New Tourist Information Gazebo Nears Completion

By Louise Martin

With the combined efforts of Jason Noren, the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce and the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club, Kewaskum will soon have a new Tourist Information Gazebo.

Kewaskum Juniors have maintained the current Tourist Information sign for the past few years. As this sign has deteriorated beyond repair, it was felt by Kewaskum Juniors and the Chamber of Commerce that a new structure would be a definite benefit for Kewaskum.

Jason Noren, with the assistance of his father Jim Noren, generously undertook the task of constructing the gazebo as an Eagle Scout project. Kewaskum Juniors and the Chamber provided the necessary funds for building materials. The village installed the sidewalk and parking area and the Little Whistlers Homemakers planted flowers, donated by Kewaskum Floral, around the outside.

Upon completion, the gazebo will display a Wisconsin map, a map of the Kettle Moraine area and information on Kewaskum to aid visitors in our area. A space is planned for area organizations, clubs, etc. to display flyers on their upcoming events.

After all the details are finalized, the current information sign will be removed.

Many others offered assistance and guidance during the planning and construction phases. Those include David Gosa, Craig Erdmann, Lee Kempf, Augie Bilgo, Jim Schaub, Heberer Brothers, Kettle Moraine Electric, and

Primary Election Tuesday

By Gerry Mueller
Statesman Staff Writer

The partisan primary next Tuesday, should draw a large number of voters to the polls as some interesting races draw down to the wire.

Probably the most publicized and heated of those contests is the Republican primary between incumbent Washington County Sheriff Robert Schulteis and challenger James Grover.

Schulteis, 49, of Allenton, became sheriff in 1988, when he defeated then incumbent Clarence Schwartz for the post. Schulteis has been a member of the Washington County Sheriff's Department since 1969. He has no other business interests or income other than that derived from his salary as sheriff.

Grover, 40, of Hartford, is a sergeant and 17-year veteran of the Sheriff's Department. He also has other business interests including Spartan Builders, a renovation and rental company, which he owns. Grover's rental properties include Risky Business, a restaurant and cocktail lounge in Jackson.

Grover has been making a strong bid to defeat Schulteis in the upcoming election.

Another veteran facing competition is incumbent Republican State Representative Mary Panzer who represented the old 53rd Assembly District.

With the recent legislative boundary redistricting, as ordered

Postmaster Beesten Retires

Retiring Kewaskum Postmaster Frank Beesten, above, left, welcomes Officer-In-Charge Bryan Walsch to the Kewaskum Post Office. Frank's last official day as Kewaskum Postmaster was Friday, August 28, 1992. Bryan officially assumed his duties on Monday, August 31.

Frank's career in Kewaskum began on May 19, 1979. Prior to his selection as Kewaskum's Postmaster, he worked at the Manitowoc Post Office and served as Officer-In-Charge at Valders.

Following his appointment as Postmaster here, Frank moved his wife Mary and their four children from Manitowoc to Kewaskum. Frank and Mary plan on remaining Kewaskum residents and hope to spend his retirement with extensive traveling.

Frank would like to sincerely thank all the Kewaskum residents and postal patrons for their help, patience and friendship and hopes you extend the same to his successor.

We would like to wish Frank and Mary a long, happy and healthy retirement, along with our sincere thanks for the services he has provided.

Residents Note Concerns at Highway 45 Informational Meeting

By Gerry Mueller
Statesman Staff Writer

Representatives from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation and Mid-State Associates, an engineering firm, were in Kewaskum Thursday night to hear comments, concerns and answer questions about the proposed Highway 45 reconstruction project planned for 1995.

What those representatives heard was that more residents were opposed to the plan than there were people in favor of it. Basically, people were concerned about the loss of parking along Highway 45 (Fond du lac Avenue) within the village.

Campbellsport Building Supply.

The Chamber of Commerce and Kewaskum Juniors would like to express their sincere thanks to all who assisted with the gazebo. It is a welcoming structure for all residents and visitors of which we can all be proud.

DOT reps said the plan was their answer to the village board's request some time ago for help with the traffic problem on Hwy. 45 through Kewaskum.

The project would expand Hwy. 45 to four lanes, through the village, up to the stop sign at Hwy. 45 and Hwy. 28, (Main Street) and continue with curb and gutter along Hwy. 45, to Hwy. 28 west.

Trustee David Goeden said he asked the reps if there was any possibility of an alternate plan which could include a stop light at Highways 45 and H, and turn lanes at 45 and 28 (Fond du Lac Ave. and Main St). Goeden said he was told he would have to take that idea back to the board for its consideration and discussion.

Another alternative would be to continue the Highway 45 Bypass around Kewaskum. Some citizens feel, however, eliminating Hwy. 45 traffic entirely through the village could also prove to be detrimental to local businesses.

Anyone who was not able to attend the meeting can submit their comments to the DOT in writing and they will be documented and considered in the project's design process.

A second informational meeting is to be held on the project but no specific date, as yet, has been set.

'Piggy' Smiles As Names of Ten Semi-Finalists Are Announced

By L.L.K.

The hands of time move slowly past the twelve and with that movement the month of August fades away and the harsh reality of September slaps us in the face. You wake up one morning and suddenly summer is over, the kids are back in school (YES!), there's only six more weeks until Kettle Kountry and there are only 102 more shopping days until Christmas. Huh?? Who made these rules?? I want summer back! (And I hate hot, humid weather and thunderstorms!)

Well, so much for my philosophical side... alas, with the advent of September, we have also reached the point in our pig kissing contest whereby there are now only ten hearty semi-finalists left.

The voting the past two weeks has been intense, to say the least, and it is all I can do to keep up with it. Volleying between candidates has been constant... you never knew who was in the lead and when they were, it wasn't for very long.

If you haven't received your Statesman of late, I probably couldn't tell you why (ask Cheryl... my standard answer). But if you care to ask me who is first in line to kiss my little pink friend, I could recite the numbers verbatim. This is just super for the piggy... bad for business, but good for Kettle Kountry. I just keep thinking soon this will all be over (like a bad dream), my employees and my mama will like me again, people will stop looking at my lips and my work will only be three months behind instead of five.

Well, enough of this "September Song!" Let's smile, chuckle, cheer and "TA DA!" for our fortunate survivors... the lucky ten who will now vie to taste the fruits of piggy's lips.

I know you already peeked at the names, so I won't even try to attempt to tease you with clues and little innuendos. But did you notice... hark! we have a new leader... and it's none other than "Billy Ray" Ellis! I mean... Troy. (If you haven't been reading previous installments of the piggy articles, that one went 747 right over your head, but unfortunately, I haven't the time to explain it this week.)

I realize his boss probably isn't real thrilled with this news right now, but honest... it's not my fault! Clearly, he seems to be the people's choice. (Just keep thinking... it's for a good cause... okay???) And the voting public is so fickle... just look at George Bush. By tomorrow, the fans will probably be jumping on some other candidate's bandwagon. Hopefully, not mine.

Bits and pieces of this conspiracy against me are starting to leak out. Kind of like Watergate... hmmm... we can call it... Piggygate. See, I told you I wasn't PARANOID. There really is a conspiracy! Facts are beginning to unfold and the worldwide nominations for me are crazily starting to make sense. (I need therapy!) Remind me to tell you about the nomination from Princess Diana.

Better yet... ask Larry... he knows more than he's telling me and it's so much fun watching that "innocent" look come over his face.

Like I said guys... if I go down the winner, it's gonna be a four-way tie and three of you are already in the semi-finals with me. With a little help from your friends, of course! I just wonder if a pig's lips are big enough to kiss four grown adults (??) at the same time? That would really get us in the Guinness Book of World Records! I'll take the picture guys... you can kiss the pig!

And for the kindred soul(s) who brought in 3,000 pennies for my envelope... BEWARE... my brain is working double overtime figuring out ways to seek revenge. And then you wonder why I can't sleep at night! I might not be clever... but I AM persistent!

Thank you also to the "organization" who placed an ad for my "campaign" (I will not run, nor am I a candidate!... sound familiar?) in next week's issue. I have set the money you paid for the ad and will put it in my envelope on "minus votes" day on Thursday. (I take that back... I am too clever!)

And Tim... give back you kid's allowance. Unless your kids are the highest paid kids in the county, it's too late for those minus votes to help you!

Here's the list of your "Terrific Ten." Remember voters... you only have until Sept. 30 to chose the "Final Five." And you know how quickly the road to September fades away. Frankly, I still say Greg Eckl is the most practical choice to kiss the pig. He is the most likely candidate to make a wonderfully succulent spanferkel (sorry, Mutz, but the pig dies). I'm quite sure Greg will want to share his newfound piggy and will invite ALL of us, right Greg? Wasn't it you who was interested in a Customer Appreciation Night? Perfect opportunity! Tell you what... you kiss the pig, cook it and I'll bring the beer. (I know someone who might give me a discount).

Well, I think I know who my favorite five are... what about you?

Natural Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

SUGAR ABSORPTION CAN BE REDUCED

A weight loss tablet has been developed that will enable virtually anyone to reduce weight without dieting, without giving up favorite foods and without fear of side effects. While researching the medicinal effects of an herbal extract on controlling blood sugar levels in diabetics, scientists in Japan and India discovered that the herb acted as a sugar blocker thus reducing the amount of sugar absorbed into the body. Studies published in respected scientific journals such as The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition showed that by limiting the amount of sugar that is absorbed, calories are reduced and less sugar is turned to fat. The effect is a natural weight loss.

The amazing herb is now available to the public in tablet form under the label MEGA-THIN 100. It is available immediately because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients.

The discovery of MEGA-THIN 100 has been a windfall for overweight people. One satisfied West Virginia resident said, "I began taking MEGA-THIN 100 on the advice of my pharmacist. Within 5 weeks I had lost 18 pounds. I'm so glad that I found an easy all-natural product to help me in my battle against excess weight. I could eat normally and lose weight."

A Wisconsin resident and a pharmacist himself, began taking MEGA-THIN 100 to shed a few extra pounds and I not only lost the weight, I was able to use MEGA-THIN 100 to help control my weight after I reached my goal."

Pharmacists are praising MEGA-THIN 100 as a safe, effective, drug-free alternative in weight reduction. MEGA-THIN 100 is available at this pharmacy:

Degnitz Family Plans Reunion

The descendants of Karl and Friederika Degnitz will celebrate the 7th reunion on Sept. 20, 1992, at the James and Nancy Degnitz farm, the original Homestead at 8640 Fillmore Rd., Fredonia.

The ten children of Karl and Friederika were - Herman, August, Henry, Gustav, Frank, William, Selma (William Gerner) Carl, Adolph, Emma (Edwin Gerner).

He and his wife were born in the same town of Lichteeneichen Konigsreich, Sachsen, Germany, where they were married in 1847. In 1852 they emigrated to this country and sailed on the vessel "Guttenberg" leaving March 1st, and after an eventful voyage of nine weeks and four days landed in New York.

They settled on the Homestead which is now owned by their great-great-grandson James, which at that time was an unbroken tract of wilderness. In 1853 he added on by buying 40 acres from Joseph and Barbara Rex for the sum of $150.00.

In Sept. 5, 1881 he purchased 20 acres from Herman and Emma Friebel for $800.00. Then in 1888 Oct. 31st he sold his farm plus another 20 in another section to his son Gustave and wife Selma (nee Mueller). Another 45 acres was purchased from John Klessig for $6,000.00 in 1919, Dec. 22. Then on June 7, 1905 Gustav Sr. sold 80 acres for $6,000.00 to Gustave Jr. and Linda (Goldammer). By 1937 - he was farming 105 acres which he sold to his son Richard and Minnie (Koenig).

More acreage was accumulated until in 1968 Richard sold 128 acres to his son Jim and Nancy (Rosenthal) and today he owns 336 acres and rents another 129. His son Andrew who is working on the farm with them owns 70 acres adjoining the farm land.

If you are a descendant, please come. All former records have been lost, but we are looking for a big turnout. Registration is at 11:30 - Potluck at 12:30. Please bring tableware and a dish or dessert to pass. A short meeting will be held at 2:30 and door prizes are welcome. We will be celebrating 140 years of Degnitz relatives together.

Help Light ALL the Candles During Month of September

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is asking everyone's help to light up ALL the candles on the Celebration Cake located in the front window of the Kewaskum Statesman during the month of September.

The "cake" which was begun in Mid-May, only had the candles on the first two tiers lit in May. In June, we just got a start on the third tier. July managed to have two tiers lit. August found one lone little candle on the third tier.

Everyone must know someone to congratulate in September with a lit candle. September is a busy, busy month! If nothing else, light a candle in honor of all the teachers who have received the dubious honor of getting all our children back for the next nine months. Remember the summer? Light a candle for a teacher!

Remember, all proceeds from the candles on the Celebration Cake are used to fund Kettle Kountry Kolors. The festival features many new things never undertaken before including the Native American ceremony and the children's activity tent which will feature wonderful things for all the children to see and do. The children's area will feature a clown/magician, storyteller and a special guest who works with animals and puts on quite an enjoyable, educational show for the kids.

However, none of these new things are possible without financial assistance from the community. Remember, all these features at Kettle Kountry Kolors are designed for your enjoyment and come to you and your children free of charge.

Show your support by donating a candle... if not this month, reserve one for next month! A coupon for inclusion on the birthday cake was printed in the August 27th issue of the Kewaskum Statesman or you can pick one up at the front desk of the Statesman. The greetings are printed the last issue of the month.

Thanks for your supporting Kettle Kountry Kolors!

Red Cross Needs Your Help!

With the devastation that Hurricane Andrew has placed upon the American people — the need for Red Cross is greater than ever.

Right now the Red Cross is asking for monetary help only.

With storage areas gone, distribution centers not available, volunteers unavailable to sort and size clothing, the greatest help right now is money.

Until the people find places to live, helping people with essentials, can best be done through disbursing orders - thru the

You can make a donation to the Hurricane victims, by sending a check or money order earmarked DISASTER to the American Red Cross, 422 Meadowbrook Dr., West Bend, Wisconsin 53095.

Our West Bend Chapter is in the middle of updating our local Disaster Plans, we are looking for volunteers in Farmington, Jackson, Kewaskum, Newburg, Trenton, Wayne and West Bend. For more information, call 334-5687.

I Left the Washington County Sheriff's Department

BECAUSE:

1. Did not support Schulteis for sheriff and as a result of that non-support was subjected to personal and professional harassment that included threats and other violations of personal civil rights.
2. Harassment and threats also extended to family members.
3. Administration was anti-education.
4. Upper administration featured poor management and fiscal practices.
5. Authority stripped from line supervisors causing inefficiency in the decision-making process.
6. Elitism in some segments of the department caused morale problems and was unfair to the department as a whole.
7. The unwillingness to cooperate with local law enforcement agencies in public safety and drug enforcement issues.

If you really knew how the present sheriff's department was being managed, you would vote for Jim Grover.

I Support Jim Grover for Sheriff of Washington County

BECAUSE:

1. Jim will reinstate decision-making authority to field supervisors which will improve efficiency and morale.
2. Jim will eliminate elitism and pull the department back together, and will encourage the team concept.
3. Jim will coordinate with local law enforcement which will foster an atmosphere of cooperation.
4. Jim will control spending and will manage fiscal responsibilities in a competent manner.
5. Jim will focus on criminal activity with priorities in crimes against persons and property, and gang-related incidents.

Schommer - McChain

On May 8, 1993 wedding is being planned for Candace E. Schommer and Jeffrey S. McChain.

The bride to be is the daughter of Paul and Joan Schommer, Belgium.

The future groom is the son of James and the late Gloria McChain, Boltonville.

Candace is a 1986 graduate of Cedar Grove - Belgium High School and a 1990 graduate Mount Mary College, Milwaukee with a bachelor's degree in business administration. She is currently the accounts payable clerk at Cedarburg Dairy, Cedarburg.

Jeffrey is a 1984 graduate of Kewaskum High School and a 1985 graduate of Moraine Park Technical College, Fond du Lac. He is a computer operator at West Bend Mutual Insurance, West Bend.

County Republican Brat Fry Sunday

The Washington County Republican Organization has announced that it will be holding its annual Brat Fry, Sunday, September 6, 1992, at Ridge Run Park, West Bend.

With this year's event being just two days prior to the Primary Election it will be a good opportunity to meet the federal, state, and local officials and candidates who will be on hand to meet and visit with those in attendance. Entertainment will be provided by the Washington County Senior Center Band; and, of course, there will be brats, hamburgers, hot dogs and lots of other refreshments.

Tickets are $7.00 for adults and $2.50 for children, and can be purchased at the door or by calling 677-2303.

Money Game Winner! D.E.X.T.E.R.

Konnie Schoofs of Kewaskum won $4,300 on the Money Game Saturday, Aug. 29th. Konnie purchased her winning ticket at Pick 'N Save in West Bend.

D.E.X.T.E.R. (Developing Education Xrossroads Through Educational enRichment) is a new class at Kewaskum Middle School for the 1992-93 school year. It is being offered to all 6th graders as an exploratory class.

D.E.X.T.E.R. is a new concept for KMS. The students will learn to work together in cooperative groups to develop creativity, critical thinking, leadership and decision making skills. This class will provide an environment that promotes risk taking and self esteem.

The students will keep weekly reflective journals. Each week will have a different focus and will offer a variety of hands on activities for the students. They will receive a pass/fail grade at the end of the semester.

This exciting, unique opportunity for the 6th grade has been developed as part of the gifted and talented program in the district.

POST OFFICE CLOSED ON LABOR DAY

The Kewaskum Post Office will be closed for window service on Monday, Sept. 7, Labor Day, a legal holiday. There will be no dispatch of mail or rural delivery.

My Little Friends Day Care Hops for Muscular Dystrophy

Top hopper, Jesse Michaels. Jesse will appear on the MDA telethon on Monday, Sept. 7th at 10:20 a.m.

Children from My Little Friends Day Care held a Hop-a-thon early this spring and did a great job. The children worked hard to help other children who have M.D. They knew they were helping children whose muscles were not as strong as theirs.

The great hoppers were Amber Beck, Nicole Bubblitz, Amber Burtard, Danielle Dreher, Shane Dreher, Karissa Dums, Rachel Dums, Abram Foerster, Stacy Gajewski.

Nicholas Garbisch, Chad Hackbarth, Ryan Koepke, Katie Korth, Cathy Lewko, Tony Lewko, Nick Marchant, Sammy Marchant, Mallory Marx, Jesse Michaels.

Becky Millonig, Chad Pwoni, Erin Rammer, Alex Rauch, Kyle Rieden, Casey Rinas, Chad Rinas, Spenser Rodenkirch, Michael Rohlinger, Bryan Sabel.

Keith Scannell, Ben Schickert, Kevin Schickert, Danny Shea, Paige Thelen, Brittany Toliver, Ben Werner, Craig Werner, Nick Werner, Graeme Zanow, and Brett Zimdars.

My Little Friends Day Care raises $1460.93 for Muscular Dystrophy.

KFD Fire and Rescue Squad Calls

- Thursday, August 27, 9:30 p.m. - The Kewaskum Rescue Squad was called to Hillcrest Lane, West Bend, when a male baby had ingested some solder paste. He was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend.
- Thursday, August 27, 7:00 p.m. - The Kewaskum Rescue Squad held a practice with the Kohlsville First Responders at the Kewaskum Fire Station. The use of the Jaws of Life and the care and removal of patients involved in an automobile crash was concentrated on. A lot of knowledge was gained by both departments and both worked together as one unit in case of an emergency. Kohlsville and Kewaskum would both like to thank Star Auto for supplying the two cars used in this practice.

Saturday, August 29, 8:18 - The Kewaskum Rescue Squad responded to a call to Hwy. B in Kewaskum when a female patient was suffering from chest pains. She was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend.

Sunday, August 30 - 2:20 a.m. The Kewaskum Rescue Squad was called to Boltonville following a fight in which a male patient suffered a cut to his face. He refused transport.

Local Sisters Performed Dancing at Irish Fest

Casey Gutkowski and Kerry Tylenda performed at Irish Fest this past summer.

Two Kewaskum sisters, Casey Gutkowski, age 8, and Kerry Tylenda, age 6, of Kewaskum are Irish dancers, with the Cashel - Dennehy School of Irish Dance in Milwaukee. Parents of the girls are Liz Tylenda and Arnie Gutkowski of Kewaskum. This past summer they danced at Irish Fest and performed at several "Feisanna" across the midwest.

Feisanna are Irish dance and music competitions. There are usually 500 to 900 boys and girls from all over the United States and Canada entered in these competitions. Casey and Kerry have been to Chicago, Ill.; Columbus, Dayton, Cincinnati, Ohio; Milwaukee; and St. Louis, MO.

Kerry is a first year dancer and has won many awards in the jig and reel. She will move up to the advance beginner next year. Casey is a second year dancer and has won many awards in the jig, reel, slip jig, hornpipe and figure dances.

Both girls have won many 1st's, 2nd's, 3rd's, 4th's and 5th's. Casey will now advance to the novice competitions.

In Columbus Ohio they tied for 1st in the vocal competition. Irish dancing is a very competitive sport. The higher you move up in categories, the more challenging it becomes. The girls enjoy it and they've met many friendly people from all over the United States.

Election

by the Federal Court, Panzer became the incumbent for the 59th District. The 59th now takes in much of the old 53rd District which includes the City of West Bend, Village of Kewaskum, Towns of Wayne, Kewaskum, Farmington and Barton in Washington County; the Village and Towns of Fredonia and Belgium in Ozaukee County; and the Villages of Random Lake, Oostburg, Cedar Grove and Adell and Towns of Sherman and Holland in Sheboygan County.

Panzer is being challenged by David Schwengel, 38, a newcomer to the political picture. He is employed at the Wisconsin Electric Power Company's generating plant in Port Washington.

Another Republican incumbent, Washington County Clerk Art Degnitz, is facing a primary challenge from Paul Tuchshorer.

Republican candidates Dorothy Gonnering and Bruce Miller are challenging each other with the hope of being the party's candidate for the post of Register of Deeds, a position which went up for grabs after the John Steilen scandal. The winner in that race will face Libertarian candidate Betty Scheunemann in the November general election.

The primary race for U.S. Senator is not lacking for candidates on either side. Republican incumbent Robert Kasten is being challenged by Robert Faulkner. On the Democratic side of the ballot, there are five, yes five, candidates hoping to latch onto their party's slot for the November race. They are Joseph Checota, Russell Feingold, Edmond Hou-Sey, Thomas Keller and James Moody.

There are a number of other local, state and U.S. posts listed on the fall ballot, however, neither the Republican or Democratic candidate is facing competition from within their party.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF PARTISAN PRIMARY

SEPTEMBER 8, 1992

OFFICE OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY CLERK

TO THE ELECTORS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a partisan primary to be held in the several wards in the County of Washington, on the 8th day of September, 1992, at which the nominees for the offices named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, are given under the title of the offices, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, if any, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, an elector shall give his or her name and address before being permitted to vote. Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth or machine and cast his or her ballot except that an elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

At the partisan election, the elector shall select the party of his or her choice or the ballot containing the names of independent candidates for state office, and depress the button or lever at the right of the names of the candidates or shall make a punch or a hole in the space designated for the party of his or her choice or the independent ballot. An elector may cast votes for candidates on only one political party or for independent candidates for state office. The elector shall make a punch or a hole in the space designated for the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote.

To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the elector shall vote in the name of the candidate of his or her choice in the space provided or on the envelope provided including the office and political party affiliation of the candidate. Write-in votes are not permitted on the Independent ballot or for the office of party committeeman or committeewoman.

In order to qualify for participation in the Wisconsin election campaign fund, a candidate for state office must receive at least 6% of all votes cast on all ballots for the fund for which he or she is a candidate, in addition to other requirements.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. If the elector spoils a ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the elector shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place. Not more than five minutes' time shall be allowed inside a voting booth or machine. Unofficial ballots or a memorandum to assist the elector in marking or punching his or her ballot may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

After an official ballot is punched, it shall be inserted in the envelope provided so the punches do not show. After casting his or her vote, the elector shall leave the machine or booth and deposit the envelope containing his or her ballot in the ballot box, or deliver the envelope to an inspector for deposit, and shall leave the polling place promptly.

An elector may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the elector declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English, or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the elector's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the elector.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

1. Insert your ballot card with both hands. Be sure the pins are through the two holes.
2. Hold the punching device straight up and down. Press down firmly opposite the candidate and/or proposition selections of your choice.
3. If you incorrectly punch, tear or deface the ballot card or ballot card envelope, return it to the election official for another one.

WRITE-IN VOTING

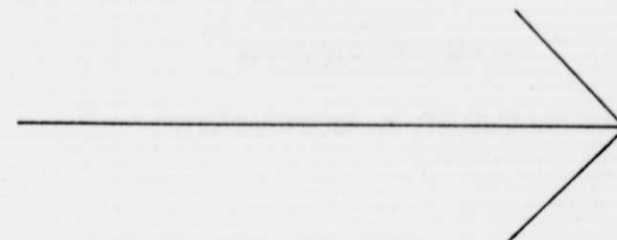

To vote for a candidate whose name does not appear on the printed ballot, use the envelope to "write-in" the party, the office and the candidate's name. Write-in votes are not permitted on the Independent ballot.

KATHRYN D. SCHAEFER

Kathryn D. Schaefer, nee Johnson, of Port Washington and Arcadia, Fla., died Tuesday, Aug. 25, 1992, at St. Mary's Hospital - Ozaukee, Port Washington, at the age of 81.

She was born Nov. 12, 1910, in the town of Farmington, to the late Charles and Catherine (nee Duenkel) Johnson.

She attended teachers' college in Milwaukee and taught grade school at Lakefield.

On May 24, 1940, she married William Schaefer at Immanuel UCC, West Bend. They owned and operated the Fireside Restaurant on U.S. 41. She was also an officer of the former Schaefer Trucking in Kewaskum, a member of Peace UCC, Kewaskum, and the Order of Eastern Star West Bend Ch. 73.

Survivors include her husband; four children, Donna (Helmuth) Schwichtenberg of West Bend, Rosalie (Dennis) Tattum of Green Bay, Walter (Ruth) Ewert of Kewaskum and Robert (Leslie Bolander) Ewert of Cecil; nine grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; two sisters, Pearl Polster of Pensacola, Fla., and Esther (Harry) Stewardt of Milwaukee; two brothers, Aaron and Carl, both of West Bend; a sister-in-law, Wilma Schaefer of Welches, Ore.; and other relatives and friends.

Preceding her in death were two brothers, William and Alfred.

Order of Eastern Star services were held Thursday, Aug. 27, at 7:45 p.m. at the Myhrum Funeral Home, West Bend, followed by funeral services at 8 p.m. Rev. Robert Manning and Rev. Sandra Palmer officiated and burial was Friday at 10 a.m. in Peace UCC Cemetery, Kewaskum.

Visitation at the funeral home was Thursday from 4 p.m. until the time of services.

ADELINE E. WILDERMAN

Adeline E. Wilderman, nee Luehring, of Mayville, died Sunday, Aug. 23, 1992, at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, at the age of 75.

She was born July 26, 1917, in Mayville, to the late Carl and Elsie (nee Meis) Luehring, and married Ralph Wilderman on Aug. 22, 1946, in Mayville. He passed away in 1983.

She was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Mayville, and was employed at the Mayville School District for several years.

Survivors include a son, Dean (Bette) of Mayville; two daughters, Kay Wilderman of Mayville and Jonell (Rick) Buslaff of Campbellport; six grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; her step-mother, Agnes Luehring of Mayville; three stepbrothers, Dan (Pat) Luehring, Lee (Nancy) Luehring and Tom Luehring, all of Mayville; a stepsister, Diane (Jim)

Beechum of Rome, Ga.; a sister-in-law, Mary Jane Luehring of Mayville; and other relatives and friends.

Preceding her in death were two brothers and a sister.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Aug. 26, at 10:30 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Mayville, Rev. Daniel Brosi officiated and burial followed in Graceland Cemetery.

Visitation at the Koepsell Funeral Home, Mayville, was Tuesday from 4 to 8 p.m., and at the church on Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. until the time of services.

ALVIN H. EWERT

Alvin H. "Papa" Ewert, of the town of Jackson, died Monday, Aug. 24, 1992, at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, at the age of 92.

He was born Dec. 29, 1899, in Horicon, to the late William and Louisa (nee Henkel) Ewert.

After his marriage to Regina Yogerst at Holy Angels Parish, West Bend, on Sept. 6, 1933, they settled in Milwaukee where they lived until moving to the town of Jackson in 1958.

Prior to his retirement in 1964, he was employed at A.O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee, for over 40 years.

His wife passed away on July 7, 1973.

Survivors include four children, David (Diane) Van Assche of West Bend, Doris (Carl) Dauer of Jackson, Donna (James) Gorman of Newberry Park, Calif., and Darleen (John) Oberg of Milwaukee; a daughter-in-law, Patricia Van Assche of Kewaskum; a dear friend, Angeline Schmitz of Jackson; 15 grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; three great-great-grandchildren; a sister, Evelyn (Oliver) Dallmann of Lombard, Ill.; five sisters-in-law, Leona Ewert and Elda Ewert, both of Horicon, Minnie Ewert of Milwaukee; Lauretta Ewert of Randolph and Estella (Ralph) Giese of Elmore; and other relatives and friends.

Preceding him in death were six brothers and three sisters.

He was a member of Christ Lutheran Church, Jackson.

Funeral services were held Thursday, Aug. 27, at 7 p.m. at Christ Lutheran Church (due to road construction, enter from Georgetown Drive and follow signs for the General Clinic). Rev. Matthew Pushkar officiated and burial was in Washington County Memorial Park, West Bend, at 10 a.m. Friday.

Visitation at the church only was Thursday from 3 p.m. until the time of services.

The family prefers memorials. The Schmidt Funeral Home, Jackson, served the family.

MARTHA HARTER

Martha Emma Harter, 86, died Friday, Aug. 28, 1992, at St. Francis Home, Fond du Lac.

She was born Oct. 5, 1905, in Comanche, Okla., a daughter of William and Albertina Abraham Werner. On April 20, 1927, she married Adolph Harter at Guttenberg, Iowa.

Mrs. Harter and her husband farmed in the Town of Scott until his death. She was a former member of St. Matthias Church, Town of Auburn.

Survivors include one brother, Ernest Werner of Prairie du Sac; two sisters, Bertha Harter and her husband Aloysius of Antigo, and Hilda Faber of Columbia, S.C.; and nieces and nephews.

Preceding her in death were her husband on March 22, 1962, two brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were held at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday at St. Francis Home Chapel. The Rev. Walter Morgan officiated. Burial was at St. Matthias Cemetery, Town of Auburn.

Visitation was from 10 a.m. Tuesday to the time of services at the chapel.

Memorials in her name may be directed to St. Francis Home.

Twohig Funeral Home, Fond du Lac, is handling arrangements.

IN MEMORY

In memory of FRED STERN, who passed away 25 years ago, Sept. 4, 1967:

You are not forgotten,
Or will you ever be.
We miss you so, our hearts are sore.

As time goes by, we miss you more.

Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one will ever fill your vacant place.

No eyes can see us weep,
But many a tear is shed, while others are asleep.

Sadly missed by wife, Mathilda and children, Evelyn, Dolores and Sylvester.

Family Center Programs

Healthy Start - Healthy Choices, Marty Ison-Kocos, Assoc. Director of AODA, will present this workshop on helping your child learn decision making skills. This workshop will be held Thursday, Sept. 17 from 6:30-8:00 p.m.

Blended Families: "Coming Together", this workshop will be offered on Thursday, September 24, from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. T. Allan Pearson, Psychiatric MSW, & Betty Pearson, Director of Chamber of Commerce, will be the presenters & will share their story on how they blended two families together.

Parents who would like to participate in any of these programs must call to register 338-9461. All Family Center programs are free of charge. The Family Center is located at 279 S. 17th Avenue, West Bend & is funded by The Children's Trust Fund of Wisconsin & The United Way of Washington County.

Cedar Valley Art and Nature Day Sept. 13

Do you enjoy having new experiences? Are you the one who delights in good home cooking? Is there a special person you wish to treat with an unusual gift? Are you the one who loves a "good deal?" If so, come to the Cedar Valley Art and Nature Day on Sunday, Sept. 13, from 12 noon to 4 p.m. at 5349 Hwy D. (Hwy. D. is situated between Hwy. 41 and Hwy. 45 in the West Bend area.)

For those new experiences, try the horse drawn hay or carriage rides across nature/art trails onto old fashioned carriage trails. If you prefer, take the motorized vehicle tours viewing Wisconsin artist sculptures and the beauty of the fall wild flowers and prairies. Free tours will be available through the Chicken Chapel to see the fantastic array of poultry, and through the Carriage House displaying the many carts, sleighs and carriages of yesterday will also be available.

For hikers, you may enjoy strolling across the grounds enjoying the lovely pond area with its enchanted forest or exploring the Indian/Art Sea of Galilee acreage. The Valley Lodge also is fun to tour with its beautiful chapel, classrooms and overnight accommodations.

From 12 noon to 2 p.m. a tasty luncheon will be served in the lodge antique-atmosphere dining room with the food prepared from scratch using years-gone-by recipes.

A new attractions this year will be a fine Craft/Art Sale featuring the work of talented residents of the Cedar Ridge and Cedar Lake Home Campuses. There will also be an interesting White Elephant Sale for those seeking "good deals."

For the music lovers, select members of the Cedar Ridge and Cedar Lake Home Village choirs will present a concert from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the lodge auditorium under the direction of music therapist, David Stone.

The entire community is warmly welcome to attend this afternoon of good fellowship and fun. The event will be held rain or shine.

Fire Department Holds Successful Decathlon to Fund Rescue Squad

The Kewaskum Fire Department held its first annual decathlon on Sunday, Aug. 30, at Kiwanis Park in Kewaskum. A wide variety of sporting events filled the day for sponsors and participants alike. Shown in the above photo are from left, Tracy and Jim Schaub of P.H. Handyman team, second place winners. They are donating their winnings back to the fire department through the decathlon's coordinator, Ken Bonlender. Anyone wishing to donate funds towards the Kewaskum Rescue Squad's new equipment may do so by contacting Ken. The Rescue Squad is not funded by tax dollars and depends strictly on the fund-raising efforts of the Kewaskum Fire Department. Your support of these events benefits the entire community.

The three-legged race is almost as much fun to watch as it is to run.

Volleyball teams fight for the No. 1 position.

Early - Childhood Screening in Sept.

The Kewaskum School District continues to examine effective programming for children's development and psychological wellbeing. Such programming helps ensure school success.

An early-childhood screening for 4-year-olds will be held all day, Friday, Sept. 11 and Saturday, Sept. 19, for children with dates of birth from Sept. 2, 1987, through Sept. 1, 1988.

The screening will determine the developmental stage (language, visual, intellectual, motor and perceptual) skills of your child. You will receive results. This screening replaces the five year old screening process.

Parents are asked to call for a screening appointment on either day. Call Phyllis Schwartz, at 626-8427. 8-27-21

West Bend Savings Bank Elects Lipman as New Director

Richard A. Larson, Chairman of the Board of West Bend Savings Bank, S.A., announced the appointment of Raymond F. Lipman to the Bank's board of directors, effective September 1st.

Lipman, who joined the bank in 1976, is president and chief operating officer. He will succeed Ronald O. Reigle on the board. A resident of West Bend, Lipman has been involved in many community activities. He served as a Board Member and Treasurer for Citizen's Advocacy of Washington County; is a member of the Leadership Recruitment Committee for Scouting; active in the Friends of Scouting Fundraiser; Chairperson for this year's Crop Walk; is a member of the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants; serves as a member of the West Bend Noon Rotary; and is actively involved in the United Way of Washington County. Commenting on his appointment, Lipman said, "I am proud to be joining a Board of Directors that have always been focused on being a locally owned community bank, yet anticipating marketplace changes and needs, while staying true to its community roots in Washington County."

Owe Back Taxes? Make the IRS An Offer; They May Compromise

If you owe money to the Internal Revenue Service and find yourself in a never-ending payment situation, you may want to make the IRS an offer and try and reach a compromise over your tax debt. The IRS has revised the policy under its Offer in Compromise Program and is now accepting reasonable offers from taxpayers who owe them money for back taxes.

According to John T. Ader, Director of the IRS in Wisconsin, the Offer in Compromise Program is not new as an alternative for collecting back taxes from taxpayers. It has been part of the Internal Revenue Code since 1906, but the red tape involved in using it often frustrated taxpayers. As a result, it was seldom used.

The IRS recently revised the forms and cut much of the red tape to make it easier for taxpayers to use an Offer in Compromise to resolve their tax debt.

According to Ader, the Offer in Compromise Program was developed by the IRS because of one basic belief: that collecting back taxes from taxpayers by entering into lengthy installment agreements or sometimes seizing property belonging to the taxpayer isn't always the best way of bringing a taxpayer into compliance with the tax laws.

"Our goal in collecting taxes remains the same: to ensure that taxpayers pay their fair share of taxes... no more, no less. But we also recognize that taxpayers sometimes have legitimate reasons why they can't pay their tax debt in full. The Offer in Compromise Program gives the taxpayer an opportunity to move past prior tax delinquency problems into voluntary compliance. It gives them a chance for a fresh start," said Ader.

An Offer in Compromise won't be the solution for everyone, Ader adds, but it may be the answer for a taxpayer in bankruptcy or in a never-ending payment agreement. Ader stresses that, after entering into an Offer in Compromise agreement, if a taxpayer falls behind on his taxes during the next five years, the deal is off and he will again be responsible for paying the original sum he owed.

The Kewaskum High School graduating class of 1937 held a 30-year reunion at the Hon-E-Kor Country Club on Saturday Aug. 26. The event was attended by 39 graduates and wives or husbands. The committee for the reunion consisted of Myron Belger, Mrs. Lester (Ruth Borcher) and Mrs. Bill (Marcie) Harbeck.

The Kewaskum Community Schools opened with another record enrollment for the 1967-68 school year. Elementary enrollments totaled 966, while the high school has 590 students for a total of 1,556 pupils. The total teaching and administrative staff includes 72 full time teachers and nine part time teachers. Adding the enrollment at Holy Trinity Catholic School, of 256 pupils, brings the total number of children attending school in the Kewaskum School system to 1,812 pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Beisbier, R1, Campbellsport, announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverly, to Cleo Emmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gundrum, R2, Kewaskum, Saturday, Aug. 26. A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Key, R.2, Kewaskum, Saturday, Aug. 26. A son to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson, Kewaskum, Monday, Aug. 28.

50 Years Ago

Sept. 4, 1942

The Kewaskum Public School will open for the 1942-43 school year on Tuesday, Sept. 8. The following staff of teachers has been employed by the board of education: Clifford Rose - principal, Ernest Mitchell - Science and Athletic Director, Margaret Brown - Commercial, Joan Flanagan - Home Economics, Edith Hintzman - Social Science and History, Hulda Kohlbeck - English, LaVerne Bartz - Intermediate Grades, Viola Daley - Primary Grades, Grace Ganske - Grammar Grades.

In a deal consummated this week, Jos. Schoofs, Town of Kewaskum, of the Cherry Grove Dairy, purchased the interests of the Kettle Moraine Dairy from Earl Etta, R.1, Kewaskum, who operated same the past couple of years. Mr. Schoofs has already taken possession of Etta's route and is now supplying patrons of the dairy routes in this village. The dairy handles both the fresh milk from the Schoofs Dairy and pasteurized milk from the Kewaskum Creamery Company. A branch milk route through the Kettle Moraine State Forest area, also operated by Etta, will be discontinued.

Threshing is complete in the Armstrong area and crops are reported very good. Farmers are cutting and baling second crops of alfalfa.

Between 30 and 40 volunteers of Holy Trinity parish school gathered at the parish school grounds to saw up a number of trees recently removed from the grounds. The wood will be used to heat the church.

Sept. 1, 1917

A team of horses tied in front of A. Perschbacher's blacksmith shop in this village, belonging to William Schleif of Five Corners, become frightened from a passing automobile last Monday afternoon, and tearing themselves loose from the hitching post dashed north on Fond du Lac Avenue at a breakneck speed. While passing by Charles Buss' residence, they suddenly swerved to one side of the street, striking a tree near the curb which brought them to a sudden stop. The sudden impact caused the team to fall and they became entangled in the harness. No damage was done to the Wagon but one of the horses was so badly injured that it had to be placed under the care of veterinarian Geo. Brandt, for several days. Luckily no one was in the rig at the time of the runaway.

Geo. Braun of New Fane, purchased a Chevrolet from A.A. Perschbacher at Kewaskum this week.

A small blaze, which might have proven a great loss to property owners in the village, was discovered Sunday afternoon in the Westerman Brothers livery barn. The fire was started by children who were playing with matches in the barn. Luckily the fire was noticed in time and put out before it gained any headway.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Karl, twin babies, the night of August 25th, both dying shortly after birth. Funeral services took place Monday, at St. Bridget's Church.

Excerpts from As I Remember

by Marvin Martin

We really had no hospitals in our early days. The West Bend Hospital was not built until the late 1920s and doctors made house calls. We had three doctors in Kewaskum, Dr. Hausmann, Dr. Driessel and Dr. Elmergreen. One of the first hospitals in the area was the Driessel Hospital. When we heard of someone being operated on, we thought of death. At the age of 7, I had my tonsils and adenoids removed and all the children told me I was going to die. This operation was performed in Milwaukee because there was no place around here that did it.

We did have two dentists - Dr. Karl Hausmann, whose office was above the Lay Building and Dr. Klumb, whose office was upstairs of the Farmers and Merchants Bank.

There were two veterinarians in town - one was in the area of the show house and the other was where Krueger's plumbing is located. Dr. Edwin Morgenroth was the name of one of them. He was "hell on wheels" - you could really hear him coming down the country roads and had better get out of his way.

Dr. Hausmann had the first snowmobile - He'd put runners on front wheels of his car (as did others later) and was able to go cross lots in winter. Although attempts were made to shovel the roads, it was a losing battle as the roads would fill up with snow quickly.

Jim & Connie Gleason W2933 Main St., Elmore: Their home was built in the early 1990's and was originally the parsonage of the German church to the west of the house. The interior reflects their love for antiques, from the parlor stove to the wooden icebox, natural woodwork, hardwood floors & built-in china hutch. They have done most of the re-finishing projects themselves.

Roger Balogh, W2977 First St., Elmore: Purchased in fall of 1991, Roger has kept the old and added some new touches to this traditional two story home. This home, the school house and the German church, were built with the same limestone quarried in the area. Roger needs the spacious home to be a background for his many trophies from Africa, antiques and collectibles and hobbies. He has incorporated these interests into a functional home.

Pat & Ann Reilly, N1853 Hwy. 67: Purchased in 1990, this home was built in 1980. It is a three bedroom colonial ranch, with a panoramic view of the river and Campbellsport. The home was totally remodeled and many features were added, such as hardwood floors, new oak cabinets throughout and a fieldstone fireplace. Decorated with a French country flair, the property also includes 30 acres.

Linda Thompson, N4001 Hickory Heights Rd., Eden: The one acre lot was purchased in 1947. In 1987, the Thompson's (Tom and Sharon) started and completely tore apart the home, rebuilt and expanded it. The original fireplace, three stone basement walls, and most of the frame structure and floors have been left. This is one of the original homes of the Highway 45 area.

Letters to the Editor

8/30/92

Dear Editor,

Enough is enough!!! The fabricated allegations against Sheriff Schulteis go on and on. Yes, you can say I'm biased because I'm married to one of his management team, but I prefer to consider myself informed. I have witnessed firsthand the high level of dedication and commitment Bob Schulteis has to his department, the county, the taxpayers, and his role as our highest law enforcement official.

As a leader — as a manager, Bob is ethical, fair, knowledgeable, willing to listen and professional. His accomplishments are many. There is a commitment to crime prevention and youth as evidenced by DARE - Bob personally attends each DARE graduation. In addition, he has initiated regular meetings among school districts and law enforcement agencies to improve communication and share information on youth activities.

There's a concerted effort to build a strong relationship with the local communities. The Multi-jurisdictional Drug Unit, regular attendance at the Police Chiefs and Fire Chiefs Association's meetings, the coordination and start up of 911.

With this and much more to his credit, he is trying to stay positive in the face of an intensely negative campaign for his office. Issues have become campaign issues that were never issues in the department, his family has been personally attacked, his campaign signs have been vandalized, and his department is stressed. All the result of a planned negative campaign by an individual with no administrative experience but with a windfall inheritance and the aspiration to buy his way into the job.

As residents and taxpayers, we owe Sheriff Schulteis our support and our vote on September 8!

Sincerely,
Marcia K. Theusch

To the Editor:

I was taking a walk when I looked up and saw the American Flag on a building, falling off its pole and hanging upside down and twisted. It bothered me, and I felt it was disrespectful of our country's flag. The business that was flying the flag was closed so I was unable to rectify the situation. I stood there and watched it for a few moments. . . and realized that maybe it was flying appropriately. In these changing times where our government is upside down and has many twisted values, I was starting to see a similarity.

I was disappointed that Perot had just quit on us. I felt he made a lot of sense. He was a very wealthy businessman, but maybe that is what we needed, a businessman to get our country's spending back on track. His businesses were running in the black as where our country's is running in the hole and getting deeper in the time. Congress writes and bounces checks and no one seems to care. I guess we have been becoming pawns of our own destiny. We are so used to hearing that we are over budget from our elected officials, we have become complacent. We let them convince us that the costs are more than we expect, yet we say nothing and no one seems to care. We get sold on an idea that everything costs a lot and we let ourselves become victims of our own government.

Even our own County Sheriff's budget is over a quarter of a million dollars and no one seems to care. It was okayed by the County Board members, and they don't seem to care. Well, I care and maybe this year I can't vote for Perot, but I am going to vote every one of those check-bouncing and over-budget officials out of office, and I'm going to get our flag flying right again.

To the Editor:

I read the brochure in which the sheriff's platform states his accomplishments. He takes credit for D.A.R.E. and 911, and states he is honest, ethical and a sheriff we can be proud of.

I believe the sheriff should be honest in the fact that 911 had been in the works since 1986, and no matter who the sheriff would have been in 1991, 911 would have been installed. Why not mention some of the true workers . . . Capt. Randall Flemming, Lt. Michael Hetzel, County Board Chairman Reuben Schmah, Hugo Schwulst, Capt. Jeffrey Kanieski, and Jerry Greyson, and many more. Where is their credit given?

The D.A.R.E. Program originated in California which the sheriff seems to leave out in his informational brochure. The program has been implemented by many police departments in the county including West Bend Police Department and Germantown Police Department. Where is their credit given? My grandson graduated from D.A.R.E. and spoke very highly of D.A.R.E. Officer Brian Bausch, who is instrumental in the majority of the work. Why isn't his name mentioned?

The sheriff's budget is way over a quarter of a million dollars in debt. I am certainly not proud of that, and I don't think the sheriff should be proud either.

Duane D. Corey
Allenton, WI

To the Editor:

At the forum on August 20, the Sheriff stated that the only way I could cut the budget would be to cut 911, D.A.R.E., etc. This is only to play to scare the people of Washington County. There are many ways to cut this fat budget, and they all start with the bureaucracy of the department. His reorganization, which was not thought out, has caused many staffing problems and needs to be addressed. Efficient distribution of overtime and ending duplication of services is another place to start cutting the budget, not taking away services!!!

All too often, people in government spend and spend, and then go back to the people who authorize the spending and ask for more. Well, it is time the path to the money well be closed and we live within our means.

The Sheriff made the statement that I was against drug testing of Sheriff's Department employees. This is untrue. I am in favor of testing all new employees coming into the department. Employees that have been in the department deserve to be respected. These people are professional and many have been with the department for years. If there were any question as to their possible use of drugs, they should be approached and they should be tested. If they refuse, then they should be monitored and disciplined accordingly. This decision was made by all of the staff members along with the Sheriff himself. If the Sheriff disagreed, he had the power to change the decision. He also stated that he would be the first person to take a drug test. . . well, put me down as No. 2 on the list.

Sincerely,
Jim Grover, Sgt.

Editor,

I read the editorial comment in the August 26 edition of your newspaper written by Kathleen Trahan of Allenton. In response, I would like to say she obviously is new to the area. If she would have been around four years ago when Lt. Schulteis ran against Sheriff Schwartz, she would have seen a real mud slinging campaign. The reason Schulteis ran against Schwartz was because he didn't like the way Sheriff Schwartz ran the Department. This really sounded like Lt. Schulteis had a personality and ego problem with Sheriff Clarence Schwartz. You people in Washington County should wake up and remember the 1988 election and how we let a dignified and well respected man like Clarence Schwartz lose the office to a self serving, vindictive, and intimidating man like Robert Schulteis.

I was a Special Deputy for Washington County for 3 years under Sheriff Clarence Schwartz and a police officer for the City of West Bend for 12 years while Clarence Schwartz was sheriff. Sheriff Schwartz never went over budget in his 16 years as sheriff. Why? He had the skills needed as an administrator to do advanced planning. Why does the Chief of Police of West Bend and the Police Chiefs of the other communities in Washington County have to stay within their budgets but Sheriff Schulteis doesn't.

The cooperation during the 16 years Clarence Schwartz was in office with other law enforcement departments in Washington County was excellent. Now, as I understand, there have been some real problems under Sheriff Schulteis. Why is morale so low with the Washington County Deputies and the Jailers? Have any of you voters asked the Deputies or the Jailers?

Kewaskum Statesman, Thursday, Sept. 3, 1992, Page 19

Why does Sheriff Schulteis continue to take all the bows for 911, WE-TIP crime hotline, Computerized dispatch center, Computerized records? Do you really think these new programs and systems were thought up and instituted by one man. I think not! It takes an honest and ethical man to give credit where credit is due. Wake up you people. This man is really pulling the wool over your eyes.

The City of West Bend has an excellent SWAT team with the finest training available, yet that wasn't good enough for Sheriff Schulteis, he had to have his own SWAT team at a huge cost to the taxpayers. This is double dipping into the taxpayers pockets and totally unnecessary. Maybe this explains some of the Sheriff's $304,000.00 over budget. West Bend City Police Department had a canine unit so Sheriff Schulteis had to have one too. Why? Two expenses for the same service to the taxpayers in Washington County. You answer the question, is this responsible administering on the Sheriff's part or does he just enjoy spending the taxpayers money for his own ego?

Kathleen Trahan says the Washington County Supervisors isn't having any problem with the Sheriff being $ 304,000.00 over budget. I say the voters in this county should consider looking at their elective positions if this is a fact.

Kathleen Trahan says she would be offended if anyone tried to take her job away and commended the Sheriff for the professional manner in which he is handling his non-issue criticism. I have to say she as well as Sheriff Schulteis have the same problem understanding that job competition and running for an elective office is a right we all have as US Citizens and it is the American way, is it not?

I have known Jim Grover in a professional capacity for many years and found him to be a very concerned, honest, and straight forward person with the leadership and management qualities needed to be an excellent Sheriff for Washington County.

I would suggest that Kathleen Trahan personally call Sgt. Jim Grover to discuss his issues but knowing she is the daughter of Robert Schulteis's last term campaign manager I doubt she would follow through with my suggestion. She may be a little biased.

To the Editor:

In response to the letter to the editor that appeared in the West Bend News 08/24/92.

Yes, it is true that the sheriff and many other departments and agencies in the county meet to discuss gang activity. The other departments and agencies, apparently, share this information with their subordinates. To his credit, the West Bend Police Department Chief has seen fit to send his people to seminars on gang recognition and to share other information with them.

If the sheriff has information about gang recognition...

If the sheriff has information about gang activity...

If the sheriff has information about gangs in general...

then why doesn't the rest of the department know about it? Shouldn't the officers patrolling your neighborhood know about it? This is one of the reasons I am running for Sheriff. Communications in the department is certainly not as high as the budget deficit.

The county does not need the sheriff to attend another committee meeting that costs the taxpayers a lot of money and the information is not shared with anyone.

Sincerely,
Sergeant Jim Grover

Editor:

I would like to note that our Sheriff continually misleads us that crime is down in Milwaukee County. Quoting the Milwaukee Journal, 08/28/92, with a second story on the rise of crime in Washington County, "Washington County has become the fastest growing county in Wisconsin with crime overall increasing more than 12 percent last year." I find it convenient that, when it is election year, the Sheriff says crime is down, but when explaining the overbudget and full jail, crime had to be up. I think I believe the Milwaukee Journal's statistics. After all, the Milwaukee Journal isn't trying to get re-elected this year.

The Right Move

By Jan Felthous
Summer Extension
Home Economist

On July 20, 1992, Washington County Extension Office moved across the street to 333 East Washington Street, Suite 1200 in West Bend. The office went through the normal inconvenience that goes with a move, but we are enjoying our new facilities.

Every year, one out of every five families move. The statistics are even higher for Americans between 22 and 24, newly married, or executives in their thirties. Being an informed consumer can help keep the experience of moving from being traumatic.

These are various resources available to assist you before you move. The Better Business Bureau has a booklet entitled "Tips on Interstate Moving." Better Business Bureaus are non-profit organizations supported by community-minded business firms. They help promote ethical practices in the marketplace. Consumers may call them with unsettled complaints. Records are kept on file and many contacts are kept on file and many contact the business on your behalf.

The Better Business Bureau offers the following advice to potential movers:

1. Choose a moving company carefully on the basis of experience, reliability, and prompt claims settlement.
2. Get several written estimates and compare them. Each should include costs for special services you may require.
3. Give the mover at least 30-45 days notice and some choice of moving days.
4. Carefully read over the Order For Service before signing it.
5. Be sure you have adequate liability coverage with the moving company to cover your shipment.
6. Accompany the mover when the inventory is taken.
7. Be prepared to pay by cash, money order, or certified check on delivery day.
8. Promptly file all claims for loss or damage.

Major moving companies have packets of information to help guide you through the process of moving: How to pack for moving, things to do before and after the move, liability insurance protections available, answers about moving pets and other helpful hints. The Interstate Commerce Commission also supplies movers with a handbook for Consumers called "Your Rights and Responsibilities When You Move." Be sure to ask for it if you are contemplating an interstate move. It is full of a wealth of information, including how to ask for arbitration when damage disputes don't get answered.

The Attorney General also has an information sheet called "Making the Right Move." Attorney General Jim Doyle urges consumers to spend time selecting a mover and to pay attention to details about the condition of your belongings. To file a complaint with him, contact Consumer Protection, P.O. Box 7856, Madison, Wisconsin 53707-7856 or call 608-266-1852. Those outside the Madison area call toll-free 1-800-362-8189.

The Transportation Commission can answer questions dealing with intrastate moving. They issue an Authority to intrastate moving companies, but do not regulate routes or rates. They have on file information about whether or not the mover has insurance, complaints by consumers and evidence of patterns of poor service by certain companies. Will Kapke of the Transportation Commission stated that they mediate complaints and may refer a case to small claims court, or recommend that a case be dropped. Because of Wisconsin's open records law, consumers may receive information about a mover by contacting the Transportation Commission.

The public library also has books on moving. West Bend Library has a book entitled "The Ins and Outs of Moving" by Robert S. Rosefsky. It is written by a financial advisor, banker, columnist and lawyer and shows how to organize every aspect of moving to save money, time and effort.

Being aware and informed before you move will help you say "It was the right move."

'Older Workers, Changing Careers' Available at UWVC

There's an older man, who lives in the Germantown area, who drives his Mercedes to work at a local grocery store. He jokes that he's the only stock boy in Wisconsin who drives a Mercedes.

There's a woman who lives in a West Bend condo who recently retired as an executive secretary after 23 years. Now she is a "delivery lady" for a local drug store and also works as a ticket and concession helper at a local theatre.

What do these two people have in common? They are part of a huge pool of workers in Washington County who retire and then decide to go back to work on either a paid or volunteer basis.

The University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County Continuing Education Extension has planned a special two-evening program "Older Workers... Changing Careers" to be held on Tuesday evenings, October 20 and 22, from 7 to 9 p.m., in Room 259. The program fee is $10 a session.

Highlights of the program will be understanding the value of past experiences, work ethic, and maturity. There will be a focus on exploring second-career opportunities and on strategies to use in marketing yourself and your skills. A special segment of the program will deal with recognizing age discrimination in the employment process.

The program presenter is Debra Berndt, PhD, who is a career planning specialist with Berndt Associates. For further information call Joan Laabs or Laurie Meacham at 335-5208.

Fall Into Winter Art Classes Available at West Bend Gallery

It's a New Song and Dance Routine

The Kettle Moraine Squares share their love for dancing at the Washington County Fair in Slinger.

Most people think of square dancing as dancing the old-fashioned way with do-sa-do and grand right and left like they learned it in school. Think again! Today, modern Square Dancing is growing and changing from the old format used at barn dances. Modern Square Dancing happens in school halls, dance halls, resorts, and even on cruise ships. Here are some of the reasons why you should give modern Square Dancing a try.

1. Square dancing is party time every time you do it. It brings people together for fun and fellowship. This fun starts on the very first night of lessons.

2. You meet new people and make new friends.

3. Modern Square Dancing is a mental as well as physical challenge.

4. Square Dancing is for couples, families, and singles.

5. It's a great mental diversion from your daily problems at home or at work.

6. Square dancing can become a life long activity.

7. Square Dancing helps build self confidence, self esteem, and patience when working with others.

8. Learning to Square Dance opens a whole new world of opportunities for fun and fellowship.

9. Where ever you travel, you will be able to Square Dance - in other states and in many countries around the world. It's all in English so no language problem exists.

10. All types of music are used today - Golden Oldies, Fifties, to current hits such as Achey Breaky Heart. All ages can find music they like at a modern Square Dance.

Why not give Square Dancing a try? There will be a FREE TRY IT on Sunday, September 13 from 7:00 - 9:00. For more information call 334-7156 or 334-2292. But don't be surprised if we're not home. We're probably out square dancing. Just leave a message and we'll get back to you. The Free Try It will be at Trenton Town Hall, 1071 Hwy. 33 (east of the airport).

Adolescent Growth Needs More Calcium

It's an old joke: Teen-agers eat just once a day... all day long.

Adolescents need additional calories for energy, growth and development. For boys ages 11-14, the Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) is 2,500 calories a day; at ages 15-18, they need 3,000 calories a day. The RDA for girls ages 11-18 is 2,200 calories a day.

But nutrition experts at the Dairy Council of Wisconsin (DCW) say it's important that those calories come from foods that also supply the nutrients their growing bodies need. Studies indicate that teen-agers especially need to increase their intake of calcium.

Calcium needs increase during adolescence because of the dramatic growth of the skeleton. For girls, especially, it is important to build bone mass to reduce the risk of developing osteoporosis. Although the current RDA for calcium is 1,200 milligrams a day for both boys and girls ages 11-18, some researchers suggest that adolescents increase their calcium intake to 1,500 milligrams in order to increase their bone mass and possibly reduce fractures later in life.

Milk, cheese, yogurt and other dairy products are the best sources of dietary calcium. In fact, dairy products account for 75 percent of the calcium supply available in Americans' diets. To achieve their RDA, adolescents need to consume four servings daily from the dairy food group, two 8-ounce glasses of milk, a cup of yogurt and 1½ ounces of cheese, for example.

To boost their calcium intake, teens can follow these tips from DCW nutrition experts:

*When eating away from home, have a cheeseburger instead of a hamburger.

*Choose tacos or pizza, or have chili with cheese.

*Ask for chocolate milk or a milkshake instead of a soft drink.

*For a cool treat, choose ice cream, frozen yogurt or a "frosted malt cup" instead of flavored ices.

*At home, add a cup of yogurt to your own blender milkshake.

Adolescents, and their parents, need to be aware of eating patterns that often prevent teens from getting the nutrients they need. Skipping meals and consuming "fast" foods may stand in the way of a nutritionally adequate diet. That's why it's so important to balance their selections away from home with foods served at home. Like adults, adolescents need a variety of foods from all five food groups; meat and meat alternatives, fruits, vegetables, cereals and other grains, and dairy products.

What about snacking?

DCW nutrition experts say that snacking can help adolescents meet their high energy requirements, and needn't be discouraged as long as it contributes to a teen's nutrient intake.

Dairy Council of Wisconsin (DCW) is a non-profit nutrition and marketing association whose work in Wisconsin, northern Illinois and northwestern Indiana is made possible through funds provided by dairy farmers.

ME AND MY DAD

by June Sandra Karshen

And even when Dad wasn't conditioning for the Big Event, he was involved in some other activity. Although he never followed a specific regimen, he enjoyed swimming, bicycling and hiking, and he always found time to lift weights and do chin-ups from a bar he had hanging in our garage. Perhaps it was those years of discipline which maintained his slender frame and youthful face, and helped to disguise the two generations between us.

Now his life on earth was coming to a close. He never cries. Nor is he filled with self-pity. He actually smiled when he told me the news. Looking at his face I knew I had seen that smile before. Not on him, but on Mom.

I was home from college for the weekend. Born a late riser, I awakened unusually early one Saturday morning to find that neither of my parents were home. As I looked out the front window, I could see them coming up the drive. Standing at the doorway, Dad saw me waiting and oddly ran into the garage crying. Smiling, Mom told me they had decided to go to the hospital to pick up some medicine.

I was to find out later that my mother was receiving chemotherapy treatments twice daily. By looking at her radiant face you never would have known. Years later I was seeing that smile again. I shall never forget this one either.

"How could you do this to me? How can you be so selfish!" "Whatever it takes. Whatever needs to be done. That's the way it's going to be. Sandy, you just don't understand."

I was furious with my dad. I was also hurt and scared. Dad had just filled out a life support document with his doctor. I vowed to keep out of Dad's decision on this matter, yet when I saw his wishes written down in black and white, I broke my promise and confronted him.

I knew what lie ahead. I had seen a man in the hospital with the same disease as my fathers, only at a later stage. He was bedridden, unable to move, eat, or even speak. He had machinery next to his bed. I didn't know what it was for but I assumed it was keeping him alive. He had a visitor. I wonder if he knew it.

By deciding to have every possible measure taken to prolong his life, my dad was asking me to watch him in this state. I thought, "he must fear death and if he can't accept his fate, how was I to?"

I screamed at him, but his temperament never rose to mine as it so often did. He was calm and definitive with no explanation. I decided to let the matter drop, but my thoughts continued.

This didn't make any sense! I remember the day, years ago, when my dad told me he was taking his hunting dog, Bodo, to the vet to be put to sleep. The dog wasn't mine, he was Dad's, yet I began to cry. Dad got angry. Frustrated, he told me that Bodo could no longer hunt and "a German shorthair lives for that... it's in their blood! Bodo's in pain and it's not right to keep him alive!"

I also vividly recall what he said to me shortly after my mother's death. "We were blessed because your mother never had any pain. I don't think I could have ever watched that."

A few months passed since my outburst. Dad and I had decided to stop off at the cemetery to visit Mom. As I helped Dad down the steps, tears came to my eyes as I realized that the last time we were there together, he didn't need my assistance. He had grown weak so quickly.

I let him walk ahead of me as I did not want him to see me crying. Standing in front of Mom's headstone he bowed his head in prayer. He looked so peaceful and contented... as if he were watching her sleep. After a few moments, he lifted his head and saw me watching him. "Well Sandy, pretty soon I'll be resting right alongside your mother."

I had nothing to say. Driving out of the cemetery he spoke gently when he said, "I want to stick around until you get that job you so have your heart set on. I want to make sure everything is going smoothly. And then it will be time for me to join your mom." I now understand.

"When it's time for me to go to the Happy Hunting Pheasant Grounds, I want to be wearing my gray suit. I'd like a Catholic service and make it short. The shorter the better. Okay Sandy?" "Okay, Dad."

I remember how he tenderly took care of Bodo after he was put to rest. Not allowing the vet to make arrangements, Dad insisted on burying Bodo on our vacation property in Kewaskum, Wisconsin, where Bodo had always run so freely in his prime. Dad handled everything by himself and once Bodo was gone, he never discussed the matter again.

Weeks later, accompanying Dad on one of his weekend visits to the country, I took a long walk in our woods. I came across the spot where Bodo lie and there was a wooden cross that Dad must have hammered together. Draped over it was Bodo's dog collar.

Knowing what the future had to bring, I decided to handle all matters pertaining to my dad in advance. Some have thought me terrible in my preparations, but I had been through this once before, after the fact, and I didn't want to make the same decisions in such a state. I knew what Dad wanted and I methodically carried out his wishes.

Planning Mother's funeral was so different. I was numb, yet I couldn't stop crying throughout the entire conversation with the funeral director. When it came time to choose her casket the director looked at me and said, "maybe you should wait out here." "No," my dad interrupted, "let Sandy choose the one she wants."

Surprisingly, I wasn't overwhelmed at the sight of so many coffins, all in one room. One immediately caught my eye. At a closer look I saw a tree on a poster she had hung on the inside of her bedroom door. Shown amidst a colorful sunset were written the words, "I'm not afraid of tomorrow, for I have seen yesterday and I love today."

My thoughts jumping back and forth from past to present, I explained to the funeral director how my father had been born and raised a Catholic, converted to Wisconsin Lutheran Synod when he married Mom, and wanted to go home a Catholic. "We could make a few changes in case someone would feel uncomfortable with a service of a different faith." I told him that wouldn't be necessary.

I remembered the story my father told our family when questions arose as to his change of faith. "During the war, when a group of us would come to a village or town, if we saw a rabbi, a priest or a pastor, we would run to him and get down on our knees. All of us, regardless of what our faith. We thanked God that we were still alive."

"Sandy, you've made your decision. Follow your instincts and to hell with what anyone else thinks. You said it was going to be tough. You can't give up. If someone punches you in the belly, you take a deep breath and get back out there... show 'em what you're made of. Learn to be more patient. And watch that temper of yours. You don't get angry often, but when you get angry... you really get angry. I want you to work on your weaknesses. We don't learn from praise, we learn from constructive criticism."

Dad is my toughest critic and my strongest advocate. I shall miss having him tell me on one of our car rides that I tap dance on the accelerator and when did I learn to be such a lousy driver. I shall miss having him tell me to talk louder because he can't hear me and then later ask me why I'm shouting because I'm hurting his ears.

I shall miss having him tell an entire group of people in a public place to stand back because his daughter just ate garlic, and he's hoping he's embarrassed her enough to never eat it again. But most of all I shall miss that endearing face that tells me things will turn out just as I want... I'm to wait and see. "Everything will be all right. Mark my words."

We've been fortunate, me and my dad. We've had time for understanding and peace. If I were to have any regrets, it would be that we didn't reach this point earlier in life. Disregarding what family and friends always told me, I chose to believe that which was on the surface, never going deeper. My father points this out to me often, saying that I should not make judgements about others unless I'm aware of all the facts. I know he is right.

I will always remember my father as someone who doesn't wear his heart on his sleeve. But when he does love, he loves with all his heart.

"Sandy, do you know what the priest said to me the other day?" "No Dad, what did he say?" "He said, 'John, you sure are a tough old bird!'" I'll agree with that. How about a pheasant? Could it be that the bird whose pursuit Dad enjoyed the most was similar to him in character?

Think about it. A pheasant can never be tamed, yet they adapt well to different environments. They're smart, quick, and challenging to the hunter. They have strength and endurance, fleeing from predators any way they can without ever giving up. Tempting fate, they have been known to fly fearlessly in front of a hunter and his dog. I guess you could say that a pheasant has courage.

WCRTA to Meet

Washington County Retired Teachers will begin their 1992-93 season of meetings and activities at 9 a.m. on September 15, at Cedar Ridge, 113 Cedar Ridge Drive, West Bend. As usual, fellowship and coffee will precede the program scheduled for 9:30 a.m.

Guest for the day will be the newly appointed Executive Director of the WREA, Mrs. Jane Elmer, who will speak on current issues of interest to the group. Members will also view a brief history of the Wisconsin Retired Educators Association.

The annual budget will be voted on at the business meeting that follows the program. WCRTA's membership list is being updated and all members are reminded to return their data information forms to Delora Young, 6971 Lark Ave., Hartford, WI 53027, by September 1, 1992.

Luncheon will close the morning's activities. Reservations, at $6.00 per person, should be mailed to Barbara Curley, 413 Douglas Lane, Cedarburg, WI 53012, no later than Sept. 5.

BEE STINGS

Apply a poultice of baking soda and water. Or, try applying a fresh cut slice of raw onion to the sting to help draw out the poison. Hold the onion in place with tape.

Providing Appropriate After-School Child Care Can Sometimes Be Difficult

When your child enters school for the first time, you may think your day care problems are over.

But finding high-quality, fun care for school-aged children can be even more challenging than finding good preschool care.

"A lot of parents are in for a rude awakening as their children start school," said Jan Felthous, University of Wisconsin Extension Summer Home Economist.

"Because most kindergarten programs in the state are half-day, many parents find themselves driving children around in the morning, at noon and after school. Even parents of older children have a hard time providing the supervision they believe their children need."

Dave Riley, UW-Extension child development specialist, said most Wisconsin families now include either two working parents or a working single parent. But the school calendar and school day are still based on the assumption that one parent is home during the day.

As a result, a recent UW-Extension study of 18,000 Wisconsin families shows one in 10 third graders are on their own after school at least part of the week. More than one in five first graders is in the care of a sibling after school.

Jan Felthous said research shows leaving children at home alone when they aren't ready can lead to problems including:

-Physical harm from increased risk of accidental injuries or from friends or strangers.

-Mental harm from feelings of depression, boredom or fear.

-Developmental harm from lack of stimulation and vandalism and early sexual activity in adolescents.

Jill Steinberg, UW-Extension research assistant, said the number of school-aged programs in the state is growing. UW-Extension has worked with communities to establish more than 50 programs statewide during the past few years.

"The needs of school-aged children are different from the needs of younger children," she said.

"Older kids need some sense of privacy and independence, so the best programs for elementary-aged kids are child-driven. They provide hands-on activities and plenty of choices in a safe setting.

But chances are by the upper elementary years, kids are going to start lobbying their parents to stay home on their own."

That's not a bad sign, according to Riley. He said a desire to stay alone can signal maturity and growing independence. But he said parents should ask a few questions before letting a child stay home alone.

-Is your child trustworthy? Can he or she follow directions and household rules?

-Can your child rely on you, even when you are at work? Can your child reach you by phone? Can you get home from work at a scheduled time?

-Is there a neighbor or friend your child can call as a backup?

-Do you monitor your child even when you are at work? For instance, do you leave notes and directions? Can you call to check on your child? Are there household responsibilities and rules you expect your child to adhere to?

-Are both you and your child ready to try an independent arrangement?

Riley suggested setting up a trial period, then discussing it to see if both parent and child were comfortable with the arrangement.

For more information on how parents and children can prepare for staying home alone, a 12-part series of fact sheets called "Keys for Kids" is available from Washington County Cooperative Extension office.

For more information on after-school child care programs in your county, contact Jan Felthous, Summer Extension Home Economist, at 335-4479 or 333 East Washington Street, West Bend, WI 53095.

Indians Second in VB Invitational

The Kewaskum volleyball team got its season underway this past Saturday, when it hosted the annual Indian Invitational. The Indians took second in the meet, which was won by fellow Eastern Wisconsin Conference member Kiel. Left, Julie Mertz (5) battles at the net against the Raiders, while Beth Kempf (15) looks on; right, Mertz does the watching, as teammate Christa Schmidt returns a serve.

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Kewaskum volleyball mentor Dave Rizzardi was satisfied with what he saw on Saturday in the annual Indian Invitational, although he would much rather seen the Indians take first.

"I am happy with our start," Rizzardi said regarding the Indians' second place showing in the meet. Kiel, which won the Invite a couple of years back, cap-tered first once again, finishing the round-robin play with a 5-1 mark. Kewaskum was next with 4-2, while Chilton took third (2-4), and Campbellsport fourth (1-5).

The Indians were responsible for the lone blemish on the Raiders' record. The two teams met in the first round, with Kiel winning the first game 15-13, and the Indians taking the second, 15-6.

"We came out slow," Rizzardi said of the first-game loss to Kiel. "We were a bit tentative out there, being the first match and all." Rizzardi had nothing but praise for Kiel, though, noting "I think they could beat anyone (in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference) on a given night."

Next up for the Indians was Chilton, which had split with Campbellsport the first round. Chilton took advantage of Indians mistakes in the first game, winning 15-8, while the Indians rallied in the second game, winning, 15-9.

"We weren't ready to play," Rizzardi said of the loss to the Tigers. "They served well, and we just committed too many errors."

Those mental errors were few and far between in the Indians' final match with Campbellsport. Kewaskum had no trouble at all with the Cougars, taking the first game 15-3, and the second 15-1.

The Indians' setters, namely Kim Sabish and Rachelle Krahn "were doing a lot of work," Rizzardi said, with each learning to adjust to a new offense this year. Also praised by Rizzardi was Julie Mertz, "who played her steady, strong game at the net, although the Indian boss added, "her timing was a little bit off."

"We didn't gel quite the way I had hoped we would," Rizzardi went on, adding that the team "has to learn to play together on the floor." He noted that the team should enjoy a great deal of success, but only "when we start meshing."

The Indians will get that opportunity this week, as they dive into EW action on Tuesday against Two Rivers, and then Thursday when they travel to Plymouth.

RIPON — Despite the rains that came later in the evening, the Kewaskum girls tennis team successfully opened their season here, last Thursday afternoon, against the non-conference Ripon Tigers.

Kewaskum was victorious at all four singles spots on their way to a 5-2 victory over the tigers, who were unable to win a set at any singles spot.

No. 1 player Melissa Rohrer began her sophomore campaign right where she left off last season, as Rohrer dominated Michelle Soeller, 6-0, 6-0.

Seniors Jenny Thull and Karyn Dossinger, at No. 2 and 3, also had an easy time in their respective matches, with Thull beating Christina Skoog 6-3, 6-0, and Dossinger overpowering Gloria Biffert 6-3, 6-1.

The No. 4 spot, which was up for grabs, might have found an occupant, as Meredith Frac, a sophomore, disposed of Crystal Stoffuss quite easily, 6-1, 6-0.

The lone Indian win in doubles competition occurred at no. 3, where, Terry Roe and Kate Berres teamed to beat Laura Herriot and Maria Ramos, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

KEWASKUM 5, RIPON 2

No. 4 - Meredith Frac beat Crystal Stoffuss, 6-1, 6-0.

DOUBLES - No. 1 - Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank lost to Becky Larson and Anne Sina, 3-6, 2-6.

No. 2 - Lisa Berres and Anne Mertz lost to Katie Boesch and Joy Christian-son, 5-7, 3-6;

No. 3 - Terry Roe and Kate Berres beat Laura Herriot and Maria Ramos, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Indians Second at County Tennis

By Statesman Staff Writer

WEST BEND — With much of their focus on the start of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference race, the Kewaskum girls tennis team was just looking to fare well in the annual Washington County Tennis Meet.

The Indians finished right around where they had expected to, taking fourth with 14 total points. The pair of West Bend schools took top honors, with East winning with 38 points, and West second with 25. Germantown was third (16), followed by the Indians, and Hartford and Slinger, each with 11.

Several Indians did well in the meet, headed by Jenny Thull's second place finish at No. 2 singles. After getting a bye in the first round, Thull beat Hartford's Sara Luthi 6-4, 6-4, to earn a spot in the championship against Katie Hillman of West Bend East. Hillmann dominated, however, winning 6-2, 6-1.

A pair of sophomores picked up points, as Melissa Rohrer wound up third at No. 1 singles. Rohrer lost her first set against Hartford's Sally Fredrickson 1-6, but stormed back to win the match 1-6, 6-0, 6-2. After losing to Germantown's Heather Mackson in the semi's, Rohrer decisively took care of Slinger's Jennifer Berends 6-0, 6-0 for third.

No. 4 singles Meredith Frac also took third, getting a bye in the first round. After losing to Jenny Schmidt, the eventual No. 4 champ, Frac bested Germantown's Heidi Wilke for third, 6-3, 6-0.

At No. 3 singles, the Indians' Karyn Dossinger took the consolation championship by beating Melanie Moser of Slinger, 6-3, 6-1, while the No. 1 doubles combo of Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank also won the consolation title, beating a Germantown duo. The Indians No. 2 doubles team, Jenefer Van Assche and Lisa Berres, took fourth.

Kickoff Sets Tone As the Cougars Blast Indians, 26-8

By Statesman Sports Writer

CAMPBELLSPORT - It may not have been the backbreaker, although you would have a hard time trying to convince that to the Kewaskum football team and its coaches Friday night.

It was an 88-yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Campbellsport's Jason Meyer on the first play of the game against the Indians. And while the Indians certainly had ample time to recover from the shock of the play, they didn't, and the play helped the Cougars defeat Kewaskum, 26-8.

"That really stunned us," Indian coach Clark Pearson said of the touchdown return. "It was real demoralizing. We didn't recover from it... but that's no excuse."

No excuse at all, considering that the hosts dominated the game, both offensively and defensively. The Cougars outgained the Indians by more than a 2-1 margin, including a 200+ yard advantage on the ground.

"They beat us at the line of scrimmage," Pearson said of the Cougar dominance. "We didn't get off the ball nearly as well as we did in our scrimmage (against West Bend East and West). We took a big step backwards."

The kickoff merely set the tone of the game, as Campbellsport dominated even the special teams' action early on. The Cougars blocked Aaron Rettler's first-quarter punt, setting up shop inside the Indians' 40 yard line. Jeff Birschbach, a 200 pound fullback, bullied his way to paydirt from 11 yards out, giving the Cougars a 12-0 lead.

The Indians, meanwhile, had their difficulties on offense. Todd Muckerheide, the Indians' muckhorse fullback, finished the game with just nine yards rushing on seven carries. "He just didn't get any running room whatsoever. There were just no holes."

Meyer helped make it 20-0, Cougars, as he bolted into the end zone from seven yards out midway through the third quarter, with the hosts making good on the two-point attempt. Tom Kohlmann then intercepted a Jim Marx pass and returned it 46 yards for the final Campbellsport score, midway through the final stanza.

"We had pretty good pass protection," Pearson said, adding that both of Marx's interceptions on the night "were tipped." The Indians lone score on the evening was Mark Strobel's 20 yard return of a blocked punt with just over 3:00 to play. Jim Rix added the two-point conversion with a short run.

Dan Schulteis, who got credit for the blocked punt, "did a real nice job on defense," according to Pearson. Junior defensive back Beau Coulter also "had a couple fo good, solid hits." But the Indian boss added, "We obviously can't give up 26 points a game."

Offensively, "I wasn't pleased at all," Pearson noted. "There were just too many mental mistakes. I thought we'd be able to run the ball better than we did... I was very disappointed in our running game. We have a lot of work to do."

Rettler, an offensive end, did catch three passes for 28 yards in a good showing.

Meyer, meanwhile, finished with over 100 yards rushing. "He played very well," Pearson said of the quick Cougar back. "He ran real hard."

Obviously, the Indians have a lot of work ahead of them this week as they prepare to host Horicon, this Friday night. Horicon, who lost to Columbus, 29-12 last Friday, is coming off of a fine season which saw them qualify for the WIAA playoffs last fall.

"They have a wide-open offense," Pearson said of the Marshmen, who run a variation of the run-and-shoot. "They threw the ball 35 times against Columbus," he said, pointing out that pass defense will be a key in this week's game.

Athletics Begin RR Championships

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Because the Kewaskum High School has a football game scheduled for the previous day, the Kewaskum Athletic baseball team will play their home games in the Rock River Grand Championships at West Bend's Carl Kuss Memorial Field.

The Athletics will host either Hustisford, Clymann or Johnson Creek in their first Rock River showdown on Saturday, Sept.

Athletics Lose To Slinger, 12-7

By Statesman Sports Writer

SLINGER - It really wasn't a game that the Kewaskum Athletics baseball team needed to win, and that was fortunate for the A's.

Fortunate because Slinger needed to win, and that's just what the Rams did, posting a 12-7 victory over the A's, thus qualifying for the final spot in the Rock River Grand Championships.

The Athletics had already qualified, by virtue of their first place finish in the Rock River Northern Division. The A's finished the regular season with a 12-4 record, while the win gave Slinger an 11-5 mark.

The A's led 3-2 after two innings, but the Slinger bats came alive in the fourth, when they erupted for four runs to take a 6-3 lead. Slinger added five more in the sixth, with Rob Michels hitting a two-run double, and Don Held added a two-run homer.

The Athletics chipped away at the deficit, and looked to get right back into it in the eighth, when they loaded the bases, only to have a stellar defensive play by Dave Geldnick spoil their hopes. Geldnick robbed Mark Schlosser of a grand slam with an over-the-fence grab that would have made it 12-9. Instead, the A's settled for a single, and the A's trailed 12-5. Rick Peck hit a homer in the ninth, but it wasn't enough for Kewaskum.

Tim Heberer took the loss for the A's, as he couldn't get out of the fourth inning jam. Offensively for Kewaskum, Doug Gonring, Dave Donath and Terry Koth each had a pair of hits.

5th, beginning at 1:30.

The A's will also take on Rock River's Southern Division champ Watertown the following day at Lebanon, also at 1:30.

Alcohol, Cigarettes May Be Linked To Eye Disease Say UW Researchers

Smoking and heavy drinking, already linked to heart disease and hypertension, appear to be associated with a form of cataracts, a common age-related eye disease, according to preliminary observations by two eye researchers at the University of Wisconsin Medical School.

Drs. Ronald and Barbara Klein, both professors of ophthalmology at UW Medical School, say they'll further investigate their findings as they enter the second phase of the Beaver Dam Eye Study, a research effort involving 4,926 city and township residents of Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, between 43 and 86 years of age. The study, aimed at determining the incidence of major eye diseases and their underlying causes, has been re-funded with a five-year $3 million grant from the National Eye Institute.

During the first phase of the study, which began in 1988, those people who smoked cigarettes and drank alcohol four or more times daily were observed to have a higher prevalence of nuclear sclerotic cataracts, which cloud the center part of the eye's lens, than those who didn't smoke, and those who drank moderately or who didn't drink at all.

"We have observed what appear to be associations, but now we need to find out whether smoking and those other factors reported at the first examinations really predict the onset of cataracts at followup," said Dr. Ronald Klein.

As part of that investigation, the Kleins, who are husband and wife, will begin re-examining all of the Beaver Dam Eye Study participants early next year. This second examination will provide further insight into the incidence and progression of cataracts, age-related macular degeneration and glaucoma, two other leading causes of blindness.

Researchers will also be looking at a variety of medical, lifestyle and genetic factors that may be associated with these eye diseases, according to Barbara Klein. In addition to smoking and heavy drinking, these include cardiovascular disease, medication use, family history, exposure to ultra-violet light, physical activity and diet.

Other preliminary findings of the Beaver Dam Eye Study include:

*Diabetes appears to be related to age-related macular degeneration in men, but not women. In addition, there seems to be strong family tendency for this eye disease.

*The frequency of cataracts and glaucoma was higher among women than men. Fifty-one percent of the family study participants had cataracts, compared to 40 percent of men. The frequency of glaucoma, while much lower, affected 2.5 percent of the female study participants and 1.3 percent of men.

Allmann's Named Premier Breeder at Wisconsin State Fair 4th Year in a Row

The Wisconsin State Fair has named Allmann's Home Haven Farm of Kewaskum Premier Columbia Breeder for 1992. This is the fourth consecutive year that the Wisconsin State Fair has awarded the premier breeder plaque to the Allmann's. The award is based on the total premium money awarded for animals exhibited in the performance classes. Allmann's won 8 of 8 first place awards. They included first place for performance yearling ram, yearling ewe, fall ram, fall ewe, winter ram, winter ewe, spring ram and spring ewe.

In addition to winning each of the performance classes, Allmann's also showed the first place fall ram in the open class division and the first place fall ram and first place fall ewe in the Wisconsin class division, for a total of 11 first places.

Home Haven Farm is owned by George and Anne Allmann of Hickory Drive, Kewaskum. They have exhibited at the Wisconsin State Fair the past six years.

T's Lounge Wins Tuesday Title

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — T's Lounge completed the second step on the way to winning all three nights in the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association softball leagues at the Kiwanis Community Park.

Tuesday night, T's Lounge II, the regular season champion, had to battle from behind on their way to beating C.C. Cody's for the Tuesday night men's championship, played in a heavy rain last week.

T's faced an uphill battle because C.C. Cody's used a late charge to win the opening game of the best 2-out-of-3 series, by a 6-1 count. Cody's scored four runs in the top of the seventh to break open a one-run game, and held on for the win.

In the second game, C.C. Cody's once again got out to an early lead, jumping on top 5-1 after three innings. But T's chipped away, scoring two runs in the fourth to cut the deficit in half.

T's finally overtook Cody's in the sixth, as walks and a couple of untimely errors hurt Cody's, which gave up three runs in the inning, and trailed 6-5. T's Lounge held on the final two innings, forcing a third and deciding game.

That battle was no contest, however, as Cody's never got untracked offensively, and T's came out on top in a 6-0 decision to win the title. Campbellsport Building Supply, which lost to C.C. Cody's the previous week, took third place.
