As always, the star of the show was none other than Santa Claus, who hitches a ride on the Regal Ware float annually.

Parade Marshall Isabelle Muckerheide also had the distinction of plugging in the lights at the Annual Tree Lighting ceremony held in front of the Municipal Building after the parade. The ceremony is sponsored every year by Aid Association for Lutherans.

The Kewaskum Community was aglow with the lights, sights and sounds of the holiday season, as hundreds lined Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue Sunday evening to view the annual Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade.

In spite of the fact, two months ago, the status of the annual parade was in doubt, residents, churches, businesses, youth groups and others banded together and turned the festive march into one of the best parades in memory.

Parade co-chairs Shawn Roberts and Diane Schickert were extremely pleased with the turnout of floats and units entered and must be commended for all the effort they put into the execution of the annual holiday pleaser. And the smiles on faces along the parade's route is living testimony that in spite of the fact everyone is busy, the effort is well worth it!

The Kettle Moraine Sport Riders again copped first prize honors with their fantasy holiday choo-choo. A newcomer this year to the community's parade, Life Star Emergency Medical Services of West Bend, was honored with the second prize.

Third prize was won by Tuttle Creek Learning Center of Kewaskum and the Kewaskum area girl scouts walked away with fourth prize. Bunkelman Builders and Strobel Amoco, both of Kewaskum, tied for fifth place and were Approval has been given to Wisconsin Gas, A WICOR company, to extend its services to the Boltonville-St. Michael's area. Natural gas services to homes and businesses are to begin in the summer of 1998.

Wisconsin Gas representatives are currently visiting homes and businesses in the area to take applications for new customers.

GAS SERVICE BENEFITS

Wisconsin Gas offers assistance to Boltonville and St. Michael's homes and business owners who are interested in natural gas service:

1. There is no charge to connect pipeline to any residence if it is not more than 60 feet from the property line. There is no charge to connect pipeline to any business if it is not more than 120 feet from the property line. If it is more than 60 feet or 120 feet, respectively, there is a $3 per foot charge beyond the free footage.
2. ProServ Plus, the service division of Wisconsin Gas, can offer a competitive price to convert LP appliances to natural gas. Also available is installation of interior piping for LP or oil customers converting to natural gas.

4. Any landscaping temporarily affected by gas installation will be professionally restored. This may include grading, placing top soil, and seeding.

Natural gas is more energy-efficient than other fuels and, Boltonville and St. Michael's residents may soon discover, natural gas saves more money.

Residents and business owners wanting more information can call 1-800-315-3505.

Wisconsin Gas, a subsidiary of WICOR is the largest natural gas distributor in the state, serving more than 513,000 customers in over 500 communities.

Board Positions Up For Election Grabs

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

January 6, 1998 is the official deadline for filing candidacy papers for two expiring seats on the Kewaskum School District Board of Education, and three two-year trustee positions on Kewaskum's Village Board.

The upcoming Spring Election is scheduled for Tuesday, April 13, 1998 if there is no Primary Election.

The three-year terms of both Mary Andera and John Schulte expire, and the incumbents have until December 29 at 5 p.m. to file non-candidacy papers. If they fail to do so, the deadline for filing all candidacy papers will be extended 72 hours. As of December 8th, John Schulte has not taken out papers, although he has stated he will run for re-election. Mary Andera is presently undecided.

Past board member and past school board president Neal Weare of the Town of Auburn has also taken out candidacy papers to vye for a seat back on the board. Weare lost the race for his fourth term this past year to newcomer Lisa Maul. Weare has not turned in his signed papers as yet.

In the village race, three trustee positions will be up for re-election in April: Warren Dums, Bob Stoltzmann and John Kenworthy. These seats are all two-year terms. Information from the village hall indicates so far Warren Dums is the only incumbent that has taken out papers. He also has not yet returned them. Although it is still too early to name all prospective candidates.

Admission is free, Rose Hall is warm, and the music is ready. See you on Wednesday, December 17, 1997 at 7:30 P.M. Come and listen to the beautiful music of this holiday season.

Kewaskum Woman Opens Book Store in West Bend

Margaret McFadden recently opened "Serendipity" children's book store in West Bend.

Located in the historic district along Main Street, the bookstore offers selections for pre-schoolers to high schoolers.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

"A book is something you always have, and can go back to again and again," states Margaret McFadden, who now lives a dream come true since opening her very own book store in nearby West Bend this past October.

McFadden, a Kewaskum resident, has finally put her master's degree in English to work, a title she earned because of her love for literature. Surrounded by a vast assortment of children's books, some of shelves so low they reach a grownup's knees, Margaret explains how she researched the idea for two years before arriving at the decision to open "Serendipity," and specialize in books for kids.

"It was something I always wanted to do, but instead I raised my children, worked at the Post Office, and sold insurance, and then when the kids were almost done with college, my husband Pat said why don't you just do it." Exploring possibilities, they visited every book store they passed ("I do that anyway," Margaret adds), talked to the owners, and met with UW extension small business agent Fred Schmidt, who offered a wealth of information on how to succeed as a small business owner.

Margaret also joined the American Book Sellers Association and attended their three day expo at McCormick place in Chicago. "I plan on trying to attend every year. The seminars were outstanding," she relates. "They really want the small book sellers to succeed." While there, she tried to absorb the language of the book world, and gathered material on store design, customer service, and book buying sources.

A book store owner told her she had to do it for the love, not the money. "I learned quickly that I couldn't compete with Barnes and Noble unless I wanted to go into debt for a million dollars," McFadden explained. "I needed to decide on a speciality." Recalling childhood memories filled with books and frequent trips to the library, Margaret decided she wanted to create a store dedicated to keeping the magic of reading alive for children. In a world of too much television, instant gratification, and computers replacing encyclopedias, there remains a special place for children who love to read.

Nestled in the old fashioned quaintness of West Bend's downtown district, Serendipity books is filled with titles familiar to us all - Winnie the Pooh, Mark Twain, The Three Musketeers, Little Women, Green Eggs and Ham, Charlotte's Web, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, and shelves of other classics many parents think of as old friends, eager to introduce them to their own children when the time is right. "These old books we grow up with are still good, but there's some wonderful new books and new authors out there that are just as exciting to share," Margaret points out.

Increasing in popularity are children's books, centered in science, like the Magic School Bus Series, Janice Van Cleave's books on stuff kids can do, and the Linnea series on plants and botany. "Some kid's just aren't fiction kids, and these new science books are really fun for them," she maintains.

Writer's today also realize what a great sense of humor children develop at an early age. Richard Scarey books are excellent reading for little children, along with Shel Silverstein. Preschoolers will also enjoy the "Spot" books by Richard Hill, and the always colorful pop-up books that allow for interaction.

Books make great gifts for any occasion, especially during the holiday season, and are perhaps one of the best choices for a teacher. "I pick the books I carry through the University of Madison's School of Education Children's Library," Margaret mentions. "Teachers there review the books and recommendations are made through them."

Recognizing National Children's Book Week just last month, Margaret has been stirring up enthusiasm by inviting local daycare groups to a weekly storyhour at Serendipity. Little table and chairs, little step stools, and little kids amidst oodles of books leads to singing and finger rhymes and contagious laughter. "It's been so much fun, I've really enjoyed it, and the children love to read," she comments with a pleased expression. One Saturday a month Nancy Mason from the Children's Theater in West Bend also stops by to entertain the kids with her rendition of story hour.

Margaret's husband Pat, and three children, Paul, Shannon and Patrick, have been enthusiastic supporters of her new venture, but the biggest fan has turned out to be her 2 1/2 year old grandson Aleksander, who accompanies his grandmother to the store each Friday, and emphatically states he does not want to go home. What child would?

Serendipity Books, located at 146 N. Main in West Bend, is open Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Fridays 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturdays 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Heart Attack

Heart attack is the single largest killer in the United States. The American Heart Association estimates that 1.5 million Americans will suffer heart attacks in 1996 and about 490,000 of them will die.

To reduce your risk of heart attack, the American Heart Association says: stop smoking, control high blood pressure; eat a low-saturated-fat, low-cholesterol diet; be physically active; and maintain proper weight.

About 45 percent of heart attacks occur in people under age 65; five percent, in people under age 40. About one sixth of those killed by heart attack are under age 65.

As your family gathers for the holidays, now is the perfect opportunity to set up an appointment for the family portrait you have been putting off.

Christmas is that special time of year, when families reunite

During my 11 years creating family portraits, it seems the most popular reason people do not have their family portraits taken, is the inability to gather everyone together at the same time.

If your family plans on celebrating the season together, and you have been contemplating this idea, now is the most opportune time to create a family portrait that will last a lifetime!

Memories

A Stroll Up Main Street

Moving west on our weekly "Stroll Up Main Street" we have come to the former General Telephone building (at the time this photo was taken). Since that time the building has been occupied by many businesses: McKenna Law Office, beauty shops, a pizza parlor, and more that don't immediately come to mind. Now the building is owned by Wendi and Randy Dreher, and operated by Wendi as "Hair on Main," a hair, nail and makeup salon. The stalwart brick building has not changed too much over the years, other than a new sign and railings, hence we did not take a photo of today's building. If anyone has historic information or a fond memory to contribute about the upcoming businesses on the north side of Main Street, please send the information to the Kewaskum Statesman.

St. Lucas Church Receives $300 From Lutheran Brotherhood

St. Lucas Church recently received $300.00 from Lutheran Brotherhood through the Society's Friends in Deeds program.

St. Lucas used the funds to landscape the school/church properties. On August 23, 1997, volunteer Lutheran Brotherhood members and church members removed the old shrubs. The volunteers brought in and planted the new shrubs and evergreens. They placed decorative stone, which they hauled in themselves, around the plantings. Edging placed around the plantings finished the job. A beautiful addition to the grounds.

Breakfast with Santa

Loqan Dreher of Kewaskum discusses his Christmas list with Santa at the FHA Breakfast with Santa held last Saturday at KHS.

"Honest Santa, I've been real good!" proudly says Austin Goeden of Kewaskum. The FHA served over 250 people at their annual Breakfast with Santa. BRAVO to the club and to foods and consumer education instructors Carol Martin and Mary Koch who are advisors of the club.

Statesman Photos: Andrew R. Kuehl

The Kewaskum High School Future Homemakers of America held their 17th annual Breakfast With Santa last Saturday in the high school cafeteria festively decorated by FHA members.

Members served over 250 people as Christmas carols were performed by the KHS Swing Choir. Also dropping in for a visit was Frosty the Snowman. He visited with the children and talked to Santa about current weather conditions back at the North Pole. When asked his thoughts on El Nino, Frosty said he wasn't worried and was still planning on going back with Santa after the festivities.

Advisor Carol Martin said, "it (the breakfast) was very successful. Money raised will help finance two scholarships which will be awarded at the end of the year to two seniors."

KHS Foods and Consumer Education instructor Mary Koch also is a co-advisor.

FHA is an extra-curricular organization aimed at promoting ideas that will someday serve in homes.

Musical Christmas Trees for Sale

Are the trees really musical? Do they sing Christmas Carols? Not really, but the students standing out there in the cold and snow are and can. The musicians from the Kewaskum High School's bands and choirs are musical and can sing Christmas Carols, but they also do one other thing quite well, they sell Christmas trees. Yes, folks, for the sixth year in a row, each and everyone of the students selling trees are there to help you select that special tree that will be just right for your home. Proceeds will go for the music trip which is being planned for spring of 1999.

The trees, Scotch and White pine; Balsam and Frazer fir will be available at the Sentry parking lot located just south of Kewaskum on Hwy. 45 and at the Pick "n Save North parking lot in West Bend. So come and help the musicians and get your Christmas tree now. The Band is also selling beautiful Christmas wreaths.

Hours for the tree sales are as follows; Monday through Friday, 3:30 to 6:00 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The trees and wreaths will be on sale through Monday, December 22, with December 23 being our clean up day. We will close early (5:30) on December 17, due to the Christmas concert at the high school.

Washington County Receives Law Enforcement Block Grant Award

Governor Thompson on December 1 announced the award of $24,142 to Washington County. This award will enable the Washington County Sheriff's Department to purchase and install automated fingerprint scanning and transmitting equipment.

The grant amount is for the cost of "cardscan" equipment, which enables the scanning and electronic transmission of offender fingerprint information to the state's criminal history repository.

"We are hoping to provide this enhanced technology to virtually all counties in the State," said Governor Thompson. "The statewide use of this new technology will provide faster access to more complete and accurate criminal identification and criminal history information, which will assist all of our law enforcement agencies in protecting the public."

These funds are available through the "state share" of the federal Local Law Enforcement Block Grant, administered by the Wisconsin Office of Justice Assistance (OJA). This fund is generated by formula, based on the violent crime totals of the smaller law enforcement agencies and jurisdictions across the state. Many larger agencies received a direct grant award from the federal government under this program.

The equipment is available through a recently developed state purchasing contract. The technology focus of these grant funds are the result of recommendations by the Badger State Sheriffs Association and the Wisconsin Chiefs of Police Association.

More and more each day we miss you,
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But they little know the sorrow,
That is in our hearts concealed.
There is many a lonely heartache,
There is many a silent tear,
God only knows how much we miss you
At the end of this first year.

Sadly missed by wife Joyce and son Rick.

PRAYER OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(Never known to fail). Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my Mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (Make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. C.G.

With the first measurable accumulation of snow last week, also came the first sightings of those large, white "aliens" we all seem to see this time of year. These "aliens" were erected by Holy Trinity School students and it looks as if they will be with us until the warm sun shines in Spring.

Area Residents Raising Elk

Since 1996, the Susens have been raising 27 elk, for breeding stock and antlers, which are harvested annually. As members of the Wisconsin Commercial Deer and Elk Farmers Association, they participate in an annual pool where antlers are collected and sold to a wholesale buyer.

The antlers are taken to a processing plant where they are dried and shipped to Canada, China, Korea, New Zealand or to USDA inspected pharmaceutical labs in the United States where they are processed into capsules. Velvet antler is a supremely balanced natural health food that builds up the body's natural resources against disease or chronic conditions.

The antler contains many organic elements, among them are amino acids and essential fatty acids including prostaglandin, identified as anti-inflammatory components which reduce the body's response to injury, swelling pain and arthritis. In a recent biochemical analysis of Velvet Antler, Dr. Paul A. Burgio, Ph.D from Minnesota reports the following:

Velvet antler improves cardiovascular health by reducing cholesterol, thinning the blood and reducing blood clotting. Antler works as an anti-inflammatory agent and increases the effectiveness of the immune system. It has been shown to have an anti-tumor effect. The velvet antler accelerates cell division and growth, an important finding for areas of medicine which need tissue growth and repair.

In Russia, Olympic athletes use velvet antler as a component in the strength development system. Since athletes experience extreme stress and trauma to the muscles, hormonal, nervous and immune system of their body, Soviet sport scientists administer velvet antler to their athletes to strength these essential bodily functions which ultimately enhance their performance, increasing work load and decreasing recovery time between workouts.

In Asian countries, Velvet Antler has been one of the main ingredients used in Oriental medicine. In Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM), velvet antler is used for increasing blood which helps aspects of circulation. It is only in recent years that Americans have discovered the benefits of velvet antler, as the trend towards natural medicine is emerging.

Health conscious individuals consider velvet antler an excellent 100% natural health supplement. Research has shown that U.S. Medical Colleges are changing ways of teaching, shifting from pure science and treatment to preventive care. Velvet antler, an ancient medicine used for prevention of disease is now available in capsule form, made from farm raised elk in America. Meadow Creek Elk Farms are distributors of 100% Velvet Antler capsules.

The Susen's elk have been TB tested, purity tested, and registered with the North American Elk Breeders Association (NAEBA), and licensed by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture. Since elk are considered an alternative livestock, Meadow Creek Elk Farms is licensed by the state, who reviews renewals on an annual basis.

NAEBA, the national organization dedicated to developing and improving domestic elk herds throughout North America has seen its membership double in the last two years. NAEBA estimates that between 65,000 and 75,000 elk are raised behind fence in the United States.

As active members of the Wisconsin Commercial Deer and Elk Farmers Association (WCDEFA), Bob and Diana Susen participated in last summer's Farm Progress Days and are currently involved in the Association's annual conference, which will take place January 16th and 17th in Madison.

Along with educational seminars, this year will also feature a live elk auction at the Dane County Expo Center. Forty-one select elk have been consigned to be sold by Paul C. Behr, a livestock auctioneer from Denver, Colorado.

As the editor of the auction catalog, Diana will be mailing out 1,300 catalogs to elk farmers in the United States, inviting them to the select elk sale. Diana admits that it will be a lot of labels and stamps, but she is optimistic about getting help from local chapters of FFA and 4-H, along with Ag students at Kewaskum High School.

From a business standpoint, Bob recognizes the future of the elk industry. The velvet market is strong in the Pacific Rim, and is just beginning here in the United States. "As more Americans become health conscious, the use of velvet antler will be seen. The response to the velvet capsules we distribute has been amazing. We have customers seeing improvement in chronic conditions including arthritis, Restless Legs Syndrome (RLS) and anemia," Bob stated.

He added, "Many have reported on the boost in their energy level that they have obtained from the velvet antler. Besides helping with chronic conditions, it's touted as a great energy product and excellent for blood circulation."

When asked if the Susens raise the elk for their meat, many are surprised that it's not for the meat, but for the velvet. At this time, the prices of elk are quite high and are valued because of their use as breeding stock, not as meat.

Bob agrees with NAEBA, saying, "We haven't really begun to tap the meat market because of limited supply. Compared to other meats, elk is very low in fat and cholesterol. Because elk fits the needs of the modern consumer, the marketing of meat products will one day play a much greater role."

Ask any elk farmer and they'll tell you that elk are the livestock of the future. The per acre rate of return from raising elk on agricultural land is far greater than that from traditional uses of the land. The economics are there, the research and studies conducted on velvet antler suggest its benefits, and now according to the Susens, people are seeing good results from taking the velvet antler capsules and that's what counts.

In Kewaskum, the Velvet Antler is available at Main Street Crafts, 417 Main Street.

This community can be very proud of all the time and effort that went into all the entries that were in the parade, and of the food donations made during the course of the parade that will be turned over to local food pantries.

The community itself actually underwrites the cost of the parade by donating money to the tree lights that are located by the Calendar of Events sign near the fire house.

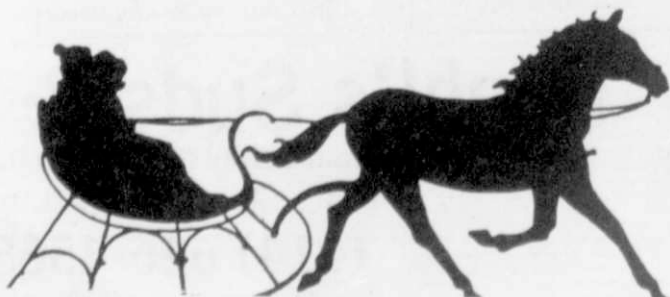

Donations are still being accepted at the Kewaskum Statesman and a complete list of those who contributed will be printed in an upcoming edition.

In order to have made the Kewaskum Christmas Parade such a success, a lot of hard work had to be done. Here, two members of the Kewaskum Elementary Just Say No Club, Ashleigh Heintz, left, and Melissa Hammen, finish the banner that club members carried in the parade. Nearly 100 members of the clubs from KES, WES and FES planned to march. The Just Say No Clubs have participated for five years, this year with a terrific, pony-drawn wagon.

ROCKIN' AROUND THE CHRISTMAS TREE -- Kewaskum Elementary students took a little time from the classroom to put their decorating finesse to the test on the Christmas tree located next to the Kewaskum Statesman. The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce again sponsored the tree decorating for all area elementary school students and youth groups who wished to participate. The trees added a bright, festive glow to the entire village during Sunday's Christmas parade and will continue to shine throughout the holiday season. The winners of the contest and a photo of all the trees will be published in the Statesman Christmas edition next week. Students shown, left to right, are: Jessica Butler, Rita Cannestra, Kelly Swosinski, Theresa Trott, Jeremiah Meyer (back), Ben Honeck, and Jacob Schweder.

Dear Editor,

On December 3, 1997, after seven months and at least 15 meetings the Community Facility Study Group, organized by the Kewaskum School Board to determine what is needed for the district's schools to operate efficiently for the next 10 to 15 years, has made their final recommendations to the board, as has been reported by area newspapers.

There were three plans presented at this meeting, all of which had been thoroughly studied and discussed. It will now be up to the school board to determine which of the plans is most feasible. The study group believes that each of the plans have merit.

After the board decides which of the plans, if any, is to be used they will recommend a fall referendum which may be in a multiple form to give voters a variety of options.

At 6 p.m., January 7, 1998, there will be an open house to be held at Kewaskum Elementary School for a question and answer period on this subject and to tour the facility to see first hand the condition it is in and why a new school is being recommended. Coffee and cookies will be served.

I would like to impress on district residents the importance of their attendance at this meeting as I assure you that something definitely has to be done and now is the time to let yourself be heard. We are all equally involved and affected with this problem so we should all participate. See you at the open house, 6 p.m., January 7, 1998, at KES!

Thank you.

Lloyd Koch

IN MEMORY

In memory of ROGER KUEHL, who passed away five years ago, Dec. 17, 1992:

Sad and sudden was the call,
Of one so dearly loved by all;
A bitter grief and shock severe,

It was to part with one so dear,
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died;
To think you could not say good-bye,
Before you closed your eyes.
For us you always did your best,
May God grant you eternal rest.

Missed and loved

In loving memory of HAROLD STERN, who passed away thirteen years ago, December 11, 1984:

God stood that day
Beside your bed
These are the words
He must have said
You have suffered more
Than you can stand
So come with me to
A better land
We think of you often
The things you did
And said
You just went on ahead.

Hunters Harvest 271,397 Deer in Nine-Day Gun Season

MADISON -- Preliminary deer registration numbers from Wisconsin's regular gun hunt show Wisconsin hunters bagged 271,397 white-tailed deer during the nine-day season. Combined with the harvest of 7,100 from the four-day October Zone T hunt in 10 deer management units, hunters have shot 278,497 deer in gun seasons this year.

That compares to a nine-day gun season harvest of 350,430 in 1996 and a total 1996 gun deer harvest of 388,791 including a four-day Zone T season; muzzleloader season, and tribal and deer damage harvest.

"We expected the reduced harvest and we hope it indicates that we are making progress in moving the deer herd to desired management goals," said Tom Hauge, director of the Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Wildlife Management.

Hauge said Wisconsin had an estimated deer herd of under 1.2 million going into this year's hunt, compared to a herd of 1.5 million last year. The herd was down, he said, primarily because of two consecutive severe winters in the north and because of last year's Zone-T requirement that hunters shoot an antlerless deer before being able to shoot an antlered deer in designated management units. As a result, hunters shot more than 250,000 antlerless deer last year. In contrast, the 1996 buck harvest dropped 44% from the 1995 buck harvest, he noted.

Hauge said it is still too early to assess how successful the Zone T hunt was this year in helping reduce herd size in those units that remained at levels above population goals. However, he added that there were relatively few problems associated with the 1997 Zone T rules compared to 1996.

Final harvest figures will be tabulated early next year as all the registration stubs are checked and entered into the computer by management unit and county. That total will include the Chippewa tribal harvest plus the results of the muzzleloader hunt that went on through December 7.

Gun Deer Season Was Safest Ever

MADISON -- 1997 was the safest gun deer hunting season on record, with a total of 10 shooting accidents, one of which was fatal, according to records compiled by the Department of Natural Resources.

"This is the lowest number of the gun deer season since deer hunting began in Wisconsin," says Tim Lawhern, DNR hunter education administrator.

1996 was the previous safest year, with 14 accidents, including one fatality.

Of the 10 total accidents, five were self-inflicted and four involved members of the same hunting party. Three accidents occurred while hunters were attempting to group bag, or shoot a deer for someone else to tag. Four accidents occurred during deer drives. Only one person was shot by an unknown hunter. The average age of the shooter was 29, and only two juveniles were involved in accidents as the shooters, and both were self-inflicted injuries.

The 1997 season followed recent trends in hunting accidents, Lawhern said, with violations of safe gun handling practices the most common cause for these accidents.

"This is why our state's hunter education program stresses the importance of choosing a hunting partner as if your life depended on it. Because it just might," he said.

With over 650,000 hunters and only 10 accidents, Lawhern said, 1997 was really an exceptional year for safety.

"Our 4,300 volunteer hunter education instructors should be very pleased with this accomplishment," he said.

"Gee, for such a little guy, you've got a big roar!"

NOTICE TO ALL WASHINGTON COUNTY DOG OWNERS

Pursuant to Section 174.052, Wisconsin Statutes, notice is hereby given to all owners of dogs in Washington County that dog licenses and rabies vaccinations are required.

Vaccination by a licensed veterinarian against rabies is required of all dogs (Section 95.21(2)) within 30 days after the dog reaches 4 months of age and revaccinated within one year after the initial vaccination. The owner of a dog shall have the dog revaccinated against rabies by a veterinarian when the certificate expires or within three (3) years of previous vaccination. The certificate of rabies vaccination must be presented to the collecting official before a dog license may be issued.

All dogs five (5) months of age or older require a license. The minimum license fee for neutered males or spayed females is $3.00, upon presentation of evidence attesting to the same, and $8.00 for the unneutered male or unspayed female dog or one-half of these amounts if the dog became five (5) months of age after July 1 of the license year. The governing body of any town, village or city may raise the minimum dog license tax. Any person who keeps or operates a kennel may apply for a kennel license. The fee is $35.00 for twelve (12) dogs or less and an additional $3.00 for each dog in excess of twelve (12).

Dog licenses can be obtained from your local town, village or city treasurer or designee during the course of any given year. Dog owners should notify their treasurer if their dog is given away or has died, so that you will not be considered delinquent. An affidavit of death is available.

PENALTY
Every owner of a dog 5 months of age or older who fails to obtain a license by April 1 will be assessed a late fee of $5.00.

After years of supervising (but never participating) at Sunburst, Wayne Elementary School fifth grade teacher Mr. Beske finally decided to give downhill skiing a try.

Wayne Elementary fifth graders Abe Foerster, left, and Nate Steiner were ready to do some serious skiing when the intramurals programs of the Kewaskum Elementary Schools recently visited Sunburst Ski Area.

"Next, we'll learn how to fill out an accident report."

Indians Lose Two BB Heartbreakers

The Kewaskum Indians boys' basketball team opened their season Tuesday night at Slinger in a non-conference game.

The young Indians opened the contest displaying an intense trapping defense that forced numerous Slinger turnovers. Paul Wiedmeyer had the early hot hand as he scored all 10 of his points in the first half.

The Indians built up a nine point lead near the end of the second quarter, when they were flagged with a technical foul as Tim Vetter didn't report properly upon entering the game. The Owls converted the two free throws and ran off six straight points to pull within three at halftime, 32-29.

The third quarter saw Kewaskum finding their shooting touch as the Indians converted five three point shots, three coming from David Gerhartz.

The lead see-sawed back and forth to the delight of the crowd. The aggressive Indians began to get in foul trouble as Wiedmeyer and Andy Christophersen fouled out early in the fourth quarter. Center John Warnecke picked up his fourth foul as well.

Tim Vetter, Shaun Timblin and Aaron Seiser, all 5'10", were forced to match up with the Owls' formidable front line of Lindert (6'6"), Doak (6'4") and Spiegel (6'3").

Slinger took a four-point lead and had possession of the basketball with two minutes left in the game. Kewaskum fought back valiantly to tie the game with eight seconds remaining.

Following a timeout, Slinger drove down the court and found Scott Healy open. Healy shot a 20-foot jumper as time expired. The ball swished through the net to down the Indians, 71-68. Healy was mobbed by his teammates as the Kewaskum team watched, in shock and speechless.

"Our effort was outstanding, but our free throws (13-24) killed us. Slinger has some fine athletes," stated Coach Tom Timblin, referring to the fact Slinger just recently finished second in the Division Three State Football Tournament.

Friday night found the Indians matched up against the Kiel Raiders in the KHS fieldhouse for their conference home opener.

This contest started out with a torrid offensive pace.

The first quarter saw Kiel taking a 27-23 lead. David Gerhartz nailed two three-pointers and another basket to lead the home team with eight points.

By halftime, the Indians were down 50-42, despite making five three-point goals in the first half. The Indians tightened the defensive noose in the third quarter as a trapping, pressing-pressure defense held the Raiders to eight points. Tim Vetter had five of the Indians 16 points to deadlock the score at 58-58.

The fourth stanza was neck and neck, just like the Slinger game had been three days earlier. Paul Wiedmeyer again fouled out of the contest and Andy Christophersen sprained his ankle, so the short lineup was once again utilized into play. Shaun Timblin responded by making a three-pointer and a basket.

The Indians, however, were still down as Gerhartz was fouled on a three-point attempt. He connected with all three free throws to pull Kewaskum to within two points, 77-75 with less than 30 seconds remaining in the game.

Kiel made a pair of free throws and John Warnecke answered with two from the charity stripe of his own. Kewaskum, down 79-77, gained possession of the ball with nine seconds remaining. Gerhartz attempted a game-winning three pointer but it bounced off the rim as the horn sounded.

Coach Timblin praised his entire squad for clawing their way back from the ten-point deficit midway through the third quarter.

Referring to the game, Coach Timblin stated, "We had good balanced scoring and Josh Gaffke played very well again. Our shooting touch is coming around, as witnessed by the eight three-pointers." Timblin added that Kiel's entire 12-man roster was made up of seniors. He concluded, "They (Kiel) seemed physi-
