Village Board Approves Ordinance Prohibiting In-Line Skates

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Kewaskum Village Board met Monday with Kewaskum School Superintendent Clark Pearson and voiced their support in reference to the upcoming school referendum electors will be voting on Sept. 8. The referendum will address the building of a new elementary school, additions and renovations to the Farmington and Wayne schools, and much needed repairs to the high school.

Trustee Gary Gavin voiced his concerns over what he thought may be a potential traffic problem with the busses.

Pearson addressed these concerns by saying, "we will be coming off of the road with the busses. We will no longer be parking the busses on the road."

Gavin asked "Where did it come along that you had to have 15 acres to build this thing originally?"

Pearson explained "They (the state) recommends for elementary schools 20 acres. There's various state recommendations."

After more discussion Gavin told the board "I would like to see the Village Board go on record saying they support the referendum. I mean it is one of the major parts of the Village of Kewaskum. It is something that is being built in our community. I think it would be helpful if the Village Board supported it or didn't support it. I'd be willing to put that into motion. I'd like to make a motion that the Village Board supports this program. Trustee Warren Dums seconded the motion.

Village President Robert Wagner interjected and showed mixed feelings on the motion.

Gavin said "It's a seven million dollar project that's being built in our village. Do we say as the governing body of Kewaskum, yes, this is good for Kewaskum? It's certainly not going to be a detriment. I don't see anything wrong with the village saying yes. Why can't we take a stand on an issue? If your not in favor of it don't vote for it. It's as simple as that."

Wagner answered, "I suppose that's true. But some people may not want to take a stand."

Gavin said, "Then you can abstain from voting, then you don't have to vote."

President Wagner abstained from voting. All other members voted in favor of Gavin's motion.

Pearson thanked the board for their support.

Robert Beglinger of SEWR-

PC Commission Staff gave a presentation on a traffic engineering study done in the village to improve the traffic situation.

The board moved on to address a public hearing concerning an application for a combination class B Fermented Beverage and Intoxicating Liquor License for Mark Herriges (Prime Time Pub).

The board awarded a contract to resurface the tennis courts and basketball court at the Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park. The contractor will be Pavcoat of Wisconsin, Inc. of Mukwonago, bidding $10,300.

Assistant Fire Chief Mark Herriges gave a followup of what is happening concerning Genova's Auto Sales. He told the board that the town of Kewaskum has actively pursued the issue.

Gavin asked if the property could be annexed into the village because of its' being an island of the town.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt told Gavin nothing has changed. He also informed him of a state statute saying a municipality can not promote annexation or de-annexation. The only way it could be done is if the village bought the property and annexed it themselves.

Gavin asked "Why don't we ask him if he wants to sell it (to the village)?"

Schmidt told him they could, but advised having the village attorney write the letter.

Gavin then made a motion to have the village attorney write a letter to investigate the possibility of the Village purchasing the property at 8898 STH 45 known as Genova's Auto Sales. The motion passed, with Trustee Robert Stolzmann voting no.

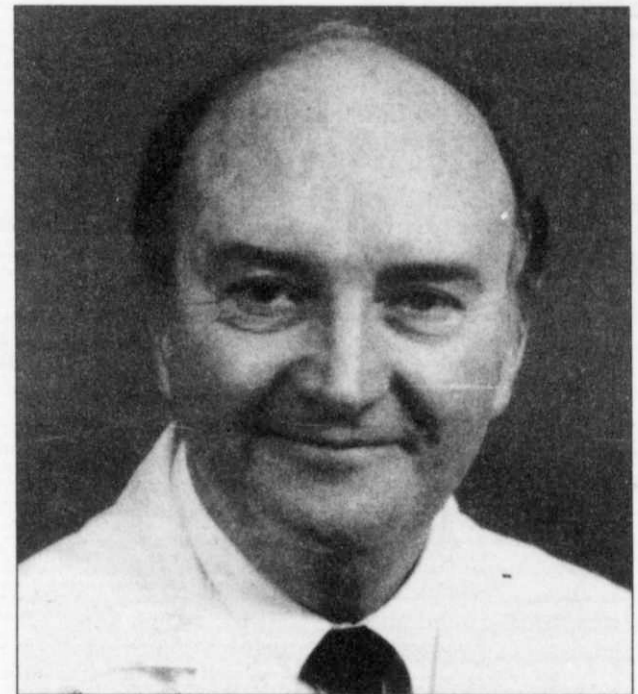

Police Chief Richard Knoebel informed the board that Best Trailer would be willing to donate the trailer for the speed board. The only cost for the village would be about $700-800 for the computer components.

He also expressed a concern about the village purchasing a four-wheel drive vehicle for the police department. He will bring more information back at a later date.

Director of Public Works, Jerry Gillies gave his bi-weekly report.

Gillies stated that seasonal Saturday yard waste collection service will be coming to a close. Collection at the village yard will now only take place Monday thru Friday from 7 am

Artist Dan Gerhartz Featured In Persimmon Hill Magazine

OKLAHOMA CITY -- An article on Dan Gerhartz of Kewaskum is featured in the current issue of Persimmon Hill, the official publication of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Oklahoma City. The article highlights Gerhartz as the 1998 recipient of the Robert Lougheed Memorial Award at the Hall's Annual Prix de West Invitational Exhibition held June 12-13.

The article states, "Gerhartz is no newcomer to the winner's podium, having won the Nona Jean Hulsey Rumsey Buyers' Choice Award in 1993 and 1994. The Robert Lougheed Memorial Award is sponsored by the Robert S. and Grayce B. Kerr Foundation and carries with it a $1,000 cash prize."

"The 33-year-old artist has four oil paintings exhibited in the current show, Lamplight, Rose and Velvet, Prairie Winds, and Remembering Autumn. All four paintings sold on opening night, representing a value of $57,000. Gerhartz' paintings are noted for their nostalgic themes, many of them inspired by the people and places he encountered in a childhood growing up amidst the scenic Kettle Moraine State Forest surrounding Kewaskum. He studied art in high school with instructor John Baitinger and then at the American Academy of Art in Chicago.

"Gerhartz believes the most important element of painting is capturing the effect of natural light."

Persimmon Hill is an award-winning magazine with an international circulation. The publication is dedicated to preserving the myths and legends of the American West, and is available through a $25 annual subscription or an annual $45 membership in the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, 1700 N.E. 63rd St., Oklahoma City, OK 73111.

Village Board

to 3:30 pm.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt informed the board of two operators licenses.

Wagner inquired about zero cat licenses being sold.

Knoebel said it was down from last year's four that were sold.

Schmidt also informed the board of their equalized value report. The equalized value for the village is $136,943,400. An increase of $9,180,400 from 1997.

Under protection and public safety Knoebel gave the board the information he received on updating the siren system.

The board has an option of buying one rotating siren for $14,417. The other option the board has is a three stationary siren system for $33,012. The current sirens are becoming obsolete. The advantage for the three siren system is, they can be installed one each year. With only one siren, if it goes out, you have no siren. If you have three and one goes out you at least have two.

Stolzmann informed the board of a speed concern on Roseland Drive.

Trustee Dums informed the board of a Plan Commission meeting Tuesday, August 25. There will be one rezoning request.

Under new business the board approved the application for Mark Herriges as mentioned earlier in the Public Hearing.

Schmidt informed the board of the preliminary population count for the Village effective January 1, 1998. The count was 3,172, an increase of 46.

The board acted on a resolution to collect delinquent tax accounts.

An ordinance restricting skating with rollerblades in the roadway on Fond du Lac Avenue, Main, Railroad, First, Second and Third Streets, Reigle, Riverview and Parkview Drive, Bilgo Lane and municipal parking lots was passed unanimously.

President Wagner addressed his concern for starting a room tax in the future to raise funds to promote tourism in the village.

Donald Schulz Elected Mayor of Kohlsville

The votes are in folks, Kohlsville residents have spoken and they choose Donald Schulz as the leader of their empire.

Though the election was a tough one Schulz's "secret" constituents pulled through giving him 640 votes.

Aaron Martin, Dana Kocan and various others vied for the prestigious honor but came up unsuccessful.

The election raised over $1,400. The fire department wishes to thank everyone who attended the picnic and parade.

A Stroll Down Fond du Lac Avenue

Harvey and Jean Ramthun pose outside their business.

Henry W. Ramthun is shown in a view of the inside of the store. Sandy Rimmel Photos

Continuing back on track with our "Stroll Down Fond du Lac Avenue" on the west side of the street, heading south, we have arrived at the former H. Ramthun & Son Hardware, Plumbing and Heating business at 1261 Fond du Lac Avenue.

The business had been in the Ramthun family for 66 years when it was sold to Kettle Moraine Electric, Inc. (who still occupy the building) in 1972. The business was originally purchased by Henry and Emma Ramthun on May 18, 1906 from Frank and Mayme Day. It was operated by them until the death of Henry Ramthun in April of 1947. Business was then conducted by Mrs. Ramthun and her son, Harvey, until her death in April of 1951. Harvey and his wife, Jean, then operated the business until he passed away in December of 1968, and Mrs. Jean Ramthun continued to run the business with her son, Harvey.

Kettle Moraine Electric, (at that time owned by Al Beisbier, Don Scheid and LaVern Schnabel,) purchased the entire property which consisted of the store building and living quarters with one lower and two upper apartments and rear workshop and storage building. Kettle Moraine Electric had been in business in Kewaskum for about four years prior to the purchase of the building.

Our thanks to Sandy (Ramthun) Rimmel for sharing the above information with the Statesman, along with some of her photos. Our gratitude to Tiny, also, for his continued support of this feature.

If anyone has recollections to share on upcoming businesses, heading south on Fond du Lac Avenue, PLEASE submit it to the Statesman, or call 626-2626.

Big Brothers Big Sisters, Boys and Girls Club Team Up for 'FUN Match' Program

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Washington County and the Boys and Girls Club of West Bend have teamed up to help the community's youth through the development of a new mentoring program called FUN Match.

The FUN Match program allows individuals 15 years of age or older to volunteer as a Big Brother or Big Sister for a child that has been unmatched in the traditional Big Brothers Big Sister program.

The mentor must agree to an eight month commitment and would spend one day a month with the child they have been matched with by attending a scheduled and supervised activity at the Boys and Girls Club. In addition, the match has the opportunity to attend the monthly activities that are offered at Big Brothers Big Sisters.

The children participating in this program will receive the same benefits as those in the traditional program with the addition of the added supervision at activities from a Case Manager. Big Brothers Big Sisters currently has over 50 children waiting to be matched. The FUN Match program is expected to service many of the agency's waiting list children, especially those that have been waiting for a long time.

It is anticipated that there will be at least 20 matches ready to start the program in fall. All of the volunteers have to go through a screening process at Big Brothers Big Sisters to ensure a proper match. The goal of the program is to help service more children in and to provide rewarding volunteer opportunities for the young adults in our county.

This is a unique program in that this is the first time that Big Brothers Big Sisters is recruiting teen volunteers to be mentors. Brenda Raad, Executive Director of Big Brothers Big Sisters states, "We are excited about this program! In the past only volunteers over age 18 could become Big Brothers Big Sisters. The FUN Match program will allow teens to be involved and help us serve even more children who really need someone."

Not only is this program helping generate the volunteering spirit in our community's youth, but by involving teen volunteers and providing them with a way to give back to their community, this program is supporting Washington County's pledge that was made in response to the President's Summit to serve 2000 by 2000.

Volunteering to give companionship to a child can help both the volunteer and the child grow in positive directions. Not only does mentoring help build the self esteem of the child, but being a mentor as a teenager can help them build valuable personal skills as well as a sense of community.

If you are interested in enrolling your child in this program or wish to volunteer, please contact Dawn Mumaw at 334-7896 to request more information.

STAR Program at KMS

by Principal Ken Soerens

No Kewaskum Middle School students have failed to complete their grade because of an inability to attain minimum academic standards. Instead, the reality is that the granting of promotion to the next grade level has been, and remains, all but automatic to any student willing to "stay put" for the school year.

Promotion to the next grade level is more of a testimony to attendance than achievement. Unfortunately, the bestowing of such promotion is not an indication of intellectual skills. Rather, it sets levels low enough to ensure that any middle school student making the slightest effort will be "pushed" on to the next grade "ready or not," making middle school academic standards all but meaningless! We need to make the middle school student accountable and responsible for their middle school education, thereby making the transition to high school meaningful.

STAR (Students Taking Academic Responsibility) is a program that offers several educational services to those students that need more academic time and help in order to benefit fully from the instructional program at the middle school. This program is designed for those students who have difficulty turning in classroom assignments because of a lack of basic academic skills and/or poor study habits. The program is also for students who have the academic skills, but are not motivated to do the work.

The program is divided into two different services that will give these students the needed extra time, extra study time, and extra professional help.

One of the services being offered is an after school tutorial/study time. It is a quiet study time for students who do not have an environment away from school conducive to doing homework. There are three main components to this program: recommendation, parent permission, and student commitment.

Their teachers, parents, or themselves recommend the students to this program. Students and parents make the decision to participate voluntarily and are expected to cooperate fully. Regular communication with teachers, parents, and students regarding work to be completed is a key part of the program.

A part of the student's responsibility is to keep an assignment notebook or fill out a daily goal sheet with all of the daily assignments. The assignment notebook or the goal sheet needs to be signed daily by each classroom teacher. This helps the tutorial lab supervisor know what homework needs to be completed that evening. During this time, a teacher will be present to help students prioritize assignments, set goals for the night, and then work on homework. Other teachers will also be available, to answer questions and to help students start their work.

This program is not meant to be viewed as a "detention." Rather, it is a service or a privilege being offered to a limited number of students who would make good use of the extra help being offered. It is organized and supervised by a professional staff member on a Monday through Thursday basis from 3:00 P.M. - 3:30 P.M. The tutorial lab is designed to be a positive and helpful addition to the student's academic life.

All KMS seventh and eighth graders who still have failing grades at the end of the fourth quarter will be required to make up course work not successfully completed during the second semester of the 1997-1998 school year. All failing grades need to be raised to a satisfactory passing grade before being promoted.

All seventh and eighth grade students with failing grades will meet with Mr. Soerens to develop a remedial program and time line for the failing grades. The student's parents will also be notified by mail about the their child's failing grades. Parents do have the option, to meet with the principal or guidance counselor to develop a plan to remediate the failing grade(s) during the following quarter. This will allow the student to avoid finishing the year with a failing grade in this course.

Each teacher completes the remediation form for each student who failed their course with the needed assignments to satisfactory remediate their grades to at least a minimum standard equivalency level. An individual student portfolio will be created by the classroom teacher with records of the student's failing grades, steps necessary to attain passing status, assignments, and expectations from each teacher(s).

The second program to be offered at the middle school is the Summer Transitional School (S.T.S.). The S.T.S. program will be held in conjunction with the regularly scheduled district's summer school program. A positive and encouraging program of one to one attention and instruction between student and teacher that will incorporate study skills on an individual basis as needed.

Failure to remediate failing grades will result in Summer Transitional School until all assignments are satisfactorily completed. This means a student may be enrolled in S.T.S. for one day, one week, one month, or until summer school ends. Failure to successfully complete the S.T.S. curriculum will result in a transition period (part of or all of the 1998-1999 school year) beginning in the fall at the same grade level until all work is completed. Students not being promoted to the next grade level would still be required to keep up with the regular next level grade assignments. Intervention could also take place with a parent, administrator or tutor supervising.

Back to School: What You and Your Children Should Know

It's back to school time again, and motorists and children should use extra care to avoid crashes, says AAA of Wisconsin.

The leading cause of death for children 15 years of age and younger is traffic crashes. Early in children's school experience, between the ages of 5 and 9, their involvement in traffic crashes peak due to lack of knowledge and experience in dealing with traffic situations. In addition, crashes involving children are highest just before and just after school hours.

Teaching children safe-walking habits can reduce the risk of potential hazards encountered while walking to and from school.

AAA offers the following tips for parents to help get their kids to school and home safely:

- * Involve your children in the decision making process for the best route to and from school.

- * Walk with children along the chosen route so they become familiar with it.

- * Discuss crossing at crosswalks and the safest corners at which to cross.

- * Review traffic signals, turn signals and the reasons for looking left, right, then left again.

- * Emphasize the importance of allowing enough time to walk -- not run -- across the street.

Motorists need to be extra cautious as well. Children are more likely to be walking or riding their bikes before and after school hours.

Recent statistics show that 41% of bicyclists injured in motor vehicle crashes were under 15 years old.

AAA Wisconsin offers the following tips for motorists now that schools are open again:

- * Reduce speeds in school zones. Recent state legislation doubles fines for speeding in school zones.

- * Slow down when children are present. Put your foot over the brake pedal just in case a child decides to dart out into the road.

- * Be aware of weather and road conditions. You may not be able to stop effectively when the roads are wet or icy, and it may be difficult to see clearly.

- * Take notice of school bus stops. Children may be playing or may accidentally fall. If a school bus is dropping children off and you are behind the bus, do not proceed. A stop sign will be displayed on the side of the bus, and you will be ticketed if you do not comply. In Wisconsin, citations for passing a stopped school bus may be issued upon report of a school bus driver.

AAA Wisconsin is a not-for-profit membership organization offering travel, insurance, financial and auto-related services to more than 525,000 members statewide through 13 office locations.

'A Simple, Decent Place To Live'

The first two days' efforts lay a solid foundation for the wooden structure to come.

Exterior walls get the attention of many Peace Church volunteers.

Veteran Habitat volunteer of 12 years, Dick Zarling, shares pointers with rookie, Tyler Steinhardt.

Clear weather allows successful framing of the Davis family's house.

On Saturday, July 25th, twenty-four members of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum accepted the challenge of Habitat for Humanity to build affordable housing for the Davis family, Jim, Sue, Elijah and Elizabeth, in Indiana.

Jim suffers from Huntington's Korea, a debilitating and fatal disease which holds him bedridden, and requires special building needs. Invited by the Clinton County Habitat group and housed in the First Christian Church of Frankfort, Indiana, Kewaskum teens to seniors joined in a week-long building project which included laying cement block, exterior and interior rough carpentry, and roof work.

On arrival, the Wisconsin found footings, ready for the five course cement block foundation. By Friday afternoon, the group had completed framing the house, and had it under roof. Led by project foreman, Howard Zemlicka, this was the twelfth year Peace UCC has sponsored a Habitat work crew.

In addition to determination, energy and hard work, the group provided some Wisconsin hospitality to the local Habitat group and home recipients by hosting a Green Bay Packer tailgate party, complete with Kewaskum Frozen Foods bratwurst, German potato salad and Packer highlights.

A generous donation from Peace Church for future building needs was given to Steve Mullen, local president and on-site coordinator. The Davis family thankfully accepted new cookware, at gift from Regal Ware. While in Indiana, the work crew provided daily devotions, and joined Rev. Eric Kirkegaard as litanists, preaches and choir on the Sunday of their return to Kewaskum.

To learn more about the principles of grassroots partnership, homeowner participation, stewardship ministry, fund for humanity and simple, decent, affordable housing, please contact Habitat for Humanity International at 1-800-HABITAT. For information about the Peace Church project, please call 626-4011.

School Life in Japan

By Brooke Zanow

Konnichiwa! Hello from Japan! As part of a 4-H/LABO Exchange Program, I am staying for one month in Hita, Japan. Two summers ago, I hosted Junko Kuwano, and I am currently staying with her family in southern Japan.

I have found similarities among the people of America and of Japan, but, at times, America and Japan seem like two different worlds! Many things are different, but I am having fun along the way, learning about another country's culture.

Even though school is out for the summer in the United States, I am attending school here in Japan. Their actual school year is over in Japan too, but my host sister and I are attending a sort of summer school. The school day begins at 8 a.m. and goes until 12:40 p.m. The day seems to last forever for me because I don't understand anything that the teachers talk about. My Japanese is very limited!

The only class that I can follow is their English class. The English teacher is a man from the United States and one of the few people that I can speak in fluent English with. Each class lasts about one hour with alternating class schedules every day.

School starts and ends every day with a short homeroom class for about 10 or 15 minutes. At the end of the day, just before homeroom, all the student push their desks to the back of the classroom and go to different stations around the school. They each have a different job for cleaning (cleaning, as with brooms, rags and soap!) The station I am assigned to is the gym teacher's office. I clean out the ashtrays and throw away their garbage. Imagine American students cleaning up after ourselves and our teachers!

In Japan, you don't simply register for high school. You have to take entrance exams, which determine which high school you will be allowed to attend. The high school that I attend with my host sister only accepts students who score high on their high school entrance exams.

My host sister said she studied for a solid year before taking the entrance exam in hopes of being selected to attend this particular school. I was very impressed, but after attending the school, I'm not really sure I understand. They study very hard in order to get into this school, but once they're here, they fall asleep and talk while the teacher is at the front of the room. The teacher usually doesn't ever say anything to them about it either! Tests are handed out and some students just choose not to do them, they set them aside and take a nap! I try to explain that in the United States we aren't allowed to sleep at school, we go to learn.

All of the students wear uniforms. They are not allowed to wear any jewelry, makeup, or nail polish. They cannot even curl their hair. They say that it makes them all equal. I used to think that wearing uniforms was a good idea, but I have had to follow their school rules and really miss feeling like I'm myself, an individual, and not just another student. Shortly after my return to the United States, our school will be resuming again -- I actually miss my school!

I would like to thank all the organizations and individuals who helped make this trip possible for me. I will never forget my experience here in Japan. Thank you.

To remove fish odor from your hands, wash them with either herb vinegar or a thin slice of lemon, then rinse your hands.

HUNGRY, HUNGRY RATTLESNAKE

Rattlesnake listening and watching;
Kids playing and getting all sweaty;
Snake waiting and sitting in a coil,
Rattly and ready to strike; a ratton hurriedly scurries by; rattler hunts.

The ratton stops; the air is filled with aroma of cheese; and the next step sounds, SNAP! Ratton struggling for its breath, caught in a rat trap. Snake takes advantage and feasts,
While at the cabin, the boy wanders off
Not knowing - Ma on the couch and Pa at his desk, Sis in chair and baby in bed. The snake follows the boy, passing the rattlesnake plantain and the rattlesnake weed. The hunt is physical and exhausting, competitive. The plantain is ratty, but snake does not acknowledge, for it is determined to kill and is very deadly; the only remedy is rattle snake root, and the boy has no rattle trap to drive to Emergency, so the snake strikes and screams of agony fill the air.

KMS Students Write Home Town Poems

To wrap up the 1997/98 school year, in their English class, eighth graders at Kewaskum Middle School studied a unit on Wisconsin writers. At the beginning of the unit, the students read a poem called "Walking Milwaukee" by Harold Witt. In response, the students worked at various times through out the unit, writing their own poems about taking a walk in their home towns. The following are some of the poems written by the eighth graders.

"A Stroll in the Country"

by Amanda Gessner

Come, join me on my stroll through the country.
The driveway leading to my home steams as it lays out in the hot sun.
The crooked mailbox creaks as the wind howls against it.
Block-topped Brazelton Drive seems to stretch on endlessly.
Three yellow ANR Pipeline poles shimmer as the sun hits them.
Orange pipeline identification signs reflect the sun's rays.
The dark green pine trees sway in the summer breeze.
The faded red barn shadows Granny's house.
Large blossoming apple trees buzz with bees.
Big horses chomp the grass until it is gone.
Cherry red barns gleam in the bright sunlight
Dusty fields seem to move as the wind blows across it.
Yellow faded snowmobile signs stand alone.
And the white two-story house stands alive with the business of farmers.

Letters to The Editor

To the Citizens of the Kewaskum District,

After a great deal of discussion and deliberation, finally a referendum will be presented to voters on September 8. Hooray! The board has made a commendable effort to get the needed information and details of the referendum to the voting public. By now there should be no one in this community who does not recognize the need for a new elementary school in the village, and the renovations to our other community schools that are sorely needed.

Why would anyone vote against this referendum? The only reason that comes to mind would be the strong emotions that have developed from some of the decisions that past school boards have made, as well as the current status of Beechwood School. Before you decide to vote against this referendum, please consider what this is truly about.

Vote no if you cannot afford to contribute $3-$4 per month toward improving school facilities. (Taxes would increase by $52.50 per year on a $150,000 house.)

Vote no if you believe that eventually a plan will be developed that is more to your liking. You must be willing to pay more for a "better" plan, while construction costs are rising.

Vote no if you are angry about the Beechwood issue. The people who have been so vocal in their opinions should be respected -- this is the democratic process at work and despite the high level of emotion, this is how it should be. Vote no if you cannot get past it. But remember that while adults stew over political issues, children are spending their days in less than ideal facilities. Your children who go to KES and FES are waiting.

Vote yes if you understand the complexity of the development of a long-range plan. We will never reach a consensus-- there will always be disagreement and always must be compromise in order to move forward.

Vote yes if you understand that the board has tried to balance the facilities needs of the district with consideration of economics. After a great deal of study, they have come up with an affordable solution.

Vote yes if you see the positive changes that have occurred in all areas within our community schools in the past few years, from community relations, to building maintenance, to technology and to professional development of staff. This demonstrates a vision for the future of the district.

Vote yes on September 8 if you believe that looking forward, with respect for past mistakes, constitutes progress.

As a member of the Facilities Study Group, I know that this has been analyzed from every possible angle. As an elementary teacher, I see tremendous advantages that will come from updated facilities. As a parent, I feel my children and others in the district deserve nothing less. As a taxpayer, I believe we cannot afford to put this off.

Improvements in our school buildings are long overdue. How long can we wait, and what will be the cost? Vote yes on September 8.

Sincerely,

Laurie Brock

Dear Editor:

FRIENDS of Abused Families, Inc. recently received an extremely generous donation from a local developing company, Devenport Development. Jim Devenport inquired about our progress on a garage that was in construction at our shelter. He then donated over $4,000.00 worth of materials and labor to help complete our project. This heaven sent being gave us the roofing materials, siding materials, and several full days of work from his construction crew, in order to complete the roof and provide us with some of the necessary materials that our funding has failed to cover. Had Mr. Devenport not offered his services, we were going to be forced to board up the garage and stop construction on this vital addition to our shelter. The garage is an added security measure that will ensure our client identities remain anonymous, and a much-needed upgrade.

There could never be enough to say that would even begin to thank this generous man and his wonderful crew for the hard work they put into helping our agency. For now, on behalf of everyone here at "Friends of Abused Families," I would like to offer my sincere thanks and gratitude to Mr. Jim Devenport and Devenport Development.

Sincerely,

Kelly M. Elm

County 4-H Delegates Tour Washington D.C.

Five delegates represented Washington County at 4-H Citizenship Washington Focus this year. They were Katie Feutz, Cindy Gundrum, Jenny Hoefert, Maribeth Pauli and Anthony Schmoldt.

The group left on July 10 and returned home on the 18th. They traveled with a group of about 100 other delegates from the state of Wisconsin. Their trip took them on a charter bus from Madison through Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, and into the District of Columbia (Washington, D.C.)

The highlights of the trip included a tour of the battlefields at Gettysburg and a tour of the Washington, National Cathedral. There was also a night tour of Washington D.C. where the delegates viewed the Thomas Jefferson Memorial, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial and the Lincoln Memorial. A full day tour of the Capitol included the opportunity to speak with Wisconsin senators Herb Kohl and Russ Feingold.

Other sites seen by the group were the Smithsonian museums, Arlington National Cemetery, Iwo Jima Memorial, Mount Vernon, the new FDR Memorial, the Holocaust Museum Memorial and the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. While in D.C. the delegates stayed at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Maryland

At the Center the delegates experimented with their own mock government. The focus of the trip was on leadership and patriotism. The group witnessed first-hand the workings of government in our nation's capitol.

The Washington County delegates would especially like to thank the Washington County Farm Bureau, the 4-H Leaders Association, and Stan and Barb Shaw and Jim and Carol Oelhafen who sponsored this memorable trip.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

There once was a day, many years ago.
Dark, dreary and empty it was so.
Nothing held it in place, no potential was it worth-
Unpromised and unconvinced of a long awaited birth,
Until God saw, though, the place to come.
Worthwhile promises would make way before time was done.
He decided to give it all a chance,
For he knew the many achievements he'd enhance.
Something clever was to be told
If the shape of life would come to mold
Opening his eyes and non-rusting heart of gold,
He said, "Let there be light,"

for all the wonder he would hold.
Let there be light to take away your sorrow,
To enable clear insights of trusting tomorrows.
Let light shine brightly in your heart,
For you were meaningful right from the start.
When Light was established on his land,
More was done to make it grand.
All it took was some glorious love,
And whatever became was decided to be enough.
The lamp of the future, held up high and true,
Where eternal peace reigns in as sky so blue.
Everyday the sunrises with a believing desire
And sets with an accomplishment time has to acquire.

In the Service

Marine Pfc. Jason M. Gundrum, son of Leo R. and Sherri A. Gundrum of 7513 Neno Road, Allenton, recently completed the Motor Vehicle Operator Course at Marine Corps Detachment, Fort Leonard Wood, MO.

Gundrum acquired the specialty skills and technical ability necessary to operate light and medium tactical-wheeled vehicles during various field and convoy operations. Gundrum spent more than 1,800 hours of classroom instruction and practical application learning how to drive designated courses on and off road. He also conducted vehicle recoveries and inspections, simulated driving vehicles under blackout conditions and learned how to prepare operator, maintenance and accident forms.

Gundrum, a graduate of Kewaskum High School, joined the Marine Corps in December, 1997.

Kuehls, Commercial, Winners This Week at the 'Dome'

It was a beautiful night for baseball... (in spite of the fact someone stole my preferred parking spot). There was a gentle haze on the horizon... the smell of delicious hot dogs slow roasting over an open fire... the crackling sound of fresh salted in the shell peanuts being extricated... the snap of pop tops by vendors... the aroma of hot, melted butter being poured over huge kernels of puffy snow-white popcorn...

Of course, none of these things could be found at the Thiemerdome (except maybe for the snap of pop tops), but nevertheless, it was a beautiful night for baseball.

In the first game, Thiemer's ("always the bridesmaids") Sip and Snip took the lead after both teams, (Kuehl's and Thiemers... a classic matchup!) went scoreless for the first four innings. Both teams had some fine defensive play (that's a fancy way of saying neither team had any offense!) However, both teams did seem to hit the balls high in the air (must be the humidity) commonly known in the Thiemerdome as "can of corn" (don't ask me how they came up with this one... duh!) or in layman's terms, "high flies." (At least the layman calls a spade, a spade... call me stupid, but a ball that "flies high" in the air should be called "high fly" shouldn't it? Let's have some "Letters to the Editor" on this one, folks!)

In the bottom of the fifth, Thiemer's struck paydirt with a pair of singles which advanced Bob "DJ" Bonenfant home (yes, we did get another photo of Bob crossing homeplate, but we were strong-armed by the DJ who has his "lawyers" on standby alert prepared to silence the paparazzi permanently... if you get my drift... should we choose to run another classic photo. Perhaps we'll save the rest for an upcoming feature... after the season... Kodak Moments at the Thiemerdome... I truly have some great shots of almost all the players for this upcoming feature... it should also be noted I can be bribed with Bud Light!)

Back to the play-by-play. Jerry "Crazy Legs" Swartzkey followed "DJ" to the plate but in the sixth, Kuehl's started hitting ground balls into the gaps (and believe me, with these guys there's a ton of gaps!) and the Sudsers ended up with a four run rally on two outs to take over the lead.

Thiemer's Clayton "Hammer" Miller hit one to the permanent hole in the protective covering of the dome (or a double. It was then that the Sudser's Kurt "Pretty Boy" Schmidt, relief pitching for Alan "Moochie" Kuehl who had submitted to surgery the day before and was still a tad bit "sore,"

"I THINK I CAN... I THINK I CAN!" Read the book again, Richard. The scenic beauty of the Dome can be seen in the background as owner Richard Thiemer is determined to send the ball at least back to the pitcher. Umpire Dane Dorn isn't sure whether he dares call a strike on the owner who pays his big salary.

Bryan Olson, famed player of the Sip and Snippers, closely guards first base, just in case speedy Jim Gaffke decides to take off for second. It looks to us as if Jim is more concerned about getting that bee out of his shorts. For further explanation... ask Jim... or his wife!

Commercial Plumbing pitcher Lonny Borns pours on the steam (well... maybe lukewarm water) as he heads down the first baseline trying to outrun the "little pumpkin." Lonny's clutch hit this week was the catalyst (Word of the Week... look it up, Richard) to Commercial's win over the Hitching Post.

At the plate, it's Hitching Post ace, Paul Seymour, also known as a collector of fine cartoons. Paul's daring play (check his knees) almost pulled out a win for the Post. (Well, not really, but it sounds good, doesn't it??)

thiemerdome

threw a perfect pitch (well, perfect by these guys' standards) whacked by Bob Bonenfant to help put ducks on the pond. (Next week... I want a tour of this pond... I have yet to see the pond, much less the ducks!)

Team owner Richard T sacrificed (that's a fancy way of saying he made an out) to send Clayton home, and the Snippers only needed one more run to tie the game (dreamers). Luck ran out (or skill, whichever you choose to believe), for the Snippers when Bill "Quiet Man" (you really expect anyone to believe any member of the Kuehl's team is quiet???) Waether caught a deep shot from Mark "Doodles" Strobel to end the game, 4-3, with the Snippers again losing another close game. (Yeah... and if the bear wouldn't have stopped in the woods... yadda, yadda, yadda!)

In defense of the Snippers though (which really kills me to do) it must be noted that the team was playing without many of their starters... who, it is rumored, are holding out for bigger contracts. It is common knowledge that the agent for Tim and Larry are proclaiming to Thiemerdome management, "Show Me the MONEY!"

Of course, Independent Counsel for the Dome, Ken Starr, has stated a grand jury will investigate (as soon as they can find the time) because it is highly illegal to hold contract negotiations after the season has started and is so close to ending. (I think they commonly call that blackmail). It is sincerely hoped Tim and Larry will put money aside until the end of the season when normal contract negotiations will be settled... we hope!

On the brighter side for the Snippers, though, it was refreshing to see one of Kewaskum's finest back in uniform for the team. Rumor has it that the Snippers owner finally signed the contract to get Bob "Butzie" Buddenhagen back into cutoffs. Even though Bob may be a little rusty (check out the knees!), his leadership and veteran status will definitely help the team.

The second game of the doubleheader, found The Hitching Post and Commercial Plumbing playing one of the quickest game on record at the Dome. This game was over faster than you can say, "Hold my beer," or "Where's my glove."

There was no scoring until late in the game when the Post performed a classic double play. Fred "Short-stop" Bandle threw to second to Jerome "Go" Fehring, who threw to Ron "Hand" Nuoffer. That seemed to be the only highlight of the game. However, it should be noted, this really is a highlight, because a double play among all the Dome players is truly a rarity. I'm not saying these guys aren't talented... just a wee bit slower than normal.

Commercial also had several good defensive plays, and finally sent the big guns to the plate. The threesome of Dean "I Can Hit" Durow, Roger "Dodger"

Schneider and Steve "Wiener" Stern (who went two for three) got it all together on the bases, with a little help from Cal "Fire Chief" Steinert who brought "Dodger" home for the first run in the game. A sacrifice from Lonny "Surely" (and, don't call him Shirley) Borns was all Commercial needed to post a 2-0 win over the Post.

And that, folks, pretty much sums up the action at the Dome this week. The season is slowly drawing to a close... schools on and the evenings are getting shorter... you know how it gets with "older folks." Some of these guys have to go night-night when it gets dark! There is only one game left in the regular season (tonight) with one more makeup game that was rained out (in spite of the fact it didn't rain... bad call, Richard!) scheduled for August 26. Someone can use my preferred parking pass tonight, as duty calls and I must be elsewhere even though my heart will definitely be at the Dome. But do not fear... I have plenty of pictures for next week... and someone, please keep an eye on Richard... it's a dirty job... but someone has to do it!

And those of you who have an uncontrollable desire to bribe the paparazzi... keep my Bud Light cold... I'll be there next week to replenish my photo album.

Also, keep in mind the tension is mounting as the Second Annual World Serious-Less is drawing near.

EWSCA NEWS

(PLYMOUTH, WI) Greg Otte of Sheboygan Falls picked up his first feature victory since the 1994 season in the 30 lap Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Winged Super Modified main event at Sheboygan County Fair Park Saturday night.

Outside front row starter, Paul Pokorski of West Bend out dueled Otte, who started on the pole, to seize the lead in turn two of the initial lap. Pokorski built up an eight car length edge over Otte during the ensuing 13 circuits. On lap 14, sixth starter Gary Laack of Glenbeulah slipped underneath Otte to take over second place as the leaders began to thread their way through heavy lapped traffic.

Two laps later, Pokorski's car slid sideways along the front stretch before spinning to a stop in turn two to bring out the only yellow flag of the race. The second place Laack also retired to the pits during the caution period which gave the lead to Otte, who was running in third place before the yellow flag.

After the restart, Otte started to feel pressure from eighth starter Barry Maas of Cascade beginning on lap 26. However, the 13th year driver held off the hard charging Maas along the high groove to record his fourth career EWSC Winged Super Modified feature win.

The victory was Otte's first at the Sheboygan County Fair Park track since August 6, 1994. Maas was second, ninth starter Tim McMullen of Plymouth placed third, Jim DePagner of Sheboygan Falls took fourth and Plymouth's Chuck Melis finished fifth after starting 10th.

Howie Weiss of Glenbeulah racked up his second feature triumph of the season in the 25th lap Limited Late Model main event. John Dirks of Elkhart Lake notched his second victory of the season in the 20 lap Super Stock feature.

Chuck Tuschl of Cato was victorious in the 15 lap Winged super Modified semi-feature. Tim Carman of Sheboygan won the 15 lap Limited Late Model semi-feature and point leader Brian Gilles of Elkhart Lake took the checkered flag in the 15 lap Super Stock semi-feature.

A census taker knocked on the door of a backwoods shack. An old-timer came out and asked him what he wanted.

"The government sent me to find out how many people live in the United States," he replied.

"I'm sorry you came all the way out here to ask me," said the hillbilly, "cause I don't have the faintest idea."

The New York Yankees' first home field was Oriole Park in Baltimore, not related to the current Camden Yards facility. They played there as the Baltimore Orioles in 1901 and 1902 before the American League shifted the franchise to New York for the 1903 season.
