KHS Principal Heidner Resigns

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Kewaskum High School principal Charles Heidner announced last Thursday that he is resigning from his position with the school district as of June 30th, to take a new job in Sturgeon Bay.

Heidner will be serving as their new elementary principal for two schools, under the direction of former Kewaskum school district Superintendent Dr. David Heather, who also left the district for greener pastures in Sturgeon Bay last summer.

LeRoy Kopecky to replace LeRoy Kopecky in August of 1991, Heidner says students and staff became the highlight of his five year experience as an administrator for Kewaskum schools, yet he's looking forward to working with younger students for the first time in his 30 years in education.

There have been several positive accomplishments Heidner has seen during his reign as principal at KHS, perhaps the most publicized being the completed expansion of the high school and middle school, approved by public referendum. "It has significantly increased opportunities we can provide for students," he points out, adding that in his view the district got a very good deal in the quality of work that was done for the money spent.

He's also been pleased with the progress the student body has shown, as far as developing positive self images, thanks to POPS (Power of Positive Students), a program led by high school band teacher Larry Ammel. Now it encompasses the entire faculty and student body, emphasizing the good, instead of the bad points of today's youth. "It lets the public hear about the good things our students

JR Schnabel Enjoying 'Life in the Fast Lane'

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Sixteen year old JR Schnabel spends a big part of his life in the fast lane, but not before earning honor roll grades, his parents, Glen and Vicky, point out.

The family moved from Slinger to the rural Farmington area six months ago, and are still in the process of making everything fit into their new home. What makes it so difficult is finding the room for 40 motorcycles, and over 500 trophies JR won during his career in the sport of cycle racing. Schnabel's been burning up the track breaking records, and impressing enthusiasts nationwide with his long list of championship titles.

Currently racing at the Grand National level, JR and his father packed up their gear and headed to Daytona, Florida last week for nine days of competition in the Grand Nationals of Dirt Bike racing, considered the "Big Time" by the pros. In order to compete at this level, JR earned the required 80 expert points in just three months, a feat that usually takes the best riders two years to do. "Very, very few have done this at his age," Glen explains. "He'll be the youngest guy there, and we're hoping for Rookie of the Year."

JR will be riding seven bikes at Daytona, three of his own, and four sponsored by Suburban Harley of Thiensville. Sponsorship plays a big role in financing Schnabel's expensive hobby, which his father estimates the costs to be at least $17,000 a year. But this Kewaskum High School junior is well on his way to a professional career, considering his track record, and once a competitor turns pro, sponsors pick up the racing tab.

It wouldn't be surprising, knowing JR.

Along with earning his pro and expert points in this short time span, he won his first pro victory at the Sturgis Regional Championships in the 883 class just after he turned sixteen. Schnabel broke the record for National Amateur Class championships (34), and also holds the record for number of National Class Championships in a single season. American Motorcycle, in their October '92 issue, wrote that his performance was "easily the most impressive performance of the year, and may have been the best by any rider in the history of the dirt track national." The American Motorcycle Association calls him, "the most winningest amateur rider in AMA history." "His records aren't going to be touched for a long time," Glen adds.

Schnabel's illustrious career began when he first started riding at age five. By nine, he was competing at a national level, taking a third place his first year. His uncle, Scott Schnabel, shares his enthusiasm for the sport, and has himself won 14 amateur national championships. Now JR averages about 75 races a year, including 24 grand nationals. His winning record also includes 13 Amateur Grand National Championships, 15 Amateur Wisconsin State Championships, five Southeast Regional Championships, and finished second in a pro class out of 320 riders as an amateur at the Minneapolis Metrodome 1994.

His collection of 40 bikes includes hill climbers, motocross, dirt track, and ice riding machines. Some are strictly used for practice which he does on a dirt track in the back yard, or at Mike's Cycle in Allenton. He spends a lot of practice time with his Uncle Scott. "It's not unusual for JR to ride all day with another of our riders from home," his father points out. "Then, when my brother Scott

School District to Study Facility Needs

The School District of Kewaskum is conducting a feasibility study of the building needs of the District to the year 2010. This includes maintaining, replacing, expanding, or rebuilding the elementary schools in the District.

A study group has been established by the Board of Education to study this issue and to do fact-finding for the Board.

Meetings are open to the public and have been scheduled for March 12 at 8 p.m. in the District Office, March 28th at 7 p.m. at the high school cafeteria and April 2nd at 8 p.m. at the District Office.

The March 28th meeting will include discussions with all township officials that the District encompasses. The public is invited to attend all sessions.

Members of the K-5 feasibility study group are staff members Lou Ann Potter, Dan Beske, Kieth Kriewaldt and Charles Johnson. The community members to the group thus far are Al Duenkel - Barton, Shirley Schlice - Village, Terry Weber - Scott, Joyce Schleif - Auburn, Maury Schlice - Farmington, Mike Lettow - Kewaskum. The Board Chairperson for the study group is Mary Andera.

JR Schnabel

JR Schnabel readies his racing bike for the Grand Nationals at Daytona, Florida, held this past week.

Over 500 trophies at the Schnabel household need a room of their own. They were all won by JR during his record breaking career.

comes over, they'll fill the 125's up and run them till they run out of gas." On average, JR gets some track time in every day if the weather's nice, adding up to two full days per week.

"Flat track dirt racing is really my favorite - it's what I'm best at," Schnabel maintains, although he points out that bikes go faster on ice than any other surface, and these specialized bikes contain 1000 screws in each tire.

"Fast" is the name of the game, and JR races at average speeds of 104 mph, getting up to 135-140 on the straight-aways. "We wear a lot of safety gear, and so far I've had no real injuries from accidents," he states. "It's not as bad as people think, as far as the danger involved." JR's custom leather suit was $1,500 new, and add to that boots, helmets, gloves, and it's easy to see where sponsors come in.

"They can provide us with oil, leathers, shoes, helmets, cycle parts, and in turn we promote their products and put their business name on the bikes," Glen remarks.

JR's career is a family affair, something they enjoy doing together. His mother Vicky, and 11 year old sister Stephanie, travel along as time permits, taking videos and photographs to record his record breaking accomplishments, with Stephanie also filling in as official cheerleader. "Nobody can take these memories away from us," Glen asserts. "It's a family thing that's been fun for all of us."

If you're wondering if all this has gone to JR's head, nothing is farther from the truth. The soft spoken KHS junior is on the honor roll ("It's the only way he gets off doing this," his father strongly points out), was the regional high school wrestling champion in 1994 while attending Slinger High School, and currently wrestles for Kewaskum, instructs third grade Catechism classes, helped with electrical wiring for their church's new parsonage, and regularly takes time out to talk to his fans at racing events, cheerfully signing autographs. He also makes personal appearances for sponsors, and delivers presentations to classmates.

News of JR's rising career has appeared in AMA American Motorcyclist, Cycle News, Cycle USA, and ESPN covered him at the 1993 Dominator's Show.

As far as what the future holds in terms of JR's professional career, this year will be the turning point. With JR Schnabel's talent, determination and supportive family, there's no stopping him. He's well on his way to the "big time."

'Ask the School Board Candidates'

This week we are finally beginning our "Ask the School Board Candidates" feature. Because we had to hold the column from last week due to time constraints, we will print both questions the candidates were asked to answer.

Due to the fact there is only one week remaining after this issue prior to the March 19th election, we will also try to print at least two questions next week. This, however, will be contingent upon the number of questions received.

Voters, up to this point, have been rather sluggish in submitting questions. They seem to be sitting back and waiting for someone else to ask the questions... or have become ambivalent.

If you have a question, please do not hesitate to send it in. Mail your questions to "Ask the Candidates," % The Kewaskum Statesman, 250 Main Street, P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040, or drop them off at the Statesman. There is a mail slot in the front door for your after hours convenience.

Questions must be submitted by noon on Friday, March 8 in order to get the questions mailed to the candidates to give them adequate time to respond and have the answers back in our office prior to our Monday noon deadline.

We do ask you to submit your name, address and phone number with your questions. However, the questions are re-typed and sent to the candidates anonymously. They will have no idea who wrote the questions. That confidential information is for our records ONLY.

We also ask that you limit your questions to 35 words or less so we can provide the candidates with ample space to respond.

Please take the time to read the questions and the candidates' responses carefully. Then take a little more time to sit down and write a question you feel is important for the future school board members to address prior to the election. And don't forget to vote Tuesday, March 19.

The first question follows with the answers being addressed in the alphabetical order of the candidates' last name.

Question #1

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT THE POSSIBILITY OF RE-OPENING BEECHWOOD SCHOOL?

JON DOWNS

Dealing with substantial population growth in our school district is going to be one of the key issues we face. There are several options at our disposal, and a task force is being formed to research the pros and cons of each. I strongly believe that this process is correct, and will reserve my final opinion until their research is concluded.

In the end, the issue of whether or not we reopen Beechwood will come down to fiscal realities. The primary question will be -is it more cost effective for our school district to reopen Beechwood School or drop it as a school district facility. I believe we can no longer afford to maintain Beechwood for its current use -- storage.

Options for dealing with student population growth vary significantly. They include building a new school, expanding current schools, reopening Beechwood, or using some combination of these ideas. We need to look at initial costs, as well as long term cost effectiveness.

These are the types of issues the committee will be charged to analyze and report back to the school board. The answers to these questions will form my final opinion on reopening Beechwood.

Jon Downs

LARRY FECHTER

I would feel great about reopening Beechwood School, but to say an unequivocal yes at this time would be politically irresponsible and self-serving. Presently there are too many questions, concerns unanswered. The only two things I would comment on at this time is: 1) To look at all the facts, comments and concerns and vote accordingly, and, 2) If the decision is to sell, I will work hard at transferring the building to the local government body.

Larry Fechter

LISA MAUL

I have always been in favor of the small schools, but in reality, we have to look at it from different angles. 1) The cost of getting Beechwood up and running as a school with supplies, desks, etc. 2) The cost of additional teachers and, 3) The cost of bussing, versus, 1) Adding on to the existing schools we do have. 2) The cost of a few added teachers and, 3) What ultimately will be the final cost to the taxpayers. If down the road, the growth of Kewaskum warrants another building, it would be a good option.

Lisa Maul

RUTH SCHMITT

I have always believed in the concept of neighborhood schools. When Beechwood School was open, there was exceptionally high parental involvement, as well as strong community pride and ownership. It was a sad day when Beechwood closed its doors 10 years ago.

As an unoccupied building, Beechwood School has deteriorated through the years. It will cost thousands of dollars to restore the building to its original condition. Because our district cannot absorb the cost of total restoration all at once, I would like to see one or two classrooms remodeled as needed each year.

If we opened the building for kindergarten in the 96-97 school year, perhaps the district could add a first grade in the 97-98 school year. There would be less financial impact to the taxpayer if we do restoration over a longer period of time.

In the long run, I believe the opening of Beechwood School would benefit Beechwood and Farmington students. Beechwood has potential for growth if they can attract new families to a neighborhood school. Farmington will not have to absorb more classes, increased class size, and/or put an addition on the Farmington school. The final decision will be made when all the numbers are in and increased school population justifies the need to expand our current facilities.

KAREN SPARKS

Although most of the information presented at board work sessions over the last two years tends to indicate to me that we cannot re-open Beechwood School without exceeding the spending caps, I am not against it in principle.

I applaud the long-range planning process that is just beginning. I hope that the board will follow through on the full process. We should get some good current information, realistic projections, a listing of belief statements, a setting of priorities, and direction for the district that we can refer back to when making decisions in the future.

If this planning process indicates a need or desire to re-open Beechwood School, where will the funds come from? If the school is re-opened, we must provide the same curricula and services to the students attending Beechwood as those in the rest of the district.

If we need more dollars for this or any major project, we must consider either shifting money from other programs and services (very tough to do under the current budget) or raising the spending-cap limit via a voter referendum. I would think that the option must at least be considered in the long-range planning process this spring. Tough choices have had to be made in the past, same as now, and we should consider all options. If there are voters/taxpayers who have positive, creative ideas, they would be welcome, and this is the time of year to speak up. I urge people to attend meetings and keep informed.

TOM TIMBLIN

I know that the residents of Beechwood are very passionate about their school. For years, it was the center of activity in the community. I realize the local taxpayers strongly want the school re-opened. I also understand the financial restraints involved with the decision to close.

There is currently an administrative task force that is studying the issues. At this point, I do not know enough about the inside information to make a clear-cut decision. If elected, when I am privy to the critical knowledge necessary to form an educated common sense opinion, I will do so.

There are a lot of underlying issues to be resolved, such as how much money, in real dollars, is the district saving with the school closed, with all of the additional transportation, maintenance, and janitorial costs? How many more students do we have from the area now as opposed to when the school was closed? What are the future population trends? Although I am fiscally very conservative I am not opposed to spending money when it is used wisely in the best interest of the entire district.

One thing is clear, as a former homeowner from Beechwood, I think the building needs and deserves a more important role in the community than as a storage facility.

Tom Timblin

It has been my experience that folks who have no vices have very few virtues.

Question #2

WHAT ROLE DO YOU FEEL THE ATHLETIC PROGRAMS PLAY IN OUR SCHOOLS?

JON DOWNS

I believe athletic programs play a significant role in our schools. While it is true that they should never take precedence over academics; if used properly, they can actually enhance other aspects of the school environment, including academics.

On an individual level, athletics promote many positive attributes such as self discipline, self worth, work ethic, and social interaction. Individuals, if they work hard, gain self confidence that results from improvements in certain skills and development. At the same time, they learn that success comes from individuals playing and interacting as a team. These are lessons that can help them in academic endeavors and other school functions. In fact these lessons can be of benefit throughout life. Involvement in any extra curricular activities - including athletics - is often beneficial because it offers individuals positive and constructive use of their time.

I believe athletics can fill a role for the school population as a whole, also. It can be a unifying factor, which assists in overcoming the various aspects that can divide individuals or groups within school.

Jon Downs

LARRY FECHTER

Athletic programs play a very important role. Athletics provide students with discipline, structure, team building and reward after effort. Successful teams can bring people together. No matter skin color, gender or beliefs, people rally around a common goal. Our recent Green Bay Packers' season proved this. And, if any district could use a rally, it is Kewaskum. It is my goal to improve this neglected, important program and to utilize our excellent Booster Club.

Larry Fechter

LISA MAUL

The athletic programs are very important to our kids. A successful athletic program builds strong school spirit, (something that we have been lacking lately). It also instills pride in their school, not only for the students, parents and teachers, but also for the community, as well. For the participants, it: 1) Builds character; 2) Teaches teamwork; 3) Encourages goal setting; 4) Allows for the satisfaction of accomplishing goals, both team and individual. In closing, playing sports rewards students who work hard in the classroom with the privilege of representing their school as a member of one of the athletic teams.

Lisa Maul

I believe our athletic programs, intramural and conference sports, are an important component of the total educational experience for students. Athletics help develop students into strong, healthy, confident young adults. Male and female athletes learn how to work as a member of a team and how to deal with competition -- win, lose or draw.

Employers today value employees who can work as a member of a team to do problem solving and are able to generate new ideas. Sometimes problem solving involves thinking on one's feet, working under pressure, and putting one's personal feelings aside. Student athletes' experiences duplicate some of these real life scenarios.

I am an avid sports fan and try to attend as many sporting events as

Our athletic programs are very important to our students, our school and our community for a variety of reasons. They begin at the Middle School, and I applaud the "no-cut" philosophy there, so that all students have a chance for the positive experiences listed below before they enter high school.

In high school, athletic programs provide valuable experiences in striving for personal improvement and excellence, in learning to be part of a team, in valuing and displaying good sportsmanship, in boosting school and community spirit, in learning to accept defeat gracefully, and in taking pride in a job well done. They allow students and adults (coaches) to interact in positive ways outside the classroom. They encourage good time management for busy students, and can provide a major source of motivation for some students who have difficulty with academic subjects or are less capable in non-athletic areas.

Athletic programs involve more students than just the athletes on the field and their managers, too: cheerleaders, cheering sections, pep band, marching band, concession workers, reporters, the list goes on; all are involved in positive ways.

In the future, if the board is faced with decisions about cutting aspects of our athletic or other extra-curricular programs due to budgeting concerns, I hope you are willing to speak of the value of these programs, as I am.

TOM TIMBLIN

As a 1975 graduate of KHS, I participated in sixteen sports in my four years. As an individual who took great pride in wearing the green uniform of the home team, I'm deeply saddened at the decline of our athletic program. I know educating our kids is our primary concern and athletics are secondary. But why can't we be excellent in both fields?

If elected, I will become very involved with the resurgence of our teams. It is almost embarrassing to see the lack of fan support at home games. We need a shot in the arm!

High School athletics create memories that kids will remember for a lifetime, most good, some bad, just like life. The sacrifices, discipline, teamwork, camaraderie, is all great stuff and part of the high school experience.

I'd like to see more support from the top on down, ie: board, principal, staff, students, and fans.

The athletic conference we are currently in is ridiculous! It is a failed experiment for Kewaskum and needs to be changed. No rivalries, all snakey side roads to away games, two hour bus rides to Two Rivers, returning at 1 a.m.!

We can do much better. What's wrong with the Slingers and Mayvilles and Campbell-sports of the world? With the current breaking up of the state's parochial high schools and their joining the WIAA, now's the time. Let's roll our sleeves up and get on the phone! How about a new Scenic Moraine Conference? Somebody needs to take the bull by the horns and show leadership.

'Jail and Bail' ... Raising Funds for the Cancer Society

By Louise Martin

Community leaders and personalities in Kewaskum and surrounding areas may find themselves arrested, handcuffed and "hauled off" to jail when the American Cancer Society stages its "Jail and Bail Fund Raiser" in Kewaskum on Wednesday and Thursday, March 20th and 21st. A makeshift jail located in the lobby of Bank Wisconsin will house the jailbirds.

The American Cancer Society has posted a ten "Most Wanted" list who are wanted on a variety of charges. Pictured here are additional prominent citizens on the "Most Wanted" list. Wouldn't it be fun to have your favorite neighbor, friend, employee or employer arrested? For a $10 donation anyone can have someone arrested! They will be picked up at their home or workplace by a real, uniformed, off-duty officer, handcuffed and hauled off to jail where a judge will sentence them to time in jail.

Once imprisoned the jailbird will be given a phone book and phone to call friends, relatives and associates to raise their bail. For more information or to set up an arrest, you can call committee member, Jackie Herriges at 626-2171.

Something new is beginning at the West Bend K.C. Hall on Sunday, March 10, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Crafters will be coming from throughout the State of Wisconsin to display their latest creations for Spring. Kewaskum's own Wendi Dreher will be the coordinator.

Perhaps you are just interested in a unique new piece to add life to your Easter decorations... all this and more will be available for your shopping pleasure at the new Classic Arts and Craft Show on Sunday, plus many of your old favorites will also be there. Woods, florals, decorated tennies, ceramics, quilts, dolls, bunnies, clothing and much, much more will be on display as shown by the photos above and below.

Another added feature at this craft fair is the availability of lunch. The Beechwood Diamond girls softball team will be selling a variety of food items to raise funds for their trip to the Nationals this summer.

Amber Hotel's Zingsheims Honored by State Restaurateurs

Lois Zingsheim

(MADISON) Veteran Campbellsport restaurateurs Lois and Dale Zingsheim have been named by their east-central Wisconsin colleagues as the 1996 Outstanding Restaurateurs of the Year. They were presented the award Tuesday evening (Feb. 6.) in Milwaukee at the Wisconsin Restaurant Association (WRA) annual Awards Banquet.

The Zingsheims, owners of the Amber Hotel, Campbellsport, have been active members of the WRA for nearly 15 years. Lois has served as Treasurer/Secretary for two terms for the Lake-To-Lake Chapter of the WRA. The Lake-To-Lake Chapter consists of Fond du Lac County and Dodge County.

Typically, WRA chapters across the state select one person each from their ranks to receive the Outstanding Restaurateur of the Year (OROY) award. Criteria for selection include the degree to which the person is active in WRA activities and organizing. This year, the Lake-To-Lake Chapter decided that Lois Zingsheim met those criteria, but that she wouldn't have been able to if not for Dale, who runs the restaurant when she is away to WRA business, says Chapter President Linda Koenigs.

"In my opinion, when you run a business together as a married couple, it is one of the hardest things to accomplish. Lois is very active in a lot of extra activities, but Dale is very much behind her. This is what it takes to run a successful business," Koenigs said.

The Zingsheims run the only supper club in Campbellsport, and the fare at their restaurant features many recipes prepared from scratch. The couple also does all of the seasonal and general decorating of the establishment. The Amber Hotel employs 24 people.

In addition to the long hours she puts in as a restaurateur and active WRA member, Lois finds time to chair the Culinary Arts Committee at Moraine Park Technical College, and helps organize community events such as Crazy Days, Halloween Chapter, and an Old Fashion Christmas. She is also the Secretary of the Campbellsport Chamber of Commerce.

Dale, meanwhile, is running for a second term on the Campbellsport Village Board, and is active with the Lion's Club.

More than half the state's 12,000 restaurants are members of the WRA, making it per-capita the largest restaurant association in the nation. The WRA is the second largest non-profit organization in the state, and the industry it represents is the largest retail employer in the state.

Cub Scouts Receive 'Light of Christ' Emblem

On Friday, February 23, at the all school Mass at Holy Trinity Church, Kewaskum, Alex Herriges, Jason Tuszyński and Michael Neumann of Kewaskum Cub Scout Pack 3744 - Den 1 received the "Light of Christ" emblem from Father John Brophy.

The Light of Christ program was developed by the National Catholic Committee on Scouting under the auspices of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops. The purpose of the program is to help the Scouts develop a personal relationship with Jesus.

Each Scout completed a booklet which consisted of five steps -- Families, God's Call, Eucharist, Forgiveness and Family of God. Then the booklet was presented to Father Brophy. This meeting allowed the Scouts an opportunity to have a positive interview with a priest.

The Light of Christ program is the first of five religious emblems

It used to be that Papa dealt out a stern code of discipline to Junior. Then the safety razor took away his razor strap, furnaces took away the woodshed and tax worries took away his hair, and the need for a hairbrush. That's why kids are running wild today. Dad ran out of weapons.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ARTHUR WEDDIG, who passed away two years ago, March 6, 1994:

Though his smile is gone,
And hands we cannot touch,
And we have so many memories
Of one we loved so much.
His memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part,
God has him in his keeping,
We have him in our hearts.

Sadly missed by his wife Ella, children, and grandchildren

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of CELESTA JONES, who passed away one year ago, March 11, 1995:

Behind our smiles are many tears,
For the one we lost and loved so dear.
Deep in our hearts, her memory is kept,
To love, cherish and never forget.

Sadly missed by her sister, nephews and niece and families

The only rational way of educating is to be an example—if one can't help it, a warning example.

In loving memory of SHIRLEY BACKHAUS, who passed away 18 years ago, March 6th.

So many years have passed,

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Thank you to all local businesses who donated door prizes to help make our Athletic Dance a huge success.

Also, a special thank you to the Kewaskum Statesman for publishing our game results and to the people who took their time to write these articles.

Holy Trinity Athletic Association

Dear Editor:

A recent article in the Milwaukee Journal/Sentinel and a call from a parent has caused me to write. It was insinuated in the article that both incumbents up for reelection feel that the majority of current School Board members wish to remove computers from the elementary school. It is amazing that people can make statements without supporting facts or further explanation. The call from a parent also claimed that their child came home from school with the news that the computers were going to be taken away. Although this is very disturbing, it is also typical of the way many issues are communicated. Big on emotion and lacking in facts.

I have volunteered to be a parent/community member of the JET (Joint Educational Technology) Committee of the Kewaskum School District and have used several vacation days from work to participate. The facts are that this district, in the past, has not made wise technology purchases. Some new computers purchased last year are still in boxes. Some of the software that was purchased runs only on the specific hardware that our vendor sells. This limits versatility and utilization. We also have some software that won't accept a correct answer that a child enters.

We, as a district, are in the process of developing a comprehensive plan for computer utilization. As yet, we have no method for evaluating the effectiveness of the computers we have been using and we have made no assessment of our current needs or what the needs will be of our future graduates. We do know, however, that our students have scored below state averages on recent standardized tests. We shouldn't measure ourselves by how many computers we have, but how effectively they are utilized. We should provide education, not "edu-tainment." I'm pleased to say that the current JET Committee of teachers, administrators, and parents are making a great effort to stay current on technology and provide the tools for a valuable education. However, we shouldn't spend all our money on technology and then have to go to referendum for building maintenance projects. We need a balance.

By the time you read this, a consultant will have been chosen to evaluate our current hardware and we will begin working on a job description for a Technology Administrator - someone who will be responsible for evaluating our future software and hardware purchases to assure that they meet our children's needs. This person will also be responsible for providing the support that our teachers need to effectively use these tools and ensure that this is done in a cost effective manner.

I would like to add that much is being said about the number of administrators who have left in the past year. This should be embraced as an opportunity to improve! After all, these former administrators had been at the reins of the current system which has resulted in our latest test scores. This is their legacy.

We are on the threshold of a new era in Kewaskum. This era will be ushered in by a team of outstanding teachers, administrators, parents, and a School Board that cares about Education! Our future is bright!

John Meisser

To ALL Residents of Kewaskum School District:

It's time to stop what's happening in our district. If we let Mr. Weare take away the learning tools, from our students, that he feels are not necessary now or ever, the education our students will be getting, will amount to nothing.

For example: Mr. Weare supports removing computers from elementary schools. Technology is a part of the future. If we don't introduce computers, before high school, our students will have a hard time, competing with students in the job world, who have been using computers, since kindergarten.

School to work: A program where a student develops strong academic skills in school, learns technical skills in the workplace, learn and practice good work habits, problem solving and team work skills and apply them in the job world. Mr. Weare feels that this program could give business too much control over education. In education, we are to give our students, knowledge and skills, to be able to help them survive, when they leave school. What better way, than to get input, from businesses, on what skills they will need, to get a job.

Reading: He favors using phonics only. All students are different and learn in different ways. To limit reading, to phonics only, you are stunting those students, who are unable to learn, this ONE way.

Now you may think, because you don't have any children, in school, this doesn't affect you, IT DOES!!!

You may also think that if you ignore it, it will go away, IT WONT!!!

Mr. Weare has stated that he is a member of PRESS and he agrees with alot of what they stand for. Removing computers, uncertain about school to work, and phonics only, are all PRESS related and there are many more, many more tools that will be, taken away, from our students, if we don't stop it NOW.

In case you didn't know, Mr. Heidner, KHS principal, is resigning, as of June 30. Mr. Weare has stated that Kewaskum is a stepping stone, for people on their way, to better jobs. Then why have the people who have left, including Mr. Heidner, gone to a lower paying job.

These students are our future. If we don't give them, the education they need, we will have failed as a district.

C'mon, it's time to wake up and find out, what's really going on.

*Lu Ann Potter
Kewaskum*

Life in the 50's and 60's was great-wasn't it? So let's hop in our time machine, and let's go back to when life was grand-and if that's not possible, well, let's at least put education in

Kewaskum public schools back a few decades! I have not found the statistics books that indicate that there were no high school drop outs, all graduates met certain literacy requirements (we all know there are not any illiterate adults roaming the streets today) or that children had to be prepared for a highly technical, competitive job market, but I'm convinced that several members of the Kewaskum school board have this book. We've heard the quote from our board-"Let's get back to the basics." My question is this, what are the basics today? In the 50's, reading, writing, and arithmetic were the basics. BUT, if you are a part of the working world today, it becomes very clear that the basics go beyond reading, writing and arithmetic. In the 50's, many graduates went from high school to jobs where the employer was willing and able to provide adequate "on the job" training. Is that where the majority of our current graduates go? If not, how can a school district question programs that enable our children to have the skills to be competitive in the very diverse work world which they will encounter? Would not this more complete educational experience prevent the oppression of the rich to which Mr. Weare referred to last week? We need to reevaluate what the "basics" of 1996 are. Our board should be looking at how we can continue to grow. There is not enough work in Kewaskum for all of our high school graduates-but if we shelter them from the outside world of the 90's, they will not have the skills needed for success! I was very disheartened with the quotes of the board president as recorded in the Milwaukee Journal/Sentinel. It scares me to think that those particular remarks come from a person who has a strong impact on the future of this district! What are his credentials? Where do these archaic ideas come from? Current research? Teacher influence? Or is it possible that our leadership is coming from a person who "just knows what is best?" I have heard people express their concern regarding the in cohesive nature of the current school board. I have heard people say that they want to get new members elected, so that there won't be so much arguing. However, eliminating Karen Sparks and Ruth Schmitt will NOT solve the real problem our district is facing. These board members have kept the community informed, because THEY are informed. They should not have to pay the price for the disharmony. Their actions have been reactions to what goes on "behind the scenes." They are the ones willing to go public with the problems at hand. Please give the upcoming elections your very careful, informed, and educated vote.

Presentation on Attention Deficit Disorder Held at High School

"ADD is a neurobiological disorder," began counselor Ronald Gumm at his informative presentation on Attention Deficit Disorder held on Monday, February 26, at Kewaskum High School's Rose Hall.

"Actually, I prefer to call it disorders," he further noted, for it really is a series of things gone wrong in the human brain. ADD children are controlled by the impulse of the moment, and are often remorseful for the things they have done before they could stop and reason out their actions and the consequences.

For a small audience in which the Kewaskum professional staff outnumbered parents, the Affiliated Clinic counselor talked and answered questions for about two hours regarding this ever-growing diagnosis. Since 1900, several labels have been applied to the problem, beginning with "A Defect of Moral Character," to the 1950's "Minimal Brain Damage." In the 1970's, hyperactivity was defined, but it wasn't until 1982 that the term "Attention Deficit Disorder" was coined.

It has since been identified as including hyperactivity or not including the separate disfunction. Not necessarily brain damage, ADD is caused by an inability of neuro transmitters to stimulate certain areas of the brain which control reasoning and logic. Recently, scientists believe that they have pinpointed the gene which causes this disorder.

It is understood to the best of our knowledge that perhaps 3-5% of both school-age children as well as adults suffer from this imbalance. Counselor Gumm feels that the disorder affects boys and girls equally; it is just that boys tend to have more hyperactivity, as well as to act out their inattention more noticeably. ADD tends to run in families and be more prevalent in families in which a generation has had alcoholism or depression on the maternal side. It is unknown at this time why these factors influence ADD.

In order to pay attention, people must be able to focus on the most important event at the current time, and to deal with the subject in the most appropriate way. We must then select the most important interaction of the moment, to be able to sustain that thought, to subsequently resist being distracted, and then to be able to shift to the next event.

To most of us, these steps are easily learned during toddlerhood and early childhood. To those people whose brains cannot properly process the information they take in, communication and social function are an often frustrating realm of inability. ADD'ers may also suffer from a lack of self-esteem stemming from a constant sense of failure, unsociability, impaired educational performance and sometimes family trouble. If left undiagnosed and untreated, it could subsequently lead to delinquent behavior.

There are many criteria to diagnose ADD with or without hyperactivity. A consistent pattern of behavior which includes observation through a wide range of activities over a period of time needs to be evaluated to determine that there is a problem. A one-time visit to a medical doctor in his/her office where a child is "bouncing off the walls" at that given period is insufficient to diagnose the disorder.

There are no physical blood tests or brain scans, or tests of that nature at this time to determine Attention Deficit. As with many medical problems, other physical complaints such as hearing, speech and language difficulties, episodes of epilepsy and developmental disabilities must be ruled out. Attention Deficit Disorder is not a learning disability or an emotional disturbance, although these factors may also be present, or a result of, the disorder.

Counselor Gumm dealt with remediation of ADD in two topics: what to do at school (primarily for educators), and what to do at home. It is best to have a team of people helping the child which includes educators, teachers, a counselor and the entire family working together in a unified direction to help a child learn to compensate for his/her particular difficulty.

At school, some approaches such as shorter work periods, attention-getting devices such as standing in a particular spot to signify a change, assignment incentives, a predictable routine and a quiet-as-possible with as-few-as possible distractions space to work in are helpful. A one-to-one educational experience is ideal, though often impossible. Multi-sensory learning and a buddy-system to help students "remember" their assignments and homework are also useful.

It was noted during a question and answer that it is perfectly all right to explain to a class that everyone is different and may require different kinds of work and assignments. It is to our best interest that all of us have special talents and abilities, and by working together, all of us are better for those specialties. ADD is recognized as a Health Impairment Category under state law, and schools must provide adequate education to accommodate the disorder.

Structure, routine, consistency and clear rules are also the best help at home. Scheduled events such as meal times, homework times, etc. combined with a quiet spot and low stimulation work to the advantage of the whole family. Directives should be given clearly once, not repetitively, compassionate understanding, firmness and clear expectations are an ally against anger at unfinished tasks.

Finally, medication in the categories of stimulants to the neuro-transmitters or anti-depressants can be an enabler for the child or adult to modify their behavior. As a cartoon illustrated, medication is not a cure-all, but a tool; it won't magically neaten up a school locker left untidy before taking medication. The counselor likened the medications used to glasses: the glasses don't tell a person where to look once the person is using them.

A question regarding the training of the ability to concentrate through games and computer programs was answered both by the counselor and a parent in the audience as shown not to be a success. A summer camp for children with ADD is run at Camp Wowitan. Check with Affiliated Clinic for more information.

Farmington PTO was pleased to sponsor this event. Information in the form of books, tapes and videos regarding the subject are available through the district and at your local libraries and through the Family Center, and the Affiliated Clinical Services, Inc. of West Bend.

Dear Editor,

This Tom Thompson is so informed why isn't he on the Campbellsport School Board and practice what he preaches and set an example for everyone then they can judge him like he's judging everyone else. He states the United States has fallen to 32nd place. Well Mr. Thompson to me all the people in the town of Auburn and all the kids and all the schools in the Kewaskum and Campbellsport School District are #1. The Kewaskum School District has sent us a plan for the future of schools and they want our input. This is a start in the right direction. I ask Mr. Johnson and Mr. Weare after the study if they would come to the town and explain their plan and let the people ask questions and have input like they said they would.

Harry Knoelke

Letter to the editor,

I think computers should be allowed to stay in schools, because of many reasons. First of all kids in my class learn, and have fun at the same time. We learned about solar energy, multiplication, division, symmetry, how to type and more. Computers should also be allowed to stay, because lots of jobs have them. If you don't know how to use a computer it will be hard to get a job. I don't think education should be like the 50's and 60's, because it's the 90's. Those years are in the past, we're in the present right? Why would you only want to have phonics? You can have phonics and whole language. Phonics can be too easy for some kids, while whole language could be too hard for other people. I think our schools are fine, so just leave them alone.

KES Celebrates 'Dairy Days'

The students at the Kewaskum Elementary School celebrated "Dairy Days" Feb. 28th through March 1st.

The three-day event included "Black and White Day." Students came dressed in the colors of a cow. "Recycle a Milk Carton Day" included the traditional plant holder, bird feeder and pencil holder to the not so traditional milk carton fly swatter, moo ball, White House bank and an entire city made from milk cartons. Creative ideas were endless, too numerous to mention.

On the final day, "Cheese Tasting Day," students were greeted by a giant life-size milk carton and tasted various cheeses during their lunch period.

"Dairy Days" was sponsored by the Wisconsin Dairy Council. Many thanks to all who participated.

Growth Management Workshop Offered

Finding the middle ground in the annexation process is the topic of a presentation to be offered at the second annual workshop on growth management issues for all Washington County local officials and interested residents. The annexation process will be discussed in a point/counterpoint format by representatives of the Wisconsin Towns Association and the Wisconsin Alliance of Cities.

Included in the half day session on Saturday, March 16, are discussions with representatives of Middleton, Wisconsin, on the neighborhood concept of the Marshall Erdman "suburb of the future" using a planned unit development and the extensive approval process with the local government's planning bodies.

A third presentation will include an open dialogue with representatives of the UW-Madison Urban and Regional Planning Department that are actively involved in a growth management project in Washington County.

The workshop will be held at the UW-Washington County Campus on Saturday, March 16, from 8:15 to 12:15. For more information or to register, contact the Washington County Economic Development or UW-Extension Offices at 335-4777 and 335-4480.

25 Years Ago

February 5, 1971

CORRECTION:

In our February 8, 1996 edition, we inadvertently placed the 50 Years Ago heading over this 25 Years Ago column. Our apologies... especially to the babies born 25 years ago. You didn't age 25 years overnight... mentally I guess I was still on vacation! Therefore, we are re-running the entire column under the proper heading this time around.

The Village Board Monday night temporarily declined to act on a resolution that would authorize borrowing $195,000 to finance installation of sewer and water in the Bel Ric subdivision. The loan as presented was set up over a five-year repayment period. Board members favored a ten-year repayment plan because the tax impact would be lighter.

Due to health conditions, Ollie Staehler, Jr. this week sold his Texaco Service Station business on the corner of Fond du Lac Avenue and Clinton Street to Dennis Scott of Kewaskum, who has been employed at the station for the past year. Staehler entered into business in November of 1957 and has operated the service station for the past 13 years under the name of Ollie's Texaco. The new owner will conduct the business under the name of Scott's Texaco and will continue to sell and handle Texaco gasoline and products.

After almost 39 years in business, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Yoost have retired and sold their meat market in Kewaskum to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Behring, a young married couple from the Boltonville area. The Behrings took possession of the business, located on Fond du Lac Avenue at the intersection with Main Street on January 1. As in the past, the business will be operated under the same name of Yoost Meat Market. Elmer and Ocelia Yoost will continue to assist the Behrings on a part-time basis.

An early morning fire Monday destroyed a guest house on the property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Sengpiel in the Town of Kewaskum on CTH H, about 1 1/2 miles west of Kewaskum. Kewaskum firemen were called out at 6:10 a.m. in sub-zero weather and the entire structure was reported enveloped in flames by the time they arrived at the scene. The building was entirely destroyed by the blaze with the chimney left standing. The 20-foot by 32-foot by 1 1/2 story house had just been completely remodeled, redecorated and furnished inside.

Curtis Merwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Merwin, 125 Clinton Street, Kewaskum, received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee on Sunday, January 31. He graduated in the field of social welfare.

Miss Beth Buswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buswell of Kewaskum, has been chosen as the DAR Good Citizen of Kewaskum Community High School.

The Kewaskum Indians, co-leaders in the Scenic Moraine Conference with Mayville, last week were rated in a tie for 26th with Hartford in the state among the big schools in the Associated Press Wisconsin high school basketball polls.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harlow, Kewaskum, on January 28, and to Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dorzok, Route 1, Kewaskum, on January 29. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Alois Wiesner, Brownsville, on January 22. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wiesner of Kewaskum are the paternal grandparents. Mrs. Wiesner is the former Janel Cardarelle.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bonenfant, Route 1, Kewaskum, on January 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schmidt, Route 1, Adell, on February 1, and to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Justman, Theresa on January 25. Mrs. Justman is the former Alice Menger.

February 19, 1971

At a special meeting of the board of education Monday night, it was agreed that the bond issue for a proposed package building program be set at $2,915,000. A resolution authorizing borrowing that amount and another calling for an April 6 referendum will be presented at the board's regular meeting next Monday night. The original estimate for additions to the Wayne Elementary and Kewaskum High School was $2.6 million. However, it was noted Monday night that the architects feel about 10% has been lost since cost estimates were made and it is their recommendation that a 10% contingency be added. Building costs have been rising at about one percent a month it was stated.

Thirty-eight seniors have completed degree requirements at Lakeland College, Dean William Welti announced. An area senior who has graduated is Karen Elaine Hansen, Route 2, Kewaskum, Bachelor of Arts Degree in sociology.

A string of 10 straight victories, a chance to repeat as Scenic Moraine champions, in fact the entire season's efforts went down the drain the past week when Kewaskum suffered two defeats with only one game left to play. The Indians were upset at Pewaukee Friday night, 74-61, and Mayville avenged an earlier setback here by shading Kewaskum in a makeup contest there Tuesday, 62-56. The win clinched the championship for Mayville (12-1) to give them the title in their first year as a member of the Scenic Moraine Conference.

Kewaskum High School failed to qualify a single wrestler for the sectional meet in the regional tournament held at Cedarburg Friday and Saturday. Kewaskum had two wrestlers who made it through the Friday preliminaries, namely Cal Tackes and John Jadro. Tackes (112 lbs.) lost to Vollbrecht of Sheboygan Falls and Pieterman of Cedarburg Saturday for a fourth place. Jadro (119) made it to the finals by decisioning Medinger of Port Washington, but lost in the finals to Peterson of Cedar Grove, after leading 3-0 at one time. Jadro was not in his best form because of illness. After losing to Peterson, whom he defeated twice during the season, he was forced to default the wrestleback. Unfortunately, three other Indian matmen were beaten in the preliminaries Friday night. Kim Rodenkirch (heavyweight) was way ahead, 7-1, when he was pinned. Doug Bindrich (154) suffered the same fate and Dave Schacht (145) lost by a close one point decision.

51 Years Ago

EDITOR'S NOTE: We have searched through our vault containing our files repeatedly and have finally come to the conclusion we are missing the file that contains our newspapers from 1946. Until the gremlins bring it back or somehow it magically appears, we cannot continue with the 50 Years Ago column. Ever the eternal optimist, I pondered over the difficult solution to this dilemma. For some odd reason (probably because I lead a very mundane social life), I happened to be pouring through the file from 1945 which we had just recently finished. I came to the startling conclusion that even though my intentions were honorable last year, my spare time for delving into this column was minimal. Hence, the 50 Years Ago from 1945 was printed very sparingly last year. I didn't have to be struck by lightning to figure out this solution. Why not run the information from 1945 that was so sorely neglected last year, and just change the heading to 51 Years Ago? Good idea, 50 Years Ago fans?? Well, good idea or not, I guess that is what we'll have to settle for until it comes time to start the 1947 file... or the gremlins reappear with the missing file...

On Monday morning of this week, Mrs. Betty Uelmen received the very sad and shocking news from the war department that her husband, Sgt. Lester J. Uelmen, 25, was killed in action January 13 in France. He was fighting with the Seventh Army, in Company A, Armored Infantry Battalion and was killed in his first combat. Sgt. Uelmen had recently passed through Haguenau and was now engaged in the fierce fighting near Strasbourg. The dead sergeant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Uelmen of New Fane, Route 1, Kewaskum. He is the ninth young man from Kewaskum and rural routes to make the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

The Schmitt farm home, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Coulter and family located several miles west of Kewaskum was destroyed by fire late Thursday night of this week. The frame part of the structure was completely gutted and all that was left standing was the foundation and the brick walls. The Kewaskum Fire Department was summoned to the scene shortly before 11 p.m. but when they were called it was too late to save the home. The roof of the structure was already collapsing when they arrived. Most of the furniture and personal belongings of the family were safely removed by the family and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin "Shorty" Schaefer of this village had their baby girl baptized Sunday in Holy Trinity Church by Rev. F. C. LaBuw. The little Miss was given the name Ann Alain. Sponsors were Mrs. Lester Casper of Milwaukee and Rudy Casper of Waukesha.

S/Sgt. Howard Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Schmidt, arrived back in the states by plane Saturday night after more than three years of duty as a radio operator in the Signal Corps in the China-Burma-India theater. He completed three years of service on January 12.

Pfc. Louis C. Heisler, has been graduated from the Army Air Forces Flexible Gunnery school at Tyndall Field, one of the largest schools of its kind in the army air forces training command. Upon his graduation the soldier received a pair of silver wings signifying that now he is ready to take his place as a member of the combat crew of an AAF bomber.

Orville J. Petermann, S 1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Petermann of the Town of Auburn, who was inducted into the navy last September has been assigned to his ship and was sent out for sea duty on January 29.

Mrs. Wilmer J. Hawig has received word that her husband, Cpl. Wilmer Hawig, arrived at his destination on the island of Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands. He left for an unknown destination recently. He is on the same island as Sgt. Louis N. Bath of this village, who also arrived there just recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bunkelman received word that their son, Pvt. Wilmer Bunkelmann, has been transferred from England to the combat area in Belgium where he is now fighting with the 305th infantry.

Pfc. Howard Reul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reul of Route 1, Kewaskum, who was wounded in action in France in November has been awarded the Purple Heart, and the decoration has been sent by the war department to his parents. Reul is now hospitalized in England.

Self-control is at the root of all virtues.

Board Addresses Light Village Agenda

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

The Kewaskum Village Board handled an extremely light agenda in record setting time Monday evening.

During the reports by department heads, Police Chief Richard Knoebel stated the 1996 squad car has arrived and asked and received authorization to advertise for sale the 1994 Chevrolet squad car.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles announced a wire failed in the No. 2 pump-house which was replaced with new wire which goes across the river. He also explained that two street lights were out on Fond du Lac Avenue, but were in the process of being fixed, however, one might need to be replaced.

Discussion was held on lifting the winter parking restrictions for the remainder of the season. The general consensus of the board was considering the somewhat blustery weather of late, they would postpone lifting the restrictions and readdress the issue at the March 18th meeting.

Police Chief Knoebel added if residents had a problem or a unique situation concerning the parking restrictions, they could call his office and temporary or overnight street parking could be arranged.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt reviewed the year end balance sheets for 1995 and stated, "the general fund was solvent and in good shape." He added that monies would have to be put aside for when the second portion of the Highway 45 project comes up in 1999, so there would be funds available to cover that expense. Schmidt also said he was working on the goal of closing out the TIF district and that should work out for later this Spring.

Schmidt also gave a brief synopsis of the DOT's Informational Meeting held last Wednesday regarding the portion of Highway 45 going south from Highway H west to Highway D.

Under new business, the board voted unanimously on the authorization to advertise for a part-time police secretary and to amend a traffic code parking ordinance.

Duenkel Takes Top Honors

The International Photographer of the Year award was given to Al Duenkel, owner of Duenkel Photography in West Bend by Senior Photographers International (SPI) at its annual convention in St. Petersburg, Florida, on January 9.

In a competition of high school senior photographs, Duenkel's portraits of Pat Prescott of West Bend and Cara Mooney of Slinger were chosen as the best of all entries. The award signifies the achievement of the highest level of creativity, variety and quality, in comparison to the other 800 SPI members worldwide.

Heidner Resigns

do," Heidner expressed.

In the last two years, Heidner has also seen the faculty take a positive look at how the curriculum can be upgraded to meet the needs of the modern workplace. "Schools traditionally emphasize the individual, but now teachers are looking at developing learning situations that teach students to work together and solve problems as a team, and apply these ideas from one discipline to another," Heidner stated.

During his service to the district, Heidner has seen the hiring of some great teachers, and appreciated the opportunity he's had working with the veterans in the business as well. "The new teachers brought in young blood with new ideas and lots of energy. It was a pleasure to work with them," he maintains. "That's not to put down the veteran staff -- but right now, it's a good mix, and they all work well together."

Other noteworthy achievements Heidner has seen develop at the high school level include their holiday sharing program, now in its fourth year, in which home-rooms pair up and adopt a family for Christmas, donating items and money toward a worthwhile cause, and the popular parent and student roundtables.

"The Parent/Principal Roundtable meets five times a year, with our next meeting scheduled for March 26th, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the KHS library," Heidner mentions. "That, and our Student/Teacher Roundtables, held seven to nine times a year, open lines of communication and better understanding. It doesn't solve all the problems, but we understand that there are some issues we can't do anything about."

The Heidner family has only non-human members left at home, including two cats and two dogs. "My wife Judy has banned me from all animal shelters," Heidner laments.

Their daughter Ingrid, and her husband Tom live in Brookfield along with their two year old daughter, Taylor. Ingrid is a special needs teacher at Longfellow Middle School in Wauwatosa, and Tom is a guidance counselor and head football coach for Wauwatosa East High School. Their son Matthew, lives in Brooklyn Park, Minnesota, with his wife Jean. Matt is an aerospace engineer for SciMed and Jean is in middle management for J.C. Penney.

Heidner's exit from the district places notch number five on its belt of administrators leaving the district this past year. Citing stress, as well as differing ideologies, as his reasons for leaving, Heidner said that the decision was a very difficult one.
