Board Approves Classification and Compensation Study

Parking Spaces Eliminated To Improve Safety in Village

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board decided Monday night, that the elimination of one parking space on the south side of Main Street at the corner of Park View and the elimination of another space on Main at Railroad Street will help to increase driver visibility and improve safety at those intersections.

Robert Beisbier, chairman of the Protection and Public Safety Committee, as well as Kewaskum Police Chief Richard Knoebel told the board the village had received numerous complaints regarding the poor visibility when entering Main Street from the south on Park View.

The initial recommendation was to eliminate the two eastern most spaces giving drivers a better view west down Main. Trustee Gary Gavin, who owns the property at that corner, was opposed to the elimination of both spaces, noting businesses in that area needed the parking.

"I don't like to get rid of parking either," said Beisbier. "But it is a problem." Driver visibility is also hampered by the fact that there is a rise in Main Street at that point and the combination of the two factors hinders sighting any oncoming traffic. Knoebel said there had been nine accidents at that intersection in the last five years.

The board approved the elimination of the eastern most space and the monitoring of the situation.

Trustee Mary Krueger also complained of the numerous u-turns made at that intersection. Knoebel advised her it was not illegal to make a u-turn at an intersection, except at arterial stops, unless the area is posted that u-turns are not permitted. He indicated there had been a problem with people making u-turns at the Post Office until that area was posted.

The board then voted to post the intersection also, which will make it illegal to make a u-turn, the same as the Post Office driveway.

As for the Main and Railroad space, Knoebel advised the board that, after checking the area, he found one space extended part way into Jaeger's driveway. Elimination of that space and moving the remaining space a few feet east should improve the visibility at the corner, he noted.

A third problem area which was acted on was Third Street between Reigle Drive and Bilgo Lane. In an effort to avoid eliminating parking in that area altogether, the board approved the recommendation of Chief Knoebel to limit the parking time. During the school year, there will be a two-hour parking limit on the north side of the street, from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The south side of the street will be posted 'No Parking' during the same period.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the board that the School District administration had already indicated its intention to work with the village to eliminate the parking problem in that area.

The board reviewed six other potential problem areas, however, it was decided that some minor changes in two areas would improve the situation while the remainder did not warrant any action at the present time.

A second lengthy discussion came when the trustees debated the issue of hiring a firm to do a study of the village's employee classification and compensation schedule.

Krueger told fellow board members, "If we're not going to go with it (the study's recommendations), it is silly to pay $4,000 to $6,000, for the work, it's just money down the tubes." Krueger said she and board president Paul Blumer were on the board when the first study was done. "When it came time to tell some of the employees their salaries were going to be reduced because the study showed they were getting paid too much while other employees would be getting raises, the board backed down," she noted. They ignored the schedule. "I can remember the closed sessions at that time when I b-tched and b-tched that there should be individual raises given, but I was told Regal doesn't do it, the dairy doesn't do it." The result was we didn't use the information from the study, we just gave a straight across-the-board raise, she noted. "You have to look at the job not the man," said Krueger.

Trustee Tom McElhatton stated, "I think we ought to do it because we're looking out for the taxpayer's money." Companies everywhere routinely review their salary scales and running this village is a business, he noted.

Public Works Superintendent Augie Bilgo told the board, "I don't see how you can have a stranger come in here and tell us what we're worth. My men have to be a master of all trades. We don't have a union, they don't just collect garbage, or just check meters, or plow snow or fix a broken main. This is a small town where we all work together." Bilgo told the board, "There isn't anybody here who shouldn't know what we're worth."

Gavin asked, "Do we have a lot of employees who are mad?" "If we had a lot of people underpaid, they would be leaving and they're not. I don't think we need the study." "That's just the point," said McElhatton, "are we paying some of them too much and others not enough, that's what this study would tell us. Eight years ago the board didn't want to take the heat, I still think you

Former Wigwam Razed; Will Become Part of Shefond Mobil Mart

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After several decades as a familiar landmark in Kewaskum, the Wigwam is no more. A victim not of cowboys, but a wrecking crew.

The building which was home to several restaurants over the years fell to the blows of a demolition crew last week to make room for a new car wash.

The building originally started out in 1953 as Billy's Car Hop. That building was torn down and in 1960 the Wigwam Custard Stand was constructed and operated for many years by members of the Edwards family. Renovations in 1965 including the addition of inside seating saw the building change and grow into a restaurant. The Wigwam Supper Club became noted for its Friday night buffet.

That business then had other proprietors. The property was sold and became the Brig-O-Doon Supper Club. Financial troubles hit that business and the building was to stand

Kids at Home Alone: What are the Rules?

By Melanie Yager, Summer Home Economist

When a child is in "self-care," how does he/she know what is OK to do and what is not OK? Children who are home alone after school need to talk about rules with their parents so behavior problems can be avoided.

Rules for children home alone need to cover snacking and use of kitchen equipment, doing chores, leaving the house, having guests, using the phone, answering the door, and getting along with brothers and sisters at home when parents are away.

No parent likes to come home to a messy kitchen - or find that ingredients for the supper meal were eaten as snacks! Ask the child what snacks he/she would like after school, and be sure those snacks are available. Perhaps those snacks need to be kept in designated places and let other places be "HANDS OFF." Children need to know if it is OK or not OK to make such items as cocoa or microwave popcorn. Perhaps the parent may have to prepare the snack and leave it for the child so the child will not have to work in the kitchen without supervision.

If the child is expected to help with household chores, it may be helpful to write down what to do and when. For example, writing "sweep the kitchen floor on Tuesday before 5:00" let the child know exactly what to do when. Saying, "clean up the kitchen" is not clear enough - and the cleaning is much less likely to be done!

Children enjoy the company of playmates after school - but should school-aged pals be left alone in the house? A rule may be that the children may play outdoors together, but not indoors. Or, one or two special friends who are known to be well-behaved may have permission to play in the house. However, be sure the other child's parent is aware of the situation! Set up a way for the child to know which of his/her friend's houses he/she may visit, and a way to let the parent know his/her whereabouts.

Children at home alone should NEVER let a stranger in the door. Parents should make rules so children know how to handle package deliveries or sales persons. Parents should role-play an example, and perhaps have the child tell the delivery man to leave the package on the step, leave the package with an adult neighbor, or return with the package at a later time. Children generally want to do the right thing - so let them practice what to do, and give them confidence to handle visitors by the rules.

If there are brothers and sisters at home, quarrels and fights must be avoided. Set rules about who may choose the TV show when, who may use the phone at what time and how long, who may use which toys, and where are "safe zones" where children can get away from each other. Designate who is "in charge" and let the responsible child know what to do if problems occur. Fighting and misbehavior may mean getting a baby-sitter because "self-care," is not working.

Talk about the rules with children. Let them know why rules are set the way they are. Rules must be clear and reasonable. Write them down and post them where the child can read them. Tell the child what the consequences are when rules are broken, and enforce the rules.

For children who are trying "self-care" for the first time this school-year: talk about the rules often, and clear up any questions as they come up, so family lines of communication stay open, and all family members feel good about "self-care."

should do a study."

Krueger indicated she was against doing another study. "I have the distinct feeling that if this goes, the board isn't going to follow through on it (again) like they should."

On a 4-3 vote, a motion to hire the firm of Ernst & Young of Milwaukee, to do the study was approved. Beisbier, McElhatton, Williams and Blumer voting for, and Bonlender, Krueger and Gavin voting against the motion.

During committee reports, Gavin advised the board that the library had received its second quarterly countywide system payment of $2,934. He also informed the board that the state-wide library system proposal was again being discussed. "Everyone is endorsing it, but no one thinks it's going to fly," said Gavin. He said if it did happen, it would mean Kewaskum could see $23,000 in funding the first year and $30,000 in the second. "The system would make the state one big public library where you could walk into any library in the state and get a book." Gavin noted the problem is the $60 million budget and how it would be funded.

Gavin told the trustees this year's library program had 101 participants as compared to 84 in 1989.

McElhatton gave his Parks Department report noting 646 swim passes were sold this year compared to 721 in 1989. He also advised the board that tentative closing of the pool is set for August 26, because of the lifeguards returning to school.

Schmidt informed the board that the village will be scheduling an informational meeting on the Hepatitis 'B' vaccination program for village employees.

Four building permits for garages, two operator's licenses and a two-day malted beverage license for the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs were also approved.

The board also approved Ordinance 90-5 regarding rummage sales. It then adjourned to closed session.

After being vacant for some time, the building was again occupied this time it opened as Thee Avenue Restaurant. Again financial woes plagued the property and this time its doors were closed, never to open again.

Earlier this year the property was purchased by Bill Lenz, owner of the Shefond Mobilmart next door. The fixtures were sold and Lenz made plans for the construction of the car wash.

Lenz said after the clean-up, construction will begin on the new building which will house three self-serve bays and an automatic bay. The facility will feature a brushless automatic wash.

Lenz said he hopes to have the car wash in operation no later than early October. The car wash will be open 24 hours a day.

$2,020 Raised In 1990 CA Fund Drive

Thirty-one area companies have contributed $50 or more apiece to Citizen Advocacy of Washington County, thereby qualifying them as official CA 400 Businesses. The contributions, with smaller amounts from other firms and individuals have resulted in a 1990 CA 400 fund drive of $2,020.

The money will be used in various ways by the independent agency, which pairs volunteers with persons who have physical or mental disabilities. The volunteers open doors to community life that may have been closed to their partners.

Businesses contributing $50 or more include:

Germantown: Dr. Thomas Albiero, DDS.

Hartford: Brunner Furniture and First National Bank.

Jackson: F&M Bank.

Juneau: Jones Intercable.

Slinger: F&M Bank.

West Bend: Bank One, Beltone Hearing Aid Center, Benidt's Foods, Dick's Pizza, F/D Typesetting Plus, F&M Bank, Gehl Company, Gruber Tool & Die, Inc., Dr. William Hausmann, DDS, H.T.G. Jewelers, and Jeanne's Country Casuals.

Also, Jim and Dave's Building Supply, Kruepe Printing, Lake Lenwood Campground, Lawrence & Gamache Chiropractic Clinic, Little Professor Book Center, Myrhum Funeral Home, Dr. Mark T. O'Meara, MD, and Richards Insurance Agency.

Other contributors include Roffler Styling, Fred A. Schaefer Post 1393, Schwartzburg Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Van Beek Cycle, Wesbar Corp., West Bend Mutual Insurance, West Bend Physical Therapy Services and West Bend Savings and Loan.

$2,020, the amount raised this year, is $95 more than was raised by the CA 400 business drive in 1989, reports Hallie Stollenwerk, who chaired the 1990 drive. Citizens Advocacy now is soliciting individual support.

For more information, contact Citizen Advocacy at 334-3384 in West Bend, or at 255-6702 in Germantown.

Deadline Nears for Taxpayers Who Filed For An Extension

The Internal Revenue Service was pleased to learn that people have been listening to their encouragements to "file early." According to John T. Ader, Director of the Milwaukee District of IRS, less than one percent of Wisconsin taxpayers who filed individual income tax returns this year asked for extensions. But for those of you who found it necessary to file an extension form, the Internal Revenue Service reminds you that August 15 is now the deadline for filing your return.

Still find it difficult to make that August 15 deadline? The IRS does offer an additional extension. Be aware, however, that the additional extension is not automatic. It is subject to the approval of the IRS and is generally granted only to people who can show some reasonable cause or undue hardship that prevents them from meeting the four-month extended deadline. Such situations include the death of a family member, serious illness, unavoidable absence, and the inability to find the records necessary to determine the proper tax due. If the IRS approves your request for the additional extension, you will have two additional months to file your return, or until October 15.

To ask for the additional extension, you must file Form 2688, "Application for Additional Extension of Time to File." The application must state in detail the reason you need an extension and should be filed enough in advance of August 15 so that the IRS will have the chance to review your application and notify you as to whether it was approved. To obtain Form 2688, call the IRS, toll-free, at 1-800-424-3676 (FORM).

New County Family Center Offering Positive Parenting

The Family Center of Washington County is a new unique, and exciting meeting place for young families with children ages birth to three. It is a resource center for two parent, single parent, or blended families wanting ideas and information on raising children.

One of the ways Family Center will promote positive parenting is through the Nurturing Program — which is an upbeat educational/support group for parents and their children (birth to 3 years). The Nurturing Program is two groups at once. While parents meet in our Family Room with two trained leaders, their children meet in the Kid's Room receiving professional child care. Parents watch film strips, have discussions and role play to help learn about raising children and healthy family living.

Starting dates are: Tuesday, September 4, 6:30 - 9:00 p.m. and Wednesday, September 5, 9:00 - 11:30 a.m. This is a 16 week program and free of charge. The group will meet at the Family Center, 279 S. 17th Avenue, West Bend, WI, (former General Clinic Bldg.)

Letters to The Editor

We can be very proud of the many enthusiastic children who took part in the summer reading program at the library. Without the hard work of the librarians and their helpers it would have been impossible. We have a beautiful library which is well run by our librarians. It was a pleasure to hear how many books these children read this summer.

The business people who donated refreshments and prizes also made the "fun day" last Wednesday an interesting and exciting day for the children.

Highway 41 to Be Dedicated As Veterans Memorial Highway

West Bend, Wisconsin — To honor the 332,000 Wisconsinites who served in World War II, including 2,260 living in Washington County, Highway 41 will be dedicated as the state's World War II Veterans Memorial Highway.

A dedication ceremony will be held August 14, 1990 at 1:30 p.m. at the Park & Ride Lot located at Lannon Road and Highway 41. The dedication speaker will be John Maurer, Secretary of Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs.

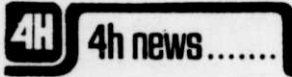

The ceremony will include an unveiling of the World War II Veterans Memorial Highway road sign. Local dignitaries, state officials and members of veterans organizations are scheduled to attend.

Two of Washington Counties World War II Veterans, U.S. Army Brigadier General Roy W. Peters and Lieutenant Colonel Henry F. Renard, will conduct the sign unveiling ceremony.

"Because August 14th is the 45th anniversary of the announcement of the Japanese surrender, it's very appropriate to honor our World War II veterans with this highway dedication," said Pat Riebe, chairman of the dedication committee. "We hope that veterans, their families and friends will attend the ceremony."

With the dedication, Highway 41 officially joins four others as Veterans Memorial Highways, selected by the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Transportation. Highway 29 is the World War I Veterans Memorial Highway, Highway 10 is dedicated to Vietnam War veterans, Highway 51 is the Korean War Veterans Memorial Highway and Interstate 90-94 is dedicated to all Wisconsin veterans.

Top Salary Earned by CIM Technician Grad

The first day of work was a hectic one for West Bend resident Lynn Blankenheim-Miller.

It's not easy getting yourself and two kids, ages 14 and 6, ready for the day, driving your youngest to day care, then traveling the 30 or so miles to Milwaukee to be on the job precisely at 7 a.m.

There are schedule adjustments that must be made after years of being a single mother living on Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC).

But Blankenheim-Miller, 38, loved every minute of her first day at the Miller Brewing Co. June 11 — an every work day since then, as well. The early morning rush hour comes with the territory when you are a quality assurance lab technician taking home $17.54 an hour. That's more than $36,480 a year — based on 40-hour work weeks — the highest salary earned by a member of the 1989 class in Moraine Park Technical College's Computer Integrated Manufacturing (CIM) Technician program.

Up until her job with Miller Brewing, Blankenheim - Miller had never earned more than $6 an hour working at a series of factory jobs she held before her son was born in 1975.

Originally from West Allis and a graduate of West Milwaukee High School, Blankenheim - Miller said she had been on and off AFDC for 15 years. Except for a short stint at Milwaukee Area Technical College, she had not tried to improve on her high school education until she came to Moraine Park in 1987.

So in a sense, her first day of work at Miller Brewing was a celebration of success in a self-improvement project that began in 1985 when Blankenheim-Miller divorced her husband. It had been a troubled eight-year relationship, she said, and after it was over "I knew I had to do something for me."

That something included enrolling in the Reentry Women Project at Moraine Park's West Bend campus.

It took three tries before Blankenheim-Miller actually joined the month-long program. She enrolled and dropped out twice. "I didn't think I could succeed," she said. Finally, after a Moraine Park counselor told her it was time to do something with her life, Blankenheim-Miller took the course in February 1987.

It changed her life. "It's the best thing I ever did," she said. The program helped her rebuild her self-esteem and motivated her to succeed, she said. "It planted in my mind that the sky's the limit. That I can get anything if I work hard enough."

That summer, she enrolled in Moraine Park's Goal Oriented Adult Learning (GOAL) Lab where she was tested on her job skills and interests. It was in the GOAL Lab that Blankenheim - Miller decided to enroll in the CIM Technician program that fall.

She was the first woman to enter the associate degree program Moraine Park had started a year earlier. In the 1990 class, there were three more women graduates of Moraine Park's CIM Technician program. "It's a male dominated, nontraditional role. It was pretty neat seeing more women coming out of it," Blankenheim - Miller said.

To be closer to Moraine Park, Blankenheim - Miller moved from Germantown, where she had lived for most of her life since high school, to West Bend.

She financed her schooling through a combination of financial aid, grants, student loans and four scholarships she picked up along the way.

The CIM Technician program is located at Moraine Park's Fond du Lac campus. That meant 90-mile round-trip commutes from her West Bend apartment for more than two years. Sometimes the choices between family and college were difficult, but Blankenheim - Miller persevered. "It was difficult," Blankenheim - Miller said of balancing time for her course work with the needs of her children. "But I knew it was going to pay off someday."

After completing two required math courses in May of this year, Blankenheim - Miller began her job search in earnest.

She had begun circulating her resume in March, concentrating on employers in West Bend, Germantown and Milwaukee. Eventually she was contacted by Miller Brewing, going through four interviews — the last one with five Miller Brewing executives — before being offered the job.

"They made me feel so comfortable," Blankenheim - Miller said of that final interview. "It wasn't intimidating at all. I really felt I could give the answers — that I was qualified."

So did Miller Brewing Company.

"I'm still pinching myself," Blankenheim - Miller said of her successful job hunt.

Blankenheim - Miller wants to continue on with her education through evening courses, eventually earning a bachelor's degree in business management. She hopes to stay with Miller Brewing because she sees potential for advancement there.

But for now, Blankenheim - Miller can look back on what she achieved with the help of Moraine Park and can look ahead with optimism to the future. "It makes you feel good. After all the hard work — it was all worth it."

August 9, 1940

A fire caused by a bolt of lightning striking the steeple of the Peace Evangelical Church in this village during an electrical storm at about 5 a.m. last Saturday morning did extensive damage to the interior of the edifice. The pastor, Rev. Richard Gadow, and Fire Chief Harry Schaefer of the Kewaskum fire department estimated the damage at between $2,000 and $3,000.

Dr. R. G. Edwards of this village will erect a beautiful new home and office on his property on South Fond du Lac Avenue. Work on the new building was started Monday and when completed will be one of the finest houses in our little city.

Invitations are out for the approaching marriage of Miss Kathryn Staehler, St. Michaels,

Storyteller Shares Songs with Children Who Participate in Kewaskum 'Readlicious' Program

The "Readlicious" summer program at the Kewaskum Public Library was topped off with a "Fun Day" held on Wednesday, August 1.

LaVerne Hron Photos

The 1990 "Readlicious Carry-Outs available" Reading Program at the Kewaskum Public Library has come to an end.

The hundred-one children who participated not only checked out books, but also took part in games, puzzles, cooking, napkin folding, movies and a play.

A special program was provided by the Mid-Wisconsin Library System, Reid Miller shared the art of storytelling and the magic of song. The children also made a children's cookbook. A party was held on August 1st, for children who read ten or more books.

Reading certificates and prizes were awarded to the children. Refreshments and fun were had by all. A water balloon fight was the highlight of the party, since the children were allowed to get the "librarians."

The Library staff and Library board would like to thank the following sponsors who donated refreshments and prizes to the program, and whose help and generosity once again insured the program success.

American Family Insurance, Bartelt Insurance, Bier's Jewelry, Buffy's Village Inn, Fran Wajer Realty, Homeplate, Honeck Chevrolet, Jacobs Barber Shop, Kemps Dairy, Kennelly Pharmacy.

Kettle Moraine Agency, Kewaskum Flower Shop, Kewaskum Frozen Food, Kewaskum Statesman, KL Home & Hardware, Kuehls Suds & Spirit, McDonald's, Miller's Furniture, Regal Ware, Richard's Kut & Style.

Sentry Foods, Shefond Mobil Mart, Team Video, Village Bootery, Wonder Bread.

The Library would like to make the summer reading program an annual event, and hopes for continuing support from the community in the future. The library would also like to thank all the "Cooking Assistants" Mary Boegel, Rachel Chambers, Jamie Gaffke, Jamie Van Den Heuvel, LaVern Hron, Kim Rohlinger, Sue Wessing, Debbie Wiesner, Ginger Wiesner; without whose help the program would not have been possible.

In the 3rd century B.C., the courtiers of the royal court in China were required to carry cloves in their mouths in order to sweeten their breath when addressing the emperor.

Only the Newspaper

... can be sent out of an area as a pleasant reminder of home and a convenient way to follow events of familiar names. A newspaper mailed while on vacation... to a businessman away for several weeks... to a serviceman out of the country... to relatives in another state... is a good way to let people know home will still be there when they're ready to return.

Application forms are being sent to allhomes with a notice to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households must fill out the application and return it to the school. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To obtain free or reduced price meals for children for whom households receive Food Stamps or Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), an adult member needs only to list the names of the school children, give Food Stamp or AFDC case number, print and sign his/her name and return the application to the school office. Households must inform the school authorities when they no longer receive Food Stamps or AFDC.

For the school officials to determine eligibility for free or reduced price meals of households not receiving Food Stamps or AFDC, the household must provide the following information requested on the application: names of all household members and either the social security number of the parent or guardian who is the primary wage earner or, at the household's discretion, the social security number of the adult household member who signs the application. In lieu of a social security number, the household may indicate that neither household member possesses a social security number. Also, the income received by each household member must be provided by amount and source (wages, welfare, child support, etc.). Households are required to report increases in income of over $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price meal policy, the School Board President will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent or guardian is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he/she may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If the parent/guardian wishes to make a formal appeal, he/she may make a request either orally or in writing to: Neal Weare, 1114 E. Auburn-Ashford Road, Campbellsport, WI 53010 Phone 626-2732.

If a hearing is needed to appeal the decision, the policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size changes, the family should contact the school. Such changes may make the household eligible for reduced price meals if the household income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a household has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for free or reduced price meals, the household should complete application for a family of one or contact the school for more information.

The information provided by the household on the application is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data.

In the operation of the child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Any questions regarding the application should be directed to the determining official.

Low Interest Business Loans for Vets

West Bend, Wisconsin veterans who plan on starting, buying or expanding a business may be eligible for low-interest loans from the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs (WDVA).

With a 7 percent interest rate and repayment spread over five years, a WDVA business loan is ideal for financing a small business or farming operation. Eligible veterans may borrow up to $10,000.00 from WDVA. Generally, to qualify for the WDVA loan the total amount the veteran must borrow to start, expand or purchase the business must not exceed $50,000.00. Also, the WDVA may not lend more than 20 percent of the total amount needed. The veteran must contribute from personal funds at least 5 percent of the amount needed.

For example, if an eligible veteran needs a total of $50,000.00 to start a business and can contribute $2,500.00 from personal funds, the WDVA would lend the veteran $10,000.00 at 7 percent interest. The remaining $37,500.00 would have to come from other lending sources.

To qualify for the WDVA business loan the combined annual income of the veteran and his or her spouse must not exceed $30,000.00. This maximum income limit is increased $500.00 for each dependent in excess of two dependents. The income limit for veterans with 100 percent, service - connected disabilities is $42,000.00 plus $700.00 for each dependent in excess of two dependents.

In analyzing business loan applications, the WDVA considers: the veteran's management experience and financial commitment to the business, the cash - flow and debt - to equity ratio of the business, loan collateral, and local business market conditions.

In addition to veterans business loans, WDVA offers economic assistance loans, which can be used to purchase, start or operate a business. It also can be used to buy equipment, material or services for the business.

The annual interest rate for the economic assistance loan is 6 percent. The maximum amount a veteran may borrow is $4,500.00 with up to five years to repay.

To qualify for this loan, the maximum combined income of the veteran and his or her spouse cannot exceed $30,000.00. This income limit is increased $500.00 for each dependent in excess of two dependents.

For more information about the WDVA business loans contact the Veterans' Service Officer in your county or Richard W. Baker, Washington County Veterans Service Officer, phone 338-4457.

VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified elector, unable to get to the polling place on election day for any reason, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified elector is a person who is a U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on election day, who has resided in the ward or municipality where the person wishes to vote at least 10 days before the election. If the voter resides in a municipality which requires voter registration, then registration is also required for the voter to receive an absentee ballot.

To obtain an absentee ballot, the voter should contact the clerk of the city, village or town in which the voter resides. A written request must be made by the voter for the absentee ballot. If the voter contacts the clerk by telephone the clerk will send the application form to the voter. If the voter requests an absentee ballot by mail, a written request, signed by the voter which indicates that the voter resides within the municipality, will be honored. Written requests may be made beginning six months before the primary election. The deadline for receipt of the written request by mail is 4:30 p.m. on the Friday before the election. If the voter goes to the clerk's office to complete a written request, the request must be made no later than 4:30 p.m. on the day before the election.

If the absentee voter resides in a nursing home, the absentee ballot will be delivered to the nursing home by two special voting deputies appointed by the municipal clerk. The special voting deputies will present the absentee ballot to the voter and provide assistance in marking or punching the ballot if necessary. At the request of an absentee voter a relative may provide the assistance. After voting at the nursing home is completed, the special voting deputies will return the absentee ballot to the municipal clerk.

With two exceptions, the voter who wants to cast an absentee ballot, must make a separate written request before each election. If a voter is indefinitely confined to his or her home or a care facility because of illness, age, or disability, the voter need not make a request before each election. There is a special statement on the application form which is provided by the municipal clerk which can be completed asking that an absentee ballot be automatically mailed to the indefinitely confined or military voter before each election. If the voter fails to vote and return the ballot sent to the voter, a separate written request for the next election must be made before the voter can obtain a ballot.

A voter who is hospitalized on election day may obtain an absentee ballot by designating another person as the agent for the voter. There is a statement on the application form for this purpose. An application by agent for a hospitalized elector may be made in person at the municipal clerk's office no earlier than 7 days before the election and no later than 4:30 p.m. on the day of the election.

If a voter requests an absentee ballot stating the reason that he or she is a sequestered juror, the application can be made no earlier than 7 days before the election, and no later than 4:30 p.m. on the day of the election. If the application from a sequestered juror is received by the municipal clerk after 4:30 p.m. on the Friday immediately preceding the election, the municipal clerk or the clerk's agent will deliver the absentee ballot to the court and the judge will call a recess to allow the voter to cast his or her vote.

The municipal clerk will send the absentee ballot to the voter once the request is received and the ballots are prepared. Absentee ballots are available twenty-one (21) days before the fall primary and fall election. The municipal clerk keeps a public record of all individuals requesting an absentee ballot indicating when the ballot is requested, sent, and returned to the municipal clerk.

An absentee ballot can be voted at home any time after it is received in the mail. An absentee ballot can also be voted in the clerk's office if the voter appears in person and fills out the written request. The voter should make sure that the certificate-affidavit is properly completed and witnessed by two persons. The voter and the witnesses must sign the certificate on the absentee ballot carrier envelope. If the absentee elector receives assistance in marking the ballot, the person providing the assistance must sign the statement on the back of the ballot which provides that the person giving assistance marked the ballot as directed by the absentee voter. The municipal clerk will make sure that the certificate-affidavit is properly completed by the voter when the absentee ballot is voted in the clerk's office.

The completed absentee ballot must be in the possession of the issuing municipal clerk in time for the clerk to deliver the ballot before the polls close on election day. Voted absentee ballots may be delivered in person to the municipal clerk. Any absentee ballot received after the polls close or any absentee ballot where the certificate-affidavit is not properly completed cannot be counted.

To obtain an absentee ballot send a written request to:

TAKE NOTICE that a referendum election will be held on September 11, 1990 in the School District of Lomira on the question of whether or not the initial resolution set forth in the question below shall be approved. The initial resolution was adopted by the School Board of the District on May 23, 1990.

The referendum election question is:

"Shall the following initial resolution be approved?"

INITIAL RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING
GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS IN AN AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED
$3,530,000

BE IT RESOLVED by the School Board of the School District of Lomira, Dodge, Fond du Lac and Washington Counties, Wisconsin that there shall be issued pursuant to Chapter 67, Wisconsin Statutes, general obligation school building bonds in an amount not to exceed $3,530,000 for the public purpose of paying the cost of constructing additions to and remodeling and renovating the Lomira K-12 Complex and acquiring equipment.

Copies of the Resolution directing submission of the question set forth above to the electorate and information concerning District boundaries may be obtained at the School District offices located at 1030 Fourth Street, Lomira, Wisconsin.

Any qualified elector, unable to get to the polling place on election day for any reason, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified elector is a person who is a U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on election day and who has resided in the ward or municipality where the person wishes to vote at least 10 days before the election. The municipal clerk will send the absentee ballot to the voter once the request is received and the ballots are prepared. The completed absentee ballot must be in the possession of the issuing municipal clerk in time for the clerk to deliver the ballot before the polls close on election day. Voted absentee ballots may be delivered in person to the municipal clerk. Appliance Turn-In Service Part Of WE's Smart Money Program

White goods, or major home appliances, will be banned from landfills when the first phase of Wisconsin's new recycling law takes effect in January. But from now until Aug. 31, Wisconsin Electric Power Co. will haul away old refrigerators, freezers and room air conditioners, and give customers a U.S. Savings Bond, too.

The Appliance Turn-in Service is part of Wisconsin Electric's Smart Money Energy Program, the company's energy-efficiency program. One goal of the service is to reduce peak electrical demand, postponing the need to build expensive new power plants and helping to keep electric rates low. Customers receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond for turning in an inefficient but operating refrigerator or freezer and a $50 bond for a room air conditioner.

"Our customers have turned in more than 170,000 appliances since our turn-in program began in 1987," noted Marti Schmall, residential market manager at WE. "By removing these operating but inefficient units, we are 'purchasing' conservation. And we dispose of these appliances in an environmentally sound manner."

While it is common practice to dispose of appliances in landfills, the white goods turned in to Wisconsin Electric are scrapped and the metals reclaimed. In addition, the refrigerants are drained and stored for re-use and capacitors are removed and incinerated.

Refrigerants contain chlorofluorocarbons, or CFCs, which were banned from spray cans in the late 1970s because of their effect on the stratospheric ozone layer. Capacitors in some refrigerators manufactured before 1980 contain small amounts of polychlorinated biphenyls, or PCBs, which have been classified by the Environmental Protection Agency as a hazardous substance.

For more information about the Appliance Turn-in Service, call Wisconsin Electric's Smart Money Energy line, 221-4800, or 1-800-922-6253.

Straub Takes Second in Midwest Championships

Columbus, Ohio — The 1990 Ohio State Fair was the site for the tenth annual Midwest Wrestling Championships. Wrestlers from Ohio, along with competitors from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New Jersey, and Canada all gathered for what concluded the 1990 AAU freestyle season.

Former Kewaskum wrestler Rich Straub placed second in the 142 pound open division, winning five matches before dropping a close decision in the finals. Straub made quick work of his first three opponents, pinning Chris Galli, Brian Welch, and Greg Pittroft, all of Ohio, in fall times of :50, :48, and 1:07.

In the quarterfinals Straub was up against Corey Noel of Montreal, Canada. After being thrown for three in the early going, Straub came back to pin Noel in 1:12. The semis pitted him against Ron Jones of Prospect, New Jersey, where Straub won by injury default after Jones discontinued the match due to a neck injury. This advanced Straub to the finals where he lost on a decision to Anthony Merlo of Canada, 13-8.

Straub concluded his freestyle season with a record of 15-1. Along with the second place finish, Straub won the Badger State Games this past June and the Wisconsin AAU State Tournament last March. Rich currently attends the University of Wisconsin - Whitewater, where he wrestles for the Warhawks.

Hunter Education Class to Be Held

Richard Knoebel, a Wisconsin DNR Certified Hunter Safety Instructor, invites all young people interested in hunting and recreational shooting to enroll in Wisconsin Hunter Education course. The course will begin Wednesday, August 22, 1990, and will be held in the Village of Kewaskum's community room, located at the Kewaskum Municipal Building and is sponsored by the Kewaskum Police Department. Students must be 12 years old, or reach 12 prior to the end of the year in which the course is taken. There is no maximum age, and parents are also encouraged to enroll and participate.

Advanced registration is required and the class size is limited. Please contact Richard Knoebel at 626-4311 for details.

Persons successfully completing the course will receive a distinctive embroidered emblem and a hunter safety graduate certificate. The certificate is valid in lieu of a small game hunting license for one season and is a lifetime certificate required for hunting in many states and provinces.

Young students certified will also be able to hunt and use firearms without parent or guardian present at age fourteen instead of age sixteen.

Classes will cover responsibilities of hunters, firearms safety in the home and afield, knowledge of firearms and hunting equipment, wildlife identification and management, marksmanship and outdoor skills.
