Louise Martin Named State Junior Woman of the Year

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Louise Martin wants to be sure she isn't put on a pedestal. Recently named Junior Woman of the Year by the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs, she describes the honor as a tribute to past and present club members in Kewaskum for their solid commitment to community based volunteerism.

Beginning her 13th year with the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club, Louise has successfully balanced life between her career, her role as a mother, and her service within the club. "I've tried to help with all the projects we do throughout the year, to be supportive, and contribute what I could," she maintains. "It's difficult to take things on if I know I can't follow through. In our business, life changes with a phone call."

As owners of Miller Funeral Home, Louise and her husband Larry are an integral part of the community, almost considered natives after relocating here 12 years ago from Mazomanie. They purchased the business from Fred and Pearl Miller, leaving behind family and friends to start out on their own. "I was working at a bank at the time. We put our house up for sale. It was kind of scary," Louise recalls of their leaving home.

For Louise, life in Mazomanie had included membership in the Jaycettes, a group of eight women dedicated to friendship and community service. Eventually the group disbanded for lack of numbers, but continued to meet on a social basis.

"When we moved here, I got a call from Sherry Miller, the Charter President of the Kewaskum Juniors, and from Lori Schoofs, who was president at that time, inviting me to the meetings. It was a way for me to meet people, and I felt it was important to give something back to the community as a business owner."

She gained confidence acting as a chairperson for the club's annual Kettle Country Christmas Arts and Crafts Fair for two years, and continued her support by chairing some of the five departments within the club, which include Public Affairs, Arts, Education, Home Life, Conservation, and International Affairs.

Louise has served as corresponding secretary, recording secretary, treasurer (six years), vice president, president (1989-1992), and Junior Director for the sixth district (overseeing nine clubs within the state). "I was asked to serve as Junior Director, acting as a contact person for all clubs within our district," she explained. This appoint-

Taxpayers to Vote on $12 Million School Referendum Issue Sept. 8

Taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District will be voting on a $12 million dollar referendum to build, enlarge and update schools on September 8th.

The school board approved the resolution at Monday night's school board meeting with a 6-1 vote. Board member John Schulte opposed the referendum.

The total package includes the proposed construction and remodeling of Wayne and Farmington Elementary Schools and Kewaskum High School, along with the construction of a new elementary school and administrative building within the village of Kewaskum.

The proposed $7.5 million two-story elementary school building will house approximately 28 rooms and 24,850 square feet for educating pre-school through fifth grade students, 5,250 square feet for special education needs, 27,350 square feet for music, art and an IMC gymnasium, 2,250 square feet for administrative and student services, and 9,550 square feet for auxiliary areas. A flexible, two stage gym would allow space for a cafeteria, media center, and community usage.

The building would be situated east of the current KES on the district's seven acre parcel, with the front entrance facing Bilgo Lane. Demolition of the old elementary school will cost an additional $300,000. Plans are also being discussed to reroute bus traffic that is presently causing a congestion problem, with a possible bus lane also located along Bilgo Lane in front of the new school.

Wayne Elementary School would receive a 4,700 square foot addition constructed to also include the two stage gym/media center/cafeteria, improved heating, ventilation, and air conditioning, replacement of existing windows, additional conference and work areas. Cost for the proposed improvements - $800,000.

Approximately 20,000 square feet would enlarge Farmington Elementary School with a two stage gym, offices, classrooms, storage and guidance areas, and rest rooms. The plan also includes remodeling the existing classrooms, corridor and cafeteria, replacing existing windows, and updating the HVAC. Total cost - $2 million.

The referendum also asks for approval of $1 million worth of renovations of the original structure at Kewaskum High School, replacing corridor ceiling, lighting and floor tile, lockers, and HVAC for areas not air conditioned. Remodeling could also include the Tech-Ed and Agriculture Departments, and a stage addition to the main gym.

New district offices are designed to fit on or near the current KES site after it is demolished. The 4,000 square foot building would accommodate administrative needs. Total cost - $250,000.

Through a recent intense series of school board workshops, the school building plan has been scaled down from an earlier $17 million model. Board President Jean Goeden said the new proposal, although still open to changes and revisions, was a compromise.

Business manager George Allmann identified projected taxpayer costs for the $12 million bonding referendum to be .77 cents per thousand of equalized value for a 15 year amortization ($115.55 per year increase on a $150,000 home), and .35 cents per thousand for a 20 year amortization ($52.50 yearly increase on a $150,000 home).

Village Board Discusses Capital Improvement Projects

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Kewaskum Village Board met Monday and quickly discussed the business at hand.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt told the board that "we have received so many calls and compliments regarding the fireworks including the job the police department did at getting that many people out of town, in an orderly fashion."

Police Chief Richard Knoebel stated that everything went well with the fireworks and picnic. Knoebel also told the board that he is looking into purchasing a trailer for the recently purchased speedboard. The purchase of a trailer would enable the department to leave the speedboard in a designated area for long periods of time and to collect data for that particular street. The trailer retails for around $12,000. Knoebel went on to say he has talked to Best Trailer and they should be able to do it for a considerably less price tag. He said he will bring the figures to the board at a later date.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles informed the board the slurry seal project on Wildlife drive is complete and looking good. In other construction business the project on Old Fond du Lac Road and the STH 45 access road is for the most part complete with the exception of some landscaping. Gilles reminded the board the resurfacing work on CTH H has begun. The road is closed to through traffic from US 41 to CTH H in Wayne. But the resurfacing will continue from Wayne up to the west edge of Kewaskum and repaved in the Village up to US 45. He would like to remind citizens that no traffic will be allowed on CTH H in Kewaskum while construction is progress. The work is being done by Payne & Dolan. Funds for the Village of Kewaskum project arrived from a joint effort between Washington County, the Village and the developer of an abutting subdivision.

Administrator Schmidt asked for approval of two operators licenses. There was one building permit for a single family for a total of 13 for the year so far. In recycling news Schmidt told the board so far there are 860 garbage pickups, 943 recycling pickups and 40 mobile containers. In closing he informed the board of an Economic Development Advisory Committee meeting on July 20 at 4 p.m.

Trustee John Kenworthy informed the board of the latest swim pass report. Sales are up with a total of 370 passes sold so far. Attendance is also up with 3,463 people so far this year. This is an increase of 812 people from 1997. Kenworthy stated that he thought attendance was up due to the new pool fountain. He also said that the tennis courts will be resurfaced in late September or early October. Work on the bathhouse will be also be done at that time. Kenworthy also read a letter from a parent who commended the village on the attentiveness of a lifeguard on duty who came to rescue her son after swimming into too deep water. She stated "your lifeguard's quick action and response saved us from a tragedy"

Discussion was finished up on the relief sewer, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, water main and street improvements. Construction will begin next Monday. The project is estimated to be finished by October 30 1998.

Schmidt updated the board on the USH 45 turn arrows and 2001 reconstruction project. He said he made contact with the DOT regarding placing a greenway on the road. Furthermore he said it is very likely this project could happen. The greenway would start at Sandy Ridge Road extending to Badger Road.

"As far as the request on our arrows at CTH H and USH 45, there will be something done on that," said Schmidt. A plan will be sent to the Village from the DOT, although the request for turn arrows at Main Street and USH 45 was denied due to the volume of traffic, crash history and delay time.

The board approved a contract with Conley McDonald Certified Public Accountants and Consultants for a three year period.

Louise Martin

ment put her on the WFWC's district and state boards.

The "Joy Award" for Junior Woman of the Year is presented annually at the spring convention. Clubs within the state nominate members they feel exemplify what a candidate should stand for -- individual leadership, involvement in the organization and the community. Martin, one of eleven candidates in Wisconsin, was nominated by Kewaskum Junior President, Meri Lou Chambers.

"As part of the nomination process, we had to write about our most memorable experience as a Junior," Louise relates. Her subject was a Wausau convention she attended and the camaraderie that developed between club members.

The last paragraph reflects the ideals valued by those who know Louise, because it's what she stands for. "Our time these days is a precious commodity. There is a great personal fulfillment taking time to volunteer, to make a difference and improvement in another's life and in our community. It's that volunteer spirit that keeps us going."

Since Louise missed the spring convention held in Brookfield, she is being urged by friends and club members to appear at the Junior fall conference held in October. Unfortunately, it's the same weekend as Kewaskum's annual Kettle Kountry Kolors Fall Festival and the Juniors have once again volunteered to help. "I hope we can work something out. I'd like to be there," Louise mentions.

For the future, she would like to see an increased membership in the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club. "With only 14 members, there's a limit to what we can do. Times have changed, parents are both working and people are busy."

In addition to the events mentioned previously, the Juniors make numerous contributions to the community throughout the year, including park beautification, the blood drive, an appreciation lunch for village employees, and providing holiday food baskets for a local shelter. They also support local organizations through monetary donations. Their latest project entails working with the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce to replace the welcome signs on the east and west sides of the village.

"This award is very humbling and certainly not the reason I'm in volunteer work," Louise points out. On the go with two children, Luke and Lanaya, and partners with Larry in running Miller Funeral Home, Louise spends her spare moments giving back to the community with an unassuming thankfulness for what she has. "Without the other club members, my work would be fruitless. The friendships I have gained working on community projects, has made it very rewarding."

To the Editor
Kewaskum Statesman:

The Silent Auction is a fun activity during the county fair. Slinger will have its last fair from July 22-26 this year. Next year we'll be at the new fairgrounds closer to Jackson.

It's time once again to bring your antiques, hand-crafted items, books, plants and other items to the main exhibit building during the early days of the fair. Bids are written on slips of paper near the items. Bidding continues until late Sunday afternoon when an alarm clock signals the end of bidding.

The income from this fun activity helps the Washington County 4-H Leaders Association support trips, workshops, youth camps, training and scholarships.

We thank all who support our 4-H Silent Auction!

A Stroll Down Fond du Lac Avenue

Later photo of remodeled building

Continuing on our "Stroll Down Fond du Lac Avenue" on the west side of the street, heading south, we now come to the building now occupied by Schmitt's Never Inn. The building at one time was two separate entities.

The south portion of the building shown on the left, was at the time The Grand View Lunch Room which served the Kewaskum area for over 30 years. Tillie Terlinden and her husband, Al, originally operated the tavern/lunch room. When Al passed away, Tillie and her family remained in business. Later on, she married Paul Schaeffer, and together they operated the establishment.

The tavern changed hands a number of times. According to "Kewaskum Then and Now" the following people operated the tavern at given points in time: Max Blumke, Lyle Smith, Gilbert Buechel, Helen Thom, Charles Van Der Hook, Ed Spradau and David Theisen. The tavern was closed in 1958 and that portion of the building was occupied by Bunkelman's Floor Covering for seven years at which time they moved their business to the former Stellpflug Meat Market building on Main Street. Dave Skrentny eventually purchased that portion from Marlin Schneider and ran his music business, "Dave's Music Center" there until he relocated. The south side of the building changed ownership several times later on and was occupied at one time by Paul's Shoe Corner and Dennis' Family Shoes.

The north portion of the building, shown in the photo on the right, was once home to the Kewaskum Statesman when Donald Harbeck and Art Schaefer were the proprietors from around 1912 to 1935 when the business moved to its present site, after Art Schaefer passed away and Don Harbeck became sole owner. It was at that time when that portion was razed. A new tavern building with living quarters above was then erected. Lester Dreher operated the tavern, followed by Henry Kirchner and then by the owner, Marlin Schneider.

Roger and Kathy Schmitt, Schmitt's Never Inn, purchased the tavern from Marlin Schneider in 1977. In 1983 they bought the adjoining building, did extensive remodeling and lowered it to street level.

It has been brought to our attention that in Kewaskum's infancy the building was known as the Eagle Hotel.

If anyone has recollections to share on upcoming businesses, heading south on Fond du Lac Avenue, PLEASE submit it to the Statesman, or call 626-2626.

Spring Fun at Wayne School

Wayne first grader Kyle Walcheske lines up a putt during the Wayne Elementary School Spring Carnival held near the end of the school year. The event finds parents and teachers running the games while students try their luck in winning prizes and having fun. Money raised through inexpensive game tickets raises funds for the Wayne PTO.

Be On Your Guard!

by AMI

In all the years of my long life, I have never quite experienced the "on again, off again" types of weather persons across the United States and beyond have had to deal with the past months. It seems that just about once a month we are surprised by some unusual occurrences Mother nature puts forth!

Like at the close of the winter season this year...quite a variety of wild flowers in full bloom weeks before their usual time to flower. Plus the shift from cold to hot to cold to hot over and over again. One of my best friends had an experience this past week which I wish to share with you and warn you about...It seems that he and his hired farm hand were headed for home while driving one of their land cross country vehicles when a sudden storm caught them by surprise.

Thunder and lightning frightened their herd of horses across from the electric fence they were driving past. A sudden flash of lightning sent the horses galloping across their pasture; with a crash of thunder seemingly sending an electric ray of lightning striking their vehicle and one of the young horses fleeing within the herd.

To their relief, neither of the men were affected by the lightning strike, but one of the young horses was killed instantly. Was her death the saving agent for the pair of men? One does not have a factual answer to that question. However, most of us only too often take life for granted and also, too often, fail to respect the power of nature. When my friend related the incident to me it really taught me a good lesson...always to be alert to dangerous weather occurrences and to seek a safe place to "ride out every storm."

Recently wild winds trimmed many a forest tree including twisting mature hardwoods to the ground, broken and split. Indeed, a sorry sight to behold and yet, this is nature at work...it is amazing how the wildlife so at peace in a beloved wooded area can be caught off guard...many losing their lives.

Therefore, I share this warning with you for it is important to "Be on Guard" when Mother Nature tends to the time of trimming and rendering open areas in our beloved hillsides and yards. The very power of Nature is too often disregarded.

Lining up a shot in the ball roll is WES fifth grader Kaitlyn Ogi. No matter the outcome, participants in all the games walked away with a prize.

Many did give their health, hands, heart and heads for their community when many youth from all over the state came together in Madison, for the Wisconsin 4-H and Youth Conference.

On June 15-18, 12 youth from Washington County took a trip ready to have fun and learn ways to improve the community. We learned they need to do this by community services, this which proved the title of the conference, "Service Youth in Action."

The youth all were selected after an application and an interview, followed by the orientation. Many of us went knowing very few in our group, in return, we met so many new people in our county and all over the state.

Wisconsin 4-H Youth Conference will bring together young people, ages 14-16, from around the state to the UW-Madison campus for three days of learning and fun. While many participants will be in 4-H, many others are not. This is an opportunity for youth from a variety of backgrounds and experiences to come together to exchange ideas, form friendships and learn important skills they can use to contribute to their communities.

The goal of the conference was stated as, "To have the theme of service, or more broadly, contribution to public and community life integrated into all of the week's seminars."

There were many objectives at the conference. Some were, strengthen your communication, leadership and other life skills, gain knowledge you can use in programs in your own community, learn about a variety of 4-H and other UW-Extension youth programs, and experience hands on learning in a university campus atmosphere.

We had many seminars to choose from, a variety of choices. A few are: peaceful solution, creating community partnerships, peer meditation, communicating across cultures, videotape productions, your future in community services, Yes, YOUTH CAN, mini business world, learn to sail, fish canoe and windsurf. As you can see we could have experienced a wide variety of activities.

Every night we had an assembly to all get together and share the day's experiences. We had three guest speakers from all parts of life. The first one was Johari Soward, from Milwaukee who has had a great impact on her community with her community service. Darrol Bussler was a mind-boggling adult with great stories and great ideas for youth involvement in the community. The third speaker was Isaac and Joseph from West Virginia with the message of love, acceptance, tolerance and racial harmony.

From my experience, going for the first time, I met so many people from all over the state and had fun doing it. I met people at the dances, singing karaoke, just walking around, and sitting in the lobby. From the seminars, I took, which were all how to get involved in the community, I learned so much. I learned so often youth are used as resources, rather than partners, all the community services I can get involved in, ideas for my 4-H club to get more involved in the community and through this all have fun doing it. It really opened my eyes seeing it and having a hands-on experience. I think the theme and goal was reached in my views and talking to the others from the county.

I would like to thank all our sponsors which were the Washington County Bankers Association, West Bend Noon Kiwanis, and the Washington County 4-H Leaders Association. A huge thank you to our chaperones who were with us the whole time, who had to put up with us and our ways often not what they wanted, but they never complained. Thank you to Ronald Held and Brenda Pasek, for it was all possible with you. I would also like to thank everyone out there for giving us the experiences we all have experienced in our communities and hope we can all serve you better now!

Blood Drive in Campbellsport

The Bishop Salvator Schlaefer Knights of Columbus Council #11301 will be sponsoring the Semi-Annual Red Cross Blood Drive on Monday, July 27, at the Campbellsport Community Center, from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

For many Americans, summer is a time for rest, relaxation and recreation. For more than 40,000 people who need blood each day, summer is no picnic. Take a moment to consider this: every two seconds someone in this country needs blood. Every two seconds! Patients in need of blood can't take a summer vacation, and they are counting on Red Cross blood donors to help save their lives.

The gift of blood can mean the difference between life and death. Please share your good health this summer and donate blood.

All types are needed and a special plea is being made for first time donors. Please mark your calendars for July 27, from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. as your opportunity to give a little, so that someone else may live to thank you, a Red Cross Blood Donor.

See you there. For more information or questions, please call Carl Plaum at 533-5473.

Sensenbrenner Announces Victory For Sesquicentennial Stamp

(WASHINGTON, DC) -- Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner (R-Menomonee Falls) recently declared victory in the fight for the Wisconsin Sesquicentennial stamp. Postmaster General William J. Henderson met with Rep. Sensenbrenner in his office where he received the news that the United States Postal Service (USPS) will reprint the Wisconsin stamp to meet demand through the end of the year and will double the stamp's original printing. The additional 16 million stamps will bring the total number of Wisconsin Sesquicentennial stamps in print to 32 million.

The Postmaster General also assured Rep. Sensenbrenner that the stamp would receive appropriate international recognition. Under the initial distribution plan, the stamp would have been omitted from international stamp catalogues because it is not distributed nationwide. The Postmaster General gave Rep. Sensenbrenner his personal guarantee that, despite limited distribution domestically, the Wisconsin stamp would be available to collectors worldwide.

"I am pleased the Postmaster General has acknowledged that the people of Wisconsin had been short-changed. The decision to double the printing of the Wisconsin Sesquicentennial stamp coupled with the Postmaster General's assurances that printing will continue to meet demand is a welcome reversal. These changes ensure that the Wisconsin Sesquicentennial stamp will be widely available through the end of the anniversary year and receive the international recognition it deserves," said Rep. Sensenbrenner.

Homeless

I stand alone on the desolate street
With my rusty cart of things
It holds my few worldly possessions-
Clothes full of holes, scraps of food,
Anything of use.
I have nothing to do, nowhere to go.
It is growing darker-time to rest, I fear.
My house?
A cardboard box is where I stay-
It travels with me in the cart.
In good weather I sleep in the open.
I don't know if I'll see tomorrow;
I can't trust anyone.
I stand now in a dirty alley.
Tomorrow I will continue wandering
Aimlessly southward,
In hope of finding kinder weather
So that I may escape the harsh winter
And elude death once more.

Eddie Staehler Wins Winged Super Modified B Semi-Feature at Plymouth

By Jeff Pederson

Three-time and defending track champion Pete Ostrowski of Milwaukee firmly established himself as a top contender for this year's track title with an impressive high groove driving display enroute to his third 30 lap Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Winged Super Modified feature victory of the season at Sheboygan County Fair Park Saturday in Plymouth.

Last week's feature winner, Tim Melis of Plymouth, led the field into turn one of the initial lap from the pole. On lap five, the 15-year EWSC Winged Super Modified competitor built up a comfortable half-straightaway cushion over inside second row starter Barry Maas of Cascade. Maas began to gradually reel in Melis along the inside groove as the leaders started to thread their way through slower traffic on lap 11.

As Melis held off Maas at the front of the pack, the 12th starting Ostrowski used his patented high groove to make his way to the front. Ostrowski took over fourth place in the running order on lap 20 before the lone yellow flag of the event appeared on lap 22 for the stalled car of West Bend's Paul Pokorski in turn four.

On the restart, Ostrowski darted up to the outside line and powered his way past point leader, Billy Kreutz of Kiel, who started fifth, and second place Maas, to take over the runner-up spot on lap 23.

The 17th year Winged Super Modified and Spring Car racer then wasted little time as he shot his Randy Luedtke owned machine past the low riding Melis in turn two on lap 26. Ostrowski quickly opened up a solid quarter-straightaway lead during the final four laps on the way to his 14th career EWSC Winged Super Modified feature triumph.

Melis had to settle for second, Kreutz was third, Maas registered a season best fourth place finish and Danny Cain of Kewaskum wound up fifth.

Tim Carman of Sheboygan rolled to his first career feature triumph in the 25 lap Limited Late Model main event.

Polesitter Scott Haugstad of Plymouth took over the initial lead of the race in turn two of the opening circuit. On lap three, Carman came in from his outside front row starting perch to pressure Haugstad for the lead. Carman then slipped underneath Haugstad one lap later to seize the top spot exiting turn two.

Fifth starter Howie Weiss of Glenbeulah charged in to challenge Carman along the inside lane on lap six. Weiss continued his all-out assault for the top position over the remaining 19 laps as the leaders worked their way through lapped traffic. However, Carman fended off the persistent Weiss to earn his first ever feature win by a slim three car length margin in the caution free race.

Weiss was second, Haugstad finished third, rookie J.J. Walvoord of Oostburg took fourth and ninth starter, Roy Dahmer of Sheboygan rounded out the top five.

Third year driver Dave Theobald of Sheboygan Falls captured his first ever main event victory in the 20 lap Super Stock feature.

Jeff Muehlbauer of Elkhart Lake led the first three laps from the pole position before the inside second row starting Theobald worked his way around Muehlbauer on lap four entering turn three.

By lap 10, Theobald raced out to a half-straightway lead over the second place car of Muehlbauer. Theobald continued to stretch his advantage in the final 10 laps enroute to a half lap triumph over Muehlbauer in the non-stop event.

With the victory, Theobald became the ninth different Super Stock driver to win a feature race in nine events this season.

Ron Sherwin of Plymouth was third, Brian Gilles of Elkhart Lake charged from the sixth row to place fourth while point leader and fast qualifier John Dirks of Elkhart Lake claimed fifth after starting 17th.

Eddie Staehler of Kewaskum won the 15 lap Winged Super Modified B semi-feature. Kohler's Mark Zimmerman took the checkered flag in the in the 15 lap Limited Late Model semi-feature while Nate Ruh of Elkhart was victorious in the 15 lap Super Stock semi-feature. Dale Damrow of Sheboygan won the 10 lap Super Stock consolation race. Special eight lap Super Stock Mechanic's race victories went to Robert Grasse, Rick Pfrang and Dave Eisentraut.

This Saturday night the EWSC will honor drivers from the 1960's and 1970's during an Old Timers' Night. The program will begin with a picnic lunch for all former drivers at 4 p.m.

In addition, 1998 EWSC yearbooks will go on sale and it is also the first autograph night of the season. All current and former drivers on hand will stay late after the races to sign autographs for fans.

Special admission prices of $6 for adults 18 and over, $4 for students 13-17, $2 for kids 7-12 and free for those six and under will be in effect this week. Spectator gates open at 5 p.m. with time trials at 6 p.m. and racing at 7 p.m.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of EUGENE PESCH, who passed away two years ago, July 19, 1996:

Days of sadness still come o'er us.

Tears in silence often flow. For memory keeps you ever near us,

Though you died two years ago.

Death can never take away, And time cannot erase, The memory of a loving heart, A dear familiar face.

And there is comfort in the thought,

That as the years go by, Our memories grow dearer still,

For love can never die.

Sadly missed by the family.

You may be disappointed if you fail, but you are doomed if you don't try.

The Little Folks School House Celebrates Anniversary

Children from Little Folks School House enjoy a swim during a summer picnic celebrating the business's one year anniversary.

Children and their families turned out to celebrate the one year anniversary of the opening of Little Folks School House. The child care center opened July 6 of last year, and currently has an enrollment of 36 children with a waiting list for infants.

The celebration took form in a barbecue at center owner's house, Dodie Sargent. It was a time when teachers could mingle with parents on a more social level and families got to know each other better.

The food was great and the children kept cool swimming in the sandy beached pond. Other attractions included volleyball, jumping on the trampoline and paddle boat rides which both children and parents enjoyed.

Sargent also gave rides on her horse, "Tilly." The children were able to visit with the chickens and two baby emus. On loan for the day was "George," a full grown emu who belongs to Vern and Betty Surh.

The day went so incredibly well, with 64 people attending the event, center families and staff can look forward to the second year celebration next year.

The Little Folks School House is open Monday through Friday, from 6 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Children from the age of six weeks through 12 years are accepted both as part time and full time. A structured pre-school curriculum is used. The teachers who work at The Little Folks School House are either certified or in the process of becoming certified. They are patient, understanding and offer tender loving care. They are committed to forming working partnerships with families.

Anyone interested in enrolling their child in this center should contact Dodie Sargent at 626-4023.

IN MEMORY

In memory of LORAIN HERRIGES, who passed away July 21, 1991:

In peaceful sleep the one we loved,
Lies free from earthly care;
No longer need she labor here,
God's blessings she shall share.
She laborer hard and well on earth,
But now her labor's done;
And she shall spend eternity,
Beside the Father's Son
We who are left need shed no tear,
For we shall meet her where,
There is no labor, only rest,
In God's tender loving care.

Missed by her family.

IN MEMORY

In memory of ROBERT "GABBY" GAVIN, who passed away three years ago, June 20, 1995:

Well it's hard to believe you're gone another year.

Yes it's three years since you left me and God called you home.

But now you are resting in His place without anymore suffering.

It was like yesterday I could hear your voice laughing and the crying together, sharing your time with me. You were always here for me when I needed you.

It's been a long three years not having you around.

I've learned life is too short and I had to learn the hard way without you

You're always on my mind and in my heart.

Your memories will always be with me.

You'll never be forgotten, because you were my best friend, my companion, my love and my beloved husband.

Sadly missed by wife Joyce and family.

KMS Students Write Home Town Poems

To wrap up the 1997/98 school year, in their English class, eighth graders at Kewaskum Middle School studied a unit on Wisconsin writers. At the beginning of the unit, the students read a poem called "Walking Milwaukee" by Harold Witt. In response, the students worked at various times through out the unit, writing their own poems about taking a walk in their home towns. The following are some of the poems written by the eighth graders.

"My Walk"

by Alissa Donath

When going on a walk, you can see many new, interesting things. I bet you never really stopped to think what you actually see When walking from your house. When I walk outside of my white washed garage door, I walk through the cool darkness of the garage basking in the shade. I then walk past the weeping willow that produces the shade. An old barrel of wild flowers sits in the sun. An old washed red barn creaks with each gust of wind. A little ways down, never-ending cornfields rattle their brittle husks. A brown, dirty river runs silently through them. The noisy, blue bridge waits for cars. The newly built log home reflects the bright sunlight. Over the hill, a busy intersection is slowing down cars. A dusty, chalky gravel road stands still. Around the corner, a deep blue Lake 12 awaits anxious swimmers. At the very top of the hill sits my best friend Sheila's house, Waiting in the shade for some action.

"An Adventure Through My Neighborhood"

by Maria Cannestra

Come, follow me, and I will show you around my neighborhood, And through the park. First of all, I live on a corner, so there are a lot of things around me. When you walk out my front door and turn right You will see BIG pine trees swaying in the wind. If you turn left out of my door, Then you will see a red stop sign looking for people to stop. Now, if you walk out my side door and turn left, You will see a beautiful red plant blooming. Next to that plant is a white and black dog barking, Waiting patiently for someone to play with her. As you turn right, you come to another corner. If you turn right at that corner and keep walking down that street, You see a small white and red

"For Sale" sign waiting to be picked up. As you keep going you come to another stop sign. And some more BIG pine trees. If you turn left, you would come to a round cul de sac that turns very sharply. As you are turning, you see a vacant field looking very forlorn. Now, if you turn right, you go down a road - nothing special. At the end of the cul de sac, if you take a left, You would come to a BIG park called Kewaunee's As you look left, you can see an enormous swimming pool Filled with lots of turtles and fish. Just kidding: It's filled with a lot of happy, cheerful kids. Now, if you look right, then you see a creek filled with all that yucky stuff. Now that you have ventured around my house. And through Kewaunee's Park, You can come and visit me sometime.

One of the classic modifieds on display at the Ol' Timers Night on Saturday, July 18, at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth will be the restored modified #1 car of Willie Goeden of Kewaskum. This beautifully rebuilt car is owned by David Wilson of Kewaskum, who helped maintain the car for Willie during his "glory days" of his modified career. This modified has a 1969 Dodge Dart body, frame - 1934 Ford, axles - 1939 Ford Truck, and the engine is an alcohol fuel injected 350 Chevy. Come and see this classic, along with other modifieds from the 1960's and 1970's. Some of your favorite drivers will be there to sign autographs in the new 1998 Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car yearbook. Pictured above are Willie Goeden, kneeling, and in back, left to right: Dave Wilson, Dave Goeden and Bob Backhaus.

Just a reminder to all past competitors in the three divisions to make plans to attend the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car races on Saturday, July 18, for Ol' Timers Night.

All drivers who competed in the 1960's and 1970's are invited to attend the picnic lunch at 4 p.m. behind the grandstand at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth.

This get-together is sponsored by the EWSCA, with the help or donations from Goeden's Auto Body, Ken Markwardt Sales and Service and Lois Schreiber of the Sheboygan County Fair Board.

No formal invitations have been sent out. So please, inform your favorite driver that he and his guest are invited to attend this Ol' Timers Night. For more information on displaying an old car and a reservation for the meal, please call Jeanne Goeden at 414-334-9549.

This will also be a great time to get the new 1998 Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Booklet, so anyone wishing to get an autograph from their favorite driver who gave us thrills during competition from the 60's and 70's, will be able to do so. The two honorees, Modified Champion Ken Markwardt and Sportsmen Champion Buck Carmen will both be on hand, along with others, such as Willie Goeden, Kermit Schulz, Wayne Goetch and Bobby Ruh.

Come early to enjoy the nostalgia of the 60's and 70's and the camaraderie of the drivers.

Indians Have Frustrating Week

The Kewaskum Indian varsity baseball team headed north on Monday, July 6 to complete a suspended rain out against the New Holstein Huskies. The game continued from the point at which it was called, the bottom of the first inning with the Indians leading, 2-0.

Kewaskum had scored two runs in the top of the first inning on June 18. John Immel walked and advanced to third on a base hit to right by Jason Strobel. Andy Luedtke singled over the first baseman's head to score Immel and move Strobel to third. Strobel scored on a passed ball which was charged to catcher Brent Buechel.

John Immel was the starting pitcher in the game in June, and when the Indians returned in July he again took the mound for Kewaskum. He had no trouble in the bottom of the first, but gave up two runs on three hits in the second.

In the third inning, the Indians scored a run when Jason Strobel walked and then advanced to second on an Eric Wenninger single down the leftfield line. A fielder's choice by Nathan Mueller forced Strobel at third, leaving runners at first and second with two outs. Jason Calliari, the next batter, hit a towering infield fly. Being that there were already two outs, the runners took off on contact. Wenninger hustled and scored as the third baseman dropped the ball. Unfortunately, Mueller was thrown out at third to end the inning.

The Indians held a 3-2 lead going into the bottom of the fifth, when Immel got into trouble. After the Huskies had tallied two runs and loaded the bases, Coach Mark Heise turned to Jason Strobel to put out the fire. Strobel responded by retiring the first man he faced on a fly ball to left, but the Huskies had retaken the lead, 4-3.

Neither team scored in the sixth, setting up some seventh inning dramatics.

New Holstein Coach Chuck Lefeber, trying to nail down the game, put his son, Geoff, in to relieve the starting pitcher, Nadler. But after the first out, the lead-off batter, Lefeber ran into control problems, walking Billy Cook and Strobel, back to back. They both advanced a base on a wild pitch.

With runners on second and third, Andy Luedtke scored the tying run, Cook, on a ground out to second. The next Indian batter, Wenninger, also walked, putting runners at first and third. On a 2-2 count to Indian hitter Nathan Mueller, Coach Heise gave Wenninger the green to steal to create some diversion.

It worked, as the pitch, a ball, was thrown into centerfield by the catcher allowing Strobel to score, taking back the lead at 5-4. Mueller completed his at bat with a walk, but a strikeout ended the Indian threat.

The Huskies then put on a show of their own. Number four hitter, Josh Sippel, hit the first pitch of the inning over the left field wall to tie the game. On a 3-2 count, Strobel's pitch hit the next batter. With no outs, catcher Brent Buechel came to the plate. He then made up for the throwing error in the top of the inning by blasting a two-run homer over the right field fence to win the game, 7-5.

After the game Heise remarked that he was pleased to see some maturity shine through as his team rallied to fight for the win.

'PINS AND NEEDLES' AT CHILTON GAME

The next night, the Indians again headed north, traveling to Chilton to play the 13-2 conference co-leading Tigers. "After Monday's seventh inning loss, I wasn't sure how my young Indians would respond, but they came mentally prepared to do battle with the Tigers," commented Coach Heise.

Chilton scored three in the bottom of the first. "I thought after last night's devastating loss and those three quick runs in the first, that my boys might quit. But they showed me alot tonight. They never gave up, always kept up a positive attitude and fought back," said Heise.

The Indians moved the score to 1-3 with a lone run in the top of the second on a Nathan Mueller double. Mueller moved to third on a Eric Wenninger single to left, then scored on an Andy Luedtke SAC fly.

In the fourth, the Indians again scored a lone run when Jason Strobel started the inning with a walk. Nathan Mueller sacrificed a well-placed bunt toward third. An alert Strobel watched the third baseman field the ball, enabling him to round second and jet to third. He then scored on a Wenninger single.

In the top of the fifth, the Indians took the lead with a three run outburst. John Immel and Cook walked to put runners on first and second. Strobel reached on an error to load the bases. Mueller followed with a double to score Immel and Cook. Strobel scored on a passed ball to bring the score to 5-3 in favor of the Indians.

Chilton took the lead back in the bottom of the sixth with three runs. Bobby Ogi, who had started and pitched into the sixth inning, got into trouble when he hit the first batter and walked the next to put runners on first and second with no outs. Heise then replaced him with John Immel. Immel gave up one hit and a walk. When the inning was over, Chilton had the lead at 6-5.

Down by one, going into the seventh, the young Indians needed a run and they went out and got one. Immel walked; Cook SAC'ed him to second. Strobel singled to center field to score Immel and moved all the way to third on an outfield error. Strobel died at third as the next two batters could not produce a hit.

That sent the game into extra innings. The eighth was uneventful for both sides. The ninth saw the Indians go down 1-2-3. Chilton loaded the bases in the bottom of the inning, but a pop up to second got Immel out of a jam.

In the top of the tenth, Kewaskum loaded the bases with no one out. Mueller walked and Wenninger singled. An Adam Donath bunt could not be fielded, so he reached with a hit to load the bases. With the infield drawn in, Luedtke hit a ground ball to the first baseman who threw Mueller out at the plate.

With the bases still loaded, Rhett Engelking hit a one-hopper back to the pitcher who threw home. The catcher threw the ball to first for a blazing double play. The bottom of the tenth saw the Indians turn a double play to end a Chilton threat from second.

By this time, 36 men had reached base, with 17 hits and 12 walks. The game had gone too far into the night so the umpires decided to finish it in another meeting. So on Wednesday night the Indians again loaded the bus to head north.

John Immel, who had replaced Ogi, had now pitched his total allotment for a two day period under WIAA rules. "We had to find someone to pitch so I asked Bobby how his arm felt and he said he was fine. I counted his pitches from the night before and he had only thrown 74, so I told him he'd be taking the mound," commented Heise.

Kewaskum started the 11th by getting their first hitter on base. Jason Calliari started the inning by reaching on an error. Immel SAC bunted him to second. Calliari moved to third on a passed ball, threatening to score the tie breaking run. But the next two batters popped up to short to end the Indian surge.

Ogi then took the mound and started by retiring the first two batters he faced. Then number three hitter, Josh Steffen, doubled to right center to put the winning run in scoring position. Kewaskum then intentionally walked the next hitter to set up force plays in the infield. But Ryan Wettstein ended the two-day marathon with a base hit to right to score Steffen, deflating the Indian hopes of a big win.

To add more frustration to the week, Kiel came to Kewaskum on Friday for the final conference game of the season for both teams, only to have the Conference Commissioner not schedule officials. When no umpires arrived, the Indians and Raiders agreed to reschedule for Monday, July 13, to play the game. "Hopefully, Jerry Ohm will rectify the problem by Monday," stated Heise.

Friday, July 17, the Indians start State Tournament play with a regional match at home against West Bend East at 5:30 p.m.
