Present Proposal to Construct Two, Sixteen Unit Apartments Plan Commission to Recommend Zoning Change for New Complex

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On a unanimous vote, the Kewaskum Plan Commission agreed, Tuesday night, to recommend that the Village Board approve a zoning change request for approximately 2.5 acres of land east of the Sison Medical Clinic on South Fond du Lac Avenue.

Mr. Lewis Herro of the Herro Company, a land development and management company, has an option to purchase the land from Dr. Cesar Sison for the purpose of constructing an apartment complex on the site.

In appearing before the commission, Herro asked for a zoning change from B-2, General Retail and Service, to R-4, Multi-family Residential. Herro would like to construct a complex consisting of two, sixteen-unit buildings for the elderly and general public.

This is the third proposal for the land to come before the commission. Originally Dr. Sison had proposed to build a complex designed to accommodate the elderly and handicapped which would have included staffing and specially designed living units to assist tenants with their medical and special needs. That plan was dropped when it was determined the plan would be financially unfeasible for the Kewaskum area.

A few months ago the commission was again approached with a second plan, this time from Construction Concepts of Madison. Their plan was to put up one, fifty-unit building for the elderly. Herro told the commission, advertisements of that proposed project failed to attract enough people to entice financial backing. Also, rents would have been very high for an area such as Kewaskum.

Herro said another reason for dropping the second plan was the fact that he and the village had an informal 'gentleman's agreement' that no more than 32 units would be constructed, while Construction Concepts wanted to pursue the fifty-unit building.

Herro said beside the zoning change, he was also looking for some direction from the commission as to where they felt the buildings should be laid out because of the fact that a portion of the land is in the floodplain. "We don't want to draw up plans and then be told they have to be revised. I've gone through that and I don't want to go through that again," noted Herro, "right now time is of the essence. We're looking for your input so we can draw up the plans the way you want them the first time." Village Administrator Dan Schmidt said the village would provide the necessary information such as distances from lot lines, etc.

Herro said his plans call for each apartment unit to have approximately 750 square feet of living space, with two bedrooms, a stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, garbage disposal and air conditioning. "We're

Bike/Car Collision

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

A seven-year-old Kewaskum boy sustained minor injuries as the result of his collision Monday afternoon with a car on First Street.

According to the Kewaskum Police Department's report, the accident occurred at 3:44 p.m., as the youngster rode his bike down a driveway into the path of an oncoming westbound car.

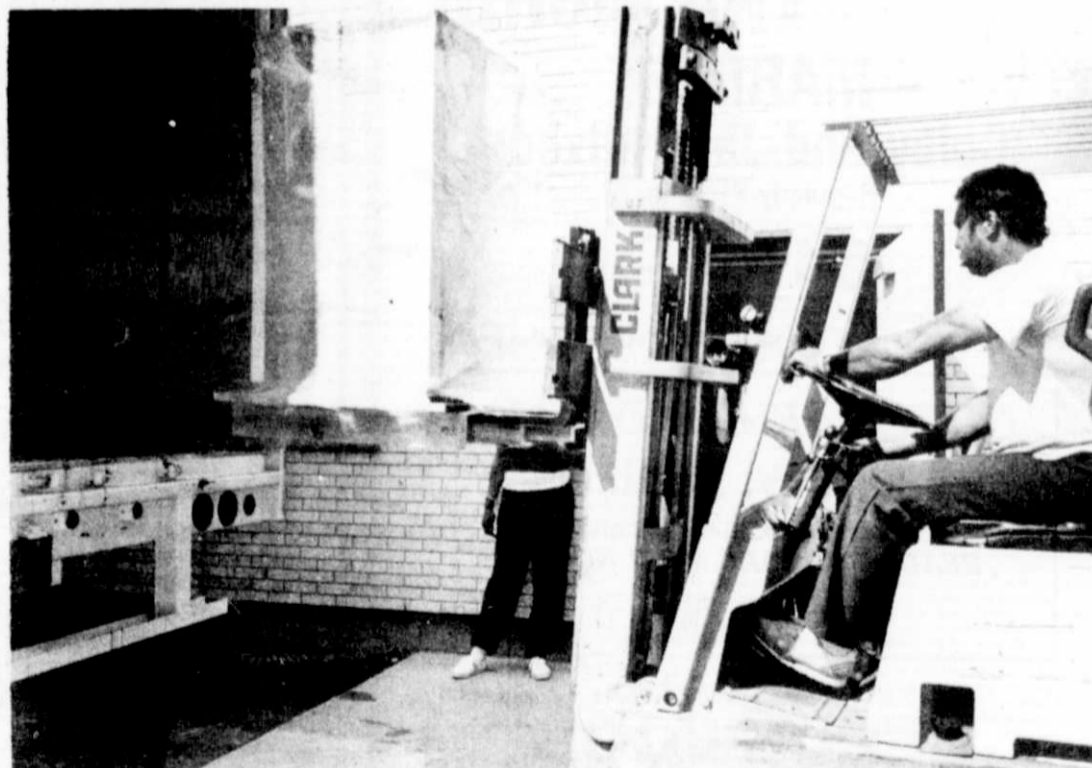

The driver of the car said she did not see the young cyclist as he came out of a driveway between some parked cars. The boy's mother said her son had slowed down as he came down the driveway to the road, however, because of the parked cars, his view was obstructed and he did not see the oncoming car.

The boy was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, where he was treated for a large cut below the knee, which required about 30 stitches, and some bumps and bruises. The youth's mother said there was no concussion or other serious injuries. He returned home from the hospital a short time later.

No citations were issued.

Buffy's, Sentry, Shefond to Sell State Lottery Tickets Sept. 14

Tickets for the Wisconsin Lottery's first instant game arrived at Madison and Milwaukee warehouses on August 15. From there they will be distributed to thousands of retailers across the state who attended ticket sales training last week in 15 Wisconsin cities.

A total of 55 retailers in Washington County will sell the state lottery tickets. Locally they will be available at Buffy's Village Inn, Sentry Foods and Shefond Mobil Mart. The expected starting date is Wednesday, Sept. 14.

Janine Thull Serving As Director of Semester at Sea

Janine Thull, former Kewaskum native, will be serving as resident director for the fall semester on board the ship, the S.S. Universe with a unique program sponsored through the University of Pittsburgh.

500 students study on board a cruise ship for 100 days as it sails "around the world," spending 50 days at sea and 50 days in ports such as Kobe, Japan; Keelung, Taiwan; Hong Kong; Penang, Malaysia; Madras, India; Suez Canal; Odessa, Russia; Istanbul, Turkey; Split, Yugoslavia; and Cadiz, Spain. Departure will be September 14 from Vancouver, British Columbia, and the ship will return to Port Everglades, Florida on December 23; just in time for the Christmas holidays.

The Semester at Sea experience is designed to foster individual growth, develop an awareness of some of the important elements of interdependence required for existence in the world today, and through first-hand observation develop some understanding of global issues and problems. The ship will include 40 faculty and staff members, 100 crew members, and 50 adult passengers.

Janine is a 1976 graduate of Kewaskum High School. In 1980 she received a bachelor of arts degree in sociology and behavioral science from Lakeland College, and a master of arts degree in College Student Personnel from Michigan State University in 1984. She is currently employed by St. John's University (Collegeville) and the College of St. Benedict (St. Joseph) in central Minnesota.

Janine is the daughter of Marilyn Thull, St. Michaels, and the late Norbert Thull.

News In Brief...

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On recommendations by Governor Tommy Thompson and the Department of Transportation, the completion date for the final two lanes of the Highway 45 bypass has been moved up.

Originally scheduled for completion during 1990-91, the project was moved up into the 1989-90 schedule. According to State Representative Mary Panzer, bids could be let this fall with actual construction completed by the end of 1989.

The Department of Natural Resources will hold an open forum on Wednesday, September 7th, at the Erin Town Hall on a plan to establish a new unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest. The project involves 594 acres of DNR owned land which surrounds Loew's Lake.

The public is invited to attend the meeting which will run from 2:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. The DNR is seeking public input to help develop a master plan for the land.

A six-person Ozaukee County Circuit Court jury has ruled that the Town of Farmington must pay $25,480 toward the $47,626 spent by the Town of Fredonia to build a new bridge across the north branch of the Milwaukee River. The bridge extends into both townships.

Farmington contested that an 1850 agreement between the two municipalities says Fredonia should build and pay for the bridge. Attorneys for Farmington say they will seek a motion to set aside the verdict on the grounds the facts and law do not justify that verdict.

Holy Trinity Parish to Host Archdiocesan Hearings For Suggested Revisions of Bishop's Pastoral Letter

MILWAUKEE — The Archdiocesan Women's Commission announces that hearings for suggested revisions of the first draft of the U.S. Catholic Bishops' pastoral letter, PARTNERS IN THE MYSTERY OF REDEMPTION: A PASTORAL RESPONSE TO WOMEN'S CONCERNS FOR CHURCH AND SOCIETY, will be held at seven sites throughout the diocese during September.

The pastoral was developed after consultation with 75,000 women throughout the country. Bishop Joseph L. Imesch, in presenting the first draft to his fellow bishops at their June meeting in Collegeville, MN, explained, "In previous pastoral letters, the testimony of experts in warfare, politics and economy was sought. In this letter the testimony of women was sought because they are the experts about their own lives."

The document was issued for the entire U.S. Catholic community with a request that dioceses provide opportunities for women and men to express their opinions concerning additions, deletions, and/or areas in need of strengthening.

Catholics in WASHINGTON COUNTY are invited to a hearing at: Holy Trinity Parish, Kewaskum on Saturday, Sept. 17 from 9 to noon or Cousins Catholic Center, 3501 S. Lake Dr., Milwaukee, 7-10 p.m.

Historical background and an overview of the content of the pastoral will be presented at the hearings. Participants are asked to read the pastoral before the hearings and to bring it to the hearings. Copies are available from the Women's Commission, P.O. Box 2018, Milwaukee, WI 53201. Speakers on the Women's Concerns Pastoral for parish or organization meetings may be obtained through the Commission, 769-3540.

As requested by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, a report of the hearings will be sent to the pastoral drafting committee for consideration in the final draft.

In the words of the pastoral: "With this kind of cooperation, the Church will certainly go forward in its mission to enable women and men to be partners in the mystery of redemption."

Free Arthritis Classes Set At St. Joseph's Hospital

A series of five, free arthritis self-help classes will be offered at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, 551 Silverbrook, West Bend. The series will begin Monday, September 12 and continue on September 19, 26, October 3, 10, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

The series of five classes is co-sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital and the Arthritis Foundation, Wisconsin Chapter.

To register, individuals are asked to call the self-help coordinator at the Arthritis Foundation, Wisconsin Chapter, 1-800-242-9945.

The purpose of the self-help series is to provide an awareness and understanding of arthritis and improve an individual's ability to have better personal decisions regarding the management of their disease. Class participants will learn in general terms about the medical, physical and psychological methods available for the treatment of arthritis.

On September 12, Dr. Looze will discuss the background of the disease and medications.

Dr. O'Meara will discuss surgical procedures and prosthetic devices at the second session, September 19.

September 26 will feature Barb Shier discussing psychosocial aspects of arthritis. Lynette Gogon will cover the issue of diet and nutrition.

October 3 will feature Lisa Traugher discussing exercises and an O.T.R. will discuss self-help devices.

The final session, October 10 will feature Dorothy Kleinke and Dave Becker discussing Community Resources.

POST OFFICE CLOSED MONDAY, LABOR DAY

The Kewaskum Post Office will be closed Monday, Sept. 5, Labor Day, a legal holiday. There will be no dispatch of mail or rural delivery.

Junior Women to Hold Season's First Meeting

The GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will be holding their first monthly meeting for the 1988-89 year, on Sept. 6th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room located at the Municipal Building.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Colleen Pionke, followed by the club meeting and then refreshments.

Miss (Ms.) Pionke is a color analyst and plans to work with a volunteer member of the club as a 'subject,' or client. This should be very interesting and helpful since choosing the proper color(s) is so important when purchasing clothing and accessories. Especially, when today's women can consider clothing, make-up, and accessories a major investment.

Any interested women in the community wanting to find out more about Juniors are invited to attend. The Kewaskum Club is affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest volunteer women's organization in the world. The Kewaskum Jr.'s at this time would also like to share with you their excitement in receiving twelve awards in State and District levels. These included the prestigious "Unity in Diversity" Award. A special Thank You goes to the involved community members who support the Juniors and their planned community events.

aiming at rents of around $425 a month," said Herro.

Commission member Jeff Rohrer asked if there would be any accommodations for the handicapped. Herro said some things are required by law, however, he said handicapped facilities could probably be put on the first floors of both buildings.

Herro said his plan was to try and keep one building as a residence for older adults, not necessarily elderly. "The term elderly can mean different ages to different people," said Herro, "in Sun City and Scottsdale, 45 is elderly. The second building we would like to keep for younger families and those with children." Herro said he would rather keep a unit vacant than end up mixing the buildings.

To get construction moving said Herro, he is looking at a pre-constructed outer building fabricated by Wausau Homes. "We would do the interior and final construction ourselves after the company sets the buildings up on the site." He noted he had visited several such pre-built units and found them to be excellent buildings and high quality.

Herro indicated that if the request and plans are approved in the near future, he hoped to get the project under way immediately.

After the commission agreed to pass on their recommendation to approve the re-zoning request, Schmidt said a public hearing on the project would be scheduled for Monday, September 19th, at 8:00 p.m.

Woman's Club To Meet Sept. 8

The Kewaskum Womans Club annual Tea will be held Thursday, Sept. 8 at the Shelter by our Museum at 2:30. In case of rain it will be in the Community Room of the Municipal Building. The officers will be in charge of the "tea and crumpets."

Mrs. G. Van Ess will inform us on the 6th District Projects. Mrs. Kitty Hlavaty will report on our Library services. Our program books will also be distributed. Members may bring guests. Let's see you at the Tea.

Craig Hubbell Recipient Of Bucks-NBA Scholarship

Craig Hubbell

Craig Hubbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hubbell of Kewaskum, has been named one of the two recipients of the Milwaukee Bucks - NBA College Scholarship Program.

Two $1000 Bucks scholarships are awarded to High School seniors living within 75 miles of the Milwaukee Arena. Seniors living outside the 75 mile radius are eligible to receive one of five NBA scholarships offered nationally.

All applications were judged on Academic achievement (SAT or ACT scores), high school transcripts, faculty recommendations, extra-curricular participation, and a 500 word essay entitled, "The Importance of a College Education."

Hubbell had an outstanding high school career as co-valedictorian of his class with a 4.0 average, president of his class for three years and student representative to the School Board; and president of National Honor Society and

Student Government his senior year. Craig was also a member of the Letterwinner Club, Spanish Club, Key Club, the Ski Club and team, and the Math team. He represented Kewaskum High School at Badger Boys State, Business World and attended the Hugh O'Brian Leadership Seminar.

A four year letterwinner in tennis, Hubbell was conference champion for two years, and MVP for three years. He played on the football and basketball teams as a freshman, and ran on the cross country team for three years, earning two letters. He was also involved in the school musical production for three years.

In addition to receiving the Bucks scholarship, Hubbell was also awarded the KHS Scholar - Athlete Award, the Keys Scholarship, and the Allen Tassar Memorial Award.

Craig plans to attend St. Olaf College in Northfield, MN, where he'll major in English and minor in Spanish.

For the Birds...

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

A small open unloading door on the back of a feed mill truck provided an unexpected treat for Kewaskum's bird population Monday morning.

According to Kewaskum Police Officer Richard Knoebel, the door on a truck from Don's Elevator of Allenton, came open as the vehicle left the Kewaskum Mill/Marigold Dairy area on First Street. As the truck turned on to Fond du Lac Avenue, it began losing its load of cob corn, leaving a wide golden trail of corn on the road from First Street south to Roseland Drive.

Traffic was unable to avoid the large spill and vehicles driving over the cobs did an excellent job of shelling, providing the birds with a bountiful buffet over five blocks long.

Public Works employees brought out the village's bucket tractor and street sweeper to help clean up the mess. After being stopped by the Police, two employees in the truck began the massive clean-up with a shovel and broom. Knoebel stated the company would be responsible for the cost of cleaning up the spill.

UWWC Announces New Library Hours

WEST BEND — New library hours go into effect here Sept. 6 at the University of Wisconsin Center — Washington County.

Librarian Tom Fitz has announced that the library will be open Mondays through Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Fridays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. The library is closed on Saturdays.

The library is closed on holidays and at the end of fall and spring semesters. Hours are extended during final exam study periods and shortened during between-semester breaks.

According to Fitz, the general public is welcome to use the library free of charge. No card is required. To borrow materials, a person registers at the library and provides personal identification.

Nancy Bigler, associate librarian, said about 600 community members use the library each year.

The UWWC library has more than 30,000 volumes, an extensive research and resource section, more than 200 periodicals and about 2,000 records — most of them classical and classical jazz, and the beginnings of a compact disk collection.

Study rooms, some equipped with typewriters, are available for student use.

UWWC students also have access to resources of the entire UW System through the inter-library loan system.

Bigler said that many community people use the library for genealogy research. The library has a microfilm collection of the Federal Population Census for most counties in southeastern Wisconsin from 1840 to 1910, she said.

According to Bigler, the UWWC collection is aimed at meeting research needs. "We are strong in any academic area," she said, "but have no children's materials, very few how-to-do-it and almost no popular fiction."

Many area school-age children do use the library for research papers, Bigler said, adding: "We encourage them to ask for help. We feel we serve the community that way."

With adults, too, she said, library staff is willing to provide reference help. "What we offer to the community is service," she said.

For further information about the library, call 338-5206.

Perkins - Amerling

Holy Trinity Church in Kewaskum was the setting for the 2:00 p.m. ceremony on July 30, as Tracy Ann Perkins and Scott Allen Amerling exchanged wedding vows. Father Berghammer officiated.

Music for the ceremony was provided by organist Leah Kuphal and soloist Ada Thull.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perkins, 612 Main St., Kewaskum, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Amerling, 9685 Highland Dr., Kewaskum.

The bride chose her sister, Pam Nass, Kewaskum, as her matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Stephanie and Cammie Amerling, Kewaskum, sisters of the groom. Danielle Nass, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Jeff McChain, Boltonville, cousin of the groom, was chosen as best man. The groomsmen were Mike Arndt, Boltonville, friend of the groom and Ben Perkins, New York, nephew of the bride. Sam Reigle, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Ushering duties were shared by Craig Amerling, Kewaskum, and Mike Perkins, Port Edwards, WI.

Following the ceremony, a reception, dinner and dance

Third Estimated Tax Installment Due

The Internal Revenue Service reminds people who make estimated tax payments that the third quarter installment is due September 15.

The payment should be sent to the IRS along with the third quarter payment voucher from Form 1040ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. To be sure that the payment is properly credited to your account, the IRS asks that you write your social security number and the words, "1988 Form 1040ES" on the check.

If you expect to owe $500 or more in federal tax at the end of the year, you probably should be making quarterly estimated tax payments. Although retirees and business people are often affected by this requirement, it can potentially apply to anyone who receives income that is not subject to withholding, such as unemployment benefits, alimony, capital gains, interest, dividends, and rental income.

Form 1040ES contains a handy worksheet and a 1988 tax rate chart which can help you figure out whether or not you need to make estimated tax payments and, if so, how much. More information on this subject, including some helpful examples and illustrations, can be found in IRS Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax. Form 1040ES and Publication 505 can be obtained free of charge by calling the IRS toll free 800-424-3676.

COLORECTAL CANCER

Research shows that calcium protects the colon and rectum from the irritating and cancer-causing effects of bile acids by precipitating and inactivating them. Bile acids are formed in the liver from fats and cholesterol. A diet high in fat increases the prospect of colorectal cancer. By supplementing our diets with one gram of calcium and 400 units of vitamin D each day, we greatly reduce the risk of colorectal cancer.

Busy Summer Fun for Pack 3744 Cub Scouts

Day Camp for Kewaskum Cub Scouts

This summer the Cub Scout program was not put on the shelf. The scouts were busy with activities.

In June they attended a scout picnic at the Kiwanis Park. The typical picnic lunch was served and of course some fun games. What is one of the best summertime activities but to get wet, so of course there was a water balloon fight. The new Cubmaster Gary Smith was initiated during this game and he did not go home dry.

In July the scouts participated in the Kewaskum Picnic. They marched in the parade, rain and all. They also had a Fish Pond booth at the picnic and all had a good time working and playing.

August 15, the pack attended the Bay Lakes Council annual Day Camp in West Bend. Here the boys get a chance to participate in many activities and a chance to test their skills on a confidence course, archery and BB gun ranges. In addition to the physical activities all were instructed in boat safety and simple lifesaving techniques. A leaders it will not be possible for boys to participate in the scouting program and they will be missing a great deal of fun and learning.

Brochure Available On Cancer Pain

It is estimated that 75% of all cancer patients suffer moderate to severe pain at some time during the course of their disease. Unfortunately, their pain is often undertreated because existing therapies are not used appropriately.

A new brochure from the Wisconsin Cancer Pain Initiative (WCPI), which gives the basic facts about the management of cancer pain, is now available. "Cancer patients and their families should know that almost all cancer pain can be relieved with appropriate therapy," said Dr. Paul Carbone, Director of the University of Wisconsin Clinical Cancer Center and WCPI member. "Patients, their families and health care practitioners must work together to relieve the physical and emotional effects of their disease."

Available free to the public, "Cancer Pain Can be Relieved" may be ordered by calling either the Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER or the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-1234.

The conversation at a party never really gets going until a few couples leave.

Loss Estimated at Over $100,000 In Campbellsport Barn Fire

Firefighters from Campbellsport, Eden and Lomira battled a fire which extensively damaged the 200 foot long barn on the Harry and Dennis Theisen dairy farm. The Kewaskum and Kohlsville Fire Departments also answered the mutual aid call with their tank trucks. It is estimated that over one million gallons of water were used in fighting the blaze.

Smoke and flames rose from the burning barn as a backhoe tore at the buckling steel walls to expose the burning hay and corn stalk bedding. 15,000 bales of hay and two mows of bedding were lost. The Theisens were able to save their 100 cow dairy herd.

Statesman Photos by Gerry Mueller

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Approximately 100 firefighters were called out early Thursday afternoon to battle a mammoth fire which extensively damaged a dairy barn on the Harry and Dennis Theisen farm located on highway 67, just west of the Campbellsport village limits.

According to Campbellsport First Assistant Fire Chief Brian Miller, the Theisens had put their herd of milk cows in the barn around noon to feed them. Harry Theisen then turned on an unloader to run out some feed and walked away from the silo area to do another chore. When he got to the back of the barn, Theisen saw smoke coming from the feed conveyor and the barn burning.

Theisen told bystanders who were watching firemen battle the blaze, it was unbelievable how quickly the fire spread. The barn was engulfed in flames in about two minutes and within five minutes the fire had traveled the entire length of the large wood and steel barn.

The Theisens ran through the barn releasing the cows. Theisen said the animals stampeded out the doors with two going down. The men were able to drag the two cows to safety. Harry Theisen said if it had not been for the lever-release stalls, they could not have saved the animals.

At first it was thought that some young livestock had been lost but Miller said a clean-up over the weekend had shown no loss of any animals.

The Campbellsport Fire Department called for mutual aid from four neighboring communities. Beside Campbellsport's full department, there were full companies from Eden and Lomira, with tanker assistance from Kewaskum and Kohlsville.

The firefighters were able to save the milkhouse and two calf barns. Strong northwesterly winds both hindered and helped the firemen. The strong winds kept the blaze roaring, blowing dense smoke into Campbellsport like a thick blanket of fog. The heavy smoke was seen as far south as the southern edge of Kewaskum. Had the wind blown directly south, the fire might have spread to other buildings including the homes of Dennis, Harry and their parents Herman and Clarice who still live in the original farmhouse.

It was estimated that over one million gallons of water were used to fight the fire. The 204-foot structure consisted of the original 80-foot wide wood building and a newer 124-foot steel sided section, added on in 1982.

A backhoe was brought in to pull out the 15,000 bales of burning, smoldering hay and two mows of chopped cornstalk bedding. By around 1:00 p.m., the entire upper portion of the huge barn had been reduced to a pile of burning, smoking rubble.

Two large Harvestore silos filled with feed also buckled from the heat of the fire. Harry Theisen was not certain if the silos could be repaired or in what condition they would find the stored feed.

Because firefighters were able to save the milkhouse and free stall portion of the barn, the Theisens were able to milk at the farm late Thursday evening.

No decision has been made about the farm's future. Harry Theisen noted they might have to sell some cattle and see how things worked out. One thing Theisen was glad about was the fact that no one was hurt as a result of the fire.

Miller said Campbellsport firefighters remained at the scene until about 11:15 p.m. Thursday night.

Financial Support from WE for Farmers to Reduce Stray Voltage

MILWAUKEE — Financial support up to $1,000 for the installation of measures to reduce stray voltage now is available to farm customers of Wisconsin Electric Power Co.

Half of the cost of purchase and installation of such measures, up to a maximum of $1,000, will be reimbursed by the company under the new program. Details are in brochures being mailed with August electric bills.

"Financial assistance for on-farm modifications will encourage customers to make changes to their electrical systems to significantly reduce stray voltage," said Fred Trebatoski, WE vice president of Division Operations.

Stray voltage refers to low-level, neutral-to-ground voltages that may be found on metal objects that animals may contact. Stray voltage cannot be totally eliminated, but it can be minimized. Stray voltage concerns some farmers in Wisconsin because livestock tend to be sensitive to voltage.

Customers interested in the program should call their local Wisconsin Electric office. A service representative will conduct a free stray voltage investigation. If stray voltage is found, the WE representative will suggest measures that may minimize voltage levels.

Measures qualifying for aid under the program include on-farm wiring modifications, installation of an equipotential plane or "ground grid," or installation of an electronic grounding system.

Farms with higher levels of stray voltage will receive priority consideration under the program.

Name Manager of New Home Design Center; Heberer Joins Sales Staff

Kris Heberer

Milwaukee, WI...Michael Matuszak of Beaver Dam has been named manager of the Home Design Center, recently opened by Cedarburg Lumber Co. at 801 E. Capitol Drive. The announcement was made recently by Clark Wernecke, vice president of retail sales. Wernecke also announced that Eugene (Gene) Seefeldt, Grafton, and Kris Heberer of Glendale have joined the Center's retail sales staff.

Matuszak brings extensive experience to his new position. In 1972, he was instrumental in starting the Beaver Dam branch of the Kindt Building Center and worked there as branch manager. When the company was acquired by Wickes Lumber Company in 1985, Matuszak remained at the branch and was employed as a center manager until 1987.

He received an associate's degree in Residential Design from Wausau Area Technical College in 1962 and currently serves as a board of director for the Wisconsin Builders Association, Flyway Home Builders Association and Beaver Dam Chamber of Commerce, and is a member of the Beaver Dam Jaycees. He and his wife Sue have six children - Mike, Doug, Scott, Todd, Matthew and Aaron.

Seefeldt previously worked as a contractor salesman for 84 Lumber in Smyrna, GA, and as a sales associate for Southwest Realty & Kassner Construction in Green Bay, WI.

He received a B.S. in Industrial Education from the University of Wisconsin - Platteville and an M.S. in Vocational Education & Administration from UW-Stout. Seefeldt and his wife Darlene have two children - Sheri and Steven.

Heberer worked most recently as an advertising representative for the WEST BEND NEWS and was employed as a kitchen designer for Wickes Lumber Company in Jackson, WI for more than two years. She is a 1985 graduate of Kewaskum High School and received an associate's degree in Marketing from Moraine Park Technical Institute (Fond du Lac) in 1987.

Kris Heberer's parents,

Norman and Maureen Heberer, are residents of the Town of Auburn in Fond du Lac County.

The Home Design Center is built to look like a house within the store to give customers an idea of what items would look like in their own homes, thus helping to take the guesswork out of home improvement projects. A wide variety of millwork products, including window and doors, cabinets and countertops, skylights and vanities are displayed in a home setting.

August 30, 1963

First Sgt. Robert Gruber arrived home recently after the completion of more than 20 years of service in the U.S. Army. He has been placed on a retired role from the army. Sgt. Gruber was accompanied here by his wife, the former Jeanette Serwe of Campbellsport, and his family. For the past three years Sgt. Gruber had been stationed at Fort Hood, Texas. He entered the service before World War II, in September of 1940, and at that time was the eighth man from Kewaskum to enlist in the service. Sgt. Gruber began his training at Fort Bragg, N.C. and also trained at Camp Claiborne, La., Camp Breckenridge, Ky. and Camp Rucker, Ala. before being sent overseas. He served in the South Pacific area for 24 months during World War II. After the war he received his honorable discharge in December, 1945, and returned home for 2½ years, during which time he was employed at Regal Ware, Inc. Sgt. Gruber re-enlisted in September of 1948. He served in two bases in America before being sent to Germany where he was stationed for 36 months. Returning to this country he spent three years in Milwaukee as advisor to reserve units and was then sent to Korea for 13 months. The most recent awards presented to Sgt. Gruber were the Certificate of Achievement from the Army Chief of Staff and the Army Commendation from the Secretary of the Army. He also won a number of awards during and after World War II.

Miss Mary Reindl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Reindl of Route 2, Kewaskum, received a diploma from the Fond du Lac Vocational School of Adult Education and Training in Practical Nursing on August 24, at Roosevelt auditorium, Fond du Lac.

Miss Ellen Sengpiel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Sengpiel, Kewaskum, received a telegram on August 27, informing her that she had been selected as one of twenty finalists in the statewide "Miss Beach Party" contest sponsored by Bartell Broadcasting Radio Station WOKY, Milwaukee. Contest winners were selected at the Warner Theatre downtown, Milwaukee, on August 28, at the premiere of the motion picture "Beach Party." Contestants were requested to appear at 6:30 p.m. in simple street dress. The telegram was to be presented at the door for identification. Miss Sengpiel was chosen as one of two runnersup in the contest.

Miss Barbara Ann Nigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nigh, Route 2, Campbellsport, became the bride of Dale Harold Timmler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Timmler of Loyal, Wisconsin during a nuptial mass in Holy Trinity Church, Kewaskum.

Miss Rosemary Thorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thorn, Route 2, Kewaskum, became the bride of Ronald Allan Fink of West Bend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fink, Delmont, South Dakota, on August 17.

Miss Cora Muckerheide, 72, formerly of the Town of Kewaskum, passed away on August 28 at the Plymouth Hospital.

A daughter, Sharon Ann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kolmansberger, Route 3, Campbellsport, on August 12. Daughters were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Volm, Route 2, Kewaskum, on August 23, and to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hensiak, Kewaskum, on August 27. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Konkell, Kewaskum, on August 27.

Work on Kewaskum's new ornamental street lighting system was started on Monday of this week and at present is proceeding in earnest. The lighting is being installed on Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue.

In an amateur night performance, sponsored and staged by the Riverside Theatre at Milwaukee last Monday evening, August 29, Miss Charlotte Romaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Romaine of this village, took part in the performance and won second prize on the program and first award in the vocal part of the program. There were eleven contestants on the program, which consisted of vocal and instrumental numbers.

Miss Malinda Butzlaff, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Butzlaff of this village, became the bride of Earl Landvatter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Landvatter of West Bend, in a very charming wedding ceremony in the Peace Evangelical Church on August 27.

In a wedding ceremony performed in the parsonage of Holy Angels parish, West Bend, on August 27, Miss Evelyn Schlosser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schlosser, West Bend, became the bride of Russell Dickmann, son of the late Gustav Dickmann of the Town of Auburn.

A well known Town of Scott woman, Mrs. Wilhelmina Krahn, 74, wife of the late Charles Krahn, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Klein at Beechwood on August 25.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Al Tischendorf of the Town of Auburn on August 21. The mother is the former Miss Cyrilla Schaeffer.

A son was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Leander Schmidt of West Bend on August 24. A native of the Town of Wayne, Mr. Schmidt was formerly in the undertaking business with the late Clem. Reinders here.

Girl Scout News — Summer Fun

On Monday, June 6th, Brownies from Kewaskum Elementary and Holy Trinity took a bus ride to Hales Corners and picnicked at Whitnall Park. Before lunch the girls enjoyed playing some games and sang songs. Everyone came prepared with their sit-upons and bag lunches. Juice was purchased from McDonald's.

After lunch we hiked into the Botanical Gardens. We saw so many beautiful flowers. Peonies, irises and beautifully shaped bleeding heart bushes were in bloom. Gardeners were hard at work planting the small summer plantings and watering with all types of sprinklers. It seemed the girls enjoyed the cool water as much as the flowers did on such a warm day. With temperatures in the 90's, the girls enjoyed the shade of the largest oak tree many of us ever saw. Fifteen plus girls stood around the tree's roots, and we all counted the kites caught in the branches.

By 2:30 p.m. the girls and leaders were all worn out and were glad to board the bus for home. Everyone seemed to have a lot of fun.

*Remember girls and parents interested in G.S., Round-up and registration for the '88-89 year will be held soon. Watch for details.

A fun and enthusiastic group of first, second and third year girls in Brownie Troops from Kewaskum Elementary and Holy Trinity attended the annual picnic.

The garden paths shared their beauty as we walked along each new one.

Everyone enjoyed the shade of this giant oak. It reminded us of Charlie Brown's Kite Eating Tree.

SPOTLIGHT ON: AUDITS

What would you do if you got a letter from the IRS telling you that your tax return was going to be audited? Would you panic? Call a lawyer? There shouldn't be any reason for you to do either.

The fact that your return has been selected for an audit doesn't mean that you are suspected of being dishonest. Essentially, an audit means that we have a question about your tax return and want to make sure your return was correct. (It's important to remember that just because you got a refund check from the IRS for a given year doesn't mean that your return has been certified OK. It just means that the only type of correction that may have been made was something along the lines of a math error which the computer automatically fixed.)

After getting the letter, your first thought will probably be "Why me?" Good question. Chances are that the IRS computer flagged your return as having a high probability of error and that an IRS employee agreed. The human being, by the way, makes the final decision — not the computer.

Your notification letter will tell you which items on the return are being questioned and what records you should bring to the audit. If you have any questions, call the IRS office before your audit and ask for a clarification.

Good records are invaluable. They can speed up your audit and, in most cases, make it painless. Too often, we rely on memory, which can be faulty. You should keep any records that you use to prepare your tax return for three years (longer if it relates to a long-term asset like your house). That's the time frame for your audit. If you can't find some of your records, our examiners will tell you what other kinds of documentation we can accept.

Most audits result in agreement after the examination is complete. However, if you disagree with the examiner, you can discuss the results with the auditor's supervisor. If you still aren't satisfied, you may appeal your case. Ultimately, you have the right to appeal all the way through the court system — though most cases are settled at a lower level. Our examiners will explain your appeal rights in detail.

You also have the right to be represented at your audit, or in any appeals action, by an attorney, a CPA, or any other person who is enrolled to practice before the IRS. You can participate if you want, or you can assign to your representative your power of attorney and let him or her handle the case for you. We will probably ask to meet with you some time during your audit. That's because your presence can help clarify or resolve some questions and speed up the audit process.

When your vehicle needs repair, we provide fast, efficient service and speedy return. Because at Autocraft, we know you depend on your vehicle.

TODAY'S AGRICULTURE

By Jack Trzebiatowski, Extension Agriculture Agent

GRAND CHAMPION hog carcass of the Washington County Fair was exhibited by Tim Herman of Allenton. The homebred Hampshire hog had over 58% muscle and only .7 of an inch of back fat. David Resch of Dave's Excavating, Allenton, purchased the live animal for $1.40 per lb. Tim, a member of the Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club and the Kewaskum FFA also exhibited the champion hog carcass in 1986.

UW Dairy Students Breed Cows by Computer

A new computer program called SIMBULL gives agricultural students 10 years of experience in making breeding decisions in only five weeks — and without the expense of maintaining a farm.

Saddle up a chair and boot up the PC. It's electronic cow-breeding time at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

"With the SIMBULL program, we've simulated an information system like farmers have, with production records, lifetime records, cow indexes, predicted differences, and so on. Using that information system, SIMBULL users learn how to make decisions and what kinds of decisions to make," say UW-Madison dairy scientists George Shook and Margaret Dentine.

Users make long-term decisions on desired traits and determine the genetic changes needed to produce them. They must select the appropriate information from the deluge that SIMBULL provides. It's impossible to use all the information, Shook says — but this simulates the information overload all producers deal with. "We made it as much like the real world as we could, in terms of the amount of information available and the decisions, problems and opportunities for making genetic improvement," he says.

Users must also manage their herds from year to year, choosing cows to cull, which bulls to use, and whether to use artificial insemination; and deciding how to match and mate cows and bulls.

To add "personality" each SIMBULL cow has traits for hair color, calving difficulty and milk yield. To keep things interesting, each animal also carries a recessive genetic lethal trait.

SIMBULL's advanced level allows students to superovulate cows, freeze embryos, and designate embryo recipients. Users can syndicate their bulls, joining a cooperative with other producers to progeny-test the animals. They can also select optional traits: fat, protein, and solids-not-fat yield; body type score; somatic cell score; and scores for legs, udder, stature and angularity.

An economic option generates an annual operating statement that tabulates incomes and costs — a valuable feature for herd-management courses, Shook says.

SIMBULL was designed for the computer tenderfoot as well as the old cowhand. "You need to know how to turn on the computer," Shook says, and that's about it. The menu-driven program allows users to select functions from a list on the screen instead of typing commands. Safeguards make it nearly impossible to ruin data. The program runs on IBM PCs and compatibles; the researchers expect to add a Macintosh version by next year.

"To create a herd of cows, you need your name, a name for your herd and the number of cows desired," Shook explains. "People who've never seen a cow could produce a first run; of course after that, you'd have to teach them a lot. Students with dairy backgrounds can use SIMBULL with no further instruction."

The first and second herd years take about 30 minutes each; subsequent years take 15 or 20 minutes. Users spend an hour or two between each herd year making decisions. College students probably spend 20 to 25 hours total, doing eight to 10 runs, Shook says.

Of the UW-Madison students who used SIMBULL, 98 percent said they enjoyed it more than regular assignments. More than 90 percent found it easy to learn and operate, and said they understood selection better after using it. Every student said his or her strategy for selection improved, and 84 percent said the benefits justified the added work.

"SIMBULL works at several levels of instruction, so the same student can come back to it in a sequence of courses and have a new experience each time," Shook says. A first-time user might select for milk yield and use artificial insemination. An upper-level student using the advanced level could select for several traits using embryo transfer; an old pro might use the economics option and try to maximize profit rather than genetic improvement.

"We've designed SIMBULL to be extremely flexible," Shook continues. The levels and options allow users to choose traits or, if they don't like the programmed traits, change them and provide their own numbers.

SIMBULL could easily be adapted to other nations' animal agriculture. "We can make the program behave like a herd of water buffalo, camels or goats if we want to," Shook points out. "Once the herd data were assembled, it would take less than a day to retool it for a different species." The program itself wasn't quite as easy to develop — programmer John Mitchell spent 10 months on it. Shook estimates that he and co-worker Margaret Dentine invested about 800 hours on the project.

Shook uses the program in undergraduate and short-course breeding classes. UW-River Falls and three state vocational-technical dairy instructors intend to use it, and it's being tested at several other universities. He says it's also appropriate for high school, 4H and FFA.

For more information, contact Shook at the Department of Dairy Science, 266 Animal Sciences Bldg., University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI 53706; phone (608) 263-3486.

Drought Cuts Corn In Half

The first corn yield forecast of the season for Wisconsin showed a 36 percent drop in yield from a year earlier according to Paul Orton of the Wisconsin Agricultural Statistics Service.

The projected 75 bushels per acre is seven bushels above the 1976 yield, the last time a severe drought affected crop yields in Wisconsin. Yields since 1976 have trended upward ranging between 97 and 118 bushels.

Wisconsin's corn crop for 1988 is estimated at 158 million bushels, down 52 percent from the previous year. Corn acres harvested for grain are off 25 percent since many dairymen will harvest more acreage than usual as silage rather than grain to supplement the short roughage supplies caused by the extremely short second crop of hay this year.

Almost half of the corn in Wisconsin is in or past the dough stage which is ahead of the 5-year average but behind last year when the crop matured two weeks ahead of schedule. Temperatures were above normal during July while precipitation was below normal. Currently, about 55 percent of the corn crop is rated poor to very poor.

Hay Production Drops

Hay supplies will be short this year. Wisconsin's total hay production at 6.9 million tons is expected to be down 22% from a year ago according to Laura Ally with the Wisconsin Agricultural Statistics Service.

Harvested acreage of all hay in the state is up by 10% to 3.65 million acres, but reduced yields have caused production to drop. The August 1 hay production figures are based on dry hay yields and do not include haylage or green chop.

Farmers are expected to harvest 2.75 million acres for alfalfa this year, down two percent from 1987. Yields are forecast at two tons per acre.

A significant acreage increase is expected in other hay (clover and grass hays), up 73% to 900,000 acres. The increase is due to release of set-aside and CRP land for haying.

Farmers will cut every available acre because of the shortage of feed. As of August 12, the hay and feed supply was judged 37% very short, 56% short and 7% adequate by the weekly crop weather reporters.

A newly hatched alligator is just eight inches long. It will grow about a foot a year until it reaches the average adult length of six to eight feet.

Exercise Can Offset Signs of Aging

It's never too late... to begin an exercise program, that is.

"There's a myth that still pervades — old people shouldn't exercise because it isn't good for them," said William Evans, Ph.D., an expert on aging from Tufts University in Boston.

Evans spoke this spring to food and health writers at the Seventh Annual Writers Conference in San Jose, Calif., which was sponsored by The Dairy Council of Wisconsin.

Evans and his colleagues at the U.S. Department of Agriculture Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging try to dispel the myth that seniors shouldn't exercise.

Older people tend to think of themselves as being limited in what they can do, so they pace their activities accordingly, Evans said. But limited physical activity can lead to decreased bone density and a decrease in muscle mass, which can cause weakness.

Evans believes the self-imposed limit on activity, not chronological age, causes weakness.

"Any activity older people do above what they normally do is beneficial to their health," he said.

Besides maintaining muscle mass, physical activity will decrease risk of diabetes, increase the number of capillaries (small blood vessels) which improves peripheral circulation, and increase functional capacity.

Functional capacity is a measurement of how efficiently the heart and lungs use oxygen to energize the body's muscles. Evans believes the study of functional capacity provides further evidence that exercise can offset many signs of aging.

He said it is generally accepted that functional capacity decreases naturally with age. The decrease of functional capacity makes physical activity more difficult. This begins a cycle which is hard to break. Because activity is more difficult, older people don't do as much. Because of inactivity, functional capacity decreases even more.

But Evans believes self-imposed limits on activities, not aging, spur the onset of decreased functional capacity. Studies show that 21 days of bed rest equals 50 to 60 years of aging in functional capacity, Evans said. He also said that older people respond very well to aerobic training and can recover lost functional capacity.

Evans believes that older people should be encouraged to keep moving.

"Don't drive your mother to the corner market if she can walk," he said. In fact, walking is the exercise Evans recommends for most older people.

He cites the "Fitness After Fifty — Keep Moving" program in Massachusetts as an example of a way to keep seniors active. The clubs are billed as social clubs and boast 5,000 members. The program was designed at Tufts and implemented by councils on aging throughout Massachusetts via the governor's office.

Exercise programs for the elderly are vital because they can offset many conditions associated with aging, Evans said.

"I'm convinced that no segment of our society could benefit more from exercise than those over 60."

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

SOLICITATION SCHEME

The Washington County Sheriff's Department has been made aware of a new fraudulent solicitation scheme being targeted at county residents.

A Germantown resident has reported that she received a phone call from a man claiming to be a Washington County deputy sheriff, and that the man asked her to pledge money to be used to purchase Christmas gifts for needy county children. When the woman replied that she does not pledge money over the phone, the man hung up. Thus, there is little additional information available about the caller.

Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz stated that this is an absolute fraudulent solicitation. The Sheriff's department is not involved in the telephone solicitation of anyone. Any resident who receives such a call is urged to report the matter to the sheriff's department immediately. No one should give money based on this type of call. The sheriff's department will seek criminal charges against the persons responsible, if they are identified.

KEYS TO FINDING BASS QUICK

One of the factors that continually separates America's top professional bass anglers from more casual fishermen is their ability to locate bass very quickly, even on lakes they may never have fished before.

Larry Nixon, a member of the Evinrude Pro Staff, is one of the best at this, as his tournament record shows. Nixon has the 1983 BASS Masters Classic* in his portfolio, along with eleven other national tournament wins, and total winnings of more than $650,000 in 11 years.

Nixon can boil his technique of locating fish down to four easy steps that can be followed by any bass angler on any lake in the nation. Best of all, they're easy to learn.

"The first thing I do," says Nixon, "is choose a particular part of a lake in which to concentrate. This can be a single creek or tributary, or a large bay. This area will have a lot of shallow water around it, because that is where bass spawn, and they won't be far away."

"I specifically like an area that has a lot of four to eight foot depths, which gives plenty of options to the bass."

"My area will also have deep water nearby, which gives me the chance for larger bass. Over the years, I have learned having a shallow water-deep water combination is one of the most important factors in bass fishing, and I always make certain I'm fishing near deeper water."

One way of fishing a large flat, according to Nixon, is to work out until it begins breaking up into deeper water, either with small dropoffs, channels, or ditches. Once it does this, an angler can begin looking for cover.

Choosing only a portion of a lake to fish offers several advantages. First, it allows an angler to completely eliminate the rest of the lake. He can concentrate harder, and because the area is smaller, he can cover it faster.

Nixon recommends anglers choose a wide body of water rather than a narrow area, because it will hold more fish. On many lakes, bass will tend to be more shallow in the upper end of the lake because that water is normally more dingy and murky.

The second part of Nixon's plan for locating bass is to begin fishing every type of cover he sees. He does not specifically eliminate one type, such as grass, before moving to something else. He fishes grass, stumps, timber or whatever happens to be in his path.

The key here is fishing efficiently. That means using lures designed for the type of cover being worked, and presenting those lures properly. It also means working fast, making short casts and keeping the lure in the water. Most often, Nixon recommends anglers use spinnerbaits or crank baits when first starting to search for bass because the lures can be fished quickly.

The third step is to concentrate on visible cover, but if there is a lot of it, to key on whatever appears different in that cover.

"Whenever you find one little area better than the rest," says the Evinrude pro, "something will invariably be different about it, even though everything might look alike at first glance."

"When you catch a fish or two from a spot, move on past it, then fish your way back very carefully, looking for that change. More often than not, that change will be on the bottom, such as a small ditch, a dropoff, a mound or hump."

Because being able to find these subtle differences in the bottom is so important, many anglers have a depthfinder mounted on the bow of their boats. They watch them carefully as they cast to the different targets.

To Nixon, a bass pattern is simply the cover and depth bass are using. He considers proper lure choice and lure presentation as refinements of a pattern. When similar conditions exist over a lake, bass will usually be acting the same way in those areas.

"I rarely fish for bass deeper than 10 or 12 feet, except during the hot summer. My favorite depth is between four and 10 feet, where it is easy to work lures and feel strikes," he notes.

Nixon's fourth and final piece of the puzzle is confidence, which he rates as the most important. Having a positive attitude, he feels, determines how efficiently an angler fishes, and how clearly he is able to analyze the different pieces of the puzzle he's trying to solve.

Nixon emphasizes that until an angler knows what the bass are doing it is not necessary to move more than a short distance from a launching area. In the beginning of your search for fish, study a lake map to choose your fishing area, then launch your boat as close to it as possible to save valuable fishing time.

Finding bass is a puzzle every angler faces each time he launches his boat to go fishing. The key to doing it the way the tournament pros do is concentrating on only a small part of the lake, and fishing it as thoroughly and efficiently as possible.

One look at Larry Nixon's professional tournament record of wins and prize money won proves it works.

Cyclists Pass Through Area During Multiple Sclerosis Best Dam Bike Tour

Kettle Moraine was part of the route for the Best Dam Bike Tour sponsored by the Wisconsin National Multiple Sclerosis Society. 600 bikers participated in the two day event held August 20 and 21, from Milwaukee to Sheboygan's Lakeland College. Residents along the route were encouraged to turn on their sprinklers and put up lemonade stands. The family of Steve and Linda Guelig obliged. From left, Amy, Greg and Becky Guelig posed in front of their lemonade stand with biker, "The Green Machine."

Bikers en route pose with Becky Guelig. Since the original tour to Beaver Dam in 1984, the tour has continued to grow in popularity. Over the years, more than 1,100 cyclists have participated, raising over $300,000 in contributions.

DNR Department of Natural Resources Southeast District Headquarters

DNR to Hold Open Forum

MILWAUKEE, WI (August 25, 1988) — Anyone with ideas, concerns or questions about the establishment of a new unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest near Holy Hill will have an opportunity to tell state officials about it on Wednesday, Sept. 7. The Department of Natural Resources will hold an open forum at the Erin Town Hall located one half mile south of Highway 167 on Highway 83. The public is invited to drop in anytime between 2 and 8 p.m. to meet informally and share ideas with Parks staff.

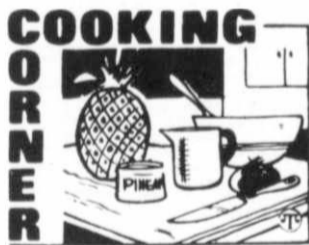

After an extensive effort to solicit public opinions, the Department acquired 594 acres surrounding Loew's Lake in December 1987. The primary objective of this project is to preserve the Oconomowoc River valley, and its wetlands and watersheds in perpetuity, while providing minimal recreational opportunities.

A task force of Department staff will be appointed to develop the master plan for the property. The plan will determine the size of the project boundary and the uses that will be permitted.

The first step in the process is to seek public input — the goal of the September 7 forum. Information obtained will be used by the task force in formulating a goal statement and objectives — the framework for the master plan.

If you can't attend the open forum, you may still participate by calling the Kettle Moraine hotline toll-free at (800) 722-9882. The hotline is available 24 hours a day.

- 1 can (8-1/4 oz.) Dole Crushed Pineapple in Syrup
- 6 large baking apples
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 cup dark brown sugar, packed
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon

Drain pineapple, reserving all syrup. Core apples. Combine pineapple and nuts; spoon into center of apples. Add enough hot water to reserved syrup to make 1/2 cup liquid. Stir in brown sugar and cinnamon until sugar dissolves. Pour over apples in baking dish. Bake in 350°F oven 50 to 60 minutes. Spoon sauce over apples once while baking. Serve with cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

KHS Spikers Take Third

The Kewaskum Varsity volleyball team placed third in their first pre-season conference tournament held last Saturday, August 27th at the high school.

Using tournament scoring of 11 points winning a game instead of the usual 15, Kewaskum left Chilton scoreless the first two games of their opening round before losing the third game 11-6. In the shut-out victories against Chilton, Kewaskum's Debbie Donath scored 8 and 9 straight serves respectively. Mandy Schmidt scored 5 straight serves but it wasn't enough to pull the spikers out of defeat in the third game.

In the second round of tournament play, the tables turned as the Kewaskum spikers were shut-out 11-0 by a tough Two Rivers team the first game. In the second game, using consistent scoring by all team members and strong defense, Kewaskum emerged the victor 11-7. Both Kewaskum and Two Rivers had one victory going into the third game which is the one Coach Rizzardi and his team will remember well from this tournament week-end. After being ahead 9-2 with 6 straight serves by LeeAnn Winninghoff, the Indians watched their lead get inched away and finally bowed in defeat 11-9 to lose the match.

Third round action saw the Kewaskum spikers take on the Kiel Raiders with Kiel taking the first two games 11-5 but a tough Indian team fighting back to win the third game 11-3.

The team was 1-2 match-wise (three games played to 11 points constitutes one match) and over-all placed third in the tournament with consistent spiking from Jenny Schneider and top serving from Debbie Donath who scored 28 on the day. Said Coach Rizzardi, "I feel the girls got a lot out of the fact that they played well. I think a lesson they learned from the week-end is they need to stay intense in order to finish an opponent."

The spikers open their conference play with an away match against Plymouth this week.

Two In a Row for Blaine; Geiger, Hed Win at Plymouth

by Dick Jepsen

Ken Blaine of West Bend currently one of the hottest drivers in the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car circuit, won his second consecutive feature after Saturday nights win at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth. Blaine was coming off a win last Wednesday night at the Manitowoc Expo track in the first of two races held during the Manitowoc County Fair. Also scoring feature wins Saturday night were Frank Geiger of Whitelaw in the sportsman division and Rick Hed of Sheboygan in the hobby stocks.

"A" semi features were won by Ed Groer of Glendale, Jim Pitzen of Plymouth and Mike Borth of Oostburg. Winner in the 10 lap modified Old Timers race was Don Diener of Howards Grove with second going to Ken "Mighty Mouse" Markwardt of Sheboygan. Ken Painer of Sheboygan Falls won the sportsman Old Timers race with DuWayne Nohl finishing second. The next two Plymouth races will be held in conjunction with the Sheboygan County Fair on Saturday, Sept. 3 and Monday Labor Day Sept. 5th.

Indians Rout Campbellsport, 26-6

In non-conference football action Friday night, the Kewaskum Indians all but massacred their opponents the Campbellsport Cougars. Overpowering a smaller inexperienced line, the Indians recorded their first victory with a score of 26-6.

The Indians offensive line dominated the game as Kewaskum gained all 325 of its yards on the ground.

Joel Serwe was first to get the Indians on the scoreboard by going in from the one-yard line on Kewaskum's opening drive. The highlight of the eight-play drive was a 27-yard run by Indian back Marty Schulteis.

The Indians couldn't capitalize on their next three scoring opportunities. Finally Schulteis was able to score from the ten-yard line adding another six points to give the Indians a 12-0 lead.

In the second half, the Cougars finally managed to get on the scoreboard with an 11-yard run in by quarterback Troy Schill.

Ryan Degnitz ran to daylight when a big hole opened in the middle of the line sprinting 46 yards for a touchdown five plays after the kick off.

Degnitz got his second touchdown in the fourth quarter on a fifteen-yard sweep.

Degnitz chalked up 185 yards rushing in 21 tries, with Serwe adding another 70 yards.

The Indians came out to win and they turned in a full team effort.

Kewaskum's next opponent in non-conference action, will be Horicon at home. The game is also Parents Night. Game time is 7:30.

In Championship Contention

Kewaskum A's Best West Bend 11-7, Finish in Third Place in Nite League; Fifth Place in Land O' Lakes Action

The Kewaskum Athletics followed a strong regular season finish with an 11-7 playoff victory over the West Bend Lithias in Tri-County Nite League action. The A's finished 7-3, good for a third place finish in the 11 team Nite League.

The top four teams play off for the championship. Kewaskum's semi-final victory puts them in the championship against the winner of the Slinger - Hustisford game. If Hustisford wins they will host the A's on Wednesday night, September 7. If Slinger wins, the date and site are yet to be decided, with the most likely date being on the Labor Day weekend.

Andy Hoenecke keyed Kewaskum's first play-off victory in at least 20 years by hitting 2 run homers in each of his first two at-bats. Terry Koth had three hits and three rbi's. Jeff Geidel and Mark Schlosser each contributed three hits to the A's 14 hit attack. Geidel went the distance aided by some solid defense.

Kewaskum closed out their 1988 Land-O-Lakes season with a dramatic 4-3 victory over Plymouth in 10 innings. The defeat knocked Plymouth out of contention. Had they won they would have been tied with Thiensville-Mequon for 1st place. The loss ended Plymouth's string of 1st place finishes at three.

Don Menzel pitched all the way, dominating through the entire game. Plymouth jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the 1st inning. They were unable to score again until the bottom of the 10th inning when a solo home run set the final score.

The Athletics finished 9-9 for the second straight year. That record was good enough for 5th place in the 10 team Land-O-Lakes Northern Division. Overall Kewaskum's record is 18-14.

Ken Kudek Coordinator For Local Bike-A-Thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Kenneth R. Kudek will coordinate a Bike-A-Thon for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Kewaskum on 09/17/88.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and provides medical care for over 3,200 active patients. Currently, over $140,000 is needed each day to keep the doors open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

The Bike-A-Thon program this year is dedicated to Brian McCollister. Brian, a native of Louisiana, was diagnosed with leukemia in October, 1984. For the next two and a half years he underwent daily chemotherapy. Today Brian is in remission and visits St. Jude Hospital for routine check-ups. Brian is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

We sincerely appreciated the concern that Kenneth R. Kudek has for our work, and we hope the citizens of Kewaskum will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... Our Children."

For more information, you can call Ken Kudek at 626-4526.
