Jon Etta Receives FFA's Highest Honor

Jon Etta, left, of West Bend, is congratulated by Kevin Ochsner, national FFA secretary, on his achievement of the American Farmer degree. The degree was awarded in a ceremony November 11, at the 61st National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Jon Etta of West Bend joined an elite group of FFA achievers last week.

Etta received the National FFA Organization's highest degree of membership, that of American Farmer. Along with 713 other degree recipients, the Kewaskum Chapter member was honored at the 61st National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

One of the highlights of the convention, the American Farmer degree ceremony, included the presentation of a certificate and gold key to Etta as he walked across the convention stage with thousands of FFA members in the audience.

The American Farmer degree is presented annually at the national FFA convention to the top two-tenths of one percent of FFA membership. Awarding of the degree is based upon a member's Supervised Occupational Experience (SOE) program in agribusiness or production agriculture and his or her leadership ability as demonstrated through involvement in FFA activities.

The American Farmer degree program is a special project of the National FFA Foundation, co-sponsored by the Armstrong Tire Company, New Haven, Conn.; Case IH, Racine, Wis.; Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., Des Moines, Iowa. Cyanamid Agricultural Division, Wayne, N.J.; The FFA is a national organization of 404,900 Na-Churs Plant Food Company, Marion, Ohio; the Farm Credit System, Denver, Colo.; and students in 7,800 chapters

The area's list of lucky $5,000 lottery winners recently added one more name. preparing for careers in the industry of agriculture. FFA activities and award programs complement instruction in agribusiness, agriscience and production agriculture by giving students practical experience in the application of agricultural skills and knowledge gained in classroom instruction. A major emphasis of the FFA is the development of skills and abilities to prepare young people for leadership roles in agriculture.

Order of the Arrow to Meet at Woodview School

Members of the Order of the Arrow of the Awase Lodge, of Glacier Edge District 11, Boy Scouts of America, will meet with Lodge Chief, Derk Cullinan, on Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m. at Woodview Elementary School, 660 Fifth Avenue, Grafton. Parent-Teacher Conferences at John Long Middle School necessitated the change of location for this month's meeting.

Peace Church to Have Breads from Other Lands at Sunday's Communion Service

Breads from other lands will be featured in the November 27 communion service of worship at Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum at 9:30 a.m. All Christian believers of the community are welcome to join the Peace congregation as these ethnic breads are presented by eight church women at the beginning of the service. In the fellowship hour following the worship, the breads will be served with coffee in a festive atmosphere. Homemade bread loaves for the actual communion element are being baked by member Vera Panzer. Symbolizing the coming of Jesus Christ for all the world at Christmas, the event will herald the observance of the 1988 Advent season at Peace Church.

"Get Ready to Receive" will be the sermon by Rev. James Bettin, and special music, "Will We Know Him?" is being offered by the Churchmen, the Peace Church men's choir. Sunday School children also will be involved in the first of four candle lighting services on this initial Sunday of Advent. Members furnishing ethnic breads from Sweden, Norway, Germany, Bohemia, Wales, France, and Russia are Betty Hallen, Marian Erdmann, Nancy Panzer, Faith Mauk, Jo Ann Manthei, Darlene Tessar, Connie Zemlicka, and Betty Bettin.

All families of the church have already received copies of "Traveling to Christmas on the Path of Memories," a meditation booklet to be used daily during Advent. It was written by 17 Peace Church parishioners from their own recollections and holiday memories. A similar booklet for 1987 had received favorable response.

'Hanging of the Greens' Worship Service

Sunday, November 27, Salem United Church of Christ will hold a special "Hanging of the Greens" worship service at 9:00 a.m.

The service will be conducted by the Church School under the leadership of Mrs. Ruth Betts, Superintendent. During the worship experience the church will be decorated for Advent and Christmas — including setting up the Advent wreath and garlands and decorating the Christmas tree.

There is congregational singing of favorite carols, special music and about 40 children participating. The public is invited to attend this special "festive" worship at 9:00 a.m. Sunday morning at Salem United Church of Christ at Wayne.

The Pastor, Milton Staskal, states, "After a week like yours, you need a church like ours." Call 338-2706 for more information.

An Employer, interviewing an applicant, remarked, "You ask a high wage for a man with no experience." "Well, sir," replied the young man, "it's much harder work when you don't know anything about it."

Lottery Reminds Players Of Drawing Addresses

MADISON. . . The Wisconsin Lottery is experiencing some problems with players returning $1 million "ENTRY" tickets to the wrong address, according to Lottery Executive Director William Flynn.

Flynn said that a visual check of envelopes returned for the second MATCH 3 $1 million drawing revealed a significant number of Instant Cash "ENTRY" tickets had been mailed to the Match 3 address. The Lottery has estimated that approximately 15% of the mail received for the second Match 3 drawing in the past two weeks has been Instant Cash "ENTRY" tickets sent to the wrong address.

Normally, the envelopes containing "ENTRY" tickets for the $1 million drawings are not opened. Separate zip codes are used to pre-sort the entries, thereby eliminating the need for Lottery employees to open the "ENTRY" mail.

All incoming drawing mail will be visually checked by Lottery employees in an attempt to ensure that Match 3 and Instant Cash "ENTRY" tickets are placed in the appropriate drawings. Match 3 "ENTRY" tickets must be received by November 21 to be included in the second and final Match 3 $1 million drawing. Dates for the Instant Cash preliminary and Grand Prize Drawing have not been set.

The CORRECT address for Match 3 "ENTRY" tickets is: Million Dollar Drawing, P.O. Box 7849, Madison, WI 53707-7849. The CORRECT address for Instant Cash is: Million Dollar Drawing, Wisconsin Lottery, Madison, WI 53776.

Patti Aupperle Chosen As Hugh O'Brian Leadership Candidate

Patti Aupperle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Aupperle, 3197 Hwy D, Kewaskum, has been chosen to represent Kewaskum's sophomore class at the Hugh O'Brian (HOBY) Leadership Seminar which will be held this spring. Last year more than 10,100 sophomores, nominated to represent their schools, attended all expense paid Hugh O'Brian Leadership seminars in all 50 states and more than 20 other countries.

Patti was selected to represent her class of approximately 150 sophomores at Kewaskum High School not only on her scholastic record, but also her outstanding leadership ability and her incentive to help others.

The Hugh O'Brian Foundation was established in 1958 to recognize and reward leadership potential in high school sophomores. While Patti attends the three day weekend workshops this spring, she and over 10,100 young people will explore the topic "America's Incentive System." The format for these workshops involves bringing together a select group of high school sophomores with demonstrated leadership qualities and a group of distinguished leaders in business, education, government and the professions. Through informal discussions the young people get a realistic look at what makes America great and a better understanding of our nation's role in the world community.

At the conclusion of the State Leadership Seminar, one boy and girl will be chosen to represent their state at a week long HOBY International Leadership Seminar coordinated by the University of Denver, Colorado.

As in the past, the Kewaskum Chapter of the Kiwanis organization will sponsor this very worthwhile activity.

If the going seems easy, you just might be going downhill.

NIACIN

This vitamin is needed to form certain enzymes, is involved in carbohydrate metabolism, and is essential to growth. Normal function of the nervous system and digestive tract requires niacin. Pellagra, with symptoms of dermatitis, diarrhea, weakness, and vertigo, clears up with niacin supplements. Meat, poultry, seafood, peanut butter, brown rice, and whole grain cereals are rich in niacin.

Accordion Talent at KHS

Kewaskum Statesman, Friday, Nov. 25, 1988, Page 6

Senior Brian Thorn, accordion player, performed at a recent faculty tea sponsored by the student council.

Brian Thorn, a senior at Kewaskum High School has been playing an accordion since he was 14. When Brian's dad bought a higher quality accordion, Brian "inherited" his old accordion and as Brian puts it, "I started doodling, and the next thing I knew, I was playing jobs."

Brian's been entertaining at faculty teas for all three of his years at Kewaskum High School. He also plays weddings with a three piece band and says he's available for "any public function that needs music."

Brian doesn't sing, nor does he want to, but he thoroughly enjoys watching people react to his music. He loves his "job" and wouldn't trade it for the world. He states, "besides the satisfaction of people enjoying my music, I even get paid for it."

Brian plays a 1966 "Luduca Twiligher" which he had rebuilt last year for a better sound. There's only 12 of this type of instrument built in the country. Because the instrument is "special-built," the sound is also of a greater quality.

Although Brian can't play a note, (he learned everything by "ear") his future goal is to play at Nashville at the Grand Ole Opry. He doesn't plan on going on to college for music but instead bettering himself by continuing to play in the band. Brian is available for weddings, anniversaries, parties, and any social gatherings. He's someone who enjoys his work and is a joy to listen to.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thorn, 8018 Townhall Rd., Kewaskum.

Parent/Teacher Conferences a Success

Over 60% of the parents of the Kewaskum High School students came to parent-teacher conferences held Nov. 10th at the school. Many of the parents had the opportunity to meet with their child's teachers from 1:00 - 5:00 and 6:00 - 9:00, to talk about grades and behavior or just stop in and get re-acquainted with the teachers.

Parents were greeted in the main lobby and there received their child's report card and a map of the school. From there, they could visit the classrooms of their choice and meet with the teachers they felt it necessary to see.

The conferences were very successful. One teacher noted, "It was great to see parents whose child wasn't doing as well in my class as he should, so together we could work out the problem." It was great to see the many concerned parents.

Re/Max International Registers Major Gains in Real Estate Industry Survey

Denver — RE/MAX International has catapulted to the nation's second largest ranking in real estate transactions, according to a survey conducted by the Roulac Real Estate Consulting Group of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells.

This marks the third straight year — 1985 (4th ranked), 1986 (3rd ranked) — that RE/MAX International has moved up in the real estate transactions category for all U.S. real estate firms. RE/MAX also ranked first in achieving the highest number of transactions per agent among leading U.S. real estate firms for the fifth consecutive year.

"We're delighted with the across-the-board growth being realized by our company with each passing year. It's clearly a tribute to the contributions being made by RE/MAX agents. We fully believe we have the most highly motivated people in the industry, a factor which accounts for our continuing success," said David Liniger, Chief Executive Officer of RE/MAX.

The annual real estate survey also had RE/MAX leading the industry in gross revenue percentage growth with a 1987 increase of 27% over the previous year. The company also leads the real estate industry in gross revenue percentage growth over the past five year period with a 52.4% compounded annual average.

Denver-based RE/MAX International, Inc. is one of the fastest growing real estate companies in the U.S. with over 1,400 franchise operations across the U.S.

Locally, RE/MAX of West Bend has already closed over 15 million dollars worth of real estate in 1988.

Letter to The Editor

November 15, 1988

An Open Letter to the Electors of the Town of Scott

One of the characteristics of "small town" living is its dependence upon civic minded persons to carry out necessary community services. The Town of Scott, like all of its neighboring municipalities, has many such persons supplying these necessary needs. I refer, here, to the volunteer fire departments, ambulance service, EMT's, and people willing to be involved on boards, commissions, and committees of our towns, villages, and school districts.

A part of the reason that I chose to try for a position in town government in the Town of Scott was my feeling for this same civic responsibility. I believe that each of us who has a talent to offer has a responsibility to use it to serve - to take our turn. I feel that I have taken my turn. As I recall now, I don't believe that I had any intention of keeping the office of town chairman for sixteen years when I first ran for it that long ago.

Together we have accomplished great things. We had excellent citizen involvement and support. In several areas we have been leaders of town government in Sheboygan County. We were among the first to have a five person town board, an exclusive agricultural zoning ordinance, a building code, building inspection, planned growth with an active planning commission and a town-operated road maintenance program. All of these have been the result of many persons giving much. I have enjoyed the experience and privilege of my leadership role during these changes.

As I look around now I find that I am the senior member of Scott Town government. I am the last of the board from the group that began together in 1973. I count it my good fortune and a personal growth experience to have served with so many good people through the years.

Now, I believe, it's time for change. It's time for someone new to step forward with their own dreams and visions for this community. It's a new age with new problems that call for new and creative solutions. I will be disappointed and less than happy for the years I have served if we can't find others in the future who are willing to take their turn and fulfill their civic duty and responsibility by serving the Town of Scott.

I will not be a candidate for a 9th term.

Charles W. Fick

Lehman Says "Thanks"

To Voters of the 59th District

It has been a long twenty-seven weeks and winning the election proves the hard work has paid off. Throughout the campaign, we have tried to treat all the people we have met with the courtesy and respect we were taught by our parents.

I would like to thank many people. First, my wife and family who have always been great supporters. I would also like to thank our old friends, and the new friends we have made during this campaign, for their support. Finally, and probably most important, I would like to thank all voters of the 59th District. It will be a pleasure to serve you in Madison, making sure your feelings and views are expressed. Working together, we will be successful as individuals, a District, and a State, which we should all be proud of and promote.

Thank you and I look forward to serving you.

Sincerely,
Michael [Mickey] Lehman

Students Tour Chicago

Thirty-eight students and nine adults spent Saturday, Nov. 12th traveling by bus to tour the windy city of Chicago. On a history excursion set up by Mr. Fran Charland, the students enjoyed many various Chicago attractions. The day started out with a slide presentation on the history of Chicago. Next on the agenda was a visit to the John Hancock Observatory and a view of Chicago from 93 stories above ground. The highlight of the trip was a visit to the "Field Museum of Natural History" where there is a new display to observe, entitled, "Pharaoh's Tomb." There, the students viewed first hand genuine mummy's and Egyptian artifacts.

The day ended with an hour and a half to explore water tower Place which is a seven story shopping center. The students were allowed to roam freely and eat supper at one of the many various restaurants within the Mall. Said Mr. Charland, "The trip was very worthwhile - the kids really seemed to enjoy themselves."

If anyone is interested in a Chicago excursion, there will be another trip similar to this one sometime in March. Also Mr. Charland is also planning a trip to Washington D.C., June 5-11, 1989. Seats are still available at very reasonable prices. Contact the high school office if you are interested in joining in on these trips.

Governor Thompson Proclaims Wisconsin Homecare Week

MADISON, WI — Governor Thompson has proclaimed the week of November 27 through December 3, 1988 as "Wisconsin Homecare Week to foster greater awareness of home health care as an attractive, cost-effective choice over institutional care," the Wisconsin Homecare Organization (WHO) announced today.

"Home health care emphasizes the dignity and independence of people receiving health care in their home. It is the oldest and most enduring tradition of health care delivery because it helps keep families together," Thompson said in his proclamation.

"A significant and growing body of evidence also shows that home health care services help stimulate quicker and fuller recoveries than institutional care," Thompson said.

"Home health care covers a wide range of services, from home health aides to skilled nursing, as well as physical, speech and occupational therapies," Thompson said.

"State and federal government policies that encourage community and home-based care require a greater commitment of public and private resources," Thompson noted.

Aleta Barmore, executive director of WHO, said 157 home health care agencies throughout Wisconsin provided a wide range of services to more than 55,000 people in 1987, by making more than 1.9 million patient visits to people of all ages.

Barmore noted the 1987 total represents a 26 percent increase in the number of patients served since 1983.

The number of people employed by home health agencies also has increased steadily since 1983, with more than 7,100 people employed by homecare agencies in 1987, Barmore said. She said home health care agencies throughout Wisconsin are planning open houses and public affairs programming during Wisconsin Homecare Week.

For more information about what home health care can do for you, write or call for a free consumer guide: Wisconsin Homecare Organization, P.O. Box 752, Madison, WI 53701-0752, 1-608-274-8118.

my family (Shari's) who kept calling to check on Mom's health and giving moral support.

And most of all very special thanks go out to our wonderful children; Jon, Scott, Brian, Lori and a special gal, Julie Enright, who gave up their plans to help out with Grandma.

On Wednesday, papers were drawn whereby Herman Meilahn, senior member of the Meilahn & Haug Furniture Store and Undertaking establishment, became the sole owner. The former took possession at once. The firm of Meilahn & Haug consisted of Herman Meilahn and Peter and Jacob Haug. The former has been in the furniture business for several years and is very well acquainted with the furniture business. Messrs. Haug entered the furniture business a year ago last September, when they purchased the interest of John F. Schaefer.

People who take the new nickels need have no fear of being buffaloed for the Indian on the buffalo nickel is an "honest Injun." This announcement was made by a local banker to reassure his friends who thought they had been swindled by counterfeit 5-cent pieces of a new Wild West pattern. A new die has been adopted at the Philadelphia mint, different from the one which the Denver mint uses. The difference between the two dies is chiefly in the supporting mound beneath the buffalo. The original nickels at that spot have a large area of earth, giving so large an animal the support that it requires. On the side of the mound on the old nickels in raised letters are "Five Cents" and "D". In the new design the ridge under the buffalo's feet are narrow, giving him the appearance of dancing on a tight rope.

McCallum's Observations on USSR Trip

Lieutenant Governor Scott McCallum recently returned from a three-week trip to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The 25-member "People to People" tour was sponsored by the Citizens Ambassador Program of Spokane, Washington. The group, composed of Wisconsin business and government leaders, visited Moscow and Leningrad in Russia, Yerevan in Armenia, and Tallinn in Estonia. The following is McCallum's first person account of his experiences in the Soviet Union.

"On Tuesday evening in the Soviet Union, we stood on the steps of our hotel and listened to the chanting of thousands of Armenian nationalists. We watched demonstrators march in their bustling central square of Yerevan, their capital, with heads bowed and hands clasped behind them, symbolic of their years of imprisonment under the rule of others, including the Russians.

On Wednesday morning, we stood on the steps of our hotel and listened to the eerie silence, broken only by the chirping of crickets. In the central square of a city of more than a million people. And watched the Soviet troops, tanks and armored personnel carriers that were now the only occupants of the square. Except for us, a group of 24 Wisconsin business and government leaders.

We were the last Americans to leave Armenia, the Soviet Republic which borders Iran and Turkey, and the first Americans to visit Rapla in Estonia, one of the Baltic republics. It gave us a unique opportunity to view General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev's Perestroika in action.

The U.S.S.R. is a union only in the loosest sense. It is comprised of 106 separate nationalities, each with its own culture, its own language, its own history, and, in some cases, its own religion. It is more like a sprawling empire. Advanced militarily; backward economically. Why backward? Because we saw hundreds of Soviet citizen lines to purchase poorly made, poorly designed, and outdated consumer goods. My wife, who admits she was born to shop, equated shopping in the U.S.S.R. to having to wait hours in line for the privilege of paying retail prices for Goodwill Store goods.

Because many of the officials we met with wanted to do business with firms in Wisconsin, but they had very little to offer. They need our expertise, our technology, our goods, but they can't pay for it — the ruble has no value outside the U.S.S.R.

The U.S.S.R. was a nation of puzzling contrasts for me. Leninism, which appears to have become the only state-sanctioned religion, proclaimed the U.S.S.R. the workers' paradise. However, the best food, the best lodging, the best goods, and the best travel accommodations are reserved for visiting capitalists because the Soviets need our hard currency to pay for goods and services they need to import. The U.S.S.R. produces highly advanced military hardware, but, on a visit to a new hospital, we discovered that a Soviet physician supervising a radiology department, had never heard of a CAT-Scan. The U.S.S.R. leads the space race, but our flights on their only domestic airline were definitely no-frills — they were also no-food, no-seatbelts, and no-room. Equally shocking was the failure of Soviet citizens to question. In Moscow and Leningrad we were told about the different version of their history that has now been approved by the government. They didn't seem to question how or why history could change. In the republics of Armenia and Estonia, a different attitude prevailed. The hope in Perestroika was that of freedom to express nationalism.

Perestroika has meant change. One of the goals of Perestroika is "democratization." They have a long way to go to achieve democracy as we know and practice it. Yet, it has allowed a certain self-criticism, and the formation of political movements outside the Communist Party. In Estonia, they told us excitedly of being allowed, for the first time in 45 years, to display the black, blue and white colors of their national flag. In Armenia, although the Soviet military was there in force and although the capital city was sealed off, peaceful demonstrations outside the central square of Yerevan were allowed to continue.

It became apparent to me that Mr. Gorbachev is treading a precarious line. With the hope, and the expectations created, it will not be easy to turn back. We saw that happening already in Armenia and Estonia. At the same time, we saw resistance to change, especially inside Russia. Many were accustomed to the government making their choices for them. There were frightened at the prospect of self-reliance.

However, one of the images I'll always carry with me is that of our group spontaneously cheering as our train left the U.S.S.R. and passed into Finland. Not because the toilet paper was better or the clothes more fashionable or pizza was available, but because we could schedule a trip from Wisconsin to Illinois without getting government approval; because we could meet with a Jewish refusenik without being watched; and because we could."

Dorothy Brosin, State Coordinator, said that people volunteering to serve counselors should have a good knowledge of tax matters. They should also be willing to participate in a week-long training course sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service and the Wisconsin Department of Revenue and be able to devote at least four hours a week to providing the tax counseling.

People interested in finding out more about the Tax Aide Program of serving as a counselor should contact Lucille DeGroot, West Bend, phone 414-338-8513.

"Since our counselors don't charge a fee for their service," Ms. Brosin said, "the IRS does not require them to sign returns or hold them responsible for underpayment of taxes on returns they prepare."

Volunteers Sought to Offer Tax Aide/Tax Counseling for Elderly

Recruitment for volunteers as part of the nationwide Tax Aide/Tax Counseling for the Elderly Program has begun in our area. Tax Aide is a community service of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) working in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.

These volunteers will serve as tax counselors to older persons and help in the preparation of their 1988 Federal and State income tax returns. They will also be able to determine if any of a client's social security benefits are taxable. The free service will be available to the public from Feb. 1 to Apr. 15,

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

by Joyce Albrecht, Extension Home Economist

Tender, Nutritious Venison

Venison is a part of the diet of emphasis on diet many consumers are interested in being able to compare venison to other types of meat purchased in the store.

North Dakota State University (ND) and the University of Wyoming, have done studies to analyze nutritional levels of venison and other wild game.

All types of meat, domestic and venison, have a similar protein content. In the ND study, the iron content of whitetail deer is about twice that of beef. Zinc, another important mineral found in meat is lower in venison than in beef, but venison values were comparable to levels in pork. Cholesterol levels were compared and beef had 72 mg. per 3.5 ounces, pork 69 mg. and whitetail deer, 116 mg.

Venison contains less marbling than feedlot-beef. However, venison's fat content is comparable to very lean beef. Fat content is dependent upon what the deer had been eating.

For example, Southern Wisconsin deer are often much fatter than Northern Wisconsin deer.

Now that you have your deer and are going to prepare it for your family it is important to handle the venison properly.

Venison should be cared for in the same manner as domestic meat. Do not soak venison in soda or salt water.

Store uncooked venison in the coldest part of the refrigerator. It should be wrapped or tightly covered before storing. Use within 2-3 days or freeze for longer storage.

Always cook venison at low to moderate heat for juicy, tender, evenly cooked meat. In preparing tougher, older meat, its best to use long, slow cooking methods. Another way to tenderize is to baste it with an acid such as orange juice, tomato juice, diluted vinegar, sour cream, pickle juice or cooking wine. The acid helps to break down the tissues and tenderizes the meat.

Cook venison by the same methods that you prepare beef. Since the characteristic flavor may be concentrated in the fat, trimming excess fat may help, if the flavor is strong.

The following is a recipe from the publication "Now It's Venison," which is available from the U.W. Extension Office for .25. The office is located in Room 235 of the Courthouse.

Hunter Stew

- 3 lbs. venison roast, cut in 1" pieces
- salt and pepper
- 6 large carrots, cut in 1" pieces
- 6 medium potatoes, cut into 1" pieces
- 3 tblsp. bacon fat
- hot water
- 1 bay leaf
- 3 large onions, cut into large pieces
- 1 small head cabbage, cut into 8 pieces
- 1 small head cabbage, cut into 8 pieces

Brown meat in hot bacon fat in Dutch oven. Add enough water to just cover meat, salt and pepper to taste, and simmer 1 hour covered. Add bay leaf, carrots, then simmer 30 minutes more. Add onions and potatoes and simmer 20-30 minutes. You may have to add more water to keep ingredients covered. Add cabbage and cover. Simmer 15 minutes.

Venison-Vegetable Casserole

- 1/2 cup celery, diced
- 1/4 cup onion, diced
- 2 tblsp. green pepper, diced
- 1 tsp. butter or margarine
- 1 cup diced, cooked venison
- 1 8 oz. can (1 cup) peas, drained
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 tblsp. lemon juice
- 1 can mushroom soup
- 2/3 cup water
- 1 1/2 cup cooked rice
- 1/2 cup cracker crumbs

Preheat oven to 350 F. Sauté celery, onions, and green pepper in butter until golden. Combine venison, vegetables, salt, pepper, lemon juice, soup, and water and mix well. Put cooked rice in buttered casserole. Pour meat and vegetable mixture over rice. Sprinkle with cracker crumbs. Bake for 25 minutes.

True Venison Jerky

Cut lean strips of venison into pieces 1 to 1 1/2 inches thick and about 5 inches long. Any cut can be used but tender meat gives a better product. The loin, round and flank are often used.

Make a brine of 1/2 pound salt to 1 gallon water; store in granite canner, stone crock or bucket. Add meat. Weight the meat so the liquid covers the surface, and let stand at least 12 hours at cool temperatures, 50 degrees or below.

Drain well and place on trays from smoker. Transfer to smokehouse. Dry out and flavor with warm, not hot, smoke for 5-15 days, depending on the size of the pieces. Use any non-resinous wood like maple, ash, or apple. When completely dry, store meat in airtight containers. Jerky keeps indefinitely if all the fat has been removed before brining.

Southern Junior Livestock Show Farm-City Banquet November 26

Livestock exhibitors and those interested in supporting livestock shows will find plenty of activities at the second Farm-City Banquet, Saturday, Nov. 26, at Mineral Point, according to Sue Finley, secretary of the Friends of Southern Junior Livestock Show and Alumni. The Catholic Center will be the banquet site. Serving will start at 7:00 p.m.

Beef from the grand champion steer at the 1988 Southern Junior Livestock Show will be served. Meat from the Show's grand champion barrow, reserve grand champion lamb and reserve grand champion steer will be auctioned off following the meal, thanks to the supporters of the show.

Favorite cuts from the quality carcasses have been specially packaged in various assortments to meet the needs of the bidders. Previous buyers have found this quality meat not only welcomed in the family home freezer, but that these packages make special Christmas gifts for family, friends and business associates. Proceeds from this sale goes to the Alumni to support Southern Junior Livestock Show activities.

Phil Crawford, Mineral Point, will entertain banquet goers in his special presentation. Crawford is with the Wisconsin Power and Light Company.

The Exhibitor's speech and Essay Contest will again be a special part of the Farm City Banquet, according to chairman, Sue Finley. The contest is open to any youth who made entries in the 1988 Southern Junior Livestock Show.

Knowing that exhibiting beef cattle, sheep and hogs at the Southern Junior Livestock Show has played an important role in the lives of young people and their families for nearly three-fourths of a century, and the showing has provided many positive opportunities that opened many future careers, the alumni sponsors this special contest.

"How Showing Will Effect My Future" is the subject for this year's contest. Speeches are to run around three minutes in length, essays should be around 300 words.

Judging will be on the content and sincerity of the essay or speech as well as the neatness of the essay and the delivery of the speech. United States Savings Bonds will be presented to the winner in each division. Cash will be awarded to the runner-ups.

Entries must be mailed to the contest chairman by Monday, Nov. 21. For forms write Sue Finley, Box 91, Fennimore, WI 53809, or call 608-822-6092.

The annual meeting of the Alumni will be held that evening at the conclusion of the auction. All former showmen, as well as those interested in working with and supporting the Southern Junior Livestock Show are invited to the banquet and annual meeting. Lifetime dues to the Alumni are $25. For membership forms, contact Finley at 608-822-6092.

Snowmobile Safety Courses

Snowmobile Safety Courses are held to promote responsible common sense snowmobile use. Along with instruction in laws and regulations, these classes teach personal safety, proper use of a snowmobile, proper clothing, basic trail first aid, and safety factors. It justly teaches respect for the land-owners who provide the trails and the land itself. Stressed throughout is the respect for the environment and wildlife. Each student must be able to name and locate main parts of a snowmobile, learn their use for operation and understand how a snowmobile works.

The course is given in two informative and important parts. The classroom segment is followed by a written test and the second segment is a road test which includes a passing factor. All young people between the ages of 12 and 16 must take this course to operate a snowmobile. Any person can sit in, or take the course in full, in an attempt to better understand the sport. All students that fulfill the requirements and pass the test are given a certificate by the State of Wisconsin, Department of Natural Resources. The written test is provided along with teaching materials by the DNR. All instructors are trained under DNR supervision through this program, but most of all they volunteer their time free of charge to promote snowmobile safety. MS 500+ Snowmobile Tour Planned for February

A foot of snow has already fallen in Hurley, Wisconsin setting the scene for this year's MS 500+ snowmobile tour. Over 200 snowmobilers will take to some of the Midwest's finest trails on February 2-5, 1989, for the sixth annual MS 500+.

This year will also mark the third year that the tour will be headquartered in Hurley. The four-day, 250 mile snowmobile tour is sponsored by R.L. Ryerson Inc., distributor of Polaris snowmobiles, and the Wisconsin National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Riders from throughout the Midwest will be lead by a corp of knowledgeable, experienced guides in groups of 20. The riders will travel 125 miles into upper Michigan, and 125 miles into Iron County in Wisconsin. Ralph and Joyce Garland from Burlington, Wisconsin, will serve as this year's Trailmasters.

The MS 500+ provides riders with all lodging and meals for the weekend. Snowmobilers choice in lodging includes accommodations at either the Hurley Holiday Inn or the Haven North Condominiums. Also featured is support from fully equipped repair vans and top notch mechanics, and great entertainment, including a Saturday night banquet.

The plus in this year's MS

500+ signifies the new 1989 Golden Circle Club. This club honors those snowmobilers who raise $1000 or more in pledges for the fight against MS. Riders who make it to the Golden Circle Club will enjoy special perks throughout the tour, and have the opportunity to win a 1990 Polaris 650 Sled. In addition, the top fund raiser of the 1989 MS 500+ will be awarded at 1990 Polaris Indy Trail Sled.

Each snowmobiler raises a minimum of $650 in pledges to participate in the MS 500+. Since the original tour in 1984, over 500 snowmobilers have raised more than $300,000 to help fight multiple sclerosis. MS is a chronic, progressive disease of the central nervous system, most often diagnosed in young adults, ages 20-40, currently affecting over 5,000 Wisconsin families. As of yet, there is no known cause, effective treatment, or cure for multiple sclerosis.

For more information on the MS 500+, call the Wisconsin National Multiple Sclerosis Society at 414/276-4606 or toll-free in Wisconsin 800/242-3358.

Drought-Aided Bear Harvest Totals 1,123

MADISON, — Wisconsin bear hunters took 1,123 bears during the 1988 season, Department of Natural Resources wildlife officials announced this week. The season ran from September 10 through October 7.

After two years of harvesting fewer bears than the desired management goals, hunters went over the 1,000 figure aided by the drought-caused shortage of natural bear food. The 1987 bear harvest was 837 with a goal of 1,000; the 1986 total was 503 with a goal of 860.

Bear hunting rules were changed in 1986 to divide the state into three zones and limit the number of bear that hunters could kill. The new rules established a permit system as well as a one-week, headstart season opening date shared during alternate years by hound hunters and bait sitters.

"There definitely was a shortage of good bear food in the woods this season because of the drought," Frank Haberland, DNR wildlife biologist, said. "That shortage tended to move bear around more and also seemed to make them more susceptible to the 'free lunch' provided at baiting stations."

There were 870 bear registered in Zone A, which is located in northwestern Wisconsin, a total of 169 registered in the northcentral counties of Zone B, and 62 registered in the northeastern counties of Zone C. Twenty-two bears were registered, but actual zone of harvest was unknown.

Bait hunters harvested 662 bear, or 59 percent of the total harvest. Hunters using dogs registered 442 bear, or 39 percent of the total harvest. The style of hunting was unknown for the other 19 bears harvested.

Indians Lose Basketball Opener

With five returning lettermen as starters, the Kewaskum Indians just couldn't pull together to pull out a win and ended up losing their first non-conference game to Slinger 67-59.

Slinger scored first to start the game to which Indian senior Mike Struebing popped a 20 footer to put Kewaskum on the board. Kewaskum pulled down a rebound on the other end of the court, Kewaskum Steve Gerhartz scores and the Indians were out in front 4-2. The first half of play ended up being a lot of "run and gun" basketball with Kewaskum leading at the end of the first quarter 14-8.

Into the second quarter, Kewaskum started falling apart and lost the lead with about 3 minutes left. By the end of the first half Kewaskum was done 33-28.

The third quarter found the Owls breaking away and after two un-answered baskets, Kewaskum's Coach Shatz called a time-out. Kewaskum just couldn't make up the points, and going into the fourth quarter were down 51-40.

A spark of hope burned with about 5 minutes left in the fourth quarter as Kewaskum's Struebing hit two quick baskets to tighten up the game 55-50. Mike Ciriacks popped in another basket to make it 55-52 with 4:24 left in the game, but that's the closest the Indians ever got to victory. Fouls and costly turn-overs in the closing minutes of the game pulled the Owls ahead as they capitalized on Kewaskum mistakes. Slinger's Scott Wolf was on the free throw line three times in the last minutes making 3 of 5. Indian Brian Leitheiser threw up a 3 point buzzer - shot to end the game, Slinger 67, Kewaskum 59.

Kewaskum exhibited some excellent outside shooting but needed more penetration under the boards. Senior Joel Miller drilled in three - 3 pt. shots with Streubing adding two - 3 pointers. Gerhartz was leading scorer for Kewaskum with 17 points, playing a strong first half with Streubing and Miller adding 12 and 11 respectively.

Next game is at Plymouth on Dec. 2nd.

JV's Lose a Heartbreaker

A scrappy JV team traveled to Slinger in their first non-conference game of the season, only to lose by a heart-breaking 2 points, 63-61.

The Indians were always in contention throughout the game but only held the lead once in the 2nd quarter. With about 4 minutes left, Scott Heller was fouled on the shot. At the free-throw line, he made one of two shots to put the Indians ahead 20-19. This was the first and only time the Indians held the lead as the Owls answered back with two baskets in a row to take over the lead and keep it for the rest of the game. Half-time score Owls 31 - Indians 26.

The Indians spent the second half playing "catch up" basketball and although they gave it their best shot, they wound up short.

In the third quarter, the Owls broke the scoring spread open a little further as Slinger had up to three shots to Kewaskum's one. There was much intense play under the hoop with Kewaskum's Mark Felix dominating block shots and intimidating inside shooting. Still it wasn't enough to tighten up the score.

Fourth quarter action saw the Indians pull together and with 2:20 left in the game, Indian Corey Krahn made two free throws to make the score 59-55. As the time ticked away, a couple baskets were exchanged between both teams. Then with 16 seconds left, Kewaskum's Mark Felix drove to the hoop and put away two points for the Indians to make it Slinger 63 - Kewaskum 61. Kewaskum's Krahn picks up a blocked pass by being in the right place at the right time and with six seconds left - time out Kewaskum.

Kewaskum inbounds, passes to Felix who throws up the last shot which bounce's off the rim as time runs out. Final score Kewaskum 61, Slinger 63. Leading scorers for the Indians were Felix with 19 points and Heller with 16 pts. Keith Hosking led Slinger with 13 pts.

Next game is Friday, Dec. 2nd when the Kewaskum Indians travel to Plymouth.
