Santa, 4-H's Steal the Show

Santa sits high atop the Regal Ware float to send holiday greetings to children of all ages.

The above photo, especially taken at night, does not do justice to the First Prize winning float entered by the Kewaskum 4-H's.

Kewaskum's official Christmas celebration began on Sunday at 5 p.m. with the annual Chamber of Commerce sponsored Christmas parade.

Hundreds of holiday spirit-starved people braved the chilly night air and lined both sides of the Main Street, Fond du Lac Avenue and associated side streets to get the best view of the festivities. All were treated to a fabulous show with over 30 different units participating capped off by the grand finale of Santa himself, sitting high atop the Regal Ware float sending his best wishes to the crowd while his elves dispensed candy bags to the kiddies.

The parade culminated in front of the Municipal Building where members of the local Aid Association of Lutherans Branch #26 hosted the traditional tree lighting ceremony complete with the singing of Christmas carols and the sharing of holiday treats with hot chocolate.

Winners of the float competition were: First Prize - The Kewaskum 4-H's; Second Prize - Kettle Moraine Sport Riders; Third Prize - Silver Platter Restaurant; Fourth Prize - Little Folks School House, and Fifth Prize - Lifestar Ambulance Service.

Judges, annually coordinated by Bob Beisbier of Kewaskum Frozen Foods were Jackie Burtard and Jackie Herriges of St. Francis Bank and Charleen Barutha and Sandy McGrath of West Bend Savings Bank.

Many kudos to everyone in the community who participated in making this year's Christmas parade such a wonderful show.

Special thanks to Parade Chairman Kevin Stautz of Hollywood Portraits and his committee of "elves," for this huge undertaking at a time of year when everyone is already overworked.

Many thanks also to helpers Shawn Roberts and John Meisser, the brat fry coordinators and fryers, Lee Kempf, Tim Miller, Linda Theisen and Jules Dreher; the Kewaskum Police Department; West Bend Savings Bank for providing the character costumes; students who worked as elves; Lisa Stockhausen and the residents at Maple Dale Manor who stuffed the candy bags; School Superintendent Wayne Graczyk and the Middle School custodians for the use of the school during parade setup and warmup; Gwen Dreher, John and Mary Meisser and Myron and Becky Strobel for the installation of the Memorial Lights on the

Prize-Winning Floats

IT'S A GREAT FLOAT CHARLIE BROWN! The Kettle Moraine Sport Riders entry, always a favorite of those who attend the annual Christmas Parade, won second prize.

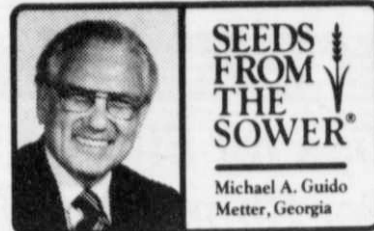

A back view of Kewaskum's Silver Platter Restaurant float shows a sign that thanked the community for the past year of their support. The Platter won third prize. Our apologies to Little Folks School House of Wayne who won fourth prize. The photographer must have been on a finger-warming mission as their float passed by.

LifeStar Ambulance won the fifth prize for their entry in Sunday's Christmas parade. The sign in front of Jack Frost the snowman eased all our worries, stating, "A snowman will still be a snowman in Y2K."

Woman's Club Christmas Party Dec. 11

The GFWC Kewaskum Woman's club will be holding their Christmas Party and meeting on Saturday, December 11, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the Kewaskum Community Room.

Entertainment will be provided by the 60+ Sweeties group with Ann Thill and three singers to bring the Christmas joy of caroling to the community group.

After a short meeting, the club will celebrate the Christmas holiday with a cookie exchange social luncheon. Members are asked to bring a non-perishable food item for the annual collection of food stuff for the Full Shelf Food Pantry of Washington County.

Guests are welcomed to attend this community spirit event.

Two boys were gathering grapes. "They're sweet!" rejoiced one. "Yes," remarked the other, "but they have seeds."

They came to a rose garden. "What beautiful roses," shouted one. "Ouch," warned the other, "look out for thorns."

They stopped for a soft drink and poured it into paper cups. "Mine's half full," said one. "Mine's half empty," sighed the other.

How do you look at life? You can't be grateful and gripey at the same time. And gratefulness doesn't come from what you have, but from what you are.

If your heart's right with God, you'll have a grateful heart. If you have a grateful heart, you'll have a glad heart. Are you grateful or gripey?

From 1791 to 1802 the U.S. Government was supported by internal taxes on distilled spirits, carriages, refined sugar, tobacco and snuff, property sold at auction, corporate bonds, and slaves.

Tips for Storing Water, Food For Short-Term Emergencies

FIFTH IN A SERIES OF EIGHT ARTICLES

Will the Y2K bug cause disruptions in the systems that distribute food and water? Many people are considering storing extra food and water the way they would in preparing for a major winter storm.

"Most people can live only a few days without water," says Barbara Ingham, University of Wisconsin-Madison/ Extension Food Science specialist.

How much water do you need?

"Store a total of at least one gallon per person, per day," Ingham says. "This is a good estimate, although children, nursing women and people who are sick will need more water. Additional water would be needed for food preparation and hygiene.

"When preparing for an emergency, storing water and learning how to purify contaminated water should be among your top priorities," explains Ingham.

Plastic, glass, fiberglass or enamel-lined metal containers are suitable for storing water supplies. Never use a container that has held toxic substances. "No matter how well you clean these containers, tiny amounts of toxic substances may remain in the container's pores," Ingham says.

Intact, durable plastic containers, such as soft drink bottles or those you purchase water in, are best. Food-grade plastic buckets or larger containers also work well.

"Milk jugs and other containers that previously held food items are almost impossible to adequately clean," warns Ingham.

Before storing water, treat it with a preservative, such as chlorine bleach, to prevent the growth of microorganisms. Use liquid household chlorine bleach that contains 5.25% sodium hypochlorite and no soap. Do not use scented or color safe bleach.

"Add one-fourth teaspoon bleach per gallon. Two-liter soft drink bottles are about one-half gallon and require one-eighth teaspoon of bleach," says Ingham. "Mix the water and bleach thoroughly and let stand for at least 30 minutes before using the water."

To store water, seal your water containers tightly, label them "Purified Drinking Water," date and store them in a cool, dark place.

"Water can be stored in the freezer," advises Ingham. "This will keep the water at an acceptable quality for a longer period of time and will help keep any food in the freezer from thawing in the event that the power goes out."

Ingham says, "Planning ahead for situations when you may need an emergency food supply is a good idea."

How much and which foods to store will depend on the members of your household, your preferences, special health considerations, ability to use the food in an emergency, space for storage and how far you live from a market.

Planning for short-term emergency food needs may be as simple as increasing the quantities of some staple foods and non-perishable foods that you normally have on hand. "A three-day emergency food supply should be sufficient for most situations," Ingham says. "In addition to your short-term food and water supply, store personal hygiene items, flashlights, blankets and other supplies for emergency use."

Food should be non-perishable that requires no refrigeration, minimal or no preparation and little or no water. These foods could include:

- * Ready-to-eat canned meats, fruits and vegetables.

- * Soups, canned or dried soups in a cup.

- * Smoked or dried meat like beef jerky.

- * Dried fruit.

- * Juices, canned or powdered.

- * Milk, powdered, canned or shelf-stable brick pack.

- * Staples such as sugar, flour, pepper, instant potatoes, rice, coffee, tea and cocoa.

- * Ready-to-eat cereals, instant hot cereals and crackers.

- * High energy foods such as peanut butter, jelly, nuts, trail mix and granola bars.

- * Cookies, candy and other snacks.

- * Foods for infants, senior citizens or those with special dietary needs.

"Avoid stocking foods high in salt that will increase thirst," Ingham adds. "And don't forget to store pet food for pets."

Store emergency food and supplies where they will be safe from insect and rodent pests and possible flooding, Ingham advises.

Fact sheets, "Storing Food for Short Term Emergencies" and "Storing Water for Short Term Emergencies" are available at the UW-Extension County office or at the World Wide Web site www.uwex.edu/ces/admin/y2k.

Meaningful Veterans Day at KES

Marine Corps veteran Dale Squier folds a flag, assisted by fifth grader Melissa Miranda, as teacher Mrs. Schultz reads to the class about the true meaning of the stars and stripes.

Veterans Day had special meaning this year for fifth graders at Kewaskum Elementary School as U.S. Armed Forces veterans shared their experience in, and memories of, serving their country.

Community members Dale Squier and KES Principal Kieth Kriewaldt brought stories and photographs, as well as fielded questions, pertaining to their days in the service. Mr. Squier, who served in the Marines from 1955 to 1959, explained aspects of everyday life from boot camp to serving in peacetime.

Mr. Kriewaldt served as an Army MP in the demilitarized zone (DMZ) between North and South Korea in the early 1980's. His proudest moment in the service, he said, was being on the detail that escorted President Reagan upon the President's visit to South Korea.

Students in other KES classrooms were asked to write and share stories about their relatives who were heroes for serving in the armed forces.

Holiday CD Available at St. Francis Bank

For the fourth year in a row, St. Francis Bank is teaming up with WJZI-FM and Penfield Children's Center to sell the Smooth Jazz Holiday Collection compact disc.

The Smooth Jazz Holiday Collection - Volume 4 is being sold for $9.33 at all 22 St. Francis Bank locations since mid-November through the holidays. The CD consists of holiday songs performed by smooth jazz artists, including Peter White, Marilyn Scott, David Benoit, Tim Weisberg, David Lanz and Stephen Marq.

"We are excited about this promotion because people look forward to buying the CD for themselves or as a holiday gift, while at the same time supporting the efforts of Penfield Children's Center," said Thomas R. Perz, President and CEO of St. Francis Bank. "As a community bank, we feel it is important to support local organizations like Penfield Children's Center," Perz added.

"Over the last three years of selling the CD, St. Francis Bank has raised almost $40,000 for Penfield Children's Center. We hope to increase that number by $20,000 this year," said Perz.

Penfield Children's Center is a non-profit rehabilitative center dedicated to helping children with special needs through therapy, education and family programs.

St. Francis Bank, FSB, is wholly owned by St. Francis Capital Corporation. With assets of $2.5 billion, St. Francis Capital Corporation (NASDAQ:STFR) operates 22 full-service, two limited-service and four loan offices throughout Milwaukee, Kenosha, Ozaukee, Walworth, Waukesha and Washington counties.

Kewaskum FFA Delegates Attend National Convention

From October 27-30, four delegates from the Kewaskum FFA chapter attended the National FFA Convention in its new home, Louisville, Kentucky. The four Kewaskum delegates who went on the trip were Josh Hawig, Bridget Beck, Matt Propson and Katie Muth.

The delegates departed from Lomira High School at 7 a.m. on October 27, on a coach bus with other area FFA members from different chapters.

During the first day of the trip, the delegates experienced a tour of the Caterpillar plant in DeKalb, Illinois, in which they enjoyed a brief history lesson of Caterpillar and a complimentary lunch. They went on about a 1-1/2 to two hour tour of the plant and saw how Caterpillar tractors were built from start to finish. The delegates arrived at their hotel about an hour away from the convention center around 11:30 p.m. that night.

On the 28th the delegates got their first chance to see the new convention center. At the first session of the convention there was a special keynote speaker, Danny Glover, star of films and TV. The delegates also got the chance to experience the Career Expo, in which they had the opportunity to visit with business reps and learn more about the products they manufacture and sell. There were food samples, candy, cups, t-shirts and literature that could all be tasted or taken.

The delegates also visited the Kentucky Derby Museum and took a tour of Churchill Downs and got to sit by the race track and learn about a brief history of the Kentucky Derby and all the races run there.

On the 29th it was back to the convention center to attend more sessions and tour through the Career Expo. At about mid-day the coach bus and all the delegates were on their way to the world famous Mammoth Caves. The delegates got the great opportunity to explore the caves from down under and take pictures along the way. It was fairly moist in the caves and also a little chilly. They got to see some pretty awesome stalagmites also. The tour lasted about 2-1/2 to 3 hours total.

On the 30th, the fourth and final day of the trip, the delegates woke up in the morning and started for their trip back home. On the way home, the delegates made a stop at the Indianapolis 500 Motor Speedway and took a tour. They got to see some of the first cars ever to race on the Indy 500 race track in the showroom and also found out who the very first winners were.

After spending a little time in the showroom, the delegates got to ride in a bus around the track and listened to a brief history of the Indy 500, how it got started, and what renovations were done to the track since.

After the tour of the Indy 500 the delegates headed back on their way home, with a stop for supper in between. The delegates got back to Lomira High School at approximately 6 p.m. That ended the trip for the delegates, who all said it was a pretty unique experience.

Having Some Hawaiian Fun at KES

After studying about Hawaii, Kewaskum Elementary School third grader Kelsey Guth sports a flower lei around her head as she makes a paper one, like those she read about in class, to go with it.

As a tie-in to reading about Hawaii, KES third graders got a taste of traditional Hawaii in the classrooms. Here, Duke Harris, left, and Tino Commodore stop beside some of the tropical foods, including papaya, mango and coconut, that they and their classmates got a chance to sample.

Doing the Hukilau dance are, from left, Anna Gitter, Kallee Sager and Ann Espitta. All the third graders had a chance to do this traditional Hawaiian dance, which is about fishing with nets.

County Drug Enforcement Task Force Awarded $495,351

Governor Thompson this week announced the award of $95,351 to the Washington County Anti-Drug Task Force. The award will help the multi-jurisdictional unit to continue its efforts to reduce the availability and use of illegal drugs and to reduce the levels of violent crime throughout Washington County.

Governor Thompson awarded more than $5.3 million to 32 Drug Enforcement Task Forces that operate throughout Wisconsin. These multi-jurisdictional units represent 71 counties and nearly 300 local governmental units around the state.

"The increased availability of illegal drugs entering the state requires an increase in cooperation and collaboration among these multi-jurisdictional drug units and prosecutors," Governor Thompson said. "The involvement of street gangs has added another dimension to concerns over drug trafficking as has the increase in juveniles arrested for their involvement in the sale and distribution of illegal drugs."

Thompson continued, "The citizens of Wisconsin deserve to have those individuals and organizations that bring illegal drugs into the state or who manufacture and distribute these dangerous substances within our borders removed from the streets."

"We are grateful to these anti-drug units and all the law enforcement officers throughout the state for their dedication and service to the community," Thompson concluded.

The task forces made over 6,400 arrests in 1998 alone, according to statistics from the Office of Justice Assistance. Outside of Milwaukee County, the multi-jurisdictional units made about 80% of all drug trafficking arrests recorded in the state.

This is the 13th year of funding for the task force programs, which are formed through the cooperation and collaboration of local sheriffs' departments, police departments and district attorneys. Seventy-five percent of the funds awarded are made available to the state through the Federal Edward Byrne Memorial State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance Program and is administered by the Office of Justice Assistance.

Interest Rate for Escrow Accounts Set for 2000

MADISON -- The Department of Financial Institutions (DFI) has announced that it has set the interest rate that will be paid by Wisconsin's financial institutions for money held in an escrow account for real estate.

By law, the Department is required to calculate the escrow rate based on the average interest rate paid by Wisconsin depository institutions on passbook savings account.

Escrow accounts, in connection with mortgage loans, are used commonly to hold deposits made by the home-owner to pay real property taxes or insurance payments, or both. The interest rate required to be paid on escrow accounts under s. 138-052(5) will be set at 2.51% per year. The rate will become effective January 1, 2000 and be effective through 2000. The 2000 rate is down from the 1998 rate of 2.74% per year.

All They 'Knead' to Know

Boys and girls from Early Childhood and First Steps classrooms at Kewaskum Elementary School got a closeup look at the Pick 'N Save North bakery in West Bend as bakery manager Pedro Hernandez took them on an exclusive tour that included the big mixers, the oven, and a generous supply of cookies and doughnut holes to enjoy afterward. The classes had been reading about making bread in the story of "The Little Red Hen."

Indians Split Games in Non-Conference Action

Congratulations to the Kewaskum varsity boys basketball team on a hard fought victory over Milwaukee School of Languages.

The Indians were led by Jesse Boegel with 16 points and eight rebounds. Dan Markeland added a boost off the bench with 13 points and seven rebounds. Charlie Sparks and Chris Koth turned in a stellar defensive effort with eight rebounds and seven steals respectively.

The game was close until the Indians drained 11 of 14 free throws in the fourth quarter.

On Tuesday night, the Indians put up a good fight, but came up on the short end of a 74-57 score against Port Washington.

The game plan was to hold Port's highly touted point guard Matt Williams in check. Chris and Curt Koth were up to the challenge. They teamed up to hold him to 11 points.

Other than the run Port made at the end of the second quarter, the Indians played even with them.

Statistical leaders for the Indians were Charlie Sparks with 10 rebounds; Chris Koth with 12 points and six steals, and Kevin Miller with 16 points and five steals. Congratulations to the whole team on forcing 27 turnovers!

The next game for the Indians is at Campbellsport for their conference opener. Attend the game and support your Indians!

JV Indian Boys Defeat Milw. School of Languages

The Kewaskum High School junior varsity boys basketball Indians improved their record to 2-0 with a non-conference win over the Milwaukee School of Languages by a score of 55 to 46.

The host Hawks provided many challenges for Kewaskum with their quickness and athleticism. The Indians got off to a slow start for the second consecutive game and trailed at the end of the first quarter by a 7-6 tally.

Kewaskum took control of the game in the second period outscoring their opponents 16-8 in the frame to take a 22-15 lead into the intermission. Brian Cotter scored eight of his ten points in the first half and Nick Thorn added five first half points.

The team played a close second half as the Indians and Hawks both scored 15 points in the third quarter.

The fourth quarter scoring belonged to Kewaskum as they scored two more points than the School of Languages for the 55-46 win.

Tom Ogi dominated the game on the inside, scoring 16 points while grabbing eight offensive rebounds and four defensive rebounds for a total of 12. Chris Canter and Josh Repovsch each had three assists as the team recorded 12 dishes. Tony Fitts had six steals and Nathan Fechter had two blocks defensively.

The JV Indians wrapped up their non-conference schedule with a game at home against Port Washington on Tuesday, December 7.

KHS Wrestlers Take Two Rivers

The Kewaskum varsity wrestling team started action on Thursday with a bang against the Two Rivers Raiders, winning 48-27.

Two Rivers forfeited the first four weight classes, giving Zach Schmitt (103), Jason Palmer (112), Andy Bauer (119), and Marty Harris (125) six points each, making the score 24-0.

Kewaskum then forfeited the 135 and 140 weight classes, bringing the score to 30-12.

Junior Micah Olla (145) worked hard throughout his match avoiding many pins. Olla finally won the match in the third period, pinning Brad Bruseth in 4:47.

Josh Hawig (152) then wrestled Darren Downing. Hawig got a takedown just before the end of the first period. Downing tied the score with 25 seconds remaining in the second period. Hawig ended up losing the match, 8-5.

Kewaskum then forfeited the 160 and 171 weight classes and the overall score stood at 36-27. That would be the end of the Two Rivers team points.

Senior Mike Farchione (189) went against Kyle Korinek. The match was won by Farchione who took down Korinek twice before pinning him in 59 seconds.

The last match of the night was the heavyweights. Jason Farchione, a junior, wrestled Bret Duer. Farchione took Duer down and got two back points before the match was stopped for a blood timeout. Farchione then got Duer to his back for the three points before the end of the first period by a score of 7-0. Farchione chose the down position for the beginning of the second but quickly reversed. He then pinned Duer in a total time of 2:28.

The next home match for Kewaskum will be on December 10 against the Campbellsport Cougars.

Indians Win Lomira Tourney

The Kewaskum varsity wrestlers took first place in the Lomira Multi-Dual Team Tournament on Saturday. The Indians swept the competition by winning all five matches.

Kewaskum defeated Princeton, 36-30, in the opening round. Second round opponent St. Lawrence Seminary was defeated 48-27 and then the Indians narrowly beat Cedar Grove, 39-33 in the third bout.

The host school, Lomira, was the fourth opponent. After some very close matches, Kewaskum pulled ahead to win 42-33. Indian Head Coach John Nell singled out junior Josh Hawig's win as pivotal.

In the final match, Kewaskum defeated Elkhorn, 53-24.

Four Kewaskum wrestlers finished the day undefeated. Winning all five matches were: Zack Schmitt (103), Bob Ogi (171), Mike Farchione (189), and Jason Farchione (275).

The 6-0 Indians will host Campbellsport on Friday, December 10. The wrestling is scheduled to begin at 6:30 in this Eastern Wisconsin Conference contest.

Cougars Clip Indians in Conference Opener

Campbellsport welcomed itself to the Eastern Wisconsin Conference basketball schedule by defeating Kewaskum in girls' high school action by a score of 53-45 on Friday, December 3, in the Kewaskum Field House.

A loud and boisterous crowd greeted the Lady Indians on their first home game of the year. This was by far the best crowd in recent memory.

The two teams started out tentatively in the first quarter, exchanging turnovers. Once they settled down, their offense started to kick in. Campbellsport started out strong with Jenny Wiesner scoring six of their 13 first quarter points.

Kewaskum countered with balanced scoring from four different players, but KHS still found themselves down by three at the end of the period.

Wiesner continued her strong play in the second quarter with eight more points. Kewaskum was not able to sustain inside scoring due to some early foul trouble. KHS scored nine points in the quarter, with most coming from the outside. The Lady Indians found themselves on the short end of a 28-19 half time deficit.

The Kewaskum rally began in the second half on the strength of defensive pressure. The Indians held the Cougars to only two third quarter baskets, and eight points overall. In return, the Indians cut the deficit to five, with 12 points in the quarter.

Kewaskum got as close as one point with 3:10 left to play, with the score at 44-43. Lack of defensive rebounding and foul trouble turned out to be their downfall.

Campbellsport had 10 offensive rebounds in the fourth quarter alone. KHS had to send the Cougars to the foul line down the stretch, and they responded by going 9x16 from the charity stripe.

Both Laura and Sarah Schwinn fouled out during the period. The final buzzer sounded and Kewaskum had fallen to 0-1 in the conference, and 1-2 overall.

Kewaskum was led by Lauren Steinhart's 13 points. She also had four rebounds, and was 7x7 from the foul line. Jenny Kraft was next with 10 points including two three-pointers, three assists, and no turnovers.

Sarah Schwinn contributed nine points and seven rebounds. Laura Schwinn chipped in with eight points. Jenny Wiesner led all scorers with 21 points for Campbellsport.

The next game for Kewaskum is on Thursday, December 9 at New Holstein.

The JV Lady Indians lost to Campbellsport by a score of 27-24. They also fell behind, trailing by as many as 10 points by the end of the third quarter. A spirited comeback in the fourth quarter brought them to within one. Jenny Logan led the JV's with eight points.

Courtney Timblin was next with seven.
