Town of Scott Will Conduct Reassessment

By Bernadette Mondloch

The Town of Scott has entered into a contract with Assessor Ernest Matthies to conduct a reassessment of all residential and agricultural property in the town being in 1997, with August 1998 targeted as the completion date. Total cost to the town is $27,000.

Town officials have been made aware of a zoning violation which took place several months ago and needs to be resolved as soon as possible. It appears that James Gerlach sold several pieces of property which were zoned as A-1.

The violation was when he retained a 2.7 acre parcel without first considering a rezoning. As with most neighboring municipalities, the minimum acreage for A-1 zoning is 35 acres, therefore the small parcel does not comply. Gerlach will be asked to attend a future meeting so a plausible agreement can be worked out with both the town and the county planning department, which will bring him into compliance.

A pair of rezoning requests were approved by the board. Larry Fechter, Section 33, had requested a change from A-6 to A-1 for a half acre parcel and from A-1 to A-6 for a .2 acre parcel of his property. The purpose of the changes will allow him to add to and square off an existing parcel.

The other zoning change was granted to James Horning, Section 16 to rezone a .37 acre parcel from A-2 to A-6 allowing him to build a home. The property is located on the eastern edge of Beechwood.

Action was taken to adopt the 1997 budget totaling $179,018.46.

Mrs. Larry Fechter petitioned the Scott Town Board for a contribution for the newly formed Grid Iron Club. The club is made up of 103 sixth, seventh and eighth graders who wish to participate in "youth football." Seven of those interested parties are from the Town of Scott.

Members of the club do not have access to football in their schools until they reach high school. Membership in the club is available to both public, private and home schooled students between the ages of 10 and 14. They are interested in "getting started earlier."

Fechter explained that it costs between $150 and $200 to outfit a player and plans are to contact business places and as many other individuals as possible for support.

It is estimated that the group will need as much as $20,000 to get started. The Kewaskum School District has offered its facilities for practice. Although Scott officials supported the con-

School District's First Steps Program to Be Featured at State Board Convention

A special kindergarten developed for the four-year-olds developed by the Kewaskum School District will be featured at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards in Milwaukee in January.

The Kewaskum project will be one of nearly two dozen programs highlighted at the convention on Thursday, January 16.

According to George Allmann, district curriculum resource specialist and First Steps coordinator, the program began in 1991 when the district began to screen four-year-olds as part of its kindergarten screening program.

That year, ten students were enrolled in the program. Today, 40 students attend class two mornings or afternoons a week with home visitation by the classroom teacher on Friday.

According to Grace Wright, First Steps teacher, the goal of the program is to provide opportunities for children of this age to develop appropriate skills before their entry into kindergarten.

What is unique about the program, according to Wright, is that the district's screening allows diagnosticians to look at the child's development in the areas of language, motor, perceptual, social, emotional, and cognitive skills. These results assist the professional staff in developing the individualized classroom program for the student.

The district has a very extensive early childhood program, much of it based on early intervention through such programs as the First Steps screening.

The district screening program is held twice annually. In June, the majority of students are screened, however, a second session is held each January for students who missed the earlier screening session or who recently moved into the district and will be attending school as kindergartners.

This year's testing date is January 20, from 8 a.m. until 12 noon. Parents should call the district office at 626-8427 to schedule an appointment. Screening will be conducted at Kewaskum Elementary School at 1550 Reigle Drive, Kewaskum.

414 Area Code Will Change As PSC Orders Geographic Split Relief Plan

On November 26, the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin (PSC) ordered the implementation of a Geographic Split Relief Plan for the territory in eastern Wisconsin covered by the 414 area code.

The relief plan became necessary because the current 414 area code territory is running out of available telephone number combinations. The remaining reserve of telephone number combinations could be exhausted as early as the fall of 1997.

As a result of the Commission's action, the territory maintaining the 414 area code will have enough new telephone number combinations to last approximately eight years. The territory with the new area code will have enough new number combinations to last approximately 15 years.

The plan ordered by the PSC requires the current 414 area code territory to be split by a geographic line to be drawn following specific telephone exchange boundaries. Below this geographic boundary line, the 414 area code will remain the same. Above the boundary line, a new area code will be assigned (see map). The new area code was to be announced as soon as it is released by the North American Numbering Plan Administrator sometime during December.

The PSC arrived at its decision after considering two different but viable area code relief plans brought forward by a team composed of telecommunications providers and PSC staff; and after considering the testimony presented by the people that live in the affected area during a series of public hearings held around the eastern part of the state.

The Commission determined that the approved plan, known as the geographic split area code relief plan, is reasonable and in the public interest. Furthermore, the PSC concluded that the geographic split area code relief plan also meets Wisconsin's pro-competitive statutes, Federal Communications Commission requirements, and is the solution that causes the least amount of confusion and inconvenience to the public.

The written comments, the public input provided at the hearings, and a customer preference survey indicated to the PSC that consumers preferred the geographic split to the overlay plan. The overlay plan would have entailed using two area codes simultaneously in the same territory, and would have required ten-digit dialing for all local calls. This would have, in the opinion of the PSC and the general public, created unnecessary confusion and inconvenience.

It is important to understand that this decision does not affect 911 emergency services. Also, this decision does not affect rates for either service or long distance. If a call placed today is not a long distance toll call, it will not be a long distance toll call after the new area code is implemented.

Included in the PSC's order is a requirement for the telecommunications industry to develop and execute an extensive and specific customer education campaign, that meets PSC approval, prior to the implementation of the new area code. The PSC also recognized that a "permissive dialing" period will take place before the new area code relief plan is fully implemented.

The duration of the "permissive dialing" period will be determined by the industry. Providers of wireless service will be granted an extended "permissive dialing" period to meet technical requirements. The "permissive dialing" period would allow telephone users to reach a customer in the new area code by dialing either the new or the old area code; a recorded reminder would precede the connection of the call. For further information, please call Al Schams at (608) 267-6919.

United Way Goes Over the Top

The United Way campaign effort in Washington County has some excellent news: The volunteers have raised $941,689 as of December 4. Compared to the $930,060 goal, the total is 101.3% of the goal -- an increase of more than three percent and $31,000 higher than the 1995 campaign finish of $910,117.

Volunteers, agency representatives and business representatives came together on December 4th to hear the total announced.

"Wow! We are extremely appreciative of the individuals and businesses in Washington County who came through for us in a big way this year," said Campaign Chairman Mark Nielsen.

"We also salute the hard-working volunteers who put so much of themselves into this effort -- they are to be complimented for an outstanding job and for their 'can do' attitude that was present during every aspect of this year's campaign," he said.

Funds raised will support 65 programs of the 25 member agencies.

"Being over the top is terrific," said Executive Director Barbara Hurula. "Our agencies prepared budgets earlier this year, and they were notified in August of their funding based on us reaching the $930,060 goal. As our fund distribution volunteers can attest, there are always more needs than we can provide dollars for, so the extra funds will definitely be put to good use. Finding a place for the extra funds is a challenge any funding source would enjoy," she said.

Division totals to date are: Accountants and Business Services - $4,508 - 113%; Attorneys - $7,462 - 93%; Clergy - $1,390 - 111%; Contractors - $6,108 - 82%; Dentists - $3,240 - 104%; Nonprofits - $24,736 - 88%; Physicians - $19,829 - 106%; Real Estate - $2,720 - 80%; Other Professionals - $1,600 - 107%; Washington County Employees - $8,505 - 106%.

Allenton - $14,715 - 138%; Hartford - $166,679 - 97%; Jackson - $24,690 - 106%; Kewaskum - $34,983 - 102%; Newburg - $852 - 61%; Richfield, Hubertus and Colgate - $4,500 - 113%; Slinger - $17,611 - 122%.

West Bend Division: City of West Bend Employees - $10,978 - 116%; Commercial - $7,720 - 64%; Education - $24,480 - 103%; Financial - $76,004 - 105%; Industrial and Manufacturing - $26,083 - 107%; Retail - $19,197 - 91%; Special Gifts - $68,524 - 109%; Transportation - $13,011 - 108%, and Key Firms - $349,564 - 100%.

Contributions will continue to be accepted through the end of the year, with the official 1996 Campaign total being announced in early January.

Nielsen concluded, "This is a great tribute to our 60 year tradition of United Way's efforts in Washington County. Thanks, everyone, for Caring and Sharing!"

Personal Economics At Jr. Achievement

It's never too early to learn about economics.

Students participating in the Junior Achievement Middle School Program at Kewaskum Middle School are finding that out.

With the help of community volunteers, students have spent the last several weeks learning about everything from how to explore career options to personal financial management.

Community volunteers for this most recent session included Dr. Greg Ogi (Kewaskum/Allenton Veterinary Clinic), Lynda Reetz (West Bend Savings Bank, Kewaskum Office), James Schwartz (Northwestern Mutual Life, West Bend), and Patti Zielieke (National Exchange Bank and Trust, Campbellsport).

Volunteers are needed for the Spring session. Contact Bill Wuebben at KMS for more information.

Town of Scott had already established its 1997 budget.

During the public input portion of the meeting, Scott resident, Philip Schmidt questioned the reason for the recent hiring of a fire commissioner. Supervisor Richard Bemis replied, "So both fire departments (Beechwood and Batavia) can work together."

He also called attention to a headline which appeared in the November 28 issue of the Sounder, the town's official newspaper, which he termed as "misleading." The headline read, "One Fire Department in Town Scott." While pointing his finger at the Sounder reporter attending the meeting, he accused her of writing inaccurate and misleading headlines.

The Sounder reporter informed Schmidt that she did not write that article, was not at the meeting in question, and is never responsible for any headlines. That is the job of the editor. She also replied that a headline is usually a means of getting the reader's attention and the article which follows, explains its meaning. Schmidt did not agree and said he would take it up with the Sounder editor.

Poll workers appointed for the 1997-98 election year are Adeline Held, Russell and Merly Melius, Alice Harter, Reuben Harter, and Marion Becker.

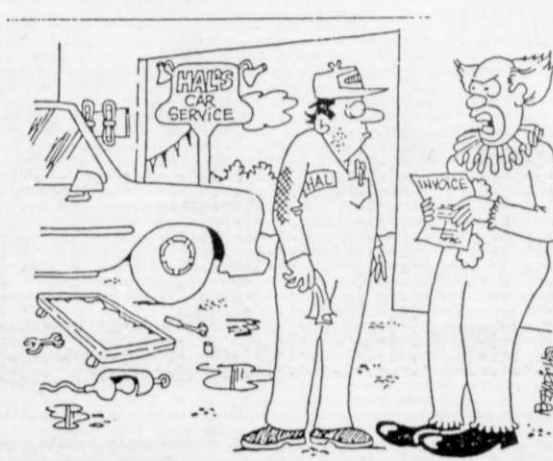

A resolution was signed designating the State Bank of Random Lake as the public depository for Scott funds.

A picnic license was approved for the Night

Holy Trinity Christmas Pageant a Unique Experience

Unique! Amusing! Clever! Entertaining! Contemplative! These are all words that could be used to describe the Holy Trinity Christmas Pageant held on Thursday, December 19, at 7 p.m. in the Holy Trinity Church.

In a modern day version of the arrival of Mary and Joseph into Bethlehem, and their attempt to find lodging, the authors of this story depict various inn-keepers, each with specific personalities.

The Holy Trinity drama students, assuming the roles of the inn-keepers and other characters, did an excellent job in revealing the reasons why Jesus often takes second place, if that, in our lives.

The inn-keepers made us realize that we are often too involved with the "Good Life," or we are "Too Busy" to make time for Christ. Perhaps we have "No Trust" in Him, or just through "Procrastination," we put Him off until the next time.

Maybe our life is "Status Quo," and we feel we can get along without Him or we are just plain "Careless" about our relationship with Him. Yet, despite all these reasons, we learn that Jesus loves each and every one of us and lovingly will always welcome us with open arms.

Mrs. Terri Christie, the Holy Trinity music and drama teacher, creatively and artistically involved the student body in this production. Choreography, props and costumes, all added to the musical renditions that so fittingly were interjected between each of the inn-keeper's scenes.

Prior to the production, the audience was entertained by young musicians as well as the Holy Trinity Select Choir. The Living Nativity, a Holy Trinity tradition, performed by the first grade class, culminated the evening.

Everyone left with a much greater understanding of the need for introspection because in real life, we all could fit into at least one of the inn-keeper's shoes.

KHS Students Learn The Spirit of Giving

This holiday season, students at Kewaskum High School learned more than just the basic required coursework. They also learned about giving.

The student body, in conjunction with the Student Council and the Student POPS (Power of Positive Students), collected money, food and gift items for 21 area families needing some help during the holiday season -- the third year of its "Christmas/Holiday Sharing" program. Families could request specific help, and the students in each homeroom banded together to make it happen.

KHS students also banded together to help out a new family in Port Washington. Upon learning of the birth of quadruplets to a classmate's relative, students started a drive to raise some "diaper money" for the new family. The students raised over $300 for the cause, and presented the money to the family shortly before Christmas.

Dairyland Seed Announces New Soybean Releases

West Bend -- Dairyland Seed has announced the release of five new soybean varieties for the 1997 planting season.

Group I+ DSR-195 is a late Group I featuring high yields and an excellent package of genetic defense. Carries excellent tolerance to phytophthora root rot, very good tolerance to white mold and moderate resistance to brown stem rot. Excellent standability.

Group II DSR-246/STS is a very high yielding STS tolerant variety maturing three days earlier than DSR-250/STS and three days later than DSR-220/STS. Very good iron chlorosis tolerance and excellent tolerance to phytophthora root rot. Moderate resistance to brown stem rot. Outyielding S24-92 and CX250b in Dairyland Seed's research trials.

Group III-DSR-300 is an exceptionally high yielding variety in research trials -- beating S30-06, CX313 and Pioneer varieties 9304 and 9321. Wide adaptation with resistance to both brown stem rot and race one of phytophthora. Excellent phytophthora tolerance.

Group III-DSR-314/STS is a high yielding STS tolerant variety in both wide row and narrow row environments. Not only does it outyield DSR-310/STS in wide rows, it is also averaging 2.3 bu/a. more than A3431, HS3210, S30-06 and S35-35 and Pioneer variety 9341 in research trials. Has brown stem rot resistance and excellent tolerance to phytophthora. Tolerant to DuPont's Synchrony STS and Reliance STS herbicides. Limited availability.

Group III-DSR-325 Research data shows this variety not only has some of the highest yields ever seen, but it also has cyst nematode resistance! It is averaging 2.3 bu/a. more than A3237, CX313, HS3210, Jack, Pioneer variety 9341, and S35-35. Brown stem rot resistant with excellent phytophthora tolerance. Entered as DST-3125 in 1995 strip plots and state plots, it took four firsts already.

Founded in 1907 at St. Kilian, Wisconsin, Dairyland Seed Co., Inc. is the only family-owned seed company that conducts proprietary plant breeding programs in hybrid corn, soybeans, and alfalfa. In addition to the West Bend headquarters, there are breeding and nursery facilities in Gibson City, Illinois; West Lafayette, Indiana; Clinton, Wisconsin; Sloughhouse, California; as well as winter sites in southern U.S., Hawaii, Mexico, and South America.

The plans contain some but not all of the ideas and comments generated from the User Group Meetings held in mid-November of 1996. The Fair Park Group is interested in the public's insight, opinion and constructive criticisms of the plans.

There are three meeting dates and places scheduled throughout Washington County for the public's convenience. The meeting dates are: January 9, 1997 from 3 to 6 p.m. at the Public Agency Center, 333 E. Washington Street, West Bend, WI 53095; January 10, 1997, from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Hartford Public Library, 115 N. Main Street, Hartford, WI 53027, and January 13, 1997, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 6 p.m. at Country Inn Suites, W188 N11020 Maple Rd., Germantown, WI 53022.

Information generated from the public review of the three conceptual plans will be recorded and may be used in the new Master Plan of the new Washington County Fairgrounds.

A continuing class for Kewaskum High School students offers Elmo dolls, toy trucks and the "Itsy Bitsy Spider?"

Well, yes, but there's serious learning taking place, as well, when the Child Development class runs its yearly preschool at KHS.

The KHS Child Development preschool has been in operation over 20 years, according to Carol Martin, KHS Family and Consumer Education teacher, and current coordinator of the preschool. It is run by 24 KHS juniors and seniors from the Child Development class who plan the lessons, make the snacks, and provide the activities. It is also the culminating activity for the course, which studies the child from pre-birth to age six.

The preschool itself is a 12 day experience open to 21 four and five-year-olds from the community. They partake in a structured half day that includes free play, storytime/fingerplay, circle time, music and art.

"The preschoolers include siblings, those that KHS students may have babysat for, even some spaces for which we advertised," Ms. Martin explained. "For many of these children, this is their only experience in a preschool setting."

For many of the KHS students, it's their first experience in a preschool setting, as well.

"It's a good learning experience," said senior Jeff Nolen. "I think it can kind of help me understand a little bit of parenting."

Senior Shannon Stockhausen agreed. "I babysit, but this is another good experience to have, especially if you want to have, or work with, kids."

That, according to Ms. Martin, is the purpose of the preschool.

"In the preschool, students get firsthand experience working with the kids. So students are learning, but they seem to have pretty much fun doing it, too."

When you come right down to it, the hardest thing about learning to skate is the ice.

County Historical Society Announces 1996 Preservation Award Winners

The Washington County Historical Society, Inc. has announced the winners of this year's Preservation Awards. The winners were picked from a group of nominees that were all truly deserving of recognition and praise for their achievements in preserving Washington County's history.

A thank you is extended to all for your considerable contributions.

Mike Schuetz of Slinger is this year's winner of the Society's President's Award (Commercial) for his renovation of the property located at 3619 Hwy. 60. The building has been restored to a Blacksmith Shop around the period of 1880 to 1920 and contains period tools from all over Wisconsin. Mike says, "Over ten years of research went into this project."

Henry and Barb Kluever are the winners of the President's Award (Residential) for restoration of their private residence at 8570 Hwy. 84, West Bend. The old log home was originally built in 1848 by the Goldammer family, and a frame edition was added between 1915 and 1919. The completed renovation took six years and included exposing and treating the original logs and adding electricity and indoor plumbing.

Kewaskum High School, along with Ellen Kesting, Lisa Lickel, Jeanette Miller, Mary Secor, Janice Stevens, Diana Susen and Marcia Theusch are this year's recipients of the Edith B. Heidner Award. The award recognizes outstanding achievements in documenting Washington County's history through print, video and other media.

Thirty-three freshmen in the history class of the Kewaskum High School interviewed area residents and wrote reports based on these oral histories. This collection was then combined to form part of the township's history book which was printed earlier this year.

Lloyd Wenzel of West Bend is the recipient of the Zella Loomer Award, which recognizes his outstanding lifetime dedication to preserving Washington County's history. Reverend Wenzel has faithfully served the Society for over 12 years in capacities that include being both a volunteer tour guide and secretary for the Board of Directors. He was an active member of the committee that sought to acquire the Old Courthouse for use as a museum facility, and he was instrumental in reviving the Old Settler's Club Annual Banquet. He was also responsible for setting up and designing many of the displays at the Old Jailhouse.

Nancy Henke of Hartford claimed this year's Sila Lydia Bast Award, an award given for outstanding genealogical and family history research. According to Nancy's friend Mary Hasslinger who submitted the nomination, "Nancy became interested in genealogy about 25 years ago after her sister showed her a copy of their grandfather's obituary in the Hartford Times Press."

Since then, Nancy has compiled numerous folders of information on family and local history research. Locally, she helped to create the history of St. Patrick's Church in Thompson in 1972, and co-chaired the Town of Erin's 150th Celebration this summer. She was named the Historian for the Town of Erin in 1994, and currently serves as the president of the Hartford Genealogy Society, a position she has held since 1989.

The above named recipients received their certificates and were publicly honored at the Society's Annual Meeting and Award Ceremony in November at the Circuit Courtroom at the Old Courthouse Square Museum in West Bend.

HT Boys A Team Beats Barton

It was another hot game of basketball for the Holy Trinity Wildcats as they easily defeated St. Marys of Barton at Barton by a score of 50 to 24.

Defense again was a big factor in this victory as the Wildcats kept up a tight press on the Barton team causing them to turn over the ball numerous times. The Wildcats stole the ball from Barton a total of 20 times with many of these turnovers ending up in Wildcat points.

Holy Trinity's rebounding was also on target as the team had a total of 30 rebounds. Paul Mertz had an exceptionally good game as he hit 85% of his shots, had eight rebounds and four steals.

Those scoring for Holy Trinity were: Paul Mertz, 12 points; Jacob Stoffel, nine points; Mitch Strobel, eight points; Luke Piwoni, seven points; Jon Boedeker, six points; Josh Repovsch, six points, and John Neumann, two points.

The Wildcats are now on vacation until the New Year.

Two Rivers Too Much

The hometown crowd proved to be advantageous for the Two River's girls basketball team on December 20th. They beat the Lady Indians with a score of 80-37.

"If it wasn't for Kristin Steckmesser, a three year varsity standout, we would have had a much closer game," Coach Dave Rizzardi commented. Steckmesser scored an impressive 22 points in the game with the second quarter her big quarter.

The girls didn't start out well, scoring only two points in the first quarter of the game. "They were taking good shots but just not hitting," Rizzardi said. Two Rivers is a well experienced team. They are ranked sixth in the state.

The point leader for the Lady Indians was Carrie Wiesner with nine points. Jackie Hass was right behind her, scoring eight points.

Coach Rizzardi was pleased his girls never quit. "They played hard throughout the whole game," he stated.

The team is 0-5 overall and 0-2 in conference after this game. Their schedule has been very tough up to this point. The girls travel to New Holstein on Friday, January 3, for their next game.

JV Wrestlers Improving

Lomira was the setting for a JV wrestling tournament on December 20. The Kewaskum team had several place winners at the tournament.

Freshman Dave Lettow was the only first place winner with a commanding three pins. Dave's record is now 7-0, including a win against Chilton on December 19.

Second place recipients were sophomores Dan Sabish and Josh Seymour and freshman Andy Charland. Coming in third at the tournament were freshman Nick Martin, sophomore Chris Spears and Kevin Pamperin and Greg Holub, both juniors.

Teams competing in the tournament along with Kewaskum, were Slinger, Markesan, Dodge, North Fond du Lac, Lomira, Horicon, Mayville and Fox Valley Lutheran from Appleton.

Kewaskum's JV coach Kevin Chambers is pleased with the improvement each individual is showing. "They are doing better all the time," he says.

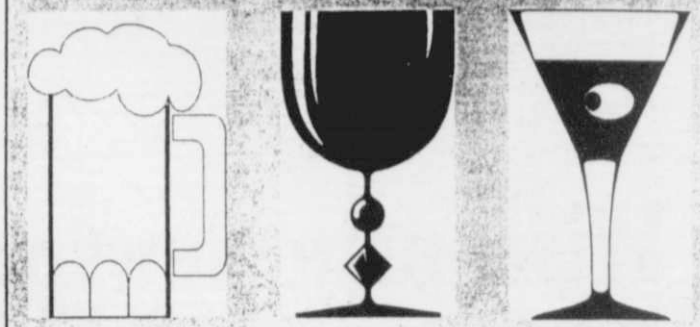

TELL US ABOUT IT!

As our small community continues to grow, so do the stories of people who have interesting tales to tell. Perhaps it's an unusual occupation or hobby, a new business starting up, an adventure unlike any other, or someone whose service to others too often goes unnoticed.

If you fit into any of the above categories, or know someone who does, the Kewaskum Statesman would like to hear about it. Our feature stories function as a means to get to know each other better, and sharing our lives is an enjoyable way of expanding the world around us.

To be considered for a future story in our newspaper, please call 626-2626.

ALCOHOL CONTENT

One 12-ounce glass of beer, a 5-ounce glass of wine and a 1.5-ounce serving of hard liquor (straight or in a mixed drink) are about equal in alcohol content. And, notes AAA Wisconsin, only time can sober up a person who has had too much to drink.
