Mammoth Machine Paving Bypass

The state-of-the-art paver manufactured by Gomaco, Inc., of Iowa, is computer-controlled, laying approximately one mile of two-lane wide concrete roadbed per day on the final two lanes of the Highway 45 bypass.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

What is being considered the newest technology in road construction equipment is paving the two southbound lanes of the Highway 45 bypass from north of West Bend, south to the Highway 41-45 interchange near Jackson.

The computer controlled machine, manufactured by Gomaco, Inc. of Ida Grove, Iowa, is doing the mainline paving work along the thirteen-mile bypass. As the machine paves the two-lane main bed (in one pass), it automatically inserts dowel bars in a series, into the concrete to prevent pavement cracking. One bar is laid for every one foot of pavement. The new paver also has the capabilities to lay a steel bar down the middle of the pavement, control pavement slope and elevate highway surfaces that curve.

Gomaco company officials believe it is the first time a setup such as the one being employed on the bypass has been used anywhere in the world.

The crew of Beaudoin & Son, Inc., of Menomonee Falls, the project contractor, anticipates laying approximately one mile of pavement per day. When the main roadbed is completed, work will begin on ramp connections which will be done by another crew, followed by the finishing work of installing underdrains, gravel, bitumen, shoulders and finally marking and signing of the entire bypass.

The $5 million project is expected to be completed, with all four lanes open to traffic, by late October or mid November.

Board's Agenda Handles Last Minute Details Before the Opening of School

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The bulk of Monday night's Kewaskum Board of Education meeting centered around items which had to be resolved before the start of the new school year which begins in less than two weeks.

The main business addressed by the board concerned last minute resignations and appointments to fill teaching, staff and coaching vacancies. In that action, the board approved the hiring of Glenn Eichstedt as both the high school social studies teacher and girls tennis coach. Eichstedt is a former Kewaskum student. Also hired were Cheryl Taylor as K-5 guidance counselor, Judith Geiser as speech and language clinician, Irene Heather EEN (exceptional education needs) teacher, Cynthia Heider secretary and Russ Freeman as assistant high school football coach.

Speaking on behalf of the Parents Advisory Council of the Kewaskum Middle School, Mrs. Janet Lauenstein, the group's president, asked for and received board approval of an incentive program designed to motivate KMS students to excel academically.

The program's basic purpose is to encourage students to achieve academic excellence including honor roll status. The idea of the program is to recognize and reward those efforts. Lauenstein told the board students receive recognition for their athletic accomplishments and PAC would like to see them recognized for their academic achievements. "After all," said Lauenstein, "the academic part is what school is all about."

PAC planned on addressing the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce at its monthly meeting last Wednesday night to present details of the program in an effort to gain business and community backing. Lauenstein said her group would like to see local merchants participate in the program by offering rewards such as free coke, discounts on movie rentals, etc.

School District Attitude Survey

The Kewaskum School district is asking a random selected sample of citizens to share their attitudes and perceptions about the district. On Thursday, August 17, 1989, the district mailed surveys to 10% of the registered voters of the school district. It is hoped that those residents receiving the survey will fill it out as soon as possible and return it to the district in the enclosed stamped envelope.

District residents who would like to participate in the survey, but were not part of the random sample, may pick up a survey at the district administrative offices at 1450 School Street, Kewaskum, during the week of August 21 - 25, 1989.

The school district is hoping the survey will receive support from the citizens and that a large number of surveys will be completed.

The attitudes and perceptions of the citizens are important considerations the district must assess as it makes plans for educational improvements in the programs now being offered.

Residents receiving the survey by mail should complete and return them as soon as possible. The school district would like to thank survey respondents for their participation and cooperation.

development and maintenances of all curriculum areas, an instructional improvement program for staff development, an across-the-curriculum effort to improve students' writing abilities, development of critical thinking skills among the students and the promotion of parent and community involvement in the school process. On the last point, Heather said it was time the residents began thinking of themselves as the Kewaskum School District, not as Beechwood, Wayne, Farmington or Kewaskum School parents.

In other action the board approved a resolution authorizing the district to borrow $200,000 for capital expenditures through the sale of general obligation notes.

On behalf of the Kewaskum School District, board president Neal Weare formally accepted a bequeath from the estate of Clara Jaehnig. The gift, in the amount of $10,000, is to be put in trust with the interest used to provide a scholarship for a student who has demonstrated a gift of social service to the community.

Dr. Heather also informed the board that surveys pertaining to the school district would be mailed Thursday, to 430 residents. The random survey count represents 10% of the voters. Heather stated, however, that any resident wishing to participate in the survey may do so by picking up a questionnaire at the Administration Office. The survey is the same questionnaire handed out at the Annual Meeting last month. Of the 54 surveys passed out at that time, 36 were completed and returned, noted Heather.

The board also approved the requests of Food Services Director Kathy Robinson to purchase a replacement braising kettle at a cost of $5,125, and Business Manager

Cherna Corder to purchase a MacIntosh computer for curriculum records at a cost of $2,770.

Moraine Park Offers Something For Everyone on Fall Course List

Are you interested in the laws regarding child care center certification? Do you want to know the latest developments in the field of computers? Are you looking for a way to update your farming methods? Would you like a program to help you prepare for a supervisory position?

If so, check out the fall course schedule from Moraine Park Technical College. On its way to mailboxes, the 44-page tabloid contains information on approximately 350 courses in more than 50 program areas.

Registration for all programs begins Aug. 21 and classes begin Sept. 5. Call the Fond du Lac campus at 929-2100, Beaver Dam at 887-3411, West Bend at 334-0909 or dial toll free 1-800-221-6430.

A program of special interest on the West Bend campus is supervisors' management. This five-year associate degree program is taught in the evenings and will help you develop skills in leadership, motivation, delegation, discipline and more. Principles of Supervision and Principles of Motivation are the two courses in the programs which will be offered this fall.

When people who are thinking about returning to school are asked what skill they need the most help with, many respond "mathematics." Math Computation - The Right Answer is a one-credit course teaching the math skills fundamental to occupational and personal success. This course is offered at the campus library through an interactive video computer.

The Department of Health and Social Services requires day care staff to have both entry-level training and continuing education. Eight child care courses will be offered in West Bend this fall - one of those as a TV course - to help professionals meet these requirements.

The campus also offers a number of free services including the Reentry Women Project and the GOAL Skills Cent. Reentry offers training, employment and support services for displaced homemakers. One three-week session is offered each month during daytime hours.

The GOAL center offers instruction in math, reading, writing, career and study skills. Participants can begin at any time and attend when it is convenient. English-as-a-Second-Language instruction and GED preparation are also available.

The college has recently developed two courses suggested as electives for Corrections and Police Science students or professionals in the field: Occupational Spanish and Working with the Hearing Impaired Client. Both are three-credit courses.

For detailed information on these and many other courses and programs, consult the fall course schedule. To register call the West Bend campus at 334-0909.

Memories...

The above memories photo taken around 1933-34 shows the Cheeseville School, Hwy. A and Trading Post Trail, between Fillmore and Newburg. All eight grades were contained in the one-room schoolhouse and taught by one teacher. The girls were required to enter school thru the right door and the boys thru the left door. The school was the first one in the county to have indoor water and toilet facilities. The Robert Tackes family at one time had seven children attending the school in one year. In the last row is LaVerne (Braatz) Hron, who taught all eight grades. Left to right: Beulah Gerner, Lloyd Schulze, Gladys Tackes, Raymond Noster, Georgette Noster, Alex Noster, Jeanette Walter, Marion Mueschke, Adeline Tackes, Eunice Mueschke, Virginia Tackes, Winnifred Gerner, Donald Schrodel, Janet Noster, Caroline Gerner, Willard Tackes, Orville Tackes, Warren Wilkens, Merlin Wilkens, Allen Tackes, Joseph Muech, Catherine Muech, Marvin Tackes, Delores Schulze was absent. Kewaskum to Receive $6,747.50 Grover Announces Vocational Education Grant Recipients MADISON — One hundred and ninety-eight public schools and 18 other educational institutions will share nearly $6 million in vocational education funds, according to an announcement by State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover.

The money comes to Wisconsin through the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act of 1984 and is based on grant awards described in a two-year state plan submitted to the U.S. Department of Education. Wisconsin's vocational education act allocation for the 1989-90 school year is $7,357,049, a decline of $368,772 from the previous year. Local education agencies will share approximately 80 percent of the 1989-90 funds or $5,885,639.

School district and educational institution awards are based on a formula distributed among the following categories:

- services to special target groups
- program improvement activities
- special program areas

School districts apply to the Department of Public Instruction for grants which can be used to expand current programs, develop new projects, or forge comprehensive curriculums with area technical programs.

The DPI retains about 20 percent ($1,471,410) of vocational education funds to provide technical assistance to school districts and to administer and evaluate vocational education programs.

"Vocational education helps students acquire basic skills and apply their knowledge to succeed in our technological world," Grover said. "These federal vocational education funds become critical in supporting creative and innovative programs that prepare Wisconsin youth for their working future," he added.

The Kewaskum School District will receive $6,747.50 to help fund four projects.

Girl Scout Parents Fight Local Council Over Troop Changes

A group of parents of girl scouts in West Bend plans to promote and coordinate a system of independent girl scout registration in September in an attempt to block the implementation of a widely unpopular decision by the local scouting council designed to restructure all troops in the council within two years.

The council has adopted a new policy forcing all scout troops to include several grade levels of girls, and has the effect of splitting up many long-standing troops which have been together for several years.

"If the number of girl scouts registered with the Wau-Bun Council remains unchanged this fall in the face of this new 'multi-grade' troop reorganization, the council will take this as a sign of support for its goals and tactics," said Judith Hammell, chairman of the West Bend Parent Action Committee.

"It is vital that parents and leaders who oppose this troop restructuring seek out avenues of girl scouting that do not contribute either membership or revenue to this council as a way of registering their protests," Hammell said. In a related move, the parent group is also currently circulating petitions calling for the ouster of Wau-Bun Council Board President Shirley Reinhardt for failing to bring the situation to an amicable resolution.

The Parent Action Committee was formed this spring to contest the troop reorganization after a poll conducted among parents or girl scouts at several West Bend schools showed a margin of parental disapproval over the proposed changes of at least eight to one. Three fourths of the registered girl scout leaders in West Bend also signed a petition urging the Wau-Bun Council to allow the troop restructuring to be optional, but the council recently reaffirmed its decision despite their opposition.

Leaders and parents in the communities of Horicon, Slinger and Jackson have also expressed strong disapproval of the council's plans.

At the heart of the dispute is a recommendation by the national Girl Scout organization that wherever possible, troops should include more than one grade level. Representatives of the national organization have stated that the application and interpretation of this "standard" are left in the hands of the local scouting councils.

Girl scouting in many cities and states has traditionally followed a "one grade, one troop" philosophy for decades, particularly in areas with large numbers of younger scouts, Hammell said. The "multi-grade" troop structure has been left optional in many other areas, including the Milwaukee and Blue Heron councils of southeastern Wisconsin, Hammell noted.

Where this change in troop structure was forced in the city of Horicon last year, participation in scouting dropped off by at least half, Hammell said.

Despite opposition by both parents and leaders, the Wau-Bun Council has resolutely refused to compromise on the issue of troop restructuring. At a recent special meeting in Fond du Lac of the council's board of directors to discuss the West Bend crisis, two members of the Parent Action Committee who attempted to attend the meeting and present the parent viewpoint were turned away at the door.

"It is obvious, by disregarding their opinions so totally on this issue, that the Wau-Bun council holds both its parents and volunteer leaders in terribly low esteem," Hammell stated. "We, as parents, have always been aware of the ideals embraced by Girl Scouting, which include respect for individual differences and opinions. The Wau-Bun Council's conduct unfortunately hardly suggests adherence to those high ideals."

The Parent Action Committee is currently gathering information on the independent registration of girl scouts, and expects more than a few leaders in West Bend will choose to register their scouts independently in order to keep their troops from being split up.

Leaders and parents in other communities who are interested in learning more about independent scout registration or the petition calling for Shirley Reinhardt's removal from the Wau-Bun Council Board of Directors are urged to contact Hammell at (414)334-2252.

Washington County United Way Sets 1989 Goal of $610,000

Kewaskum Statesman,

Friday, Aug. 18, 1989, Page 9

The Pacesetter portion of the 1989 drive to raise funds for the United Way of Washington County kicked off August 14 and $610,000 was announced as the goal for this year's campaign.

"The economy is good, the campaign organization is first rate and the United Way and the 36 agencies it supports have established a higher level of support than ever before, so this year's fund raising effort should be very successful," said John Torinus Jr., the 1989 drive chairman.

The $610,000 goal covers most of Washington County for the first time, since the Hartford and Kewaskum United Way organizations have been merged into the United Way of Washington County.

Last year's drive reached $523,000; this year's goal is 15% higher.

Torinus pointed out that this will be the first time that the Hartford and Kewaskum areas will have the full support of a professional staff and, therefore, increased contributions are expected from those areas. Many of the increased dollars for 1989 will come from broadening the base of giving to companies and organizations that have not been fully involved in the past, Torinus said.

He noted that, while there has been some softening in the U.S. economy, the local economy is showing stronger trends than the national. That augers well for local giving, he said.

Even though many local companies have added jobs, and that will be a new source of funds for the drive, there are still many people who are left out of the loop and not enjoying the fruits of the seven year economic recovery, he said. Those people have more need of the United Way agencies than others.

"The substantial increases we have had in recent years in United Way giving tells me that this is a very healthy community, a community that takes care of its own," he added.

The Pacesetter drive is designed to get the momentum going for the main drive which kicks off September 8 in Hartford and Kewaskum and September 9 in West Bend.

The Pacesetter companies for this year are: Ajusta Manufacturing, Amity Leather Products, Bank One, Broan Manufacturing, Clothes Clinic, Gruber Tool & Die, Helgesen Industries, K-Mart, Kewaskum School District, Kohl's Department Store, NAPA, Pick 'n Save, Re/Max, Royal Ford, Seneca Foods, Serigraph Sales, Inc., Slinger Manufacturing, The Threshold, Inc., West Bend Equipment, West Bend Mutual Insurance Company, West Bend News.

ELDERLY FALLS

Falls are the most common cause of death among the elderly - especially from complications of hip fractures. It is wise to install hand railings from bedroom, thru hallways, to the bathroom and kitchen for support, and to help maintain balance. A hand railing from the entry door throughout the house is also recommended. Before arising, a few deep breaths to increase oxygen in the bloodstream may avoid weakness or fainting.

Construction Underway on US Hwy. 41 In Washington and Waukesha Counties

Road construction is expected to start the week of August 14, 1989, on the resurfacing of the driving lanes of USH 41 in Washington and Waukesha Counties. The work will consist of grinding and resurfacing of the driving lanes of Highway 41 and replacement of the cable guard fence with steel plate beam guard.

The work will be performed under the contract let to Payne & Dolan, Inc. of Waukesha, WI, at an estimated cost of $2,562,000. Financing will be shared on approximately a 75-

25 percentage by the Federal government and the State of Wisconsin, respectively, from funds provided primarily by gas taxes.

This work will be done under traffic, however, it will be restricted to a single lane through the construction zone except in the three-lane section where two lanes must be kept open during morning and evening peak hours. All lanes must be open on weekends.

It is anticipated that this project will be completed by late October, 1989.

Return Grass Clippings to the Lawn

Grass Clippings Use Them While You Mow

During the summer months, grass clippings can account for a whopping 50% of residential trash. Grass clippings not only use up valuable landfill space, but contribute the methane gas and leachate problems as well. Grass makes incinerators less efficient because of its high moisture content. Here are some reasons for returning your clippings to the lawn while you mow:

Grass clippings decompose rapidly on your lawn.

Every trash bag of grass clippings contains up to a quarter pound of usable organic nitrogen, which can reduce your fertilization costs by recycling them back into the lawn.

Grass clippings reduce water evaporation from the lawn, provide a cushioning layer to reduce lawn wear, and facilitate better growth by providing nutrients and keeping the soil temperature cooler.

To successfully recycle the grass clippings back to the lawn:

Remove excessive thatch — grass clippings that have not decomposed — before leaving clippings on the lawn.

Avoid over-fertilization because a too-dense lawn will not allow clippings to reach the soil.

Use a sharp mower blade. Use a mower that evenly discharges grass clippings.

Mow frequently, never cutting the lawn shorter than 2 to 2½ inches because the height will allow your lawn to have a larger and deeper root system, making a stronger defense against weeds and drought.

Limit the use of lawn chemicals and apply corrective measures only when needed.

A mower mulching plate attachment, such as the one manufactured by Lawn-Boy, can also be used in recycling grass clippings. With a mulching plate, clippings are contained under the deck, finely chopped and then evenly dispersed into the lawn.

They also recommend returning clippings to the soil more frequently in the later part of the mowing season.

WHAT IS IT? Ancient hieroglyphics... alien communications... religious cult symbols? This strange graffiti was brought to our attention by Melvin Moths, 3050 Forest View Rd., Kewaskum, who reported sighting new railroad tracks in the intersection of Forest View Rd. and Hwy. DD. The road drawings, in white and yellow paint also depict outlines of human forms, and the rest, well, you'll just have to figure it out for yourself. Or ask Melvin who was last seen in the wee hours of the morning, gazing up at the sky...

No Time to Take a Course? Check These

If you'd like to take a course this fall, but don't have the time to sit in a classroom three or four days each week during working hours, consider these alternatives from Moraine Park Technical College:

The Tech-knowledge-y Connection offers busy adults three options: TV courses through the Technical School and the Air, independent study courses through Self-Directed Learning and Saturday courses during Weekenders.

This fall the Technical School of the Air will offer American Institutions, Business Organization, Career Decision, Child Care Planning, Technical Communication - Written and Oral, Principles of Data Processing, Economics, AC and DC Electricity, Ethics in America, Marketing 1, Introduction to Psychology and TV High School for Adults.

These are nationally produced courses which are broadcast over the Wisconsin Public Broadcast System (PBS) and local cable television. Programs may also be viewed at all three Moraine Park campus libraries. Lessons are aired at several convenient times each week, with most programs beginning the week of Sept. 5.

Participants will also be required to attend an orientation session at Moraine Park in Fond du Lac. At that time, students will receive materials and information about the courses and have the opportunity to meet instructors and other students from the class.

Self-Directed Learning courses offer the flexibility to learn when and where the student chooses. Learning activities are guided and supported by telephone conferences with the instructor and printed materials. Assignments are submitted and returned via mail. Some courses do require an orientation and/or a final exam.

Full courses offered through this program include Communication Skills - Verbal, Dental Assisting 1, Math Computation, Math Principles - Health and Medications and Their Implications for LPNs.

Weekenders offer a non-traditional schedule, condensing a course into a weekend seminar format. Some class assignments are completed through independent study, so students spend less time in the classroom. In most cases, three credits can be completed in four Saturday sessions.

Weekenders include American Institutions, Applied Supervisory Management, Business Law, Technical Communication - Oral and Written, Economics, Psychology of Human Relations, Managing Human Resources, Microcomputer Operating System DOS, Microcomputers in Agriculture, Principles of Motivation, Developmental Psychology, Psychology for Personal Growth, Principles of Supervision, Applied Supervisory Management and Teaching Adults - Thinking Tools.

Full descriptions of Technical School of the Air, Self-Directed Learning and Weekender courses, complete with dates and times, are available in the Moraine Park fall course schedules mailed to all district residents. To register call your local instructional center, or the Fond du Lac campus at 929-2100, West Bend campus at 334-0909, Beaver Dam campus at 887-3411 or from any other location 1-800-221-6430. Registration begins Aug. 21.

Investigate Insects at Riveredge Nature Center

Roberts to rely on space-age radios

Kewaskum Statesman,

Roberts Express is a trucking company that takes great pride in - and earns great pay for - its service to its customers.

Now it has begun using a space satellite to improve its already good record.

The Roadway Services Corp. subsidiary, based in Green Township, operates a nationwide fleet of 1,000 vans, panel trucks and tractor trailers dedicated to "critical shipments." "Our customers," said service Vice President Christopher F. Healy, "are heavy air freight users."

But when the freight (or the fare) is too heavy to go by air, the customers call Roberts.

Shippers include manufacturers of parts for assembly lines that might be shut down at great cost if the goods arrive late. Or suppliers of medical instruments. Or makers of industrial repair equipment.

Roberts Express does as much hand-holding as trucking.

"Our mission statement," said President R. Bruce Simpson in an interview, "calls for us to be the best time-sensitive carrier in the nation. I add to that, 'as perceived by our customers.'"

The perceptions match the mission. Over the past year, Roberts has hired an independent polling firm to make monthly surveys of customer satisfaction. The April results - the most recent - show more than 96 percent find Roberts' service "very satisfactory" or better.

As a result, Roberts' revenues have soared from $3.2 million in 1982, two years before Roadway acquired the carrier, to $70 million last year.

When a shipper calls Roberts' toll-free number from anywhere in the continental United States or much of Canada, a customer service agent at headquarters on South Arlington Road will assure him that a truck will be at his dock for pickup within 90 minutes.

"We tell him the exact time of pickup, the time of delivery and the exact cost," said Healy. "If either the pickup or delivery varies by more than 15 minutes, we call the shipper and the consignee to explain the delay and give the new time."

Said Simpson, "Customers want to be told when things aren't going right. They say it's what you do in those times that makes you a reliable carrier."

All the information-sharing, however, depends on information collecting. The people on South Arlington Road need to know where each of the 1,000 trucks is at any time of the day or night.

Until now, that meant requiring drivers to stop every four hours - even in the midst of a critical delivery - and telephone headquarters even if everything was going well.

It meant getting off a traffic-clogged expressway to report a delay, then getting back on again.

And it meant dispatching a truck from Lima to Detroit, for example, even if one from Dayton to the same Detroit consignee was enroute past Lima, but the Dayton driver was between his four hourly calls.

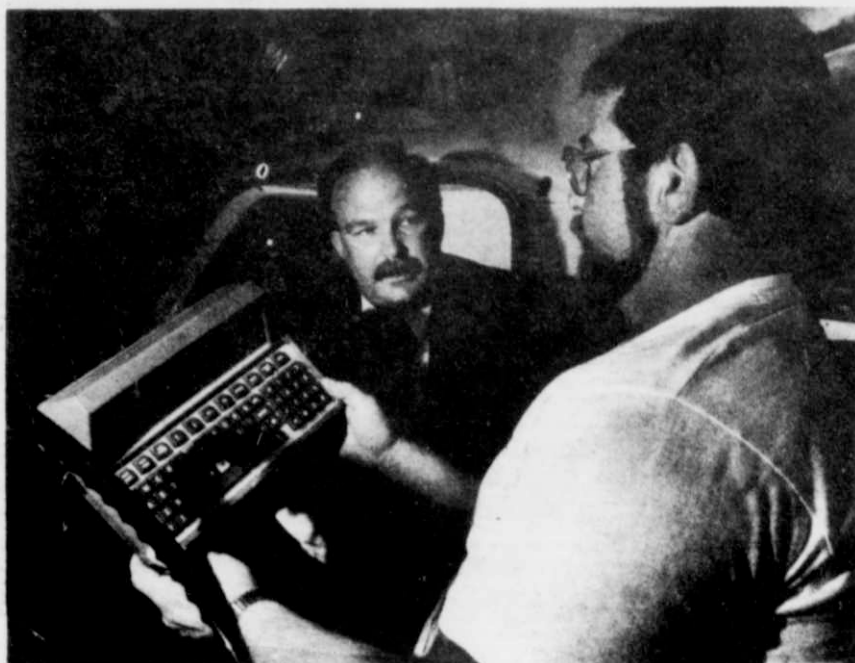

To get all that done, Roberts has become the largest user of Wide-Area Telephone Service lines in the Akron-Canton area, Healy said. The company receives 90,000 calls per month and places another 30,000. A better system was needed.

Roberts' solution is to mount a satellite-tracking radio in each of its trucks. There have been 165 of the $4,100 units installed to date at PJ's Welding on Navarre Road Southwest, Perry Township. The Stark county shop will do all 1,000 trucks at a rate of five per day, Healy said. A similar system has been used for a year by Schneider National Carriers based in Green Bay, Wis. Schneider has a large terminal in Seville.

The radios use old technology as well as new. Each unit can send and receive typed messages via a dashboard-mounted keyboard and liquid-crystal screen and a cab-top satellite antenna. But each also uses Loran positioning signals, designed for marine navigation in World War II and later adapted for aircraft, to determine its location. The U.S. Coast Guard has scattered Loran transmitter towers around the nation.

Now, every hour or whenever a message is sent or received from a driver, the truck's position is relayed as well. Roberts dispatchers can display the position on a computer screen as a dot and label on a map, as distance and direction from a city or as latitude and longitude, the traditional Loran coordinates.

Roberts studied the alternatives - satellite two-way transmission, cellular telephones and nationwide paging beepers - for four years before making a decision, Healy said. The mobile phones don't afford nationwide coverage and the beepers are one-way.

The computer-like dashboard satellite terminals allow each driver to report to headquarters without stopping. If his delivery proceeds normally, the equipment will automatically update his progress in the Roberts headquarters computer. If a dispatcher needs to divert him, she need not wait until his next four-hour check-in. And if there is a traffic jam or equipment breakdown, the driver can report the delay and ask for road assistance without leaving his truck.

Healy and Simpson declined to specify how quickly the equipment will return the more than $4 million that was budgeted for it.

But Healy said, "We're already seeing substantially reduced communication expenses and fewer empty miles. There is no doubt we're more efficient with these systems."

Dan Truog, 4591 Hwy. H, Kewaskum, independent contractor, is leased on Roberts Express. He is the only one in the area to have the satellite communications in his truck.

DNR Holding Four Public Information Sessions/Open House Forums for Proposed Statewide Policy to Provide Improved Public Access to Waterways

The Department of Natural Resources is seeking comments on a proposed statewide policy which aims toward providing improved public access to Wisconsin's lakes, flowages, rivers and streams.

To this end, the Department has scheduled the following four public information session/open house forums in the Southeast District:

August 29, 1989, 10:00 - 8:00
- Havenwoods, 6141 N. Hopkins, Milwaukee, 53209, (414)527-9454.

August 29, 1989, 2:00 - 8:00
- Park Department Building, 824 S. Milwaukee (Highway 30), Burlington, (414) 763-7117.

August 30, 1989, 2:00 - 8:00
- Waukesha Public Library, Cutler Room, 321 Wisconsin Avenue, Waukesha, (414) 549-8169.

August 30, 1989, 2:00 - 8:00
- West Bend Library, Community Room, 230 S. 6th Street, West Bend, (414) 338-5154.

DNR's proposed Wisconsin Public Access Policy for Navigable Bodies of Water is intended to provide and maintain adequate access to all the State's lakes and rivers consistent with not only the public's right to use State waters, but their capacity to accommodate recreation.

Getting on Wisconsin's lakes - especially the most attractive recreational lakes in populous areas - has been harder and harder to do in recent years. At the same time, the cost of providing access to those lakes - whether private businesses or government - is going higher and higher. Wages, land, taxes, maintenance and much more that goes into acquiring and running an access site simply cost more.

The reasons why lake property owners don't want others on "their lake" vary and their validity sometimes depends upon a person's perspective and personal judgements. But siting, developing and running lake access sites in some parts of the state has become so time-consuming and costly that the Department of Natural Resources responsible for trying to get places for the people to get on the water, has to set some priorities.

"The access policy is an attempt to set priorities and guidelines for meeting your access needs during the coming decade," notes Gloria McCutcheon, Southeast District Director, who served on a Department committee which formulated the draft policy.

Wisconsin has a long standing tradition, rooted in law, of providing adequate public access to its navigable waters based on such legal precedents as the Northwest Ordinance, State Constitution and the Wisconsin Conservation Act.

The Natural Resources Board, the Department of Natural Resources seven member policy making body, has gone on record that public access to State waters "shall be protected to the fullest extent authorized by the law."

The policy is backed by the State Attorney General who recently stated that natural, navigable waterways are held in public trust and "all citizens enjoy access and the full use of these waters on equal footing."

The proposed policy's objectives are to:

- * work with local units of government in acquiring, developing and maintaining public access.

- * give waters with little or no access high priority for buying or acquiring public access,

- * improve existing access through development, renovation, and maintenance.

Critical to the proposed policy is a ranking system for setting high, medium and low priority lakes and river stretches which gives preference to waterbodies that are:

- in areas with high summer outdoor recreation populations,
- large - over 500 acres for inland lakes; 15 or more miles without public access for rivers,
- without adequate public access, and
- high in recreational potential.

The Department of Natural Resources would pay all costs and actively pursue buying access sites ranked as "high" priority. Most lakes and streams, however, would fall

Kohl Working on Dairy Bill To Help Wisconsin Farmers

MADISON - Sen. Herb Kohl has unveiled the outline of dairy legislation he plans to introduce in the U.S. Senate in September that would improve producer income and restore equity to the milk marketing order system.

"My bill would bring down the artificial barriers that keep Wisconsin milk producers out of markets in other states," the Wisconsin Democrat told reporters today.

"The federal milk marketing order system not only works against Wisconsin producers, but also against the American consumer. My bill, by injecting some fairness into the milk marketing order system, would restore competition to the marketplace."

Kohl also objected to the continued drop in federal milk price supports.

"We cannot continue to use price support reductions to keep our dairy program in balance," he said. "My bill relies on a supply management program, developed and designed by producers, to address future dairy surpluses."

Kohl unveiled the framework for his dairy bill to reporters at a news conference on the farm of Russell and Marge Marty.

Kohl's bill would:

- End the free-fall in the milk support price by making further price support adjustments reflect changes in market price.

- Institute a supply management program when federal purchases of milk reach 5 percent of total commercial milk sales.

- Change the way milk equivalent is measured, from a butterfat basis to a total solids basis.

- Establish an elected producer board to design and implement a supply management program when needed.

- Provide transitional relief to Wisconsin producers by immediately rolling back milk marketing order differentials to pre-1985 levels.

- Restore fundamental equity to milk marketing orders by requiring the milk marketing order system to provide producers equal access to all markets and consumers equal access to the lowest cost milk.

Kohl, who returned to Wisconsin this week for the congressional summer recess, said he will be talking to milk producers at county fairs around the state during August to hear their suggestions for his bill.

"I want to hear from the people who know this issue best - Wisconsin dairy producers," Kohl said. "They'll help me flesh out this bill in a way that will help the most folks."

DECEPTIVE MAIL OFFERS

The Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) is currently warning consumers about deceptive mail offers.

According to Jane Jansen, Consumer Protection Bureau Director, "Many Wisconsin consumers have received information in the mail stating that they can obtain, for a fee of approximately $80.00, information on scholarships for which they might be eligible."

What consumers do not realize, reports Jansen, is that they can receive the same materials free from other outlets. Jansen suggests that consumers check other sources, such as libraries, college admission offices, or guidance offices in public schools, before responding to these mail offers.

Even though many of these promotions promise a money-back guarantee, the guarantee states only that the company will find information on scholarships for which the consumer is eligible. The guarantee does not claim to provide scholarships.

under the "medium" category and in those cases the Department of Natural Resources would buy access sites "as opportunities arise."

"We would seek 50 percent cost sharing from local sponsors for developing access sites ranked in the medium category," added McCutcheon.

The Department of Natural Resources would not provide state funding for access projects on "low" priority waters, unless it involves renovating or maintaining a State owned public facility.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a notice to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households must fill out the application and return it to the school. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To obtain free or reduced price meals for children for whom households receive Food Stamps or Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), an adult member needs only to list the names of the school children, give Food Stamp or AFDC case number, print and sign his/her name and return the application to the school office. Households must inform the school authorities when they no longer receive Food Stamps or AFDC.

For the school officials to determine eligibility for free or reduced price meals of other households not receiving Food Stamps or AFDC, the household must provide the following information requested on the application: Names of all household members; social security numbers of all adult household members or a notation that the household member does not possess one; total household income must be listed and the amount received by each household member receiving income and the type of income it is (such as wages, child support, etc.) and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct. Households are required to report increases in household income of over $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price meal policy the Business Manager will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent or guardian is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he/she may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If the parent wishes to make a formal appeal, he/she may make a request either orally or in writing to: David Heather, District Administrator, 1450 School Street, Kewaskum, WI 53040, 626-8427. If a hearing is needed to appeal the decision, the policy contains an outline of the Hearing Procedure.

If a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size changes, the family should contact the school. Such changes may make the household eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals if the household income falls at or below the levels shown above and they may apply at the time.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a household has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, the household should complete an application for a family of one or contact the school for more information.

The information provided by the household on the application is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data.

In the operation of the child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington D.C. 20250.

Any questions regarding the application should be directed to the determining official.

Local Drivers Compete in Modifieds at Plymouth

Every Saturday night, when the modified division of Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Assn. perform at the Sheboygan Fair Grounds in Plymouth, the area of Kewaskum has a number of good representatives.

Bill Prost isn't a newcomer to the sport of racing. He has pitted for his uncle, Butch Buslaff and Butch's son, Rick of Campbellsport, for many years. However, Bill is still considered a rookie behind the wheel, because this is only his second year of competitive action for this 40 year old Ready Mix Truck Driver.

The car is a nine year old, Glen Haddy Chassis, with a 69 Corvette Body. On the brightly colored wing is the one and only sponsor, Kloke Ready Mix of Campbellsport.

Since Bill has been around racing for a few years, he knows what it takes to own and maintain a race car. He said he finally was able to afford a modified...and it was something he always wanted to do. He and his wife, Jean, and children, Brett, 15, and Brian 8, are enjoying every minute of it.

Helping Bill to keep the Chey powered Mod. competitive for the shows on the quarter mile clay oval are: Neil Biak of Jackson and Barb Bub of Campbellsport.

Bill is a Hunter Safety Instructor and enjoys hunting and trapshooting in his spare time.

Another local gentleman behind the wheel of a modified, is Erv Waala III. Erv who has four years of experience in this division, bought a new "Enticer" chassis from KB Fabricating, Ken Bierter designs. It's powered by a 406 Chey engine and is fashioned with a '57 Chevy body. Sponsors on this uniquely painted #48 are: KB Fabricating of Indian Lore Rd.; Fast Eddies of West Bend; John Schrimpf of Engine Specialists out of Two Rivers; Sentry Foods of Kewaskum; and Mike Waala of Accent Photography in West Bend, and Vintage Towing of Manitowoc.

With this car, "The Enticer" Erv and his pit crew: Dave "Schmeds" Schmidt, John Schwai, Fonz and Karen Schneider, Tony Casper and Bill Boudry are learning something new every racing event.

Erv and his wife, Sue, have three daughters, Andrea, April and Brooke. He is the owner and manager of Wheel and Tire Shop Inc. of West Bend, and enjoys trapshooting when he is not racing. This Saturday night is the Sheboygan Press Special events with trophies. Come and enjoy an exciting night of action packed racing at its best, in Plymouth.

The Annual E.W.S.C.A. Autograph Booklet is available for $1.50. Pictures and info about all the drivers and their cars in all three divisions.

Did You Drink Your Milk?

When you were a child, your mother probably told you to "Drink your milk." Mom knew the importance of calcium to growing bones and teeth. Children ages 1 to 10 need three servings from the milk group each day to obtain the proper amount of calcium.

Although moms and many other people know that milk is good for children, some don't realize that the need for milk and other milk group foods such as cheese and yogurt is never outgrown.

Teenagers and 11 and 12-year-olds need four servings from the milk group each day. During these years of rapid growth, it's especially important for teens to consume enough calcium to build strong bones and teeth.

This also is the age when adequate calcium intake may help prevent the bone-loss disease osteoporosis from striking later in life. Even though signs of osteoporosis, such as hip fractures and Dowager's hump, don't appear until old age, it is in the teenage years that bones become stronger and denser. The stronger and denser the bone, the less likely it will be damaged by osteoporosis.

After about age 20, bones no longer grow in length and width. In the 40's, as a natural part of aging, bones start to lose calcium slowly. But it is still possible to make bones stronger and more dense in adults 19 to 40 and to slow bone loss in adults over 40 by eating two servings from the milk group each day.

Pregnant and nursing women are a special group because they are eating for two. If they don't consume enough calcium, their bodies will pull the calcium their babies need from the mother's bones. To maintain their own bodies' calcium supply and to build the bones and teeth of their babies, pregnant and nursing women need four servings from the milk group each day.

Milk group foods are the primary source of calcium in the diet, and no matter what your age, you never outgrow your need for them.

2nd Annual Horseshoe Tournament Held Here a 'Ringer'

The Kewaskum Horseshoe League hosted its' second Annual Open Tournament on Saturday, July 22nd and Sunday, July 23rd. The tournament was a success with a total of 104 entries from all over the state.

Brian Repinski of Stevens Point, who was a first time pitcher here in Kewaskum said,

"I heard a lot about this town, the courts, the park but most of all, the people. I'll be back again. I can't believe this park. What a great set up."

The response from other pitchers (old and new) was the same. Don Kangas of West Allis, who pitched here last year said, "Kewaskum, be proud, you have a lot going for you." Don pitched in Class A Men's and won first place with seven wins and no losses. Don averaged 67.43% ringers. Not bad for about 2 hours of fun.

We would like to thank everyone for making our Kewaskum Open Horseshoe Tournament a success. Hope to see you again next year.

The standings and ringer percentages of the tournament are as follows:

Hunter Education Class to Begin

Richard Knoebel, a Wisconsin DNR Certified Hunter Safety Instructor, invites all young people interested in hunting and recreational shooting to enroll in Wisconsin Hunter Education course. The course will begin Saturday, August 19, 1989, and will be held in the Village of Kewaskum's community room, located at the Kewaskum Municipal Building and is sponsored by the Kewaskum Police Department. Students must be 12 years old, reach 12 prior to the end of the year in which the course is taken. There is no maximum age, and parents are also encouraged to enroll and participate.

Advanced registration is required and the class size is limited. Please contact Richard Knoebel at 626-4311 for details.

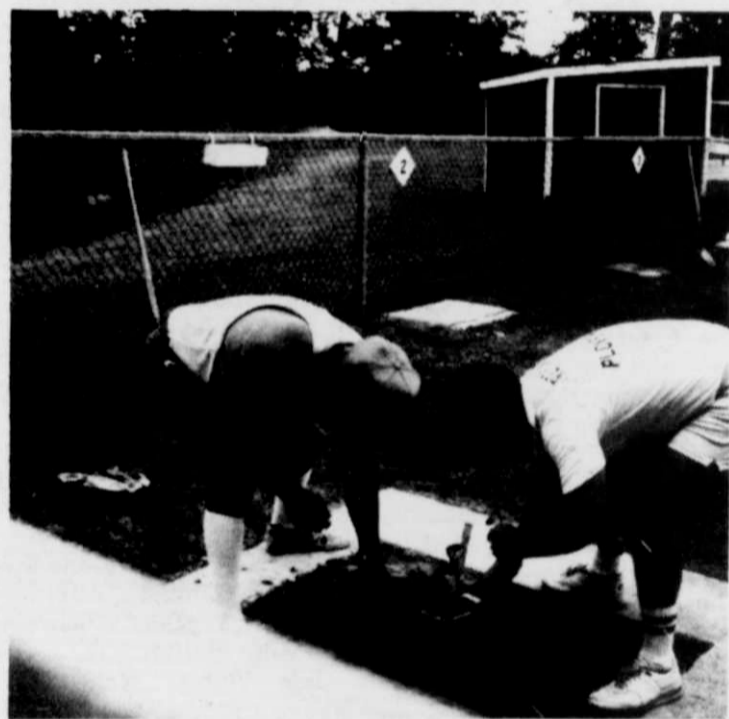

Persons successfully completing the course will receive a distinctive embroidered emblem and a hunter safety graduate certificate. The certificate is valid in lieu of a small game hunting license for one season, and is a lifetime certificate required for hunting in many states and provinces.

Young students certified will also be able to hunt and use firearms without parent or guardian present at age fourteen instead of age sixteen.

Classes will cover responsibilities of hunters, firearms safety in the home and afield, knowledge of firearms and hunting equipment, wildlife identification and management, marksmanship and outdoor skills.

Another fine crowd turned out for the 2nd Annual Kewaskum Horseshoe Tournament.

FOOTBALL '89

Campbellsport vs. Indians Here in Football Opener

Head Coach Clark Pearson will open the 1989 football season with a non-conference game against Campbellsport here on Friday, August 25.

Among the 16 returning lettermen, Pearson has four starters returning from last season. They are Tim Oelhafen, offensive and defensive tackle who earned an all-conference honorable mention last year; Mike Melzer and John Hazlewood, linebackers, and Brian Leitheiser, quarterback.

Pearson's other top senior prospects include Mike Ramthun, Kevin Bartelt, Eric Reha, Bruce Waechter, Chad Warnecke and Pat Lightner.

Juniors include Brian Dobke, Chris Donath, Mark Felix, Brian Heller, Scott Heller, Kevin Heriges and Jerry Sese.

The balance of the team members who will help decide the future of the 1989 Indians are: (denotes letter winners) Seniors - *Mike Amerling, *Tim Butschlick, *Jim Coulter, *Steve Heberer, *David Kuphal, Randy Romaine, *Chris Schmid, *Tim Schulz, *Noel Stradtman, *Bruce Theusch and *David Yogerst. Juniors are Todd Gnacinski, Scott Hass, Joel Hauch, Tim Herman, Brian Jackson, Rob Kertscher, *Craig Krell, Craig Kulas, Steve Liegl, Jamie Miller, Kevin Ramthun, Brett Rauch and Jason Thull.

Pearson, former Kiel coach from 1964-1967, feels it is a very balanced conference this year with top teams contending from Plymouth, Chilton, Two Rivers, Kiel and Sheboygan Falls.

"We had 91 boys pick up equipment in grades 9 through 12. This is the largest number in quite a few years, including 39 juniors and seniors," remarked Pearson. "We hope to two-platoon as much as possible. We have 16 returning lettermen. The players have good attitudes."

Last year's record was 0-6 in conference and 2-6 team overall. The Indians will have to work hard this year to put more in the win column in the very tough Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

According to Pearson, the team's weaknesses are lack of any hard impact players. He said, "We are slow and not very big. The seniors have won very few football games in their high school careers. They need to learn how to win. Last year we lost four conference games by one touchdown or less."

"However," Pearson added, "we will be at every game and the boys will enjoy playing football. I will probably get an ulcer!"

Assisting Pearson during the 1989 season will be Dale Schatz, Ken Soerens, Dave Rohde, and freshman coaches Jim Westphal and Russ Freeman.

Emergency Trout Fishing Regulations

MADISON, WI — Emergency trout fishing regulations go into effect August 4 for the northeast and southwest areas of Wisconsin, Department of Natural Resources trout management specialist Larry Claggett announced. The regulations are to help protect trout brood stocks and current trout populations stressed by drought during the past two years.

The rule requires catch-and-release fishing only — a zero fish bag limit — and the use of artificial lures and flies only in southwestern and northeastern counties.

In the southwest, the emergency rules are in effect in Buffalo, Trempealeau, Jackson, La Crosse, Monroe, Vernon, Crawford, Richland, Sauk, Grant, Iowa and Lafayette counties.

In the northeast, the rules effect Vilas, Oneida, Florence, Forest, Marinette, Menominee, Lincoln, Langlade, Oconto, Marathon and Shawano counties.

Exempt from the rule are 91 put-and-take lakes and stocked ponds within the two areas.

According to Claggett, fisheries managers have documented trout populations 40 to 80 percent below normal in the southwest, northeast and north central area of the state, necessitating the emergency actions.

Anglers can still enjoy their sport and protect the future fishery through catch and release, providing they know the proper way to release a fish.

Claggett suggests keeping the fish in the water if possible while removing the hook. Gently hold the fish behind the gills, and back the hook out of the mouth. Once the hook is removed, gently move the fish back and forth in the water to get the water circulating through the gills. The fish should swim away.

If the hook is deep within the fish, snip the line and let the hook remain. It will dissolve and leave the fish unharmed.

The emergency trout regulations will remain in effect until the trout stream fishing season ends Sept. 30, 1989.
