History is in the making with this year's presidential election in a race that has been the closest since the Nixon/Kennedy contest. As of late morning Wednesday it was undecided who will lead our county into the 21st century.

With discrepancies in Florida, it is still undecided if Republican Texas Governor George W. Bush has won the U.S. Presidency against Democrat Vice President Albert Gore.

The state has promised a very fast recount of votes cast during Tuesday's election. It is expected to be completed by the close of business on Thursday, according to a statement by the Division of Elections of the Florida Department of State.

Officials there do say that it's possible the count will be completed sometime Wednesday.

The difference in votes cast is 1,784 in favor of Bush, which is less than one half of one percent of all votes cast. Under these circumstances, Florida law requires an automatic recount of all votes cast.

The pressure on the recount was intense due to the fact that Florida, with its 25 electoral votes, is the state that will decide the winner of this closely contested presidential election.

Also adding to the chaos in Florida was voter confusion in Palm Beach County when several dozen voters said they voted for Pat Buchanan instead of Al Gore because of ballots that were not clearly marked and had an arrow from Gore's name, listed second, pointing to the third hole on the ballot. Elections officials said the confusion was caused by making type on the ballots larger so voters could read them.

Early Wednesday morning it was believed that Gore was the unofficial winner in Wisconsin, taking all 11 electoral votes from Wisconsin and bringing him up 260 electoral votes nationwide.

Gore received a total of 1,240,417 Wisconsin votes while Bush grabbed 1,234,155, giving both of them 48 percent of the votes here.

Out of 70,553 Washington County registered voters 61,542 turned out countywide in this election, a county record.

History was also made in the Village of Kewaskum. According to a village official 1,533 of 1,632 registered voters turned out to vote, so many that copies of the ballots had to be made and thus were counted by hand until 10:30 p.m.

Many voters were standing in line even before the polls were open. High numbers were also attributed to a large number of new voters.

Voters in Kewaskum chose Bush, giving him 998 votes. Bush also won Washington County with 41,016 votes or 67.00% of votes cast.

Gore received 486 in the Village. Countywide he received 18,075.

Also receiving votes under different tickets were: Harry Browne (L)- three Village of Kewaskum votes (VOK)/125 countywide; Howard Phillips (C)- one/56; Ralph Nader (WGR)- 36/1561; Monica Moorehead-0/30; James Harris- 0/2; John Hagelin- 0/17; Pat Buchanan- 0/286.

One write-in vote was cast for Kewaskum resident Trev Timblin.

In the race for United States Senator John Gillespie (R) was the local favorite receiving 790 VOK votes and 32,992 or 54.71% in the county. Incumbent Herb Kohl (D) gained 693 in the village and 26,645 throughout the county.

When all was said and done Gillespie gave incumbent Herb Kohl (D) his seat back, only receiving 920,398 votes statewide. Kohl received an unsurprising 61.7% of the vote, or 1,530,983 votes.

Also receiving votes under different tickets were Eugene Hem (I)- four VOK votes/153 county/8,183 state; Tim Peterson (L)- 14/405/18,590; Robert R. Raymond (C)-five/94/3,756

In the race for Congressional representative in the ninth district incumbent F. James Sensenbrenner (R) will again keep his seat snagging in 236,235 votes, 74.1% statewide. His opponent Mike Clawson (D) received 82,710 votes.

Sensenbrenner was also the local favorite in the Village of Kewaskum. He received 1,098 votes and 45,094 county votes. His opponent (D) Mike Clawson received 387 votes in the village and 14,104 votes countywide.

There were no write-in votes for this campaign.

In the race for State Senator in District 20, local favorite Mary Panzer (R) is ahead with 64,253 votes, a final number is unclear as only 97% of reporting agencies have reported. Panzer received overwhelming support in the Village grabbing 1,029 votes. Countywide she received 28,014.

Dale Koski (D)- received 23,690 votes throughout the state. In the village he received 444 votes. In the county race he received 11,615 votes.

Representative Glenn Grothmann (R) received 1,173 votes in the village. Throughout the county he received 14,856 votes. In the village there were numerous write-in votes for the seat. Among them were: John Kenworthy and John Stephani both of Kewaskum receiving one vote each; Larry Ammel, Kewaskum- two; Floyd Brenholt, West Bend- two and Rick Stokdhke- one.

All county offices ran unopposed.

The state referendum which stated: "Should the right to vote in federal elections be extended to the adult children of U.S. citizens who resided in Wisconsin before establishing residency abroad" passed with 946,217 yes votes.

The county referendum passed with 48,670 votes. It read "Do you support legislation to reform the state campaign finance system that would limit campaign spending, require stricter contribution limits and require full and prompt disclosure of election-related activities?"

School Announces Decrease in Tax Levy

Residents in the Kewaskum School District can be thrilled to learn that the combined tax levy for 2000-2001 is $6,644,071, which is $256,295 less than last year.

The decrease is the result of ending the practice of defeasing the school district's 1994 general obligation debt.

Over the last four years the school district defeased (paid off early) $2,280,000 of the bonds issued in 1994.

This was done to reduce the school district's debt service requirements and to put the school district in a better position to issue new debt after the 1999 referendum.

The school district's financial advisors, Robert W. Baird & Co., recently recommended the defeasance end because it will reduce the loss of state aid to the district. The advisors explained that the school district is in a negative tertiary aid situation and that the additional expenditures for debt defeasance will result in a significant loss of state aid.

The school district's tax rate is also decreasing. The 2000-01 tax rate will be $9.83, down 73 cents from last year's rate of $10.56. The decrease in the tax rate is the result of the lower tax levy.

The decrease in the tax rate will reduce the taxes on a home assessed at $100,000 by $73.00.

The operating budget for 2000-2001 includes funds to hire 5.33 FTE additional teaching staff. The additional staff are necessary to keep class sizes at 25 or less at the elementary level and to fully staff the instructional programs at the middle and high schools. The operating budget also includes an appropriation of $140,000 from the school district's fund balance to pay for the cost of renovating the high school track.

Business manager Paul Reichert released a memo to board members, in his memo stating that the proposed budget for 2000-2001 was prepared using a number of assumptions and estimates for such items as enrollment, equalization aid, the revenue limit and equalized property values.

"In September and October the school district determines its actual enrollment, receives from the Department of Revenue the fall certified equalized valuation for the school district and receives from DPI a certified equalization aid amount."

"Now that we have received this information, it is possible to determine our actual revenue limit, to adjust the tax levy and budget accordingly, and to determine the tax rate."

Reichert addressed the following sections, discussing changes in the estimates.

Enrollment

During the budget development process the 2000-2001 revenue limit was estimated using the assumption that our September 2000 membership would be 15 less than the September 1999 membership. Another assumption used in estimating the revenue limit was that the summer school membership would remain constant. These assumptions resulted in an estimated three-year membership average of 1,917.

In fact, the September 2000 membership decreased by only one and summer school membership increased by four. As a result, the actual three-year membership average is 1,924.

Transfer of Service

A transfer of service exemption allows the school district to increase its revenue limit by the amount of increased costs incurred when students move into the school district from other school districts. The revenue limit estimate assumed a transfer of service exemption of $85,000. This year DPI approved exemptions totaling $114,544.

Revenue Limit

The higher membership and exemption numbers have resulted in an actual revenue limit for 2000-2001 of $13,465,642. This amount is $85,039 more than was estimated during the preparation of the proposed budget and $686,198 more than the 1999-2000 revenue limit.

The increase in the revenue limit was used to fund increases in the operating budget for three expenditures: 1) repairs to the air conditioning equipment at the middle school in the amount of $41,000; 2) an increase of $15,000 in the budget for substitutes; and 3) an increase of $29,000 in the budget for open enrollment.

Equalization Aid

The estimated equalization aid for 2000-2001 used in preparing the proposed budget was $7,959,112. On October 15, 2000 DPI certified the actual amount of equalization aid for 2000-2001 at $7,956,206, an increase of $6,094 over the estimate. Equalization aid in 2000-2001 will be $315,156 more than last year.

Debt Defeasance

The tax levy for the Debt Service Fund in the previous four years has included extra funds that were used to defease bonds issued in 1994. The purpose of doing this was to eliminate enough debt so that any new debt issued after a successful referendum could be structured more favorably to the school district.

Analysts at Robert W. Baird and Co. have recommended that the school district should now end the practice of defeasing its 1994 debt. They advise the school district to only levy enough taxes in the Debt Service Fund to cover the debt service payments due in the year 2001. Consequently, the Debt Service Fund tax levy has been reduced.

Fund Balance Appropriations

The 2000-2001 Budget includes appropriations from the fund balance in several funds. In the General Fund $140,000 of the fund balance is being used to fund expenditures for renovations to the high school track. An appropriation of $29,546 from the fund balance of the Food Service Fund is being used to pay for kitchen equipment installed at Farmington and Wayne Schools.

The repayment of $4,525,000 of bond anticipation notes on July 5, 2000 was paid from funds in the fund balance of the Debt Service Fund. Funds to pay for the school building projects during 2000-2001 are being taken from the fund balance of the Capital Projects Fund. Donations made last year and placed in the fund balance of the Expendable Trust Fund are being spent this year.

Tax Levy

The 2000-2001 tax levy for the General Fund (operating fund) is $5,483,050. The operating tax levy is $371,882 more than the 1999-2000 operating tax levy. The tax levy for the Debt Service Fund is $1,161,021. This amount is $628,177 less than last year.

The combined tax levy for 2000-2001 is $6,644,071, which is $256,295 less than last year.

Junior Women to Raffle Quilt at Art/Craft Fair

The Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will once again be raffling off a handmade quilt at their annual craft fair on November 18 at the Kewaskum Middle School. This year's quilt is entitled "The Star of Bethlehem" and was made by Janet Lichtensteiger of Campbellsport. Tickets for the raffle can be purchased from any club member, or just come to the craft fair on the 18th. There is a $1.00 admittance charge which automatically puts you into the drawing for the quilt. The winner will be drawn on the day of the craft fair and you need not be present to win. All proceeds are donated back to the community. Try your luck for just a buck!

Equalized Property Values

Equalized property values, as shown in the Fall School District Certification of 2000 Values-Tax Apportionment received from the Department of Revenue on October 1, increased 3.44% to $675,895,269. The proposed 2000-2001 budget was prepared using an estimated increase of 3.00% to $653,000,000.

Tax Rate

The General Fund tax rate for 2000-2001 is $8.11 per $1,000 of equalized value, an increase of 29 cents over the previous year. The Debt Service Fund tax rate is $1.72, a decrease of $1.02 from last year.

The combined tax rate for 2000-2001 is $9.83, down 73 cents from the prior year.

Recommended Motion

To adopt the attached 2000-2001 Budget and to adjust the General Fund Tax Levy for operating expenses during the 2000-2001 fiscal year to $5,483,050, to adjust the Debt Service Fund Tax Levy for debt retirement during calendar year 2001 to $1,161,021, and to levy a tax for Prior Year Tax Chargebacks in the amount of $851 for a combined tax levy of $6,644,922.

Illness Takes a Holiday at KES

Kewaskum Elementary Principal Kieth Kriewaldt called it "an event even more rare than Halley's Comet."

No one on the staff could remember anything quite like it, either.

When attendance was taken on the morning of Friday, November 3, there were absolutely no absences.

Not even one.

It was a perfect attendance day at KES, meaning all 367 students that were supposed to be in school actually were (First Steps and Early Childhood classes don't meet on Fridays).

To celebrate the momentous occasion, the Kewaskum Dairy Queen generously donated certificates to every single student, entitling each to a free ice cream sundae.

Congratulations to the school's students and their families on a remarkable accomplishment!

Breakfast With Santa

The FHA Club of Kewaskum High School will again be sponsoring their annual Breakfast With Santa on Saturday, December 2, 2000, in the commons area of the high school at 9 a.m.

Tickets will be on sale between November 15 and December 1 in the high school office for $5 and must be purchased by 3:30 p.m. on Friday, December 1.

The Kewaskum High School Swing Choir will perform a Christmas program and Santa will visit with a present for all the children following a breakfast of scrambled eggs, sausage, juice, milk, coffee and sweet rolls.

All proceeds will go to the scholarship fund.

New Technology Program Offered

Beginning in January, Moraine Park Technical College will be the first technical college in the state to offer a new associate degree Business and Technology Coordinator program.

Business and Technology Coordinators work in all types and sizes of business and industry settings. Qualifications needed for a job include: project management skills, first-level technical support skills, high level written and verbal communication skills, the ability to train others, high level thinking and decision-making skills and the ability to use the advanced features of the latest in hardware and software technology tools in the performance of their work.

The program was developed based on a needs assessment completed last year. The assessment showed an overwhelming need for individuals to obtain not only business courses to succeed but also management and high-level computer software skills. The 94 companies in the Moraine Park district, that completed the survey indicated that 49 percent are having a hard time finding Business and Technology Coordinators and 76 percent were willing to send their current employees to Moraine Park for more training.

Graduates of the Business and Technology program will be able to manage projects, create and manage integrated electronic documents, provide and train others in computer software, perform first-level hardware/software installation and technical support, support e-commerce functions and web maintenance functions and investigate and implement new business technologies. The starting salary for Business and Technologies Coordinators is $15 per hour with the wage for this career increasing to $22.50 per hour in three years.

Courses will be offered at the Fond du Lac and West Bend Campus evenings and Saturdays. This program is designed for the person who wants to expand their skills, assume greater work responsibilities, advance in their career field or wishes to make a career shift or start a new career. The curriculum will consist of existing courses from the Computer Information System: Technical Support, Supervisory Management, Administrative Assistant and Web Developer programs along with the new courses developed specifically for this program by the Moraine Park staff.

For more information on the Business and Technology Coordinator program contact Jan Logan, dean, at (920) 335-5839 or at JLogan@moraine.tec.wi.us.

Rutherford - Maechtle

On May 20, 2000, Christopher S. Maechtle and Jodie Lee J. Rutherford became husband and wife as they exchanged marriage vows during a 2 p.m. ceremony at St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Barton with Father Patrick Wendt presiding.

Parents of the couple are Hugh and Diane Rutherford III and Gary and Amy Maechtle (and the late Annette Maechtle).

Lori Ann Byrnes, friend of the couple, served as the maid of honor. The bridesmaids included friends of the couple, Rose Marie Bartelt, Renee Wegner and Sheila Foyse, sisters of the bride, Kari Ann Rutherford and Lorie Rutherford, and sister of the groom, Leah Meyer.

Shawn Techtmann, friend of the couple, served as the best man. The groomsmen included friends of the couple, Jeffrey Bartelt, Robby Donath, Mark Foyse, Jamie Rose and Ronald Koerner, and brother-in-law of the groom, Robert Meyer.

Cory Rutherford, brother of the bride, served as the ring bearer.

The ushering duties were shared by Bradley Dieringer and Ryan Dieringer, brothers of the groom, and Michael Mettel, cousin of the bride.

The greeting duties were shared by Melissa Dieringer, sister-in-law of the groom and Megan Dieringer, sister of the groom.

Stephanie Johnson, cousin of the groom, served as the reader and the bride's personal attendant.

The couple had a 6 p.m. dinner reception at The Knights of Columbus Club House, catered by Bryon of West Bend. At 8 p.m. their dance reception started with entertainment by Heart Beat.

In June, the newlyweds took an eight day honeymoon to Cancun, Mexico. Accompanying them were friends, Mark and Sheila Foyse, who were celebrating the birth of their baby girl.

Letter to the Editor

Letter to
The Editor:

GREAT MUSICAL!

Residents of Kewaskum should be very proud of their high school students, those on stage and those behind stage. "Meet Me in St. Louis" was a fun show to see and they did a great job of staging it. As usual, the music was good, from the pit to the chorus to the soloists.

After seeing many musicals in Kewaskum, it is a wonder that there never is enough money for a good sound system or better yet, a good auditorium. So much effort must have to be done to erect a stage and find a place for a pit, it surely has to be a challenge every year.

I urge you residents and voters to give your high school students an even better way to present their musicals.

Barbara Koehler,

Mike Schroeder, a fourth grader at Kewaskum Elementary School, places a ballot for the President and U.S. Senate races in the school's election box. KES participated, as did Farmington and Wayne schools, in KidsVote 2000, a statewide mock election held on November 1. The district elementary students voted for George W. Bush for President (77% to Al Gore's 21%). Herb Kohl was picked in a closer race over John Gillespie in the U.S. Senate race. The district selections were also those chosen by students participating in KidsVote statewide.

Donations Welcome for St. Joseph's Love-Light Trees

The Love-Light trees will once again shine on the St. Joseph's Community Hospital grounds in West Bend during the 14th Annual Love-Light Trees sponsored by the Partners of St. Joseph's Community Hospital.

This has become a favorite holiday sight for everyone in the area and is an inspiring tribute to all who are honored or memorialized. The Partners of St. Joseph's Community Hospital invite you to participate in this worthwhile project.

You can "reserve" a "colored light" to be placed on the tree in honor of a relative, friend or anyone of your choice. A white Love-Light can be requested as a memorial of a deceased friend or relative.

Contribution forms will be available in the Auxiliary Gift Shop at the hospital, in this newspaper, and in some places of business. A minimum charge of $3.00 per light is requested and larger gifts are welcome.

It is hoped you can join in for the tree lighting ceremony on Sunday, December 3, at 4:30 p.m. The ceremony will be held at the Oak Street entrance to the visitor's parking lot. The lights will burn throughout the holiday season.

Donations can be mailed to Partners of St. Joseph's Community Hospital Love-Light Tree, 551 S. Silverbrook Dr., West Bend, WI 53095. You can use the coupon on Page 12 of this issue of the Statesman.

A Visit to the Vet

Second graders at Kewaskum Elementary School visited the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic recently to learn a bit about the care of animals. Above, Dr. Greg Ogi shows the kids a syringe as Ryan Ogi (who also happens to be Dr. Ogi's nephew) and his classmates watch.

25 Years Ago

November 7, 1975

Purchase of the Ralph Fellenz property on South Fond du Lac Avenue at a cost of $30,000 was approved by the Kewaskum Village Board on Monday. The property is surrounded on three sides by land already owned by the Village of Kewaskum, and will be used as part of the site for the new village firehouse. The purchase of this land will allow the location of the firehouse to be moved closer to Fond du Lac Avenue on the west side, facing south.

Kewaskum Sewage Treatment Operator Peter Albers was named District Wastewater Treatment Manager 1975 by the district office of the Department of Natural Resources. He was also commended by the Village Board for his service.

After being runnerup four times and third place two times in the last seven years, Kewaskum finally won a Scenic Moraine football championship. During this time the Indians never lost more than two games in any season. Kewaskum ended up as co-champion with Grafton, both 6-1. The Indians were 9-1 overall for the season and Grafton was 6-4. Members of the speedy Indian backfield were Dave Menzel, Dennis Bremser and Gary Schmidt, all senior running backs and quarterback Jim Bilgo. Junior Ray Reindl was a starter but missed the last two games with a knee injury. Three of the four backs rushed for more than 400 yards. Offensive line-men Jack Westerman and Keith Mueller did an outstanding job clearing out opposing defenses for this group of backs, according to Head Coach Joe Harlow. Jack Kern, switched to tight end this year, was Kewaskum's leading pass receiver. Standouts on defense were middle linebacker John Sekeres, outside linebacker Tom Rohlinger, nose guard Gary Gavin and tackle Menzel, a starter both ways. The defense survived the loss of six foot two, 200 pound Leon Laatsch, outstanding end, who was lost with a pinched nerve in his back.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kleinke of Kewaskum surprised them with a dinner party at the Wigwam for their 30th wedding anniversary on Saturday evening, October 25. Marvin and Dolores were married on October 27, 1945 at St. John's Lutheran Church in New Fane.

The word cockles in the phrase warm the cockles of one's heart, come from the Latin phrase cochleae cordis, meaning ventricles of the heart.

LIBRARY LEDGER

By Steev Baker
Kewaskum Library Director

In a change from my usual meandering column, I want to dedicate this week to letting you know about some upcoming events at the library.

As always, our weekly storytime for pre-school aged children happens every Wednesday at 11:30. This is a fun time when your child can interact with other children of the same age, hear a new story or two, and make a craft. Please sign up ahead of time at the circulation desk so we know how many kids to prepare for!

If you're like me and you love hunting for great, forgotten works of literature, then you know that library book sales can be a good place to find such treasures. A few years ago, when I was home visiting my parents, I found a complete set of encyclopedias, a rare novel, and some books of art prints at one such event. Last year, much to my surprise, I came upon a signed copy of Richard Wright's autobiography "Black Boy," the Ebay price of which was listed at almost $100. It's exciting to think that you can walk into a place with a pocket full of change and leave with your arms full of books. This year, we're having our annual book sale on Saturday, November 18 in the Community Room here in the Municipal Building. If you want to donate books, magazines, or other media for the book sale, please stop by during our open hours and talk to one of our helpful and knowledgeable staff members.

Did you know that you can get nearly any book, video, CD, or magazine from the Kewaskum Public Library? It's true! No, we haven't expanded our collection, but we do have the capability to get materials from any library in the state. The process is called interlibrary loan and some of our patrons use it extensively. Still, if you haven't been to the library because you don't think we'll have what you're looking for, bring in your requests and we'll see if we can't find that missing book for you. Most material arrives within a week.

The internet is coming to the Kewaskum Public Library! Early next year, we will be officially "on-line." This means patrons will have direct access to the growing community that is the internet. It will also allow you to download and print up-to-date information on millions of subjects with the mere click of a mouse button.

And finally, thank you so much for all of the well-wishes and gifts on the arrival of our son. One morning I was delighted to find an anonymous package stuffed in the bookdrop addressed to Samwise. Although when I showed it to him and told him about it, he barely feigned interest before passing into a deep sleep, I'm sure he will appreciate the kindness of this community when he is a little older.

Your donated vehicle can help change a Life!

Nostalgia Day Planned at Heritage House

Little Folks Become Junior Firefighters

Owen Horning of Kewaskum tries on a real firefighter helmet.

On the same day that the Kohlsville Fire Department held their open house, three of the volunteer firefighters made time to visit the Little Folks School House. The children were taught all about fire safety. They practiced crawling and the famous "stop, drop and roll" move.

The volunteers, Aaron Martin, Ryan Dedert and Kevin Masse, assisted the children in trying on their special helmets, pants and coats. Although way too big in size, the children were able to feel how heavy these articles were as each piece was explained.

After a brief question and answer period, the presentation moved outside where the tanker and pumper trucks were waiting. The children were given the opportunity to crawl in and out of the trucks.

They pulled the siren cord and watched the lights flash. The real thrill came when firefighter Martin opened up the tanker and let the water gush out.

At the end, the firefighters said "goodbye" until next year and left each child with a coloring book, stickers, and a piece of knowledge that could someday save their life.

The teachers of the Little Folks School House would like to thank the Kohlsville fire department, Aaron, Ryan and Kevin, for doing such a great job.

Memories

The above antique postcard submitted by Isabelle Muckerheide, commemorates the Veterans Day holiday this Saturday, November 11.

Free Veterans Day E-Card

Veterans Day is November 11, but you probably will not find a greeting card in your favorite shop. With 26 million veterans in the nation, The American Legion realized many people would like to say a special "Thank You" to a veteran. That's why the nation's largest wartime veterans organization is offering a free, musical e-mail card.

"Many people forget that young military men and women serving today are veterans. Just about anywhere they are serving they have access to e-mail and receiving a special 'Veterans Day' card would be a nice surprise," National Commander Ray Smith said.

This is the third year The American Legion has offered the cards. The Veterans Day e-card service is accessed directly from The American Legion's homepage at www.legion.org. Once at the site, it is a simple matter to follow the instruction and send your special greetings. A special feature of the service allows senders to put their greetings together, and then choose to send the card then, or at a preselected later date.

President Woodrow Wilson signed a Congressional Resolution on November 11, 1919 establishing "Armistice Day." The resolution said: "This day should be commemorated with thanksgiving and prayer and exercises designed to perpetuate peace through good will and mutual understanding between nations." The resolution further called for a day to be observed in schools and churches or other suitable places, with appropriate ceremonies.

Since 1919, November 11 has become Veterans Day. Yet the same spirit that gave birth to Armistice Day continues today as America remembers the men and women who have served our country in the military.

"I hope millions of Americans will send an e-card to a veteran they know. It will just take you a moment to send the card, but it could mean much more to the person receiving it," Smith said.

Veterans Day Program to Be Hosted By County Historical Society

This Saturday, November 11, Veterans Day, the Washington County Historical Society will host a special "Veterans Day" program. The museum will be open from 10:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. and there will be special Veterans Day displays to honor Washington County Veterans from the Historical Society Collection, and local Veterans groups.

At 11 a.m. Saturday, there will be a special program with speakers on the Veterans Plaza at the Old Courthouse at 320 South Fifth Avenue, West Bend. There will be the traditional playing of taps and the sirens will sound to commemorate the ending of the hostilities at the 11th hour of the 11th month on November 11th, 1918.

Following the program there will be coffee and rolls in the Courtroom. Visitors will also be able to view the displays from 10:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Speakers for this year's programs include West Bend Mayor Michael Miller, John Pederson, and the Historical Societies Director Chip Beckford.

For further information, contact the Washington County Historical Society at 262-335-4678.

The National Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum was founded in Greendale, Wisconsin, in 1973.

Honor Our Veterans

By Raymond G. Boland
Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs

Just a few days after the presidential election, we will commemorate Veterans Day 2000 on November 11. The relationship of these two events is significant. The miracle of democracy has provided our nation with the peaceful and orderly transfer of government power, based on the will of the people, for more than two centuries. And that miracle of democracy is a legacy of our veterans, who have defended our nation's liberty and spawned freedom around the world.

The right to vote and all the other rights we possess could not have been secured or maintained without the selfless service and sacrifices of millions of patriots who served in the U.S. armed forces in times of war and peace.

The 17 Americans on the USS Cole who were killed in a terrorist attack in Yemen recently -- including Marc Nieto, a 24-year-old sailor from Fond du Lac -- made the ultimate sacrifice on our behalf. Their tragic deaths reminded us that we owe our freedom and security to the men and women who served in the military.

Because this year marks the 50th anniversary of the beginning of the Korean War, we are paying special tribute to veterans who served during what is often called the "Forgotten War."

Their efforts helped stop communist aggression in Asia and allowed South Korea to evolve into a prosperous democratic nation, which is now seeking a peaceful relationship with North Korea.

Yet, despite their heroic efforts in the cause of freedom, many of our Korean War veterans are not receiving all the state and federal benefits they've earned for their service.

To help our Korean War veterans and all other Wisconsin veterans obtain the benefits they've earned, I launched the I Owe You campaign in September. This statewide campaign features color posters of Uncle Sam in his familiar recruiting pose with a large headline announcing: "I Owe You." The message from Uncle Sam to veterans is: "You were ready when I needed you, now I am ready to help you."

The poster has a tear-off sheet, which veterans can use to contact their CVSO, so they can apply for federal and state benefits. These posters are now in a variety of public places, such as shopping centers, banks and government buildings.

In conjunction with I Owe You campaign, I am sponsoring the state's first Supermarket of Veterans Benefits on Wednesday, November 15, in Milwaukee. The supermarket will be a one-stop shop where veterans and their families can conveniently obtain an array of benefits and services. I plan to hold similar supermarkets throughout the state in the future. For more information, call the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, toll-free 1-800-947-8387.

On Veterans Day -- and throughout the year -- we honor our deceased veterans by helping our living veterans get the benefits they deserve.

Halloween Comes to KES

Thanks for the Memories

by Ami

As winter approaches, it is important to utilize the "in house coziness" giving some time for us to reflect on past pleasurable experiences. When one thinks of our forebears gathered about a tiny fire in a drafty tepee... our well insulated, furnace heated residences are really appreciated. The hardships of that day and age easily reach beyond our imaginations.

As a youngster, I love remembering my father taking us boys on a cold hike to the brook water-source springs. I will never forget viewing the great number of trout gathered therein... gasping for oxygen. Why, one could almost walk across the springs on top of the horde of fish. What a sight!

And who hasn't know the excitement in spotting a red tail fox galloping across hill and dale, the virgin white of a fresh snowfall causing his red coat and tail to look like a ball of living fire? And I dare not forget to mention stumbling upon a gray squirrel's cache of delicious butter-nuts. Or catching sight of a hoot owl decorating the branch of a sugar maple tree. Indeed, one has all kinds of memories to think about on those bitter cold winter nights and days.

One has to admire the winter birds who seem to enjoy the frosty mornings and sunny afternoons in spite of drifting snow and icy hillsides. Their chirping and everlasting food hunting makes one wonder how they ever survive the ravages of the below zero days and nights. However, Mother Nature has many opportunities in store for each one of us. It is up to us to utilize our winter times as best we can.

In celebration of Halloween, and following the school theme of construction, second grader Tanner Schaub looks almost as though he could join in helping build the new Kewaskum Elementary School.

Even the popular book character Harry Potter (fifth grader Danny Dymond) stopped by to be a part of the Kewaskum Elementary School's Halloween parade.

Michael Gutjahr was a bit hard-headed in deciding what to be for the KES Halloween parade -- he also followed the school's construction theme and came as a hammer.

A little girl had the measles, and her infected eyes couldn't stand the sunlight. As the mother darkened the room, she asked, "Are you afraid?"

"No, mother," she answered, "as long as you stay where I can touch you."

While our Lord is out of sight, He's never out of touch. He loves you, and He's always thinking about you. He watches everything that concerns you.

Our Lord is there, right there where you are. No matter how you have failed, or doubted, or questioned, or sinned! He never leaves you - ever. Reach out to Jesus - He's reaching out to you.

Hunters Harvest More Than 67,000 During Special Early Antlerless Deer Hunt

MADISON - Hunters harvested 67,241 antlerless deer during the October 26-29 Zone T antlerless gun deer hunt, according to a preliminary tally of registration stations.

"We saw an excellent turn out of hunters, especially in the north," said Bill Mytton, Department of Natural Resources deer and bear biologist. "The early harvest numbers we're seeing are very encouraging. I'm also hearing comments from people that they really enjoyed the mild weather and the chance to hunt with sons and daughters while the kids were off school during the teacher's convention."

Several DNR biologists initial impressions were that there was an outstanding participation rate, almost like an opening day in some areas. Hunters in the south, where they're used to the October hunts, came through with good numbers and enthusiasm according to Mytton.

"Although there were inevitably some hunters that didn't see deer at their stand, overall a lot of deer were harvested. All indications are that we will at least equal last year's record total harvest and should exceed it, moving us closer to established population goals.

"I don't think this hunt will have much effect on the continuing archery season of gun season harvest," Mytton added. "We expect hunters will still harvest what they traditionally do during the nine day November season. In fact, following the 1996 Zone T season we found that when people were able to fill their freezer space during the early season, they tended to avoid taking yearling bucks during the November hunt, letting them grow for another year and produce some handsome antlers as two-and-a-half year olds."

Many areas of Wisconsin had a new look for this time of year as orange-clad hunters across the state took to the woods and fields for the hunt which was extended to nearly three-fourths of the state for 2000 in an effort to put the brakes on Wisconsin's rapidly expanding white-tailed deer herd, estimated at 1.7 million animals this fall.

Wisconsin has extended gun deer hunting several times over the last decade to control high populations in farmland deer management units. This year, 86 of Wisconsin's 132 deer management units were included in the early gun hunt and for the first time some central and northern forest units are included.

A deer management unit is considered for inclusion in the hunt if wildlife managers determine that the traditional nine day November gun hunt is unlikely to bring the unit to within 20 percent of its legally mandated population level.

It is impossible to make comparison from the Zone T harvest this year to previous Zone T hunts, said Larry Konopacki, assistant DNR deer biologist, because each of the hunts involved different deer management units and different frameworks. The highest previous Zone T harvest was about 25,000 in 19 units in 1996, but there was an "earn-a-buck" requirement for those units that in, in which hunters had to shoot an antlerless deer in order to shoot a buck, "so that's comparing apples to oranges," Konopacki said. In 1999 with a similar season structure 6,990 deer were taken in eight units.

"Wisconsin hunters and the out-of-state hunters participating in the hunt are to be congratulated for a safe hunt," said Tim Lawhern, DNR's hunter safety education coordinator. "There were some safety concerns going into the hunt given the greatly expanded areas involved but we can through with only one reported nonfatal hunting accident."

"That accident involved the same members of a hunting party in Wood County. At this time we've not received any reports of non-hunters being involved in any safety related incidents. In fact, in the entire history of Zone T hunts, there has never been a non-hunter involved in a reported hunting accident."

Also new for this year's hunt is a greatly expanded venison donation program. Through the program hunters can donate venison to state food pantries by simply registering a deer and dropping it off at one of over 150 participating meat processors. There is no cost to the hunter for processing the meat. As word of the expanded program spreads, more and more organizations have contacted the DNR to ask how they can get involved in the distribution of venison to food pantries. For more information on this program, please contact a local DNR service center, or visit the DNR website at www.dnr.state.wi.us.

New Hunting Hours to Take Effect Nov. 18

An important change in hunting hours will take place for all gun deer, bow deer, small game and bear hunters beginning on Nov. 18, 2000.

Effective at 12:01 am on Nov. 18, legal hunting hours will be a uniform one-half hour before sunrise to 20 minutes after sunset. Until Nov. 18, legal hunting hours will be a listed in the 2000 Wisconsin Hunting Regulations pamphlet.

The new hunting hours will also apply to damage shooting permits and any other hunting activity that occurs throughout the year. Next year's regulation pamphlet will list hunting hours for the entire year.

The only exception to this change is waterfowl hunting. For waterfowl, hunting hours will remain one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Waterfowl hunting hours are determined by federal regulations that require hunting to end at sunset each day.

"In addition to the new legal hunting hours, actual times for sunrise and sunset have been adjusted for south to north variation," explained Doug Bilgo, Department of Natural Resources conservation warden. "For years, sunrise and sunset were based on Milwaukee time. Now, two locations are used. Sheboygan is the new standard for the south and Powers, Mich. for the northern half of the state."

Actual sunrise-sunset times vary by up to 20 minutes from far western Wisconsin and by up to six minutes from south to north.

The Department of Natural Resources has published two new hunting hours tables, one for southern Wisconsin and one for northern Wisconsin, on its website at <http://www.dnr.state.wi.us>. Click on "outdoor activities," then "hunting." Copies will also be available at service centers. The new hours are not published in the 2000 Wisconsin Hunting Regulations pamphlet because the National Resources Board had not yet authorized the new hours at the time the regulations were printed.

Educational Programs For Parents of Teens

Patents of adolescents and teenagers are invited to join the Youth and Family Project, Inc. for a three-part educational series, featuring the following topics:

"Helping Our Kids Remain Drug and Alcohol Free" presented by Jim Giese, Ph.D., Affiliated Clinical Services on Thursday, November 16.

Exposure to drugs and alcohol is a very common experience for teens, but parents can be the most influential deterrent in their child's use and/or abuse of alcohol and other drugs. This presentation will discuss the prevalence of alcohol and drug abuse in our community and review key issues to help parents prevent and detect warning signs of substance abuse. Those attending will also have the opportunity to address individual concerns and receive answers to specific questions.

"Assertive Parenting of Teens" presented by Tom Mc Laughlin, M.S.W., Children's Resource Project on Thursday, November 30.

Parenting your teen doesn't need to drive you crazy! Tom Mc Laughlin will focus on using effective communication techniques within the family setting to strengthen the parent-child relationship. He will also provide insight on nurturing ways for parents to handle the constantly shifting emotions and behaviors associated with the teen years.

"Keeping Our Kids on the Right Track" presented by Tom Froehlich, Youth Aid Officer, West Bend Police Department on Thursday, December 7.

Join Officer Froehlich for an informative discussion about how to manage your teenager's risk-taking behaviors and identify which problems may require professional assistance. Learn how you and your family can make the teen years the best possible!

All presentations are offered free of charge, but due to limited seating, registration is required. To receive additional information or to register for the presentations of your choice, please contact The Youth and Family Project, Inc., 139 North Main St., Suite 111, West Bend, WI 53095. ## Karen Hartman's 'Dream Catcher' Book Made Into Play

What remains are only the echoes of the play, "The Dream Catcher Lady." The play is a dramatic interpretation of Karen Hartman's second book, "Dream Catcher - The Legend, The Lady, The Woman."

The students from Spotted Eagle High School performed the play at the Milwaukee Public Museum last weekend. The students are available to perform the play at other locations.

"Celebrations of Culture: American Indian" is a month long event at the Milwaukee Public Museum. The celebration continues from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday, from November 7 to the 21. You may call the museum for more information at (414) 278-2723. Karen will be at the museum during that time. She will be there telling stories during the story hour.

Hartman, a Campbell-sport area resident, is very pleased that the book was made into a play. The book has good positive messages within its covers. "Dream Catcher - The Legend, The Lady, The Woman," tells the legend of the dream catcher, how dream catchers came to be and finding beauty within oneself.

Hartman's third book, "Gift from the Eagle," has the message that it is not what you have in your hands, but what you have in your heart.

Karen is now busy at work on her fourth book, "The Robin's Squash," a creation of how pumpkins came to be. The book will also include pumpkin recipes. The release date has been scheduled for the fall of 2001. Hartman's first book is out of print.

Attracting Birds To Your Backyard

The Evening with Nature Series at the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest continues with the program, "Attracting Winter Birds." The program will be held on Thursday, November 9, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 1/2 mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

On a gloomy winter day, it is a delight to watch the birds as they come and go from a nearby feeder. Winter backyard bird feeding has grown in popularity over years and throughout the country. Some scientists believe that some species of birds are expanding their ranges northward because of the availability of food at feeders. Feeding birds is a great way to attract those birds that spend the winter months in Wisconsin including juncos, cardinals, chickadees, and evening grosbeaks.

Randy Uyhely, the owner of Wild Bird Crossing in West Bend, will share tips and techniques on attracting birds to your backyard feeders. He is an expert on what birds are attracted to what types of feed, and how to meet the other winter survival needs of our feathered friends. Make sure to join us for an evening with the birds.

For further information or directions to the Ice Age Visitor Center, please contact Jackie S. Scharfenberg, Forest Naturalist. She may be reached at (920) 533-8322, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Giddy Up

Peter Marx and Jack, the horse, become well acquainted as he gets saddled up for a cowboy's joyride.

On Sunday, October 15, some of the Kewaskum FFA members enjoyed an hour of horseback riding through the trails of the Kettle Moraine at the Bar-N-Ranch. It was a great day to trail through the woods with all the leaves turning beautiful colors.

Those that participated were Peter Marx, Tom Ramthun, Lisa Beck, Bridget Beck, and Jon Lendved. FFA Advisor Mr. Rizzardi and his wife decided to join the group, as well as Mrs. Beck, mother of Bridget. Bridget Beck and Jon Lendved currently work at Bar-N-Ranch as part of their SAE (supervised agriculture experience) in agriculture. It was an enjoyable trail ride for all.

The first President to be married while in office was John Tyler, the tenth President.

Indian JV Football Team Ends Successful Season

The Kewaskum Indians JV football team ended their 2000 season with an overall record of 5-3. The three losses were to Sheboygan Falls, Plymouth and Manitowoc Roncalli. The Indians beat Campbellsport, New Holstein, Kiel and non-conference foes Horicon and Cedar Grove. Members of the team were, front row, left to
