An automobile accident in the village of Kewaskum on Wednesday night, January 17, collapsed the front wall of Family Hair Salon on Main Street, damaging the interior of the beauty parlor and a vehicle parked in the vicinity.

The accident occurred at approximately 8:43 p.m., and on-duty police officer Troy Ellis responded to the call. According to a report he filed with the Kewaskum Police Department, a Ford Explorer, driven by Kathy Waala of Kewaskum, was traveling eastbound on Main Street, when the vehicle ran into the back end of a car parked along the right side of the road. The vehicle careened eastward, out of control, flipped onto its side, and crashed into the front wall of Family Hair Salon at 227 Main Street.

Theusch is Candidate For County Sheriff

Capt. Jack Theusch

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Captain Jack Theusch recently announced his intentions to run as a candidate for Sheriff of Washington County.

A Farmington resident and Town Chairman for 19 years, Theusch began his career in January, 1972, in the patrol division for the Washington County Sheriff's Department. He was previously employed at Gehls for six years, and also put in two years of military service with the United States Army.

He attended St. Michael's Grade School, Kewaskum High School, and the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, where he majored in business administration and political science. "I

Board OK's First One Way Street in Village

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

The Kewaskum Village Board meeting Monday evening opened with a public hearing on the request by the school district to change School Street to a one-way street traveling northwesterly.

School Board President Neal Weare, School Board member Jean Goeden, neighborhood residents and a bus driver from Johnson Bus were in attendance to explain why the school district was requesting the one-way travel.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel opened the commentary by stating, "It's a bad situation. People are dropping kids off in the morning, the buses are coming through and you've got cars trying to go in both directions. You've got a car and a bus coming this way and another coming that way, and it gets all jammed up. And then the buses will get backed up around the corner."

A resident from 300 First Street was asked to comment and he added, "It would not bother us (the residents) at all. I think it would be a good thing for you to do it (change the street to one-way) because of the congestion. I see that it would help out alot really got interested in the profession as a student at Whitewater," Jack states. "I was hired as a full time patrol officer for the town's police department, and my second year I worked as an acting detective."

In 1973, he was moved to the county's drug unit, and a promotion three years later earned him the title of detective, and juvenile officer. He worked alongside Rich Hulbert for several years in juvenile law, during which time the state exempted the county from a new state statute that required intake work be done by social workers. As far as Jack knows, Washington County is still the only county in the state, still exempt from this requirement.

In answer to what he found the most rewarding work within the department, Theusch said, "it's an equal split. I enjoyed both detective and juvenile work." Hulbert became a lieutenant, and Jack moved into the detective bureau, where in 1989, he was promoted to captain of operations, also serving as under-sheriff during this time.

Jack is the first candidate to put his name on the ballot for the September Primary, with elections scheduled for November of this year. "I like the way the department is run; I want to see it continue its present direction," he maintained. "Bob (current Washington County Sheriff Robert Schulteis) has done an excellent job, and will be serving as my campaign manager." This is Theusch's 25th year with the sheriff's department.

He sees the future of the department heading into some interesting times. Pressing issues such as the need for a Huber facility and a secured facility for juveniles will have to be addressed by the county board. "We need expansion," Theusch points out. The county jail has a capacity of 100, and is presently full, requiring prisoners be shipped to Ozaukee County at a cost of $260 per day, per prisoner. Because of the lack of a county juvenile facility, all juveniles are shipped to Ozaukee County, costing taxpayers $130 per day for each youth.

"Crime will also be on the rise as our population continues to grow," Jack emphasizes. "The demands will become greater, creating the need for continued community involvement in policing. We need to open up communication channels between the community and the department."

Jack and his family reside on a homestead farm built by his grandparents in the late 1860's. They raise between 50-65 head of dairy heifers, and work 250 acres (150 rented) of cash crops. His wife Marcia, is the Economic Development Coordinator for Washington County. The couple have two children, a son Ryan, a freshman at UWVC, and their daughter Erin, who is a freshman this year at Kewaskum High School.

because of the way people drive and how they park their cars."

School Board President Neal Weare commented that he had been approached by Erv Gorecki of the bus company to request the one-way travel to help ease the congestion and difficulties the buses were incurring in that area.

Weare stated, "With the buses coming in, and the parents coming in, plus the foot traffic, there's been several fender benders over there involving the buses. Fortunately, there haven't been any critical. I see this as perhaps a way of alleviating that congestion, creating hopefully, a much safer environment."

Trustee Gary Gavin asked Chief Knoebel if he felt this one-way travel would create a problem anywhere else.

Knoebel felt school traffic used the street the most and changing it would, "actually alleviate a lot of problems and keep the traffic flowing in one direction."

Further comments and discussion on the safety factor were made by school board member Jean Goeden and a bus driver in attendance.

Trustee Gavin stated he felt the issue should have been addressed a long time ago and was glad it had been now brought up, adding, "It's been a problem for as long as I've been around."

The board then voted unanimously to convert School Street to one-way, traveling in the north-westerly direction.

Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt added the projected date the one-way travel would become effective would be February 5.

Crash

The property, owned by Richard and Sue Laubach, suffered extensive damage, and the corner of the building was knocked off its foundation. Salon owner Sue Laubach stated that the shop was empty when the accident occurred. She had locked up and gone home around 8:15, and was notified of the incident at 8:45 p.m.

Damage includes demolition of the front wall and plate glass window, part of the side wall, flooding caused by a broken radiator and piping, along with hair dryers, and other miscellaneous equipment. No cost estimates for repairs are available at this time.

Family Hair Salon is open for business and repairs began the next day. "We closed off the dryer room and we're using the other half of the shop," she said, and added that she appreciated the way the community rallied to lend a hand. "People off the street came in and offered to help clean up."

The parked vehicle, owned by Michael Schmidt of Kewaskum, received moderate damage to the rear, side and front of the car.

The Ford Explorer suffered severe damage from the impact, to the side and front of the vehicle, and was towed from the site.

According to the police report, no injuries were reported.

Wisconsin Buy Recycled Business Alliance Offering Benefits to Members

Jim Wessing

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The Wisconsin Buy Recycled Business Alliance has announced it will offer benefits to its members that include a WBRBA Recycled Products Locator Guide, listing hundreds of recycled products for sale and additional benefits.

Research has shown that most Wisconsin businesses do not know how to go about locating recycled products, and the new WBRBA guide offers companies the opportunity to locate and use more recycled products. "It just makes good business sense," says Jeff Johnson, WBRBA president, public relations manager of Wisconsin Tissue.

Local resident Jim Wessing of Kewaskum is vice president of WBRBA, and president of Kondex Corp. in Lomira. Kondex is a very progressive company in the agricultural field, and was founded by Wessing and others in 1974. The company is also very actively involved in environmental improvement and recycling products.

WBRBA memberships range from $50 general members to $1000 sponsors. All provide a recycled products locator guide book, membership identity and permission to use the distinctive WBRBA logo in member marketing and other corporate efforts. Other member benefits are scheduled for future months.

To become a WBRBA member company, contact executive directors Bob and Le Jordan, at 608-277-1922, or write to them at WBRBA, P.O. Box 4478, Madison, Wisconsin 53744.

Thanks to the media, those who made donations of money, food, and other supplies, and to all who lent a hand in any way before, during and after the drive. It was an excellent team effort, but without the donors, it would be a pale effort.

Our goal was 125 individuals and we are quite pleased to have registered 146 persons, so thanks to you now and heartfelt appreciation from the recipients of "your gift." We invite all to come and bring family and friends to future drives.

It was an excellent team effort, a great learning experience for K. of C. Council #11301, and speaks well of the area as a sharing and caring community.

Seniors at KHS Learn About Divorce

Judge Leo Schlaefer, left, and Attorney William Alderson from West Bend, talked to seniors at Kewaskum High School about the legal ramifications of divorce.

Seniors in Mrs. Carol Martin's Human Relations Class at Kewaskum High School spent two weeks learning about marriage and divorce from several perspectives.

Lisa Bieman, a dispute resolution expert and mediator visited the class and talked about her role as a mediator in cases of child custody. She explained the process of mediation to the students and talked about tools that are necessary to solve disputes concerning families when the family structure breaks down.

She shared statistics with the class -- 51% of first marriages fail; 60 to 65% of second marriages with children fail and 80 to 85% of third marriages with children fail.

Students who have experienced divorce in their families spoke to the class about divorce from their perspective and the impact it had on their lives and those of their siblings and parents. They offered very candid insight into the changes that occurred in their lives as a result of divorce.

A panel made up of divorced adults also spoke to the students about their divorces and how their personal and professional lives had changed as a result of their divorce. One member stressed the importance of having an education and job training to be independent and self supporting.

They explained custody arrangements with their children and talked about child support payments made to minor children.

As a culminating activity, Attorney William Alderson of the Schloemer Law Office in West Bend, and Judge Leo Schlaefer, a District Court Judge from Washington County, came and spoke to the students about the legalities of divorce.

They each explained their role in the legal process of divorce. Attorney Alderson explained property division, child support, maintenance, the role of the court commissioner, prenuptial agreements, and the actual costs of divorce.

Judge Schlaefer said the court is guided by state laws and it is his job to see that all the facts have been checked and everything has been carried out properly according to Wisconsin divorce law.

This unit was based on a similar class that was taught in Milwaukee, and in Stamford, Connecticut and supported by the American Bar Association.

Mrs. Martin worked with Mrs. Carol Zoerb, the Gifted and Talented Education Coordinator, to put together a program that would create an awareness of issues that affect married life and help prepare young people to make decisions that will prevent negative experiences for them in the future.

Town of Scott Reappoints Mayer Building Inspector

By Bernadette Mondloch

The Town of Scott has reappointed Frank Mayer as its building inspector for another year, the term expiring in December of 1996.

Mayer reported that in 1995, 99 permits were issued: 16 for single family residences and one mobile home. This compares with 67 permits in 1994 for eight residences and one mobile home; 74 permits in 1993 for 11 homes and no mobile homes.

The board reaffirmed its position on private work by town employees. There will be no private work done by Scott employees. Residents are being told to purchase sand or salt from private enterprise. In the past, a sand pile was available for emergency situations where a property owner could obtain a pail of sand free of charge. However, abuse of the system, such as an individual filling a pickup truck, among others, has forced the town to discontinue the practice.

The implementation of a new policy regarding road access from private yards is being considered. Trustee Richard Bemis suggested that all new yards should be required to have a turn-around area which will allow for a vehicle to enter the highway in a forward motion. He said, "This eliminates the hazard caused by backing onto a highway." The matter will be taken up at the February meeting.

Mobile Home Licenses were approved for Hoefts Resort, Lake Seasons and Four Seasons.

The town's library board representative, Betty Mileager, has resigned.

Volunteers who would be interested in the job are to contact

Clerk Colleen Narbatovics at 626-4230 or Richard Bemis at 994-9026. The library meets once a month at the library.

Other library news consists of a possible name change for the Random Lake Community Library to Lakeview Community Library. Nothing definite has been decided.

There has been some confusion about the hours at the Transfer and Recycling Station. Winter hours have been shortened. The winter schedule has the site open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the third Saturday in January, first and third in February, and first, third and fifth Saturday of March.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Kewaskum Statesman:

I really like reading your paper. Even though it only comes once a week. It's a good paper to read. It tells about all of the local events. I only wish it had more classifieds.

Dear Editor:

After having attended several high school basketball games recently (both boys and girls varsity games), I am sorry to say that I am very disappointed with the crowds in attendance. The lack of enthusiasm from both the students and the parents as well as other spectators is rather disheartening. There is little, if any cheering for excellent execution or scoring. When a player makes a great defensive play, the crowd seems to sit back and just wait for something to go wrong rather than cheering them on with energized clapping.

The crowd also seemed to lack support for the school in general by not standing for the school songs. What has happened to showing respect for the school and the team?

As a former player and presently a member of the band at UW-LaCrosse, crowd support is a major factor in the player's attitude and enthusiasm during the game. There is nothing that can pick up a player's desire to push him/herself harder than the band playing a vibrant song during time outs or the crowd cheering loudly during the game. It is very difficult for players to get excited about the game if the crowd is not behind them cheering with enthusiasm and energy. The players are out there pouring their hearts out on the floor and no one seems to appreciate their efforts and hard work.

Please, next time you are in attendance at a high school athletic event, be an active member of the crowd and get involved in the excitement of the game; show your support and respect for the team and the school. It will help increase the intensity and energy of play and might turn a few more games under the win column.

Sincerely,
Julie Mertz

To the Editor:

The ban on Partial Birth Abortions HR1833 has passed both Houses of Congress with slightly different versions. Once the House and Senate agree on a final version, the bill will be sent to the President, probably in late January. President Clinton has promised to veto the bill as it infringes on "freedom of choice."

This abortion procedure is used to perform abortions from 4 1/2 months into pregnancy and until the full nine months. A live baby is pulled feet first out of the mother's womb, except for the head. The abortionist then kills the baby by thrusting a long surgical scissors through the back of the baby's skull and sucks out the brains with a suction machine. Most of these procedures are performed for purely elective reasons. Our President apparently intends to use his executive authority in an effort to allow this barbaric killing to continue.

Pro abortion advocates insist that the Partial Birth Abortion procedure is completely protected by the Supreme Court Roe v Wade decision January 22, 1973 which legalized abortion. Senators Herb Kohl and Russ Feingold seem to agree and have voted in opposition to the ban, contrary to the majority of Senators. The Bill had the support of all Wisconsin congressmen except Rep. Tom Barkett (D-Milw.) who voted to keep this gruesome procedure legal.

You are encouraged to contact the President and our congressmen. Let them know how you feel about their actions, or intended actions related to this bill. Urge all of our elected officials to finalize the ban on this inhumane procedure without weakening amendments.

Dear Editor:

One of the best kept secrets in Wisconsin is the availability of extremely cheap insurance from the state. It is not well-known because the state cannot advertise.

It was set up to provide affordable insurance for Wisconsinites in response to improper practices of some insurance companies.

The State Insurance Fund cannot earn a profit as insurance companies do, consequently premiums are extremely cheap, Residents of St. Joseph's Convent in Campbellsport, were treated to a special presentation on the Life of Martin Luther King Jr. by Ms. Reetz's fifth grade class from Campbellsport Elementary School on Tuesday, January 16. The students rehearsed their parts for weeks, and gave two performances the Friday before for parents and other Campbellsport students. The nuns commented on the students' abilities to recite the program from memory, and the students, in turn, enjoyed listening to some of the nuns' recollections of the day Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated.

AND, after the first year, interest earned can go to reduce your premiums or be paid to you as a dividend. Participants benefit. They are in effect the stock holders. You may even borrow against the cash value.

The maximum coverage is $10,000. For a one year old it is $6 to $8 per thousand per year, depending upon what option you choose.

For my new first grandchild, I chose the option of paying $62.74 for life insurance, or later cash-in value. I paid more for some frilly outfits that she has already outgrown.

I visualize her borrowing from her insurance interest free, at the time she starts college, if need be. It is an asset fund, as well as an insurance fund.

At age 21, the one time only payment per thousand is $148.87, or $9 - $13 per thousand per year. For people age 70, the annual premium is $61.00 per year per thousand dollar coverage.

Funeral costs are commonly $3000 to $5,000 which is hard on a surviving spouse or estate.

Employers/employees could reduce matching benefit costs by buying into this plan, and it keeps the money within the state.

It frees the frugal family of some worries, and is sound economics for the state.

For information or application forms, write: Office of the Commissioner of Insurance, P.O.Box 7873, Madison, WI 53707-7873, or call 800-562-5558.

There is a bill in the State Legislature to eliminate this benefit for Wisconsinites who are not already enrolled.

This leaves them two alternatives: no cheap death insurance or buying expensive policies from commercial insurance companies whose major goals are profits.

Most, if not all of them, are located out-of-state. Consequently Wisconsin money leaves the state rather than circulating here.

To help save "The State Life Insurance Fund" for present and future Wisconsinites call the Legislative Hotline: 1-800-362-9472 and contact your State Representative, Senator and Governor Thompson.

Thank you,
Gail Ritsema

To The Editor:

Recently, I mailed a letter "To The Editor" warning people about the Republican attempt to destroy the State Life Insurance Fund which has been in effect since 1911. This program has allowed parents, grandparents and other Wisconsin residents to buy low-cost life insurance in amounts under $10,000 which are not available from private insurers.

As a result of my first letter expressing concern about this attack by the Republican Majority Leader in the Assembly, I have received numerous letters asking how people can find out more about the fund. If anyone is interested in applying for this type of life insurance, you may write:

State Life Insurance Fund, Office of the Commissioner of Insurance, Lake Terrace Building, 121 East Wilson Street, Madison, WI 53702.

Whether you are interested in the State Life Insurance Fund at this time, or not, I would like to urge you once again to contact your state legislator IMMEDIATELY to prevent the destruction of this extremely useful program.

Marlin D. Schneider
State Representative

Reduced Speed Limit Set on Ice Skating Rink is Open at Kiwanis Park

By Louise Martin

If you cruise on Midland Drive in the Town of Wayne, do so now only at 45 miles per hour.

Town officials adopted an ordinance reducing the speed limit from an unposted 55 miles per hour to a posted 45 miles per hour at their December 20, 1995 board meeting. The section of Midland Drive effected by the reduced speed extends from Highway H to Highway D.

The reduction was approved following a four day traffic count conducted by the Washington County Highway Department. Since the reconstruction of Highway 41, access is gained through ramps located on Highways D and 28.

As a result, Midland Drive has experienced a dramatic increase in traffic. In the highway department study, the average daily count was an amazing 698 vehicles with peak travel times from 6 to 10 a.m. and 4 to 7 p.m.

Additional information supporting the reduction was a petition presented last fall signed by over 30 residents who reside on Midland, many concerned with the safety of the road due to incidents of excessive speed, near misses and heavy traffic.

As area townships begin to experience more development, town boards must consider the safety of town residents who live on and along town roads as well as motorists who travel these roads. The Washington County Sheriff's Department will continue to patrol the road completing periodic speed checks to make sure motorists are complying with the new limit.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

For those of you who enjoy winter recreation, and a spin across the frozen ice on shiny blades, the village of Kewaskum has granted you the opportunity with a new ice skating rink located within the park.

The Kiwanis Park ice rink is located behind the horseshoe pits, and members of the community have been practicing their twirls and jumps, donned in mittens, scarves and tasseled hats. Warm weather and rain tried to destroy the little rink, but village Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles reports that the rink has been restored by his crews, only slightly smaller than it was earlier this winter.

Kiwanis Park's lights are on from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m., and a picnic table is located nearby for rest and changing skates. The park closes at 11 p.m.

It seems Mother Nature left a gift at River Hill Park during the recent warm weather. Snow and rain water ponded and froze into a mini-lake near the band stand, creating a perfect little rink for those residents on the east side of town.

Unfortunately, it was only a temporary good thing, and recent thaws have left it lumpy and unusable. It's hard to predict what will happen day by day during a Wisconsin winter.

It's time to pull yourself out of winter hibernation, grab the kids, and teach them the old-fashioned sport you loved as a child. Remember when all the kids in town gathered at the river or mill pond to skate away those winter doldrums?

Thanks to the village crew, it's time to go skating!

Cedar Campuses Invite People to Cedar Theatre

The program will be preceded with a few humorous woodenshoe stories and will be followed by a question and answer period. In addition to carving Mr. Siegel's talents include cooper, turner, harness-maker, wagonmaker, wheelwright, saddler and cordwainer.

The Cedar Theatre is located at 5595 Hwy. Z, West Bend. This program is free and the public is welcome. For more information, please call Kathy Nyhof, Campus teacher at 334-9487.

Town of Wayne Board Handles Light Agenda

By Louise Martin

Very few ventured out into the dense fog as Town of Wayne officials addressed a light agenda at their January 17 monthly board meeting.

Raised as an item for discussion during the town maintenance report given by Ken Rahlf were two bids from TV 3 Communications of Slinger for the purchase of Motorola communication radios and supporting equipment for use in town trucks.

The proposed bids were for two or eight channel units. The current radios are over 20 years old and are nearly as costly to repair as the purchase of a new radio. Board members expressed the importance of coordinating radios with the Kohlsville Fire Department in the event of an emergency. The bids will be further reviewed and a decision made in the near future.

Rahlf further reported the town has an ample supply, at this time, of sand and salt for winter use, new road name signs have been completed and a proposal of summer road projects is being prepared.

The new fuel tank installation at the town hall is nearly complete with only a few minor items pending. Board members reviewed the current town road specifications from 1980 making necessary additions and changes. The proposed updated version will be presented at the February board meeting for approval.

The Town of Wayne Plan Commission will meet on Tuesday, February 20, 1996 at 7:30 with the next town board meeting scheduled for Wednesday, February 21, 1996 at 8 p.m. at the town hall.

Edna M. Oster

March 28, 1910 - January 11, 1996

"The secret of happiness is strengthening other's faith in themselves, and in their own high potential."

-- J. Donald Walters

Edna M. Oster was there at the beginning. She came to Kewaskum with J. O. Reigle and L. N. Peterson in 1945 to assist in founding Regal Ware, Inc.

She was there when the survival of this small company hinged upon the dedication and untiring endeavors of a handful of resolute people. Her faith in the company and its people never faltered.

Edna derived great happiness and immeasurable pleasure in doing good for others. She believed in people; she encouraged all she knew to become the very best that they could be. Her tireless efforts and countless contributions during her nearly thirty years at Regal Ware, Inc. helped build the rocklike foundation for those who would follow.

Her warm, assuring smile and sincere handshake welcomed customers, associates and visitors alike to the "World of Regal" at headquarters and wherever she travelled. Her dedication and charming example helped build the true spirit of Regal, the company's distinctive asset recognized throughout the housewares industry.

A director emeritus since 1985, and a member of the board since its founding, she served in various leadership capacities during her years with the company. Edna's was a labor of love and no task was beneath her, but her greatest love was sales. Perhaps the company's greatest salesperson, she "sold" the company, its people and its products, not just during the years spent at the company, but on through her retirement and nearly until her last breath was taken.

Edna Oster's name and her significant contributions are indelibly ingrained in the history of Regal Ware, Inc. Her humanity will be forever cherished by those who knew her.

The rampaging Kewaskum Indians ran their win streak to six in a row in the Scenic Moraine and maintained their first place tie with Mayville with a 71-61 victory at Grafton on Friday. The big second quarter, in which they held Grafton to six points, turned the tide for the Indians and gave them a good lead which they held throughout the rest of the contest. Kewaskum's ace Clark Eichstedt, got things rolling for the team and again was the leading scorer with 22 points. Tom Theusch gave Eichstedt a lot of help. He had his best game of the season, hitting for 19 points. Dennis Smith contributed 14 points and Glen Eichstedt 13.

Kewaskum's wrestling team lost a Scenic Moraine Conference wrestling match at Hartland Thursday night, 32-16, to the undefeated Warhawks, who are tied for first place with Kettle Moraine. The young and inexperienced Indians (four sophomores and one freshman as starters) are now 1-4 on the season. Two Indians dropped close decisions to Arrowhead or the meet might have been closer. The score was tied at 5-5 when Cal Tackes lost by a 5-3 margin and John Jadro was defeated in a tight match by a 3-2 score. Doug Bindrich at 157 pounds won his match to stretch his win streak to five in a row. Dave Schacht returned to action at 185 pounds after an injury and also defeated his opponent. # Stalking the Elusive Influenza Bug MADISON -- While holiday shoppers kept an eye out for bargains and searched in vain for empty parking spaces, the Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene (WSLH) was tracking a more serious prey -- influenza.

As a World Health Organization (WHO) Influenza Collaborating Laboratory, the WSLH is part of a worldwide network of labs monitoring the respiratory illness. While influenza season in Wisconsin and the rest of the northern hemisphere generally runs from late November through April, the virus circulates somewhere in the world year-round. The WHO surveillance program is designed to track where the virus is circulating and how it may be changing, all to forewarn of an influenza epidemic like the one that occurred in 1918, when more than 20 million people worldwide died from the disease.

Two subtypes of Influenza A and one strain of Influenza B have been detected in the United States this season. Armed with microscopes, each year microbiologists in the WSLH Virology Laboratory examine specimens for the presence of the influenza virus. The WSLH then sends selected influenza isolates throughout the season to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in Atlanta for further analysis.

Those influenza strains identified at the end of the season are of particular importance since they may predict the strain to circulate the next season. Examination of the last isolates of a season will help the CDC determine which strains to include in the flu vaccine for the next year. Vaccination remains the primary way to prevent or minimize the seriousness of influenza.

Along with the isolates, the WSLH also provides the CDC with weekly updates -- reports documenting the number of influenza isolates and their distribution in the population.

"When we send our data and influenza isolates to the CDC, we're adding to the information base to determine if and how the virus is changing as the season progresses and what virus strains may be circulating in the next year," said Pete Shult, Ph.D., the WSLH's chief virologist.

Data from the WSLH is merged with information the CDC has received from other labs, state health departments and sentinel physicians in order to form an overall picture of influenza's effect on the country. According to Shult, these procedures create a "living" surveillance program wherein public health organizations respond to alterations in the influenza virus.

In Wisconsin, the WSLH works with the Division of Health (DOH) and virus labs throughout the state to determine when influenza season officially arrived. In the best "one if by land, two if by sea" tradition, the first member of this network to isolate an influenza virus alerts the others that influenza season has officially begun in the state.

According to Jeff Berg, acting program director for DOH's Immunization Program, one of the major problems encountered during influenza season is misinterpretation of symptoms.

"Many people think flu is vomiting and diarrhea," Berg said. "Influenza is actually an upper respiratory infection with symptoms like high fever, chills, headache, severe cough, sore throat and muscle aches. You may want to see your health care provider, however, for a definite diagnosis."

While there is no "cure" for influenza, the best treatment is to drink liquids, take a non-aspirin medicine to reduce the fever and muscle aches, and stay in bed.

This last point is especially important since most influenza sufferers are particularly infectious during the first two or three days after the onset of symptoms -- precisely the time people think they can rough it out. At this time, they're actually most capable of spreading the virus.

Berg says if you start to have a pronounced cough and muscle aches, you're better off staying home and letting the virus run its course.

Imagine being part of a crew on an expedition into unexplored waters. That's just what the students in Ms. Badura's and Mrs. Larson's 7th grade science class did. It was a very uneventful trip until something was spotted outside of the observation window. The students researched their findings and recreated them in a mural.

Annual Adell Auction to Benefit March of Dimes

By Bernadette Mondloch

Thirty-five years ago, three Adell women, Stella Federer, Elleanore LaFleur and Sophia Payne put their heads together and organized the first annual auction benefitting the March of Dimes.

From small beginnings, the annual event has grown with only a few changes along the way. When it first began, it was made up solely of donated items and as years passed by, many of them were sold three or four times over. Mother took things to the auction, the kids or neighbors would buy them. When no longer needed by the new owners, they would return to the auction block, only to be sold again.

Elvira Weinhold's raspberry tarts became famous and some years sold for as much as $40, with men of the community each trying to outbid the other.

Another perennial contributor was Phillip Dell who gave no less than $50 worth of apples from his orchard annually. The Adell Homemakers Club contributed bakery.

Elvira no longer lives in the community. Mr. Dell has passed away and the membership of the Homemakers is diminishing, so new donors are being sought to replace their generosity.

Another major factor in the auction's success can be attributed to Wayne and Arlene Hill who not only donate their facilities, but usually contributed a large number of beer signs and memorabilia.

Last year's auction netted over $550, a bit below average but still adequate.

It's March of Dimes Auction time again. Adell area's annual charity auction will take place at Hill's Hall in Adell on Saturday, January 27, beginning at 11 a.m. Rathke-Neumann Auction Service will again be donating their services for the sale.

Donations, especially homemade bakery are needed to make this another success. Consignments will also be accepted by calling Clarence "Otto" Neumann at 414-994-4385 as soon as possible.

IN LOVING MEMORY

In loving memory of HERBERT and LUCILLE JUSTMAN, who passed away thirty years ago in January.

We think of you in silence,
And often say your name,
But all that's left to answer us,
Is your picture in a frame,
We often look at your picture
And your smile seems to say,
"Don't grieve for me, I'm only resting,
And you'll see me someday."

Always remembered and deeply missed by your children and families.

Farmington Third Graders Study Colonial America

Farmington third graders in Mrs. Marschner's and Mrs. Larsen's class recently spent a day as Colonial children.

After studying Colonial America, students enjoyed acting out what they had learned in Social Studies. They dressed in clothes from that period of history and wrote with quill pens, made paper quilts, did tin punching and created stories from the point of view of a colonial object.

They were also very interested in the many guest speakers who came to share their knowledge about colonial crafts, such as Mr. Koch - wood carving, Mabel Schreiber - soap making, Dorothy Zimdars - quilting and Gina Wilson - flower pressing.

They appreciate their time and effort. Much was learned on this day.

A third grader learns flower pressing from Gina Wilson.

Colonial boys show off their handmade hats.

HT Boys 'A' Team Still On a Roll

It was a very cold day both inside and outside of the gym during the first half of the game between Holy Trinity and St. Marys of Mayville on Saturday afternoon on January 20 at Mayville.

The Wildcats, despite numerous attempts, could not hit the bucket. At the end of the first quarter, the score was tied at six all. The second quarter was not much better with St. Marys harnessing the Wildcats and taking the lead by a score of 10 to 8 at half-time. The Wildcats had a dismal shot average of only 13% for the first half of play.

The second half saw an entirely different team on the court much to the happiness of the Holy Trinity fans. The team began scoring on Celtic turnovers as well as on outside shooting.

For the first time in the game, Holy Trinity led by a score of 18 to 17 at the end of the third quarter. Aggressive defense creating important turnovers plus three consecutive buckets finally enabled the Wildcats to have some breathing room.

At this point, the Mayville team began fouling and accurate free throw shooting helped to put the game out of reach. The Wildcats shot with 75% accuracy from the gift line and improved their field goal accuracy to 48% in the second half. The final score was 39-29.

Jason Strobel led the team in steals with 10. Jason Gruber was next with three. Jason Strobel and Jesse Boegel had six rebounds each. Jacob Stoffel had three. Those scoring for Holy Trinity were: Jason Gruber, 10; Jason Strobel, nine; Nick Staehler, eight; Jesse Boegel, eight; Mitch Strobel, two and Jacob Stoffel, two.

The next showdown will be on Friday evening at 8:30 on January 26, at the Kewaskum Middle School. St. Marys of Eden will be the competition.

HT 'A' Girls Defeat Mayville

The Holy Trinity Wildcat "A" girls basketball team turned in another sparkling defensive game in defeating Mayville St. Marys, 37 to 14 on Saturday, January 20. The victory enabled the Wildcats to remain unbeaten in league play with a record of 6-0.

The Wildcats, showing their quickness on both offense and defense, got off to a fast start. Leading the first quarter charge was point guard Amy Piwoni with eight of her team high 16 points.

Even though Mayville opened in a 2-1-2 zone on defense, Amy was able to penetrate and get a number of open shots at the hoop. The first quarter ended with a H.T.S. lead of 14-6.

In the second quarter, a lid seemed to develop over both baskets with each team struggling to put the ball through the hoop. A late basket by St. Marys was the only field goal by either team in the quarter. Fortunately for Holy Trinity, three free throws actually helped them increase their lead to 17-8 by halftime.

The second half opened with the girls defense helping to jump start themselves on the offensive end. With better ball movement against the zone, the Wildcats were able to spread the scoring around, as they were able to connect on ten second half baskets. The biggest key for the 'Cats was being able to hold an opponent to under ten points in a half for the ninth time this season.

Following Amy Piwoni's 16 points were Jenny Kraft with five, Emily Rinzel and Amber King with four each. Erin Weiss, Lynn Wiesner, Aileen Chambers and Bridget Polzean each added two apiece.

Next for Holy Trinity is a rematch versus Eden on Friday at Kewaskum Middle School.

HT Boys 'B' Team Loses to Mayville

The "B" team boys of Holy Trinity School tried their hardest, but lost this one. They came into the game feeling confident and ready to win.

At the end of the first quarter, they were trailing behind St. Marys of Mayville, 14 to 5. That didn't stop them as they kept pushing and scored six more points for the score at the half to be 18-11.

By the end of the third quarter, the score was 25-21 with St. Marys still in the lead. For what seemed like a long time in the fourth quarter, the Wildcats and the Celtics were tied 29-29. The final score of the game was 31-30.

Nick Thorn was the top scorer with 12 points. Josh Repovsh followed with seven. Adam Hubacek made two baskets for four points and Justin Wessing added three points. Bryan Kraft chipped in two points and Anthony Laatsch and Owen Stoffel each had one.

The next game is at home against Eden on Friday, January 26, at 6:30 p.m.

Kettle Moraine Kids 4-H Club

The January 11 meeting was called to order by President Jackie Briggs. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Christine Schmidt. Holly Haack led the 4-H Pledge.

Stephanie Briggs reported on the play for Music and Drama. Our next practice will be at the home of Mrs. Mertz on Thursday, January 25 at 6:30 p.m. Students not in the play, should make a poster or get involved in the speaking contest.

Youth Protection Program Update: Training date is Saturday, January 27, from 9:30 to 11:50 a.m. All new project leaders must attend.

Celebrate Family Week -- Nick Bailey reported that this will be held at the Paradise Mall in West Bend. Different 4-H activities will be on display.

Angie Prost reported on the Bowl-A-Thon to be held on March 24.

A skating and sledding party will be held in February. The date and time will be announced at the next meeting.

Indians Lose Another Game to Sheboygan Falls

By Perry Koth

Coming off their first win, the Kewaskum boys basketball team was confident they could repeat the performance against conference opponent Sheboygan Falls.

It was not to be however, as the Falcons defeated the Indians, 60-51, behind some crisp passing and easy baskets.

The two teams looked fairly even in the first half with Kewaskum holding a two-point lead at the end of both the first quarter and the half.

The third quarter, however, was all Sheboygan Falls, as they outscored the Indians 17 to 8. Falls throughout the game, was able to get players wide open underneath the basket for some easy scores.

While Falls was getting easy baskets underneath, Kewaskum was turning the ball over 17 times, a problem that has haunted first year coach Dave Shaw's team all year.

"We need to take better care of the ball," a disappointed Shaw said. "Falls didn't cause our turnovers, we just don't take care of the ball."

Dan Jeserig once again led the Indians in scoring with 15 points, including eight in the fourth quarter, while no other Indian hit double figures.

Shaw felt that Dan has been doing some good things lately. He also feels that Kevin Dobke has been doing a nice job of playing the point guard position this year. "Kevin gives us 100% every game and is doing a good job playing the point for us, you always know what you are going to get from him," Shaw said of Dobke.

Falls was led in scoring by Chris Korff with 19 points. Kewaskum next takes on powerful Plymouth.

Kewaskum: Bartelt 7, Dobke 7, Jungwirth 9, Friedel 3, Jeserig 15, K. Martin 8, R. Martin 2. Three point goals - Bartelt, Dobke, Jungwirth, Friedel, Jeserig (2). Free throws - 9/12.

Sheboygan Falls: Servant 2, Neerhof 8, Kotnik 8, Rau 10, Kimmler 2, Gritt 4, Korff 19, Moser 7. Free Throws - 12/22. Three Point Goals - Neerhof, Korff.

over 30 times in the game making it difficult to score many points. Dan Jeserig once again led Kewaskum in scoring with 12 points while Kevin Martin had 8. No other Indian player scored more than two points.

Meanwhile Kewaskum had a difficult time stopping Plymouth's Dave Mikolyzk, who led all scorers with 28 points, while Todd Melcher added 13. Shaw once again noted that Kevin Dobke, "gave us everything he had. He is one guy I can count on to give us everything he has got each week."

KEWASKUM - Bartelt 2, Dobke 2, Jungwirth 2, Friedel 2, Butschlick 2, Jeserig 12, K. Martin 8, R. Martin 2. FT's - 2/5.

PLYMOUTH - Hein 5, Hoff 1, Knowles 3, Swenson 2, Mikolyzk 29, Melcher 13, Fieber 4, Deideil 4, Harrison 6, FT's - 15/17.

After dinner speeches would be much shorter if they were given before dinner.

Indians Crushed By Plymouth, 66-30

By Perry Koth

When your not playing with a lot of confidence, the last thing your team needs to do is play a team who is challenging for the Conference Championship, but that's what happened last Friday as the Indians traveled to Plymouth for a conference matchup with the Panthers.

The outcome unfortunately was what you might predict as Plymouth had no trouble with the Indians, winning 66-30.

Plymouth jumped out to a 17 to 8 first quarter lead and then held Kewaskum to only four sec-

"It wasn't Plymouth that caused our turnovers, it was us. We hurt ourselves more than they hurt us, by making poor decisions and by not being ready to play."

The Indians turned it
