The new building at 1224 Fond du Lac Avenue is the office of American Family Insurance agent Randy Gust. The office officially opened for business on Oct. 27, the 15th wedding anniversary for Randy and his wife Lynn.

"The idea to build at this location came to me last year on Dec. 1 when I saw the car dealership sign go down" said Randy. "I thought the corner lot would make a good location for my business."

Randy was raised in Kewaskum. He graduated from Kewaskum High School and from Moraine Park Technical College. He started with American Family Insurance in July of 1985.

"The building and its location gives me a professional office to handle the needs of my customers," Randy said. "I have off the street parking in the back of the building and plenty of room to meet the needs of my customers. The new building is everything I expected and is easy to find in Kewaskum."

Randy and his wife were married on Oct. 27, 1984. They have two children David, 12 and Andrea 10. They are active members in St. Lucas Lutheran Church. Randy coaches the St. Lucas basketball team and serves on several boards.

"I welcome my customers and those looking to update their insurance or review the plans they now hold to come in and see me or make an appointment with my office assistant Cindy Strassburg, who has worked for me since 1991."

Writers often get ideas for their work from thoughts, dreams, worries and real-life experiences. Teresa Piercey is just one of those kinds of people. She is an accomplished author of poetry, novels, songs and active in teaching others how to get their work published.

Teresa was born in Independence Missouri and as a toddler moved with her family to Texas, where she grew up. She came from a large family and like many from the south, married very young at the age of 14. After the birth of one baby, by the time she was 18, doctors told her she could not have any more children. The thought of only one child was not in her dreams. She proceeded to adopt a family of four siblings, ranging in age from 3 to 14. By the time the adoption papers were final she had another baby of her own.

"Doctors are not always right," said Teresa. "I love children and after a divorce and another marriage with stepchildren, I had lots of them. There are three that I had, in the total of 16 children, and I also have 19 grandchildren and

Veteran's Day Ceremony at High School

Everyone is welcome to attend this ceremony. They are inviting Veterans, Gold Star mothers, members of the VFW and American Legion, and all members of the Kewaskum community, young and old.

Guest speaker will be Gunnery Sergeant Litaker, Marine Corps recruiter from West Bend.

Referendum Finally PASSES

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

Parents of students going to Kewaskum Elementary, Wayne Elementary and Farmington Elementary told School Board members they need a change. That change included additions and remodeling at WES and FES and a new KES and administrative building.

Voters gave their approval to borrow $11,700,000 in general obligation bonds to fund this project.

"The success we had was for the kids. Only the town of Scott voted not to approve. Every other township and village supported the referendum which is a change from the two referendums that failed. Anytime you have a 63%-37% margin it indicates an informed public and support for the kids." said Wayne Graczyk, Kewaskum Superintendent of Schools.

Construction is scheduled to start almost immediately.

A total of 2357 votes were cast within the school district. The results of the election are as follows:

Village of Kewaskum: Total voter turn out- 715; yes- 552, no- 163.

Town of Kewaskum: Total voter turn out- 277; yes- 171, no- 106.

Town of Farmington: Total voter turn out- 569; yes- 379, no- 190.

Town of Wayne: Total voter turn out- 310; yes- 186, no- 124.

Town of Barton: Total voter turn out- 67; yes- 43, no-24.

Town of Auburn: Total voter turn out- 188; yes- 107, no- 81.

Town of Scott/Mitchell: Total voter turn out- 231; yes- 47, no- 184.

Christmas Parade Theme Announced

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce the date for the annual Christmas Parade will be Sunday, December 5, at 5 p.m.

big family. It never mattered to me if they were adopted or mine by marriage, they are still my children."

As a young child Teresa enjoyed writing. She recalls spending hours putting her thoughts down on paper and creating poems about things that were going on in her own life.

"My inspiration came from both Erma Bombeck and my mother," said Teresa. "I enjoyed reading Erma's column and bought all of her books. She had a down to earth way of looking at life. My mother enjoyed reading whatever I wrote and encouraged me to keep at it. She helped give me the push to move forward and get my work published. I knew when I was just a child I wanted to be a writer. I studied Journalism in college at Weatherford, Texas, but unfortunately never finished. I would really like to go back to school someday."

Teresa has published books under both her name and has written many as a ghostwriter. She has written lyrics for artists and sold them outright to a company who in turn works with an artist who records them. In that case the company name goes on the CD and all royalties go to the company. Country stars including Reba McEntire, JoDee Macina, Sherrie Austin and Mary Sue Englund have recorded some of the lyrics that she wrote.

"A ghost writer comes up with the idea, writes the story and sells it to an accomplished writer who then has it published and basically gets all of the credit for your work," said Teresa. "The same thing happens with songs sold outright to companies. I have some that have come up for Emmy Awards, but my name isn't there. I no longer sell outright. It is one of those lessons I have learned. The little bit of money I received for a song and it then becomes a multi-million dollar song, is heartbreaking."

To get into the business, whether it is publishing songs or novels, is tough. That is the reason many writers are ghostwriters or sell their work outright without the royalties. No one ever knows what is going to be successful until it happens.

Teresa is a Native American who has beaten cancer twice. She writes music lyrics, poetry and currently enjoys writing Historical and Inspirational Romance novels. Over the years she has authored several books, songs and newspapers articles. She has her own fan club from her accomplished works.

"My most enthusiastic fan is from right here in Milwaukee, Wisconsin," Teresa said. "She is pretty much the reason for me coming here at all. She used to tell me about how beautiful it was here and how friendly the people were. I came here originally to research a Christian Romance Novel about a woman that I was working on. I only planned on staying in Wisconsin for about a month."

Teresa was staying in Sturtevant and her sister was there with her. After her sister moved to Kewaskum and Teresa came to visit, she fell in love with the area.

"I really like the atmosphere here," Teresa said. "I am not a big city girl and Kewaskum is the kind of place I'd like to spend the rest of my life. The sister I followed is one that I had searched for. I knew she existed but didn't know where she was. My father had divorced her mother when she was just a child. I tracked her down in Jackson, Tennessee and at the time moved her and her husband in with me, and my family, in Texas. We all lived together for awhile. Hours were spent catching up and discovering how much alike we really were."

Both Teresa and her sister lost their husbands only two weeks apart in 1992. One of Teresa's children got mixed up with the wrong crowd about that same time and was sentenced to prison for murder.

"I had a rough time getting through those months," said Teresa. "I wrote to survive. It was a time to soul search and seek the answers to why so many things were going wrong. I lost one of my adopted children too. He had been born with an enlarged heart and never was expected to live beyond the age of 16. Lee lived a full life with racing cars, participating in rodeos, married and had a little girl named BJ. He died at the age of 22 when his heart actually exploded. Shortly after that his little girl was diagnosed with brain cancer. My life is really no different than anyone else's with the ups and downs."

Teresa chose to travel the country and speak to teens about peer pressure and how not to give in to others just to fit into the 'popular crowd'. She wrote several poems to put her thoughts on paper and help her cope with the feelings of despair she herself was feeling.

She continues to use happenings in her own life to write much of her work. She wrote a poem "For the Love of Wisconsin," that recently won first place in a contest and got her inducted into the Poetry Hall of Fame.

Teresa Piercey is a lady of many interests including hiking, camping, photography, fishing, boating, horseback riding, playing bingo, animals and amusement parks.

"I enjoy snuggling by a warm fire and watching a good movie," said Teresa. "I look forward to trying my hand at tubing this winter, but I admit that I am not fond of winter driving. I recently attended the Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolers and dressed in full regalia. It was such a wonderful event that I felt comfortable being a part of." She has a special place in her heart for charities like the Scottish-Rite Hospital, a children's hospital funded by donations and the Mighty Eighth Air Force in Pooler, Georgia.

"Everyone has importance," said Teresa. "We all have a story to tell and we are capable of giving back to others. I generate much of my time to help others not make the mistakes I have made and help prevent some of the tragedies that my family has experienced."

Teresa wants to share her knowledge in how to put your thoughts on paper and the process of getting written material published. She is heading up the Kewaskum Poetry Group and Writers Forum. Meetings are held the first and third Tuesday of the month, from 6-8 p.m. at the library.

"Wisconsin is a beautiful state," said Teresa. "I plan on staying right here in Kewaskum and contributing to the community in whatever ways I am able. I have many ideas on things I want to write about and have a novel I have been trying to finish. I am really just a down to earth person trying to live my life the best I can, not unlike anyone else. Kewaskum is now home and I welcome my knowledge to anyone interested."

Kewaskum Native, Sr. Czaja, and Fond du Lac Red Cross Worker Meet Assisting Flood Victims in Tarboro, NC

Thousands of residents were left homeless as flood waters rushed through the streets of Tarboro, North Carolina as an aftermath of Hurricane Floyd.

For most of us, Hurricane Floyd has become a past memory of a hurricane that didn't happen. For Sister Mary Ann Czaja, a native of Kewaskum, and a member of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Agnes, the aftermath of flooding is a daily experience.

Without warning, flood waters came rushing through the community of Tarboro, North Carolina, where Sister Mary Ann has lived and worked as a Director of Tarboro Community Outreach since 1986.

"We just don't have the radio and TV connections that people are used to in Wisconsin. Within a matter of minutes, flooding was waist high and by late afternoon people had to be rescued by boat and helicopter. We were all caught off guard. The dike that protects our community couldn't hold when the dam was opened."

Pets, cars and houses were literally swept away. "I have always worked among the poor, these people had so little to begin with and now truly they have nothing," said Sister Mary Ann.

Tarboro High School was made into a shelter where 2,000 people came. Sister Mary Ann commented, "for me, the heartache as I walked among them was I knew so many of them. I felt so helpless. As a social worker, I could do nothing -- there weren't cots or clothes, and we even ran out of food. All I could do was to offer to give back rubs -- no one refused."

The Red Cross Disaster Relief Services arrived on the third day. And so did Sherrie Wittkopf, a disaster relief volunteer from Fond du Lac. "The residents kept saying, there was another woman who was a Sister who looked just like me. When Sister Mary Ann and I met, I asked her where she was from -- she said, "oh, a small town in Wisconsin, which you probably never heard of." When she said Fond du Lac, I couldn't believe it. It was an incredible moment, two women from the same town trying to help people in a poor southern town."

"For me, working as a relief volunteer is a wonderful experience. The people in Tarboro were so grateful for what we were able to do for them. Many of them said they didn't have a home or a car, but they had their lives and they felt blessed. It's a humbling moment to know I was there and made life a little easier," stated Sherrie. The aftermath of recovering from flooding is horrendous. Weeks later people are still living in temporary campers and trying to get their lives back together. For Sister Mary Ann, running a food pantry, soup kitchen and two homeless shelters, it will never be the same. "So much needs to be done. Daily, I am meeting with people who need emergency funds to pay utility bills, medical care and food. We do what we can. I feel so helpless and sometimes just listening to their story is what I can offer," stated Sister Mary Ann.

"We face another stressful situation with the arrival of Hurricane Irene. The potential for additional flooding makes everyone, once again, fearful," said Sister Mary Ann.

A special relief fund has been set up for the Tarboro Community Outreach Program through the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Agnes at 1755 E. Johnson Street, Fond du Lac.

Abigail Rose Bingen Baptized

Abigail Rose Bingen

The members of Holy Trinity Catholic Church celebrated the Holy Baptism of Abigail Rose Bingen on Sunday, October 10. Father Elroy Pesch was the celebrant and brought little Abi to her faith during the 9 a.m. Mass.

Parents, seniors of all ages, toddlers and teenagers sang in prayer for little Abi. However, Abi cried out a little louder, while being blessed with the Holy Water. The choir will someday need Abi's "lead voice."

Abi's parents are Tim and Amy Bingen of Kewaskum. They also have another daughter, Hannah, who is two-and-one-half years old.

Tim's parents are Dennis and Suzanne of Kewaskum. Also present were Deb and Jim Smucker, Tim's sister and brother-in-law of Kewaskum.

Parents of Amy are Wayne and Rosemary of the Newburg area.

Abi's sponsors were Dan Bingen, Tim's brother, and Janet Seideman, Amy's cousin.

Also joining in the celebration was Abi's great-grandpa, Ray Seideman, who is 96 years old and Abi's great-grandma from the sunshine state of California, and is 86 years old.

Another local crafter that is unique in her own right, is artist Arlene Landess. Just stopping in at her booth lets you imagine yourself in one of her beautiful handpainted scenes. Arlene promises a wide variety of items to look at or take along home.

Deb Theisen of Kewaskum has been busy creating a wide assortment of novelty crafts, such as her air freshener bunnies. If you're after a certain theme, such as the Green Bay Packers, you must check out Deb's booth.

After all that shopping you will probably be hungry. Stop in by Earl and Marie and they will be glad to cook up something delicious for you to munch on. Still have room for dessert? Be sure to stop by the Kettle Kountry Twirlers

THANKS TO ST. JUDE

Local Rail Author to Lecture at UWWC

West Bend writer Jim Scribbins will lecture Tuesday evenings at the Washington County campus of University of Wisconsin. Sessions are scheduled November 9, 16, and 23, 7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

His illustrated discussions will center on what railroads do and how they accomplish their goals. He will discuss railroad history in Wisconsin, focusing on the southeastern portion of the state and particularly on Washington County. The course will include his personal experience on the Talgo: the trains just announced for Wisconsin travelers as part of the Midwest regional Rail Initiative. Through photography, participants will go behind the scenes for an inside look at railroading.

Items of Washington country railroad lore include a track-layers' riot near Ackerville over a century ago, a Richfield native who became chief executive of a major railroad, a mail train derailment at Kewaskum in the Roaring Twenties, and the fleet of streamlined passenger trains which served West Bend.

Jim Scribbins is the author of four books featuring railroading in Wisconsin and his fifth is now in preparation.

To register for the course, phone the University: 335-5236. The fee is $30.00

The series provides an overview of railroading, a more detailed description of Wisconsin railroad history and will give special attention to railroads in Washington County. Slides and other illustrative material will help the participants understand the role of modern railroads entering the Twenty-first century: the purposes of railroads and how they go about reaching their goals. Badger State rails will be examined from a historical viewpoint: from the Milwaukee & Mississippi to the new Wisconsin Central. Learn about a tracklayers' riot near Ackerville over a century ago, a mail train derailment at Kewaskum in the Roaring Twenties, a Washington County man who became chief executive of a major railroad, and the fleet of streamliners which served West Bend. Included will be slides of Jim's personal experience riding the Talgo train just announced for Wisconsin travelers as part of the Midwest Regional Rail Initiative.

Instructor Jim Scribbins was with The Milwaukee Road nearly forty years, and has authored award-winning railroad books dealing principally with Wisconsin. He has lectured about railroads for the UW System since 1993.

Only two people signed the Declaration of Independence on July 4th, John Hancock and Charles Thomson. Most of the rest signed on August 2, but the last signature wasn't added until 5 years later.

United Way at 75%

The United Way of Washington County campaign has announced that as of October 29, the campaign passed the 75 percent mark, with $814,792 in gifts and pledges counted towards the county-wide goal of $1,080,000.

"We are happy with the efforts to date, and thank our volunteers and donors for the results thus far," said Mo Josten, Chairman of this year's area campaign.

A number of divisions are already at or above the 75 percent mark: Accountants and Business Services, Professional Specialties, Washington County Employees, Special Gifts, Hartford, Kewaskum, Jackson and Key Firms. Other divisions are also doing well as fund raising efforts continue.

According to Josten, "Our campaign theme of 'Give Help, Give Hope' is reflected in the results of donor dollars, which enables our agencies to deliver effective and efficient programs and services. One out of four individuals in the County has used or will use a United Way-funded service sometime in his or her life. Our campaign volunteers have also taken the 'help' and 'hope' message to heart," she said. "We compliment them on their efforts to help us raise funds and favorably impact thousands of lives here in Washington County."

If businesses or individuals are interested in contributing to the fund drive, please call the United Way office at 338-3821.

THINK OF US AS PERSONAL TRAINERS (FOR YOUR HOUSE)

Before spending the time and money on your next home improvement project, make sure your house spends some time with a personal fitness trainer — a HouseWorks™ contractor. By using the simple, low-cost HouseWorks inspection, your house can be more comfortable, more energy efficient, and safer.

A HouseWorks contractor has been trained to treat your house as a whole system. They know how air flow downstairs affects comfort upstairs, how heating and cooling systems affect drafts, and where drafts are best stopped.

A thorough home inspection conducted by a HouseWorks contractor will benefit your house in these four main home improvement areas:

- heating & cooling projects
- remodeling: additions, renovations, general projects, and installing or adding insulation
- a general home efficiency check-up
- problems that are symptoms of poor air flow: high energy bills, drafts, hot and/or cold rooms, hard-to-heat areas, exterior ice build-up, fog or condensation on windows

The basic HouseWorks inspection includes: a blower door test to measure the amount and location of air leaking into or out of your home; an insulation test; a carbon monoxide test; a gas-fired equipment test; and a chimney draft test. Other energy-saving services are also available.

Working Together Produces Big Pumpkins

In the KES courtyard, fifth graders check the progress on the pumpkins they planted with first graders last year as part of the two classes' Big/Little Buddy program last year.

Written by Allison Kimble, Anna Rick and Tristin Wright
Mrs. Rankin's Grade 4-5

What started out as a Big/Little Buddy project during the 98-99 school year has transformed the courtyard of the Kewaskum Elementary School into a Pumpkin Patch.

Mrs. Rankin's and Mrs. Kasten's classes were Big and Little Buddies and decided to make a garden. With lots of help from parents we started by clearing everything out of the area, raked and worked the soil and planted what we thought would be a small pumpkin patch. We also planted wild flowers and sunflowers. After all of the planting was completed we piled and spread the wood chips and mulch.

Over the summer the garden grew, a lot!

Everything was beautiful and there were pumpkins, pumpkins everywhere that got very orange. The courtyard has two metal sculptures that were designed and made by art classes that looked really nice with the pumpkins growing around them.

Recently a bird bath was added thanks to a generous donation by Wal Mart. We love it!

First grade Little Buddy Matt Ballard examines a fresh-out-of-the-chrysalis Monarch butterfly among the wildflowers of the Kewaskum Elementary School courtyard as fifth grade Big Buddy Zack Parish looks on. The wildflowers were planted last year by Mrs. Rankin's Grade 4/5 class and their Little Buddies in Mrs. Kasten's first grade.

Progress Report on Waterbody Classification Efforts in County

The Washington County Code Revision Working Group continues to make steady progress on the Washington County Waterbody Classification Study.

In conjunction with the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, UW-Extension, County Attorney, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources and the Land Use and Park Department, the work group is in the process of compiling all available surface water resource information into one comprehensive reference document.

This is the first time that an effort of this nature has been undertaken in the county.

A substantial amount of raw data is being developed for Chapters One through Three for the classification study. This information is being provided on a town by town basis so that it will be available to the individual towns as they complete land use planning efforts in the future.

It is the intent of the county that all the information compiled during this process will serve as a resource for other purposes beyond the scope of this project.

Chapter One will serve as the background information of the Waterbody Classification Program from the legislative efforts to the development of the related administrative code. It also references numerous plans and studies that have been completed within the county related to the surface water resources.

Chapter Two addresses the physical description, climate and land use factors impacting the water resources in the county. This includes tables that identify soils, topography, precipitation and runoff data. It also shows the historic urban growth in the county and the existing land uses. The tables also identify the critical wildlife species habitats and natural areas in the county.

Chapter Three identifies the findings relating to the physical characteristics of the water bodies within the county. This data will be assessed and a determination will be made if new data gathering will be necessary to complete the analysis.

Anyone interested in reviewing this information should contact the land use division and ask to talk to Herbert Wolf. It is recommended that you call in and schedule an appointment. Public input on these chapters will be encouraged at future public meetings with the dates and locations to be determined.

The afternoon will be filled with health presentations, educational booths, free health screenings and demonstrations, $10 flu shots, refreshments and great gifts. Following are a few highlights:

Grin and Bear it? -- Tens of millions of Americans suffer from chronic pain. Chronic pain can range from mild and inconvenient to excruciating and incapacitating. However, people with pain no longer have to "grin and bear it." An Advanced Healthcare physician specializing in pain management will discuss treatment options and offer tips on various therapies to help patients cope with their conditions.

Managing Migraines -- 240 million people throughout the world suffer from migraine headaches. Women are three times more likely than men to suffer from migraines. In the last decade, much has been learned about the causes, treatment and even prevention of migraines. Arthur Kurlanzik, M.D., a board certified neurologist and psychiatrist, will discuss the latest findings in migraine research as well as the newest medicines and treatment options available.

Healing Herbs and Soy -- Complimentary medicine is no longer a fad and has joined traditional medicine as an effective way to treat and prevent many illnesses. In recent years, various studies have shown that soy, soy products, antioxidants and herbs can help reduce the risk of developing heart disease, various cancers, including breast, colon and endometrial cancer, and other illnesses. Advanced Healthcare's Educational Services team will discuss the benefits of these products and ways to include them in your diet.

Thank You Hon-E-Kor

The girls golf teams from Kewaskum High School would like to thank the owners and management of Hon-E-Kor Golf Course for the hospitality they showed us during our recent golf season.

Hon-E-Kor allowed us to use the course on a daily basis for our practices and allowed us to host several meets. Their support of our program has promoted the game of golf for our students.

The members of the Junior Varsity and Varsity Golf teams, as well as the coaches, Carol Martin and Jim Westphal, appreciate all they have done for us.

Public Forum On Land Use in Drumlin Region

Is farming important in your area? Do you feel local government should control development in the drumlin hills region? Should wildlife habitat be preserved? These were some of the questions 300 area residents within the drumlin regions of southern Fond du Lac and northwest Washington County were asked in April of 1999.

The results are now in. Survey respondents were from the towns of Ashford, Eden, Marshfield, Empire, Forest and Wayne. The landscape in these communities is dominated by glacial landforms called drumlins which tend to be clustered in limited areas or "fields." The phone survey was sponsored by the Fond du Lac County University of Wisconsin Extension.

The results will be presented at an open public forum at the Eden Community Center. The agenda will include glacial history, local perspectives and the actual survey results. Do you have an issue? There will also be an issue discussion session for the last half hour of the forum.

The forum will run from 7:30 to 9 p.m. It is sponsored by Fond du Lac University of Wisconsin Extension, Fond du Lac County Land Conservation Department, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources and the Drumlin Protection Alliance.

For more information about the forum contact Jim Hovland at UW-Extension at (920) 929-3173.

Winter Road Condition Report Available 24 Hours

The Washington County Sheriff's Department reminds county residents that information on winter road conditions can be obtained by telephone 24 hours a day.

Persons with a touchtone phone can call the department at 335-4378 and push '3' during the recorded greeting. The information is based on reports from sheriff's deputies in the field and is updated as needed. Regional information is included during major storms.

Persons without a touchtone phone are encouraged to listen to local radio stations, which cooperate with the department to broadcast road information at frequent intervals.

Using these services reduces the number of phone calls to department dispatchers, keeping both phone lines and personnel available for the emergency calls which escalate during snowfall.

James Gordon Bennett is considered the father of the present-day American newspaper. He was a reporter, who founded and edited the New York Herald in 1835.

Veterans Day Reflects Common Bond of Service

By Alan G. Lance, Sr.

What is it about America's veterans that brings us together on Veterans Day? Are we living in the past - attempting to capture a fleeting moment in time that has long since past? Certainly not!

What brings veterans together for Veterans Day is a bond formed in uniform. It is the bond that is entwined within our hearts and minds, which is simply stated: I shall not fail those with whom I serve.

It has been more than a quarter century since the guns fell silent in Vietnam. Longer still for Korea - and nearly a lifetime for World War II. Yet, that bond of military service - which transcends the years - compels us to come together and keep the faith with those with whom we served.

This final Veterans Day of the 20th century will include observances with the youngest generation of veterans, the men and women of the Persian Gulf War. These are Americans who sacrificed for others. These are Americans who continue to serve us in uniform. These are Americans who will gather on many more Veterans Days because they also feel that common bond.

As young American military member spend this day deployed to Kosovo, Bosnia, Iraq, at-sea and in distant remote locations, it is appropriate for all of us as a nation to take the time to say 'thank you.'

Ironically, this Veterans Day comes on the heels of a disclosure by the Pentagon that a drug given our troops might cause Gulf War Illness. It is tragic that it took nearly a decade to make this discovery. Without a common bond between veterans, compelling them to keep the pressure on our government, there would have been no studies. It is this common bond that compels us to continue to struggle to find answers for what is right and demand that our nation provide a strong veterans health care system for those who gave so much when called upon. As veterans we have kept our bond of service to our nation. As veterans we ask that our government keep faith with us.

That is why we gather on this Veterans Day. That is why all Americans should gather with veterans this day. For America's veterans are a special group of men and women - bonded through service, committed to the future.

Alan G. Lance, Sr., is the national commander of the 2.8 million - member American Legion and the attorney general for Idaho.

Readers are invited to visit The American Legion Internet website at www.legion.org for information on veterans' issues and the many programs of the nation's largest veterans organization. The site features sending a free, musical e-mail card to a favorite veteran.

Filling Health Insurance Gaps for Working Families

West Bend, WI -- Brenda Hicks-Sorensen has worked tirelessly throughout the Summer and early Fall to help spread the word about a new state-sponsored health insurance program called BadgerCare. Brenda is the Community Outreach Coordinator for Catholic Charities in Washington county, part of a team of organizations informing county residents about what is now available to them.

Brenda's responsibilities include providing in-service training to professionals and other agencies that work with income eligible families. In addition, Brenda provides initial applications and consultation to people who visit donated health services, WIC and immunization clinics and want to learn more about BadgerCare.

Getting the word out about BadgerCare is a challenge but one Brenda thoroughly enjoys. "BadgerCare is wonderful. Its features make it different than previous state and federal health assistance programs. It's marvelous to see the smiles on people's faces when they find out that BadgerCare will cover pre-existing conditions and it has no asset limit," said Hicks-Sorensen.

According to Hicks-Sorensen, visits to places where low-income people gather helps families. "I'm right there with the initial application...if we talk about their needs and situation we can get the process started right away," said Brenda.

Hicks-Sorensen stated that in order for families to be eligible for BadgerCare there must be a child under the age of 19 living in the home; they must not have current access to health care; and they must have income within the guideline limits.

"We encourage people to call and discuss their situation. Income guidelines are just that, guidelines. There are many exceptions with this program. So, to say that for a family of three the income limit is $25,678 per year, and for a family of four the income limit is $30,895 per year, does not tell the entire story," said Brenda.

BadgerCare fills the gap between Medicaid and private health insurance companies to compliment other state programs. "Like private health insurance there may be premiums to be paid monthly -- depending on income. The first month is free with BadgerCare then premiums are based on income, usually between $30-60 per month versus $300-600 per month for a family covered by private insurance," said Hicks-Sorensen.

One of the goals of BadgerCare is to compliment W-2. Many families have a difficult time providing healthcare coverage when they are just getting into the job market, changing jobs or receiving low wages. "BadgerCare helps encourage families to be employed and self-sufficient. It's beginning to bring relief to the more than 67,000 parents and their children who have no health care coverage in Wisconsin. In Washington County, as many as 240 families, over 600 people, lack health care insurance coverage," said Brenda.

"BadgerCare opens the healthcare door for a lot more people than other state programs. It is a state health insurance program that works for working families," said Hicks-Sorensen. For more information in Washington County residents should Client Registration at 335-4677.

This information is distributed through a cooperative and collaborative partnership effort involving Washington County Department of Social Services,

Washington County Health Department, Workforce Development Center and Catholic Charities. The focus of this outreach is to identify and inform Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) eligible families in Washington County of the availability of BadgerCare health insurance as well as the availability of child care subsidies, food stamp assistance and career development training opportunities.

Kirst Builders Partners with EPA's ENERGY STAR Homes Program

Kewaskum WI: Kirst Builders is proud to announce that they have recently joined the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) ENERGY STAR HOMES Program. This voluntary, market based program is part of the family of ENERGY STAR Programs jointly sponsored by EPA and the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE).

By building ENERGY STAR HOMES, and offering them with preferred financing, builders increase their profitability by creating product differentiation and improved customer satisfaction. Homeowners who purchase ENERGY STAR homes realize lower costs on utility bills and improve interior comfort. ENERGY STAR home owners are also well prepared for the future--in addition to saving tens of thousands of dollars over the life of a mortgage, ENERGY STAR Homes can be positioned for higher resale value with less obsolescent building technologies and equipment.

With technical, marketing, and communications support from the ENERGY STAR Homes Program, builders like Kirst Builders are constructing homes that are at least 30% more energy efficient than the national Model Energy Code, which is equivalent to a Home Energy Rating System (HERS) Five-Star Home. Typical energy saving features that characterize an ENERGY STAR Home include more advanced insulation, tight construction, sealed ducts, high-performance windows, and high-efficiency heating and cooling equipment.

ENERGY STAR Homes Program Manager, Sam Rashkin commented, "the environmental leadership of companies like Kirst Builders are helping to show that the public/private partnerships can work and that everyone, from the builders and developers to the American consumers and home buyers can participate and benefit."

Responsibility is the other side of privilege.

Prepare For Disasters

(NAPS)—Many families prepare plans to protect themselves in case of an emergency or natural disaster. However, some may forget to include their pets—but being prepared could help save many animal lives.

When creating a family emergency plan, be sure to include the family pets.

The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) recommends a three-step plan for making sure your animal friends are ready to weather the storm with you.

1. Have a safe place to take your pets. Check hotels and motels for their pet acceptance policies. Ask friends and relatives about sheltering your pet. Also check boarding facilities and, as a last resort, animal shelters.

2. Assemble a portable pet disaster kit. Be sure to include medications, medical records, leashes, current pet photos, food, water, bowls and a can opener, and other essentials.

3. Know what to do as a disaster approaches. Call ahead to confirm shelter arrangements, get supplies together, bring all pets into the house and make sure pets are wearing collars, and identification tags.

Planning will enable you to evacuate with your pets quickly and safely.

AAA Offers Tips to Avoid Run-Ins With Deer

The peak season for vehicle-deer crashes is here, and AAA Wisconsin has tips to help motorists avoid costly run-ins with one or more of 1.6 million deer inhabiting the state.

"Last year was the fourth worst year in state history in terms of injuries and deaths caused by vehicle-deer crashes, with five fatalities and 783 injuries reported," said AAA Wisconsin spokesman Michael Bie.

A total of 19,595 vehicle-deer crashes were reported during 1998.

Experts believe the number of reported crashes pales in comparison with the number of vehicle-deer crashes that go unreported.

"The actual number of vehicle-deer crashes is double the reported figure and perhaps as high as 50,000," Bie said.

Total economic impact from the property damage along in the last decade stands at more than $412 million in losses.

In recent decades, vehicle-deer collisions as well as the number of persons injured or killed in vehicle-deer crashes have increased dramatically. At the same time, the deer population has grown from an estimated 500,000 in 1962 to 1.6 million today.

"Seeing deer in Wisconsin may be a pretty sight, but it's not as breathtaking as the sight of a deer coming through your windshield," Bie said.

AAA Wisconsin offers motorists the following tips to avoid vehicle-deer crashes:

- Be extra vigilant at dawn and dusk, times of the day when deer tend to move.
- Scan sides of the road, paying particular attention to headlights reflecting in the deer's eyes.
- If one deer is spotted, more are likely to be nearby.
- If deer are spotted, flash headlights and honk the car horn to flush the animals away from the road.

• If deer are in the road, do not take evasive action such as hard-breaking or swerving. If stopping your vehicle is not possible, it is better to hit the deer than to cross the center line or leave the roadway.

AAA Wisconsin is a not-for-profit membership organization offering travel, insurance, financial and auto-related services to more than 558,000 members statewide through 14 office locations.

The most-visited house museum is Elvis Presley's Graceland, in Memphis, Tennessee. It's seen by more than 600,000 people per year.

Mueller and Byer Neck and Neck At Fillmore National Grass Drags

By Janelle Byer

In the valleys of south-western Wisconsin, just north of West Bend, about 150 motorcrossers, hill-climbers, flat trackers and any other type of motorcycle racers you could think of, gathered to compete in the Fillmore National Grass Drags.

The "Ozaukee Guzzlers" provided the workers while the Fillmore Sportsman's Club supplied the flat area needed to hold the drags. Behind the track, there was a typical sea of Wisconsin Harley Davidson riders that you could get lost in, who came to watch the event.

This was my first grass drags, so all the air shifters, full fledged drag cycles, and huge tires amazed me. The participants raced side by side down the 100 yard track. The race format consisted of two rounds of double elimination, and the first round winners were able to lose twice in the second round before not being able to win the class.

Local rider from Kewaskum, Lloyd "Toby" Mueller, was one of the main competitors in the first round. In the Open class, Mueller took his Hillclimb National number one Harley Davidson to the front of the pack. For first place, Mueller met Waseca, Minnesota's and fellow hillclimber, Dave Byer.

After the run, Mueller came in second, but because he was the first round winner in the Open class, and he was undefeated until then, he got a second shot at Byer. With an amazing ride, Mueller took first place and secured his place in the Top Eliminator.

At the end of the day, the top three in each class competed for, as the announcers put it, "all the money" in the Top Eliminator. Mueller once again worked his way up to the top on his Harley, and just like the Open Class, met Byer and his 1100 Suzuki. During the final run, Byer red lighted, automatically giving the prize money to Mueller.

But, out of good sportsmanship, Mueller challenged Byer to a return. The Harley crowd's cheers were deafening as the riders lined up at the line. The race was close, but it was Mueller who prevailed to take the day's top honor. Mueller also went on to win the 251cc-550cc class.

All of the ATV classes were held in the morning, except for the Open ATV class. In this class most of the participants drove a half motorcycle and half ATV three wheeler. One of the three wheelers that caught my eye was the one belonging to Shawn Steffens. It was amazing to see the speeds that they could reach.

I also heard that the S and S Racing Team, Steffens' racing team, had set a few of the land records on the three wheelers. It was clearly possible at the speeds they were traveling. Shawn took first place hands down in the Open ATV class.

From my first dragging experience, I can simply say wow! The event was efficiently run, the people were friendly and accommodating, and most important, it was fun. I would specially like to thank Randy Kritz, the founder of the Fillmore National Grass Drags, for heading me towards the right people for my information, and congratulations on your second place in the 750 class.

Santa 'Paws' Coming to West Bend

Santa will be coming to Pet Stuff on Saturday, Nov. 13 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. thanks to Pet Stuff pet store and Portrait's Today. Pet owners will have two options to choose from this year. They can either get one polaroid snapshot of their pet with Santa for a donation. Or they can get a photo Christmas card and 3-4 pictures of their pet with Santa along with any family members for $15.00. Reprints will be available from Portrait's Today for the $15 option.

Anyone interested in making a reservation for the $15.00 photo sitting, can call the Shelter at 677-4388. Walk-ins are welcome but preference will be given those who make an appointment.

The runners had to battle against the windy and cold wather conditions during the races.

In the Girl's team competition Ripon won with a low total of 51 points. Chilton finished a distant second with 111 points. Kewaskum finished 11th out of 19 teams with 271 points. Overall winner for the Girls 4 kilometer race was Ripon's Laura Devine in 15:38.

Indians Shut Out by Cougars in Playoffs

The Indians center, Adam Sauer, #76 prepares to hike the football back to the quarterback as Cougar defenders point out last minute defensive instructions.

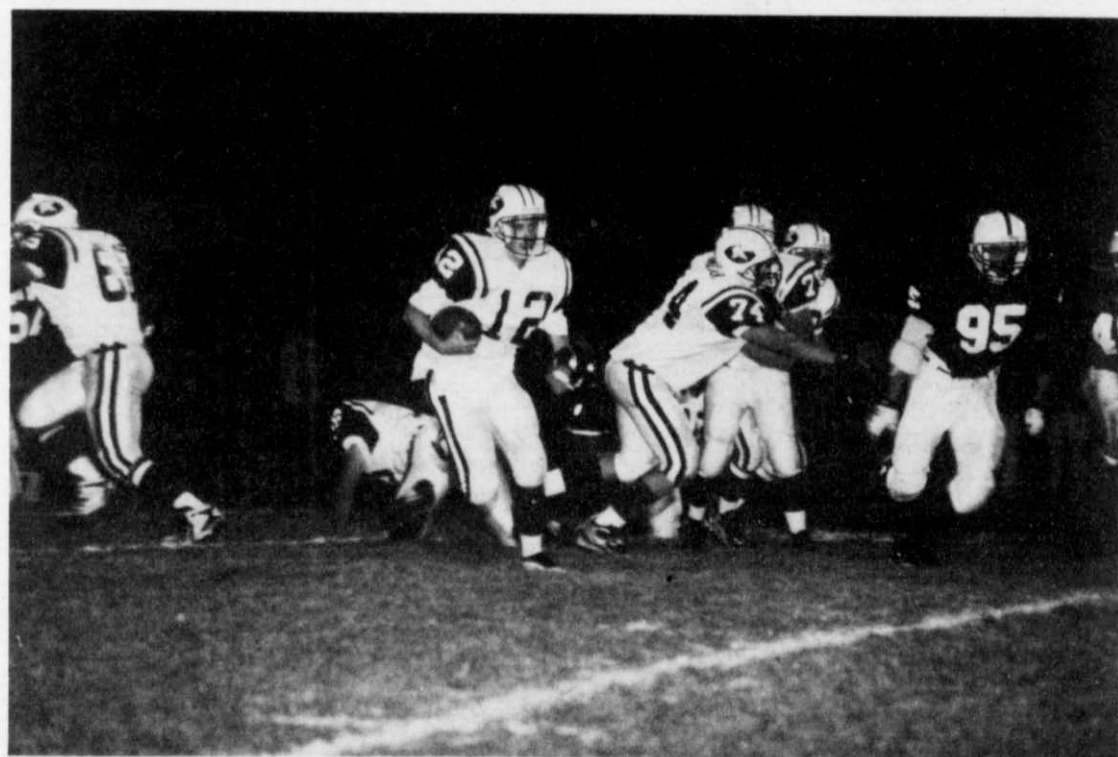

The time clock in the background ticks away as David Lettow, #30 for the Indians, heads upfield with the ball. Don't see any defensive players behind him, so that must mean they are all in front of him!

Chris Canter, #20 for the Indians, plunges forward looking to pickup additional yardage, followed closely by Cougar linemen.

#3 Aaron Seiser drags a Cougar defender along with him as he tries to pick up an additional yard or two.

The Indians' quarterback, Chris Koth, #12, sees running room as he carries the ball in hope of gaining some yards.

Indians Shut Out by Cougars in Playoffs

Despite a determined effort by the Kewaskum Indian football team, their season came to a sudden halt at the hands of the Campbellsport Cougars.

This was the first appearance in the playoffs for the Indians since 1983 when Kewaskum made it to the finals of the State Tournament before losing.

This year's team did not have the overall talent of the former playoff team, however, and the powerful Cougars were more than they could handle.

"We had too many of our key players not at 100% for the game to really have a good chance of pulling off the upset," said Head Coach Perry Koth about the game.

Nick Martin, Jason Strobel and Chris Koth all suffered injuries during the game that hampered the Indians' offensive attack. "Nick, Jason and Chris are key players on offense that we really needed to be 100% for this game. I admire the effort they gave by staying in the game and playing it out," added Koth.

The first half was a game of field position and the Cougars had the best of it for most of the half. Kewaskum started several of its possessions inside its own 20 yard line while Campbellsport consistently started near mid-field.

The Cougars scored in the first quarter but Matt Millonig missed the extra point for a 6-0 Cougar lead. The Indian defense stiffened after the first score and shut them out the rest of the half.

Curt Koth intercepted a Cougar pass when the Cougars tried to go deep to get a quick score before the end of the half. Like the first game this was a defensive battle that offered very few scoring threats. The half ended with the Cougars on top 6-0.

The start of the second half was not your typical second half start. The Cougars failed to return to the field on time and were assessed a 15 yard penalty. The Indians teed the ball up on the Cougar 45 yard line and then executed a perfect onside kick.

Kewaskum sophomore Justin Rhoads recovered for the Indians and Kewaskum started with its best field position of the game. On the first play the Cougars lined up on offense. The next play senior quarterback Chris Koth followed fullback Mike Farchione off tackle, cut back inside and ran the ball 18 yards to the Cougar nine yard line.

First and goal Kewaskum and it looked like the Indians were ready to assume the lead. After a short gain on first down, the Indians committed a serious mistake that changed the momentum of the game back to the Cougars.

A face mask penalty was called on one of the offensive linemen, and that, combined with a delay of game penalty, put the ball back on the 29 yard line with it being now second down and goal to go.

The Indians did manage to move it closer to the goal line but on fourth and 18 the Indians elected to kick the field goal. It was blocked and returned to near midfield. An upsportsmanlike penalty at the end of the play moved the ball inside of Kewaskum territory and the Cougars were back in control.

"You just can't make those kinds of errors in a playoff game. It probably was the turning point of the game," said Koth of the dramatic turnaround. The Cougars scored one touchdown in each of the third and fourth quarters for a final score of 19-0.

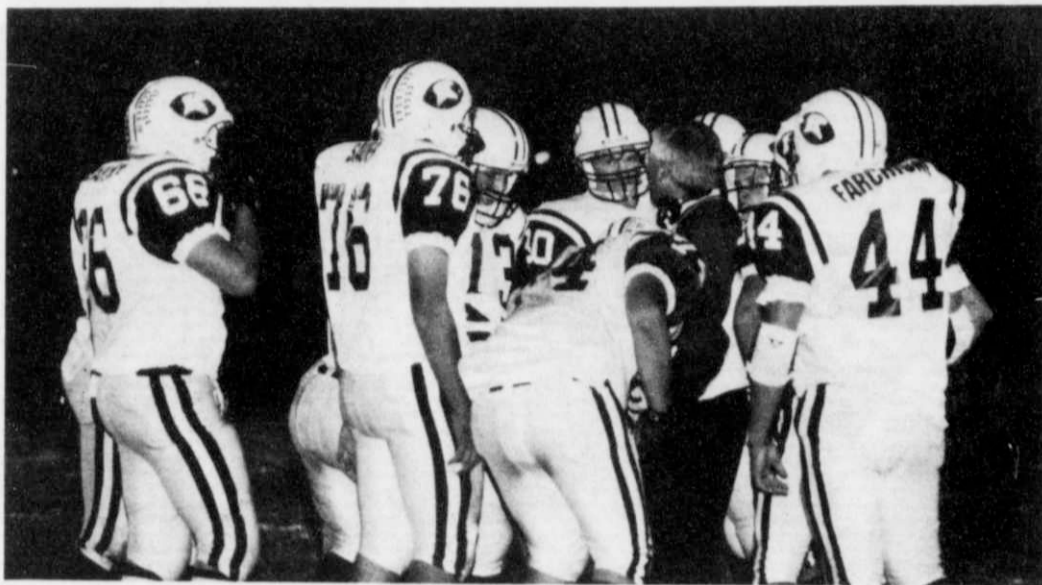

A Chris Koth interception led to one score in the third quarter. The Indians only other threat of the game came late in the game when Bob Ogi threw a short crossing pass to Adam Beck who then evaded a tackler and ran 53 yards to the Cougar ten yard line.

Ogi then threw two incomplete passes and was sacked on the next three plays. Chris Koth then attempted a short field goal which was missed.

"Chris had injured his Achilles tendon in the third quarter and Jason had a leg injury early in the second half. Then we got a bad snap on the kick attempt. Normally they would not have tried to kick the ball after that kind of snap, but neither player could run so they tried it anyway," said Koth about the missed field goal.

"Jason has held for Chris since they were freshmen and I thought it would give them a chance to do it one last time," Koth added.

Either way, it was one of Kewaskum's most exciting, better seasons in football over the past two decades. Great job, coaches and players. The community is very proud of all your efforts!
