36 Years of Tradition Ends As Kiwanis Cancels Turkey Shoot

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club announced the cancellation of its annual Turkey Shoot that is held each September because of the inability of the club to work out suitable arrangements for the use of the grounds.

The Turkey Shoot has been the major fund raising activity for the club for the past 36 years and has funded many large and small area projects. All funds that have been raised from the Turkey Shoot have been used strictly for area youth and community projects. Some of these projects include sponsoring scouting, purchase of land for the Kiwanis park and pool, several annual scholarships, playground equipment for local parks and churches, Jaws of Life and rescue sled for Kewaskum Fire Department, and a major contribution for the new park shelter.

The Kiwanis Club wishes to thank all the supporters and helpers of past turkey shoots and asks for your continued support in whatever new fund raisers they organize. Without all the public support and participation, few of these accomplishments could have been realized.

The club appreciates the past co-operation extended by the previous Bar-N Ranch owner, Walter Timmerman, and Elmer and Addie Kittel, of the Bar-N-Tavern, for the use of their facilities. The club will be planning for new fund raising projects in an effort to continue community contributions at the same level as it has in the past.

Farmington PTO Buying Playground Equipment

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum School Board gave its formal approval for the purchase of playground equipment which will be paid for by the Farmington PTO.

Marcia Theusch, representing the group, told the board Monday night, the PTO has been working on fundraising projects which will enable it to buy over $5,000 in new equipment for the school. Theusch said bids had been received and the PTO already has $3,000 set aside for the purchase. She asked that the district go ahead with the purchase of all the equipment now so it can be installed by the time school begins. Theusch noted buying all the equipment at one time would also allow the group to take advantage of discounts offered by the dealer.

With the $3,000 it already has and another fundraiser set for September, Theusch said the PTO would be able to reimburse the district fully for the cost of the equipment by fall.

Theusch said the equipment purchase was the second phase of a two-year project to improve playground facilities at the school. The first phase, which is already complete, was the blacktopping of additional space to provide a large play area for the students.

Board member John Schulte commended the group, stating he was glad to see an active PTO take this action. Buildings and Grounds Superintendent Fred Boehlke also commended the PTO on all the time and effort put into the project. "They did an excellent job of researching everything, from the manufacturers to insurance coverage."

In other action the board approved the purchase of six IBM computers and a census program. Business Manager Cherna Gorder said the funds for the purchase, $9,450, were included in the budget and a portion of the cost would be reimbursed through a Carl Perkins grant.

Five of the computers will be for student use and the sixth kept for administrative use.

The board also approved the spending of $8,555 for furnace repairs needed above the high school library.

District Administrator Dr. David Heather asked for and received approval to institute a staff development plan for the district's faculty. He told the board the program, consisting of seven 2½ hour sessions, is designed to help teachers improve their abilities to teach.

Heather said it would take about three to four years to get the entire staff through the program. He anticipated getting 30 individuals into the program this year. He noted that while the district has a good teaching staff, it needs to get moving on some kind of instruction improvement which will help the faculty update and improve on its teaching techniques and performance in the classroom.

As part of the district's meeting upcoming mandates set up by the Department of Public Instruction, the board approved the setting up of an "Education For Employment Plan" and appointed Dan Wangerin as the program's coordinator. The program is one of the "20 Standards" the DPI is requiring be implemented by all school districts.

Service contracts with CESA #1 and #6, for the 1989-90 school year were also approved by the board.

In contract negotiations, Negotiations Committee Chairman Ron Beimborn advised the board the last meeting with the KEA had been on June 14th. He noted the two sides have now agreed on an individual to serve as mediator.

Beimborn also indicated further discussions with the KAP have been scheduled for July 20th.

Rustic Drive Bridge Reconstruction Begun

Road construction was expected to start the week of July 10, on the reconstruction of the Rustic Drive Bridge over the West Branch of the Milwaukee River. The work will consist of replacing the existing structure with a wider two-span bridge and widening and straightening the approaches.

The work will be performed under a contract let to Lunda Construction Co. of Black River Falls, WI, at an estimated cost of $130,816.00. Financing will be shared on approximately a 80/20 percentage by the Federal government and the Town of Ashford, respectively, from funds provided primarily by gas taxes.

Rustic Drive will be closed to through traffic during construction operations, with access only to local property owners. It is anticipated that the road will be closed during the week of July 10, 1989 and will be reopened by the end of September, 1989.

From Tom Kennelly

REPELLENTS

Insect repellents containing DEET provide best protection from insect varieties, including those causing Lyme disease and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. However, several children have developed DEET-related encephalopathy, a potentially fatal brain disorder - slurred speech, convulsions, and other neurological reactions. Avoid repeated and extensive applications of insect repellents. Protective clothing and netting are far safer alternatives.

4-H Clothing Revue Shows Fashion Design

"Looking good and feeling great" was this year's theme for the 1989 Fashion Explosion at Paradise Mall's center court Saturday, June 24.

Twenty-four entrants modeled over forty garments on stage for Judge Mary Koepke from Oconomowoc. Each clothing entry was evaluated on overall look, individual appearance, and fit of the garment.

The Clothing Revue is divided into three categories determined by age and years of involvement in the program. 4-H youth participating in the beginning "Fun With Clothing" divisions were LeAnne Pomeroy, Erin Parr, Karen Timm, Katie Jahnke, April Lang, Dawn Pomeroy, Shelly Rofritz, Norah Schowalter, Michelle Oestreich, Laura Shier, Marlo Deshotels, Debbie Schneider, Shannon Seebruch, and Lana Pamperin.

Participants in the intermediate "Clothing Connections" division included Stacey Darmody, Christine Schmidt, Sarah Nothem, Kristen Kieselhorst, Anne Mertz, and Teresa Anderson.

Advanced designers in the "Clothing Unlimited" division were Rachel Heidtke, Michelle Schaub, Beth Schaefer, and Amy Chesak. Two entrants modeled in the crocheting division of the Revue. They were Michelle Oestreich and Rachel Heidtke.

In addition to ribbon awards, Washington County selected two youths as delegates to the Wisconsin State Fair Clothing Revue. They are Rachel Heidtke of the Kirchhyn Trotters for her periwinkle, crocheted pullover sweater and Teresa Anderson of the Wayne Crusaders for her black party dress. Michelle Schaub and Beth Schaefer of the Kewaskum 4-H's were chosen as alternates to the State Fair. Youth must be 14-18 years old to be eligible for the Wisconsin State Fair Clothing Revue.

Other awards that will be announced at the Washington County Fair include two first-year beginning seamstresses, beginning seamstress, intermediate seamstress, and advanced seamstress. In addition, Teen Choice awards are decided by the participants in each division.

Clothing Revue participants were also given the opportunity to preview some of the styles for fall by displays that were placed around the center court by four cooperating stores from Paradise Mall. They were Vanity, Deb, Marianne/Marianne Plus, and Maurices. 4-H's combined their knowledge of color, line, and design with tips on colorizing, accessorizing, and coordinate building with this year's focus, "How to Build a Basic Outfit."

You can see the 1989 Fashion Explosion and Clothing Revue at the Washington County Fair in Slinger on Friday, July 28 at 7:30 p.m. Recipients of the Anna Lhotka Memorial Award will be announced following the Clothing Revue at the County Fair.

The Visiting Nurse Association is accepting applications for enrollment in a Personal Care Worker training course. The course, which is scheduled to begin July 18, will be held at the VNA office, 307 Lincoln Avenue, Sheboygan, WI.

Anyone interested in becoming trained as a Personal Care Worker and becoming employed in the home health care field is asked to register by calling Virginia Strassburg at 458-4314 or 893-4314 before Friday, July 14.

Children Go On Stage at UWWC

Forty-three children, ages 7 through 12, go on stage at 2:30 p.m. during the last three Saturdays in July at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County.

The performances are the culmination of the fourth annual Children's Theatre Workshop at UWWC. Tickets cost $2 for the July 15, 22 and 29 shows.

Each show consists of three productions: "You, Me and Mrs. Jones" by the older children and two presentations by the younger ones: "How the First Letter was Written," and "Who Laughs First?"

Workshop activities began May 13 and are co-sponsored by Theatre on the Hill and the UW Extension continuing education program at UWWC.

Productions from earlier summers included "Magic Theatre," "How to Eat like a Child," "Priscilla the Performing Pig" and "Golly-whoppers."

The 1989 workshop is headed by Diane Daley of West Bend, who has worked with the Musical Masquers and directed their shows. She teaches at the West Bend high schools, where she has also directed theatre productions.

According to Brad Ford, the artistic director of Theatre on the Hill program, the initial workshop sessions were like an acting class. Early in June, all children auditioned for roles in the summer plays.

During Monday through Thursday summer sessions, held each morning in the UWWC theatre, students meet for regular workshops and rehearsals, and experience musical, vocal, dance and physical warmups, Ford said.

A major purpose of the summer workshop, he explained, "is to introduce children to theatre at a very early age." He added, "Hopefully, it becomes a life-time avocation. We don't do this with expectation of making professional actors or actresses but knowledgeable theatre patrons."

Tickets may be purchased at the theatre door on the days of the performances or reserved in advance by calling UWWC, 338-5208.

"Seek His Face Always," the theme of the International Lutheran Women's Missionary League 23rd Biennial Convention in Rapid City, South Dakota, June 26-29th, set the spiritual tone for the nearly 7000 in attendance.

Attending the convention from Zone Nine, South Wisconsin District were Eileen Jentsch, Beatrice Scholz, Helen and Doris Winter, Sherman Center, Shirley Aurich, and Vi Seider, Batavia; Jean Dipple and Mildred Jeske, Cascade; Irene Blanke, Adell; Bernice Ward, Plymouth; Ralph and Esther Maechtle, Marlene Barber, Fredonia; and Victor and Doris Krahn, Plymouth.

A major highlight of the convention was the recognition of Dr. Edward A. Westcott, Jr. who has worked closely with the LWML as Executive Director of the Board for Mission Services for The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod. One of the offerings was given for a project of his choice. Dr. Westcott provided a challenge in his words, "go to the Cross. Join the crowd who listen and experience. Let others see Jesus through me, who served and saved us all."

A new mission video "The Least of These - A Healing Ministry in India" featuring Alice Brauer was shown to the assembly after which she appeared on stage and expressed her appreciation to the LWML for their support of her work in Ambur, India.

With a $1,010,000 mission goal, the delegates chose 15 projects to support in the 1989-91 biennium.

Esther Wessling, a featured speaker shared her personal testimony of pain and healing. Her presentation challenged a searching of the personal self, looking to the Savior, and knowing the sanctifying power of God.

Special worship services included an opening communion service and featured a procession of banners of the 44 LWML districts. Dr. Orville C. Walz, president of Concordia College, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada preached in the three part style of the hundred year old liturgy. Tuesday's outdoor Vesper Service was highlighted by the forming of a human Celtic cross on the civic center lawn. Earlier in the evening the International Mission Service committee led a dedication of the item for this convention's Ingathering.

The daily convention Bible study "Seek Him...in His Word, in Prayer, and in Service" was led by the Rev. Dirk van der Linde, Topic Editor of the Lutheran Woman's Quarterly.

The conclusion of the convention also marked the beginning of the LWML's 50th jubilee celebration at it's 1991 convention in Cleveland, OH.

The LWML is an auxiliary of The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod. It has 200,000 members in 5,600 congregations in the United States and Canada.

Annual Picnic, Parade Hot Stuff In More Ways Than One!

Despite 95 degree blast oven temperatures and extremely high humidity the Kewaskum Firemen - Legion annual parade drew a huge crowd of spectators. Sunburned parade enthusiasts were rewarded with one of the finest parades ever. The heat wave did keep attendance down, however, at the picnic in River Hill park following the parade. Sometimes it's too hot even for ice-cold beer and tasty hamburgers. Rumor had it that the thermometer topped out at 120 degrees inside the hamburger stand. Loyal picnic-goers seemed to be standing in line to seek the slightly cooler breeze under the shade trees rather than to ride the ponies. Ice cream and sno-cone sales were up and the waltz made a definite comeback. It was even too hot to polka! Spectators were scrambling to get front row seats for the water fights, however. It seems though most people have become accustomed to a heat wave on picnic weekend. Like "Rain Days" in Boltonville, if it's time for the Kewaskum Picnic... it's gonna be hot!

On Monday a fourth degree manslaughter warrant had been drawn for Aaron Zielieke, charging gross negligence in operating a truck. According to officers reports, Zielieke, who was driving to the south, came up behind a horsedrawn cultivator and a motorcycle as he went over a grade at a high rate of speed. Miss Alma Drews of Milwaukee and the misses Johanna and Clara Brayman of Campbellsport were saved from drowning in the Campbellsport mill pond at 11 o'clock Monday morning through the prompt action of Marlin Warden, son of H.H. Warden of the Campbellsport mills. The three girls had gone in bathing in the pond. They were using inflated water wings and in some manner got into deep water. Despite their struggles they were swept out into the deeper water where they became exhausted. Marlin Warden happened to step out of the mill some two hundred feet away, heard screams and rushed to the dam where he discovered the girls' plight. He leaped into the water and managed after a hard struggle to bring the two Brayman girls to shore. The Drews girl had sunk the third time when Warden dove for her bringing her to the shore where she was revived.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ROMAN MILLER, who passed away 25 years ago, July 13, 1964:

A beautiful memory of one so dear, We cherish still with love sincere, He left us quietly, his thoughts unknown, But left us with a memory we are proud to own. So treasure him Lord in your garden of rest For when on earth, he was one of the best.

Sadly missed by his family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Martha Staeger, who passed away five years ago, July 5, 1984:

We often sit and think of you And speak of how you died; To think you could not say goodbye to us Before you closed your eyes. The flowers we placed upon your grave, May wither and decay But the love for you who sleeps beneath Shall never fade away.

Sadly missed by her children and grandchildren.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Ferdinand Weiland, who passed away July 14th, 1986:

They say time heals all sorrow, And helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved, How much we miss you yet. God gave us strength to take it. And courage to take the blow, But what it meant to lose you, No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by wife Lucy and Families.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Voters of the Kewaskum School District:

I know that the Beechwood School issue has been a very controversial item in the past few years. I would like at this time to be able to explain 2 very educational and worthwhile programs that are held in the Beechwood School building at this date. I also want to give you some history on them.

I have been the summer library coordinator since its conception in 1983. In September of 1982 a few volunteers, Colleen Narbatovics, Carolyn Beimborn and myself, set up the library at the Beechwood School. Before that time, each teacher just ordered whatever books they wanted to for their classrooms. In the fall of 1982, volunteers from the P.T.O. organized and cataloged all the books and made a library for the children. We did get some advice from Kathy Roerhig, Arnie Dittbrenner and George Allmann. However, we never had paid aides for the library like the other schools did. It never cost the school district money except for library books. The P.T.O. bought 3 wooden bookshelves and approximately 250 books for all age levels to supplement whatever books were there from the classrooms. The P.T.O. spent over $4,000 setting up this educational experience for the children of our area.

As the volunteer library aide at Beechwood, I would spend every Tuesday afternoon checking out books and the multitude of other duties librarians do. I was never paid nor did I ask for compensation for these duties.

In the spring of 1983, I consulted the librarian at the Random Lake Public Library, Darla Jean Kraus, about having a summer reading program at the school like the public libraries do. She thought it an excellent idea for the area children and so our summer library program was started. We have a volunteer staff of 4 people and we each put in 2 hours on Tuesdays for the program to run smoothly. We receive our materials through the Random Lake Library. I will bring samples of these materials to the July 10th school board meeting where they can be seen. I do run copies of mazes, coloring sheets, etc. at Farmington School before the end of the school year so we have these to hand out to the children for them to do and bring back for display if they choose to. I chose these handouts from a manual I loan from the Random Lake Library.

After our program and Farmington's were running the School Board did implement a policy on having all the school libraries open during the summer months.

It has been proven in studies that children who read during the summer months retain a lot of the skills they learned the year before in school. They start out with an advantage over children that do not read at all in the summer. With an organized program like these, it provides the incentive the rewards need to motivate children to read and keep up their skills in the summer.

Over the last 6 years, our enrollment has ranged from 40 to 65 attending. This year we have 58 students signed up. I can assure you that of these 1 to 16 year old students that attend over the summer would not have this opportunity if they could not walk or have easy access to this library. The closest library is in the Farmington School some 20 miles round trip for most of these children and their program is not set up like ours. We have 10 middle and high school students that attend and check out books. This age group is unusual to find reading books in the summer because of their activities elsewhere. However, they show up each week, check out books, and then move on to their weekly ballgame or rap session. For these older students we have gotten bulk book loans from the Random Lake Public Library to supplement our books so we keep their interest level. These students have contracted to read their 3 book minimum this summer and most have surpassed this goal with ease. And yes, we do spot quizzes on all the kids to see if they did indeed read their books.

We also have a "Read-To-Me" program for the youngest children, who range in age from 1 year on. These early years are so important so they learn to love reading- face it- without reading you can go nowhere in this world.

This year we hope to reach our goal of 1500 books read this summer. We run this year for 6 weeks. For every child fulfilling their contract they receive a free sundae from any Sheboygan Dairy Queen and a free pass to the Milwaukee County Zoo. This year the library program is being supported by the D.P.I. (Department of Public Instruction).

Our Preschool Storytime Hour is run on Tuesday evenings during the school year when the Princess Twirlettes have baton practice. This program is run by Carolyn and Jenny Beimborn. It is mainly designed for the preschool children but on many occasions, older students are seen leaving the building with research materials in hand or a book they remembered reading once and enjoyed. There are approximately 40 kids that attend this program. It has been in existence for the last 4 years. This program also is run with no funding from the school district. The children enjoy songs and do plays for the holidays. This also is a very educational program unlike any elsewhere in the district. Funding for both these programs is through the Beechwood Concerned Citizens.

As you can see, this is not just an empty building, it is still a place of learning for these students of ours. We would like the educational value of these to continue as long as possible. Thank You.

Sustainable Agriculture July Field Days

Demonstrators in the Wisconsin Sustainable Agriculture Program will hold twelve field days the last two weeks of July. According to Ken Rineer, sustainable agriculture program coordinator for the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP), "The statewide field days provide an excellent opportunity to discuss sustainable farming techniques with experienced, successful farmers."

The Sustainable Agriculture program demonstrates and promotes alternatives to conventional farming practices. Funds for the on-going farm projects are available because of oil company overcharges and are administered through the DATCP Agricultural Resource Management Division.

An area demonstration will be held on Thursday, July 27. Mike Ballweg, Sheboygan County, will demonstrate how to increase farm profitability with conservation tillage, nutrient management and integrated pest management. Jerold Berg is hosting the event at his farm from 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. The Berg farm is located on Hwy. 28, one mile north east of Cascade. Call (414) 459-3141 for more information.

Events are free and open to the public. For more information on the Sustainable Agriculture Program, call Michelle Miller at (608) 267-7129.

Safe Boating Reminders

MADISON* WI - One of Wisconsin's most troublesome lake weeds, Eurasian water milfoil, can be spread by boating equipment.

Boaters can help prevent the spread of this unwanted lake weed, according to Department of Natural Resources lake management specialists, by removing all aquatic plants from boats and trailers before launching and after leaving the water. Also check for and clear plants from the wet wells of trailered boats, board of sailboats and the interiors of car-top boats and canoes.

Native to Europe and Asia, Eurasian water milfoil was brought to North America in the 1940s, presumably as an aquarium plant. Since then it has spread to 37 states, including Wisconsin.

Once introduced into a lake, milfoil grows quickly — up to two inches per day. It often forms thick mats that interfere with boating, swimming and fishing.

Milfoil can also bring about changes in the natural lake environment by forcing out more beneficial native plants. Unlike native plants, Eurasian water milfoil is not used as food by most waterfowl, fish or insects; dense milfoil beds are also unsuitable habitat for fish spawning.

With no natural controls to keep it in check, Eurasian water milfoil thrives in almost any type of lake. It grows on silty, sandy or rocky bottoms.

Milfoil spreads rapidly as small pieces — broken from plants by waves and boats — sink to the bottom, root and grow. Fragments clinging to the propeller of a boat or hanging from a trailer are easily transported from lake to lake. Just by taking a few minutes to remove all aquatic plants from boats and trailers, boaters can help prevent the spread of Eurasian water milfoil.

Wisconsin's First Fall Turkey Hunt In October

MADISON, WI — Permit applications for Wisconsin's first fall wild turkey hunt are due August 11, reminds Department of Natural Resources turkey season coordinator Ed Frank.

The fall turkey hunting season runs for three consecutive Wednesday - Sunday hunting periods: Oct. 11-15, Oct. 18-22 and Oct. 25-29. Only eight zones are open to fall hunting.

"Since this is Wisconsin's first fall turkey season, it's hard to predict what the total harvest will be," said Frank. "I would expect that about 20 percent of the permit holders will bag a turkey, which is the success rate we see during the spring season."

Turkeys of any age or sex are legal. Shotguns or muzzle loading shotguns are the only legal firearms for hunting wild turkeys.

Applications for the 7,260 turkey hunting permits available must be received or postmarked no later than August 11.

Permit applications are available at DNR and county clerk offices. Individual permits are issued for one hunting period only and for one of eight hunting zones in southwestern Wisconsin.

"You must have a valid Wisconsin hunting license to apply for a fall turkey permit," said Frank. A 1988-89 or 1989-90 small game, sports, patron or archers license is required. A Wisconsin Hunter Education Certificate issued after Sept. 1, 1988, or a senior citizen recreation card will also qualify. Remember that 1988-89 hunting licenses expire Aug. 31, so a valid 1989-90 license will be required to hunt turkeys in October. The 1989-90 hunting licenses will go on sale July 31.

"Deer, bear or trapping licenses do NOT qualify as valid licenses to apply for a turkey permit or to hunt turkeys," added Frank.

A 1989-90 Wisconsin Turkey Stamp is also required to hunt turkeys. Stamps cost $13.75 each and are also available at DNR and county clerk offices.

"The 1988-89 turkey hunting stamp for the spring 1989 turkey season expires August 31 and is not good for the fall season," said Frank. "However, the 1989-90 stamp you purchase for this fall's season will be good for the 1990 spring turkey hunt."

Fall turkey hunting is different than spring turkey hunting. For more information on hunting turkeys in the fall, see the pamphlet "Fall Turkey Hunting in Wisconsin," DNR publication WM-189 89, available at DNR offices or by writing: DNR, Wildlife Management, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.
