Voters Approve $5,273,260 Tax Levy at Annual Meeting of School District

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

A tax levy for the 1998-99 school district budget of $5,273,260.00 was approved by taxpayers at the Annual Meeting, held Monday evening, with an additional $955,141.00 to be used for debt retirement.

Although exact figures will not be available until fall, business manager George Allmann told the 160 electors in attendance that this figure will create an estimated mill rate of $10.56 per $1,000 of equalized tax valuation, based on a 4% increase in the school district's equalized property value. This would bring the total district value to $584,139,416.00. The increase in the tax levy over last year is $239,555.00, but the mill rate remains the same as it has been for the past two years.

As an example, a $150,000 home would see a school tax of $1,162 for 1999.

The increase in total budget expenditures in all funds, from $14,740,061.00 in 1997-98 to $14,929,259.00 in 1998-99, results in a dollar change of $189,198.00, or a 1.28% increase in district spending. Major changes in this area, (reflected in Fund 10 with an increase of $476,106) includes a large expansion in K-5 curriculum needs, the addition of school staff, and salary and fringe benefits increases.

Total revenues of $14,693,292.00, up from last year by $19,451.00, show a -0.13% decrease overall, but a 1.96% increase through Fund 10. Included in this fund are increases in actual taxes by $472,166 for the upcoming year, state aid, and a decrease in capital leases for computers ($300,000.).

Allmann accredited part of the reason for the stabilized mill rate to a $157,085 general state aid hike, up 2.34% over last year. Total state aid for the upcoming school year is $7,360,470.00.

Voters at the meeting also approved a Wisconsin Educational Technology Block Grant (TEACH) to be used for the development of computer technology in public schools. Kewaskum is expected to receive $62,000 through this grant. Allmann said the money will be applied to the costs of a new router, new computers, and a Firewall (blocking programs for security). School choice has also affected the budget for the first time. Approximately $36,500 represents monies that will be received from other districts who have students attending Kewaskum schools. According to the published budget

Electors at Annual Meeting Vote Not to Sell Beechwood School

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Beechwood School will not be sold this year, as electors voted 112-40 against a resolution that would have allowed the school district to sell the school and property.

The vote took place during the Annual Meeting and Budget Hearing held Monday night at the high school. A record turnout of 162 people delayed the meeting's starting time, and made the unprecedented move of electing a non-board member as chairperson for the evening. Former board member and board president Neal Weare took the seat over board member Jon Downs.

This set the tone for the evening, with the majority of electors (80 total), showing up from the Town of Scott, where Beechwood School is located. Voices were raised in support of reviving the neighborhood school, which was closed 12 years ago.

Temperatures rose during the three hour meeting, as electors listed grievances which included a previous board vote to leave the fate of Beechwood School off a referendum, and the board's current referendum plans - a new Kewaskum elementary school and remodeling of the other district schools.

"It's a better solution for education (opening Beechwood). The idea that we have a big central school was not our philosophy a long time ago. I don't think it should be our philosophy now," said Farmington resident Gerald Secor.

Discussion pursued what price tag to put on the school if it was decided it would be sold, with Neal Weare asking for clarification of the resolution. President Goeden stated that a value of $150,000 had been placed on the building and property.

After the vote rejected the school sale, several other school resolutions allowing for the operation of the school district, along with board member salaries and reimbursements were approved by the electors.

District Administrator Clark Pearson offered details and explanations of the new $12 million dollar building plans, up for voter approval on a September 8th referendum. The total package includes proposed construction and remodeling of Wayne and Farmington Elementary Schools and Kewaskum High School, along with the construction of a new two-story elementary school and administrative building within the Village of Kewaskum.

Pearson said referendum informational meetings will be held August 26 at 7:30 p.m. at Wayne, August 31 at KES at 7 p.m. and September 2 at 8 p.m. at Farmington. Other plans to educate the public on the building proposals include scheduling school open houses to coincide with the meetings, informational handouts available during student registration, and a promotional flyer mailed out to all district residents.

Several residents said they did not want to see

Farmington enlarged to hold more students. Others brought up the need for a quality auditorium and stage, the loss of athletic fields due to the location of the new KES, the disarray and disruption of construction at all schools at the same time, and the problems of locating the new KES on the same, congested site.

"We're paying for past sins," board member Tom Timblin said of the lack of school building maintenance over the years, and the need to remedy the situation now, at all levels. Resident Marilyn Terlinden chastised the audience for many of the comments made during the annual meeting, when the board has struggled to come up with quality solutions during a number of board meetings and workshops. "I go to the monthly board meetings. There's only three of us there," she remarked. Several residents related they had attended workshops and were either not allowed or limited when it came to joining in the discussion.

In outfitting the schools for the future, Pearson said that projecting a 2% increase in student population through the year 2008, district enrollment would

Athletic Code Meetings

Before practicing in any sport, all Kewaskum School District students and a parent/guardian must attend an athletic code meeting. These meetings will be held in the Field House at Kewaskum High School at the following date/times:

Thursday, July 30, 11:00 a.m.; Thursday, July 30, 2:00 p.m.; Monday, August 3, 2:30 p.m. Monday, August 3, 5:30 p.m.; Sunday, August 9, 6:30 p.m.

In addition, there will be another meeting at the Kewaskum Middle School in the band room on: Thursday, August 27, 7:00 p.m.

report, the district has allocated $221,500 to pay the tuition of students who attend other districts under the state's open enrollment program, and college courses through the Youth Options program. Figures may change before school starts, but to date administration anticipates eight students will be joining the school district, while 14 to 15 students leave to attend other districts.

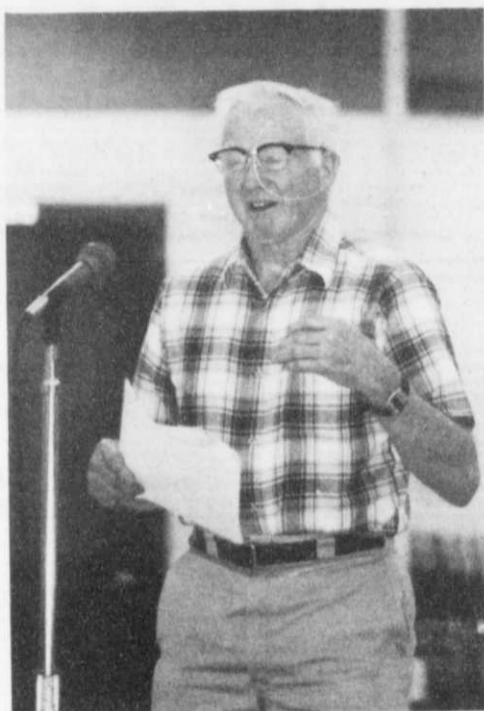

For the third year in a row, electors have OK's setting aside a lump sum to reduce long term debt. The $955,141.00 will be divided into two parts to save taxpayer dollars over the term of debt defeasement. According to Allmann, $668,470 will be applied as the annual required payment for the existing long term debt principal of $3,820,000. The other $286,671 will reduce the long term debt obligation, and the amortization schedule by 3/4 of a year.

At the onset of the annual meeting, District Administrator Clark

Pearson reviewed some of the highlights from the past year, which he deemed "productive - with many changes and accomplishments." These included new administrative personnel, new educational programs, state test scores ranking among the top in Washington County, the completion of the second year of curriculum revision, and continual maintenance improvement.

This past year the district purchased two new passenger vans, a cargo van, one-ton pickup truck with snow plow, and a skid loader. The parking lots at KHS and KMS were black-topped and new outside lighting was added, the football field was fenced in, and new computer labs were completed at FES and KHS.

Approximately 160 electors participated in the annual event. Neal Weare was voted in as acting chairman, and appointed Jeannie Jacak as annual recording secretary, and Kieth Kriewaldt, Larry Wilson, Jim Botting and Sharon Zolp as tellers.

District resident and past school board member Gerald Secor explains his views for district residents at the annual meeting held Monday night. Secor received a round of applause for his statements by fellow residents of the district.

Irene Gnacinski of the Town of Scott expresses her opinion on the selling of Beechwood School. The motion was defeated, 112-40.

grow to 2,400 students. The proposed building plans would create a student capacity of approximately 2,380.

Past chairperson of the facilities planning committee, Amy Pamperin, said that the whole issue of deciding on building needs has been a difficult struggle for the committee as well as the board. "You have to give them credit," she said. "They've looked at this from multiple angles."

"This whole issue has divided the district. My motive was to put this thing to rest," board member Larry Fechter said of selling Beechwood. He added that tax dollars will now be directly affected by school choice. "When we lose kids, we lose revenue."

John Schulte, the most outspoken board member in support of resurrecting Beechwood and denying the upcoming referendum he names "political," said he would continue to stand against it. "I'd rather see revamping the school we have (KES) for $4 million, than build a new one on the same spot for $7 million." As for Beechwood, he claimed it was a missed opportunity that was the board's fault. "It wasn't a problem opening Beechwood until the board made it a problem."

In answer to whether the upcoming referendum could be changed and Beechwood worked into the future plans, Pearson said it was not possible. "Regardless of what people are saying tonight, the board cannot change the referendum. It's set."

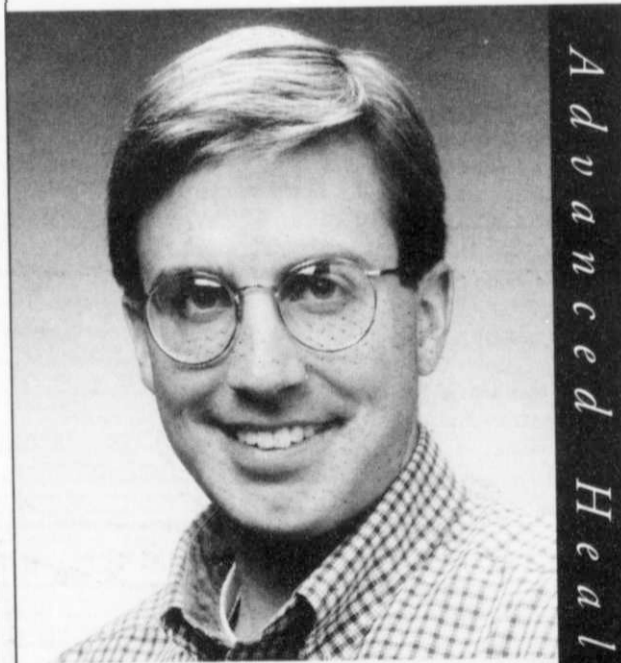

In closing, Pearson emphasized the fact that there are many different opinions, each individual with his own, and no perfect solutions. "I think the board tried to come to a compromise on all these different ideas, and that's the referendum we're presenting."

In 1985, George Bush became the first Vice President to serve as Acting President. He held the office for about eight hours while President Reagan had surgery.

Before and After School Program Proposed for Wayne, Kewaskum

Two area competitors have come together for the good of the community.

Dodie Sargent, owner of The Little Folks School House in Wayne, and Audra Beyer, owner of Tuttle Creek Learning Center in Kewaskum, have been collaboratively working together to start a program at both elementary schools.

This is something that is needed in the community.

Immunization Clinics Offered

All recommended immunizations are available to children and adults of Washington County at the immunization clinics offered by Washington County Community Health Service. The July clinics are:

AUGUST 4 - 2 to 6 p.m. - Public Agency Center, Lower Level, Room 1145 at 333 East Washington Street and Indiana Avenue, West Bend.

AUGUST 11 - 3 to 5:30 p.m. - Germantown Senior Center, W162 N11960 Park Avenue, Germantown.

AUGUST 18 - 2 to 5 p.m. - Hartford City Hall, 109 N. Main Street, Hartford.

AUGUST 25 - 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 5 p.m. - Public Agency Center, Lower Level, Rm. 1145 at 333 E. Washington Street and Indiana Avenue, West Bend.

Parents must bring their records of each child's past immunizations to the clinics. Immunizations will not be given without a record card.

For further information, call 335-4462, 644-5204, or 342-2929.

Drivers Needed for 'Meals on Wheels'

If you like to drive, and like to help others, you may want to lend your services to the Meals on Wheels program, which provides hot, nutritious meals for home-bound residents of West Bend.

Laura Mintz, manager of food and nutrition services at St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend, which prepares the meals, said drivers perform an important service by bringing warm meals and friendly faces to recipients' homes. Drivers pick up the meals at the hospital and, using their own cars, deliver them to recipients' homes between 11 and 11:30 a.m. each weekday.

Volunteers may sign up to drive once every other week or more often, and should have their own car. People interested in becoming Meals on Wheels volunteers should call Mintz at St. Joseph's Community Hospital at 334-8383.

It will provide for a safe and nurturing place for children to go to before and after school. All too often, young children are left home alone where there is the existence of a number of potential dangers which could jeopardize the child's safety and well being.

This program is not meant to be a "babysitting service." It is planned by staff who understand the development of these children. These certified teachers have the ability to "read" the needs and wants of the children.

The program will allow for choices made by the children. It will be structured offering a wide variety of arts and crafts, games, projects, quiet reading or homework, and outdoor play for the development of large motor skills. Both Sargent and Beyer are looking into adding a 4H curriculum to the program.

Children deserve attention, guidance, and understanding, all of which they could receive at such a program. Most of the groundwork has been completed. Still, the program stands upon contingency of approval by the School Board.

Registrations will be taken at both Wayne Elementary and Kewaskum Elementary Schools on Thursday, July 30, from 10 to 3 and again on Monday, August 3, from 1 to 6.

Parents wanting more information on the Wayne site may call Dodie Sargent at 626-4023. Parents wanting more information about the Kewaskum site, may call Audra Beyer at 626-4155.

The anticipated approval for these programs goes up before the School Board on August 10. Parents interested in supporting these programs are urged to attend.

Business as Usual for Town of Kewaskum

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Town of Kewaskum Plan Commission and Town Board gathered at their monthly meeting on Monday, July 20 and discussed usual business.

The Plan Commission opened the meeting with discussion on making a recommendation to the town board regarding a certified survey map (CSM), presented by Andrew Cochran for five acres in section 24.

Zoning Administrator Gordon Hoffman explained to the commission Cochran's plan to do what he called a land swap with Mark Herriges. This was approved and sent to the Town Board.

The Commission then discussed and made another recommendation to the Town Board to approve a CSM for Jean Lemke Schneider for three acres in section five.

Charles Schultz presented a plan to the board to put in a driveway leading to his gravel pit on Badger Road in section 16. A recommendation was made to the town board to approve.

In town business, David Dorn addressed the board with concerns about the new county sales tax. Chairman Scott Sager asked if the question could be tabled until Treasurer, Daniel Stoffel arrived at the meeting.

The board then approved a contract with Superior Waste Removal for the coming year.

The board also approved coin-operated machine license applications.

Upon recommendation of the Plan Commission, the CSM's for Andrew Cochran and Jean Lemke Schneider were approved by the board.

The Charles Schultz project to put in an additional driveway to allow access to his gravel pit was also approved.

Treasurer, Stoffel answered questions on the proposed County Tax.

Stoffel explained that there were informational meetings scheduled. He also stated that the reason for the proposed sales tax increase is due to the numerous capital projects facing the county in the future.

The Ol' Swimmin' Hole

If you're under the age of 25, you probably don't remember the exhilarating feeling of jumping off this pier into cool rushing water of the Milwaukee River on a hot summer's day. The beach of days gone by, was located on the southwest end of River Hill Park and was THE place to be daily in summer (even if your mom made you wear one of those goofy rubber swimming caps!) The yuppie generation can well remember the endless slide and long pier (above) that extended well into the river, and of course the raft that was located in the middle of the river, where the "older" kids could swim to, but the younger kids could not. It was truly one of the great, simple pleasures of summer that time does not seem to fade. Remember... and smile!

An unidentified swim instructor gives lessons to shivering boys and swim cap-clad girls.

A view of the pier that jutted east and south off the beach area.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

Planning Kewaskum's Future - Workshop

The Village of Kewaskum Economic Development and Advisory Committee (EDAC) is in the process of scheduling a WORKSHOP - PLANNING KEWASKUM'S FUTURE, using the results of their recent survey. The meeting is being scheduled for Saturday, November 7, 1998, at the Kewaskum Fire House meeting room, 1106 Fond du Lac Avenue. The projected start time will be 8:30 to 9 a.m. and the estimated completion time will be 3 to 3:30 p.m. A lunch will be provided on site free of charge to all participants.

The EDAC is confident this will be a worthwhile program and one that will benefit the Village and surrounding area. The EDAC is extending an invitation to all of the local elected bodies and civic organizations as well as the public to submit an individual nomination if interested in participating.

The EDAC will be putting together a diverse group of individuals with varying occupations, interests, gender and age, etc. A total of 30 to 40 people will be selected to participate, but every effort will be made to have a representative from all bodies and organizations.

Please stop by the Municipal Building, 204 First Street, to pick up a nomination form. Review this information and return your nomination by August 28, 1998 to the Municipal Building, if you are interested in participating. It should be noted that one or two follow up sessions may be scheduled to put together a final report on the session, but participation in those meetings will be voluntary.

If you have any questions please call Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt at (414) 626-8484.

Hospital Offers Sibling Class

Children who will soon have a new baby brother or sister are invited to participate with their parents in the "I'm Getting a New Baby" sibling class sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend. The class will be held Saturday, August 1 from 9 to 11 a.m. or Thursday, August 6 or 13, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the hospital's fourth floor east conference room.

Designed for children between the ages of 2 1/2 and 10, the class includes a video presentation, a tour of the New Life Center and activities to help a child express his or her feelings about the birth of a new baby and the mother's hospitalization. Children also learn age-appropriate skills they can use to help parents care for the baby.

The fee is $5 per child. Pre-registration is needed. For more information, please call St. Joseph's Community Hospital's Class Connection Line at 306-7888.

Deadline Nears for Taxpayers Who Filed for Extensions

If you're one of the over 101,000 Wisconsin taxpayers who received an extension to file your federal income tax return this year, you should know that Monday, August 17 is now the deadline for filing your return. (That deadline would normally be August 15. This year, August 15 falls on a Saturday, so taxpayers have an additional two days to file their tax returns).

What happens if you still can't complete your tax return to meet the August 17 deadline? According to Robert E. Brazzil, Director of the IRS Midwest District, you do have another option. "The IRS offers an additional extension. But this one isn't automatic. It has to be approved by the IRS."

Brazzil said the additional extension is generally given to people who can show some "reasonable cause" or hardship circumstances that presents them from meeting the August 17 deadline. Such situations include the death of a family member, serious illness, an unavoidable absence, or not being able to find the records necessary to determine the proper tax due.

"Some people may have had a fire in their home. Or they may have been affected by flooding or severe storms this past Summer," explains Brazzil. "They might have difficulty gathering all the information they need to complete their tax return. That's when the extension might be needed," said Brazzil.

If the IRS approves your request for the additional extension, you will have two additional months -- or until October 15 to file your tax return.

Brazzil cautions taxpayers that, like the automatic extension for August 17, this additional extension is an extension to file your return, not an extension to pay. "If you owe money and haven't paid, you should pay immediately to avoid further penalties or interest. If you can't pay all the taxes you owe at once, ask for an installment payment plan."

To apply for the additional extension, call the IRS at 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676). Ask them to send you Form 2688, Application for Additional Extension of Time to File. This form is also available on the IRS Home Page on the World Wide Web of the Internet (<http://www.irs.ustreas.gov>).

Form 2688 must state in detail the reason you need an extension. It should also be filed enough in advance of August 17 so that the IRS will have the opportunity to review it and notify you as to whether it's been approved.

25 Years Ago

July 6, 1973

Mark Kujawski, 19, a lifelong resident of Route 2, Campbellsport, who was an employee of the A.O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee, died Monday, July 2, at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, Neenah, of injuries he suffered in an auto-motorcycle crash Sunday evening. Kujawski sustained a skull fracture and possible internal injuries when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car at 7:05 p.m. Sunday, one-half mile south of Hwy. 67 on County Trunk G, south of Dundee.

Miss Rose Heisdorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heisdorf, Route 2, Kewaskum, and Larry Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams, Route 1, Allenton, were married at 1 p.m. in Holy Trinity Church, Kewaskum, on Saturday, June 9.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baldwin, Route 2, Kewaskum on July 1. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Coulter, Route 3, Campbellsport, on July 2. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Spartz, Route 2, Kewaskum, on July 2. Mrs. Spartz is the former Janet Dreher.

July 13, 1973

Effective July 1, 1973, the Bank of Kewaskum with an office in Allenton, officially changed its name to Valley Bank. The change will be accompanied by the adoption of a new bank symbol, designed as a unifying logo for banks affiliated with Valley Bancorporation, a registered bank holding company.

Four Kewaskum students were among 2,854 students who received bachelor's degrees at the close of the spring semester at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Kewaskum students receiving degrees were: Dan Walter Stoffel, Route 2, Bachelor of Science; Nancy Nigh, Route 2, Bachelor of Science in physical education; Debra Marie Rumsey, 1554 Fond du Lac Ave., Bachelor of Science in physical education, and Daniel Schaefer, Route 2, Bachelor of Science in agriculture.

Due to the number of children diving and jumping off the south railing of the bridge in the village park, parents are informed that this practice is strictly forbidden at the risk of these swimmers. Lifeguards have informed these people of the dangerous bottom conditions on either side of the dam and have prohibited diving and jumping off the north side in the beach area. Unfortunately, since the south half is out of the village beach area, lifeguards cannot enforce the same on this side.

Paul Redig and Roy Esser, vocational agriculture instructors at Kewaskum High School, are two of the more than 300 instructors attending the 56th Annual Summer Conference for Instructors of Agriculture at the University of Wisconsin-Madison campus this week.

The Kewaskum Indians wound up their season the past week with three victories over the top teams (besides themselves) in the conference to finish in third place with a 9-5 record. The wins were over champion Hartland, second place Grafton and fourth place Slinger. Two of the wins were shutouts, one on a one-hitter by Jim Gaffke.

Two New Members of Cedar Campuses Board of Directors

The Benevolent Corporation Cedar Campuses Board of Directors welcomes two new members -- James Gumm and Charles Hillman, both of West Bend. The members replace past board president Robert Kuhn and Dick Unger.

James Gumm brings over 22 years of business management experience in service and manufacturing environments. He currently is president of GHP Partners which offers consulting to companies in various stages of growth.

Charles Hillman brings 24 years experience and is founder and president of Hillman Consulting Services, Inc. His business offers, among other computer services, a home automation systems for older adults - Grand Care.

Newly elected officers of the board are: Ruth Olsen - President; Richard Eschner - Vice President; Sheila Hittman - Secretary, and David Toft - Treasurer. Other board members in addition to Gumm and Hillman are James Bettin, Leroy Bley, Gary Fisher, Robert Henkle, Roland Pieper, Marcella Steinkrauss and Carl Ziegler.

Located in the Town of West Bend, Cedar Campuses provides retirement living, assisted living, and nursing home services to more than 1,000 older adults. Cedar Campuses is a not-for-profit organization affiliated with the United Church of Christ.

Romp With The Animals

The Washington County Humane Society will offer its fifth annual summer school program, "Romp With the Animals" in August for children in first through sixth grade.

The four day series will be offered August 3-6 for kids going into first through third grade. Another four day series for kids going into fourth through sixth grade will be offered August 10-13. The programs run from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The cost is $25 and includes a T-shirt, snacks, bus transportation to the off-site locations and all activities.

Marnie Brown, Executive Director and Education Coordinator for the shelter, states, "the program has been such a success in the past and each year we add to it." During the program, children will be learning about companion animals, life on a farm, nature and wildlife. There will also be a segment on bite prevention where the kids will learn how to be safe around animals.

"Romp With the Animals" is one of the numerous education and outreach programs the shelter offers the community. Brown explains, "it is important to teach children how to treat animals with kindness and respect." She hopes that through programs such as "Romp With the Animals," there will be a reduction in the number of children being bitten and a better understanding of animals and nature.

To register, call Marnie Brown at 677-4388. The class size is limited.

The smallest species of bird is the bee hummingbird, which is only two inches long.

Tipping Tips for Tourists

When budgeting costs for that long-awaited getaway, AAA Wisconsin suggests that travelers remember to include an expense that occurs frequently while globetrotting -- tipping.

The practice of tipping is meant as a form of gratitude in return for a service performed or anticipated. Sounds simple. In theory, it is. But the questions of who gets tipped and how much has confused travelers throughout the ages.

"The most important thing travelers should remember about tipping is that it need not be considered automatic," said Lynne Graan, manager of AAA Wisconsin's 13 travel agency offices. "Tipping should be done as a reward for good, quality service."

To answer the question of who gets tipped, keep this in mind: if someone delivers special or personal service, it's polite to reward them with a tip. In addition to standard recipients, such as restaurant wait staff, airport skycaps and hotel bell staff, it is also considered good taste to tip for other special services. For example, the hotel concierge who arranges theater and restaurant reservations should be recognized. Tour guides, charter bus drivers and hotel housekeepers are also on the list.

The question of how much to tip is often perplexing to tourists. Based on common tipping practices in the United States, AAA Wisconsin offers some guidelines for gratuities, recognizing that amounts can be adjusted based on quality of service:

* Airport skycaps -- $1 per bag.

* Airport bus/van drivers -- $1 to $2 for the ride; more is appropriate if the driver loads and unloads baggage.

* Hotel bellstaff -- $1 per bag.

* Hotel doorstaff -- $1 for hailing a taxi; more for special services.

* Hotel concierge -- Tip for special services, such as making reservations. $5 or more per use is standard.

* Hotel maid -- $1 per night.

* Tour guides/charter bus drivers -- $1 for full-day tour; $5 to $10 for a week long tour.

* Cruise cabin stewards and waitstaff -- Some cruise ships feature a no-tipping policy; inquire with the cruise line.

AAA Wisconsin is a not-for-profit motor club offering travel insurance, financial and auto-related services to more than 492,000 members statewide through 13 office locations.

Kuehl's, Commercial Win at Thiemerdome

The Thiemerdome had a gorgeous evening a few weeks ago (we seem to be a little behind here). Breezy, not hot and no mosquitoes! (Wow! that must have been a few weeks ago. It hasn't been "not hot" forever, and ever since I've been there, the mosquitoes have been running rampant, just like everywhere else, even though Richard swears (sorry, Mary) he has sprayed with the finest equipment money can buy).

But, alas, the perfect evening didn't help Thiemer's ball team (who would figure??). A couple of slippery balls (oh sure, Richard, blame it on the poor defenseless balls) hit to Thiemer's that couldn't be caught or even handled (so, what else is new?) caused Kuehl's Suds and Spirits to cruise ahead, 5-0, in the first inning. Kuehl's played with some good defense from the whole infield (was there ever a doubt??).

Thiemer's chipped away with a run here and a run there with some hard hitting from Harry "Red" Schladweiler and Bob "DJ" Bonenfant. John "Quicky" Phexton (you changed the spelling on me, again, Richard!), Jerry "Crazy Legs" Swartzkey and Rick "Insured" Jaeger helped to bring the game within reach that means they almost had it in their hands... yeh, right!), but Kuehl's ace pitcher, Alan "Moochie" Kuehl reached up and touched someone, capturing the line shots up the middle as fast as Thiemer's could smack them (which, I might add, is about as rapid as a herd of turtles). Irregardless, the Thiemer boys were stopped dead in their tracks. (Oops... there's that our letter dead word,

Thanks, Troop 744

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce invited the local community Boy Scout Troop 744 to help with a community beautification project by staining the wood on the new area events and calendar of events sign and the visitor's gazebo, both located near the firehouse on the south end of the village.

This new, clean look was accomplished on Saturday, July 25, by the following Boy Scouts: Josh Uelmen, Kevin Schickert, Peter Ott, Michael Neumann, Justin Bialk and Scout leaders, Jim Uelmen and Tom Tobin.

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, along with the entire village, sincerely appreciates the efficient work of the Boy Scout Troop 744 and hope that the community enjoys this beautification effort.

Community involvement DOES make a difference!

again... sorry, boys!)

It looked a little better for the Thiemer sippers when Jeff "The Arm" Ramel threw one from the outfield which only took four minutes to get into the infield. We're not sure, but we really think he was trying to make it rain. Either that, or he was sending one of those pretty orange balls up for some type of offering to the "Field of Dreams." During the process, two more runs scored for Thiemer's.

The Kuehl defense stiffened (the boys must have been passing out the Viagra, again) and they ended up with another win under their belts, 11 to 8, thus placing the Sudsers in the first spot.

The next game featured the Hitching Post up against Commercial Plumbing and turned out to be a hard fought battle. The Post had several good old (you said it Richard, not me!) boys showing their hitting prowess (look it up, Richard). Steve "The Pitcher" Herrick was three for three, and Dennis "Hot Bat" Kuechler also went three for three. Gene "The Kid" Wolf, Ron "Sore" Nuoffer, Paul "Slippy" Seymour, Al "Threat" Schweitzer and Jeff "Arms" Jurenc (do you lay awake thinking up these nicknames Richard, or does dumb dust just overcome you??) all pitched in for the hitting attack.

Commercial Plumbing got to score from a few errors (I find that hard to believe) that the Post committed throughout the game.

They played until the eighth inning when Commercial was threatening but Paul "Slippy" Seymour threw a bullet from left centerfield (left or center, Richard, make up your mind!) to put out a tired batter at first. But it wasn't enough. A lucky hit (believe me, none of the hits are lucky...) to the outfield made Commercial Plumbing claim their victory over the Post 6-5.

More catchup on the Thiemerdome articles next week. Don't miss the Statesman for your error-by-error coverage. (Just kidding, guys... calm down... the boat sank... get over it!)

John Kleinke of the infamous Amerahn ball team, thunders down the first base line after slamming a hit which made the outfielders scurry. (And if you ever saw these guys scurry, it is a sight to treasure!)

Jim Gaffke, star of the Kewaskum High School team a few years back (just a clue... he's one of the features in the 25 Years Ago column on page 6, so we all KNOW how old he is... even if Jim is still a kid at heart!). Did Jim catch the ball?? Was there a doubt?? Attend one of the games at the Thiemerdome and "watch the stars come out" (to borrow the phrase).

"Of course, we have a retirement plan... We call it downsizing."

County Youth Participating in International Youth Exchange

Fourteen youth from Wisconsin, including five youth representing Washington county, are participating in a 4-H international program this summer. Kimberly Erdmann, daughter of Curt and Karen Erdmann of rural Kewaskum, Kirstin Krudwig, daughter of Jim and Judy Krudwig of rural West Bend, Josh Nahmens, son of Geri Nahmens and Howard Hackbarth of Beechwood, Cory Pamperin, son of Chuck and Chris Pamperin of West Bend, and Brooke Zanow, daughter of Darryl and Bonnie Zanow of rural Kewaskum, have been selected to present Washington county in the 4-H/Labo International Exchange Program. Labo is a Japanese education organization where Japanese children are acquainted with English mainly through song and play.

The 4-H Japanese exchange program is one of the largest exchange programs in the world involving North American and Japanese youth. The aim of this exchange program is to acquaint young people (ages 12-18) with each other's culture and family life, and promote a greater understanding, cooperation and mutual respect between the United States and Japan.

Each of the five youth from Washington County participating in the program has previously hosted a Japanese youth in their home for four weeks during the summer months. During their four-week stay in Japan, they will be living in the homes of the youth they previously hosted. This home-stay exchange program only lasts from mid-July to mid-

August, but the friendships, experiences and knowledge they gain will last a lifetime.

In preparation for their stay in Japan, youth from throughout Wisconsin were required to attend a weekend training/orientation camp in Wisconsin Dells in early March. Just before flying to Tokyo in mid-July, they gathered with youth from all over the United States in San Francisco for additional orientation meetings.

These 4-H youth are eager to share their experiences from this exchange with others in their communities. If you would be interested in a presentation to your group or organization, please contact Kandi O'Neil, 4-H Youth Development Educator, at the Washington County Extension Office at 335-4478.

New Boating Laws Take Effect August 1 For Jet-Ski Users and Underage Boaters

MADISON -- Starting August 1, personal watercraft users will have to slow down near lake shorelines and all boat operators under the legal drinking age face penalties if they consume any alcohol.

The Wisconsin legislature this spring passed a new law requiring people who are operating personal watercrafts, commonly known by the trade name Jet Skis, to go at a no-wake speed within 200 feet of the shoreline of any lake.

Bill Engfer, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources boating law administrator, said the new law is intended to create a 200-foot safety zone to protect swimmers, canoeists and others who use areas near the lake shore, and to protect plants in that area. Research, including investigations on a number of Wisconsin lakes, has shown that boating near shore can damage or eliminate the aquatic plants that provide critical habitat for fish and can stir up sediment from the lake bottom, causing temporary decreases in water quality.

The safety zone also responds to complaints from lakeshore property owners and other water enthusiasts about the noise from personal watercraft, which in Wisconsin have increased in numbers from 5,425 in 1990 to 24,716 today, a 455% increase, Engfer says.

"Our goal is to educate the public about the new law and gain public compliance with the least amount of enforcement activity possible," Engfer says. "While we focus on education in the first year, however, there will always be cases in which we cite people for egregious violations of the new law and repeat offenses."

Other boating changes that take effect August 1 crack down on people who are drinking and driving a boat: boaters who operate under the influence of alcohol will face stiffer penalties for a third and fourth violation and a new law makes it illegal for people under 21 to consume any alcohol while operating a boat.

On average, 200 people are cited each year for operating a boat while intoxicated. In 1997, alcohol was involved in 45% of the 29 boating fatalities in Wisconsin.

Residents Can Help Fight Purple Loosestrife Invasion

MADISON -- Purple loosestrife is in bloom across Wisconsin, and state ecologists are again asking residents to report the presence and location of this exotic invader.

Purple loosestrife, which was first imported to the United States in the 1800s from Europe and Asia as an ornamental landscape plant, is now so prolific it poses an environmental threat in the United States, where there are no native predators. The plant, which is easily recognizable by its multiple spikes bearing bright pink-purple flowers, squeezes out native wetland plants and the wildlife that depends on those plants for food and nesting.

Purple loosestrife is considered a nuisance weed in Wisconsin and in other states, and is illegal to cultivate, distribute and sell. Identifying and controlling even very small infestations is crucial to stopping the plant's spread and protecting native wetland plant and animal populations, says Brock Woods, a Department of Natural Resources research ecologist.

Reporting the size and location of purple loosestrife invasions will help Wisconsin identify new sites for efforts to control the nuisance weed by releasing insects that feed exclusively on it. The insects, imported from Northern Europe, have been shown to be effective, natural, non-chemical controls for the nuisance weed without harming agricultural crops and native plant species.

Since 1994, the DNR has released two kinds of beetles, and in more recent years, two kinds of weevils, on 80 sites across the state.

"We know that these insects are weakening the strangle hold this exotic weed has on wetlands, but we need to identify many more sites to hasten the control by placing insects there," Wood says.

A survey more than a decade ago indicates that loosestrife probably infests more than 40,000 acres of Wisconsin wetlands today.

Woods asks that people note the size and location of infestations, along with the name of the property owner if possible, and report the information by writing or calling: Brock Woods, DNR-Integrated Science Services, 1350 Femrite Dr., Monona, WI 53716; (608) 221-6349 or e-mail: <WOODSB@DNR.STATE.WI.US>.

Woods says that if people notice purple loosestrife on their own property or around their community, they can take immediate steps to get rid of the invader or can consider getting their local school or organization involved.

Next spring, the department can also get people started with their own programs of using the northern European insects to control the nuisance weed.

Until spring, Woods says, people can help control purple loosestrife by pulling it out when they see it invading highway rights-of-way, old farm fields and wetlands. Woods cautions people to first get the landowner's permission if the purple loosestrife is on private land, and, if possible, to pull it before any seed is produced.

Here are some other steps to help stop the spread of this nuisance weed:

- * Dig out small infestations, removing the entire plant, including the roots. Dry and burn (where permitted) the removed plant.
- * Cut off and destroy the flowering portion before it goes to seed if at all possible.
- * Organize a local clean-out campaign and monitor sites over several years.
- * Use environmentally safe perennials as landscape ornamentals instead of gardening with purple loosestrife.

State Funds Promote Farm Expansion

MADISON - Gov. Tommy G. Thompson announced that 26 Wisconsin farm businesses will share up to $59,834 in Dairy 2020 and Rural Economic Development Program grants for modernization and expansion initiatives.

"These grants will help dairy farmers and rural firms secure the necessary professional services to grow their businesses," Gov. Thompson said.

Among the list of successful proposals were:

Byron and Sharon Gessner - of Kewaskum received a $2,025 Dairy 2020 grant.

The Gessners operate a 280 acre farm. They milk 44 cows and have 23 head of heifers due to enter the herd soon. They are planning to build a new free stall barn and milking parlor to increase cow comfort and make room for the maturing heifers. The grant will be used to study the feasibility of this expansion project.

The Dairy 2020 Program, administered by the Dept. of Commerce, helps improve the dairy business climate through business, government, and education partnerships. It also provides individual Early Planning Grants of up to $3,000 to dairy producers and processors for feasibility, business planning, and other professional assistance.

WBKV/WBWI Lip Sync Contest Winners at Fair

There was a fellow who called his boss "The Wrestler," because he was always throwing his weight around.

One day, when he finished his first aid course he was asked, "What's the first thing you'd do if you discovered you had rabies?"

"I'd bite my boss," he answered.

But the Bible says, "Never avenge yourselves. Leave that to God. He will repay those who deserve it. Don't let evil get the upper hand, but conquer evil by doing good."

You can never get ahead of anyone as long as you're trying to get even with him. Forgiving him puts you ahead of him.

The only people you should try to get even with are those who have helped you.

So don't lay for your enemies and don't lie for your friends.

Obituary

JUNE R. ROSENTHAL

June R. Rosenthal, nee Koffel, of Fond du Lac, formerly of West Bend, died Friday, July 24, 1998, at her residence, at the age of 77.

She was born in West Allis on June 14, 1921, to the late Dr. Alfred and Mary Koffel, and moved with her family at a young age to West Bend.

She worked at Gehl's during World War II, and on July 10, 1946, married Raymond Rosenthal at Trinity Lutheran Church, West Bend.

After Ray's retirement in 1983 they moved to Hudson, Fla. where they resided until moving to Fond du Lac in 1988.

Survivors include her husband; three children, James (Yvonne) Rosenthal and Nancy (Ron) Henderson, both of West Bend and Robert Rosenthal of Fond du Lac; five grandchildren, Debbie (Fabian) Romero of Eagen, Minn., Jackie Alexander of Kenosha, Lisa Rosenthal and Ricky Rosenthal, both of Fond du Lac, and Robert Rosenthal Jr. of Iowa; a sister, Dr. Jean Koffel of Sheboygan; four sisters-in-law, Arllys (Jack) Cook of West Bend and Irene Schrauth, Adeline Overshine and Lucille Clark, all of Milwaukee; a brother-in-law, Edgar Rosenthal of Milwaukee; and other relatives and friends.

Preceding her in death was her stepmother, Elizabeth.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, July 30, at 3 p.m. at the Myrhum-Patten Funeral Home, West Bend. Rev. David Meyer of Pilgrim Ev. Lutheran Church will officiate and burial will follow in Union Cemetery.

Visitation at the funeral home will be Thursday from 1 p.m. until the time of services.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of David Engelman who went to his heavenly home, July 31, 1993 - five years ago.

Somewhere over the rainbows of promise

Pat the clouds of trouble and fear

To the bright blue and gold of the hope in the future

Into heaven and God's loving care

Gone from us who love them dearly

Although time has passed our memories are still clear as a bell

We silently grieve each in our own way

We still feel your touch and know you are here smiling on us

And keeping us in your special care.

PRAYER OF THE VIRGIN MARY

(Never known to fail). Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my Mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (Make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish it and it will be granted to you.

Dairyland Seed Announces New Soybean Releases

Dairyland Seed, West Bend, recently announced the release of seven new soybean varieties for the 1999 planting season. Each of these varieties can be seen at research tours and field days through the Midwest this fall.

DSR-046/RR Group 0: This mid Group O matures about three days earlier than DSR-065. It has very good yields and features tolerance to Monsanto's Roundup herbicide. One of the earliest soybeans in the industry with the Roundup tolerant trait. It is showing a yield advantage over Pioneer variety 9041.

DSR-152/RR Group 1: DSR-152/RR matures three days earlier than DSR-182/RR. DSR-152/RR is rather short in stature and is recommended for narrow rows or drilled situations. DSR-152/RR features very large seed, has excellent emergence and an excellent standability rating. DSR-152/RR carries resistance to brown stem rot and has good tolerance to iron chlorosis. It also features a very good tolerance rating for phytophthora root rot.

DSR-321/RR Group 3-: DSR-321/RR has very strong yields, outyielding Asgrow A2701/RR by 3.6 bu/a. although five days later. Also outyielding CX313 by 1.4 bu. and S30-06 by .6 bu in Dairyland research trials. DSR-321/RR features excellent standability and eye appeal. Its disease resistance package includes resistance to brown stem rot along with very good white mold tolerance.

DSR-338/STS Group 3: This high yielding new mid-Group III STS tolerant soybean features resistance to cyst nematode. DSR-338/STS carries very good phytophthora root rot field tolerance. In Dairyland research trials it is yielding one bu. better than Pioneer variety 9321 and 0.6 lower yielding than DSR-325, however, carrying the STS trait.

DSR-372/RR Group 3+: DSR-372/RR replaces DSR-371/RR and carries strong cyst nematode resistance with better yields. Full-bodied plant type featuring good phytophthora root rot tolerance. It also outyields S35-35 by two bushels, DSR-373 by 2.7 bushels and DSR-371/RR by 1.5 bushels in Dairyland research trials.

DSR-381/RR Group 3+: DSR-381/RR is very exciting as it combines resistance to Roundup with very high yields. In research trials it is outyielding A3237, Pioneer varieties 9342, 9362 and 9392. Featuring excellent phytophthora root rot tolerance, DSR-381/RR is a medium plant type that is one inch taller than DSR-373 and matures one day later.

DSR-400/STS Group 4-: DSR-400/STS is high yielding, easily outdistancing A3237, A3935, A4138, Pioneer varieties 9392 and 94121 plus S42-60 and CX-411 (three bu/a. better than average of these lines). DSR-400/STS features brown stem rot resistance.

It matures three days later than DSR-370/STS, however, it is four inches shorter which means better northern movement.

DSR-421/RR Group 4-: DSR-421/RR replaces DSR-417/RR due to its four bu. yield advantage. It shows a 2.6 bu. yield advantage over A4138, a 3.4 bu. advantage over Pioneer variety 9442 and a 1.7 bu. yield advantage over CX411. DSR-421/RR matures a couple days later than DSR-417/RR and approximately four days later than DSR-317. A full plant type, about the same height as DSR-317.

Founded in 1907 at St. Kilian, Wisconsin, Dairyland Seed Co., Inc. is the only family-held seed company that conducts proprietary plant breeding programs in hybrid corn, soybeans and alfalfa. In addition to the West Bend headquarters, there are breeding and nursery facilities in Gibson City, Illinois; West Lafayette, Indiana; Clinton, Wisconsin; Sloughhouse, California, as well as winter sites in the southern United States, Hawaii, Mexico and South America.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our dear dad DAVID ENGELMAN, who passed away, July 31, 1993:

Behind our smiles there are many tears
For the Dad we lost we loved so dear.

Others are taken, yes we know,
But he was ours and we loved him so. The tears we shed we can wipe away,
But the ache in our hearts will always stay.

A PRAYER TO GOD, THE FATHER

Dear Heavenly Father,
I pray for the people who put prayers in newspapers that are not in Your Son's name. Forgive them, for they do not understand that Jesus is our ONLY intercessor, and because of His awesome sacrifice, He has made it possible for us to communicate with You. I pray that You would bless them with the understanding how You, the Great God of this Universe would have us pray. Thank you. In Jesus' Holy name I pray. (John 16:24).

Don't Let Your Health Take A Vacation

(DM)—Summertime. The official season of sun, fun and...best of all...vacations!

Vacations are a healthy retreat from the daily grind. However, whether you loll on the beach, hike in the mountains or explore new cities, one thing's for sure: getting away from it all shouldn't mean forgetting about your health.

Test-drive these tips from the Centrum® Center for Nutrition Science for a healthy vacation next time you hit the road.

PREPARE FOR DEPARTURE

- A vacation schedule packed with activities makes eating right a challenge. Shop for healthy snacks before you hit the road. Cut-up vegetables, apples, low-salt pretzels, animal crackers and low-sugar cereals are easy-to-munch car foods that are healthy and taste good too.

- For added assurance take along a complete multivitamin and mineral supplement to help meet your nutrition needs.

GETTING THERE'S HALF THE BATTLE

- Airline meals can be high in fat, calories and cholesterol. A common airline meal consisting of lasagna and a few extras has 778 calories and 52 grams of fat. Make an effort to call ahead to order a low-fat or low-cholesterol meal for your flight.

- Air travel can dehydrate you and some beverages can actually increase dehydration as well as jet lag. Steer clear of alcohol, caffeinated and carbonated beverages; instead opt for plenty of water and fruit juices.

WHEN DINING OUT IS THE DESTINATION

- If you're planning on indulging in a big dinner, eat light, low-fat meals during the day.

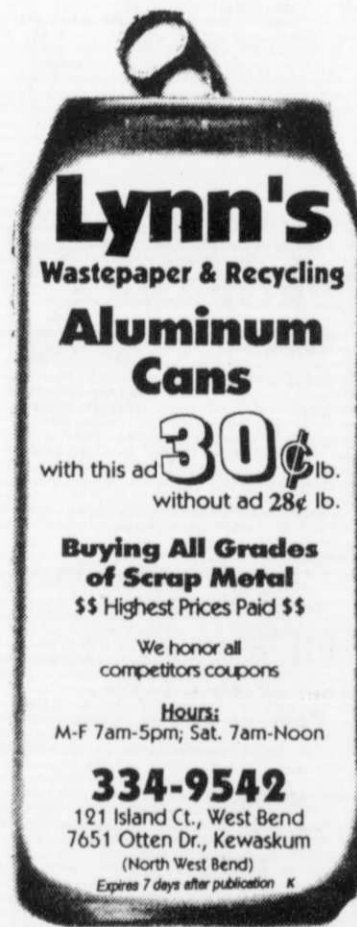

- Fast food restaurants are convenient for grabbing a bite to eat. However, stay away from the bacon double-cheeseburger and opt for lower fat entrees like salads with a low calorie dressing and grilled chicken sandwiches. An average bacon double-cheeseburger has approximately 515 calories and 31 grams of fat compared to a grilled chicken sandwich which only has 379 calories and 18 grams of fat.

ACTIVATE YOUR VACATION

- Plan a vacation that includes sports, exercise or some other form of physical activity.

- Take to the streets - try a walking tour instead of riding a tour bus. If you opt for the walking tour, you can burn approximately 300 calories an hour.

KMS Students Write Home Town Poems

To wrap up the 1997/98 school year, in their English class, eighth graders at Kewaskum Middle School studied a unit on Wisconsin writers. At the beginning of the unit, the students read a poem called "Walking Milwaukee" by Harold Witt. In response, the students worked at various times throughout the unit, writing their own poems about taking a walk in their home towns. The following are some of the poems written by the eighth graders.

"My Walk"

by Adam Hubacek

Take a walk with me and you will see
My black top driveway with a black rimmed basketball hoop
Off to the side.
Keep walking with me to the end of my driveway,

Onto Alpine Lane
And you should hear little kids driving by on their bikes
Screaming and laughing.
If you take a left with me
You'll see a big, new yellow house with big dirt piles in front of it.
There are usually tractors cutting lawns
Or plowing big, open, dry fields.
Walk a little farther, and the dogs will see you walking Down the road and begin to bark at you and me.
That concludes my walk between you and me.

SHEEPSHEAD WINNER'S

5 handed winner's on Wednesday, July 22nd were: Donna Stern, 69-6--63, 23-4--19; Lori Heisler, 52-6--46, 18-4--14; Frank Krueger, 51-7--44, 22-5--17; Royal Carey, 51-9--42, 23-6--17; Gladys Tackes, 46-6--40, 20-6--14.

The next 5 handed will be Thursday, July 30th and Wednesday, Aug. 5th at 8:00 p.m. sharp, Cash prizes, lunch. Schmitt's Never Inn.

Recipe of the Month

This recipe, along with many others can be found in the new Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club red cookbook. You can find them for sale at Kewaskum Pharmacy, Kewaskum Frozen Foods, or by calling Karen Kletti at 334-0227.

RIBBON SALAD

1 (3 oz.) pkg. each jello:
lemon, lime and raspberry
3 c. water (boiling)
1 c. miniature or diced marshmallows
1 1/2 c. cold water
2 (3 oz. each) pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/2 c. mayonnaise
1 c. cream, whipped
1 (1 lb. 4 1/2 oz.) can crushed pineapple

Dissolve jello gelatin flavors separately, using 1 cup boiling water for each. Stir marshmallows into lemon gelatin; set aside. Add 3/4 cup cold water to raspberry gelatin; set aside at room temperature. Add cream cheese to lemon mixture; beat until blended. Chill until slightly thickened, then blend in mayonnaise, whipped cream and crushed pineapple. Chill until very thick; spoon gently over lime gelatin. Chill until set, but not firm.

Meanwhile, chill raspberry gelatin until thickened. Pour over lemon gelatin. Makes 12 to 15 servings.

Final Fall Wild Turkey Permit Levels Set

MADISON -- Turkey hunters will have more opportunities to bag a tom or a hen as a mild winter and an expanding turkey population allow the state to make 7,000 more permits available for fall 1998 than were available last year.

The Department of Natural Resources' Turkey Advisory Committee recently set permit numbers at 40,750, up from preliminary estimates of 33,400. As a result, as many as 14 units will receive more permits than preliminary estimates indicated.

"Mild winters, strong spring reproduction and an expanding turkey population are leading to higher permit numbers than last year and even more than our preliminary estimates for fall 1998 suggested," says Keith Warnke, DNR upland wild-life ecologist.

Hunters have seen growing turkey populations and increasing permit numbers over the past few seasons. However, Warnke cautions that as the birds fill in available habitat, their numbers can be expected to plateau, leading to a more stable allowable harvest level.

As in the past, the fall permit levels are more conservative than the spring season, when 100,678 permits were issued, because turkey hunters are allowed to harvest both male and female turkeys in the fall. Over-harvesting hens can have a negative impact on the population. Carefully managed fall hunting prevents this from happening and can also be used as a population management tool in areas with high turkey densities.

"We look at past spring and fall hunter success rates to determine permit levels for the following year," Warnke says. "We also factor in observations and recommendations from the local wildlife biologist and productivity estimates to assure that we're not in danger of over harvesting the population."

The fall hunting season allows hunters to harvest one turkey of either sex and runs from October 12 through November 8. The application deadline for the fall season is August 10. Hunters interested in a particular hunting zone are encouraged to contact their local DNR office for the final permit levels.

The affenpinscher is a shaggy black toy dog with bushy eyebrows and a mustache. It is often called a "monkey dog."

EWSCA NEWS

(PLYMOUTH, WI) Three-time and defending track champion Pete Ostrowski of Milwaukee pulled off a thrilling three-wide last lap pass on the way to his fourth main event victory of the 1998 campaign in the 30 lap Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Winged Super Modified feature Saturday night at Sheboygan County Fair Park.

Polesitter Eddie Staehler of Kewaskum outpowered fellow front row starter Chuck Tuschl of Cato to take the initial lead of the race in turn one of the opening lap. By the 10th circuit, Staehler had built up a solid half-straightaway cushion over second place Tuschl. As Staehler used the low groove to maintain his position at the front of the field, a heated three way battle for the runner-up spot developed between Tuschl, sixth starter Tim Melis of Plymouth and the third starting Ostrowski on lap 15.

After six laps of tight competition, the high riding Ostrowski powered his way past Melis and Tuschl to secure second place on lap 21. Staehler encountered heavy lapped traffic along the inside lane on lap 23 which allowed Ostrowski to close the gap significantly on the outside groove. On lap 28, Ostrowski moved to within striking distance of Staehler in dense lapped traffic and two laps later the 17th year veteran made a daring three-wide maneuver around Staehler and the slower car of Plymouth's Bob Brion to take the lead entering turn three of the final circuit.

Ostrowski then raced away in the final two corners to notch his 15th career EWSC winged Super Modified feature win by two car lengths over Staehler in the non-stop event. Tuschl was third, Melis took fourth and Sheboygan's Brad Dahmer rounded out the top-five.

Dick Hed of Sheboygan Falls survived four caution periods to notch his third feature triumph of the year in the 25 lap Limited Late Model main event.

Former track champion Brad Ruh of Elkhart Lake turned back the persistent challenges of Kiel's Dave Horneck to capture his first 20 lap Super Stock feature triumph since the 1994 season.

In other action, Cascade's Barry Maas won the 15 lap Winged Super Modified B semi-feature. Dennis Konitzer of Sheboygan was victorious in the 15 lap Limited Late Model semi-feature and Dave Theobald of Sheboygan Falls took the checkered flag in the 15 lap Super Stock semi-feature. Char Goetsch, Donna Singer and Julie Reigel also earned special Powder Puff heat race victories.

It was erroneously reported last week that Cato driver Chuck Tuschl won his first career 30 lap winged Super Modified feature at Plymouth in the July 18 EWSC main event. In fact, the 27th year competitor did visit victory land in EWSC feature action at the Sheboygan County Fair park track in 1981 and 1983.

This week special twin 20 lap Winged Super Modified features will headline the EWSC racing program. Spectator gates open at 5 p.m. with time trials at 6 p.m. and racing at 7 p.m.
