Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival This Weekend Jam-Packed with Fun

Kettle Kountry Kolors Means Food, Food, Food!

By Louise Martin

Food selections at the eighth annual Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival of Entertainment scheduled for this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, October 11 and 12 will be numerous and certainly please even the most finicky eater.

Whether you are just looking for some munchies or something a little more filling, it will be available at River Hill Park, Kewaskum, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on both days.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club will tempt one's appetite with their ever popular brats, hamburgers and French fries. A new offering this year is a marinated chicken breast sandwich. The chicken will be marinated in a special seasoned sauce used by LaBrasa at Grand Avenue Mall in Milwaukee. To top off any sandwich in the park the Kewaskum Woman's Club members will have their ever favorite, large assortment of desserts and tortes.

Delicious hot pork sandwiches, Swiss mushroom chicken sandwiches, split pea and potato soups, chocolate eclairs and Snapple will be available at the Hon-E-Kor Country Club booth.

If a little Mexican food is more to your liking, Eckl's Main Street Inn stand will feature tacos, taco salad, burritos, nachos and tostados, as well as chicken dumpling and cheesy vegetable soups.

Savor the grilled steak sandwiches and icy cold refreshments offered at the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce Bar and Grill, or visit the Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club booth for a hot dog, chili dog, hot pretzels, caramel apples or hot apple cider. If the weather stays nice and warm, and even if it doesn't, linger over a special Dairy Queen treat that you have promised to reward yourself with for the past few months.

What festival would be complete without popcorn, cotton candy and sno cones? These items will be available from One Way Sales of West Bend while hot, delicious funnel cakes will be provided by Black Sheep Concessions from White-water.

A new addition to the park this year will be an outdoor cafe tent where you can relax and enjoy the food you have selected. You could also be encircled by last minute food vendors who couldn't resist the offer to come and tempt your tastebuds.

Treat the whole family to the pancake breakfast on Sunday morning from 8 to 11 a.m. in the beer garden where the chefs from the Kewaskum Sno Chiefs will serve up a great meal to start the day. The Sno Chiefs will also be selling chili from their booth on both days.

What a variety! One could eat all day and never eat the same thing twice. Take a break from the kitchen this weekend, pack up your appetite and let the chefs at River Hill Park do the cookin'.

'Dream Tree' Storyteller to Appear in Children's Tent

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is proud to present Chris Jenkins, founder of The Dream Tree, Inc, Brookfield, at their annual Kettle Kountry Kolors festival this weekend in River Hill Park. Chris will be appearing in the Children's Tent from 1 to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Combining theater, song, science, sign language and education, Chris Jenkins presents her dramatic and highly interactive storytelling as "The Dream Tree, Inc. A bundle of branches or a mystical tree stays with the listeners, participants of all ages and capabilities. On this they hang their own dreams."

She uses storytelling, games and activities to teach, but knows the value of silence. "Good things happen inside when we're quiet," she says, adding, "Children need stillness for magical discoveries. They're so perceptive, so creative. They don't need mechanical stimulation."

However, Chris does bring her "theater on wheels," including suitcases filled with "dream stuff," such as feathers, shells,

Always one of the most popular features at Kettle Kountry Kolors, the Buckskinner encampment this year has been expanded to include even more rendezvous sites and additional "blanket traders" (vendors selling timely wares from a blanket). The tall, white lodges set against the backdrop of breathtaking fall colors and the lazy Milwaukee River is a sight to behold and alone, is well worth a trip to the festival.

LITTLE BUCKSKINNERS... "And when we grow up, we'll be Buckskinnners, too!"

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce would like to invite the entire community, along with family and friends to their eighth annual Kettle Kountry Kolors Family Fun Festival of Entertainment, come rain or come shine, on Saturday and Sunday, October 11 and 12, at River Hill Park in Kewaskum.

Stroll along the banks of the lazy Milwaukee River and lush River Hill Park, resplendent in fall color, and revel in the beauty of autumn's exploding colors. The Chamber (with help from their friends) has been preparing for this event for months and takes great pride in the events that have been planned to entertain you.

This festival has been jam-packed with activities for the young and old alike. There will be a basketball shootout for all size players, plus a scaled down version for the mini hoopsters sponsored by the Kiwanis, a hole-in-one golf contest sponsored by Hon-E-Kor Country Club, a BB gun shooting booth sponsored by the Gateway Gobblers, local chapter of the National Turkey Federation.

Stick around for the entire festival for many of the things you enjoy year after year will be back,

R.A.H. Kicks Off to Promote Reading

The cast for the R.A.H. kickoff play, "Three Curious Pigs," included fifth graders, seated, left to right: Rachel Breese, Katie Patterson, and Maggie Dickmann in the title roles, and, standing, announcer Rita Cannestra, Narrator (and wolf) Principal Kriewaldt, Dodo bird Katie Dorn, G/T Coordinator Mr. Casetta and announcer Jessie Butler.

Three Curious Pigs and the promise of "black cows" helped kick off the Kewaskum Elementary R.A.H. (Reading At Home) program to encourage student reading outside of school.

The R.A.H. program encourages students to read to or with their parents. Each week, students turn in R.A.H. slips listing how much time they spent reading at home. The top readers each week qualify to have a "black cow" (root beer and ice cream) with Principal Mr. Kriewaldt. In addition, individual student totals add towards the class reading goals charted in each classroom.

To start the R.A.H. drive for the year, all KES students attended a play called

"Three Curious Pigs," which was written by staff members Mrs. Schulist and Reading Specialist Mrs. Lucey, and staged by fifth graders.

The play suggested that students can get more information from books than from television, and that (as research shows) reading at least a little bit every night is a great component in future success in reading.

The R.A.H. theme of "Harvesting Knowledge Through Reading," (including the "black cows") builds on the KES schoolwide theme of "Mooving Forward," emphasizing farming and the Wisconsin Sesquicentennial.

The excitement of R.A.H. (and the "black cows!") will continue throughout the school year.

Diabetic Support Group to Meet

The diabetic support group sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend Thursday, October 9, at 7 p.m. in the hospital's conference room A.

The diabetic support group is designed to educate and provide support for people affected by diabetes. For more information, contact Mary Theisen-Faber at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, 334-8267.

Scarecrow Contestant

Shown above is one of the "contestants" (Holy Trinity Grade 7) in the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce Scarecrow Contest located at the corner of Main Street and Highway 28 east in the village. The Chamber sponsored the contest for sixth, seventh and eighth graders from Kewaskum Middle School, Holy Trinity School and St. Lucas School, to add a festive touch to the community during the annual Kettle Kountry Kolors festival this weekend. The Chamber will be awarding cash for first, second and third prizes for the winning scarecrows. Judging will take place during the festival and prizes will be awarded during a special ceremony on Sunday, October 12, around 4 p.m.

Just Say No Club Awarded Again!

Wayne Elementary School's Just Say No Club won one of only six Honorable Mention Awards nationwide in the Nancy Reagan Afterschool Program "Very Impressive Poster (VIP)" contest.

The contest, judged over the summer break, challenged participants to create a poster depicting the program's theme, "Celebrate Your Life." Two of the students that helped design the poster were club officers Kristin Asmond, Captain, and Vanessa Dehling, Secretary. School Counselor Cheryl Taylor was the Club Leader.

The Nancy Reagan Afterschool Program is used by over 4500 groups throughout the country. It offers assistance in teaching drug prevention by providing, free of charge, videos and activities which offer young people tangible alternatives to drug use. These alternatives foster self-exploration and creative expression.

By capturing these honors in this national contest, the children of the Kewaskum School District certainly demonstrated their creativity. As the program's theme song declares: "Write, or sing, or paint the sky. Live your dreams and fly! Celebrate your life!"

including the stunt biplane demonstration, parachute jumpers, free hay rides and carriage rides, plus clowns and balloonists will be on hand.

Take a stroll back in time as you once again re-visit the Buckskinners Encampment situated along the banks of the Milwaukee River. The authentic camp, enlarged this year, is so picturesque with the tall white lodges shown against a backdrop of brilliant fall color. The Buckskinners will be featuring the expert whip and (toma)hawk throw demonstrations. Numerous blanket traders will also be located among the "skinners." The Twin Hill String Band and Joey Minz will be performing at the encampment site.

The unique children's activity tent features fun and excitement for the entire family. A complete list of these activities is featured in a separate story on page ten.

One of the most popular attractions at the annual festival is the huge craft fair tents and this year is no exception. Nearly 100 artisans, crafters and vendors will be displaying a unique variety of new trendsetters and old favorites. Parents can browse through the craft tents as their kids learn how to make their own artistic creations at the "Make-It and Take-It" booth located adjacent to the large craft tents.

Special festival features on Saturday include the U.S. Reserve National Guard Helicopter landing and exhibit, the State Patrol Safety Equipment display and a demonstration by the outstanding West Bend Tumbling Troupe.

Live music on Saturday will be performed by the Mayville Steel Drum Band, the Bound for Heaven Quartet and Gospel Group and The Shades Band. A live radio broadcast remote will be done by West Bend radio station WBWI-WBKV hosted by Bob Bonenfant.

Festivities on Sunday open a little earlier with a pancake breakfast hosted by the Kewaskum Sno Chiefs from 8 to 11 a.m. and a special worship service hosted by the New Fane Lutheran Church at 9 a.m.

The annual KEYS Scholarship 5K Run/Walk has become one of Sunday's main attractions and this year the event has drawn an overwhelming number of participants. It begins at 11 a.m. and registrations will still be taken up to the time of the race.

Sunday's entertainment lineup features the toe-tapping music of the Kewaskum High School Jazz Band and the Syl Groeschel Band.

AND... for all you die-hard Packer fans... there's no excuse not to attend the festival on Sunday. You won't have to miss a minute of the exciting game against the big, bad Bears! Plus you can watch the game with many of your friends and fellow fans alike. The Chamber of Commerce has set up a special Packer Party Tent for everyone who attends the festival. The Packer Party tent will feature a 48" Sony big screen TV purchased from The Camera Case and TV in Hartford so that even the fans in the end zone will be able to see the game.

To help underwrite the cost of the TV and the entire festival, the Chamber will be raffling off the big screen TV late Sunday after everyone enjoys the game. There will also be the latest Terry Redlin print, matted and framed, which will be raffled off. Tickets for the TV and/or Redlin raffle will be $2.00 each or 3 for $5.00. If you purchase 3/$5 you will receive an additional ticket for a special cash raffle. Tickets will also be available at the Kewaskum Statesman. Please help support Kettle Kountry by purchasing raffle tickets.

The Packer Party will also have peanuts, prizes, additional raffles and other enticements that are still being planned at this writing. Refreshments will also be available.

Don't forget to bring your appetite along to Kettle Kountry. See the related article on page one for a delectable list of all the festival fun food.

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce sincerely hopes you will decide to take advantage of the festivities and join in on both days. Before the old snow flies, spend the weekend with your friends amidst the gorgeous colorama of our breathtaking Kettle Moraine in River Hill Park.

Memories

A Stroll Down Main Street...

Getting back to our Stroll Down Main Street, we begin our "Stroll Up Main Street" segment as we start to head west on the north side of the street. However, our first stop is technically located on River View Drive, and this building has a thousand memories if only the walls could talk. The building is the former Kewaskum Opera House where Al and Sally Naumann and many others listed below ran hundreds of dances and famous musicians and newcomers alike shared the stage and belted out everything from German music, to polkas, to waltzes to Rock and Roll. Now this building truly does bring back memories for many, many Kewaskum residents. Among the dance and orchestra memories, are also past remembrances of numerous weddings, wrestling matches held by Ernie Sharpeggy (?) in the hall and the popular Bert Canary Medicine Shows with Bill Gossman on the piano. The historic building now is the residence of Gary and Joan Bickelhaupt, shown below, who at one time ran the tavern portion of the building. Other owners included John Kohn, Charles Groeschel, Hank Schneider, Louis Heisler and John Van Blarcom, Bert Canary, Adolph Backhaus, Emil Siegel, Bill Heim, "Butch" Laufer, N.M. Deutsch, Fred Spangenberg, Walter and Marie Dei, Lawrence Galabinske Sr., Lawrence Galabinske Jr., Tom Piwoni, Terry Jordan and Jan Peters.

Weaving Workshop is New Feature at Kettle Kountry Kolors

One of the new features of Kettle Kountry Kolors this weekend will be the opportunity to learn the art of weaving in a Native American Indian Weaving Workshop in the Children's Tent on Sunday. Susie Robin of the Milwaukee Art Museum will present the program and states, "This will be a peaceful time, whether you are good at art or not, the end result is wonderful." Susie added, "As a self developed artist of 10 years, I oppose traditional weaving forms of structure and space. After studying many art forms, I chose weaving as the most expressive and peaceful." She feels the unique mediums utilized in these weavings incorporate the spirit of nature. Fur, feathers, wool and silk with the support of tree limbs and roots, create pieces that are as individual as each of us are. Gathering these earthy treasures begins the creative process. Robins, with an impressive professional background, has taught this workshop at the Milwaukee Art Museum, the Milwaukee Public Schools and also with the Very Special Arts. She reiterated, "I'm quite sure this art form will calm all involved and bring a sense of appreciation to weaving." The program will be ongoing from 12 to 4 p.m. and everyone is invited to participate and bring something pertaining to Kewaskum to add to this "weaving."

Artistic Creations, Wildlife, Magic and Building Blocks Will Be Featured at Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolors

Magician/Ventriloquist Bruce Dicker will be performing at the Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival in the Children's Tent both Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. at River Hill Park.

By Louise Martin

An annual feature at Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival of Entertainment is the Children's Activity Tent in which many interesting activities take place for both children and adults. This year will be no exception with many outstanding activities scheduled during the weekend on Saturday and Sunday, October 11 and 12, at River Hill Park in Kewaskum.

Jean Lord, owner and operator of Pineview Rehabilitation Wildlife Center in Ozaukee County will bring her wildlife friends Saturday for two one-hour long shows. The first show will begin at noon and the second at 3 p.m. Animal friends will include a great-horned owl, a red tail hawk, a crow, an opossum, possibly a turtle and snake.

Ms. Lord will introduce them in a "Birds of Prey" show and will give some background information on each animal, explain what they eat, their traits, what they do during their waking hours and how they were injured.

Pineview Rehabilitation, a non-profit center, operates with a special permit issued by the state and has been in operation for 16 years. Animals are accepted from Sheboygan, Washington, Ozaukee and northern Milwaukee counties, usually through the Humane Society or local police department, although skunks and raccoons are not accepted.

An annual count of animals rehabilitated are a low of 400 to a high count of over 750. Stop at the Children's Tent and see one of the shows on Saturday.

Take advantage of the opportunity to see these magnificent animals up close.

Returning by popular request and a must see for all attending the festival is the magic and ventriloquist show by Bruce and Judy Dicker of Sheboygan. The Dickers will again dazzle spectators with magic, ventriloquism, clowning, balloon sculpting, games and prizes. Add to all this audience participation and it results in a dynamite show everyone will enjoy! Performances are at 2 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

K'Nex for Kids is returning again this year from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on both days. Children are invited to use their creative imagination to build a masterpiece with these bendable building blocks.

Children can also design their own painters hat or finger puppets reflecting their own personal creativity and style from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on both days under the direction of Milwaukee Art Museum members. The cost for the hat is $1.00 and the finger puppets are free.

Ceramics anyone? JoAnn Hall of Campbellsport and three assistants, will be ready to help you create a ceramic piece that you paint and take along home with you. Perhaps something scary for Halloween, traditional for Thanksgiving, that extra something festive for Christmas, or just that little something special item you would like to start out with.

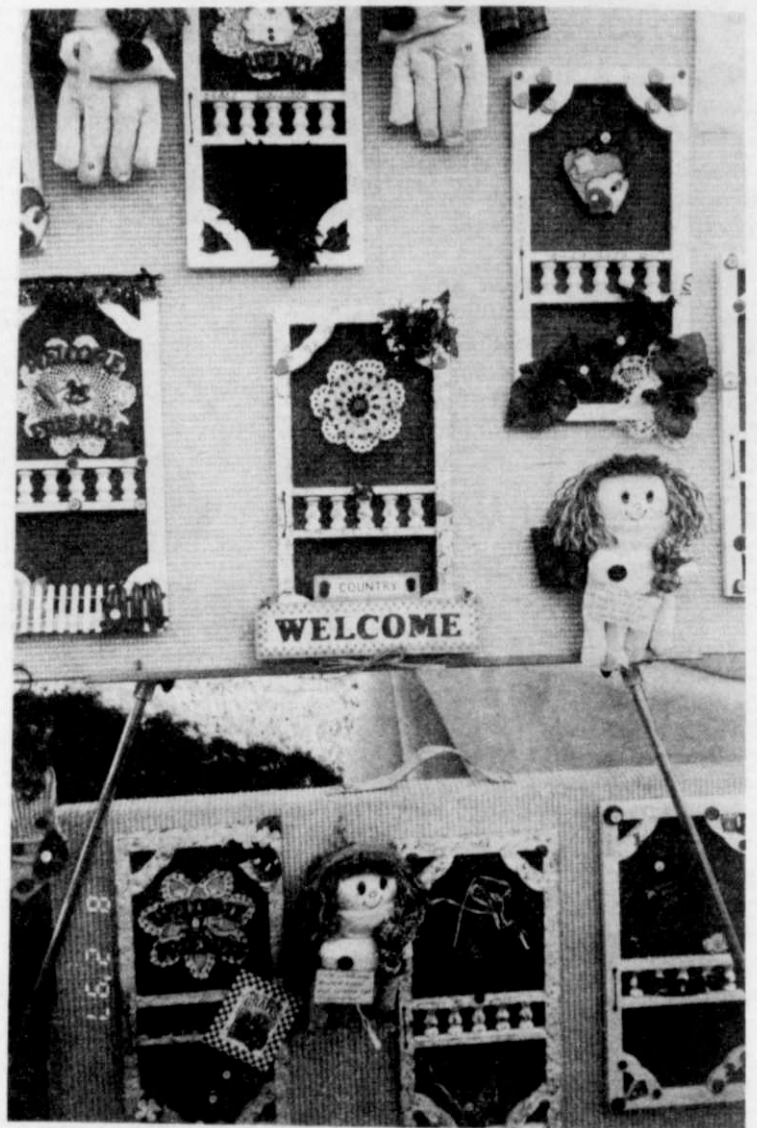

The cost at the Make-It and Take-It booth begins at $2.50 and goes up depending on what item is selected. If you have something special you would like JoAnn to bring along, you may call her at 533-4252 and request it.

Returning for her fifth year, JoAnn will be on hand at the park both days and will be located in the south corner area of the Beer Garden building so that Mom's shopping in the craft tents can still keep one eye on the youngsters. Come have the kids try their hands at some new products and learn how to create their own ceramic masterpieces.

This is just a brief sampling of the events planned by members of the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce for the young (and young at heart) to enjoy at Kettle Kountry Kolors. Join us!

Kettle Kountry Krafter

Welcome Pat Wiktorek. Pat, of Pewaukee, is one of the new artisans who will be displaying their unique crafts at this year's Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival in River Hill Park this weekend. Besides the items shown in the above photo, Pat will be featuring bunnies, snowmen, decorated screens, angels and more. Don't forget to tour both craft tents (located this year adjacent to each other) and see all the new trend-setting crafts and your old favorites. ## Big Screen TV Will Be Ruffled At Kettle Kountry Kolors

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce has purchased a 48" Big Screen Sony TV from The Camera Case and TV in Hartford to raffle off at the annual Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival this weekend in River Hill Park.

The TV was purchased so all Packer fans in attendance at the festival would not have to miss one play when the Packers take on the Chicago Bears on Sunday. The TV will be placed in a special Packer Party tent where diehard Packer fans (Bears fans also welcome) will be able to relax and enjoy the game with friends and fellow fans.

Peanuts will be served on the tables, and door prizes will be awarded. There will also be special Packer memorabilia raffle tickets on sale, along with ice cold refreshments. The only thing better than the Packer Party would actually be tickets to the game itself in Chicago! But... you'll be much better off yelling your head off among friends here in Kewaskum at River Hill Park.

The TV will be raffled off following the game. Raffle tickets will be available at the information booth and at the Chamber of Commerce food stand located immediately east of the Party Tent.

In addition to the TV, the latest Terry Redlin print, matted and framed will be raffled off. Tickets can be mixed or matched and will be sold for $2 each or 3 for $5. And... there's a bonus! If you purchase 3 for $5 you will be given an additional ticket for a special cash raffle also to be held on Sunday.

Tickets will also be available prior to the weekend's festivities at the Kewaskum Statesman or at Main Street Crafts. Please support Kettle Kountry Kolors by purchasing raffle tickets. All proceeds from the raffles go to underwrite the enormous cost of sponsoring the festival which is free of charge.

Storyteller

pieces of fabric, bones, paper snowmen, a walking stick... are pulled along on wheels wherever she goes to talk with children about "this wonderful journey we're all on."

Chris has a wide background uniting education and the use of fantasy for her audiences. She earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Exceptional Education from UW-Milwaukee and taught at the Callier Institute in Dallas, Texas, where she cultivated a love for working with people who have multiple disabilities.

She expanded her talents by performing at many libraries, schools and public social gatherings and is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Environmental Science.

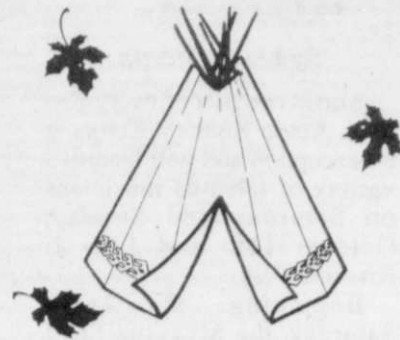

"The Dream Tree grew from life's extraordinary twists and surprises," Jenkins explains. "The storytelling became a salve for the weary or a great shot of laughter spinning off interactive audiences. Listeners are the catalysts for any performer."

Having developed her fast-paced flexibility from her teaching experience and creating programs at the Zoological Society of Milwaukee, she weaves science and fantasy into an unbeatable combination.

The Marketing and Education Department at the Zoological Society has said of Chris' work: "We're proud of the colorful and imaginative workshops you've taught and are delighted to have had the chance to promote your fine work."

With a newly acquired environmental and zoological science background, Jenkins launched The Dream Tree, Inc. Kettle Kountry Kolors is the perfect time for Kewaskum audiences to share the dream.

Vaccinations Scheduled at Meadow Creek Oct. 10

Prepare for Flu and Pneumonia Season

Adults, especially those age 65 and over, are strongly encouraged to receive influenza (flu) and pneumonia vaccines.

According to the Healthy Washington County 2001 Committee, influenza and pneumococcal disease together are the sixth leading cause of death for older adults, but can easily be prevented by safe, effective vaccines.

The Washington County Community Health Nursing Service is holding vaccination clinics: October 10 from 1 to 2 p.m. at Meadow Creek in Kewaskum; October 14 from 1 to 2:30 p.m. at the Germantown Senior Center; October 17 from 1 to 2:30 p.m. at Hartford City Hall; October 24 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the West Bend Public Agency Center; October 24 from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. at St. Peter's Church Hall, Slinger; and November 5 from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the West Bend Public Agency Center.

The cost for the flu shot is $7 and the cost for the pneumonia shot is $10. Both vaccines are covered by Medicare.

Because the influenza virus changes from year to year, it is important to get vaccinated against influenza on a yearly basis. The pneumonia vaccine usually lasts most people a lifetime, but anyone who received the pneumonia vaccine before age 65 should check with his or her physician to see if a booster is needed.

For more information, contact Washington County Community Health Nursing Service at 335-4462 (West Bend) or 342-2929 (Metro) or 644-5204 (Hartford).

Congestive Heart Failure Program

Dr. Michael Mosley, an internist with the West Bend Clinic, will present a free, informational program for the public on "Congestive Heart Failure" Tuesday, October 14. Sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend, the program is being held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Cedar Ridge Retirement Center, 113 Cedar Ridge Drive.

Congestive heart failure means that the heart is not pumping as well as it should. As a result, the body's need for oxygen-rich blood (during both exercise and rest) is not fully met. Congestive heart failure is a frequent reason for admission to the hospital.

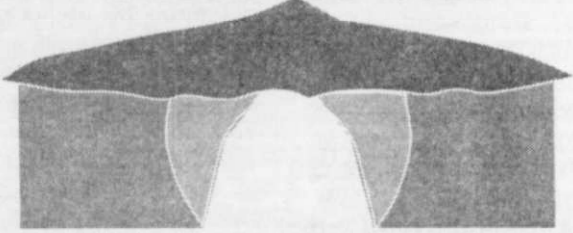

Dr. Mosley's presentation will address the importance of education in helping to control congestive heart failure.

The public is welcome; no registration is needed.

A BIRTHDAY MEMORIAL TO ROBERT FELTEN

Today on Oct. 14, your birthday, it brings warm memories of the thoughtful things you have done; the happy moments we have shared, the many special little things, that only you could do; with your friendly smile and a cherry wave.

I still think about you everyday. I feel so sad that you are gone, but it eases the pain to know you are in heaven, because when I look up into the sky and see that bright shining star watching over me. Also just to know you're away from all the pain and suffering in this world today. Someday I'll be there with you. Then we can do all the things we used to do.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all my children and their families for the wonderful 90th birthday party they gave in my honor on Sunday, Sept. 14. I would also like to thank all my relatives and friends for attending and for the many cards, gifts and good wishes extended to me on that special day. Your kindness is greatly appreciated.

National Veterinary Technician Week

The North American Veterinary Technician Association, Inc. (NAVTA), has proclaimed October 12 - 18, 1997, as National Veterinary Technician Week. The event is celebrated annually to recognize veterinary technicians nationwide for their contributions as members of the veterinary health care team.

National Veterinary Technician Week provides veterinary technicians the opportunity to promote their profession to the public and colleagues. This year's theme, "Veterinary Technicians...Educated, Skilled, Professionals," will focus on the level of education and technical expertise veterinary technicians bring to the veterinary health care team.

Veterinary technicians work closely with veterinarians and other members of the veterinary team to deliver quality animal health care. Primary responsibilities in a veterinary practice involve animal nursing, administering medications, assisting in surgery, taking radiographs, inducing and monitoring of anesthesia, hospital management, and laboratory duties. Veterinary technicians are also employed in biomedical research, military, sales, industry, and education.

NAVTA is a nonprofit organization that represents and promotes the profession of Veterinary Technology. NAVTA provides direction, education, support, and coordination for its members, and works with other allied professional organizations for the competent care and humane treatment of animals. Incorporated in 1981, NAVTA is the national organization devoted exclusively to developing and enhancing the profession of veterinary technology.

If you would like to learn more about National Veterinary Technician Week or Veterinary Technology, NAVTA provides direction, education, support, and coordination for its members, and works with other allied professional organizations for the competent care and humane treatment of animals. # Plan Now for Retirement

It's never too late to start planning for retirement. It's true that the earlier you start, the better, but experts agree that a late plan is better than no plan at all.

While the options may not be as great if you're over 50, you do have some options. The important thing is that you recognize what they are and factor them into a plan of action. You need to understand, for example, that, statistically speaking, you need to plan on living longer than your parents and grandparents did. And people over age 85 represent the largest growing segment of the population.

If you are within 10 years of retirement, here are some Social Security considerations:

Find out what you've got coming from Social Security. You should call 1-800-772-1213 to get a copy of a "Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement." That's a report on the earnings you have credited to your Social Security account, and the retirement, survivors, or disability benefits payable on those earnings.

Remember, benefits decrease if you retire early. Although many people retire early, this may not be your best option. You can retire as early as age 62, but benefits are decreased for each month before age 65 you are receiving benefits, up to a maximum of 20 percent.

Note that benefits increase if you delay retirement. If you're in good health and don't mind working, you should know that Social Security benefits increase for each month after full retirement age (65 in 1997) you delay retirement. In 1997, the "delayed retirement credit" is five percent, but it's scheduled to go up to eight percent by the year 2008.

Know how other retirement income may affect your Social Security benefits. Most types of retirement income will not affect your Social Security benefits. This means you can have income from savings and investments and other pensions over and above your Social Security benefits. In general, earnings are the most common income that may affect benefits.

Know how much you can earn in retirement. There is a retirement test that limits how much you can make and still receive Social Security benefits. It increases annually with increases in general wage levels. In 1997, people age 65 and over can earn up to $13,500 without affecting their Social Security benefits. Benefits are reduced $1 for every $3 of earnings. Beneficiaries under 65 can earn up to $8,640 a year. Earnings over the limit would reduce benefits-$1 for every $2.

The earnings limits do not apply to beneficiaries age 70 and older.

Social Security is a good starting point even for late retirement planners. It's designed to be a floor of income protection that increases with the cost of living and lasts for the rest of your life. It's something you can build on.

Senate Update
by Russ Feingold
 UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM WISCONSIN

HELPING COMMUNITIES FIGHT CRIME

Racine Chief of Police Richard Polzin looks at his city today and likes what he sees. Crime rates for the last two years have dropped to their lowest levels since 1980, in part because Racine has been able to free up police officers to spend more time on the streets.

"There's been a tremendous turnaround in some of our neighborhoods," Chief Polzin says, and, as an example, he pointed to one area of the city that had suffered from an infestation of drug-related criminal activity and now is being cleaned up.

The Racine police department, like more than 200 law enforcement agencies all around Wisconsin, has been able to put more police officers on the beat with the help of the Community Oriented Policing Services program, or COPS. COPS is a federal grants program created in 1994 to help local law enforcement agencies get the people, the training and the technical assistance they needed to fight crime more effectively. The COPS program provides federal grants to local communities to help them hire more police, re-deploy officers onto the street and to set up programs to combat specific problems like gangs and domestic violence.

There is an additional benefit to having more police on the streets, Chief Polzin says, and that is improved police-community relations, which in turn helps create better cooperation as people feel a sense of progress being made towards safer neighborhoods. Results of a 1996 survey, Chief Polzin says, showed city residents considered police officers valued community leaders.

The COPS program recognizes that, although modern law enforcement has many resources at its disposal, the fight against crime still relies, first and foremost, on the police officer. The program also recognizes that, while a police officer's main job is the investigation of crimes and the apprehension of criminals, that officer's presence on the beat also can be an effective deterrent to crime.

The COPS program also keeps the decision-making in the hands of local officials, who know best the kinds of specific law enforcement problems they face and which solutions will work best in their communities. To do that, the COPS program centers on the concept of community policing, that is, fighting crime on the street level and bringing law enforcement and other local resources together in that effort.

Under the COPS program, the federal government supports the local law enforcement agencies and helps with their particular needs, but it does not take over their role.

That is an appropriate role for the federal government, to help local law enforcement get the people and the tools to be more effective in the fight against crime and make the rest of us more secure.

JV Football Team Remains Unbeaten

The JV football team improved its record to 6-0 by beating Manitowoc Roncalli, 27-6, last Thursday night.

Quarterback Chris Koth got the Indians on the board in the first quarter with a one yard sneak for a touchdown. He also kicked the extra point to make the score, 7-0.

The Indians wasted scoring opportunities the rest of the first half and the score remained the same until the third quarter.

The second half was highlighted by three touchdowns by Jason Strobel. His first came on a 40-yard punt return. He then caught a 60-yard touchdown pass from Chris Koth. Strobel capped his highlight reel evening by returning a punt for a 70-yard touchdown.

The defense turned in another great performance to keep Roncalli off of the scoreboard until late in the game. Linebackers Aaron Seiser and Jason Gruber had several hard hits and the defensive line of David Lettow, Tim Bonlender, Brian Meyer, Dan Uniewski, and Mike Farchione shut down the Roncalli running game.

The young Indians bring their powerful attack back to Kewaskum for a home game next Thursday, October 9, against Two Rivers.

Turnovers Contribute to Indian Loss

In the three previous games the Indians lost, they have turned the ball over at least five times in each game, but in their two wins they have turned the ball over only twice.

Coach Perry Koth knew going into their game with Manitowoc Roncalli Jets that turnovers would be a key if the Indians were to have a chance at beating the strong Roncalli team. Unfortunately the Indians turned the ball over four times in a 26-6 loss last Friday night.

The Jets used team speed, along with a balanced attack, to build a 26-0 halftime lead which the Indians could not challenge. Roncalli had 220 yards total offense in the first half as the Indian defense was no match for their quickness.

Roncalli scored first on a 24 yard touchdown pass from the Jets fine quarterback Greg Stelzer (8-17-179-4 TD's) to running back Eric Nellis who rushed for 81 yards, caught four passes for 60 yards, and scored three touchdowns.

"We really had a lot of trouble tackling Nellis tonight," said Koth. "He probably broke 15 tackles tonight... in fact, I think he broke five tackles on one play."

The Indians came back with a drive of its own but after a couple of first downs the drive was stopped when Tim Vetter fumbled and the Jets recovered.

In the second quarter, it was Nellis again catching an 18 yard pass as he eluded four tacklers on his way into the end zone. With three minutes remaining in the second quarter, the Jets struck again on another Nellis pass interception of six yards to make the score 20-0 just before the half.

The Indians came out throwing in an attempt to get back into the game but a Josh Gaffke pass was intercepted and returned 27 yards to the Indians six yard line. It was the first of three interceptions thrown by the Indians.

Stelzer then hooked up with Beau Sanders for a six yard score making it 26-0 at the half. While the defense was having trouble tackling in the first half, the offense was struggling to move the ball against the swarming Jet defense.

"Our execution was terrible in the first half. We left everything we did in practice on the practice field tonight," said Koth. He added, "We didn't finish blocks, we ran to the wrong places, and our effort by some players was minimal."

The second half saw the defense play better and the offense had to turn to the air as they threw (18) second half passes for 140 yards. Ryan Rammer and Jim Kopecky were the main targets of Gaffke as Kopecky caught five passes for 51 yards and Rammer had four for 61. The Indians lone score came on a three yard run by Kopecky aided by Rammer's 30 yard pass reception that kept the scoring drive alive.

Statistically, the Indians were once again on the short end as they were out-gained 402 to 264 yards. Despite the three interceptions, Gaffke was able to complete 14 of 25 passes for 161 yards. On the ground it was Vetter once again leading the Indians with 58 yards on 18 carries, while Rammer and Kopecky led the receivers with five catches each for 81 and 51 yards respectively.

"Vetter and Kopecky ran real hard tonight and Rammer made some great catches," said Koth, about what he was pleased with. "I was also pleased with the pass protection our offensive line gave Gaffke tonight... for the most part our quarterback had plenty of time to locate his receivers. The defense also picked it up in the second half shutting them out," added Koth.

The Indians travel to Two Rivers (0-4, 0-6) this Saturday for a 1 p.m. afternoon game. It's Two Rivers homecoming so the Raiders will have plenty of incentive for this game.

"I'm sure they are looking at this game as maybe the only game they think they will have a realistic chance of winning this season," said Koth. "We need to be ready or we will have a tough time up there."
