wausau.

Topics will include changes in deductions, tax brackets, dependent's income - and much more. The program will also feature toll-free telephone assistance in an extra effort to help taxpayers with their questions.

The PBS Tax Clinic - an effort by public broadcasting and the Internal Revenue Service to "make taxes less taxing."

Student Returns to Japanese Homeland

After studying at the Cedar Lake Home Tri-Campus, West Bend, for three months, Michio Sakayori returned to his homeland, Japan, in January.

Sent by the non-profit Japan Senior Citizen Welfare Organization, Michio's assignment was to learn more about the total team philosophy, programming and the spirit of the Tri-Campus.

The Japan Senior Citizen Welfare Organization is studying American health care programs to help Japan develop better programming for its retirement centers. Such centers are a new concept for the Japanese. The Cedar Lake Home Tri-Campus is among the facilities selected by the Japan Senior Citizen Welfare Organization, who send professional staff to observe and learn about well developed, successful programs.

Fire damaged the interior of a house trailer owned by the Earl Lietch family at Johnson's Trailer Court on Hwy. 45, just south of the village on Thursday afternoon causing a loss estimated at $5,500. Kewaskum firemen saved the trailer, but the entire interior, furniture, fixtures and all personal belongings of the family were damaged by fire, smoke or water. There was no one home at the time and the blaze had a good start before it was discovered by another resident of the trailer camp. It is believed by Fire Chief Armin Oppermann that faulty wiring may have caused the blaze as the source of the fire appeared to be centered around light fixtures in the ceiling.

A recent plant of 400 Walleye and 200 Northern Pike in Lake Seven also originated from Rush Lake.

Thieves in this village have again been at work, when last Wednesday night they stole several pounds of fish from a fish peddler, who made his headquarters at the Central Hotel. Considerable work of this kind has been done of late. All possible means should be made to capture the thief or thieves and let the law take care of them and give such punishment as is necessary. Does it mean that this village is coming to be a little Chicago?

Safecrackers did a neat piece of work at Allenton last Friday night, blowing open the safe in Math. Stoffel's store. The work was done so quietly that no one in the village heard the report, and it was not until someone entered the store on Saturday morning that the job was discovered. Two holes had been drilled into the door of the safe, and through these holes some explosive was inserted. In order to muffle the report the cracksmen piled numerous fur coats upon and over the safe, and this answered the purpose well. Papers of value and money were taken.

The design of the new nickel has been accepted by the treasury department to replace the five cent piece that has been in circulation for many years. Within a week the director of the mint will order its coinage and it probably will be in circulation shortly after Feb. 1. On one side of this new coin is the reproduction of the head of an Indian. At the top is the work "Liberty" and at the bottom is the year 1913. On the other side appears the figure of a bison, closely associated with the history of the red man, and the denomination of the coin, "Five Cents." The design is severely simple and is regarded by the treasury officials as one of the most artistic pieces of money ever turned out.

The girls of the local high school have organized an Athletic Association under the supervision of the teachers. Officers were elected as follows: President - Miss Florence McRae; Vice President - Hilda Weddig; Secretary - Adell Calhoun; Treasurer - Lila Petri; Coach - Miss Lilly Schlosser.

The Joint Fire Department held its annual meeting in the village hall last Monday evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Chief, N. J. Mertes; Assistant Chief, F. E. Colvin; Treasurer, Chas. Groeschel; Secretary, John H. Martin.

Deputy Sheriff Wm. Schultz had orders from the Sheriff of this county to serve notices on all places where slot machines were in use. The deputy did his duty on Tuesday, consequently bars and tables in the various saloons are minus these machines.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Simon Strachota of St. Kilian.

1987 Highway Death Toll is 812: Why the Increase?

The 1987 Wisconsin highway death toll was 812, which is 55 deaths, or 7% above the 757 deaths in 1986, according to a preliminary count by the state Department of Transportation.

The increased deaths occurred in county and local roads unaffected by the 65 mph speed limit.

"Actually, the increase at year's end can be traced back to the summer-like driving conditions we enjoyed last winter," according to Maynard G. Stoehr, highway safety coordinator. "At the end of April, our death toll stood at 202, which was 49 ahead of 1986 figures. That bulge stayed with us the rest of the year, although highway deaths from April to December remained virtually constant with the previous year," he explained.

Stoehr said that while troublesome, the 1987 death toll is well within the normal range of fluctuation. "While I do not wish to minimize the tragedy associated with these numbers, the death toll over the past five years has fluctuated from a low of 735 in 1983 to a high 834 in 1984.

"We wish we could see a decline every year, but we know that some year-to-year increases must be expected," he said.

Although excessive speed is known to contribute to the severity of traffic crashes, Stoehr said that the 65 speed limit on rural Interstates cannot be blamed for the increase in 1987 deaths. "There were 25 deaths on the rural interstate system in 1987, seven more than in 1986, but consistent with the normal fluctuation range over the past five years. We had 23 interstate deaths in 1982, 20 in 1983, 25 in 1984, 15 in 1985 and 18 in 1986," he added.

Fatal crashes just on the rural portions where speeds were increased also remained within the normal range, Stoehr said. "We had 10 fatal crashes from June to December after the speed limit was increased, compared to 8 during the same period in 1986, 10 in 1985, 14 in 1984 and 17 in 1983."

Heavier traffic probably contributed to the higher 1987 death toll, Stoehr said. The preliminary estimates are in the 4-5% range, although the actual figure may turn out to be higher.

Analysis of traffic deaths by highway system show that deaths were higher on county and town roads, as well as city streets...while dropping on state trunk highways. There were 28 more deaths on county highways, 39 more on local roads and streets, but 19 fewer on state highways (those carrying state and federal route markers). "We don't know exactly why these changes occurred, but we try to look at three years of data before concluding that something is a trend rather than a normal fluctuation," he added.

Stoehr said that while the highway death toll remains a tragedy of immense proportions, the number of deaths in a given year is not a particularly reliable measure of highway safety programs.

"For example, while there are normally around 150,000 reportable accidents in a year's time, only about .005% of them involve a fatality," Stoehr said. "Therefore, an effective safety program tries to prevent accidents from occurring in the first place, usually through engineering and enforcement efforts. Educational programs address the factors relating to human behavior, such as stressing the importance of safety belts and avoiding excessive use of alcohol and other drugs before driving," he concluded.

The Salvation Army Needs Local Volunteers

The Salvation Army is much more than a source of emergency help to the hungry and homeless in large cities. Through the commitment of caring volunteers, many services of The Salvation Army are brought to the poor, lonely and needy people right here in rural Wisconsin. No one needs to go without food or shelter.

As part of an effort to provide more effective services in the rural communities, The Salvation Army is looking for people to join their vast network of volunteers to help those in need. Ron Czecholinski, Field Representative for The Salvation Army, says, "Our need is for volunteer leaders to use our financial resources to help people needing food, shelter, health care, transportation and other emergency assistance. People are needed with various skills and interests to administer these funds, and also to develop and coordinate projects to meet special needs of people at Christmas and throughout the year. We are looking for people with an interest in serving others."

Last year on a national basis, The Salvation Army assisted over nine million poor, lonely and needy people. In Wisconsin alone, almost 20,000 people were helped in over 400 rural communities through the Service Extension Program. In addition to financial assistance, people have access to other Salvation Army services and programs which include food, gifts, and special dinners at Christmas, camp programs for children, assistance in times of disaster, alcohol and drug rehabilitation, and others.

The outreach to the needy goes beyond material assistance in Salvation Army programs. Czecholinski added, "Because of being part of the Christian Church, our goal is to restore people to productive living by addressing the needs of the whole person: body, mind and spirit."

For further information on Salvation Army programs and volunteer opportunities in your community, please contact Ron Czecholinski at The Salvation Army, 4757 N. 76th Street, Milwaukee, WI 53218, or call toll free 1-800-242-7094.

Guidelines for Farm Family Labor Tax

by Jack Trzebiatowski
 Extension Agriculture Agent

Wages paid to a farmer's family members, spouses and children, are tax deductible if there is a true employer-employee relationship.

Payment must be reasonable in amount. A reasonable wage is what you would pay an unrelated person for the same work. Payments should be periodic - hourly, weekly, monthly, etc. - since it is unlikely that a nonrelated person would work for one or two paychecks per year.

Recordkeeping is vital. The employer may keep the records. Preferably, however, the family employee should keep a timely record of total hours worked. Total hours worked should be submitted periodically to coincide with the established pay period.

Family members must earn their wage. The family member is an employee and must be treated like an employee to establish a deduction on the income tax return. Keeping a record of the hours worked and duties performed helps to substantiate the employee relationship.

Beginning in 1988, wages paid by a self-employed farmer to the farmer's children are not subject to FICA (social security) tax until the child is age 18. However, wages paid by a self-employed farmer to the farmer's children are still not subject to FUTA (unemployment) tax until the child is age 21. Payments to a spouse are not subject to FUTA tax but, beginning in 1988, are subject to FICA tax. If the farm is a corporation, then wages paid to any family member, regardless of age or relationship, are subject to FICA and FUTA tax.

In the area of retirement plans, if you have a self-employed retirement plan (sometimes called a Keogh or H.R. 10 plan), family members who are your employees are eligible to participate in your plan. Generally, any employee who meets the plan's minimum coverage requirements must be included in the plan. Failure to allow any employee, including a family member, to participate can cause you to lose your Keogh contribution deduction.

In recent years, many farmers have set up individual retirement accounts (IRAs). Many farmers have begun compensating their spouses to allow each spouse to set up their own IRA and to take a deduction

After a long and prosperous life, old age had finally caught up to Ole, as he lay helpless on his death bed. As his daughter was tending to him during his last minutes on earth, he noticed a wonderful aroma passing from his kitchen. "What's that wonderful smell, dear?" he asked his daughter. "That's your wife, Lena, baking her wonderful flat bread," she replied. "Do you think you could possibly bring me a small piece to savor in my remaining moments?" Ole asked. "Certainly," she replied, and left for the kitchen. A few moments later when returned, but her hands were empty. "Where is the flat bread, my child?" Ole asked. Dear Editor,

On behalf of the Samaritan Administration, Staff, and Residents, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many kind and caring individuals, churches, schools, businesses, and organizations for making Christmas 1987 a truly joyous occasion for our residents. From the many groups that shared caroling, programs, and special decorations; to those who donated to the Christmas Gift Project with presents or money — your caring and sharing filled our home with all the joys of a very special season. To have so many friends in this and neighboring communities, we feel truly blessed.

We sincerely hope your Christmas was as enjoyable and meaningful as the Christmas you gave to the Samaritan residents. We thank you and your families for sharing with our family.

We appreciate your thoughtfulness and hope your generosity is returned to you. May this spirit of Christmas remain in all of our hearts throughout the year.

Sincerely yours,

Letter to Editor

Since 1980 Wisconsin has been one of the few states in the nation without an obscenity statute. Although a constitutionally sound bill defining obscenity has been introduced in the state legislature in each session since 1981, key legislative opponents have blocked passage.

In the meantime, hardcore commercial pornography has spread throughout the state. Now, a number of concerned individuals and statewide organizations have formed a coalition to work for passage of this session's obscenity bills, SB31 and AB175.

The coalition is frustrated by the fact that the legislature hasn't even been allowed a full floor debate of this issue, in spite of substantial support from a majority of legislators and citizens throughout Wisconsin. Among members of the coalition are the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs, The Wisconsin Chiefs of Police Association, the president of the Green Bay Chamber of Commerce, several county board supervisors, and a number of church groups, including the Wisconsin Catholic Conference and the Knights of Columbus.

Citizens who are concerned about the growing infiltration of hardcore pornography into even Wisconsin's smallest communities are urged to support the coalition's efforts to secure a constitutional and enforceable obscenity statute.

An office has been opened in Madison in donated space. To staff the office we need financial help. We ask for your pledge of support for the coalition by mailing a contribution to help us pass the much needed legislation. Further information can be obtained from the Wisconsin S.O.S. Coalition, 4297 Beltline Hwy., Madison, WI 53711, or call 608-274-3999.

Dear Editor,

I am a concerned citizen who spent five years living in Latin America, two as a Peace Corps Volunteer. Since then I've returned several times to visit and I continue to correspond with numerous Latin friends in Central America and Mexico. I am writing to encourage other concerned citizens to write and/or call Senators Proxmire and Kasten and Congressman Sensenbrenner to urge them to vote against any further aid to the contras who've been fighting the Sandinista government of Nicaragua. This issue will again be before Congress on February 3rd and 4th. Regardless of what anyone thinks of the Sandinista regime, it has become clear that funding the contras is not the way to effect positive change. U.S. aid to the contras has only resulted in more and more death and destruction and has undermined regional efforts to achieve peace. Both houses of the Wisconsin State Legislature overwhelmingly passed a resolution opposing further contra aid. Please urge our representatives in Washington to do likewise.

Senator William Proxmire,
(414) 272-0388.

Senator Robert Kasten, (414)
291-4160.

Address for both: U.S. Senate,
Washington, D.C. 20510.

Congressman Sensenbrenner,

Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

To the Editor:

There continues to be pro and con controversy over merits and demerits of persons to be strapped in a seatbelt while driving or riding in an auto. We hear about accidents in which a life was saved or lost because the person was strapped in the seat. We also hear and know about accidents in which the involved persons were mighty glad they were not wearing a seatbelt.

The main issue here, however, is seriously obscured. It was and is freedom and our constitution of this "republic" of the United States and the conforming constitutions of the "sovereign" states that made this country so great. During debate of the seatbelt law, supporters ignored the beautiful words of "equally free independent and liberty" in our constitution they swore an oath to uphold. "Safety," a word not mentioned anywhere in the constitution was the motivator. Safety is the job of every individual person, not the job of legislators.

For the benefit of all concerned persons who are biased in favor of minding other peoples business and confiscation of our freedoms, I should like to quote the last 17 words of the first paragraph of our Wisconsin constitution, "to secure these rights, government are instituted, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." Notice those last four words, "consent of the governed." The governed is us and the governed were not requested for consent, over this controversial law.

The majority of the legislators simply were yielding to pressure from Big Brother in Washington, without any regard to statement of rights in our constitution. One of several alternative actions must happen for correction. #1, the legislature must willingly repeal this unwanted unconstitutional law in the upcoming session of the legislature Jan. 25 to Mar 26, or #2 the legislators who voted to favor this confiscation of our freedoms, should face a recall movement to include the governor, or #3, the lawmakers shall place a referendum vote before the people on this issue for the upcoming April elections, for consent of the governed. For more information, write to "Seatbelt Freedom of Choice" POB 243 Marshfield, WI 54449.

Sincerely,
Thomas J. Lang

An Open Letter to All State Residents - Farmers And Non-Farmers Alike

Dear Editor:

Concerned farmers are very upset by the lack of action on the Farm Congress Bill (AB 228) by the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Health and Human Services.

This legislation is needed to provide farmers with a forum for presenting their concerns. It will enable them to participate directly in state government.

The argument that the 75 farm organizations which now exist in this state more than represent farm interests, doesn't set well with many farmers. Some of the larger farm organization leaders are opposing the bill without a membership vote. The truth is being kept from farm members. One farm organization out of 75 dominates the membership of the Wisconsin Board on Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection.

State farmers are responsible for a long-term investment in the food chain of approximately $30 billion. State farmers pay property taxes of approximately $400 million a year. This more than justifies a local extension of government to protect our long-term investments in the food chain.

Farming is becoming a high-tech industry and farmers need direct access and involvement in state government to keep up with the many changes as they come along. With the emergence of high-tech farming, we must move with extreme caution. Problems with high-tech farming are already beginning to surface, and we may not have 30 years to pass the buck as in the case of stray voltage.

Experts say keep farmers farming for the bottom line on their income tax form and money-whip them into 'high-tech farming. This is risky. Farmers lose their dignity and self-respect for quality, the environment and animal husbandry.

Changes are coming so fast, in the future there won't be enough paper on which to write the vast amount of laws needed to maintain a healthy food chain. Without a Farm Congress, farmers will have to join consumer, environmental and animal rights groups in order to gain a fair balance on farm practices.

Involving local government in agriculture makes farmers appreciate the rural local governments already in place — school boards, town boards, county boards, Conservation Congress. We need the Farm Congress to bring together the different types of farming and phases of the food chain. This would allow farmers and state government to perform to the best of their knowledge in these fast-changing times.

Today's problems for some farmers are yesterday's problems for others. Let's give senior farmers a chance to perform to the best of their knowledge. A Farm Congress would draw expertise from all agricultural aspects and educate state government on conservation practices, sustainable agriculture, groundwater pollution, stray voltage, animal husbandry, chemical pollution, drug pollution — and the list goes on and on.

As a concerned farmer, I support passage of AB 228. As a farmer with a vision to the future, I can see the positive possibilities for a better, more stable outlook for all agriculture if we become a direct participant in the very governmental process which will shape that future.

I urge everyone — farmers and consumers — to contact Senator Rod Moen, Chair, Agriculture, Health and Human Services Committee, 37 S., State Capitol, Madison, WI 53702, and ask him to move AB 228 out of committee for action on the Senate floor.

Sincerely,

Paul Shaw

Safety Tips for Ice Anglers

Although ice cover on Wisconsin's waters has improved with early January's frigid temperatures, people should still exercise caution before venturing onto frozen lakes and streams, advises Don Bush, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources' fish manager at Neville Station, Rock County.

Breaking through the ice and plunging into cold water presents a life-threatening situation. Bush offers some safety tips for anyone recreating on the ice, especially ice anglers:

1. Without special clothing, your body loses heat 10 times faster in water than it does in air. Most people who fall through ice die from hypothermia (the body's loss of heat) rather than drowning. During the early stages of hypothermia, the body tries to protect internal organs by shutting down the blood supply to the arms and legs, making it difficult for victims to rescue themselves.

2. Hypothermia can still be a factor — even if you don't break through the ice — if you stay out in cold temperatures too long without proper clothing. The most dangerous situations often occur after getting lost on the ice in fog, heavy snowfall or after dark. Always carry a compass with you to help find your way in those situations. There are several models available that clip onto your collar or can be carried in your pocket. A friend of mine who frequently fishes Lake Michigan keeps one in his tackle box. Take a reading before going onto the ice, and if fog, darkness or a storm should set in, take a reading on the path you'll have to take to get back to shore.

3. Drinking alcoholic beverages and smoking increases the blood supply to the body's surface, which may increase your heat loss and cause you to lose your ability to keep warm. Hot coffee, cocoa or soup are better for helping you stay comfortably warm.

4. Small, charcoal-fired pocket hand warmers are easy to carry along and may make your trip easier. A stocking-cap-type ski mask will fit snugly into a pocket and can make the trip back into a cold wind more pleasant.

5. Most everyone who ice fishes carries a plastic bucket to sit on and carry their fish in. Stuff a boat cushion into the bucket. It's definitely more comfortable to sit or kneel on, and you'll have it available as a flotation device if needed. Another item that will fit into your plastic bucket is a 50-foot length of lightweight nylon rope with a large loop tied at each end. It can be used to throw to another angler if you fall through the ice, or can be used by you to help someone who has fallen through the ice. Some anglers also carry a couple of old screw drivers with them to claw their way back onto the ice should they fall through.

6. People often ask how much ice there should be before it's safe to travel on. Remember that new ice is safer than old ice. But where there are areas of open water subject to erosion from river currents or wave action, there is no "safe" ice. Ice that is black, honey-combed or rotten is never safe, no matter how thick it is. Generally ice that is four inches thick is safe for walking, and six inches supports a snowmobile or all-terrain vehicle. Some people say that no ice is safe to drive on, and I won't argue with that. It is simply a risky practice; your auto insurance policy may not cover losses sustained while driving on lake or river ice.

7. If you choose to drive on the ice, don't follow closely behind another car. When parking, distribute the weight by keeping cars up to 300 feet away from one another. If you plan to fish from your car, don't trust your life to it. If your car should get stuck, run out of gas or fail to start, have warm clothing and blankets available and be prepared to walk to shore.

8. Be aware of the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning. Whether you are fishing in a tent or shanty, make sure that all heaters are properly ventilated. If you're fishing from a vehicle, be sure the exhaust system is in good condition and keep a window open. Carbon monoxide poisoning can occur with little warning. Be suspicious if you start feeling fatigued, nauseated or are experiencing headaches.

9. If you should fall through the ice, don't panic. In many cases your clothing will float you for a long enough time to get back up on the ice. Also, many areas of some lakes are shallow enough that you can stand on the bottom while awaiting help. Yell for help, even if you think you can get yourself back onto the ice. Once your clothes are weighted down with water, it may be difficult to get out by yourself. You may also need help getting back to shore.

10. When getting out of a hole you've broken through, distribute your weight over as wide an area as possible. It may be easiest to get your chest onto one side of the hole and lift yourself onto the surface of the ice with your feet on the other side of the hole. Once back on the ice, roll away from the hole as far as you can. If your car starts to break through the ice, remember that most of the time a car will sink slowly enough for you to shut off the engine and get out without getting too wet. Once out of the car, roll away from the hole as quickly as possible. Vehicles will sink engine end first. Always keep a window open or a door ajar to aid in your escape should you have to ride a vehicle to the bottom of the lake.

11. Always yell for help when rescuing another person. Voices carry a long distance over the ice. Even though you may not see anyone else, there may be people in shanties or people on shore who can see you. And remember, when you attempt an ice rescue, you are putting yourself into a high-risk situation. Notifying someone else may improve your chances for survival should you fall into the water too.

A little care and preparation in advance can make ice fishing a rewardable and enjoyable experience. Don't let a lack of preparation or a careless act turn your outing into a tragedy.

Ripon College Men Win & Women Split

In a battle of two of the better teams in the area, the Ripon College Redmen continued their winning ways with an impressive 80-76 win over the Marian College Sabres. The exciting game was played in Fond du Lac, and was every bit as exciting as it was expected to be.

Team leaders for the Redmen were Jay Peters, of Janesville with 24 points-five steals, and Tyrone Kleinmans of Kewaskum, 21 points-10 rebounds.

The Redmen also won easily over Cardinal Stritch College of Milwaukee, 78-57.

The Redmen's season record now stands at 10-3, and they will resume defense of their Midwest Conference Championship in Iowa at Coe College on Friday and at Grinnell College on Saturday. Kewaskum's Kleinmans scored 12 points.

Kleinmans is the son of James and Penelope Kleinmans of Kewaskum and attended Deerfield High School.

The Ripon College women's basketball team opened the 1988 portion of their season with a pair of games on January 14 and 15 in St. Louis, Missouri. A split of the games played in St. Louis left the Redmen at 5-4 for the season.

Against Washington University, the Redmen showed the effects of the four week semester break as they started the trip with a 57-35 loss. Sandy Secor, (Kewaskum), scored six points for Ripon.

The following night the Redmen stormed to a 30-21 halftime lead to defeat Maryville College 66-55.

Secor is the daughter of Gerald and Mary Secor of 1856 Scenic Dr., Kewaskum and attended Kewaskum High School.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Wilbert Kutz who passed away two years ago, Jan. 26, 1986:

A million times we've thought of you.
A million times we've cried.
If love alone would have saved you.

You never would have died.

In life we loved you dearly.
In death we love you still.
In our hearts you hold a place.
No one else can ever fill.

It broke our hearts to lose you.
But you didn't go alone.
For part of us went with you.
The day God called you home.

Sadly missed and loved by his family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Selma Backhaus, who passed away 5 years ago, January 29, 1983:

You gave us years of happiness,
Then came sorrow and tears,
But you left us wonderful memories

We shall treasure throughout the years.

Sadly missed by her family.

Kewaskum Lakes Team Defeated by Oconomowoc Lakers

The Oconomowoc Lakers snowed under the Kewaskum Lakes team behind a massive offensive attack at Oconomowoc Sunday night, 182-136, to retain a share of second place with Thiensville - Mequon. The loss broke Kewaskum's two-game winning streak and dropped them back to fifth place as Menomonee Falls upset Cedarburg.

Kewaskum could not stop Coonys scoring machine as the Lakers outscored them in every quarter, the worst being the 56-31 third quarter. The Lakers led 92-74 at halftime and 148-105 after three quarters. The 318 points scored by the two teams is a season high in the league and probably close to a league record.

Joe Neuberger and Larry Heier combined for 93 points alone for the Lakers, with Neuberger getting 48 and Heier 45. Tim Fredman added 30 and three others were in double figures for the Lakers. Leon Laatsch fired in 49 points for Kewaskum, including six three-point goals, while Bill Gonwa added 25, Tim Rondorf 24 and Tim Wagner 22.

Kewaskum's game at Thiensville - Mequon this Saturday has been postponed because the Twins cannot get the gym. It has been rescheduled for March 20. Kewaskum will host Cedarburg on February 7.

Kewaskum — Laatsch 20, 3-6, 4; Wagner 11, 0-0, 3; Backhaus 7, 0-0, 1; Gonwa 11, 0-0, 3; Rondorf 9, 1-1, 2; Thomas 1, 0-0, 2. Totals 59, 4-7, 15.

Indian Matmen's Win Closes Conference Season

The Kewaskum Indian wrestlers wrapped up their conference dual season by ousting the Two Rivers Raiders, 41-26.

Only eight bouts were scheduled that night, due to a forfeit given to Two Rivers at 119 and three given to Kewaskum at 155, 185, and HWT.

The first five matches flew by with pins all within the second period.

Jeff Sabish had the fastest pin of the evening, :26 over Kou Her.

Scott Gordon of Two Rivers repeated the same process only taking longer to pin Jim Gildersleeve in 1:03.

A second period pin was scored in 3:41 by Bob Castro before beating Dave Freidenberger 7-0.

Steve Kapp lost by fall to a C.J. Weise, a previous opponent he pinned last year.

Winding up the pinning streak, Dan Heisdorf took down Chad Bennin three times before pinning him in 3:02.

Charland battled a bull, losing his match to Jack Jansky 11-2. Charland injured Jansky during last season's dual and put Jansky out for over a month. It was obvious Jansky was hungry for his match.

Chad Schmidt was brought up from the JV squad to wrestle varsity, but was major decisioned by Pat Pardonowsky 11-3.

Another JV wrestler that was brought up was Matt Gruss. Matt wrestled his first varsity win by a superior decision over Randy Reimer 15-2.

The night ended with two forfeits given to Ron Leinen and Dennis Aupperle, setting the team score 41-26. The Indians dual record stands at 5-8-1 with one dual remaining.

Indian Gymnasts Compete In DePere, Chilton Invitationals

The Kewaskum gymnastics team has been doing its share of traveling as of late. On Saturday, Jan. 16th, the Indians traveled to DePere to take part in the DePere Invitational.

This meet featured teams such as D.C. Everest, Neenah, and the host DePere team. Neenah wound up taking first with an impressive 113.912 score. Host DePere came in second with 104.275, followed by Kimberly/Kaukauna.

The Indians placed 8th out of the 10 team field. The girls came in with a 76.587 score. The best performance any Indian could show was on the balance beam, where freshman, Ingrid Ankerson, had a 6.1, good enough for 18th place out of 40 competitors.

With the majority of the teams being in the Class A field, the meet was more a good experience than anything else.

Then, this past Saturday, the Indians went on the road to participate in the Chilton Invitational. This meet would be a true test for the girls, as all of the teams participating were Class B.

The Indians, however, still finished 6th, out of the 8 teams participating, with a score of 80.2. Valders took 1st place in the meet, scoring a 92.3375, while the host Chilton Tigers came in second with 88.4125.

Excellent Indian performances were turned in by Ingrid Ankerson, who placed 7th out of 31 on floor exercise, Julie Swenarski, who came in 8th out of 31 on the beam, Carrie Batzler, who came in 11th out of 30 competitors on the uneven bars, and Ankerson again, this time on vault, where she placed 12th out of 31. Swenarski and Ankerson also placed 10th and 11th, respectively, in the all-around scoring.

Indian Gymnasts Bow to Tough WB West Squad

The Kewaskum Indian gymnasts have been competing against some tough teams mostly from the Class A field, this year. Although they have come up short in the majority of these meets, the girls have held their own against more competitive teams, and these meets will obviously be a good experience for the Indians when regional competition rolls around.

Such was the case last Thursday, at West Bend, where the Indian gymnasts competed against a talented Spartan team. West dominated the meet while rolling up a 98.6125 - 76.9375 victory. The Spartan girls took the top three places in each event.

Leading the way for West was Steffanie Schapfel, who took first all-around. Schapfel placed first in the floor routine, second on vault, and added two fifths, on the uneven bars and balance beam, on her way to an all-around score of 7.4125.

The best placing any Indian gymnast could do was fourth, by Ingrid Ankerson, on the balance beam. Ankerson also added another fourth in the floor exercise.

The Indian J.V.s fared a bit better, but still lost by a 64.85 to 54.1 score. Joy Castro highlighted for the Indians, taking first in the balance beam competition. Also placing for Kewaskum was Wendy Fiedler, who placed second on the uneven bars, and Chris Ramthun and Nicole Gaffke who tied each other for a second on the vault.

Hunter Safety Course Begins

Make hunter education a family affair. Ken Stuart, Bill Prost, Jeff Lindsley and Rick Heisler, Wisconsin DNR Certified Safety Instructors, invite all people interested in hunting and recreational shooting to enroll in a Wisconsin Hunter Education Course. The Course will be held each Wednesday, at 6:30 p.m. at the Sportsman Clubhouse in Elmore, and is sponsored by the Campbellsport Sportsmans Club, assisted by DNR Warden Doug Bilgo. Students must be 12 years old to enroll (or reach 12 prior to fall hunting season). There is no maximum age, and parents are also encouraged to enroll and participate.

Advance registrations are requested. Please contact Ken Stuart at 533-8470, or Bill Prost at 626-4686, or Rick Heisler at 533-4955 or Jeff Lindsley at 533-5110 for details. The course fee is $5.00, and covers all necessary materials. Students must be accompanied by one parent on the first night of the course.

Persons successfully completing the course will receive a distinctive embroidered emblem and a hunter safety graduate certificate. The certificate is valid in lieu of a small game hunting license for one season, and is a lifetime certificate required for hunting in many states and provinces. Young students certified will also be able to hunt and use firearms without parent or guardian presence at age fourteen instead of age sixteen.

Classes will cover responsibilities of hunters, firearms safety in the home and afield, knowledge of firearms and hunting equipment, wildlife identification and management, marksmanship and outdoor skills.

Dr. Anthony Schlaefer of Campbellsport will conduct hunter vision screening tests for all students as a public service.

Free Throws, Press Make Difference in Indian Loss

Chilton's scrappy full-court press, which forced numerous Kewaskum turnovers down the stretch and timely free throw shooting added up to a victory for the Tigers in Chilton, by a score of 73-63.

The Indians, for the most part, played a relatively mistakeless game and handled the Tiger's man-to-man press fairly well. Brief stretches where the Indians got careless, however, led to their downfall.

"Untimely turnovers killed us," head coach Dale Schatz said afterward. "Their constant pressure took its toll on us after a while. We'd keep close and suddenly make a few turnovers and we'd be down by eight or ten points. Then we'd have to fight back all over again."

Free throws also played a big part in the ballgame. Chilton got to the line 34 times and converted 22 of those, while the Indians only attempted 17 free throws, making 12 of those.

"We just haven't been getting to the line enough," Schatz added, "without their free throws, the game would have been tied. A classic example of a game being won at the charity stripe."

The Indians showed good patience against Chilton's zone defense early, jumping out to a 9-5 lead. Chilton, however, scored the last 8 points of the quarter and held a 13-9 lead after one quarter of play. The Tigers continued to play well in the second period as the game's slow pace continued. Chilton tried to force the game's tempo into a fast pace, but the Indians started getting back on defense and forced the Tigers into a halfcourt game. At the intermission, Chilton held on to a 28-22 advantage.

"This was our game plan," Schatz commented. "We felt that if we could hold them in the sixties, we'd have a good chance to win the ballgame."

The Indians came out on fire in the second half, outscoring Chilton 10-4 to tie the game at 32. After a Chilton timeout, the Indians had one of their lapses again against the press and, at the end of the third quarter, the Tigers held on to a 46-40 lead.

Kewaskum drifted away from their game plan in the fourth quarter, however. Both teams began an up-tempo pace that led to 50 points being scored in the fourth period, alone. Unfortunately, Chilton scored 27 of those 50 to stretch their lead and coast to victory. The Indians did have some hope when Tiger standouts, Mark Eisner and Dean Schmitz each collected their fourth fouls. But Chilton head coach, Jim Eisner, switched to a four corners offense to run some time off the clock and the strategy worked, allowing the Tigers to preserve the victory.

Schmitz led Chilton with a game high 26 points, including 11 points in the fourth quarter of which, 7 were free throws. He ended up with 10 of 14 shooting from the line. Eisner also added 17 points to go along with 6 assists for the Tigers.

For the Indians, Rob Baitinger led the way with 17 points, while Steve Johnson contributed 13, 3 for 16 shooting from 3-point range also added to the Indian's woes.

The Indian J.V.'s, behind the strong inside play of Bruce Waechter, who scored 22 points and grabbed 14 rebounds, won in a struggle, by a score of 46-43. Coach Wes Gaedke also noted that Paul Budiak played good defense and used good ball handling to break the Tiger press.

Kewaskum now plays host to the Plymouth Panthers this Friday for Parent's Night. The Panthers are coming off a 74-51 victory over New Holstein last Friday night.

Indian Girls Continue Winning Streak, Beat Falcons, 47-30

by Michele Wiedmeyer

The Indian girl's basketball team advanced their winning streak to four games last Thursday night by defeating the Sheboygan Falls Falcons with a decisive 47-30 victory. The Falcons, whom were previously tied with Kewaskum in the conference, found few opportunities to score due to scrappy defense and good rebounding from the Indians.

The tempo was slow in the first quarter as neither team seemed to be able to break down the other's defense. The Falcon's offensive threat was in senior Keri Mattek, who scored 11 of her total 19 points in this half, including a three-point attempt. But Kewaskum was able to hold a small lead at halftime, 23-17, due in part to Pam Osterbrink inside and a hot hand from Brenda Theusch outside.

Kewaskum dominated the Falcons in the second half, holding them to just a single basket in the third quarter. Guards Brenda Theusch and Jenny Schneider led the scoring drive for Kewaskum in this half that widened the lead to as much as 21 points in the fourth quarter. Theusch led Kewaskum with a total 14 points, while Schneider scored 10.

Other scorers for the Indians included Pam Osterbrink with 10 points and 13 rebounds, and Debbie Felix with 8 points and 8 rebounds.

This victory brings Kewaskum's conference record

The JV team were also victorious with a 34-22 win over the Falcons. Kristi Lubahn led the team with 11 points and 6 steals, while Sandy Stollenwerk, Andrea Fliess and Keri Ramthun all scored 6 points. They go to 2-4 conference, 2-10 overall.

A big 65-35 victory for Coach

Soerens' freshmen team moves them to a 7-3 overall mark. Eleven of his 14 girls scored, among whom were Brenda Falk with 12 and Nicole Doherty with 10.

The Indians will try to get back on the winning track with games this week against Two Rivers and Plymouth at home. In order for the Indians to challenge them, senior center Joel Fleury, shown here going up for a jumper earlier this year against New Holstein, will have to break out of his scoring slump. The Indians need his scoring if they are to be challengers the rest of the year.
