Joe Checota Talks Issues In Race for Senate Seat

Senate hopeful Joe Checota

by Sharon Callaway Roznik

Businessman and non-professional politician Joe Checota, visited the Statesman office recently to speak out on issues important to his campaign for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

"I'm an outsider, pitted against three professionals," admits the millionaire, who sees that as an opportunity to wage a no-nonsense race based on greater interaction at the street level. "I go door to door every campaign day, and people have been very blunt and straight forward with their comments."

Democrat Checota is vying for Sen. Robert Kasten's Senate seat in the November election, one of three challengers along with Rep. Jim Moody and State Sen. Russell Feingold in the fight for the Sept. 8 primary.

The candidate offers a toll-free 800 information line, and will be holding a series of televised town meetings, which will be edited into 30 minute shows to be used as commercials. "We're inviting anyone to attend these town meetings, civic groups, T.V. and radio stations - and expect some real spontaneity."

Checota boasts of an "accessible" campaign without any barriers between himself and the people of this state. "I've found some big issues that are really important to the people of Wisconsin," states Joe. "They are angry and frustrated with Congress; they are fearful for their job security; they are fearful of changing their jobs and feel trapped; they are concerned about universal health care, and they are focused on the deficit."

"People are making less money than they did five years ago. The next generation will be taking a step back economically, and this bothers a lot of people," reflects Checota.

He also points out that his campaign isn't funded by PAC (political action committees), which he considers a form of "legalized bribery," and plans to spend approximately $5 million to get elected, half of which he plans to pay himself - raising the rest in individual contributions.

Eight years ago, Checota founded Universal Medical Buildings, a New York Stock Exchange company that develops out-patient health care facilities nationwide, and it was named one of the 10 top small companies in the U.S. by Business Week.

Checota resides in Milwaukee with his wife Ellen. They have two sons, Benjamin 23, and Nicholas 20.

Save the Pig???

By L.L.K.

We knew it was only a matter of time, right? We knew an animal rights activist would turn up somewhere in our midst, pleading the case of our little piggy. I just didn't realize our grassroots "SAVE THE PIG" campaign would initiate right in our very own Statesman office!

Sharon Callaway Roznik ("Mutzie" to those of us who know and love her), the winning smile behind our front desk and head feature writer (I better not give her too many titles... she'll want a raise) has come forward denouncing all our spanferkel babble.

Last Friday, "Mutz" came forward and shared her "SAVE THE PIG" campaign with the rest of our ever-alert office personnel. What's really scary is, it makes perfect sense to me. (Bizarre, yes... but there's a motive to my madness).

To give you a little insight about our "Mutz," she collects piggy memorabilia. She has piggy banks, a piggy shelf, stuffed piggy, ceramic piggy, salt and pepper piggy, piggy nightshirts, piggy slippers and piggy earrings. I should have realized all this spanferkel nonsense would upset her. I was callous and unfeeling.

Of course, we know "Mutz" loves pork chops, but she can't seem to see herself clear of all this spanferkel talk. (Honest, "Mutz" pork chops DO come from pigs!)

So "Mutz" has undertaken her "SAVE THE PIG" campaign. Don't get me wrong... she's all for someone (preferably not her boss) kissing "the pink one." She's just against putting the little fellow on a BBQ spit.

She would like to see Kewaskum "adopt" the little sucker as sort of a "town mascot." (I warned you this was a bit bizarre!) "Mutz" thinks it would be a good idea to make a little Santa suit for the pig and it could lead the Christmas parade (how do we train it?). Piggy could also attend all community functions and even walk in the Firemen's parade every July. On a leash, of course. I don't know if that's a real good idea, though, 'cuz we all know how much pigs enjoy throwing candy to the kids. Anyway, think about it Kewaskum... do we need and/or want a mascot at all our parties? Could be fun having our own personal "Arnold" around. We would undoubtedly go into the Guinness Book of World Records or something else prestigious like that.

Now, here come's my motive. If you do want to "SAVE THE PIG" you will have to start sending in nominations for Sharon Callaway Roznik. Because if she wins, that's the only hope for the pig. There's no way on earth I'll

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM ★ NEWS NOTES ★ BULK ITEM DISPOSAL

On July 13, 1992, the Kewaskum Village Board acted on Resolution No. 92-16, a resolution approving a bulk disposal fee for some non-recyclable materials. This resolution took effect on July 16, 1992 after publication. Effective July 25, 1992, bulk item stickers will be required on the material being disposed of in the bulk waste container.

Those Bulk Item Stickers will be for sale at the Village Office, 204 First Street, Kewaskum, WI 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. or may be purchased by mail, with a self-addressed stamped envelope enclosed. The sticker will cost $5.00 each. The stickers are not sold at the recycling center.

The yellow sticker must be attached to each bulk item. The definition of a bulk item is somewhat vague, but common sense will hopefully be followed by all. Some examples of a bulk item: mattress, sofa, large chair, roll of carpeting, a flush utility trailer or level pick up truck of debris, etc.

NOTE: When either picking up or mailing in for your sticker(s) you will be required to identify yourself, name, address, vehicle to be used license number/description and a description of the bulk item/material to be disposed of.

The miscellaneous junk/bulk item bin is to serve residential Village residents with a disposal system for small amounts of wood, nonrecyclable plastics, etc. No contractors or businesses will be allowed to use this container. However, recyclable materials will be accepted from all Village residents or businesses.

The fee charged per item may be changed and the type of items accepted may change with the further implementation of the new recycling law.

The Recycling Center, which is located adjacent to the Municipal Garage, 1002 Fond du Lac Avenue, will be open to receive recyclable materials or bulk items every Saturday, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Washington County Fair This Weekend

Cholesterol Screening At the County Fair

Elevated blood cholesterol is one of the three main controllable risk factors for coronary heart disease. Other controllable risk factors are high blood pressure and smoking. Excess body weight, diabetes, and lack of physical exercise are other factors linked to an increased risk of developing heart disease.

Cholesterol levels are determined by the foods you eat and by your individual body chemistry. A diet high in saturated fat and cholesterol raises blood cholesterol. Statistically, a reduction in blood cholesterol reduced the risk of heart attacks. An individual should know his/her personal cholesterol reading and make the necessary lifestyle changes to maintaining a normal cholesterol level, thereby reducing his/her risk of heart disease.

The Washington County Cardiovascular Reduction Program, in cooperation with the Community Health Nursing Service, will offer county fairgoers an opportunity to "know their cholesterol level."

A small sample of blood from an individual's fingertip is applied to a special plastic strip and inserted in a machine calibrated to register the individual's cholesterol level. The results are available in a short time and a registered nurse will interpret the results and provide individualized information on diet and lifestyle changes. Charge for the screening test and health education is $5 per test and includes a blood pressure reading. Fasting is not necessary.

Cholesterol screening will be offered at the fairgrounds in Slinger during the following hours: Wednesday, July 22, from 4 to 7 p.m.; Friday, July 24, from 1 to 4 p.m. and Saturday, July 25, from 1 to 4 p.m.

The collection of the cardboard will of course be a way of recycling a natural product and of course it will serve as a way to cut down on the amount of garbage in the large dumpsters. Join in the Fair's plans to recycle!

Free Blood Pressure Screening at Fair

Everyone has blood pressure. It is the force of blood against the walls of the arteries. This force is created by the heart as it pumps blood to all parts of the body. In some people, the blood pressure is higher than it should be.

Doctors don't know what causes most high blood pressure, but it can be treated and controlled.

High blood pressure adds to the workload of the heart and kidneys. If it continues for a long time, the heart and kidneys may not function as well as they should, and other body organs may also be affected.

High blood pressure is known as the silent killer because there usually are not symptoms. The only way to know if you have high blood pressure is to have a simple, painless test. A series of blood pressure checks are done to determine whether you have high blood pressure.

If you do, you will work with your doctor to get it under control. You will be reducing your risk of stroke, kidney failure, heart failure or heart attack.

The Washington County Cardiograph Risk Reduction Program in cooperation with the Community Health Nursing Service will be offering FREE blood pressure screenings at the Washington County Fair during the following hours: Wednesday, July 22, from 4 to 7 p.m.; Friday, July 24, from 1 to 4 p.m. and Saturday, July 25, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Breakfast at the Fair

Come early and enjoy a breakfast of pancakes and sausage at the Farm Bureau Stand at the Washington County Junior Fair.

Plan to come to the fair and attend the 18th Annual Breakfast at the fair from 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. on Saturday, July 25. The cost of the breakfast is $3.00 which includes unlimited pancakes in addition to sausage, butter, syrup, apple sauce, cottage cheese, orange juice, apple juice, hot coffee and cold milk.

WTKM of Hartford will be broadcasting live from the breakfast. Tickets are available from the Farm Bureau and will be sold at the breakfast.

Education at The County Fair

Fairs are a truly unique location to become educated as well as entertained. Every person who attends the fair has a chance to see, to learn, evaluate or to meet a few old friends. The fair today is as great of an educational device as it was in the beginning.

New techniques are demonstrated by 4-H'ers, new products are exhibited by commercial exhibitors and judges explain what a quality product is.

As the fair changes to meet the needs of the community, the people and the individual, it will continue to function for the people it represents.

'Footsteps' Series Dealing With Effective Parenting, Coming to West Bend Cable TV

By Jan Felthous, Washington County Summer Extension Home Economist

As a parent myself, I know there are many concerns for our children's growth and development besides what our pediatrician can share with us in a brief doctors' exam.

For that reason, I brought in to West Bend Cable TV the "Footsteps" series of thirty videotapes dealing with effective parenting and child development issues. It was developed by the Institute for Child Studies at the University of Maryland. Several of the "Footsteps" episodes have won national awards.

The videos are self-contained "vignettes" exploring a wide range of subjects. A few of the topics include creativity, the importance of play, death, peer groups, parenthood preparation, social support of parents, child abuse, discipline, and sibling rivalry.

The "Footsteps" Series will start to air on Wednesday, July 22, at 7 p.m. The series will continue to air the following 29 Wednesdays at 7 p.m. February 10 will be the last Wednesday that the series will air. Below is a list of titles for each "Footstep" videotape. You may want to see them all or pick out the topics that fit your family's needs.

The videotapes have accompanying leaflets which further develop the theme of each episode. If you would like the pamphlet that goes with a specific tape, please contact the Washington County Extension Office at 335-4479.

July 22, Footstep 1 — "Queen for a Day" shows how young children feel about defining themselves and what role their parents can play in the process.

July 29, Footstep 2 — "No Comparison" shows some of the ways in which children differ and teaches parents how different responses can help or hinder children's growth and development.

August 5, Footstep 3 — "The First Signs of April" shows how children use their senses to learn about the world, and why the first years of life are so critical for this exploration.

August 12, Footstep 4 — "Two to Get Ready" focuses on how parents psychologically prepare for parenthood.

August 19, Footstep 5 — "WHO IS SYLVIA?" explores the harmful and helpful aspects of television, and how children can benefit from it.

August 26, Footstep 6 — "AND WE WERE SAD, REMEMBER?" explores how parents can help children deal with death.

September 2, Footstep 7 — "LOVE ME AND LEAVE ME" focuses on how the bond between parent and child forms, and how it affects the development of the child. It also offers practical suggestions for easing separations.

September 9, Footstep 8 — "SPARE THE ROD" attempts to give some perspective to the subject of discipline and some of the different disciplinary techniques available to parents.

September 16, Footstep 9 — "WHAT'S COOKIN'?" discusses how parents can help their children develop good eating habits as well as providing some basic nutrition information.

September 23, Footstep 10 — "TRUE BLUE" explores the role of play in children's development.

September 30, Footstep 11 — "LOVE YOU WHEN YOUR

Panzer Opts for State Assembly

Representative Mary E. Panzer (R-West Bend) has announced that she is seeking reelection to the State Assembly in the new 59th District. Panzer is the ranking Republican on the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee and was named Legislator of the Year by the National Republican Legislators Association in 1991.

"The Legislature that convenes next January will have a significantly different look than the present Legislature, which will be an exciting change," said Panzer. The number of incumbent legislators who are retiring guarantees that there will be a considerable number of new faces in January. Panzer pointed out that these new legislators will come in without many of the existing partisan biases.

"It's an exciting prospect to work with so many new people. There will be an opportunity to break away from the partisan deadlock that has overshadowed recent legislative sessions," said Panzer. "I enjoy working on state public policy issues and look forward to the challenges facing us in juvenile justice reform, helping municipalities deal with their environmental problems and updating our mental commitment laws," she continued.

"One of the most important tasks facing our State Government next year will be to keep state spending in check," said Panzer. The current state budget spends more than $200 million of next year's revenue — half of the tax growth that is expected. "I fought for and succeeded in passing a 10 percent cut in spending by state bureaucracies," Panzer commented. "We need to make more responsible spending choices than have been made in the past," she continued.

Panzer said she was pleased with the work that has been accomplished with the statewide recycling program, the state's correctional system, holding the line on general tax increases, and working on the Joint Committee on Finance. "There have been exciting and challenging issues to work with," she commented. Panzer went on to say that the budget crisis in Washington and the potential balanced budget amendment could leave the state facing some difficult spending decisions as federal revenues dry up. "The next few years will be very important in maintaining our financial integrity and keeping the state economy on an even keel," Panzer said. "I look forward to playing a part in making these decisions," she concluded.

Training Session Planned For 105 Area Peer Listener

The Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse of Washington County will host a training for 105 Peer Listeners. Selected students from West Bend East and West, Germantown, Hartford, Slinger, and Kewaskum high schools will meet during the week of July 27 - 31 at Our Savior's Lutheran Church.

"We're very proud that most of our workshop presenters this year are from Washington County," said Sandy Gunderson, Coordinator of the program. "We're also very excited that one of our keynote speakers will be Vince Gibbens, TV 6 News Anchor!"

Ms. Gunderson and Linda Dymond, both Prevention Specialists at the Council, have planned a tight schedule for the teens, featuring workshops on leadership, active listening, stress management, relationships, abuse, and recovery. A special presentation will feature Peer Listener Alumni from each participating high school. Meal preparation for each day will be coordinated through the Volunteer Center of Washington

Area Residents Attend Convention

Middleton, Wisconsin — Seven Kewaskum residents were among approximately 650 Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL) volunteers from Wisconsin who attended the annual convention of the South Wisconsin Federation of AAL Branches. The meeting was held July 11 at the Holiday Inn - Madison West, Madison.

Kewaskum participants included Dennis and Lynn Garvey, Norman and Rosemary Kempf, Marvin and Lucille Marquardt, and Beth Herriges.

AAL members are organized into local volunteer groups, called branches. These branches are given the organizational and financial resources to accomplish humanitarian, service, social and educational projects to help others in their communities. Federation convention participants are AAL members who want to become more effective volunteer leaders.

Several workshops were offered to convention attendees. Subjects ranged from "Now You're Talking!" AAL's new program designed to help parents and children communicate on the difficult issue of alcohol and other drugs, to "Habitat for Humanity International."

There are more than 248,000 AAL members in Wisconsin. Last year, these volunteers conducted 2,311 fraternal projects that raised $2,903,698. College scholarships totaling $281,177 were distributed to 330 AAL members in the state, while 129 AAL-sponsored drug and alcohol prevention seminars, called "Get Involved Before Your Kids Do," were conducted.

Announce August Exhibitions At the West Bend Gallery

The West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts is pleased to announce its August exhibitions.

Upper Gallery FOURTH INTERNATIONAL SHOEBOX SCULPTURE EXHIBITION July 29 - September 6

This exhibition features artists worldwide who were invited to submit sculptural concepts in a small format. Creating work on a small scale and maintaining integrity and control of sculptural elements continue to offer a formidable challenge to artists.

The exhibition is comprised of sculptures small enough to fit within a shoebox and demonstrates the artist's innovation and creativity in addressing the challenge of scale. Organized by the University of Hawaii Art Gallery and the University of Hawaii Foundation, this exhibition is supported by a grant from the Hawaii State Foundation on Culture and the Arts.

Among the seventy artists included in this exhibition are John Buck, Mark DeSuvero, Sam Hernandez, Kazuo Kadoyama, Komar and Melamid, Masafumi Maita, Morio Shinoda, James Surls and Ernest Trova. While some works reflect the artist's cultural heritage, others are more universal in expression. Several pieces are conceptual... the artist attempts to convey an idea or make a statement.

Almost every material that can be cast, sewn, bent, twisted, carved, woven, glued, blown, molded, modeled or tied is explored to its ultimate potential. As in previous shoebox sculpture exhibits, shoes and feet do appear in a number of imaginative ways.

RECEPTION

There will be a public reception on Sunday, August 2, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts' volunteer, Joan Albers, is hostess for the reception.

Lower Gallery FIBER AND LIGHT August 2 - 23

An Installation by Edith Kelman

Edith Kelman harnesses the elements of music, science, movement and aesthetics to create a compelling spatial experience. Suspended fibers act as a three-dimensional screen for transitional light and composition involving the entire room, offering the viewer a new dimension in which to explore the purpose and role of art in our lives.

Kelman uses technological interplay and language interacted with abstract imagery, original music, sound and air movement. Constructed from a predetermined logic, Ms. Kelman's work becomes a symbolic structure to which everyone relates with personal immediacy. Fiber and Light becomes an object of "emotional science."

Ms. Kelman has been exploring natural phenomena with large human-scale interactive sculptural environments for the past 14 years. Originally from Sag Harbor, New York, she graduated from State University of New York, College at Old Westbury. Since then she has been active as an exhibiting artist and arts advocate in Atlanta, Georgia. Her residencies and professional work include: High Museum of Art, Atlanta, GA; East End Arts Council, New York; Orleans Parrish Public Schools, New Orleans, LA; Carl Ratcliff Dance Theatre, Dark Horse Theater, Nashville, TN; Northside Planetarium and Gayle Wilson Gallery, Southampton, New York; Georgia Tech, School of Earth and Atmospheric Sciences, Atlanta.

The West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts is located at 300 South 6th Avenue in downtown West Bend. Normal gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday 1 to 4:30 p.m. For more information call the gallery at 334-9638.

Letter to The Editor

7-21-92

Letter to the Editor,

If the parents haven't noticed the hazardous playground equipment at our village parks, it surprises me.

If your child ever falls to the "bare hard" ground below, he won't walk away. I'm sure several loads of sand wouldn't cost a fortune. Every spring the sand is free.

There seems to be money for a raise, but not for the safety of our children.

If the Park Committee of three doesn't have the time, maybe we should have someone else check it out.

Best Vacations Take Planning

You've waited months and pinched pennies this summer for a family vacation but the problems start before you've left the city limits. The kids are crabby, no one can agree on what to do and everyone wants to know how much longer until you get there.

Vacations can be a great way for families to relax and rediscover each other, according to University of Wisconsin Extension family life specialist Stephen Small. But he said the best vacations take some planning and consideration for all family members.

"Adults tend to choose vacations that appeal to them. But we need to pick activities that everyone can enjoy, from your teenager to your baby," Small said.

For instance, Small suggested choosing lodgings and meals that offer something for everyone. Motels with swimming pools are popular, as are camping vacations that provide time for hiking, swimming and boating.

"Family restaurants may not be as exciting to adults as the fish shack on the wharf or an outdoor cafe. But with a better menu, chances are you'll have a better meal at a fast food chain because the kids will be happy," he said.

"These places often have playgrounds. And small kids will eat foods they are familiar with. Or you could compromise and pick up a local restaurant or deli that appeals to you."

Small also suggested picnics, which break up time spent on the road and provide relaxation and exercise for all family members.

Car travel can be tedious, even without impatient children in the back seat. Small had these tips for making a long-distance drive more pleasant:

- Bring toys or gifts to unwrap at certain points in your destination.

- Include your child's favorite toys, books and stuffed animals, as well as crayons and small games.

- Think of your child's schedule when traveling. Drive the longest distances at night or during nap times, when children are sleeping.

- Stop for rest breaks every couple hours, even if its only to stretch your legs and let your toddler run around the car. Eight hours in the car each day is plenty.

- Break up the trip with snacks, but avoid salty foods that will increase liquid intake. (and a need for pit stops).

- Play car games. Guess how far it is to the top of a hill using the car's odometer to check who wins. Count license plates from other states, or find letters of the alphabet in road signs.

- Create a cardboard map of your trip, letting children mark the progress with colored string or a marker.

For plane travel, Small said:

- Check with your travel agent to book a flight at a less crowded time or on a less crowded day. This may allow you to have extra seats for spreading out.

- If you have a toddler, try to get an aisle seat.

- Try to get seats in the bulkhead, which provides more space.

- Make reservations on a non-stop flight if possible so you won't have the hassles of changing planes.

- Allow a baby to nurse or suck a bottle during take-off and landing to decrease ear pressure. Give older children gum and encourage them to yawn to "pop" their ears.

"Everyone won't always be the same time," Small said.

"If you have teens, allow them some time to explore on their own. If you decide to take younger children to more "adult" attractions, like museums, go when they are most tolerant, probably early in the day. And don't overschedule. Remember... you're supposed to be having fun."

let the little animal live at my house. I already have... oh, never mind.

So, remember, "SAVE THE PIG... VOTE FOR 'MUTZ'!"

I, on the other hand, have now managed to acquire a "campaign manager." (Not by choice, believe me!) By name, she is Judy Johnson and she is the owner of "Finishing Touches" a unique little gift shop just outside of Kewaskum on the corner of Hwy. S & G. (Please go out there and shop so that Judy is too busy to "help" me.)

Anyway, Judy has assured me (uh, huh) that if I'm the lucky winner, she has an ace in the hole. She tells me not to worry (uh, huh), if I'm the lucky winner, she plans on substituting a Chippendale dancer in full costume for the real pig. (uh, huh). I'm sure my husband will be even more thrilled to see me kiss a Chippendale rather than an old pig. (Sorry honey, duty calls... I owe it to the Chamber!)

Okay, Judy, I will make the supreme sacrifice for the Kewaskum Chamber and Kettle Kountry Kolours. (Is the Chippendale blonde or brunette?) However, before Judy became my campaign manager, she worked for Ross Perot and look what happened to him. It's all his fault! If he wouldn't have jumped off the bandwagon, Judy would still be working for his campaign and I would be off the hook. Something tells me not to trust Judy... if she comes out of the wings with the real thing, she's history. Not to mention the fact I'll come out to her house and dry up her cute little pond.

Recently, I also had a rude awakening from a "little birdie" who chirped in my ear that my dear, OLDER sister Carole is responsible for about 70 percent of my "out-of-town" nominations. (Sorry, Larry, but you're not off the hook yet by any means!)

Can you imagine... my own sister is trying to make me kiss a pig? Is that disgusting or what? She's just jealous because she finally realizes that Mom always like me best!

I think it's utterly appalling to see an older sister picking on the poor, little "baby" of the family! The abuse I receive is phenomenal. (NOW do you feel sorry for me yet?)

Come on Kewaskum... let's show these people, we're mad as heck (use your imagination) and we're just not going to take this anymore! Prevent further "Lana abuse." Let's change the momentum right here and now! Vote for Sharon... vote for Judy... vote for Carole T... vote for Larry. Heck, you can even vote for Crickets or Moochie or Gumby or Jonesy or Windick or Boo Boo Kitty. I know who all them guys (and gals) are!

Just please stop voting for me. You're traumatizing me. (Just remember Carole... next year is the queen contest and you know how I love revenge.)

by Sheri Baldikowski

Unaccustomed as I am to writing articles (that I was born just wasn't available when I was just), I feel I must come forward and defend my honor, or what's left of it. I humbly ask you to bear with me.

This business about Lana being "physically and verbally abused" simply is not true. In fact, it was just the opposite. I was the abused sister, and that is why I maliciously feel that Lana should "suck face" with "Piggy."

I had to "schlep" the kid with me wherever I went! What could I do, stay home all the time? Do you know what a PAIN it is to drag your kid sister with you? Of course, then she would go back to mom and tattle-tale about EVERYTHING!

She loved getting me in trouble. And what kind of kid accepts your bribe and then tattles anyway? Oh, the "abuse" she put me through! Don't let her kid you, SHE loved our parties since all my friends took turns tending and amusing her. She had ten people to show off for, and show off she did! There was absolutely no trace of the "shy and quiet girl" she proclaims to be.

And, as far as "Lithia Beer being the Breakfast of Champions," I certainly can't help it if she has a little problem understanding me. I said, "Life cereal" not "Lithia." She always was a little slow to catch on. I guess learning to ride a bike in sixth grade isn't TOO bad. Of course, it was a tricycle!!

Was I there forcing her to consume all the beer in the beer tent at the Kewaskum picnic? NOT!!! So you see, all these accusations are totally unfounded and were only done to get me in trouble again (she's still a tattle-tale!)

She did not stop this "Sheri abuse" as she grew older, either. She publicly pronounced me as the "Brussel Sprout Queen." Do you know what it's like to be stopped on the street by total strangers who ask you, "Lady, where'd you get those huge sprouts?" Well, it was absolutely devastating and I had to put up with ALL that abuse.

As if this wasn't bad enough, how would you like it if someone took out a half page ad proclaiming to the world that you were "50," and then added the worst picture of you that was ever taken in your life? "Abuse" doesn't even begin to cover it! Do quiet, shy girls always do this sort of thing??

Therefore, for all you older brothers and sisters who had to "schlep" YOUR kid brother or sister along, you know what I went through. And, for all of you who have been the victims of "Happy Ads," I sincerely ask you to endorse my candidate for "Kiss the Pig".... Lana Kuehl. She has no chin, so she already has pucker power!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Nah, nah, nah, nah... Mom still always like me best!

Kohlsville Captures Waterfight Crown at Firemen's Picnic

A big part of the fun at the Annual Kewaskum Firemen - Legion picnic held recently includes watching the waterfights on Saturday between the area's fire departments. Shown above are two teams battling for control of the barrel in order to aim it towards the opposition's pole.

The showers on Sunday did not seem to dampen the spirits of avid picnickers. Hark! Is that Tim Miller on that table munching a burger?

First place champs were members of the Kohlsville Fire Department, being congratulated by Kewaskum Fire Chief Bob Stoltzmann (left).

Chief Stoltzmann awards the second place plaque to members of the West Bend Fire Department

"Gremlins" erected a "tribute" to Assistant Fire Chief Mark Groeschel in the beer garden.

Marijuana Plants Seized

On the date of July 10, 1992, approximately thirty (30) cultivated marijuana plants were seized by deputies of the Washington County Sheriff's Dept.

This seizure was a result of citizen information received at the Sheriff's Dept. Acting on this information, the deputy did inspect the area designated which was in the Town of West Bend and did locate and seize the thirty (30) marijuana plants which ranged from twelve (12) to sixteen (16) inches in height.

This matter remains under investigation by the Washington County Multi-Jurisdictional Drug Unit which is supported in part by a grant which includes $77,000.00 in federal funding. This $77,000.00 represents approximately 75 percent of the total grant award.

It is normal for newborns to have flat feet. Arches develop slowly over the first six years.

THANK YOU!

We, the members of the Kewaskum Fire Department and Legion would like to extend our thanks to everyone who attended our picnic.

We all enjoyed your company and we will not soon forget all the hardy souls who braved the rain to watch the parade on Sunday.

We would also like to thank the owners of the Wildwood Apartments and Campbellsport Building Supply for the $100 donations towards the marching bands. This truly helps to defray some of the costs.

There are far too many people to mention by name for the helping hands they gave, enabling us to make this picnic a great success.

Hope to see you all next year!

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ALVIN WIESNER, SR., who passed away one year ago, July 19th, 1991:

God saw him getting tired
And a cure was not to be.
So He put his arm's around him,
And whispered "come with Me"
With tearful eyes we watched him suffer.

And saw him fade away
Although we loved him dearly,
We could not make him stay.
A golden heart stopped beating.
Hard working hands to rest
God broke our hearts to prove to us that

He only takes the best.

Sadly missed by his wife and family

But in my hearts you're always there.

I will always love you
Deeply missed by wife, Leona.

The water hydrant in front of the village hall was damaged Saturday afternoon when rammed into by a truck. The truck, a large semi-trailer job owned by the Northern Transportation Company, was parked aside of the Northwestern depot on Railroad St. The street runs slightly down grade at the scene and while the driver was absent the truck began moving, running down the slope, crossing Main Street, ramming into the hydrant and curb. The shaft of the hydrant was bent and the valve broken. Kewaskum had a river down Main Street while the hydrant was being repaired.

Mrs. Catherine Harter, beloved resident of this village many years, was called in death, Friday, July 17, at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, at the advanced age of 92 years, six months and ten days. Mrs. Harter had been confined at the hospital nearly five years with a broken hip with which she suffered during the long period. Complications aggravated by old age resulted in her demise.

Carl and Selma Degnitz, Town of Wayne, sold their 100-acre farm Saturday to George Peter of the same township for the sum of $7,700. The sale was made at auction on the farm. The personal property was also sold as the Degnitz's will retire from active farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Boden of St. Kilian are the parents of a son born Tuesday.

The regular monthly stock fair will be held on Upper Main Street in Kewaskum, Wednesday, July 29.

75 Years Ago

July 21, 1917

On Sunday afternoon at about 5 o'clock, the northern part of the Town of Scott was visited by a hail storm. Henry Dettmann, whose home is about a mile north of Batavia, said so much hail fell at his place that he could scoop it up by the shovelfull. It damaged his wheat and corn. There was also considerable hail in this vicinity but not enough to damage crops to any extent.

While Arthur W. Koch and family of this village were visiting friends and relatives at Milwaukee, they met with an adventure which resulted in the death of Anton Hoderewski of Milwaukee, aged seven years. The youth, together with several companions were playing a game of "Tag" on the sixteenth street viaduct. "Tony" suddenly dashed into the roadway in front of Mr. Koch's car which was traveling at the rate of ten miles an hour. The car struck the boy in such a manner as to fracture his skull and crush his chest. Mr. Koch reported the accident to police stating he did not see the boy until he was within a foot of the car and then it was impossible to stop his machine to avoid the accident.

A barn dance will be held in Wm. Dickenliver's new barn tonight. Good music will be furnished.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Thull, St. Michaels, a little boy last Saturday.

JV Baseball Team Splits Doubleheader

The Kewaskum JV Baseball Team split a doubleheader with Sheboygan Falls this past Thursday as the top two teams in the central Lakeshore Conference's Western Division squared off in Kewaskum.

The Falcons took the first game 3-2 to keep their record perfect, but Kewaskum rebounded with an 18-7 victory in the second game to gain the split.

The first game was a pitcher's dual between the Falcon's Bob Termat and the Indians Dane Dorn as both pitchers held the opponent scoreless over the first three innings.

Kewaskum had threatened in the first inning as Kevin Klahn walked and Dan Survis singled. Cory Rammer's line shot was snagged by the short stop who doubled Klahn off second. Mark Strobel then ripped a double over the centerfielder's head which should have allowed Survis to score, but Strobel tried to stretch the double into a triple and was thrown out at third before Survis crossed the plate.

The Falcons who did not have a hit in the first three innings got three hits off Dorn in the fourth inning and took a 2-0 lead.

The Falcons pushed another run across in the sixth inning to take a 3-0 lead. Three walks by Dorn loaded the bases with one out. The Indians brought their defense in for a play at the plate which they got when the next batter grounded to Rammer. Unfortunately for the Indians, Muckerheide could not handle the throw at home plate which allowed the run to score. The Indians kept their defense in and were successful in their next two plays at the plate to avoid any further damage.

Kewaskum got their two runs in the sixth inning as Muckerheide tripled with two outs to score Rammer and Donath who had both singled previously. Jason Gaffke followed Muckerheide's triple with a walk and then stole second base to put the runners at second and third with Dorn coming to the plate. With a two strike count on Dorn, Muckerheide attempted a delayed steal of home, but the Falcons played it perfectly and retired Muckerheide after a short run-down.

Dorn walked four, struck out three, and yielded five hits in seven innings of work. Rammer was two for three to lead the offense.

The second game was just the opposite of the first as the at least one runs was scored in each inning and the two teams pounded out 22 hits.

Kewaskum led 7-6 as they came to but in the fifth inning and then exploded for eleven runs off three Falcon pitchers to take an 18-6 lead. Gaffke and Strobel each collected a single and a double in the inning. Donath and Survis also doubled and Brad Schekirke and Steve May both singled to account for the Indians eight hits.

The game was called after five innings due to the 10 run rule after the Falcons scored once in the fifth inning. Gaffke picked up the win in relief of Kevin Klahn. Survis led the offense with three hits with Rammer, Donath, Strobel, and Gaffke each collecting two hits.

Sheboygan Falls is currently 7-1 in league play with the Indians a close second at 7-2. The Falcons have games remaining with Fredonia and Random Lake. The Indians will play their last game at Plymouth.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Regular Meeting
July 13, 1992
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Mary Krueger presided. All Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the June 15, 1992 meeting were approved as printed.

A public hearing was held on special assessments for Municipal Improvements (repair and replacement of curb/gutter and sidewalk) as noticed. Mr. Ken Ward of Ruckert & Mielke, the Village Engineers was present and explained to the Board and audience the process used in determining the cost related to the project. A few questions were asked regarding the cost to be assessed to specific lots. Mr. Lester Strobel and Mr. Myron Strobel, Strobel Oil Co. were present and asked not to have sidewalk placed in front of the Oil Companies bulk plant. They indicated that the walk may crack due to the heavy loads and that a need did not exist. If someone does walk to the end of the street they should be encouraged to walk on the opposite side. The Board explained the logic behind the installation of sidewalk and that it should be the Board's intent to treat all residents and property fairly. Also that the problem areas should be looked at on an annual basis rather than to postpone them until that all that remains. On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee David Goeden and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 0 "Absent."

On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee David Goeden and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board moved to suspend the rules to take action on IX. New Business: items A & B, both pertaining to the special assessment public hearing. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 0 "Absent."

After considerable discussion and a clarification that the Final Resolution before the Board did not include the proposed work to be completed on the east end of Main Street, action was taken on Resolution No. 92-15 a Final Resolution Regarding Sidewalk Repair/Replacement / Improvements and Levying Special Assessments Against Benefitted Properties as attached hereto:

Regulating County Fair Activities

How safe is the food at the fair? Are the games in the carnival fair? Does anyone inspect the rides? Is the raffle sponsored by one of the exhibitors legal? Do the exhibitors pay taxes? Do they inspect the milk house at the fair as often as they do at home?

Fairs in Wisconsin are regulated by numerous state agencies and divisions. The Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection has four divisions involved in regulatory activities at the fair.

The Animal Health Division is responsible for the Animal Health requirements. They determine health rules which are required of livestock exhibitors in order to prevent contagious, infectious, or communicable disease being transmitted. All fairs are required to have a veterinarian inspect all animals.

The Consumer Protection Division is concerned with fairgoers not being swindled by businesses who exhibit at the fair.

The Food Division sends inspectors to each fair to inspect food booths in order to sell them a permit and to insure their following department regulations. This inspector also does the inspection of the milk house and milk storage tank.

The Marketing Division handles the development of Ag 5 legislation which governs the categories which can be included in the fairbook, what premiums can be paid and inspects all fair judges sheets.

The Department of Industry and Human Relations has a special division called Safety and Building Division: Amusement Ride Safety. This division inspects rides in all carnivals in Wisconsin.

The Department of Health and Social Services inspects all food stands which meet the classification of a restaurant. In order for food stands to obtain a permit to sell foods they must meet standards determined by the Health Department. For example, refrigerators must be maintained at a certain temperature, hand-washing facilities must be available and all food must be cooked on site. Of course, the Department of Revenue is involved with the collection of taxes. The Department of Transportation is involved with the Motor Vehicle Licensing and Driving Testing. The Department of Justice is involved with any criminal investigation.

County fairs throughout Wisconsin must follow regulations established by state and local agencies. No longer can fairs run like a small event. Operation is like big business!

Chain Saw Contest At the County Fair

Warm up your saws and plan to enter the 1992 Washington County Junior Fair Chain and Hand Saw Contest to be held on Friday, July 26 at 8 p.m. at the fairgrounds in Slinger.

Sponsors of this year's event include Precision Saw and Cycle of Allenton, Ackerville Lawn and Garden of Ackerville, Barton Small Engine of Barton, and Don's Outdoor Power of Hartford who will provide trophies and Kettle Moraine Hardwood who will be providing the timbers for the contest.

Contestants must be 18 years of age or older. The contestants will each make three cuts one down, once cut up and another cut down within a 9" interval marked on the timber. The person having the fastest time will be the winner. There are four divisions depending on the size of the saw.

Try your skill at the conclusion of the chain saw contest at using a two person handsaw. Contestants will make one cut through the timber. Time will start from the work of the judge. The two contestants having the fastest time will be the winner.

Cash and trophies will be awarded in all divisions. Get your entry forms from the Fair office located in the courthouse in West Bend. Deadline for entries is 3 p.m. on Friday, July 24.

JV Baseball Team Results

The Kewaskum JV Baseball Team dropped a non-conference contest to Howards Grove this past Wednesday, 10-7.

Howards Grove took a 4-0 lead in the first inning and then tallied four more runs in the fourth inning to increase their lead to 8-0. Only one of the first inning's runs was earned as the Indians committed three errors, but in the fourth inning Howards Grove banged out three hits and also drew three walks as all four runs were earned.

Kewaskum finally scored in the fourth inning. Mark Strobel's two out single scored both Cory Rammer and Dan Survis who had earlier reached on walks.

The Indians added three runs in the fifth inning without getting a hit. In the inning Howards Grove committed four errors as Steve May, Jaimie Brown, and Rammer scored for Kewaskum.

Kewaskum pulled to within one run in the sixth inning as they scored twice. Over the course of the inning Strobel, Chad Muckerheide, and Travis Jacak were walked to load the bases. Kevin Klahn drew a two out walk which scored Strobel. Rammer followed with a single which scored Muckerheide, but on the play Jacak was thrown out trying to score.

Howards Grove scored two insurance runs in the seventh inning to make the score 10-7 as the Indians came to bat. Kewaskum managed to load the bases in the seventh inning but did not score as Howards Grove threw out two runners at the plate after drawing in the infield.

Rob Donath was the losing pitcher for Kewaskum. He struck out six, walked nine, and yielded eight hits. The Indian offense managed only four hits in the game led by Cory Rammer who was two for three.

A FISH STORY

One of the fishermen, a northerner, came back with this story about the enormous catfish he had landed in his home state.

"To give you an idea," he related, "it took a power winch to land it and a crane to get it up on the beach. There weren't any scales around large enough to weigh the fish, so I got my little Brownie camera out and photographed it as a matter of record. "The picture," he concluded, "weighed 11 pounds."

Routs Rule Softball Action

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — It wasn't a week of close competitive softball at the Kiwanis Community Park the past seven days. Seven of the eight games played in the VKAA men's leagues were decided by ten or more runs.

The lone close ballgame came in Thursday night's action, as Scott Schmidt pitched a one-hitter to lead T's Lounge past Mugshots, 4-0.

In other games on Thursday, Mike Coulter hit a grand slam in the first inning to help C.C.'s route On-R-Own, 17-5. Toby Mueller also connected for a round tripper to lead C.C. Cody's to a 16-6 triumph over McKee Buildings, and Tropical Pool and Spa jumped out to a 5-0 after one inning, but L and R Trophy came back big winning the contest by a 17-5 count. Russ Schlosser homered for L and R.

On Tuesday, Rick Weiterman had a pair of dingers to help T's Lounge II remain undefeated, as they beat Neuville Chevrolet, 14-2. Campbellsport Building Supply had a solid effort all around in downing Hometown Realty, 10-0.

T's Lounge I posted the second shutout of the night, taking care of Amerahn 14-0 in five innings, while Joel 'C.C. Codyman' Serwe tripled twice to help Cody's beat Schluffy's 15-3.

Southeast Goose Hunting Season Application Deadline August 7

MADISON, WI — The application deadline for the 1992 Southeast Wisconsin September Canada goose hunt is Friday, Aug. 7, reminds Jon Bergquist, Department of Natural Resources waterfowl and wetland wildlife ecologist.

The special Canada goose season runs for only seven days: Tuesday, Sept. 1 through Friday, Sept. 4; and Tuesday, Sept. 8 through Thursday, Sept. 10.

The Southeast goose hunting zone is bounded on the east by Lake Michigan, on the north of Highway 33, on the east by Highways 175, 83, 36 and 120, and on the south by the Wisconsin/Illinois state line. The hunting zone includes all or portions of Ozaukee, Washington, Waukesha, Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha counties.

"The purpose of the hunt is to provide additional control of local giant Canada goose populations," Bergquist said. "All usual state and federal restrictions for waterfowl hunting will apply to this early Canada goose season."

Much of the area located in this goose hunting subzone has local firearm discharge restrictions. Bergquist suggests that hunters contact the appropriate local law enforcement authorities to see if any local restrictions apply in locations where they plan to hunt.

"Because of the limited hunting access available on private lands and small amounts of public lands available, hunters may want to secure an area to hunt before they apply for permits," Bergquist is suggested.

For more information contact Jon Bergquist 608-266-8841.

Indians Blast Kiel

By Statesman Sports Writer

KIEL — It wasn't an important game as far as the standings in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference went, still the Kewaskum baseball team came up with a big win here, last Wednesday.

The Indians capped off their conference schedule with a 15-3 win over Kiel, ending up 15-3 in the EW. The Indians had clinched the EW title the previous week.

The 15-3 mark represents the best finish in the EW in school history, and their 18-7 is the best since the 1986 season when the Indians went 18-6 and advanced to the state tournament.

A pair of big innings was all it took against the Raiders, who scored three times in the bottom of the first to grab a 3-1 advantage.

Jason Krahn then opened the second inning with a double, went to third on a passed ball, and scored on Todd Muckherheide's single. Matt Schlosser, who had walked and stole second, scored on another single, this one by Kim Marx.

Chad Cook came up with an RBI double, and Scott Donath capped off the rally with a three-run homer, giving the Indians a 7-1 advantage.

Kewaskum put the game away with a seven-run fifth, taking full advantage of the fifth, errors that Kiel committed in the contest.

The Indians hit the ball well too, banging out a total of 13 hits. Five different Indians collected a pair of hits.

Shawn Schneider pitched the first five innings and got the win. Cook then finished up, giving up a pair of runs in the sixth.
