Clean Up Work Begins At Former Malthouse

Work has finally begun at the former malthouse in the village. Crews assembled Monday and have been diligently working at removing the rubble ever since. Village trustees were eager to grant a conditional use permit for Kewaskum based Malthouse Enterprises LLC back in October so crews could begin working on the project. The permit gives Malthouse Enterprises LLC permission to use a crusher to crush the remaining debris of the old malthouse, to store the crushed materials on the premises until the end of the road construction season of 2003 and also gives them permission to close a portion of the alley in front of the former building. The piles of crushed material will be approximately 30 ft in height. Testing is being done to test for airborne contaminants. Workers also wear a device on their chest while working and it will be monitored daily.

Eden Teen Second Traffic Fatality In FDL County

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

EDEN- An 18 year old Campbellsport High School boy tragically lost his life as a result of a one-car motor vehicle accident around midnight last Wednesday evening.

Bryan M. Metoxen allegedly failed to negotiate a curve on Highway F, west of Highway W in the Town of Eden and rolled his vehicle over ejecting him.

Campbellsport Rescue Squad responded.

It was noted that he was not wearing a seatbelt.

A complete obituary can be found on page 13.

Metoxen was a senior at Campbellsport High School and a member of the soccer team.

T. of Scott Discusses Highway 28 Renovation

Despite a late start in convening its meeting, the Scott Town Board concluded the regular portion in only an hour and one half. It was followed by an executive session to discuss hiring of a janitor for the town hall.

Elimination of unnecessary noise produced by Motor Cross raising on Crooked Lake is being investigated. Supervisor Irene Gnacinski reported speaking with the group of racers who have been holding private races on Crooked Lake which is located on the Town's near west edge. She suggested that it may be necessary for the town to establish hours during which operation may be conducted.

Complaints have been received from residents living as much as two miles away and more regularly from those living near the lake. Board members agreed that there are things which they (the racers) can do for themselves such as a change in the type of muffler being used on the bikes. She said, "If they could regulate themselves, the town would not get involved."

Gnacinski will be contacting members of this group and report her findings to the next board meeting.

The Department of Transportation is consulting with the Scott town Board regarding plans for the upcoming State Highway 28 renovation. As part of the project, the highway is being widened through unincorporated Batavia. Therefore, the 10 acre Kleinhans property will need to be altered. Discussion was held to either purchase or obtain an easement for a strip of land which would reduce the size of the total parcel and may cause effect requirements of the town zoning ordinance.

The DOT has questioned the possible zoning effects and is asking if a purchase as opposed to an easement of one acre would leave the zoning intact. Board members were of the opinion that the ordinance allowed only one animal per acre. This prompted the idea of an easement. The Kleinhans have nine horses and at times it could be more. After closer scrutiny of the ordinance, it was discovered that the one horse, one acre provision applies only to property owners with less than five acres. This means that a purchase which would decrease the size of the Kleinhans property for highway purposes would not be a problem.

Also related to the Highway 28 project suggestions made during public input were to lower the 55 mile speed limit to 35 mph from County A on the north end of Batavia to County A, south of Batavia. Also suggested was a "No Passing" zone in that same area. A third request involved establishing a bike path, sidewalk, or other type of path installed on the West side of the roadway from the Bridge, south to the Firemen's Park.

At last month's meeting, the board heard a suggestion to have curb and gutter installed beginning at the Zion Methodist Church property, north of Hillside Drive. These suggestions are all being forwarded to the Department of Transportation.

Unsure of the constable's duties, the Clerk asked for a clarification of these duties. Do we call the Constable, or do we call the Sheriff's department? Can the constable go to the owner of a property which is in unsafe condition, possibly near collapse, and require that owner to have the eyesore, and health hazard removed?

Such items have occurred recently and when the Sheriff's department was called, the complainant was told to call the Constable and that the Sheriff's Department does not get involved in town ordinance violations. However, the board has been informed that if the Constable felt it necessary, a Sheriff's Department officer would accompany the Constable, as a means of getting the "heat" off of the local Constable.

A participant from the audience asked, "Why do we have town ordinances if we do not enforce them?" Finally, a decision was made to obtain and review a copy of the County Ordinances and to possibly make more use of those regulations.

A property at the intersection of Brazelton and Boltonville road has been targeted for orders to clean up. Garbage, autos, and other junk has been accumulated in what has been determined as "wetlands." The Department of Natural Resources has been contacted in the past and clean up followed. However, that was several years ago and the problem has returned. Supervisor Gnacinski will once again call a DNR Warden for assistance in accomplishing the clean up.

Plans are to have the carpet and wood floor cleaned at the Scott Community Center. Prices are being investigated.

Supervisor Ivan Kumrow reported highway department activity. Employees have cut 38 loads of brush on town roads. Four "Slippery when wet" signs were installed on N. Maple Tree Road, two-post and all were stolen on Dec. 28, another on Jan 11 and the other experienced an unsuccessful attempt. The water heater has been replaced at the Town Hall, and grader blades are being replaced.

The State Salt inspector has given an approved report for the salt storage facility.

POLICE REPORTS

Saturday, January 26, a Kewaskum officer was dispatched to Riverview Drive in reference to annoying phone calls.

The complainant stated that they had received approximately 10 to 15 phone calls from 2 a.m. to 3 a.m.

The caller was contacted by the Kewaskum Police Department. He stated that he was sorry about the calls and that he had been drinking that night. He was given a warning that if the calls continued, he would be charged with disorderly conduct and illegal use of the phone.

Wednesday, January 30 at 2:11 p.m. in the Town of Farmington a Washington County Sheriff's deputy met with a resident on Highway 144 who was complaining about a loose dog on his property.

The dog belonged to a couple on Pine Lane. He stated the dogs were on his property for a second time and he wanted the Washington County Sheriff's Department to make the owners aware that the dogs are running at large. He further stated if this continues he would like to pursue a city ordinance about dogs at large. Upon checking it was found there were no other complaints against them. The deputy met with one of the dog's owners and warned her of the problem.

Wednesday, January 30, Kewaskum police were dispatched to a Keller Street residence in reference to a dog bite.

The resident stated that as she was taking a diaper out to the garbage the neighbor's dog came around the corner and jumped on her back, biting her behind.

She saw the dogs owner and yelled at him to get his dog. The neighbor then came over to see if she was OK and she proceeded to tell him that this was the third time they had problems with the dog.

It was noticed later that the dog had punctured the victims skin and the dog had to be quarantined for ten days and see a vet three times.

Thursday January 31, two Washington County Deputies pulled over a Ford Bronco with two occupants, after a cell phone caller called in about a driver who was weaving all over the road.

The caller stayed behind the Bronco as it entered the Village of Kewaskum going northbound on Highway 45 and then turned around on Forest Avenue and went back southbound on Highway 45. Washington County was assisted by state patrol who joined in the parade of squads when they left Downtown Kewaskum.

Nothing was found during a pat down of both the 17 and 18 year old men.

According to reports from the Washington County Sheriff's Department a search of the vehicle found drug paraphernalia. Sobriety tests were conducted on the driver and he completed in successfully.

Friday, February 1, at 10:39 am Washington County Deputies responded to 4350 STH 28 for a complaint they received of a neglected dog at the residence.

Upon investigation it was found the dog was healthy.

As I See It

By Rochelle Pennington

Do You Believe in Miracles?

"I'm looking for a telephone number for the Dallas Theological Seminary in Texas," I told the telephone information operator.

Then, from the other end of the phone, a recorded voice rattled off a train of numbers. Beyond those numbers was, I hoped, someone who could verify an amazing story a friend had passed along to me.

I dialed.

"Good morning, Dallas Theological Seminary. How can I help you?" asked a young woman with a charming Southern accent.

"I'm trying to verify a story I heard," I explained. "Is it true that in 1924 your seminary was on the verge of bankruptcy?"

I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go.

—Abraham Lincoln

"Yes, it is," she responded.

"Is it also true that the creditors were going to foreclose at 12:00 noon on a certain day, and that the founders of the school called a prayer meeting that morning?"

"Yes, it is."

"Is it true that one of the gentlemen in that gathering was Dr. Harry Ironside, a jovial man with an unending sense of humor who offered up his prayer, 'Dear Lord, we know Your Word says that the cattle on a thousand hills are Thine. Well, how about selling a few of those cattle and sending us the money?'"

"Yes, it is."

"Is it true that a short while later, still before the critical 12:00 noon deadline, a Texan in cowboy boots walked into the seminary, handed a large check to the secretary and told her that he had just sold two carloads of cattle in Fort Worth and that 'something' was telling him to give the check to the seminary?"

"Yes, it is."

For I am the Lord, your God, who takes hold of your right hand and says to you, "Do not fear, I will help you."

—Isaiah 41:13

"Is it also true that the secretary interrupted the prayer meeting and handed the check, which was for the exact amount of the debt, to the very penny, to Dr. Lewis Sperry Chafer, the president of the school, and then Dr. Chafer, recognizing the wealthy rancher's name on the check, turned to his friend and said, 'Ah, Harry...God sold those cattle.'"

"Yes, it is."

"Why that's simply amazing!!!" I exclaimed.

Her response? "Yes, it is."

Hospital Offers CPR Course for Friends, Family

Adults and children who suffer life-threatening emergencies are often at or near home when they occur. They may stop breathing (respiratory arrest), their heart may stop, or they may choke. But they also may survive thanks to family and friends who provide CPR.

The American Heart Association's CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) for Family and Friends course is being offered by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend Tuesday, February 5, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the fourth floor east conference room.

The course is designed to help laypersons learn rescue skills in CPR and the relief of foreign-body airway obstructions to help their loved ones, friends or neighbors. The course presents information about the adult and pediatric Chain of Survival and signs of heart attack, cardiac arrest, stroke and choking in adults. It also helps participants to recognize the signs of choking in infants and children, prevention of sudden infant death syndrome, and prevention of the most common fatal injuries in infants in children.

Adults and youth 13 or older may take the course.

"Everyone should learn how to recognize signs of a life-threatening emergency, such as a heart attack. It could happen anywhere, anytime and you, the layperson, may be the first to take action. You may be able to improve a friend's chance of survival, you could save a life," said Mary Theisen Faber, RN, hospital educator and course instructor.

The fee for the course is $25. To register or for more information, call the hospital's Class Connection Line at 262-306-7888.

School Districts to Share Estimated $24 Million from Common School Fund

The Department of Public Instruction has calculated library aid to be paid to the state's 426 school districts from interest on loans made from the Common School Fund.

The Board of Commissioners of Public Lands manages the Common School Fund, one of the trust funds established by the Wisconsin State Constitution, and estimates that in April approximately $24 million will be available for library aid.

School districts will receive an estimated $19.13 per child to be used to purchase library materials such as library books, newspapers, periodicals, software, microfilm, reference books, and audiovisual and other media resources.

A new provision in statute allows school districts to purchase instructional materials from the Wisconsin Historical Society for use in teaching Wisconsin history.

Districts will not receive aid payments until April 29, but the estimate will help them plan expenditures and permit library media specialists to order materials as needed. Purchases must be made by June 30 and must be used for expenditures cited in statute.

The DPI notes that Common School Fund allocations are an important part of every school district's library services to students. The allocation is not intended to make up the entire school district library budget, but can provide an important fund source to supplement the regular school budget for library acquisitions.

The term "child" in the case of determining Common School Fund allocations means a person between the ages of four and 20 living in the school district on June 30, 2001, as reported in the district's annual report to the DPI.

Statewide, the school census count was 1,254,014 children for 2000-01, an increase of 4,494 from the prior year's school census. The $19.13 allocation is higher than last year's payment of $17.68 per child.

The list of Common School Fund allocation estimates for area schools follows: More information about the Common School Fund and an electronic list of estimates can be found on the DPI's website at <http://www.dpi.state.wi.us/dm/sfms/libaid02.html>.

Restless Legs Syndrome Group To Meet Feb. 19

A health awareness group to provide education and discussion for people with the common sleep disorder of restless legs will meet Tuesday, February 19 at 7 p.m. at St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend. The group is free and will meet in the hospital's conference room A.

Restless legs syndrome causes creepy-crawly sensations in the limbs, primary in the legs. The sensations occur when a person is lying down or sitting still for a long time and become more severe at night but are relieved when the limb is moved.

Robert Pamerter, sleep specialist with the Sleep Disorders Center at the Oakbrook Health Center, will facilitate the program.

For more information or to register, call the hospital's Class Connection Line at 262-306-7888. Walk-ins are also welcome.

The restless legs syndrome group meets on the third Tuesday of every other month (even numbered months.)

Valentine's Day menu

For those with a lot of love but not a lot of time

You've remembered to send the flowers and chill the champagne. You even had time to stop by the candy store to pick up the chocolates. But what would make this Valentine's Day memorable for your sweetheart? Instead of making reservations and waiting in line at your favorite restaurant, turn off the telephone, light the candles and treat your Valentine to a relaxing and romantic evening at home with a quick and easy meal for the two of you.

Because Valentine's Day falls during the week this year, Cupid suggests a tenderloin dinner menu that takes only minutes to prepare in your own kitchen. George Bay, a Cordon Bleu chef and Last Minute Cook himself, says, "You don't have to go out to a restaurant to enjoy the elegance of a gourmet dinner." Instead, he recommends complementing delicately seasoned beef tenderloin with a rich sauce Choron made from fresh or sun-dried tomatoes combined with prepared Bearnaise sauce. This simple entree is accented with grilled zucchini, red peppers and yellow squash purchased at the deli. Chocolate truffles and fresh strawberries create a sweet ending to a romantic evening, one you sweetheart is not soon to forget.

Tenderloin for two
Makes 2 servings

- 1/3 c. prepared Bearnaise sauce
- 2 tbl. sun-dried (or fresh) tomatoes, finely chopped
- 2 Bays English Muffins, lightly toasted
- 1 clove garlic, peeled
- 2 8 oz. been tenderloins
- salt and pepper to taste
- 1/2 tsp. savory leaves, crushed

Sauce:

Mix Bearnaise sauce with tomatoes; set aside. Rub toasted muffin halves with garlic clove; set aside.

Tenderloins:

Slice tenderloins into two slices each. Season to taste. Saute in butter for three minutes per side for rare and four minutes per side for medium. Place two steak slices on each muffin half. Top with sauce.

LOCAL MERCHANTS VALENTINE'S DAY

Practical Tips Turn Your Bedroom Into a Love Nest

(ARA) - A romantic bedroom should please the senses. To enhance intimacy this Valentine's Day -- or any day -- the Better Sleep Council offers tips and advice on how to transform your bedroom into a love nest that appeals to each of your five senses.

1. Touch. The bed is the focus of any bedroom and the most romantic rooms make it as cozy as possible. Luxurious sheets and plush pillows are wonderful, but the real key is a comfortable mattress, so make sure to have one that feels heavenly and caresses both you and your partner.

2. Sight. Lighting should be soft and filtered; bright lights can detract from the ambience. Use lower wattage light bulbs or those with a soft pink hue. And, for special evenings, nothing adds romance like the warm glow of candles (be sure that lit candles are never left unattended).

3. Smell. Gently wiping your light bulbs with a thin coat of perfumed oil can send calming or sensual scents throughout the bedroom. In addition, sprinkling dusting powder on your sheets can make them fragrant and silky. Scented sachets of lavender and rosemary also add to the air of romance.

4. Sound. Keep your favorite CDs at your fingertips; soft music is one of the easiest ways to elevate your mood. If it's noisy outside your bedroom window, hang thick curtains to muffle the sound. A peaceful bedroom retreat is the place to focus on each other, so keep distractions such as the television in another room.

5. Taste. For a late-night indulgence, place strawberries and whipped cream on a small tray next to the bed. Champagne and champagne glasses also are ideal at the start of a romantic evening at home.

"Evaluate your bedroom, starting with the sense of touch, making sure your bed and mattress are as comfortable as possible. Then, consider the rest of the senses. Because a romantic bedroom can set the mood for the evening, don't risk having an uncomfortable bed or a noisy bedroom destroy the moment," says Andrea Herman, director of the Better Sleep Council.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ELROY "SAMMY" UELMEN, who passed away two years ago, Feb. 6, 2000:

Days of sadness still come o'er us.

Tears in silence often flow. For memory keeps you ever near us.

Though you died two years ago.

Death can never take away and time cannot erase. The memory of a loving heart.

A dear familiar face; And there is comfort in the thought

That as the years go by Our memories grow dearer still

For love can never die.

Sadly missed by his wife and family.

According to folklore, when a candle burns too fast, there is said to be a thief in the house.

News From The Capitol

By Rep. Glenn Grothman

Where The Money Goes

As has been reported the state is facing a $1.1 billion deficit for the two-year period beginning July 1, 2001. When the state passes our budget, it is based on a guess of the amount of income and sales tax to be paid during the two-year period. Over 90 percent of government general purpose spending comes from the income and sales tax.

For the first time in at least 10 years the estimates proved too high with sales tax returns adjusted three percent downward, income tax five percent downward with corporate income tax 15 percent downward. I should point out the above only includes our general-purpose budget. It does not include gas taxes, which go towards a separate transportation budget, or fees such as university tuition or hunting or fishing fees.

I should point out that state income and sales tax receipts are still going up, just not as fast as anticipated when the two-year budget was passed in July.

There were two decisions over the past three years that could be questioned. Without most people realizing it, there was a significant reduction in state income tax between calendar year 1999 and calendar year 2000 - about a ten percent reduction. Wisconsin has some of the highest income taxes in the country. At the time the state had big surpluses and it was a golden opportunity to cut our income tax. I do not regret voting for and being a leader in pushing for the income tax deduction.

The second reason is that the state continues to make big spending commitments, not only in the last two budgets but promises for future budgets as well. A coalition of big spending Republicans and big spending Democrats not only passed these budgets but openly bragged about new spending initiatives. Programs for lower class sizes, phased in over a period of years, programs for more summer school, the most favorable budgets for the University in recent memory, a medical plan for low-income families called BadgerCare (the most generous of its kind in the country), and recently the second most generous prescription drug plan for seniors of its kind in the country. Most of these programs were passed and promised before they were funded creating an expectation before we knew we would have the money. I have also lead, usually in defeat, the people trying to delay or reign in increases in the above programs over the past few years.

Over 44% of your sales and income tax dollar goes to K-12 education. 9% goes to shared revenue (mostly cities and counties - which has stayed essentially ever for seven years in a row), about 9% to the university, 10% health care to the poor, 6% for prisons, 2 and 1% for welfare related programs, 2 and 1% for juvenile corrections, and a little under 2% for courts. While we must also scrutinize other programs, no other area gets over 1 and 1% of your income and sales tax dollar, so that in dealing with this crisis, we will have to deal with the above expenditures. I will be back with suggestions next week.

Please let me know what you think on this issue. Contact me here in Madison please call 1-888-534-0059.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ROBERT KREIF, who passed away nine years ago, Feb. 12, 1993:

In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly, tender fond and true.

There is not a day, dear brother, that we do not think of you.

The little things you used to do.

The smiles upon your face:
Are memories written in our hearts.

That nothing can erase.

Sadly missed by brother Randy.

MEMORIAM

In memory of Jeff Sabish's 29th Birthday, February 10, 2002:

I Think Of YOU!
As I watch the snow
Gently falling down,
I think of how much
I wish you were around

But since for now
That is not meant to be,
I'll be content
With just your memory

I can't wait for the day
When we speak face to face,
No one in this world
Can ever take your place!

I Love and Miss you, Jeff!

Return on Investment Strong for Moraine Park Taxpayers, Students

According to a recently released socioeconomic impact study, Moraine Park Technical College taxpayers and students are getting their money's worth as a result of their investment in their local technical college.

The study, which was subject to peer review and field tested on 35 other technical colleges, was conducted by CC Benefits Inc., a consulting firm based in Moscow, Idaho. The firm spent more than a year studying Wisconsin's technical colleges in order to calculate the contribution each of the 16 districts makes to its community. The firm used the nationwide model it developed in cooperation with the Washington, D.C.-based Association for Community Colleges Trustees (ACCT), for assessing the socioeconomic effects of two-year colleges.

"Students benefit directly from higher personal earnings, and society at large receives benefits from a more competitive and robust economy," said Dr. Kjell A. Christopherson, co-author of the socioeconomic benefits study. "Benefits are also derived from an assessment of cost savings associated with reduced crime."

"We felt Moraine Park had a significant impact on the community and economy, and we were pleased to see just how much," said Dr. John Shanahan, Moraine Park president. "Return on investment is the bottom line for taxpayers and I think most taxpayers would agree their local technical college is a very solid return."

One major influence on these returns on investment numbers is that 87 percent of Moraine Park graduates stay in the area to work and reinvest in the economy and tax base.

The study results show Moraine Park accounts for $144 million worth of annual earnings in the Moraine Park district economy with its students enjoying a 17 percent return on their investment of time and money with a payback period of 7.2 years. It also reveals that every dollar of state and local taxpayer support for Moraine Park creates approximately $11 in higher student earnings and other public benefits.

Several major benefits of Moraine Park emerged from the socioeconomic study, including:

- Higher earnings realized by exiting students.
- Cost savings to taxpayers as a result of fewer publicly supported social programs.
- Tax revenue generated by improved earnings of technical college students.
- Expansion of the skill base, a key element in attracting new business to Wisconsin.

"The investments we make in our technical colleges students are more likely to come back to us in the form of various benefits, whether it be social or economic," said Shanahan. "In the end, the economy, tax base, and ultimately the community, are stronger as a result of the technical colleges."

A major factor in the students' rate of return is higher wages. For every year a full-time student attends Moraine Park, he or she earns an additional $3,936 per year, on average. Major influencers in the taxpayers' rate of return are the additional tax revenues these higher wages generate, as well as savings on taxpayer-funded social programs.

Statewide, the study found taxpayers realize a return on investment of roughly 20 percent, which results in a payback period of 6.4 years. Taxpayers, meanwhile, see a return of over 100 percent and recover all their costs in 2.2 years. In other words, for every dollar taxpayers invest, they see a return of over ten dollars.

Moraine Park Technical College, one of the 16 colleges in the Wisconsin Technical College System, has campuses in Beaver Dam, Fond du Lac and West Bend. It offers more than 70 associate degree, technical diploma and certificate programs, in addition to a variety of online and other distance learning opportunities. Shared Revenue Cuts Leave Counties With No Choice But to Cut State Programs

Drastic cuts announced recently to the state's largest aid program to local governments will force counties to begin cutting services, but not where one would think, according to the Wisconsin Counties Association (WCA).

"The deep cuts in the shared revenue program leave counties with little choice but to begin cutting state programs -- not county programs," said WCA Executive Director Mark O'Connell. "Why should local property tax dollars continue to go to support state programs when the state refuses to fund their own programs? We've been pushed to the point of having no other choice."

Counties currently administer state programs with state funding, such as juvenile justice programs, human service programs and the court system. Because of inadequate state funding for these state programs, counties have been forced to pay hundreds of millions of local property taxpayer dollars to support these state programs.

In recent years, with shared revenue rates frozen at a 1995 real-dollar level, local property taxpayers have had to pay $80 million a year beyond what the state provides for the court system due to inadequate state funding. The same goes for the state's human services programs, with local property taxpayers having to pay $220 million a year beyond what the state provides, as well $100 million a year beyond what the state provides for juvenile justice programs.

"State shared revenue is used in support of state programs and cutting it means that some state programs, such as the court system, may not be able to be administered," said O'Connell. "Something has to give because for quite some time now, state programs have survived only because of county property taxpayer support."

Top Notch Fishing on Waubay Lake

Hello friends,

Last week I spent five days camped on the frozen waters of Waubay Lake in South Dakota. My 10-year-old son, Travis, and golden retriever, Pearl, were my companions. We had so many unique experiences on this trip that instead of my usual story form, this week I will jump from experience to experience, as well as throw in some techniques that worked exceptionally well for us in catching perch, walleye and northern pike.

Sunday, January 20
High 26- Low 14-

Each day of this trip, Travis and I woke up in our 8x12 foot shack to top notch fishing. For this trip, I experimented with four of the possible weight lines we could have in the water at any one time.

The Rattle Reel is a plastic spool that you can mount to the wall of your shack. When a fish begins pulling line from the reel, rattles in the reel alert the fisherman to potential action.

We caught two 10-pound northern pike as well as numerous perch and walleye. Travis had what I believe was our biggest northern pike of the trip on a Rattle Reel for 15 minutes. Twice it stopped fighting and Travis couldn't even budge it. When the big gator had enough, it snapped his line.

The Strike Sensor is a pager unit that you attach to your tip-ups. When the flag goes up, your pager starts beeping. A light on the individual tip-up lets you know where the action is.

Both the Rattle Reel and the Strike Sensor added a lot of variety to our trip. Last year, on my seven-day trip to Waubay, my partner and I caught only one perch. This year, Travis and I had an area that was no larger than 10 foot by 10 foot where the action for 11 to 12 inch perch was incredible. We kept a tip up on it all day long baited with a fathead. The flag on the tip up was up more than it was down.

For the last two hours of each day, we would jig with Northland Rattlin Spoons. Sometimes we didn't even have to use a minnow. We also caught 75 walleye on the Rattlin Spoons.

Three years ago, I was taught to use a 20-pound test monofilament line instead a steel leader for northern pike. I learned this firsthand from a fisherman that was having 10 flags for every one I had. When you set the hook and fight the fish, more care has to be used as the mono cuts a lot easier than steel. The increase in action is almost immediate.

The smallest gator we caught was 28 inches (about 6 pounds). Because of an abundant supply of freshwater shrimp in Waubay, the three species of fish we caught were all built like footballs.

I will finish this with a brief description of a poor man's cabin. Take two 12x6 foot walls and woodscrew them to two 8x6 foot walls. Use half inch foils faced insulation on the inside, put plastic on the floor, and finally carpet, as well as plastic on the outside walls. Add a table, some quick shelves and the kids' bunk beds, and you have a $300 home that can easily be hauled, assembled and provide 24 hour fish catching capabilities.

There was a powerful weather change on the afternoon Travis and I broke camp. The temperatures dropped 20 degrees, and the wind was blowing at 25 miles an hour. When our trailer was loaded, we realized it had a flat tire. While driving through Minnesota at 10 p.m., the Eagle decided to say goodbye to its exhaust system.

All in all, the five days Travis and I spent on Waubay Lake were incredible, spectacular, perfect. Simply put, a great time!

Live for the moment,
Sunset

The Washington County Youth Hockey Association Squirt C Ice Warriors who compete at the Kettle Moraine Ice Center in West Bend took part in the Badger State Games in Rhinelander this past weekend.

The games were held at the Rhinelander Ice Arena in Rhinelander, Friday, February 1, Saturday, Feb 2 and Sunday, Feb 3.

Friday, the Ice Warriors skated against the Rhinelander Hodags. The Ice Warriors won 7-1, outshooting their opponent 36 shots to two!

Saturday's game was against the Wisconsin Dells/Lake Delton Blades. The final score of that game was 4-2, once again the Ice Warriors outshot their opponent 42-3. Scorers for this game were Ethan Geidel (2 scores) and Garrett Cranney (2 scores). Konnar Wagner contributed 2 assists.

Upon winning these two games, the group advanced to the championship round on Sunday against a rival team of the Washington County Youth Hockey for years, the Ozaukee Ice Dogs. This game was a tough one. The Ice Warriors were down 3-1 in the second period. The Ice Warriors didn't give up. Late in the second period, Konnar Wagner scored a goal bringing the score to 3-2 at the beginning of the third period. The Ice Warriors stopped the Ice Dogs from scoring in the third period.

Anthony Evans and Geidel added two more goals in the third period to make the score 4-3 in favor of the Ice Warriors. In the final minute of the game, the Ice Dogs pulled their goalie in order to add another skater on the ice, however the Ice Warriors were able to stop them from scoring and won the Championship game for the GOLD 4-3! In that match, the Ice Warriors outshot the Ice Dogs 37-9.

For the entire weekend, the Ice Warriors out shot their opponents 116-14.

Congratulations to all the skaters and the coaches!
