Kleinhans Announces Her Bid for State School Superintendent's Job

Former Kewaskum School District Administrator to Challenge Herbert Grover

Penny Kleinhans

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Penny Kleinhans, superintendent of the Wausau School District, announced her candidacy Wednesday for the position of Wisconsin Superintendent of Public Instruction in the 1993 Spring Election.

Kleinhans, who held the position of Kewaskum School District Administrator from 1985 to 1988, will formally announce her candidacy in a series of news conferences throughout the state this week. She made her initial announcement Wednesday afternoon at a news conference held at the Wausau School District's Longfellow Administration Center. On Thursday, she will hold news conferences in Madison, Milwaukee and Green Bay. Friday Kleinhans will hold news conferences in Eau Claire and LaCrosse.

Kleinhans, 48, has worked in the field of education in Wisconsin since 1968. She has held the position of teacher in the Rosendale and Minocqua School Districts, principal at Manawa and superintendent of schools in Viola, Deerfield, Kewaskum, Menomonie and Wausau. Kleinhans was also employed as a staff auditor with the Wisconsin Legislative Audit Bureau in Madison.

Kleinhans received her bachelor's degree from UW-Whitewater, her master's degree in educational administration from UW-Madison and is working on her Ph.D. dissertation at UW-Madison.

In announcing her candidacy, Kleinhans said, "I enter this race knowing full well that I'll be the underdog. Bert Grover is a well-entrenched, well-known and well-financed incumbent."

"However, many feel that the time has come for a change. As we approach the new millennium, the serious issues that face education in Wisconsin require a fresh commitment to children and new visions of school improvement."

Kleinhans said that "the citizens of Wisconsin are committed to excellence in education, however, they expect to be heard by those of us whom they have entrusted both their children, their most precious resource, and their tax dollars."

Kleinhans stressed that she will spend the first six months of the campaign listening to what parents, teachers, students and other special interest groups have to say about the state of education in Wisconsin. "I've always had an open-door policy and I look forward to hearing from the citizens of Wisconsin," she noted.

The Wausau school superintendent said five issues have emerged in recent months: (1) the status of families in education; (2) politicalization of the education process; (3) grassroots involvement in education; (4) property taxes, and (5) quality workforce proposals.

In conclusion Kleinhans stated, "The future of education in Wisconsin presents great challenges. If we but seize them, they can become opportunities. I believe that as State Superintendent, I would be able to make this happen."

Fire Destroys Barrel Haus Landmark Building Totally Guttled

Story and Photos by Sharon Callaway Roznik

The Kewaskum Fire Department, aided by the Boltonville and Campbellsport Fire Departments battled the fire and dense smoke throughout the day.

Billowing clouds of dense smoke filled the Kewaskum sky Tuesday morning when the Barrel Haus tavern and restaurant located on the corner of Main and Railroad Streets, was the scene of one of the largest fires in the village's history.

The Kewaskum Fire Department responded to the call around 10:15 a.m., when it was discovered by the owner, James Rinas. The Boltonville and Campbellsport fire departments were called in to assist with manpower and equipment.

The fire apparently originated in the kitchen area, where the flames quickly spread in the overhead exhaust fan and up into the walls, but the cause is still under investigation.

Thick smoke rolled thru the village for hours, fanned by strong northerly winds. At times visibility was reduced to zero hampering the efforts of the firefighters. The dense, choking smoke permeated into surrounding businesses and at one point, evacuation of nearby Holy Trinity School was considered due to the school's close proximity to gasoline containment units.

The fire completely destroyed the building and its contents, including two upstairs apartments. Firemen remained on the scene throughout the day and into the evening, as did a large crowd of spectators. A live remote radio broadcast was on hand from West Bend radio station, WBWI.

The corner building was a Kewaskum landmark originally built as the Central Hotel over 100 years ago.

KAP, School Board Ratify Two-Year Contract Board of Education Votes to Increase Graduation Requirements

By Gerry Mueller
Statesman Staff Writer

Beginning with the freshmen class of 1993, students will have to earn a total of 24 credits to meet graduation requirements for the Kewaskum School District.

While that seems strict, high school principal Charles Heidner advised the board that approximately 75 to 85 per cent of the KHS student population has been taking 24 or more credits, even though the district presently requires only 22 credits for graduation.

Heidner indicated the decision to go to 24 credits was two-fold in that it would mean students would be getting credit on their records for taking the additional courses and secondly, those students who are taking the minimum requirement and ending up with two study halls will have to take at least one additional class. The 24-credit requirement would mean a student would have to earn at least six credits per year for four years.

In adding to Heidner's comments, Curriculum Coordinator Connie Strand told the board, we're not trying to diminish anything, we're trying to enhance what students are taking and make them better prepared when they leave school. By taking additional courses, it opens more doors, giving them greater opportunities.

District Administrator Dr. David Heather also noted that students presently earning more than the 22 credits are not getting records credit for the additional courses. "It's like telling a student you are working seven hours but we only pay for six, the seventh is on your own."

Heidner said a number of area schools have already gone to the 24-credit requirement and some districts such as Sheboygan Falls, will be increasing their graduation requirements to 25 credits in 1992.

In other action the board approved a two-year contract with the Kewaskum Auxiliary Personnel Union (KAP) which represents the district's support staff such as aides, cooks, office and maintenance personnel.

Some of the pact's major provisions are a 45c an hour or 5.81 percent salary increase for 1991-92, and a 5 percent cell increase for 1992-93, life insurance for employes working 18.75

School Board Approves Creation of Temporary Sub-Committee

By Gerry Mueller
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Board of Education, while not unanimous, voted Monday night to allow the creation of a temporary advisory sub-committee which would be an extension of, and report to, the Finance - Transportation - Buildings and Grounds Committee.

The request for the sub-committee came from board member Janet Wolfenberg who chairs FTB & G, supported by board member Jean Goeden.

Wolfenberg told the other board members her request was the result of concerns expressed by some private citizens during a committee meeting. "It all came about when our committee was looking into replacing the basketball backboards," noted Wolfenberg, "and that led to discussions about other athletic issues such as moving the football field, repairing the lights, fixing the tennis courts, etc."

Wolfenberg noted the more the sub-committee idea was considered it was felt the group's job should be to look into all the district's capital improvement needs, that it should not be limited to just the athletic area but the district as a whole. Our recommendation would be to keep the sub-committee temporary and dissolve it after it reported its findings and made its recommendations back to its parent committee.

Several board members questioned the need for such a group as well as how the members would be picked, how many, and who they would be. Board member Ron Beimborn was totally against the idea. "I think we've got too many committees in this district already and some of them have never even met." "If the Finance - Transportation - Buildings and Grounds Committee is so overburdened, then maybe it should be split up into two committees the way it used to be," he suggested.

Board member Ruth Schmitt told the board the Kewaskum Booster Club had been looking into some of the same issues. "We had considered forming a corporation and looking into fundraisers, talking with other organizations, and industry to get some of these things done."

Schmitt asked board president Neal Weare how many people would be appointed, would area businesses and other organizations be represented. Weare said he had not made any decision about numbers, possibly five or ten. Schmitt said she could not see going with less than a twelve-member group with people drawn from all sectors of the community including private and business. Weare said he had no problem with numbers, it could even be fifteen, if enough people came forward and showed their interest in working on the sub-committee. He also agreed with Schmitt's comments about getting organizations and industry involved.

Weare said the sub-committee's job would simply be to look into these projects, gather information as to need, cost, etc., and maybe suggest a long-term plan, possibly over a five-year span, to get things accomplished. They could contact individuals and businesses about financial support if they felt it was the way to go. The group would then bring all their information back to the Finance - Transportation - Buildings and Grounds Committee and the sub-committee would be disbanded.

Beimborn again noted his opposition saying "when you start talking long-term, the sub-committee will be around for years." While Schmitt was still concerned that there was no specific plan for setting up the sub-committee, she felt it was a good idea and needed.

Weare said he was reluctant to set a number for the group. What if we say we want a fifteen-member committee and only ten people ask to serve, do we then scrap the idea? "Hopefully, when the public hears about this sub-committee," said Weare, "we will have a lot of people who will be willing to serve." He said anyone who is interested in working on the sub-committee should contact either District Administrator David Heather or himself. "We will make a list, select the members and go on from there."

hours per week and long term disability insurance to all support staff with the board's contribution limited to $3,000 per fiscal year.

In other business the board approved an administrative request to contract with CESA 6 for the services of a half time social worker position and the hiring of Miss Jackie Del Ponte as a middle school teacher for the remainder of the school year. Del Ponte will be taking over the class of Mr. Sobolewski who in turn, will be assuming the class schedule of Mr. Hanson who is retiring at the end of the semester.

Del Ponte has also agreed to fill the vacant O/M coaching position for the middle school.

The board also approved Mrs. Rosenthal's request to set up a student exchange program between Kewaskum and its sister city in Germany. At their own expense, German students will come to Kewaskum in the fall and attend school for three weeks. In exchange, Kewaskum students will travel to Germany in June for a similar school experience. All the students would stay in the homes of host families.

In non action business, Dr. Heather gave the board a status report on the budget and expenditures to date.

David Mertz Wins Kewaskum Middle School Geography Bee

David Mertz, a seventh grade student at Kewaskum Middle School, won the school-level competition of the National Geography Bee on Wed., Dec. 18th and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level Bee, at which students answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the fourth annual National Geography Bee, which is sponsored by National Geographic WORLD, the Society's magazine for children, and Amtrak®.

The kick-off for this year's Bee was the week of Dec. 2 to coincide with Geography Awareness Week. Thousands of schools around the United States, the District of Columbia, and five U.S. territories participated. The school winners, including David, will now take a written test; up to 100 of the top scorers in each state and territory will be eligible to compete in their state Bee March 27.

The National Geographic Society with its co-sponsors will provide an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C., for state champions and their teacher escorts to participate in the National Geography Bee national championship on May 20 and 21. The first-place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship; the second-place winner, a $15,000 scholarship; and the third-place winner, a $10,000 scholarship.

Alex Trebek, host of "Jeopardy!", will moderate the national finals.

The National Geographic Society developed the National Geography Bee in response to a growing concern about the lack of geographic knowledge among young people in the United States. A 10-county Gallup survey conducted for the Society in 1988 and 1989 found that people in the U.S. ages 18 to 24 — the youngest group surveyed — knew less about geography than young people in any of the other countries in the survey.

The National Geographic Society, with 10 million members, has as its mission the "increase and diffusion of geographic knowledge." In addition to the National Geography Bee, the Society sponsors a number of other geography education initiatives, including the Summer Geography Institute for teachers, the National Geographic Society Education Foundation, and the Geographic Alliance Network, which currently encompasses almost every state and Puerto Rico.

John Hahn, an eighth-grader, placed second in the contest. Finalists after several rounds were Matt Tonn, James Broughton, Chad Schlagenhaft, Katrina Gilles, Jason Enright and Mike Danielson.

SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE

High school students who are U.S. citizens and who are interested in applying for $1,000 college scholarships should request applications by March 15, 1992 from Educational Communications Scholarship Foundation, 721 N. McKinley Road, P.O. Box 5002, Lake Forest, IL 60045-5002.

To receive an application, students should send a note stating their name, address, city, state, zip code, approximate grade point average and year of graduation.

All requests for applications will be fulfilled on or about April 15, 1992. One hundred winners will be selected on the basis of academic performance, involvement in extra-curricular activities and need for financial aid.

Grade Schoolers Learn About Winter at Riveredge

The fourth and fifth graders at Holy Trinity Grade School in Kewaskum will be attending a Riveredge Nature Center environmental education program, on Jan. 31, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. entitled "Life in Winter".

The program is an investigation into the habitats of animals in the winter. Learn how to recognize animal tracks, read what they mean, use showshoes (snow permitting), and be sensitized to the sights and sounds of winter.

Students will print the feet of fox, squirrel, rabbit, mice and some birds in a huge sandbox and on butcher paper to learn to recognize the in the wild.

Activities include donning snowshoes and doing various exercises (summersault, hop, jump), in order to learn how to maneuver in them, while they search the snowcover for tracks and wildlife.

Students will learn how to determine what the patterns of tracks mean (is something running, hopping, fighting, stalking or catching prey)? They will also construct a winter food web, keeping in mind the tracks that they have seen.

Riveredge Nature Center, a non-profit, 350 acre sanctuary located at 4458 W. Hawthorne Drive (Highway Y) one mile east of Newburg, provides environmental education for children and adults.

Commercial Driver Licensing Deadline Approaches

The deadline for obtaining a Commercial Driver's License (CDL) is soon approaching. The requirement for a commercial driver's license is a result of the Commercial Vehicle Safety Act passed by Congress in 1986.

Gary Guenther, District Manager for the Wisconsin Division of Motor Vehicles indicated that all drivers of commercial motor vehicles must have their commercial driver's license (CDL) before 4-1-92 to continue to drive large vehicles. A commercial motor vehicle is a vehicle that has a gross vehicle weight rating or actually carries 26,001 lbs or more, a vehicle designed to transport 16 or more passengers including the driver or a vehicle that transports hazardous materials.

Guenther stated that drivers who have regularly operated commercial motor vehicles in the last 2 years or longer and who have good driving records may be eligible for waiver of the driving skills test (grandfathering). This waiver is only available until 4-1-92 and does not apply to the knowledge test requirements of the law.

Guenther urges all commercial motor vehicle operators to apply immediately and expects significant waits at Customer Service Centers as a result of the additional workload. Drivers who wait until the deadline may not be able to be processed during the driving skills test waiver period and would be unable to drive until their CDL is obtained.

Wisconsin began issuing CDL's at Customer Service Centers on 10-28-91 but had been testing drivers since 1-2-91.

Fond du Lac Band Chamber Concert Planned for Jan. 26

Mixing Business With Pleasure

Entertaining prospects and associates as part of your business is a long-accepted practice. But claiming those expenses as legitimate tax deductions requires some knowledge of the tax laws.

Expenses for business entertainment are deductible as a business expense, subject to certain limitations, only if they are ordinary and necessary, according to the tax rules. "Ordinary" expenses are those that are generally accepted in your particular line of business. "Necessary" refers to expenses that are helpful and appropriate to your business.

The entertainment expense you want to deduct must be directly related to or associated with your business. This means that you should have more than a general expectation that the entertainment will result in making money or getting more business. You must either conduct or discuss business during the meeting, but the entire meeting does not have to be business. Even if your entertainment expense was not directly related to business, it may be a business deduction: for example, if your meal or entertainment comes before or after an important business meeting. Business entertainment can take place in a restaurant, night club, sporting club, or convention center.

You cannot deduct the cost of entertainment for your spouse or a family member unless his or her presence plays a central role in the business meeting. In such cases, his or her expenses are "associated" with the meeting.

Remember, for tax purposes, not all business expenses are equal. Generally, only 80 percent of the cost of meals and entertainment, including taxes and tips, may be deducted as a business expense. But transportation expenses to and from deductible meals and entertainment are not limited to 80 percent.

See IRS Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment, and Gift Expenses, for more information on entertainment expense deductions. It is available free by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM ★ NEWS NOTES ★ Snow and Ice Removal

The snow and ice season has arrived bringing along some problems. To alleviate the problem or to clarify a few items, let us refer to the Municipal Code, Chapter 8.09, which covers "Snow and Ice Removal."

I. SIDEWALKS TO BE KEPT CLEAR. The owner or occupant of any lot or parcel shall promptly each day, remove all snow and ice which may have fallen or accumulated upon the sidewalk in front of each lot or parcel; provided, when ice has so formed that it cannot be removed, the owner or occupant shall keep the same sprinkled with a material which will prevent the sidewalk from being dangerous to pedestrians. If the owner or occupant fails to comply with this subsection, the Director of Public Works shall cause the snow or ice to be removed or sprinkled as required in this section and the cost thereof assessed against the property as a special tax or charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in sub. (3).

If the Village Director of Public Works ordering such removal of snow and ice, a minimum charge of $25 shall be affixed as the expense of such removal or treatment. If the cost of removal or treatment exceeds the $25 minimum, the actual cost for such work, per occurrence, shall be charged plus a 10% handling charge.

II. SNOW NOT TO BE DEPOSITED IN STREET. No person shall cause to be deposited snow from his premises or sidewalk abutting thereon onto any street in the Village without a permit from the Director of Public Works who may require to be paid a fee sufficient to reimburse the Village for the cost of removal of such snow.

III. ASSESSMENT OF COST. If after the report of work is filed and billed the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If not paid by October 1 the cost thereof will be assessed against the property as a special tax etc.

As for this and all ordinances a penalty is also provided for in Chapter 25.04 of this Municipal Code.

Agriculture Agent

Farm families and others interested in computer hardware and software are invited to attend a Farm Computer Expo scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 23. The program will be held at the Five Pillars Restaurant at Random Lake starting at 10:00 a.m.

This program is designed for both the families that are presently using a computer, and those that may be thinking about the process, but are not sure where to start. The objectives are to help people become familiar with the types of hardware and software that is available, how to determine what may meet your needs, and how to go about the process of purchasing needed hardware and software.

The program will feature presentations on Evaluating, Selecting, and Purchasing Computer Hardware and Software, by Al Wollenzien, from the University of Wisconsin Extension WISPLAN computer service and Arlan Branstrom with the North Central Computer Institute. There will also be a panel of farm families that are presently using computers on their farm.

A major part of the activity will be the displays of agriculture software available from the major agriculture software suppliers in Wisconsin and the area. Participants will have the opportunity to see the types of available software and evaluate what might best serve their needs.

Many farm families are using computers to help with the recordkeeping and management of their farm business. Computers are being used for accounting, dairy and livestock management, crop production information, marketing information, and many other purposes.

The cost of both computer hardware and software has decreased in the past years as technology has advanced. Computers and their software have also become more user friendly. This has resulted in more people considering the use of computers in their business and for personal uses.

Individuals interested in the program should register in advance at either the Washington, Ozaukee, or Sheboygan County

WE Holds Informational Meetings On Possible Line Construction

Residents of Kewaskum, Lomira and Campbellsport Thursday, Jan. 9, heard Wisconsin Electric Power Co. representatives outline a plan to maintain reliable electric service in those communities.

"The demand for electric power in this area is increasing and is expected to continue to increase," said Richard Darling, senior local relations representative for Wisconsin Electric. "We need to build new transmission facilities to reliably serve existing and future customer needs here."

Darling spoke at two public information meetings held by Wisconsin Electric at the Ashford Town Hall to explain the need to build a 138,000-volt (138-kV) transmission line from the company's Butternut substation in Lomira Township to its Auburn substation in Auburn Township. Approximately 120 people attended the sessions.

"We've already taken several steps to defer additional line construction as long as possible," Darling said. "Our Smart Money energy conservation program, which will continue to be actively promoted, has helped reduce electrical demand in this region. In addition, we've modified our existing electrical system to help defer additional construction."

"But if we don't take additional steps now to upgrade the system, we could have serious electric reliability problems — low voltage or overload conditions — if one of the two lines presently serving the area is forced out of service."

At present, both the Butternut and Auburn substations each are fed by a single transmission line. The construction of a connecting 138-kv line between the two substations will protect against the possibility of lengthy power outages and will increase service reliability in the region.

Without these necessary improvements, it's not just the company's existing customers' electric service that would be affected, Darling added. "We wouldn't be able to meet requests for new or expanded service from residential, commercial and industrial customers in the area."

The company is evaluating various routes for the project, some utilizing existing rights of way. The new line will run between the Butternut substation, located on Super Drive west of U.S. Highway 41, and its Auburn substation on U.S. Highway 45, south of Old Bridge Road.

Wisconsin Electric plans to file an application to construct the transmission line and associated substation equipment with the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin in the next few weeks.

If approved, construction of the new facilities would begin in November 1993 and be completed and in service by June 1, 1994.

Economic Forums Set at UWWC

How does the demise of the Soviet Union affect the U.S.? What does the spiraling federal deficit really do to us today? How can we get the politics out of economic policy?

Answers to these questions and many more will be presented during a unique series of economic forums to be held at UW-C-Washington County starting on Jan. 22. The series, Economics with a Global Perspective, is sponsored by UWWC, Rotary Club of West Bend and the West Bend Daily News.

The cooperative programming is aimed at helping people to understand how to view economics in a global context and how to analyze competitive opportunities with an international focus. The presenters are local and regional experts including leaders of international businesses and economics.

Registration can be made for one or all of the six sessions. All the sessions will be held at the UWWC, 400 University Dr., West Bend on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. in Conference Room 259. A $15 fee is required for all but the first free introductory session.

The forums are:

* Jan. 22 - Think Global/Act Local. Learn about economic conditions that lead to extensive corporate debt, high taxes, real estate slowdowns, loan defaults and personal and corporate bankruptcies. See how these things affect individual citizens. Presenters: Larry Gomes, Ph.D., Associate Prof. of Economics, UWWC, and Tim Lawless, Division Administrator, Wisconsin Department of Development.

* Feb. 12 - International Competition. Learn about the powerful economic forces generated by international competition and the fierce debate between the supporters and detractors of protectionism. See how the analysis of this debate involves the basic ideas of voluntary trade and comparative advantage. Learn how taxes, government regulations, trade barriers and currency exchange rates influence world competition. Presenters: Jeffrey

A. Reigle, President/CEO, Regal Ware, and Mohsen Bahmani, Ph.D., Prof. of International Economics, UWM.

* Feb. 19 - Europe and the USSR. Learn first hand from international trade leaders how local corporations can participate in European and Soviet trade. Presenters: Bernard L. Nielsen, President/CEO, Gehl Company, and Mary Dermody, Dir. of Development, Wisconsin Trade Center.

* March 4 - Why is Good Economics Bad Politics? Learn how economic policy is made by politicians not economists and how solutions to problems are typically based on political ramifications rather than economic realities. This session is especially pertinent in this election year. The presenters do offer some help for frustrated voters. Presenters: Roger S. Smith, Adm. of Public Affairs, A.O. Smith Corp. and member of the Wisconsin Manufacturers and Commerce Association, and John D. Forester, Education Dir., Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance.

* March 18 - The Federal Deficit. Learn the primary effects of the current $264 billion federal deficit and the cycle of deficit spending, inflation, high taxes, fluctuating interest rates and unemployment. The presenters will show how the more we understand the cycle of the deficit the more we can begin to solve this enormous problem. Presenters: Tim Schilling, Economic Specialist, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, and Leon M. Schur, Ph.D., Prof. and Chairperson of the Department of Economics, UWM.

* April 8 - Deregulation of Financial Institutions. Learn how the great debate on deregulation focuses on the role government plays in controlling the private sector. A lesser debate looks at benefits and costs of deregulation and how it might affect the financial security and economic health of our community. Presenters: Thomas Bast, M&I First National Bank, West Bend, and George Perkins, Ph.D., V.P. First Wisconsin National Bank, Adjunct Prof. of Economics, UWM.

To register for any or all of the sessions please call Joan Laabs or Laurie Meacham at 335-5208.

KEWASKUM FAMILY CHIROPRACTIC CENTER

Robert Butler, D.C.

Chiropractic is concerned with the biomechanics of the body and its relationship to health and disease. Through vertebral (spine) adjustments, the Chiropractor deals with body engineering, postural stability and physiological control systems. The healthier the spine, the healthier the person.

Today, Chiropractic has become the largest drugless healing profession in the Western World. This science explains that some of the causes of pain or disease in the body are the vertebral subluxations which create pressure upon nerves and interfere with the normal transmission of vital nerve energy.

The Chiropractor's objective is to locate the place in the spine where the nerve pressure exists and by specific adjustments, restore vertebrae to their normal positions. These corrective adjustments release pressure on nerves, and thereby allows the body to heal itself.

This message has been brought to you through the courtesy of Dr. Robert Butler, located at 1554 Fond du Lac in Kewaskum. Phone 626-2644 for information.

25 Years Ago

Jan. 13, 1967

The appointment of Theodore "Ted" Meilahn of Kewaskum as county surveyor was unanimously approved by members of the Washington County Board of Supervisors Tuesday. Meilahn was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of Ethan Maxon, who died Nov. 21, of a heart attack, less than two weeks after being elected to his seventh term as county surveyor Nov. 8.

Approximately 50,000 gallons of water "went down the drain" in Kewaskum Tuesday. The water in the Tower Street reservoir was contaminated after dense smoke filled the water pumping station. Richard Zarling, Kewaskum Elementary School principal, called Armin Oppermann, superintendent of public works, shortly afternoon to report that water from the school's drinking fountains had a peculiar smoky taste. Oppermann went to check the station and take a sample of the water. When he opened the door he found the station filled with smoke. It was discovered the smoke was caused by a blockage in the chimney. With the help of volunteer firemen and the fire department pumper, the water was pumped down nearby Third Street into a storm sewer. Debris in the station's chimney prevented the oil burner from getting the proper draft thus causing the smoke. Oppermann checks both pumping stations daily and found both to be in good working order at 7:30 a.m.

The regulation of the purchase of motor vehicle tires began Monday, Jan. 5, under the supervision of the Washington County Council of Defense. A monthly quota has been established for every county in every state. Washington County's quota is 19 tire casings and 16 inner tubes for passenger cars. We will be allowed 53 tire casings and 44 inner tubes for trucks and buses.

Starting this Saturday, Jan. 17, an increase in the price of haircuts and shaves will go into effect at the three local barber shops. The price of haircuts will be raised from 40c to 50c and shaves will cost 25c instead of 20c.

The children, grandchildren and members of their families, along with a number of friends gathered at the home of William Seefeldt, Town of Kewaskum, Monday evening to help the venerable man celebrate his 92nd birthday.

Coming as a shock to the community was the death of Mrs. Elmer Uelmen, 39, nee Theresa Kral, of this village, which occurred Wednesday at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac. Her demise was caused by an embolism which set in following a major operation on Dec. 30. She had expected to return home from the hospital this week when the complication set in, causing her sudden death. She passed away 12 days before her 40th birthday.

Births — A daughter to Dr. and Mrs. R.G. Edwards of this village on Wednesday, Jan. 14. A son to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Green on Jan. 4.

The Wisconsin Gas and Electric company is at work setting poles for electrical extension to points in Fond du Lac County the work being engaged now at Lomira. The feed wires will stretch east from Lomira to Ashford, thence to Campbellsport, Eden and Marblehead. Another crew is stringing wire between Theresa and Lomira. The Lomira plant is to be used as a distributor.

Mrs. Jos. Strobel left Friday for St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, where she is at the bedside of her daughter Agnes. (Mrs. Mike Zehren) who is still in critical condition up to this writing.

Mr. Ramthun received three new autos Tuesday, which he sold to John Auppermann, Fred Bartelt and Herman Milke.

Wm. Hess, New Fane, recently, harvested his supply of ice last week Friday and Saturday.

The remains of Mr. Trapp of Milwaukee were shipped to Beechwood on Thursday for interment in the Emmanuel's cemetery. Rev. Kaniess officiating.

Two brilliant "sundogs" appeared near the sun Thursday morning, one on each side. According to old weather prognosticators, this sign means a continued cold spell.

Auto license plates for 1917 will be green and white. The state has contracted for 120,000 pairs at a cost of 9.2 cents per pair.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather EMMA SEEFELDT, who passed away ten years ago, Jan. 17, 1982:

Days of sadness still come o'er us.

Tears of silence often flow.

For memory keeps you ever near us

Though you died ten years ago.

Death can never take away

And time cannot erase

The memory of a loving heart,

A dear familiar face;

And there is comfort in the thought

That as the years go by

Our memories grow dearer still-

For love can never die.

Deeply missed by husband, children and grandchildren.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone who expressed their sympathy at the loss of our Dad and Grandpa, EDWARD DOBKE. Thank you to everyone who remembered us with cards, flowers, food, memorials and helped us in any way. Your acts of kindness will always be remembered.

Hot Snacks Warm Up More Than Just a Cold Day

With the cold wind starting to blow out of the north, there are few things better to greet someone coming in out of the cold than a hot snack.

To help restore energy and strength to those chilled bodies, make sure you make the snack nutritious. According to the Dairy Council of Wisconsin, foods rich in carbohydrates and calcium provide energy and strengthen those bones and teeth still chattering from winter's onslaught.

Some snacks you might consider serving could include cheese fondue with bread sticks for dipping, hot pretzels topped with melted cheese, soup, popcorn sprinkled with parmesan cheese, a toasted cheese sandwich, baked potato with toppings, pizza or hot cocoa.

Dairy Council of Wisconsin is a non-profit nutrition marketing and communication association funded by the dairy industry. DCW serves Wisconsin, northern Illinois and northwest Indiana.

Alternative Agriculture Enterprises

Agriculture by Jack Trzebiatowski
Extension Agriculture Agent

Many people are looking for opportunities to get involved in alternative agriculture enterprises. Alternative agriculture enterprises includes the production of crops, livestock or other types of businesses not commonly produced on farms in the area. Some examples may include exotic crops or livestock or home based businesses. It may also include producing a specialty item such as organic grown produce.

These alternative enterprises can be opportunities for producers to diversify their production and develop new income sources. However, producers need to spend time to research any new enterprises before making an investment or commitment.

New enterprises may require that new management and production skills need to be acquired.

Estimates need to be made of projected levels of production, income, expenses and profitability.

One of the major challenges may be to find markets for new products. Markets are available for many commonly produced commodities. Markets may not be available for specialty products. In many cases it may be necessary for the producer to seek out and develop their own markets.

Another challenge is to find sources of information about these alternative enterprises. One way is to talk to others presently involved with the enterprise. Another is to seek information in the form of printed materials.

The Washington County UW-Extension Office has information on a number of alternative enterprises. One way is to talk to others presently involved with the

UWWC Men Blasted by Rock

By Statesman Sports Writer

JANESVILLE — The UW-Washington County men's basketball team got a little lesson on just how valuable the three-point shot is in college basketball here, recently.

The Wildcats could just watch as UW-Rock County sizzled the nets for 106 points as Rock blasted UWWC 106-75.

Rock used the three-point shot to its advantage, hitting a total of twelve treys compared to the Wildcats' one. It's not as if UWWC didn't have its chances - the Wildcats were just 1-16 from three-point land for the game, as compared to Rock's 12 of 28 shooting from behind the arc.

The Wildcats had trouble stopping the potent Rock attack, which focuses its offense similar to the style of Loyola Marymount. Rock sprinted to a 47-36 lead at the half, and never looked back.

UWWC was also outshot from 2-point range, as the Wildcats connected on just 37 percent of their tries, compared to Rock's 53 percent.

Terry Howell led the UWWC attack with 24 points in another fine outing, while Keith Hosking, Karl Klosowski and Buddy Mechenech also reached double figures, hitting for 13, 12, and 10 points, respectively.

Wisconsin Will Benefit From Recently Passed National Trail Funds Act

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Wisconsin bikers, hikers, snowmobilers and other outdoor recreationalists will be among the thousands of groups who find travel off the beaten path easier now that the new federal highway bill is law. Among the provisions included in that bill which provided increased road building and mass transit funding, is a national recreation trail fund.

The program was inserted into the bill by Senator Steve Symms, R-Idaho, to help improve and maintain the nation's trail systems. "This is an important step in providing direct benefit to all Americans who enjoy our recreational trails," Symms said. "The user fee principle of using tax funds already being collected from trail users is a common sense approach in preserving and improving trails."

The fund will provide $30 million a year from taxes on fuel used for off-road recreation vehicles. It assures equal distribution of funds for both non-motorized and motorized trail users, earmarking 30 percent for each use in each state. It also contains a unique provision that encourages users to cooperate by specifying 40 percent of the funds be used on shared trails.

Administered by the Transportation Department and distributed to each state under the direction of a multi-user national advisory committee, the fund will benefit a broad base of users in an efficient manner.

30 million dollars for the entire country will be available each year beginning in 1992 and running through 1997. The money will be divided with up to 3 percent of $900,000 being set aside off the top for administration, expenses, research, education, technical assistance and preparation of a national trails plan.

Half of the remaining $29,100,000 will be available to be divided equally among the 50 states, or $291,000 per state. The remaining $14,550,000 will be available to be distributed to the states proportional to the amount of off highway gas consumed in each state.

State agencies active in working for the legislation have already estimated their share. Wisconsin will receive approximately $1,800,000, Pennsylvania $800,000 and Idaho $500,000.

The reason Wisconsin will see such a healthy share of the funding can be attributed to the cooperative efforts between the state and the state snowmobile association.

Together the two groups have worked to establish a monitoring program which keeps track of off-road fuel consumption.

The program, which has been operational for several years in Wisconsin, will be one which other states will have to institute in order to receive additional funds from the trail act program.

THE SANDHILL WILDLIFE DEMONSTRATION AREA

★THIRD IN THE SERIES★

By Bob Cooney, UW-Madison Ag Press Service

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third in a series of stories on rural sociologist Tom Heberlein's work with gun deer hunters at the Sandhill Wildlife Demonstration Area. Heberlein surveyed about 2,800 hunters who took part in experimental hunts at Sandhill over 11 years. The stories cover hunters' marksmanship and lack thereof, hunting techniques that proved effective at Sandhill, and makings of a satisfying hunt, and how crowding influenced hunters and hunted at Sandhill.

Scouting, Stand-Hunting Paid Off at Sandhill

Patience and preparation paid off for hunters at the Sandhill Wildlife Demonstration Area. Hunters who spent most of their time on stands and those who scouted the area before their hunt improved their chances of bagging a deer during one-day hunts, according to results of a study by Tom Heberlein, a rural sociologist at the UW-Madison College of Agricultural and Life Sciences.

Heberlein also found that hunters with antlerless-only tags spent more time walking around, and moved more deer than hunters with either-sex tags.

Hunters who stuck with their stands shot more deer than their free-ranging counterparts. Heberlein calculated a success rate of 41 percent for hunters who spent all of their time on a stand, compared to 31 percent for those who spent no time on a stand. Still-hunting (stalking) was just the opposite — hunters who spent no time still-hunting had a 41 percent chance of success; those who spent all their time still-hunting, a 31 percent chance. Time spent on drives did not seem to reduce or increase chances of success, Heberlein reports.

About one-third of Sandhill hunters scouted the property prior to the season. Nearly 40 percent of the scouters bagged a deer, compared to 27.5 percent of those who did not scout. The better hunters may have chosen to scout, so it's hard to say if it was simply the information from scouting that improved their effectiveness during the one-day hunt, Heberlein notes. Still, he figures that hunters who scouted the property in advance and spent as much time as possible on a deer stand would have the highest odds of hunting success at Sandhill.

Prior experience at Sandhill had no effect — about one-third of the hunters got their deer, whether or not they had previously hunted Sandhill.

Sandhill hunters spent most of their time on ground stands. About one-third hunted from stands more than 80 percent of the time, and most spent more than half of their time on stands. Still-hunting was the next most popular, although half the hunters spent less than 20 percent of their time still-hunting.

Drives weren't popular. Most hunters spent less than 20 percent of their time driving deer, and only about 6 percent spent more than 60 percent of their time on drives. (Heberlein notes that these were one-day hunts, and most hunters weren't familiar with the area, which probably reduced the amount of driving done.)

Hunters apparently moved

more when they had antlerless-only tags, and they moved more deer in the process. Hunters in mixed hunts who had antlerless-only tags spent less of their time on stands than hunters holding either-sex tags. Those with antlerless-only tags in all of the hunts from 1979 to 1989 reported seeing more hunters (an average of 13.2) while hunting than those with either-sex tags (an average of 11.1 hunters). Hunters in antlerless-only hunts saw more deer.

It appears that hunters' movement patterns differ depending on tag type, Heberlein says. Indirect evidence suggests that antlerless-only hunters see more deer when hunter density increases because the hunters are more likely to be moving, and moving the deer.

Deer movement, at least as monitored by the number of deer that hunters see, depends more on hunter behavior than hunter density, according to Heberlein. In an either-sex hunt, hunters stay put and the deer are less likely to move.

Hunters were more likely to shoot if they saw a deer during an antlerless-only hunt than during an either-sex hunt. It appears that most hunters passed up shots and waited for a big buck during either-sex hunts.

Overall, hunters saw fewer

Osterbrink Plays Against UW

By Statesman Sports Writer

MADISON — Former Kewaskum High School standout Pam Osterbrink returned to Wisconsin with her Northeastern Illinois teammates last Saturday, as the Golden Eagles invaded the University of Wisconsin Fieldhouse to take on the Badgers.

The Badgers were victorious in the matchup, 79-53, but that did not take away from the excitement that a host of present and former Indian players experienced as they traveled to the state's capital to see their friend and former teammate.

Osterbrink didn't disappoint, as she scored 11 points and grabbed the same number of rebounds in the tilt. The 6-1 soph did struggle a bit from the field after making her first couple of shots, and thus was held below her 17-point a game scoring average. Osterbrink leads the Golden Eagles in rebounding, and is second on the team in scoring average.

deer and were less likely to bag deer during the antlerless-only hunts, although they reported taking as many shots as either-sex hunters. Antlerless-only hunts were generally held on the second day of the season (following either-sex hunts), and had lower deer and hunter densities. Antlerless-only hunters in areas of high hunter density saw more deer than their counterparts in less crowded areas.

The U.S. agreed to purchase Alaska from Russia for $7.2 million on March 30, 1867.

If you are an older or disabled American, a tax credit may reduce the taxes you owe.

The "credit for the elderly or the disabled" is based on your income, filing status, and age. Generally, the credit is not available if your income level requires you to report any part of your social security or tier 1 railroad retirement benefits as taxable income.

You may qualify to take the credit for 1991 if you are a U.S. citizen or resident, and:

- You are 65 or older at the end of the tax year, or
- You are under 65 by the end of the tax year, and
  - a) you retired on permanent and total disability,
  - b) you did not reach mandatory retirement age before 1991, and
  - c) you received taxable disability benefits in 1991.

IRS Publication 524, Credit for the Elderly or the Disabled, Schedule R (Form 1040) and Schedule 3 (Form 1040A) all explain the credit, qualifications, and how to figure your credit. Order them by calling 1-800-829-3676.

Chief of Police, Richard L. Knoebel reviewed with the Board the Police and Fire Commission's and his recommendation for the full time police officer position; that being Troy G. Ellis. On a motion by Trustee Mark Vechart, seconded by Trustee Gary Gavin and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the hiring of Mr. Ellis and indicated he would be serving the normal one year probationary period as provided for in the contract.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Beisbier, seconded by Trustee Gary Gavin and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Conditional Use Permit as requested and heard at public hearing for Dr. Sison. It was noted that the Kewaskum Plan Commission did recommend the permit and sent it to the Board for public hearing.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed the Record of Building Permits for 1991 with the Board. The report indicated a 13 percent decline in the number of permits.

The Board reviewed the results of a building permit survey that was completed during the fall of 1991. Of 14 communities that responded the Village of Kewaskum had the lowest fees. The survey also indicated that Independent Inspections fees are comparable to other communities.

RESOLUTION 92-1

WHEREAS, there has been introduced in the 1991-1992 Wisconsin Legislature Senate Bill 261 relating to expanding the authority of the Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District (MMSD) to improve the area surface waters; and

WHEREAS, the Village of Kewaskum supports the goal of improved water quality and the enhancement of fish and wildlife populations in the surface waters; and

WHEREAS, Senate Bill 261 creates entirely new regulatory powers and establishes new authority to construct and operate programs and construct facilities designed to improve and maintain surface water quality in the Milwaukee River Watershed; and

WHEREAS, the legislation does not identify the source of financing for the carrying out of these new programs; and

WHEREAS, there has been no showing that the powers of existing state, federal and local agencies are insufficient to improve surface water quality; and

WHEREAS, the authority granted to the MMSD in this bill is inordinately broad and could be interpreted to permit the construction, maintenance and operation of programs, facilities or structures within the Milwaukee River watershed outside the MMSD's boundaries; and

WHEREAS, this Village has determined that it is in the best interest of its residents to oppose this measure.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS RESOLVED by the Village of Kewaskum that it hereby express its opposition to the enactment of Senate Bill 261; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the offices of the state legislators representing this municipality and to the Office of the Governor.

Adopted and approved this January 6, 1992 by the Kewaskum Village Board.

Mary Krueger
Village President

ATTEST:
Daniel S. Schmidt
Administrator/Clerk

Introduced by Trustee Mark Vechart
Motion for adoption by Trustee Robert Wagner
Motion for adoption seconded by Trustee Thomas McElhatton
Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent"

The Board directed the Administrator to set up a meeting with Independent Inspections and to review the Village's Ordinances as to any change that may be required if the Board would opt to make a change.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 92-1 a resolution regarding Senate Bill 261 relating to expanding the authority of MMSD as attached hereto:

The Board reviewed the letter received from Attorney Jerry Edgar regarding the proposed special assessment for sewer and water service to the Michael Korneli property. In September the Board acted to proceed with the unit method of special assessing the installation of utility improvements along USH "45". The Board decided not to take any action and let the motion from September 23, 1991 stand, suggesting the use of unit pricing because they feel it is the fairest and most equitable way to proceed.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed the findings of the Public Service Commission regarding the Village's request for a water utility rate increase. It was noted the Village's charges are quite reasonable and remain very reasonable even after the PSC recommended 26 percent increase. The PSC is recommending that the Village have an 8 percent rate of return. The Board indicated the Administrator should proceed with sending a letter to the PSC requesting only a 6 percent rate of return. It was also noted that the PSC Public hearing is scheduled for January 24, 1992 in Madison, WI.

On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee Larry Williams and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the signing of the DNR "Notice of Intent to Apply" and Priority Number Application forms regarding the WPC Department.

On a motion by Trustee Robert

Wagner, seconded by Trustee Thomas McElhatton and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 0 "Absent."

Administrator

Offense Sputters in Second Half, as Indians are Edged

By Statesman Sports Writer

Plymouth - It was a matter of consistency here, last Friday night that spelled the difference between a win and a loss.

Plymouth played a more consistent four quarters, and that was enough to hand the Kewaskum Indians a tough 68-67 setback, thereby gaining revenge for last season's heartbreaking loss to the Indians on their homecourt.

Last year, Kewaskum's Joel Fleischman drilled a three-pointer at the buzzer to give his team a one-point victory, the Indians first win ever in Plymouth.

It was just as tight this time around, as Fleischman nearly pulled off a similar feat. With his team down 68-65 with just :04 to play, Fleischman was fouled trying another 'trey' and was thus awarded the three free throws. Fleischman sank the first, but missed the second, and after he hit the third, the Indians were forced to foul.

But even after Plymouth's Matt Noordyk missed the bonus charity toss, the Indians were still turned back, as Fleischman's desperation shot at the buzzer was off target.

It was a wonder how Fleischman could even participate in the contest, after spraining his ankle on Thursday, and being on crutches during the day on Friday.

"It was a tough spot for him to be in," Indian coach Jim Westphal said of Fleischman. "He was basically playing on one leg...he couldn't cut or jump off of it. But all things considered, he did a really super job."

For a while, it looked as if the Indians would make it two in a row on the Panthers' home court. The Indian offense was on the mark in the first half, going ahead by as many as 12 points at one point, as they rolled up 42 points total in grabbing a 42-36 halftime lead.

The margin might have even been greater if it had not been for an official's error early on. The entire starting five from the Panthers had their numbers incorrectly entered into the official scorebook, and Plymouth was charged with five technical fouls early when the mistake was noticed, thus giving the Indians ten free throw shots (of which Matt Seiser made six).

But according to Westphal, a new rule instituted this year says that a team should be assessed a team foul for every technical foul, so the Panthers should have been assessed five team fouls as well, thus allowing the Indians to shoot one-and-one opportunities early in the half. But just one team foul was levied instead.

"I didn't know it at the time," Westphal said of the official's mistake. "It's a new rule this year, and I suspected that he was wrong, but I guess I didn't pursue it enough. But in a one-point game, it might have made a difference."

Nonetheless, seniors Matt Seiser and Ryan Ramthun were doing their part to get the team rolling. Seiser pumped in 15 points in the first half, while Ramthun added 11 off the bench to spark the Indians.

"Ryan really had an excellent first half," Westphal said of the 6-0 senior. "That (bench scoring) is something that we really need."

But after lighting the nets for 21 points in each of the opening two quarters, the offensive production fell off in the second half for Kewaskum. The Indians were outscored 17-12 in the third quarter, and then managed just 13 points in the fourth. For the second half, the Indians connected on just 33 percent of their field goal tries.

"We shot very poorly in the second half," commented Westphal. "They weren't bad shots...we had quite a few bunnies. They just weren't falling."

Still the Indians were within striking distance, even though they fell behind by as many as five points late in the game.

An area which doesn't appear to be a key, actually was when considering Plymouth's free throw shooting coming into the game. In four EW contests before this one, the Panthers had made a total of 17 free throws in 39 attempts. Against the Indians, the Panthers went to the line 28 times, making 18, one more than their four previous games combined.

"That's an area we got beat too," the Indian boss said of the free throws. "If it were not for those ten free throws (because of the technicals), we would have been outscored at the line again. It's very important for us to get to the line more."

Seiser wound up leading the Indians as he finished with 19 points on the night, one point below his conference scoring average. Ramthun was held scoreless in the second half and finished with his 11. Fleischman, bad ankle and all, finished with seven points, while hauling down 11 boards to lead his team in that category.

The loss dropped the Indians to 1-4 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, and to 4-6 overall. Plymouth, meanwhile, improved to 2-2 in the EW.

After meeting powerful Mayville this past Tuesday, the Indians travel to New Holstein Friday, and then have off until next Saturday, when they play at Random Lake.

Fishing Rule Changes

1992 has brought about some rule changes when it comes to fishing. Most of the time I will direct fishermen to the new Fishing Pamphlet for the new rules and rule changes. I can't do that this year.

The new Fishing Pamphlet shows that the bag limit on panfish has been lowered to 25 a day in aggregate. This is not true! It was going to be lowered but there has been a disagreement between individuals and until this disagreement can be settled it has been decided to leave the bag limit for pan fish, which includes, bluegill, sunfish, crappie, and perch, at 50 a day. The bag limit for perch on Green Bay will remain at 25 a day, that law went into effect last year.

The size limit for walleye on Lake Winnebago has also been changed. Last year there was not a minimum size for walleye on Lake Winnebago. This year the size is a minimum of 15 in. in length. There is not a size limit on sauger.

Finally, closer to home, Forest Lake, in Fond du Lac Co., has a bag limit of 0, for bass, northern, and walleye. You can fish for them but they must be immediately released back into the lake. The reason for this rule change is to protect the predator fish in the lake so that they can feed more on the large number of small panfish in the lake.

If you fish elsewhere in the state be sure to check the special regulations listed by county in the fishing pamphlet.

If you have any other questions feel free to give me a call.

Improved Indian Girls Edged by Panthers

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM - It was a much better effort, yet it still wasn't quite enough for the Kewaskum girls basketball squad in their quest to break a long losing streak.

The Indians broke out of their offensive dol drum to pour in 47 points against Plymouth here, last Thursday, but the Panthers put in one more basket and came away with a tight 49-47 win over the Indians, who now own an 11-game loss streak.

"I think we were finally playing a more relaxed type game... more in the flow of the game," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the close call. We went in convinced that we could win, and it was a competitive game all the way through."

That's something that the Indians haven't found themselves involved in much this season - a competitive game. Usually the Indians have found themselves having to play catch-up throughout their contests, but this time actually found themselves leading much of the game.

"We were able to relax more," Eichstedt said. "We didn't have to force the situation because we were always right there...in the game."

In fact, the Indians jumped out to a 16-10 lead on the visitors before Plymouth scored the final two baskets of the first quarter to make it 16-14.

Losing leads late in quarters was a problem for Kewaskum all night, as a matter of fact. Up 26-22 late in the first half, Plymouth went on a 8-2 run to take the lead 30-28 at the intermission.

The Indians also held a slim one-point advantage in the third period before the Panthers put on another late surge to lead 38-37 heading into the final quarter of play.

But the biggest rally came in the final period, as the Indians quickly went ahead on a Robyn Winninghoff basket and led by a 43-42 count with the ball after rebounding a Panther miss.

But that's where it fell apart for the Indians as Plymouth's Tessa Smith went on a tear, stealing an outlet pass for an easy layup, and then came back and converted a three-point play on their next possession. And just like that, the Indians were down by three, at 46-43.

"I think we were trying to protect our lead instead of trying to extend it," Eichstedt concluded of the late period lapses, which included a pair of costly traveling violations in the final period. "We really haven't been in that type of situation much this year."

Plymouth extended the margin to 49-43 before the Indians put on a late rally. Tammy Schmidt hit two free throws and Winninghoff added another basket with :03 to play to make it 49-47. But after fouling Sarah Luedtke with just :01 to play, she intentionally missed the free throw attempt, and the Indians were unable to get off a good shot to win it.

Schmidt, along with Bonnie Schlice and Terri Vogt each chipped in 10 points apiece to pace the revived Indians offense. The seniors Vogt and Schmidt also added eight and seven rebounds, respectively, as well as some needed leadership.

"I just felt that they both played more aggressive...exhibited some leadership out there," Eichstedt raved of his two seniors, while added "That was the best balanced scoring we've had all year. That bodes well for us."

Smith, whom Eichstedt said he "really didn't anticipate," led all scorers with 17 points, while helping Plymouth improve to 3-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. Kewaskum fell to 0-5, and 1-11 overall, with a game against New Holstein at home Friday.

"They've been struggling just like we have," Eichstedt said of the Huskies, adding that he likes what he's seen from his team lately. "I really feel good about our last two games. We've had noticeable improvements."

Kurtz Takes FDL Crown; Stays Unbeaten

Statesman Staff Writer

FOND DU LAC — Although he couldn't expect that his squad would do much as a team, Kewaskum wrestling coach John Nell did expect a couple of big individual performances in last Saturday's Fond du Lac Invitational here.

And Nell got just that, as his 145-pounder, Josh Kurtz ran his record to a perfect 14-0 as he took first place in the highly competitive nine-team Tournament.

The host Redbirds, rated among the best two or three programs in the state, "pretty much ran away with it (the team title)," according to Nell. "I think they might be rated first among the Division I schools. So it's always tough to compete with those guys."

The Indians finished "about sixth," as a team, said Nell. "We were a little shorthanded," Nell said, explaining that 171 pounder Mark Morell did not compete because of a lingering shoulder problem. "He kind of irritated it on Friday night (in a match against Plymouth), so we held him out."

But there was no holding back Kurtz, who continued to roll over opponents this season. The junior pinned his first two foes, and then ran into FDL's Don Jaroch, who came into the championship match with a 12-2 mark. Kurtz easily disposed of Jaroch winning 18-8. "That kid was pretty tough," Nell said of Kurtz's opponent in the finals. "But Josh really didn't have much of a problem with him. He really did a fine job."

Another Indian receiving Nell's accolades was 189 pounder Todd Muckerheide, who wound up taking second on the day. "He got caught by a real good 189-pounder in the finals," Nell said of Ripon's Mark Bradley, who pinned Muckerheide in just :49.

Freshman Rich Farchione continued to shine as well, as he lost his first match, but then came back to finish third in the tough 152-pound weight class. "You're going to get a lot more upperclassmen at that weight."

But Farchione held his own, as he was leading 7-0 in his opening match against Seymour's Scott Kasting, before making a mistake and getting pinned. The frosh Farchione came back through the loser's bracket to face Kasting once again, and easily took care of him for the consolation championship, 12-2.

The lone other Indians to earn a place in the tough competition was 130-pound Greg Anderson, who took fourth. Could the hectic schedule of the week (two dual meets and an Invitational in five days) possibly have fatigued the Indians? Nell didn't think so.

"No, no. Not at all," he said.

"They're kind of used to that by now. It's actually sort of nice to have all of the work. I thought that they handled it pretty well."

The Indians will look to get all of the work that they can as the season quickly winds down. After an away match against Chilton this Thursday, the Indians will take part in the Waupun Invitational Saturday, which will feature more Division II schools. The Indians will then host a pair of meets next week, Tuesday against Slinger and Friday against Kiel.

Indian Wrestlers Overwhelm Oakfield

By Statesman Sports Writer

OAKFIELD — If you like quick work in a wrestling meet, this was the place to be last Tuesday night.

"All but one match resulted in a pin," Kewaskum wrestling coach John Nell said of his team's meet with Oakfield, in which the Indians came out on top by a 46-30 count.

The only match that went the distance probably shouldn't have, as Indian 130-pounder Mark Dzedzik destroyed previously unbeaten Mike Lorbeiki 14-0.

All other matches ended prematurely, as Jake Gundrum (119), Kevin Kapp (125), Greg Anderson (135), Josh Kurtz (145), Rich Farchione (152), Chad Muckerheide (160), and Todd Muckerheide (189) each came up with pins to pace the Indians.

Gundrum, Anderson, Kurtz, and the Muckerheide brothers all took care of their opponents, putting their shoulders to the mat in the opening period.

It was another fine performance by the younger Indians, including freshman Gundrum and Farchione, as well as sophomore Anderson. Farchione came from behind in fact, after falling behind 7-1 to Alan Justmann after the first period.

"They all did really nice jobs,"

Nell said of his inexperienced group of underclassmen. "They're coming along real well at this point. We really didn't have too many problems with Oakfield."

Indian Grapplers Downed by Plymouth

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Kewaskum wrestling coach John Nell knew that his squad would be in for a long night against Plymouth, which has one of the better wrestling programs in the state.

So it turned out that Nell wasn't taken completely by surprise that the Panthers rolled over the Indians 56-12 here, last Friday night.

"They're tough. They've beaten some pretty good teams," Nell said of the powerful Panthers, who have already beaten Stoughton and given Hartford a run on the Orioles' home mat. "I would say that they are the team to beat in the (Eastern Wisconsin) conference."

The Panthers definitely lived up to that billing by taking care of the Indians, who were able to post just three wins on the night.

One of those victories belonged to 145-pounder Josh Kurtz, who remained unbeaten on the year in running his record to 11-0. Other victories were recorded by Chad Muckerheide, who, according to Nell, "beat his kid pretty badly," along with Mark Morell, who decisioned his foe for the other Indians win.

Nell also pointed out that "Todd Muckerheide (189) wrestled a pretty tight match," losing a close one.

The fact that the Indians are for the most part inexperienced didn't help out at all, according to Nell. "Most of them (Plymouth) are upperclassmen, so that's always tough. But our kids wrestled pretty well."
