Lightning Probable Cause of Barn Fire

It was determined that lightning was the probable cause of the fire that destroyed the barn belonging to Richard H. Stern, at 3382 E. Moraine Dr., Kewaskum, at approximately 7:15 Monday morning, following a severe electrical storm earlier.

The fire was first noticed as a glow on the south end of the barn which rapidly spread right, across the top of the barn. When Kewaskum firefighters arrived the barn was already fully engulfed.

The top of the barn, which was full of hay at the time, was totally destroyed. Through efforts of the Stern family, the firemen and Washington County Lieutenant Jack Peters, cattle, which were housed in the bottom of the barn, were saved. The bottom of the barn remained intact after the fire was extinguished.

Kewaskum firefighters called in mutual aid and received full assist from the Boltonville Fire Department and water tankers from the Kohlsville, Beechwood and Campbellsport Departments.

The loss was estimated to be around $40,000.

Expansion Steering Committee Formed by School Board Monday

By Louise Martin

On Monday evening, members of the Kewaskum School Board met with Don Ladd of Ladd Educational Consultants from Waukesha. The purpose of their meeting was to recruit a group of approximately 20 individuals with a wide variety of backgrounds representing the entire school district to serve on a special steering committee.

The objective of the steering committee is to run a factual information campaign for a school expansion referendum. Public voting on this referendum would be held at the Tuesday, February 15, 1994 Primary Election.

Specific needs in the expansion project include more classroom space at the Kewaskum Middle School to accommodate state mandated programs in foreign languages and mandated programs for special needs students which would also allow better utilization of current teachers on staff, update the science labs at Kewaskum High School to meet state codes, upgrade locker rooms, improve the fine arts area and the addition of an auditorium.

Currently an architectural firm is drawing up various options that would accommodate these needs.

The steering committee consists of a general chairman with an additional chairman for the community, schools, com-unication/information and at-large member committees assisting.

Sun, sand and serving is just part of the fun brought to you by the American Legion this coming weekend, when they host their annual Labor Day MDA Volleyball Tournament.

Everyone's invited to come and cheer on their favorite team Sunday and Monday, Sept. 5 and 6, at the American Legion grounds, 1538 Fond du Lac Ave., in Kewaskum, and enjoy great food and refreshments available to the public.

Director Lee Kempf is in charge of signing up six-person coed teams for an entry fee of $25. All donations to help in the research of Muscular Dystrophy will be greatly appreciated. Contact him at 626-4342 (work) or 338-1509 (home).

Players will be competing on the Legion's and courts, with starting time set for 10 a.m. Sunday.

Public Library to Begin Fall Storytime Sept. 22, 24

at the library.

Two and three year old children have their own special storytime! Toddler "Lapsitter" storytime is for younger children, accompanied by an adult. We will be doing similar activities to the regular story sessions, but geared to the younger age bracket. This is a pleasant introductory experience to the library, designed to nurture your child's love of books. This group meets the first and third Wednesday of each month at 10:00 a.m. for approximately 30 minutes, for the entire school year. Stay afterwards to help your child select books to take home, and make new friends. You may join the group at any time. Give your child an early start - come to the library for "Lapsitters." Sign up at the library.

Storytime is here again! Children aged four and older are encouraged to join the library's FALL STORYTIME. Choose Wednesday at 1:00 p.m. or Fridays at 10:00 a.m. There will be eight consecutive weeks of reading fun, beginning September 22/24. Children will enjoy stories, filmstrips, finger plays, music activities and more. Each story session will last approximately 45 minutes. Come and join in the fun! A complete schedule is available

Thanks, America
FOR A JOB WELL DONE!

When you move into your new home, your furniture doesn't always fit. It's not just the physical size, it's the decor, your changing tastes, your growing needs. Furthermore, it's our experience that the first piece of furniture most families need is a new dining room set and, of course, they're often in a hurry to get it. That's why we always carry a relatively large inventory of dinettes and dining room furniture.

If you're one of our customers, you already know about our wide-ranging inventory displayed in attractive home decors to make selection easier. We'll be here waiting with helpful ideas when you come in. But if you're new to our community, we invite you to see our store and meet our staff. We think you'll be pleasantly surprised.

Kewaskum Juniors To Begin Club Year

The GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will begin its 27th year of community volunteer service with an opening meeting on Sept. 7th. The meeting will be held in the Kewaskum Municipal Building Community Room beginning at 7:00 p.m.

The first meeting, under the leadership of President Holly Knurr, will be a craft night. Kewaskum Juniors are one of several Sixth District clubs hosting the Wisconsin Junior Conference in Oshkosh on Oct. 8 and 9th. The September meeting will allow the opportunity to finalize details for the conference which includes the making of felt star napkin rings that evening.

Kewaskum Juniors currently has 20 dedicated volunteers and membership is open to any woman interested in volunteering time for the betterment of her community. Recent community projects completed by Kewaskum Juniors include a sun shelter at the Kiwanis Park Pool, a jungle gym playset in the Kiwanis Park and the replacement of the information gazebo.

If you would like more information about Kewaskum Juniors, you may contact Donna Beck at 533-4929 or Holly Knurr at 626-4893 for a membership brochure.

In the Service

Brett Prost

William and Jean Prost of Kewaskum have been informed by J. M. Willy, Commanding Officer of the USS ASPRO that their son, Brett, has recently been designated "Qualified in Submarines". Commander Willy writes:

"In order to achieve this designation, Brett had to display a comprehensive theoretical and practical knowledge of a ASPRO not only in his own specialty, but also in all other areas. In recognition of this accomplishment, he is authorized to wear the Silver Dolphins Breast Insignia.

This achievement speaks well of his motivation and professional competence as a Navy man and a submariner, and he is congratulated.

These Dolphins have become a hallmark of the United States Submarine Service and are testimony of the difficult and time-consuming qualification which is a mandatory part of every submariner's acceptance as a permanent member of our selected organization. 'Many are called; Few are chosen.' You have much of which to be proud in Brett's performance."

Brett is a 1992 graduate of Kewaskum High School and is presently serving aboard the USS ASPRO whose home port is Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Prior to this assignment, Brett attended recruit Training Command in Great Lakes, Illinois and Naval Submarine School in Groton, Connecticut.

St. Joseph's Offers Class for Siblings

West Bend - St. Joseph's Community Hospital's New Life Center is offering "I'm Getting a New Baby" sibling class on Thursday, September 2, or Thursday, September 9, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the New Life Center Classroom.

Designed for children 2 1/2 to 10 years old, the class will include a video presentation, a New Life Center tour, and activities that will help express feelings about the birth of a new baby. In addition, children will also be taught skills that they can use to help parents care for the new infant.

The course is beneficial for children to avoid jealousies and for parents to assess their children's reactions to a new sibling. Parents are encouraged to attend with their children, and to bring their camera.

The class fee is $5.00 per child, and the size of the class is limited to 10.

To register or for more information call the New Life Center at 334-8361.

THANK YOU

I want to thank everyone who attended my 85th birthday celebration. A special thanks to those that surprised me with a wonderful party, and for all the special gifts I received. Your kindness and thoughtfulness will long be remembered.

Star Cablevision

Bright • Clear • Exciting

A Letter to our Customers!

There are many changes coming to your cable television service on September 1st. These changes are the result of a new Federal law passed by Congress that affects all cable systems.

Star will be changing prices to comply with new FCC rules. Your channel line-up will also change. Some of your favorite channels will be repositioned and some new ones will be added.

This may cause some confusion and inconvenience. We will be providing new prices and channel listings, and of course, be available to answer your questions.

One of the new FCC rules allows local TV stations to withhold consent to carry their channel. While most stations have provided this, we still have not yet been granted the consent of WITI, Channel 6 Milwaukee, WCGV, Channel 24 Milwaukee: If they do not grant their consent by October 6th, they must be deleted from our cable system by law. If this occurs, we will replace them with satellite channels. We want to carry them, however, we need their consent. You may wish to make your feelings known to these TV stations in Milwaukee.

Look over the new listings and prices. If you have any questions, we'll be happy to help you.

Sincerely,
 Star Cablevision

Temporary Foster Homes Needed

The Youth and Family Project is in need of temporary foster homes for the Crossroads Runaway Program in Washington and Ozaukee Counties.

Emergency foster homes provide a safe and caring environment for runaway teens (age 12 to 17) and other youth in crisis.

Foster parents help provide safe, temporary (up to five days) shelter for a teen who needs support and stability while their family participates in counseling.

Schools Open; Motorists Should Learn the "Three S's of Safety"

Schools have opened across the state, and motorists should learn the "Three S's" of safety to ensure that child pedestrians and bicyclists get to and from school safely, according to the American Automobile Association's Wisconsin Division.

"Younger children, especially those in kindergarten and first grade, are venturing from their homes and neighborhoods into unfamiliar roadways, intersections and street crossings," said Triple-A Wisconsin spokesman Joe Laubmeier. "These young people don't have a fully developed sense of judgement and often can't make the split-second decisions that are needed to avoid hazardous traffic situations."

Motorists can help prevent accidents involving school children by learning and remembering the "Three S's" of safety: Speed, Space and Seeing.

*SPEED: Whenever motorists drive in school zones or other areas marked, "Slow"

they should obey the signs. "The faster you drive, the less time you have to stop for a child who pops out of nowhere," Laubmeier said. "Look for clues that warn of children in the area, such as safety patrols, crossing guards, bikes and school buses."

*SPACE: Drivers should leave a wide margin between their vehicles and objects that might hide children, such as bushes, parked cars or stopped school buses. "The more space you leave around you car, the farther you can see and the more chances you have to spot a child and stop in time," Laubmeier said.

Motorists must stop at least 20 feet from a school bus that has its red lights flashing, according to Laubmeier. "The only exception to this rule is if you are facing the bus from the opposite side of a multi-lane road divided by a median," he said.

*SEEING: "Ground-view searching" is a technique motorists can use to improve their chances of spotting a child that may dart into harm's way, according to Laubmeier. "As you drive, scan from the ground up, watching for anyone or anything that might enter your path," he explained.

Laubmeier also recommended that drivers use their headlights during dawn and dusk and in inclement weather. "If you have your headlights on, children are more likely to see you and your car, and you are more likely to see them," he said.

Motorists also should be extra alert for children at intersections. "When turning on a red light, come to a complete stop and, before making your turn, check to be sure that there are no pedestrians trying to cross the street," Laubmeier said.

As part of Triple-A's annual "School's Open--- Drive Carefully" campaign, Triple - A Wisconsin and local police departments are distributing throughout the state thousands of bumper strips, posters, placemats and newspaper announcements.

UWC-Fond du Lac Foundation Scholarship Recipients Listed

A record number of students will be receiving financial awards to attend the University of Wisconsin Center-Fond du Lac this academic year. Thirty-three students will be receiving scholarships provided by the Fond du Lac University of Wisconsin Foundation and community organizations including: E. C. Kiekhaefer Fund, the Fond du Lac Rotary Club, the Bernie Jones Memorial and the UW Faculty/Staff.

A scholarship reception will be held on Sept. 9, 1993 at 5:00 p.m. on the UW-Fond du Lac campus to honor and recognize scholarship recipients and individual scholarship donors who contribute $350 or more to the foundation.

Area scholarship recipients include: David Klein and Brian Moser of Campbellsport; Angela Schraufnagel and Teresa Weninger of Lomira and Timothy Panzer of Brownsville.

Kapp - Follmann

Renee Sue Kapp and Mark Follmann exchanged vows of holy matrimony during an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, June 12, 1993 at St. Michael's Church, Kewaskum. Co-celebrants were Father Rolland Follmann, uncle of the groom, and Father Roger Zens.

Parents of the couple are Jerald C. Kapp of St. Francis and Karen Kapp of West Bend, and Reinhard and Rosalie Follmann of Kewaskum.

Erika Follmann of Minnesota, the groom's sister, was chosen as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Tami Stange, Linda Seeber, Cindy Reader, Daycia Duley, Jennifer Frac, and Beverly Schulz, all friends of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Natalie-Ann Kapp, cousin of the bride.

The groom chose his friend John Donath of Theinssville as his best man. Groomsmen were Kris and Derek Follmann, brothers of the groom; Steve and Kevin Kapp, the bride's brothers; and the groom's friends Sean O'Neill and Tim Geidel.

The bride's wedding gown was designed and sewn by the bride, assisted by her mother-in-law, Rosalie. The flower bouquets and corsages were also made by the bride. The headpiece was made by Laurie Jung.

The presentation of gifts was done by Gordy Kemmer, uncle of the bride, and Elfrieda Stachler, the groom's aunt.

Personal attendants were Jackie O'Neill and Amber Donath, both friends of the couple.

Music was provided by David and Terri Bertelson.

Special readings for the ceremony were done by friend Lisa Plath, uncles of the bride and groom - Mike Kapp and Erich Follmann, and Sue Sass, the bride's aunt.

Ushering duties were shared by Mike Geldrich and Glen Hupfer - friends of the groom.

A beautiful horse drawn buggy and wagon ride was provided by Bud Schmidt Acres of New Fane.

A reception and dance followed at the KC Hall in West Bend, catered by Bryan of Jim's Bakery in Slinger.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Kewaskum High School, and a '91 graduate of Marion College, Fond du Lac, earning a Bachelor's Degree in Nursing. She is employed as a Pediatric nurse, specializing in burns-orthopedics at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin.

The groom is a 1985 graduate of Kewaskum High School, and received his degree in criminal justice from U.W. Platteville, graduating class of '91. He is presently a Physical Damage Claim Representative for American Family Insurance.

The couple enjoyed a honeymoon in Hawaii, and are residing at 843 Homestead Dr., West Bend.

Lead Paint Poses Major Risk to Children

By Joyce Albrecht
Washington County
UW Extension Home Economist

As many people rush to complete home improvement projects before cooler weather sets in, they may not be thinking of the potential health threats of lead paint dust and chips scraped from doors, railings, windows or house trim.

Lead poisoning affects as many as 3 million children under the age of six, or between 10 and 15 percent of the U.S. preschool population. It is one of the most common pediatric health problems in the country, according to the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta.

Even low-level lead poisoning can reduce intelligence, motor control, hearing and emotional development.

Although many people associate childhood lead poisoning with decaying inner-city tenements, a University of Wisconsin-Extension housing specialist says many houses contain lead-based paint that create a threat to young children.

"Although the sale of lead-based paint for residential use was banned in 1978, 90 percent of housing units built before 1940 still have lead-based paint on interior or exterior surfaces," said John Merrill, Housing Specialist.

"Four in five houses built between 1940 and 1959 contain lead paint and more than 60 per-

Watermelon... A Treat No Matter How You Slice It

What is better, or better for you, than a slice of cold watermelon on a hot summer day?

Here's the good nutritional news: A cup or a 5 1/2 ounce slice of watermelon contains only 50 calories, no fat, no cholesterol and very little sodium. What it does contain are important minerals and vitamins, including 15 mg of vitamin C, 186 mg of potassium and 585 IU vitamin A.

Watermelon is economical too. A 20-pound watermelon, cut into 3/4-inch wedges, which equals 1/6 of a whole slice, will provide 90 pieces!

The underside color of a melon is its best indicator of ripeness. Look for a creamy color on the bottom... not a white or pale green. Consider buying a cut melon. It may cost a few cents more, but it may be worth it to see the melon's interior. That way you have a better indication of its ripeness. (Information from Joyce Albrecht, Washington County UW Extension Home Economist.)

cent of houses built between 1960 and 1979 still have some lead paint in them."

Lead paint is found most commonly on stair trim, radiators, crown moldings, windows, heat registers and door trim inside a home and on columns, windows, doors and railings outside a house.

Lead-based paint is considered hazardous to young children when:

--It is chipped, cracked or chalking.

--It is on a friction or impact surface, such as a floor, the moving part of a window or a door frame.

--It is accessible to a young child to chew on or get on his or her hands.

--Dust or debris from the paint contaminates bare soil around a house where children play.

To eliminate lead-based paint, painted surfaces can either be removed or permanently covered. Sheetrock or siding are effective coverings. Painting over lead-based paint reduces lead levels by at least 25 percent, but is not considered a permanent solution.

Hire lead abatement professionals to remove lead-based paint. If doing the work yourself, minimize dust by changing clothes before leaving the work area and avoiding vacuum cleaners, which stir up dust.

Have paint analyzed for lead content. Paintchips can be done for $20.00 at the State Laboratory of Hygiene.

Check Dial Gauges for Accuracy Before Canning

You may have heard about offers to bring the lid from your pressure canner into your local Cooperative Extension Office to have it checked for accuracy. Why do this?

Foods must reach certain high temperatures to destroy botulism spores that might remain. If your dial gauge does not register correctly, proper temperatures might not be reached. In that case, botulism spores can remain.

Replace gauges if they are inaccurate by more than two pounds of pressure. And, if the gasket or rubber safety plug in your canner are nicked or dried out, replace them with new material. (Information from Joyce Albrecht, Washington County UW Extension Home Economist.)

Occupational Health Lab, 979 Jonathan Dr., Madison, WI 53703.

The Washington County UW-Extension office has more information on lead-based paint in its fact sheet, "Lead-Based Paint Hazards." For more information on other housing concerns, contact Joyce Albrecht at the Washington County UW-Extension Office, 335-4479.

Mexican Vanilla May Be a Bad Bargain

Vanilla products from Mexico may smell wonderful and cost less, but they could be dangerous. They can contain coumarin, a potentially toxic extract that can damage the liver or kidneys.

The Food and Drug Administration banned the use of coumarin in foods in 1954. Because customers have no way of telling whether a bottle of Mexican vanilla contains coumarin, it's a good idea to bypass the product. (Information from Joyce Albrecht, Washington County UW Extension Home Economist.)

Annual Brat Fry At Dundee Sunday

The Dundee Sportsmen's Club will be holding their annual Brat Fry on Sunday, September 5. The annual fun fest will begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 8 p.m. at Clubland in Downtown Dundee on Hwy. 67.

The "big" ticket harboring a win of $5,000, $2,000 and $1,000 and smaller denominations is still available at local Dundee businesses. Under the big tent, you can expect brats, hamburgers, country corn and plenty of liquid refreshments. A TV to watch the Green Bay Packers and the Rocker band to entertain you are just a few features lined up for the annual gathering.

Local residents are stepping forward and donating their specialties to ensure the youth of Dundee a baseball field. For only $1.00 per ticket, the bearer has a chance to own a three month, female English Springer Spaniel donated by Gerald Schulz and a personal informative training lesson "showing how to develop the Spring Spaniel" by Ray Sommers.

Don't miss this one in a million raffle to please anyone. Sired by Pretty Penny's Royal Spike and Pretty Penny's Hotter. Stop in at Dins Mini Mart to watch the antics of this little puppy in action. Tickets can be purchased at surrounding Sportsmen's Clubs and area businesses in Dundee. You need not be present to win.

Gerald and Ray are supporting the Dundee Sportsmen Club's efforts to build a ball diamond for our area youth. Community support has been great so far, but we all must continue to do what we can. Thank Gerald and Ray next time you see them for their generosity in helping our kids.

Becky, an area artist, will take time out of her hectic schedule to paint a walleye, pheasant, white-tailed deer, a rose or any other picture on one fingernail. Come and challenge her. Thank Becky when you see her for lending us support. We need our talented community to step forward and give a helping hand for good causes and plenty of fun to boot.

You can always find a good time in Dundee! Come on over and meet a great group of people. Help the youth is our message. All proceeds will be used to further develop the baseball field now in progress.

Glacier Edge District 11 Scout Roundtables Sept. 2

Glacier Edge District 11, Bay-Lakes Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will conduct Roundtables for all Cubmasters, Scoutmasters, Pack and Troop Committee Chairmen and Committee Members, and Den and Webelos leaders of Ozaukee and Washington Counties, on Thursday, September 2, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at John Long Middle School, corner of Fifth and Hickory Streets, Grafton. Participants are asked to use the north parking lot and entrance.

Cub personnel will meet in the all-purpose room with Roundtable Commissioner, Laralyn Webster, and staff members, Charlotte Bigelow, Ross Clithero, Terry Gengler, Marty Gross, Agnes Knapp, Marilyn Lexa, Larry Luckjohn, Ann Mueller, Dave Parkinson, Howie Silver, Mike Smith, Carol Stuckert, Carol Wingett and Rita Zarling.

The "Family Hobbies" theme will include presentations on fishing, gardening and fossils by Clithero, Gengler and Luckjohn; Gross will lead the group in singing, "This Little Cub Scout Light," and theme related games will be supervised by the staff. A Bobcat Induction Ceremony will be demonstrated under the direction of Zarling. An Attendance Award will be presented to the Pack with the most people present.

After refreshments, the group will split into separate sessions. Den leaders will meet with Mueller and Stuckert for "Ethics In Action and construction of a craft; Cubmasters, Committee Chairmen and Committee Members will cover Charter Organization Relationships and the Cubbie Award; Parkinson will review Ethics In Action and the Scientist and Showman Webelos Badges with the Webelos Leaders.

Boy Scout personnel will meet in the school library with Roundtable Commissioner, Tom Weirzbicki, Bill Howe and Shelly Papenfus. District Camping Chairman Ed Farrell, will give a camping promotion and critique Summer Camping.

Participants will be divided into four groups to conduct

"Mind Bogglers" on all the ways the Scout belt, neckerchief and various sizes of plastic zip-lock bags can be used. The staff will make announcements pertinent to beginning the 1993-94 Scout Year. Jan and Norm Petersen will give information and details for the Fall "Pep-O-Rec" Camporee, Green Bar Junior Leader Training and requirements for the Quality Scout Award.

Members of Chapter 11 of the Order of the Arrow will also meet at 7:30 p.m., in room B-16 on the North side of the school. For more information, contact Chapter Chief Mike Hartwig, at 334-7143 or OA Advisor Harold Wolk, at 338-2978.

25 Years Ago

August 30, 1968

Brother Jerome, O. F. M. Capuchin, will make solemn profession in the Capuchin Order on Sunday, Sept. 1. The profession ceremony will be held in the chapel of the Capuchin seminary of St. Mary, Crown Point, Ind. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Campbell of Route 2, Kewaskum, and daughter will travel to Crown Point for the ceremony.

Army Specialist fourth Class William W. Hanselman, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hanselman, Route 2, Kewaskum, has been on duty in Pleiku, Vietnam, since July 18. He is with the 355th Aviation Co. as helicopter mechanic and crew chief. William left the Hanselmans' summer resort at Eagle River, on June 12, 1967, for basic training at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, then received his helicopter training at the Army Transportation school at Fort Eustis, Virginia. Before leaving for Vietnam, he served six months with the 295th Aviation Co. at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

The Kewaskum Indians, who placed sixth in the final standings with a 4-5 record, had two players selected on the Scenic Moraine summer baseball league all conference team selected by the coaches. They are George Martin, first base, and Bob Fellenz, outfielder and pitcher.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kougl, Route 2, Kewaskum, on Friday, August 23. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schmitt, Kewaskum, on Friday, August 16.

50 Years Ago

August 27, 1943

The Kewaskum Public School will open for the 1943-44 school year on Tuesday, Sept. 7 at 9 a.m. Registration for pupils in all classes will be held on opening day. A staff of eleven teachers, including two new ones, has been employed by the Board of Education.

Francis Delfeld and Roy Rafenstein of Milwaukee spent from Saturday evening to Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Heisler. The boys pedaled from Milwaukee to Kewaskum on their bicycles, leaving shortly after the noon hour and arriving here about 6 p.m. From here they rode their bikes to Lomira to visit other relatives before returning to Milwaukee.

Miss Ruth Schleif, who was employed in the office and Miss Ruth Koenig, a saleslady at the L. Rosenheimer Store, have resigned their positions. Miss Schleif, whose father lost his life in a highway accident recently will remain at home to assist her mother on their farm north of Kewaskum. Miss Koenig left Wednesday for Milwaukee, where she has an office position. Mrs. Henry Lemke of West Bend, a former employee at the store has taken Miss Schleif's place temporarily and Mrs. A. P. Schaeffer is assisting as saleslady for the present.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kuehl of Route 3, Kewaskum on Sunday, August 22.

Letters to the Editor

1314 Sylvan Way
West Bend, WI 53095
August 17, 1993

asks many questions of a personal nature about the student and his family.

Dear Editor:

Outcome Based Education is the latest philosophy thought to be the cure-all for the problems of our education system. In Wisconsin, OBE is being considered and adopted by local school boards. No legislation specifically called Outcome Based Education is currently being introduced into the Wisconsin legislation. However, four major proposals are in different stages of development in the state at this time.

First, if the legislature adopts the State Education Committee's 28 goals, they will become the required outcomes necessary to implement Outcome Based Education. Many of these goals are vague and only a few deal with academics.

Second, there is a move toward a state-wide assessment testing system. A provision in Governor Thompson's Budget Bill, which allocates over a million dollars for this testing, is currently being reviewed by the Governor. This testing system will begin at the pre-school level and will result in the use of fact-to-face assessments, portfolios and performance assessments.

The third proposal is a plan for collaboration among state agencies that deal with education, social services, employment, and law enforcement. This would increase the power and authority of these agencies over the children and the family.

The fourth and final proposal would be a government plan for choice in education. This plan claims to allow parents to choose the schools their children would attend. However, the money would go directly to the school, not to the parents, and only to schools of the government's choice. If private schools participate under this plan, they would also become part of OBE and be required to administer the state assessment test, which

To the Residents of the Kewaskum School District:

August 27, 1993

The professional staff members of the Kewaskum School District are once again beginning the school year without a contract. Because of this, we are announcing that we are regretfully unable to attend any open houses under the sponsorship of the district. Such attendance is voluntary and we feel that we cannot be present since we do not have a new agreement with the Board of Education.

We will be willing to participate if an agreement should be reached prior to already scheduled open houses.

Sincerely,
John Breese, President
Kewaskum Education Assoc.

Offer Safety Tips For Barbecuing

Observing basic safety tips when operating a barbecue grill is a must.

NEVER move the grill while it is hot. DON'T operate the grill beneath an overhanging roof or an awning. DON'T add any fluid, even water, to hot coals.

NEVER store the propane tank for a gas grill, full or empty, inside your home or living area. ALWAYS cook marinades that have been in contact with raw meat. Do this before brushing them on foods that won't be bully cooked.

ALWAYS wash the platter that brought the raw meat to the grill before using it again to place cooked meat for serving. (Information from Joyce Albrecht, Washington County UW Extension Home Economist.)

What Fruits Have The Most Fiber?

Looking for ways to increase your fiber intake, but don't want to take in extra servings of breads and cereals? Try fruits.

Those with the most fiber are strawberries, blackberries and raspberries... the latter with 7 grams of fiber per cup.

A large pear contains about 6 grams of fiber and a medium banana contains 3.8 grams. Apricots, figs, oranges, apples and prunes also contain ample amounts of fiber.

Three favorite fruits... pineapple, grapes and melons, contain less fiber than you might expect. A slice of whole wheat bread, incidentally, contains about 2 grams of fiber. (Information from Joyce Albrecht, Washington County UW Extension Home Economist.)

Stroke Club to Meet

John Stratte, Sports and Recreation Coordinator of the Southeastern Wisconsin Center for Independent Living (SEWCIL) will be the speaker at the September 9th meeting of the Washington County Stroke Club.

SEWCIL, located at 6222 W. Capitol Drive, in Milwaukee, is an agency that provides services for physically and sensory disabled persons. Sports and recreation are among those services.

The public is invited to attend and learn more about the importance of exercise, regardless of physical limitations. The meeting is held at Cedar Ridge, 119 Cedar Ridge Drive in West Bend, starting at 1:30 p.m. The Washington County Stroke Club is sponsored by Cedar Haven Rehabilitation Agency and the American Heart Association.

'Out-A-Time' Well Received by Dance Patrons

If you didn't attend Saturday night's "Summer Dance of '93" you missed a good show, excellent music and a fun time. We might just let you redeem yourself, though, because all the patrons have asked to have the band back again next year. So be real nice to Linda and Cheryl and just maybe you can talk them into doing it all over again. Above, Bif and Dena, and an unknown alien on the tambourine, begin the first of their many routines which had the crowd on their feet and clapping for more.

Bif called in members of the audience to help him belt out his Buddy Holly songs.

"Tke and Tina Turner" made a special guest appearance on Saturday night.

Dena serenades Mike Nitschke with "These Boots Are Made for Walking." Looks more like a romantic ballad to me, however, Mike looks just a tad embarrassed.

Bif brought down the house with his Elton John impersonation. Check out those shoes!

The Booze Brothers, always a favorite with the fans, was no exception Saturday night.

This "gentleman" believe it or not, was outstanding on the sax. At one point, he was playing laying down on one of the picnic tables loaded with fans.

Members of the Kewaskum and Boltonville Fire Departments, pictured above, and the Kewaskum Department's Tele Squirt pumper to the right of the photo, continued to pour water on the smoldering hay and the backhoe being used to pull the hay out of the barn.

Firemen take a well deserved break but continue to pour water on the hay which smoldered for days after the initial fire.

Statesman photos by Sharon Callaway Roznik and Linda Thorn

Kewaskum firefighters wet down adjacent land and buildings to keep the fire from spreading.

One picture explains it all as a member of the Stern family assesses all that is left of the top of their barn.

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers and how are you all doing today?

In this week's column, I would like to talk about stamps and stamp collecting. To some of you, a stamp is a stamp, as long as it gets there. Then, there are others who like a little variety in their stamps. Aim to please you all.

Upon my arrival in Kewaskum, I was "aghast" to find out that the only 29 cent stamps available to our customers were the flag stamp and the Elvis stamp. To those that frequent our window service, you know that all current stamps are proudly displayed in a glass case, so you can "pick and choose."

We are also always cheerfully ready to show you the huge selection that we carry "up close." Stamps in the sheets do NOT have to be bought by the sheet. You can buy a few of these, a few of those, (just like the olden days at the old candy stores... I remember that and loved it!) Let me tell you what is available currently at the Kewaskum Post Office:

Need a booklet of stamps? You have a great choice. Booklets of 10 for $2.90 include flags, tulips or love. Booklets of 20 for $5.80 include flags, flowers, rock n' roll, Broadway musicals and space.

Do you just hate licking stamps? Yep, we got a great deal for you... the "no-lickers." There used to be a surcharge of seven cents to buy these... but too many customers across the country said: "For that, we can lick 'em," so the Postal Service abolished that and now they are exactly the same as buying regular stamps. You can choose the eagle stamps - 17 for $4.93 or the squirrels (issued in Milwaukee) and they are 18 for $5.22.

Did you know that postcard stamps are available singularly or in booklets of 20 for $3.80? I do not know about you but I just hate putting a 29 cent stamp on a postcard that only "demands" a 19 cent stamp. I, like many of you, do it as I do not have a 19 cent stamp in my purse. Nice idea to have a booklet of them handy for those postcards. Rolls of 100 stamps are available also: 100 - 29 cent stamps for $29.00; and 100 - 23 cent stamps for $23.00. Need a bigger roll? We can accommodate you. We sell rolls of 500 - 29 cent stamps for $145.00.

What about singular stamps? WOW... we have a huge selection for you to choose from. Just a sample of what we have: Postal Museum, Hank Williams, Flag, Tulips, Love, Joe Louis, Oklahoma, Grace Kelly, Stock Exchange, Expo Games, Rhythm and Blues, Dorothy Parker and World War II stamps (1941, 1942 and 1943.) Please feel free to ask any of our window personnel or myself to see the selection and feel free to pick and choose as you would like.

Wedding or special occasion in the near future? Please give me a call. I could assist you in a selection, insure that quantity needed is available and/or order from Milwaukee for your needs. (Please remember to have that special invitation weighed as it could be very embarrassing for you to have "invites" delivered "postage due.")

Collectors out there? At the Kewaskum Post Office, we are ready, willing and able to assist you in your hobby. Collectors are young and old. Some collect one stamp from each commemorative one that is issued. Some collect the so-called "plate block" (four stamps in the corner with a number). And then some that send them to "someone special" to get the stamp "neatly postmarked" and the recipient will return it to the collector.

At the Kewaskum Post Office, we can fulfill each of your needs. Parents... are your children taking an interest in stamp collecting? As your Postmaster, you know that my door is always open to each and every one of you. Please feel free to stop in, sit a spell, and chat... I LOVE IT. If there are young collectors interested in getting started in stamp collecting... LET'S TALK. I can show you a variety of inexpensive ways to "get started" in the fantastic world of stamp collecting. Stamps are a history in themselves. My daughter is 20 years old... has a huge stamp collection. The very worst thing that could happen to her collection is that someday she would just use them on correspondence. Postage stamps never lose their original value and in many cases, can be worth much more than originally purchased. It is a hobby... a history lesson... it is fun... stop in and see me for more ok?

Okay... do we offer sets of stamps... mint sets, etc.? You bet! Here is a sample of what we can offer you:

COMMEMORATIVE MINT SETS - Generally placed on sale in the fall of the year, these sets include all the special and commemorative stamps issued during that year. They used to be easily attainable, but currently only the 1992 set is available. Each year, the Postal Service "recalls" years past for destruction. RESULT: past year sets increase in original value. Great gift idea - just had your first child or grandchild in 1992? Have no idea what to buy for that "little special someone in your life?" Start them out with a gift that keeps giving and add to it each year... on their birthday and/or Christmas.

WORLD WAR II BOOKS - Got Someone special that served in that war and gets harder and harder to buy for each year? (My dad is a good example of this.) 1941 and 1942 books are published with the 1943 book to be published this year. This is a five-year set... you have to see it to appreciate it... that is for sure. I have some 1942 books on hand and could make some phone calls to nearby Postmasters for the 1941 book as it is no longer available through Milwaukee. Interested? Please stop in and see me.

POSTAL SERVICE GUIDE TO STAMPS: It contains color reproductions and information about every stamp issued since 1947. It also lists current market value of stamps and is issued every year. Stop in for more details and to take a look okay?

Well that's about it for this week. Hope you all have a good day... a happy every day.

Your Postmaster,
Bonnie

High School Science Teacher Attends Biotechnology Class

Upon hearing about enzyme assays, DNA extraction, and other biotechnology techniques, most people might imagine ivory tower research labs. However, William Lickel, a science teacher at Kewaskum High School, knows that such science can happen at the middle and high school levels.

From June 14 to June 25, Lickel attended an introduction to biotechnology class at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The course was one of over 30 "modules" available to teachers through the Education's Teacher Enhancement Programs in Biology. Through this program teachers learn about new advances in the biological sciences, review basic principles, and expand their methods of making science exciting and interesting for their students.

So, while Lickel's students were sleeping late, enjoying lazy summer afternoons, and resting from their recently completed school year, Lickel was already preparing for the next school year. The preparation for the biology, anatomy and physiology, and environmental ecology teacher consisted of lectures and lab work.

Mornings featured lectures by some of the top notch scientists at the university who volunteered their time to help the teachers prepare. On the first day of class, Richard Burgess, the director of the UW Biotechnology Center and professor of oncology, explained that the advantages of biotechnology could be seen in medicine, agriculture, and industry.

Burgess also emphasized the importance of familiarity with the technology in order to understand and benefit from the possibilities. He also indicated that this understanding could serve to decrease skepticism about the new technology. "If you cross two potatoes, you get a potato. Not a monster that will eat your tractor," he joked.

Other lecturing scientists continued Burgess' theme of biotechnology's advantages. Lickel and colleagues learned, among other things, about transgenic cows that could produce improved milk, bacteria that could devour environmental contaminants, and how paper mills could produce products with fewer chemical wastes.

However, as Mike Patrick, the coordinator of the program pointed out, the teachers were not just passive participants in the program. Afternoon laboratory sessions found Lickel and classmates isolating proteins, peering into petri plates, and investigating antibiotic resistance in bacteria.

Using what they had learned in the lectures and their experiences in lab, the teachers were able to develop activities appropriate to their classrooms. "We want to encourage teachers not to be tied to lab protocols... they can go off on their own," Patrick said.

Almost immediately teachers were developing plans to use their new found knowledge in their classrooms. "This is grocery store science," said one eighth grade biology teacher, surprised at how easy it would be to obtain the materials for DNA extraction. Aside from simply generating students' excitement for science, other teachers pointed to job opportunities after graduation and the ability to make informed decisions about biotechnology in the future.

EWSCA NEWS

(Plymouth, WI) - Modified division points leader Don Goeden of Kewaskum picked up still another modified feature win Saturday night at the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car races at the Sheboygan County Fair Park.

Jeff Fritz of Adell took the lead from the pole in the 30-lap Modified feature event and held it for the first 13 laps of the race, while Goeden and Randy Butler of Juneau worked their way through the field into the fourth positions. On lap 12, number two-running Randy Tracy of Plymouth spun out in turn one putting Butler in second and Goeden in third on the restart. Goeden quickly ducked to the inside to take second then pulled even with Fritz going into turn three of lap 14. Goeden pulled past Fritz coming out of turn four to take the lead then pulled away from the field to take the win. Butler passed Fritz on lap 24 to take second with Fritz holding on for third followed by charging K.J. Skelton of Cascade and George Coen of St. Francis.

Jim Rychtik of Port Washington grabbed the lead from the outside of the first row as the green flag dropped on the 25 lap Sportsmen feature. Rychtik pulled away from the field while Steve Hoffmann of Plymouth and Gary Laack of Glenbeulah worked their way through the field from near the rear of the pack Hoffmann pulled into second on the 8th lap and was beginning to reel in Rychtik when a red flag stopped the race, erasing his lead. Hoffmann quickly took the lead from Rychtik on the restart while Laack continued to move through the field and into second two laps later. Hoffmann held off Laack for the next 10 laps but Laack waited for an opening and found one by ducking to the inside on turn four of lap 23. The two went door-to-door down the front stretch and into turn one but Laack pulled past Hoffmann coming out of turn two. Hoffman tried to cut to inside on turn three but Laack closed the door and went on to hold off the Plymouth driver and take the win. Hoffmann took second followed by Ron Eiler of Oshkosh, Randy Markwardt of Sheboygan and Dave Haag of Plymouth.

The lead changed hands several times early in the 20 lap Hobby stock feature before Dean Gosse of Howards Grove worked his way through the field and grabbed the lead coming out of turn four on lap 8. Brad Dahmer of Sheboygan passed Gosse and held the lead for a brief time on the same lap but was knocked out of the race when he was struck by a lapped car. While Gosse slowed to avoid the collision on the front stretch, Roger Lange of Random Lake slipped past the two and into the lead. Lange then held off Gosse over the remainder of the race to take the win. Gosse finished second followed by Chad Kistner of Elkhart Lake who had been knocked to the rear of the field by a minor collision early in the race. Rick Otte of Cedar Grove took fourth and Chad Rathke of Fredonia took fifth.

Terry Chesak of Newburg moved quickly through the field to slip into second place by the third lap of the 15 lap Modified "B" semi-feature then took the lead when front-runner Joey Gish of Milwaukee pulled off the track with mechanical problems. Chesak pulled away from the field and went on to take the win and lead the list of eight qualifiers for the Modified feature. Dave Ecker of Greenbush grabbed the lead from outside of the first row and held off Keith Borth of Sheboygan over the remainder of the race to win the 15 lap Sportsmen semi while Rich Thompson of Campbellsport took the lead early in the 15 lap-Hobby Stock semi-feature and went unchallenged to take the checkered flag.

K.J. Skelton of Cascade took the lead from the pole and went on unchallenged to win a special five lap Budweiser Dash-for-Cash race featuring the top five Modified qualifiers of the evening. Roger Lange of Random Lake won the fan balloting for the Best Appearing Hobby Stock car. Brad Mueller of Random Lake won the Best Appearing Sportsmen car for the second year in a row and Frankie Heimerl of West Bend won fan balloting for the Best Appearing Modified.

Racing will continue Monday, Labor Day evening as part of the Sheboygan County Fair. Racing will get under way at 6 p.m. as part of a special program featuring a full progressive format in all three divisions. Time trials will not be held but cars instead will be lined up according to point standings. There will be no racing Saturday evening.

Wisconsin Shortchanged In Federal Tax Payments

Federal tax dollars spent within Wisconsin totaled $17.8 billion in 1992, according to a report by the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance (WTA), Madison. This was equivalent to $3,563 per capita, which was 23% under the U.S. average and 49th among the 50 states.

The WTA, a privately supported government-research and citizen-education organization, said that the federal fiscal impact within a state comes mainly through four categories of expenditures. One is grants to state and local governments, including some that are redistributed to individuals, such as the two largest medical assistance and aid to families with dependent children. Total grants in Wisconsin in 1992 were $3.1 billion.

Another category is pay to federal employees, such as postal workers, military personnel and civilian employees of the defense department. Total spending in Wisconsin for federal employee compensation was $1.3 billion.

The WTA said that the largest category was direct payments to individuals, including social security and medicare, which also were the two largest. Total spending amounted to $11.3 billion. The final classification is federal procurement contracts, mainly on behalf of the defense department and the postal service. This totaled $1.4 billion.

Compared with other states, Wisconsin is below average in per capita payments in each of these major categories. Its 1992 ranks were: 34th in grants to governments; 50th in federal employ pay; 32nd in payments to individuals; and 42nd in procurement contracts.

According to the WTA, Wisconsin was low in federal pay because there are no major military bases or regional offices of federal agencies located here. Procurement contracts are also low because there are few prime defense contractors in the state.

The very low rankings of 50th and 42nd in those two categories could not be overcome by the somewhat higher placements of 34th in grants and 32nd in direct payments. The overall level in per capita total payments fell to 49th position.

Wisconsin is not alone among the midwest states in being close to the bottom. In 1992, total payments per capita in Michigan ranked 46th, in Minnesota, 48th, and in Indiana, 50th.

The WTA said that the state's second-to-lowest level is not unusual. In the last eight years, Wisconsin has been in the lowest 10% of the states and, in five of those years, its position was either 49th or 50th.

Wisconsin's rankings are unlikely to change appreciably in future years, the WTA said. Either there would have to be a major shift toward Wisconsin in the allocation of expenditures, or there would have to be a significant increase in the amount of money distributed, with Wisconsin benefitting disproportionately in the additional funding. Neither of these options is a practical reality.

For a free copy of the report of federal expenditures in Wisconsin, including per capita amounts and ranks in the four major categories in each state, write the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, 335 West Wilson Street, Madison, WI 53703-3694.

Serving Hampers Indians in Tourney

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - Facing the prospect of having to play in its own season-opening invitational with players that had virtually little or no varsity experience, the Kewaskum girls volleyball team fared about as well as expected here, last Saturday.

The Indians went 4-4 on the day, good enough for third place in the five-team Indian Invitational. Kiel took first place for the second straight year with a perfect 8-0 mark, while Grafton was second (5-3). Also participating were Campbellsport (3-5) and Chilton (0-8).

"The girls were pretty nervous," KHS coach Dave Rizzardi said of his troops, who were without senior Ginger Wiesner. Wiesner, the lone member of the squad with any substantial experience, suffered a sprained ankle the previous night, and was unable to compete.

"We just did not serve very well for a varsity high school team," Rizzardi said bluntly. "We're going to have to pick that up considerably."

Kewaskum got off on the right track with a 15-7, 15-7 win over Chilton in the first match. After falling 13-15 in the opener to Grafton, the Indians came back to take the second game, 15-13.

With a 4-2 mark heading into the match with Kiel (6-0), the Lady Indians had a chance to win the title by beating the Raiders in both games. But the Indians may have tired a bit, as they fell victim, 9-15, 9-15.

"I think we were tired," Rizzardi said, pointing to the fact that his team had its bye right away in the morning, while Kiel rested right before its match with the Indians. "You add up all the little things... being nervous, and tired... and it takes its toll."

Nevertheless, Rizzardi was pleased with the play of the girls.

"It was just a chance to see some people, and get an idea of what we could do," he said. Mary Yahr "really hustled... tries her heart out," according to the coach.

Ali Bruendl "was probably the most consistent all-around," said Rizzardi. "She did a nice job in the back row... showed leadership." Also senior Missy

Radtke "looked good" in her first varsity match. "That was encouraging," as was the play of Sara Tykac, who "did a nice job setting."

Still, the Indians need work on their serving.

"It was well-below what I would like," Rizzardi noted. "A couple of times we would be making a nice comeback, and all of a sudden we'd miss a serve. It would just break our momentum."

The Indians get right into their Eastern Wisconsin Conference schedule this week, with matches at Two Rivers on following week, the Indians host Chilton on Tuesday, and are at Kiel, Thursday, Sept. 8.

Rathkes Join American Angus Association

Steve and Jackie Rathke, Fredonia, are new members of the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with over 24,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 11 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

KHS SPIKERS Need Experience

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - After having the luxury of seven seniors around which to build his team last season, Kewaskum volleyball coach Dave Rizzardi is literally going to be starting from scratch this year.

"It's just like we're starting over, teaching the girls the systems," Rizzardi said of this year's squad, which boasts seven seniors again, but only one of which, Ginger Wiesner, has seen much playing time on the varsity.

"We're definitely going to miss them," Rizzardi said of last year's graduates. "There are some shoes to be filled."

The biggest shoes come in the front row, where Christa Schmidt and Robyn Winninghoff have been mainstays the past couple of years. With those two powerful spikers gone, there is a void to be filled.

"We really don't have any power hitters right now," Rizzardi said, noting that Missy Radtke, a 6-0 senior non-letter-winner, may help out eventually. "I'm looking forward to working with her, and getting her into volleyball shape."

Letterwinners who should provide some leadership include Wiesner, along with fellow seniors Christa Fleischman, Tricia Butschlick, Ali Bruendl, Shannon Breit and Sara Tykac.

"They didn't see all that much action last year," Rizzardi said of the group. Other non-letterwinners looking to help out this year include juniors Mary Yahr and Becky Braun, who should be one of the setters after she learns the offense. Yahr, meanwhile, "has really good jumping ability," according to the coach, and "she should be able to help us."

After finishing second to Sheboygan Falls in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference last year, Rizzardi is hoping to challenge for the top spot once again.

"I'm hoping we'll be in the top three again," he said, adding that Falls and Kiel should be tough.

"We're going to have to take care of the ball on our side, and we'll have to be smart," Rizzardi went on to say. "We have to look for holes and lanes to hit at."

"Our back row people will have to pick up the ball on a consistent basis. If we're able to do that, I think we'll do well."

She: I just broke my glasses.
Will I have to be examined all over again?
Doctor: No, just your eyes.

The hook-and-line season for lake sturgeon opens Saturday, September 4, 1993. The lake sturgeon is a giant among Wisconsin's inland fresh water fishes. A bottom-dweller, it feeds primarily on small organisms found on lake and river bottoms, such as snails, insect larvae, leeches, small clams and other invertebrates. Lake Sturgeon can live 50 or more years and can reach well over 100 pounds. The bag limit is one fish over 50 inches. Anglers must pick up a free tag prior to fishing and tag and register any legal fish caught. Certain state waters are closed to lake sturgeon fishing. For more information see the 1993 Guide to Wisconsin Hook and Line Fishing Regulations.

Freshman Feind Wins Singles Title Lady Indians Third in County Tennis

By Noel Stollenwerk

WEST BEND - The Kewaskum girls tennis program, not really long on tradition, is always the decided underdog when it takes part in the annual Washington County Invitational.

Having to face bigger schools like West Bend East and West, as well as Hartford and Germantown, the Indians have had troubles contending with the deeper teams in the county.

"We go into it knowing full well that the other schools are stronger usually," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the annual meet.

But after securing the school's first-ever Eastern Wisconsin Conference title last season, the Lady Indians continued to meet goals that they have set. By finishing third in the six-team County Invite, the KHS girls accomplished one of their major goals of the season.

That's definitely a goal of ours... finishing in the top half of the County," Eichstedt pointed out, noting that his team captured 17 points in the meet, trailing only West Bend East (36), and West (25).

Helping Kewaskum to one of its best finishes ever, was freshman Margaret Feind, who took the championship at No. 4 singles.

Feind, who has won her first four matches at the varsity level, beat East's Laura Hillman, 6-3, 6-2, in the opening match. Feind then disposed of West's Katie Manth in the semi's, 4-6, 6-1, 7-6 (7-4), after being down 2-5 in the third and deciding set.

"That was a tremendous comeback on her part," Eichstedt said of the young player. For a freshman to compete like that, that really bodes well for both her and the team. Obviously, we are very fortunate to have her with us."

Feind used the momentum from her semifinal comeback to easily defeat Slinger's Holly Nowack, 6-3, 7-5, to win the title.

Junior ace Missy Rohrer also played well in the meet, taking second at No. 1 singles. Rohrer had a bye in the opening round, and then bested Germantown's Cathy Borycki 6-1, 6-0 in the semi's. East's Katie Hillman, a state qualifier last year, was too much for Rohrer in the finals, winning 6-4, 6-2.

"She's really elevated her game," the Indian boss said of "Rohrer's play.

The Indians' other two singles players also garnered valuable team points. No. 2 Meredith Frac took third, beating Germantown's Danielle Bohringer 6-2, 6-2 in the third-place match, while No. 3, Jamie Lynn won her first match before dropping the next two and taking fourth.

"I give (Frac) a lot of credit," Eichstedt said, noting that the senior gave West's Amy Schmelzing, the top Spartan player last season, a run for her money in the semi's. Lynn, meanwhile, was three points away from advancing to the title match, before losing in three sets to Hartford's Deanna Schauer, 2-6, 7-6 (4-7), 6-1.

Unfortunately, the Indians' doubles combinations were unable to win any matches. "That's where they (the bigger schools) have the advantage, with more depth," Eichstedt pointed out. Still, the KHS coach was pleased with the effort turned in by his girls.

"It was a great experience for us," he said. "That's the best we've done in that meet. We were satisfied with our performance and I think we'll continue to improve in the doubles competition."

Indian Netters Win Opener

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM -- Kewaskum girls tennis coach Glenn Eichstedt has tried to cement in his players' heads that the only team that should win on the Indians' new courts is the hosts.

That motivation may have worked here, last Thursday, as the Lady Indians opened their 1993 campaign with a 4-3 win over visiting Ripon.

Eichstedt was somewhat concerned heading into the match with the Redmen, who have been known to boast solid teams. Ripon's strength, doubles, is also one of the Indians' weaknesses this year.

"They are traditionally strong at the doubles spots," Eichstedt pointed out. "That kind of scared me," seeing as how his team lost five of six doubles players to graduation.

But the Lady Indians got a pair of victories at the No. 1 and No. 3 spots. The No. 1 combo of Lisa Berres and Sabrina Maul rolled over Ripon's Katie Boesch and Michelle Soeller, 6-3, 6-3, not bad for a team just recently put together.

"I was real pleased with them," Eichstedt said of his top doubles duo. "They didn't have

Rock Oldtimers Reunion Sunday

There'll be "high fives" flying Sunday afternoon, September 5, when Rock River League Oldtimers Association members rally at Hustisford.

Starting at 1:30, Hustisford's Astros host a league championship playoff game at Firemen's Park that will also serve as the scene for the Oldtimers annual reunion that's fortified with free refreshments and admission.

The Rock's northern division champion Astros are to tackle one of the other division playoff qualifiers, Oakfield, Slinger or Rubicon.

Another association activity this month is its election of five new members to the league's Hall of Fame via a mail ballot to all members.

Candidates are: Don Beilfuss (Lowell, Beaver Dam teams), Roy Maass and Bob Eske (Lebanon), Al "Mina" Micklas and Ben "Bud" Kollmansberger (Mayville), Wallace Rorschneider (Hustisford), Dave Gourlie (Rubicon, Neosho), Carl Keel (Burnett, Horicon, Juneau), Phil Nehls (Juneau, Hustisford, Rubicon) and Bob Wolf (Slinger).

The late Louie Plum, Waupun, was named earlier this year to the league's Posthumous Hall of Fame. Inductions will take place at the Oldtimers-sponsored 14th Hall of Fame Dinner set for Saturday evening, October 30, at the Mayville Golf Club.

much time to practice together, so their win was really big."

The No. 3 team of Anne Mertz and Tristin Olson was also victorious, beating Stephanie Taylor and Jessica Schulz, 6-3, 6-4. "I was real happy with them," Eichstedt said.

No. 1 singles player Missy Rohrer picked up right where she left off last season, taking out Ripon's top netter, Ann Sina. Rohrer, a two-time conference champion, beat Sina 6-3, 7-6 (9-7).

The other Kewaskum victory came from an unlikely source, as freshman Margaret Feind began her prep career with an easy 6-0, 6-2 win over Crystal Stollfuss. "That was great to see," Eichstedt said of Feind's effort.

"This gives us a good starting point for the season," Eichstedt said of the win. "We're young though, so we're still trying to put things together."

The Lady Indians open their Eastern Wisconsin Conference slate with a match at Chilton on Thursday. Kewaskum will then return home for matches next week against EW favorite Two Rivers (Tuesday) and non-conference foe Kohler (Thursday).

Kewaskum 4, Ripon 3

SINGLES -- No. 1 -- Missy Rohrer beat Ann Sina, 6-3, 7-6 (9-7)

No. 2 - Meredith Frac lost to Magen Tatsino, 4-6, 3-6.

No. 3 - Jamie Lynn lost to Joy Christensen, 4-6, 7-5 (7-6), 4-6.

No. 4 - Marbare Feind beat Crystal Stollfuss, 6-0, 6-2.

DOUBLES -- No. 1 - Lisa Berres - Sabrina Maul beat Katie Boesch-Michelle Soeller, 6-3, 6-3.

No. 2 -- Terry Roe-Jenni Weston lost to Maria Ramos-Peggy Wick, 2-6, 4-6.

No. 3 - Tristin Olson-Anne Mertz beat Stephanie Taylor - Jessica Schulz, 6-3, 6-4.

Indian Netters Are Young, Talented

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - With just two seniors returning to this year's squad, the Kewaskum girls tennis team will have to rely on some of its younger players to mature on the court.

"We're pretty young, and it's kind of a rebuilding year in that sense," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of this year's group of candidates. "We lost seven seniors from last year's team. But we've built some quality players that don't have a lot of varsity experience, and I think they will be ready."

Junior Missy Rohrer, at No. 1 singles, will most definitely be ready, as she will try to make it three Eastern Wisconsin Conference singles titles in a row this season. Rohrer was a big key in the Indians' first-ever EW team title last season.

Joining Rohrer in singles competition will be juniors Meredith Frac (No. 2) and Jamie Lynn (No. 3), with freshman Margaret Feind beginning the year at No. 4.

"We've been strong in the singles competition, and it looks like we will be again this year," Eichstedt pointed out.

As for weaknesses, though, it looks like the doubles tandems will need time to get used to each other.

"We only have one of our doubles players back, so we need to fill five spots there," the KHS boss said. "I think we'll have to get some experience there."

Initially, the top doubles team will consist of senior Lisa Berres and junior Sabrina Maul. The other two duos will be senior Terry Roe and frosh Jenni Weston (No. 3), and juniors Tristin Olson and Anne Mertz (No. 3).

Prospects for defending their first-ever EW title will get a stern test early, as the Indians host Two Rivers on Tuesday, August 31. "Two Rivers is the team to beat," Eichstedt said, adding that Sheboygan Falls "is also a quality team with a lot of depth."

"I see ourselves right in the thick of things again," Eichstedt said. "It's the most wide-open race in the five years that I've been coaching. I think once again it will come down to the final conference meet."

That should help the Indians' chances, as this year's conference meet will be hosted by Kewaskum on their new courts.

Dupli-Quik, C.C.'s Win VKAA Softball Titles

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM -- The final results weren't too surprising but certain events leading to them were somewhat shocking, as the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association softball championships were decided last week at the Kiwanis Community Park.

On Tuesday night, the regular-season champion, Dupli-Quik, faced the number two seed, Park Avenue Pub, in the finals. Park Avenue Pub had lost twice to Dupli-Quik during the season, and were forced due to injuries to field a team of just eight players in the first game of the two-out-of-three series.

Dupli-Quik took advantage of that, blowing out Park Ave. 12-0 in six innings. In the second game, Park Avenue played with nine players, and the additional fielder helped, as Dupli-Quik managed just three runs in a 7-3 Park Avenue win.

The final game saw Park Avenue take a 2-0 lead in the first, only to have Dupli-Quik come right back and lead 7-3 after two innings. Park Avenue rallied with three runs in the sixth, but it wasn't enough as Dupli-Quik prevailed 13-8 to capture the Tuesday night title.

On Thursday night, regular-season champ C.C.'s, which finished the year with an 11-1 mark, took on Accent Photography, which finished the year as the number three seed. C.C.'s beat up on Accent 28-3 in the two teams second meeting during the year, so Accent was the decided underdog in the championship series.

Accent didn't play like underdogs in the opening game, however, as it jumped out to a commanding 7-1 lead after five innings. C.C.'s rallied with four runs in the sixth, but it wasn't enough, as Accent held on for a 7-5 win.

C.C.'s offense picked up in game two, as it jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the first inning. Accent came back with four runs of their own in the bottom half of the inning, but C.C.'s stayed hot, pulling out to a 12-4 lead. C.C.'s eventually won the contest, 13-7.

In the finale, it was all C.C.'s as it scored four times in the first, en route to an easy 9-0 win.

Coulter's One-Yard TD Run Wins Game Indian Defense Dominates in Season Opener

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - One game into the season, and Kewaskum football coach Clark Pearson's pre-season analysis of his team is making him look like a prophet.

The Indian boss pointed to his defense as being a strength this season, while the offense, with just a couple of starters returning, may struggle at times, he said.

Case in point here, last Friday night in the Indians' season-opener against rival Campbellsport. The KHS defense dominated the Cougars, allowing the guests just four first downs and no points in the game.

That stellar effort was barely enough for the offense, which got a one-yard touchdown run from Beau Coulter in overtime, allowing the Indians to come out on top, 6-0.

"Our defense played very well," the Indian coach said. "They really shut them down. Our guys up front really controlled the line of scrimmage."

Pearson was so impressed with the defensive unit that after the two teams battled for four quarters without a score, he elected to play defense first after winning the overtime flip.

In high school overtime games, each team gets the ball at the opponents' 10-yard line, and is given four downs in which to score.

Campbellsport was stuffed for no gain on first down, and then KHS senior Shawn Larson came up big on second down, sacking the Cougar QB for a ten-yard loss.

After a reverse got Campbellsport back down to the four yard line, the Indians held on fourth down, when a pass play was stopped for little gain.

"There were about three or four guys in on that tackle," Pearson said, noting that really fired up the crowd and the team.

On the Indians' subsequent possession, Pearson surprised the Cougars by giving the ball to fullback Mark Strobel on first down. Strobel rumbled up the middle for nine yards, giving the Indians three tries to score from the one.

"We had been giving the ball to Coulter a lot on first down," Pearson said, noting, "I figured they would expect us to do the same."

Strobel was stopped for no gain on second down, but after a timeout, Coulter went over the left side for the one-yard game-winner.

"It was a straight dive play," Pearson said, citing Andy Mathias and Eric Beck for their big blocks on the play.

Coulter finished the game with 80 yards on 21 carries, while Strobel added 57 yards on 19 attempts. "Those were our two workhorses, obviously," the coach said.

"We were down there (in scoring position) four or five times," Pearson said, adding that a botched field goal, a fumble, and mental mistakes plagued his team.

"They were doing a lot of stunting, and we just weren't picking them up," he said. "They played a very good game. They are a decent team. But our kids played hard, and we were ready to play."

Especially defensively, where the Indians limited Campbellsport to just 74 yards of total offense.

"The whole defense played extremely well," the coach went on to say, citing Larson, Mathias, Steve May and Paul Stoltzmann for their work up front. Tim Strigenz also "picked it up considerably," with a fumble recovery. Larson and Strobel also came up with fumbles, while Cory Rammer picked off a pass.

"They really did a nice job for their first game," Pearson said of his team. It's always nice to beat Campbellsport, especially with this kind of team effort."

Kewaskum will get another test on defense this week, when they travel to Horicon to take on the Marshmen, losers to Columbus, 24-6, last week. Pearson notes that they are not to be taken lightly.

"They have a decent team. They'll be a formidable foe," he said. "They like to throw the ball... run a variation of the run-and-shoot offense. It'll be a test for us."

KM Amateur At Hon-E-Kor Sept. 18 & 19

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM -- Hon-E-Kor Country Club will once again be the sight of the annual Kettle Moraine Amateur golf tournament, Sat. and Sun., September 18th and 19th.

The tournament is open to all amateurs with a United States Golf Association handicap. Any players without a USGA handicap can also play, but will be relegated to the tournament's Champion Flight.

The remaining flights will be determined by taking the next twenty low handicaps, and so on.

The tournament will be contested over 36 holes on Saturday and Sunday. There is also a two-man bestball championship, with a scratch format. There will be two flights in the bestball competition (0-10 handicap, and 11 and over), with the flight determined by the handicap of the better player.

Tea times will begin at 9:00 a.m. on both days. The deadline for entry is Sept. 15th, and/or the first 150 players.

The cost to enter the tournament is $30 and greens fees for the medal play championship, and $20 (per team) for the bestball championship.

To enter, call Hon-E-Kor at 626-2520.
