Peace Church Volunteers Knit Warm Gifts for Needy Children

Members and friends of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum have again knit a bonanza of mittens, hats and scarves for the inner-city school children of Milwaukee. Each winter the total of warm gifts has increased; the 1992 total has reached 538 items. These have been delivered to School Social workers in Milwaukee by Pastor James and Betty Bettin, making it possible this year to help clothe grade school children in four schools as freezing temperatures bring ongoing emergency needs through the winter months. Riley School, Allen-Field School, and Honey Creek School are three of the areas served. Allen-Field is on the near-South side of Milwaukee in a predominantly Hispanic neighborhood, while Riley and Honey Creek enroll both black and white boys and girls. The gifts go where the needs arise.

Lorena Wagner of Kewaskum produced a record 200 pairs of mittens, while Rose Wagner of Lafayette, Indiana sent 250 caps from her busy needles. Several Peace Church knitters brought assorted items including matched mitten, scarf, and hat sets. Interested non-knitters contributed yarn. Peace Church Women's Guild first sponsored this project over ten years ago with Lorena Wagner and Betty Clark leading the effort.

Each year, heartfelt thanks are received from grateful teachers and children in Milwaukee. The school workers term the gift "incredible"; the knitters called it "a task Christ calls us to do."

Additional Teaching Help at FES Rejected for Now School Board Passes Human Growth, Development Curriculum

By Noel Stollenwerk

The Kewaskum School Board unanimously approved a curriculum presented by the Human Growth and Development committee, which spent over six years developing the plan.

"I know it has not been an easy task," Board President Neal Weare told the committee members present at last Monday night's meeting. Weare and other Board members repeatedly commended the committee for their efforts, adding that "the best interests of the students and community" were served.

The plan covers topics for students in K-12 and is a general rational, intelligent approach to growth and development, according to board member John Schulte. "I wouldn't want a comprehensive program," Schulte added, meaning that he wouldn't want the curriculum to get too specific.

Schulte asked the committee if they were satisfied with the plan, to which Gail Van Ess replied "I feel very comfortable with the proposal we're presenting you." Van Ess was joined by the committee chairpersons, Carol Martin and Ann Enright, as well as curriculum coordinator Connie Strand, in making the presentation.

Board member Ruth Schmidt noted that the curriculum should be "a changing document," and reviewed semi-annually. After being assured that there was an appeal process, in which parents and concerned citizens could challenge any portion of the plan they objected to, Schmidt made the motion to pass the curriculum. Ron Beimborn, who also served on the committee, seconded it, and the Board approved 7-0.

In another important decision, the Board rejected a motion by Jean Goeden to hire additional teaching help at Farmington Elementary School, where there are presently 57 students in two fourth-grade classes.

District Administrator David Heather brought the problem before the Board, and recommended that an additional aide should be hired for the rest of this school year, and then a full-time teacher could be hired for next year, thus splitting the group into three classes.

The problem with the additions is that there is not money allocated in the budget, either for the $6000 in additional aide, or the $11,000 needed for the third teacher.

"Kids should come before money," said Mike Miller, one of several parents who addressed the Board over the situation. Miller, a district Phy.Ed teacher and parent of a fourth-grader at FES, added "somewhere along the line, I think the money could be found if necessary."

Another parent, Diane Susan, said the crowded classrooms hurt her child's ability to learn. "She's not getting the education that she deserves."

Heather said he agreed wholeheartedly with the parent's concerns. "There's nothing better educationally than smaller classes," he said. "There is a marked difference in what they are able to do."

FES principal Tom Larson was on hand, and he noted that there was ample space in the building for another class. "We do have room," he said. "It would be tight," and there would have to

No Property Tax Increase

Village Board Cuts $22,000 from Budget

By Noel Stollenwerk

Responding to requests from taxpayers for a balanced budget, the Village Board last Monday approved cuts totalling $22,000 from the 1993 budget. The cuts thus ensued that there will be no property tax increase.

At the November 30th public hearing on the budget, several taxpayers in attendance voiced their displeasure over a .23 cent tax increase per $1000 of valued property. The Board then voted later that night at the Board meeting to cut the $22,000 needed to offset the increase in taxes.

The Board made good on that promise last Monday, as Board members targeted 21 of the 43 major accounts. Among the items cut were a fence at the village garage, and a wing off of a machinery purchase.

"The cuts were pretty much spread out," Village Administrator Dan Schmidt said.

"Some were cut, and others were just postponed for a year."

The Board also ratified an agreement with the Local 3024, AFSCME Union, which calls for an across the board four-percent increase for village union workers, effective 1-1-92.

The two-year pact calls for a three-percent across the board increase effective 1-1-93, and an additional one-percent increase effective 7-1-93. The across the board increases affects the Department of Public Works, Water and Pollution Control Department, the secretary and custodians at the Municipal Building, and the two librarians.

The Local 3024, AFSCME Union ratified the agreement on Friday, Dec. 11th, after a tentative agreement was reached Dec. 7th. The terms of the agreement are identical to those of the Police Union agreement, and similar in nature to the Salary and Benefit Program.

In other matters, DPW Director Jerry Gilles told the Board that the Department of Natural Resources is proposing an annual fee of $2.50 per household to offset the Department's annual costs. Gilles added that additional testing is being proposed for water utilities that will help add to the costs.

There was also discussion regarding the proposed resurfacing of Fond du Lac Avenue. Mid-State Associates' Gary Brunner was on hand to answer questions from the Board regarding the project. Brunner went over items to be discussed at a public information meeting the following night.

The main concern voiced by the Board had to do with the parking options and their costs. Brunner went on to explain the process involved, reviewing the plans and costs with the Board.

Kewaskum 'Santa' Is 20 Years Old

Kewaskum's very own Santa celebrates 20 years in the business.

by S. Callaway Roznik

Eldred Hauser, Kewaskum, has been playing Santa Claus for twenty years, with little fame or fortune for it. "There's no man that could pay me for what I see on their faces (the children) when they open the door."

It all started two decades ago, when Eldred decided he wanted to hire a Santa for his nieces and nephews. The only one available at the time came from West Bend and with this Santa came a list of fees as long as your arm, charging by the minute for "this and that". "Santa Claus is for the rich kids, and that's not how it's supposed to be!" he told his wife Darlene.

The following year he began his seasonal career by renting a suit, and playing "the jolly old man" himself. They advertised in the paper, and son Eldred became the popular celebrity around the holiday season, not only in the village, but also the surrounding towns.

There was never a charge for his services, and there never will be. Eldred won't hear of it. "My mother said Christmas is for giving, not receiving," he remarks. People always gave him something though, whatever they could afford, whether it be a plate of homemade cookies, a box of hankchiefs, or more.

After a few years, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Edward Schroeder of West Bend, made him his own Velveteen suit, at least two of them as of this date.

Accompanying him throughout the years as official driver for Santa is his brother-in-law, Jerry Eckert of Plymouth. "It's awfully hard for him to get behind the wheel with that big suit on!" laughs Darlene.

The faithful Mrs. Claus helps with wardrobe, makeup, and occasional chaffeur for her famous counterpart. "He really enjoys it," she remarks, "he has to, to give up all his Christmas Eves' with his children, to bring joy to other children." The Hausers have three children of their own.

Eldred traditionally gives of his time, working with the Washington County Dept. of Social Services. He helps deliver presents to needy children, in hopes of brightening their Christmas. He can't help getting emotional about it sometimes. "I wish more people could help with this," Eldred remarks. "Once you see it (the children's conditions) it gives you a different respect for life."

Santa is still available for special appearances this holiday season. The community honors this selfless person for his twentieth year of brightening the spirits of young and old during Christmas, and beyond.

be some re-scheduling done, but "we could work around everything."

Goeden then noted that the same problem existed when her children were in school, and "they need smaller classrooms today just like they did yesterday."

But there was no second to Goeden's motion, thus officially killing it. A motion was later made to put the item on the January agenda, where the discussion will once again be raised.

The Board, in other matters, approved several purchases recommended by the Finance-Transportation-Buildings committee. The Board approved buying a technical cutting torch for the technical education department (at a cost of $2,156.30); a tape back-up system for the computer networks at the high school, elementary school and middle schools ($3618.39); video editing equipment to be used for media classes at KHS ($3280); and an additional two-hour cleaning position at the elementary school ($1850).

Librarian Brings New Ideas to Library

New Kewaskum librarian Nancy Bauer poses beside the Christmas Tree adorned with ornaments made by the children who participated in story hour.

by S. Callaway Roznik

Librarian Nancy Bauer is planning some new and exciting ideas for the coming year at the Kewaskum Public Library.

Since her arrival in August, Nancy has kept busy getting acquainted with our library, the community and its needs. "I really enjoy being here, and I consider this a very nice library," says Bauer.

Previously, Bauer was an art teacher at Wisconsin Dells, then worked as a Children's librarian at Mauston for three years. "The art background is a wonderful help," she says, referring to the "big things" she has planned for the 1993 Summer Library Program.

"We're planning new sessions of story hour for children two and up starting in January." Nancy adds that this is an exciting age for children to start being involved in reading, and going to the library.

Also in the works is a big book sale planned for the end of January. There will be lots of great deals on a variety of books.

Nancy is married and has two children, a son 16, and a daughter 10. Her husband works for the Motor Vehicle Dept. in West Bend.

To feel that you have done what should be done raises you in your own eyes.

Fourth Serigraph Plant Opens in West Bend

WEST BEND — Serigraph, Inc., one of the nation's largest industrial screen and offset printing companies, recently opened the doors to its fourth manufacturing plant here.

The 36,000-square-foot facility is called the Appliance/Computer/Electronics (ACE) Graphics Plant and will produce graphic panels and similar plastic printed products. Those products serve the appliance, electronics, business equipment and computer markets, according to James H. Hutchison, senior vice president, appliance/electronics.

"This plant will help us meet growing customer demands within our group, as well as relieving pressure at our three other West Bend plants," Hutchison said. "Approximately 150 Serigraph employees are transferring from our other facilities to staff the new plant."

Located on a five-acre site in West Bend's South Industrial Park, the facility could be expanded to 72,000 square feet as needed.

Serigraph, with more than 40 years of printing experience, is a major supplier of graphics to the automotive, electronics, appliance, outdoor power equipment, marine, medical equipment and point-of-purchase advertising markets.

Tough Drunk Driving Laws Get Tougher

In proclaiming December as Drunk and Drugged Driving Prevention Month in Wisconsin, Governor Tommy G. Thompson said the month caps off a year during which drunk driving prevention efforts have proliferated across the state.

"1992 has been a banner year in the battle against drunk and drugged drivers, thanks in part to the passage of a new drunk driving law that will make our current laws even tougher and the awarding of sizable federal grants to Wisconsin for anti-drunk driving programs," Governor Thompson said.

Earlier this year, the Governor signed a new drunk driving package that received the unanimous support of both houses of the State Legislature.

Governor Thompson called the new law, known as the Repeat Offender Act, a "get-tougher" measure, with several provisions that add to the state's anti-drunk driving arsenal.

Specifically, the Repeat Offender Act, which goes into effect on January 1, 1993, includes the following "get-tougher" provisions:

- *Increases the penalties for homicide by intoxicated use of a vehicle to 10 years, up from 5;

- *Allows judges to seize and forfeit vehicles of third-time OWI (operating while intoxicated) offenders, and requires vehicle seizure and forfeiture on the fourth and subsequent offenses;

- *Requires judges to order an ignition interlock device or to otherwise immobilize the vehicle of third-time OWI offenders if the vehicle is not seized and forfeited;

- *Lowers the alcohol content (AC) limit for third and subsequent OWI offenders to .08 (the AC limit is .10 for all other drivers);

- *Requires DOT to keep OWIs on a driver's record for 10 years, instead of 5, so that the judge can use the longer record in sentencing an offender;

- *Requires absolute sobriety of occupational license-holders when they drive.

"The new Repeat Offender Act builds on our strong foundation of tough laws against drunk driving. Currently, under Wisconsin's administrative suspension law, drunk drivers lose their license on the spot. On conviction, they face significant fines and, starting with the second conviction, jail time," Governor Thompson said.

"These laws, along with hard-hitting public information campaigns and the work of groups like Mothers Against Drunk Drivers and Business Against Drunk Drivers, have helped to cut drunk driving crashes and fatalities dramatically over the last decade," Governor Thompson emphasized.

Last year, 333 people died and 8,899 people were injured in a total of 12,034 alcohol related crashes. In comparison, 573 died and 18,648 were injured in 26,978 alcohol-related crashes in 1981.

Also this year, Wisconsin was notified that it would receive more than $2 million in alcohol incentive funding over the next two years from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The funding is supporting several innovative anti-drunken driving programs, including: the first-ever study by a state on the use of video cameras to collect evidence at the scene of drunk driving arrest; an "Intensive Supervision" program that works like probation to work with drivers facing charges for a third or subsequent drunk driving offense; and selective drunk driving enforcement activities by law enforcement agencies across the state.

"Wisconsin is truly a national leader in the nation's drunk driving battle. These federally-funded Wisconsin programs can serve as models for other states," the Governor said.

The Governor urged people to take the time during Drunk and Drugged Driving Prevention Month to talk about the dangers of drinking and driving and to take special care during the holiday season to make sure friends and family get home safely from holiday festivities where alcohol is served.

Courtois Closes a Chapter

EDITOR'S NOTE — Mrs. Courtois was the English teacher at Piedmont High School, Oakland, CA, and is the former Diane Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schaefer, natives of Kewaskum. The story is reprinted from The Highlander, the school newspaper and written by two of her former students. It was submitted by "Pat" Peterson.

It is the unusual arrangement of desks that strikes you when you enter room 35. The desks are grouped in a circle, rather than the customary row by row layout. This formation creates an open arena in the center of the room where Mrs. Courtois has invited the ideas of students for thirty-three years. She retires from teaching high school English in June.

Mrs. Courtois was hired in 1959 as an instructor in English and journalism. She has served as advisor to both the "Highlander" and the "Clan-O-Log" during her years at PHS.

Even as a PHS, Mrs. Courtois had a love for teaching. She read avidly and enjoyed playing school with her friends. Her ambitions ranged from the air force, but education remained her primary focus. "I wanted to be many fanciful things," she reminisces, "but I returned to teaching."

Mrs. Courtois began her career in 1955, teaching for one year at a junior high school in Minneapolis. Reflecting back on that early experience as a teacher, Mrs. Courtois says, "...because I survived the first year, I stayed in teaching. It was a pretty difficult year, but I found out what not to do." She then taught for three years at Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin, before coming to teach in Piedmont.

Mrs. Courtois' objective in teaching is to encourage independent thinking. Her class lectures invariably become open discussions, engaging even the most introverted individuals. "My attitude is simple. I want students to be able to think, to question, to see relationships and connections. I don't want students to be receptacles. They need to talk about literature, question what it is they read, figure out things for themselves."

Mrs. Courtois brings to her classes a knowledge of characters, themes, and prose, as well as an informed interest and love of what she teaches. She encourages exploring and sharing different viewpoints. "She commands the best from us and won't accept anything less," comments one student. "She would never allow us to compromise ourselves. She has made us work until we cry for mercy, and we are not always rewarded. Her are not for that is that; that is the way life can be. We all know that she is on our side...she is not some evil teacher out to fail us. She only wants us to live and 'suck the marrow out of life.'"

This student's sentiments echo those of her classmates.

Mrs. Courtois' students are not the only ones who have benefited from her years at PHS. She, too, has gained from her experiences here. She finds enormous joy in seeing her students grow, change, and mature, and is especially satisfied when an ordinary English student comes back from college and says he or she is majoring in a literary field. "Seeing students discover things and knowing that I may have had some part in it is a wonderful feeling. Students give so much to me...they don't know how their enthusiasm and interest in learning affects me."

When asked what she has learned as a teacher, Mrs. Courtois says, "What does one learn in a lifetime? I've learned so much. My students have taught me about myself. I've changed so much, and seen so many changes in the thirty-seven years I've been teaching. I've grown up, am still growing up, and have realized that there is still so much left to know — people, ideas, books, countries."

Next year, Mrs. Courtois plans to exchange houses with a family from England. She hopes to exchange with a Parisian family in the future. Meanwhile, she looks forward to sleeping as long as she wants, doing what she wants when she wants, and living life away from schedules and clocks.

Although Mrs. Courtois has many things to look forward to, her departure from PHS is bittersweet. She recalls her friendships with staff members, particularly Mr. Killian, who was her mentor. She will miss seeing the changes in students and community. When asked her last thoughts on retirement, Mrs. Courtois sighs, "There are so many individual days and people that made my career special, it is difficult to regard one memory as more valuable than the next." Over the years, it is the students who have made her enjoyable, who have kept her enthusiastic, who have given her renewed energy, who have kept her young.

A catalogue of characters runs through our minds as we remember our years as students of Mrs. Courtois: Holden Caulfield, Lennie and George, Hester Prynne, Tess, Billy Budd, Daisy and Tom, Pecola, Ethar Froye, Gregor Samsa, Quera, Lord Jim, Brett, Seymour, the Tiflins, the Compsons. Yet Mrs. Courtois' own unique character is as vivid as that of any of those literary figures. May she meet as many interesting people in her retirement as she has introduced us to in the classroom.

Letter to the Editor:

12-17-92

Just a word of thanks for the recent articles relating to members of my family that appeared in the Statesman. I already have had an exchange of letters with Frank Bremser after you printed that touching story about my father and Frank's navy buddy.

I heard many years ago that my brother Bob was the first service man from Kewaskum and/or Washington County to lose his life in action in either WWI or WWII. I've wondered if he was the first casualty from any war our country was involved in?? Do you know?

I am impressed by the large number of people from our community that were in service - I have saved all the pictures.

As a lad growing up in Kewaskum, I was always fascinated by the sight of first Don, then Bill, sitting at that magical Linotype machine. We also were almost neighbors on West Water St., we knew each other well.

Incidentally, my father would have been 100 years old on Dec. 5 of this year. We celebrated our golden anniversary on Nov. 19.

Kristen Krebs, a senior at Kewaskum High School, was named the Board of Education's Student of the Month for December.

Krebs, the daughter of Edward and Darlene Krebs, has been involved in basketball for two years, band for three years, and participated and did make-up in the school's play.

Outside of school, Kristen has worked with a church youth group, taught bible school, and for the past two summers has spent time at Cedar Haven, a place for children with disabilities.

Kristen was nominated because "she is a hard worker in class, and goes above what is expected," according to one teacher. She has contributed significantly to the preparation for the pre-school program, including previewing computer programs and arranging material for the group.

"She's always positive and makes me want to work harder," one teacher wrote in Krebs' nomination.

Kewaskum Chamber Extends Thanks to All Who Purchased Lights to Help Fund Christmas Parade

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce would like to thank all those who purchased a light on the 'Holiday Magic' Christmas Tree and Memorial Star that has decorated the lawn in front of Valley Bank for the past six weeks.

The tree and star were completely rewired this year and a new star was added to the top of the tree. Almost all of the lights except the green ones, were sold.

All proceeds from the sale of these lights go directly to fund the Christmas parade. With the help of area residents, businesses, and organizations, the parade this year was totally debt free and there is also a little "seed" money to begin the job again next year.

Thank you to the following generous supporters of the Kewaskum Christmas Parade.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Paul Blumer, who passed away, two years ago Dec. 25, 1990:

There are some who miss you sadly,
And find the time long since you went

There are some who think of you always,
And try to be brave and content.

Gone is the face we loved so dear;
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;

'Tis sad but true, we wonder why,
The best are always the first to die.

Deeply missed and loved by Dot and Lisa.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Gene Krause, who passed away twelve years ago, Dec. 25, 1980.

Remembering how it was
When he was holding you back then,

Realizing you can't change the past
Just keep going from where you're at

Because life goes on,
Whether it seems that way or not.

Your broken heart will mend
Because other people care a lot.

Loved and missed by Elaine,
Ken, and Carrie Krause.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our son and brother Don, his wife Mary and their sons Jeff and Tim who left us 25 years ago, Christmas Eve 1967.

This month comes to us with deep regret.

It brings a day we'll never forget.

Many times we've missed you

Many times we've cried

If love alone could have saved you

You never would have died

In life we loved you dearly

In death we love you still

In our hearts you hold a place

That no one else can ever fill

It broke our hearts to lose you

But you did not go alone

For part of us went with you

The day God called you home.

Sadly missed and always remembered by mom, Bonnie

Theusch, brothers Ken, Terry and Alan Theusch, sisters, Jane

Strobel, Phyllis Schwartz and their families.

Panthers Roll Over KHS Matmen

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — It was supposed to be a homecoming of sorts, as the Kewaskum wrestling team made their first home appearance of the season, and their last until Jan. 12th.

But Plymouth spoiled the party here, last Friday night, as the powerful Panthers dominated the Indians 47-15, winning all but four matches.

"They beat us pretty bad," KHS coach John Nell said of the meet. "They are really tough... a real quality team."

Still, a couple of Indians kept rolling right along. At 130 pounds, Mark Dziedzic improved his mark to 5-1 with a tough 6-3 win over the Panthers' Chris Warner. "That was a real good match," Nell said of the battle.

Todd Muckerheide also moved to 5-1, as he pinned Brian Brandt in 5:38. The victory was the lone Indian pinfall of the match.

Chad Muckerheide also came away victorious, posting a 5-2 decision over Paul Robinson. "He handled him pretty well," Nell said of Muckerheide.

Nell was pleasantly surprised with Rich Farchione's performance at 152 pounds. Farchione fell behind early, as Jim Rodriguez scored a pair of takedowns and near-fall points to go up 7-1 after the first period.

But the soph Farchione battled back, scoring a pair of takedowns himself in the second period. After getting near-fall points against Rodriguez, Farchione was up 10-7, and then rode out the rest of the match to score the win.

"He beat a really tough kid...he's (Rodriguez) a real tough competitor," Nell said. "Rich really took it to him. He did a real nice job."

Brad Jackson also performed well, according to his coach, Jackson was pitted against Seth Born, and lost by technical fall 11-1. But the match was much closer, according to the KHS boss.

"Brad did a good job," he said. "He was on his back for the last minute of the match, but he didn't give up and didn't get pinned."

Nell also had words of praise for 171-pounder Mark Morell, who missed most of the week's practices due to illness. Morell took a 4-1 lead in his match against Mike Molder, but was unable to sustain the effort, as he was physically drained and was pinned in the third period.

"He just didn't have any energy left...he was defenseless," Nell said of the senior, who chose the down position in the final period, and wasn't able to escape. "Normally, people have a real tough time keeping Mark down like that."

Nell held defending state champ Josh Kurtz out of the match, after Kurtz failed to make weight for the 145-pound match. Nell says that he has pretty much decided on using Kurtz in the 152-pound slot the rest of the year.

"I think that's the way we'll go," Nell said, noting that Farchione can probably make the 145-pound weight easier.

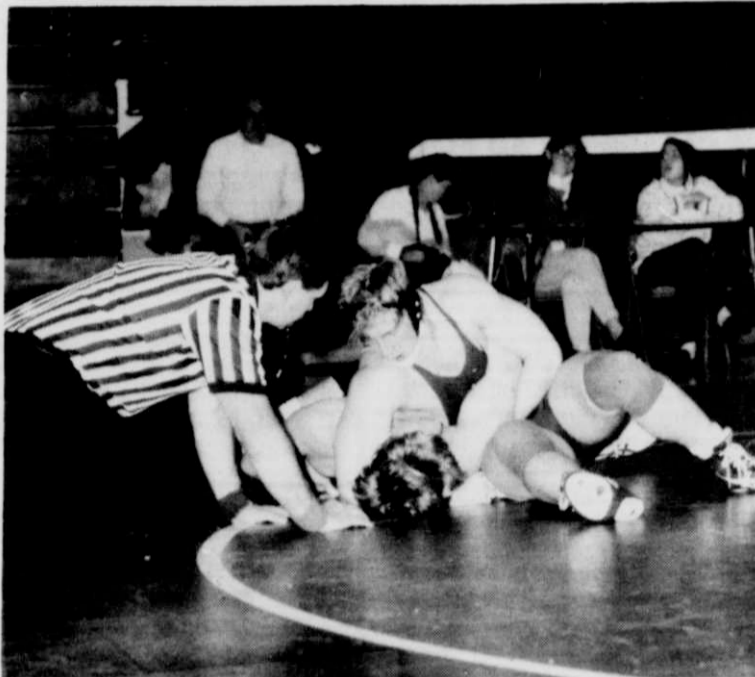

Nell added that he was real pleased with the turnout for the match. "It was a real good crowd," he said, noting that a lot of Plymouth fans made the trip to watch their team as well.

Despite the lopsided loss, Nell is pleased with the progress the team is making. "I thought we'd do a little better," he said. "We'll just keep working hard."

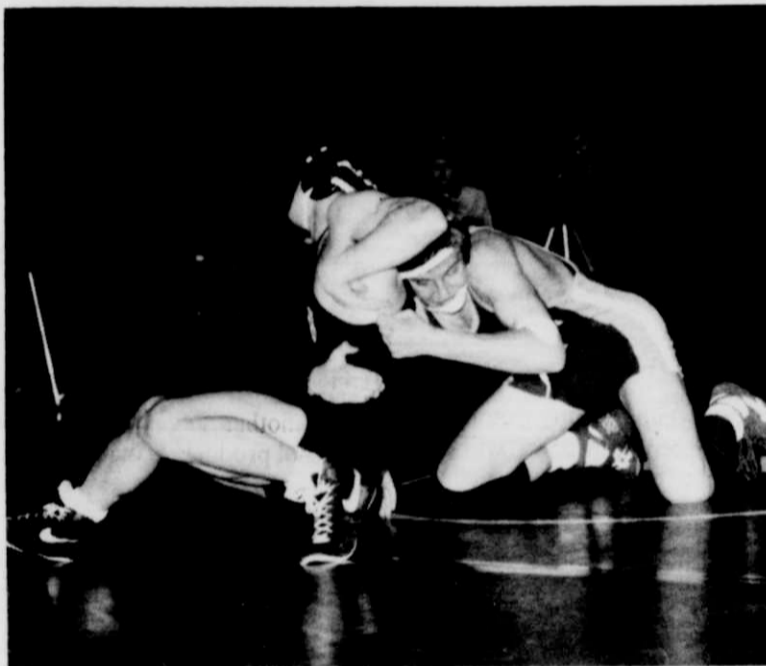

Kewaskum will take part in the Oshkosh Lourdes holiday Tournament on Dec. 29-30, before getting back into Eastern Wisconsin Conference action Jan. 8th at New Holstein.

State Track and Field To Stay at LaCrosse

By Noel Stollenwerk

STEVENS POINT — The nation's oldest track and field state tournament will stay at UW-LaCrosse for another two years.

In action taken by the WIAA Board of Control at their Dec. 4th meeting here, unanimous approval was given to extend the current agreement with UW-LaCrosse to host the combined boys and girls state competition in 1994 and 1995.

UW-LaCrosse was originally given a three-year commitment by the WIAA beginning in 1990, after the event was moved from Madison. In January of 1992, the Board granted a one-year extension for LaCrosse to hold the 1993 meet.

In approving the extension, the Board acted on the recommendation of Executive Director Doug Chickering to keep the state meet at LaCrosse through 1995, citing the continuing commitment by the University to improve the facility. Attendance in 1992 was 10,423, the highest for the state meet during its tenure at LaCrosse.

Chickering said that consideration was and will continue to be given to Mansfield Stadium in Madison as a site for the state meet, where it was held from 1976 through 1989.

The WIAA State Track and Field Tournament is the oldest recognized high school state meet in the nation, with roots dating back to 1895. The Tournament will celebrate its centennial year with the 1995 state meet in LaCrosse.

In other action taken at the December meeting, the Board gave final approval for the conference realignment plan in southern Wisconsin that moves Middleton from the Badger Conference to the Southern Wisconsin (Big Eight), and moves Verona from the Capitol to the Badger, effective with the 1994-95 school year.

Wings Over Wisconsin Join With DNR to Increase Wild Pheasant Population

Kettle Moraine Wings Over Wisconsin (WOW) and Wisconsin DNR Wildlife Management are working together to increase the wild pheasant population and habitat in northern Washington County and southern Fond du Lac County. The two townships will be the town of Auburn and Kewaskum, in which the group has picked as a project site. The goal is to improve the habitat in this area and then supplement the existing pheasant population with wild Jilin pheasants or Iowa pheasants.

To maximize the success of the released pheasants, and their eventual distribution over the entire area, we want to provide and enhance as much habitat as possible. Since over 90 percent of the land is privately owned, they will be asking landowners to help them out. They are looking for landowners to plant food plots near winter cover, establish grasses on fields difficult to farm, delay mowing of roadsides and odd areas until after July, and to help them monitor the pheasant population by keeping track of sightings. In return, the Kettle Moraine Wings group will be providing free seed for food plots and nesting cover, as well as financial assistance to establish and maintain these areas.

If the project area meets all standards set by the DNR, Wings Over Wisconsin will be releasing 500 (100 percent) wild Jilin pheasants or Iowa strain pheasants in the area for three consecutive years. These pheasants should produce a more suitable and hopefully genetically superior bird to utilize this cover. Under these programs, the hunting season will remain open and pheasants are not required to open or close their land to public use. Landowners retain all access control.

Through this project, WOW hopes to improve the countryside for all wildlife and hopes everyone will help them in their efforts to maximize wildlife populations while sustaining profitable agriculture.

If you are interested in being a part in this project or would like more information, please attend a public information meeting being held on Saturday, January 9, 1993, from 11:00 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. at the Amerahn Hall on Hwy. 45 North out of Kewaskum. Club, County, and DNR representatives will be on hand to answer questions and provide insight on the project. There will be a free lunch and refreshments served. If you could reply by calling Harry Krueger (626-2764) and leave a message on his answering machine by January 6, 1993. Thank you.

Badger State Games Add Snowboarding

By Noel Stollenwerk

MADISON — One of the nation's fastest growing winter sports is now a part of the Badger State Games.

Snowboarding has been added to the list of the fifth annual Winter Games, set for Wausau and Central Wisconsin February 5-7. Snowboarding will be featured as part of the Games' downhill skiing events at Rib Mountain Ski Area, one of Wisconsin's premier facilities.

"We have received requests over the past several years to include a snowboarding competition," said Sandra Mulry, Badger State Games director of competition. "Snowboarding is an up and coming sport that has gained credibility in recent years."

The snowboarding giant slalom will feature two classes of competition: 13-18 years, and 19-and-older.

Registration materials are available by calling the Badger State Games at (608) 251-3333 or the Wausau Area Chamber of Commerce at (715) 845-6231. The entry deadline is January 22. Entry is limited, so the Badger State Games is urging interested athletes to sign up early.

The Badger State Winter Games also features competition in adult and youth hockey, cross country skiing, slalom and giant slalom downhill skiing, curling, figure skating, ski jumping, speed skating and snowshoe racing.

Tavern League Offers Free Non-Alcohol Drink Recipes

A good holiday host should offer their guests the choice of non-alcohol drinks as well as traditional drinks, according to Steven Brist, Executive Director of the Tavern League of Wisconsin. The Tavern League of Wisconsin is again offering a list of non-alcohol drink recipes as a service to the general public. "Non alcohol drinks have become part of the menu of our member's establishments and we would like to share our recipes during the holiday season," Brist stated. "When we offered the recipes last year, we had a very good response from the general public so we are offering them again this year."

"A combination of traditional alcohol drinks along with non-alcohol drinks offers your guest the opportunity to choose for themselves whether to drink at a party," Brist continued, "this is particularly important for persons who will be driving and who do not wish to drink. In addition, it gives those who are drinking alcohol the chance to have a "spacer."

Non-alcohol drinks don't have to mean less taste anymore, according to Brist. "It's possible to make drinks like Fuzzy navel and Pina Coladas taste like the real thing without the alcohol. Frozen blends are readily available and there's a large selection of non-alcohol schnapps, amaretto and triple sec."

"Another advantage to non-alcohol products is that they tend to be less fattening. Because they're made with less sugar, they have fewer calories," Brist said.

Brist reminded members of the public that Wisconsin law makes all servers of alcohol beverages liable to third parties for knowingly serving under age persons. "This means that a social host could be sued if they serve a person under age 21 who later injures another person," Brist pointed out, "it doesn't matter whether you give away drinks or not."

A copy of the Tavern League's Non Alcohol Drink Recipe List is available by sending a stamped, self addressed business size (number 10) envelope to: Tavern League of Wisconsin, P.O. Box 170, Madison, WI 53701.

Turnovers Plague KHS Boys

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum boys hoop team improved on many different fronts in its game here, last Tuesday against Lomira.

But one area in which they regressed was turnovers, and that proved a difficult obstacle to overcome, as the Indians dropped the non-conference contest by a 74-65 count.

Despite a huge effort by the Lions' Craig Zangl, the Indians were in a position to win the game late. But inexperience and the subsequent miscues were costly.

"We had a lot of turnovers...unforced turnovers," KHS coach Jim Westphal said. "We just didn't take good care of the ball. It really wasn't one of our better games."

Zangl put on a show in the first half, scoring 22 of his team's 35 points. Zangl connected for 12 in the first quarter alone, as the Lions held the edge, 15-14.

"He made it look easy," Westphal said of Zangl, who had an unusually quick jumper. "He had one of the quickest deliveries I've ever seen. They picked very well for him. It was tough to stop."

The two teams traded the lead in the second quarter, but once again it was Zangl who put his team in front to stay. Zangl's three-pointer with under ten seconds left, put Lomira ahead 35-28 at the intermission.

The Lions extended the gap in the third period, outscoring the Indians 22-15. Again it was Zangl who provided the punch, as he hit another trifecta late in the third, giving the visitors a commanding 57-43 lead.

Kewaskum put on a brief run late in the contest. The lead was cut to seven with a minute and a half to play, but that's as close as Kewaskum would come, as Jason Buerger scored five of his team's last seven points to secure the win.

The Indians had their best game of the year, shooting wise, as they connected on 48 percent of their field goal tries. But Kewaskum continued to struggle from the line, hitting just seven of their 14 attempts. "We didn't shoot well from the line again," Westphal said.

Adam Laatsch led the Indians with 17 points, while Jim Marx (16), Keith Herman (12) and Travis Jacak (12) also reached double figures.

"Adam had a pretty good game," Westphal said. "It was just one of those nights. "We just never really got ourselves in the game."

Zangl was a thorn in the Indians' side all evening, as he finished with 30 points, including a whopping six three-pointers. Gary Schaumberg added 12 points, and Buerger 11 for the winners.

"He's a fine basketball player," Westphal said of Zangl. "He got the job done...shot extremely well."

The loss dropped the Indians mark to 1-3 on the year.

LOMIRA (15-20-22-17) — Schaumberg 12, Mayer 7, Zangl 30, Rose 2, Thrau 2, Buske 8, Buerger 11, Zimmermann 2, Free Throws - 10 of 24, Fouls - 15.

KEWASKUM (14-14-15-22) — Jacak 12, Herman 12, Marx 16, Zautner 3, Dirmeyer 5, Laatsch 17, Free Throws - 7 of 14, Fouls - 23.

Laatsch's FT'S Help Indians Down Chilton

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — Looking at the fact that his team has struggled from the line in every game so far this year, KHS boys basketball coach Jim Westphal had to be more than a little concerned here, last Friday night.

But senior Adam Laatsch showed his poise in the final minute, hitting eight straight free throws down the stretch to help the Indians pull out a 53-47 win over Chilton in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference matchup.

With his team shooting around 50 percent from the line so far this season, Westphal knew that the Indians' 45-42 lead late in the game was far from secure.

"I was worried," Westphal said regarding the situation. "Adam hadn't been shooting all that well up till that point."

But Laatsch was up to the task, hitting both ends of bonus situations four different times in the final minute to hold off the Tigers.

"It was a great relief that he was able to come through like that," Westphal said of the 6-3 forward. "That's one of the reasons that I have him in the backcourt. He's one of our best ballhandlers, and one of the best shooters."

Laatsch helped bail out his team at the line, where the Indians finished just nine of 18 on the night. "We've just had a terrible time at the line," Westphal said, noting that the team constantly practices foul shots. "It's just a matter of developing confidence in the game."

This game was destined to be decided late, as the two teams' battled back and forth throughout the first three quarters. The Tigers led by three after one quarter, and then trailed by two at halftime. Kewaskum extended their lead to three heading into the fourth, at 41-38.

Keith Herman hit the opening hoop of the fourth, making it 43-38 Indians. That's the way it stayed for a couple of minutes, as the Indians became very deliberate on offense, trying to milk the clock.

After another Herman basket made it 45-38, the Tigers answered with a pair of buckets, cutting the gap to just three, at 45-42, with just under two minutes to play.

That's where Laatsch took over, as he wound up with a game-high 18 points to lead the Indians. Travis Jacak, who got off to a quick start, scoring seven points in the opening quarter, finished with 11, while Keith Herman added 10. The Indians' leading scorer coming into the game, Jim Marx, struggled from the floor, and finished with just seven points.

Jacak also was a force on the boards, hauling down 11 rebounds, while Laatsch grabbed nine.

"I don't think that Chilton figured on him scoring much," Westphal said of Jacak's big first quarter. Herman, meanwhile, "has been playing extremely well. I really didn't expect that much from him. He shows great hustle."

"I was really happy to see that Jim (Marx) can have a bad game, and we can still pull out a win," Westphal said.

Paul Eisner led the Tigers with 16 points, but the Indians held him in check for the most part. Eisner entered the game on a roll from three-point ranges, hitting six of nine tries. But he was limited to just two tries on the night, missing several late in the game. Bob Woefel chipped in 10 points for the Tigers.

The Indians improved to 2-0 in the EW with the win, and upped their overall mark to 2-4. After a game Tuesday against Kiel, the Indians have off for the holidays, before getting back into action Jan. 5th against a very tough Campbellsport squad.

CHILTON (16-6-16-9) — Eisner 16, Woefel 10, Krause 8, Satzer 3, Turney 4, Hau 6, Free Throws - 5 of 11, Fouls - 21.

KEWASKUM (13-11-17-12) - Marx 7, Herman 10, Knoeck 5, Ankerson 2, Jacak 11, Laatsch 18, Free Throws - 9 of 18, Fouls - 17.

Freshman Girls 3-0

By Noel Stollenwerk

CHILTON — The Kewaskum freshman girls basketball team had to work overtime, but were still able to come away with their third win of the year here, Friday night against Chilton.

Karla Martin made a late basket to send the game into overtime, and then hit the winning shot with nine seconds left, giving the Indians a 42-40 victory over the Tigers.

Tanya Laubach scored 18 points to lead the frosh, who improved to 3-0 with the win.

The Indians JV's weren't as successful in their game with the Tigers. Chilton used a big height advantage to outrebound the Indians 20-10 and post a 33-24 victory.

Missy Rohrer led Kewaskum with nine points, while Mary Yahr added eight. The JV's dropped to 0-2 in the EW, and to 3-2 overall.

Offense Sputters as KHS Girls Lose at Chilton

By Noel Stollenwerk

CHILTON — The defensive effort was superb, but the Kewaskum girls basketball team couldn't get its offense in gear here, last Friday night against defending Division 3 State Champion Chilton.

A dry spell at the end of the second quarter came back to haunt the Indians, who played well despite falling to the Tigers, 35-30.

The loss spoiled a fine defensive outing by Kewaskum, who held the Tigers to just 20 percent shooting on the night. The Tigers came into the game leading the Eastern Wisconsin Conference in field goal percentage, hitting at a 43 percent clip, and averaging 51 points per game.

"Defensively, I was very pleased with our effort," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said. "Offensively, we weren't as productive."

Still, the Indians were productive enough to jump out to a 16-8 lead midway through the second quarter, holding the EW's top two scorers, Cathy Dallmann and Stacy Reimer, in check.

"I thought we were real effective in our defensive scheme," Eichstedt said, noting that the two stars had just one point in the opening quarter, when KHS jumped out 8-5.

"We were attacking the basket pretty well," in the first quarter. But after establishing the eight-point lead in the second, "there just was a lid on the basket," said Eichstedt.

Behind Reimer's penetrating, the Tigers fought back and were down just 16-12 at halftime.

"That really hurt," Eichstedt said of the drought. "We knew that eventually they would make a run at us, and it would have been much easier to withstand (the run) if we could have scored a couple of baskets there."

The Tigers made their run in the third period, holding the Indians to just two baskets, in taking a 23-20 lead heading into the fourth.

In the final stanza, Dallmann hit her lone basket of the night, a three-pointer, and Reimer nailed two free throws to make it 28-22 Chilton.

But the Indians came back with a basket by Debbie Steger, and a three-point play by Robyn Winninghoff to cut it to 28-27 with under three minutes to play.

That's as close as the visitors would come, though, as the Indians were forced to foul Reimer, who connected on all six of her free throws down the stretch.

Kewaskum rallied late with baskets from Ginger Wiesner and Julie Mertz, cutting the margin to 32-30, and had a chance to tie the game at the free throw line with :18 to go. But Bonnie Schlice missed the front end of a bonus, and the Tigers escaped with a hard-fought win.

"What really hurt us is that we were forced to foul Reimer," who is one of the best players in the conference, according to Eichstedt. Reimer finished with 17 points, including a seven-for-eight effort at the line. Renae Muller added seven points for the Tigers, while Dallmann was held to just six, after entering the game averaging almost 25 a game.

"We gave them a couple different looks (on defense)," said Eichstedt, who said he was pleased with the overall effort of his club's defense, especially Ali Bruendl, Missy Radtke, Kim Sabish and Mertz. "Without a doubt, this was collectively our best defensive effort this year, but we need to become more consistent on offense."

The Indians were outscored at the free throw line 12-2. "That just shows we weren't doing a good job attacking the basket," Eichstedt pointed out.

Winninghoff led the Indians with 10 points, while Radtke added 11 rebounds. Eichstedt also commended Schlice, who "had a solid overall game."

With the loss, the Indians dropped to 1-1 in the EW, and to 2-3 overall. Chilton, meanwhile, improved to 3-0 in the EW, and to 5-1 overall.

After a game with Kiel on Tuesday, the Indians will prepare for the annual Christmas Cage Classic, to be held this year at Mayville Dec. 29-30. The Indians will play the host Cardinals in the second game Tuesday night, starting around 7:30.

KEWASKUM (8-8-4-10) — Radtke 2, Wiesner 2, Sabish 4, Mertz 2, B. Schlice 4, Bruendl 2, Steger 4, Winninghoff 10, Free Throws - 2 of 6, Fouls - 18.

CHILTON (5-7-11-12) — Mueller 7, L. Reimer 2, S. Reimer 17, T. Reimer 2, Dallaman 6, Loose 1, Free Throws - 12 of 24.
